12:2 these to everlasting life, and these to reproaches, to everlasting abhorrence Daniel names both in one breath, but the New Testament shows more. Believers who have died are raised when Christ comes for His church (1 Thess 4:16), Tribulation martyrs when He returns to reign a thousand years (Rev 20:4-6), and the rest of the dead after the thousand years at the great white throne (Rev 20:11-15). This is the premillennial view I hold. Prophets often saw peaks that look close together from far off, with a valley between them seen only later.

12:3 those who make the many righteous like the stars forever and ever The wise of 11:33, 35, who taught others and stood firm. The world may forget them, and some died for their faith, but God will make them shine forever (Matt 13:43). You do not have to be a preacher. A parent teaching a child, a friend sharing the gospel, a believer quietly faithful at work: this verse is about them.

12:4 shut up the words and seal the scroll until the time of the end Sealing kept an important document safe and unchanged until the right time. Its full meaning would open as the end drew near. John was told the opposite, because by then the time was near (Rev 22:10).

12:4 many will rove about, and knowledge will increase Some see modern travel and the explosion of knowledge. Others, and I lean this way, see people searching back and forth through the Scriptures, with understanding of this prophecy growing as the end nears (compare Amos 8:12). Both may be true, but the second fits a sealed book whose meaning opens over time.

12:5 two others were standing One on each bank of the Tigris (10:4). The Law required two witnesses (Deut 19:15), and these may stand as witnesses to the oath of verse 7.

12:6 Until when is the end of the wonders The question every suffering believer asks, like the souls under the altar (Rev 6:10). The man in linen is the glorious figure of 10:5-6, whom I lean toward seeing as Christ before His birth, though some see a mighty angel. He stands above the river with authority over it.

12:7 he raised his right hand and his left hand to the heavens One raised hand made an oath. Both hands make it doubly solemn, like the angel who swears by Him who lives forever (Rev 10:5-6).

12:7 an appointed time, appointed times, and a half Three and a half years, the same as 7:25, forty-two months and 1,260 days (Rev 11:2-3; 12:6; 13:5), the second half of the seventieth week (9:27). "The hand" means power. Israel will come to the end of its own strength and then turn to the One they pierced (Zech 12:10), and all Israel will be saved (Rom 11:26). Sometimes God lets us reach the end of our strength so we will finally lean on His.

12:8 I heard, and I did not understand One of the greatest prophets who ever lived did not understand everything God showed him. If Daniel could say so, so can we. Holding some things humbly is not a lack of faith. It is honesty before God.

12:10 Many will purge themselves and make themselves white and be refined The same fire that purifies gold burns up straw. The Tribulation will make the righteous more righteous and the wicked more wicked (Rev 22:11). God gave Daniel and Revelation so that believers in those days will recognize the times and not be deceived (Matt 24:24-25).

12:11 one thousand two hundred and ninety days Thirty days more than the 1,260. This ties the abomination to the end, as Jesus did (Matt 24:15), though it had a preview under Antiochus (11:31). I expect a temple and sacrifices in Jerusalem before the end, stopped by the Antichrist at the midpoint (2 Thess 2:4; Rev 11:1-2). Scripture does not explain the thirty days. One common view is that they cover events right after Christ returns, such as cleansing the temple or judging the nations (Matt 25:31-46). Others think the count simply begins a little earlier.

12:12 Blessed is the one who waits Forty-five more days. Many believe the 1,335 days mark the full start of Christ's thousand-year kingdom, and the blessing is entering it. Others see the end of a time of restoration. Some apply these numbers to Antiochus, but his dates do not line up, and the day-for-a-year approach does not read prophecy plainly. The numbers help God's people know the season and endure it, not set a date (Matt 25:13). The one who endures to the end will be saved (Matt 24:13).

12:13 you will rest, and you will stand for your allotted portion at the end of the days The last verse is a personal word to Daniel. He served God about seventy years in a foreign land under four kings and two empires and never saw Jerusalem again. He would die, but his reward was secure, and he will rise at the end of the age. If you belong to God, you can go your way in peace, rest when your time comes, and rise to your inheritance. Daniel's story does not end in a grave, and neither does yours.

HOSEA

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Hosea son of Beeri. His name means salvation, from the same Hebrew root as Joshua and Jesus. Hosea is the first of the twelve Minor Prophets, called minor because their books are shorter, not because their message matters less. In the Hebrew Bible the twelve were kept together on one scroll, called the Book of the Twelve.

Author and Date

The book opens with "The word of the LORD which came to Hosea son of Beeri" (1:1), and Jewish and Christian tradition have always held that Hosea wrote it or that his messages were written down under his direction. Some modern scholars think later editors added the verses about Judah or about future hope. I take the book at its word. It names Hosea, speaks in his voice in chapters 1 and 3, and its hope is woven into every part, not tacked on at the end.

Hosea dates his ministry by Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah of Judah and by Jeroboam II of Israel (1:1). Using Thiele's dates, which this series follows, Jeroboam II reigned about 793 to 753 B.C. and Hezekiah began about 715 B.C. So Hosea served from about 755 B.C. to about 710 B.C., some forty years. He preached before the fall of Samaria in 722 B.C. and most likely lived to see it.

Background and Setting

Hosea preached to Israel, the northern kingdom, in its last years. He often calls it Ephraim, after its largest tribe, or Samaria, after its capital. He also warns Judah not to follow Israel's sins (4:15). Hosea is the only writing prophet who came from the north and preached mainly to it.

When he began, Israel had never been richer. Jeroboam II had won back land (2 Kgs 14:25-28), trade was good, and the wealthy built fine houses. But the wealth was built on cheating the poor, and the people gave the credit for their grain and wine to Baal, the Canaanite god of rain and harvest (2:8). Worship went on at Bethel, Gilgal and the high places, with golden calves and sacred prostitution. After Jeroboam died, the kingdom fell apart: six kings in about twenty-five years, four of them murdered. Menahem paid tribute to Assyria, Pekah lost Galilee and Gilead about 732 B.C., and Hoshea turned to Egypt, until Assyria besieged Samaria for three years and it fell in 722 B.C. (2 Kgs 15-17).

God told Hosea to live out his message in his own home. He married Gomer, and she was unfaithful. He gave their children names that were sermons. When she had fallen so low that she had to be bought, God told him to love her again, and he paid the price to bring her home (3:1-2).

Themes

The theme of Hosea is God's faithful love for an unfaithful people. Israel had been joined to the LORD by covenant like a bride to her husband, and she ran after Baal like an unfaithful wife after lovers. Hosea names the sin plainly: lying, murder, drunkenness, idol worship, priests who do not teach, and kings who trust Assyria and Egypt instead of God. Judgment is coming, and it will be terrible. Yet again and again the book turns from judgment to hope, and it ends with God's call to come home: "I will heal their apostasy; I will love them freely" (14:4).

A few Hebrew words carry the book. Hesed is steadfast love, loyal covenant love that keeps its promises (4:1; 6:6). The knowledge of God means knowing Him personally and living in His ways (4:6). Prostitution and adultery are Hosea's words for idol worship. And shuv, return, is the word for turning back to God in repentance (6:1; 14:1).

Hosea also looks far ahead. After many days without a king or sacrifice (3:4), Israel will return to the LORD and to David their king "at the end of the days" (3:5). God has not given up on Israel, and the notes read these promises as still future for the nation, while every believer may taste the mercy they show.

Christ in Hosea

Matthew says that when Jesus came back from Egypt after Herod's death, it fulfilled the word "out of Egypt I called My son" (11:1; Matt 2:15). Jesus is the true Son who filled Israel's story to the full and obeyed where Israel failed. Jesus twice quoted "steadfast love I desire, and not sacrifice" to the Pharisees (6:6; Matt 9:13; 12:7). Paul and Peter use Hosea's words about Not My People becoming My people for God's mercy to the Gentiles (1:10; 2:23; Rom 9:25-26; 1 Pet 2:10). Paul takes up 13:14 in his chapter on the resurrection, where Christ has won the victory over death (1 Cor 15:55). "David their king" (3:5) is the Messiah, the Son of David. Many teachers also see Hosea buying back his wife as a picture of Christ redeeming His people. The New Testament does not name it as such, so I hold it as a picture.

Hard Passages

What did God mean by "a wife of prostitutions" (1:2)? Some believe Gomer was already immoral, others that she became unfaithful later and Hosea wrote looking back, and others that she came from a people given to idolatry. A few take the account as a vision, which the text does not support. The notes give the views and make God's faithful love the point.

Is the woman in chapter 3 Gomer? Most teachers, and this study, say yes. The notes name the other readings.

How can God punish the house of Jehu for the bloodshed God had commanded (1:4)? Jehu went beyond the command for his own power and did not walk in God's law (2 Kgs 10:30-31).

How does Matthew use 11:1? The notes explain that he shows Jesus filling up the pattern of Israel's exodus, not twisting the text.

What of the hard words about children and war (9:14, 16; 13:16)? They describe the horrors of the Assyrian conquest honestly, so that sin would be taken seriously. God does not approve cruelty, and He judged Assyria for it.

Is 13:14 a threat or a promise? The notes give both readings and show how Paul uses it for the resurrection.

Hosea's Wife and Children

1 The word of the LORD which came to Hosea (Hoshea) son of Beeri in the days of Uzziah (Uziya), Jotham (Yotam), Ahaz (Achaz), and Hezekiah (Yechizqiya), kings of Judah (Yehuda), and in the days of Jeroboam (Yaravam) son of Joash (Yo'ash), king of Israel (Yisra'el). 2 The beginning of the LORD's speaking by Hosea. And the LORD said to Hosea, "Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitutions and children of prostitutions, for the land surely prostitutes itself away from after the LORD." 3 And he went and took Gomer daughter of Diblaim (Divlayim), and she conceived and bore him a son. 4 And the LORD said to him, "Call his name Jezreel (Yizre'el), for yet a little while, and I will visit the bloodshed of Jezreel on the house of Jehu (Yehu), and I will put an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel. 5 And it will be in that day that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel." 6 And she conceived again and bore a daughter. And He said to him, "Call her name No Mercy (Lo-Ruchama), for I will not again have compassion any more on the house of Israel, that I should in any way forgive them. 7 And the house of Judah I will have compassion on, and I will save them by the LORD their God; and I will not save them by bow and by sword and by battle, by horses and by horsemen." 8 And she weaned No Mercy, and she conceived and bore a son. 9 And He said, "Call his name Not My People (Lo-Ami), for you are not My people, and I will not be for you."

The Promise of Restoration

10 And the number of the sons of Israel will be like the sand of the sea, which will not be measured and will not be counted; and it will be in the place where it was said to them, "You are not My people," it will be said to them, "Sons of the living God." 11 And the sons of Judah and the sons of Israel will be gathered together, and they will appoint for themselves one head, and they will go up from the land; for great is the day of Jezreel.

1:11 Rom 11:26; Hos 3:5; Isa 11:12,13

1:1 The word of the LORD which came to Hosea son of Beeri Hosea did not make up his message. It came from God, and that is what makes a man a prophet: someone God speaks through, carrying His word whether people want it or not. Jeroboam son of Joash is Jeroboam II (about 793 to 753 B.C.). One likely reason Hosea names only him among Israel's kings is that the later ones came and went so fast, mostly by murder, while David's line in Judah was God's chosen line (3:5). Hosea preached about forty years to people who mostly did not listen.
1:2 Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitutions Israel was joined to the LORD by covenant at Sinai, like a bride to her husband (Jer 2:2). A covenant is a binding agreement sealed with promises. Going after Baal, the Canaanite god they thought gave rain and crops, was spiritual prostitution. Hosea's marriage would be a living sermon: the people would see in his home what they were doing to God.
1:2 a wife of prostitutions A hard passage read in several ways. Some believe Gomer was already immoral when Hosea married her. Others believe the phrase describes what she would become, written looking back. Others take it as a woman from a people given to idolatry. A few take the whole account as a vision or parable, but the text gives a real woman, a father's name, children and a weaning (1:8). Scripture does not settle the first three. It is plain that the marriage was real, Gomer was unfaithful, and Hosea kept loving her. The point is God's love for the unfaithful (Rom 5:8).
1:3 she conceived and bore him a son Hosea obeyed without argument or delay. The first son was "him," Hosea's. The next two births (1:6, 8) do not say "bore him," and some think those children may not have been his. The text does not say so plainly, but it fits "children of prostitutions" and chapter 2.
1:4 Call his name Jezreel Jezreel means God sows. It was a city and valley where Jehu killed Joram, Jezebel and Ahab's family about eighty years before (2 Kgs 9-10). God praised Jehu for ending Ahab's house (2 Kgs 10:30), but Jehu went far beyond the command for his own power and kept the golden calves (2 Kgs 10:31). God judges the heart as well as the deed.
1:4 for yet a little while Jehu's line ended when Zechariah, Jeroboam's son, was murdered after six months, about 753 B.C. (2 Kgs 15:8-12). In 722 B.C. Assyria took Samaria and the northern kingdom was never a kingdom again.
1:5 I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel The bow is Israel's military strength. Where Jehu won his throne by the sword, Israel's sword would be broken.
1:6 Call her name No Mercy In Hebrew Lo-ruhamah, not pitied. The word is a parent's tender love for a child. Every time Hosea called his little girl's name, the town heard God's message. God's love had not failed. He had been patient for two hundred years since the kingdom split about 930 B.C. There comes a point when God gives people what they have chosen.
1:7 I will not save them by bow and by sword About 701 B.C. Assyria came against Jerusalem in Hezekiah's day, and the angel of the LORD struck their camp in one night (2 Kgs 19:35-36). God saved Judah without a single arrow from Judah's side. That is still how God saves: not by our strength, but by Himself.
1:9 Call his name Not My People In Hebrew Lo-ammi, the hardest name of all. At Sinai God said Israel would be His people (Exod 6:7). "I will not be for you" sounds like the reverse of the name "I am" (Exod 3:14). The three names move downward: judgment on a king's house, no more compassion, no more relationship. Sin moves that way if we do not turn back.
1:10 the number of the sons of Israel will be like the sand of the sea Without a break, hope breaks in, in the words God spoke to Abraham and Jacob (Gen 22:17; 32:12). Israel's sin could not cancel God's promise to Abraham.
1:10 Sons of the living God Paul uses this verse and 2:23 for the calling of Gentiles (Rom 9:24-26), and Peter for believers who were once not a people (1 Pet 2:10). If God can make "not My people" His own, He can do it for Gentiles who never were His. The principle of mercy is the same. That does not cancel the promise to Israel or hand it to someone else.
1:11 they will appoint for themselves one head Judah and Israel, split since about 930 B.C., will be one nation under one ruler, which has not yet happened in any full way (Ezek 37:15-24). Hosea names the head in 3:5, "David their king." I believe this is Jesus, the Son of David, reigning over a restored Israel when He returns. The church shares God's mercy, but His promises to Israel stand (Rom 11:26, 29). Some teachers read this as fulfilled in the church of Jews and Gentiles.
1:11 great is the day of Jezreel "Go up from the land" may mean coming up from the lands of exile or springing up like a crop. Either way it is new life. The name that meant judgment now means harvest. God will sow His people in their land again (2:23).

1 Say to your brothers, "My People (Ami)," and to your sisters, "Shown Compassion (Ruchama)."

The Unfaithful Wife

2 Contend with your mother, contend—for she is not My wife, and I am not her husband—and let her remove her prostitutions from her face, and her adulteries from between her breasts, 3 lest I strip her naked and set her out as on the day she was born, and make her like the wilderness, and set her like a land of dryness, and cause her to die with thirst. 4 And on her sons I will not have compassion, for they are sons of prostitutions. 5 For their mother has prostituted herself; she who conceived them has acted shamefully; for she said, "Let me go after my lovers, who give my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, my oil and my drinks." 6 Therefore look, I am about to hedge up your way with thorns, and I will wall up her wall, and her paths she will not find. 7 And she will pursue her lovers, and she will not overtake them; and she will seek them, and she will not find them; and she will say, "Let me go and let me return to my first husband, for it was better for me then than now." 8 And she did not know that I gave her the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil, and I multiplied silver to her, and gold, which they made for the Baal. 9 Therefore I will return and take My grain in its time and My new wine in its appointed time, and I will snatch away My wool and My flax, to cover her nakedness. 10 And now I will uncover her lewdness before the eyes of her lovers, and no one will deliver her from My hand. 11 And I will put an end to all her rejoicing, her feast, her new moon, and her Sabbath, and every appointed feast of hers. 12 And I will lay waste her vine and her fig tree, of which she said, "They are wages for me, which my lovers gave me." And I will make them a thicket, and the living things of the field will eat them. 13 And I will visit on her the days of the Baals, when she burned incense to them, and she adorned herself with her ring and her jewelry, and went after her lovers; and Me she forgot, declares the LORD.

The LORD Wins His Bride Back

14 Therefore look, I am about to entice her, and I will lead her into the wilderness, and I will speak to her heart. 15 And I will give her her vineyards from there, and the valley of Achor (Akhor) for a door of hope; and she will answer there as in the days of her youth, and as in the day she came up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 16 And it will be in that day, declares the LORD, that you will call Me "My Husband," and you will no longer call Me "My Baal." 17 And I will remove the names of the Baals from her mouth, and they will

2:17 Exod 23:13; Josh 23:7; Ps 16:4

2:1 Say to your brothers, "My People," This finishes the hope of 1:10-11. Not My People becomes My People, and No Mercy becomes Shown Compassion. What sin took away, grace gives back.

2:2 Contend with your mother To contend is to bring a case at law. The mother is Israel as a nation, and the children are her people one by one, called to plead with her. It sounds like divorce, but God does not say be gone. He says, let her remove her prostitutions. He wants her back, and the goal of the lawsuit is repentance.

2:3 lest I strip her naked A husband was bound to clothe and feed his wife (Exod 21:10). To strip her meant taking back all he had given. God found Israel helpless in Egypt and gave her everything (Ezek 16:4-14). Now He warns of drought and famine, the very curses Moses foretold (Deut 28:23-24).

2:4 on her sons I will not have compassion Not punishing innocent children for a mother's sin. The sons are the people of Israel, who joined her in idol worship. Each generation chose the same sin.

2:5 Let me go after my lovers, who give my bread and my water The heart of Israel's sin. Baal was worshiped as the storm god who brought rain, and in a dry land rain meant life. Israel did not think it was leaving the LORD entirely. It wanted to cover every base. We may not bow to Baal, but whatever we trust to give what only God gives, money, a job, a person or a government, is our lover.

2:6 I am about to hedge up your way with thorns Judgment, but merciful judgment. A thorn hedge keeps a sheep from wandering off a cliff. God makes the road to sin hard so we will stop and turn back.

2:7 let me return to my first husband, for it was better for me then than now Like the prodigal who came to himself in a far country (Luke 15:17-18). It is not yet deep repentance. She comes back because she is hungry. But God often uses empty hands to turn our faces toward home. Have you ever been glad, looking back, that God blocked a road you wanted?

2:8 she did not know that I gave her the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil The land's three main crops, promised to an obedient Israel (Deut 7:13). She gave Baal the credit and even made God's silver and gold into idols. Every good gift comes from God (James 1:17). When we stop thanking God, we soon start thanking something else.

2:11 her feast, her new moon, and her Sabbath The north kept its own feasts set up by Jeroboam I (1 Kgs 12:32-33), mixed with Baal worship. A new moon was the monthly holy day at the start of each month, and the Sabbath the seventh-day rest God gave Israel. God does not protect religion without faithfulness.

2:13 Me she forgot, declares the LORD The saddest words in the passage. Israel burned incense and dressed up for the feasts. She did not stop being religious. She forgot the LORD. You can be very busy with religion and still forget God.

2:14 I will lead her into the wilderness, and I will speak to her heart The third "therefore" (2:6, 9) leads to love. God will woo her like a young man winning the woman he loves. "Speak to her heart" means to speak tenderly (Isa 40:2). The wilderness was where Israel first knew God after the exodus, alone with Him. Sometimes God leads us into a dry season so He can speak without the noise.

2:15 the valley of Achor for a door of hope Achor means trouble, the valley where Achan was stoned (Josh 7:24-26). God turns the place of shame into a doorway of hope. He takes the place of our worst failure and makes it the door to a new beginning. She will answer as she did when she sang at the sea (Exod 15).

2:16 you will no longer call Me "My Baal." Baal is also a common Hebrew word for master, owner or husband. Israel had mixed up the LORD and Baal so badly that they called the LORD by that name. In that day they will know Him not as a master to bargain with but as a husband who loves them.

no longer be remembered by their name. 18 And I will make for them a covenant in that day with the living things of the field and with the flying things of the heavens and the moving things of the ground; and bow and sword and battle I will break from the land, and I will make them lie down in security. 19 And I will betroth you to Me forever; and I will betroth you to Me in righteousness and in justice and in steadfast love and in compassion. 20 And I will betroth you to Me in faithfulness, and you will know the LORD. 21 And it will be in that day that I will answer, declares the LORD; I will answer the heavens, and they will answer the earth; 22 and the earth will answer the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil, and they will answer Jezreel (Yizre'el). 23 And I will sow her for Myself in the land, and I will have compassion on No Mercy (Lo-Ruchama), and I will say to Not My People (Lo-Ami), "You are My people," and he will say, "My God!"

Hosea Buys Back His Wife

1 And the LORD said to me, "Again, go, love a woman loved by a companion and committing adultery, like the love of the LORD for the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and they are turning to other gods and loving raisin cakes." 2 And I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and approximately 6 bushels (a homer) of barley and approximately 3 bushels (a lethech) of barley. 3 And I said to her, "Many days you will dwell for me; you will not prostitute yourself, and you will not belong to a man; and I also will be toward you." 4 For many days the sons of Israel will dwell with no king, and no prince, and no sacrifice, and no pillar, and no ephod and teraphim. 5 Afterward the sons of Israel will return and seek the LORD their God and David their king; and they will come in dread to the LORD and to His goodness at the end of the days.

The LORD's Case Against Israel

1 Hear the word of the LORD, O sons of Israel (Yisra'el), for the LORD has a contention with the inhabitants of the land; for there is no truth, and no steadfast love, and no knowledge of God in the land. 2 Cursing and lying and murdering and stealing and committing adultery—they have broken out,

4:2 Hos 6:9; Jer 6:7; Jer 7:6-10

2:18 bow and sword and battle I will break from the land Peace with the animals and an end to war reverse the curse of 2:12, like the wolf with the lamb (Isa 11:6-9). Israel has never known such peace. I believe it looks to Christ's kingdom on earth, when nation will not lift sword against nation (Isa 2:4).
2:19 I will betroth you to Me forever Betrothal was as binding as marriage. God speaks as if this were a new marriage with no past. He brings the bride price Himself: righteousness, justice, steadfast love (hesed), and compassion, the very word taken away in the name No Mercy.
2:20 you will know the LORD In Hosea, to know the LORD is the opposite of forgetting Him (2:13), a close, personal bond like husband and wife. Paul speaks of the church as a bride betrothed to Christ (2 Cor 11:2; Eph 5:25-27). These words are first for Israel, and I believe Israel will know them in full, but every believer can see Christ's love in them.
2:23 I will sow her for Myself in the land All three names of chapter 1 are reversed, and the covenant is restored in the simplest words: "You are My people," and "My God!" Paul and Peter use this for Gentiles brought in by mercy (Rom 9:25; 1 Pet 2:10), but it does not erase the promise to Israel. God will sow her in her own land, and I believe He will do so when Israel turns to Christ (Rom 11:25-27; Amos 9:15).
3:1 Again, go, love a woman loved by a companion and committing adultery "Again" ties this to chapter 1. Most teachers believe this is Gomer, who had left Hosea and fallen so low she had to be bought, and this study follows that view. A few think it is a different woman, since no name is given, and others that it retells the first marriage. All agree on the point: God loved Israel while she was still turning to other gods. His love does not wait for us to clean ourselves up (Rom 5:8).
3:1 loving raisin cakes Pressed cakes of dried grapes, a normal food in themselves (2 Sam 6:19), but here they seem part of the feasts of false gods. Israel loved the sweet treats of idol worship more than the God who loved her.
3:2 I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver About nine bushels of barley in all. The text does not say how she came to need buying, perhaps sold for debt or kept by another man. Many add it up to about thirty shekels, the price of a slave (Exod 21:32), and the barley, food of the poor, may mean Hosea did not have enough silver. It is a picture of our redemption, bought back not with silver or gold but with the precious blood of Christ (1 Pet 1:18-19). The New Testament does not name Hosea as a picture of Christ, so I hold it as a picture.
3:3 Many days you will dwell for me Not straight back to things as they were. A long, quiet time of being set apart, with no other lovers and not yet full closeness. Hosea would wait for her too. Love that has been betrayed does not heal in a day.
3:4 no king, and no prince, and no sacrifice, and no pillar, and no ephod and teraphim A pillar was a sacred stone at false shrines, the ephod a priest's garment for seeking guidance, and teraphim household idols (Gen 31:19). Israel would lose the true and the false together. Israel lost its king in 722 B.C., Judah in 586 B.C., and no son of David has reigned since. The temple fell in A.D. 70, and there has been no sacrifice. After the exile the people never again turned to idols as their fathers had. For about two thousand years they have waited, like Gomer in Hosea's house.
3:5 seek the LORD their God and David their king David had been dead more than two hundred years. The prophets use his name for the Son of David who reigns forever (2 Sam 7:12-16; Jer 30:9; Ezek 37:24), and Mary's Son was given "the throne of David His father" (Luke 1:32). I believe this is Jesus. Some think David himself will be raised to rule under Christ. Either way, Christ is the King.
3:5 they will come in dread to the LORD and to His goodness at the end of the days Trembling, like a runaway child coming home unsure of his welcome and finding his father's arms open. I believe this looks to Christ's return, when Israel looks on Him whom they pierced (Zech 12:10) and all Israel is saved (Rom 11:25-26), and He reigns in His thousand-year kingdom (Rev 20:4-6). Some see it fulfilled in the return from Babylon or in the church, but Israel did not then seek "David their king." If God keeps loving Israel through such long waiting, He can keep loving you.
4:1 the LORD has a contention with the inhabitants of the land A covenant lawsuit in three charges. No truth: faithfulness to one's word. No steadfast love: hesed. No knowledge of God: in Hosea, knowing Him personally, as a husband knows his wife, and living in His ways. When these go, everything else falls apart.
4:2 Cursing and lying and murdering and stealing and committing adultery The Ten Commandments broken one after another (Exod 20:7, 13-16), while the feasts went on. "Bloodshed touches bloodshed," one murder after another, as in the years after Jeroboam II when king after king was killed.

and bloodshed touches bloodshed. 3 Therefore the land will mourn, and everyone who dwells in it will languish, with the living things of the field and with the flying things of the heavens; and also the fish of the sea will be taken away. 4 Only, let no man contend, and let no man reprove a man; and your people are like those who contend with a priest. 5 And you will stumble by day, and a prophet also will stumble with you by night; and I will destroy your mother. 6 My people have been destroyed for lack of the knowledge; because you have rejected the knowledge, I will reject you from serving as priest to Me; and you have forgotten the law of your God; I will forget your sons, I also. 7 As they increased, so they sinned against Me; their glory I will change into shame. 8 They eat the sin of My people, and to their iniquity they lift up its soul. 9 And it will be: like people, like priest; and I will visit on him his ways, and his deeds I will repay to him. 10 And they will eat and not be satisfied; they will prostitute themselves and not increase; for they have forsaken paying heed to the LORD.

Idolatry and Its Fruit

11 Prostitution and wine and new wine take away the heart. 12 My people inquires of its wood, and its staff declares to it; for a spirit of prostitutions has led them astray, and they have prostituted themselves from under their God. 13 On the tops of the mountains they sacrifice, and on the hills they burn incense, under oak and poplar and terebinth, for its shade is good. Therefore your daughters prostitute themselves, and your brides commit adultery. 14 I will not visit on your daughters when they prostitute themselves, and on your brides when they commit adultery; for they themselves go aside with the prostitutes, and with the cult prostitutes they sacrifice; and a people that does not understand will be ruined. 15 Though you are prostituting yourself, O Israel, let Judah (Yehuda) not become guilty; and do not come to Gilgal, and do not go up to Beth-aven (Bet-Aven), and do not swear, "As the LORD lives." 16 For like a stubborn heifer Israel is stubborn; now the LORD will pasture them like a lamb in a broad place. 17 Ephraim (Efrayim) is joined to idols; leave him alone. 18 Their drink has come to an end; they have surely prostituted themselves; her shields have loved, loved shame. 19 A wind has wrapped her up in its wings, and they will be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

Judgment on Priests, People and King

1 Hear this, priests, and pay attention, house of Israel (Yisra'el), and house of the king, give ear; for the judgment is for you, for you have been a trap at Mizpah (Mitspa) and a net spread out over Tabor (Tavor). 2 And rebels have made slaughter deep, and I am discipline to all of them. 3 I know Ephraim (Efrayim), and Israel is not hidden from Me; for now you have prostituted yourself, Ephraim; Israel has made

4:3 the land will mourn Sin does not stay inside the sinner. It harms the land, the beasts, the birds and even the fish. God made us to care for His creation (Gen 2:15), and creation groans waiting to be set free (Rom 8:20-22).
4:4 let no man contend, and let no man reprove a man Do not point fingers, because everyone is guilty. The people had become like those who defy the priest's ruling (Deut 17:12), arguing with God Himself. From here God turns to the priests, who stumble in the dark like everyone else.
4:6 My people have been destroyed for lack of the knowledge Often quoted to mean lack of education, but the knowledge here is the knowledge of God and His law. God speaks to the priests, whose job was to teach it (Lev 10:11; Mal 2:7). Jeroboam I had made priests who were not Levites (1 Kgs 12:31), and they ran the calf worship instead. What a priest forgets, his children never learn. This speaks to every pastor, teacher and parent. Are you reading God's Word? Are your children hearing it from you?
4:8 They eat the sin of My people Sin and sin offering are the same Hebrew word, and priests ate part of the sin offerings (Lev 6:26). The more the people sinned, the better the priests ate, so they longed for it. A terrible picture of religious leaders who profit from what they should be stopping.
4:11 Prostitution and wine and new wine take away the heart The heart in Hebrew is the center of thinking and choosing. Sexual sin and drunkenness dull the mind until a person cannot think straight about God or life.
4:12 My people inquires of its wood, and its staff declares to it They asked a stick for guidance, perhaps a carved idol or a rod for fortune-telling. The God who spoke to Moses face to face was traded for a piece of wood. Their unfaithfulness had become "a spirit," a mindset that drove them.
4:13 On the tops of the mountains they sacrifice The high places, hilltop and shady shrines God told Israel to tear down (Deut 12:2-3). Canaanite worship included ritual sex meant to make the land fertile. The fathers took part, and the daughters followed.
4:14 I will not visit on your daughters The men were worse, going off with cult prostitutes, women who served at pagan shrines. They held their daughters to a standard they did not keep. God refused the double standard. Without the knowledge of God, a people that does not understand comes to ruin.
4:15 do not come to Gilgal, and do not go up to Beth-aven A warning to Judah not to follow Israel. Gilgal, Israel's first camp in the land (Josh 4:19-20), had become a center of false worship (Amos 4:4). Beth-aven, house of wickedness, is Hosea's mocking name for Bethel, house of God, where Jeroboam set up a golden calf (1 Kgs 12:28-29). Swearing by the LORD at a calf shrine was a lie. God would not have His name mixed with idolatry.
4:16 like a stubborn heifer Israel is stubborn A young cow that will not take the yoke digs in and pulls the other way. A lamb alone in a wide field is not free but helpless among wolves. Israel wanted freedom from God and would get it, alone, in exile.
4:17 Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone Ephraim, the largest northern tribe, often stands for the whole nation. "Joined" is the bond of marriage. Some of the most sobering words in Scripture. Sometimes God gives people over to what they insist on choosing (Rom 1:24).
5:1 the judgment is for you Priests, people and royal house are all called. The words mean both that justice was their job and that judgment is coming on them. Mizpah in Gilead and Mount Tabor in Galilee were places of worship where the leaders set snares, like hunters for birds, drawing the people into idolatry.

itself unclean. 4 Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God, for a spirit of prostitution is in their midst, and the LORD they do not know. 5 And the pride of Israel testifies to his face, and Israel and Ephraim will stumble in their iniquity; Judah (Yehuda) also will stumble with them. 6 With their flocks and with their herds they will go to seek the LORD, and they will not find Him; He has withdrawn from them. 7 They have dealt treacherously with the LORD, for they have begotten strange sons; now a new moon will devour them with their portions.

War on the Border

8 Blow a horn in Gibeah (Giva), a trumpet in Ramah (Rama); sound an alarm at Beth-aven (Bet-Aven): after you, Benjamin (Binyamin)! 9 Ephraim will become a waste in a day of rebuke; among the tribes of Israel I make known what is sure. 10 The princes of Judah have become like those who move a boundary; on them I will pour out My wrath like water. 11 Ephraim is oppressed, crushed in judgment, for he was determined to walk after a command. 12 And I am like the moth to Ephraim, and like rottenness to the house of Judah. 13 And Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his wound; and Ephraim went to Assyria (Ashur), and he sent to King Jareb (Yarev). And he is not able to heal you, and the wound will not be cured from you. 14 For I am like the lion to Ephraim, and like the young lion to the house of Judah. I, I will tear and go; I will carry off, and there is no deliverer. 15 I will go; I will return to My place until they are held guilty and seek My face; in their distress they will seek Me earnestly.

Come, Let Us Return to the LORD

1 Come, and let us return to the LORD; for He has torn, and He will heal us; He has struck, and He will bind us up. 2 He will revive us after two days; on the third day He will raise us up, and we will live before Him. 3 And let us know, let us pursue to know the LORD; like dawn His going forth is established; and He will come to us like the rain, like spring rain that waters the land.

Love Like the Morning Mist

4 What will I do to you, Ephraim (Efrayim)? What will I do to you, Judah (Yehuda)? And your steadfast love is like a cloud of morning, and like the dew rising early, going away. 5 Therefore I have hewn them by the prophets; I have killed them by the words of My mouth; and your judgments are

6:4 2 Pet 2:17; Hos 11:8; Hos 13:3
6:5 Jer 23:29; Jer 1:10,18; Jer 5:14

5:4 Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God Sin becomes something that holds us. A habit of sin builds walls, and the longer we stay in it, the harder it is to turn back. Everyone who sins is a slave of sin, but the Son can set us free (John 8:34-36). Never think you can sin now and turn back easily later.
5:5 the pride of Israel testifies to his face Pride stands up in court like a witness against him, because it would not let them admit they were wrong. Judah is now named with Israel, following the north down the same path.
5:6 they will not find Him; He has withdrawn from them They brought many sacrifices, but God is not moved by the size of the offering when the heart is far from Him (Isa 1:11-15).
5:7 they have begotten strange sons Foreign, outside the covenant. Their children were raised as pagans because their parents had not taught them God's ways. The new moon, a monthly feast, may mean that within a month, at one of their own feasts, judgment will fall.
5:8 Blow a horn in Gibeah, a trumpet in Ramah Border towns in Benjamin between Judah and Israel, and the horn warned of an enemy. Many teachers fit this to the war of about 734 to 732 B.C., when Pekah of Israel and Rezin of Syria attacked Judah, Ahaz called in Assyria, and the border towns changed hands (2 Kgs 16:5-9; Isa 7).
5:10 like those who move a boundary Moving a neighbor's boundary stone was stealing land (Deut 19:14; 27:17). Judah's princes were grabbing land, perhaps from Israel in the war or from the poor at home.
5:12 I am like the moth to Ephraim, and like rottenness to the house of Judah A moth eats a garment quietly from inside until it falls apart. God's judgment does not always come like a storm. A nation, a church or a family can rot from within for years before anyone sees it.
5:13 he sent to King Jareb Not a known king's name but a title, something like the great king (10:6). Menahem and Hoshea paid Assyria tribute (2 Kgs 15:19-20; 17:3), and Ahaz sent the temple's silver and gold (2 Kgs 16:7-8). They went to the wrong doctor, and the power they ran to destroyed Israel. Doctors and counselors are God's gifts, but no one can heal what only God can heal.
5:14 I am like the lion to Ephraim Assyria was only the tool. The lion was the LORD, and no treaty could take the prey from His mouth.
5:15 until they are held guilty and seek My face The lion returns to his den and waits. God's goal was never to destroy them for good, but to bring them to own their sin and seek Him. "Earnestly" can mean early, eagerly. Many teachers also see Israel's long history here: God has withdrawn until, in the time of Jacob's trouble (Jer 30:7), Israel seeks Him. I believe that comes in the Tribulation, the seven years before Christ returns, when Israel turns to the One they pierced (Zech 12:10).
6:1 let us return to the LORD "Return" is shuv, the main Old Testament word for repentance: a change of direction, not just feeling sorry. Real repentance stops blaming Assyria or bad luck and owns that God did this because of our sin. The God who wounds is the God who heals (Deut 32:39). His discipline brings His children home (Heb 12:6).
6:2 on the third day He will raise us up In Hebrew poetry "after two days" then "the third day" means in a short time. God will not leave them long in their wounds. Many Christians from early times have also seen a hint of Jesus' resurrection "on the third day according to the Scriptures" (1 Cor 15:4). The New Testament never quotes this verse, so I hold it as a possible picture only. Israel's hope of being raised comes true because her Messiah was raised first (Rom 11:15).
6:3 let us pursue to know the LORD The cure is not more religion but knowing God, and knowing Him takes effort, the way a man in love pursues the woman he loves. His coming is as sure as sunrise. Israel had early rains in the fall and spring rains to ripen the crops. Israel looked to Baal for rain, and now says the LORD Himself is the rain. Verses 1-3 are a model prayer for anyone who has wandered. Are they sincere? The next verse makes us wonder.
6:4 your steadfast love is like a cloud of morning The voice of a grieving parent who has tried everything. Summer mists and dew are burned off by mid-morning. Israel's love showed up after a scare or at a feast and was gone by noon. Strong on Sunday, gone by Monday? God wants love that lasts.

light that goes forth. 6 For steadfast love I desire, and not sacrifice, and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. 7 And they, like Adam, have overstepped the covenant; there they dealt treacherously with Me. 8 Gilead (Gilad) is a town of doers of wickedness, tracked with blood. 9 And as marauding bands wait for a man, so a company of priests murder on the way to Shechem (Shekhem); for they have done villainy. 10 In the house of Israel (Yisra'el) I have seen a horrible thing; there is Ephraim's prostitution; Israel has made itself unclean. 11 Also, Judah, he has appointed a harvest for you, when I turn back the captivity of My people.

A Hot Oven

1 When I heal Israel (Yisra'el), and the iniquity of Ephraim (Efrayim) is revealed, and the evil deeds of Samaria (Shomron); for they practice falsehood, and a thief comes in, a marauding band raids in the street. 2 And they do not say to their heart that I remember all their evil; now their deeds have surrounded them; they are before My face. 3 By their evil they make the king glad, and by their lies, princes. 4 All of them are adulterers, like an oven burning from a baker; he ceases stirring it from kneading the dough until it is leavened. 5 On the day of our king, princes became sick with the heat from wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners. 6 For they have brought near their heart like the oven in their ambush; all the night their baker sleeps; in the morning it burns like a fire of flame. 7 All of them are hot like the oven, and they devour their judges; all their kings have fallen; there is none among them calling to Me.

A Silly Dove

8 Ephraim mixes himself among the peoples; Ephraim has become a cake not turned over. 9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he does not know; also gray hair has scattered on him, and he does not know. 10 And the pride of Israel testifies to his face, and they have not returned to the LORD their God, and they have not sought Him for all this. 11 And Ephraim has become like a silly dove without heart; they have called to Egypt (Mitsrayim); they have gone to Assyria (Ashur). 12 As they go, I will spread My net over them; like the birds of the heavens I will bring them down; I will discipline them according to the report to their congregation. 13 Woe to them, for they have wandered from Me! Devastation to them, for they have transgressed against Me! And I, I would ransom them, and they have spoken lies against Me. 14 And they have not cried out to Me with their heart when they wail on their beds; for grain and new wine they assemble themselves; they turn aside against Me.

6:6 For steadfast love I desire, and not sacrifice One of the most important verses in the Old Testament. A burnt offering was an animal wholly burned on the altar. God had commanded sacrifice, but it was never the main thing. Notice "more than." He wanted the heart behind it (1 Sam 15:22; Mic 6:8). Jesus quoted this verse to Pharisees who had no mercy for sinners and who condemned His hungry disciples (Matt 9:13; 12:7). It is possible to go to church every week, give, serve and sing, and still not know God or love the people around us.
6:7 like Adam, have overstepped the covenant Read in more than one way. Some see Adam in the garden, given a good place and one command (Gen 2:16-17). Others note Adam was a town by the Jordan (Josh 3:16), which fits the word "there." It can also mean like men. Either way, Israel broke covenant.
6:9 a company of priests murder on the way to Shechem Shechem was a city of refuge (Josh 20:7) and a road for worshipers. The priests, who should have protected the traveler, lay in wait like bandits.
6:11 He has appointed a harvest for you A harvest of judgment, which came on Judah through Babylon in 586 B.C. Yet even here God speaks of turning back the captivity of His people. Judgment and restoration stand side by side in Hosea, because God's last word to His people is mercy.
7:1 When I heal Israel, and the iniquity of Ephraim is revealed Like a doctor who pulls back a bandage and finds the wound worse than he thought, every time God moved to heal, He found more sin. Samaria was the northern capital, built by Omri (1 Kgs 16:24). Lying, breaking in and robbing in the open street: crime was everywhere.
7:2 they do not say to their heart that I remember all their evil They lived as if God had a short memory. People still think that if nothing bad has happened, God did not see. God sees and remembers every sin not washed away by the blood of Christ (Heb 4:13).
7:4 like an oven burning from a baker A baker built a fire in a clay oven at night and let it smolder while the dough rose, then stirred it to a blaze in the morning. Their passion for sin and power burned the same way, quietly, then suddenly.
7:7 all their kings have fallen; there is none among them calling to Me This fits Israel's last years exactly. Shallum killed Zechariah, Menahem killed Shallum, Pekah killed Pekahiah, and Hoshea killed Pekah (2 Kgs 15:10, 14, 25, 30), four kings murdered in about twenty years. They tried everything except prayer.
7:8 Ephraim has become a cake not turned over Israel was to be set apart (Deut 7:6) but mixed in with the nations. Flat bread baked on hot stones had to be flipped. Forgotten, it was burned on one side and raw on the other. That was Israel, part LORD and part Baal. One side of our life can be given to God and the other untouched. No one can serve two masters (Matt 6:24).
7:9 gray hair has scattered on him, and he does not know Foreign tribute was draining Israel (2 Kgs 15:19-20), and the nation was growing old near its end without noticing, like a man who still thinks he can do what he did at twenty.
7:11 like a silly dove without heart A dove is easily frightened and flies straight into the trap. Israel kept switching between Egypt and Assyria. Hoshea paid Assyria, then secretly sent to So king of Egypt, and that brought the Assyrian army on Samaria (2 Kgs 17:3-6).
7:12 I will spread My net over them God is the bird catcher, and wherever they fly, they land in His net. Where do you fly when you are afraid? The silly dove flew everywhere but home.
7:13 I, I would ransom them, and they have spoken lies against Me Woe is a cry of grief, heard at a funeral. God was ready to buy them back as He did from Egypt, but they told lies about Him, perhaps that He could not help or did not care. What we believe about God can keep His help away.
7:14 they have not cried out to Me with their heart when they wail on their beds They cried for what they had lost, perhaps even cutting themselves like Baal's prophets (1 Kgs 18:28). Worldly grief only regrets losing things and produces death, while godly grief leads to repentance (2 Cor 7:10).

15 And I, I disciplined them, I strengthened their arms, and against Me they plot evil. 16 They return, but not upward; they have become like a bow of deceit; their princes will fall by the sword from the indignation of their tongue; this will be their mockery in the land of Egypt.

Sowing the Wind, Reaping the Storm

1 To your mouth, a horn! Like the eagle over the house of the LORD, because they have overstepped My covenant, and against My law they have transgressed. 2 To Me they cry out, "My God, we know You, Israel (Yisra'el)!" 3 Israel has rejected good; an enemy will pursue him. 4 They have made kings, and not from Me; they have made princes, and I did not know; their silver and their gold they have made for themselves into idols, so that it may be cut off. 5 He has rejected your calf, Samaria (Shomron); My anger has burned against them; until when will they not be capable of innocence? 6 For from Israel is even it; a craftsman made it, and it is not God; for the calf of Samaria will become fragments. 7 For they sow wind, and they will reap a storm-wind; standing grain, there is none to it; its growth will not produce flour; perhaps it will produce it, and strangers will swallow it up. 8 Israel is swallowed up; now they are among the nations like a vessel; there is no pleasure in it. 9 For they have gone up to Assyria (Ashur), a wild donkey isolated by itself; Ephraim (Efrayim) has hired lovers. 10 Even though they hire among the nations, now I will gather them; and they have begun to be few from the burden of a king of princes. 11 For Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning; they have become to him altars for sinning. 12 I write for him the many things of My law; they are regarded like a strange thing. 13 As for the sacrifices of My gifts, they sacrifice flesh and they eat it; the LORD does not accept them. Now He will remember their iniquity, and He will punish their sins; they will return to Egypt (Mitsrayim). 14 And Israel has forgotten his Maker and has built palaces, and Judah (Yehuda) has multiplied fortified cities; and I will send fire on his cities, and it will devour her fortresses.

The Days of Punishment Have Come

1 Do not rejoice, Israel (Yisra'el), to exultation like the peoples, for you have prostituted yourself away from your God; you have loved a prostitute's hire on all the threshing floors of grain. 2 Threshing floor and winepress will not feed them, and new wine will fail in her. 3 They will not dwell in the land of the LORD, and Ephraim (Efrayim) will return to Egypt (Mitsrayim), and in Assyria (Ashur) they will eat unclean food. 4 They will not pour out wine to the LORD, and their

7:16 They return, but not upward They turned to Egypt, Assyria or Baal, but not to God. A warped bow sends the arrow wide however straight the archer aims. The Egypt they trusted would laugh when they fell.
8:1 To your mouth, a horn! Sound the alarm. The eagle or vulture circling is Assyria, coming down on the house of the LORD, here God's household, the people and land of Israel. Moses had warned of a nation swooping like an eagle on a covenant-breaking people (Deut 28:49).
8:2 My God, we know You, Israel! They knew His name and used it when scared, but there was no knowledge of God in the land (4:1). Many will say Lord, Lord, and hear, I never knew you (Matt 7:21-23).
8:4 They have made kings, and not from Me Since Jeroboam I, northern kings rose without God's choosing, and in Hosea's day by murder and plot (7:7). "I did not know" means God did not approve. David's line had God's promise (2 Sam 7:16), and Israel's kings had none.
8:5 He has rejected your calf, Samaria About 930 B.C. Jeroboam I set up golden calves at Bethel and Dan so the people would not go to Jerusalem, and he said, "Look, your gods, O Israel" (1 Kgs 12:28). Every king after him kept them. The calf of Samaria stands for the whole kingdom's worship.
8:6 a craftsman made it, and it is not God The plain truth about every idol. A man made it, so how could it be God (Isa 44:14-17)? Assyria would break it up and carry it off (10:5-6). Nothing we make with our hands, money or talent can save us.
8:7 they sow wind, and they will reap a storm-wind The heart of the chapter. A farmer reaps what he sows and more. Israel sowed empty worship, empty treaties and empty idols and would reap a destroying storm. Whatever a man sows he will also reap (Gal 6:7). Small compromises sown over years can come back as a storm.
8:8 like a vessel; there is no pleasure in it A cracked clay pot is thrown away. Israel tried so hard to be like the nations, and the nations would toss her aside.
8:9 a wild donkey isolated by itself; Ephraim has hired lovers Even a wild donkey keeps to its herd, but Israel went off alone to Assyria. A prostitute is usually paid, but Israel paid her lovers, sending tribute to buy Assyria's friendship (2 Kgs 15:19-20).
8:11 Ephraim has multiplied altars for sinning They thought more altars meant more worship and forgiveness. Each one became another place to sin, because they were not the altars God chose and the worship was mixed with idols (Deut 12:5-14).
8:12 they are regarded like a strange thing God had written His law out in detail, and they treated it as foreign. Many today have a Bible on the shelf and never open it. Is God's Word familiar to you, or strange?
8:13 they will return to Egypt Their sacrifices had become little more than barbecues, and God did not accept them. Going back to Egypt meant undoing the exodus (Deut 28:68). In Hosea, Egypt stands both for a real place some would flee to and for slavery again in Assyria (9:3; 11:5).
8:14 Israel has forgotten his Maker and has built palaces The word can also mean temples. Israel trusted buildings and Judah trusted walls. Assyria burned Israel's cities, Sennacherib took Judah's fortified cities in 701 B.C. (2 Kgs 18:13), and Babylon burned Jerusalem in 586 B.C. When we have much, it is easy to forget the One who gave it (Deut 8:11-14).
9:1 you have loved a prostitute's hire on all the threshing floors of grain A threshing floor was a flat, hard place where grain was beaten out at harvest. Israel celebrated "like the peoples," treating full floors as Baal's wages for their worship (2:12). What they thought Baal gave would fail them.
9:3 They will not dwell in the land of the LORD The land was God's, and Israel lived on it as His tenants (Lev 25:23). Egypt again stands for slavery (8:13). In Assyria they would have to eat food the Law called unclean, as Daniel faced in Babylon (Dan 1:8).
9:4 they will be like bread of mourning to them Food in a house of death was unclean (Num 19:14; Deut 26:14). In exile their food would feed the body but could not be offered to God.

sacrifices will not be pleasing to Him; they will be like bread of mourning to them; all who eat it will make themselves unclean; for their bread will be for their appetite; it will not come into the house of the LORD. 5 What will you do for a day of appointed feast, and for the day of the festival of the LORD? 6 For look, they have gone from devastation; Egypt will gather them; Memphis (Mof) will bury them; the treasure of their silver, nettles will possess them; thorns will be in their tents. 7 The days of punishment have come; the days of retribution have come; let Israel know! The prophet is a fool; the man of the spirit is mad, because of the greatness of your iniquity, and great is the hostility. 8 Ephraim is a watchman with my God; as for the prophet, a trap of a fowler is on all his ways; hostility is in the house of his God. 9 They have made it deep; they have acted corruptly as in the days of Gibeah (Giva); He will remember their iniquity; He will punish their sins.

Grapes in the Wilderness

10 Like grapes in the wilderness I found Israel; like early fruit on a fig tree at its beginning I saw your fathers. They came to Baal-peor (Ba'al-Pe'or), and they devoted themselves to the shame, and they became detestable things like their love. 11 Ephraim, like the bird their glory will fly away: without birth, and without womb, and without conception. 12 For even if they bring up their sons, I will bereave them of man; for also, woe to them when I depart from them! 13 Ephraim, just as I have seen it toward Tyre (Tsor), is planted in a pasture; and Ephraim is to bring out his sons to a killer. 14 Give to them, LORD—what will You give? Give to them a miscarrying womb and shriveling breasts. 15 All their evil is in Gilgal, for there I hated them; because of the wickedness of their deeds I will drive them out of My house; I will not again love them; all their princes are rebellious. 16 Ephraim has been struck; their root has dried up; they will not produce fruit; even if they give birth, I will put to death the precious ones of their womb. 17 My God will reject them, for they have not listened to Him, and they will be wanderers among the nations.

A Luxuriant Vine

1 Israel (Yisra'el) is a luxuriant vine; he produces fruit for himself; according to the abundance of his fruit he has multiplied altars; according to the goodness of his land they have made sacred pillars good. 2 Their heart is smooth; now they will be held guilty; He will break the neck of their altars; He will destroy their sacred pillars. 3 For now they will say, "We have no king, for we have not feared the LORD; and the king, what will he do for us?" 4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely, making a covenant; and judgment sprouts like poisonous weed on the furrows of a field. 5 For the heifers of Beth-aven (Bet-Aven) the inhabitants of Samaria (Shomron) will be afraid; for its people will mourn over it, and its pagan priests will tremble over it, over its glory, for it has gone into

9:7 The prophet is a fool; the man of the spirit is mad Likely the people's words about Hosea. "Man of the spirit" was a title for a prophet. Jeremiah was called mad (Jer 29:26), Festus said Paul was out of his mind (Acts 26:24), and some said Jesus had lost His senses (Mark 3:21). People who love their sin will hate the one who points it out.
9:8 Ephraim is a watchman with my God The prophet was God's watchman on the wall (Ezek 3:17). Wherever Hosea went, even in the place of worship, people set traps for him.
9:9 as in the days of Gibeah The town where a Levite's concubine was abused and killed, leading to a war that nearly wiped out Benjamin (Judg 19-21). People said nothing like it had happened since the exodus (Judg 19:30). Israel had sunk that low again.
9:10 Like grapes in the wilderness I found Israel Picture finding a vine of ripe grapes in a desert, or the first figs of the season (Isa 28:4). That was God's joy in Israel at the exodus.
9:10 they became detestable things like their love At Baal-peor, on the plains of Moab, Israel joined Baal worship and sexual sin (Num 25:1-3). "The shame" is Hosea's word for Baal. We become like what we love and worship (Ps 115:8). What do you love most? You will become like it.
9:11 like the bird their glory will fly away Ephraim's name comes from being fruitful (Gen 41:52), and its glory was its many people. They worshiped Baal to get children and would get fewer.
9:14 Give to them a miscarrying womb and shriveling breasts Hosea's prayer breaks off as though he cannot find words. He is not hoping for suffering. He knows war is coming on the young, and it would be kinder for children not to be born only to die by the sword. Jesus spoke of days when the barren would be called blessed (Luke 23:29). This is the prayer of a breaking heart.
9:15 All their evil is in Gilgal Israel's first camp in the land (Josh 4:19) and where Saul was made king (1 Sam 11:15), now a center of false worship (4:15; 12:11). God would put them out of His house, the land, like an unfaithful wife. "I will not again love them" speaks of withdrawn favor from that generation. It does not cancel His promise for Israel's future (11:8-9; 14:4).
9:16 I will put to death the precious ones of their womb A hard verse describing what the Assyrian invasion would do to the young. God says He will do it because He brings the judgment. Scripture does not hide how terrible judgment is, so that we take sin seriously and turn while there is time.
9:17 they will be wanderers among the nations Hosea says "my God." He still belonged to God, while they had cut themselves off. After 722 B.C. the north was scattered across Assyria (2 Kgs 17:6), as Moses warned (Deut 28:64). The Jewish people have often been wanderers since, but God will gather them again (11:10-11).
10:1 Israel is a luxuriant vine; he produces fruit for himself Israel the vine (Ps 80:8-11; Isa 5:1-7) was full of fruit under Jeroboam II, but the fruit was for himself. The richer they got, the more they spent on altars and sacred pillars, standing stones at shrines God said to tear down (Deut 12:3). Blessing often leads people away from God (Deut 8:12-14).
10:2 Their heart is smooth Divided or slippery, like a smooth stone that slides from your hand. They wanted God and Baal both. God would break the neck of their altars.
10:5 For the heifers of Beth-aven the inhabitants of Samaria will be afraid The calf at Bethel (4:15). The god they trusted to protect them was the thing they feared for, and its pagan priests would weep as it went into exile.

exile from it. 6 Also it will be carried to Assyria (Ashur) as tribute to King Jareb (Yarev); Ephraim (Efrayim) will receive shame, and Israel will be ashamed of its own counsel. 7 Samaria is destroyed; her king is like a twig on the face of waters. 8 And the high places of Aven, the sin of Israel, will be destroyed; thorn and thistle will go up over their altars; and they will say to the mountains, "Cover us!" and to the hills, "Fall on us!"

Break Up Your Fallow Ground

9 Since the days of Gibeah (Giva) you have sinned, Israel; there they have stood; will not battle overtake them in Gibeah against the sons of injustice? 10 When I desire, I will discipline them, and peoples will be gathered against them when they are bound to their two iniquities. 11 And Ephraim is a trained heifer that loves to thresh, and I, I passed over the goodness of her neck; I will harness Ephraim; Judah (Yehuda) will plow; Jacob (Ya'aqov) will harrow for himself. 12 Sow for yourselves for righteousness; reap according to steadfast love; break up for yourselves fallow ground; and it is time to seek the LORD, until He comes and rains righteousness for you. 13 You have plowed wickedness; you have reaped unrighteousness; you have eaten the fruit of lying, for you have trusted in your way, in the multitude of your mighty men. 14 And an uproar will arise among your people, and all your fortresses will be devastated, like Shalman's devastation of Beth-arbel (Bet-Arvel) in a day of battle; a mother was dashed in pieces with her sons. 15 Thus he has done to you, Bethel (Bet-El), because of the evil of your evil; at dawn the king of Israel will be utterly destroyed.

Out of Egypt I Called My Son

1 For Israel (Yisra'el) was a youth, and I loved him, and out of Egypt (Mitsrayim) I called My son. 2 They called to them; so they went from before them; to the Baals they sacrificed, and to the carved images they burned incense. 3 And I, I taught Ephraim (Efrayim) to walk, taking them on his arms; and they did not know that I healed them. 4 With cords of man I drew them, with ropes of love; and I was to them like those who lift a yoke on their jaws, and I bent down to him; I fed him. 5 He will not return to the land of Egypt, and Assyria (Ashur), he will be his king, because they have refused to return. 6 And a sword will whirl in his cities, and it will put an end to his bars, and it will devour them because of their schemes. 7 And My people are hung up on apostasy from Me; and they call him to the height; together he will not exalt him.

10:6 it will be carried to Assyria as tribute to King Jareb The golden calf loaded on a cart as a gift to Assyria's king (5:13). A god that has to be carried cannot save itself. Isaiah mocks Babylon's gods on weary animals, while our God carries His people (Isa 46:1-4).
10:7 her king is like a twig on the face of waters A twig on a flooding river spins helplessly and is swept away, like Hoshea, Israel's last king (2 Kgs 17:4).
10:8 they will say to the mountains, "Cover us!" and to the hills, "Fall on us!" Aven, wickedness, is Bethel again. The terror would be so great people would rather be buried alive. Jesus used these words of Jerusalem's coming destruction (Luke 23:30), and in the Tribulation people cry to the mountains to hide them "from the wrath of the Lamb" (Rev 6:16). Hosea's words about Samaria look ahead to a greater day of the LORD.
10:11 Ephraim is a trained heifer that loves to thresh Threshing was easy work, walking in circles and eating as she went (Deut 25:4). God had spared her neck the yoke. Now the easy days were over, and plowing and harrowing under a yoke would come.
10:12 break up for yourselves fallow ground The heart of the chapter. Fallow ground is left unplowed until it is hard and weedy (Jer 4:3). It pictures a heart grown hard toward God. Breaking it is painful: confessing sin, turning from it, letting God's Word go deep. Sowing righteousness does not earn God's hesed, but the one who turns finds it waiting. Now is the time (2 Cor 6:2). Is there fallow ground in your heart?
10:12 until He comes and rains righteousness for you The farmer plows and plants but cannot make it rain. We cannot make ourselves righteous. We seek Him, and He gives it (Isa 45:8), as He does in Christ, who became our righteousness (1 Cor 1:30).
10:14 like Shalman's devastation of Beth-arbel We do not know for sure who or where. Many think Shalman is Shalmaneser V, who began the siege of Samaria (2 Kgs 17:3-5). Others think of a Moabite king named in an Assyrian record. Hosea's hearers knew it as a byword for horror, and he says plainly what war would mean.
10:15 at dawn the king of Israel will be utterly destroyed Bethel, house of God, where the calf stood, would be the cause of Israel's ruin. As fast as night gives way to morning, the king and the kingdom would be gone, and within a few years it happened.
11:1 out of Egypt I called My son Hosea looks back seven hundred years to the exodus, when God said, Israel is My firstborn son (Exod 4:22-23). God's love came first, not because Israel was great but because He chose to (Deut 7:7-8). Matthew says Jesus fulfilled this verse when He came back from Egypt after Herod's death (Matt 2:15). "Fulfill" is wider than a prediction coming true. It means filling a pattern to its full meaning. Israel was God's son by calling, and Jesus is His Son by nature.
11:1 For Israel was a youth, and I loved him Matthew traces the pattern. Israel passed through the sea, and Jesus was baptized and called the beloved Son (Matt 3:17). Israel failed forty years of testing in the wilderness, and Jesus did not fail forty days, answering from Deuteronomy (Matt 4:1-11). Hosea's own book points ahead to a new exodus under David's Son (3:5; 11:11). This does not mean Jesus replaces Israel. He is Israel's Messiah and will keep every promise to the nation (Rom 15:8). The whole Old Testament is one story about Him (Luke 24:27).
11:2 They called to them; so they went from before them The more the prophets called, the more Israel walked away, like a child who runs the other way every time his name is called. Some grow harder the more they hear God's call, so never put off answering Him.
11:3 I, I taught Ephraim to walk, taking them on his arms Picture a father holding a little boy's hands for his first steps and scooping him up when he falls. God carried Israel as a man carries his son (Deut 1:31). They did not know He healed them. How often has God protected us without our ever knowing?
11:4 With cords of man I drew them, with ropes of love God did not drive Israel with whips. He drew them gently. A kind farmer lifts the yoke off his ox at the end of the day, and God bent down to feed them, as with the manna (Exod 16). This is the God of the Old Testament, the same God Jesus showed us (John 14:9).

How Can I Give You Up?

8 How will I give you up, Ephraim? Will I deliver you up, Israel? How will I make you like Admah (Adma)? Will I set you like Zeboiim (Tsevoyim)? My heart is overturned within Me; together My compassions have grown warm. 9 I will not carry out the burning of My anger; I will not again destroy Ephraim; for I am God and not man, the Holy One in your midst, and I will not come in rage. 10 They will walk after the LORD; He will roar like a lion; for He will roar, and sons will tremble from the west. 11 They will tremble like a bird from Egypt, and like a dove from the land of Assyria; and I will cause them to dwell in their houses, declares the LORD. 12 Ephraim has surrounded Me with lying, and the house of Israel with deceit; and Judah (Yehuda) still roams with God, and with the Holy Ones he is faithful.

Jacob's Story and Ephraim's Sin

1 Ephraim (Efrayim) feeds on wind and pursues an east wind; all the day he multiplies lies and devastation; and they make a covenant with Assyria (Ashur), and oil is carried to Egypt (Mitsrayim). 2 And the LORD has a case with Judah (Yehuda), and is to punish Jacob (Ya'aqov) according to his ways; according to his deeds He will repay him. 3 In the womb he took his brother by the heel, and in his vigor he struggled with God. 4 And he struggled with the angel and prevailed; he wept and sought His favor; at Bethel (Bet-El) He found him, and there He spoke with us. 5 And the LORD, the God of armies, the LORD is His memorial. 6 And you, by your God you will return; keep steadfast love and justice, and wait for your God continually. 7 Canaan (Kena'an)! In his hand are scales of deceit; he loves to oppress. 8 And Ephraim has said, "Surely I have become rich; I have found wealth for myself; in all my toils they will not find in me iniquity that is sin." 9 And I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt; again I will make you dwell in tents as in the days of an appointed feast. 10 And I have spoken to the prophets, and I, I multiplied vision, and by the hand of the prophets I give parables. 11 If Gilead (Gilad) is wickedness, surely they have become worthlessness; in Gilgal they have sacrificed bulls; also their altars are like heaps of stones on the furrows of a field.

12:11 Hos 6:8; Hos 4:15; Hos 8:11

11:8 How will I give you up, Ephraim? One of the most moving passages in Scripture. Israel deserved judgment, and God stops, as if He cannot do it. Admah and Zeboiim were destroyed with Sodom (Gen 14:2; Deut 29:23). "Overturned" is the word for Sodom's overthrow (Gen 19:25). God overturned those cities, but with Israel His own heart is overturned (Jer 31:20). God does not change or swing with moods as we do, but He is not cold. He loves.

11:9 for I am God and not man A man betrayed this many times would walk away. God's love does not run out. He is the Holy One, wholly other, and part of His holiness is keeping His promises when we break ours. Judgment would come, but not total destruction. A remnant, a part kept by God, would remain. Have you thought you pushed God too far? He is not a man.

11:10 He will roar like a lion In 5:14 the lion tore. Here He roars to call His children home, and they come trembling from the west, the coastlands and islands.

11:11 They will tremble like a bird from Egypt, and like a dove from the land of Assyria The silly dove of 7:11 comes flying home. Most of the northern tribes never returned after the exile, and Israel has never been gathered from west, Egypt and Assyria together to live in peace (Isa 11:11-12). I believe this is still to come, when the Lord Jesus returns and gathers Israel to her land for His kingdom (Matt 24:31).

11:12 Judah still roams with God, and with the Holy Ones he is faithful In the Hebrew Bible this verse begins chapter 12. The line is hard. The SLB reads it as praise for Judah, still walking with God compared to Ephraim, while other translations read it as a charge that Judah too wanders. Since 12:2 brings a case against Judah, her faithfulness was not complete, but under kings like Uzziah and Hezekiah she had not fallen as far.

12:1 Ephraim feeds on wind and pursues an east wind The east wind blows hot and dry off the desert and withers crops. Ephraim made a treaty with Assyria while sending olive oil to Egypt, as Hoshea served Assyria and secretly turned to Egypt (2 Kgs 17:3-4). Playing both sides brought ruin.

12:3 In the womb he took his brother by the heel Jacob came out grasping Esau's heel (Gen 25:26). His name sounds like heel and came to mean one who grabs from behind, a cheat (Gen 27:36). He took the birthright and the blessing.

12:4 he struggled with the angel and prevailed; he wept and sought His favor At the Jabbok Jacob wrestled all night and was named Israel, and he said he had seen God face to face (Gen 32:28-30). Hosea calls the One he wrestled God and "the angel," and many teachers see the Angel of the LORD, the Son of God before His birth. Genesis says Jacob would not let go until blessed (Gen 32:26), and Hosea shows the tears. The grabber finally clung to God in weakness. That is how he prevailed, and his children could do the same.

12:4 at Bethel He found him, and there He spoke with us Where God met Jacob in the dream of the ladder and again on his return (Gen 28:10-19; 35:9-15). What God said to Jacob, He said to all his children. The irony is that Bethel now held the golden calf (10:15).

12:5 the LORD, the God of armies, the LORD is His memorial The commander of heaven's armies. "Memorial" is the name by which He is remembered (Exod 3:15). Israel called on Baal, and Hosea reminds them of the name of the God who met their father.

12:6 keep steadfast love and justice, and wait for your God continually Return to God by His help. Hesed toward God and others, justice for the weak, and waiting on God instead of grabbing for yourself (Mic 6:8). Waiting was hard for Jacob and is hard for us, but those who wait on the LORD gain strength (Isa 40:31).

12:7 In his hand are scales of deceit Canaan can also mean merchant, since Canaanites were known as traders (12:7 opens with the one word "Canaan!"). Ephraim had become like the people God drove out. A cheat kept a heavy weight for buying and a light one for selling, which the Law forbade (Deut 25:13-16; Amos 8:5).

12:8 Surely I have become rich Ephraim gave himself the credit and thought he was clean because the books balanced. Laodicea said the same and did not know it was poor and blind (Rev 3:17). Money can hide sin from others but not from God.

12:9 again I will make you dwell in tents as in the days of an appointed feast The Feast of Booths, when Israel lived a week in huts to remember the wilderness (Lev 23:42-43). God would take away their fine houses. It is judgment, but also a fresh start, back where Israel first knew Him (2:14).

12:11 their altars are like heaps of stones on the furrows of a field Gilead was known for violence (6:8) and Gilgal for false worship (9:15). Altars were as common as the stone piles a farmer clears to the field's edge, and just as worthless. In Hebrew Gilgal sounds like the word for heaps of stones.

12 And Jacob fled to the field of Syria (Aram), and Israel (Yisra'el) served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep. 13 And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel up from Egypt, and by a prophet he was kept. 14 Ephraim has provoked Him to anger bitterly; and his blood He will leave on him, and his reproach his Lord will repay to him.

Ephraim's Fall

1 When Ephraim (Efrayim) spoke, there was trembling; he lifted himself up in Israel (Yisra'el); and he became guilty through Baal, and he died. 2 And now they increase to sin, and they have made for themselves a molten image from their silver, idols according to their skill, the work of craftsmen, all of it. Of them they are saying, "Sacrificers of man kiss calves!" 3 Therefore they will become like a cloud of morning, and like the dew rising early, going away, like chaff storm-driven from a threshing floor, and like smoke from a window. 4 And I am the LORD your God from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and gods besides Me you do not know, and there is no savior except Me. 5 I, I knew you in the wilderness, in a land of droughts. 6 According to their pasture, and they were satisfied; they were satisfied, and their heart was exalted; therefore they forgot Me. 7 And I have become to them like a lion; like a leopard on a road I will watch. 8 I will meet them like a bear robbed of cubs, and I will tear the enclosure of their heart, and I will devour them there like a lion; the living thing of the field will rip them open.

The Ransom from Death

9 It has destroyed you, Israel, for you are against Me, against your help. 10 Where is your king now, that he may save you in all your cities, and your judges, of whom you said, "Give me a king and princes"? 11 I give you a king in My anger, and I take him away in My wrath. 12 The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up; his sin is stored up. 13 The pains of one giving birth will come to him; he is a son not wise, for at the time he will not stand at the breaking forth of sons. 14 From the hand of Sheol I will ransom them; from death I will redeem them. Where are your plagues, death? Where is your destruction, Sheol? Compassion will be hidden from My eyes. 15 For he is fruitful among brothers; an east wind will come, the wind of the LORD, coming up from the wilderness; and his fountain will dry up, and his spring will be dried up; it will

13:15 Ezek 19:12; Ezek 17:10; Gen 41:52

12:12 for a wife he kept sheep Jacob ran to Syria and worked fourteen years as a shepherd for Rachel (Gen 28:5; 29:20, 30). The proud forefather was once a poor runaway and hired hand, which Ephraim, boasting of wealth, should remember.

12:13 by a prophet the LORD brought Israel up from Egypt Moses (Deut 34:10). Jacob "kept" sheep, and God "kept" Israel through a prophet, and now they rejected God's prophets (9:7-8). Moses foretold a prophet like himself (Deut 18:15), and Peter says it is Jesus (Acts 3:22-26).

13:1 When Ephraim spoke, there was trembling Ephraim was the strongest northern tribe, home of Joshua and of Jeroboam I (1 Kgs 11:26), and the others listened when it spoke. Its turn to Baal was the start of its death. In God's eyes it was already dead. Sin brings death (Rom 6:23), and it begins long before the funeral.

13:2 Sacrificers of man kiss calves Hard to translate. The SLB reads it as a mocking saying: those who sacrifice kiss the calf idols, a sign of worship (1 Kgs 19:18). Picture grown men bending to kiss a metal calf. Some read it as those who sacrifice human beings, child sacrifice, which some in Israel did (2 Kgs 17:17). Either way it shows how far they had fallen. Skill does not make a god (8:6).

13:3 like smoke from a window The words of 6:4 again: their love vanished like mist, and now they will too. Chaff is the husk blown away when grain is tossed. Houses had no chimneys, so smoke drifted out a window and was gone.

13:4 there is no savior except Me The first commandment again (Exod 20:2-3; Isa 43:11). The New Testament gives the title Savior to Jesus, and there is salvation in no other (Acts 4:12). If there is no savior but the LORD, and Jesus is the Savior, then Jesus is the LORD.

13:6 they were satisfied, and their heart was exalted; therefore they forgot Me The steps of a fall: fed, full, proud, forgetful, just as Moses warned (Deut 8:10-14). When we are hungry we pray, and when full we forget (Prov 30:8-9). Has comfort ever made you forget God?

13:8 I will meet them like a bear robbed of cubs The Shepherd becomes like the beasts that attack the flock: a leopard hidden by the path, a mother bear robbed of her cubs (2 Sam 17:8). The pictures are meant to frighten. God is not a tame God. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God (Heb 10:31).

13:10 Where is your king now Hoshea, the last king, was in an Assyrian prison (2 Kgs 17:4). Israel had demanded a king to be like the nations (1 Sam 8:5-7) and chosen its own (1 Kgs 12:20).

13:11 I give you a king in My anger, and I take him away in My wrath God gave Saul when asking for a king was a rejection of Him, and now He would take Israel's last king. The kings God allows can be judgment as much as gift.

13:13 he will not stand at the breaking forth of sons The picture turns: Ephraim is a baby who will not come out of the womb when it is time. The moment for new birth, to repent and live, had come, and he stayed where he was. Some things must happen at the right time or they are lost.

13:14 From the hand of Sheol I will ransom them; from death I will redeem them Sheol is the place of the dead. To ransom and redeem mean to set free by paying a price. Teachers read this two ways. Some read the first lines as questions with the answer no, with death called to bring its plagues and God's pity hidden this time, which fits the verses around it. Others, as the SLB reads, see a promise: God will free His people from death, taunt death as a defeated enemy, and not change His mind.

13:14 Where are your plagues, death? Where is your destruction, Sheol? Paul takes up these words for the resurrection of believers, "Where, O death, is your sting?" (1 Cor 15:55), using the Greek wording, where Hades is the Greek for Sheol. Whatever Hosea's first hearers understood, God's full purpose here is triumph. Jesus paid the ransom (Mark 10:45) and came out of death. I believe that when Christ comes for His church, the dead in Christ will be raised and the living changed in a moment (1 Cor 15:51-52; 1 Thess 4:16-17), and this verse will ring out in full.

plunder the treasury of every precious article. 16 Samaria (Shomron) will be held guilty, for she has rebelled against her God; they will fall by the sword; their infants will be dashed in pieces, and its pregnant women will be ripped open.

Return, O Israel

1 Return, Israel (Yisra'el), to the LORD your God, for you have stumbled in your iniquity. 2 Take words with you and return to the LORD; say to Him, "You will forgive all iniquity; and receive good, and let us pay bulls, our lips. 3 Assyria (Ashur) will not save us; on horses we will not ride; and we will not say again, 'Our gods,' to the work of our hands; for in You the fatherless is shown compassion." 4 I will heal their apostasy; I will love them freely, for My anger has turned away from him. 5 I will be like the dew to Israel; he will blossom like the lily, and he will strike his roots like Lebanon (Levanon). 6 His young shoots will go forth, and his splendor will be like the olive tree, and his fragrance like Lebanon. 7 Those who dwell in his shade will return; they will make grain live, and they will blossom like the vine; his memorial will be like the wine of Lebanon. 8 Ephraim (Efrayim), what have I to do anymore with idols? I, I have answered, and I will watch over him; I am like a luxuriant cypress; from Me your fruit is found. 9 Who is wise, and let him understand these things; discerning, and let him know them? For the ways of the LORD are upright, and the righteous walk in them, and transgressors stumble in them.

14:9 Luke 4:28; Acts 13:10; Acts 18:25

13:16 their infants will be dashed in pieces One of the hardest verses in the Bible. It describes what the Assyrians, known for cruelty, would do when Samaria fell, horrors Israelites had also done (2 Kgs 15:16; Amos 1:13). God does not approve cruelty to children. He hates innocent blood (Prov 6:16-17) and later judged Assyria for it (Nah 3:1, 19). When a people turns from God, He may let them fall into cruel hands, and the innocent suffer with the guilty. It should break our hearts and show what it cost Jesus to bear judgment. I believe little children who die are safe with God (2 Sam 12:23).

14:1 Return, Israel, to the LORD your God The call the whole book builds toward. After Baal, the calves, the murders and the lies, He is still "the LORD your God," waiting at the door. Iniquity is crookedness, sin that twists what is right. Israel fell by its own sin, not bad luck. As long as we blame others, we cannot come home.

14:2 Take words with you and return to the LORD Repentance is put into words. That is confession, saying to God what is true about our sin (1 John 1:9). God even gives the words, and the first is faith in His forgiveness: "all iniquity," not some. Instead of bulls He rejected (6:6), they offer their lips, a sacrifice of praise (Heb 13:15). Because Christ made the one sacrifice for sin (Heb 10:10-14), we bring thanks.

14:3 Assyria will not save us; on horses we will not ride Three false hopes named and given up: foreign kings, military might (Isa 31:1) and man-made gods. Repentance is also turning from what we trusted in place of God. What would you need to name and give up?

14:3 in You the fatherless is shown compassion "Shown compassion" echoes the name No Mercy (1:6). God is a father of the fatherless (Ps 68:5). No one is too alone or too lost to be loved by Him.

14:4 I will heal their apostasy; I will love them freely The key verse of the book. Israel went to Assyria for healing (5:13), but only God can heal. Their backsliding was a disease, and He will cure it at the root with a new heart (Jer 31:33; Ezek 36:26). "Freely" means as a gift, not wages. Israel loved for pay (2:12), and God loves for nothing (Rom 3:24). He does not say, fix yourself and then I will love you.

14:4 My anger has turned away from him How? The New Testament answers. God's anger against sin fell on His Son, the propitiation, the sacrifice that turns away wrath (Rom 3:25; 1 John 2:2).

14:5 I will be like the dew to Israel Summer has almost no rain, and the night dew keeps plants alive. Israel's love vanished like dew (6:4), and now God Himself will be the dew that never fails. Beauty above like the lily, and strength below like Lebanon's deep-rooted cedars.

14:7 Those who dwell in his shade will return Every picture of judgment is reversed: the wasted vine blossoms (2:12), the grain lives (8:7), the dried root goes deep (9:16). Israel has never yet been this fruitful, faithful people. I believe this looks to the day Israel returns to the LORD and David their king (3:5), when Christ reigns and all Israel is saved (Rom 11:26). Every believer who comes back to God can taste this new life now.

14:8 Ephraim, what have I to do anymore with idols? The SLB reads it as God speaking. It may also be Ephraim's own words, finally done with idols. Either way, the long affair with Baal is over.

14:8 I am like a luxuriant cypress; from Me your fruit is found An evergreen, never dry or bare. Many note this is the only place in the Old Testament where God compares Himself to a tree. Israel gave Baal the credit for its fruit, but every bit comes from God. Apart from Christ we can do nothing (John 15:5).

14:9 the righteous walk in them, and transgressors stumble in them The closing words of a wise teacher. Hosea is a book to be understood and lived. God's ways are upright, and the same road brings life to the righteous and a fall to rebels (Ps 1:6). Jesus is a precious cornerstone to believers and a stone of stumbling to the disobedient (1 Pet 2:6-8). Will you walk in God's ways or stumble over them?

JOEL

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Joel son of Pethuel. His name means the LORD is God, a fitting name for a man sent to a land stripped bare and tempted to look elsewhere for rain and harvest. Joel is the second of the twelve Minor Prophets. It is a short book of three chapters, but it has one of the clearest messages in all the prophets, and Peter quoted it on the day the church was born.

The book opens, "The word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel" (1:1), and that is all we know about him. He seems to have lived in or near Jerusalem, since he speaks often of Zion, the temple, the priests and the altar. Jewish and Christian tradition hold that Joel wrote the book. Some modern scholars think a later writer added the second half. I take it as one message from one prophet, since the day of the LORD and the locust army run all through it.

Joel names no king and gives no date, so good Bible teachers disagree. Many conservative scholars date him about 835 to 800 B.C., in the early years of King Joash, when the priest Jehoiada guided the boy king. That would explain why Joel speaks to elders and priests and never mentions a king, and the enemies he names (Tyre, Sidon, Philistia, Egypt and Edom) fit that early time. Others date him after the exile, about 500 to 400 B.C., when the temple stood but Judah had no king, and they read 3:1-2 as looking back on the exile. This study follows the early date, as the SLB introduction does, while holding it loosely. The meaning of the book does not change either way.

Judah had been struck by a locust plague like nothing anyone alive had seen (1:2). Locusts are a kind of grasshopper that sometimes gather into enormous swarms that can strip a whole region of every green thing in hours. Wave after wave came (1:4). Drought followed, with wildfires in the pastures (1:19-20). The farmers were ruined, the animals starved, and the grain and drink offerings at the temple had to stop because there was nothing to offer (1:9, 13). God had warned through Moses that locusts would come if His people turned from Him (Deut 28:38), and Solomon had prayed about such a day when he dedicated the temple (2 Chr 7:13-14).

Joel spoke to the elders, the priests, the farmers, the drinkers of wine and "all inhabitants of the land" (1:2), and he told them to pass the story on to their children's children (1:3).

Themes

The theme of Joel is the day of the LORD and the call to return to God before it comes. The phrase appears five times (1:15; 2:1, 11, 31; 3:14). In the prophets the day of the LORD can mean a judgment God brings in history, like the locusts, and it also means the great and final day at the end of this age, when God judges the nations and sets up His kingdom. Joel moves from the first to the second. This study holds that the final day of the LORD includes the seven-year Tribulation and the return of Christ to judge and reign, and that the church will be taken up to be with Christ before that time of wrath begins (1 Thess 4:16-17; 5:9).

At the center of the book is the call to repent from the heart: "tear your heart and not your garments, and return to the LORD your God; for He is gracious and merciful" (2:13). When the people pray, the LORD answers with promise after promise. He will drive away the northern army, send the rain, and repay the years the locusts ate (2:25). Afterward He will pour out His Spirit on all flesh (2:28). Then He will gather the nations to the valley of decision, judge them for how they treated His people, and dwell in Zion forever (3:2, 14, 21). God has a future for Israel and Jerusalem.

Christ in Joel

On the day of Pentecost, when the Holy Spirit came on the disciples in Jerusalem, Peter said, "this is that which has been spoken through the prophet Joel" (Acts 2:16), and he quoted Joel 2:28-32. The Spirit Joel promised was poured out because Jesus had died, risen and been exalted to the Father's right hand (Acts 2:32-33). Peter and Paul both apply Joel's promise that everyone who calls on the name of the LORD will be saved to calling on the Lord Jesus (Acts 2:21, 36; Rom 10:9-13). The LORD of Joel 2:32 is Jesus. Joel's picture of the LORD judging the nations, treading the winepress and reigning in Zion looks ahead to the return of Christ as King (Rev 14:14-20; 19:11-16).

Hard Passages

When was Joel written? The early and later dates are both held by people who trust the Bible. The notes follow the early date loosely.

Who is the army of chapter 2? Some see the locusts pictured as an army, others a human army from the north pictured as locusts, and others the armies of the last days. Many join the first and third readings, and the notes name them all.

Was Joel 2:28-32 fulfilled at Pentecost? The notes give the view of this study: Pentecost was a true first fulfillment, as Peter said, and the signs in the sky and the rescue of Israel on Zion will be fulfilled in full at the end of the Tribulation. They also name the views that see it fully fulfilled in the church age or see Pentecost as only a sample.

Is the valley of decision (3:14) about people deciding for Christ? The notes explain that the decision there is God's verdict on the nations, which makes the call of 2:32 urgent today.

The Locust Plague

1 The word of the LORD that came to Joel (Yo'el) the son of Pethuel (Petu'el). 2 Hear this, elders, and give ear, all inhabitants of the land! Has this happened in your days, or in the days of your fathers? 3 Concerning it recount to your sons, and your sons to their sons, and their sons to another generation. 4 The remainder of the cutting locust the swarming locust has eaten; and the remainder of the swarming locust the hopping locust has eaten; and the remainder of the hopping locust the destroying locust has eaten. 5 Wake up, drunkards, and weep, and wail, all drinkers of wine, over sweet wine, for it has been cut off from your mouth. 6 For a nation has come up against my land, mighty, and there is no number; its teeth are the teeth of a lion, and the fangs of a lioness are its. 7 It has made my vine into a waste, and my fig tree into splinters; it has stripped it completely bare and thrown it away; its branches have become white. 8 Wail like a virgin girded with sackcloth over the husband of her youth. 9 Grain offering and drink offering have been cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests, the ministers of the LORD, mourn. 10 The field is devastated; the ground mourns; for the grain is devastated, the new wine has dried up, the fresh oil languishes. 11 Be ashamed, farmers; wail, vinedressers, over wheat and over barley, for the harvest of the field has perished. 12 The vine has dried up, and the fig tree languishes; pomegranate, also palm, and apple tree, all the trees of the field have dried up; for joy has withered away from the sons of mankind.

A Call to Fast and Pray

13 Gird yourselves and lament, priests; wail, ministers of the altar; come, spend the night in sackcloth, ministers of my God; for grain offering and drink offering are withheld from the house of your God. 14 Sanctify a fast; call a solemn assembly; gather the elders, all the inhabitants of the land, to the house of the LORD your God, and cry out to the LORD. 15 Alas for the day! For the day of the LORD is near, and like devastation from the Almighty it will come. 16 Is not food cut off before our eyes, joy and rejoicing from the house of our God? 17 The seeds have shriveled under their clods; the storehouses are desolate; the granaries are torn down, for the grain has dried up. 18 How the beasts groan! The herds of cattle wander in confusion, for there is no pasture for

1:18 Jer 12:4; Hos 4:3; Jer 14:5,6

1:1 Joel the son of Pethuel We know nothing else about Joel or his father. His name means the LORD is God, a sermon in itself in a land tempted to look to other gods for rain and harvest. In the disaster that follows, his name answers who is really in charge.
1:3 recount to your sons, and your sons to their sons Four generations were to hear it, because of what God was saying through it. Israel was always to pass down what God had done, in saving and in judgment (Exod 10:2; Ps 78:4-7). Faith that is not passed on dies in one generation.
1:4 The remainder of the cutting locust the swarming locust has eaten Four Hebrew words for locusts. They may be four kinds, four stages of one kind from young hopper to grown flier, or four waves of swarms. Either way, what one left the next ate. A swarm can cover many square miles, number in the billions and eat as much in a day as a city. Moses warned that the locust would consume a disobedient Israel's crops (Deut 28:38).
1:5 Wake up, drunkards, and weep Those who lived for their wine noticed first that it was gone. They were asleep, dulled by drink (Hos 4:11). Sometimes God takes away what we have been living for so that we will wake up and see Him.
1:6 its teeth are the teeth of a lion Joel calls the locusts a nation, an invading army too many to count. Each jaw is tiny, but together they tore through everything (compare Rev 9:7-8).
1:7 It has made my vine into a waste, and my fig tree into splinters God calls it "my land" and "my vine." The land was His (Lev 25:23). Every man under his own vine and fig tree was Israel's picture of peace and plenty (1 Kgs 4:25; Mic 4:4). The locusts ate even the bark, leaving branches bare and white.
1:8 Wail like a virgin girded with sackcloth over the husband of her youth A betrothed woman was counted a wife. Picture a young woman whose husband-to-be dies before the wedding. Sackcloth was rough goat's-hair cloth worn in mourning.
1:9 Grain offering and drink offering have been cut off from the house of the LORD Flour and oil, and wine poured at the altar, went with the daily morning and evening sacrifices (Exod 29:38-41). For Joel the worst of the disaster was not empty stomachs but broken worship, the daily link between God and His people cut.
1:12 joy has withered away from the sons of mankind Harvest was the happiest season, with singing in fields and vineyards (Isa 16:10). When what we enjoy is taken, where is our joy? Habakkuk learned to rejoice in the LORD with no fruit on the vines (Hab 3:17-18). Joy that rests on God cannot be eaten by locusts.
1:13 spend the night in sackcloth, ministers of my God The priests were to lead the mourning, not as a daytime show but all night on the hard floor before God. Their whole work was to offer these things, and they had none.
1:14 Sanctify a fast; call a solemn assembly To sanctify is to set apart as holy. A fast was going without food to humble oneself and seek God, and an assembly was a sacred gathering of all the people. Solomon prayed that when locusts came and the people turned, God would hear and forgive (1 Kgs 8:37-39; 2 Chr 7:13-14). When trouble comes to a family, church or nation, do we gather to pray, or only complain?
1:15 the day of the LORD is near The key to the book. The locusts were a sign of something worse. The day of the LORD is the time when God Himself steps in to judge sin. In Hebrew "devastation" (shod) plays on "the Almighty" (Shaddai), as in Isaiah 13:6. The plague was a small day of the LORD, a preview. Every disaster in this fallen world reminds us it will not go on forever and that God will judge it.
1:17 The seeds have shriveled under their clods A drought had come too. The seed dried up in the ground, and the barns stood empty and falling down.
1:18 How the beasts groan! Even the animals suffered for the sins of people. All creation groans, waiting to be set free (Rom 8:19-22).

them; also the flocks of sheep suffer punishment. 19 To You, LORD, I call, for fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and a flame has set ablaze all the trees of the field. 20 Also the beasts of the field pant to You, for the channels of water have dried up, and fire has devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

The Army of the LORD

1 Blow a ram's horn in Zion (Tsiyon), and sound an alarm on the mountain of My holiness! Let all the inhabitants of the land tremble, for the day of the LORD is coming, for it is near: 2 a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and thick darkness. Like dawn spread out over the mountains is a people numerous and mighty; like it there has not been from antiquity, and after it it will not recur until the years of generation and generation. 3 Before it fire has consumed, and after it a flame blazes. Like the garden of Eden is the land before it, and after it a wilderness of desolation; and also there has been no escape for it. 4 Like the appearance of horses is its appearance, and like horsemen, so they run. 5 Like the sound of chariots over the tops of the mountains they leap, like the sound of a flame of fire consuming stubble, like a mighty people arrayed for battle. 6 Before it peoples are in anguish; all faces have gathered a glow. 7 Like warriors they run; like men of war they go up a wall; and each goes on his ways, and they do not change their paths. 8 And each does not crowd his brother; they go, each man on his track; and through the weapons they fall, they do not break off. 9 In the city they rush about; on the wall they run; into the houses they go up; through the windows they come in like the thief. 10 Before it the earth trembles, the heavens shake; the sun and the moon have grown dark, and the stars have gathered in their brightness. 11 And the LORD gives forth His voice before His army, for His camp is very great; for mighty is the one doing His word; for the day of the LORD is great and very awesome, and who can endure it?

Return with All Your Heart

12 "And even now," declares the LORD, "return to Me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with wailing." 13 And tear your heart and not your garments, and return to the LORD your God; for He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger and great in steadfast love, and relenting over the harm. 14 Who knows? He may turn and relent, and leave behind Him a blessing, a grain offering and a drink offering for the LORD your God. 15 Blow a ram's horn in Zion; consecrate a fast; call a solemn assembly. 16 Gather the people; consecrate an assembly; assemble the elders; gather the children and those nursing at the breasts; let the bridegroom go out from his room, and the bride from her canopy.
17 Between the porch and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep, and let them say, "Have pity, O LORD, on Your people, and do not make Your inheritance a reproach, for nations to rule over them. Why should they say among the peoples, 'Where is their God?'"

2:17 Matt 23:35; Ezek 8:16; Ps 79:10

1:19 To You, LORD, I call Joel does what he told the people to do (1:14). In a long drought, dry grass burns easily, and wildfires sweep the land.
1:20 the beasts of the field pant to You Even the wild animals look to God (Ps 104:21; 42:1). How much more should we? Joel has no answer yet, but he ends where every hard time should end, in prayer. That is where hope begins.
2:1 Blow a ram's horn in Zion The ram's horn warned of an enemy (Hos 5:8). Zion is Jerusalem, and the mountain of His holiness is the temple mount.
2:2 a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and thick darkness A swarm can be thick enough to blot out the sun, but these are also the words of God's coming at Sinai (Deut 4:11) and of the day of the LORD (Zeph 1:15). The army spreads fast and everywhere, like first light on the mountains.
2:3 Like the garden of Eden is the land before it, and after it a wilderness of desolation Wherever the army has been, the land looks burned. A paradise becomes a desert, and nothing escapes.
2:8 through the weapons they fall, they do not break off They keep their lines, and you cannot fight locusts with a sword. They come through the windows like a thief (2:9), and there is nowhere to hide.
2:9 through the windows they come in like the thief Who is this army? Some see the locusts of chapter 1 pictured as an army. Others see a human army such as Assyria or Babylon pictured as locusts, since verse 20 calls it "the northerner." Others see the armies of the last days. Many join the first and third: Joel starts with the locusts he saw and lets them point to a far greater day. Revelation uses locusts like horses, with lions' teeth and the sound of chariots, for a judgment in the Tribulation (Rev 9:3-11).
2:10 the sun and the moon have grown dark The picture is now bigger than locusts. Jesus used such words for the end of the Tribulation, just before His return (Matt 24:29).
2:11 the LORD gives forth His voice before His army The army is the LORD's. Locusts or nations only do what God sends them to do (2:25). "Who can endure it?" is the question every person must face, and only those who turn to Him for mercy can.
2:12 even now Perhaps the two most hopeful words in the book. The army is at the door, and God says it is not too late. He wants all the heart, not half (Hos 7:8). Fasting, weeping and wailing show that repentance feels the weight of sin.
2:13 tear your heart and not your garments People tore their clothes in grief (Gen 37:34), but anyone can tear a robe. God wants a broken spirit (Ps 51:17), not a show (Matt 6:16-18).
2:13 He is gracious and merciful, slow to anger and great in steadfast love What God said of Himself to Moses (Exod 34:6). Gracious: He gives what we do not deserve. Merciful: He holds back what we do. Slow to anger: He gives time to turn. Relenting: He turns from threatened judgment when people repent, which Jonah knew and did not like (Jonah 4:2). If you fear God is only angry with you, read this verse again.
2:14 Who knows? He may turn and relent Repentance does not force God's hand. It throws us on His mercy, as the king of Nineveh did (Jonah 3:9). The blessing they hoped for was enough harvest to worship God again (1:9).
2:16 let the bridegroom go out from his room, and the bride from her canopy Everyone must come, even nursing babies, and even newlyweds whom the Law excused from war (Deut 24:5). Nothing mattered more.
2:17 Between the porch and the altar let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep Between the temple entrance and the altar of burnt offering, standing in the gap for the people. They appeal to God's own honor, as Moses did (Exod 32:11-12): do not let the nations ask, "Where is their God?"

The LORD Restores the Land

18 And the LORD became jealous for His land and had compassion on His people. 19 And the LORD answered and said to His people, "Look, I am sending to you the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil, and you will be satisfied with it; and I will not make you again a reproach among the nations. 20 And the northerner I will remove far from you, and I will drive it into a land of dryness and desolation, its face toward the eastern sea and its end toward the western sea; and its stench will go up, and let its foul smell go up, for it has done great things." 21 Do not fear, O ground; be glad and rejoice, for the LORD has done great things. 22 Do not fear, O animals of the field, for the pastures of the wilderness have sprouted, for the tree has borne its fruit; the fig tree and the vine have given their strength. 23 And sons of Zion, be glad and rejoice in the LORD your God, for He has given to you the early rain for righteousness, and He has brought down for you rain, the early rain and the spring rain, at the first. 24 And the threshing floors will be full of grain, and the vats will overflow with new wine and fresh oil. 25 And I will repay to you the years which the swarming locust has eaten, the hopping locust and the destroying locust and the cutting locust, My great army which I sent among you. 26 And you will surely eat and be satisfied, and you will praise the name of the LORD your God, who has dealt wondrously with you; and My people will not be ashamed forever. 27 And you will know that I am in the midst of Israel (Yisra'el), and I am the LORD your God, and there is none else; and My people will not be ashamed forever.

The Promise of the Spirit

28 And it will be afterward that I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh, and your sons and your daughters will prophesy; your old men will dream dreams; your young men will see visions. 29 And also on the male servants and on the female servants in those days I will pour out My Spirit. 30 And I will set wonders in the heavens and on the earth: blood and fire and columns of smoke. 31 The sun will be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the coming of the great and awesome day of the LORD. 32 And it will be that everyone who calls on the name of the LORD will escape; for on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) there will be escape, just as the LORD has said, and among the survivors whom the LORD is calling.

3:2 Rev 11:18; Isa 66:16; Zeph 3:8

2:18 the LORD became jealous for His land and had compassion on His people The turning point of the book. The people prayed, and God answered. Jealous here means a burning, protective love for what is His.

2:19 I am sending to you the grain and the new wine and the fresh oil What the locusts took, God gives back, and the shame before the nations is lifted.

2:20 the northerner I will remove far from you Toward the eastern sea, the Dead Sea, and the western sea, the Mediterranean. Swarms have been blown out to sea to die and wash up in stinking heaps. The enemy made itself great, but God would do greater things (2:21).

2:23 He has given to you the early rain for righteousness The fall and spring rains, given in right measure as a sign of His faithfulness, and the empty barns of 1:17 are full (2:24).

2:25 I will repay to you the years which the swarming locust has eaten One of the most loved promises in Joel. God does not pretend He had nothing to do with it. He sent "My great army," and He will restore. Many have years that feel eaten up by sin, foolish choices, suffering or others' sin against them. God does not always give back the same thing, but He can redeem those years (Rom 8:28).

2:27 you will know that I am in the midst of Israel The best gift is not the harvest but God Himself among His people. Twice He says, "My people will not be ashamed forever" (2:26).

2:28 I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh After the land is restored, a far greater gift, the Spirit poured like rain on dry ground (Isa 44:3). In the Old Testament the Spirit came on certain people for certain tasks. Moses wished all God's people were prophets (Num 11:29). "All flesh" means every kind: sons and daughters, old and young.

2:31 The sun will be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood Signs of world-shaking upheaval before God's final judgment, which Jesus placed at the end of the Tribulation just before His return (Matt 24:29-30), and John saw at the sixth seal (Rev 6:12).

2:32 everyone who calls on the name of the LORD will escape In the middle of terror there is a way out for anyone. To call on the LORD is to cry out to Him, trusting Him to save, and those who call are those He is calling. At Pentecost Peter quoted Joel 2:28-32, said "this is that" (Acts 2:16), and said the risen Jesus had poured out the Spirit (Acts 2:33). Paul applies the promise to the Lord Jesus (Rom 10:9-13). The LORD of Joel 2:32 is the Lord Jesus.

2:32 on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem there will be escape Fulfilled at Pentecost? I believe yes and not yet. Yes: the Spirit Joel promised came and is given to every believer (Acts 2:39), and the last days began with Christ's first coming (Heb 1:2). Not yet in full: the sky did not darken, and the promise is to Israel on Zion, when God pours His Spirit on Israel brought home (Ezek 39:29; Zech 12:10). I believe the full fulfillment comes at the end of the Tribulation, when Israel calls on the Lord and Christ returns, with the church already taken to Him before that time of wrath (1 Thess 4:16-17; 5:9). Some see Joel fully fulfilled at Pentecost and the church age, and others see Pentecost as only a sample.

3:1 when I turn back the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem "In those days" ties this to 2:28-32 and the great day of the LORD. To turn back the captivity is to bring captives home and restore their fortunes. The return from Babylon in 538 B.C. did not bring the judgment of all nations, and millions of Jews have returned in our own time. I believe the full restoring comes when Christ returns.

3:2 the valley of Jehoshaphat Jehoshaphat means the LORD judges. The godly king of that name saw God win a battle without Judah fighting (2 Chr 20:20-26). The place is uncertain. Since the fourth century A.D. many have linked it with the Kidron Valley east of Jerusalem, and it may be the great valley formed when the Mount of Olives splits at the Lord's return (Zech 14:4).

3:2 on account of My people and My inheritance Israel After all Israel's sin, they are still God's people, and He has not forgotten "the one who disdains you I will curse" (Gen 12:3). The nations scattered His people and divided His land (Lev 25:23). Many connect this with the judgment of the nations by how they treated His brothers when the Son of Man comes in glory (Matt 25:31-46). I believe both describe Christ's return at the end of the Tribulation, before His kingdom begins.

them down to the valley of Jehoshaphat (Yehoshafat), and I will enter into judgment with them there on account of My people and My inheritance Israel (Yisra'el), whom they have scattered among the nations; and My land they have divided up. 3 And for My people they have cast a lot, and they have given the boy for the prostitute, and the girl they have sold for the wine, and they have drunk. 4 And also, what are you to Me, O Tyre (Tsor) and Sidon (Tsidon) and all the regions of Philistia (Peleshet)? Are you repaying a recompense to Me? Or are you dealing out to Me? Swiftly, quickly I will return your recompense on your head, 5 because My silver and My gold you have taken, and My good desirable things you have brought into your temples. 6 And the sons of Judah and the sons of Jerusalem you have sold to the sons of the Greeks, in order to remove them far from their territory. 7 Look, I am rousing them from the place where you sold them, and I will return your recompense on your head. 8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the sons of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans (Sheva'i), to a distant nation; for the LORD has spoken.

The Valley of Decision

9 Proclaim this among the nations: consecrate war; rouse the warriors; let them draw near, let them go up, all the men of war. 10 Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruning knives into spears; let the weak say, "I am a warrior." 11 Hurry and come, all the nations from round about, and they will be gathered there. Bring down, O LORD, Your warriors. 12 Let the nations be roused and go up to the valley of Jehoshaphat, for there I will sit to judge all the nations from round about. 13 Send out the sickle, for the harvest has ripened; come, tread, for the winepress is full; the vats overflow, for their evil is great. 14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! For the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. 15 The sun and the moon have grown dark, and the stars have gathered in their brightness. 16 And the LORD will roar from Zion (Tsiyon), and from Jerusalem He will give forth His voice, and the heavens and the earth will shake; and the LORD will be a refuge for His people and a stronghold for the sons of Israel.

The LORD Dwells in Zion

17 And you will know that I am the LORD your God, dwelling in Zion, the mountain of My holiness; and Jerusalem will be holiness, and strangers will not pass through it again. 18 And it will be in that day that the mountains will drip sweet wine, and the hills will flow with milk, and all the ravines of Judah will flow with water; and a spring will go out from the house of the LORD and will water the wadi of the Shittim (Shitim). 19 Egypt (Mitsrayim) will become a desolation, and Edom will become a wilderness of desolation, because of the violence of the sons of Judah, in that they shed innocent blood in their land. 20 And Judah will remain forever, and Jerusalem to generation and generation. 21 And I will clear their blood that I have not cleared; and the LORD is dwelling in Zion.

3:3 the girl they have sold for the wine Soldiers cast lots for captives, and a child made in God's image was traded for a night with a prostitute or the price of a drink. God sees every one of those children. Human trafficking is not new, and neither is God's hatred of it.
3:6 you have sold to the sons of the Greeks They looted God's treasures for their own temples and sold Jewish captives across the sea so they could never come home (Amos 1:6, 9).
3:8 they will sell them to the Sabeans, to a distant nation Sheba in southern Arabia, as far from Tyre as Greece was from Judah. The punishment fits the crime. Alexander sold thousands of Tyre's people as slaves in 332 B.C., and Persia crushed Sidon about 345 B.C., but the full judgment of all nations waits for the day of the LORD.
3:10 Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruning knives into spears Isaiah and Micah reversed. In the kingdom the nations will beat swords into plowshares (Isa 2:4; Mic 4:3), but before that peace the nations will do the opposite for one last war, and even the weak will be called up.
3:12 there I will sit to judge all the nations from round about The nations think they are coming to fight, and they are coming to court. I believe this is the gathering at Armageddon at the end of the Tribulation (Rev 16:16; 19:19).
3:13 Send out the sickle, for the harvest has ripened The grain cut down and the grapes trampled in the winepress. John uses both pictures (Rev 14:15-19), and Christ Himself treads the winepress at His return (Rev 19:15). God waits because He is patient (2 Pet 3:9), but there comes a time when evil is full (Gen 15:16).
3:14 Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! Often preached as people deciding for Christ. Everyone must decide, but the decision here is God's, His verdict, a sharp cutting. By then the nations' time to decide is past. That makes 2:32 all the more urgent today.
3:16 the LORD will roar from Zion Like a lion over its prey, the words Amos begins with (Amos 1:2), and the universe shakes (Heb 12:26). The same voice that terrifies His enemies is a refuge for His people. Where will you stand on that day?
3:17 strangers will not pass through it again Israel will finally know the LORD. Jerusalem has been trampled by Assyria, Babylon, Greece, Rome and others "until the times of the nations are fulfilled" (Luke 21:24). That day will end, and no foreign army will march through it again.
3:18 a spring will go out from the house of the LORD The stripped land overflows (Amos 9:13), and the dry streambeds of 1:20 run full. A wadi is a valley dry most of the year, and Shittim means acacias, perhaps a valley toward the Dead Sea. Ezekiel saw a river from the temple healing even the Dead Sea (Ezek 47:1-12), and living waters flow from Jerusalem (Zech 14:8). I believe it will be a real river when Christ reigns, and a picture of life from God's presence (Rev 22:1).
3:19 because of the violence of the sons of Judah Egypt and Edom, from Esau, Jacob's brother, stand for Israel's long-time enemies. The violence is that done to the sons of Judah, the innocent blood of God's people.
3:21 the LORD is dwelling in Zion "Clear their blood" may mean God avenges His people's innocent blood or cleanses them of their own guilt, and both are true of what He will do. The locusts came because God's people wandered, and the book ends with God at home among them, as Ezekiel ends with "The LORD Is There" (Ezek 48:35) and the Bible with God's tabernacle among men (Rev 21:3).

AMOS

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Amos. His name means burden or one who carries a load, and that fits the heavy message he carried. Amos is the third of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Joel and before Obadiah. It is the book of a shepherd sent from Judah to the northern kingdom, and it has given the world one of its best known cries for justice: "let justice roll like the waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing wadi" (5:24).

Author and Date

The book opens, "The words of Amos, who was among the sheep-breeders from Tekoa" (1:1). Tekoa was a small town in the hills of Judah, south of Bethlehem. Amos tells the priest at Bethel that he was not a prophet by trade but "a herdsman and a tender of sycamores" (7:14). Jewish and Christian tradition hold that Amos wrote the book. Some modern scholars think later editors added the words about Judah (2:4-5) and the hopeful ending (9:11-15). I take the book at its word. Amos was a man of Judah, and every prophet in this part of the Bible shows that God's judgment is not His last word.

Amos preached "in the days of Uzziah king of Judah and in the days of Jeroboam son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake" (1:1). Uzziah reigned about 792 to 740 B.C. and Jeroboam II about 793 to 753 B.C., so Amos most likely preached about 760 B.C. The earthquake was remembered more than two hundred years later (Zech 14:5). His ministry may have been short, but his words were written down and kept.

Israel had never had it so good. Assyria was weak for a time, Syria had been beaten, and Jeroboam II had won back the old borders "from Lebo-hamath to the sea of the Arabah" (2 Kgs 14:25). Trade boomed. The rich had winter houses and summer houses with ivory inlay (3:15). Worship was busy at Bethel, where Jeroboam I had set up a golden calf about 170 years before (1 Kgs 12:28-29), and at Gilgal, Dan and Beersheba.

But under the surface the nation was rotten. The rich cheated in the market, bribed the judges in the gate, and sold the poor for a pair of sandals (2:6; 8:4-6). It looked as if God was blessing Israel. Amos said God was about to judge her. About forty years later, in 722 B.C., Assyria took Samaria and carried Israel into exile.

Themes

God judges sin in every nation, and most of all in the people He chose. Amos begins with Israel's neighbors, who sinned against the law written on their hearts, then closes the circle on Judah and Israel (1:3-2:16). "Only you have I known from all the clans of the ground; therefore I will visit on you all your iniquities" (3:2). Privilege brings responsibility.

Worship without justice is empty. Justice means doing right by people, especially in court, with honest weights and protection for the weak. Righteousness means living rightly before God and others. God hated feasts held by people who crushed the needy (5:21-24). Justice and righteousness are the fruit of a right relationship with God, never the ground of it.

The day of the LORD is not a day for the wicked to look forward to. Israel thought it would be a day of victory over their enemies, but Amos said it would be "darkness and not light" (5:18). As in Joel, this study reads the day of the LORD as any time God steps into history to judge, and above all as the great day still ahead, which includes the Tribulation and Christ's return. The church will be taken up to be with Christ before that time of wrath (1 Thess 4:16-17; 5:9).

God's judgment is not His last word. He will "not utterly destroy the house of Jacob" (9:8). He will raise up the fallen booth of David and plant Israel in her land, never to be plucked up again (9:11-15).

Christ in Amos

At the council in Jerusalem, when the church had to decide whether Gentiles must become Jews to be saved, James quoted Amos 9:11-12. He said that God's taking a people for His name from the Gentiles agrees with the prophets, who spoke of the tent of David rebuilt and "all the Gentiles upon whom My name has been called" (Acts 15:14-17). Jesus is the Son of David, and God will give Him "the throne of David His father" (Luke 1:32). Stephen quoted Amos 5:25-27 to show Israel's long history of turning from God (Acts 7:42-43). And Amos's cry for justice is echoed by Jesus, who told the Pharisees they had neglected "the justice and the mercy and the faith" (Matt 23:23). The plumb line of God's Word shows that all of us lean, and our one hope is the One who took our sin on Himself (2 Cor 5:21).

Hard Passages

Does God change His mind? Twice "the LORD relented" at Amos's prayer (7:3, 6). The notes explain that God's character and purposes never change (Num 23:19), but His warnings are conditional (Jer 18:7-8), and He has chosen to work through the prayers of His people.

Does God send disaster? Amos says calamity does not happen in a city unless the LORD has done it (3:6), and chapter 4 lists famine, drought, locusts and plague that God sent so that Israel would return. The notes explain these as the covenant discipline warned of in the Law (Lev 26; Deut 28), and caution that not every hardship is punishment for a particular sin.

What about the harsh words against the wealthy women of Samaria (4:1) and against Amaziah's family (7:17)? The notes handle them plainly and briefly, as the horrors of conquest that rebellion would bring, not as God's delight.

Is the darkness at noon (8:9) a prophecy of the cross? The notes mention the darkness at the crucifixion as a picture only, since the New Testament does not call it a fulfillment.

How should we read the rebuilt booth of David (9:11-15)? James used it to show that Gentiles belong to the LORD as Gentiles. Some dispensational teachers see the rebuilding as after the church age, when Christ returns; others see it begun in Christ's resurrection with the full kingdom still ahead. Amillennial and covenant teachers see it fulfilled in the church. This study holds that the church does not replace Israel, and that the promise of the land will be kept in full when Christ returns

AMOS 1

The LORD Roars from Zion

1 The words of Amos, who was among the sheep-breeders from Tekoa (Teqoa), which he saw concerning Israel (Yisra'el) in the days of Uzziah (Uziya) king of Judah
(Yehuda) and in the days of Jeroboam (Yaravam) son of Joash (Yo'ash) king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.
2 And he said, "The LORD will roar from Zion (Tsiyon), and from Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) He will give forth His voice; and the pastures of the shepherds will mourn, and the top of the Carmel (Karmel) will wither."

Judgment on the Nations

3 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Damascus (Dameseq), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they threshed the Gilead (Gilad) with threshing sledges of iron.
4 And I will send a fire on the house of Hazael (Chaza'el), and it will consume the fortresses of Ben-hadad. 5 And I will break the bar of Damascus, and I will cut off the inhabitant from the valley of Aven, and the one holding the scepter from Beth-eden (Bet-Eden); and the people of Syria (Aram) will go into exile to Kir (Qir)," says the LORD. 6 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Gaza (Aza), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they carried into exile a complete exile, to deliver them up to Edom. 7 And I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, and it will consume its fortresses. 8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and the one holding the scepter from Ashkelon (Ashqelon); and I will turn My hand against Ekron (Eqron), and the remnant of the Philistines will perish," says the Lord GOD. 9 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Tyre (Tsor), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they delivered up a complete exile to Edom, and they did not remember the covenant of brothers. 10 And I will send a fire on the wall of Tyre, and it will consume its fortresses." 11 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not revoke it, because he pursued his brother with the sword and destroyed his compassion, and his anger tore continually, and his fury, he kept it perpetually. 12 And I will send a fire on Teman, and it will consume the fortresses of Bozrah (Botsra)." 13 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of the sons of Ammon (Amon), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they ripped open the pregnant women of the Gilead in order to enlarge their territory. 14 And I will kindle a fire on the wall of Rabbah (Raba), and it will consume its fortresses, with a shout on the day of battle, with a storm on the day of a whirlwind. 15 And their king will go into exile,

1:1 who was among the sheep-breeders from Tekoa Amos was not from a family of prophets or priests. He raised sheep in Tekoa, a hill town about ten miles south of Jerusalem at the edge of the wilderness, and tended sycamore figs (7:14). What made him a prophet was God's call, not training. He "saw" his words, a revelation from God, and he was a man of Judah sent to Israel. Uzziah (about 792 to 740 B.C.) and Jeroboam II (about 793 to 753 B.C.) ruled in the richest years since Solomon.

1:1 two years before the earthquake Everyone knew which earthquake, and more than two centuries later Zechariah still spoke of fleeing it in Uzziah's day (Zech 14:5). Amos had warned that God would shake the land (8:8; 9:1), and two years later He did, a sign that his words were true.

1:2 The LORD will roar from Zion A shepherd knew that a lion roars when it is about to attack (3:8; Joel 3:16). The roar comes from Jerusalem, where the temple stood, not from Bethel. When God roars, everything from the shepherds' pastures in the south to green Mount Carmel in the north dries up. That is the theme of the book.

1:3 For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not revoke it This pattern opens each of the eight messages in chapters 1-2. Three and then four is a Hebrew way of saying the sins have piled up past full. A transgression is a rebellion, a crossing of God's line, and God will not take back His judgment. Damascus was the capital of Syria. A threshing sledge was a heavy board studded with stones or iron teeth, dragged over grain. Syria did that to people in Gilead, as Elisha foretold of Hazael (2 Kgs 8:12; 10:32-33).

1:5 the people of Syria will go into exile to Kir The bar was the great beam that locked the city gate. About 732 B.C. Tiglath-pileser III took Damascus, carried its people to Kir and killed its king (2 Kgs 16:9). Kir was where the Syrians came from (9:7). God sent them back where they started.

1:6 they carried into exile a complete exile, to deliver them up to Edom Gaza was the southernmost of the five Philistine cities. They raided whole villages, men, women and children, and sold them to Edom as slaves. They hunted people to sell them. God has never looked away from human trafficking.

1:8 the remnant of the Philistines will perish," says the Lord GOD Ashdod, Ashkelon and Ekron are named, while Gath may already have fallen (6:2). Assyria and Babylon struck these cities until the Philistines disappeared from history. Lord GOD, Amos's favorite title, joins Adonai, master, with YHWH, God's name.

1:9 they did not remember the covenant of brothers Tyre, Phoenicia's great trading city, also traded in slaves (Joel 3:4-6). Its king Hiram had made a covenant with Solomon and called him "my brother" (1 Kgs 9:13; see 5:12). Tyre sold the people it had sworn to treat as brothers. Assyria, Nebuchadnezzar and finally Alexander in 332 B.C. brought it down. Breaking our word to someone who trusted us is a sin God sees.

1:11 he pursued his brother with the sword and destroyed his compassion Edom came from Esau, Jacob's twin, and God told Israel not to abhor an Edomite brother (Deut 23:7). Edom kept the old rivalry alive for centuries (Num 20:14-21). Anger kept "perpetually" does not stay small. It grows into cruelty (Matt 18:35). Obadiah takes up this sin. Teman and Bozrah were in Edom (1:12).

1:13 they ripped open the pregnant women of the Gilead in order to enlarge their territory Ammon came from Lot (Gen 19:38), with its capital at Rabbah, where Amman, Jordan, stands today. One of the cruelest acts named in the Bible: they killed mothers and unborn children so no one would grow up to claim the land. God names it so no one will think He does not see. The unborn child matters to God (Ps 139:13-16), and so does the mother.

1:15 their king will go into exile, he and his officials together Ammon fell under Assyria and Babylon and in time disappeared. None of these nations had the Law of Moses. God judged them for cruelty, slave trading, broken promises and murder, which they knew were wrong because God wrote His law on every heart (Rom 2:14-15).

he and his officials together," says the LORD.

AMOS 2

1 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Moab (Mo'av), and for four, I will not revoke it, because he burned the bones of the king of Edom to lime. 2 And I will send a fire on Moab, and it will consume the fortresses of the Kerioth (Qeriyot); and Moab will die in uproar, with a shout, with the sound of a ram's horn. 3 And I will cut off the judge from its midst, and all its officials I will kill with him," says the LORD.

Judgment on Judah and Israel

4 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Judah (Yehuda), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and His statutes they have not kept; and their lies have led them astray, after which their fathers walked. 5 And I will send a fire on Judah, and it will consume the fortresses of Jerusalem (Yerushalayim)." 6 Thus says the LORD, "For three transgressions of Israel (Yisra'el), and for four, I will not revoke it, because they sold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of sandals, 7 those who trample on the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and the way of the humble they turn aside; and a man and his father go to the young woman, in order to profane the name of My holiness. 8 And on garments taken in pledge they stretch out beside every altar, and the wine of fines they drink in the house of their God. 9 And I, I destroyed the Amorite from before them, whose height was like the height of cedars, and he was strong like the oaks; and I destroyed his fruit from above and his roots from beneath. 10 And I, I brought you up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and I led you in the wilderness forty years, to possess the land of the Amorite. 11 And I raised up some of your sons for prophets, and some of your young men for Nazirites. Is this not indeed so, O sons of Israel?" declares the LORD. 12 "And you made the Nazirites drink wine, and the prophets you commanded, saying, 'You shall not prophesy.' 13 Look, I am making it totter under you, just as the cart totters that is full of cut grain for itself. 14 And refuge will perish from the swift, and the strong will not strengthen his power, and the warrior will not deliver his life; 15 and the one handling the bow will not stand, and the swift on his feet will not deliver himself, and the rider of the horse will not deliver his life. 16 And the stout of heart among the warriors will flee naked in that day," declares the LORD.

AMOS 3

The Lion Has Roared

1 Hear this word which the LORD has spoken against you, O sons of Israel (Yisra'el), against the whole clan which I brought up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), saying:

2:1 Zeph 2:8,9; Isa 15:1-16; Jer 48:1-47
2:2 Jer 48:24,41; Amos 1:14; Isa 9:5
2:3 Num 24:17; Jer 48:7,25
2:4 Ezek 20:13,16,24; Hos 12:2; Isa 28:15
2:5 Hos 8:14; Jer 17:27; Jer 21:10
2:6 Joel 3:3,6; 2 Kgs 18:12; Amos 5:11,12
2:7 Rom 2:24; Amos 5:12; Mic 2:2,9
2:8 Amos 6:6; Exod 22:26,27; Deut 24:12-17
2:9 Job 18:16; Mal 4:1; Gen 15:16
2:10 Acts 7:42; Acts 13:18; Acts 13:17
2:11 Num 6:2; Judg 13:4-7; 1 Sam 3:20
2:13 Isa 1:14; Ps 78:40; Isa 7:13
2:14 Jer 9:23; Amos 9:1-3; Eccl 9:11
2:15 Ps 33:16,17
2:16 Jer 48:41; Judg 4:17; 2 Kgs 7:8-20
3:1 Amos 2:10; Jer 8:3; 2 Chr 20:15

2:1 he burned the bones of the king of Edom to lime Moab, also from Lot (Gen 19:37), burned an Edomite king's remains to white powder. Denying a man burial was the deepest insult. This was not even a crime against Israel. God's justice does not take sides by nation.

2:2 Moab will die in uproar, with a shout, with the sound of a ram's horn Kerioth was a city of Moab, perhaps a center of the worship of its god Chemosh. The ram's horn called to war. Moab fell under Assyria and Babylon and vanished as a nation.

2:4 because they have rejected the law of the LORD The crowd at Bethel would have cheered loudest at Judah, their rival. But the nations were judged for cruelty, and Judah for rejecting God's written Word. Judah had the Law, the temple, the priests and David's promises, and more light means more responsibility (Luke 12:48). Their "lies" were false gods that promise what they cannot give, handed down from father to son.

2:5 I will send a fire on Judah Fulfilled in 586 B.C., when Babylon burned Jerusalem and the temple (2 Kgs 25:9). We have the whole Bible, more light than Judah ever had. Do we treat it as God's Word, or set it aside for the ideas of our day?

2:6 For three transgressions of Israel The circle closes. Israel's neighbors stand on every side, and now God's finger points at the center. This was the message Amos was sent to give.

2:6 they sold the righteous for silver, and the needy for a pair of sandals The righteous here are the innocent. A poor man fell into debt, and the rich sold him as a slave, for silver or a debt as small as a pair of sandals, sometimes through bribed courts. The Law let a poor Israelite work off a debt, with strict limits, kindness and release (Lev 25:39-43; Deut 15:12-15). Israel threw away the limits and kept the profit.

2:7 those who trample on the dust of the earth on the head of the poor They begrudged the poor even the dust thrown on their heads in mourning, or, as many read it, trampled them into the dust. Father and son using the same girl, a servant or a shrine prostitute, was forbidden (Lev 18:7-8, 15) and dragged God's name through the mud.

2:8 on garments taken in pledge they stretch out beside every altar A poor man's cloak taken as a pledge had to be returned by sunset, since it was all he slept in (Exod 22:26-27). They lay on them at their feasts and drank wine paid as unjust fines at worship. God does not want worship paid for with the tears of the poor.

2:9 I, I destroyed the Amorite from before them Notice "I." The Amorites stand for all Canaan's peoples, the giants that frightened the spies (Num 13:28-33). God cut them down, fruit and root. He rescued Israel from slavery (2:10), and now they sold their own brothers into it.

2:11 some of your young men for Nazirites A prophet spoke God's word. A Nazirite took a vow to be set apart to God, with no wine, no haircut and no touching the dead (Num 6:1-21), as Samson and Samuel were from birth. God gave Israel men who spoke for Him and young people whose lives showed what it means to belong to Him.

2:12 you made the Nazirites drink wine They pressured the young until they broke their vows and silenced the prophets, words Amos would soon hear himself (7:12-13). Do we pressure young believers to give up their convictions, or quiet a preacher who tells us what we do not want to hear (2 Tim 4:3)?

2:13 just as the cart totters that is full of cut grain A cart piled high with sheaves creaks and sways. God will press down on Israel until it gives way. Some read it as God groaning under Israel's sins like an overloaded cart. Either way the weight has become too heavy.

2:16 the stout of heart among the warriors will flee naked in that day The runner, the strong man, the archer and the horseman, none will escape, and the bravest will throw off his armor and run. Israel was proud of Jeroboam's victories (2 Kgs 14:25-28), but no army stands when God is against it, as Samaria learned in 722 B.C. The crowd cheered seven judgments, and the eighth fell on them. They had sinned against greater light and greater love.

3:1 against the whole clan which I brought up from the land of Egypt All twelve tribes, north and south. The exodus made them one family, so what follows applies to Judah too.

2 "Only you have I known from all the clans of the ground;
therefore I will visit on you all your iniquities."
3 Do two walk together unless they have met by appointment?
4 Does a lion roar in the forest and there is no prey for it?
Does a young lion give forth its voice from its den unless it has caught something?
5 Does a bird fall on a trap of the earth and there is no snare for it?
Does a trap go up from the ground and surely not catch anything?
6 Is a ram's horn blown in a city and the people do not tremble?
Or is there calamity in a city and the LORD has not done it?
7 For the Lord GOD does not do a thing unless He has revealed His secret counsel to His servants the prophets.
8 A lion has roared; who will not fear?
The Lord GOD has spoken; who will not prophesy?
9 Proclaim on the fortresses in Ashdod and on the fortresses in the land of Egypt, and say, "Gather yourselves on the mountains of Samaria (Shomron), and see the great tumults in its midst and the oppressions within it."
10 "And they do not know how to do uprightness," declares the LORD, "those who store up violence and devastation in their fortresses."
11 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, "An adversary, and he is around the land!
And he will bring down your strength from you, and your fortresses will be plundered."
12 Thus says the LORD, "Just as the shepherd delivers from the mouth of the lion two legs or a piece of an ear, so the sons of Israel who dwell in Samaria will be delivered, with a corner of a bed and with silk of a couch."
13 "Hear and testify against the house of Jacob (Ya'aqov)," declares the Lord GOD, the God of armies.
14 "For on the day I visit the transgressions of Israel on it, then I will visit the altars of Bethel (Bet-El), and the horns of the altar will be cut off and will fall to the earth.
15 And I will strike the winter house along with the summer house; and the houses of ivory will perish, and many houses will be swept away," declares the LORD.

4:4 Hos 4:15; Ezek 20:39; Matt 23:32

3:2 Only you have I known from all the clans of the ground God made and judges every nation, but "know" can mean to choose, love and enter a close bond. God chose Israel as His treasured possession out of love, not because it was greater (Exod 19:5-6; Deut 7:6-8).
3:2 therefore I will visit on you all your iniquities The surprise. Israel thought being chosen meant God was on their side however they lived. Amos says the opposite: privilege brings a higher standard. Every believer is chosen and known (2 Tim 2:19), but that is not permission to sin. Judgment begins at the house of God (1 Pet 4:17). God's judgment did not end His choice of Israel (9:11-15; Rom 11:29). He punishes because He has not let them go.
3:3 Do two walk together unless they have met by appointment? Seven questions, each with the answer no, showing nothing happens without a cause. Two people walking together in the wilderness had arranged to meet. The prophet has met with God.
3:5 Does a bird fall on a trap of the earth and there is no snare for it? A lion roars when it has caught prey, and a trap does not spring shut for nothing. A shepherd like Amos knew these things well.
3:6 is there calamity in a city and the LORD has not done it? The point the questions build to. Calamity here is disaster, war, famine or earthquake, not moral evil, as though God makes people sin. When disaster strikes God's people, He is saying something through it. Not every hardship is punishment for a particular sin (John 9:1-3), but Jesus used disasters to call everyone to repent (Luke 13:1-5). When hard times come, ask, Lord, is there something You want me to hear?
3:7 He has revealed His secret counsel to His servants the prophets God warned Noah, Abraham before Sodom (Gen 18:17), and Israel before the exile. He did not have to warn anyone, and He did because He wanted them to turn. In context this speaks of His judgments on His people, not every event in history. Today God has spoken His full word in His Son (Heb 1:1-2), written in Scripture. We need to listen to what He has already said.
3:8 The Lord GOD has spoken; who will not prophesy? Why Amos came from Tekoa to Bethel. When a lion roars you cannot help but fear, and when God speaks the prophet cannot keep quiet (Jer 20:9; Acts 4:20). Has God's Word ever gripped you like that?
3:10 those who store up violence and devastation in their fortresses They had sinned so long they forgot how to do right. They thought they were storing wealth. God says they stored up violence, and it would come back on them.
3:12 two legs or a piece of an ear A shepherd who lost another man's sheep to a wild beast brought back remains as proof so he would not have to pay (Exod 22:13). That was proof of death, not a rescue. The rich lounging on silk couches (6:4) would leave only a scrap of furniture. A remnant would survive, barely.
3:14 the horns of the altar will be cut off Bethel held the golden calf (1 Kgs 12:28-29). The horns at an altar's corners were grabbed by someone pleading for mercy (1 Kgs 1:50). With them cut off, there was nowhere to run. A century later Josiah tore down the altar at Bethel (2 Kgs 23:15).
3:15 the houses of ivory will perish The rich had winter and summer houses inlaid with carved ivory, like Ahab's in Samaria (1 Kgs 22:39), and many carved ivory pieces have been found there. Their religion at Bethel and their wealth in Samaria would fall the same day. Only God Himself is a safe place to stand.
4:1 O cows of the Bashan who are on the mountain of Samaria Bashan, east of the Sea of Galilee, was famous for fat cattle (Deut 32:14). Amos the herdsman uses the picture for Samaria's wealthy women, sleek and thinking only of the next meal. They may never have cheated anyone with their own hands, but their luxury was squeezed from the poor as they pushed their husbands for more. Amos spoke against the men too (2:6-8; 6:1-6). When our comfort depends on another's suffering, God sees it.
4:2 The Lord GOD has sworn by His holiness By His very nature, and there is nothing higher (Heb 6:13). Those who dragged wealth from the poor would be dragged off like fish. Ancient carvings show captives led on ropes, some with rings through the lip.
4:3 through breaches you will go out Holes smashed in the city wall, out single file. No one knows where the Harmon was, perhaps Mount Hermon on the road north. The God who watched their victims suffer for years with no defender is not cruel. He is just.
4:4 Come to Bethel and transgress Irony, like a priest's call to worship. Bethel had the calf, and Gilgal, Israel's first camp under Joshua (Josh 4:19-20), was full of holy memories but had become a center of false worship. Every trip was another sin. They outdid the Law, which asked a special tithe every third year (Deut 14:28), by tithing every three days.

4:5 burn a thank offering from what is leavened A thank offering was a peace offering to thank God for a blessing. Leaven could come with it but was never to be burned on the altar (Lev 2:11; 7:13). They broke the Law while showing off, and made sure everyone knew their gifts (Matt 6:2). "So you love to do": they loved religion, not God or neighbor. We can be busy in church and still have hearts far from God (5:4).

4:6 you did not return to Me God lists the troubles He had already sent, the warnings of His covenant (Lev 26:14-39; Deut 28:15-68), which Solomon prayed would turn the people back (1 Kgs 8:33-40). Clean teeth meant nothing to eat. Return is shuv, to turn around and come back. God was not trying to destroy them. He was trying to get their attention.

4:7 I would send rain on one city, and on another city I would not send rain The late spring rains filled out the grain. One field soaked and the next dry made plain it was no accident of weather. It was God pointing, This is My hand.

4:10 I sent among you pestilence in the manner of Egypt Egypt's plagues fell on Israel because Israel acted like Egypt (Deut 28:60). Before Jeroboam II, Syria left Israel only fifty horsemen and ten chariots (2 Kgs 13:7). The dead lay unburied in camp. God does not hide how awful war is.

4:11 you were like a firebrand snatched from the burning Some disaster reminded people of Sodom (Gen 19:24-25), and Israel was a charred stick pulled out just in time (Zech 3:2). Five times God called through famine, drought, disease, war and ruin, and five times they did not come home. In the Tribulation it will be the same (Rev 9:20-21; 16:9). Not every hardship is punishment, as Job shows. If you suffer, do not let anyone tell you it must be your fault. But hard times are a chance to ask, Lord, am I right with You?

4:12 prepare to meet your God, O Israel Among the most solemn words in the Bible. God had sent warnings, and now He would come Himself, and chapters 5-9 tell what that means. It is first a summons to court. Yet as long as there is time, there is time to get ready (5:4). Every one of us will meet God (Heb 9:27), as a Judge we ran from or a Father we came home to. The only way to be ready is to come now through Jesus Christ, who took our judgment on the cross (Rom 5:8-9; 2 Cor 5:21). Are you ready to meet your God?

4:13 the LORD God of armies is His name The first of three short hymns in Amos (5:8-9; 9:5-6). He made the solid mountains and the unseen wind, knows our thoughts (Ps 139:1-4), turns dawn to darkness and treads on the high places where Israel worshiped idols. Israel treated Him like a national mascot. That is why meeting Him is so serious, and peace with Him so great a gift.

5:1 a lamentation, O house of Israel A funeral song sung over the dead. Israel was rich and strong, and Amos sang at her funeral.

5:2 She has fallen; she will not again rise, the virgin of Israel A virgin because she had never been conquered in her own land. Only one soldier in ten would come home (5:3), and the northern kingdom never rose again, though this is not God's last word for Israel's people (9:11-15).

5:4 Seek Me and live Right after the funeral song comes the call to life. To seek God is to turn to Him and want Him more than anything. Moses promised that even in exile those who sought God with all their heart would find Him (Deut 4:29).

5:5 do not seek Bethel, and to the Gilgal do not go, and to Beersheba do not cross over Famous places of worship, even Beersheba far south in Judah. Israel sought places, and God wanted them to seek Him. In Hebrew, Gilgal sounds like "go into exile," and Bethel, house of God, would become nothing (Hos 4:15).

5:6 lest He rush like the fire on the house of Joseph The northern tribes, led by Joseph's sons Ephraim and Manasseh. Their shrine could not put out the fire. God's call is not seek a building or a ritual, but seek Me (Matt 11:28).

5:8 The One making the Pleiades and Orion Another hymn. The Pleiades is a small star cluster and Orion the great hunter of the winter sky. He rules every sunrise and sunset and lifts the sea into the clouds to pour it out as rain. Why here, in a message on corrupt courts? Those who twisted justice thought no one was watching. The Maker of the stars was.

18 Woe to those desiring the day of the LORD! Why would this, the day of the LORD, be for you? It is darkness and not light; 19 as when a man flees from before the lion, and the bear meets him; and he goes into the house and leans his hand on the wall, and the snake bites him. 20 Is not the day of the LORD darkness and not light, and gloom, and there is no brightness to it? 21 "I hate, I reject your feasts, and I will not smell your solemn assemblies. 22 For even if you offer up to Me burnt offerings and your grain offerings, I will not accept them; and the peace offering of your fatlings I will not look at. 23 Remove from Me the noise of your songs, and the melody of your harps I will not listen to. 24 And let justice roll like the waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing wadi. 25 Did you bring near sacrifices and grain offering to Me in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? 26 And you will lift up Sikkuth (Sikut) your king and Chiun (Kiyyun) your images, the star of your gods, which you made for yourselves. 27 And I will send you into exile beyond Damascus (Dameseq)," says the LORD; God of armies is His name.

5:10 They hate the one reproving in the gate The city gate was the courthouse, where elders heard cases (Ruth 4:1-2). Anyone who spoke the truth there was hated.
5:11 houses of hewn stone you have built, and you will not dwell in them The rich took grain from poor farmers through high rents and unfair levies. What they stole to build would be taken from them, the very curse Moses warned of (Deut 28:30, 39).
5:13 the prudent one will be silent at that time When courts are this corrupt, a careful man may judge speaking up useless or dangerous. Others read it as a warning that when judgment comes, it will be too late for words.
5:14 let the LORD God of armies be with you, just as you have said Seeking God and seeking good go together. They said God is with us at every feast. If you want that to be true, seek good.
5:15 perhaps the LORD God of armies will be gracious to the remnant of Joseph Repentance is practical: hate the wrong we loved and put things right, here with honest courts. "Perhaps," because God owes no one mercy. A remnant is the faithful few left after judgment. The nation would fall, but God could still be gracious to those who turned.
5:17 I will pass through your midst The words of Passover night, when the LORD passed through Egypt (Exod 12:12) and passed over Israel. Now He would pass through Israel, because Israel had become like Egypt. Even the vineyards, places of harvest joy, would ring with grief.
5:18 Woe to those desiring the day of the LORD! The day of the LORD is when God steps into history to judge His enemies. Israel was sure it would be a great day for them and never imagined they might be His enemies. For people living in sin it is darkness, not light.
5:19 he goes into the house and leans his hand on the wall, and the snake bites him Escaping the lion only to meet a bear, he makes it home, leans on the wall to catch his breath, and a snake in a crack bites him. There will be no escape.
5:20 Is not the day of the LORD darkness and not light Said twice so no one can miss it. For Israel it came in 722 B.C. The prophets also look to the final day of the LORD, which I believe includes the Tribulation and Christ's return to judge (Joel 2:31; 2 Thess 1:7-10; Rev 6:16-17). People can chart the end times and still not be ready. God has not appointed us to wrath (1 Thess 5:9), and I believe the church will be caught up before the Tribulation begins (1 Thess 4:16-17). That is not a reason to be careless but to live ready.
5:21 I hate, I reject your feasts God commanded the feasts, Passover and Booths, and hates them as Israel kept them. "I will not smell" means He will not accept them, since a sacrifice was a pleasing aroma to Him (Gen 8:21).
5:22 the peace offering of your fatlings I will not look at A burnt offering was burned whole, given wholly to God. A grain offering was flour, oil and incense. A peace offering was shared in a meal before God, a sign of fellowship. God refused them all. They sang on the Sabbath and cheated on Monday (1 Sam 15:22).
5:24 let justice roll like the waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing wadi The heart of Amos. God does not want less worship but worship from lives right with Him and others. Justice is treating people rightly: honest courts, fair wages and prices, protection for the widow, orphan and poor. A wadi is a streambed that runs only in the rainy season. God wants a stream that never dries up, not a trickle when convenient. We are saved by grace through faith (Eph 2:8-9; Gen 15:6), but saving faith is never alone (James 2:17). Do our Sunday worship and our Monday lives fit together?
5:25 Did you bring near sacrifices and grain offering to Me in the wilderness forty years Israel did offer sacrifices then. Most likely God means that even then the heart of it was listening to His voice, not sacrifice (Jer 7:22-23).
5:26 Sikkuth your king and Chiun your images These seem to be star gods of Assyria and Babylon, often linked with the planet Saturn. Israel took up the gods of the empire that would destroy them. A god you make cannot save you.
5:27 I will send you into exile beyond Damascus Damascus was the farthest city most Israelites could picture, and they were taken past it to Assyria (2 Kgs 17:6). Stephen quoted these verses from the Greek translation, with other names for the gods and "beyond Babylon" (Acts 7:43), speaking of both exiles together.

Woe to Those at Ease

1 Woe to those at ease in Zion (Tsiyon), and those trusting in the mountain of Samaria (Shomron), the notable ones of the first of the nations, and the house of Israel (Yisra'el) comes to them! 2 Pass over to Calneh (Kalne) and see, and go from there to Hamath the great (Chamat-Raba), and go down to Gath (Gat) of the Philistines. Are they better than these kingdoms? 7:3 Deut 32:36; Hos 11:8; Jonah 3:10

6:1 Woe to those at ease in Zion, and those trusting in the mountain of Samaria The rich and powerful in both capitals. Being at ease is not a sin, since God gives rest. The sin is being careless about God and others because life is good. They thought they led the greatest nation on earth and enjoyed people coming to them for favors.
6:2 Pass over to Calneh and see Calneh and Hamath were cities in Syria, and Gath was Philistine. Amos may quote the leaders' boast that they were better than all, or warn that those cities were great and fell. Assyria took Calneh and Hamath within a few years (Isa 10:9), and Samaria was next.
6:3 those putting off an evil day They told themselves disaster was far off while their violent rule brought it closer. We tell ourselves there is plenty of time to get right with God, and our choices bring the day nearer.
6:4 those lying on beds of ivory, and sprawled out on their couches Most people sat on the floor to eat. These men lay limp on ivory couches (3:15), eating the best young animals fattened for the table, when ordinary people seldom ate meat.
6:5 like David they have devised for themselves instruments of song David made instruments to worship God (1 Chr 23:5). These men made music for their own pleasure and thought themselves artists like David.
6:6 they have not been grieved over the ruin of Joseph Wine by the bowlful, a word used for the large altar basins, and the finest perfumed oils. The real charge: the nation was rotting, the poor crushed, judgment coming, and they did not care. God gives us all things richly to enjoy (1 Tim 6:17). The rich man's sin was not his money but that he never saw Lazarus at his gate (Luke 16:19-31). Do we grieve over what grieves God?
6:8 I am loathing the pride of Jacob God swears by Himself, since there is no one greater (Heb 6:13). The pride of Jacob was its wealth, army and strong cities. God hates pride because it sets itself in His place (1 Pet 5:5).
6:10 we are not to mention the name of the LORD A picture of the siege of Samaria. Plague wipes out whole houses, and bodies are burned, done only when there were too many dead to bury. The lone survivor is told to hush, afraid that speaking God's name might bring more judgment. Those who used His name lightly at their feasts were now afraid to say it. Some read it as shame, not knowing how to call on Him. God shows the end of a life without Him while there is time to turn.
6:12 Do horses run on the crag? Or does one plow with the oxen? No one races horses on bare rock or plows it with oxen. That would be foolish. Israel turned justice, meant to heal, into poison. Sin is not only wrong. It goes against the way God made the world to work.
6:13 those rejoicing in Lo-debar Towns east of the Jordan Jeroboam II won back (2 Kgs 14:25). Lo-debar sounds like nothing, and Karnaim means horns, a picture of strength. They celebrated nothing and boasted "by our strength," when God gave those victories in mercy (2 Kgs 14:26-27). How often do we thank ourselves for what God has given?
6:14 from Lebo-hamath to the wadi of the Arabah From the northern border to the far south near the Dead Sea, exactly the borders Jeroboam II restored (2 Kgs 14:25). The nation is Assyria. Within about thirty years Tiglath-pileser III began taking the land, and in 722 B.C. Samaria fell.
7:1 He was forming locusts Forming is the word for a potter shaping clay, used of God forming Adam (Gen 2:7). The king seems to have taken the first cutting of hay as a tax. The later crop, after the spring rains, was what farmers lived on. Locusts then would leave nothing until the next year.
7:2 Lord GOD, please forgive! How will Jacob stand? For he is small. Amos prayed for the people who would soon reject him. He did not say Israel deserved better. He asked for forgiveness and pointed to their weakness. Israel thought itself great (6:1, 13), but before God it was small.
7:3 The LORD relented concerning this. God does not change His mind like a man who did not know what he would do (Num 23:19). But when He warns of judgment, His warnings carry an unspoken unless (Jer 18:7-8), and He has chosen to work through the prayers of His people (Exod 32:14). Prayer for others matters.

concerning this. "It will not be," said the LORD. 4 Thus the Lord GOD showed me, and look, the Lord GOD was calling to contend by fire, and it ate the great deep, and it ate the portion. 5 And I said, "Lord GOD, please cease! How will Jacob stand? For he is small." 6 The LORD relented concerning this. "This also will not be," said the Lord GOD. 7 Thus He showed me, and look, the Lord was standing on a plumb-line wall, and in His hand was a plumb line. 8 And the LORD said to me, "What are you seeing, Amos?" And I said, "A plumb line." And the Lord said, "Look, I am setting a plumb line in the midst of My people Israel (Yisra'el); I will not continue any longer to pass by it. 9 And the high places of Isaac (Yischaq) will be made desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel will be laid waste, and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam (Yaravam) with the sword."

Amaziah and Amos

10 And Amaziah (Amatsya) the priest of Bethel (Bet-El) sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, "Amos has conspired against you in the midst of the house of Israel; the land is not able to endure all his words. 11 For thus Amos has said, 'By the sword Jeroboam will die, and Israel will surely go into exile from upon its land.'" 12 And Amaziah said to Amos, "Seer, go, flee for yourself to the land of Judah (Yehuda), and eat bread there, and there you will prophesy. 13 And at Bethel you must not continue any longer to prophesy, for it is a sanctuary of a king, and it is a house of a kingdom." 14 And Amos answered and said to Amaziah, "I am not a prophet, and I am not a son of a prophet; but I am a herdsman and a tender of sycamores. 15 And the LORD took me from after the flock, and the LORD said to me, 'Go, prophesy to My people Israel.' 16 And now, hear the word of the LORD. You are saying, 'You must not prophesy against Israel, and you must not drip words against the house of Isaac.'

17 Therefore thus says the LORD: 'Your wife will be a prostitute in the city, and your sons and your daughters will fall by the sword, and your land will be divided by the measuring line; and you will die on an unclean land, and Israel will surely go into exile from upon its land.'"

7:4 calling to contend by fire, and it ate the great deep To contend is to bring a case in court. The fire was so fierce it dried up the deep, the waters under the earth (Gen 7:11), then began to eat the land, the portion God gave Israel. It may picture terrible drought and heat.
7:6 This also will not be Twice Amos stood in the gap, and twice God held back. God looked for a man "standing in the breach before Me for the land" (Ezek 22:30). Who are you standing in the gap for?
7:7 in His hand was a plumb line A plumb line is a cord with a weight that hangs perfectly straight. Builders used it to test a wall. A wall that leans will one day fall.
7:8 I am setting a plumb line in the midst of My people Israel God measured Israel against His own word, not against the nations or their own ideas of right, and they were crooked. To "pass by" means to overlook. Not anymore. This time Amos does not pray. God's plumb line is still His Word (2 Cor 10:12), and our one hope is the One who took our crookedness on Himself (2 Cor 5:21).
7:9 I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword Fulfilled when Jeroboam's son Zechariah was murdered after six months, about 753 B.C. (2 Kgs 15:8-10). The first two visions showed what God could do. The third showed why He must. His patience is great, but not endless.
7:10 Amaziah the priest of Bethel The chief priest at the king's shrine, not a priest of Aaron's line. Jeroboam I had appointed his own priests for the calf worship (1 Kgs 12:31). He called Amos a traitor, as if preaching against the king were plotting against him.
7:11 By the sword Jeroboam will die Amaziah twisted the words. Amos said God would rise against "the house of Jeroboam" (7:9). Jeroboam II died in peace (2 Kgs 14:29). Amaziah also left out that the word came from the LORD and that Amos had prayed for Israel. Opponents of God's message often twist it to discredit the messenger.
7:13 it is a sanctuary of a king Not God's sanctuary, the king's. Bethel's worship served the state. When a church becomes more loyal to a ruler or a party than to God, it has lost its way.
7:14 I am not a prophet, and I am not a son of a prophet A son of a prophet was a member of a prophetic band (2 Kgs 2:3-5). Amos was no professional. He was a herdsman and tended sycamore figs, humble work. He had his own living and did not need Bethel's money.
7:15 the LORD took me from after the flock As He took David "from after the flock" (2 Sam 7:8). Amos was at Bethel because God sent him. That is the only answer a servant of God needs when told to be quiet (Acts 5:29). Notice God still calls them "My people."
7:17 you will die on an unclean land A foreign land where the LORD was not worshiped. His family would suffer the common horrors of conquest. God was not delighting in this but telling Amaziah what his rebellion would bring. The words Amaziah reported as a lie came true in 722 B.C. (2 Kgs 17:6). It is a serious thing to silence God's Word.
8:2 The end has come to My people Israel A wordplay. Summer fruit is qayits, and end is qets. Ripe summer fruit must be eaten or it rots. Israel was ripe for judgment, and its time was up. The repeated words of 7:8 show God's mind was settled.
8:3 Many are the corpses; in every place one will throw them. Hush! The word for temple can also mean palace. Either way, songs turn to wailing. The dead would be too many to bury properly, and some griefs are too deep for words (6:10).
8:5 When will the new moon pass, so that we may sell grain? Trade stopped on holy days (Neh 13:15-22). These men kept the days outwardly but watched the clock, eager to get back to business. Their bodies were at worship, and their hearts were at the market.
8:5 to make the ephah small and to make the shekel great A small ephah gave the buyer less grain, and a heavy shekel weight made him pay more silver. The Law demanded honest measures (Lev 19:35-36; Deut 25:13-16). God cares how we do business (Luke 16:10).

And all of it will rise like the Nile (Ye'or), and it will be tossed, and it will sink like the Nile of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 9 And it will be in that day," declares the Lord GOD, "and I will make the sun go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in a day of light. 10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; and I will bring up sackcloth on all loins, and baldness on every head; and I will make it like the mourning of an only son, and its end like a bitter day.

A Famine of Hearing

11 Look, days are coming," declares the Lord GOD, "and I will send a famine in the land, not a famine for bread, and not a thirst for water, but for hearing the words of the LORD. 12 And they will stagger from sea to sea, and from the north and to the east; they will rove about to seek the word of the LORD, and they will not find it. 13 In that day the beautiful virgins and the young men will faint from thirst. 14 Those who swear by the guilt of Samaria (Shomron), and say, 'As your god lives, Dan,' and, 'As the way of Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva) lives,' they will fall and will not rise again."

No Escape from God

1 I saw the Lord standing on the altar, and He said, "Strike the capital, so that the thresholds may shake, and break them off on the head of all of them; and the last of them I will kill with the sword. No one fleeing of them will flee, and no escapee of them will escape. 2 If they dig into Sheol, from there My hand will take them; and if they go up to the heavens, from there I will bring them down. 3 And if they hide themselves on the top of Carmel (Karmel), from there I will search them out, and I will take them; and if they conceal themselves from before My eyes on the floor of the sea, from there I will command the serpent, and it will bite them. 4 And if they go into captivity before their enemies, from there I will command the sword, and it will kill them; and I will set My eye on them for evil and not for good." 5 And the Lord GOD of armies, who touches the earth, and it melts, and all who dwell in it mourn, and all of it rises like the Nile (Ye'or), and it sinks like the Nile of Egypt (Mitsrayim); 6 who builds His stairs in the heavens, and has founded His vault on the earth; who calls to the waters of the sea, and pours them out on the face of the earth: the LORD is His name. 7 "Are you not like the sons of the Cushites to Me, sons of Israel (Yisra'el)?" declares the LORD. 8:6 to buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of sandals Ruined by these tricks, the poor had to sell themselves, and the same merchants bought them (2:6). They even sold the sweepings from the threshing floor, chaff and dirt mixed in, to those who could not afford better.
8:7 I will never forget any of their deeds God swore by His holiness (4:2) and by Himself (6:8). The pride of Jacob may be a title for God, the One Israel should have boasted in, or said with irony. Every cheated buyer God remembers. Sin is forgotten by God only through forgiveness (Jer 31:34).
8:9 I will make the sun go down at noon Darkness at midday pictures sudden disaster and the day of the LORD (5:18-20; Joel 2:31). Many note a total eclipse in 763 B.C. Some think of the darkness at the cross (Matt 27:45). The New Testament does not call it a fulfillment, but it is a fitting picture of judgment falling on God's own Son for us.
8:10 like the mourning of an only son There is no grief like losing an only child. Zechariah uses the same picture for Israel's mourning when they look on the One they pierced (Zech 12:10). The feasts the merchants could not wait to end would become funerals.
8:11 not a famine for bread, and not a thirst for water, but for hearing the words of the LORD The worst judgment of all: God would stop speaking. Israel told the prophets not to prophesy (2:12). After Malachi no prophet spoke for about four hundred years, until John. We have the whole Bible. The danger is not that God takes it away, but that it stays closed (Heb 3:7-8; Matt 4:4).
8:12 they will rove about to seek the word of the LORD, and they will not find it When disaster came they would want a prophet, and there would be none. Saul knew that silence: "the LORD did not answer him" (1 Sam 28:6).
8:14 As your god lives, Dan Dan in the far north had the second golden calf (1 Kgs 12:29), and the way of Beersheba was likely the pilgrimage road south (5:5). They swore by idols instead of the LORD. Those who trust in false gods fall with them.
9:1 I saw the Lord standing on the altar Most likely the altar at Bethel, where Amaziah told Amos not to prophesy (7:13). Now the Lord Himself stands there. The capital is the top of a pillar holding up the roof. Struck, the shrine collapses on the worshipers, and those who escape fall by the sword. There is nowhere to run (5:18-20).
9:2 If they dig into Sheol, from there My hand will take them Sheol, the place of the dead, is the deepest place, the heavens the highest. David said the same in Ps 139:8, and for him it was comfort. For people running from God it is terror. The only safe place to run is to Him.
9:3 on the top of Carmel Mount Carmel was thick with woods and caves. Even the floor of the sea is no hiding place. The serpent there is a sea creature that obeys its Maker. Jonah would try to flee and fail (Jonah 1:3).
9:6 who builds His stairs in the heavens, and has founded His vault on the earth The third hymn to the Creator (4:13; 5:8-9). The universe is His house, its upper rooms in heaven and its foundation on earth. He needs no army to bring a nation down. He only touches the earth.
9:7 Are you not like the sons of the Cushites to Me, sons of Israel? The Cushites lived far south along the upper Nile. God moved other nations too, the Philistines from Caphtor, likely Crete, and Syria from Kir (1:5). This does not cancel Israel's election (3:2; 9:8-15). The exodus was not a charm that made them safe in their sin.
9:8 nevertheless, I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob The turning point of the book. The sinful kingdom, the northern kingdom, would be destroyed in 722 B.C., but not the people. God had made promises to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and He keeps them.

upon the face of the ground; nevertheless, I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob (Ya'aqov)," declares the LORD.
9 "For look, I am commanding, and I will shake the house of Israel among all the nations, as grain is shaken in the sieve, and not a pebble will fall to the earth. 10 By the sword all the sinners of My people will die, who say, 'The calamity will not draw near and will not confront us.'

13 "Look, days are coming," declares the LORD, "and the plowman will come near the reaper, and the treader of grapes the sower of the seed; and the mountains will drip sweet wine, and all the hills will melt. 14 And I will turn back the captivity of My people Israel, and they will build desolated cities and dwell in them, and they will plant vineyards and drink their wine, and they will make gardens and eat their fruit. 15 And I will plant them on their land, and they will not be plucked up again from upon their land which I have given to them," says the LORD your God.

9:13 Acts 3:19; Lev 26:5; Joel 3:18,20
9:14 Acts 3:19; Rom 11:26; Isa 61:4
9:15 Acts 3:19; Rom 11:26; Jer 24:6

9:9 as grain is shaken in the sieve, and not a pebble will fall to the earth Sifting separates. God would scatter Israel among the nations and in the scattering separate the true from the false, yet not one would be lost by accident. The Jewish people have been scattered for centuries yet never lost as a people.
9:11 I will raise up the booth of David that is falling Until now "that day" meant judgment (8:9). Now it means restoration. God promised David a house and throne forever (2 Sam 7:16), but by Amos's day his line was a hut about to collapse. The Messiah, the Son of David, rebuilds it, and God will give Him "the throne of David His father" (Luke 1:32).
9:12 all the nations on whom My name is called To have God's name called over you means to belong to Him. Edom, Israel's old enemy, stands first for the nations. Amos sees Gentile nations belonging to the LORD under David's Son. James quoted this at the Jerusalem council (Acts 15:16-17). See the hard passage in the introduction.
9:13 the plowman will come near the reaper The harvest so great that reapers are still at work when plowing begins. The land struck by drought, blight and locusts (4:6-9) will overflow, as Joel also promised (Joel 3:18).
9:14 they will build desolated cities and dwell in them The curse of 5:11 reversed. They will live in what they build and drink the wine of what they plant. God still calls them "My people Israel."
9:15 they will not be plucked up again from upon their land which I have given to them I believe Amos means what he says. The return from Babylon was real but partial, and the Jews were uprooted again in A.D. 70. The full restoration comes when Christ returns after the Tribulation and reigns a thousand years (Zech 14:4, 9; Rev 20:4-6). The church does not replace Israel, because "the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable" (Rom 11:29).

OBADIAH

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Obadiah, whose name means servant of the LORD. It is the fourth of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Amos and before Jonah, and it is the shortest book in the Old Testament, one chapter of twenty-one verses. But it carries a quarrel as old as Genesis, between the twin brothers Jacob and Esau and the nations that came from them.

Author and Date

The book opens, "The vision of Obadiah" (1:1), and we know nothing more about the prophet. It was a common name. There are about a dozen Obadiahs in the Old Testament, among them the man over Ahab's palace who hid a hundred prophets (1 Kgs 18:3-4), but nothing ties any of them to this book. Jewish and Christian tradition hold that he wrote it.

Obadiah names no king, so good Bible teachers disagree on the date. Many conservative scholars, and the SLB introduction, place it soon after the Babylonians destroyed Jerusalem in 586 B.C. Scripture says plainly that Edom cheered that day: "Remember, LORD, against the sons of Edom the day of Jerusalem" (Ps 137:7; see also Lam 4:21-22; Ezek 25:12-14), and Obadiah speaks of "the exiles of Jerusalem" (1:20). Others date it about 848 to 841 B.C., when Edom rebelled against King Jehoram and Philistines and Arabs plundered Jerusalem (2 Kgs 8:20-22; 2 Chr 21:16-17). This study follows the later date as the most likely. Obadiah 1-9 shares many words with Jeremiah 49:7-22. Either way, God gave the same message to two prophets.

Background and Setting

The Edomites lived in the mountains of Seir, south and east of the Dead Sea, a dry land of red cliffs and deep gorges. Their towns were perched where armies could hardly reach them, and they grew rich from the King's Highway, the trade road from Arabia to Damascus. The quarrel with Israel went back to Jacob and Esau (Gen 25:22-34; 27:41). Edom refused Israel passage on the way from Egypt (Num 20:14-21), was conquered by David, and rebelled again and again. Its final betrayal came when Jerusalem fell. It stood aside, gloated, looted, and caught the refugees to hand them over.

Obadiah's words came true. Arab peoples, chiefly the Nabateans, later pushed the Edomites out of their mountains into southern Judah, called Idumea. Herod the Great, who tried to kill the baby Jesus, was an Idumean. After the Romans destroyed Jerusalem in A.D. 70, the Edomites disappear from history.

Themes

Pride brings a fall. "The arrogance of your heart has deceived you" (1:3). Edom thought its mountains made it untouchable, but God says, "from there I will bring you down" (1:4).

God judges cruelty to His people, and standing by counts as joining in. "As you have done, it will be done to you" (1:15). God's promise to curse those who disdain Abraham's people (Gen 12:3) still stands.

The day of the LORD is near for all the nations. It came on Edom in history, and this study holds that the final day of the LORD includes the Tribulation and the return of Christ to judge the earth, with the church taken up to be with Him before that time of wrath (1 Thess 4:16-17; 5:9).

God keeps His promises to Israel. Mount Zion will be holy, the house of Jacob will possess its land, and "the kingship will be the LORD's" (1:21).

Christ in Obadiah

The New Testament does not quote Obadiah. But its last words look ahead to the day when heaven cries, "The kingdoms of the world have become those of our Lord and of His Christ" (Rev 11:15). The deliverers who go up on Mount Zion point to the great Deliverer, Jesus Christ, who will reign from Jerusalem when He returns (Zech 14:4, 9), and of whom Paul writes, "The One who delivers will come out of Zion" (Rom 11:26). Obadiah's warning against pride sounds again in the New Testament: "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble" (1 Pet 5:5). And the recompense Edom earned is the recompense Christ bore on the cross for everyone who trusts Him.

Hard Passages

When was Obadiah written? The notes follow the date soon after 586 B.C. and the introduction gives the earlier date fairly.

Is God being harsh in saying there will be no survivor to the house of Esau (1:18)? This judgment fell on a nation that kept choosing violence against its brother for centuries. It is not a word against any person today, for the gospel is offered to everyone, whatever nation they come from.

Who are the deliverers of verse 21, and when does the kingdom come? The notes read them as rulers God raises up in the restored kingdom, pointing to Christ's thousand-year reign from Zion with His people (Rev 20:4, 6). Some see a fulfillment in the Maccabees, and others see the kingdom only in the church.

OBADIAH 1

Edom Brought Down

1 The vision of Obadiah (Ovadya). Thus says the Lord GOD concerning Edom: We have heard a report from the LORD, and an envoy has been sent among the nations: "Arise, and let us arise against her for battle!" 2 Look, I have made you small among the nations; you are greatly despised. 3 The arrogance of your heart has deceived you, you who dwell in the clefts of the rock, in the height of his dwelling, who says in his heart, "Who will bring me down to the ground?" 4 If you soar high like the eagle, and if your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down, declares the LORD. 5 If thieves came to you, if destroyers of the night (how you have been destroyed!), would they not steal only their fill? If grape gatherers came to you, would they not leave gleanings? 6 How Esau (Esav) has been searched out! His hidden treasures have been sought out! 7 To the border all the men of your covenant have sent you away; they have deceived you, they have prevailed against you, the men of your peace; the men of your bread will set a trap under you. There is no understanding in him. 8 Will it not be in that day, declares the LORD, and I will destroy the wise from Edom, and understanding from Mount Esau? 9 And your warriors will be dismayed, Teman, so that every man will be cut off from Mount Esau by slaughter.

Violence against a Brother

10 Because of the violence done to your brother Jacob (Ya'aqov), shame will cover you, and you will be cut off forever. 11 On the day of your standing aloof, on the day strangers took captive his wealth, and foreigners came into his gates and cast a lot over Jerusalem (Yerushalayim), you also were like one of them. 12 And do not look on the day of your brother, on the day of his misfortune; and do not rejoice over the sons of Judah (Yehuda) on the day of their perishing; and do not make your mouth big on the day of trouble. 13 Do not enter the gate of My people on the day of their disaster; do not look, you also, on his calamity on the day of his disaster; and do not stretch out your hand against his wealth on the day of his disaster. 14 And do not stand at the crossroads to cut off his fugitives; and do not hand over his survivors on the day of trouble.

The Day of the LORD

15 For the day of the LORD is near upon all the nations. As you have done, it will be done to you; your recompense will return on your own head. 16 For as you have drunk on My holy mountain, all the nations will drink continually; and they will drink and swallow, and they will be as though they had not been. 17 And on Mount Zion (Tsiyon) there will be deliverance, and it will be holy; and the house of Jacob will

1:16 Jer 49:12; Joel 3:17; Isa 51:22,23
1:17 Amos 9:11-15; Joel 2:32; Amos 9:8

1:1 The vision of Obadiah Obadiah, servant of the LORD, saw his message, revealed by God. The nations think they are making their own war plans against Edom, but the LORD has sent the call (Amos 6:14). Edom was the nation descended from Esau, Jacob's twin.
1:3 The arrogance of your heart has deceived you Pride is a liar, and the first person it fools is the proud person himself. Edom's land was a maze of red sandstone cliffs and canyons, and one city was named Sela, rock (2 Kgs 14:7). A few men could hold off an army there.
1:4 if your nest is set among the stars, from there I will bring you down No height is out of God's reach. "Before breaking is pride" (Prov 16:18). Where do we build our nests: money, career, our own cleverness? The only safe place is low, in humble trust before Him (1 Pet 5:5).
1:6 His hidden treasures have been sought out Edom grew rich from the King's Highway trade and hid its wealth in mountain caves. Every hiding place would be found (Amos 9:3).
1:7 the men of your bread will set a trap under you Those who ate at Edom's table would turn on it. Edom betrayed its brother, and its friends would betray it. Many see this fulfilled when the Nabateans, Arab traders, pushed the Edomites out of their land.
1:8 I will destroy the wise from Edom Edom was famous for wisdom. Eliphaz, the oldest of Job's friends, came from Teman (Job 2:11). But wisdom without God cannot save a nation, and when God judges, human wisdom and strength fail together.
1:10 Because of the violence done to your brother Jacob Esau and Jacob were twins (Gen 25:24-26), and God told Israel not to hate an Edomite, "for he is your brother" (Deut 23:7). Esau and Jacob made peace (Gen 33:4), but their descendants never did. Edom as a nation was cut off and vanished from history.
1:11 On the day of your standing aloof Foreigners cast lots to divide the city and its people (Joel 3:3), and Edom stood off and watched. God counts standing by as joining in. The priest and Levite only walked by (Luke 10:30-32). For one who knows to do good and does not do it, "to him it is sin" (James 4:17).
1:12 do not look on the day of your brother Eight warnings, each beginning "do not," as though God stood beside Edom that day. They trace Edom's sin from looking, to rejoicing (Prov 24:17), to mocking with a big mouth. Sin rarely starts with the worst act. It starts in the heart (James 1:15).
1:14 do not stand at the crossroads to cut off his fugitives Refugees ran for the roads south and east, and Edom was waiting to catch them and hand them over to death or slavery. Edom had its day against Jacob. Verse 15 says God's day is coming.
1:15 As you have done, it will be done to you The vision widens to all the nations. The day of the LORD came for Edom in history, and the final day includes the Tribulation and Christ's return to judge (Joel 3:12-14; Zech 14:1-9; Rev 19:11-16). God curses those who disdain Abraham's people (Gen 12:3). On the cross Jesus took the recompense our sins deserved.
1:16 as you have drunk on My holy mountain Either Edom and Babylon drank in celebration on Mount Zion, or Judah drank the cup of God's anger when Jerusalem fell. Either way, the cup of wrath now passes to all the nations (Jer 25:15-16; Rev 14:10).
1:17 on Mount Zion there will be deliverance, and it will be holy The great turn. Edom's mountain falls, but Zion is saved, as Joel said (Joel 2:32), and the house of Jacob gets back the land God promised to Abraham.

possess their possessions. 18 And the house of Jacob will be a fire, and the house of Joseph (Yosef) a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble; and they will burn among them and consume them, and there will be no survivor to the house of Esau, for the LORD has spoken. 19 And the Negeb (Negev) will possess Mount Esau, and the Shephelah the Philistines; and they will possess the field of Ephraim (Efrayim) and the field of Samaria (Shomron), and Benjamin (Binyamin) the Gilead (Gilad). 20 And the exiles of this host of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) who are among the Canaanites as far as Zarephath (Tsarfat), and the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad (Sefarad), will possess the cities of the Negeb. 21 And deliverers will go up on Mount Zion to judge Mount Esau, and the kingship will be the LORD's.

1:18 Zech 12:6; Isa 10:17; Isa 5:24
1:19 Amos 9:12; Jer 32:44; Zeph 2:4-7
1:20 Luke 4:26; 1 Kgs 17:9,10; Jer 33:13
1:21 Dan 7:27; Ps 22:28; Zech 14:9

1:18 the house of Jacob will be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame Judah and the northern tribes, reunited, will be fire to Edom's stubble. That reunion has not yet happened in full. Ezekiel saw it too, two sticks made one under one king (Ezek 37:15-24).
1:20 the exiles of Jerusalem who are in Sepharad Zarephath was on the Phoenician coast, where Elijah stayed with a widow (1 Kgs 17:9). No one is sure where Sepharad was. Many think Sardis. Later Jewish tradition took it as Spain, so Jews from Spain are called Sephardic. From the farthest places God's people will come home.
1:21 deliverers will go up on Mount Zion Leaders God raises up to rescue, like the judges (Judg 3:9, 15). They point to Christ, the great Deliverer, reigning from Jerusalem with His people (Rev 20:4, 6; Rom 11:26).
1:21 the kingship will be the LORD's The point of the whole book. Edom thought it ruled its mountains. In the end the kingdom belongs to the LORD (Zech 14:9; Rev 11:15). This will happen on the earth when Christ returns and sets up His thousand-year kingdom. We need not take revenge (Rom 12:19). We need to be on the King's side.

JONAH

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Jonah son of Amittai. His name means dove. Jonah is the fifth of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Obadiah and before Micah, and it is different from all the others. The other books are mostly the prophets' messages, with a little of their story. Jonah is mostly the prophet's story, with one short message: "Yet forty days, and Nineveh will be overturned" (3:4). And the story does not flatter the prophet.

The book does not name its writer. It speaks of Jonah in the third person, as Moses often wrote of himself. Jewish and Christian tradition have long held that Jonah wrote it, or that it came from his own account. Only Jonah could have known what he prayed inside the fish or what he said to God outside Nineveh. Some modern scholars date the book centuries later. I take it as the true account of Jonah's own experience, whoever set down the final words.

Jonah appears once more in the Old Testament. In the reign of Jeroboam II, God restored Israel's northern border "according to the word of the LORD, the God of Israel, which He spoke by the hand of His servant Jonah the son of Amittai, the prophet who was from Gath-hepher" (2 Kgs 14:25). Gath-hepher was a village in Galilee a few miles north of Nazareth (Josh 19:13). Jeroboam II reigned about 793 to 753 B.C., and most conservative scholars date Jonah's ministry about 785 to 760 B.C., making him an older contemporary of Amos and Hosea.

Nineveh stood on the east bank of the Tigris River, across from modern Mosul in northern Iraq. It was one of the great royal cities of Assyria and later its capital. Assyria was the most feared empire of its day. Its kings boasted in their own records of burning cities, torturing enemies and deporting whole peoples. In Jonah's day Assyria went through a weak period, troubled by revolts, plagues and an eclipse of the sun in 763 B.C., which some think made the people more ready to hear a prophet. About forty years after Jonah, Assyria destroyed Samaria and carried Israel away (722 B.C.). More than a century after Jonah, Nahum announced Nineveh's end, and it fell in 612 B.C.

Jonah tells us why he ran. He was not afraid of the Assyrians. He knew God was gracious and would forgive them if they repented (4:2), and he did not want Israel's enemy spared.

Themes

God is sovereign over everything. He hurls the wind, appoints a great fish, a plant, a worm and a scorching wind, and controls even the lot (1:4, 7, 17; 4:6-8). In this book everything obeys God except, for a while, His prophet.

Salvation belongs to the LORD (2:9). It cannot be earned. Jonah was saved from the sea by God alone, and the same God saved pagan sailors and a cruel city when they turned to Him.

God's compassion reaches beyond Israel. He is "a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abundant in steadfast love" (4:2), even toward the enemies of His people. When a nation repents, He relents from the judgment He warned of (3:10; Jer 18:7-8).

The book searches our hearts. Jonah wanted mercy for himself and judgment for others. The book ends with God's question, "should I not have compassion on Nineveh, the great city" (4:11), and leaves every reader to answer it.

Christ in Jonah

Jesus Himself made the link. When asked for a sign, He said none would be given "except the sign of Jonah the prophet. For just as Jonah was in the belly of the sea monster three days and three nights, so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights" (Matt 12:39-40). Jonah's coming up alive pointed to Jesus' rising from the dead. Jesus also said the men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgment and condemn those who would not repent, "and look, something greater than Jonah is here" (Matt 12:41). Jonah went down into the sea for his own disobedience. Jesus went down into death for ours. Jonah was an unwilling prophet who ran from God's mercy to the nations. Jesus is the willing Savior who brought that mercy to the whole world.

Hard Passages

Is Jonah history or a parable? Some readers treat the book as a parable, mainly because of the great fish. This study reads it as history. It is written as history about a real prophet, city and king, and Jesus spoke of Jonah in the fish and Nineveh's repentance as real events (Matt 12:40-41). Real people do not stand up at the judgment for repenting in a parable. If God raised Jesus from the dead, He could keep Jonah alive in a fish.

What kind of creature was the fish, and how was Jonah there three days and three nights? The Hebrew says only a great fish. The notes leave its kind open and explain that the Jews counted any part of a day as a day.

Did Jonah die in the fish? Most read his prayer of Sheol and the pit as a picture of being at death's door. Some teachers believe he died and was raised. The notes leave it open.

Did God change His mind about Nineveh? The notes explain that God's character never changes (Num 23:19), but His warnings carry an unspoken condition, and when Nineveh repented, He did just what He always said He would do (Jer 18:8).

Jonah Runs from God

1 And the word of the LORD came to Jonah (Yona) the son of Amittai (Amitay), saying, 2 "Arise, go to Nineveh (Ninve), the great city, and call out against it, for their evil has come up before Me." 3 And Jonah arose to flee to Tarshish from before the LORD; and he went down to Joppa (Yafo), and he found a ship going to Tarshish; and he paid its fare, and he went down into it to go with them to Tarshish from before the LORD.

The Storm at Sea

4 And the LORD hurled a great wind to the sea, and there was a great storm on the sea, and the ship thought to be broken up. 5 And the sailors were afraid, and they cried out, each man to his god; and they hurled the vessels that were in the ship into the sea to lighten it from upon them. And Jonah had gone down into the innermost parts of the ship, and he had lain down, and he had fallen fast asleep. 6 And the chief of the sailors came near to him, and he said to him, "What is it to you, sleeper? Arise, call to your God; perhaps the God will give thought to us, and we will not perish." 7 And they said, each man to his neighbor, "Come, and let us cast lots, so that we may know on whose account this evil has come to us." And they cast lots, and the lot fell on Jonah. 8 And they said to him, "Please tell us, on whose account has this evil come to us? What is your occupation? And from where do you come? What is your land? And from what people are you?" 9 And he said to them, "I am a Hebrew, and I fear the LORD, the God of the heavens, who made the sea and the dry land." 10 And the men feared a great fear, and they said to him, "What is this you have done?" For the men knew that he was fleeing from before the LORD, because he had told them. 11 And they said to him, "What shall we do to you, so that the sea may become calm from upon us?" For the sea was growing more and more stormy. 12 And he said to them, "Pick me up and hurl me into the sea, and the sea will become calm from upon you; for I know that on my account this great storm is upon you." 13 And the men rowed hard to bring it back to the dry land, and they were not able, for the sea was growing more and more stormy against them. 14 And they called to the LORD, and they said, "Please, LORD, please let us not perish for the life of this man, and do not put innocent blood on us; for You, LORD, have done as You pleased." 15 And they picked up Jonah and hurled him into the sea, and the sea stopped from its raging. 16 And the men feared the LORD with a great fear, and they sacrificed a sacrifice to the LORD, and they vowed vows.

The Great Fish

17 And the LORD appointed a great fish to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was in the inward parts of the fish three days and three nights.

1:1 Jonah the son of Amittai The same prophet who told Jeroboam II that Israel's borders would be restored (2 Kgs 14:25). He was used to bringing good news to his own nation.
1:2 go to Nineveh, the great city Nineveh was a great city of Assyria, about 500 miles northeast of Israel, and Assyria was the cruelest power of the day. Its evil came up before God like the cry of Sodom (Gen 18:20-21). God judges Gentile nations too, but He sends a warning first. Why warn them, unless He was willing to show mercy?
1:3 to flee to Tarshish from before the LORD Nineveh was east. Tarshish, most likely Tartessus in Spain, was at the far west of the known world. Jonah knew he could not hide from God (1:9). He was running from his calling, and 4:2 tells why. Notice the word "down": to Joppa, into the ship, into its hold, into the sea. Running from God is always a downward road, and it costs. He "paid its fare."
1:4 the LORD hurled a great wind to the sea Jonah had his plans, but God has His. The same word hurled is used when the sailors throw the cargo and then Jonah into the sea. The ship itself seemed about to break apart.
1:5 he had fallen fast asleep While pagan sailors cried out each to his own god, the prophet of the true God slept. A heart running from God can grow dull even in great danger.
1:6 What is it to you, sleeper? Arise, call to your God The captain echoes God's command, "Arise" (1:2). A pagan had to tell a prophet to pray. How sad when unbelievers are more ready to pray than believers are.
1:7 the lot fell on Jonah Casting lots was like drawing straws. The sailors believed the storm was punishment for someone's sin. God controls even the lot (Prov 16:33).
1:9 I fear the LORD, the God of the heavens, who made the sea and the dry land A true confession, and an alarming one in a storm at sea. Hebrew was the name foreigners used for Israel. To fear the LORD means to honor and worship Him, yet Jonah was running from Him. His words were right, but his life did not match them.
1:12 Pick me up and hurl me into the sea Jonah does not offer to turn toward Nineveh. He would rather die than go there. Yet he owned his guilt and was willing to give his life so the sailors would live.
1:14 do not put innocent blood on us; for You, LORD, have done as You pleased Now they call on the LORD, not their own gods. They beg not to be held guilty, and they confess that He is in control. They were learning faith from a prophet who was running from God.
1:16 the men feared the LORD with a great fear Their fear changed, from the storm (1:5), to Jonah's God (1:10), to worship. Many teachers believe these sailors came to faith that day. Even while Jonah ran from his mission to the Gentiles, God was saving Gentiles through him. When Jesus calmed a storm, His disciples too "feared a great fear" (Mark 4:41). He is the same LORD.
1:17 the LORD appointed a great fish to swallow Jonah Appointed means prepared or assigned, used again of the plant, worm and wind in chapter 4. The Hebrew does not say whale. The fish was sent to save Jonah from drowning, and keeping him alive was a miracle. Jesus treated it as history, setting it beside His own burial (Matt 12:40). The Jews counted part of a day as a day (Esth 4:16; 5:1).

Jonah's Prayer

1 And Jonah (Yona) prayed to the LORD his God from the inward parts of the fish. 2 And he said, "I called out of my distress to the LORD, and He answered me; from the belly of Sheol I cried for help; You heard my voice. 3 And You threw me into the deep, into the heart of the seas, and the current surrounded me; all Your breakers and Your waves passed over me. 4 And I said, 'I have been driven away from before Your eyes; yet I will again look to Your holy temple.'
5 Waters encompassed me to the neck; the deep surrounded me; weeds were wrapped around my head. 6 To the bases of the mountains I went down; the earth, its bars were behind me forever. And You brought up my life from the pit, LORD my God. 7 When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD, and my prayer came to You, to Your holy temple.
8 Those who pay regard to vanities of emptiness abandon their steadfast love. 9 And I, with a voice of thanksgiving, will sacrifice to You; what I have vowed I will pay. Salvation belongs to the LORD." 10 And the LORD said to the fish, and it vomited out Jonah onto the dry land.

Jonah Goes to Nineveh

1 And the word of the LORD came to Jonah (Yona) a second time, saying, 2 "Arise, go to Nineveh (Ninve), the great city, and call out to it the proclamation that I am speaking to you." 3 And Jonah arose and went to Nineveh according to the word of the LORD. And Nineveh was a great city to God, a journey of three days. 4 And Jonah began to go into the city a journey of one day, and he called out and said, "Yet forty days, and Nineveh will be overturned."

Nineveh Repents

5 And the men of Nineveh believed in God, and they called a fast, and they put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them and to the least of them. 6 And the word reached the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he removed his robe from upon him, and he covered himself with sackcloth, and he sat on the ashes. 7 And he had it cried out, and he said in Nineveh, by the decree of the king and his great ones, saying, "Let man and livestock, the herd and the flock, not taste anything; let them not graze, and let them not drink water.
8 And let them cover themselves with sackcloth, man and livestock, and let them call to God with strength, and let them turn back, each man from his evil way and from the

2:1 Jonah prayed to the LORD his God He would not pray on the ship (1:6). Now, in the dark at the bottom of the sea, he prays. Sometimes God must bring us very low before we look up. And the LORD was still "his God." No place is so dark or so far that God cannot hear.
2:2 from the belly of Sheol I cried for help Jonah thanks God while still inside the fish. He was alive, so he knew God had saved him from drowning. Sheol is the place of the dead. Most read this as a picture of being at death's door, as in Ps 18:4-6. Some think Jonah actually died and was raised. Scripture does not settle it.
2:3 all Your breakers and Your waves passed over me The sailors threw him, but Jonah says, "You threw me." These words are from Ps 42:7. When Jonah was drowning, the Scriptures came back to him. Fill your mind with God's Word, and it will be there to help you pray.
2:4 yet I will again look to Your holy temple Jonah ran from before the LORD (1:3), and now he felt driven away. He got what he asked for, and it was terrible. Then he turned toward the temple, where God promised to hear prayer from a far land (1 Kgs 8:38-39, 48-49).
2:6 You brought up my life from the pit, LORD my God The bottom of the downward road. The roots of the mountains were pictured at the sea floor, and the earth's gates locked behind him. Jonah went down, and God brought him up. That is the story of everyone God saves (Ps 40:2; Eph 2:1-5).
2:8 Those who pay regard to vanities of emptiness abandon their steadfast love Vanities of emptiness are idols. Steadfast love is hesed, God's loyal covenant love. Those who cling to idols turn from the only One who could show them mercy. Jonah was right about idols, but he had not yet learned how far God's mercy would reach.
2:9 Salvation belongs to the LORD The high point of the book. Salvation cannot be earned or bought. "For by grace you have been saved through faith" (Eph 2:8). Jonah did not say salvation belongs to Israel. It belongs to the LORD, so He can give it to sailors, and to Nineveh too.
2:10 it vomited out Jonah onto the dry land God spoke, and the fish obeyed. In this book everything obeys God except, for a while, His prophet. Jonah came back as one rescued, not a hero. Jesus called this a sign of His own resurrection (Matt 12:40). He went down into death for our disobedience and rose "on the third day" (1 Cor 15:4).
3:1 the word of the LORD came to Jonah a second time Some of the most hopeful words in the Bible. Jonah ran, disobeyed and nearly died, and God came to him again. Jesus restored Peter after his denials and sent him out (John 21:15-17). If you have failed God, His word can still come to you a second time.
3:2 call out to it the proclamation that I am speaking to you God did not change the mission because Jonah disliked it. Jonah was to preach what God told him, nothing more and nothing less. A preacher's job is to give God's message, not his own.
3:3 Nineveh was a great city to God, a journey of three days It may simply mean an exceedingly great city, or that Nineveh mattered in God's eyes, as 4:11 shows. The three days may include greater Nineveh with its towns, or the time to go through its streets preaching. Either way, it was huge, and Jonah was one man.
3:4 Yet forty days, and Nineveh will be overturned Five words in Hebrew, with no offer of mercy. But a warning is itself an offer. Overturned is the word for Sodom's overthrow (Gen 19:25), but it can also mean turned around, changed. Jonah meant the first. God did the second.
3:5 the men of Nineveh believed in God They believed not only Jonah but God, the same words used of Abraham (Gen 15:6). Everyone fasted and wore sackcloth, signs of grief and humility. Jesus said "Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites" (Luke 11:30). A man brought back from the sea may have been part of the sign. In the end God opened their hearts.
3:8 let them turn back, each man from his evil way and from the violence that is in their palms True repentance is more than sackcloth. It is crying out to God and turning from sin. The king named the very sin Assyria was known for, violence done by their own hands. Even the animals were included, as was sometimes done in mourning in that region.

violence that is in their palms. 9 Who knows? God may turn back and relent, and turn back from the burning of His anger, and we will not perish." 10 And God saw their deeds, that they turned back from their evil way; and God relented concerning the evil which He had spoken of doing to them, and He did not do it.

Jonah's Anger

1 And it was evil to Jonah (Yona), a great evil, and he burned with anger. 2 And he prayed to the LORD, and he said, "Please, LORD, was this not my word while I was still in my land? Therefore I hastened to flee to Tarshish; for I knew that You are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abundant in steadfast love, and One who relents concerning the evil. 3 And now, LORD, please take my life from me, for my death is better than my life." 4 And the LORD said, "Do you do well to burn with anger?" 5 And Jonah went out from the city, and he sat east of the city; and he made a booth for himself there, and he sat under it in the shade, until he would see what would be in the city.

The Plant and the Worm

6 And the LORD God appointed a plant, and it went up over Jonah to be a shade over his head, to deliver him from his evil. And Jonah rejoiced over the plant with a great joy. 7 And God appointed a worm when the dawn came up on the next day, and it struck the plant, and it withered. 8 And it was, when the sun rose, and God appointed a scorching east wind; and the sun struck on the head of Jonah, and he became faint; and he asked for his soul to die, and he said, "My death is better than my life." 9 And God said to Jonah, "Do you do well to burn with anger over the plant?" And he said, "I do well to burn with anger, to death." 10 And the LORD said, "You had compassion on the plant, for which you did not toil, and which you did not make grow, which came into being in a night and perished in a night. 11 And I, should I not have compassion on Nineveh (Ninve), the great city, in which there are more than one hundred twenty thousand people who do not know the difference between their right hand and their left, and much livestock?"

4:11 Jonah 1:2; Matt 18:33; Luke 15:28-32

3:9 Who knows? God may turn back and relent The king did not presume on God's mercy. Joel used the same words (Joel 2:14). True repentance does not make demands. It throws itself on God's mercy. The people turn back from evil, hoping God will turn back from His anger.
3:10 God relented concerning the evil which He had spoken of doing to them God saw their deeds, not just their sackcloth. Evil here means disaster. God does not change (Num 23:19), but He has said that when a nation "turns back from its evil" (Jer 18:8), He will relent. Jonah was no false prophet. A warning that brings repentance has succeeded. More than a century later Nineveh returned to its cruelty, and Nahum announced its end.
3:10 and He did not do it No one is too far gone. God "is patient toward us, not wishing any to perish" (2 Pet 3:9). Jesus said the men of Nineveh will condemn those who heard Him and did not repent, for "something greater than Jonah is here" (Matt 12:41). We have heard more than Nineveh ever heard.
4:1 it was evil to Jonah, a great evil A play on the word evil. Nineveh turned from its evil, God turned from the evil He had threatened, and it was evil to Jonah. When our hearts are angry at what pleases God, we are out of step with Him.
4:2 for I knew that You are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abundant in steadfast love Now we know why Jonah ran. He knew God too well. These words echo God's self-description at Sinai (Exod 34:6). Compassionate is related to the word for womb. Every word is good news, and Jonah said it as a complaint. He wanted grace for Israel and judgment for Assyria, Israel's enemy.
4:2 One who relents concerning the evil Jonah is like the older brother in Jesus' parable, angry when the prodigal is welcomed home (Luke 15:25-32). It is one thing to love mercy for ourselves, another to rejoice when God shows it to someone who hurt us. God's mercy is never cheap. Its cost was paid at the cross (Rom 3:25-26).
4:3 my death is better than my life Elijah prayed like this under a broom tree (1 Kgs 19:4), but he was worn out from serving God. Jonah was angry because God was merciful. God does not answer with judgment, but with a question.
4:4 Do you do well to burn with anger? God does not shout. He asks Jonah to think. God is slow to anger with His prophet too. Jonah does not answer. He walks away.
4:6 Jonah rejoiced over the plant with a great joy Again God appointed (1:17). The plant, perhaps a castor-oil plant, gave real shade and delivered him from his discomfort or his bad mood. The only time Jonah is glad in the book is over a little shade. His heart was set on his own comfort.
4:10 You had compassion on the plant, for which you did not toil Jonah did not plant, water or tend it. It lived one night. Yet he grieved over it, or at least over what it did for him. God uses Jonah's own feelings to make His point.
4:11 should I not have compassion on Nineveh, the great city The book ends with God's question. If Jonah pitied a plant, how much more should God pity people He made? The 120,000 may be young children too young to tell right from left, or the whole people, ignorant of God's law. Jesus saw crowds "like sheep not having a shepherd" (Matt 9:36). God even cares for the livestock (Matt 10:29).
4:11 much livestock Why no answer? The question is for Israel, for us, and for Jonah. Perhaps the honest telling of his failures shows he learned. "For God so loved the world" (John 3:16). Is there a Nineveh in your life, a person you would rather see judged than saved? God asks, should I not have compassion?

MICAH

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Micah. His name is a short form of Micaiah, which means Who is like the LORD? He plays on his own name at the end of the book: "Who is a God like You?" (7:18). Micah is the sixth of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Jonah and before Nahum. It is short, only seven chapters, but it holds two of the best known verses in the prophets: the promise of a Ruler from Bethlehem (5:2) and the summary of what God requires (6:8).

Author and Date

The book opens, "The word of the LORD which came to Micah the Morashtite" (1:1). Moresheth, also called Moresheth-gath (1:14), was a town in the Shephelah, the low hills between Judah's mountains and the Philistine plain, about twenty-five miles southwest of Jerusalem. Jewish and Christian tradition hold that Micah wrote the book. Many modern scholars think only chapters 1 to 3 come from him and that the hopeful sections and the mention of Babylon (4:10) were added later. I take the book as Micah's own. The prophets regularly joined warning and hope, and the God who named Cyrus through Isaiah (Isa 45:1) could name Babylon through Micah.

Micah preached "in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah" (1:1), most likely about 735 to 700 B.C., at the same time as Isaiah. He foretold Samaria's fall before it happened in 722 B.C. (1:6), and Jeremiah tells us he preached in the days of Hezekiah (Jer 26:18).

Background and Setting

In Micah's day Assyria was on the march. Tiglath-pileser III took much of Israel about 732 B.C., Samaria fell in 722 B.C., and in 701 B.C. Sennacherib invaded Judah, took its walled cities, besieged Lachish in Micah's own region, and surrounded Jerusalem until the angel of the LORD struck his army (2 Kgs 18:13-19:36). At home, Ahaz brought pagan altars into Jerusalem and "made his son pass through the fire" (2 Kgs 16:3). Hezekiah later led a great reform (2 Kgs 18:1-7).

Through all of it, the rich were seizing the land of small farmers, and the courts, priests and prophets were for sale (2:1-2; 3:11). Micah spoke "concerning Samaria and Jerusalem" (1:1), but most of all to Judah's leaders, the "heads of Jacob and rulers of the house of Israel" (3:1). A century later, elders saved Jeremiah's life by recalling that Hezekiah had heard Micah, feared the LORD, and seen Him relent (Jer 26:17-19).

Themes

God judges injustice and empty worship. Micah exposes leaders who "hate good and love evil" (3:2), judges who take bribes, and prophets who preach peace for pay. Being religious is no protection for those who use God's name to cover their sin (3:11).

God has told us what is good: "to do justice, and to love steadfast love, and to walk humbly with your God" (6:8). This is not how we are saved, since no one has done it perfectly. It is what a life made right with God by grace looks like.

Micah moves back and forth between judgment and hope. Zion will be plowed as a field (3:12), but in the last days the mountain of the LORD's house will be raised above all, the nations will learn His ways, and they will beat their swords into plowshares (4:1-4). This study reads that promise as the thousand-year reign of Christ after He returns, when Israel is gathered and the King rules from Zion.

God delights in mercy. He forgives iniquity, treads our sins underfoot and casts them into the depths of the sea (7:18-19). And He keeps the oath He swore to Abraham and Jacob (7:20).

Christ in Micah

Micah names the town where the Messiah would be born: "And you, O Bethlehem Ephrathah, too little to be among the clans of Judah, from you for Me One will go out to be ruler over Israel" (5:2). When the wise men came, the chief priests and scribes told Herod, "In Bethlehem of Judea; for thus it has been written through the prophet" (Matt 2:5). God used a Roman census to bring Joseph and Mary there (Luke 2:4). The same verse says this Ruler's "goings out are from of old, from the days of antiquity," which this study reads as the eternal existence of the Son, who did not begin at Bethlehem (John 1:1; 8:58). He will shepherd His flock in the strength of the LORD, and "this One will be peace" (5:4-5). He is also the One who breaks through before His people (2:13), and the forgiveness Micah praises in 7:18-19 rests on His cross (Rom 3:25-26).

Hard Passages

What does "from of old, from the days of antiquity" mean (5:2)? The Hebrew can mean ancient days or days of eternity. The notes read it as the eternal Son, and name the views that see His ancient roots in David's line or His work before His birth.

Who is the woman giving birth (5:3)? Some see Mary (Isa 7:14). Others see Israel in labor until she turns to her Messiah (4:9-10; Rev 12:1-5). The notes give both.

When will the kingdom of 4:1-5 come? Amillennial and postmillennial teachers see it in the church age as the gospel goes out from Jerusalem. This study holds that the full fulfillment comes when Christ reigns on the earth for a thousand years, since nations have not yet given up war and the church does not replace Israel.

Who is the Assyrian of 5:5-6? The notes read it as Micah's historical enemy, with 701 B.C. as a foretaste, and name the view that it also stands for the last enemy of God's people at the end of the age.

Does 6:8 teach salvation by works? No. The notes explain it as the fruit of a life made right by grace through faith (Gen 15:6; Eph 2:8-9).

The LORD Comes Down

1 The word of the LORD which came to Micah (Mikha) the Morashtite in the days of Jotham (Yotam), Ahaz (Achaz), and Hezekiah (Yechizqiya), kings of Judah (Yehuda), which he saw concerning Samaria (Shomron) and Jerusalem (Yerushalayim). 2 Hear, peoples, all of them; pay attention, earth, and what fills it; and let the Lord GOD be a witness against you, the Lord from His holy temple. 3 For look, the LORD is going forth from His place, and He will come down and tread on the high places of the earth. 4 And the mountains will melt under Him, and the valleys will split open, like wax before the fire, like waters poured down on a slope. 5 All this is for the transgression of Jacob (Ya'aqov), and for the sins of the house of Israel (Yisra'el). Who is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? And who are the high places of Judah? Is it not Jerusalem? 6 And I will make Samaria into a heap of ruins of the field, into plantings of a vineyard; and I will pour down her stones into the valley, and I will uncover her foundations. 7 And all her carved images will be crushed, and all her hires will be burned with fire, and all her idols I will make a desolation; for from the hire of a prostitute she gathered them, and to the hire of a prostitute they will return.

Micah's Lament

8 On account of this I will lament and wail; I will go barefoot and naked; I will make a lament like the jackals, and a mourning like the daughters of the ostrich. 9 For her wounds are incurable; for it has come to Judah; it has reached to the gate of my people, to Jerusalem. 10 In Gath (Gat) do not tell it; do not weep at all; in Beth-le-aphrah (Bet-Le'afra) roll yourself in dust. 11 Pass on for yourselves, inhabitant of Shaphir (Shafir), in nakedness and shame; the inhabitant of Zaanan (Tsa'anan) has not come out; the lament of Beth-ezel (Bet-Ha'etsel) will take from you its standing place. 12 For the inhabitant of Maroth (Marot) waits anxiously for good, for evil has come down from the LORD to the gate of Jerusalem. 13 Harness the chariot to the steed, inhabitant of Lachish (Lakhish); she was the beginning of sin for the daughter of Zion (Tsiyon), for in you were found the transgressions of Israel. 14 Therefore you will give parting gifts to Moresheth-gath (Moreshet-Gat); the houses of Achzib (Akhziv) will become a deception to the kings of Israel. 15 Again I will bring the one who takes possession to you, inhabitant of Mareshah (Maresha); to Adullam (Adulam) the

1:1 Micah the Morashtite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Micah came from Moresheth in the low hills southwest of Jerusalem (1:14) and prophesied about 735 to 700 B.C. His word concerned both capitals, Samaria in the north and Jerusalem in the south. He names no king of Israel, for the northern kingdom's days were nearly over.
1:2 let the Lord GOD be a witness against you, the Lord from His holy temple Micah calls the whole world to listen, for what God does to His people is a lesson to every nation. God is not only Judge but witness, who has seen everything. The temple here may be His temple in heaven, from which He comes down.
1:3 He will come down and tread on the high places of the earth The LORD steps out of heaven and walks on the mountaintops (Amos 4:13). The high places were also the hilltop shrines of idol worship. God was coming to tread on them.
1:4 the mountains will melt under Him The language of the LORD's coming in power, as when Sinai shook (Exod 19:18). The prophets use such pictures for God's judgments in history. But when the Lord returns, His feet will stand on the Mount of Olives and it will split in two (Zech 14:4). His final coming will shake the earth in fact.
1:5 Who is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? Micah points to the capitals. Even Jerusalem, the city of God's temple, had become a center of idol worship. Ahaz put a pagan altar in the temple courts (2 Kgs 16:10-16). Sin spreads from the top down. When the leaders go wrong, the nation follows.
1:6 I will pour down her stones into the valley, and I will uncover her foundations Samaria stood proudly on a hill. Assyria took it in 722 B.C., and it became rubble fit for planting vines. Archaeologists digging there have since uncovered its foundations.
1:7 from the hire of a prostitute she gathered them Her hires were gifts brought to her idols. Like Hosea (Hos 2:12; 9:1), Micah calls Israel's idolatry unfaithfulness to the LORD her husband. The gold and silver on her idols would be carried off by Assyrian soldiers to their own gods.
1:8 I will go barefoot and naked Stripped to a loincloth, like a captive or mourner, as Isaiah did in these years (Isa 20:2-4). Micah does not preach judgment coldly. Jesus wept over Jerusalem (Luke 19:41). Do we grieve over sin, our own and our nation's, or only point at it?
1:10 In Gath do not tell it Echoing David's lament over Saul, "Do not tell it in Gath" (2 Sam 1:20), so the enemy will not gloat. Now Micah laments over the towns of his own region, where Sennacherib's army marched. Almost every line plays on a town's name. Beth-le-aphrah means house of dust, and its people will roll in the dust.
1:12 the inhabitant of Maroth waits anxiously for good Maroth means bitterness. They hoped for good and got bitterness. The disaster was not merely Assyria's doing. It came down from the LORD.
1:13 Harness the chariot to the steed, inhabitant of Lachish Lachish was Judah's strongest fortress after Jerusalem, and steed sounds like Lachish: hitch up and run! Sennacherib took it and had the siege carved on his palace walls. Lachish may have been where the north's sins, perhaps trust in chariots, first came into Judah.
1:14 you will give parting gifts to Moresheth-gath Micah's own hometown. Parting gifts were given to a daughter leaving home to marry. Judah would say goodbye to it as it was handed to the enemy. Achzib sounds like deceptive, like a stream that dries up.
1:15 to Adullam the glory of Israel will come Adullam was the cave where David hid from Saul (1 Sam 22:1). Israel's leaders would hide in caves again. Mareshah sounds like possessor, and now a conqueror would possess it.

glory of Israel will come. 16 Make yourself bald and shear yourself for the sons of your delights; make your baldness large like the eagle, for they have gone into exile from you.

Woe to the Land Grabbers

1 Woe to those who plan wickedness and do evil on their beds! In the light of the morning they do it, for it is in the power of their hand. 2 And they covet fields and seize them, and houses, and take them; and they oppress a man and his house, and a man and his inheritance. 3 Therefore thus says the LORD: "Look, I am planning against this family an evil from which you will not remove your necks, and you will not walk haughtily, for it will be an evil time. 4 In that day one will lift up a saying against you, and wail a wailing, 'It is done!' He will say, 'We are utterly devastated! He exchanges the portion of my people; how he removes it from me! To an apostate he apportions our fields.' 5 Therefore you will not have one who casts a measuring line by lot in the assembly of the LORD. 6 'Do not drip words,' they drip words. 'They must not drip words about these things; reproaches will not be turned back.' 7 Is it said, house of Jacob (Ya'aqov), 'Is the Spirit of the LORD short? Or are these His deeds?' Do not My words do good with the one who walks uprightly? 8 And yesterday My people rose up as an enemy; from in front of the garment you strip off the robe from those who pass by securely, those returning from war. 9 The women of My people you drive out from the house of her delights; from upon her children you take away My glory forever. 10 Arise and go, for this is not the resting place; because it has become unclean, it will destroy, and the destruction will be grievous. 11 If a man walking in wind and falsehood lies, saying, 'I will drip words to you of wine and of strong drink,' and he will be the one who drips words for this people.

The Remnant Gathered

12 I will surely gather Jacob, all of you; I will surely assemble the remnant of Israel (Yisra'el); together I will set it like sheep of a fold, like a flock in the midst of its pasture; they will make a commotion because of mankind. 13 The one who breaks through has gone up before them; they have broken through, and they have passed through the gate, and they have gone out by it; and their king has passed on before them, and the LORD is at their head."

1:16 make your baldness large like the eagle Shaving the head was a sign of mourning (Amos 8:10), and the eagle here is likely the griffon vulture with its bare head. Sin has consequences for families, towns and nations. Micah watched his hometown fall. Yet God takes no pleasure in judgment (Ezek 33:11), and that is why He warns first.

2:1 Woe to those who plan wickedness and do evil on their beds! Woe is a cry of grief over those headed for judgment. The bed should be a place to rest and meditate on God (Ps 4:4; 63:6). These men lay awake scheming, and in the morning did it because they could. Having the power to do something does not make it right.

2:2 they covet fields and seize them Coveting starts in the heart but rarely stays there (Exod 20:17). Each family's land was its God-given inheritance, meant to stay in the family (Lev 25:23). Naboth would not give up "the inheritance of my fathers" (1 Kgs 21:3). To take a family's land was to take its future (Isa 5:8).

2:3 I am planning against this family an evil from which you will not remove your necks They planned evil on their beds. God was planning too. The evil here is disaster, a yoke they could not shake off. Those who strutted would be bent low under a conqueror.

2:5 you will not have one who casts a measuring line by lot in the assembly of the LORD Joshua divided the land by line and by lot (Josh 14:1-2). When God's people divide the land again, these men will have no share. Those who stole an inheritance lose their own.

2:6 Do not drip words To drip words is to preach, words falling like rain (Amos 7:16). They told the true prophets to stop talking about judgment. People have always wanted preachers who do not mention sin. But a doctor who will not tell you about the disease cannot cure you.

2:7 Do not My words do good with the one who walks uprightly? The people were sure God's patience could not run out and that He would never do such things. God's word is not against everyone. It is good news to those who walk with Him. Only those who refuse to obey find it frightening.

2:8 you strip off the robe from those who pass by securely God's people had become an enemy to their own neighbors, robbing peaceful travelers, even men home from war. The Law said a poor man's cloak was to be returned by night (Exod 22:26-27). These men took it off his back.

2:9 The women of My people you drive out from the house of her delights They threw widows out of their homes and robbed children of their place in the land, which God calls "My glory." God defends widows and orphans (Deut 10:18; James 1:27), and He takes their harm personally.

2:10 Arise and go, for this is not the resting place God turns their words back on them. The land was meant to be Israel's rest (Deut 12:9), but their sin defiled it, and it would throw them out (Lev 18:28). This world is not our final rest either (Heb 4:9; 13:14).

2:11 I will drip words to you of wine and of strong drink The preacher the people wanted: full of wind and lies, promising good times. Paul warned of those who "heap up teachers for themselves, being tickled in the hearing" (2 Tim 4:3). Do we want truth, or a preacher who makes us feel good?

2:12 I will surely assemble the remnant of Israel Some think these are the false prophets' words, but in light of 4:6-7 and 7:18-20 most take it as God's own promise, as this study does. The remnant is the faithful few God keeps. The return from Babylon was a first fulfillment. All Jacob gathered under their King points to Israel's regathering when Christ returns (Isa 11:11-12; Ezek 37:21-22).

2:13 The one who breaks through has gone up before them Picture sheep penned in a fold, and someone breaking a gap in the wall so they pour out after him. The Breaker is their King and the LORD. Many Jewish and Christian teachers see the Messiah here. Christ breaks open the way through sin and death, and "he goes before them" (John 10:4). Whatever wall stands before you, He has broken through.

3:1 Is it not for you to know justice? The heads and rulers were the judges and officials of Judah, who carried the old names Jacob and Israel. Of all people they should have known what was right. Knowing justice means loving what is right and doing it.

The Mountain of the LORD

1 And it will be at the end of the days that the mountain of the house of the LORD will be established at the head of the mountains, and it will be lifted up above the hills; and peoples will stream to it. 2 And many nations will come and say, "Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD and to the house of the God of Jacob (Ya'aqov), and let Him teach us from His ways, and let us walk in His paths." For from Zion (Tsiyon) law will go out, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem (Yerushalayim). 3 And He will judge between many peoples, and He will decide for mighty nations even far away; and they will beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning knives. Nation will not lift up a sword against nation, and they will not learn warfare again. 4 And they will dwell, each man under his vine and under his fig tree, and there will be none who terrifies; for the mouth of the LORD of armies has spoken. 5 For all the peoples walk, each man in the name of his god; and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever. 6 In that day, declares the LORD, I will gather the limping one, and the banished one I will assemble, and the one whom I have

4:6 Zeph 3:19; Ps 147:2; Ezek 34:12,13

3:3 have chopped them up as in the pot Not cannibals, but leaders who treated the people like animals to be butchered, stripping them of land, money and dignity. God gives leaders in government, work, church and home to protect, not to feed on those under them (Ezek 34:2-3). Jesus is the good Shepherd who lays down His life (John 10:11).
3:4 they will cry out to the LORD, and He will not answer them They would not hear the poor, so God would not hear them (Prov 21:13). God hears every sincere cry of repentance (Joel 2:32), but these men wanted rescue, not repentance.
3:5 who bite with their teeth and proclaim, "Peace," While they had something to chew on, they preached peace. If you did not pay, they declared holy war on you. Their message depended on the fee. They were selling God's word.
3:7 they will cover over their mustache, all of them, for there is no answer of God Divining, reading the future by omens, was forbidden (Deut 18:10-12). Covering the mouth was a sign of shame (Lev 13:45). Their visions would stop because God would not speak to them.
3:8 I am full of power with the Spirit of the LORD The false prophets were full of their own appetites. Micah was filled with the Spirit for power, a sense of justice, and courage, to tell God's people the truth about their sin. The same Spirit convicts the world "concerning sin" (John 16:8) and gives believers courage to speak the truth in love (Acts 1:8; Eph 4:15).
3:10 who build Zion with blood and Jerusalem with injustice Fine houses and public works were paid for by cheating workers, seizing land and condemning the innocent (Jer 22:13). Habakkuk cried woe on the one "who builds a city with blood" (Hab 2:12).
3:11 Is not the LORD in our midst? Evil will not come upon us. Judges, priests and prophets all sold their work (Deut 16:19; Mal 2:7), yet all leaned on the LORD, sure He would never let the city of His temple fall (Jer 7:4). It is possible to be very religious and very wrong. God's name is no cover for sin.
3:12 Zion will be plowed as a field No prophet before had said so plainly that Jerusalem and the temple would fall. It came true in 586 B.C. (2 Kgs 25:8-10; Lam 5:18). A century later elders quoted this verse to save Jeremiah's life (Jer 26:18-19). Hezekiah heard Micah and repented, and God held back the disaster for more than a century. God's warnings are not fate. And right after this, Micah turns to hope (4:1).
4:1 the mountain of the house of the LORD will be established at the head of the mountains At the end of the days, the days of the Messiah's kingdom (Hos 3:5), the very hill Micah said would become a forest (3:12) will be raised above all. It may be lifted in honor and in fact (Zech 14:10). Rivers flow down, but here the peoples stream up, drawn by the presence of the LORD.
4:2 let Him teach us from His ways, and let us walk in His paths The nations come no longer to attack (4:11) but to worship, to learn and to obey, as God always intended (Gen 12:3). Law here means teaching. The King will rule the world from Jerusalem. Isaiah gives the same vision almost word for word (Isa 2:2-4).
4:3 they will beat their swords into plowshares Joel saw the opposite before the last battle (Joel 3:10). Micah sees what comes after. No human organization can bring this about. The nations lay down their weapons only after the LORD Himself judges between them. Peace on earth comes when the Prince of Peace reigns (Isa 9:6-7).
4:4 each man under his vine and under his fig tree A picture of peace and plenty, as in Solomon's best days (1 Kgs 4:25). Every family will have its own land, the opposite of the land-grabbing of 2:2. In the kingdom the small farmer will be safe. This is not a dream. God has said it.
4:5 we will walk in the name of the LORD our God forever and ever Whatever others do, God's faithful will walk with Him now, without waiting for the kingdom to begin living by it. I believe 4:1-5 describes Christ's thousand-year reign after He returns (Rev 19:11-16; 20:1-6). Others see it in the church age as the gospel goes out from Jerusalem (Luke 24:47). That is a true first step, but nations have not given up war, and the church does not replace Israel.
4:6 I will gather the limping one God pictures His people as a flock, some lame, some driven off, some hurt by His own judgment. The God who scattered them will gather them, and He does not leave the weak behind.

harmed. 7 And I will make the limping one into a remnant, and the one cast far off into a mighty nation; and the LORD will reign over them in the mountain of Zion from now and until forever. 8 And you, O tower of the flock (Migdal-Eder), hill of the daughter of Zion, to you it will come; and the former dominion will come, a kingdom for the daughter of Jerusalem.

From Labor Pains to Victory

9 Now why do you shout a shout? Is there no king in you? Or has your counselor perished, that anguish has taken hold of you like a woman giving birth? 10 Writhe in pain and burst forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman giving birth; for now you will go out from the town, and you will dwell in the open country, and you will go to Babylon (Bavel). There you will be delivered; there the LORD will redeem you from the hand of your enemies. 11 And now many nations have been gathered against you, who are saying, "Let her be polluted, and let our eyes look on Zion." 12 And they do not know the thoughts of the LORD, and they do not understand His counsel; for He has gathered them like cut grain to the threshing floor. 13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion, for I will make your horn iron, and I will make your hooves bronze; and you will crush many peoples. And I will devote their unjust gain to the LORD, and their wealth to the Lord of all the earth.

The Ruler from Bethlehem

1 Now you will gash yourself, O daughter of troops; he has laid a siege against us; with the rod they will strike the judge of Israel (Yisra'el) on the cheek. 2 And you, O Bethlehem (Bet-Lechem) Ephrathah (Efrata), too little to be among the clans of Judah (Yehuda), from you for Me One will go out to be ruler over Israel; and His goings out are from of old, from the days of antiquity. 3 Therefore He will give them up until the time that she who is giving birth has given birth; and the rest of His brothers will return to the sons of Israel. 4 And He will stand and shepherd in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD His God; and they will dwell, for now He will be great to the ends of the earth. 5 And this One will be peace. Assyria (Ashur), when he comes into our land, and when he treads on our citadels, then we will raise against him seven shepherds and eight princes of mankind. 6 And they will shepherd the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod at its entrances; and He will deliver us from Assyria when he comes into our land, and when he treads within our territory.

The Remnant among the Nations

7 And the remnant of Jacob (Ya'aqov) will be in the midst of

5:6 Rom 9:27; Isa 14:25; Isa 14:2
5:7 Acts 15:17; Rom 9:27; Mic 5:3,8

4:7 the LORD will reign over them in the mountain of Zion from now and until forever The weakest become the core of a mighty nation. God chooses the weak to shame the strong (1 Cor 1:27). Of this King's kingdom "there will be no end" (Luke 1:33).
4:8 O tower of the flock Migdal-Eder, a watchtower near Bethlehem where Jacob camped after Rachel died (Gen 35:19-21). Here it stands for Jerusalem, watching over God's flock, to which David's former dominion will return. Near Bethlehem, shepherds keeping watch at night heard that the Christ was born (Luke 2:8-11).
4:10 you will go to Babylon. There you will be delivered A remarkable prophecy. In Micah's day Assyria ruled and Babylon was a lesser city. More than a century later Jerusalem's people went to Babylon (2 Kgs 25:11), and in 538 B.C. Cyrus let them go home (Ezra 1:1-4). Labor pains are real pain, but they lead to new life. To redeem is to set free by paying a price.
4:12 He has gathered them like cut grain to the threshing floor The nations think they gather to destroy Zion. God has gathered them to be judged. They do not know His thoughts. Neither do we always understand what He is doing in our troubles, but He is working His plan.
4:13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion Oxen threshed by trampling grain. Zion will be like an ox with iron horns and bronze hooves. A first taste came when God struck Sennacherib's army (2 Kgs 19:35), but many nations gathered and crushed points to the end of the age, when the LORD fights for Jerusalem (Joel 3:2, 12; Zech 12:2-9; 14:2-3).
5:1 with the rod they will strike the judge of Israel on the cheek Jerusalem is besieged, first by Assyria in 701 B.C., later by Babylon. A blow on the cheek was a great insult. Zedekiah was blinded and carried off in chains (2 Kgs 25:6-7). Many think of Jesus, struck by the soldiers (Matt 27:30), but the New Testament does not quote this verse, so I hold it as a picture.
5:2 O Bethlehem Ephrathah, too little to be among the clans of Judah Bethlehem, about five miles south of Jerusalem, was David's hometown (1 Sam 16:1). Ephrathah set it apart from a Bethlehem in Zebulun (Josh 19:15). It was too small to count. Jerusalem's judge is struck, but Bethlehem's Ruler is coming. The scribes named it to Herod, "In Bethlehem of Judea" (Matt 2:5-6).
5:2 His goings out are from of old, from the days of antiquity The phrase can mean ancient days or days of eternity. This study reads it as the eternal existence of the Son, who did not begin at Bethlehem (John 1:1; 8:58; 17:5). Isaiah called the child "Mighty God, Father of Eternity" (Isa 9:6). Others see His ancient roots in David's line, or His work before His birth as Creator.
5:2 from you for Me One will go out to be ruler over Israel The Ruler rules for God. Joseph lived in Nazareth, but a Roman census sent him to Bethlehem, "because of his being of the house and family of David" (Luke 2:4). Micah did not guess seven centuries ahead (Amos 3:7). God chooses small things. He can use your small life too.
5:3 He will give them up until the time that she who is giving birth has given birth Because the Ruler is coming but not yet, Israel is given up for a time. Some see the virgin of Isa 7:14. Others see Israel's long labor ending when she is reborn and turns to her Messiah (Isa 66:7-8; Rev 12:1-5). His brothers' return looks to Israel's regathering in the last days (Rom 11:25-26).
5:4 He will stand and shepherd in the strength of the LORD A Shepherd-King like David, steady and strong, who feeds and guards His flock and depends on the LORD (John 5:19; 10:11). His greatness reaches to the ends of the earth, as the angel said: "He will be great" (Luke 1:32).
5:5 this One will be peace He does not only bring peace. He is peace (Isa 9:6). "For He Himself is our peace" (Eph 2:14). Seven, then eight, means more than enough, like the three and four of Amos 1. Nimrod founded the first cities of Assyria and Babylon (Gen 10:8-12).
5:6 He will deliver us from Assyria when he comes into our land A taste came in 701 B.C. (2 Kgs 19:35), but full deliverance comes with the Ruler from Bethlehem. Many believe Assyria stands for the last enemy who invades the land at the end of the age, and some see the Antichrist in the Assyrian of Isaiah and Micah. Scripture does not settle that detail. No enemy will stand against the Ruler's people.
5:7 like dew from the LORD, like showers on vegetation Dew watered crops through the dry summer, quietly, from God alone. The remnant of Israel will bless the nations, as promised to Abraham (Gen 12:3). The Savior came from Israel, "because salvation is from the Jews" (John 4:22).

many peoples like dew from the LORD, like showers on vegetation, which does not look to a man, and does not wait for the sons of mankind. 8 And the remnant of Jacob will be among the nations, in the midst of many peoples, like a lion among the animals of the forest, like a young lion among flocks of sheep, which, if it passes through, tramples and tears, and there is none who delivers. 9 Let your hand be lifted up over your adversaries, and let all your enemies be cut off. 10 And it will be in that day, declares the LORD, that I will cut off your horses from your midst, and I will destroy your chariots. 11 And I will cut off the cities of your land, and I will tear down all your fortresses. 12 And I will cut off sorceries from your hand, and soothsayers will not be yours. 13 And I will cut off your carved images and your sacred pillars from your midst, and you will not bow down again to the work of your hands. 14 And I will pluck up your Asherah poles from your midst, and I will destroy your cities. 15 And I will do vengeance in anger and in rage on the nations that have not obeyed.

The LORD's Case

1 Hear, please, what the LORD is saying: "Arise, contend with the mountains, and let the hills hear your voice." 2 Hear, O mountains, the case of the LORD, and you enduring ones, foundations of the earth; for the LORD has a case with His people, and with Israel (Yisra'el) He will argue. 3 O My people, what have I done to you? And how have I wearied you? Testify against Me. 4 For I brought you up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and from a house of slaves I ransomed you; and I sent before you Moses (Moshe), Aaron (Aharon), and Miriam (Miryam). 5 O My people, remember, please, what Balak (Balaq) king of Moab (Mo'av) planned, and what Balaam (Bilam) the son of Beor answered him, from Shittim (Shitim) to Gilgal, so as to know the righteous acts of the LORD. 6 With what shall I come to meet the LORD, and bow myself down to the God of the height? Shall I come to meet Him with burnt offerings, with calves, sons of a year? 7 Will the LORD take pleasure in thousands of rams, in tens of thousands of torrents of oil? Shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my belly for the sin of my soul? 8 He has told you, O man, what is good; and what does the LORD require from you but to do justice, and to love steadfast love, and to walk humbly with your God?

Cheating and Its Punishment

9 The voice of the LORD calls out to the city, and sound wisdom will see Your name: Hear, O tribe, and whoever appointed it. 10 Are there still in the house of the wicked treasures of wickedness, and the scant ephah that is accursed? 11 Shall I be pure with balances of wickedness, and with a bag of weights of deceit? 12 Whose rich ones are full of violence, and her inhabitants speak falsehood, and their

5:8 like a young lion among flocks of sheep The remnant that blesses is also strong. God's people will be gentle as dew to those who receive them and strong as a lion against those who fight them.
5:10 I will cut off your horses from your midst, and I will destroy your chariots Now the "you" is God's people. Horses and chariots were the tanks of the ancient world. Kings were not to multiply horses (Deut 17:16). "These trust in chariotry and these in horses" (Ps 20:7), but God's people were to trust in Him.
5:13 you will not bow down again to the work of your hands God cleans house: no more trust in weapons, walls, sorcery (Deut 18:10-12), standing stones or Asherah poles. When Israel turns to the Lord, "He will turn away ungodliness from Jacob" (Rom 11:26). What would God need to cut off in your life?
5:15 I will do vengeance in anger and in rage on the nations that have not obeyed The day that purifies God's people judges the nations that refuse Him (Matt 25:31-32; Rev 19:15). The Ruler from Bethlehem is a Shepherd to those who come to Him and a Judge to those who will not.
6:2 Hear, O mountains, the case of the LORD To contend is to argue a case in court. The mountains have stood since the beginning and saw the exodus, Sinai and the entry into the land. Moses called heaven and earth as witnesses to the covenant (Deut 30:19; 32:1). Now they are called back to testify.
6:3 O My people, what have I done to you? And how have I wearied you? One of the most tender verses in the prophets. The Judge speaks like a hurt father. They are still His. They had no complaint, for God had never failed them. We drift not because He has wronged us but because our hearts wander. "For My yoke is easy" (Matt 11:30).
6:4 from a house of slaves I ransomed you To ransom is to pay a price to set someone free. Far from wearying them, God freed them, and He gave them Moses to lead, Aaron as priest and Miriam to lead in praise (Exod 15:20-21).
6:5 from Shittim to Gilgal, so as to know the righteous acts of the LORD Balak hired Balaam to curse Israel, and God turned every curse into blessing (Num 22-24; Deut 23:5). Shittim was the last camp east of the Jordan, Gilgal the first in the land (Josh 3:1; 4:19). Forgetfulness is the root of much sin. When we remember what God has done, we are thankful.
6:7 Shall I give my firstborn for my transgression The most terrible offer. Pagans sacrificed children, and Ahaz "made his son pass through the fire" (2 Kgs 16:3), which God forbade (Lev 18:21). Such questions treat God as a bargainer to be paid off. Religion without God never knows when it has done enough.
6:8 He has told you, O man, what is good The answer was not new (Deut 10:12-13). The people did not need new revelation. They needed to do what they already knew. "O man" speaks to every human being. Not rams, oil or children, but three things.
6:8 to do justice, and to love steadfast love, and to walk humbly with your God Justice treats people rightly. Steadfast love, hesed, gives more than is owed, as God does for us, and we are to love doing it. To walk humbly is to live in fellowship with God, knowing He is God and we are not (Gen 5:24). This is not how we are saved. No one has done it perfectly, and Micah ends with a God who forgives (7:18-19). It is what a life made right by grace looks like (Eph 2:8-9).
6:9 sound wisdom will see Your name God turns from the courtroom to Jerusalem itself. A wise person will listen and fear the LORD. The last line is hard in Hebrew. It may mean, Listen to the rod of punishment and the One who appointed it.
6:11 with a bag of weights of deceit Merchants kept two sets of weights, one for buying and one for selling (Amos 8:5). Could God call such a man innocent? Here is the opposite of verse 8: injustice, cruelty and pride.

tongue is deceit in their mouth. 13 And I also have made you sick by striking you, making you desolate because of your sins. 14 You will eat and not be satisfied, and your emptiness will be in your midst; and you will carry away and not bring it to safety, and what you bring to safety I will give to the sword. 15 You will sow and not reap; you will tread olives and not anoint yourself with oil, and new wine, and not drink wine. 16 And the statutes of Omri are kept, and every deed of the house of Ahab (Achav), and you have walked in their counsels, so that I may make you a horror, and her inhabitants a hissing; and you will bear the reproach of My people.

Micah Waits for the LORD

1 Woe to me! For I have become like the gatherings of summer fruit, like the gleanings of the grape harvest; there is no cluster to eat; my soul craves an early fig. 2 The godly one has perished from the land, and upright one among mankind there is none; all of them lie in wait for blood; each man hunts his brother with a net. 3 On evil are both hands to do it well; the official asks, and the judge asks for the bribe; and the great man speaks the craving of his soul, he himself, and they weave it. 4 The best of them is like a brier, the upright one is worse than a thorn hedge. The day of your watchmen, your punishment, has come; now will be their confusion. 5 Do not believe in a neighbor; do not trust in a close friend; from her who lies in your bosom guard the openings of your mouth. 6 For a son treats a father with contempt, a daughter rises up against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; the enemies of a man are the men of his own house. 7 And I, I will watch for the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation; my God will hear me.

Zion Will Rise

8 Do not rejoice over me, O my enemy; when I have fallen, I will arise; when I sit in the darkness, the LORD is a light for me. 9 I will bear the indignation of the LORD, for I have sinned against Him, until He pleads my case and does justice for me. He will bring me out to the light; I will look on His righteousness. 10 And let my enemy see, and let shame cover her who says to me, "Where is He, the LORD your God?" My eyes will look on her; now she will become a trampling place, like the mud of the streets. 11 A day to build your walls! That day the boundary will be far away. 12 It is that day, and to you they will come, from Assyria (Ashur) and the cities of Egypt (Matsor), and from Egypt even to the River, and to sea from sea, and to mountain from the mountain. 13 And the land will become a desolation because of its inhabitants, from the fruit of their deeds. 14 Shepherd Your people with Your rod, the flock of Your inheritance, dwelling alone in a forest in the midst of a garden land; let them graze in Bashan and Gilead (Gilad) as in the days of antiquity. 15 As in the days of your coming out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), I will show him wonders. 16 Nations will see and be ashamed of all their might; they will put a hand on their mouth; their ears will be deaf. 17 They will lick dust like the serpent, like crawling things of the earth; they will quake out of their strongholds; to the LORD our God they will come in dread, 6:14 You will eat and not be satisfied The curses Moses warned of (Lev 26:26; Deut 28:38-40). They would do the work and never enjoy the harvest, as they had done to the poor. That is the emptiness of a life built on cheating. Only God satisfies (Isa 55:2).

6:16 the statutes of Omri are kept, and every deed of the house of Ahab Omri built Samaria. Ahab brought in Baal worship and had Naboth killed for his vineyard (1 Kgs 16:23-33; 21). Judah kept the statutes of Omri instead of the LORD's. God told them to walk humbly with Him, and they walked in the counsels of Ahab.
7:2 The godly one has perished from the land Godly comes from hesed, one who shows loyal love to God and others. Micah could find none. Elijah felt the same, though God had seven thousand left (1 Kgs 19:10, 18). People hunted one another like prey.
7:3 the official asks, and the judge asks for the bribe Skilled at evil with both hands. The powerful man names what he wants, and the paid officials weave the plan. Corruption was a team effort. Even the best of them would scratch you like a brier.
7:6 the enemies of a man are the men of his own house When a society turns from God, it falls apart even at home. Jesus used these words to warn that following Him would sometimes divide families (Matt 10:35-36). If that is you, you are not alone. No one who leaves family for His sake will lose out in the end (Mark 10:29-30).
7:7 And I, I will watch for the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation The turning point of the chapter. Micah cannot trust neighbor or family, but he can trust God. He watches like a watchman for the dawn. Waiting is not sitting idle. It is hoping while God has not yet acted, for "those who wait for the LORD will renew power" (Isa 40:31). He is not deaf.
7:8 when I sit in the darkness, the LORD is a light for me Zion speaks as one person. The enemy gloated over Jerusalem's fall (Obad 12), but Zion says, I have fallen, but I will get up. "The LORD is my light and my salvation" (Ps 27:1).
7:9 I will bear the indignation of the LORD, for I have sinned against Him Zion owns her sin and accepts God's discipline. That is real repentance. The God who brought the case against her (6:2) will one day take up her case. Live under His discipline honestly, patiently, sure that He will bring you into the light (Heb 12:10-11).
7:12 from Egypt even to the River The River is the Euphrates. From every direction they will come to Zion, whether Israel's scattered people coming home or the nations coming to worship (4:1-2). Both will happen in the kingdom (Isa 11:11-12; Zech 8:20-23).
7:14 Shepherd Your people with Your rod, the flock of Your inheritance A shepherd's rod guided and protected (Ps 23:4). Micah asks God to be Israel's Shepherd, as the Ruler from Bethlehem would be (5:4). Bashan and Gilead were rich pastures lost to Assyria in Micah's lifetime (2 Kgs 15:29).
7:15 As in the days of your coming out from the land of Egypt, I will show him wonders The prophets often speak of a new exodus when God gathers His people at the end of the age (Isa 11:15-16; Jer 23:7-8).
7:17 They will lick dust like the serpent Total defeat, echoing the curse on the serpent (Gen 3:14). The nations that mocked, "Where is He, the LORD your God?" (7:10), will come trembling to Him. Every knee will bow (Phil 2:10-11).

and they will be afraid of You.

Who Is a God like You?

18 Who is a God like You, forgiving iniquity and passing over transgression for the remnant of His inheritance? He does not hold on to His anger forever, for He delights in steadfast love. 19 He will again have compassion on us; He will subdue our iniquities; and You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea. 20 You will give faithfulness to Jacob (Ya'aqov), steadfast love to Abraham (Avraham), which You swore to our fathers from the days of old.

7:20 Luke 1:72-73; Acts 3:25; Rom 11:26

7:18 Who is a God like You, forgiving iniquity and passing over transgression Micah's name means Who is like the LORD? He ends asking that question. No idol could forgive. To forgive is to lift up and carry away. These are the words of God's self-description, "forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin" (Exod 34:7). How can a holy God do this? He showed His justice at the cross, where Jesus paid (Rom 3:25-26).
7:18 He does not hold on to His anger forever, for He delights in steadfast love God is angry at sin, as the whole book shows, but mercy is His delight. "For a moment is in His anger, life is in His favor" (Ps 30:5).
7:19 You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea To subdue is to tread underfoot. God breaks sin's power and forgives its guilt. All sins, thrown where no one can fish them out (Ps 103:12). Many believers keep diving to pull back what God has thrown away. If you have confessed and trusted Christ, "He is faithful and righteous so that He may forgive us" (1 John 1:9). Leave it there.
7:20 You will give faithfulness to Jacob, steadfast love to Abraham God swore to Abraham the land, a great nation and blessing for all families (Gen 12:1-3; 22:16-18; Heb 6:13). He will keep every promise to Israel, including the land, when Christ returns and Israel turns to Him (Rom 11:26-29). Through Abraham's Seed the blessing reaches the nations too (Gal 3:8, 16). Zechariah praised God for "the oath which He swore to Abraham our father" (Luke 1:73).

NAHUM

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Nahum, whose name means comfort. It is the seventh of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Micah and before Habakkuk. Nahum and Jonah are the two books of the Bible addressed to Nineveh, the capital of Assyria. Nahum's message brought no comfort to Nineveh, but it brought great comfort to Judah, which had suffered under Assyria for generations.

The book calls its author "Nahum the Elkoshite" (1:1), and that is all we know about him. No one is sure where Elkosh was. Old traditions place it in Galilee, in southern Judah, or near Nineveh itself. Capernaum, whose name means village of Nahum, is sometimes linked with him, but that cannot be proved. Most scholars accept that Nahum wrote the book, and there is no good reason to separate the poem of chapter 1 from the rest.

Nahum speaks of the fall of Thebes in Egypt as already past (3:8-10). Assyria took Thebes in 663 B.C. He speaks of Nineveh's fall as still ahead, and Nineveh fell in 612 B.C. So the book was written between those dates. Many conservative scholars place it about 650 B.C., while Assyria was still "complete and thus many" (1:12). Others place it closer to 615 B.C., when Assyria was weakening.

Assyria ruled from the Persian Gulf to Egypt. Nineveh stood on the east bank of the Tigris River, across from modern Mosul in Iraq, a great city of high walls, palaces, temples and canals. The Assyrian kings boasted in their own records of the cities they burned and the people they killed. Assyria had destroyed the northern kingdom of Israel in 722 B.C., and Judah had paid it tribute for years. King Manasseh was even taken captive by the commanders of the king of Assyria (2 Chr 33:11). About a century after Nineveh repented at Jonah's preaching, it had gone back to its cruelty.

Nahum's prophecy came true in 612 B.C., when the Babylonians and Medes besieged and took Nineveh. It was never rebuilt as a great city. Its ruins lay buried under mounds for centuries until archaeologists dug them out in the 1800s A.D. The last of the Assyrian army was crushed a few years later.

Themes

God is both patient and just. "The LORD is slow to anger and great in power, and He will certainly not leave the guilty unpunished" (1:3). These words come from God's own description of Himself at Sinai (Exod 34:6-7). Jonah shows the first half of that truth, His mercy to a city that repents. Nahum shows the second half, His justice on a city that returned to its evil. We need both books to see God as He really is.

God's jealousy and vengeance are not bad temper. They are His holy love for His people and His setting right of wrongs. Because He will repay, His people can leave vengeance in His hands (Rom 12:19).

The LORD rules over all nations, even the greatest. When He says, "Look, I am against you" (2:13; 3:5), no wall, river, army or treasure can save.

The LORD is a refuge for those who trust Him. "The LORD is good, a stronghold in a day of trouble; and He knows those who take refuge in Him" (1:7). The same power that terrifies His enemies shelters His people.

Christ in Nahum

Nahum pictures a runner on the mountains bringing the good news that the oppressor has fallen: "Look, on the mountains the feet of one who brings good news, who proclaims peace!" (1:15). Isaiah used the same picture (Isa 52:7), and Paul applies it to those who preach the gospel of Christ (Rom 10:15). The enemy that held us was not Assyria but sin and death, and Jesus defeated them at the cross and rose again. Nahum also shows how a holy God deals with guilt. He will not leave the guilty unpunished, and at the cross He punished sin fully in His Son, so that He can be just and still justify everyone who believes in Jesus (Rom 3:26). For all who take refuge in Him, God is a stronghold, and "no one will snatch them out of My hand" (John 10:28).

How can a God of love be "avenging" and "a master of rage" (1:2)? The notes explain God's jealousy as holy, protective love and His vengeance as His setting right of wrongs, always paired with His patience.

Why does Nahum describe war so vividly (2:3-10; 3:1-3, 10)? The notes treat the battle scenes briefly. They frame them as Nineveh reaping what it had sown in its cruelty to others, and add that God sees every life taken by cruel men. On the suffering of children at Thebes, the notes add that God will one day end war, and that little children who die are safe with Him (2 Sam 12:23).

Do the racing chariots of 2:4 describe modern cars? Some once taught so. The notes set this aside as reading modern ideas into the text. Nahum was describing the war chariots in the battle for Nineveh.

Did a flood help destroy Nineveh (1:8; 2:6)? Ancient writers report that floodwaters broke down part of the wall during the siege. The notes state this generally, since the details are debated.

  C. No escape and no healing (3:14-19)

NAHUM 1

The LORD Avenges

1 The oracle of Nineveh (Ninve). The book of the vision of Nahum (Nachum) the Elkoshite. 2 A jealous and avenging God is the LORD; avenging is the LORD, and a master of rage; avenging is the LORD on His adversaries, and He is keeping wrath for His enemies. 3 The LORD is slow to anger and great in power, and He will certainly not leave the guilty unpunished. The LORD, in the whirlwind and in the storm is His way, and cloud is the dust of His feet. 4 He rebukes the sea and makes it dry, and He dries up all the rivers; Bashan and Carmel (Karmel) wither, and the blossom of Lebanon (Levanon) withers. 5 Mountains quake because of Him, and the hills melt; and the earth rises up before Him, and the world and all who dwell in it. 6 Before His indignation who can stand? And who can rise up in the burning of His anger? His rage is poured out like fire, and the rocks are torn down by Him.

A Stronghold in Trouble

7 The LORD is good, a stronghold in a day of trouble; and He knows those who take refuge in Him. 8 And with a flood that passes over He will make a complete end of her place, and He will pursue His enemies into darkness.

Nineveh's End and Judah's Freedom

9 Whatever you plot against the LORD, He is making a complete end; trouble will not rise up twice. 10 For even like entangled thorns, and drunken like their drink, they will be consumed like stubble fully dry. 11 From you has come out one who plots evil against the LORD, a counselor of worthlessness. 12 Thus says the LORD: Though they are complete and thus many, even thus they will be cut down, and he will pass away. And I have afflicted you; I will not afflict you again. 13 And now I will break his yoke bar from upon you, and I will tear apart your fetters. 14 And the LORD has commanded concerning you: No one from your name will be sown again; from the house of your gods I will cut off carved image and molten image; I will make your grave, for you are contemptible. 15 Look, on the mountains the feet of one who brings good news, who proclaims peace! Celebrate your festivals, O Judah (Yehuda); pay your vows; for the worthless one will not again pass through you; all of him is cut off.

1:1 The oracle of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite. An oracle is a message from God, often of judgment. The word comes from a root meaning to lift or carry, a heavy word. Nahum's name means comfort. His message brought no comfort to Nineveh, Assyria's capital, but great comfort to Judah, whom Nineveh had crushed so long.
1:2 A jealous and avenging God is the LORD God's jealousy is not petty. It is the holy zeal of a husband for his wife (Exod 20:5; 34:14). Vengeance in the Bible means God sets things right. If He never acted, evil would win and its victims would not matter. That is why we need not avenge ourselves but "give place to the wrath" (Rom 12:19).
1:3 The LORD is slow to anger and great in power, and He will certainly not leave the guilty unpunished Both lines come from God's self-description at Sinai (Exod 34:6-7). He waited with Nineveh well over a century after Jonah. Patience is not weakness or approval. God's love and justice meet at the cross, where He punished sin in His Son so He could forgive all who believe (Rom 3:26). The clouds are the dust kicked up by His feet.
1:4 He rebukes the sea and makes it dry This recalls the Red Sea and the Jordan (Exod 14; Josh 3). Bashan's oaks, Carmel's fruit and Lebanon's cedars were the richest growth in the land. If they wither at His word, nothing can stand against Him.
1:6 Before His indignation who can stand? No one. Nineveh thought itself the strongest city on earth and could not stand before God a moment. Many today think God would never judge anyone. Nahum says He is holy and powerful, and the right response is to run to Him, as the next verse invites.
1:7 The LORD is good, a stronghold in a day of trouble After the thunder, this is where Nahum wants us to land. God's anger at cruelty flows from His goodness. A stronghold was a walled fortress where people fled from an enemy (Ps 46:1). He does not promise no trouble, but refuge in it (John 16:33).
1:7 He knows those who take refuge in Him Knows means more than facts. He knows them personally and watches over them. In the storm that swept Nineveh away, not one of His people was forgotten. God's power is a terror to those who fight Him and a fortress to those who hide in Him. Which is He to you? "No one will snatch them out of My hand" (John 10:28).
1:8 with a flood that passes over He will make a complete end of her place Nineveh stood on the Tigris with canals and rivers through and around it. Ancient writers report that during the siege of 612 B.C. floodwaters broke down part of the wall (2:6). For those who reject God to the end, there is no stronghold.
1:9 trouble will not rise up twice Plotting against Judah was plotting against the LORD. God would need no second blow. Nineveh fell in 612 B.C. and never rose again. Like tangled thorns, drunken men and dry stubble, it would go up all at once.
1:11 a counselor of worthlessness The Hebrew is belial, wickedness, later a name for Satan (2 Cor 6:15). Many think of Sennacherib, who mocked the LORD before Jerusalem (2 Kgs 18:13-35), or of the line of Assyrian kings as a whole.
1:12 I have afflicted you; I will not afflict you again Assyria at full strength would still be cut down. God is honest with Judah. Assyria had been His rod of discipline (Isa 10:5), but that time was ending. Babylon would come later for later sins, but Assyria's day was over.
1:13 I will break his yoke bar from upon you A yoke bar was the beam across an ox's neck, and fetters were a prisoner's chains. Judah had paid heavy tribute for years. Sin is a heavier yoke than Assyria ever was, and Jesus came to break it (Matt 11:28-30).
1:14 I will make your grave, for you are contemptible God speaks to the king of Assyria. His dynasty would end, and his idols, carved and cast, could not protect even their temples. The royal house of Assyria came to an end within a few years of Nineveh's fall.
1:15 on the mountains the feet of one who brings good news, who proclaims peace A runner on the ridge with news: Nineveh has fallen. Judah should keep its festivals and pay its vows. When God answers prayer, thank Him and keep your word. Isaiah used almost the same words (Isa 52:7), and Paul applies them to gospel preachers (Rom 10:15). Who brought the good news to you? Who might you tell?

The Attack on Nineveh

1 One who scatters has come up against your face. Guard the fortification; watch the road; strengthen your loins; make your strength very firm. 2 For the LORD will restore the majesty of Jacob (Ya'aqov) like the majesty of Israel (Yisra'el); for those who lay waste have laid them waste, and they have ruined their branches. 3 The shield of his warriors is dyed red; the men of strength are clothed in scarlet; the chariotry is in the fire of steel on the day of his preparing, and the cypresses are made to quiver. 4 In the streets the chariotry drives madly; they rush back and forth in the open places; their appearance is like the torches; like the lightning flashes they run about. 5 He remembers his nobles; they stumble in their going; they hurry to her wall, and the covering is prepared. 6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace melts away. 7 And it is fixed: she is uncovered, she is carried away; and her maidservants are moaning like the sound of doves, beating on their hearts. 8 And Nineveh (Ninve) has been like a pool of water from the days that she existed; and they are fleeing. Stop! Stop! And there is none who turns back. 9 Plunder silver! Plunder gold! And there is no end to the supply, wealth from every desirable article. 10 Emptiness, and empty waste, and devastation! And the heart melts, and knees totter, and anguish is in all loins, and the faces of all of them gather paleness.

The Empty Den of the Lions

11 Where is the dwelling of the lions, and it was a pasture for the young lions, where the lion walked, the lioness, the lion's cub there, and there was none who terrified them? 12 The lion tore enough for his cubs and strangled for his lionesses; and he filled his holes with prey, and his dens with torn flesh. 13 Look, I am against you, declares the LORD of armies, and I will burn her chariotry in smoke, and the sword will consume your young lions; and I will cut off your prey from the earth, and the voice of your messengers will not be heard again.

Woe to the City of Blood

1 Woe, city of blood! All of her is full of lying and plunder; prey does not depart. 2 The sound of a whip, and the sound of the rattling of a wheel, and a galloping horse, and a jolting chariot; 3 a horseman mounting, and the flame of a sword, and the flash of a spear, and a multitude of slain, and a weight of corpses; and there is no end to the bodies; they stumble over their bodies, 4 because of the multitude of the prostitutions of the prostitute, good in grace, mistress of sorceries, who sells nations by her prostitutions, and clans by her sorceries. 5 Look, I am against you, declares the LORD of armies, and I will uncover your skirts over your face, and I will show nations your nakedness, and kingdoms your shame. 6 And I will throw detestable things on you, and I will

2:1 One who scatters has come up against your face In 612 B.C. Babylonians and Medes besieged and took Nineveh. The orders to guard the walls carry a sad irony. When God is against a city, no wall is high enough.
2:2 the LORD will restore the majesty of Jacob like the majesty of Israel Jacob and Israel likely stand for the whole nation. Assyria had stripped God's vine bare (Ps 80:8-16). Nineveh's fall was a small down payment on a greater promise, the gathering of all Israel under her King (Ezek 37:21-22; Rom 11:26).
2:3 The shield of his warriors is dyed red Shields covered with red leather and soldiers in scarlet looked like a wave of fire. The cypresses may be spears of cypress wood waved before the charge.
2:4 In the streets the chariotry drives madly Some once said this describes modern cars on a highway. Nahum was describing war chariots in the battle for Nineveh. Reading modern machines into the text is reading our ideas into Scripture. Let Nahum tell us what he saw.
2:6 The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace melts away Gates in the walls let the Tigris and the Khosr River in and out. Whether by flood or by the enemy seizing the water gates, the city that trusted in its rivers was undone by them.
2:7 she is uncovered, she is carried away It is fixed, settled by God. She is likely the city, pictured as a woman led captive, though some see the queen or a goddess statue. The city that made others weep now weeps like moaning doves.
2:8 Stop! Stop! And there is none who turns back For centuries Nineveh was like a full pool, gathering people and wealth. Now it drains away. Officers shout for the people to stand, and everyone runs.
2:9 Plunder silver! Plunder gold! Nineveh grew rich robbing nations, and now its wealth was taken (Hab 2:8). Riches and walls protect no one when God acts. Jesus called the rich man with bigger barns a fool (Luke 12:16-21). What are we building our security on?
2:11 Where is the dwelling of the lions Assyrian kings pictured themselves as lions, hunted lions for sport and carved lion hunts on their palace walls. They filled their dens with the prey of other nations. Now Nahum stands at the empty den and asks, where is it?
2:13 Look, I am against you, declares the LORD of armies The Medes and Babylonians were only tools. If God is for us, who is against us (Rom 8:31)? Assyria's messengers once mocked the LORD outside Jerusalem (2 Kgs 18:17-35). Their voice falls silent, while the messenger of good news runs to Judah (1:15).
3:1 Woe, city of blood! Woe is a funeral cry. Assyria's kings boasted in their own records of cities destroyed and cruelty shown. It lied in treaties and robbed in wars.
3:3 they stumble over their bodies Nahum does not linger on the horror, and neither will we. Nineveh suffered what it had done to others. "For all who take a sword will perish by a sword" (Matt 26:52). God sees every life taken by cruel men and will hold them to account.
3:4 who sells nations by her prostitutions, and clans by her sorceries Nineveh lured small nations with promises of safety and trade, then enslaved them. Ahaz paid Assyria for help and Judah became its servant (2 Kgs 16:7-8). Sin still looks attractive, takes more than it gives, and ends in bondage. Sorceries were the magic arts common in Assyria.
3:5 I will show nations your nakedness, and kingdoms your shame A guilty woman publicly exposed was a way of disgracing someone in that culture. Nineveh's true character would be shown to the world. Sin can hide behind wealth and charm, but God will bring it to light (Luke 12:2-3). Bring it to Him now (1 John 1:9).

treat you with contempt, and I will make you like a spectacle.
7 And it will be that all who see you will flee from you and say, "Nineveh (Ninve) is devastated; who will show sympathy to her?" From where shall I seek comforters for you?

No Better than Thebes

8 Are you better than Thebes (No-Amon), who dwelt among the canals, water all around her, whose rampart was the sea, from the sea her wall? 9 Cush (Kush) was her strength, and Egypt (Mitsrayim), and there was no end; Put and the Libyans were your help. 10 Also she went to the exile; she went into the captivity; also her infants were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets; and for her honored men they cast a lot, and all her great men were bound with the fetters. 11 Also you will be drunk; you will be hidden; also you will seek a stronghold from the enemy. 12 All your fortifications are fig trees with first-ripe fruit; if they are shaken, they fall on the mouth of the eater. 13 Look, your people are women in your midst; to your enemies the gates of your land have been opened wide; fire has consumed your bars.

No Escape for Nineveh

14 Draw for yourself water for the siege; strengthen your fortifications; go into the clay and trample on the mortar; take hold of the brick mold. 15 There fire will consume you; the sword will cut you off; it will consume you like the young locust. Make yourself many like the young locust; make yourself many like the locust. 16 You have increased your traders more than the stars of the heavens; the young locust strips and flies away. 17 Your princes are like the locust, and your officials like swarms of grasshoppers, which encamp in the walls on a day of cold; the sun rises, and it flees away, and its place is not known. Where are they? 18 Your shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria (Ashur); your nobles settle down; your people are scattered on the mountains, and there is none who gathers them. 19 There is no relief for your fracture; your wound is severe. All who hear the report of you clap a palm over you; for over whom has your evil not passed continually?

3:7 From where shall I seek comforters for you? A play on Nahum's name, comfort. No one would mourn Nineveh. It had no friends left, only victims. The comfort of this book was for Judah.
3:8 Are you better than Thebes The great capital of southern Egypt on the Nile, near modern Luxor, defended by water like Nineveh, with Cush and Libya as allies. Assyria itself sacked it in 663 B.C. Nineveh, you did this to Thebes. Do you think you are safer?
3:10 her infants were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets Scripture records the suffering of children in war plainly and with grief, never approval. It shows how terrible sin and war are. God will one day end war forever (Isa 2:4), and I believe little children who die are safe with God (2 Sam 12:23).
3:11 you will seek a stronghold from the enemy The LORD is a stronghold for those who trust Him (1:7). Nineveh would look for one and find none, and would stagger from the cup of God's judgment (Hab 2:16).
3:12 fig trees with first-ripe fruit The first figs are so ripe that a shake drops them into your mouth. Nineveh's forts would fall that easily.
3:13 your people are women in your midst Not an insult to women. In that day it meant soldiers who had lost the will and strength to fight. The bars were the heavy beams that locked the gates.
3:15 There fire will consume you Store water, make bricks, work hard. It will not help. Archaeologists found signs of the fire that burned Nineveh. The city had been like a locust swarm, and its merchants, like locusts, would strip and fly away.
3:17 the sun rises, and it flees away, and its place is not known On a cold day locusts settle in wall cracks. When it warms, they fly off and are gone. Nineveh's leaders would vanish the same way.
3:18 Your shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria Rulers dead or helpless, and a people like sheep without a shepherd. Within a few years the empire was gone, and the city was buried so completely that later travelers walked over its mounds without knowing it.
3:19 over whom has your evil not passed continually? Every nation clapped at the news. The book that began "slow to anger" ends with the fall of those who never turned. In Jonah the same city repented and was spared. The difference was not in God but in Nineveh's response. None of us is innocent, and none is beyond mercy in Christ.

HABAKKUK

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Habakkuk. His name may come from a Hebrew word meaning to embrace, and some have said he held on to God in his struggle. Habakkuk is the eighth of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Nahum and before Zephaniah. Most prophets speak for God to the people.
Habakkuk speaks to God about the people, asks Him hard questions, and records His answers. The book moves from "How long, O LORD?" (1:2) to "I will exult in the LORD" (3:18).

The book calls its author "Habakkuk the prophet" (1:1; 3:1), and tells us nothing more. The musical notes in chapter 3 (3:1, 3, 19) have led some to think he served among the temple singers, which would make him a Levite, but Scripture does not say so. Later Jewish legends about him are not part of the Bible and cannot be trusted.

Habakkuk gives no date. God says He is raising up the Chaldeans to do a work so amazing that the people would not believe it (1:5-6), which fits the years just before Babylon took control of the region. Babylon helped destroy Nineveh in 612 B.C., and in 605 B.C. it defeated Egypt at Carchemish and took the first captives from Jerusalem, Daniel among them (Dan 1:1). The violence in Judah (1:2-4) fits the reign of Jehoiakim, who came to the throne in 609 B.C. So most conservative scholars date the book about 609 to 605 B.C. Some date it a little earlier.

Judah had gone through great swings in a short time. Under Manasseh it sank into idolatry (2 Kgs 21). Under Josiah it turned back to God, and the Law was found and read (2 Kgs 22-23). But Josiah died at Megiddo in 609 B.C., and his son Jehoiakim undid much of his work. Jeremiah, preaching in the same years, says Jehoiakim built his palace by injustice, shed innocent blood and oppressed the poor (Jer 22:13-17).

Meanwhile Assyria was gone, Egypt was trying to take its place, and Babylon was rising. The Chaldeans were a people of southern Mesopotamia who came to rule Babylon. Under Nabopolassar and his son Nebuchadnezzar, they built an empire known for speed, power and cruelty (1:6-11). They would destroy Jerusalem and the temple in 586 B.C. and carry Judah into exile for seventy years (Jer 25:11).

Themes

Honest questions brought to God. Habakkuk does not hide his complaint or take it to others behind God's back. He brings it straight to the LORD and waits at his post for the answer (2:1). God is not offended by honest questions from a heart that trusts Him.

God rules the nations. He raises up Babylon to discipline Judah (1:6), but He holds Babylon fully responsible for its pride and cruelty, and five woes announce its fall (2:6-20). The proud man, "whose strength is his god" (1:11), will not stand.

The righteous live by faith. God's central answer is "the righteous will live by his faithfulness" (2:4). The righteous survive by trusting God, even when they cannot see everything worked out. Real faith keeps on trusting, and faithfulness is how it shows.

God's glory will fill the earth. Every proud empire falls, but "the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover over the sea" (2:14). This study holds that this will be fully true when Christ returns and reigns.

Joy in God alone. Even if every crop and flock fails, Habakkuk chooses to rejoice in "the God of my salvation" (3:18).

Christ in Habakkuk

Habakkuk 2:4 is quoted three times in the New Testament. Paul uses it to show that the gospel reveals a righteousness from God received by faith: "And the righteous one by faith will live" (Rom 1:17). He uses it again to show that no one is justified by keeping the Law (Gal 3:11). Hebrews uses it to call believers to keep trusting while they wait for Christ's return: "But the righteous will live by faith" (Heb 10:38), quoting 2:3 just before of "the One who is coming" (Heb 10:37). Paul also quoted 1:5 to warn his hearers not to scoff at God's greatest work, the death and resurrection of Jesus (Acts 13:40-41). Habakkuk's prayer, "in wrath remember to have compassion" (3:2), was answered most fully at the cross, where Jesus bore God's wrath so that we could receive mercy.

Hard Passages

Is it wrong to question God as Habakkuk does (1:2-4; 1:12-17)? The notes present his complaint as an honest prayer of faith, like the psalms of lament, brought to God and not away from Him.

How can a holy God use a more wicked nation to punish His people (1:13)? The notes do not claim to explain everything. They begin from what Habakkuk knew of God, and point to God's answer: He will judge Babylon too in His time, and the righteous live by faith until then.

Does 2:4 say "faith" or "faithfulness"? The SLB reads "by his faithfulness," from the Hebrew emunah. The New Testament, following the Greek Old Testament, reads "by faith." The notes explain these as root and fruit, not in conflict.

When will the earth be filled with God's glory (2:14)? The notes see the spread of the gospel now as a partial working, with the full fulfillment in Christ's thousand-year reign.

Outline

I. Habakkuk's Questions and God's Answers (1:1-2:20)
  A. First question: Why do You allow evil? (1:1-4)
  B. God's answer: the Chaldeans are coming (1:5-11)
  C. Second question: How can You use the wicked? (1:12-2:1)
  D. God's answer: the righteous will live by faith (2:2-5)
  E. Five woes on Babylon (2:6-20)
II. Habakkuk's Prayer and Song (3:1-19)
  A. In wrath remember mercy (3:1-2)
  B. The LORD comes in power (3:3-15)
  C. I will rejoice in the LORD (3:16-19)

HABAKKUK 1

How Long, O LORD?

1 The oracle which Habakkuk (Chavaquq) the prophet saw. 2 How long, O LORD, have I cried for help, and You do not hear? I cry out to You, "Violence!" and You do not save. 3 Why do You make me see wickedness, and why do You look at trouble? And devastation and violence are before me; and there is strife, and contention rises up. 4 Therefore the law grows numb, and justice never goes forth; for the wicked surrounds the righteous; therefore justice goes forth perverted.

The Chaldeans Are Coming

5 See among the nations, and look, and be astounded, be astonished; for I am working a work in your days that you will not believe if it is told. 6 For look, I am raising up the Chaldeans (Kasdim), the bitter and impetuous nation, which goes to the broad places of the earth to take possession of dwellings that are not its own. 7 It is terrifying and dreadful; from itself its justice and its dignity go forth. 8 And its horses are swifter than leopards, and keener than wolves of the evening; and its steeds paw the ground, and its horsemen come from far away; they fly like an eagle hurrying to devour. 9 All of it comes for violence; the horde of their faces is eastward; and it gathers captives like the sand. 10 And it scoffs at kings, and rulers are laughter to it; it laughs at every fortress, and it heaps up dust and captures it. 11 Then he sweeps on like the wind and passes over, and he becomes guilty, this one whose strength is his god.

How Can a Holy God Use the Wicked?

12 Are You not from of old, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We will not die. O LORD, You have appointed him for judgment; and, O Rock, You have established him to reprove. 13 You are too pure of eyes to see evil, and You are not able to look at trouble; why do You look at the treacherous, and why are You silent when the wicked swallows up one more righteous than he? 14 And You have made mankind like the fish of the sea, like moving things that have no ruler over them. 15 He brings up all of them with a hook; he drags them away in his net and gathers them in his fishing net; therefore he rejoices and is glad. 16 Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his fishing net; for by them his portion is fat, and his food is rich. 17 Will he therefore empty his net, and continually kill nations and not spare?

1:1 The oracle which Habakkuk the prophet saw An oracle is a weighty message from God, often of judgment (Nah 1:1). Habakkuk saw it, perceiving God's word like a vision. Unlike most prophets, he speaks first to God about the people, and then God answers.
1:2 How long, O LORD, have I cried for help, and You do not hear? Bold words, and Scripture includes them. David prayed, "How long, LORD?" (Ps 13:1), and Jesus cried out with Ps 22:1. God is not offended by honest questions from a heart that trusts Him. Habakkuk brings his complaint to God, not to friends behind God's back. That is the difference between the cry of faith and the complaint of unbelief.
1:3 devastation and violence are before me This was in Judah, among God's own people. Josiah's reforms had faded, and under Jehoiakim the powerful crushed the weak (Jer 22:13-17).
1:4 the law grows numb, and justice never goes forth God's Law had lost its grip. The courts gave no fair rulings, the few righteous were hemmed in, and what justice came out was bent. When we see evil win and our prayers seem unanswered, Habakkuk shows us what to do: tell God plainly, then wait for His answer.
1:5 I am working a work in your days that you will not believe if it is told Habakkuk thought God was doing nothing. God was already at work. When He seems silent, He is often working in ways we cannot yet see. Paul quoted this verse to warn hearers not to scoff at God's greatest work, the death and resurrection of Christ (Acts 13:40-41).
1:6 I am raising up the Chaldeans, the bitter and impetuous nation The Chaldeans ruled Babylon. Bitter means fierce, and impetuous means rushing recklessly ahead. Babylon's rise was no accident of history. God raised it. Its own justice and dignity came from itself. It answered to no one.
1:8 its horses are swifter than leopards, and keener than wolves of the evening Wolves hunting at dusk after a hungry day. The Babylonian army was famous for moving fast and striking hard, like an eagle swooping to devour.
1:9 it gathers captives like the sand Habakkuk complained of violence in Judah. God would answer it with a violent nation. Babylon carried Judah into exile in waves in 605, 597 and 586 B.C. Armies of the day heaped up earthen ramps against walls to take any fortress (1:10).
1:11 this one whose strength is his god The key to God's answer. Babylon would be God's tool but not innocent. It would worship its own power and become guilty. God uses even the wicked for His purposes, but He never approves their wickedness and holds them fully responsible (Isa 10:5-15).
1:12 Are You not from of old, O LORD my God, my Holy One? We will not die. Habakkuk holds to what he knows: God is eternal, his own God, and holy. Because of God's covenant, Judah would be judged, not wiped out. O Rock means solid and safe (Deut 32:4). When we do not understand what God is doing, start with what we know about Him.
1:13 You are too pure of eyes to see evil How could a holy God use a more wicked nation to punish a less wicked one? One of the hardest questions in the Bible. Habakkuk does not let go of God while he asks. The answer will not explain everything, but it will be enough: God will judge the proud, and the righteous live by faith until then (2:2-4).
1:15 he drags them away in his net To Babylon people were fish with no protector. Ancient carvings from that region show captives led by hooks or rings and a king holding enemies in a great net.
1:16 he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his fishing net Babylon worshiped the tools of its success. We may not burn incense to a net, but we can worship our job, money, skills or strength, and give them the credit God deserves.
1:17 Will he therefore empty his net, and continually kill nations and not spare? Will this go on forever? The chapter leaves it hanging. We may ask God how long and why. What we must not do is stop trusting Him while we wait.

The Righteous Will Live by Faith

1 At my post I will stand, and I will station myself on the rampart, and I will watch to see what He will speak to me, and what I will answer concerning my complaint. 2 And the LORD answered me and said: Write a vision, and make it plain on the tablets, so that the one who reads it may run. 3 For the vision is still for the appointed time, and it pants toward the end, and it will not lie; if it lingers, wait for it; for it will certainly come; it will not be late. 4 Look, his soul is puffed up; it is not upright within him; and the righteous will live by his faithfulness. 5 And moreover, because the wine is treacherous, an arrogant man does not stay at home; he enlarges his appetite like Sheol, and he is like death and is not satisfied, and he gathers to himself all the nations and assembles to himself all the peoples.

Five Woes on Babylon

6 Will not all these take up a proverb against him, and a mocking song, riddles about him, and say, "Woe to him who increases what is not his (how long?) and who makes himself heavy with pledges!" 7 Will not those who bite you rise up suddenly, and those who make you tremble awake? And you will become plunder for them. 8 Because you have plundered many nations, all the rest of the peoples will plunder you, because of the blood of mankind and the violence done to the land, the town, and all who dwell in it. 9 Woe to him who gains evil unjust gain for his house, to set his nest on high, to deliver himself from the hand of evil! 10 You have planned shame for your house by cutting off many peoples, and you have sinned against your soul. 11 For a stone will cry out from the wall, and a rafter from the woodwork will answer it. 12 Woe to him who builds a city with blood and establishes a town by injustice! 13 Look, is it not from the LORD of armies that peoples labor only for fire, and nations weary themselves only for vanity? 14 For the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover over the sea. 15 Woe to him who makes his neighbor drink, pouring out your rage, and even making him drunk, so as to look on their nakedness! 16 You are satisfied with shame more than glory. Drink, you also, and be counted uncircumcised! The cup of the right hand of the LORD will come around to you, and utter disgrace will be on your glory. 17 For the violence done to Lebanon (Levanon) will cover you, and the devastation of animals will terrify them, because of the blood of mankind and the violence done to the land, the town, and all who dwell in it. 18 What does a carved image profit, that its fashioner has carved it, a molten image and a teacher of falsehood? For the fashioner of its form trusts in it, to make mute idols. 19 Woe to him who says to the wood, "Wake up!" "Awake!" to a silent stone. Will it teach? Look, it is sheathed

2:1 At my post I will stand A watchman on the wall looked out for whoever was coming. Habakkuk waits for God's answer, ready to listen and even to be corrected. Many of us fill God's silence with our own answers. Prayer is also listening, often through His Word.
2:2 Write a vision, and make it plain on the tablets, so that the one who reads it may run Tablets were used for public notices. A reader could take it in at a glance, or a messenger could run with it. Either way, God wanted His answer plain and passed on.
2:3 if it lingers, wait for it; for it will certainly come; it will not be late The vision pants toward the end like a runner. Babylon fell about seventy years later, in 539 B.C. (Dan 5:30-31). Hebrews uses these words for Christ's return: "the One who is coming will come and will not delay" (Heb 10:37). He is not late.
2:4 Look, his soul is puffed up; it is not upright within him The proud man, the Babylonian whose strength is his god (1:11). He trusts in himself, is not right inside, and will not stand.
2:4 the righteous will live by his faithfulness The Hebrew emunah means firmness, steadiness, from the root of amen. The Greek and the New Testament render it by faith. Real faith keeps on trusting, and faithfulness is how it shows. Paul quotes it to show God's righteousness is a gift to all who believe (Rom 1:17) and that no one is justified by the Law (Gal 3:11). Hebrews uses it to urge believers to keep trusting (Heb 10:38).
2:5 he enlarges his appetite like Sheol, and he is like death and is not satisfied Wine promises what it does not keep, and so does pride. The grave always has room for one more, and Babylon swallowed nation after nation. Greed never says enough. "His life is not from his possessions" (Luke 12:15).
2:6 Woe to him who increases what is not his and who makes himself heavy with pledges! The first of five woes, sung by the nations Babylon crushed. Pledges were items held as security for a loan. Babylon was like a cruel lender loaded with what belonged to others.
2:8 Because you have plundered many nations, all the rest of the peoples will plunder you What a person sows, he reaps (Gal 6:7). Persia took Babylon in 539 B.C., and the city later fell into ruins.
2:9 to set his nest on high, to deliver himself from the hand of evil The second woe. Babylon wanted to be like an eagle nesting on a cliff, safe through wealth and walls. By destroying others, it destroyed itself. Sin always harms the sinner.
2:11 a stone will cry out from the wall The stones and beams of buildings paid for with stolen wealth cry out as witnesses. Nothing is hidden from God.
2:12 Woe to him who builds a city with blood The third woe. Babylon's buildings were raised by slave labor and plunder. Everything built by injustice is headed for the fire (Jer 51:58).
2:14 the earth will be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover over the sea Babylon wanted to fill the earth with its glory and failed. How full is the sea of water? Completely. Isaiah says the same of the Messiah's reign (Isa 11:9). The gospel goes out now, but this will be fully true when Christ returns and sets up His kingdom (Rev 11:15; 20:1-6). Every human empire falls.
2:15 Woe to him who makes his neighbor drink The fourth woe. Babylon made nations stagger under its power and then humiliated them.
2:16 The cup of the right hand of the LORD will come around to you The cup of the LORD pictures His judgment poured out on the nations (Jer 25:15). The cup Babylon passed to others comes back to it from God's own hand. It was filled with shame, not true glory.
2:18 What does a carved image profit The fifth woe, on idolatry. A man shapes something with his own hands and then trusts it to save him. It is a teacher of falsehood.
2:19 there is no breath at all within it Sheathed in gold and silver, with nothing inside, no life, voice or power. We still build idols of money, success, pleasure and our own plans. They cannot speak or save. "Flee from idolatry" (1 Cor 10:14).

in gold and silver, and there is no breath at all within it. 20 And the LORD is in His holy temple; hush before Him, all the earth!

HABAKKUK 3

Habakkuk's Prayer

1 A prayer of Habakkuk (Chavaquq) the prophet, on Shigionoth. 2 O LORD, I have heard Your report; I fear. O LORD, Your work, in the midst of the years revive it; in the midst of the years make it known; in wrath remember to have compassion.

The LORD Comes in Power

3 God comes from Teman, and the Holy One from the mountain of Paran. Selah. His splendor has covered the heavens, and His praise has filled the earth. 4 And His brightness is like the light; He has rays from His hand, and there is the hiding of His strength. 5 Before Him goes pestilence, and lightning goes out at His feet. 6 He stood and shook the earth; He looked and made nations jump; and the perpetual mountains were shattered; the everlasting hills bowed down; the everlasting ways are His. 7 Under affliction I saw the tents of Cushan (Kushan); the tent curtains of the land of Midian (Midyan) tremble. 8 Did it burn against the rivers, O LORD? Or was Your anger against the rivers, or Your fury against the sea, that You ride on Your horses, Your chariots of salvation? 9 Your bow is laid utterly bare; the oaths of the arrows were a word. Selah. You split the earth with rivers. 10 The mountains saw You; they writhe; a downpour of water passed over; the deep gave its voice; it lifted up its hands on high. 11 The sun and moon stood still in their lofty abode; at the light of Your arrows they go, at the brightness of the lightning flash of Your spear. 12 In indignation You march through the earth; in anger You thresh nations. 13 You went out for the salvation of Your people, for the salvation of Your anointed; You shattered the head out of the house of the wicked, laying bare the foundation to the neck. Selah. 14 You pierced with his own arrows the head of his warriors; they storm out to scatter me; their exultation is as if to devour the afflicted in secret. 15 You trod on the sea with Your horses, a heap of many waters.

I Will Rejoice in the LORD

16 I heard, and my belly trembled; at the sound my lips quivered; rottenness came into my bones, and in my place I tremble, that I will rest for the day of trouble, when he comes up against the people that will raid us. 17 Though the fig tree does not bud, and there is no produce on the vines, the yield of the olive fails, and the fields do not make food, the flock is cut off from the fold, and there are no cattle in the stalls, 18 and I, I will exult in the LORD; I will rejoice in the God of

2:20 the LORD is in His holy temple; hush before Him, all the earth! The idols are silent because they are dead. The LORD is alive on His throne in heaven (Ps 11:4). When we truly see Him, our complaints and boasts fall away. This is not the silence of despair but of awe and trust (Ps 46:10).
3:1 A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet, on Shigionoth Shigionoth is a musical term of uncertain meaning, perhaps a song of strong feeling (compare the title of Ps 7). Selah and the note to the choirmaster (3:19) show it was sung in public worship. Habakkuk's honest wrestling, ending in trust, became worship for God's people.
3:2 in wrath remember to have compassion Habakkuk heard God's report and feared. He asks God to revive His great works in the middle of history, and to remember mercy while He judges. God showed the greatest mercy in His wrath against sin at the cross, where Jesus took what we deserved (Isa 53:5; 1 Pet 2:24). A good prayer for our nation, church and lives.
3:3 God comes from Teman, and the Holy One from the mountain of Paran Teman was in Edom, and Paran the wilderness between Sinai and Canaan. Habakkuk recalls God coming down at Sinai and leading Israel, as Moses did (Deut 33:2). Selah probably marks a pause or musical break.
3:6 He stood and shook the earth; He looked and made nations jump God had only to stand and look. The mountains, which seem to last forever, crumble before Him. Cushan was likely a people near Midian, and the desert tribes trembled when God led Israel through (Exod 15:14-16).
3:8 Your chariots of salvation When God split the Red Sea and stopped the Jordan, was He angry at the water? No. He was making a way for His people. He rides out as a warrior whose chariot brings salvation.
3:9 the oaths of the arrows were a word Hard to translate. The sense seems to be that God's arrows went out in keeping with His sworn word. He fights to keep His promises.
3:11 The sun and moon stood still in their lofty abode Recalling the day God made the sun and moon stand still for Joshua (Josh 10:12-14). God's arrows and spear, pictures of lightning, outshone them.
3:12 in anger You thresh nations Threshing beat grain from the husk. God marched through Canaan in judgment on nations that had filled the land with evil (Gen 15:16). His anger is never out of control. It is His holy response to sin.
3:13 You went out for the salvation of Your people, for the salvation of Your anointed Every picture of power in this chapter has one purpose, to save His people. Anointed is mashiach, from which comes Messiah. It may mean Israel's leader or the people, and points forward to Jesus Christ. Crushing the head of the wicked recalls Pharaoh, looks ahead to Babylon, and echoes Gen 3:15.
3:15 You trod on the sea with Your horses, a heap of many waters The poem ends where Israel's salvation began, at the Red Sea, when the waters stood up in a heap (Exod 15:8).
3:16 I will rest for the day of trouble Habakkuk's whole body shook at what he heard. Faith does not mean never feeling afraid. It means bringing our fear to God. He decides to wait quietly for the day of trouble, first Babylon's attack, then Babylon's fall. That is living by faith (2:4).
3:17 Though the fig tree does not bud, and there is no produce on the vines Figs, grapes, olives, grain, sheep and cattle were a farmer's food, income and future, and an invading army stripped them all. Habakkuk imagines losing everything. What would that be for us?
3:18 I, I will exult in the LORD; I will rejoice in the God of my salvation A deliberate choice. Habakkuk does not say he will feel happy about loss. His joy rests on God, who cannot be taken from him. His circumstances had not changed since "How long?" (1:2), but he had. Paul wrote from prison, "Rejoice in the Lord always" (Phil 4:4).

my salvation. 19 GOD the Lord is my strength, and He makes my feet like the does, and He makes me tread on my high places. To the choirmaster, on my stringed instruments.

3:19 2 Sam 22:34; Ps 18:33; Deut 32:13

3:19 He makes my feet like the does, and He makes me tread on my high places GOD the Lord joins God's name with the word for master. God is his strength. Deer climb steep rocky slopes without slipping (Ps 18:33). God does not always take us out of the rocky places, but He gives sure feet. The man who began with a complaint ends leading God's people in a song of faith.

ZEPHANIAH

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Zephaniah. His name means the LORD hides or the LORD has treasured, a fitting name for a man who told the humble that they might be "hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD" (2:3). Zephaniah is the ninth of the twelve Minor Prophets, coming after Habakkuk and before Haggai. It is the last of the Minor Prophets written before the exile, and its great subject is the day of the LORD.

Zephaniah gives his family line back four generations: "son of Cushi, son of Gedaliah, son of Amariah, son of Hezekiah" (1:1). No other prophet does this. Most believe the reason is that the last name is King Hezekiah (about 715 to 686 B.C.). If so, Zephaniah was of royal blood and a distant relative of King Josiah, which may explain his close knowledge of the court and of Jerusalem (1:8-11). Scripture does not say so plainly, and some think this was another Hezekiah, but most accept it.

He preached "in the days of Josiah son of Amon, king of Judah" (1:1). Josiah reigned about 640 to 609 B.C. Zephaniah speaks of Baal worship, star worship and swearing by Milcom as still going on (1:4-5), and of Nineveh as still standing (2:13). So most conservative scholars place him about 640 to 625 B.C., before the great reform that followed the finding of the Book of the Law about 622 B.C. (2 Kgs 22-23). His preaching may have helped prepare the way for it.

Manasseh had reigned longer than any king of Judah and filled the land, and even the temple, with idols (2 Kgs 21:1-9). His son Amon followed him for two years and was murdered. Josiah was crowned at eight years old. At sixteen he began to seek the God of David, and at twenty he began to clear the idols out of Judah (2 Chr 34:3). In his eighteenth year the Book of the Law was found in the temple, and he led the nation in a great return to the LORD.

But the reforms did not reach every heart. After Josiah died in 609 B.C., Judah fell back quickly, and in 586 B.C. Babylon destroyed Jerusalem, as Zephaniah had warned. Jeremiah began preaching in Josiah's thirteenth year (Jer 1:2), so the two prophets spoke in Jerusalem in some of the same years.

Themes

The day of the LORD is near. It is the time when the LORD acts openly in judgment and salvation, and everyone sees that He is God. "Near is the great day of the LORD, near and hurrying exceedingly" (1:14). It came on Judah in 586 B.C. Zephaniah also looks beyond it to a final day on "all the earth" (1:18; 3:8). This study holds that the final day of the LORD includes the seven-year Tribulation, which comes after Christ takes His church to be with Him (1 Thess 4:13-18; 5:9), and ends with His return in glory.

God judges idolatry, pride and indifference. Zephaniah condemns those who worship idols and those who simply "have not sought the LORD" (1:6), and those who think "The LORD will not do good, and He will not do harm" (1:12). He judges proud nations that say, "I am, and there is no one else besides me" (2:15).

Seek the LORD. "Seek the LORD, all the humble of the land," and "seek righteousness, seek humility" (2:3). God always keeps a humble remnant who take refuge in His name (3:12).

Judgment is not God's last word. He will give the peoples a purified lip to call on His name (3:9), gather His scattered people Israel, and live among them as King. "He will rejoice over you with joy; He will be silent in His love; He will be glad over you with a shout of joy" (3:17).

Christ in Zephaniah

Zephaniah promises that "The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst" (3:15). When Jesus rode into Jerusalem, the crowds cried, "Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel!" (John 12:13), and Nathanael called Him the King of Israel (John 1:49). But His own nation as a whole did not receive Him, and the day Zephaniah describes, when Israel rejoices because its King is in its midst, is still ahead. It will come when Jesus returns, Israel looks on Him whom they pierced (Zech 12:10), and "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). Until then, the warning of the day of wrath drives us to the One who bore that wrath for us, so that all who trust Him are rescued "from the wrath to come" (1 Thess 1:10). And the God who sings over His people in 3:17 is the God who rejoices over everyone in Christ.

Hard Passages

What is the day of the LORD, and is it past or future? The notes give both the near fulfillment in 586 B.C. and the final day at the end of the age. They name the views that see it fulfilled only in 586 B.C. or A.D. 70, or only in the last judgment, and hold the pre-tribulation reading of the studies.

Why does 2:3 say "perhaps you will be hidden"? The notes explain it as the humble speech of those who do not presume on God's mercy, and note that even the righteous suffered in the fall of Jerusalem. For believers in Christ, there is "no condemnation" (Rom 8:1).

What is the purified lip of 3:9? The notes read it as cleansed speech and united worship among the nations, reversing Babel. Some think of one language in the kingdom.

What does "He will be silent in His love" mean (3:17)? The line is hard to translate. The notes give the main readings: a love too deep for words, a love that no longer recalls sin, or a love that quiets His people.

Judgment on Judah

1 The word of the LORD which came to Zephaniah (Tsefanya) son of Cushi (Kushi), son of Gedaliah (Gedalya), son of Amariah (Amarya), son of Hezekiah (Chizqiya), in the days of Josiah (Yoshiyahu) son of Amon, king of Judah (Yehuda). 2 I will utterly bring to an end everything from upon the face of the ground, declares the LORD. 3 I will bring to an end mankind and animal; I will bring to an end the flying things of the heavens and the fish of the sea, and the stumbling blocks with the wicked; and I will cut off mankind from upon the face of the ground, declares the LORD. 4 And I will stretch out My hand against Judah and against all the inhabitants of Jerusalem (Yerushalayim); and I will cut off from this place the remnant of Baal, the name of the pagan priests with the priests, 5 and those who bow down on the roofs to the host of the heavens, and those who bow down, those who swear to the LORD and those who swear by Milcom, 6 and those who have turned back from after the LORD, and who have not sought the LORD and have not inquired of Him.

The LORD's Sacrifice

7 Hush before the Lord GOD! For the day of the LORD is near; for the LORD has prepared a sacrifice; He has consecrated His invited ones. 8 And it will be, on the day of the sacrifice of the LORD, and I will punish the princes and the sons of the king and all who wear foreign clothing. 9 And I will punish everyone who leaps over the threshold on that day, those who fill the house of their lord with violence and deceit. 10 And it will be on that day, declares the LORD, the sound of a cry from the Fish Gate, and wailing from the Second Quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. 11 Wail, inhabitants of the Mortar, for all the people of Canaan (Kena'an) are destroyed; all those loaded with silver are cut off. 12 And it will be at that time, I will search Jerusalem with lamps, and I will punish the men who are thickening on their dregs, who are saying in their heart, "The LORD will not do good, and He will not do harm." 13 And their wealth will become plunder, and their houses a desolation; and they will build houses and not dwell in them, and they will plant vineyards and not drink their wine.

The Great Day of the LORD

14 Near is the great day of the LORD, near and hurrying exceedingly. The sound of the day of the LORD; bitter, a warrior is shouting there. 15 A day of fury is that day, a day of trouble and distress, a day of devastation and desolation, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of cloud and thick dark-

1:1 son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah son of Amon Zephaniah traces his line back four generations. Most believe this is King Hezekiah, which would make the prophet of royal blood, a distant cousin of the king. Josiah reigned about 640 to 609 B.C., the last good king of Judah. The idols were still standing, so Zephaniah likely preached before the great reform of about 622 B.C.
1:2 I will utterly bring to an end everything from upon the face of the ground Startling words. The list of man, animal, bird and fish runs in the reverse order of creation (Gen 1), as if God will undo what man has spoiled.
1:3 the stumbling blocks with the wicked Most likely the idols, which made people fall into sin. These verses speak of the whole earth, looking past Jerusalem's fall to the final day of the LORD (1:18; 3:8). The prophets often see near and final judgment together, like two mountain peaks with a valley of many years between them.
1:4 I will cut off from this place the remnant of Baal God's own people would not escape. Judgment begins at the house of God (1 Pet 4:17). Baal was the Canaanite storm and fertility god. The remnant may mean what was left after Josiah began to clear out Baal worship, or that God would cut it off until nothing was left. The pagan priests served idols (2 Kgs 23:5).
1:5 those who bow down on the roofs to the host of the heavens People worshiped the sun, moon and stars from their flat roofs, and Manasseh built altars to them in the temple courts (2 Kgs 21:5). Others swore by the LORD and by Milcom, the Ammonite god, trying to keep God and their idol too.
1:6 who have not sought the LORD and have not inquired of Him This group bowed to no idol. They simply stopped following God and did not care. You do not have to bow to Baal to turn your back on God. You only have to stop seeking Him. Many today live as if He does not matter.
1:7 the LORD has prepared a sacrifice; He has consecrated His invited ones Hush, as in Hab 2:20. No more excuses. The day of the LORD is when God steps in openly to judge sin and save His people. Here the sacrifice is Judah itself, and the guests set apart are the enemy armies. Revelation uses a similar picture, "the supper of the great God" (Rev 19:17).
1:8 I will punish the princes and the sons of the king and all who wear foreign clothing Leaders are judged first. Josiah's sons and grandson who reigned after him did evil and ended as captives (2 Kgs 23:31-25:7). Foreign clothing showed a desire to be like the pagan nations, and some may have been worn in foreign worship.
1:10 the sound of a cry from the Fish Gate, and wailing from the Second Quarter A walk through Jerusalem on the day of judgment. The Fish Gate was on the north side, where enemies usually attacked. The Second Quarter was a newer district, where Huldah lived (2 Kgs 22:14).
1:11 Wail, inhabitants of the Mortar, for all the people of Canaan are destroyed The Mortar was likely a low, bowl-shaped market district. Canaan here means traders, since the Canaanites were famous for trade. The merchants with their bags of silver would lose everything first.
1:12 the men who are thickening on their dregs Wine left too long on its sediment grew thick and syrupy (Jer 48:11). These people had grown comfortable and settled in sin. They did not deny God existed. They thought He would never do anything, neither bless nor judge. God would search every dark corner with lamps.
1:14 Near is the great day of the LORD, near and hurrying exceedingly Zephaniah says near twice. It came true in part in 586 B.C., when Babylon broke the walls, burned the temple and took the people away. Even the strongest warrior would cry out in bitter fear.
1:15 A day of fury is that day, a day of trouble and distress The list tolls like a bell. The words reach beyond 586 B.C. to the final day of the LORD: "great tribulation" (Matt 24:21), "the great day of His wrath" (Rev 6:17), "a time of distress for Jacob" (Jer 30:7). I believe it includes the seven-year Tribulation and ends with Christ's return. Before it, Christ will take His church to be with Him (1 Thess 4:13-18; 5:9; Rev 3:10).

ness, 16 a day of trumpet and battle cry against the fortified cities and against the high corners. 17 And I will bring distress on mankind, and they will walk like the blind, for they have sinned against the LORD; and their blood will be poured out like dust, and their entrails like dung. 18 Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them on the day of the fury of the LORD; and in the fire of His jealousy all the earth will be consumed; for a complete end, surely a terrifying one, He will make of all the inhabitants of the earth.

Seek the LORD

1 Assemble yourselves together, and assemble, O nation not ashamed, 2 before a decree gives birth (like chaff a day has passed), before the burning of the anger of the LORD comes upon you, before the day of the anger of the LORD comes upon you. 3 Seek the LORD, all the humble of the land, who have done His justice; seek righteousness, seek humility; perhaps you will be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD.

Judgment on the Nations

4 For Gaza (Aza) will be abandoned, and Ashkelon (Ashqelon) will become a desolation; Ashdod, at noon they will drive her out, and Ekron (Eqron) will be uprooted. 5 Woe to the inhabitants of the region of the sea, the nation of the Kerethites! The word of the LORD is against you, O Canaan (Kena'an), land of the Philistines; and I will destroy you without an inhabitant. 6 And the region of the sea will be pastures, meadows of shepherds, and folds of sheep. 7 And the region will belong to the remnant of the house of Judah (Yehuda); on them they will graze; in the houses of Ashkelon in the evening they will lie down; for the LORD their God will visit them, and He will turn back their captivity. 8 I have heard the reproach of Moab (Mo'av) and the revilings of the sons of Ammon (Amon), who have reproached My people and have magnified themselves against their territory. 9 Therefore, as I live, declares the LORD of armies, the God of Israel (Yisra'el), surely Moab will be like Sodom (Sedom), and the sons of Ammon like Gomorrah (Amora), a possession of nettles and a pit of salt and a desolation forever. The remnant of My people will plunder them, and the rest of My nation will inherit them. 10 This will be to them in place of their pride, for they have reproached and have magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of armies. 11 The LORD will be awesome against them, for He will make lean all the gods of the earth; and they will bow down to Him, each one from his place, all the coastlands of the nations. 12 Also you, O Cushites, the slain of My sword are they. 13 And let Him stretch out His hand against the north, and let Him destroy Assyria (Ashur), and let Him make Nineveh (Ninve) a desolation, a dry place like the wilderness. 14 And herds will lie down in her midst, every living thing of a nation; both the desert owl and the hedgehog will lodge on her capitals; a voice will sing in the window; desolation will be on the

1:16 against the fortified cities and against the high corners The high corners were the towers at the corners of city walls, the strongest points. They would not hold. Others read these verses as fulfilled only in 586 B.C. or A.D. 70, or of the last judgment with no Tribulation. The near day came as Zephaniah said, and the far day will come as surely.
1:18 Neither their silver nor their gold will be able to deliver them You cannot bribe God. His jealousy is His holy zeal for His glory and His people (Nah 1:2). Yet the next verses call the humble to seek Him (2:1-3), and the book ends with God singing over His people. The warning is meant to drive us to Him. Jesus bore God's wrath, and all who trust Him are saved from the wrath to come (1 Thess 1:10).
2:1 Assemble yourselves together, and assemble, O nation not ashamed Likely a call to a solemn assembly of repentance, as Joel gave (Joel 2:15-17). They had sinned openly and felt no shame, a dangerous place for any nation.
2:2 before a decree gives birth God's decree of judgment was like a baby about to be born. Zephaniah says before three times. The window was open but closing. "Look, now is a well-accepted time" (2 Cor 6:2).
2:3 Seek the LORD, all the humble of the land The key verse of the book. Not all had turned away. To seek the LORD is to turn to Him, pray and want Him above everything, the direction of a whole life. Righteousness and humility are the opposite of the pride and violence of chapter 1. "But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness" (Matt 6:33).
2:3 perhaps you will be hidden on the day of the anger of the LORD Zephaniah means the LORD hides. Perhaps is the humble speech of those who do not presume on God. Even the righteous suffered in 586 B.C., as Jeremiah and Daniel did, but God watched over them. For believers in Christ there is no perhaps: "There is therefore now no condemnation" (Rom 8:1).
2:4 Gaza will be abandoned, and Ashkelon will become a desolation Zephaniah turns to the nations, beginning west with four Philistine cities. In Hebrew, Gaza sounds like abandoned and Ekron like uprooted. At noon may mean a surprise attack in the heat of the day, when armies usually rested.
2:7 the LORD their God will visit them, and He will turn back their captivity Before even saying Judah would go into exile, Zephaniah promises its return. Judgment was not the end. It began in 538 B.C., and the full fulfillment awaits the gathering of all Israel (3:20).
2:8 I have heard the reproach of Moab and the revilings of the sons of Ammon Lot's descendants (Gen 19:36-38) mocked God's people and tried to take their land. Mocking God's people is mocking God. Jesus asked Saul, "why are you persecuting Me?" (Acts 9:4).
2:9 Moab will be like Sodom, and the sons of Ammon like Gomorrah God swears by His own life. The cities He destroyed near their land in Abraham's day (Gen 19) are the picture. The Dead Sea region is still known for its salt pits. Pride was the root of their sin (2:10).
2:11 He will make lean all the gods of the earth To make lean is to starve. The idols will waste away with no worshipers. A first glimpse of chapter 3: all nations will bow to the LORD. It began when the gospel went to the Gentiles and will be complete when Christ reigns over the earth (Zech 14:9, 16).
2:12 Also you, O Cushites, the slain of My sword are they Cush lay south of Egypt, and its kings had ruled Egypt for a time. Nebuchadnezzar invaded Egypt about 568 B.C. (Ezek 30:4-5). But in 3:10 worshipers come from beyond Cush's rivers, and an Ethiopian official believed the gospel (Acts 8:26-39).
2:13 let Him make Nineveh a desolation, a dry place like the wilderness When Zephaniah spoke, Nineveh was capital of the mightiest empire on earth. In 612 B.C. it fell, as Nahum also said. Flocks would graze where palaces stood, and owls nest on fallen column tops.

threshold; for He has laid bare the cedarwork. 15 This is the jubilant city which dwells in security, which says in her heart, "I am, and there is no one else besides me." How she has become a waste, a resting place for living things! Everyone who passes by her will hiss; he will shake his hand.

Woe to Jerusalem

1 Woe to the filthy and defiled one, the oppressing city! 2 She has not listened to a voice; she has not accepted correction; in the LORD she has not trusted; to her God she has not drawn near. 3 Her princes in her midst are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they do not reserve anything for the morning. 4 Her prophets are reckless, men of treachery; her priests have profaned what is holy; they have done violence to the law. 5 The LORD is righteous in her midst; He does not do injustice. In the morning, in the morning He gives His justice to the light; it is not lacking. And the unjust does not know shame. 6 I have cut off nations; their corners are desolate; I have devastated their streets, without one passing by; their cities have been laid waste, without a man, without an inhabitant. 7 I said, "Surely you will fear Me; you will accept correction; and her dwelling will not be cut off, all that I have appointed for her." Nevertheless they rose early; they corrupted all their deeds. 8 Therefore wait for Me, declares the LORD, for the day of My rising up for prey; for My judgment is to gather nations, to gather together kingdoms, to pour out on them My indignation, all the burning of My anger; for in the fire of My jealousy all the earth will be consumed.

A Purified People

9 For then I will turn to peoples a purified lip, for all of them to call on the name of the LORD, to serve Him with one shoulder. 10 From beyond the rivers of Cush (Kush) My worshipers, the daughter of My scattered ones, will bring My offering. 11 On that day you will not be ashamed because of all your deeds by which you have transgressed against Me; for then I will remove from your midst the exultant ones of your pride, and you will not continue to be haughty anymore on the mountain of My holiness. 12 And I will leave in your midst a people afflicted and poor, and they will take refuge in the name of the LORD. 13 The remnant of Israel (Yisra'el) will not do injustice, and they will not speak a lie, and a tongue of deceit will not be found in their mouth; for they will graze and lie down, and there will be no one who makes them tremble.

The LORD Rejoices over Zion

14 Shout for joy, O daughter of Zion (Tsiyon)! Shout, O Israel! Rejoice and exult with all your heart, O daughter of Jerusalem (Yerushalayim)! 15 The LORD has removed your judgments; He has cleared away your enemy. The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst; you will not fear evil anymore. 16 On that day it will be said to Jerusalem, "Do not

2:15 I am, and there is no one else besides me Nineveh spoke as if it were God. Only the LORD can truly say that (Isa 45:5, 21). That is the oldest sin there is. Every proud thing falls, and passersby hiss at the ruins. The humble who seek Him will be hidden.
3:2 She has not listened to a voice; she has not accepted correction Not listening, not accepting discipline, not trusting, not drawing near. Four marks of a heart drifting from God. Do any describe us? "Draw near to God, and He will draw near to you" (James 4:8).
3:3 her judges are evening wolves; they do not reserve anything for the morning Rulers who should have protected the people preyed on them like lions, and judges devoured everything like hungry wolves at night.
3:4 Her prophets are reckless, men of treachery False prophets told people what they wanted to hear (Jer 23:16-17), and priests treated holy things as common. Every group that should have led to God led away. Leaders in government, church and home will answer to God (James 3:1; Heb 13:17).
3:5 The LORD is righteous in her midst; He does not do injustice The corrupt leaders were in her midst, but so was the LORD, seeing everything. Judges often heard cases in the morning, and every morning God's justice was on display. Still the unjust felt no shame. That is how hard sin can make a heart.
3:7 Nevertheless they rose early; they corrupted all their deeds God hoped Jerusalem would learn from the nations He had brought down, such as the northern kingdom. They got up early, not to seek God, but to sin. Such things were written as warnings for us (1 Cor 10:11).
3:8 My judgment is to gather nations, to gather together kingdoms Far beyond Jerusalem. God will gather all nations for judgment (Joel 3:2; Zech 14:2-3), at the place Revelation calls Armageddon (Rev 16:14-16). I believe this points to the end of the Tribulation, when the nations gather against Israel and Christ returns to judge (Rev 19:11-21). The next words, "For then," show judgment is not His last word.
3:9 I will turn to peoples a purified lip, for all of them to call on the name of the LORD At Babel God confused the languages and scattered the peoples (Gen 11:9). Here He reverses Babel. Some think of one language in the kingdom, others of pure worship in many tongues. Pentecost gave a taste (Acts 2:5-11). Serving with one shoulder pictures people pulling together under one yoke. Today "everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved" (Rom 10:13).
3:10 From beyond the rivers of Cush My worshipers, the daughter of My scattered ones Cush was the farthest land south that Judah knew (2:12). The scattered ones are most likely God's own people coming home with offerings from the ends of the earth, and it may include Gentile worshipers (Isa 66:20; Rev 7:9).
3:12 a people afflicted and poor, and they will take refuge in the name of the LORD The remnant, humble people who trust the LORD, as 2:3 called for. "Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth" (Matt 5:5).
3:13 The remnant of Israel will not do injustice, and they will not speak a lie What a change from the lions, wolves and liars of 3:3-4. Only God can make such a change, by giving a new heart (Ezek 36:26-27).
3:15 The King of Israel, the LORD, is in your midst Israel's kings had failed. Now the LORD Himself would be King among them. The crowds hailed Jesus as "the King of Israel" (John 12:13), but His nation as a whole did not receive Him (John 1:11). This day is still ahead, when He returns, Israel looks on Him whom they pierced (Zech 12:10), and all Israel is saved (Rom 11:26).

fear, O Zion; do not let your hands drop. 17 The LORD your God is in your midst, a warrior who will save. 3:20 Jer 29:14; Joel 3:1; Ezek 34:16

3:17 The LORD your God is in your midst, a warrior who will save One of the most beautiful verses in the Old Testament. The warrior who marched out in judgment in chapter 1 now stands among His people as their champion. His power, terrifying to His enemies, is their protection.
3:17 He will rejoice over you with joy; He will be silent in His love God rejoices over His people like a bridegroom over his bride (Isa 62:5; Luke 15:7). Silent in His love may mean a love too deep for words, like a parent holding a sleeping child, or that He no longer brings up their sins. Then the silence breaks into song. Spoken first to Israel, it shows God's heart toward all who are in Christ. Our joy rests not on our goodness but on judgment removed (3:15).
3:19 I will save the lame, and the outcast I will gather together Like a shepherd gathering injured and scattered sheep (Mic 4:6). No one left behind. Those grieving because they could not keep the feasts in exile will be gathered home, and their shame turned to praise.
3:20 when I turn back your captivities before your eyes The return from Babylon was a real beginning, but most Jews stayed scattered. I believe the full gathering is still ahead, after the Tribulation, when Christ returns and sets up His kingdom, because "the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable" (Rom 11:29). Zephaniah began, "I will utterly bring to an end everything" (1:2). He ends, "I will bring you."

HAGGAI

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Haggai. His name means festive or my feast, and some think he was born on a feast day. Haggai is the tenth of the twelve Minor Prophets and the first of the three written after the exile, with Zechariah and Malachi. It is the second shortest book in the Old Testament, four messages in two chapters, and its call is simple: put God first.

Author and Date

The book calls him "Haggai the prophet" (1:1), and Ezra names him twice with Zechariah (Ezra 5:1; 6:14). Nothing else is known of his family. Some have thought from 2:3 that he was an old man who had seen Solomon's temple, but the text does not say so. The book speaks of him in the third person, so it may be a record of his messages written by Haggai himself or by someone close to him at the time.

Haggai dates each message to the day, in "the second year of Darius the king" (1:1). This was Darius I of Persia (522 to 486 B.C.), and his second year was 520 B.C. The four messages came in the sixth month (1:1), the seventh month (2:1), and twice in the ninth month (2:10, 20), from late summer to December of that year.

In 538 B.C. Cyrus of Persia let the Jews go home from Babylon to rebuild the temple (Ezra 1:1-4). About 536 B.C. they laid its foundation, and the old men who had seen Solomon's temple wept (Ezra 3:10-12). But enemies opposed the work, and it stopped (Ezra 4:4-5, 24). For sixteen years nothing more was built. Judah was a small, poor province of the Persian empire, Jerusalem was still largely in ruins, and harvests had failed. The people were not openly rebelling. They had simply decided the time was not right (1:2) and put God last.

Zerubbabel, the governor, was the grandson of King Jehoiachin, who was taken to Babylon in 597 B.C. (1 Chr 3:17-19; Matt 1:12). That made him heir of David's royal line, though he ruled only as a governor under Persia. Joshua the high priest is the man Ezra calls Jeshua (Ezra 3:2). After Haggai and Zechariah began to preach, the Persian governor questioned the work, Darius found Cyrus' decree in the royal archives, and the king ordered the temple finished at his own expense (Ezra 5-6). It was completed in 516 B.C. (Ezra 6:15).

Put God first. "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this house is desolate?" (1:4). The people had time and money for themselves but not for God. Twice God says, "Set your heart on your ways" (1:5, 7).

God disciplines to bring His people back. Their poor harvests and wages that vanished "into a pierced bag" (1:6) were not bad luck. They were the covenant discipline the Law had warned of. Haggai does not teach that every hardship is punishment or that giving makes us rich, but that when we put God last, nothing truly satisfies.

God is with those who obey. When the people listened and feared the LORD, His word was simply "I am with you" (1:13). He stirred their spirits, told them three times to be strong, and promised, "My Spirit is standing in your midst; do not fear" (2:5).

Holiness does not spread by touch, but uncleanness does (2:10-14). Being near holy things does not make anyone holy.

God will shake the nations and keep His promise to David. The glory of the humble second temple would be greater than the first (2:9), and Zerubbabel would be like God's signet ring (2:23).

Christ in Haggai

God promised, "Great will be the glory of this house, the latter more than the former" (2:9). Solomon's temple had gold and cedar. The second temple had the Son of God in its courts. Jesus was brought there as a baby and called "glory of Your people Israel" (Luke 2:32), and He said, "One greater than the temple is here" (Matt 12:6). Some read "the desire of all the nations" (2:7) as the Messiah Himself. Hebrews quotes God's promise to shake heaven and earth "yet once more" to show that only His unshakable kingdom will remain (Heb 12:26-28). And Zerubbabel, chosen as God's signet ring after God had seemed to cast off his grandfather (Jer 22:24), stands in the line of Jesus (Matt 1:12-13; Luke 3:27). God kept David's line alive until the true King came, to whom He will give "the throne of David His father" (Luke 1:32).

Hard Passages

Do Haggai's failed harvests mean that money problems are always punishment for sin, or that giving to God brings riches (1:6-11; 2:19)? No. The notes explain these as covenant discipline for a specific people under the Law of Moses, and point to faithful sufferers like Job and Paul.

What is "the desire of all the nations" (2:7)? The notes give both readings fairly: a Person, the Messiah, as many older teachers held, or the treasures of the nations, which fits the plural verb and the silver and gold of 2:8. Either way it points to Christ.

How was the latter glory greater (2:9)? The notes see it fulfilled in Christ's presence in the second temple, with a final fulfillment when He reigns and the nations worship at Jerusalem.

How can God call Zerubbabel His signet ring after rejecting Jehoiachin (2:23; Jer 22:24, 30)? The notes explain the promise as kept through his line to Christ, not in Zerubbabel's own reign.

Set Your Heart on Your Ways

1 In the second year of Darius (Daryavesh) the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by the hand of Haggai (Chagay) the prophet to Zerubbabel (Zerubavel) son of Shealtiel (She'alti'el), governor of Judah (Yehuda), and to Joshua (Yehoshua) son of Jehozadak (Yehotsadaq), the high priest, saying, 2 "Thus says the LORD of armies, saying, 'This people has said, "It is not a time to come, the time for the house of the LORD to be built."'" 3 And the word of the LORD came by the hand of Haggai the prophet, saying, 4 "Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this house is desolate? 5 And now, thus says the LORD of armies: Set your heart on your ways. 6 You have sown much and brought in little; you have eaten, and there is no satisfaction; you have drunk, and there is no drunkenness; you have dressed, and there is no warmth for him; and he who earns wages earns wages into a pierced bag. 7 Thus says the LORD of armies: Set your heart on your ways. 8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house, and let Me take pleasure in it, and let Me be glorified, says the LORD. 9 You looked for much, and look, it came to little; and you brought it home, and I blew on it. Because of what? declares the LORD of armies. Because of My house which is desolate, while you run, each one to his own house. 10 Therefore over you the heavens have withheld dew, and the land has withheld its produce. 11 And I called for a drought on the land and on the mountains and on the grain and on the new wine and on the fresh oil and on what the ground brings forth, and on mankind and on livestock, and on all the toil of hands."

The People Obey

12 And Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel (Shalti'el), and Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, listened to the voice of the LORD their God and to the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people feared before the LORD. 13 And Haggai, the messenger of the LORD, spoke by the message of the LORD to the people, saying, "I am with you, declares the LORD." 14 And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; and they came and did work in the

1:1 In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, on the first day of the month Darius I ruled Persia 522 to 486 B.C., so this was 520 B.C., in August or September. The new moon was a day of gathering for worship (Num 28:11). A prophet of Israel dates by a foreign king, for Judah had no king, but God had not stopped speaking.

1:1 to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest Zerubbabel was grandson of King Jehoiachin, of David's line (Matt 1:12). Joshua, called Jeshua in Ezra 3:2, was grandson of the last high priest before the exile (1 Chr 6:14-15). God spoke first to the civil and religious leaders, because the people would follow them.

1:2 It is not a time to come, the time for the house of the LORD to be built God's title, the LORD of armies, reminds a small, weak people who commands all the armies of heaven and earth. God calls them "this people," not My people. They had not refused to build. They said it was not the right time, perhaps because of enemies (Ezra 4:4-5), poor harvests or lack of money. Delay is one of the most common ways God's people disobey without ever saying no.

1:4 Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your paneled houses, and this house is desolate? Paneled walls or ceilings were a sign of comfort where wood was costly. Solomon had paneled the temple with cedar (1 Kgs 6:9). Now God's house was a ruin with weeds on its foundation. The problem was not nice homes. It was priorities. They had put God last.

1:5 Set your heart on your ways To set your heart on something is to think hard about it. Stop and look honestly at your life. Where is your time, money and energy going? Is God first, or is He getting what is left over?

1:6 he who earns wages earns wages into a pierced bag Plenty of seed, small harvest. Food but never enough. Wages gone as if the purse had holes. Moses had warned of this (Deut 28:38). Haggai does not teach that every money problem is punishment, or that giving makes us rich. Job and Paul were faithful and still suffered want (2 Cor 11:27). But when we put God last, nothing truly satisfies (Matt 6:33).

1:8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house Stone was at hand, much of it from the old temple. They needed timber from the hills. God did not need a house (1 Kgs 8:27), but the temple was where He chose to put His name. All our work for God is to please Him and give Him glory (1 Cor 10:31). He did not demand Solomon's grandeur. He said, go and build.

1:9 while you run, each one to his own house When they did bring in a harvest, God blew it away like chaff. They ran to their own affairs, but for God's house there was no hurry.

1:11 I called for a drought on the land Dew mattered for crops in Judah's dry summers. Grain, new wine and fresh oil were the three staples of every home. God was not cruel but kind, as a father disciplines a child he loves (Heb 12:6), making an empty way of life feel empty so they would turn back.

1:12 listened to the voice of the LORD their God and to the words of Haggai the prophet One of the best responses to a prophet in the Old Testament. Haggai preached once, and the leaders and all the remnant, the small group back from exile, obeyed. They took his words as God's words and feared the LORD with holy reverence (Prov 9:10). True repentance starts there.

1:13 Haggai, the messenger of the LORD The word messenger, malak, is used of angels and of the messenger of Mal 3:1. When the people turned, God did not lecture them again. He encouraged them: "I am with you." Their enemies and poverty remained, but God was with them, as Christ is with every believer "all the days" (Matt 28:20; Heb 13:5).

1:14 the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel To stir the spirit is to awaken fresh desire and energy. God stirred Cyrus to send them home (Ezra 1:1), and now He stirred His people to build (Phil 2:13). Notice "their God." In verse 2 they were "this people."

The Greater Glory

1 In the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month, the word of the LORD came by the hand of Haggai (Chagay) the prophet, saying, 2 "Say, please, to Zerubbabel (Zerubavel) son of Shealtiel (Shalti'el), governor of Judah (Yehuda), and to Joshua (Yehoshua) son of Jehozadak (Yehotsadaq), the high priest, and to the remnant of the people, saying, 3 'Who is left among you who saw this house in its former glory? And how do you see it now? Is it not, like it is, as nothing in your eyes? 4 And now be strong, O Zerubbabel, declares the LORD; and be strong, O Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest; and be strong, all people of the land, declares the LORD; and work, for I am with you, declares the LORD of armies, 5 according to the word that I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt (Mitsrayim); and My Spirit is standing in your midst; do not fear. 6 For thus says the LORD of armies: Yet once more, it is a little while, and I am shaking the heavens and the earth and the sea and the dry ground. 7 And I will shake all the nations, and they will come, the desire of all the nations; and I will fill this house with glory, says the LORD of armies. 8 The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine, declares the LORD of armies. 9 Great will be the glory of this house, the latter more than the former, says the LORD of armies; and in this place I will give peace, declares the LORD of armies.'"

Unclean Hands and a Promise of Blessing

10 On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius (Daryavesh), the word of the LORD came to Haggai the prophet, saying, 11 "Thus says the LORD of armies: Ask, please, the priests for instruction, saying, 12 'Look, if a man carries holy flesh in the corner of his garment, and he touches with his corner the bread or the cooked food or the wine or oil or any food, will it become holy?'" And the priests answered and said, "It will become unclean." 14 And Haggai answered and said, "So is this people, and so is this nation before Me, declares the LORD, and so is all the work of their hands; and what they offer there, it is unclean. 15 And now, set your heart, please, from this day and upward: from before a stone was placed on a stone in the temple of the LORD, 16 from when they were, one came to a heap of twenty measures, and there were ten; one came to the wine vat to draw off fifty measures from the winepress, and there were twenty. 17 I struck you with blight and with mildew and with hail, all the work of your hands; and you did not return to Me, declares

1:15 on the twenty-fourth day of the month Just over three weeks after Haggai's first message, likely spent gathering timber and clearing the site. They did not wait another sixteen years. Is there something God has been telling you to do while you say, not now?
2:1 In the seventh month, on the twenty-first day of the month October 520 B.C., the last day of the Feast of Booths (Lev 23:33-43). Solomon had dedicated the first temple at this feast (1 Kgs 8:2), so it was natural to compare the two houses. With poor harvests, there was little to celebrate.
2:3 Is it not, like it is, as nothing in your eyes? Solomon's temple had been destroyed sixty-six years before, and old men had wept when this foundation was laid (Ezra 3:12). Next to Solomon's gold and cedar, it looked plain. God says what they felt. Zechariah asked in these same months, "For who has despised the day of small things?" (Zech 4:10).
2:4 be strong, all people of the land, declares the LORD; and work, for I am with you Three times, be strong, as God told Joshua (Josh 1:6-9) and David told Solomon (1 Chr 28:20). The reason is not that the work looks good but that God is with them.
2:5 My Spirit is standing in your midst; do not fear God had covenanted at the exodus to dwell among His people (Exod 29:45-46), and His Spirit who led them then was still among them (Isa 63:11-14). The work would be done "by My Spirit" (Zech 4:6). His Spirit lives in every believer today (1 Cor 3:16).
2:6 Yet once more, it is a little while, and I am shaking the heavens and the earth God shook the earth once at Sinai (Exod 19:18). He would move the nations, Persia, Greece and Rome, before Christ came. Hebrews quotes this for the final shaking, "the removal of the things being shaken" (Heb 12:27), so that only God's unshakable kingdom remains.
2:7 they will come, the desire of all the nations Many older teachers read this as a Person, the Messiah whom all nations long for. Others note the plural verb and read the treasures of the nations, which fits the silver and gold of verse 8 and Isa 60:5. Either way it points to Christ. The glory that filled this house was not gold but Jesus, "glory of Your people Israel" (Luke 2:32). "One greater than the temple is here" (Matt 12:6).
2:8 The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine The people did not have Solomon's riches, but all the silver and gold in the world are God's. His work never depends on how much money His people have.
2:9 Great will be the glory of this house, the latter more than the former One house, with a former and a latter glory. Solomon's temple had gold. The second temple had the Son of God in its courts. Shalom is wholeness and peace with God, made by the blood of His cross (Col 1:20; Eph 2:14). Its fullest glory will come when Christ reigns and the nations worship at Jerusalem (Ezek 43:1-7; Zech 14:16).
2:11 Ask, please, the priests for instruction December 520 B.C., three months into the work. Priests taught what was holy and common, clean and unclean, that is, fit or unfit to come before God (Lev 10:10-11).
2:13 If one unclean by a dead person touches any of these, will it become unclean? Touching a dead body made a person unclean (Num 19:11-13), and that uncleanness did spread. A healthy person does not heal a sick one by touch, but a sick person can make a healthy one sick.
2:14 So is this people, and so is this nation before Me The altar stood and sacrifices went on (Ezra 3:3), but being near holy things did not make them holy. Years of neglect made all their work unclean, for "to listen is better than sacrifice" (1 Sam 15:22). Going to church does not make us holy. Only the blood of Jesus cleanses (1 John 1:7).
2:17 I struck you with blight and with mildew and with hail Blight was a scorching wind, and mildew turned grain yellow, covenant curses Moses warned of (Deut 28:22), in almost Amos's words (Amos 4:9). Saddest of all, they did not return to God, until Haggai came.

the LORD. 18 Set your heart, please, from this day and upward, from the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, from the day when the temple of the LORD was founded; set your heart: 19 Is the seed still in the granary? And as yet the vine and the fig tree and the pomegranate and the olive tree have not borne. From this day I will bless."

Zerubbabel the Signet Ring

20 And the word of the LORD came a second time to Haggai on the twenty-fourth day of the month, saying, 21 "Say to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, 'I am shaking the heavens and the earth. 22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the nations; and I will overthrow chariotry and its riders, and horses and their riders will go down, each one by the sword of his brother. 23 On that day, declares the LORD of armies, I will take you, O Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, My servant, declares the LORD, and I will make you like the signet ring; for I have chosen you, declares the LORD of armies.'"

2:22 Mic 5:10; Judg 7:22; Zeph 3:8
2:23 Matt 12:18; Matt 1:12; Isa 43:10

2:18 from the day when the temple of the LORD was founded The foundation was laid years before (Ezra 3:10). Here it likely means the day the rebuilding was properly renewed.
2:19 From this day I will bless No harvest yet, the seed only just sown or still waiting, and the trees not yet bearing. God promised before there was any proof. That is how faith works. Not a promise of riches for giving, but God's heart: He is eager to bless those who turn to Him (Luke 15:20).
2:22 I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms Persia looked permanent. It was not. The horses and riders recall the Red Sea (Exod 15:1), and swords turned on brothers recall Gideon (Judg 7:22). This shaking reaches to the end of the age and the kingdom Daniel saw (Dan 2:44; Rev 11:15).
2:23 I will make you like the signet ring; for I have chosen you A signet ring sealed a king's documents with his full authority (Gen 41:42; Esth 8:2). God had said that even if Zerubbabel's grandfather "were a signet ring on My right hand" (Jer 22:24), He would pull him off. Now God puts the ring back on His hand. My servant was a title for David and the Messiah (Isa 42:1). Zerubbabel never became king, but he stands in Jesus' line (Matt 1:12-13; Luke 3:27), and God kept David's line until the true King came (Luke 1:32-33).

ZECHARIAH

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Zechariah, whose name means the LORD remembers. It fits his message, for God had not forgotten His people. Zechariah is the eleventh of the twelve Minor Prophets, between Haggai and Malachi, and the longest of them. Many Bible teachers also call it the most Messianic of the twelve, because it says more about the coming King than any other.

Author and Date

The prophet names himself "Zechariah son of Berechiah, son of Iddo" (1:1). Ezra calls him "the son of Iddo" (Ezra 5:1; 6:14), naming him by his better known grandfather. Iddo was among the priests who came home from Babylon with Zerubbabel, and a generation later Zechariah was the head of Iddo's priestly family (Neh 12:4, 16). So, like Jeremiah and Ezekiel, he was both priest and prophet. He was likely young when he began (2:4) and may have been born in Babylon.

Zechariah dates his first messages by Darius I of Persia (522 to 486 B.C.). The call to return came in late 520 B.C. (1:1), two months after Haggai's first message. The eight night visions came in one night in early 519 B.C. (1:7), and the question about fasting in late 518 B.C. (7:1). Chapters 9 to 14 are not dated, and many conservative scholars believe he gave them later in life, perhaps after 480 B.C.

Many modern critical scholars assign chapters 9 to 14 to one or more later, unknown prophets, pointing to the change of style and the mention of Greece (9:13). The notes take the book as one work by one prophet. A change of subject and of age explains the change of style, Persia fought Greece in 490 and 480 B.C., and the same themes run through both halves. The New Testament quotes from both halves as Scripture.

In 538 B.C. Cyrus let the Jews go home to rebuild the temple, and they laid its foundation about 536 B.C. Then opposition stopped the work for some sixteen years (Ezra 4:4-5, 24). In 520 B.C. Haggai and Zechariah stirred the people to build again (Ezra 5:1-2), and the temple was finished in 516 B.C. (Ezra 6:15). Zechariah lived to see his promise come true: "The hands of Zerubbabel have founded this house, and his hands will finish it" (4:9).

Judah was a small, poor province of Persia. Jerusalem had no walls, and they would not be rebuilt until Nehemiah came in 445 B.C. The people were few and their enemies many, and the great promises of the earlier prophets seemed far away. Many wondered if God was finished with them. Haggai was the practical preacher who told them to build. Zechariah was the visionary who lifted their eyes from the small stone walls in front of them to all that God would do, in their day and far beyond it.

The book uses many pictures: horses, horns, a measuring cord, a lampstand, a flying scroll, a woman in a basket and chariots. In the visions an angel explains them, so we read the pictures by the explanation the text gives and hold loosely the details it leaves unexplained. The prophecies about real people and events, the King on a donkey, the thirty pieces of silver, the pierced One and the Mount of Olives, the notes read as plainly as they are written.

Themes

Return to God. The book opens with the call, "Return to Me, declares the LORD of armies, that I may return to you" (1:3). The fathers did not listen, and God's words overtook them (1:4-6).

God is jealous for His people. "I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with great jealousy" (1:14). He will judge the nations that crushed them, "for he who touches you touches the pupil of his eye" (2:8), and He will come and dwell in their midst (2:10; 8:3).

God cleanses His people. Joshua's filthy garments are taken away (3:4), wickedness is carried off to Babylon (5:5-11), and in the last days "a fountain opened" will wash away sin and impurity (13:1).

God's work is done by His Spirit. "Not by strength and not by power, but by My Spirit" (4:6). No one should despise "the day of small things" (4:10).

Obedience matters more than ritual. When the people asked about their fasts, God called them to true judgment, steadfast love and compassion (7:9-10), and promised that the fasts would become feasts of joy (8:19).

The King is coming. He comes first lowly on a donkey (9:9), is rejected and priced at thirty pieces of silver (11:12-13), is pierced and mourned (12:10), and then returns to stand on the Mount of Olives. In the end "the LORD will be King over all the earth" (14:9), and even the bells of the horses will say, "Holiness to the LORD" (14:20).

Christ in Zechariah

The New Testament turns to Zechariah again and again in the last week of Jesus' life. He rode into Jerusalem on a donkey, and Matthew and John quote 9:9 (Matt 21:5; John 12:15). He was sold for thirty pieces of silver, and the money bought the potter's field (11:12-13; Matt 27:9-10). On the night of His arrest He quoted 13:7, "Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered" (Matt 26:31). When a soldier pierced His side, John wrote, "They will look on Him whom they pierced" (John 19:37; Zech 12:10).

Zechariah calls Him the Branch, the Man who will build the temple of the LORD and be "a priest on his throne" (6:12-13; 3:8). Jesus is our great High Priest now (Heb 4:14), and He will be King when He returns. The LORD whose feet stand on the Mount of Olives (14:4) is the same Jesus who went up from that mountain and will come back the same way (Acts 1:11-12). Some of Zechariah's words came true at His first coming. Others wait for His second.

Hard Passages

How should the night visions be read (1:7-6:8)? The notes follow the angel's explanations and give the main readings where the text leaves a detail open, such as the four horns, the two olive trees and the two mountains of bronze.

Who is the angel of the LORD (1:11-12; 3:1-5)? He speaks as the LORD and forgives sin, yet speaks to the LORD. Many believe he is the Son of God before His birth, and the notes present that view.

Why does Zechariah act as a shepherd and break two staffs (11:4-17)? The notes read it as an acted parable of Israel rejecting their good Shepherd and receiving a worthless one. Many see that final worthless shepherd as the coming man of lawlessness (2 Thess 2:3-4).

When will Israel look on the One they pierced (12:10)? There was a first fulfillment at the cross and at Pentecost. The notes hold that the full fulfillment is still ahead, when Israel as a nation turns to Jesus at His return.

Are the wounds of 13:6 the wounds of Christ? The notes explain that the speaker is a false prophet hiding his past, and that the Shepherd of 13:7 is Christ.

When are the nations gathered against Jerusalem (12:1-9; 14:1-5)? Some see A.D. 70, and many amillennial teachers read these chapters as a picture of the church. The notes read them as future: the refining of the remnant in the Tribulation (13:8-9), the gathering of the nations at its end, and the visible return of Christ to the Mount of Olives with His holy ones, including the church, which will have been caught up to Him before the Tribulation.

Who are the nations that keep the Feast of Booths after Christ returns (14:16-19)? The notes take these verses as Christ's thousand-year reign on earth, when survivors of the nations go up year by year to worship the King at Jerusalem. There are still nations, years and the possibility of disobedience, so this is not yet the new heavens and earth (Rev 20:4-6; 21-22).

ZECHARIAH 1

Return to Me

1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius
(Daryavesh), the word of the LORD came to Zechariah (Zekharya) son of Berechiah (Berekhya), son of Iddo (Ido), the prophet, saying, 2 "The LORD was angry with your fathers with anger. 3 And you will say to them, 'Thus says the LORD of armies: Return to Me, declares the LORD of armies, that I may return to you, says the LORD of armies. 4 Do not be like your fathers, to whom the former prophets proclaimed, saying, "Thus says the LORD of armies: Return, please, from your evil ways and your evil deeds," and they did not listen and did not pay attention to Me, declares the LORD. 5 Your fathers, where are they? And the prophets, do they live forever? 6 Surely My words and My statutes which I commanded My servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? And they returned and said, "Just as the LORD of armies planned to do to us, according to our ways and according to our deeds, so He has done with us."'"

The Rider Among the Myrtles

7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, it is the month of Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, the prophet, saying: 8 I saw in the night, and look, a man riding on a red horse, and he was standing between the myrtle trees that were in the ravine; and behind him were horses, red, sorrel, and white. 9 And I said, "What are these, my lord?" And the angel who was speaking with me said to me, "I will show you what these are." 10 And the man who was standing between the myrtle trees answered and said,
"These are those whom the LORD has sent to go about on the earth." 11 And they answered the angel of the LORD who was standing between the myrtle trees and said, "We have gone about on the earth, and look, all the earth is sitting and at rest." 12 And the angel of the LORD answered and said, "O LORD of armies, until when will You not have compassion on Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) and the cities of Judah (Yehuda), with which You have been indignant these seventy years?"
13 And the LORD answered the angel who was speaking with me with good words, comforting words. 14 And the angel who was speaking with me said to me, "Proclaim, saying,
'Thus says the LORD of armies: I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion (Tsiyon) with great jealousy. 15 And with great anger I am angry with the nations that are at ease; for I was angry a little, and they helped for evil. 16 Therefore thus says the LORD: I have returned to Jerusalem with compassion; My house will be built in her, declares the LORD of armies, and a measuring line will be stretched out over

1:1 In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius October or November 520 B.C., between Haggai's second and third messages (Hag 2:1, 10). God sent two prophets at once to a small, discouraged people.
1:1 Zechariah son of Berechiah, son of Iddo, the prophet Zechariah means the LORD remembers, Berechiah the LORD blesses, and Iddo His appointed time. Together they make a little sermon, the message of the whole book. Zechariah came from a priestly family that returned from Babylon (Neh 12:4, 16). He was a priest called to be a prophet.
1:2 The LORD was angry with your fathers with anger Their grandparents saw Jerusalem burned in 586 B.C. Why? Because of their fathers' sin. The Hebrew repeats anger for force.
1:3 Return to Me, declares the LORD of armies, that I may return to you Three times in one verse God names Himself the LORD of armies, Commander of all the armies of heaven and earth. The people had come back to the land and begun the temple, but God wanted their hearts. To return is to repent, to turn from sin to God. When we turn back, we find He has been waiting (James 4:8; Luke 15:20).
1:6 My words and My statutes which I commanded My servants the prophets, did they not overtake your fathers? The fathers and the prophets were dead, but God's word outlived both and caught up with the runaways. In exile they confessed God had done just what He said (Dan 9:4-14; Lam 2:17). "My words will by no means pass away" (Matt 24:35). Listen now, not later.
1:7 On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, it is the month of Shebat February 519 B.C., exactly five months after the rebuilding began (Hag 1:15). That night God gave Zechariah eight visions, running from 1:7 to 6:8.
1:8 a man riding on a red horse, and he was standing between the myrtle trees that were in the ravine Myrtles are low, sweet-smelling evergreens of the valleys near Jerusalem. Many see a picture of Israel then: lowly and out of sight, but still green and alive. The horses behind him, red, sorrel (reddish brown) and white, are scouts, as the next verses show.
1:11 all the earth is sitting and at rest The man among the myrtles is the angel of the LORD, who in the Old Testament speaks as God and receives worship yet is distinct from the LORD (Gen 16:10-13; Exod 3:2-6). Many believe He is the Son of God appearing before His birth. The report sounds good but was not. Darius had crushed revolts, the proud nations were comfortable, and Jerusalem was still in ruins.
1:12 until when will You not have compassion on Jerusalem and the cities of Judah The angel of the LORD intercedes for Jerusalem. Jeremiah foretold seventy years (Jer 25:11-12; 29:10), and the temple, destroyed in 586 B.C., would be finished in 516 B.C. The angel is distinct from the LORD of armies yet speaks as God elsewhere, fitting the Son who is God and with God (John 1:1). Christ is "always living to intercede for them" (Heb 7:25).
1:14 I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with great jealousy Zion was the temple hill, often standing for the whole city and people. God's jealousy is not petty envy but the burning, protective love of a husband for his wife.
1:15 I was angry a little, and they helped for evil God used Babylon to discipline His people, but the nations went far beyond His purpose, cruel and proud (Isa 47:6). When God uses a wicked nation, He does not approve it. He uses it and then judges it for its own sin.
1:16 My house will be built in her, declares the LORD of armies, and a measuring line will be stretched out over Jerusalem God has returned, as He promised in verse 3. The temple was finished in 516 B.C. (Ezra 6:15), and the city was rebuilt under Nehemiah.

Jerusalem.' 17 Again proclaim, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of armies: My cities will again overflow with good, and the LORD will again comfort Zion and will again choose Jerusalem.'"

Four Horns and Four Craftsmen

18 And I lifted up my eyes and saw, and look, four horns. 19 And I said to the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these?" And he said to me, "These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel (Yisra'el), and Jerusalem."
20 And the LORD showed me four craftsmen. 21 And I said, "What are these coming to do?" And he said, saying, "These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man lifted up his head; and these have come to terrify them, to throw down the horns of the nations who lifted up a horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

The Man With the Measuring Cord

1 And I lifted up my eyes and saw, and look, a man, and in his hand a measuring cord. 2 And I said, "Where are you going?" And he said to me, "To measure Jerusalem (Yerushalayim), to see how much is her breadth and how much is her length." 3 And look, the angel who was speaking with me was going out, and another angel was going out to meet him. 4 And he said to him, "Run, speak to this young man, saying,
'Jerusalem will remain as open villages because of the multitude of mankind and livestock in her midst. 5 And I will be to her, declares the LORD, a wall of fire all around, and for glory I will be in her midst.'" 6 Up, up! And flee from the land of the north, declares the LORD; for like the four winds of the heavens I have spread you out, declares the LORD. 7 Up, O Zion (Tsiyon)! Escape, O inhabitant of the daughter of Babylon (Bavel). 8 For thus says the LORD of armies: After glory He has sent Me to the nations who plunder you, for he who touches you touches the pupil of his eye. 9 For look, I am about to wave My hand against them, and they will be plunder for their servants; and you will know that the LORD of armies has sent Me. 10 Shout for joy and rejoice, O daughter of Zion; for look, I am coming, and I will dwell in your midst, declares the LORD. 11 And many nations will join themselves to the LORD on that day, and they will become a people for Me; and I will dwell in your midst, and you will know that the LORD of armies has sent Me to you. 12 And the LORD will inherit Judah (Yehuda) as His portion on the holy ground, and He will again choose Jerusalem. 13 Hush, all flesh, before the LORD, for He has roused Himself from His holy dwelling place.

2:13 Hab 2:20; Ps 68:5; Ps 46:10

1:17 the LORD will again comfort Zion and will again choose Jerusalem Again, three times. God chose Jerusalem long ago (Ps 132:13), and His choice still stands. There was a near fulfillment after the exile, but Jerusalem has been destroyed and rebuilt since. Its greatest days are still ahead, when Christ returns and reigns there (14:9-11).
1:18 four horns The second vision. A horn pictures strength, often a king or kingdom (Dan 7:24; 8:20-21). These scattered God's people. Some see Assyria, Egypt, Babylon and Medo-Persia, others Daniel's four empires (Dan 2; 7), others enemies from all four directions. Every power that scattered God's people is known to Him.
1:21 these have come to terrify them, to throw down the horns of the nations Craftsmen are skilled workers, smiths or carpenters, who know how to cut horns down. Judah was so crushed that no one could lift his head. For every horn God has a craftsman. Every kingdom of this world will fall before Christ's (Dan 2:44; Rev 11:15). Whatever stands against God's people will not stand forever.
2:1 a man, and in his hand a measuring cord The third vision. Builders used such a cord to mark out a city. God promised a measuring line over Jerusalem (1:16), and now Zechariah sees it. The man was going to measure by the old walls. God had something much bigger in mind.
2:4 Jerusalem will remain as open villages because of the multitude of mankind and livestock in her midst This young man may be Zechariah himself, or the man with the cord. Open villages had no walls. Jerusalem would be too full for any wall. In Zechariah's day the city was nearly empty, and Nehemiah had to ask people to move in (Neh 11:1-2).
2:5 I will be to her, declares the LORD, a wall of fire all around, and for glory I will be in her midst God Himself is her protection, as the pillar of fire stood between Israel and Egypt (Exod 14:19-20), and her glory within. This was true in part after the exile, but its fullness waits for the kingdom, when Jerusalem will "dwell in security" (14:11). Our real safety is the Lord Himself (Prov 18:10).
2:6 flee from the land of the north Babylon lay east, but its armies came in from the north along the Fertile Crescent (Jer 1:14). Many Jews had grown comfortable there and stayed. God scattered them to the four winds in judgment and now calls them home.
2:7 Escape, O inhabitant of the daughter of Babylon Babylon faced more judgment (Isa 48:20; Jer 51:6), and God's people belonged in Zion. It is easy to settle down and grow comfortable with the world. God calls His people to come out and be separate (2 Cor 6:17; Rev 18:4).
2:8 he who touches you touches the pupil of his eye The LORD of armies says "He has sent me," yet the One sent speaks the LORD's words. After glory is hard: perhaps sent to win glory by judging the nations, or sent after the glory of 2:5. The pupil is the most tender part of the body. To harm God's people is to poke God in the eye.
2:11 many nations will join themselves to the LORD on that day, and they will become a people for Me The LORD who dwells in Zion is also the One the LORD of armies has sent. Jesus is God the Son, sent by the Father. "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us" (John 1:14). Gentiles have joined the Lord through Him (Acts 15:14-17), but the full promise awaits His return, when nations worship in Jerusalem (8:20-23; 14:16; Rev 21:3). Israel is not set aside. The nations join, and He still dwells in Zion.
2:12 the LORD will inherit Judah as His portion on the holy ground Judah is the LORD's own share. Only here is the land called the holy ground, holy because the holy God dwells there. For the third time God says He will choose Jerusalem (1:17; 3:2).
2:13 Hush, all flesh, before the LORD When a king rises from his throne to act, the room goes silent. The nations were at ease (1:11). Now God was rising, and the whole world should be quiet before Him (Hab 2:20; Zeph 1:7; Ps 46:10).

Joshua the High Priest and the Branch

1 And he showed me Joshua (Yehoshua) the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him. 2 And the LORD said to Satan, "The LORD rebuke you, O Satan! And the LORD who has chosen Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) rebuke you! Is this not a firebrand snatched from a fire?" 3 And Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and he was standing before the angel. 4 And he answered and said to those who were standing before him, saying, "Remove the filthy garments from him." And he said to him, "See, I have taken your iniquity away from you, and I will clothe you with festal robes." 5 And I said, "Let them put a clean turban on his head." And they put the clean turban on his head and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD was standing by. 6 And the angel of the LORD solemnly charged Joshua, saying, 7 "Thus says the LORD of armies: If you will walk in My ways, and if you will keep My charge, then you also will judge My house and also keep My courts, and I will give you places of walking among these who are standing here. 8 Hear, please, O Joshua the high priest, you and your companions who sit before you, for they are men of portent; for look, I am bringing My servant the Branch. 9 For look, the stone that I have set before Joshua: on one stone are seven eyes. Look, I am engraving its engraving, declares the LORD of armies, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. 10 On that day, declares the LORD of armies, you will invite, each one his neighbor, to under a vine and to under a fig tree."

The Lampstand and the Two Olive Trees

1 And the angel who was speaking with me returned and roused me, like a man who is roused from his sleep. 2 And he said to me, "What are you seeing?" And I said, "I see, and look, a lampstand of gold, all of it, and a bowl on its top, and its seven lamps on it, seven and seven pipes to the lamps which are on its top; 3 and two olive trees by it, one on the right of the bowl and one on its left." 4 And I answered and said to the angel who was speaking with me, saying, "What are these, my lord?" 5 And the angel who was speaking with me answered and said to me, "Do you not know what these

4:5 Mark 4:13; 1 Cor 2:12; Zech 4:13

3:1 Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to accuse him The fourth vision. The high priest entered the Most Holy Place on the Day of Atonement for the whole nation (Lev 16), so Joshua stood for the people. Standing before meant both serving as priest and standing trial. Satan means adversary or accuser, with "the" in front, as in Job 1-2. He is "the accuser of our brothers" (Rev 12:10), and Joshua's clothes told the story.
3:2 The LORD rebuke you, O Satan! And the LORD who has chosen Jerusalem rebuke you! The angel of the LORD speaks as the LORD and calls on the LORD, which many see as the Son with the Father (compare Jude 9). God silences the accuser not because Joshua was innocent, but because God had chosen Jerusalem. "Who will bring a charge against the elect of God?" (Rom 8:33).
3:2 Is this not a firebrand snatched from a fire? A burning stick pulled from the flames (Amos 4:11). Joshua and his people were scorched by the exile, but God pulled them out. Would He snatch them from the fire only to let Satan throw them back? Never.
3:3 Joshua was clothed with filthy garments The Hebrew word is strong, used of something soiled with human waste. A high priest was to wear holy garments of glory and beauty (Exod 28:2). That is how sin looks before a holy God. Even our righteous deeds are unclean before Him (Isa 64:6).
3:4 See, I have taken your iniquity away from you, and I will clothe you with festal robes Joshua did nothing. He did not wash his own clothes or promise to do better. God took the filth away and gave him feast-day robes. That is grace. Our sin was put on Christ, and His righteousness on us (2 Cor 5:21). "He has clothed me with garments of salvation" (Isa 61:10).
3:5 Let them put a clean turban on his head Zechariah could not stay quiet. The high priest's turban bore a gold plate engraved Holiness to the LORD (Exod 28:36-38), the sign he was set apart for God. The Judge stood by, approving it all.
3:7 If you will walk in My ways, and if you will keep My charge Grace first, then the call to obey. God does not say, obey and I will cleanse you. He cleanses, then says, walk with Me (Eph 2:8-10). Joshua would rule the temple and have access among those who stand in God's presence, as we have access to God's throne through Christ (Heb 4:16).
3:8 I am bringing My servant the Branch Joshua and his fellow priests were men of portent, living signs of what was to come. The Branch is a great name of the Messiah, a new shoot from the cut-down stump of David's family (Isa 11:1; Jer 23:5; 33:15). There was no king in Judah, but God would bring a living Branch. He is also the Servant who bears sin (Isa 52:13-53:12), Jesus, who came "to give His life as a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).
3:9 on one stone are seven eyes Hard to explain. Some see a real temple stone (4:7). Many see the Messiah, often called a stone (Ps 118:22; 1 Pet 2:6), since the verse follows the Branch, but hold it loosely. Seven eyes mean full and perfect sight (4:10; Rev 5:6). God Himself engraves it, like the gold plate on the high priest's turban.
3:9 I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day Sacrifices repeated year after year could never take sin away (Heb 10:4, 11). Christ "offered one sacrifice for sins for all time" (Heb 10:12). Many see a second day too, as this study does: the day Israel as a nation turns to the One they pierced and a fountain is opened for sin (12:10; 13:1). The price was paid at the cross. The nation will receive it on the day of its turning.
3:10 you will invite, each one his neighbor, to under a vine and to under a fig tree A picture of peace and plenty, as in Solomon's days (1 Kgs 4:25) and Micah's kingdom (Mic 4:4). When sin is taken away, peace follows, with God and then with others. For Israel this will be fully kept in Christ's kingdom. Every believer now has "peace with God" (Rom 5:1).
4:2 a lampstand of gold, all of it, and a bowl on its top, and its seven lamps on it The tabernacle lampstand had seven lamps that priests filled and tended every evening and morning (Exod 25:31-40; 27:20-21). This one had a bowl on top as a reservoir and pipes to every lamp, likely seven to each. Oil flowed everywhere, keeping every lamp full. Israel was meant to be a light to the nations (Isa 42:6).
4:3 two olive trees by it The oil came straight from the trees. No one pressed olives, carried jars or filled lamps. The supply never ran out, and no human hand was needed.

are?" And I said, "No, my lord." 6 And he answered and said to me, saying, "This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel (Zerubavel), saying, 'Not by strength and not by power, but by My Spirit,' says the LORD of armies. 7 Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you will become level ground; and he will bring forth the top stone with shoutings of 'Grace, grace to it!'" 8 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 9 "The hands of Zerubbabel have founded this house, and his hands will finish it; and you will know that the LORD of armies has sent me to you. 10 For who has despised the day of small things? And I said, "No, my lord." 14 And he said, "These are the two sons of the fresh oil who stand by the Lord of all the earth."

The Flying Scroll

1 And I lifted up my eyes again and saw, and look, a flying scroll. 2 And he said to me, "What are you seeing?" And I said, "I am seeing a flying scroll; its length is approximately 30 feet (twenty cubits), and its breadth approximately 15 feet (ten cubits)." 3 And he said to me, "This is the curse that is going out over the face of all the land; for everyone who steals will be purged out from here according to it, and everyone who swears will be purged out from here according to it. 4 I will send it out, declares the LORD of armies, and it will enter into the house of the thief and into the house of the one who swears by My name falsely; and it will lodge in the midst of his house and consume it, both its timbers and its stones."

The Woman in the Basket

5 And the angel who was speaking with me went out and said to me, "Lift up, please, your eyes and see what this is that is going out." 6 And I said, "What is it?" And he said, "This is the ephah that is going out." And he said, "This is their eye in all the land." 7 And look, a round lid of lead was lifted up, and this was a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. 8 And he said, "This is wickedness." And he threw her into the midst of the ephah, and he threw the stone of lead on its mouth. 9 And I lifted up my eyes and saw, and look, two women going out, and wind was in their wings; and they had wings like the wings of the stork; and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heavens. 10 And I said to the angel who was speaking with me, "Where are they taking

4:6 Not by strength and not by power, but by My Spirit The word to Zerubbabel the builder. Strength often means an army or wealth, and power means human ability and effort. Judah had neither army nor treasury. The Spirit was the oil that never ran dry (Hag 2:5). He moved the Persian king (Ezra 6:1-12) and stirred the people (Hag 1:14). The LORD of armies says His work does not depend on armies.
4:6 says the LORD of armies This does not mean we sit still. Zerubbabel still had to build. It means we stop trusting our own strength. "Apart from Me you are not able to do anything" (John 15:5). The early church turned the world upside down not with armies or money but by the Spirit (1 Cor 2:4). Every believer has the Spirit (Rom 8:9). Are you leaning on your strength or His?
4:7 Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you will become level ground God speaks to the problem as if it were a person: enemies who stopped the work (Ezra 4), letters to the king, poverty and years of rubble. It would be flattened (Matt 17:20). The top stone was the last one laid. The people would shout, Grace, grace, not, Look what we did, but, Look what God's grace has done.
4:9 The hands of Zerubbabel have founded this house, and his hands will finish it He laid the foundation about 536 B.C. (Ezra 3:8-11). It sat for sixteen years. He finished it in 516 B.C. (Ezra 6:14-15), and everyone knew Zechariah was a true prophet.
4:10 For who has despised the day of small things? The second temple was smaller and plainer than Solomon's, and old men wept (Ezra 3:12; Hag 2:3). Small beginnings are not small to God. Israel began with one old couple, Jesus in a stable, the church in an upper room (Matt 13:31-32). The tin stone is most likely a plumb line in Zerubbabel's hand, proof the walls were going up. God's eyes rove through all the earth (2 Chr 16:9).
4:14 These are the two sons of the fresh oil who stand by the Lord of all the earth Anointed ones. Priests and kings were anointed with oil (Exod 29:7; 1 Sam 16:13). Joshua the priest and Zerubbabel of David's line were God's channels to keep His light burning. The two offices will unite in one Person, "a priest on his throne" (6:13). Revelation draws on this vision for the two witnesses of the Tribulation (Rev 11:3-4). Persia seemed to rule the earth, but the real Lord of all the earth was the One they served.
5:2 I am seeing a flying scroll Twenty by ten cubits, the size of a large billboard, when a normal scroll was perhaps a foot wide. Some note these are the measurements of the porch of Solomon's temple (1 Kgs 6:3), as if God's judgment goes out from His house. The angel does not explain the size. The point is plain: huge, open and impossible to miss.
5:3 This is the curse that is going out over the face of all the land At Sinai God set blessings and curses before Israel (Deut 28). Stealing and swearing falsely come from the two tables of the Ten Commandments (Exod 20:7, 15), sins against neighbor and against God, and may stand for the whole Law. Purged out means removed.
5:4 it will lodge in the midst of his house and consume it, both its timbers and its stones The curse comes down to the very house of the sinner and settles in, eating it from the inside. Thieves and liars may think they got away with it, but God's word finds them. Truth and honesty still matter (Eph 4:25, 28). "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13).
5:6 This is the ephah that is going out The seventh vision. An ephah was a grain measure of about three-fifths of a bushel, and the basket that held it, a common market item where much sin showed up in false measures (Amos 8:5; Mic 6:10-11). "Their eye" means their appearance, what the people's lives looked like underneath. Some ancient translations read their iniquity.
5:8 This is wickedness The woman stands for wickedness itself. The Hebrew word is feminine, as wisdom is pictured as a woman in Prov 8-9. This is a picture of sin, not a statement about women. She seems to try to escape, and the angel slams the heavy lead lid. Wickedness must be shut up and held down, and only God can do it.

the ephah?" 11 And he said to me, "To build a house for her in the land of Shinar; and it will be prepared, and she will be set there on her base."

ZECHARIAH 6

The Four Chariots

1 And I returned, and I lifted up my eyes, and I saw, and look, four chariots going out from between the two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of bronze. 2 In the first chariot were red horses, and in the second chariot black horses, 3 and in the third chariot white horses, and in the fourth chariot dappled, strong horses. 4 And I answered and said to the angel who was speaking with me, "What are these, my lord?" 5 And the angel answered and said to me, "These are the four winds of the heavens, going out from presenting themselves before the Lord of all the earth. 6 The black horses which are in it are going out to the land of the north, and the white ones have gone out after them, and the dappled ones have gone out to the land of the south. 7 And the strong ones went out, and they sought to go to walk about on the earth." And he said, "Go, walk about on the earth." And they walked about on the earth. 8 And he cried out to me and spoke to me, saying, "See, those going out to the land of the north have caused my spirit to rest in the land of the north."

The Crowning of Joshua

9 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying, 10 "Take from the exiles, from Heldai (Chelday) and from Tobijah (Toviya) and from Jedaiah (Yedaya), who have come from Babylon (Bavel); and you yourself shall go on that day, and you shall go into the house of Josiah (Yoshiya) the son of Zephaniah (Tsefanya). 11 And you shall take silver and gold, and you shall make crowns, and you shall set them on the head of Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Jehozadak (Yehotsadaq), the high priest. 12 And you shall say to him, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of armies, saying: Look, a man, Branch is his name; and he will sprout up from his place, and he will build the temple of the LORD. 13 And he himself will build the temple of the LORD, and he himself will bear majesty, and he will sit and rule on his throne; and he will be a priest on his throne, and a counsel of peace will be between the two of them.' 14 And the crowns shall be for Helem (Chelem) and for Tobijah and for Jedaiah and for Hen (Chen) the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD." 15 And far-off ones will come, and they will build in the temple of the LORD, and you will know that the LORD of armies has sent me to you. And this will be, if you will surely listen to the voice of the LORD your God.

5:11 To build a house for her in the land of Shinar Shinar is Babylon's old name, where men built Babel in pride (Gen 11:1-9) and Nebuchadnezzar put the temple vessels in his god's house (Dan 1:2). Wickedness is removed from God's land and set up like an idol where it is worshiped. The scroll judged sinners. The basket removes sin itself, as Christ "takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). Many link this with Babylon in Rev 17-18, but hold it loosely.

6:1 four chariots going out from between the two mountains, and the mountains were mountains of bronze The eighth vision. Chariots were the strongest weapon of an ancient army. The two mountains are not explained. Some think of Zion and the Mount of Olives, others of the two bronze pillars of Solomon's temple (1 Kgs 7:15-22). The chariots come from God's presence (6:5), strong and unshakable.

6:5 These are the four winds of the heavens, going out from presenting themselves before the Lord of all the earth Winds can also mean spirits. They may be winds as God's servants or angels, who are "ministering spirits, sent forth for service" (Heb 1:14; Ps 104:4). Like servants before a king, they received orders and went out. Persia ruled an empire, but God rules the whole earth.

6:6 going out to the land of the north The north is Babylon (2:6), and the south is Egypt, the two great powers that had troubled God's people for centuries. The red horses are not mentioned here, and Scripture does not say why.

6:8 have caused my spirit to rest in the land of the north Spirit here likely means God's anger (Judg 8:3). His anger against Babylon was satisfied. In chapter 1 the nations were at ease and God was angry. Now His anger rests because justice is done. The night visions end with God in control of the whole earth, giving the builders courage.

6:10 Take from the exiles, from Heldai and from Tobijah and from Jedaiah, who have come from Babylon The visions are over, and God gives an acted message. These men had just arrived, likely with gifts of silver and gold from the Jews still in Babylon. Zechariah was to go that very day to the house where they stayed.

6:11 you shall make crowns, and you shall set them on the head of Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest Crowns may be one grand crown of several bands. A high priest wore a turban, not a crown. Kings came from Judah and David's family, priests from Levi, and the offices were kept apart. Uzziah was struck with leprosy for burning incense (2 Chr 26:16-21). Why crown a priest and not Zerubbabel? Because this was a sign.

6:12 Look, a man, Branch is his name; and he will sprout up from his place The Branch of 3:8, a real man. Joshua is not the Branch but the sign of Him. He sprouts from humble ground, "like the root from dry ground" (Isa 53:2), as Jesus grew up in little Nazareth (John 1:46).

6:12 he will build the temple of the LORD Said twice. Zerubbabel was building the temple then (4:9), but this reaches beyond 516 B.C. Christ is building His church, a holy temple of living stones (Eph 2:21; 1 Pet 2:5). In the fullest sense, I believe the Branch will build the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem in His kingdom (Ezek 40-48; Isa 2:2-3).

6:13 he will be a priest on his throne Majesty is royal splendor. One Man holds both offices. "You are a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek" (Ps 110:4), who was king and priest (Gen 14:18). Jesus is from Judah, yet our High Priest "who sat down at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty" (Heb 8:1). The counsel of peace may be between the two offices or between the Branch and the LORD. We have one Savior who takes away sin and rules our hearts. Is He both to you?

6:14 for a memorial in the temple of the LORD Helem seems another name for Heldai, and Hen, meaning grace, another name for Josiah. The crown was kept in the temple as a reminder of the coming Branch and of the faithful givers.

6:15 far-off ones will come, and they will build in the temple of the LORD First, distant Jews coming home to help. But Gentiles "who once were far off have become near by the blood of Christ" (Eph 2:13), and in the kingdom the nations will come (Isa 60:10). The coming of the Branch was certain, but whether that generation shared the blessing depended on listening to God. The same is true for us.

Obedience Better Than Fasting

1 And it was in the fourth year of Darius (Daryavesh) the king that the word of the LORD came to Zechariah (Zekharya) on the fourth day of the ninth month, in Kislev. 2 And Bethel (Bet-El) sent Sharezer (Sharetser) and Regem-melech (Regem-Melekh) and his men to entreat the face of the LORD, 3 to say to the priests who belonged to the house of the LORD of armies, and to the prophets, saying, "Shall I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?" 4 And the word of the LORD of armies came to me, saying, 5 "Say to all the people of the land and to the priests, saying, 'When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and in the seventh month, even these seventy years, did you really fast for Me, for Me? 6 And when you eat and when you drink, are not you the ones eating, and you the ones drinking? 7 Is it not the words which the LORD proclaimed by the hand of the former prophets, when Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) was inhabited and at ease, and her cities around her, and the Negeb (Negev) and the Shephelah were inhabited?'" 8 And the word of the LORD came to Zechariah, saying, 9 "Thus says the LORD of armies, saying, 'Judge a judgment of truth, and do steadfast love and compassion, each man with his brother; 10 and do not oppress the widow and the fatherless, the sojourner and the poor; and do not devise in your heart evil, each man against his brother.' 11 And they refused to pay attention, and they gave a stubborn shoulder, and they made their ears heavy from hearing. 12 And they made their heart flint, from hearing the law and the words which the LORD of armies sent by His Spirit by the hand of the former prophets; and there was great wrath from the LORD of armies. 13 And it was that just as He called and they did not listen, so they would call and I would not listen," says the LORD of armies. 14 "And I swept them away by storm among all the nations whom they had not known, and the land was desolate behind them, without anyone passing through or returning; and they made the land of desire into a waste."

7:2 Bethel sent Sharezer and Regem-melech and his men to entreat the face of the LORD Bethel, about twelve miles north of Jerusalem, once held Jeroboam's golden calf (1 Kgs 12:28-29) and was resettled by returning exiles (Ezra 2:28). Some read Bethel-sharezer as one man's name. To entreat the face of the LORD is to seek His favor in prayer.
7:3 Shall I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years? In the fifth month Babylon burned the temple and city in 586 B.C. (2 Kgs 25:8-9). Ever since, the Jews had fasted that day. To fast is to go without food for a time to mourn, repent or seek God. If the temple was being rebuilt, why keep mourning? God's answer went deeper than the question.
7:5 did you really fast for Me, for Me? The answer was for all the people. The seventh-month fast remembered the murder of the governor Gedaliah (2 Kgs 25:25; Jer 41:1-3). For Me, for Me: they mourned the results of their sin but not the sin itself.
7:6 are not you the ones eating, and you the ones drinking? They feasted for themselves and fasted for themselves, and God was the center of neither. We can pray, give, fast and read the Bible for ourselves, to be seen or to check a box (Matt 6:16). God looks at the heart (1 Sam 16:7). When you worship, is it really for Him?
7:7 Is it not the words which the LORD proclaimed by the hand of the former prophets God sends them back to the old sermons. Isaiah had answered this before the exile: the fast God wants is to set the oppressed free (Isa 58:3-6). "For steadfast love I desire, and not sacrifice" (Hos 6:6). They did not need a new word. They needed to obey the old one.
7:9 Judge a judgment of truth, and do steadfast love and compassion, each man with his brother Be honest and fair in court and in every decision. Steadfast love is hesed, loyal covenant love, and compassion is tender mercy. God wants His people to treat one another as He treats them (Mic 6:8).
7:10 do not oppress the widow and the fatherless, the sojourner and the poor Four with no one to stand up for them: no husband, no father, no family or land, no money. God watches over them and judges those who exploit them (Exod 22:21-24; Deut 10:18). He looks at our hearts too. Do not even plan harm. True religion visits "orphans and widows in their tribulation" (James 1:27).
7:12 they made their heart flint Flint is among the hardest stones. They did this to themselves, one refusal at a time. The prophets spoke by God's Spirit, not their own ideas (2 Pet 1:21), so to reject them was to reject God.
7:13 just as He called and they did not listen, so they would call and I would not listen A sobering principle. There comes a time when it is too late (Prov 1:24-28). "Do not harden your hearts" (Heb 3:8).
7:14 they made the land of desire into a waste God scattered them like a whirlwind into strange lands. The good land everyone wanted became a wasteland through their sin. The real issue was not the calendar but the heart.
8:2 I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy The first of ten sayings in this chapter beginning Thus says the LORD. His jealousy is burning, protective love that will not share His people with idols (1:14).
8:3 Jerusalem will be called "the City of Truth," God had left His temple in Ezekiel's day (Ezek 10:18-19; 11:23). Now He returns. The city of lies and false prophets will be called the City of Truth, and the Mountain of Holiness, set apart and pure. It was not so in Zechariah's day, when it rejected Jesus, or today. I believe this will be fully true when Christ returns and reigns there (14:9-11, 20-21).
8:4 Old men and old women will again sit in the open squares of Jerusalem The open squares near the gates were public meeting places. In war, the old and young die first (Lam 2:11, 21). Here the old live long and rest in the sun, as Isaiah describes the kingdom (Isa 65:20).
8:5 boys and girls playing in its open squares God promises not only a temple but ordinary joys, grandparents resting and children laughing without fear. He cares about the simple happiness of everyday life.

girls playing in its open squares.' 6 Thus says the LORD of armies: 'If it is too wonderful in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, will it also be too wonderful in My eyes?' declares the LORD of armies. 7 Thus says the LORD of armies: 'Look, I am saving My people from the land of the east and from the land of the setting of the sun; 8 and I will bring them, and they will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they will be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.' 9 Thus says the LORD of armies: 'Let your hands be strong, you who are hearing in these days these words from the mouth of the prophets who were present on the day the house of the LORD of armies was founded, that the temple might be built. 10 For before those days there was no wage for man, and there was no wage for the animal; and for the one going out and for the one coming in there was no peace from the adversary; and I sent all men, each man against his neighbor. 11 And now I will not be to the remnant of this people as in the former days,' declares the LORD of armies. 12 'For there will be the seed of peace: the vine will give its fruit, and the land will give its produce, and the heavens will give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these. 13 And it will be that just as you were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah (Yehuda) and house of Israel (Yisra'el), so I will save you, and you will be a blessing. Do not be afraid; let your hands be strong.' 14 For thus says the LORD of armies: 'Just as I planned to do harm to you when your fathers provoked Me to anger,' says the LORD of armies, 'and I did not relent, 15 so I have again planned in these days to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Do not be afraid. 16 These are the things that you shall do: speak truth, each man with his neighbor; judge truth and a judgment of peace in your gates; 17 and each man, do not devise in your heart the evil against his neighbor, and do not love an oath of falsehood; for all these are what I hate,' declares the LORD." 18 And the word of the LORD of armies came to me, saying, 19 "Thus says the LORD of armies: 'The fast of the fourth month and the fast of the fifth and the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth will become for the house of Judah joy and gladness and good appointed times; and love the truth and the peace.' 20 Thus says the LORD of armies: 'It will yet be that peoples will come, and the inhabitants of many cities; 21 and the inhabitants of one city will go to another, saying, "Let us surely go to entreat the face of the LORD and to seek the LORD of armies. Let me go, even I." 22 And many peoples and mighty nations will come to seek the LORD of armies in Jerusalem and to entreat the face of the LORD.' 23 Thus says the LORD of armies: 'In those days ten men from all the tongues of the nations will take hold, and they will take hold of the corner of the robe of a Jewish man, saying, "Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you."'"

Judgment on Israel's Neighbors

1 The oracle of the word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach (Chadrakh), and Damascus (Dameseq) is its resting place; for the eye of mankind and of all the tribes of Israel

8:6 will it also be too wonderful in My eyes? Too wonderful means too hard to believe. The remnant looked at their little town and thought it could never happen. God asked Sarah's question, "Is anything too wonderful for the LORD?" (Gen 18:14; Jer 32:17). What promise seems too good to you?
8:8 they will be My people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness East and west mean everywhere. The heart of God's covenant with Israel (Exod 6:7; Jer 31:33). I believe it reaches to the end of the age, when God gathers Israel from all nations to their land (Ezek 36:24-28; Rom 11:26). Partial returns in history are signs that He is not finished.
8:13 just as you were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, so I will save you, and you will be a blessing Nations used Judah's name in curses (Jer 24:9). God would turn it around, as He first promised Abraham: "in you all the families of the earth will be blessed" (Gen 12:3). He speaks of both houses. He has not forgotten the northern tribes.
8:15 so I have again planned in these days to do good to Jerusalem The God who kept His word in judgment will keep it in blessing. If He was faithful to His warnings, He will be faithful to His promises.
8:16 speak truth, each man with his neighbor Blessing does not mean living however we want. Paul quotes this (Eph 4:25). The gates were where the elders judged. Their rulings should be true and bring peace.
8:17 for all these are what I hate Scheming and lying under oath. The same standards as the former prophets (7:9-10). God's standards do not change. The City of Truth needs people of truth.
8:19 The fast of the fourth month and the fast of the fifth and the fast of the seventh and the fast of the tenth will become for the house of Judah joy and gladness At last the answer to Bethel (7:3). Four fasts marked the siege (2 Kgs 25:1), the broken walls (Jer 39:2), the burned temple and Gedaliah's murder. God would turn mourning into joy (Jer 31:13). Jesus said His disciples would fast after the Bridegroom was taken (Matt 9:15), but when He comes again, mourning turns to joy.
8:21 Let us surely go to entreat the face of the LORD and to seek the LORD of armies. Let me go, even I. One city will invite another, and no one will want to be left out (Isa 2:3; Mic 4:2).
8:22 many peoples and mighty nations will come to seek the LORD of armies in Jerusalem Jerusalem was a small town the nations ignored. This began when the gospel went out from Jerusalem (Luke 24:47; Acts 1:8). I believe the full picture is Christ's kingdom, when the nations go up year by year to worship the King (14:16).
8:23 they will take hold of the corner of the robe of a Jewish man, saying, "Let us go with you, for we have heard that God is with you." Ten men means many, from every language. The corner of the robe bore the tassels that reminded Israel of God's commands (Num 15:38-39). The Jewish people, long scorned, will be sought out because God is with them. "Salvation is from the Jews" (John 4:22). This is not the church replacing Israel, but God keeping His promise to Israel and blessing the nations through them (Rom 11:1-2, 25-29).
9:1 The oracle of the word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach, and Damascus is its resting place An oracle is a weighty message, a burden. Chapters 9-11 are the first oracle and 12-14 the second (12:1). Hadrach was in northern Syria, and Damascus its capital, where God's word would settle in judgment. Either all eyes will turn to the LORD, or His eye is on all people. Nothing happens outside His sight.

(Yisra'el) is toward the LORD; 2 and also Hamath (Chamat), which borders on it; Tyre (Tsor) and Sidon (Tsidon), for she is very wise. 3 And Tyre built for herself a fortress, and she heaped up silver like the dust, and gold like the mud of the streets. 4 Look, the Lord will dispossess her, and He will strike her wealth in the sea, and she will be consumed by the fire. 5 Ashkelon (Ashqelon) will see it and be afraid, and Gaza (Aza), and she will writhe exceedingly, and Ekron (Eqron), for her confidence has been put to shame. And a king will perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon will not be inhabited. 6 And a mixed people will dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines. 7 And I will remove his blood from his mouth and his detestable things from between his teeth; and he also will be left for our God, and he will be like a chief in Judah (Yehuda), and Ekron like a Jebusite. 8 And I will encamp at My house as a guard, against the one passing through and against the one returning; and an oppressor will not pass over them again, for now I have seen with My eyes.

Your King Comes to You

9 Rejoice exceedingly, O daughter of Zion (Tsiyon)! Shout, O daughter of Jerusalem (Yerushalayim)! Look, your King comes to you; He is righteous and saved, lowly and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of female donkeys. 10 And I will cut off chariotry from Ephraim (Efrayim) and the horse from Jerusalem, and the bow of war will be cut off; and He will speak peace to the nations, and His rule will be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth. 11 Also you, by the blood of your covenant I have set free your prisoners from a pit in which there is no water. 12 Return to the stronghold, O prisoners of the hope; even today I am declaring that I will restore double to you. 13 For I will bend Judah for Myself as a bow; I will fill it with Ephraim; and I will stir up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece (Yavan), and I will make you like the sword of a mighty man. 14 And the LORD will appear over them, and His arrow will go out like the lightning; and the Lord GOD will blow on the ram's horn, and He will go in the storm winds of the south. 15 The LORD of armies will defend them, and they will eat and subdue the stones of a sling; and they will drink and be loud as with wine, and they will be full like the bowl, like the corners of an altar. 16 And the LORD their God will save them on that day as the flock of His people; for they are the stones of a crown, lifting themselves up over His land. 17 For how great is His goodness, and how great is His beauty! Grain will make the young men flourish, and new wine the virgins.

9:17 Isa 33:17; Isa 62:8,9; Ps 31:19

9:2 Tyre and Sidon, for she is very wise The great Phoenician seaports, shrewd in trade. Worldly wisdom cannot save a city from God. The route from Syria down the coast to Philistia follows Alexander the Great, who took Damascus, destroyed Tyre and took Gaza in 333 and 332 B.C. That is a fair reading of the first fulfillment.
9:3 she heaped up silver like the dust, and gold like the mud of the streets Tyre stood partly on an island half a mile offshore, walled from the water. Nebuchadnezzar besieged it thirteen years without fully taking the island city. Its trade made it rich beyond measure (Ezek 27).
9:4 He will strike her wealth in the sea, and she will be consumed by the fire To dispossess is to take away her property and drive her out. Alexander built a causeway to the island, broke the walls after seven months and burned the city. Walls and wealth could not save her.
9:5 a king will perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon will not be inhabited When mighty Tyre fell, the Philistine cities trembled, their hope that Tyre would stop the invader gone. Gaza held out two months against Alexander, and its commander was put to death.
9:7 he also will be left for our God, and he will be like a chief in Judah, and Ekron like a Jebusite The blood and detestable things were meat with blood and food offered to idols (Lev 17:10-12). God would end their idolatry. Then a surprise: some Philistines would turn to the LORD. The Jebusites, Jerusalem's old inhabitants, were absorbed into Israel (2 Sam 24:18-24). Even bitter enemies would be counted among God's people.
9:8 I will encamp at My house as a guard While armies marched along the coast, God guarded His house, and Jerusalem was not destroyed when Alexander passed. But it has been oppressed many times since. The full promise that no oppressor will pass over them again waits for Christ's kingdom (14:11).
9:9 Look, your King comes to you; He is righteous and saved Israel had no king since 586 B.C. Now their own King, the Son of David, is coming to Jerusalem. He is righteous, without sin (Jer 23:5). Saved can mean victorious, delivered by God, or bringing salvation. He comes with God's saving power.
9:9 lowly and riding on a donkey, and on a colt, a son of female donkeys Lowly means humble and gentle (Matt 11:29; Phil 2:8). A conqueror rode a war horse. A donkey was an animal of peace, ridden by early judges and kings (Judg 10:4; 1 Kgs 1:33). Donkey and colt is Hebrew poetry, saying it twice. Jesus fulfilled it exactly, and Matthew quotes it: "Look, your King comes to you, gentle and mounted on a donkey" (Matt 21:5; John 12:15). Many wanted a warrior against Rome. He came lowly, on His way to a cross. Have you welcomed Him as He really is?
9:10 His rule will be from sea to sea, and from the River to the ends of the earth Ephraim and Jerusalem stand for all twelve tribes, who will lay down their weapons. The River is the Euphrates (Gen 15:18), and the words echo Ps 72:8. Verse 9 came true when Jesus rode into Jerusalem. Verse 10 has not yet. The prophets saw both comings like two peaks with a valley between (Isa 9:6-7). He will come again on a white horse (Rev 19:11-16) and speak peace to the nations (14:9).
9:11 by the blood of your covenant I have set free your prisoners from a pit in which there is no water At Sinai Moses sprinkled "the blood of the covenant" (Exod 24:8). A dry cistern served as a prison for Joseph and Jeremiah (Gen 37:24; Jer 38:6). Jesus said, "this is My blood, the blood of the new covenant" (Matt 26:28). By His blood prisoners of sin go free.
9:12 Return to the stronghold, O prisoners of the hope What a name. Still captives, but bound to a hope that cannot fail. The stronghold may be Jerusalem or God Himself. Double means a full, generous blessing (Isa 61:7).
9:13 I will stir up your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece Judah the bow and Ephraim the arrow, north and south united in God's hand. Greece did not yet rule Israel. Later the Greek king Antiochus IV defiled the temple, and the Maccabees defeated his armies and cleansed it in 164 B.C. Many see that as the first fulfillment (Dan 8:21-25; 11:21-35).
9:16 they are the stones of a crown, lifting themselves up over His land God the Warrior is also God the Shepherd, saving His flock. His people are like jewels shining in a crown, precious to Him (Mal 3:17).
9:17 how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! Some read this of God's goodness and beauty, others of the land and people He blesses. Either way the chapter ends in wonder, with plenty for the young in the kingdom.

The LORD Gathers His People

1 Ask rain from the LORD in the time of the latter rain; the LORD makes the storm clouds, and He will give them showers of rain, to each man vegetation in the field. 2 For the teraphim speak wickedness, and the diviners see falsehood, and they speak dreams of worthlessness; they comfort with futility. Therefore they have wandered like sheep; they are afflicted, for there is no shepherd. 3 My anger has burned against the shepherds, and on the male goats I will visit punishment; for the LORD of armies has visited His flock, the house of Judah (Yehuda), and He will make them like His horse of majesty in the battle. 4 From him will come a cornerstone, from him a tent peg, from him a bow of war; from him every ruler will go out together. 5 And they will be like mighty men, treading in the mud of the streets in the battle; and they will fight, for the LORD is with them, and they will put to shame the riders of horses. 6 And I will make strong the house of Judah, and the house of Joseph (Yosef) I will save, and I will bring them back, for I have compassion on them; and they will be as though I had not rejected them; for I am the LORD their God, and I will answer them. 7 And Ephraim (Efrayim) will be like a mighty man, and their heart will be glad as with wine; and their sons will see it and be glad; let their heart rejoice in the LORD. 8 Let Me whistle for them and gather them, for I have ransomed them; and they will become many as they were many. 9 And I will sow them among the peoples, and in the far places they will remember Me; and they will live with their sons, and they will return. 10 And I will bring them back from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and from Assyria (Ashur) I will gather them; and to the land of Gilead (Gilad) and Lebanon (Levanon) I will bring them, and room will not be found for them. 11 And He will pass through the sea of distress, and He will strike the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the Nile (Ye'or) will dry up; and the pride of Assyria will be brought down, and the scepter of Egypt will depart. 12 And I will make them strong in the LORD, and in His name they will walk about, declares the LORD.

The Rejected Shepherd

1 Open your doors, O Lebanon (Levanon), and let fire devour among your cedars. 2 Wail, O cypress, for the cedar has fallen, because the majestic ones have been devastated. Wail, O oaks of Bashan, for the forest of the vintage has come down. 3 The sound of the wailing of the shepherds! For their splendor has been devastated. The sound of the roaring of young lions! For the pride of the Jordan (Yarden) has been devastated. 4 Thus says the LORD my God: "Shepherd the 10:1 Ask rain from the LORD in the time of the latter rain The early rain fell at planting in the fall, and the latter rain in March and April swelled the grain (Deut 11:14; James 5:7). The Canaanites credited Baal, their storm god. God says, ask Me. Jesus taught us to pray, "Give us today our daily bread" (Matt 6:11). Do you ask God for ordinary needs?

10:2 they have wandered like sheep; they are afflicted, for there is no shepherd Teraphim were household idols used for guidance (Gen 31:19; Judg 17:5), and diviners read omens, forbidden by the Law (Deut 18:10-12). Their comfort was worthless. Jesus saw crowds "like sheep not having a shepherd" (Matt 9:36). People still seek guidance from horoscopes and psychics. Only God's Word gives true guidance.
10:3 My anger has burned against the shepherds, and on the male goats I will visit punishment The shepherds were kings, princes, priests and false prophets. The male goats were the strong, pushy leaders (Ezek 34:17). God would care for the sheep Himself through one Shepherd, "My servant David" (Ezek 34:23), Jesus, "the good shepherd" (John 10:14). He turns wandering sheep into His horse of majesty in battle.
10:4 From him will come a cornerstone, from him a tent peg, from him a bow of war From Judah. A cornerstone holds the building in line, a tent peg holds firm and bears weight (Isa 22:23), and a bow wins battles. Many see the Messiah from Judah (Gen 49:10), "Christ Jesus Himself being the cornerstone" (Eph 2:20). Others read good leaders for Judah in general. Both fit, and the best Leader from Judah is Christ.
10:6 the house of Joseph I will save Joseph, or Ephraim, is the northern kingdom, taken by Assyria in 722 B.C., two centuries before. Many thought it gone for good. God would bring them back out of compassion, as though He had never rejected them. Ezekiel saw two sticks joined into one, Israel one nation under one King (Ezek 37:15-22). This has not yet happened in full. I believe it will when Christ returns.
10:8 Let Me whistle for them and gather them, for I have ransomed them A shepherd or beekeeper whistles and they come. God needs only to whistle. To ransom is to pay the price to set a captive free, as at the exodus. They would grow many as they did in Egypt (Exod 1:7).
10:9 I will sow them among the peoples, and in the far places they will remember Me God calls the scattering a sowing. Seed is scattered to grow. The Jewish people have survived as a people through nearly two thousand years of scattering, while many great ancient nations disappeared. God said they would.
10:10 I will bring them back from the land of Egypt, and from Assyria I will gather them The two old oppressors stand for all the lands of exile (Isa 11:11). Gilead and Lebanon mark the borders of the promised land. So many will return that there will not be room.
10:11 He will pass through the sea of distress The language of the exodus. Whatever sea of trouble stands between His people and home, He will strike it. The second exodus will be greater than the first (Jer 16:14-15).
10:12 I will make them strong in the LORD, and in His name they will walk about Their strength would not be their own but in the LORD, living under His authority. "Be empowered in the Lord" (Eph 6:10). Whatever God calls us to, He gives the strength to do.
11:1 Open your doors, O Lebanon, and let fire devour among your cedars Lebanon's cedars were the finest wood in the ancient world. If the mighty cedar falls, the smaller cypress is next, and the oaks of Bashan east of the Sea of Galilee. Trees in the prophets often stand for proud rulers and nations (Isa 10:33-34).
11:3 the pride of the Jordan has been devastated The thick growth along the Jordan where lions lived (Jer 49:19). Judgment sweeps the whole land. Many believe this describes what followed Israel's rejection of the Shepherd in this chapter, Rome's destruction of Jerusalem in A.D. 70, which Jesus foretold (Luke 19:44). Others see a general picture of judgment on the land and its leaders.
11:4 Shepherd the flock of the slaughter God tells Zechariah to act as a shepherd, who feeds, leads and protects sheep. But this flock was marked for slaughter.

flock of the slaughter, 5 whose buyers kill them and are not held guilty, and each of their sellers says, 'Blessed be the LORD, and I have become rich!' And their shepherds do not have pity on them. 6 For I will no longer have pity on the inhabitants of the land," declares the LORD. "And look, I am handing over mankind, each man into the hand of his neighbor and into the hand of his king; and they will crush the land, and I will not deliver it from their hand." 7 And I shepherded the flock of the slaughter, therefore the afflicted of the flock. And I took for myself two staffs; one I called Favor, and one I called Union; and I shepherded the flock. 8 And I destroyed the three shepherds in one month; and my soul was impatient with them, and their soul also loathed me. 9 And I said, "I will not shepherd you. The dying one, let it die; and the one being destroyed, let it be destroyed; and those who are left, let them devour, each one the flesh of her neighbor." 10 And I took my staff Favor and cut it in pieces, to break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 And it was broken on that day; and so the afflicted of the flock who were watching me knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 And I said to them, "If it is good in your eyes, give me my wage; and if not, refrain." And they weighed out my wage, thirty pieces of silver. 13 And the LORD said to me, "Throw it to the potter, the magnificent price at which I was priced by them." And I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw it into the house of the LORD, to the potter. 14 And I cut in pieces my second staff, Union, to break the brotherhood between Judah (Yehuda) and Israel (Yisra'el). 15 And the LORD said to me, "Take again for yourself the equipment of a foolish shepherd. 16 For look, I am raising up a shepherd in the land; those being destroyed he will not visit, the young he will not seek, and the broken he will not heal, the one standing he will not sustain; and the flesh of the fat he will devour, and their hooves he will tear off. 17 Woe to the worthless shepherd, who abandons the flock! A sword will be on his arm and on his right eye! His arm will surely wither, and his right eye will surely grow dim."

11:5 Blessed be the LORD, and I have become rich! The buyers were foreign rulers. The sellers were Israel's own leaders, selling out their people for profit and blessing God for it. That is hypocrisy at its worst, using God's name to bless greed.
11:6 each man into the hand of his neighbor and into the hand of his king God's long patience would end. At Jesus' trial the chief priests said, "We have no king except Caesar" (John 19:15). Within forty years Caesar's armies crushed the land.
11:7 one I called Favor, and one I called Union Zechariah took special care of the afflicted of the flock, who would recognize his work (11:11). A shepherd carried a rod and staff (Ps 23:4). Favor means grace, God's protection. Union means bonds, the unity of His people. Jesus gave special care to the poor and outcast (Luke 4:18), and the common people heard Him gladly (Mark 12:37).
11:8 I destroyed the three shepherds in one month One of the hardest verses in the Old Testament, with dozens of suggested answers: three short-reigning kings, the offices of prophet, priest and king, or the priests, elders and scribes of Jesus' day. We do not know for sure. Then the tragedy: the flock loathed its good shepherd. "His own people did not receive Him" (John 1:11).
11:9 I will not shepherd you Because they rejected him, he gave them up to what they chose. In the Roman siege of A.D. 70 the people suffered famine and fought among themselves.
11:10 I took my staff Favor and cut it in pieces, to break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples God had in a sense held the nations back from destroying Israel. Now that protection was broken. The humble sheep who watched understood it was God's word, as Jesus' disciples understood when He said Jerusalem's house would be left desolate (Matt 23:37-38).
11:12 they weighed out my wage, thirty pieces of silver Pay me if I am worth it, he said. Money was weighed, and thirty shekels was about twelve ounces of silver, the price paid when an ox gored a slave to death (Exod 21:32). They valued their shepherd, and so their God, at the price of a dead slave. It would have been better to pay nothing.
11:13 Throw it to the potter, the magnificent price at which I was priced by them The shepherd's price is God's price: "I was priced." The magnificent price is bitter sarcasm. Throw it to the potter means it is fit only for a worker in cheap clay. Judas was paid "thirty silver coins" (Matt 26:15), threw them into the temple, and the priests "bought with them the field of the potter" (Matt 27:7). Every detail matches.
11:13 I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw it into the house of the LORD, to the potter Matthew credits Jeremiah (Matt 27:9). Most likely he combined two prophecies under the more important name, as Mark joined Malachi and Isaiah under Isaiah (Mark 1:2-3). Jeremiah visited the potter, spoke judgment in the valley of Hinnom where the potter's field lay, and bought a field (Jer 18:1-4; 19:1-11; 32:6-9). Others note Jeremiah sometimes stood first among the prophets. Matthew made no mistake.
11:14 to break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel After rejecting Jesus, the nation was torn by bitter factions even while Rome surrounded Jerusalem, and the city was "trampled by the nations" (Luke 21:24). But God promised to reunite Judah and Joseph (10:6; Ezek 37:15-22). What was broken when the Shepherd was rejected will be mended when He is received (12:10).
11:16 the flesh of the fat he will devour, and their hooves he will tear off Because they rejected the good shepherd, God would let them have a bad one who neglects every needy sheep and uses the flock for himself.
11:17 Woe to the worthless shepherd, who abandons the flock! The arm is his strength, the eye his understanding, and God will destroy both. Many believe this points to the final false shepherd, the man of lawlessness and the beast (2 Thess 2:3-4; Rev 13). "If another comes in his own name, him you will receive" (John 5:43). He will make and break a covenant with Israel (Dan 9:27), and Christ will destroy him at His coming (2 Thess 2:8). Whom are you following?
12:1 The oracle of the word of the LORD concerning Israel The second oracle (9:1). The God who stretched out the heavens and formed the human spirit can do what He promises, and can change hearts, as verse 10 will show.
12:2 I am making Jerusalem a cup of reeling to all the peoples around Strong drink that makes the drinker stagger. The nations who come against Jerusalem will stumble in confusion (Isa 51:17-23).

(Yehuda) it will be, in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it will be on that day that I will make Jerusalem a stone of burden for all the peoples; all who lift it will surely be gashed; and all the nations of the earth will be gathered against it. 4 On that day," declares the LORD, "I will strike every horse with bewilderment and its rider with madness; and over the house of Judah I will open My eyes, and every horse of the peoples I will strike with blindness. 5 And the chiefs of Judah will say in their heart, 'The inhabitants of Jerusalem are strength to me in the LORD of armies their God.' 6 On that day I will make the chiefs of Judah like a pot of fire among wood and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and they will devour, on the right and on the left, all the peoples around; and Jerusalem will again dwell in her place, in Jerusalem. 7 And the LORD will save the tents of Judah first, so that the splendor of the house of David and the splendor of the inhabitants of Jerusalem will not become great above Judah. 8 On that day the LORD will defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and the one who stumbles among them on that day will be like David, and the house of David like God, like the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it will be on that day that I will seek to destroy all the nations that are coming against Jerusalem. 10 And I will pour out on the house of David and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and supplications; and they will look to Me, to Him whom they have pierced; and they will mourn over Him like a mourning over the only son, and they will show bitterness over Him as one shows bitterness over the firstborn. 11 On that day the mourning in Jerusalem will be great, like the mourning of Hadad-rimmon (Hadadrimon) in the plain of Megiddo (Megido). 12 And the land will mourn, clans by clans alone: the clan of the house of David alone, and their wives alone; the clan of the house of Nathan (Natan) alone, and their wives alone; 13 the clan of the house of Levi alone, and their wives alone; the clan of the Shimeites alone, and their wives alone; 14 all the clans that remain, clans by clans alone, and their wives alone."

A Fountain for Sin

12:3 I will make Jerusalem a stone of burden for all the peoples A heavy stone, perhaps like those in ancient lifting contests. Whoever lifts it is hurt. Armies have come against Jerusalem many times, but never yet all the nations of the earth. I believe this describes the end of the Tribulation, when the nations gather at what the Bible calls Armageddon (Rev 16:14-16; 19:19; Joel 3:2; Zech 14:2). Even now a small city draws the whole world's attention.
12:4 I will strike every horse with bewilderment and its rider with madness Horses were an army's strength. God will throw the enemy into panic, as in Israel's old battles (Judg 7:22; 2 Chr 20:22-23). His eyes will be open over Judah while the enemy is blind.
12:6 like a pot of fire among wood and like a torch of fire among sheaves A pan of burning coals in a woodpile sets everything alight. God will make His people powerful against their enemies, and Jerusalem will again dwell in her place.
12:7 the LORD will save the tents of Judah first The country homes outside the walls are saved first, so that neither David's house nor Jerusalem can boast over the rest. God saves in a way that keeps everyone humble.
12:8 the one who stumbles among them on that day will be like David, and the house of David like God, like the angel of the LORD before them The weakest will be like the warrior who killed Goliath. The angel of God went before Israel at the exodus (Exod 14:19; 23:20). Many see a hint of the Son of David, who is God, leading His people.
12:9 I will seek to destroy all the nations that are coming against Jerusalem God sets Himself to destroy the armies gathered against His city. The LORD will go out and fight (14:3), as Christ returns to destroy the armies of the beast (Rev 19:11-21).
12:10 I will pour out on the house of David and on the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit of grace and supplications Grace is undeserved favor, and supplications are humble prayers for mercy. This may be the Holy Spirit (Ezek 39:29; Joel 2:28) or a new heart that receives grace and cries to God. Israel will not turn on its own. God will turn their hearts, as He promised: "I will give you a new heart" (Ezek 36:26).
12:10 they will look to Me, to Him whom they have pierced The LORD speaks. How can God, who is spirit, be pierced? Unless God became a man. A soldier "pierced His side with a spear" (John 19:34), and John quotes Zechariah: "They will look on Him whom they pierced" (John 19:37). Look to Me, then mourn over Him: the pierced One is the LORD yet distinct, fitting the Father and the Son.
12:10 they will mourn over Him like a mourning over the only son No grief is like losing an only son or firstborn heir (Amos 8:10). A first fulfillment came at the cross and at Pentecost, when hearers "were pierced in the heart" (Acts 2:37). The full fulfillment is ahead: "every eye will see Him, and those who pierced Him" (Rev 1:7; Matt 24:29-30). I believe Israel as a nation will turn to Jesus at the end of the Tribulation when He returns, and "so all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:25-26).
12:11 like the mourning of Hadad-rimmon in the plain of Megiddo Most believe this is the mourning for Josiah, Judah's last good king, killed at Megiddo in 609 B.C. and lamented for generations (2 Chr 35:22-25). Hadad-rimmon was likely a place nearby. Some suggest a pagan god's yearly mourning, but Josiah fits much better. Josiah died for his own mistake. Jesus, the perfect King, died for His people's sins.
12:12 the clan of the house of David alone, and their wives alone; the clan of the house of Nathan alone National mourning, yet each family alone. Nathan was David's son, through whom Luke traces Jesus' line (Luke 3:31). Levi was the priestly tribe and Shimei Levi's grandson (Num 3:17-18). Those who led in rejecting Christ lead in mourning Him.
12:14 all the clans that remain, clans by clans alone, and their wives alone Even husbands and wives mourn apart. No one can repent for someone else. You cannot be saved by your family's or church's faith. "He was pierced for our transgressions" (Isa 53:5), and godly grief "produces repentance to salvation without regret" (2 Cor 7:10). Have you looked to Him? The answer to that grief is the fountain of 13:1.
13:1 On that day there will be a fountain opened for the house of David and for the inhabitants of Jerusalem, for sin and for impurity The day of 12:10. A fountain keeps flowing and never runs dry. The Law's water of impurity cleansed only the outside, for a time (Num 19:9). This cleanses the heart (Ezek 36:25). It is the cleansing of Christ's death: "the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanses us from all sin" (1 John 1:7). Opened at the cross, it has flowed ever since, and on that day the nation will be washed in it.
13:1 for sin and for impurity Sin is wrongdoing against God, and impurity the uncleanness it leaves. Notice the order: mourning over sin (12:10-14), then cleansing. God never leaves a repentant sinner in his tears. If you have grieved over your sin, come to the fountain (1 John 1:9).

(Yerushalayim), for sin and for impurity. 2 And it will be on that day, declares the LORD of armies, that I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, and they will no longer be remembered; and also the prophets and the spirit of uncleanness I will cause to pass away from the land. 3 And it will be that if a man still prophesies, then his father and his mother who bore him will say to him, "You shall not live, for you have spoken falsehood in the name of the LORD"; and his father and his mother who bore him will pierce him through when he prophesies. 4 And it will be on that day that the prophets will be ashamed, each man of his vision when he prophesies; and they will not put on a cloak of hair in order to deceive. 5 And he will say, "I am not a prophet; I am a man working the ground, for a man acquired me from my youth." 6 And one will say to him, "What are these wounds between your hands?" And he will say, "Those which I was struck with in the house of those who love me."

The Shepherd Struck

7 O sword, awake against My shepherd, and against the man who is My associate, declares the LORD of armies. Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered; and I will turn My hand against the little ones. 8 And it will be in all the land, declares the LORD, that two parts in it will be cut off and perish, and the third will be left in it. 9 And I will bring the third into the fire, and I will refine them as one refines the silver, and I will test them as one tests the gold. It will call on My name, and I will answer it; I will say, "It is My people," and it will say, "The LORD is my God."

ZECHARIAH 14

The LORD Will Be King Over All the Earth

1 Look, a day is coming for the LORD, and your plunder will be divided in your midst. 2 And I will gather all the nations to Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) for the battle, and the city will be captured, and the houses will be plundered, and the women will be ravished; and half of the city will go out into the exile, and the rest of the people will not be cut off from the city. 3 And the LORD will go out and fight against those nations, as on the day of His fighting, on a day of battle. 4 And His feet will stand on that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east; and the Mount of Olives will be split from its middle toward the east and toward the west into a very great valley; and half of the mountain will move toward

13:2 I will cut off the names of the idols from the land, and they will no longer be remembered Idolatry was Israel's oldest sin, and even the names of the false gods will be forgotten. The prophets here are false prophets, and behind them the spirit of uncleanness, the devil's power in false religion (1 Kgs 22:22; 1 John 4:1-3). The last false prophet will deceive many (Rev 13:11-14), but when Christ reigns every false voice will be removed.
13:3 his father and his mother who bore him will pierce him through when he prophesies A hard verse. The Law said a false prophet who led people to other gods must die, sparing not even family (Deut 13:6-10; 18:20). Zechariah describes that law kept in a land made holy under the King. Israel once pierced the true Prophet (12:10). Now they pierce false ones. This is no command for us. In the church false teaching is answered with truth and discipline (Titus 3:10). The point is love for God above family (Matt 10:37).
13:4 they will not put on a cloak of hair in order to deceive A hairy cloak was a prophet's clothing, worn by Elijah and John the Baptist (2 Kgs 1:8; Matt 3:4). False prophets wore it to fool people. On that day they will be ashamed and deny it, claiming to be mere farmhands since youth.
13:6 What are these wounds between your hands? Many have read this as Jesus' nail wounds, and it has been used so in songs and sermons. But the speaker is the false prophet hiding his past (13:4-5). Pagan prophets cut themselves in their rituals (1 Kgs 18:28), and he makes up an excuse. Those who love me may even mean his idol lovers (Hos 2:7). Let the context lead. The next verse is clearly about Christ.
13:7 O sword, awake against My shepherd, and against the man who is My associate Not the worthless shepherd of 11:17, but God's own good Shepherd. Associate means a close companion, an equal, used of one's neighbor (Lev 6:2). A man and God's equal: only Jesus, fully man and fully God. "I and the Father are one" (John 10:30).
13:7 Strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered God Himself sends the sword. "The LORD has caused to fall on Him the iniquity of all of us" (Isa 53:6). The cross was God's plan (Acts 2:23). Jesus quoted this the night He was arrested (Matt 26:31), and "all the disciples, having forsaken Him, fled" (Matt 26:56). Turning His hand against the little ones may mean judgment in the scattering or protection, gathering the lambs. After He rose, He gathered His disciples (Matt 28:7). He was struck in our place (John 10:11).
13:8 two parts in it will be cut off and perish, and the third will be left in it Some see the Roman war of A.D. 66-70. I believe it points to the Tribulation, "a time of distress for Jacob" (Jer 30:7; Matt 24:21). We should read it with sorrow, not curiosity. These are real people whom God loves.
13:9 I will refine them as one refines the silver, and I will test them as one tests the gold Fire does not destroy the metal but purifies it. God will use Israel's hardest days to bring out a believing remnant. "It is My people," and "The LORD is my God." The covenant is restored, reversing Hosea's Not My People (Hos 1:9; 2:23). This is the remnant who look on the pierced One and are washed (12:10; 13:1). Our faith too is "tested by fire" (1 Pet 1:7). God is refining, not destroying.
14:1 a day is coming for the LORD, and your plunder will be divided in your midst The day belongs to Him, when He acts openly in judgment and salvation (Joel 2:31). The enemy will divide Jerusalem's wealth inside its own walls.
14:2 I will gather all the nations to Jerusalem for the battle The gathering of 12:2-3, for judgment (Joel 3:2; Rev 16:14-16). I believe this is the end of the Tribulation, just before Christ returns. Some see A.D. 70, and many amillennial teachers read a picture of the church's struggle. This study reads it as future, because the Lord's feet stand on the Mount of Olives (14:4; Acts 1:11-12). The suffering of the city, the women and the exiles is told plainly. God is not praising what the armies do. He will judge them (14:12). Just when all seems lost (Matt 24:22), the LORD steps in.
14:3 the LORD will go out and fight against those nations God fought for Israel at the Red Sea (Exod 14:14), and He will fight openly for the last time. Heaven opens, and the rider on the white horse "in righteousness He judges and makes war" (Rev 19:11).
14:4 His feet will stand on that day on the Mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east Real feet on a real mountain, the ridge east of the city across the Kidron. How can the LORD have feet? God the Son became a man and still has a risen body. From Olivet He wept over Jerusalem and taught of His return (Luke 19:37-41; Matt 24:3). From there He ascended, and the angels said He "will come in the same manner" (Acts 1:11).
14:4 the Mount of Olives will be split from its middle toward the east and toward the west into a very great valley Half the mountain moves north and half south, in the great earthquake Revelation describes (Rev 16:18). I do not read this as only a picture. The angels said He would come back as He left, and Zechariah said where He would stand.

the north, and half of it toward the south. 5 And you will flee by the valley of My mountains, for the valley of the mountains will reach to Azal (Atsal); and you will flee just as you fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah (Uziya) king of Judah (Yehuda). And the LORD my God will come, and all holy ones with You. 6 And it will be on that day that there will not be light; splendid ones and congealing. 7 And it will be one day, it is known to the LORD, not day and not night; and it will be that at the time of evening there will be light. 8 And it will be on that day that living waters will go out from Jerusalem, half of them to the eastern sea and half of them to the western sea; in summer and in winter it will be. 9 And the LORD will be King over all the earth; on that day the LORD will be one, and His name one. 10 All the land will be changed like the Arabah (Arava), from Geba (Geva) to Rimmon (Rimon) south of Jerusalem; and she will be raised up and will dwell in her place, from the Gate of Benjamin (Binyamin) to the place of the first gate, to the Gate of the Corners, and from the Tower of Hananel (Chananel) to the winepresses of the king. 11 And they will dwell in her, and there will no longer be utter destruction, and Jerusalem will dwell in security. 12 And this will be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the peoples that have waged war against Jerusalem: He will make his flesh rot while he is standing on his feet, and his eyes will rot in their sockets, and his tongue will rot in their mouth. 13 And it will be on that day that a great panic from the LORD will be among them; and they will take hold, each man, of the hand of his neighbor, and his hand will rise against the hand of his neighbor. 14 And also Judah will fight at Jerusalem; and the wealth of all the nations around will be gathered, gold and silver and garments in very great abundance. 15 And so will be the plague of the horse, the mule, the camel and the donkey, and all the livestock that will be in those camps, like this plague.

The Nations Worship the King

16 And it will be that everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to bow down to the King, the LORD of armies, and to celebrate the Feast of Booths. 17 And it will be that whoever of the clans of the earth does not go up to Jerusalem to bow down to the King, the LORD of armies, the rain will not be on them. 18 And if the clan of Egypt (Mitsrayim) does not go up and does not come in, then not on them will the rain be; on them will be the plague with which the LORD will strike the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Booths. 19 This will be the punishment for the sin of Egypt and the punishment for the sin of all the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Booths. 20 On that day there will be on the bells of the horses, "Holiness to the LORD"; and the pots in the house of the LORD will be like the bowls before the altar. 21 And every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah will be holiness to the LORD of armies; and all those who sacrifice

14:5 the LORD my God will come, and all holy ones with You The new valley becomes an escape route. Azal is unknown today. The earthquake of Uzziah's day was so remembered that Amos dated his book by it (Amos 1:1). Zechariah turns to speak to God. Christ comes with the angels (Matt 25:31) and "with all His saints" (1 Thess 3:13). I believe that includes the church, caught up before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17) and now returning, "clothed in fine linen, white and pure" (Rev 19:14).
14:7 at the time of evening there will be light The Hebrew of verse 6 is hard, perhaps lights growing dim (Matt 24:29). A day unlike any other, known only to the LORD (Matt 24:36). When darkness should fall, light comes. That is how the day of the LORD ends for His people.
14:8 living waters will go out from Jerusalem, half of them to the eastern sea and half of them to the western sea Jerusalem has never had a river. This one flows to the Dead Sea and the Mediterranean all year, when most streams are dry. Ezekiel saw it turn the Dead Sea fresh (Ezek 47:1-12; Joel 3:18). This study reads it as a real river in the kingdom, and also a picture of Christ: "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37).
14:9 the LORD will be King over all the earth The summit of the book. Today the nations rage (Ps 2:1-2), but the kingdoms of the world will become Christ's (Rev 11:15). He will rule the whole world from Jerusalem, and every knee will bow (Phil 2:10-11).
14:9 the LORD will be one, and His name one Echoing Israel's confession, "Hear, Israel: the LORD our God, the LORD is one" (Deut 6:4). No rival gods, no idols. His name alone will be honored.
14:10 All the land will be changed like the Arabah, from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem The Arabah is the low Jordan and Dead Sea valley. Geba was just north of Jerusalem and Rimmon in Judah's far south. The hills will be leveled and Jerusalem lifted up (Isa 2:2). The named gates and towers marked the old city's full length and breadth.
14:11 there will no longer be utter destruction, and Jerusalem will dwell in security Utter destruction is herem, something devoted wholly to destruction. The city so often besieged and destroyed will never be again.
14:12 this will be the plague with which the LORD will strike all the peoples that have waged war against Jerusalem Short and terrible. These armies came to destroy God's people and fight the returning King, and judgment is sudden and complete (Rev 19:21). We read it without pleasure. God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezek 33:11), but He is just.
14:13 a great panic from the LORD will be among them The soldiers turn on each other as in Gideon's day (Judg 7:22). In 14:1 the enemy divided Jerusalem's plunder. Now the nations' wealth is gathered in. The tables are turned.
14:16 everyone who is left of all the nations that came against Jerusalem will go up from year to year to bow down to the King What grace. Survivors of the attacking nations will worship the King. Booths was Israel's last and most joyful feast, remembering God's care in the wilderness (Lev 23:33-43). The Word "dwelt among us" (John 1:14), pitching His tent. This also shows the thousand-year kingdom is not yet the new heavens and earth (Rev 20:4-6; 21-22). There are still nations, years and the possibility of disobedience.
14:17 the rain will not be on them The King rules with justice. No rain means no harvest, fitting for those who refuse the harvest feast. Egypt, watered by the Nile, will not escape. People born in the kingdom will still need saving faith, and at the end many join Satan's last revolt (Rev 20:7-9). Only the new birth changes the heart.
14:20 there will be on the bells of the horses, "Holiness to the LORD"; Once engraved only on the high priest's turban (Exod 28:36), now on the bells of work animals, and even the kitchen pots will be holy. The line between holy and common will be gone.
14:21 there will no longer be a Canaanite in the house of the LORD of armies on that day The word can mean trader, since Canaanites were known for trade. No unclean person and no one profiting from God's house (John 2:16). We need not wait. "Do all things to the glory of God" (1 Cor 10:31). Your work, kitchen and free time can be holiness to the Lord.

will come and take from them and boil in them. And there will no longer be a Canaanite in the house of the LORD of armies on that day.

MALACHI

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its prophet, Malachi, whose name means my messenger, fitting for a book that promises God's messenger (3:1). Malachi is the last of the twelve Minor Prophets and the last book of the Old Testament in our English Bibles. He was the last prophet God sent to Israel before John the Baptist. In the Hebrew Bible the book has three chapters, and our 4:1-6 is numbered 3:19-24 there.

Author and Date

The book names its prophet only as "Malachi" (1:1). Nothing else is known of him, not his father, his hometown or his tribe. Because the name means my messenger, some have thought it a title rather than a name, and an early Greek translation reads it as his messenger. But every other prophetic book opens with the prophet's name, and Jewish and Christian tradition has always taken Malachi as a real man. The notes take him so.

Malachi gives no date, but the setting points to Nehemiah's day. The temple was standing, with priests and sacrifices (1:7-10), and a governor ruled Judah under Persia (1:8). The sins Malachi names are the ones Nehemiah faced on his second visit: priests who defiled their office, marriages to women who served other gods, and tithes not brought to the storehouse (Neh 13:10-12, 23-29). Nehemiah went back to Artaxerxes in 433 B.C. and later returned (Neh 13:6-7), so most conservative scholars date Malachi about 433 to 420 B.C.

About eighty years had passed since the temple was finished in 516 B.C. Ezra had taught the Law, Nehemiah had rebuilt the walls, and the people had made a solemn covenant to keep God's Law, marry within the faith and bring their tithes to God's house (Neh 10). But the zeal had cooled. The great promises of Haggai and Zechariah had not yet come true in the way the people hoped. Life was hard and harvests were poor (3:11). Disappointment turned into doubt, and doubt into carelessness. The people kept up the forms of religion, brought God their leftovers and wondered why He did not bless them.

Malachi speaks in a series of six disputes. God makes a statement, the people push back with a question, often "In what...?", and God answers. The disputes concern God's love (1:2-5), the priests' contempt for His name (1:6-2:9), broken faith in marriage (2:10-16), God's justice (2:17-3:5), robbing God (3:6-12), and harsh words against Him (3:13-4:3). It reads almost like a courtroom.

After Malachi no prophet spoke in Israel for about four hundred years. Those years were not empty. Persia fell to Alexander the Great, Greek rulers came and went, the Maccabees fought for the temple, and Rome took the land. The Scriptures were translated into Greek, and Jews with their synagogues were scattered through many lands. "When the fullness of the time came, God sent forth His Son" (Gal 4:4).

Themes

God's unchanging love. The book opens, "I have loved you, says the LORD" (1:2), before a word about sin. The key verse is "For I am the LORD; I have not changed; and you, sons of Jacob, have not come to an end" (3:6). Israel survived because God was faithful.

Honor God with your best. "A son honors a father, and a servant his master" (1:6). The priests brought blind, lame and sick animals and called God's service a weariness (1:8, 13), but God is "a great King" (1:14).

Faithful teachers. The priest was to keep knowledge, "for he is the messenger of the LORD of armies" (2:7). Those who handle God's Word carry a heavy charge.

Faithfulness in marriage. The LORD was witness between a man and "the wife of your youth" (2:14). Breaking faith with her was breaking faith with God.

Honest giving. "Will a man rob God?" (3:8). Holding back the tithe left the nation under the curse.

God sees and remembers. When others said it was futile to serve God, those who feared the LORD spoke together, and "a book of remembrance was written before Him" (3:16).

The coming day. God will send His messenger, then come suddenly to His temple as a refiner (3:1-3). The day will burn the wicked like stubble, but for those who fear His name "the sun of righteousness will rise, and healing is in its wings" (4:2). Before that day God will send Elijah (4:5).

Christ in Malachi

Malachi promised a messenger who would "clear a way before Me" (3:1). The Gospels show that he was John the Baptist (Matt 11:10; Mark 1:2; Luke 7:27), who came "in the spirit and power of Elijah" (Luke 1:17; Matt 11:14). The One whose way John prepared is the LORD Himself, and the Gospels say that One is Jesus. He is the Lord who came suddenly to His temple, presented there as a baby, teaching there and cleansing it (3:1; Luke 2:22-32; John 2:13-17). He is "the messenger of the covenant" (3:1), who brought the new covenant in His blood (Luke 22:20). He will come again as the Refiner who purifies His people (3:2-3). John's father called Him "the Sunrise from on high" (Luke 1:78), echoing the sun of righteousness who rises with healing (4:2). The Old Testament ends with a warning of a curse, and the New Testament answers it: "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13).

Hard Passages

Why does God say, "Esau I hated" (1:3)? The notes explain Hebrew comparison language, in which love and hate mark a choice, and show that Malachi speaks of nations. They give the two main readings of Paul's use of it in Romans 9 and note that both see God's choice as pure grace.

When will God's name be great among the nations, with a pure offering in every place (1:11)? The notes give the two main readings, the worship of believers from every nation now and the worship of the coming kingdom, and see it begun in the gospel and completed when Christ reigns.

Does 2:16 say that God hates divorce? The notes give both main readings of this hard verse. They show that God's anger falls on the treachery and not on the one betrayed, that teachers differ on the exceptions Jesus and Paul gave, that the verse never requires anyone to stay in danger, and that there is forgiveness in Christ.

Are Christians bound to tithe, and does 3:10 promise wealth (3:8-12)? The notes give both views of the tithe fairly and explain that the promise of rain and harvest belonged to Israel under the covenant of Moses. It is not a formula for getting rich.

Who is the Elijah to come (4:5-6)? The notes show that John the Baptist fulfilled this in the spirit and power of Elijah, though not as Elijah in person (John 1:21). Since Jesus also spoke of Elijah as still to come (Matt 17:11), many believe there will be an Elijah ministry before Christ's return, in the Tribulation, and connect it with the two witnesses of Revelation 11.

I Have Loved You

1 The oracle of the word of the LORD to Israel (Yisra'el) by the hand of Malachi (Malakhi). 2 I have loved you, says the LORD. And you say, "In what have You loved us?" Was not Esau (Esav) a brother to Jacob (Ya'aqov)? declares the LORD. And I loved Jacob, 3 and Esau I hated; and I made his mountains a waste, and his inheritance for jackals of the wilderness. 4 If Edom says, "We have been shattered, and we will return and build the ruins," thus says the LORD of armies: They will build, and I will tear down; and they will call them "Territory of Wickedness," and "The People with Whom the LORD Is Indignant Forever." 5 And your eyes will see, and you will say, "The LORD is great beyond the border of Israel!"

The Priests Despise God's Name

6 A son honors a father, and a servant his master. And if I am a father, where is My honor? And if I am a master, where is My fear? says the LORD of armies to you, O priests who despise My name. And you say, "In what have we despised Your name?" 7 You are bringing near defiled bread on My altar. And you say, "In what have we defiled You?" In your saying, "The table of the LORD, it is despised." 8 And when you bring near a blind animal to sacrifice, is it not evil? And when you bring near a lame and sick animal, is it not evil? Bring it near, please, to your governor; will he be pleased with you, or will he lift up your face? says the LORD of armies. 9 And now, entreat, please, the face of God, that He may be gracious to us. From your hand this has been; will He lift up the faces of any of you? says the LORD of armies. 10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors, so that you would not light My altar for nothing? I have no pleasure in you, says the LORD of armies, and I will not accept an offering from your hand. 11 For from the rising of the sun to its setting My name is great among the nations, and in every place incense is being burned, being brought near to My name, and a pure offering; for My name is great among the nations, says the LORD of armies. 12 And you are profaning it in your saying, "The table of the Lord, it is defiled, and its fruit, its food is despised." 13 And you say, "Look, what a weariness!" and you sniff at it, says the LORD of armies; and you bring the stolen animal and the lame and the sick; and you bring the offering! Shall I accept it from your hand? says the LORD. 14 And cursed is the deceiver, when there is in his flock a male, and he vows and sacrifices a blemished animal to the Lord; for I am a great King, says the LORD of armies, and My name is feared among the nations.

1:1 The oracle of the word of the LORD to Israel by the hand of Malachi An oracle is a weighty message, and the word carries the sense of a burden, as in Zechariah 9:1 and 12:1. Malachi means my messenger. Most of the returned exiles were from Judah, yet God still calls them Israel, the whole covenant people.

1:2 I have loved you, says the LORD Before one word about their sin, God tells them He loves them. All the rebuke that follows comes from that love, for "whom the Lord loves He disciplines" (Heb 12:6). Their doubting reply is the first of the questions that shape the book (1:6, 7; 2:14, 17; 3:7, 8, 13).

1:3 and Esau I hated Hebrew often uses love and hate to compare a choice. Leah "was hated" (Gen 29:31) means Jacob loved Rachel more (Gen 29:30), and Jesus calls a disciple to "hate his own father and mother" (Luke 14:26) by comparison with love for Him. God chose Jacob and not Esau to carry the promise (Gen 25:23). Malachi speaks of nations here, Edom's mountains and inheritance.

1:3 and I made his mountains a waste, and his inheritance for jackals of the wilderness Edom was the rugged country southeast of the Dead Sea. By Malachi's day it had been ravaged, likely by Arab tribes pushing in from the desert. Paul quotes 1:2-3, "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated" (Rom 9:13), to show God's choice rests on mercy, made before the twins had done "anything good or evil" (Rom 9:11). Good teachers read Romans 9 either of individuals chosen for salvation or of nations and people chosen for a role in God's plan. Both agree it was pure grace (Deut 7:7).

1:4 They will build, and I will tear down Edom thought it could bounce back, but it never rose again as a nation in its own land. Many of its people moved into south Judah, later called Idumeans, and after the Roman wars of the first century A.D. they vanish from history. Edom had cheered when Jerusalem fell (Obad 10-14; Ps 137:7).

1:6 O priests who despise My name To despise is to treat as worthless. The priests, who served at His altar every day, should have honored His name most. Their reply shows they did not even see it. Coldness creeps in slowly.

1:7 You are bringing near defiled bread on My altar Bread means the food of the altar, the sacrifices. The table of the LORD is the altar. By their actions they said it did not matter, anything will do.

1:8 when you bring near a blind animal to sacrifice, is it not evil? The Law required animals without blemish (Lev 22:20-22; Deut 15:21). The priests accepted the worst of the flock and the best stayed home. They would never offer such a gift to the Persian governor. David would not offer "burnt offerings without cost" (2 Sam 24:24).

1:10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors God would rather someone close the temple doors than keep up empty, insulting worship. "This people draws near to Me with their mouth" (Matt 15:8), but their heart is far away.

1:11 from the rising of the sun to its setting My name is great among the nations From east to west. The priests at God's own altar despise His name, but the nations will honor it. Many see this now in worship "in spirit and truth" (John 4:23) from every nation, with prayers like incense (Rev 5:8) and "a sacrifice of praise" (Heb 13:15). Others see it mainly in the coming kingdom (Zech 14:16). It began with the gospel and will be complete when Christ reigns.

1:14 for I am a great King, says the LORD of armies The chapter begins with God's love and ends with His greatness. Because He loves us we may come to Him, and because He is the great King we come with reverence and bring our best.

The Covenant With Levi

1 And now, to you is this commandment, O priests. 2 If you will not listen, and if you will not put it on your heart to give glory to My name, says the LORD of armies, and I will send the curse on you, and I will curse your blessings; and also I have cursed it, because you are not putting it on your heart. 3 Look, I am rebuking the seed for you, and I will scatter dung on your faces, the dung of your festivals; and one will carry you away to it. 4 And you will know that I have sent to you this commandment, for My covenant to be with Levi, says the LORD of armies. 5 My covenant was with him, the life and the peace, and I gave them to him for fear; and he feared Me, and before My name he was dismayed. 6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and injustice was not found on his lips; in peace and in uprightness he walked with Me, and many he turned back from iniquity. 7 For the lips of a priest shall keep knowledge, and they shall seek law from his mouth; for he is the messenger of the LORD of armies. 8 And you, you have turned aside from the way; you have caused many to stumble by the law; you have corrupted the covenant of Levi, says the LORD of armies. 9 And also I, I have made you despised and low before all the people, inasmuch as you are not keeping My ways, and are showing partiality in the law.

Faithless to the Wife of Your Youth

10 Is there not one father for all of us? Has not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously, each man against his brother, to profane the covenant of our fathers? 11 Judah (Yehuda) has dealt treacherously, and an abomination has been done in Israel (Yisra'el) and in Jerusalem (Yerushalayim); for Judah has profaned the holiness of the LORD, which He loves, and has married the daughter of a foreign god. 12 May the LORD cut off, for the man who does it, the one who wakes and the one who answers, from the tents of Jacob (Ya'aqov), and the one who brings near an offering to the LORD of armies. 13 And this second thing you do: covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping and groaning, because there is no longer turning to the offering, or taking it with favor from your hand. 14 And you say, "On account of what?" Because the LORD has testified between you and the wife of your youth, against whom you have dealt treacherously; and she is your companion and the wife of your covenant. 15 And did He not make one, and a remnant of spirit is His? And what is the one seeking? A seed of God. And you shall take heed in your spirit, and against the wife of your youth let none deal treacherously. 16 For he hates sending away, says the LORD, the God of Israel, and he covers his clothing with violence, says the LORD of armies. And you shall take heed in your spirit, and you shall not deal treacherously.

2:2 if you will not put it on your heart to give glory to My name To take it seriously, a matter of the heart and not only the hands. Giving glory to God's name was the priests' whole work.
2:3 I will scatter dung on your faces, the dung of your festivals Deliberately shocking. The waste of sacrificed animals was carried outside the camp and burned (Exod 29:14; Lev 4:11-12). Those who treated the altar with contempt would be treated as refuse. The seed may be their grain crop or their offspring.
2:5 My covenant was with him, the life and the peace Moses blessed Levi to teach God's judgments and Law (Deut 33:8-11), and God gave Phinehas "My covenant of peace" (Num 25:12).
2:6 The law of truth was in his mouth, and injustice was not found on his lips The faithful priests of old taught truly, walked with God and turned many from sin. Every pastor, teacher and parent can pray to be like that.
2:7 For the lips of a priest shall keep knowledge The priest was to know and guard God's Word so people could learn from him. Ezra "had set his heart to seek the law of the LORD and to do it" (Ezra 7:10).
2:7 for he is the messenger of the LORD of armies Messenger is malak, the word in Malachi's name and in 3:1. Under the new covenant every believer belongs to "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet 2:5).
2:9 showing partiality in the law Favoritism, bending the rules for the rich and important. They despised God's name (1:6), so God made them despised. Believers must not hold the faith "with partiality" (James 2:1).
2:10 Is there not one father for all of us? The father may be Abraham or Jacob, or God Himself (Isa 63:16; 64:8). The next line suggests God. To deal treacherously means to break faith with someone who trusted you, the key word of 2:10-16, used five times.
2:11 has married the daughter of a foreign god A woman who served another god. The problem was faith, not race. Such marriages would "turn your son away from after Me" (Deut 7:4), as with Solomon (1 Kgs 11:4). Rahab and Ruth turned to the LORD and are in Jesus' line (Matt 1:5). Ezra and Nehemiah faced this too (Ezra 9-10; Neh 13:23-27). A believer should marry "only in the Lord" (1 Cor 7:39; 2 Cor 6:14).
2:14 the LORD has testified between you and the wife of your youth The woman a man married young and started life with. Many were divorcing older wives, perhaps for younger women or wealthy ones who served other gods (2:11), and a divorced woman was often left alone and poor. God was a witness to the vows. Marriage is a covenant before God (Prov 2:17). How husbands treat wives affects their prayers, "so that your prayers may not be cut off" (1 Pet 3:7).
2:15 And did He not make one, and a remnant of spirit is his? One of the hardest verses in the Old Testament to translate, and versions differ. Most likely God made husband and wife one, "one flesh" (Gen 2:24; Matt 19:6). He had the power of spirit to make many wives for Adam, but made one.
2:16 For he hates sending away Read two main ways. Many translations make God the subject: He hates divorce. Others describe the man who hates his wife and sends her away, covering his garment with violence. The SLB's small "he" leaves it open. Both say God takes the treacherous breaking of a marriage seriously. His anger is against the treachery, not the one betrayed. He is "near to the broken of heart" (Ps 34:18). Jesus and Paul spoke of exceptions (Matt 19:9; 1 Cor 7:15), and teachers differ on what they allow. This verse never requires anyone to stay in danger. There is forgiveness for those who caused a divorce (1 John 1:7; Rom 8:1).

17 You have wearied the LORD with your words. And you say, "In what have we wearied Him?" In your saying, "Everyone who does evil is good in the eyes of the LORD, and in them He delights," or, "Where is the God of justice?"

MALACHI 3

1 Look, I am sending My messenger, and he will clear a way before Me; and suddenly the Lord whom you are seeking will come to His temple, and the messenger of the covenant, in whom you delight; look, He is coming, says the LORD of armies. 2 And who endures the day of His coming? And who is the one standing when He appears? For He is like the fire of a refiner and like the soap of launderers. 3 And He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; and He will purify the sons of Levi, and He will refine them like gold and like silver; and they will be to the LORD those bringing near an offering in righteousness. 4 And the offering of Judah (Yehuda) and Jerusalem (Yerushalayim) will be pleasing to the LORD, like the days of old and like former years. 5 And I will draw near to you for judgment, and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers and against the adulterers and against those who swear to falsehood, and against those who oppress the wages of the hired laborer, the widow and the fatherless, and those who thrust aside the sojourner; and they do not fear Me, says the LORD of armies.

Will a Man Rob God?

6 For I am the LORD; I have not changed; and you, sons of Jacob (Ya'aqov), have not come to an end. 7 From the days of your fathers you have turned aside from My statutes and have not kept them. Return to Me, and let Me return to you, says the LORD of armies. And you say, "In what shall we return?" 8 Will a man rob God? Yet you are robbing Me. And you say, "In what have we robbed You?" In the tithe and the contribution. 9 With the curse you are cursed, and Me you are robbing, the nation, all of it. 10 Bring all the tithe into the storehouse, and let there be food in My house; and test Me, please, by this, says the LORD of armies, if I will not open for you the windows of the heavens, and pour out for you blessing until there is not enough room. 11 And I will rebuke the devourer for you, and it will not destroy for you the fruit of the ground, and the vine in the field will not be barren for you, says the LORD of armies. 12 And all the nations will call you blessed, for you will be a land of delight, says the LORD of armies.

The Book of Remembrance

13 Your words have been strong against Me, says the LORD. And you say, "What have we spoken together against You?" 14 You have said, "It is futile to serve God; and what profit is it that we have kept His charge, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of armies? 15 And now we are calling the arrogant blessed; also those who do wickedness

3:15 Matt 4:7; Mal 4:1; Esth 5:10

2:17 You have wearied the LORD with your words God never grows weary in body (Isa 40:28), but cynical words try His patience. They saw the wicked prosper and said God must like them, or asked, "Where is the God of justice?" The psalmist envied "the peace of the wicked" (Ps 73:3) until he saw their end (Ps 73:17). An honest question is not wrong. God's answer comes at once: "Look, I am sending My messenger" (3:1).
3:1 Look, I am sending My messenger, and he will clear a way before Me My messenger is malakhi, the prophet's own name. A messenger went ahead of a traveling king to clear the road (Isa 40:3). Jesus said of John the Baptist, "this is he concerning whom it has been written" (Matt 11:10), and quoted this verse (Luke 7:27; Mark 1:2). Malachi says before Me, and the Gospels say before Your face. The LORD who comes is Jesus.
3:1 suddenly the Lord whom you are seeking will come to His temple The people asked where God was. Jesus was presented in the second temple as a baby (Luke 2:22-32), taught there and cleansed it, calling it "the house of My Father" (John 2:16). It was His temple because He was its Lord.
3:1 the messenger of the covenant, in whom you delight A second messenger, the Lord Himself. Jesus is "the mediator of a new covenant" (Heb 9:15), sealed in His blood (Luke 22:20).
3:2 And who endures the day of His coming? They wanted God to judge the wicked but forgot He would judge them too. A refiner melts metal to skim off its dross, and a launderer scrubbed cloth with strong soap. Both picture cleansing that is thorough, painful and good.
3:3 He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver A refiner sits by the fire and watches, knowing how much heat the metal needs. He begins with the priests who despised His name (1:6), for judgment begins "from the house of God" (1 Pet 4:17). Like Zechariah 9:9-10, this sees both comings together. John's preaching and the temple cleansing were a foretaste. The full refining is at Christ's second coming (Zech 13:9; Ezek 44:15). God still refines His people (1 Pet 1:7).
3:5 I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers and against the adulterers They asked for the God of justice (2:17), and here He is, against liars and those who cheat workers and oppress the widow, the fatherless and the foreigner. The root of it all: "they do not fear Me."
3:6 For I am the LORD; I have not changed His character, promises and purposes are always the same. "God is not a man, that He should lie" (Num 23:19). With Him "there is no variation or shadow of turning" (James 1:17), and "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever" (Heb 13:8).
3:6 sons of Jacob, have not come to an end Israel was still here, not because they were faithful but because God was (Jer 31:35-36). "The gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable" (Rom 11:29), and He still has a future for Israel. Our security in Christ rests on His faithfulness too.
3:8 In the tithe and the contribution The tithe was a tenth of harvest and herds (Lev 27:30). It supported the Levites, who had no land (Num 18:21), and every third year a tithe fed Levites, foreigners, orphans and widows (Deut 14:28-29). The contribution was the priests' portion. When it was held back, the Levites left the temple to farm (Neh 13:10-12).
3:10 Bring all the tithe into the storehouse The temple storerooms where grain, wine and oil fed the Levites and priests (Neh 13:12-13). Bring all of it, not part.
3:10 test Me, please, by this The windows of the heavens send rain (Gen 7:11), a harvest too great to store. Believers differ on whether the tithe is required of Christians. Some point to Abraham's tenth before the Law (Gen 14:20). Others hold that the New Testament calls for generous, regular, cheerful giving without a fixed percentage (1 Cor 16:2; 2 Cor 9:7), and many still see a tenth as a good start. This was a promise to Israel about rain and harvest, not a formula for getting rich. "The love of money is a root of all the evils" (1 Tim 6:10). God does bless givers (2 Cor 9:8), though the blessing may be peace, provision and treasure in heaven (Phil 4:19).
3:14 It is futile to serve God They kept the rules and put on a sad face in fasting, did not get what they wanted, and decided serving God did not pay. Their religion was a business deal. We serve Him because He is God and He loves us.

have been built up; also they have tested God, and they have escaped." 16 Then those who fear the LORD spoke together, each man with his neighbor; and the LORD paid attention and heard, and a book of remembrance was written before Him for those who fear the LORD and for those who esteem His name. 17 And they will be Mine, says the LORD of armies, for the day that I am making, a treasured possession; and I will spare them, as a man spares his son who serves him. 18 And you will again see the difference between the righteous and the wicked, between one who serves God and one who does not serve Him.

The Sun of Righteousness

1 For look, the day is coming, burning like the furnace; and all the arrogant and everyone who does wickedness will be stubble; and the day that is coming will set them ablaze, says the LORD of armies, so that it will not leave them root or branch. 2 And for you who fear My name the sun of righteousness will rise, and healing is in its wings; and you will go out and leap like calves of the stall. 3 And you will tread down the wicked, for they will be ashes under the soles of your feet on the day that I am acting, says the LORD of armies.

Remember Moses, and Elijah Will Come

4 Remember the law of Moses (Moshe) My servant, which I commanded him at Horeb (Chorev) for all Israel (Yisra'el), statutes and judgments. 5 Look, I am sending to you Elijah (Eliya) the prophet before the coming of the great and awesome day of the LORD. 6 And he will turn back the heart of fathers to sons, and the heart of sons to their fathers, lest I come and strike the land with a devoted destruction.

3:16 a book of remembrance was written before Him While others complained, a faithful remnant met and encouraged one another (Heb 10:24-25), and the LORD heard. Persian kings recorded those who served them for reward, as with Mordecai (Esth 2:21-23; 6:1-3). Scripture speaks of God's book elsewhere (Exod 32:32; Ps 56:8; Rev 20:12), and Jesus said, rejoice "that your names were written in the heavens" (Luke 10:20). Nothing done for Him is forgotten.

4:1 the day is coming, burning like the furnace The day of the LORD (Zech 14; Zeph 1). A furnace is a clay oven heated until it glows. They called the arrogant blessed (3:15), but the arrogant will be stubble, gone in a moment, no root below or branch above. "The chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire" (Matt 3:12). I believe this comes in the judgments at the end of the Tribulation and Christ's return (Rev 19:11-21), and in the final judgment after the thousand years (Rev 20:11-15).

4:2 for you who fear My name the sun of righteousness will rise The day that burns the wicked brings sunrise for the faithful remnant of 3:16. The SLB prints sun with a small letter, as a picture, the light of God's righteousness breaking over a dark world. Many teachers from the early church on have seen Christ, and this study reads it so. John's father echoed Malachi: "the Sunrise from on high has visited us" (Luke 1:78). Jesus is "the light of the world" (John 8:12), "Jesus Christ the Righteous One" (1 John 2:1).

4:2 and healing is in its wings The wings are the sun's rays, spreading like a great bird's. The word can also mean the corners of a garment (Num 15:38), and many connect the woman who touched the fringe of Jesus' garment (Matt 9:20-22; 14:36), a lovely picture but not one the text spells out. He healed every disease (Matt 4:23; 8:17), above all sin, "by His wound there was healing for us" (Isa 53:5), and at His return He will heal fully (Rev 22:2).

4:4 Remember the law of Moses My servant, which I commanded him at Horeb Horeb is Sinai, about a thousand years earlier. Until the messenger came, they had what they needed. Malachi showed what happened when they forgot it. The Law pointed to Christ, "for he wrote concerning Me" (John 5:46; Gal 3:24). "The law was given through Moses; the grace and the truth came through Jesus Christ" (John 1:17). Moses and Elijah, the Law and the Prophets, later stood with Jesus (Matt 17:3).

4:5 Look, I am sending to you Elijah the prophet Elijah stood against Baal about 860 B.C. (1 Kgs 18) and was taken up without dying (2 Kgs 2:11). John came "in the spirit and power of Elijah" (Luke 1:17), dressed like him (Matt 3:4; 2 Kgs 1:8), and Jesus said, "he himself is Elijah, who is about to come" (Matt 11:14). Yet John said, "I am not" (John 1:21), for he was not Elijah in person.

4:5 before the coming of the great and awesome day of the LORD Jesus said both "Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things" (Matt 17:11) and "Elijah has already come" (Matt 17:12), speaking of John (Matt 17:13). Israel did not receive John or the King he announced. Many believe there will also be an Elijah ministry before the second coming, in the Tribulation, and connect it with the two witnesses who "have authority to shut heaven" (Rev 11:6; 1 Kgs 17:1). Some think one is Elijah himself, others that they come in his spirit. Scripture does not name them.

4:6 he will turn back the heart of fathers to sons, and the heart of sons to their fathers More than ending family quarrels. A whole generation turned back to God, so children share the faith of their fathers. John would "make ready for the Lord a people prepared" (Luke 1:17). The cure for broken homes (2:14-16) is hearts turned to God.

4:6 lest I come and strike the land with a devoted destruction Herem, something given over wholly to God for destruction, as Jericho (Josh 6:17). In synagogue reading verse 5 is often read again after verse 6, so as not to end on judgment. Four hundred years later Matthew opens with "Jesus, who is called Christ" (Matt 1:16). The Old Testament closes with a curse, the New with grace (Rev 22:21), because "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law" (Gal 3:13).

MATTHEW

Introduction

Title

The book is named for Matthew, the tax collector Jesus called to follow Him. It is the first book of the New Testament and the first of the four Gospels. The word gospel means good news. Matthew, Mark and Luke are called the Synoptic Gospels, from a word that means seen together, because they tell many of the same events in much the same order. Matthew is the Gospel of the King. He shows that Jesus is the Messiah, the promised Son of David who has the right to David's throne.

Author and Date

The book does not name its writer, but the early church agreed from the start that Matthew wrote it. Matthew, also called Levi, was a tax collector whom Jesus called (9:9; Mark 2:14) and who became one of the twelve apostles (10:3). Tax collectors worked for Rome and were hated by their own people, yet only this Gospel calls him "Matthew the tax collector" (10:3). He did not hide where he came from, and a man used to careful records wrote a carefully ordered book. Some modern scholars doubt that Matthew wrote it, mostly because they believe the writer used Mark. I take the early church's witness at its word. Matthew does not say when he wrote. Most who hold that he wrote it date it about A.D. 50 to 60, before the Romans destroyed the temple in A.D. 70. Jesus' words about the temple's fall (24:1-2) read like a prophecy still waiting to happen. Some suggest he wrote in Judea, others in Antioch of Syria (Acts 11:19-26).

Background and Setting

Matthew wrote mainly for Jewish readers. He does not stop to explain Jewish customs the way Mark does, he traces Jesus' line to Abraham and David, and he quotes the Old Testament more than any other Gospel writer. Again and again he says a thing happened "so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled" (1:22). Yet Gentiles keep showing up with surprising faith: the wise men (2:1-12), a centurion (8:5-13), a Canaanite mother (15:21-28), and the centurion at the cross (27:54).

Jesus was born in Bethlehem and grew up in Nazareth in Galilee. Most of His ministry in Matthew takes place around the Sea of Galilee, with Capernaum as His home base, before He goes south to Jerusalem for the last week of His life. The land was under Rome. Herod the Great was king when Jesus was born; later his sons ruled parts of the land, and Judea was governed by Pontius Pilate. The Pharisees, Sadducees and scribes are explained in the notes where they first appear.

Jesus is the promised Messiah and King. The heart of the book is Peter's confession: "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God" (16:16). The fulfillment sayings show that His birth, His home towns, His healing, His parables, His entry into Jerusalem and even His betrayal were all foretold. The God of Israel has kept His word.

Matthew speaks of "the kingdom of the heavens" more than thirty times. Mark and Luke say the kingdom of God in the same places, so the phrases mean the same thing; many Jews said heaven in place of God's name out of reverence. The kingdom is God's rule through His King. It drew near when the King came, it is entered now by repentance and faith, and it will come in full, visible form when Jesus returns and reigns on the earth for a thousand years (Rev 20:1-6). Israel's leaders rejected the King, but God has not cast off His people (Rom 11:25-29).

Matthew gathers Jesus' teaching into five long sermons: the Sermon on the Mount (5-7), the sending of the twelve (10), the parables of the kingdom (13), greatness and forgiveness (18), and the Olivet Discourse (24-25). Each ends with nearly the same words, "when Jesus had finished" (7:28).

Christ in Matthew

Jesus is the Son of David and the Son of Abraham (1:1), born of a virgin, and named Immanuel, "God with us" (1:23). He came to "save His people from their sins" (1:21), to fulfill the Law and the Prophets (5:17), and to "give His life as a ransom for many" (20:28). Israel's leaders rejected their King and handed Him to the Romans, but He rose with "All authority" in heaven and on earth (28:18), sent His followers to make disciples of all the nations, and promised to be with them to the end of the age. He will come again in power and great glory to sit on the throne of His glory (25:31).

Hard Passages

Why do Matthew's and Luke's family lines differ (1:1-17; Luke 3:23-38)? Many believe Matthew gives Joseph's legal, royal line and Luke gives Mary's; others see two lines of Joseph. The notes at 1:16 name both.

What does the exception clause allow (5:32; 19:9)? Good teachers differ on divorce and remarriage, and the notes name the main views without taking a hard side.

Who is the rock (16:18)? The notes give the Protestant reading, that the church is built on Christ as Peter confessed Him, and name the Roman Catholic view.

The Olivet Discourse (24-25) is read in the notes as looking mainly ahead to the future Tribulation and the Second Coming, after the church has been caught up to the Lord. The notes explain why the gathering of 24:31 and the one "taken" in 24:40-41 are not the rapture, name the three views of "this generation" (24:34), and name the views of "My brothers" (25:40).

Other hard places include the unforgivable sin (12:31-32), "until the Son of Man comes" (10:23), the coming in 16:28, Jeremiah named in 27:9, and the saints raised in 27:52-53. A few verses printed in the SLB, the end of the Lord's Prayer (6:13) and 17:21, 18:11 and 23:14, are missing from most older Greek copies; the notes say so where they appear.

The Family Line of Jesus Christ

1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus (Iesous) Christ, son of David (Dabid), son of Abraham (Abraam). 2 Abraham fathered Isaac (Isaak), and Isaac fathered Jacob (Iakob), and Jacob fathered Judah (Ioudas) and his brothers. 3 And Judah fathered Perez (Phares) and Zerah (Zara) by Tamar (Thamar), and Perez fathered Hezron (Esrom), and Hezron fathered Aram. 4 And Aram fathered Amminadab (Aminadab), and Amminadab fathered Nahshon (Naasson), and Nahshon fathered Salmon. 5 And Salmon fathered Boaz (Booz) by Rahab (Hrachab), and Boaz fathered Obed by Ruth (Hrouth), and Obed fathered Jesse (Iessai). 6 And Jesse fathered David the king. And David the king fathered Solomon by the wife of Uriah (Ourias). 7 And Solomon fathered Rehoboam (Hroboam), and Rehoboam fathered Abijah (Abia), and Abijah fathered Asa. 8 And Asa fathered Jehoshaphat (Iosaphat), and Jehoshaphat fathered Jehoram (Ioram), and Jehoram fathered Uzziah (Ozias). 9 And Uzziah fathered Jotham (Ioatham), and Jotham fathered Ahaz (Achaz), and Ahaz fathered Hezekiah (Ezekias). 10 And Hezekiah fathered Manasseh (Manasses), and Manasseh fathered Amon, and Amon fathered Josiah (Iosias). 11 And Josiah fathered Jeconiah (Iechonias) and his brothers at the time of the deportation to Babylon. 12 And after the deportation to Babylon, Jeconiah fathered Shealtiel (Salathiel), and Shealtiel fathered Zerubbabel (Zorobabel). 13 And Zerubbabel fathered Abiud (Abioud), and Abiud fathered Eliakim (Eliakeim), and Eliakim fathered Azor. 14 And Azor fathered Zadok (Sadok), and Zadok fathered Akim (Acheim), and Akim fathered Eliud (Elioud). 15 And Eliud fathered Eleazar, and Eleazar fathered Matthan, and Matthan fathered Jacob. 16 And Jacob fathered Joseph (Ioseph), the husband of Mary (Maria), of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ. 17 So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations, and from David until the deportation to Babylon fourteen generations, and from the deportation to Babylon until the Christ fourteen generations.

1:1 The book of the genealogy of Jesus Christ A genealogy is a family line. For a Jewish reader it was proof of who a man was and what he had a right to. Jesus was His given name. Christ is a title, not a last name: Christos means anointed one, the same as the Hebrew Messiah. Israel was waiting for the Anointed One, the great King God had promised.
1:1 son of David, son of Abraham The two men God made His biggest promises to. In Abraham's seed all nations would be blessed (Gen 22:18), and a son of David would sit on his throne forever (2 Sam 7:12-16). From the first line Matthew tells us Jesus is the One both promises pointed to.
1:3 by Tamar Jewish family lines usually listed only men, but Matthew names four women before Mary: Tamar (Gen 38), Rahab the Canaanite (Josh 2), Ruth the Moabite (Deut 23:3), and Bathsheba. I believe he wants us to see grace. God built the line of His Son out of sinners and outsiders, Gentiles and Jews.
1:6 by the wife of Uriah Matthew does not even name Bathsheba. Calling her "the wife of Uriah" reminds us of David's sin (2 Sam 11). If God could work through that family, He can work through yours, and He can save you.
1:8 Jehoram fathered Uzziah Matthew skips three kings here: Ahaziah, Joash and Amaziah (2 Kgs 8:24; 12:21; 14:21). That was not a mistake. Jewish family lines often skipped generations, and "fathered" can mean was the ancestor of. Some of these kings were godly, like Hezekiah and Josiah, and many were wicked, like Manasseh, yet God kept His promise to David through all of them.
1:11 the deportation to Babylon The great disaster of Israel's history. In 586 B.C. Babylon destroyed Jerusalem and the temple and carried the people away. From that day no son of David sat on a throne in Jerusalem. The throne had been empty for almost six hundred years.
1:12 Jeconiah fathered Shealtiel Jeconiah was so wicked that God said none of his descendants would prosper on David's throne (Jer 22:30). Zerubbabel led the people back from Babylon and rebuilt the temple (Ezra 3:8). Most names after him appear nowhere else in the Bible and may come from Joseph's family records.
1:16 Joseph, the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus All down the list the pattern is "fathered." Here it changes. In Greek "whom" is feminine: Jesus was born of Mary, not fathered by Joseph. Matthew is getting us ready for the virgin birth.
1:16 who is called Christ Luke's family line differs after David (Luke 3:23-38). Many believe Matthew gives Joseph's legal, royal line and Luke gives Mary's. Others believe both are Joseph's, one legal and one natural. Either way Jesus is a true son of David, with the legal right through Joseph and David's flesh and blood through Mary. Not being Joseph's natural son, He escaped the curse on Jeconiah.
1:17 fourteen generations Three groups: the rise of the nation to its king, the fall of the kingdom, and the coming of the true King. Why fourteen? Matthew does not say. Some note the Hebrew letters of David add up to fourteen, but we can't be sure. The list shows history moving toward a goal. God did not forget His promise.
1:18 betrothed to Joseph A betrothal was much stronger than an engagement today. It was a binding agreement, often lasting about a year. The couple were called husband and wife and only a divorce could end it, but they did not yet live together.
1:18 she was found having a child in the womb from the Holy Spirit Mary was a virgin. No man was the father; the Holy Spirit formed the body of Jesus in her womb (Luke 1:34-35). Jesus did not begin to exist there. As the Son of God He always existed (John 1:1-2). He took on a full human nature without ceasing to be God, so He could take our place without sin of His own.
1:19 being righteous and not willing to make her a public example Joseph knew the child was not his. The Law allowed even death for unfaithfulness during a betrothal (Deut 22:23-24), though that was rarely done then. He planned a quiet divorce before a few witnesses. Being righteous and being merciful go together.

righteous and not willing to make her a public example, purposed to send her away secretly. 20 And while he was pondering these things, look, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream, saying, "Joseph, son of David, do not fear to take Mary as your wife, for that which has been conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. 21 And she will bear a son, and you will call His name Jesus, for He Himself will save His people from their sins." 22 And all this has come to pass so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, 23 "Look, the virgin will have a child in the womb, and will bear a son, and they will call His name Immanuel," which is translated, "God with us." 24 And Joseph, having been awakened from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took his wife, 25 and he was not knowing her until she had brought forth her firstborn son; and he called His name Jesus.

The Wise Men Worship the King

1 Now when Jesus (Iesous) had been born in Bethlehem (Bethleem) of Judea (Ioudaia) in the days of Herod (Herodes) the king, look, Magi from the east arrived in Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), 2 saying, "Where is the One who has been born King of the Jews? For we saw His star in the east, and have come to worship Him." 3 And having heard this, Herod the king was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. 4 And having gathered together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he was inquiring of them where the Christ is born. 5 And they said to him, "In Bethlehem of Judea; for thus it has been written through the prophet: 6 'And you, Bethlehem, land of Judah (Iouda), are by no means least among the rulers of Judah; for out of you will go forth One leading, who will shepherd My people Israel.'" 7 Then Herod, having secretly called the Magi, ascertained exactly from them the time of the appearing star. 8 And having sent them to Bethlehem, he said, "Having gone, search carefully for the child; and when you have found Him, bring word back to me, so that I also, having come, may worship Him." 9 And having heard the king, they went away; and look, the star which they saw in the east was going before them, until, having come, it stood over where the child was. 10 And having seen

1:20 while he was pondering these things Joseph did not rush, and God met him as he thought it through. "Joseph, son of David" reminds us he was in the royal line. He would have to live with the whispers of people who did not believe. Many of us are called to obey God when others don't understand.
1:21 you will call His name Jesus Naming the child was the father's job. By naming Him, Joseph adopted Jesus as his legal son and gave Him His place in David's line. Jesus is the Greek form of Yeshua, or Joshua, the Lord saves.
1:21 He Himself will save His people from their sins Many wanted a Messiah to save them from Rome. Jesus came to save them from something much worse. Our worst enemy is not a government or a person. It is our own sin, and only Jesus can save us from it.
1:22 so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled The first of Matthew's fulfillment formulas. He uses words like these again and again to show his Jewish readers that Jesus is the One the Scriptures promised.
1:23 Look, the virgin will have a child in the womb From Isaiah 7:14, given to King Ahaz seven hundred years before. Some say the Hebrew word means only young woman, but the Jewish scholars who put Isaiah into Greek before Jesus chose parthenos, virgin, and Matthew uses it. Teachers differ on whether Isaiah's sign also had a near meaning in Ahaz's day, but its full meaning is the virgin birth.
1:23 God with us Jesus was not just a messenger from God. He was God Himself come to live among us. Matthew begins with "God with us" and ends with Jesus saying "I am with you all the days" (28:20).
1:24 did as the angel of the Lord commanded him Joseph never says a word in the whole Bible, but his actions say a great deal. He did not argue or ask for a second sign. He obeyed at once.
1:25 he was not knowing her until she had brought forth her firstborn son To know is the Bible's polite way of speaking of the union of husband and wife (Gen 4:1). Joseph kept Mary a virgin until Jesus was born. "Until" points to a normal marriage after that, and Matthew later names Jesus' brothers and sisters (13:55-56). Some churches teach Mary stayed a virgin all her life, but I believe the plain reading is that she and Joseph had other children.
2:1 in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king Bethlehem, about six miles south of Jerusalem, was David's hometown (1 Sam 16:1). Herod the Great was an Idumean, descended from Esau, made king by Rome. He rebuilt the temple on a grand scale, and he was cruel and jealous enough to kill a wife and several sons. He died about 4 B.C.; our calendar was worked out a few years off, and Jesus was most likely born a year or two before that.
2:1 Magi from the east Wise men, most likely from Persia or Babylon, who studied the stars and advised kings. Scripture does not say how many. Many Jews had lived in Babylon since the exile, Daniel had led the wise men there (Dan 2:48), and Balaam spoke of a star from Jacob (Num 24:17).
2:3 Herod the king was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him Herod was king of the Jews in Rome's eyes, and now someone asked about a King born to that throne. Jerusalem was troubled because it knew what Herod did when he felt threatened.
2:4 the chief priests and scribes of the people The chief priests were the leading priests in Jerusalem, including the high priest's family. The scribes were experts in the Law of Moses who copied, studied and taught it. Herod understood the Magi were asking about the Messiah.
2:6 who will shepherd My people Israel From Micah 5:2, joined with God's words about David (2 Sam 5:2). These men could quote chapter and verse, yet not one walked the short road to Bethlehem with the Magi. It is possible to know the right answers about Jesus and never come to Him.
2:8 so that I also, having come, may worship Him Herod planned to kill, not worship. People can use the language of faith to cover what they really want. God sees the heart.
2:9 it stood over where the child was Ordinary stars do not lead travelers and stop over one house. Some suggest a comet or a joining of planets, but those would not do this. I believe it was a special light God provided, like the pillar of fire in the wilderness (Exod 13:21).

the star, they rejoiced with exceedingly great joy. 11 And having come into the house, they saw the child with Mary (Maria) His mother, and having fallen down they worshiped Him; and having opened their treasures, they offered to Him gifts: gold and frankincense and myrrh. 12 And having been divinely warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they withdrew into their country by another way.

The Flight to Egypt

13 And when they had withdrawn, look, an angel of the Lord appears in a dream to Joseph (Ioseph), saying, "Having arisen, take the child and His mother, and flee into Egypt (Aigyptos), and remain there until I tell you; for Herod is about to seek the child to destroy Him." 14 And having arisen, he took the child and His mother by night and withdrew into Egypt, 15 and he was there until the death of Herod, so that what was spoken by the Lord through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, "Out of Egypt I called My Son." 16 Then Herod, having seen that he had been mocked by the Magi, was greatly enraged; and having sent forth, he killed all the boys who were in Bethlehem and in all its vicinity, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had ascertained exactly from the Magi. 17 Then was fulfilled what was spoken by Jeremiah (Hieremias) the prophet, saying, 18 "A voice was heard in Ramah (Hrama), lamentation and weeping and great mourning, Rachel (Hrachel) weeping for her children; and she was not willing to be comforted, because they are no more."

The Return to Nazareth

19 And when Herod had died, look, an angel of the Lord appears in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 saying, "Having arisen, take the child and His mother, and go into the land of Israel; for those seeking the life of the child have died." 21 And having arisen, he took the child and His mother and came into the land of Israel. 22 And having heard that Archelaus (Archelaos) reigns over Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there; and having been divinely warned in a dream, he withdrew into the districts of Galilee (Galilaia), 23 and having come, he dwelt in a city called Nazareth, so that what was spoken through the prophets might be fulfilled, that "He will be called a Nazarene."

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

1 And in those days comes John (Ioannes) the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea (Ioudaia), 2 and saying, "Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn near." 3 For this is the one who was spoken of by Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet, saying, "The voice of one crying out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths

3:2 Dan 2:44; Matt 4:17; Isa 56:1
3:3 Isa 40:3; Isa 57:14; Deut 4:12

2:11 having come into the house, they saw the child Now a house, not a stable, and a child, not a newborn. The Magi likely came months after the birth, which fits Herod killing boys up to two. The shepherds came the night He was born (Luke 2:8-16). They worshiped Him, not Mary His mother.
2:11 gold and frankincense and myrrh Costly gifts fit for a king. Many have seen gold for a king, frankincense (incense used in worship) for God, and myrrh (a burial spice) for the One who would die. Matthew does not explain them, so hold those meanings loosely. God may have used them to pay for the trip to Egypt.
2:12 they withdrew into their country by another way They obeyed God rather than the king. The first people in Matthew to worship Jesus were Gentiles. From the beginning He came for the nations too.
2:13 take the child and His mother, and flee into Egypt Matthew keeps saying "the child and His mother," careful not to call Joseph the father. Egypt was beyond Herod's reach and had many Jews. Joseph left "by night." God did not stop Herod's wickedness, but He kept His Son safe through one faithful man's obedience.
2:15 Out of Egypt I called My Son From Hosea 11:1, where God speaks of Israel, His son brought out in the exodus (Exod 4:22). Matthew shows a pattern. Jesus' life follows Israel's path: down to Egypt and out, through the waters, tested in the wilderness. Where Israel failed, Jesus obeyed. He is everything Israel was meant to be.
2:16 he killed all the boys who were in Bethlehem and in all its vicinity Bethlehem was small, and most teachers estimate a dozen or two boys died. No other ancient writer records it, but it fits Herod, who killed his own sons. Real families lost their little boys. Scripture does not hide that pain from us, and neither should we.
2:17 Then was fulfilled what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet Matthew changes his wording. He does not say this happened so that Scripture would be fulfilled. God did not cause Herod's evil, but He knew it would come.
2:18 Rachel weeping for her children From Jeremiah 31:15. Rachel, buried near Bethlehem (Gen 35:19), is pictured weeping as Judah was gathered at Ramah for exile. The next verses tell her to stop weeping (Jer 31:16-17), and the same chapter promises the new covenant (Jer 31:31). For anyone who has lost a child, God sees that grief. He wrote it into His Word.
2:20 those seeking the life of the child have died These words echo what God told Moses (Exod 4:19). Jesus is like Moses, the deliverer who escaped a king who killed baby boys (Exod 1:22). Herod could not stop God's plan.
2:22 Archelaus reigns over Judea Herod's kingdom was split among three sons. Archelaus was as cruel as his father, and Rome later removed him. So the family went north to Nazareth, the town Mary and Joseph had come from (Luke 2:4, 39).
2:23 He will be called a Nazarene No Old Testament verse has these words, and Matthew says "the prophets," summing up several. Nazareth was looked down on (John 1:46), and the prophets said the Messiah would be despised (Isa 53:3; Ps 22:6). Many also see a play on netzer, branch (Isa 11:1). Either way, the King grew up in a town people mocked.
3:1 John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judea Not John the apostle. This John was the son of Zechariah the priest and Elizabeth, a relative of Jesus born about six months before Him (Luke 1:5-17, 36). The wilderness, the dry land west of the Dead Sea, was where God had met His people after the exodus. John made people leave their comforts to hear a hard message.
3:2 Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn near To repent is to turn around, a change of heart about sin and God that leads to a changed life, more than feeling sorry. Mark and Luke say "the kingdom of God" in the same places. It is God's rule through His promised King (Isa 9:6-7; Dan 2:44). It was near because the King was near. It is entered now by repentance and faith, and it comes in full, visible form on the earth when Jesus returns to reign (Rev 20:4-6).
3:3 Prepare the way of the Lord From Isaiah 40:3. Before a king traveled, workers leveled and straightened the road. John prepared hearts by calling them to repent. In Isaiah the One coming is the LORD, Israel's God, and John prepares the way for Jesus. Jesus is the Lord God come in the flesh.

straight.'" 4 And John himself had his garment of camel's hair, and a leather belt around his waist; and his food was locusts and wild honey. 5 Then Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) and all Judea and all the region around the Jordan (Iordanes) were going out to him, 6 and they were being baptized in the Jordan by him, confessing their sins. 7 And having seen many of the Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said to them, "Brood of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? 8 Therefore produce fruits worthy of repentance; 9 and do not presume to say within yourselves, 'We have Abraham (Abraam) as father'; for I say to you that God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham. 10 And already also the ax is laid at the root of the trees; therefore every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and is thrown into fire. 11 I indeed baptize you with water to repentance, but He who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not fit to carry; He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire. 12 His winnowing fork is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clear His threshing floor and will gather His wheat into the barn; but the chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire."

The Baptism of Jesus

13 Then Jesus (Iesous) comes from Galilee (Galilaia) to the Jordan, to John, to be baptized by him. 14 But John was hindering Him, saying, "I have need to be baptized by You, and do You come to me?" 15 And answering, Jesus said to him, "Permit it now; for thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness." Then he permits Him. 16 And having been baptized, Jesus immediately went up from the water; and look, the heavens were opened to Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and coming upon Him. 17 And look, a voice out of the heavens, saying, "This is My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased."

Jesus Tested in the Wilderness

1 Then Jesus (Iesous) was led up into the wilderness by the Spirit to be tempted by the devil. 2 And having fasted forty days and forty nights, afterward He was hungry. 3 And having come, the one tempting said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, speak, so that these stones may become loaves."

4:2 Exod 34:28; 1 Kgs 19:8; Deut 9:9
4:3 Ps 78:17; 1 Thess 3:5; Job 1:9-12

3:4 his garment of camel's hair, and a leather belt around his waist That is how Scripture describes Elijah (2 Kgs 1:8), and Malachi promised Elijah would come before the day of the Lord (Mal 4:5-6). John came "in the spirit and power of Elijah" (Luke 1:17), though he was not Elijah back from the dead (John 1:21). Locusts were clean food (Lev 11:22), a poor man's diet. John did not live for comfort.
3:6 they were being baptized in the Jordan by him, confessing their sins No prophet had spoken in Israel for about four hundred years. To baptize is to dip or immerse. John called Jews to be baptized as if they were outsiders starting over. His baptism did not wash away sin. It was a public sign of repentance in readiness for the King, and confession went with it.
3:7 the Pharisees and Sadducees The Pharisees were strict keepers of the Law who added rules of their own, the traditions of the elders. The Sadducees were fewer but powerful, many of them wealthy priests who ran the temple. They accepted only the five books of Moses and denied the resurrection, angels and spirits (Acts 23:8).
3:7 Brood of vipers Like snakes fleeing ahead of a field fire, they wanted to escape God's judgment without changing their hearts. John saw through them.
3:8 produce fruits worthy of repentance A tree is known by its fruit, and real repentance shows in how we treat people, handle money and speak (Luke 3:10-14). The fruit does not make the tree alive. It shows that it is alive.
3:9 We have Abraham as father Many believed descent from Abraham kept them safe in the judgment. God could make children for Abraham out of the rocks on the riverbank. No one is saved by family, church or heritage. God has no grandchildren. Each of us must come to Him personally.
3:10 the ax is laid at the root of the trees The woodsman's ax rests against the tree, ready to swing. John warned of real judgment for those who refused to repent, and Jesus used the same picture (7:19).
3:11 whose sandals I am not fit to carry Carrying a master's sandals was the lowest servant's job. The greatest prophet of his day said he was not worthy even of that.
3:11 He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire The risen Christ poured out the Spirit at Pentecost (Acts 1:5; 2:1-4, 33). Some see the fire as the tongues of fire and the Spirit's cleansing. Others see judgment on those who refuse Him, since fire comes in the verses before and after. Both views have support. Jesus brings the Spirit to those who repent and judgment to those who will not.
3:12 His winnowing fork is in His hand The farmer tossed beaten grain into the air. The wind blew away the chaff and the wheat fell back.
"Unquenchable fire" cannot be put out, and Jesus spoke of hell this way (Mark 9:43). There are two destinies, and every person ends up in one of them.
3:14 I have need to be baptized by You, and do You come to me John knew Jesus had no sin to confess. John baptized sinners, and Jesus was not one.
3:15 thus it is fitting for us to fulfill all righteousness Jesus did all God required of a faithful Israelite. He stood with sinners in the water as He would later take their place on the cross (Isa 53:12). And it opened His public ministry (John 1:31-34). If the sinless Son obeyed in baptism, how much more should we? Repentance and faith come first; baptism is the obedient public step that follows.
3:16 Jesus immediately went up from the water These words fit well with baptism by immersion, going down into the water and coming up out of it.
3:16 the Spirit of God descending like a dove The Spirit did not become a bird. He came in a form like a dove. This was the anointing of the Anointed One (Isa 11:1-2; 61:1).
3:17 This is My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased Echoes of Psalm 2:7, God's royal Son, and Isaiah 42:1, the Servant in whom He delights. All three Persons of the Trinity are here: the Son in the water, the Spirit like a dove, the Father speaking (28:19). Jesus had not yet preached or done a public miracle. His thirty quiet years pleased God, worth remembering when our own lives feel ordinary.
4:1 led up into the wilderness by the Spirit to be tempted by the devil Right after His baptism, the highest moment was followed by the hardest test. The Greek word can mean tempt or test: Satan tempted Jesus to sin, while God tested Him to prove Him the faithful Son. Devil means slanderer or accuser, a real fallen angel, not just a force of evil.
4:2 having fasted forty days and forty nights, afterward He was hungry To fast is to go without food to seek God, as Moses did (Exod 34:28). Jesus was fully human and felt real hunger. The devil came when He was weakest. When we are tired, lonely or hurting, we should expect temptation and be ready for it.
4:3 If You are the Son of God The "if" carries the sense of since. Since You are the Son, use Your power for Yourself. The bread was not the problem. The devil wanted Jesus to act apart from the Father's will to meet His own need. Satan often tempts us to meet a real need in a wrong way.

4 But answering, He said, "It has been written: 'Man will not live by bread alone, but by every word coming out through the mouth of God.'" 5 Then the devil takes Him into the holy city, and sets Him on the pinnacle of the temple, 6 and says to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down; for it has been written, 'He will give orders to His angels concerning You, and on their hands they will bear You up, lest You strike Your foot against a stone.'" 7 Jesus said to him, "Again it has been written: 'You shall not test the Lord your God.'" 8 Again the devil takes Him to an exceedingly high mountain, and shows Him all the kingdoms of the world and their glory, 9 and says to Him, "All these things I will give You, if, falling down, You will worship me." 10 Then Jesus says to him, "Go away, Satan; for it has been written: 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone you shall serve.'" 11 Then the devil leaves Him, and look, angels came and were ministering to Him.

Jesus Begins to Preach in Galilee

12 And having heard that John (Ioannes) had been delivered up, Jesus withdrew into Galilee (Galilaia). 13 And having left Nazareth, having come, He dwelt in Capernaum (Kapernaoum), which is by the sea, in the territory of Zebu-lun (Zaboulon) and Naphtali (Nephthaleim), 14 so that what was spoken through Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, 15 "Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali, the way of the sea, beyond the Jordan (Iordanes), Galilee of the Gentiles: 16 the people sitting in darkness saw a great light, and to those sitting in the region and shadow of death, light has dawned on them." 17 From that time Jesus began to preach and to say, "Repent, for the kingdom of the heavens has drawn near."

Jesus Calls Four Fishermen

18 And walking beside the Sea of Galilee, Jesus saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter (Petros) and Andrew (Andreas) his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And He says to them, "Come after Me, and I will make you fishers of men." 20 And immediately, having left the nets, they followed Him. 21 And having gone on from there, He saw two other brothers, James (Iakobos) the son of Zebedee (Zebedaios) and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and He called them. 22 And immediately, having left the boat and their father, they followed Him.

Jesus Heals Many

23 And Jesus was going around all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people.

4:23 Matt 9:35; Matt 13:54; Mark 1:21,39

4:4 Man will not live by bread alone Jesus answered as any believer can, with Scripture, from Deuteronomy 8:3, where God fed hungry Israel with manna. He would rather go hungry and obey than eat and disobey. How often do we let the needs of the body crowd out our time with God?
4:6 for it has been written The devil can quote the Bible. He takes Psalm 91:11-12 out of context. That psalm promises care to those who trust God, not to those who show off and dare Him to rescue them. A verse pulled from its setting can be made to say almost anything.
4:7 You shall not test the Lord your God From Deuteronomy 6:16, recalling Massah where Israel demanded water (Exod 17:7). Jesus used Scripture to explain Scripture. To test God here is to put ourselves in danger and demand that He prove Himself. Real faith does not need to stage a test.
4:9 All these things I will give You, if, falling down, You will worship me Jesus did not dispute that Satan had kingdoms to offer. He calls him "the ruler of this world" (John 12:31; 1 John 5:19). The Father had already promised the nations to His Son (Ps 2:8). Satan offered the crown without the cross. He still promises what God promised, faster and without suffering, if we bend a little. It is always a lie.
4:10 Go away, Satan Satan means adversary. All three answers come from Deuteronomy 6 to 8, the lessons of Israel's forty years. Israel, God's son, failed the test, and Jesus passed it. Some teachers believe He could have sinned but did not; others that as God He could not, though the temptation was real. Both agree He was tempted "without sin" (Heb 4:15).
4:11 angels came and were ministering to Him The devil left only "until an opportune time" (Luke 4:13), but he lost this battle (James 4:7). The angels did not come when Satan dared Jesus to jump. They came after He obeyed. God cares for His own in His time and His way.
4:12 John had been delivered up John was arrested for telling Herod Antipas, a son of Herod the Great who ruled Galilee, that he had no right to his brother's wife (14:3-4). Antipas also ruled Galilee, so Jesus was not running from danger. He went where the Father sent Him.
4:13 He dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea A fishing town on the northwest shore of the Sea of Galilee, a freshwater lake about thirteen miles long. It became His home base.
4:15 Galilee of the Gentiles From Isaiah 9:1-2. These northern tribes were the first overrun by Assyria, and many Gentiles had settled there. Jerusalem looked down on Galileans, yet the light came first where people least expected. The next verses promise a son given who will sit on David's throne forever (Isa 9:6-7).
4:17 From that time Jesus began to preach A turning point. The same words come again in 16:21, when He begins to show He must suffer and die. The message is the same today: turn from your sin and turn to God.
4:18 Simon who is called Peter and Andrew his brother They had met Jesus before. Andrew had followed John the Baptist and brought Simon to Jesus (John 1:35-42). Now Jesus called them to follow Him full time.
4:19 I will make you fishers of men Jesus spoke their language. Notice "I will make you." We do not make ourselves into soul winners. Jesus does it as we follow Him.
4:20 having left the nets, they followed Him They left their way of earning a living. Following Jesus always costs something, and it is always worth it.
4:22 having left the boat and their father, they followed Him Harder than leaving nets. The family had hired servants (Mark 1:20). This John later wrote a Gospel, three letters and Revelation. Jesus does not call everyone to leave home, but He calls everyone to put Him first (10:37).
4:23 teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom A synagogue was a local Jewish meeting place for prayer, Scripture reading and teaching, where any qualified man could be invited to teach. The healings were signs backing up the message, for the prophets said the blind would see and the lame leap when God's kingdom came (Isa 35:5-6). Matthew repeats this summary in 9:35.

24 And the report of Him went out into all Syria; and they brought to Him all who were ill, gripped by various diseases and torments, and those being demonized, and those being epileptic, and paralytics; and He healed them. 25 And great crowds followed Him from Galilee and Decapolis (Dekapolis) and Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) and Judea (Ioudaia) and beyond the Jordan.

The Beatitudes

1 And having seen the crowds, He went up on the mountain; and when He had sat down, His disciples came to Him. 2 And having opened His mouth, He was teaching them, saying, 3 "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens. 4 Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. 5 Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth. 6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. 7 Blessed are the merciful, for they will receive mercy. 8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. 9 Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called sons of God. 10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted on account of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of the heavens. 11 Blessed are you when they insult you, and persecute you, and say every evil word against you, lying, on account of Me. 12 Rejoice and exult, for your reward is great in the heavens; for thus they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

Salt and Light

13 You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt becomes tasteless, with what will it be salted? It is no longer strong for anything, except to be thrown out and to be trampled by men. 14 You are the light of the world. A city lying on a mountain cannot be hidden. 15 Nor do they light a lamp and put it under the basket, but on the lampstand, and it shines for all who are in the house. 16 Thus let your light shine before men, so that they may see your good works and may glorify your Father who is in the heavens.

4:24 those being demonized, and those being epileptic Demonized means under the control of demons, evil spirits who serve Satan. Matthew lists illness and demons side by side without mixing them up. Not every sickness comes from a demon. The word for epileptic is tied to the moon, which people then blamed for seizures. Jesus had power over all of it.
4:25 Decapolis Ten cities, a mostly Gentile region east and southeast of the Sea of Galilee. People came from Jewish and Gentile lands, setting the stage for the Sermon on the Mount.
5:1 He went up on the mountain Tradition points to a hillside near Capernaum. Many see a picture of Moses going up Sinai (Exod 19:3). Jesus, the greater Prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15), gives His people the true meaning of the Law. Jewish teachers sat to teach. A disciple is a learner who follows a teacher, and the sermon was spoken first to them, with the crowds listening in (7:28).
5:2 having opened His mouth, He was teaching them A Jewish way of saying something weighty is coming. Who is the sermon for? Some say rules for getting into heaven, some only a future kingdom age. Most teachers, including many who look for a future kingdom on earth, believe it speaks to every follower of Jesus today. It shows the character of those who belong to the King, lived out as He changes us by His Spirit.
5:3 Blessed are the poor in spirit Blessed means favored by God, happy in the deepest sense, not a passing feeling. The poor in spirit know they have nothing to offer God and come with empty hands, like a beggar. That is where the kingdom starts. The first and eighth blessings both say "theirs is the kingdom," so the whole list describes the people of the kingdom.
5:4 Blessed are those who mourn Not only grief over death, but mourning over sin, our own and the world's. God comforts them now with forgiveness and one day will wipe away every tear (Rev 21:4). If your heart is heavy over sin, God is at work in you.
5:5 Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth Meekness is strength under God's control, trusting Him instead of fighting for our rights (Num 12:3; Matt 11:29). From Psalm 37:11. The world thinks the pushy will get the earth. I believe this will be fulfilled to the letter when Jesus returns and reigns on the earth with His people (Rev 5:10).
5:6 Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness Jesus' people want to be right with God and live right as badly as a starving man wants food. That longing is a gift. God fills it with Christ's righteousness when we believe (Rom 3:22), keeps making us like Him, and fully satisfies it when we see Him.
5:7 Blessed are the merciful, for they will receive mercy We do not earn mercy by showing it; we came with empty hands. But people who have received God's mercy become merciful, and one who refuses mercy shows he does not know God's (6:14-15; 18:23-35).
5:8 Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God The heart is the center of a person: mind, will and feelings. The Pharisees worked at outward purity; Jesus looks inside. No sinner can see God and live (Exod 33:20), but those He makes pure will see Him face to face (1 John 3:2). God cleans the heart by faith (Acts 15:9).
5:9 Blessed are the peacemakers Not peace lovers, but peacemakers, who work to bring people to God through the gospel and then to each other. A son was like his father, and God made peace with us through His Son's blood (Col 1:20). Peacemaking shows the family likeness.
5:10 Blessed are those who have been persecuted on account of righteousness Not those who suffer for being rude or foolish, but for living for God. The list begins and ends with the kingdom. The world did not welcome the King, and it will not always welcome His people.
5:11 lying, on account of Me Now Jesus turns to "you." If what people say about us is true, it is correction, not persecution, and we should repent. Only God can ask people to suffer for His sake.
5:12 your reward is great in the heavens God sees what His people suffer and will reward them, and they stand with prophets like Jeremiah, thrown into a pit (Jer 38:6). Rewards are not salvation, but God promises to reward faithfulness. The apostles rejoiced to suffer shame for His name (Acts 5:41).
5:13 You are the salt of the earth Salt flavored food and kept meat from spoiling. Salt then was often mixed with other minerals, and when the salt washed out, what was left looked like salt but was useless. A believer who blends in so completely that no one can tell the difference has lost his saltiness.
5:14 You are the light of the world Jesus is "the light of the world" (John 8:12). We reflect His light, like the moon reflects the sun. Towns on hills could be seen for miles at night. If Christ lives in you, people will see it.
5:15 Nor do they light a lamp and put it under the basket The lamp was a small clay bowl of olive oil with a wick; the basket was a grain measure that would snuff it out. Most homes had one room. Our light shines first where we live. Fear, shame or wanting to fit in can make us cover it.
5:16 may glorify your Father who is in the heavens People see our works, but the glory goes to God. This does not contradict 6:1. The difference is motive: here God gets the glory, there we do.

Jesus Fulfills the Law

17 Do not think that I came to abolish the law or the prophets; I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill. 18 For truly
I say to you, until the heaven and the earth pass away, one iota or one stroke will by no means pass away from the law until everything happens. 19 Whoever therefore breaks one of the least of these commandments, and teaches men so, will be called least in the kingdom of the heavens; but whoever does and teaches them, this one will be called great in the kingdom of the heavens. 20 For I say to you that unless your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes and Pharisees, you will by no means enter into the kingdom of the heavens.

Anger

21 You heard that it was said to the ancients, 'You shall not murder'; and 'Whoever murders will be liable to the judgment.' 22 But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother without cause will be liable to the judgment; and whoever says to his brother, 'Raca,' will be liable to the San-hedrin; and whoever says, 'Fool,' will be liable to the Gehenna of fire. 23 Therefore if you are offering your gift at the altar, and there remember that your brother has something against you, 24 leave your gift there before the altar, and go away; first be reconciled to your brother, and then, having come, offer your gift. 25 Be agreeing with your accuser quickly, while you are with him on the way, lest the accuser deliver you to the judge, and the judge deliver you to the officer, and you will be thrown into prison. 26 Truly I say to you, you will by no means come out from there until you pay the last quadrans.

Lust and Divorce

27 You heard that it was said to the ancients, 'You shall not commit adultery.' 28 But I say to you that everyone who looks at a woman to lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart. 29 And if your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it from you; for it is better for you that one of your members perish, and not that your whole body be thrown into Gehenna. 30 And if your right hand causes you to stumble, cut it off and throw it from you; for it is better for you that one of your members perish, and not that your whole body be thrown into Gehenna. 31 And it was said, 'Whoever sends away his wife, let him give her a certificate of divorce.' 32 But I say to you that whoever sends away his wife, except for a matter of sexual immorality, causes her to commit adultery; and whoever marries a woman who has been sent away commits adultery.

5:17 I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill "The law or the prophets" means the whole Old Testament. Jesus kept the Law perfectly, did what its prophecies foretold, was what its sacrifices and feasts pictured, and showed what it really meant. The shadows gave way to the real thing (Heb 10:1). The Law was not thrown away. It was fulfilled in Christ.
5:18 one iota or one stroke will by no means pass away from the law "Truly" is the Hebrew amen, marking a solemn statement. The iota stands for the smallest Hebrew letter, yod, and the stroke for a tiny mark that sets one letter apart from another. Every word, letter and mark of Scripture matters.
5:19 whoever does and teaches them, this one will be called great Notice the order: does, then teaches. Breaking God's least commands does not shut one out, but he is "called least" there. Teachers will be judged more strictly (James 3:1). Living God's Word matters as much as explaining it.
5:20 unless your righteousness abounds more than that of the scribes and Pharisees A shock, for these men even tithed garden herbs (23:23). Their righteousness was outward and their own. Kingdom righteousness starts with Christ's righteousness given when we believe (Phil 3:9), then a changed heart that obeys from the inside out.
5:21 You heard that it was said to the ancients Six examples follow, each with "But I say to you." Jesus is not correcting the Law of Moses but the way it was taught, showing its true depth. The rabbis quoted other rabbis. Jesus spoke on His own authority. Teachers stopped at the act of murder (Exod 20:13).
5:22 everyone who is angry with his brother without cause will be liable to the judgment Murder starts with anger in the heart (1 John 3:15). "Without cause" is in the Greek copies the SLB follows but not in some of the oldest, and there is a right anger at sin (Eph 4:26). Jesus warns against angry contempt that wants to hurt.
5:22 Raca An Aramaic insult, empty-head. The Sanhedrin was the highest Jewish court, about seventy leaders in Jerusalem. Gehenna was the Valley of Hinnom outside Jerusalem, where kings once sacrificed children (Jer 7:31), a picture of the place of final judgment we call hell. Our words and the anger behind them are serious before God.
5:24 first be reconciled to your brother God cares more about broken relationships than religious activity. If you know you have hurt someone, do not wait for them to come to you. Go to them. Worship can wait. Reconciliation cannot.
5:26 until you pay the last quadrans The smallest Roman coin. A debtor could be jailed until he paid. Settle conflict quickly before it grows worse. And each of us is on the way to meet the Judge of all the earth. Make peace with God now, while there is time.
5:28 everyone who looks at a woman to lust for her Not noticing that someone is attractive, but looking in order to feed a forbidden desire. In our day of screens and pornography, this verse has never been more needed. If this is your battle, you are not beyond help. Confess it to God (1 John 1:9) and ask a trusted believer to help you fight it.
5:29 if your right eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out Jesus does not mean cutting off body parts; a blind man can still lust. The right eye and hand were the most valued. Whatever leads us into sin, even something that precious, must go: a phone, a service, a relationship, a habit. Sin is not something to play with.
5:31 let him give her a certificate of divorce From Deuteronomy 24:1-4. The certificate set a woman free to remarry and protected her from being thrown out with no rights. The school of Shammai allowed divorce only for serious sexual sin; Hillel's school, for almost any reason. Many men treated the certificate as a permission slip.
5:32 except for a matter of sexual immorality Porneia covers sexual sin of many kinds. Many teachers believe the innocent spouse may divorce and remarry. Others allow divorce but not remarriage. Others see only sin during betrothal. Paul adds an unbelieving spouse who leaves (1 Cor 7:15). God means marriage to last for life, and His grace reaches the divorced. If you are in danger at home, get help and get safe.

Oaths

33 Again, you heard that it was said to the ancients, 'You shall not swear falsely, but you shall pay your oaths to the Lord.' 34 But I say to you, not to swear at all: neither by heaven, because it is the throne of God; 35 nor by the earth, because it is the footstool of His feet; nor by Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), because it is the city of the great King. 36 Nor shall you swear by your head, because you are not able to make one hair white or black. 37 But let your word be 'Yes, yes,' 'No, no'; and what is more than these is from the evil one.

Love for Enemies

38 You heard that it was said, 'Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.' 39 But I say to you, not to resist the evil person; but whoever will strike you on your right cheek, turn to him the other also. 40 And to the one wanting to sue you and to take your tunic, yield to him the cloak also. 41 And whoever compels you to go approximately 1,620 yards (one mile), go with him two. 42 Give to the one asking you, and do not turn away from the one wanting to borrow from you. 43 You heard that it was said, 'You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy.' 44 But I say to you, love your enemies, bless those cursing you, do good to those hating you, and pray for those mistreating you and persecuting you, 45 so that you may be sons of your Father who is in the heavens; for He makes His sun rise on evil and good, and sends rain on righteous and unrighteous. 46 For if you love those loving you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? 47 And if you greet your brothers only, what more do you do? Do not even the tax collectors do so? 48 Therefore you shall be perfect, just as your Father who is in the heavens is perfect.

Giving in Secret

1 Beware not to do your charity before men in order to be seen by them; otherwise indeed, you have no reward with your Father who is in the heavens. 2 Therefore whenever you do charity, do not sound a trumpet before you, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, so that they may be glorified by men. Truly I say to you, they have their reward in full. 3 But when you are doing charity, do not

6:3 John 7:4; Matt 9:30; Mark 1:44

5:33 you shall pay your oaths to the Lord Summing up Leviticus 19:12 and Numbers 30:2. An oath called on God as witness. People swore by other things so they could break their promise later, keeping the letter of the Law while being dishonest.
5:34 not to swear at all Heaven, earth and Jerusalem all belong to God (Isa 66:1; Ps 48:2), so no promise leaves Him out. Some believers take this as no oaths at all. Most believe Jesus forbids careless, tricky oaths, not solemn ones in court, since God swore by Himself (Heb 6:13) and Jesus answered under oath (26:63-64). The main point is honesty.
5:36 you are not able to make one hair white or black Even your own head is in God's hands. Swearing by yourself is swearing by something that belongs to Him.
5:37 let your word be 'Yes, yes,' 'No, no' A believer should be so honest he never needs an oath to be believed (James 5:12). The need for oaths comes from a world of lies, and the father of lies is the devil (John 8:44).
5:38 Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth In the Law this was a rule for judges, making punishment fit the crime and limiting revenge (Exod 21:24; Lev 24:20). People had turned it into a personal right to get even.
5:39 turn to him the other also A blow to the right cheek was usually a backhanded slap, an insult more than an attack. Jesus speaks of personal insult, not of government, which God gave the sword (Rom 13:1-4). It does not mean staying in danger or abuse. It means we leave revenge to God (Rom 12:19).
5:40 yield to him the cloak also The tunic was the inner garment; the cloak was the outer one, also a blanket at night, and the Law protected a poor man's cloak (Exod 22:26-27). Paul used his rights at times (Acts 16:37). The point is that we do not live to protect our stuff and our pride.
5:41 go with him two A Roman soldier could force a Jew to carry his gear one Roman mile, a hated reminder of foreign rule, as Simon of Cyrene carried the cross (27:32). Serve gladly and go beyond what is required. That turns an enemy's demand into a chance to show Christ's love.
5:42 Give to the one asking you The Law told Israel to lend freely to the poor (Deut 15:7-8). Other Scripture guides us: the man who refuses to work should not eat (2 Thess 3:10), and feeding an addiction does not help. But our default should be to help, not to look for reasons not to.
5:43 You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy Leviticus 19:18 commands love for neighbor, but the Old Testament never says hate your enemy. Teachers narrowed "neighbor" to people like them and felt free to hate the rest. The Good Samaritan answers who our neighbor is (Luke 10:25-37).
5:44 love your enemies Agape is self-giving love that seeks another's good whether deserved or not, a choice shown in action. It blesses, does good and prays. Jesus prayed for the men who nailed Him (Luke 23:34). It is hard to stay bitter at someone you are praying for.
5:45 He makes His sun rise on evil and good We become God's children by faith (John 1:12), and loving enemies shows it, because that is what our Father does. Every sunrise and rain shower is His gift to a world that mostly ignores Him. Teachers call this common grace.
5:46 Do not even the tax collectors do the same Tax collectors were Jews who collected for Rome, often cheating, hated as traitors. Matthew had been one (9:9). Loving those who love you back is not special. Everyone does that.
5:48 you shall be perfect, just as your Father who is in the heavens is perfect Perfect means complete, mature, and here it is about love that reaches even enemies. None of us can do this alone, and the chapter sends us back to "Blessed are the poor in spirit" (5:3). Jesus kept this standard and gives His righteousness to all who believe. Then His Spirit grows this love in us.
6:1 Beware not to do your charity before men in order to be seen by them Charity here means acts of righteousness, especially giving to the poor. Jesus told us to let our light shine (5:16), so the question is why we do it. If our goal is to impress people, their opinion is the only reward we get.
6:2 as the hypocrites do We know of no custom of blowing real trumpets for gifts; it is like our saying someone blows his own horn. A hypocrite was a stage actor who wore a mask. "They have their reward in full" was written on receipts: paid in full. The account is closed, and nothing more is coming from God.
6:3 do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing Give so quietly that even you hardly notice it. Do not keep a running list of the good you have done.

let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, 4 so that your charity may be in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will Himself reward you openly.

How to Pray

5 And when you pray, you shall not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the corners of the wide streets, so that they may be seen by men. Truly I say to you that they have their reward in full. 6 But you, when you pray, enter into your inner room, and having shut your door, pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly. 7 And when praying, do not babble like the Gentiles; for they think that they will be heard in their many words. 8 Therefore do not be like them; for your Father knows what things you have need of before you ask Him. 9 Therefore you, pray in this way: 'Our Father who is in the heavens, let Your name be sanctified; 10 let Your kingdom come; let Your will come about, as in heaven, also on the earth. 11 Give us today our daily bread. 12 And forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors. 13 And do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory into the ages. Amen.' 14 For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you; 15 but if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

Fasting

16 And whenever you fast, do not be gloomy like the hypocrites; for they disfigure their faces so that they may appear to men to be fasting. Truly I say to you that they have their reward in full. 17 But you, when fasting, anoint your head and wash your face, 18 so that you may not appear to men to be fasting, but to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.

Treasure in Heaven

19 Do not store up for yourselves treasures on the earth, where moth and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal; 20 but store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust destroys, and where thieves do

6:4 your Father who sees in secret will Himself reward you openly God saw the gift no one knows about. Some reward may come in this life, but most waits for the day Christ judges His people's works and gives rewards (2 Cor 5:10). That judgment is not about whether we are saved but about how we served.
6:5 when you pray, you shall not be like the hypocrites "When," not if. Jesus expects His followers to pray. Some made sure the hour of prayer caught them on a busy corner. They were talking to the crowd, not to God. Public prayer is not wrong (Acts 4:24). Praying for an audience is.
6:6 enter into your inner room The inner room was a storeroom, often the only room with a door. What we are when no one is watching is what we really are. Find a place to be alone with God, shut the door, and talk to Him. Time alone with God is never wasted.
6:7 do not babble like the Gentiles Pagans repeated their gods' names and phrases to wear the gods down, as Baal's prophets did (1 Kgs 18:26). Jesus prayed all night (Luke 6:12) and taught persistence (Luke 18:1-8). He is against empty words used like a magic formula. Prayer is talking with a Father, not working a machine.
6:8 your Father knows what things you have need of before you ask Him Then why pray? Prayer is not giving God information. It is a relationship. A loving father knows what his children need and still wants them to come and ask, and we learn to depend on Him and see His answers as gifts.
6:9 pray in this way A model for all our prayers (Luke 11:1). It can be prayed word for word, but "in this way" makes it a pattern.
6:9 Our Father who is in the heavens, let Your name be sanctified Jews of that day rarely addressed God as Father in prayer. Jesus invites us into His own close relationship, and it is "our" Father, a family. He is near, yet high above us. To sanctify is to set apart as holy. Our first request is not for ourselves but that God be honored.
6:10 let Your kingdom come The kingdom came near when Jesus came, but its fullness is future. Each time we pray this, we pray for the day Jesus returns, puts down every enemy and reigns on the earth (Rev 11:15; 20:4-6). We cannot honestly pray "Your will" for the world while refusing it in our own hearts.
6:11 Give us today our daily bread After three requests for God's glory come our needs, starting with food. God cares about ordinary needs. Like the manna, given one day at a time (Exod 16:4), we live in daily trust. Even with a full pantry, every meal is a gift.
6:12 forgive us our debts, as we also forgive our debtors Sin is a debt we owe God and cannot pay (Luke 11:4 says sins). Our greatest need is forgiveness. Asking God to forgive us as we forgive others is a hard line to pray honestly, and Jesus explains it in verses 14-15.
6:13 do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil God tempts no one to sin (James 1:13), but He allows testing. This is the prayer of someone who knows his weakness. "The evil" can mean evil in general or the evil one, Satan. The Greek allows both, and we need rescue from both.
6:13 For Yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory into the ages. Amen The prayer ends with God's glory, echoing David (1 Chr 29:11). These words are in the Received Text the SLB follows, but most older Greek copies lack them, and many modern Bibles bracket or footnote them; Luke's version lacks them too. No teaching rests on them alone, and all they say is taught plainly elsewhere.
6:14 if you forgive men their trespasses Of all the lines, Jesus explains this one. We are forgiven by grace through faith (Eph 1:7), not by forgiving others. But a truly forgiven person becomes forgiving (18:23-35).
6:15 neither will your Father forgive your trespasses A heart that refuses to forgive shows it has not understood God's forgiveness. Forgiving does not mean pretending nothing happened, trusting someone still dangerous, or skipping a crime's consequences. It means letting go of the right to get even and leaving that person with God. It may be a long road. Ask God to help you take the first step.
6:16 whenever you fast, do not be gloomy like the hypocrites The Law required one fast a year, on the Day of Atonement (Lev 16:29), but Pharisees fasted twice a week (Luke 18:12). Some went unwashed with ashes on their faces so everyone would know.
6:17 anoint your head and wash your face People groomed their hair with olive oil. When you fast, look normal. Fasting is between you and God, a way of saying we want Him more than food. Jesus assumed His followers would fast. You might start by skipping one meal to pray.
6:19 Do not store up for yourselves treasures on the earth Wealth was kept in fine cloth that moths ate, in goods that rust and rot ruined, and in mud-walled houses thieves dug through. Owning things or saving is not sin. Jesus warns against building our lives around what is temporary.
6:20 store up for yourselves treasures in heaven We do it by using what God gives for His purposes: giving to His work, helping the poor, serving, telling people about Jesus (1 Tim 6:17-19). No crash, fire or thief can touch it. We cannot take our money with us, but we can send it ahead.

not break in nor steal; 21 for where your treasure is, there your heart will be also. 22 The lamp of the body is the eye. Therefore if your eye is single, your whole body will be full of light; 23 but if your eye is evil, your whole body will be full of darkness. Therefore if the light that is in you is darkness, how great is the darkness! 24 No one is able to serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You are not able to serve God and wealth.

Do Not Worry

25 Because of this I say to you, do not be anxious for your life, what you will eat and what you will drink, nor for your body, what you will put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body more than the clothing? 26 Look at the birds of the sky, that they do not sow, nor do they reap, nor do they gather into barns, and your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? 27 And which of you, being anxious, is able to add approximately 1.5 feet (one cubit) to his lifespan? 28 And why are you anxious about clothing? Observe the lilies of the field, how they grow: they do not labor, nor do they spin; 29 but I say to you that not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these. 30 But if God so clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into an oven, will He not much more clothe you, you of little faith? 31 Therefore do not be anxious, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or, 'What shall we drink?' or, 'What shall we wear?' 32 For the nations seek after all these things; for your heavenly Father knows that you need all these things. 33 But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added to you. 34 Therefore do not be anxious about tomorrow, for tomorrow will be anxious about its own things. Sufficient for the day is its trouble.

Judging Others

1 Do not judge, so that you may not be judged. 2 For with what judgment you judge, you will be judged; and with what measure you measure, it will be measured back to you. 3 And why do you look at the splinter that is in the eye of your brother, but the beam in your own eye you do not notice? 4 Or how will you say to your brother, 'Allow me to cast out the splinter from your eye,' and look, the beam is in your eye? 5 Hypocrite! First cast out the beam from your eye, and then you will see clearly to cast out the splinter from the eye of your brother. 6 Do not give what is holy to the dogs, nor

6:21 where your treasure is, there your heart will be also If you want to know what you really love, look where your money and time go. It works the other way too. Put your treasure into God's kingdom and your heart will follow.
6:22 if your eye is single The eye is a window letting light in. A single eye is focused and undivided, and the word was also used for being generous. Jesus is still talking about money.
6:23 if your eye is evil In Jewish speech an evil eye was greedy and stingy (Prov 28:22). If the very thing meant to guide you is dark, you walk in darkness and do not know it. Many have wandered from the faith through love of money (1 Tim 6:10).
6:24 You are not able to serve God and wealth A slave belonged to one master. Jesus does not say we should not serve both. He says we cannot. Money always promises security and always wants more. We will use money to serve God or end up using God to get money. Which one is your master?
6:25 do not be anxious for your life "Because of this" ties worry to serving wealth. If God is our master, He takes care of us. Anxious means pulled in different directions. If God gave you life and a body, can't you trust Him for food and clothing?
6:26 Look at the birds of the sky Birds work hard for food, but they do not worry. God is not their Father, but He is yours. If He cares for sparrows, He will care for His children (10:29-31).
6:27 which of you, being anxious, is able A cubit, about a foot and a half from elbow to fingertip, is used here for time. Worry does not add a moment to your life and often takes from it. It changes nothing about tomorrow but steals the joy and strength of today.
6:29 not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these The lilies were the spring wildflowers covering Galilee's hills. Solomon was the richest king Israel had (1 Kgs 10:4-7), yet a flower dressed by God outshines him.
6:30 you of little faith Dried grass and flowers fueled clay ovens, beautiful one day and burned the next. Jesus says it gently. At its root worry is a faith problem, forgetting how good and faithful our Father is.
6:32 the nations seek after all these things The nations are the Gentiles who do not know God. When believers are consumed by these worries, we live like people with no heavenly Father. But He knows what we need, and that should settle our hearts.
6:33 seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness The cure for worry is putting God first. This is not a promise of riches; Paul knew hunger while serving faithfully (Phil 4:11-12). It is a promise that our Father will give what we truly need while we seek Him.
6:34 Sufficient for the day is its trouble Most of what we worry about has not happened, and much never will. God gives grace for today, and when tomorrow comes His grace will be there too. We carry one day at a time, and not alone.
7:1 Do not judge, so that you may not be judged One of the most misused verses in the Bible. In this same chapter Jesus tells us to judge false prophets by their fruit (7:15-20), and elsewhere to "judge the righteous judgment" (John 7:24). He forbids the harsh, self-righteous spirit quick to condemn others and blind to its own faults. God alone knows the heart (James 4:12).
7:2 with what measure you measure, it will be measured back to you Like a merchant measuring grain: a stingy measure for others will be used on you, and God notices the standard we use (Rom 2:1). Before we criticize, ask how we would feel if that standard were used on us.
7:3 the beam in your own eye you do not notice A carpenter's son (13:55) pictures a man with a piece of lumber in his eye hunting for a speck in someone else's. The faults that bother us most in others are often our own.
7:5 First cast out the beam from your eye Jesus does not say never help your brother. Deal with your own sin first, then you will see clearly. Removing something from an eye takes a gentle hand. Restore a brother "in a spirit of gentleness" (Gal 6:1).
7:6 Do not give what is holy to the dogs, nor throw your pearls before the pigs Dogs were wild scavengers and pigs unclean animals, pictures of people who treat holy things with contempt. We are not to be harsh, but not foolish either. When people mock and attack the truth again and again, we keep praying for them but stop forcing holy things on them (10:14). That takes wisdom from God.

throw your pearls before the pigs, so that they do not trample them with their feet, and having turned, tear you to pieces.

Ask, Seek, Knock

7 Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. 8 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you who, if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone? 10 And if he asks for a fish, will he give him a serpent? 11 If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in the heavens give good things to those who ask Him? 12 Therefore all things whatever you desire that men do to you, so you also do to them; for this is the law and the prophets.

Two Gates and Two Trees

13 Enter through the narrow gate; for wide is the gate and broad the way that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter through it. 14 Because narrow is the gate and constricted the way that leads to life, and few are those who find it. 15 And beware of the false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves. 16 You will know them by their fruits. Do they gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles? 17 So every good tree produces good fruits, but the rotten tree produces evil fruits. 18 A good tree is not able to produce evil fruits, nor a rotten tree to produce good fruits. 19 Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into fire. 20 So then, by their fruits you will know them. 21 Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter into the kingdom of the heavens, but the one who does the will of My Father who is in the heavens. 22 Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in Your name, and in Your name cast out demons, and in Your name do many mighty works?' 23 And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you; depart from Me, you who work lawlessness.'

Two Builders

24 Therefore everyone who hears these words of Mine and does them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the rock. 25 And the rain came down, and the torrents came, and the winds blew, and they fell against that house; and it did not fall, for it had been founded on the rock. 26 And everyone who hears these words of Mine and does not do them will be likened to a foolish man who built his

7:7 Ask, and it will be given to you In Greek these keep going: keep asking, keep seeking, keep knocking. Asking speaks, seeking adds effort, knocking adds persistence. Right after the warning on judging, it also tells us where to get the wisdom we need.
7:8 everyone who asks receives God answers His children: sometimes yes, sometimes wait, sometimes no because He has something better. He answers when we ask according to His will (1 John 5:14-15). No one who keeps coming in honest prayer is turned away empty.
7:9 if his son asks him for bread, will give him a stone Small round loaves could look like stones, and some Galilee fish looked like snakes. Would any father play such a cruel trick on a hungry child?
7:11 If you then, being evil Jesus does not flatter. Even the best fathers are sinners, yet they love to give good gifts. How much more our perfect Father, whose best gift is the Holy Spirit (Luke 11:13). If your father was cruel, absent or harsh, God is not like that. He is the Father you always needed.
7:12 all things whatever you desire that men do to you, so you also do to them The Golden Rule. Others in history said it in the negative: do not do what you would not want done. Jesus says it positively: go and do good. It sums up how the Old Testament teaches us to treat others (22:37-40). It does not save us, but a saved person will try to live it.
7:13 wide is the gate and broad the way that leads to destruction Jesus calls for a decision between two roads. The wide road has room for every belief and every sin, and most people are on it. Many today want to believe every road leads to God. Popularity is not proof of truth.
7:14 narrow is the gate and constricted the way that leads to life The gate is Jesus Himself (John 10:9; 14:6). Constricted means pressed in, hard. Following Him means turning from sin even when it costs. It must be found, but it is not hidden. Jesus stands at the gate inviting everyone in.
7:15 in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravenous wolves A false prophet claims to speak for God but does not. They look gentle and godly and use the right words, but they hunger for money, power or followers. Peter and Paul warned they would come (Acts 20:29-30; 2 Pet 2:1-3). They are still with us.
7:16 You will know them by their fruits The fruit includes what a teacher teaches, whether it lines up with God's Word (Deut 13:1-4), and how he lives, whether with the fruit of the Spirit (Gal 5:22-23) or greed and pride. Over time the fruit always shows.
7:18 A good tree is not able to produce evil fruits What a tree is inside determines what it grows. A bad tree cannot make itself good by gluing apples to its branches. It needs a new nature, which God gives when we are born again (2 Cor 5:17). Jesus speaks of the pattern of a life, not of a believer never sinning.
7:19 Every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into fire John the Baptist's very words (3:10). False teachers face judgment, and so does everyone whose life shows they never knew God.
7:21 Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' Calling Jesus Lord with our lips is not enough. The Father's will is first that we believe in the Son (John 6:40), and real faith produces a changed life. Jesus calls God "My Father," and He is the One people will stand before.
7:22 did we not prophesy in Your name "That day" is the day of judgment, and "many" is not a small group. They pointed to impressive work done in Jesus' name, but not one pointed to what Jesus had done for them. They trusted their works, not the Savior.
7:23 I never knew you; depart from Me, you who work lawlessness Not that He knew them once and they lost it. He never knew them. To know in the Bible is a personal relationship (John 17:3). Jesus uses Psalm 6:8, David's words to his enemies, now spoken by the Son of David as Judge. The question is not how much you have done for Jesus, but whether you truly know Him.
7:24 a wise man who built his house on the rock From outside, two houses may look the same. The difference is the foundation. He dug deep (Luke 6:48), and what made him wise was that he heard and did. Many hear sermons every week. The wise put Jesus' words into practice.
7:25 and it did not fall, for it had been founded on the rock Dry stream beds in Israel could become raging rivers. The storm hit the wise man too. Following Jesus does not keep us from storms. What matters is what we stand on when they come. A life built on Christ (1 Cor 10:4) stands through anything, including the final storm of judgment.

house on the sand. 27 And the rain came down, and the torrents came, and the winds blew, and they struck against that house; and it fell, and its fall was great." 28 And it came about, when Jesus (Iesous) had finished these words, the crowds were astonished at His teaching; 29 for He was teaching them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

A Leper and a Centurion's Servant

1 And when He had come down from the mountain, great crowds followed Him. 2 And look, a leper, having come, was worshiping Him, saying, "Lord, if You are willing, You are able to cleanse me." 3 And having stretched out His hand, Jesus (Iesous) touched him, saying, "I am willing; be cleansed." And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus says to him, "See that you tell no one; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony to them." 5 And when Jesus had entered into Capernaum (Kapernaoum), a centurion came to Him, imploring Him 6 and saying, "Lord, my servant has been laid in the house paralyzed, terribly tormented." 7 And Jesus says to him, "I, having come, will heal him." 8 And the centurion, answering, said, "Lord, I am not worthy that You should come under my roof; but only speak a word, and my servant will be healed. 9 For I also am a man under authority, having soldiers under myself; and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes, and to another, 'Come,' and he comes, and to my slave, 'Do this,' and he does it." 10 And Jesus, having heard, marveled and said to those following, "Truly I say to you, not even in Israel have I found such great faith. 11 And I say to you that many will come from east and west and will recline with Abraham (Abraam) and Isaac (Isaak) and Jacob (Iakob) in the kingdom of the heavens; 12 but the sons of the kingdom will be cast out into the outer darkness; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth." 13 And Jesus said to the centurion, "Go, and as you have believed, let it come about for you." And his servant was healed in that hour.

Many Healed at Peter's House

14 And Jesus, having come into the house of Peter (Petros), saw his mother-in-law lying in bed and feverish. 15 And He touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose and was serving them. 16 And when evening had come, they brought to Him many who were demon-possessed; and He cast out the spirits with a word, and He healed all who were sick, 17 so that what was spoken through Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, "He Himself took our

7:27 and it fell, and its fall was great The foolish man heard the same words and did not do them. Building on sand was quicker, and for a while the house looked fine. Jesus ends with a crash. The sermon is not ideas to admire but a call to build on Him. Which foundation are you building on?
7:28 when Jesus had finished these words The first of five times Matthew closes a great sermon this way (11:1; 13:53; 19:1; 26:1).
7:29 as one having authority, and not as the scribes The scribes quoted earlier rabbis. Jesus quoted only Scripture and said "But I say to you." He spoke as the Giver of the Law and the Judge of the last day. We cannot just admire Him as a good teacher. We bow to His authority or walk away from it.
8:1 great crowds followed Him Jesus taught with authority (7:29). Now Matthew shows that authority in ten miracles across chapters 8 and 9. Following in a crowd is not the same as following as a disciple.
8:2 Lord, if You are willing, You are able to cleanse me Leprosy in the Bible covered a range of skin diseases. A leper lived outside town, tore his clothes and cried "Unclean" (Lev 13:45-46), cut off from family and worship. He did not doubt Jesus' power. He wondered if Jesus would want to help someone like him.
8:3 Jesus touched him The man may not have felt a human touch in years. Touching a leper made a person unclean, but the uncleanness did not pass to Jesus. His cleanness passed to the leper. If you wonder whether Jesus is willing to cleanse you, He has answered: "I am willing."
8:4 See that you tell no one Likely so He would not be known only as a miracle worker, or pushed to be a political king before His time (John 6:15). This man did not obey (Mark 1:45). Leviticus 14 told a healed leper to be examined by the priest. Jesus kept the Law, and it was proof to the priests that God was at work.
8:5 a centurion came to Him A Roman officer over about a hundred men, a Gentile in the occupying army. Luke says he loved the Jewish people and built them a synagogue (Luke 7:4-5). Many masters saw servants as property, but he cared for his.
8:8 Lord, I am not worthy that You should come under my roof This powerful officer was humble, perhaps knowing a Jew became unclean entering a Gentile home. "Only speak a word."
8:9 I also am a man under authority He took orders and gave orders, and they were obeyed. He saw that Jesus had authority over sickness the way he had over soldiers. Jesus did not need to be there. He only needed to give the order.
8:10 not even in Israel have I found such great faith Only twice do the Gospels say Jesus marveled: at this Gentile's faith and at His hometown's unbelief (Mark 6:6). Great faith is not about how much we know but how much we trust Jesus' word.
8:11 will recline with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of the heavens Guests reclined on couches at feasts. Jesus pictures the kingdom banquet the prophets foretold (Isa 25:6-9), with Gentiles from every direction.
8:12 the sons of the kingdom will be cast out into the outer darkness Those who assumed they were in because they were Abraham's children (3:9). This does not mean God is finished with Israel. A day is coming when all Israel will be saved (Rom 11:1, 25-29). But each person, Jew or Gentile, enters by faith. Gnashing is grinding the teeth in anguish. Jesus warned of hell more than anyone because He loved people.
8:13 his servant was healed in that hour From a distance, by His word. He works in our lives the same way today, through His Word and His Spirit.
8:14 saw his mother-in-law lying in bed and feverish Peter was married, and his wife later traveled with him (1 Cor 9:5).
8:15 she arose and was serving them No long recovery. Her first act was to serve. He heals us, and we serve. A leper, a Gentile's servant and a woman: all people the leaders kept at a distance, and Jesus came for all of them.
8:16 He cast out the spirits with a word It was the Sabbath (Mark 1:21, 32), which ended at sundown, when people could carry the sick. No rituals or formulas, just His word.
8:17 He Himself took our infirmities and bore the diseases From Isaiah 53:4, the suffering Servant who dies for His people. Sin brought sickness and death, and Jesus came to undo it all. Some believe healing is promised to every believer now because of the cross. Others believe the cross guarantees full healing but much waits for the resurrection, noting believers not healed (2 Tim 4:20). God still heals as He chooses, and one day completely (Rev 21:4).

infirmities and bore the diseases."

The Cost of Following

18 And Jesus, having seen great crowds around Him, commanded them to depart to the other side. 19 And one scribe, having come, said to Him, "Teacher, I will follow You wherever You go." 20 And Jesus says to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the sky have nests, but the Son of Man has nowhere that He may lay His head." 21 And another of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, allow me first to go and bury my father." 22 But Jesus said to him, "Follow Me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead."

Jesus Calms the Storm

23 And when He had gotten into the boat, His disciples followed Him. 24 And look, a great storm arose in the sea, so that the boat was being covered by the waves; but He Himself was sleeping. 25 And His disciples, having come, awoke Him, saying, "Lord, save us! We are perishing!" 26 And He says to them, "Why are you fearful, you of little faith?" Then, having arisen, He rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. 27 And the men marveled, saying, "What kind of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey Him?"

Two Men Freed from Demons

28 And when He had come to the other side, into the region of the Gergesenes, two demon-possessed men met Him, coming out of the tombs, extremely violent, so that no one was able to pass by that way. 29 And look, they cried out, saying, "What is there to us and to You, Jesus, Son of God? Have You come here before the time to torment us?" 30 And there was a herd of many pigs feeding far off from them. 31 And the demons were begging Him, saying, "If You cast us out, allow us to go away into the herd of pigs." 32 And He said to them, "Go." And having come out, they went away into the herd of pigs; and look, the whole herd of pigs rushed down the steep bank into the sea, and died in the waters. 33 And those feeding them fled, and having gone away into the city, they reported everything, and the things about those who were demon-possessed. 34 And look, the whole city went out to meet Jesus; and having seen Him, they begged that He would depart from their region.

A Paralyzed Man Forgiven and Healed

1 And having gotten into the boat, He crossed over and came to His own city. 2 And look, they were bringing to Him a paralytic, laid on a bed. And Jesus (Iesous), having seen their faith, said to the paralytic, "Take courage, child; your sins have been forgiven you." 3 And look, some of the scribes said within themselves, "This man blasphemes." 4 And Jesus, seeing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts? 5 For which is easier, to say, 'The sins have been for-

8:19 Teacher, I will follow You wherever You go It sounded wonderful, a scribe offering to follow. But Jesus saw his heart and told him the cost.
8:20 the Son of Man has nowhere that He may lay His head Jesus' favorite title for Himself, from Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man receives an everlasting kingdom. It speaks of His true humanity and His coming glory. Following Him may mean giving up comfort and security.
8:22 leave the dead to bury their own dead Likely the father was not yet dead, and the man meant to follow after he received his inheritance, perhaps years away. Let the spiritually dead handle such things. Jesus is not against caring for parents (15:3-6), but He will not take second place. Matthew does not say what either man decided, perhaps so we ask what we would do.
8:24 but He Himself was sleeping The Sea of Galilee lies about seven hundred feet below sea level, and cold air rushing down the hills can raise sudden storms. Seasoned fishermen were terrified. Jesus slept, truly human and tired, and at perfect peace in His Father's care.
8:25 Lord, save us! We are perishing At least they knew where to go. Short, desperate prayers are heard too.
8:26 Why are you fearful, you of little faith He spoke to the storm inside them first. Then He rebuked wind and sea as their Master, without praying for help. Waves usually roll on after a storm. This time came "a great calm."
8:27 What kind of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey Him The question Matthew wants every reader to ask. Only God stills the raging sea (Ps 89:9; 107:28-29). Jesus does not always calm our storms at once, but He is always in the boat.
8:28 two demon-possessed men met Him, coming out of the tombs East of the lake, mostly Gentile land. Mark and Luke name the area for other nearby towns, depending on the Greek copy. They mention one man, likely the one who spoke. If there were two, there was certainly one. Tombs were hillside caves, unclean under the Law.
8:29 Have You come here before the time to torment us The demons knew who He was (James 2:19). Knowing who Jesus is is not trusting Him. They knew judgment was coming (25:41; Rev 20:10). They did not expect Him so soon.
8:32 the whole herd of pigs rushed down the steep bank into the sea Jews did not raise unclean pigs; this was Gentile country, about two thousand of them (Mark 5:13). Scripture doesn't say why Jesus allowed it. Perhaps it showed how destructive demons are (John 10:10) and that the men were truly free. Two human lives were worth more to Jesus than a herd of pigs.
8:34 they begged that He would depart from their region They cared more about pigs and income than the freed men or the Lord who freed them. Many today would rather keep their lives as they are than let Him change everything. Jesus does not force Himself on anyone.
9:1 came to His own city Capernaum, His home (4:13). The Gadarenes asked Him to leave, so He went where people were waiting. He offers Himself but does not force Himself on anyone.
9:2 Jesus, having seen their faith The friends dug through the roof to lower him (Mark 2:3-4). Jesus saw their faith; our faith can bring others to Him. Everyone saw the man's legs as his problem. Jesus saw his sin. We may come to Jesus for many reasons, but our deepest need is forgiveness.
9:3 This man blasphemes To blaspheme is to speak against God or claim what belongs to Him alone. Only God can forgive sins against God (Isa 43:25). The scribes were right about that and wrong about Jesus. He was not a man claiming to be God. He was God who had become a man.
9:4 Jesus, seeing their thoughts They had said nothing aloud. Only God knows the heart (1 Kgs 8:39).
9:5 which is easier Anyone can say "The sins have been forgiven you," because no one can see it. Telling a paralyzed man to walk is tested at once. Jesus did the harder, visible thing to prove the unseen thing.

given you,' or to say, 'Arise and walk'? 6 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins"—then He says to the paralytic—"having arisen, take up your bed and go to your house." 7 And having arisen, he went away to his house. 8 And the crowds, having seen, marveled and glorified God, who had given such authority to men.

The Call of Matthew

9 And Jesus, passing on from there, saw a man sitting at the tax booth, named Matthew (Matthaios); and He says to him, "Follow Me." And having arisen, he followed Him. 10 And it came about, as He was reclining in the house, that look, many tax collectors and sinners, having come, were reclining with Jesus and His disciples. 11 And the Pharisees, having seen, said to His disciples, "Why does your Teacher eat with the tax collectors and sinners?" 12 And Jesus, having heard, said to them, "Those who are healthy have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. 13 But having gone, learn what it is: 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance."

A Question About Fasting

14 Then the disciples of John (Ioannes) come to Him, saying, "Why do we and the Pharisees fast often, but Your disciples do not fast?" 15 And Jesus said to them, "Can the sons of the bridal chamber mourn as long as the bridegroom is with them? But days will come when the bridegroom will be taken away from them, and then they will fast. 16 And no one puts a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; for its filling takes away from the garment, and a worse tear comes about. 17 Nor do they put new wine into old wineskins; otherwise indeed, the wineskins burst, and the wine is poured out, and the wineskins will be destroyed; but they put new wine into fresh wineskins, and both are preserved together."

A Ruler's Daughter and a Woman Healed

18 While He was speaking these things to them, look, one ruler, having come, was worshiping Him, saying, "My daughter has just now died; but having come, lay Your hand on her, and she will live." 19 And Jesus, having arisen, followed him, and His disciples also. 20 And look, a woman suffering a flow of blood twelve years, having come up behind Him, touched the fringe of His garment. 21 For she was saying within herself, "If only I touch His garment, I will be saved." 22 And Jesus, having turned around and having seen her, said, "Take courage, daughter; your faith has saved you." And the woman was saved from that hour. 23 And Jesus, having come into the house of the ruler and having seen the flute players and the crowd making a commotion, 24 says to them, "Go away, for the girl has not died, but is sleeping."

9:6 the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins The Son of Man of Daniel 7:13-14 receives authority and an everlasting kingdom. The healing everyone could see proved the forgiveness no one could see. If He forgave this man, He can forgive you.
9:8 glorified God, who had given such authority to men The scribes were angry and the crowd praised God over the same miracle. The same work of God can soften one heart and harden another.
9:9 a man sitting at the tax booth, named Matthew The writer tells his own call in one verse. Mark and Luke call him Levi. Tax collectors worked for Rome or Herod, often cheated their own people, and were ranked with robbers. A fisherman could go back to his nets. Matthew could not go back to his booth. He does not even say what he gave up (Luke 5:28).
9:10 many tax collectors and sinners, having come, were reclining with Jesus Matthew threw a feast (Luke 5:29) and did what new believers often do: he invited his old friends to meet Jesus.
9:11 Why does your Teacher eat with the tax collectors and sinners Eating together meant acceptance and friendship. The Pharisees asked the disciples, not Jesus, trying to stir doubt.
9:12 Those who are healthy have no need of a physician, but those who are sick A doctor goes where the sick are. Jesus did not join their sin, but He went where they were and loved them. The Pharisees were sick too and did not know it. Do we spend time with people who need Jesus, or only with other Christians?
9:13 I desire mercy, and not sacrifice From Hosea 6:6. Go and learn was a rabbi's phrase to students: these experts needed to study their Bible again (1 Sam 15:22). "To repentance" is in the Greek copies the SLB follows. Jesus does not leave sinners as they are. He can help everyone except those who think they don't need Him.
9:14 Why do we and the Pharisees fast often John's disciples, their teacher in prison (4:12), lived strict lives like his. Likely an honest question, not an attack.
9:15 as long as the bridegroom is with them The "sons of the bridal chamber" were the groom's friends. A wedding feast could last a week, with no fasting. Jesus is the Bridegroom. "Taken away" is an early hint of a violent death. After His return to heaven His followers fasted again (Acts 13:2-3), as we long for Him to come back for us.
9:17 they put new wine into fresh wineskins New cloth shrinks and tears an old garment. Fermenting new wine bursts old, stiff skins. Jesus did not come to patch up man-made religion. The new covenant and the life of the kingdom need a new heart to hold them.
9:18 one ruler, having come, was worshiping Him Jairus, ruler of the synagogue, the man who oversaw its services (Mark 5:22). Mark says she was dying when he came and news of her death came on the way (Mark 5:23, 35). Matthew tells it shorter and gives the end result.
9:20 a woman suffering a flow of blood twelve years As long as Jairus' daughter had lived (Luke 8:42). The Law made her unclean and anyone she touched (Lev 15:25-27). She had spent all she had on doctors (Mark 5:26). The fringe was the tassel worn to recall God's commands (Num 15:38-39).
9:21 If only I touch His garment, I will be saved Saved here can mean healed or rescued. She came quietly from behind, likely ashamed and afraid of being noticed. But she believed.
9:22 Take courage, daughter; your faith has saved you Jesus would not let her slip away. She was not just healed but accepted, called "daughter." It was not the garment. Her faith, perhaps mixed with superstition, reached out to the right Person.
9:23 the flute players and the crowd making a commotion Even poor families hired professional mourners and flute players, so the house was full of loud wailing.
9:24 the girl has not died, but is sleeping She was dead, and they laughed. To Jesus death is like sleep, because He wakes the dead as easily as we wake a napper. The New Testament calls believers' death sleep for this reason (1 Thess 4:13-14).

And they were ridiculing Him. 25 But when the crowd had been put outside, having entered, He took hold of her hand, and the girl arose. 26 And this report went out into all that land.

Sight for the Blind and Speech for the Mute

27 And as Jesus was passing on from there, two blind men followed Him, crying out and saying, "Have mercy on us, Son of David (Dabid)!" 28 And when He had come into the house, the blind men came to Him; and Jesus says to them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?" They say to Him, "Yes, Lord." 29 Then He touched their eyes, saying, "According to your faith let it come about for you." 30 And their eyes were opened. And Jesus sternly warned them, saying, "See, let no one know." 31 But they, having gone out, made Him widely known in all that land. 32 And as they were going out, look, they brought to Him a mute man, demon-possessed. 33 And when the demon had been cast out, the mute man spoke. And the crowds marveled, saying, "Never has it been seen like this in Israel!" 34 But the Pharisees were saying, "By the ruler of the demons He casts out the demons."

The Harvest Is Plentiful

35 And Jesus was going around all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every sickness among the people. 36 And having seen the crowds, He was moved with compassion for them, because they were weary and thrown down, like sheep not having a shepherd. 37 Then He says to His disciples, "The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the workers are few; 38 therefore implore the Lord of the harvest that He may send out workers into His harvest."

The Twelve Sent Out

1 And having summoned His twelve disciples, He gave them authority over unclean spirits, so as to cast them out, and to heal every disease and every sickness. 2 And the names of the twelve apostles are these: first, Simon, who is called Peter (Petros), and Andrew (Andreas) his brother; James (Iakobos) the son of Zebedee (Zebedaios), and John (Ioannes) his brother; 3 Philip (Philippos) and Bartholomew (Bartholomaios); Thomas and Matthew (Matthaios) the tax collector; James the son of Alphaeus (Alphaios), and Lebbaeus (Lebbaios), who was surnamed Thaddaeus (Thaddaios); 4 Simon the Cananite, and Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), the one who also handed Him over. 5 These twelve Jesus (Iesous) sent out, having instructed them, saying, "Do not go off into the way of the Gentiles, and do not enter into a city of the Samaritans; 6 but rather go to the lost

10:6 Ezek 3:4; Jer 50:6,17; Acts 3:26

9:25 He took hold of her hand, and the girl arose He put out the mockers and took only the parents and three disciples in (Mark 5:37, 40). Touching the dead made one unclean, but His life flowed into her. One of three raisings before His own, with the widow's son (Luke 7:11-15) and Lazarus (John 11).
9:27 Have mercy on us, Son of David The first time in Matthew anyone uses this title for the Messiah, the King from David's line (2 Sam 7:12-16). When God came to save, the blind would see (Isa 35:5). These blind men saw who He was more clearly than many with perfect eyes.
9:28 Do you believe that I am able to do this He waited until they followed Him inside. Not whether He was willing but whether He was able. "Yes, Lord." Sometimes that is all we need to say.
9:29 According to your faith let it come about for you It was not the strength of their faith that healed them but the One they trusted.
9:30 See, let no one know Jesus did not want crowds coming for miracles or "Son of David" stirring a political revolt before His time. They spread the news anyway. It is possible to love Jesus and still go our own way instead of doing what He asks.
9:33 Never has it been seen like this in Israel Not every inability to speak comes from a demon, but this one did. In two chapters Jesus healed the leper, paralyzed, blind and mute, raised the dead and cast out demons, the signs the prophets tied to God's kingdom (Isa 35:5-6).
9:34 By the ruler of the demons He casts out the demons They could not deny the miracles, so they credited Satan. Jesus answers fully in 12:24-32. When people are determined not to believe, no evidence will do. The answer is a softened heart, which only God can give.
9:35 teaching in their synagogues, and proclaiming the gospel of the kingdom Almost the same as 4:23. The two summaries are bookends around the King's words (5-7) and works (8-9). Jesus cared for the whole person, mind, soul and body.
9:36 He was moved with compassion for them The word comes from a person's insides. Jesus felt it deep within. Israel's leaders had failed as shepherds (Ezek 34:1-6), and Jesus is the Good Shepherd (John 10:11). When you look at crowds in your town, at work, or online, do you see people to avoid or sheep without a shepherd?
9:38 implore the Lord of the harvest that He may send out workers The people were ready. What was missing was workers. Jesus says pray first, not organize a program. In the next chapter He sends the same men He told to pray. When we pray for workers, we often find He is sending us.
10:1 having summoned His twelve disciples, He gave them authority Twelve, like the tribes of Israel. Jesus was forming the leadership of God's people, and He promised the twelve thrones judging Israel's tribes in His kingdom (19:28). The power was not their own. They were to do what He did (9:35), in His name.
10:2 the names of the twelve apostles An apostle is one sent, carrying the authority of the sender. The list comes in pairs, perhaps because they went two by two (Mark 6:7). Peter, often their spokesman, is always first, and Judas always last.
10:4 Simon the Cananite Not from Canaan. The name comes from a Hebrew word for zealous; Luke calls him the Zealot (Luke 6:15). Zealots wanted to drive out Rome by force. A tax collector and a Zealot would have been enemies, yet in Jesus they served side by side. The church is still meant to be like that.
10:4 Judas Iscariot, the one who also handed Him over Jesus chose him knowing what he would do (John 6:64, 70). Judas walked with Jesus three years and saw the miracles, yet never truly belonged to Him. Being close to Jesus is not the same as belonging to Him.
10:5 do not enter into a city of the Samaritans Samaritans, between Galilee and Judea, were partly Jewish by descent, mixed with peoples Assyria settled there. They had their own temple and version of the books of Moses, and the two peoples despised each other (John 4:9).
10:6 go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel God made His promises to Israel, and the King came first to His own (Rom 1:16). This limit was for this mission. After the resurrection He sent them to all nations (28:19; Acts 1:8). God's promises to Israel still stand (Rom 11:28-29).

sheep of the house of Israel. 7 And as you go, proclaim, saying, 'The kingdom of the heavens has drawn near.' 8 Heal those who are ailing, cleanse lepers, raise the dead, cast out demons. Freely you received; freely give. 9 Do not acquire gold, nor silver, nor copper for your belts, 10 nor a bag for the way, nor two tunics, nor sandals, nor staffs; for the worker is worthy of his food. 11 And into whatever city or village you enter, inquire who in it is worthy, and remain there until you go out. 12 And when entering into the house, greet it. 13 And if indeed the house is worthy, let your peace come upon it; but if it is not worthy, let your peace return to you. 14 And whoever does not receive you nor hear your words, when going out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet. 15 Truly I say to you, it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom (Sodoma) and Gomorrah (Gomorra) in the day of judgment than for that city.

Persecution Ahead

16 Look, I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves; therefore be shrewd as the serpents and innocent as the doves. 17 But beware of men; for they will hand you over to councils, and in their synagogues they will flog you; 18 and you will even be brought before governors and kings on account of Me, for a testimony to them and to the Gentiles. 19 But whenever they hand you over, do not be anxious how or what you will speak; for it will be given to you in that hour what you will speak; 20 for you are not the ones speaking, but the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you. 21 And brother will hand over brother to death, and father child; and children will rise up against parents and put them to death. 22 And you will be hated by all on account of My name; but the one who has endured to the end, he will be saved. 23 But whenever they persecute you in this city, flee into the other; for truly I say to you, you will by no means have completed the cities of Israel until the Son of Man comes. 24 A disciple is not above the teacher, nor a slave above his master. 25 It is sufficient for the disciple that he become like his teacher, and the slave like his master. If they called the master of the house Beelzebul, how much more those of his household? 26 Therefore do not fear them; for nothing is concealed that will not be revealed, and hidden that will not be known. 27 What I tell you in the darkness, speak in the light; and what you hear in the ear, proclaim on the housetops. 28 And do not fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear Him who is

10:8 Freely you received; freely give The signs of the kingdom went with the message and proved it came from God. They were not to charge for gifts they had not paid for (Acts 8:18-20). Everything we have from God we received freely, and we should give freely.
10:10 the worker is worthy of his food Money was carried in a fold of the belt. Travel light and trust God (Mark 6:8-9; Luke 9:3). Paul applies this to supporting those who preach (1 Tim 5:18; 1 Cor 9:14). These rules were for this short mission (Luke 22:35-36), but those who serve God should still depend on Him.
10:13 let your peace come upon it The greeting was shalom, a blessing of well-being. They were to stay in one welcoming home, not shop for better food. Our job is to offer Christ's peace. Whether people receive it is up to them.
10:14 shake off the dust of your feet Jews returning from Gentile lands shook off unclean dust. Doing it in a Jewish town warned that rejecting the King's messengers was rejecting the King (Acts 13:51).
10:15 more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgment The cities destroyed by fire from heaven (Gen 19). A town that rejects Jesus will be judged more harshly because it had more light. The more truth we hear, the more we are responsible for.
10:16 be shrewd as the serpents and innocent as the doves Jesus does not promise an easy road. The serpent was known as careful and wise, the dove as gentle and harmless. Wisdom without innocence turns sly. Innocence without wisdom turns gullible. We need both.
10:17 they will hand you over to councils Here Jesus looks beyond this first trip. After the resurrection the apostles were beaten by the Sanhedrin (Acts 5:40), and Paul took thirty-nine lashes five times (2 Cor 11:24).
10:18 brought before governors and kings on account of Me Paul stood before Felix, Festus and Agrippa (Acts 24-26). What looked like defeat was an open door to tell rulers about Jesus.
10:20 the Spirit of your Father who speaks in you Before the Sanhedrin Peter spoke boldly, "having been filled with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 4:8). This is no excuse for preachers to skip preparing. It is a promise for believers on trial for their faith.
10:21 brother will hand over brother to death Faith in Christ can divide families, as it did in the early church and still does where becoming a Christian can cost a life. If your family has rejected you for Jesus, He knows that pain. His own brothers did not believe at first (John 7:5).
10:22 the one who has endured to the end, he will be saved Not hated for rudeness, but for His name (John 15:18). Some see endurance as the mark of true believers. Others see a warning that one can fall away. Others note the same words in 24:13 for those who live through the Tribulation and are delivered at His return. All agree we are saved by grace through faith, and real faith keeps going.
10:23 until the Son of Man comes Fleeing persecution is not cowardice and can spread the message (Acts 8:1-4). The twelve did not finish Israel's cities before the cross, so what did He mean? Some say the Transfiguration or the resurrection, some the judgment on Jerusalem in A.D. 70. Many dispensational teachers see the long witness to Israel that will still be going on when the Son of Man returns at the end of the Tribulation (24:14, 30).
10:25 If they called the master of the house Beelzebul A name for Satan, perhaps from Baal-zebub, a Philistine god (2 Kgs 1:2). They said it of Jesus (9:34), so His followers should not expect better. The goal of a disciple is to become like his teacher, including how the world treats Him.
10:26 Therefore do not fear them The first of three "do not fear" (10:26, 28, 31). Enemies may lie about believers now, but God will reveal everything. Truth will win.
10:27 proclaim on the housetops Houses had flat roofs, and announcements were made from them. The gospel is not a secret to keep but good news to proclaim.
10:28 fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna The worst a persecutor can do is kill the body, and for a believer death means being with the Lord (Phil 1:21-23). To fear God is to stand in awe of the holy Judge, the right respect of a creature for his Creator. The one who bows before God can stand before any man.

able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. 29 Are not two sparrows sold for an assarion? And not one of them will fall to the ground apart from your Father. 30 But even the hairs of your head are all numbered. 31 Therefore do not fear; you are worth more than many sparrows. 32 Therefore everyone who will confess in Me before men, I also will confess in him before My Father who is in the heavens. 33 But whoever denies Me before men, I also will deny him before My Father who is in the heavens.

The Cost and Reward of Discipleship

34 Do not think that I came to bring peace on the earth; I did not come to bring peace, but a sword. 35 For I came to divide a man against his father, and a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; 36 and the enemies of the man will be the members of his household. 37 The one who loves father or mother above Me is not worthy of Me; and the one who loves son or daughter above Me is not worthy of Me. 38 And whoever does not take his cross and follow after Me is not worthy of Me. 39 The one who has found his life will lose it, and the one who has lost his life on account of Me will find it. 40 The one who receives you receives Me, and the one who receives Me receives Him who sent Me. 41 The one who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a prophet's reward; and the one who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward. 42 And whoever gives one of these little ones only a cup of cold water to drink in the name of a disciple, truly I say to you, he will by no means lose his reward."

John the Baptist's Question

1 And it came about, when Jesus (Iesous) had finished commanding His twelve disciples, He departed from there to teach and to proclaim in their cities. 2 And John (Ioannes), having heard in the prison the works of the Christ, having sent two of his disciples, 3 said to Him, "Are You the One who is coming, or are we to look for another?" 4 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "Having gone, report to John the things that you hear and see: 5 the blind receive sight, and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor have the gospel preached to them. 6 And blessed is he who is not caused to stumble in Me." 7 And as these were going away, Jesus began to speak to 10:29 two sparrows sold for an assarion Sparrows were the cheapest food, and an assarion a small copper coin. Five sold for two (Luke 12:6), the fifth thrown in free. Yet not one falls apart from your Father.

10:31 you are worth more than many sparrows God knows you down to the hairs of your head. This does not mean nothing bad will happen. Sparrows still fall. But never without the Father, and neither will you.
10:32 everyone who will confess in Me before men To confess is to agree openly and stand with someone. Jesus places Himself as the One who decides people's standing before God.
10:33 whoever denies Me before men Peter denied Jesus three times and was restored (John 21:15-19). Jesus speaks of a settled denial, a life that refuses to own Him. Peter wept bitterly (26:75). A real believer who stumbles comes back.
10:34 I did not come to bring peace, but a sword The Prince of Peace (Isa 9:6) gives peace with God (Rom 5:1) and will bring peace to the earth when He reigns. For now His coming divides people. The sword is not for fighting (26:52). It is a picture of division.
10:36 the enemies of the man will be the members of his household From Micah 7:6. Many believers know this pain, from being cut off by family to danger of death. We should never be the cause, but the most loving family members anyone has. Still, we must not deny Him to keep the peace.
10:37 The one who loves father or mother above Me is not worthy of Me Family is a great gift (Exod 20:12; 1 Tim 5:8), but it cannot take God's place. No mere man may claim first place above the people we love most. When Jesus is first, we love our families better, not less.
10:38 whoever does not take his cross and follow after Me The condemned man carried his own cross beam to execution. A man carrying a cross was going to die. Taking up our cross is not putting up with an annoying neighbor. It is dying to our own way, plans and pride, a life fully surrendered to Him.
10:39 the one who has lost his life on account of Me will find it A paradox: it sounds like a contradiction but is true. Hold on to your life for yourself and you lose it. Give it to Jesus and you find real life. Many who gave up everything for Him found He gave back far more.
10:40 The one who receives you receives Me To welcome an ambassador is to welcome his king. A great honor and responsibility for everyone who carries the gospel.
10:41 will receive a prophet's reward To welcome someone because he speaks for God is to share his reward, as the widow who fed Elijah shared his ministry (1 Kgs 17:8-16). If you pray for missionaries, give, or open your home to God's servants, God keeps careful records.
10:42 only a cup of cold water to drink in the name of a disciple "These little ones" are His humble disciples. After wolves, floggings and swords, Jesus ends gently. A cup of water is about the smallest gift there is, and not even that is overlooked.
11:1 He departed from there to teach and to proclaim in their cities The second "when Jesus had finished" (7:28). Jesus did not send the twelve out and sit back. A good leader does not ask others to do what he will not do himself.
11:3 Are You the One who is coming, or are we to look for another The Coming One meant the Messiah. Josephus says John was held at Machaerus, a fortress east of the Dead Sea. John had seen the Spirit descend (3:16-17) and preached the ax and the fire (3:10-12). Now he sat in a dungeon while Herod ruled, and Jesus was healing, not judging. He took his doubts to Jesus, the right thing to do with ours.
11:5 the poor have the gospel preached to them From Isaiah's kingdom promises (Isa 35:5-6; 61:1). The very signs were happening. The good news to the poor is the high point; the miracles pointed to the message. Jesus left out the "day of vengeance of our God" (Isa 61:2). He came first to save and will come again to judge. John saw both comings as one, and we know now they are centuries apart.
11:6 blessed is he who is not caused to stumble in Me To stumble is to fall away because Jesus does not do what we expected. Sometimes He heals, and sometimes He lets His servant stay in prison. John would soon die there (14:10). Jesus invited him to trust without understanding everything.
11:7 A reed shaken by the wind Reeds along the Jordan bent with every breeze. John never changed his message to please crowds or king. He was in a king's house now, in its dungeon, because he would not flatter that king. A moment of doubt did not change who he was.

the crowds concerning John: "What did you go out into the wilderness to view? A reed shaken by the wind? 8 But what did you go out to see? A man dressed in soft garments? Look, those who wear soft things are in the houses of kings. 9 But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet. 10 For this is he concerning whom it has been written: 'Look, I send My messenger before Your face, who will prepare Your way before You.' 11 Truly I say to you, among those born of women there has not been raised one greater than John the Baptist; yet the least in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he. 12 And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and violent men seize it. 13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. 14 And if you are willing to receive it, he himself is Elijah (Helias), who is about to come. 15 The one who has ears to hear, let him hear. 16 But to what will I compare this generation? It is like little children sitting in markets and calling to their companions, 17 and saying, 'We played the flute for you, and you did not dance; we sang a dirge to you, and you did not mourn.' 18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.' 19 The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and they say, 'Look, a man who is a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' And wisdom was justified by her children."

Woes on Unrepentant Towns

20 Then He began to reproach the cities in which most of His mighty works had taken place, because they did not repent: 21 "Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the mighty works that took place in you had taken place in Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. 22 But I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you. 23 And you, Capernaum (Kapernaoum), who have been exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades; for if the mighty works that took place in you had taken place in Sodom (Sodoma), they would have remained until today. 24 But I say to you that it will be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for you."

Come to Me and Rest

25 At that time Jesus, answering, said, "I praise You, Father, Lord of the heaven and of the earth, because You hid these things from wise and understanding ones and revealed them to little children. 26 Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing

11:10 Look, I send My messenger before Your face From Malachi 3:1. Other prophets spoke of the Messiah from a distance. John was the messenger right before Him, the only prophet who could point and say "Look, the Lamb of God" (John 1:29). In Malachi God speaks of sending His messenger before Him. Here the Father speaks to the Son, "before Your face." Jesus is the Lord whose way John prepared.

11:11 yet the least in the kingdom of the heavens is greater than he None greater than John because of his place as herald of the King. The least is not a better person, but more privileged. John did not live to see the cross, the resurrection and Pentecost. We stand on the other side of the cross. Never take that for granted.

11:12 the kingdom of the heavens suffers violence, and violent men seize it One of the hardest verses in Matthew. Some read it as the kingdom under attack by violent men like Herod, who had John in prison. Others read it as the kingdom pushing forward with force while determined people press in (Luke 16:16). Both ideas are true in Scripture.

11:13 all the prophets and the law prophesied until John The whole Old Testament pointed forward. With John the time of promise ended and fulfillment began.

11:14 if you are willing to receive it, he himself is Elijah Malachi promised Elijah before the day of the Lord (Mal 4:5). John denied being Elijah in person (John 1:21) but came in his spirit and power (Luke 1:17). Had Israel received the King, John would have fulfilled it completely. Many dispensational teachers expect a further fulfillment before Jesus returns, perhaps one of the two witnesses (Rev 11; Matt 17:11-12).

11:15 The one who has ears to hear, let him hear Jesus said this when He wanted people to stop and think. Everyone has ears, but not everyone listens.

11:17 We played the flute for you, and you did not dance Children in the square play wedding, and the others won't dance. They play funeral, and the others won't mourn. Nothing satisfied this generation, however God came to them.

11:18 John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, 'He has a demon.' John was too strict for them, and Jesus too free. The problem was their hearts. They did not want to repent, so they found reasons to reject the messengers.

11:19 a friend of tax collectors and sinners Meant as a slur, but wonderful news. He is the Friend of sinners, including you and me. "Wisdom was justified by her children": God's wisdom in sending both John and Jesus is proven by the lives changed through them.

11:20 because they did not repent Many enjoyed the miracles. They did not reject Jesus openly. They just did not change. That is a quiet but deadly unbelief.

11:21 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida Woe is a cry of grief and warning. Chorazin was two miles north of Capernaum, and no miracle there is recorded. Bethsaida was home to Peter, Andrew and Philip (John 1:44). Tyre and Sidon were proud Gentile coastal cities the prophets condemned (Ezek 26-28). Sackcloth was rough goat's hair cloth, worn with ashes in deep repentance.

11:22 it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment than for you Greater light brings greater responsibility. There will be degrees of judgment according to the truth received and rejected (Luke 12:47-48).

11:23 you, Capernaum, who have been exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades Jesus' own town was lifted high by His living there. Hades is the place of the dead, often used for judgment, echoing the proud king of Babylon (Isa 14:13-15). These words were for respectable, religious towns. It is possible to grow so used to Jesus that we never turn to Him. Capernaum and Chorazin are ruins today.

11:25 You hid these things from wise and understanding ones and revealed them to little children After hard words, Jesus prays. The wise were proud religious leaders. The little children were humble people who knew their need. God hides the truth not from the educated but from the proud. The way in is to become like a child (18:3).

11:26 Yes, Father, for so it was well-pleasing before You Even when cities rejected Him, Jesus rested in His Father's plan. When people we love reject the gospel, we can pray the same way and trust God's wisdom.

Lord of the Sabbath

1 At that time Jesus (Iesous) went on the Sabbath through the grainfields; and His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat. 2 And the Pharisees, having seen, said to Him, "Look, Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on a Sabbath." 3 But He said to them, "Have you not read what David (Dabid) did when he was hungry, he and those with him, 4 how he entered into the house of God and ate the loaves of the presentation, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those with him, but for the priests alone? 5 Or have you not read in the law that on the Sabbath the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless? 6 But I say to you that One greater than the temple is here. 7 But if you had known what this is, 'I desire mercy and not sacrifice,' you would not have condemned the guiltless. 8 For the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath." 9 And having departed from there, He went into their synagogue. 10 And look, there was a man having a withered hand. And they asked Him, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"—so that they might accuse Him. 11 And He said to them, "What man will there be among you who will have one sheep, and if it falls into a pit on the Sabbath, will he not take hold of it and raise it up? 12 How much more valuable then is a man than a sheep? Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath." 13 Then He says to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he stretched it out, and it was restored healthy like the other. 14 And the Pharisees, having gone out, took counsel against Him, how they might destroy Him.

God's Chosen Servant

15 But Jesus, having known, withdrew from there. And great crowds followed Him, and He healed them all, 16 and He warned them that they should not make Him known, 17 so that what was spoken through Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, 18 "Look, My Servant whom I have

11:27 no one knows the Son except the Father All authority is handed to the Son (28:18). Father and Son know each other completely, as in John (John 10:15; 14:9). Only God can fully know God. Some stress God's sovereign choice to reveal Himself; others that the Son reveals the Father to all who come in humble faith. Both stand side by side here, and the next word is "Come."
11:28 Come to Me, all who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest Notice "all." Many were poor and worn out by work, and the Pharisees had piled on rules no one could keep (23:4). Many of us are worn out by guilt or trying to be good enough for God. Jesus does not just show the way to rest. He gives it. If you are tired today, this invitation is for you.
11:29 I am gentle and humble in heart A yoke joined two oxen to pull together, and rabbis spoke of the yoke of the Law. Coming to Jesus means becoming His disciple. This is the only place Jesus describes His own heart, gentle and humble, patient with our weakness. Rest for the soul echoes Jeremiah 6:16.
11:30 My yoke is easy, and My burden is light Not that following Him is always easy (chapter 10). The word means kind, well-fitted. A good carpenter shaped a yoke so it would not rub the neck raw. Yoked to Jesus, He takes the heavy end. His commands are not burdensome (1 John 5:3).
12:1 His disciples were hungry, and they began to pluck heads of grain and to eat The Sabbath was the seventh day, Saturday, set apart for rest (Exod 20:8-11). The disciples were not stealing; the Law let a hungry traveler pick grain by hand (Deut 23:25). The Pharisees' rules counted picking and rubbing grain as harvesting and threshing.
12:2 Your disciples are doing what is not lawful to do on a Sabbath The Law itself did not say that. Their tradition did. Right after Jesus offered rest to the weary (11:28), we see the kind of rest the Pharisees offered.
12:4 ate the loaves of the presentation "Have you not read" was a sharp question to men proud of their reading. The twelve loaves set before the Lord each week were for priests alone (Lev 24:5-9), yet the priest gave them to hungry David (1 Sam 21:1-6). God's laws were for His people's good. If David could do this, how much more the Son of David?
12:5 the priests in the temple profane the Sabbath and are guiltless Priests worked harder on the Sabbath, offering its extra sacrifices (Num 28:9-10), because temple service came first.
12:6 One greater than the temple is here The temple was the holiest place in Israel, where God put His name. Only God could say He is greater. If priests could work in God's house, the disciples could serve the One greater than the house.
12:7 I desire mercy and not sacrifice Hosea 6:6 for the second time (9:13). The Pharisees knew the rules but not the heart of the God who gave them, so they condemned the guiltless.
12:8 the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath The Sabbath was God's day, and Jesus says it is His. He is not breaking God's law. He gave it. The real rest God offers is found in a Person, not a day (11:28; Heb 4:9-10).
12:10 Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath A synagogue was the local Jewish meeting place for prayer and Scripture on the Sabbath. Their teachers allowed help on the Sabbath only to save a life. They asked "so that they might accuse Him." It is sad when religious people see a hurting man only as a test case.
12:12 How much more valuable then is a man than a sheep They would pull a sheep from a pit on the Sabbath. Man is made in God's image. The Sabbath was never a day to stop doing good.
12:13 Stretch out your hand The one thing the man could not do. When Jesus commands, He gives the power to obey. By their rules He did no work. He only spoke.
12:14 took counsel against Him, how they might destroy Him A turning point. From here the leaders want Him dead. They called healing on the Sabbath sin but thought nothing of plotting murder on it.
12:16 He warned them that they should not make Him known His hour had not come, and He would go to the cross on the Father's timetable. Many wanted a political Messiah to fight Rome. Jesus would be a King who suffers before He reigns.
12:18 Look, My Servant whom I have chosen From Isaiah 42:1-4, echoing the Father's words at the baptism (3:17). A Gentile is anyone not Jewish. Early in His ministry, Matthew shows this Jewish King bringing hope to the whole world.

chosen, My Beloved in whom My soul has been well pleased; I will put My Spirit upon Him, and He will proclaim justice to the Gentiles. 19 He will not quarrel nor cry out, nor will anyone hear His voice in the streets. 20 A bruised reed He will not break, and a smoldering wick He will not quench, until He brings forth justice to victory. 21 And in His name the Gentiles will hope."

A House Divided

22 Then one who was demon-possessed, blind and mute, was brought to Him; and He healed him, so that the blind and mute man both spoke and saw. 23 And all the crowds were amazed and were saying, "This is not the Son of David, is it?" 24 But the Pharisees, having heard, said, "This man does not cast out the demons except by Beelzebul, ruler of the demons." 25 And Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. 26 And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then will his kingdom stand? 27 And if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Because of this they will be your judges. 28 But if I cast out the demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. 29 Or how is anyone able to enter into the house of the strong man and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man? And then he will plunder his house. 30 The one who is not with Me is against Me, and the one who does not gather with Me scatters.

31 Because of this I say to you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven to men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven to men. 32 And whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but whoever speaks against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven him, neither in this age nor in the coming one. 33 Either make the tree good and its fruit good, or make the tree rotten and its fruit rotten; for the tree is known by the fruit. 34 Offspring of vipers, how are you able to speak good things, being evil? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. 35 The good man out of the good treasure of the heart puts forth the good things, and the evil man out of the evil treasure puts forth evil things. 36 But I say to you that every careless word that men speak, they will give an account of it in the day of judgment. 37 For by your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned."

The Sign of Jonah

38 Then some of the scribes and Pharisees answered, saying, "Teacher, we wish to see a sign from You." 39 But He, answering, said to them, "An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign; and a sign will not be given to it except the 12:20 A bruised reed He will not break, and a smoldering wick He will not quench A reed almost broken, a wick almost out. That describes many of us. Jesus does not throw away weak and worn-out people. If your faith is a flicker today, He will not snuff you out. He keeps on until justice wins, when He returns to reign.

12:23 This is not the Son of David, is it The wording expects a no, but they were starting to wonder about the Messiah's title (2 Sam 7:12-16), the very thing Matthew has shown since 1:1.

12:24 by Beelzebul, ruler of the demons They could not deny the miracle, so they attacked its source. Beelzebul, likely from the Philistine god Baal-zebub (2 Kgs 1:2), was a name of contempt for Satan. They saw God's plain work and called it the devil's. No evidence would change their minds.

12:26 if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself A man freed from a demon is the devil's loss, not his win. Their charge made no sense.

12:27 by whom do your sons cast them out Some of their own followers tried to drive out demons. The Pharisees judged Jesus by a rule they would never use on themselves.

12:28 then the kingdom of God has come upon you Jesus worked by the Spirit's power, so the kingdom had arrived in the Person of the King. To reject Him was to turn from the kingdom itself.

12:29 unless he first binds the strong man Satan is the strong man, the world his house, and captive people his goods. Each exorcism was Jesus carrying them off. At the cross He won the decisive victory (Col 2:15; Heb 2:14). Satan is active but defeated. No one is so bound that Jesus cannot set them free.

12:30 The one who is not with Me is against Me There is no neutral ground with Jesus. Am I helping gather people to Him, or driving them away?

12:31 every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven to men Blasphemy is speaking against God. Murder, adultery, cursing God can all be forgiven; Paul was a former blasphemer (1 Tim 1:13). The blasphemy against the Spirit, in context, was the Pharisees' settled, knowing rejection of the Spirit's plain witness to Jesus, calling it Satan's. Shut that door for good and there is no other way. Some limit it to Jesus' earthly days; others apply it to any final unbelief.

12:32 whoever speaks a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him His brothers did not believe at first (John 7:5) and Peter denied Him, yet both were forgiven. If you lie awake afraid you have committed this sin, your worry shows you have not. The Pharisees were not worried. They were hardened. Come to Jesus, and He will not turn you away (John 6:37).

12:33 the tree is known by the fruit Either Jesus is good and so is His work, or He is evil. They could not have it both ways. What we are inside will show up in what we do.

12:34 out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks John used "vipers" too (3:7). Words are a bucket lowered into a well: whatever is down there comes up. To change your words, let God change your heart.

12:36 every careless word that men speak Idle words, the kind we say without thinking. God hears every one of them, and we will answer for them on the day of judgment.

12:37 by your words you will be justified Justified means declared righteous, not guilty before God. We are not saved by talking right. Our words are evidence of the heart. A good verse to remember when tempted to gossip or cut someone down.

12:38 we wish to see a sign from You After the blind seeing, a withered hand restored and a demon cast out minutes before, they wanted a sign of their own choosing. They were not looking for evidence but for a way to say no.

12:39 An evil and adulterous generation seeks for a sign Adultery was the prophets' picture of unfaithfulness to God (Jer 3:8-9). God does not do tricks for skeptics.

sign of Jonah (Ionas) the prophet. 40 For just as Jonah was in the belly of the sea monster three days and three nights, so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights. 41 Ninevite men will stand up in the judgment with this generation and will condemn it, because they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and look, something greater than Jonah is here. 42 The queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with this generation and will condemn it, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and look, something greater than Solomon is here. 43 Now when the unclean spirit goes out from the man, it passes through waterless places seeking rest, and does not find it. 44 Then it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came out.' And having come, it finds it unoccupied, swept, and put in order. 45 Then it goes and takes with itself seven other spirits more evil than itself, and having entered, they dwell there; and the last state of that man becomes worse than the first. So it will be also with this evil generation."

Jesus' True Family

46 And while He was still speaking to the crowds, look, His mother and His brothers were standing outside, seeking to speak to Him. 47 And someone said to Him, "Look, Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, seeking to speak to You." 48 But He, answering, said to the one who told Him, "Who is My mother, and who are My brothers?" 49 And having stretched out His hand toward His disciples, He said, "Look, My mother and My brothers! 50 For whoever does the will of My Father who is in the heavens, he is My brother and sister and mother."

MATTHEW 13

1 And on that day Jesus (Iesous), having gone out from the house, was sitting beside the sea. 2 And great crowds were gathered together to Him, so that He, having stepped into the boat, sat down; and all the crowd was standing on the shore. 3 And He spoke many things to them in parables, saying, "Look, the sower went out to sow. 4 And while he was sowing, some fell along the road, and the birds came and devoured them. 5 And others fell on the rocky places, where they did not have much soil; and immediately they sprang up, because of not having depth of soil. 6 And the sun having risen, they were scorched; and because of not having root, they withered. 7 And others fell on the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked them. 8 And others fell on the good soil and were giving fruit, some a hundredfold, and some sixty, and some thirty. 9 The one having ears to hear, let him hear." 10 And the disciples, having come, said to Him, "Why do You speak to them in parables?" 11 And answering, He said to them, "Because to you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens, but to them it

12:40 so the Son of Man will be in the heart of the earth three days and three nights Jonah came out alive after three days (Jonah 1:17; 2:10). The resurrection is the sign God gave the world (Rom 1:4). Jews counted any part of a day as a day, so this fits Friday to Sunday (compare Esth 4:16 with 5:1). Some teachers hold a Wednesday or Thursday crucifixion. Either way He rose on the third day (16:21).
12:41 something greater than Jonah is here Pagan Nineveh repented at a reluctant prophet's short message of doom (Jonah 3:5-10). Israel's leaders had the Son of God and refused.
12:42 The queen of the south The queen of Sheba, a Gentile, traveled far to hear Solomon (1 Kgs 10:1-10). Greater wisdom stood in their synagogue. Many of us have Bibles in every room. The more light God gives, the more we answer for.
12:44 it finds it unoccupied, swept, and put in order Many had cleaned up their outward lives at John's call, but would not let the King in. Reform without new life leaves the door open. An empty religious life without Christ is not safe. We need Jesus Himself living in us by His Spirit.
12:46 His mother and His brothers were standing outside They thought He had lost His senses (Mark 3:21, 31). His brothers were James, Joses, Simon and Jude (13:55). I believe they were Mary and Joseph's later sons (1:25). Roman Catholics read cousins, and the Eastern churches often sons of Joseph by an earlier marriage, but the word is the normal word for brothers. They believed after the resurrection (Acts 1:14).
12:50 whoever does the will of My Father who is in the heavens, he is My brother and sister and mother Jesus was not cold to Mary; from the cross He cared for her (John 19:26-27). The Father's will is first to believe in the One He sent (John 6:29). If your family has turned against you for your faith, in Christ you have brothers and sisters and a place at His table.
13:2 having stepped into the boat, sat down The same day He was accused of working for Satan (ch 12). Teachers sat to teach, and the water carried His voice. Jesus did not stop His Father's work because of opposition. He changed His method.
13:3 He spoke many things to them in parables A parable is a story from ordinary life set alongside a spiritual truth; parabole means something thrown alongside. Jesus had taught plainly; from here He speaks to the crowds mostly in parables (13:34). A farmer then walked his field throwing seed by hand.
13:4 some fell along the road Paths through fields were packed hard by feet. Seed lay on top, never went in, and the birds ate it.
13:5 others fell on the rocky places Not loose stones but a thin layer of soil over a rock shelf, common in Galilee. Shallow soil warmed fast, so it sprang up quickly, but roots could not go down, and the sun scorched it.
13:7 others fell on the thorns The ground looked plowed, but thorn roots were still in it. The grain did not die at once, but it never produced anything.
13:8 some a hundredfold, and some sixty, and some thirty A good harvest then might be ten times what was sown. A hundredfold was amazing. "Let him hear": this is not just a farming story. It is about them.
13:11 to you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of the heavens A mystery is a truth God kept hidden and now reveals (Rom 16:25-26). The prophets foresaw the King reigning on David's throne (Isa 9:6-7; Dan 2:44) but not clearly that He would be rejected, go away and come again, with a long age between. I call that the mystery form of the kingdom: God's rule spreading through the word while the King is in heaven. Its full, visible form comes when He returns (Rev 20:4-6).

has not been given. 12 For whoever has, to him will be given, and he will have abundance; but whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him. 13 Because of this I speak to them in parables, because seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear, nor do they understand. 14 And upon them is being fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah (Hesaias), which says, 'In hearing you will hear, and by no means understand; and seeing you will see, and by no means perceive. 15 For the heart of this people has grown dull, and with the ears they heard with difficulty, and their eyes they have closed, lest they should see with the eyes, and hear with the ears, and understand with the heart, and turn back, and I should heal them.' 16 But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear. 17 For truly I say to you that many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see, and did not see, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear. 18 You, therefore, hear the parable of the sower. 19 When anyone hears the word of the kingdom and does not understand, the evil one comes and snatches away what has been sown in his heart. This is the one sown along the road. 20 And the one sown on the rocky places, this is the one hearing the word and immediately receiving it with joy; 21 yet he has no root in himself, but is temporary; and when tribulation or persecution comes because of the word, immediately he is caused to stumble. 22 And the one sown among the thorns, this is the one hearing the word, and the care of this age and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful. 23 And the one sown on the good soil, this is the one hearing the word and understanding, who indeed bears fruit and produces, some a hundredfold, and some sixty, and some thirty."

Wheat and Weeds, Mustard Seed and Leaven

24 Another parable He set before them, saying, "The kingdom of the heavens has been likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field. 25 But while the men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds in the midst of the wheat, and went away. 26 And when the blade sprouted and produced fruit, then the weeds also appeared. 27 And the slaves of the master of the house, having come, said to him, 'Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? From where then does it have the weeds?' 28 And he said to them, 'A man, an enemy, did this.' And the slaves said to him, 'Do you want us then, having gone away, to gather them up?' 29 But he said, 'No, lest while gathering up the weeds you uproot the wheat together with them. 30 Allow both to grow together until the harvest; and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather up the weeds and bind them into bundles in order to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn."'" 31 Another parable He set before them, saying, "The kingdom of the heavens is like a grain of mustard, which a man, having taken, sowed in his field, 32 which indeed is smaller than all the seeds, but when it has grown, it is greater than the garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the sky come and nest in its branches." 33 Another parable He spoke to them: "The kingdom of the 13:12 whoever has, to him will be given The one who has received the truth with a willing heart gets more light. The one who turns away loses even what he had. Use the light God gives you, and He will give more.

13:13 seeing they do not see, and hearing they do not hear The parables did not keep honest seekers out. The crowd had seen the miracles, and their leaders called them Satan's work. Parables were mercy and judgment: to the hungry heart an invitation to ask more, to the hard heart just a story about seeds.
13:15 the heart of this people has grown dull From Isaiah 6:9-10. First the people closed their own eyes; then the hardening came. God does not harden a soft heart that wants Him. He confirms the choice of a heart that shut Him out. His desire was always "I should heal them."
13:17 many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see The disciples were not smarter, just willing. The prophets searched to learn when these things would happen (1 Pet 1:10-12). We have the whole New Testament, more light than the prophets had. What are we doing with it?
13:19 the evil one comes and snatches away what has been sown in his heart Jesus explains it, so we need not guess. The seed is God's message, the soils are hearts. The hard heart never lets the word in. Satan is active when the word is preached and would rather people forget it on the way to the car.
13:21 he has no root in himself, but is temporary Excited and quick at first, he quits when trouble comes because of the word. Every pastor has seen it. Real faith puts down roots and keeps going when following Jesus costs. Emotion is not bad, but it is not the same as faith.
13:22 the care of this age and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word Worry is the poor man's thorn, and love of riches the rich man's. Riches promise security and happiness and do not deliver. Our busy, full lives can choke the word without our noticing.
13:23 this is the one hearing the word and understanding, who indeed bears fruit Fruit is Christ's life showing in character (Gal 5:22-23), obedience and leading others to Him. The amounts differ. The difference was never the seed or the sower but the ground. What kind of ground is my heart?
13:25 his enemy came and sowed weeds in the midst of the wheat Most likely darnel, which looks almost exactly like young wheat until the heads appear. The enemy works at night, and his work is meant to look like the real thing.
13:28 A man, an enemy, did this We see evil mixed with good and want to clean it all out now. God has a different timetable.
13:30 Allow both to grow together until the harvest The roots were tangled, and pulling weeds would damage the wheat. This is not about church discipline (ch 18). The field is the world (13:38). God lets good and evil live side by side in this age and will sort it out in His time.
13:32 becomes a tree, so that the birds of the sky come and nest in its branches The mustard seed was the smallest a farmer commonly planted (17:20), yet grew ten feet tall or more. Many see the kingdom's amazing growth from a handful of fishermen. Others note that birds picture the evil one in this chapter (13:4, 19) and see outward Christianity growing larger than God intended, with all kinds of things nesting in it. Both teach something true.
13:33 The kingdom of the heavens is like leaven Leaven was old fermented dough mixed in to raise new dough, and this was a very large batch. Many read the gospel quietly changing the world or a life. Others note that leaven nearly always pictures sin or false teaching (16:6, 12; 1 Cor 5:6-8; Gal 5:9) and see corruption working into the professing church. I hold these with an open hand. Which is at work in us?

heavens is like leaven, which a woman, having taken, hid in approximately 21 quarts (three seahs) of flour until all was leavened." 34 All these things Jesus spoke to the crowds in parables, and without a parable He was not speaking to them, 35 so that what was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, "I will open My mouth in parables; I will utter things hidden from the foundation of the world."

The Weeds Explained

36 Then, having dismissed the crowds, Jesus went into the house. And His disciples came to Him, saying, "Explain to us the parable of the weeds of the field." 37 And answering, He said to them, "The one sowing the good seed is the Son of Man; 38 and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the weeds are the sons of the evil one; 39 and the enemy who sowed them is the devil; and the harvest is the consummation of the age; and the reapers are angels. 40 Therefore, just as the weeds are gathered up and burned with fire, so it will be at the consummation of this age. 41 The Son of Man will send out His angels, and they will gather up out of His kingdom all the stumbling blocks and those who practice lawlessness, 42 and they will throw them into the furnace of the fire; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth. 43 Then the righteous will shine out like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. The one having ears to hear, let him hear.

Treasure, Pearl and Net

44 Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like treasure hidden in the field, which a man, having found, hid; and from his joy he goes and sells all that he has, and buys that field. 45 Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a man, a merchant, seeking fine pearls, 46 who, having found one very precious pearl, having gone away, has sold all that he had and bought it. 47 Again, the kingdom of the heavens is like a dragnet cast into the sea and having gathered together fish of every kind, 48 which, when it was filled, having drawn it up on the shore and having sat down, they collected the good into vessels, but threw the bad out. 49 So it will be at the consummation of the age: the angels will go out and separate the evil from the midst of the righteous, 50 and they will throw them into the furnace of the fire; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth." 51 Jesus says to them, "Have you understood all these things?" They say to Him, "Yes, Lord." 52 And He said to them, "Because of this, every scribe having been discipled into the kingdom of the heavens is like a man, a master of a house, who brings out of his treasure things new and old."

Rejected at Nazareth

53 And it came about, when Jesus had finished these parables, He withdrew from there. 54 And having come into His hometown, He was teaching them in their synagogue, so that they were astonished and said, "From where did this man get this wisdom and the miracles? 55 Is this not the son of the 13:35 I will open My mouth in parables From Psalm 78:2, by Asaph, called a seer (2 Chr 29:30). "Things hidden from the foundation of the world" is the key. These were part of God's plan all along, not new ideas after Israel rejected Jesus.

13:36 Explain to us the parable of the weeds of the field The right response to God's word. When you don't understand, don't walk away. Bring your question to the Lord (James 1:5).
13:38 the field is the world The world, not the church. The good seed are true believers and the weeds the sons of the evil one. Satan plants his own people right beside the wheat, looking like believers (7:15). That is still one of his favorite ways of working.
13:39 the harvest is the consummation of the age The end of this present age, with angels as reapers.
13:41 they will gather up out of His kingdom all the stumbling blocks A stumbling block is anything or anyone that causes others to fall into sin. This sorting happens when the Son of Man returns at the end of the age to set up His kingdom on earth (25:31-33, 41).
13:42 the furnace of the fire Jesus spoke about hell more than anyone in the Bible, not to scare people for fun, but because it is real and He did not want anyone to go there.
13:43 the righteous will shine out like the sun in the kingdom of their Father Echoing Daniel 12:3. Today wheat and weeds can look alike. One day the difference will be plain to all.
13:44 the kingdom of the heavens is like treasure hidden in the field With no banks, people buried valuables, and an owner's death could leave them hidden for years. When a person sees what Jesus is worth, giving up everything for Him is a joy, not a sad duty (Phil 3:7-8).
13:46 having found one very precious pearl The first man stumbled on treasure; this merchant was searching. Some find Christ without looking, others after years. Some teachers reverse these two parables: Jesus gave all to buy the field, the world, for its treasure, and His church as His pearl. That is also true of what He did. Many find the simpler reading fits the flow best.
13:48 they collected the good into vessels, but threw the bad out A dragnet, weighted below with floats above, gathered fish of every kind. The bad were unclean (Lev 11:9-12) or worthless. Several disciples had done this many times.
13:49 the angels will go out and separate the evil from the midst of the righteous The gospel net gathers all kinds, and not all are true. Jesus repeats the solemn words of the weeds parable. When He says something twice, listen. Our job is not to sort the fish but to cast the net and make sure we belong to Him.
13:51 Have you understood all these things They did not understand perfectly yet, but they grasped the main lesson and answered honestly. Jesus keeps teaching those who keep listening.
13:52 who brings out of his treasure things new and old A scribe trained in the Old Testament who becomes Jesus' disciple has the old treasure of the Law and Prophets and the new truths of the kingdom. That is what Matthew does in this Gospel. We read the Old Testament in the light of Christ.
13:54 having come into His hometown Nazareth (2:23). They could not deny His wisdom or power, but instead of asking whether He was the Messiah, they fixed on where He came from.
13:55 Is this not the son of the carpenter Tekton means a builder working in wood or stone, Joseph's trade and Jesus' (Mark 6:3). His brothers were Mary and Joseph's later sons. James led the Jerusalem church and wrote James (Acts 15:13; Gal 1:19), and Jude wrote Jude, both believing after the resurrection.

carpenter? Is not His mother called Mary (Maria), and His brothers James (Iakobos) and Joses (Ioses) and Simon and Jude (Ioudas)? 56 And His sisters, are they not all with us? From where then did this man get all these things?" 57 And they were caused to stumble in Him. But Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown and in his house." 58 And He did not do many miracles there because of their unbelief.

The Death of John the Baptist

1 At that time Herod (Herodes) the tetrarch heard the report about Jesus (Iesous), 2 and said to his servants, "This is John (Ioannes) the Baptist; he has been raised from the dead, and because of this the miraculous powers are at work in him." 3 For Herod, having seized John, bound him and put him in prison on account of Herodias, the wife of Philip (Philippos) his brother. 4 For John was saying to him, "It is not lawful for you to have her." 5 And wishing to kill him, he feared the crowd, because they were holding him as a prophet. 6 But when the birthday of Herod was being celebrated, the daughter of Herodias danced in the midst and pleased Herod, 7 whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask. 8 And she, having been urged on by her mother, says, "Give me here on a platter the head of John the Baptist." 9 And the king was grieved, but on account of the oaths and those reclining at table with him, he commanded it to be given. 10 And having sent, he beheaded John in the prison. 11 And his head was brought on a platter and was given to the girl, and she brought it to her mother. 12 And his disciples, having come, took up the body and buried it; and having come, they reported it to Jesus.

Five Thousand Fed

13 And Jesus, having heard, withdrew from there by boat to a desolate place by Himself. And the crowds, having heard, followed Him on foot from the cities. 14 And Jesus, having gone out, saw a great crowd, and was moved with compassion toward them, and healed their sick. 15 And evening having come, His disciples came to Him, saying, "The place is desolate, and the hour has already passed; dismiss the crowds, so that, having gone into the villages, they may buy food for themselves." 16 But Jesus said to them, "They have no need to go away; you give them something to eat." 17 And they say to Him, "We do not have anything here except five loaves and two fish." 18 And He said, "Bring them here to Me." 19 And having commanded the crowds to recline on the grass, and having taken the five loaves and the two fish, having looked up to heaven, He blessed; and having broken

13:57 A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown They thought they knew Him because they knew His family. People who grew up around church can be the hardest to reach. Don't let familiarity with Jesus keep you from really knowing Him.
13:58 He did not do many miracles there because of their unbelief He did not lose His power; He healed a few (Mark 6:5). But He did not work miracles to entertain people who refused to believe. What might God want to do in our lives that we miss because we will not trust Him?
14:1 Herod the tetrarch Herod Antipas, son of Herod the Great (2:16). A tetrarch ruled part of a kingdom. Rome divided the father's land, and Antipas ruled Galilee and Perea east of the Jordan. People called him king (14:9), though he was not.
14:2 This is John the Baptist; he has been raised from the dead His guilty conscience went to work. Herod had palaces and soldiers, but not peace.
14:3 on account of Herodias, the wife of Philip his brother Matthew looks back. Herod and Herodias, wife of his half-brother and also their niece, left their marriages to marry each other.
14:4 It is not lawful for you to have her The Law forbade marrying a living brother's wife (Lev 18:16; 20:21). John did not soften his message for a ruler, and it cost him his freedom. God's people are still called to speak the truth about marriage and sin, even to the powerful, and with love.
14:5 he feared the crowd Herod was moved by fear of opinion, not right and wrong. He also feared John and liked to hear him (Mark 6:20), a man pulled two ways. A divided heart eventually gives way to the stronger pull. Josephus says John was held at Machaerus east of the Dead Sea.
14:7 he promised with an oath to give her whatever she might ask Josephus names the girl Salome. Such a dance before drunken officials was no decent thing for a princess. Herod offered up to half his kingdom (Mark 6:23), showing off. A foolish promise made in a moment of pleasure can bring a lifetime of regret.
14:8 having been urged on by her mother Herodias had long hated John (Mark 6:19). She could not stand being told she was wrong, so she wanted the voice of conscience silenced forever. That is where bitterness can lead.
14:9 on account of the oaths and those reclining at table with him Herod was grieved but cared more about saving face. A wicked oath is better broken than kept. How often do we do wrong because we fear looking foolish before others?
14:10 he beheaded John in the prison No trial. The greatest of the prophets (11:11) died over a dance and a grudge. Faithfulness does not always bring earthly reward. But John is with the Lord, and Herod's story is the one that ended badly; Rome later removed him and sent him into exile.
14:12 having come, they reported it to Jesus The right place to take our grief. They could not undo it, but they knew where to go.
14:13 withdrew from there by boat to a desolate place by Himself John was His relative and forerunner, and Jesus grieved. Herod was curious about Him, and His hour had not come. The crowds followed on foot around the lake. Many know the feeling: you need rest, and people still need you.
14:14 was moved with compassion toward them The word comes from the inner parts of the body, a gut-level pity and love. In His own grief Jesus cared for others. He never sees a crowd as a crowd, only hurting people.
14:15 dismiss the crowds Not cruel, just practical. They measured the crowd against their supplies and left Jesus out of the math.
14:16 you give them something to eat They had a boy's lunch of barley loaves, the bread of the poor (John 6:9). Jesus often asks us to do what we cannot, so we learn to depend on what He can. They were right that they lacked enough, wrong to think that settled it.
14:18 Bring them here to Me Whatever we have, however small, belongs in Jesus' hands. In theirs it was a snack. In His it was a feast. What have you held back because it seems too small?
14:19 He gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds A Jewish meal blessing thanked God for the food. Jesus did not hand food to thousands Himself. He gave it to His disciples to pass on. That is still how He feeds the world with the Bread of Life.

them, He gave the loaves to the disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowds. 20 And they all ate and were satisfied; and they took up what was left over of the fragments, twelve baskets full. 21 And those eating were about five thousand men, apart from women and children.

Jesus Walks on the Water

22 And immediately Jesus compelled His disciples to get into the boat and to go before Him to the other side, until He had dismissed the crowds. 23 And having dismissed the crowds, He went up on the mountain by Himself to pray. And evening having come, He was there alone. 24 But the boat was now in the midst of the sea, being tormented by the waves, for the wind was contrary. 25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went to them, walking on the sea. 26 And the disciples, having seen Him walking on the sea, were troubled, saying, "It is a ghost!" And they cried out from fear. 27 But immediately Jesus spoke to them, saying, "Take courage; I am He; do not be afraid." 28 And Peter (Petros), answering Him, said, "Lord, if it is You, command me to come to You on the waters." 29 And He said, "Come." And Peter, having gone down from the boat, walked on the waters to come to Jesus. 30 But seeing the strong wind, he was afraid; and having begun to sink, he cried out, saying, "Lord, save me!" 31 And immediately Jesus, having stretched out the hand, took hold of him, and says to him, "You of little faith, why did you doubt?" 32 And when they had stepped into the boat, the wind ceased. 33 And those in the boat, having come, worshiped Him, saying, "Truly You are the Son of God." 34 And having crossed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret. 35 And the men of that place, having recognized Him, sent into all that surrounding region and brought to Him all who were sick, 36 and they were begging Him that they might only touch the fringe of His garment; and as many as touched were made completely well.

What Makes a Person Unclean

1 Then those from Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), scribes and Pharisees, come to Jesus (Iesous), saying, 2 "Why do Your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? For they do not wash their hands when they eat bread." 3 And answering, He said to them, "Why do you also transgress the commandment of God on account of your tradition? 4 For God commanded, saying, 'Honor your father and mother,' and, 'The one speaking evil of father or mother, let him die by death.' 5 But you say, 'Whoever says to his father or mother, "Whatever you might have been profited by me is a gift,"

14:20 twelve baskets full They ate their fill, not a crumb each. Twelve doubting disciples, twelve baskets of leftovers. God often gives more than enough, and Jesus wasted nothing.
14:21 about five thousand men, apart from women and children Men were counted separately, so the crowd may have been fifteen or twenty thousand. The only miracle besides the resurrection in all four Gospels, recalling the manna (Exod 16). Jesus is the true Bread from heaven (John 6:35).
14:22 Jesus compelled His disciples to get into the boat The crowd wanted to make Him king by force (John 6:15), and the disciples might have been swept up in it. Sometimes Jesus sends us into a storm to keep us from something worse.
14:23 He went up on the mountain by Himself to pray After grief, a miracle, a refused crown and political danger, He answered it all with prayer. If the Son of God needed to pray, how much more do we?
14:24 the boat was now in the midst of the sea, being tormented by the waves They were in the storm because they obeyed. Storms do not always mean we are out of God's will. Sometimes they come right in the middle of it.
14:25 in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went to them, walking on the sea About three to six in the morning, after rowing most of the night. The thing they feared was under His feet. In the Old Testament God is the One who treads the waves (Job 9:8).
14:26 It is a ghost Dark, exhausted and not expecting Him. Jesus often comes to us in a hard time and we do not recognize Him, thinking the trouble is the end of the story.
14:27 Take courage; I am He; do not be afraid He spoke at once. Ego eimi can mean it is I, but it also echoes the name God gave Moses, I AM (Exod 3:14). Who He is, is the reason not to fear.
14:28 command me to come to You on the waters Peter's "if" was not unbelief but a request for Jesus' word. He knew he could not walk on water by himself.
14:29 Peter, having gone down from the boat, walked on the waters One word from Jesus was enough, and for a few steps a fisherman did what only God can do. Real faith is not a feeling. It is stepping out on what Jesus has said.
14:30 seeing the strong wind, he was afraid Nothing changed but where Peter looked. Eyes on Jesus, he walked. Eyes on the storm, he sank. "Lord, save me!" When you are going under, you don't need fine words.
14:31 You of little faith, why did you doubt Jesus grabbed him first, then spoke, and gently. Peter had little faith, but he was the only one on the water. When we doubt, the problem is never Jesus. We have taken our eyes off Him.
14:33 Truly You are the Son of God The first time the disciples as a group say it. They worshiped, and He accepted it. A prophet never would (Acts 10:25-26). The right end to every storm is not just relief but worship.
14:34 the land of Gennesaret A fertile plain on the northwest shore, south of Capernaum. The lake was sometimes named for it (Luke 5:1).
14:36 as many as touched were made completely well They had likely heard of the woman healed this way (9:20-22). The fringe was the commanded tassel (Num 15:38-40). There was no magic in the cloth. The power was in Jesus, and He still makes people whole, body and soul.
15:2 Why do Your disciples transgress the tradition of the elders An official delegation from Jerusalem. The tradition was a body of rules passed down by word of mouth, a fence around the Law, later written in the Mishnah. The washing was about religious purity, not germs. The Law required such washings of priests in certain duties, never of everyone at every meal.
15:3 Why do you also transgress the commandment of God on account of your tradition They charged the disciples with breaking man's tradition; Jesus charged them with breaking God's command. Traditions can be helpful, but when one sets aside what God plainly says, it has to go.
15:4 Honor your father and mother The fifth commandment (Exod 20:12), with Exodus 21:17 showing how seriously God took it. Honoring parents includes caring for them when old and in need (1 Tim 5:4, 8).
15:5 Whatever you might have been profited by me is a gift Mark calls it Corban, dedicated to God (Mark 7:11). Once declared, the teachers said it could not help his parents, though often he could still use it himself.

6 and he shall by no means honor his father or his mother.' And you made void the commandment of God on account of your tradition. 7 Hypocrites! Rightly did Isaiah (Hesaias) prophesy concerning you, saying, 8 'This people draws near to Me with their mouth, and with the lips honors Me, but their heart is far away from Me. 9 And in vain they worship Me, teaching as doctrines the precepts of men.'" 10 And having called the crowd to Him, He said to them, "Hear and understand. 11 Not what enters into the mouth defiles the man, but what proceeds out of the mouth, this defiles the man." 12 Then His disciples, having come, said to Him, "Do You know that the Pharisees, having heard the word, were caused to stumble?" 13 And answering, He said, "Every plant which My heavenly Father did not plant will be rooted up. 14 Leave them; they are blind guides of the blind. And if a blind man leads a blind man, both will fall into a pit." 15 And Peter (Petros), answering, said to Him, "Explain to us this parable." 16 And Jesus said, "Are you also still without understanding? 17 Do you not yet understand that everything entering into the mouth goes into the stomach and is cast out into the latrine? 18 But the things proceeding out of the mouth come out of the heart, and those defile the man. 19 For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, sexual immoralities, thefts, false testimonies, blasphemies. 20 These are the things defiling the man; but to eat with unwashed hands does not defile the man."

A Canaanite Mother's Faith

21 And having gone out from there, Jesus withdrew into the districts of Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon. 22 And look, a Canaanite woman from those regions, having come out, cried out to Him, saying, "Have mercy on me, Lord, Son of David (Dabid)! My daughter is badly demonized." 23 But He did not answer her a word. And His disciples, having come, were asking Him, saying, "Dismiss her, because she is crying out after us." 24 And answering, He said, "I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." 25 But she, having come, was worshiping Him, saying, "Lord, help me!" 26 And answering, He said, "It is not good to take the bread of the children and to throw it to the little dogs." 27 And she said, "Yes, Lord; for even the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters." 28 Then answering, Jesus said to her, "O woman, great is your faith! Let it be to you as you desire." And her daughter was healed from that hour.

15:6 you made void the commandment of God on account of your tradition To make void is to cancel. A man could leave his parents in need and feel religious about it. Some today are so busy at church they neglect their families. God never asks us to serve Him by breaking His word.
15:8 their heart is far away from Me From Isaiah 29:13. A hypocrite was a masked actor. Right words, careful rituals, far-off hearts. Worship from the lips only is empty, and putting man's rules on the level of God's word is dangerous ground.
15:11 Not what enters into the mouth defiles the man To defile is to make unclean, unfit to come before God. Real uncleanness comes from the inside out. This cut to the root of their whole system of outward purity.
15:12 the Pharisees, having heard the word, were caused to stumble The disciples were nervous about offending powerful men. Jesus was never rude for its own sake, but He would not soften the truth to keep important people happy.
15:14 they are blind guides of the blind Their man-made teaching would be uprooted. Following a false teacher is as dangerous as being one. Test what you hear by God's word, as the Bereans did (Acts 17:11).
15:16 Are you also still without understanding His patience was tested a little. Still, it is better to ask and look slow than to stay quiet and stay confused. We have the answer because Peter asked.
15:18 the things proceeding out of the mouth come out of the heart The heart is the center of the person. Food passes through the body without touching the heart. Mark adds that Jesus declared all foods clean (Mark 7:19). The food laws pointed to the need for purity; the Lawgiver shows where it must start.
15:19 out of the heart come evil thoughts The list starts with thoughts. Every sin begins in the mind. The rest follow the second half of the Ten Commandments. The heart is deceitful and desperately sick (Jer 17:9). No washing can fix it. God promised a new heart (Ezek 36:26), given when we trust Jesus and the Spirit makes us new (Titus 3:5).
15:21 Jesus withdrew into the districts of Tyre and Sidon Gentile cities on the coast north of Israel, in today's Lebanon. He wanted to stay hidden (Mark 7:24), perhaps for rest, but could not.
15:22 a Canaanite woman Matthew uses the old name of Israel's enemies on purpose. She was as far outside Israel as anyone. Yet she called Him "Lord, Son of David," knowing Him better than the scribes from Jerusalem. "Have mercy on me": her daughter's pain was her own.
15:23 But He did not answer her a word One of the hardest verses to read. He was not cruel; He was drawing out her faith. The disciples saw her as a bother. Sometimes God is silent when we pray. Silence is not the same as no. Keep praying.
15:24 I was not sent except to the lost sheep of the house of Israel True of His earthly ministry, to keep God's promises to Abraham and David (10:5-6; Rom 15:8). The gospel went to the Jew first and also to the Greek (Rom 1:16). That order never shut the Gentiles out. They come in through Israel's Messiah.
15:25 Lord, help me She came closer and knelt. No argument, no claim of rights, just need. That is how we come to God.
15:26 to throw it to the little dogs The children are Israel. Jews sometimes insulted Gentiles as dogs, meaning wild street dogs, but Jesus used kunaria, little house dogs, pets. That softens it greatly. He left a door open and tested whether she would walk through it.
15:27 even the little dogs eat from the crumbs falling from the table of their masters She did not argue. She agreed and asked only for a crumb, believing a crumb of His power could heal her daughter from a distance. Humility, persistence and a big view of Jesus.
15:28 O woman, great is your faith Only two people in the Gospels are praised for great faith, both Gentiles: this woman and the centurion (8:10). The scribes had Scripture and temple and found fault. She had nothing and found mercy. When God makes us wait, He is often building something in us.

was sitting there. 30 And great crowds came to Him, having with them the lame, blind, mute, crippled, and many others; and they cast them down at the feet of Jesus, and He healed them, 31 so that the crowds marveled, seeing the mute speaking, the crippled whole, the lame walking, and the blind seeing; and they glorified the God of Israel. 32 And Jesus, having called His disciples to Him, said, "I am moved with compassion toward the crowd, because they have already remained with Me three days and do not have anything that they may eat; and I am not willing to send them away hungry, lest they faint on the way." 33 And His disciples say to Him, "From where are so many loaves to us in a desolate place, so as to satisfy so great a crowd?" 34 And Jesus says to them, "How many loaves do you have?" And they said, "Seven, and a few small fish." 35 And He commanded the crowds to sit down on the ground. 36 And having taken the seven loaves and the fish, having given thanks, He broke them and gave them to His disciples, and the disciples gave them to the crowd. 37 And they all ate and were satisfied, and they took up what was left over of the fragments, seven large baskets full. 38 And those eating were four thousand men, apart from women and children. 39 And having dismissed the crowds, He stepped into the boat and came into the region of Magdala.

The Leaven of the Pharisees

1 And the Pharisees and Sadducees, having come, testing Him, asked Him to show them a sign from heaven. 2 And answering, He said to them, "When evening has come, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red'; 3 and in the morning, 'There will be a storm today, for the sky is red, being overcast.' Hypocrites! You know how to discern the face of the sky, but the signs of the times you are not able to discern. 4 An evil and adulterous generation seeks a sign, and a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah (Ionas) the prophet." And having left them, He went away. 5 And His disciples, having come to the other side, forgot to take loaves. 6 And Jesus (Iesous) said to them, "Watch out and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees." 7 And they were reasoning among themselves, saying, "It is because we did not take loaves." 8 But Jesus, having known it, said to them, "Why do you reason among yourselves, you of little faith, because you did not take loaves? 9 Do you not yet understand, nor remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets you took up? 10 Nor the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many large baskets you took up? 11 How do you not understand that I did not speak to you concerning bread, to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?" 12 Then they understood that He did not say to beware of the leaven of the bread, but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

15:30 they cast them down at the feet of Jesus Through the Decapolis (Mark 7:31), back to the lake. The word suggests laying them down quickly, one after another. Every need laid at His feet was met, a good picture of prayer.
15:31 they glorified the God of Israel Isaiah's signs (Isa 35:5-6). The phrase suggests many in the crowd were Gentiles, drawn to worship Israel's God at work.
15:32 I am not willing to send them away hungry After three days the food was gone and some had come far. Jesus cared about their bodies too. He taught us to pray for daily bread (6:11).
15:33 From where are so many loaves to us in a desolate place Hard to believe after the five thousand. But how often does God bring us through one trial and we panic at the next? It is good to remember, even write down, what God has done.
15:36 having given thanks, He broke them and gave them to His disciples The same pattern as chapter 14. Jesus takes what we have, gives thanks, breaks it, and gives it through our hands to others. He chose to use His disciples, and He still does.
15:37 seven large baskets full A different word from 14:20, baskets big enough to hold a man; Paul was let down from Damascus in one (Acts 9:25).
15:38 four thousand men, apart from women and children Not the same story told twice. The numbers differ, and Jesus speaks of both feedings (16:9-10). This one seems to be in a region with many Gentiles. Jesus is the Bread of Life for Jew and Gentile alike.
15:39 came into the region of Magdala On the west shore, likely Mary Magdalene's hometown. Many modern Bibles read Magadan from older Greek copies.
16:1 the Pharisees and Sadducees, having come, testing Him The two groups disagreed on almost everything. Opposing Jesus brought them together. They wanted something spectacular in the sky that could not be faked, not in faith but hoping He would fail.
16:3 the signs of the times you are not able to discern They could read a red evening or morning sky, but not prophecy fulfilled before their eyes (Isa 35:5-6; Matt 11:4-5). They could forecast weather but not recognize the Messiah. Some of the oldest Greek copies lack the red-sky words, and some modern Bibles bracket them. They fit Luke 12:54-56, and nothing rests on them alone.
16:4 And having left them, He went away The only sign is Jonah's, His death, burial and resurrection (12:39-40). A sad sentence. When people keep refusing the light, a time comes when He leaves them to their choice.
16:6 beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees Leaven is yeast, a little fermented dough that spreads through the whole batch, often a picture of sin or false teaching (1 Cor 5:6-8; Gal 5:9).
16:7 It is because we did not take loaves Their minds were on their stomachs; Jesus was talking about their souls. God tries to teach us something important while we worry about something small.
16:9 Do you not yet understand, nor remember Why worry about bread traveling with the One who makes bread from almost nothing? The problem was little faith. When we worry, look back at what He has already done.
16:12 but of the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees The Pharisees added man-made rules to God's word. The Sadducees took away from it, denied the supernatural, and cared most about power. One added, one subtracted, and both led people from Christ. Watch for anyone who adds to the gospel or waters it down.

Peter's Confession

13 And Jesus, having come into the districts of Caesarea (Kaisareia) of Philip (Philippos), was asking His disciples, saying, "Who do men say Me, the Son of Man, to be?" 14 And they said, "Some, John (Ioannes) the Baptist; and others, Elijah (Helias); and others, Jeremiah (Hieremias) or one of the prophets." 15 He says to them, "But you, who do you say Me to be?" 16 And Simon Peter (Petros), answering, said, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." 17 And answering, Jesus said to him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jonah (Barionas), because flesh and blood did not reveal it to you, but My Father who is in the heavens. 18 And I also say to you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build My church, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it. 19 And I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens; and whatever you bind on the earth will have been bound in the heavens, and whatever you loose on the earth will have been loosed in the heavens." 20 Then He ordered His disciples that they should tell no one that He is Jesus the Christ.

Jesus Foretells His Death

21 From that time Jesus began to show His disciples that it is necessary for Him to go away to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), and to suffer many things from the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, and on the third day to be raised. 22 And Peter, having taken Him aside, began to rebuke Him, saying, "God be merciful to You, Lord! This shall by no means be to You." 23 But He, having turned, said to Peter, "Get behind Me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to Me, for you are not minding the things of God, but the things of men." 24 Then Jesus said to His disciples, "If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross, and let him follow Me. 25 For whoever desires to save his life will lose it; but whoever loses his life on account of Me will find it. 26 For what is a man profited if he gains the whole world but suffers the loss of his life? Or what will a man give as an exchange for his life? 27 For the Son of Man is about to come in the glory of His Father with His angels, and then He will repay each according to his conduct. 28 Truly I say to you, there are some of those standing

16:13 the districts of Caesarea of Philip About twenty-five miles north of the lake at the foot of Mount Hermon, rebuilt by Philip the tetrarch and named for Caesar and himself. A Gentile city full of idols, with a shrine to Pan at a great rock cliff. There Jesus prepares them for the real question.
16:14 Some, John the Baptist; and others, Elijah Kind answers that put Him among great men of God (14:2; Mal 4:5), but all wrong, because each made Him only a man. Good teacher, prophet, wise man: it sounds respectful but falls far short.
16:15 But you, who do you say Me to be "You" is plural and emphatic. Not what your parents believed or your friends think. Your answer decides your eternity.
16:16 You are the Christ, the Son of the living God Christ is the Greek for Messiah, the Anointed King on David's throne. "Son of the living God" means Jesus shares God's very nature. In a city of dead stone idols, Peter confessed the living God's Son. This is the heart of the Christian faith.
16:17 flesh and blood did not reveal it to you, but My Father who is in the heavens Bar-Jonah is Aramaic for son of Jonah. Peter was not smarter. The Father opened his eyes, as He does for every believer (John 6:44; 1 Cor 12:3).
16:18 on this rock I will build My church Petros means a stone; petra a great rock or bedrock, and they stood near a massive rock wall. Roman Catholic teaching sees Peter as the first pope with authority passed to Rome's bishops. I don't believe the text teaches that. Most Protestants see the rock as Peter's confession of Christ. Others see Peter as the first to confess and preach Him (Acts 2). Either way the foundation is Christ (1 Cor 3:11; 1 Pet 2:4-8), and nothing here speaks of passing Peter's place on.
16:18 the gates of Hades will not prevail against it The first use of church in the New Testament, ekklesia, an assembly called out. "I will build" was still future; it began at Pentecost. It is His church, not a pastor's or a denomination's. City gates held a city's leaders and defenses. Death and darkness cannot stop it.
16:19 I will give to you the keys of the kingdom of the heavens Peter opened the door by preaching: to Jews at Pentecost (Acts 2:14-41), to Samaritans (Acts 8:14-17), to Gentiles at Cornelius' house (Acts 10:34-48). Binding and loosing meant forbidding and permitting. "Will have been bound": Peter declares what heaven has already decided. In 18:18 the church shares it. It is the authority of God's word faithfully taught, not one man making new rules.
16:20 tell no one that He is Jesus the Christ The crowds wanted a king to fight Rome and might force Him to be one (John 6:15). Even the disciples did not yet see that the Messiah must suffer. The time to proclaim it would come after the cross and the empty tomb.
16:21 it is necessary for Him to go away to Jerusalem A new stage. "Necessary" means God's plan, not an accident. Elders, chief priests and scribes made up the Sanhedrin, the ruling council. Every time Jesus spoke of His death, He spoke of His resurrection.
16:22 Peter, having taken Him aside, began to rebuke Him Peter pulled the Lord aside to correct Him. Like most Jews then, he believed the Messiah would win, not die. Good intentions can still stand in the way of God's plan.
16:23 Get behind Me, Satan Peter was not possessed, but his idea came from Satan, the wilderness offer of a crown without a cross (4:8-10). Minutes after being called a rock, he was a stone in the road. Any of us can go from speaking God's truth to the enemy's lies in one conversation. That should keep us humble.
16:24 let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross, and let him follow Me To deny yourself is to stop making yourself the center. A man carrying a cross was on his way to die. This is not how we are saved; we are saved by grace through faith. It is what a saved life looks like. What am I holding on to that Jesus asks me to lay down?
16:25 whoever loses his life on account of Me will find it It sounds backward but is true. The times we clutch our plans hardest are often our most anxious and empty. When we let go and trust the Lord, we find peace.
16:26 if he gains the whole world but suffers the loss of his life Own everything on earth and lose your soul, and you take none of it with you. Nothing can buy a lost soul back. It is worth more than the world, which is why Jesus gave His life to redeem it.
16:27 He will repay each according to his conduct The rejected One returns as Judge. For unbelievers, judgment for sin; for believers, reward for faithful service (2 Cor 5:10; Rev 22:12). Salvation is a gift, but how we live still matters. Nothing done for Jesus is wasted.
16:28 until they see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom He did not return in glory in their lifetime. Six days later Peter, James and John saw Him transfigured (17:1-8), and Peter tied that to His power and coming (2 Pet 1:16-18). It was a preview of the King in glory. Some apply this to the resurrection, Pentecost or A.D. 70, but many find the Transfiguration fits best.

here who will by no means taste death until they see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom."

The Transfiguration

1 And after six days Jesus (Iesous) takes Peter (Petros) and James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes) his brother, and brings them up into a high mountain by themselves. 2 And He was transfigured before them, and His face shone like the sun, and His garments became white as the light. 3 And look, Moses and Elijah (Helias) appeared to them, talking with Him. 4 And Peter, answering, said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If You wish, let us make here three tents, one for You, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah." 5 While he was still speaking, look, a bright cloud overshadowed them; and look, a voice out of the cloud, saying, "This is My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased; listen to Him." 6 And having heard, the disciples fell on their face and were greatly afraid. 7 And Jesus, having come, touched them and said, "Get up, and do not be afraid." 8 And having lifted up their eyes, they saw no one except Jesus alone. 9 And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, "Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man has risen from the dead." 10 And His disciples asked Him, saying, "Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?" 11 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things. 12 But I say to you that Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him, but did to him whatever they wished. So also the Son of Man is about to suffer by them." 13 Then the disciples understood that He spoke to them concerning John the Baptist.

A Boy Healed

14 And when they had come to the crowd, a man came to Him, kneeling down to Him and saying, 15 "Lord, have mercy on my son, for he is epileptic and suffers badly; for often he falls into the fire, and often into the water. 16 And I brought him to Your disciples, and they were not able to heal him." 17 And answering, Jesus said, "O unbelieving and perverted generation, how long will I be with you? How long will I bear with you? Bring him here to Me." 18 And Jesus rebuked him, and the demon went out from him, and the boy was healed from that hour. 19 Then the disciples, having come to Jesus privately, said, "Why were we not able to cast it out?" 20 And Jesus said to them, "Because of your unbelief. For truly I say to you, if you have faith like a grain of mustard, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move;

17:20 Mark 11:23; Luke 17:6; Matt 21:21

17:1 after six days Jesus takes Peter and James and John his brother Luke says about eight days (Luke 9:28), likely counting first and last. Jesus keeps His promise of 16:28. These three saw more: a raised girl (Mark 5:37), Gethsemane (26:37). Tradition names Mount Tabor; many think Mount Hermon, near Caesarea Philippi, more likely. Scripture doesn't say.
17:2 He was transfigured before them Metamorphoo, a change of form from the inside out. The glory came from within as the veil of His humanity was pulled back. Moses' face reflected glory (Exod 34:29-35). Jesus radiated it. John, who was there, wrote "we beheld His glory" (John 1:14).
17:3 Moses and Elijah appeared to them, talking with Him The Law and the Prophets, the whole Old Testament pointing to Him. They spoke of His departure in Jerusalem (Luke 9:31). God buried Moses (Deut 34:5-6) and took Elijah in a whirlwind (2 Kgs 2:11). God's people are alive with Him, and they can be recognized.
17:4 let us make here three tents Peter did not know what to say, being terrified (Mark 9:6). He put Jesus on the level of Moses and Elijah, and he wanted to stay on the mountain when Jesus was headed for the cross: glory without suffering again.
17:5 This is My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased; listen to Him God interrupted Peter. The bright cloud was the cloud of glory that filled the tabernacle (Exod 40:34-38). The baptism words (3:17) gain "listen to Him," as Moses said of the coming Prophet (Deut 18:15). Moses and Elijah were servants; Jesus is the Son. Are we listening?
17:7 Get up, and do not be afraid Sinners fall down before the holy God (Isa 6:5; Rev 1:17). The One whose face blazed like the sun reached out and touched His frightened friends. For those who belong to Him, His touch takes the fear away.
17:8 they saw no one except Jesus alone The Law and Prophets did their work pointing to Him. When everything else fades, Jesus is still there.
17:9 Tell the vision to no one until the Son of Man has risen from the dead A story of glory would stir up crowds wanting a political king, and even the disciples did not yet understand He must die. Afterward Peter told it (2 Pet 1:16-18).
17:10 Why then do the scribes say that Elijah must come first Malachi promised Elijah before the day of the Lord (Mal 4:5-6). They had just seen him go. How could Jesus be the Messiah?
17:11 Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things Malachi's promise still has a future part. Many teachers believe Elijah, or one in his power, will come before the Lord returns, some seeing the two witnesses of Revelation 11:3-6, though they are not named. Some see John as the whole fulfillment, but I believe, as many pre-tribulation teachers do, that John fulfilled it in part.
17:12 Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him John came "in the spirit and power of Elijah" (Luke 1:17; Matt 11:14), though not Elijah in person (John 1:21). Had Israel received the King, John would have fulfilled Malachi. The forerunner's rejection previewed the King's. The prophecy will be fully fulfilled before His return.
17:15 he is epileptic and suffers badly From the mountain of glory into a valley of need. A demon was behind this (Mark 9:17-18; 17:18). The Bible tells sickness and demons apart (4:24), but here a demon was at work.
17:16 they were not able to heal him He went to Jesus' followers and they could not help. People still come to the church with real needs and leave disappointed. It should make us pray harder.
17:17 O unbelieving and perverted generation Spoken to all: crowd, arguing scribes (Mark 9:14) and disciples, who had been given power over demons (10:1, 8). Perverted means twisted. Yet He did not turn away. "Bring him here to Me." When others fail, Jesus does not.
17:18 Jesus rebuked him, and the demon went out from him No struggle or ritual. Every power of darkness must obey Him, and He is Lord over every power that troubles us today.
17:20 if you have faith like a grain of mustard The smallest seed they planted (13:31-32). They did not need great faith but real faith, even a little, in a great God. The power is in the One faith trusts. Moving a mountain was a saying for the impossible. Faith is not doing whatever we want but trusting God to do what He wills.

and nothing will be impossible for you. 21 But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting."

Second Prediction and the Temple Tax

22 And while they were staying in Galilee (Galilaia), Jesus said to them, "The Son of Man is about to be delivered up into the hands of men, 23 and they will kill Him, and on the third day He will be raised." And they were greatly grieved. 24 And when they had come to Capernaum (Kapernaoum), those collecting the didrachmas came to Peter and said, "Does your Teacher not pay the didrachmas?" 25 He says, "Yes." And when he had entered into the house, Jesus anticipated him, saying, "What do you think, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth receive customs or tribute? From their sons or from the strangers?" 26 Peter says to Him, "From the strangers." Jesus said to him, "Then the sons are free. 27 But so that we may not cause them to stumble, having gone to the sea, cast a hook, and take the first fish that comes up; and having opened its mouth, you will find a stater. Having taken that, give it to them for Me and you."

MATTHEW 18

Who Is the Greatest?

1 In that hour the disciples came to Jesus (Iesous), saying, "Who then is greater in the kingdom of the heavens?" 2 And Jesus, having called a little child to Him, set it in their midst, 3 and said, "Truly I say to you, unless you turn and become like the little children, you will by no means enter into the kingdom of the heavens. 4 Therefore whoever humbles himself like this little child, he is the greater in the kingdom of the heavens. 5 And whoever receives one such little child in My name receives Me. 6 But whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble, it is better for him that a donkey millstone be hung on his neck, and that he be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe to the world because of the stumbling blocks! For it is necessary for the stumbling blocks to come, but woe to that man through whom the stumbling block comes! 8 And if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble, cut them off and throw them from you; it is good for you to enter into life lame or crippled, rather than having two hands or two feet to be thrown into the eternal fire. 9 And if your eye causes you to stumble, pluck it out and throw it from you; it is good for you to enter into life one-eyed, rather than having two eyes to be thrown into the Gehenna of fire.

The Lost Sheep

10 See that you do not despise one of these little ones; for I say to you that their angels in the heavens continually see

18:10 Heb 1:14; Ps 91:11; Ps 34:7

17:21 But this kind does not go out except by prayer and fasting They may have relied on past success as if the power were theirs. Some cases need deeper dependence on God. Most of the oldest Greek copies lack this verse, and many modern Bibles bracket or footnote it; the SLB follows the Received Text. Mark 9:29 speaks of prayer here, and no teaching rests on this verse alone (6:16-18; Acts 13:2-3).
17:22 The Son of Man is about to be delivered up into the hands of men The second announcement. The word is the one used for betrayal. Judas would hand Him over, but behind it was the Father's plan (Rom 8:32).
17:23 And they were greatly grieved They heard "they will kill Him" and stopped listening before "He will be raised." Grief can make us deaf to God's promises.
17:24 Does your Teacher not pay the didrachmas A two-drachma coin, about two days' wages, paid yearly by every Jewish man twenty and up for the temple, from the half-shekel of Exodus 30:13-16. Peter answered quickly without checking with Jesus.
17:26 Then the sons are free Jesus already knew what had happened. Kings tax subjects, not their own children. The tax was for God's house, and Jesus is God's Son, quietly claiming again to be Lord of the temple (12:6).
17:27 so that we may not cause them to stumble Jesus had the right not to pay but gave no needless offense. Sometimes we give up our rights for others (1 Cor 9:19). Not every hill is worth dying on.
17:27 you will find a stater A four-drachma coin, exactly the tax for two. Jesus knew which fish, where, and what was in its mouth. He is Lord over all creation, and "for Me and you" shows He provided for Peter's need along with His own.
18:1 Who then is greater in the kingdom of the heavens They had argued about it on the road (Mark 9:33-34), right after Jesus spoke of His death. We do the same, wanting to be noticed and in charge, even in church. That question has split many congregations.
18:3 unless you turn and become like the little children They asked who would be greatest; Jesus said they had to change even to get in. To turn is to repent. A child then had no status and could earn, demand or boast of nothing. That is how we come to God, receiving salvation as a gift (Eph 2:8-9). Childlike in trust, not childish.
18:4 whoever humbles himself like this little child The way up in God's kingdom is down. Jesus humbled Himself to the cross and God exalted Him (Phil 2:5-9). Humility is not thinking badly of yourself but thinking of yourself less.
18:5 whoever receives one such little child in My name receives Me Children could repay no one. Those who teach Sunday school, serve in the nursery, or welcome the least important person at church are receiving Jesus.
18:6 whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in Me to stumble Children, and every humble believer, especially the young and weak in faith. To make them stumble is to lead them into sin or drive them from Christ. A donkey millstone took an animal to turn. God takes the abuse or misleading of children and young believers very seriously, and so should His church.
18:7 woe to that man through whom the stumbling block comes In a fallen world offenses will come until Christ returns, but that never excuses the one who causes them. Is my life making it easier or harder for others to follow Jesus?
18:8 if your hand or your foot causes you to stumble, cut them off As in 5:29-30, a strong figure of speech; sin comes from the heart (15:19). Deal with sin ruthlessly: end a relationship, get rid of a device, change jobs, stay away from certain places.
18:9 the Gehenna of fire The Valley of Hinnom south of Jerusalem, where wicked kings burned children to false gods (2 Kgs 23:10; Jer 7:31), a picture of final judgment that Jesus also calls "the eternal fire." Better to lose anything in this life than your soul.
18:10 their angels in the heavens continually see the face of My Father To despise is to look down on. These little ones are so precious that angels stand ready in God's presence for them. Angels serve the heirs of salvation (Heb 1:14). Whether each believer has his own angel, Scripture doesn't clearly say.

the face of My Father who is in the heavens. 11 For the Son of Man came to save what is lost. 12 What do you think? If a certain man has a hundred sheep, and one of them goes astray, does he not, having left the ninety-nine, having gone on the mountains, seek the one going astray? 13 And if he happens to find it, truly I say to you that he rejoices over it more than over the ninety-nine that have not gone astray. 14 So it is not the will before your Father who is in the heavens that one of these little ones should perish.

When a Brother Sins

15 And if your brother sins against you, go and reprove him between you and him alone. If he hears you, you have gained your brother. 16 But if he does not hear, take with you one or two more, so that by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established. 17 And if he refuses to hear them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to hear even the church, let him be to you as the Gentile and the tax collector. 18 Truly I say to you, whatever you bind on the earth will have been bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on the earth will have been loosed in heaven. 19 Again I say to you that if two of you agree on the earth concerning any matter that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father who is in the heavens. 20 For where two or three are gathered together in My name, there I am in the midst of them."

The Unforgiving Servant

21 Then Peter (Petros), having come, said to Him, "Lord, how often will my brother sin against me and I forgive him? Up to seven times?" 22 Jesus says to him, "I do not say to you up to seven times, but up to seventy times seven. 23 Because of this the kingdom of the heavens has been likened to a man, a king, who wished to settle accounts with his slaves. 24 And when he had begun to settle them, one debtor of approximately 750,000 pounds (ten thousand talents) was brought to him. 25 But as he did not have anything to pay, his master commanded him to be sold, and his wife and the children and all that he had, and payment to be made. 26 Therefore the slave, having fallen down, was bowing down to him, saying, 'Master, have patience with me, and I will pay you all.' 27 And the master of that slave, having been moved with compassion, released him and forgave him the debt. 28 But that slave, having gone out, found one of his fellow slaves who owed him a hundred denarii; and having seized him, he was choking him, saying, 'Pay me what you owe.'

29 Therefore his fellow slave, having fallen down at his feet, was begging him, saying, 'Have patience with me, and I will pay you all.' 30 But he was not willing, but having gone, he

18:11 For the Son of Man came to save what is lost If the Son came from heaven for the weak and helpless, how can we look down on them? Most of the oldest Greek copies lack this verse here, and many modern Bibles bracket or footnote it; the SLB follows the Received Text. Jesus says it in Luke 19:10 in all copies, and no teaching rests on this verse alone (1 Tim 1:15).

18:12 does he not, having left the ninety-nine The one in danger has his attention. In Luke the parable is about lost sinners (Luke 15:3-7). Here it is about believers who wander. If you have wandered from the Lord, He has not stopped looking for you.

18:14 it is not the will before your Father who is in the heavens that one of these little ones should perish God does not want any lost (2 Pet 3:9). The church should not shrug when someone strays. We go after them, as the next verses teach.

18:15 go and reprove him between you and him alone The first step of church discipline, done privately. Not telling friends, posting about it or complaining to the pastor first. To reprove is to bring a fault into the light, humbly and gently (Gal 6:1). The goal is never winning an argument but "you have gained your brother."

18:16 by the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established From Deuteronomy 19:15. Witnesses help the brother see his sin and make sure the facts are right. Sometimes they find the complainer is at fault. The process protects everyone.

18:17 let him be to you as the Gentile and the tax collector Outsiders not welcomed at the table of fellowship (1 Cor 5:1-13; 2 Thess 3:14-15). Yet Jesus loved Gentiles and tax collectors and called them to repent, and Matthew was one. Even this last step aims to win him back, and on repentance he is welcomed gladly (2 Cor 2:6-8). Churches differ on how the final step is carried out.

18:18 whatever you bind on the earth will have been bound in heaven Given to Peter in 16:19, now to the church. Here it means declaring an unrepentant sinner guilty, or a repentant one forgiven. The church carries out what heaven has decided, so it must act carefully and only by Scripture.

18:19 if two of you agree on the earth concerning any matter that they ask God hears His people praying together, but in context these are likely the witnesses seeking wisdom about a brother's sin. Not a blank check. Prayer always says "let Your will come about" (6:10).

18:20 where two or three are gathered together in My name, there I am in the midst of them Even two or three dealing with hard matters act with His presence and authority. It also comforts small churches and home Bible studies. "In My name" means under His authority, for His purposes.

18:21 Up to seven times Some rabbis taught forgiving three times for the same offense. Peter doubled it and added one, the number of completeness, and probably expected praise.

18:22 up to seventy times seven That is 490; some read seventy-seven, echoing Lamech's revenge (Gen 4:24). By then you have stopped counting. Forgiving does not mean pretending the wrong did not happen or trusting at once. It means letting go of the debt and leaving justice to God (Rom 12:19).

18:24 one debtor The slaves were likely high officials. A talent was a great weight of silver, about six thousand denarii; a denarius was a day's wage, so a talent was about twenty years' pay. Ten thousand was the largest Greek number word, the talent the largest unit. It was a debt no one could ever pay.

18:25 his master commanded him to be sold, and his wife and the children The law of the day. Selling the family would not come close to covering it. That is us before God. We cannot work off, give off or make up for our sin.

18:27 released him and forgave him the debt He asked for time with an impossible promise. The master wiped out everything. That is grace. God does not offer a payment plan for sin. Through faith in Jesus He forgives the whole debt, because Jesus paid it (Col 2:13-14).

18:28 owed him a hundred denarii About four months' pay, real but tiny, roughly one six-hundred-thousandth of what he was forgiven. A free man minutes earlier, he was choking someone over pocket change.

18:30 But he was not willing The fellow slave begged with almost the same words, for a debt that could be repaid. We who are forgiven everything refuse to forgive much less. That is what makes an unforgiving spirit in a Christian so ugly.

threw him into prison until he should pay what was owed. 31 And his fellow slaves, having seen what had taken place, were greatly grieved; and having come, they explained to their master all that had taken place. 32 Then his master, having called him to him, says to him, 'Evil slave, I forgave you all that debt because you begged me. 33 Was it not necessary for you also to have mercy on your fellow slave, as I also had mercy on you?' 34 And his master, having been angered, delivered him to the torturers until he should pay all that was owed to him. 35 So also My heavenly Father will do to you, unless you forgive, each his brother, from your hearts their trespasses."

Marriage and Divorce

1 And it came about, when Jesus (Iesous) had finished these words, He withdrew from Galilee (Galilaia) and came into the region of Judea (Ioudaia) beyond the Jordan (Iordanes). 2 And great crowds followed Him, and He healed them there. 3 And the Pharisees came to Him, testing Him and saying to Him, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for every cause?" 4 And answering, He said to them, "Have you not read that He who made them from the beginning made them male and female, 5 and said, 'On account of this a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, and the two will become one flesh'? 6 So then they are no longer two, but one flesh. Therefore what God joined together, let man not separate." 7 They say to Him, "Why then did Moses command to give a certificate of divorce, and to divorce her?" 8 He says to them, "Moses, in view of your hardness of heart, permitted you to divorce your wives; but from the beginning it has not been so. 9 And I say to you that whoever divorces his wife, except for sexual immorality, and marries another, commits adultery; and the one having married a divorced woman commits adultery." 10 His disciples say to Him, "If the case of the man with the wife is so, it is not better to marry." 11 And He said to them, "Not all receive this word, but those to whom it has been given. 12 For there are eunuchs who were born so from a mother's womb; and there are eunuchs who were made eunuchs by men; and there are eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of the heavens. The one being able to receive it, let him receive it."

Jesus Blesses the Children

13 Then little children were brought to Him, so that He might lay His hands on them and pray; but the disciples

18:31 his fellow slaves, having seen what had taken place, were greatly grieved An unforgiving spirit in God's family does not stay hidden. It hurts the whole household.
18:33 Was it not necessary for you also to have mercy on your fellow slave We forgive because we have been forgiven (Eph 4:32). If we understood how much we were forgiven, we could not hold a grudge. Our forgiveness of others shows how much we understand God's forgiveness of us.
18:34 delivered him to the torturers Jailers allowed to treat prisoners harshly. The debt could never be paid, so he would never get out. A frightening verse, and meant to be.
18:35 unless you forgive, each his brother, from your hearts their trespasses From the heart, not the lips. The slave was forgiven first, freely; we are saved by grace through faith alone. But mercy received makes us merciful. Some say this describes one never truly changed; others God's discipline of a believer who loses fellowship until he lets go. If there is someone you have not forgiven, let it go today.
19:1 came into the region of Judea beyond the Jordan The end of the fourth teaching section (7:28; 11:1; 13:53; 26:1). East of the Jordan was Perea, ruled by Herod Antipas. Jesus was going to Jerusalem for the last time, and with the cross ahead He kept healing.
19:3 Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for every cause A trap. Teachers argued over the "indecency" of Deuteronomy 24:1. Shammai's school said serious sexual sin; Hillel's, almost any reason, even spoiling dinner. Either answer would anger someone, and in Herod's territory John had died for speaking against Herod's remarriage (14:3-4).
19:4 He who made them from the beginning made them male and female Jesus went back past Moses to creation (Gen 1:27). For any question about marriage, start with God's original design. No culture or government invented marriage. God created it.
19:5 the two will become one flesh From Genesis 2:24, and Jesus says God said it. A man leaves his parents, for marriage makes a new family that comes first. He is joined, glued, to his wife. And they become one in body and life, the closest human bond there is.
19:6 what God joined together, let man not separate Marriage is not just a contract. God joins husband and wife, and no man may tear them apart. God's plan from the beginning was one man and one woman for life.
19:7 Why then did Moses command to give a certificate of divorce Moses commanded no one to divorce (Deut 24:1-4). He regulated what was already happening. The certificate freed and protected the woman and kept men from taking back a wife who had married another.
19:8 Moses, in view of your hardness of heart, permitted you They said commanded; Jesus said permitted. Moses' law limited the damage sin caused. Divorce was never in God's original plan. God hates the tearing apart of what He joined (Mal 2:16).
19:9 except for sexual immorality Porneia covers sexual sin of many kinds. Many Protestants believe the innocent partner may divorce and remarry, and many add desertion (1 Cor 7:15). Others allow divorce but no remarriage, citing Mark 10:11-12 and Luke 16:18. Others limit it to betrothal (1:18-19) or forbidden unions. Rome holds a true marriage cannot be dissolved. All agree God's plan is lifelong faithfulness and Jesus set a far higher standard than easy divorce.
19:9 commits adultery If you have been through divorce, sinned against or sinning or both, it is not the unforgivable sin. Jesus offered the woman with five husbands living water (John 4:16-18). Bring it to Him, seek godly counsel from your pastor, and walk forward in obedience.
19:10 it is not better to marry Raised in a world of easy divorce, the disciples were shocked. Marriage is lifelong and not to be entered lightly.
19:11 Not all receive this word, but those to whom it has been given Most likely their statement that it is better not to marry. Lifelong singleness is God's gift to some (1 Cor 7:7).
19:12 eunuchs who made themselves eunuchs for the sake of the kingdom of the heavens A eunuch could not father children. Some were born so; kings had some servants castrated. The third group means a willing choice to stay single and serve God with an undivided heart, like Paul (1 Cor 7:32-35), not harming the body. Jesus never married. The church should honor both marriage and singleness.
19:13 but the disciples rebuked them Parents brought children to respected teachers for blessing. The disciples thought Jesus too busy and had forgotten 18:1-5.

rebuked them. 14 But Jesus said, "Permit the little children, and do not forbid them to come to Me; for of such is the kingdom of the heavens." 15 And having laid His hands on them,
He departed from there.

The Rich Young Man

16 And look, one having come to Him said, "Good Teacher, what good thing shall I do so that I may have eternal life?" 17 And He said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One, God. But if you desire to enter into life, keep the commandments." 18 He says to Him, "Which ones?"
And Jesus said, "'You shall not murder; you shall not commit adultery; you shall not steal; you shall not bear false witness; 19 honor your father and mother; and you shall love your neighbor as yourself.'" 20 The young man says to Him, "All these things I have kept from my youth. What do I still lack?"
21 Jesus said to him, "If you desire to be perfect, go, sell your possessions and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me." 22 But the young man, having heard the word, went away grieving; for he was one having much property. 23 And Jesus said to His disciples,
"Truly I say to you that a rich man will enter with difficulty into the kingdom of the heavens. 24 And again I say to you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God." 25 And His disciples, having heard, were exceedingly astonished, saying,
"Who then is able to be saved?" 26 And Jesus, having looked at them, said to them, "With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible." 27 Then Peter (Petros), answering, said to Him, "Look, we have left all things and followed You; what then will there be for us?" 28 And Jesus said to them, "Truly I say to you that you who have followed Me, in the regeneration, when the Son of Man sits on the throne of His glory, you also will sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. 29 And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife or children or fields for the sake of My name will receive a hundredfold, and will inherit eternal life. 30 But many first will be last, and last first."

Laborers in the Vineyard house, who went out early in the morning to hire workers for his vineyard. 2 And having agreed with the workers for a denarius for the day, he sent them into his vineyard. 3 And having gone out about the third hour, he saw others standing

20:3 1 Tim 5:13; Mark 15:25; Acts 2:15

19:14 Permit the little children, and do not forbid them to come to Me Jesus was indignant (Mark 10:14). The kingdom belongs to the humble and trusting. Children are not the church of tomorrow but part of His concern today. Teach them His word, pray with them, and never treat them as a bother.
19:16 what good thing shall I do so that I may have eternal life Young (19:20), rich (19:22), a ruler (Luke 18:18): everything the world calls success, yet something was missing. He thought of salvation as something to achieve, as most people do.
19:17 Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One, God Not a denial that He is good or God, but a prompt: do you understand who I am? Then if only God is good, the young man was not. "Keep the commandments" uses the Law as God meant, a mirror showing our sin (Rom 3:20; Gal 3:24). Many modern Bibles, from older copies, read differently here.
19:19 you shall love your neighbor as yourself Jesus lists commands about others (Exod 20:12-16; Lev 19:18) and leaves out loving God first and not coveting, the very points He is about to test.
19:20 What do I still lack Outwardly he had lived clean. Yet his rule keeping had not given him peace with God. Many decent people feel that empty place. Being good enough never fills it.
19:21 go, sell your possessions and give to the poor Perfect means complete, lacking nothing. Jesus went straight to what ruled his heart. Not every Christian must sell everything; Zacchaeus gave half (Luke 19:8). But money was this man's god, breaking the first commandment and the love of neighbor. The real issue was "come, follow Me." What would be hardest for me to give up for Jesus?
19:22 went away grieving; for he was one having much property He came running (Mark 10:17) and left grieving, choosing treasure on earth over heaven. Jesus let him go and did not chase him with an easier offer. The gospel has no discount price.
19:23 a rich man will enter with difficulty into the kingdom of the heavens Riches make people feel they do not need God (1 Tim 6:17; Matt 13:22). Most of us are rich by the standards of most of history. This warning is for us.
19:24 it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle The largest animal in Israel through the smallest opening known. There is no ancient evidence for a gate called the Needle's Eye; the story comes from much later. Jesus meant it is humanly impossible.
19:25 Who then is able to be saved Many believed riches showed God's blessing. If the blessed rich cannot, who can? No one, if salvation depends on us.
19:26 With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible No one can save himself by goodness, commandments or giving things away. God can change any heart and loosen the grip of money. The young man asked what he could do. We cannot, but God can. Salvation is a gift received by faith (Eph 2:8-9).
19:27 we have left all things and followed You; what then will there be for us They did what the young man would not. An honest question, and Jesus answers with a promise.
19:28 in the regeneration, when the Son of Man sits on the throne of His glory The new birth of the world when Jesus returns, sets up His kingdom and renews the earth (Acts 3:21; Rom 8:19-21), on David's promised throne (Luke 1:32-33). To judge is to rule. This only makes sense if God has a future for Israel. I believe the twelve tribes will be restored under their Messiah in the thousand-year kingdom (Rev 20:4-6; Rom 11:25-29).
19:29 will receive a hundredfold, and will inherit eternal life For everyone, beginning "now in this time" (Mark 10:30): a larger family in the church and homes opened among believers, then eternal life. No one gives up anything for Jesus and comes out behind.
19:30 many first will be last, and last first The young man seemed first and went away last; fishermen and a tax collector will sit on thrones. A warning to the disciples too, for Peter's question had self-interest in it. Jesus explains with a parable (20:1-16).
20:2 having agreed with the workers for a denarius for the day "For" ties this parable to 19:30. Day laborers waited in the marketplace at sunrise. A denarius was the normal, fair pay for a day's work. God's people are often His vineyard (Isa 5:1-7), and the owner stands for God.

in the marketplace idle, 4 and to those he said, 'You also go into the vineyard, and whatever may be right I will give you.' And they went away. 5 Again, having gone out about the sixth and ninth hour, he did likewise. 6 And about the eleventh hour, having gone out, he found others standing idle, and he says to them, 'Why have you stood here all the day idle?' 7 They say to him, 'Because no one hired us.' He says to them, 'You also go into the vineyard, and whatever is right you will receive.' 8 And evening having come, the master of the vineyard says to his foreman, 'Call the workers and pay them the wages, having begun from the last to the first.' 9 And those hired about the eleventh hour, having come, received each a denarius. 10 And the first, having come, thought that they would receive more; and they themselves also received each a denarius. 11 And having received it, they were grumbling against the master of the house, 12 saying, 'These last worked one hour, and you made them equal to us, who have borne the burden of the day and the scorching heat.' 13 But he, answering, said to one of them, 'Friend, I do not wrong you. Did you not agree with me for a denarius? 14 Take what is yours and go. But I wish to give to this last one as also to you. 15 Or is it not lawful for me to do what I wish with what is mine? Is your eye evil because I am good?' 16 Thus the last will be first, and the first last; for many are called, but few chosen."

Third Prediction and a Mother's Request

17 And Jesus (Iesous), going up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), took the twelve disciples aside privately on the road, and He said to them, 18 "Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes, and they will condemn Him to death, 19 and they will hand Him over to the Gentiles to mock and to flog and to crucify; and on the third day He will rise again." 20 Then the mother of the sons of Zebedee (Zebedaios) came to Him with her sons, worshiping and asking something from Him. 21 And He said to her, "What do you wish?" She says to Him, "Say that these two sons of mine may sit, one at Your right and one at Your left, in Your kingdom." 22 But Jesus, answering, said, "You do not know what you are asking for. Are you able to drink the cup which I am about to drink, and to be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" They say to Him, "We are able." 23 And He says to them, "My cup you will indeed drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized you will be baptized; but to sit at My right and at My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared by My Father." 24 And the ten, having heard, were indignant about the two brothers. 25 But Jesus, having called them to Himself, said, "You know that the rulers of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and the great ones exercise authority over them. 26 But it will not be so among you; but whoever wishes to become great among you, let him be your servant; 27 and whoever wishes to be first among 20:4 whatever may be right I will give you The Jewish day ran from sunrise, so the third, sixth and ninth hours were about 9, noon and 3. Idle here means without work, not lazy. These men set no wage. They trusted the owner to be fair, a picture of how we come to God.

20:7 Because no one hired us The eleventh hour was about 5 p.m., one hour of daylight left. God keeps calling right up to the last hour. Some serve Him seventy years; others come late in life, like the thief on the cross (Luke 23:42-43). He receives them all.
20:8 having begun from the last to the first The Law required paying a hired worker at day's end (Lev 19:13; Deut 24:15). Paying the last first was on purpose, so the first would see.
20:12 you made them equal to us They were not underpaid. They resented someone else treated as well as they were, like the older brother of Luke 15:25-32. When we compare what God gives us with what He gives others, we stop seeing grace and start keeping score.
20:15 Is your eye evil because I am good He called the grumbler "Friend," did him no wrong, and had the right to be generous. An evil eye meant a jealous, stingy heart (Deut 15:9). Salvation is not a wage. If we were all paid what we earned, none of us would want it (Rom 6:23).
20:16 many are called, but few chosen The parable sits between two forms of the same saying (19:30). The invitation goes out widely, but not all receive it humbly (22:14). The warning is for religious people who serve God in a spirit of bargaining and resent His mercy to sinners. This parable is about salvation itself; elsewhere God rewards faithful service differently (16:27; 1 Cor 3:8-14).
20:18 the Son of Man will be handed over to the chief priests and scribes The third and most detailed prediction (16:21; 17:22-23). Jerusalem sits high in the hills, so travelers went up. The chief priests were the leading priests, mostly Sadducees.
20:19 they will hand Him over to the Gentiles to mock and to flog and to crucify The leaders could not carry out a death sentence under Rome (John 18:31). Every detail came true in chapters 26-27. He was not caught off guard. He walked toward Jerusalem knowing it all, because He came to die for us.
20:21 one at Your right and one at Your left, in Your kingdom The two highest places beside a king. Comparing 27:56 with Mark 15:40, many think she was Salome, perhaps Mary's sister, but Scripture does not say plainly. The request came from the brothers (Mark 10:35). They believed in the King and His kingdom, but heard of suffering and thought of thrones.
20:22 Are you able to drink the cup which I am about to drink The cup often pictures what God pours out, many times His wrath against sin (Ps 75:8; Isa 51:17), the cup of Gethsemane (26:39). His baptism means being plunged under suffering. "We are able," they said, and within days they ran (26:56).
20:23 My cup you will indeed drink James was the first apostle martyred, by Herod Agrippa (Acts 12:1-2), and John was exiled to Patmos (Rev 1:9). They could not share His cup of wrath for sin, but they shared His sufferings. The Son submitted to the Father's plan for the seats of honor.
20:24 the ten, having heard, were indignant about the two brothers More likely angry the two asked first. They argued about greatness even at the Last Supper (Luke 22:24). It is easy to see pride in someone else and miss it in ourselves.
20:26 whoever wishes to become great among you, let him be your servant Among the Gentiles greatness means being on top. A slave belonged to another and had no rights. Pastors, elders and every believer are called to serve. If we want a title more than a towel, we have missed the point (John 13:12-15).

you, let him be your slave; 28 just as the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Two Blind Men at Jericho

29 And as they were going out from Jericho (Hiericho), a great crowd followed Him. 30 And look, two blind men sitting beside the road, having heard that Jesus is passing by, cried out, saying, "Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David (Dabid)!" 31 And the crowd rebuked them, that they should be silent; but they were crying out all the more, saying, "Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David!" 32 And Jesus, having stopped, called them and said, "What do you wish that I should do for you?" 33 They say to Him, "Lord, that our eyes may be opened." 34 And Jesus, having been moved with compassion, touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him.

MATTHEW 21

The King Enters Jerusalem

1 And when they drew near to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus (Iesous) sent two disciples, 2 saying to them, "Go into the village opposite you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied, and a colt with her; having untied them, bring them to Me. 3 And if anyone says anything to you, you will say, 'The Lord has need of them,' and immediately he will send them." 4 And all this has come to pass so that what was spoken through the prophet might be fulfilled, saying, 5 "Say to the daughter of Zion (Sion), 'Look, your King comes to you, gentle and mounted on a donkey, even a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.'" 6 And the disciples, having gone and having done just as Jesus commanded them, 7 brought the donkey and the colt, and put their garments on them, and they set Him on them. 8 And the very large crowd spread their own garments on the road; and others were cutting branches from the trees and spreading them on the road. 9 And the crowds, those going before and those following, were crying out, saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David (Dabid)! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!" 10 And when He had entered into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, "Who is this?" 11 And the crowds were saying, "This is the prophet Jesus, the One from Nazareth of Galilee (Galilaia)."

The Temple Cleansed

12 And Jesus entered into the temple of God and cast out all those selling and buying in the temple, and He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those sell-

20:28 to give His life as a ransom for many A key verse of the Gospel. The Son of Man of Daniel 7:13-14 came to serve. A ransom was the price to free a slave or prisoner, and the word for "for" carries the idea of taking someone's place. He died as our substitute, the Servant who "bore the sin of many" (Isa 53:12). "Many" does not limit His offer; it points to the great number His one death sets free (1 Tim 2:5-6).
20:29 as they were going out from Jericho About fifteen miles northeast of Jerusalem, crowded with Passover pilgrims. Mark names one man, Bartimaeus, and Luke places it on the way in (Mark 10:46; Luke 18:35). There were two Jerichos then, the old town and Herod's newer one, and Mark and Luke may focus on the better known man. The accounts do not contradict.
20:30 Have mercy on us, Lord, Son of David Blind men saw what Israel's leaders would not: the Messiah, the King from David's line (2 Sam 7:12-16), just before He rides into David's city. When the crowd tried to silence them, they shouted louder. When people try to keep you from Jesus, keep calling out.
20:32 What do you wish that I should do for you On His way to the cross, Jesus stopped for two beggars. He asked the brothers' mother the same question (20:21). They asked for position; these asked for mercy. He invites us to bring our needs (Phil 4:6).
20:34 immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him He felt for them and touched them. With new sight, they followed. Jesus does not open our eyes so we can go our own way, but so we can see Him and walk behind Him.
21:1 came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives A village close to Bethany. The Mount of Olives rises across the Kidron Valley and looks down on the temple. The Lord's feet will stand on it when He comes to fight for Jerusalem (Zech 14:4), and Jesus ascended from it (Acts 1:9-12). He comes to the city from there now, and He will come again there.
21:3 The Lord has need of them Jesus knew what they would find. Whether the owner had arranged it or Jesus knew by divine knowledge, Scripture does not say. The owner gave them up to the true Owner of everything.
21:5 Look, your King comes to you, gentle and mounted on a donkey From Zechariah 9:9 with Isaiah 62:11. Conquerors rode war horses; a king coming in peace rode a donkey, as Solomon at his crowning (1 Kgs 1:33). Jesus now openly presents Himself as the Son of David. Matthew names the mother too, perhaps because an unridden colt (Mark 11:2) went calmer beside her.
21:7 put their garments on them, and they set Him on them Most likely on the garments laid on the colt, not riding two animals at once.
21:8 the very large crowd spread their own garments on the road A way of honoring a new king (2 Kgs 9:13). The branches were palms (John 12:13), so we call it Palm Sunday.
21:9 Hosanna to the Son of David Hosanna means save, we pray (Ps 118:25), and became a shout of praise. The next line is from Psalm 118:26, sung by pilgrims. They rightly called Him Messiah but wanted Rome thrown off at once. Within days the city cried "Let Him be crucified" (27:22). A crowd's praise is easy to win and easy to lose.
21:10 all the city was stirred, saying, "Who is this?" Stirred means shaken, the word used for the earthquake at the cross (27:51). He was the Prophet Moses promised (Deut 18:15), and far more. "Who is this?" is still the most important question anyone can ask, and Matthew wrote his book to answer it.
21:12 cast out all those selling and buying in the temple The Court of the Gentiles was the only place non-Jews could pray, and it had become a market. Changers charged fees to exchange coins for the temple tax, and sellers often overcharged for animals. Doves were the offering of the poor (Lev 12:8). This was the Lord of the temple cleaning His house. John 2:13-17 tells of an earlier cleansing.

ing the doves. 13 And He says to them, "It has been written, 'My house shall be called a house of prayer,' but you have made it a den of robbers." 14 And blind and lame people came to Him in the temple, and He healed them. 15 But the chief priests and the scribes, having seen the wonders that He did, and the children crying out in the temple and saying, "Hosanna to the Son of David," were indignant, 16 and said to Him, "Do You hear what these are saying?" And Jesus says to them, "Yes; did you never read, 'Out of the mouth of infants and nursing ones You have prepared praise for Yourself'?" 17 And having left them, He went out of the city to Bethany (Bethania), and He spent the night there.

The Fig Tree Withers

18 And in the morning, returning into the city, He became hungry. 19 And having seen one fig tree by the road, He came to it and found nothing on it except leaves only. And He says to it, "Let no fruit come from you any longer, forever." And immediately the fig tree withered. 20 And the disciples, having seen it, marveled, saying, "How did the fig tree wither immediately?" 21 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "Truly I say to you, if you have faith and do not doubt, not only will you do the thing of the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be thrown into the sea,' it will happen. 22 And all things, as many as you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive."

Jesus' Authority Questioned

23 And when He had come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came to Him as He was teaching, saying, "By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority?" 24 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "I also will ask you one word, which if you tell Me, I also will tell you by what authority I do these things. 25 The baptism of John (Ioannes), from where was it? From heaven or from men?" And they were reasoning among themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say to us, 'Why then did you not believe him?' 26 But if we say, 'From men,' we fear the crowd; for all hold John as a prophet." 27 And answering Jesus, they said, "We do not know." He also said to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things. 28 But what do you think? A man had two children, and having come to the first, he said, 'Child, go, work today in my vineyard.' 29 And answering, he said, 'I do not want to'; but afterward, having regretted it, he went. 30 And having come to the second, he said likewise. And answering, he said, 'I will, sir,' and he did not go. 31 Which of the two did the will of the father?" They say to Him, "The first." Jesus says to them, "Truly I say to you that the tax collectors and the prostitutes are going before you into the kingdom of God. 32 For John came to you in the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him; but the tax collectors and the prostitutes believed him; and you, having seen it, did not regret it afterward so as to believe him.

The Wicked Tenants

33 Hear another parable. There was a certain man, a master of a house, who planted a vineyard, and placed a fence around it, and dug a winepress in it, and built a tower, and rented it out to farmers, and went abroad. 34 And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his slaves to the farm-

21:13 you have made it a den of robbers Isaiah 56:7 says a house of prayer for all peoples, and the market filled the Gentiles' court. Jeremiah 7:11 called it the hideout of people who sinned all week and ran to the temple for safety. When religion becomes a business or a hiding place for people who will not change, the Lord is not pleased.
21:14 blind and lame people came to Him in the temple, and He healed them The traders thrown out, the hurting welcomed in. A saying once kept the blind and lame from the house (2 Sam 5:8). The Son of David brings them in and makes them whole.
21:16 Out of the mouth of infants and nursing ones You have prepared praise for Yourself The leaders were indignant at the miracles and the children's praise. In Psalm 8:2 that praise is given to God Himself. The experts missed what the children saw.
21:17 He went out of the city to Bethany About two miles east, home of Martha, Mary and Lazarus (John 11:1). Even in His hardest week, the Son of God valued the rest and company of close friends.
21:19 found nothing on it except leaves only Fully man, He was hungry. Fig trees put out small early figs with their leaves, so leaves promised fruit. His only miracle of judgment was an acted-out lesson. The fig tree can picture Israel (Jer 8:13; Hos 9:10), and He had found busy religion without fruit in the temple. A church or Christian can have all the leaves and no fruit.
21:21 if you have faith and do not doubt From the Mount of Olives the Dead Sea can be seen on a clear day. Moving a mountain was a saying for the seemingly impossible.
21:22 all things, as many as you ask in prayer, believing, you will receive Not a promise to get anything we want by believing hard. Scripture interprets Scripture: we ask according to His will (1 John 5:14-15), in His name (John 14:13), from a right heart (James 4:3). Then nothing is too hard for Him.
21:23 By what authority are You doing these things The elders were leading men who sat with chief priests and scribes on the Sanhedrin, the high council. "These things" meant the entry, the cleansing and His teaching. The temple was their territory.
21:25 The baptism of John, from where was it A common way to debate, not a dodge. John had pointed to Jesus as the Lamb of God (John 1:29-34), so his witness answered their question. They asked not what was true but what would happen to them.
21:27 We do not know The nation's teachers claimed they could not tell whether its most famous prophet was from God. People who refuse the light they have will not receive more.
21:30 I will, sir,' and he did not go One son said no and later went; the other said all the right words and never went. Which one pleases the father?
21:31 the tax collectors and the prostitutes are going before you into the kingdom of God Tax collectors were seen as traitors, prostitutes as the lowest of the low. They said no to God with their lives but believed John and turned. The leaders said yes with their mouths and would not. "Going before you" leaves the door open, but they must come the same way, through repentance and faith.
21:33 planted a vineyard, and placed a fence around it Every listener knew Isaiah's song of the vineyard, the house of Israel (Isa 5:1-7). God gave His people everything and expected fruit. The farmers are the leaders put in charge.

ers to receive his fruits. 35 And the farmers, having taken his slaves, beat one, and killed another, and stoned another. 36 Again he sent other slaves, more than the first, and they did to them likewise. 37 And afterward he sent to them his son, saying, 'They will respect my son.' 38 But the farmers, having seen the son, said among themselves, 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him and take possession of his inheritance.' 39 And having taken him, they cast him out of the vineyard and killed him. 40 Therefore, when the master of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those farmers?" 41 They say to Him, "Wretches! He will wretchedly destroy them, and he will rent out the vineyard to other farmers who will give him the fruits in their seasons." 42 Jesus says to them, "Did you never read in the Scriptures, 'The stone which those building rejected, this has become the head of the corner; this was from the Lord, and it is marvelous in our eyes'? 43 Because of this I say to you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and will be given to a nation producing its fruits. 44 And the one having fallen on this stone will be broken to pieces; but on whomever it falls, it will grind him to powder." 45 And the chief priests and the Pharisees, having heard His parables, knew that He is speaking about them. 46 And seeking to lay hold of Him, they feared the crowds, since they were holding Him as a prophet.

The Wedding Feast

1 And Jesus (Iesous), answering, spoke to them again in parables, saying, 2 "The kingdom of the heavens has been likened to a man, a king, who made a wedding feast for his son. 3 And he sent his slaves to call those having been called to the wedding feast, and they were not willing to come. 4 Again he sent other slaves, saying, 'Say to those having been called, "Look, I have prepared my dinner; my oxen and the fattened animals are slaughtered, and all things are ready; come to the wedding feast."' 5 But they, having paid no attention, went away, the one to his own field, the other to his business; 6 and the rest, having seized his slaves, mistreated and killed them. 7 And the king, having heard it, was angry; and having sent his armies, he destroyed those murderers and burned their city. 8 Then he says to his slaves, 'The wedding feast is ready, but those having been called were not worthy. 9 Therefore go to the outlets of the roads, and as many as you find, call to the wedding feast.' 10 And those slaves, having gone out into the roads, gathered together all, as many as they found, both evil and good; and the wedding feast was filled with those reclining. 11 And the king, having

21:35 beat one, and killed another, and stoned another The prophets God sent over centuries, many rejected and killed (2 Chr 24:20-21; 36:15-16; Heb 11:36-37). The owner sends again and again when he could have come in judgment. That is the patience of God.

21:37 They will respect my son Jesus plainly calls Himself the Son, sent after all the prophets, and tells them what they are about to do.

21:39 they cast him out of the vineyard and killed him They knew he was the heir and killed him anyway. Jesus was crucified outside the city gate (Heb 13:12).

21:41 He will wretchedly destroy them Like David before Nathan (2 Sam 12:1-7), they pronounced judgment on themselves. It came in A.D. 70, when Rome destroyed Jerusalem and the temple and the chief priests' rule ended.

21:42 The stone which those building rejected, this has become the head of the corner From Psalm 118:22-23, the psalm of the entry. The builders, Israel's leaders, threw Jesus aside, but God made Him the cornerstone that sets the line for every stone (Acts 4:11; 1 Pet 2:6-8). The resurrection is how God did it.

21:43 the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and will be given to a nation producing its fruits Spoken to the leaders of that generation (21:45). The nation is best taken as all who believe and bear kingdom fruit, in this age the church of believing Jews and Gentiles, "a holy nation" (1 Pet 2:9). God is not finished with Israel (Rom 11:1-2, 26; Matt 19:28). Some dispensational teachers see the nation as a future believing Israel.

21:44 on whomever it falls, it will grind him to powder One can stumble over Christ now and be broken (Isa 8:14-15), or face the stone that falls in judgment, the stone of Daniel 2:34-35, 44-45 that crushes the world's kingdoms and fills the earth. Better to fall on it broken over sin and find mercy (Ps 51:17). A few Greek copies omit this verse, but most have it.

21:45 knew that He is speaking about them The Pharisees prided themselves on keeping the Law and traditions in every detail. Understanding was not their problem. Their hearts were. It is possible to understand God's Word clearly and still refuse to bow to it.

22:2 a king, who made a wedding feast for his son The third parable aimed at the leaders (21:45-46). A wedding feast pictures joy and fellowship: the Lord's feast for all peoples (Isa 25:6-8) and "the supper of the marriage of the Lamb" (Rev 19:9). The King is the Father, and the Son is Jesus.

22:3 to call those having been called to the wedding feast, and they were not willing to come A host sent one invitation ahead and another when the feast was ready. The guests stand for Israel, especially its leaders, invited for centuries through Law and prophets. To refuse a king's invitation to his son's wedding was a terrible insult.

22:4 all things are ready; come to the wedding feast The king kept inviting. The guests had to bring nothing, only come. That is the gospel. Jesus has done the work (Rev 22:17).

22:5 the one to his own field, the other to his business Farming and business were not wrong; they thought them more important than the king's invitation. Many today are lost not because they hate God but because they are too busy to care.

22:6 mistreated and killed them A picture of how God's messengers would be treated in Jerusalem (Acts 5:40; 7:58-60; 12:1-2).

22:7 he destroyed those murderers and burned their city A clear warning of A.D. 70, when Roman armies destroyed Jerusalem and burned the temple, as God once used Babylon (Jer 25:8-9). God is patient, but His patience has an end.

22:9 go to the outlets of the roads Where main roads leave the city and people gather. The gospel goes to all, Jew and Gentile, respectable and outcast (Rom 1:16), "both evil and good." No one is too far gone to be invited, and God's house will be full.

22:11 a man not dressed in a wedding garment Many think the king provided garments for guests pulled off the roads; whether or not that was the custom, the meaning is clear. It is the righteousness God provides (Isa 61:10; Rev 19:8). This man wanted the feast on his own terms, in his own clothes. We cannot come in the rags of our own goodness (Isa 64:6). We must be clothed in Christ (Gal 3:27; Phil 3:9).

come in to look at those reclining, saw there a man not dressed in a wedding garment, 12 and he says to him, 'Friend, how did you come in here not having a wedding garment?' And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the servants, 'Having bound his feet and hands, take him away and cast him out into the outer darkness; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.' 14 For many are called, but few chosen."

Taxes to Caesar

15 Then the Pharisees, having gone, took counsel how they might trap Him in His word. 16 And they send to Him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that You are true and teach the way of God in truth, and You are not concerned about anyone; for You do not look at the face of men. 17 Tell us therefore, what do You think? Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?" 18 But Jesus, having known their malice, said, "Why do you test Me, hypocrites? 19 Show Me the coin of the tribute." And they brought to Him a denarius. 20 And He says to them, "Whose is this image and the inscription?" 21 They say to Him, "Caesar's." Then He says to them, "Therefore give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God." 22 And having heard, they marveled; and having left Him, they went away.

A Question About the Resurrection

23 On that day Sadducees came to Him, those saying there is no resurrection, and they questioned Him, 24 saying,
"Teacher, Moses said, 'If anyone dies not having children, his brother shall marry his wife and shall raise up seed for his brother.' 25 Now there were with us seven brothers; and the first, having married, died, and not having seed, he left his wife to his brother. 26 Likewise also the second, and the third, until the seven. 27 And last of all the woman also died. 28 In the resurrection therefore, of which of the seven will she be wife? For all had her." 29 But Jesus, answering, said to them, "You are going astray, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God. 30 For in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels of God in heaven. 31 But concerning the resurrection of the dead, have you not read what was spoken to you by God, saying, 32 'I am the God of Abraham (Abraam) and the God of Isaac (Isaak) and the God of Jacob (Iakob)'? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living." 33 And the crowds, having heard, were astonished at His teaching.

The Great Commandment

34 But the Pharisees, having heard that He had silenced the Sadducees, were gathered together at the same place. 35 And one of them, a lawyer, questioned Him, testing Him and saying, 36 "Teacher, which commandment is great in the law?"

22:12 And he was speechless He accepted the invitation outwardly but never received what the king offered, like one who wants heaven but has never repented or trusted Jesus. On that day there will be no excuse.
22:13 cast him out into the outer darkness The bright hall and the dark night (8:12; 25:30). Weeping is sorrow and regret, gnashing of teeth anguish and anger. Jesus spoke of hell because He did not want anyone to go there.
22:14 For many are called, but few chosen As in 20:16. The chosen answer the call and wear the garment the King provides. Some see God's choosing as the cause of faith; others see God choosing those He knew would believe. Both agree the call is real, each person must answer it, and the saved give God all the glory.
22:16 they send to Him their disciples with the Herodians Herodians supported Herod's family and the Roman rule that kept it in power. They and the Pharisees normally did not get along. Their flattery was true, but they did not mean a word of it.
22:17 Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not Tribute was a tax paid straight to the emperor, hated as a sign of pagan rule. Yes would anger the people; no could be reported to Rome as rebellion.
22:19 Show Me the coin of the tribute A hypocrite was a masked actor. The coin likely bore Tiberius' image and a title calling him son of the divine Augustus. Jesus had to ask for one. His enemies had one in their pocket, right in the temple.
22:21 give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God "Give back" means pay what is owed. Christians obey the government and pay taxes (Rom 13:1-7; 1 Pet 2:13-17). But Caesar is not God. The coin bore Caesar's image; we bear God's (Gen 1:27), so we give ourselves to Him. When government demands what is God's, "it is necessary to obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29).
22:23 Sadducees came to Him, those saying there is no resurrection Mostly wealthy priestly families who controlled the temple, including the high priest. They accepted only the books of Moses and denied resurrection, angels and spirits (Acts 23:8).
22:24 his brother shall marry his wife and shall raise up seed for his brother From Deuteronomy 25:5-6, which kept a family's name and land from being lost in Israel.
22:28 In the resurrection therefore, of which of the seven will she be wife They meant to make the resurrection look foolish by judging the life to come by the limits of this one. Many still argue that way.
22:29 not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God Two errors behind most false teaching today: not knowing what the Bible says, or putting limits on what God can do.
22:30 they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels of God in heaven Not that we become angels, but that we live forever and no longer need marriage to carry on the human family (Luke 20:35-36). Scripture does not say spouses will not know each other. I believe we will, with fuller love. And Jesus states plainly that angels are real.
22:32 God is not the God of the dead, but of the living From Exodus 3:6, in the books they accepted. God said I am, not I was, of men dead for centuries. They were alive to Him, and His covenant promises to them demand that they will be raised.
22:33 the crowds, having heard, were astonished at His teaching He showed them something in a verse they had read all their lives. That is what happens when the Author teaches His Book.
22:36 which commandment is great in the law A lawyer was an expert in the Law of Moses, not a courtroom attorney. The rabbis counted 613 commands and argued which were heavier.

37 And Jesus said to him, "'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind.' 38 This is the first and great commandment. 39 And the second is like it: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' 40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the Prophets."

David's Son and Lord

41 And the Pharisees having been gathered together, Jesus questioned them, 42 saying, "What do you think concerning the Christ? Whose son is He?" They say to Him, "Of David (Dabid)." 43 He says to them, "How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord, saying, 44 'The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand until I put Your enemies as a footstool of Your feet"'? 45 If then David calls Him Lord, how is He his son?" 46 And no one was able to answer Him a word, nor did anyone dare from that day to question Him any longer.

MATTHEW 23

Woes to the Scribes and Pharisees

1 Then Jesus (Iesous) spoke to the crowds and to His disciples, 2 saying, "The scribes and the Pharisees have sat down on the seat of Moses. 3 Therefore all things, as many as they tell you to keep, keep and do; but do not do according to their works; for they say and do not do. 4 For they tie up heavy and hard-to-bear burdens and lay them on the shoulders of men, but they are not willing to move them with their finger. 5 And they do all their works in order to be seen by men; and they broaden their phylacteries and enlarge the fringes of their garments. 6 And they love the place of honor at the banquets and the first seats in the synagogues, 7 and the greetings in the marketplaces, and to be called by men, 'Rabbi, Rabbi.' 8 But you, do not be called 'Rabbi'; for One is your instructor, the Christ, and you are all brothers. 9 And do not call anyone on the earth your father; for One is your Father, the One in the heavens. 10 Nor be called instructors; for your instructor is One, the Christ. 11 But the greater of you shall be your servant. 12 And whoever will exalt himself will be humbled, and whoever will humble himself will be exalted. 13 But woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you shut up the kingdom of the heavens before men; for you yourselves do not enter, nor do you allow those entering 22:37 You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind From Deuteronomy 6:5, part of the Shema, named for its first word, hear (Deut 6:4), recited daily by devout Jews. God wants the whole person. Jesus skips rules about sacrifice or Sabbath and goes to the root of all of it.

22:39 the second is like it From Leviticus 19:18. Asked for one, He gave two, because they cannot be separated (1 John 4:20). "As yourself" is not a command to love ourselves first. It assumes we look after our own needs and calls us to care for our neighbor's good the same way.
22:40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the Prophets Like a door on its hinges (Rom 13:8-10). Who has kept these two for even one whole day? The Law shows perfect love and how far short we fall. Only Jesus kept it, and He gives His righteousness to all who trust Him (Rom 3:20-24).
22:42 What do you think concerning the Christ? Whose son is He "Of David" was the standard and right answer (2 Sam 7:12-16; Isa 11:1).
22:43 How then does David in the Spirit call Him Lord Jesus says David wrote this psalm and wrote it by the Holy Spirit, a strong statement about the inspiration of Scripture.
22:44 The Lord said to my Lord From Psalm 110:1. The first Lord is the Father, the second the Messiah. No father called his son lord. The Messiah is David's son by human birth and David's Lord as God the Son who existed before David (John 8:58). The New Testament quotes this verse more than any other to show Jesus seated at the Father's right hand (Acts 2:34-36; Heb 1:13). Every enemy will be put under His feet.
22:46 nor did anyone dare from that day to question Him any longer The best minds in Israel were silenced, and they would not answer the one question that mattered most. Who do you say Jesus is: a good teacher, or the Son of David who is David's Lord?
23:2 The scribes and the Pharisees have sat down on the seat of Moses The leaders silenced (22:46), Jesus warns the people about them. Most scribes were Pharisees. To sit on Moses' seat was to teach as the official interpreters of the Law, and some synagogues had a stone seat by that name.
23:3 do not do according to their works; for they say and do not do When they faithfully taught Moses, the people should obey, for God's Word does not lose authority because a hypocrite reads it. Jesus did not approve their traditions (15:3-9). Every teacher should tremble at this verse (James 3:1).
23:4 they tie up heavy and hard-to-bear burdens Like loading a pack animal until it can barely stand, they added rule upon rule, with dozens on Sabbath work alone, and would not lift a finger to help. False religion piles on burdens. Jesus lifts them (11:28).
23:5 they broaden their phylacteries and enlarge the fringes of their garments Phylacteries were small leather boxes of Scripture verses (Exod 13:1-16; Deut 6:4-9; 11:13-21) tied to forehead and arm in prayer, from a literal reading of Deuteronomy 6:8. The fringes were the commanded tassels (Num 15:37-40). God gave them to point people to Him. The Pharisees used them to point to themselves (6:1-18).
23:7 to be called by men, 'Rabbi, Rabbi.' Rabbi means my great one, my teacher. The best synagogue seats faced the people. Honoring a teacher is not wrong. The sin is loving the honor, wanting the title more than the work.
23:8 One is your instructor, the Christ, and you are all brothers No believer is to set himself up as master over others. Jesus is not forbidding every title; Paul was a teacher (1 Tim 2:7; Eph 4:11). No one should stand between believers and God or have his word put in place of Christ's.
23:9 do not call anyone on the earth your father The rabbis called great past teachers father. Jesus means a final spiritual authority, a place God alone holds. We honor earthly fathers (Exod 20:12), and Paul was a spiritual father through the gospel (1 Cor 4:15). Many use religious titles with no thought of putting a man in God's place, but the warning stands for us all.
23:10 your instructor is One, the Christ A guide who goes ahead and shows the way. Every pastor and teacher is only a fellow student pointing others to Him.
23:12 whoever will exalt himself will be humbled One of God's unchanging laws (Prov 29:23; James 4:6), shown when Jesus washed feet (20:26-27; John 13:4-15). The way up in God's kingdom is down.
23:13 woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites A woe is a cry of sorrow and solemn warning, the opposite of a blessing. Chapter 5 began with blessings on the humble; His public teaching ends with woes on the proud. They held the key of knowledge (Luke 11:52) and turned others away from the Messiah (John 9:22).

to go in. 14 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you devour the houses of the widows, and for a pretext you pray at length; because of this you will receive greater judgment. 15 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you go around the sea and the dry land to make one proselyte, and when he becomes one, you make him a son of Gehenna twofold more than yourselves. 16 Woe to you, blind guides, who say, 'Whoever swears by the sanctuary, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gold of the sanctuary is obligated.' 17 Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gold or the sanctuary that sanctifies the gold? 18 And, 'Whoever swears by the altar, it is nothing; but whoever swears by the gift that is on it is obligated.' 19 Fools and blind! For which is greater, the gift or the altar that sanctifies the gift?
20 Therefore the one having sworn by the altar swears by it and by all the things on it. 21 And the one having sworn by the sanctuary swears by it and by the One dwelling in it. 22 And the one having sworn by heaven swears by the throne of God and by the One sitting on it. 23 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but inside they are full of plunder and self-indulgence. 26 Blind Pharisee! First cleanse the inside of the cup and of the dish, so that the outside of them may also become clean. 27 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you resemble whitewashed tombs, which outside indeed appear beautiful, but inside are full of bones of the dead and of all uncleanness. 28 Thus you also outside indeed appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness. 29 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you build the tombs of the prophets and adorn the monuments of the righteous, 30 and you say, 'If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.' 31 So you bear witness to yourselves that you are sons of those who murdered the prophets. 32 And you, fill up the measure of your fathers! 33 Serpents, offspring of vipers! How are you to escape from the judgment of Gehenna? 34 Because of this, look, I send to you prophets and wise men and scribes; and some of them you will kill and crucify, and some of them you will flog in your synagogues and persecute from city to city, 35 so that on you may come all righteous blood being poured out on the earth, from the blood of Abel the righteous to the blood of Zechariah (Zacharias), son of Berekiah (Barachias), whom 23:14 you devour the houses of the widows, and for a pretext you pray at length The Law commanded care for widows (Exod 22:22-24). Some took their property while showing off long prayers. Using religion to cheat the helpless is among the worst sins. Most older Greek copies lack this verse in Matthew, though the Received Text has it and many modern Bibles bracket it. The same words stand in Mark 12:40 and Luke 20:47, so Jesus said them.

23:15 to make one proselyte A Gentile convert who was circumcised and took on the Law. They brought people into their system, not to God. A son of Gehenna is one who belongs in hell, named for Hinnom's valley of child sacrifice (2 Kgs 23:10). Converts often outdo their teachers. Zeal must be zeal for the truth.
23:16 Woe to you, blind guides A blind guide leads people into the ditch (15:14). Their oath rules let people make holy-sounding promises they never meant to keep.
23:17 the sanctuary that sanctifies the gold The gold was holy only because it was in God's house. Valuing it above the temple put everything upside down.
23:19 the altar that sanctifies the gift An offering was made holy by God's altar. Their rules showed they cared more about gold and gifts than about God.
23:22 swears by the throne of God and by the One sitting on it No promise goes unheard by God. Every oath touches Him, because everything belongs to Him. Let your yes mean yes (5:33-37).
23:23 you tithe the mint and the dill and the cumin A tithe is a tenth (Lev 27:30), and they counted every tenth leaf of their herbs while ignoring justice, mercy and faith (Mic 6:8). Jesus did not call tithing wrong. They should have done both. Many churchgoers are careful about outward details and careless about honesty, kindness and faith.
23:24 who strain out the gnat but swallow the camel They strained wine through cloth to remove unclean gnats (Lev 11:20-23), and the camel was the largest unclean animal (Lev 11:4). Picture picking a gnat from the cup and gulping a whole camel, hump and all.
23:26 First cleanse the inside of the cup and of the dish Their washing rules (Mark 7:3-4) kept the outside clean while the inside held greed and lack of self-control. Fixing only the outside is painting a rotten fence. Only God creates a clean heart (Ps 51:10).
23:27 you resemble whitewashed tombs Touching a grave made a Jew unclean seven days (Num 19:16). Before the feasts tombs were painted with white lime so pilgrims would not touch them, and around Passover they shone in the sun. Lawlessness is a strong word for men proud of keeping the Law. They kept its rules and broke its heart.
23:30 we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets By calling the murderers "our fathers," they admitted they were their sons, and they would prove it by killing the greatest Prophet. It is easy to honor God's messengers safely dead, harder to hear the ones speaking to us today.
23:32 fill up the measure of your fathers Their fathers filled the cup of guilt partway. These leaders would fill it to the top by killing the Son, and then judgment would fall (Gen 15:16; 1 Thess 2:15-16).
23:33 How are you to escape from the judgment of Gehenna John used the same words (3:7), and the serpent recalls the devil in the Garden (Gen 3:1). Not insult for sport but the truth about where their path ends. Love tells the truth even when it hurts.
23:34 I send to you prophets and wise men and scribes Jesus speaks as the Lord who sends prophets, which only God does. Stephen was stoned (Acts 7:58-60), James killed (Acts 12:2), and Paul, once the persecutor, was flogged and chased from city to city (2 Cor 11:24-26).
23:35 from the blood of Abel the righteous to the blood of Zechariah, son of Berekiah Abel was the first murder (Gen 4:8), and Chronicles, last in the Hebrew Bible, records Zechariah stoned in the temple court (2 Chr 24:20-22): first page to last. Chronicles calls him son of Jehoiada. Some think Jehoiada was his grandfather; others think Jesus meant the prophet Zechariah (Zech 1:1). Scripture does not settle it.

you murdered between the sanctuary and the altar. 36 Truly I say to you, all these things will come upon this generation.

Lament over Jerusalem

37 Jerusalem (Hierousalem), Jerusalem, the one killing the prophets and stoning those sent to her! How often I was willing to gather your children together, the way a hen gathers her own chicks under the wings, and you were not willing! 38 Look, your house is left to you desolate. 39 For I say to you, you will by no means see Me from now on until you say, 'Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord.'"

Signs of the End of the Age

1 And Jesus (Iesous), having gone out, was going from the temple; and His disciples came to Him to point out to Him the buildings of the temple. 2 And Jesus said to them, "Do you not see all these things? Truly I say to you, there will by no means be left here stone upon stone which will not be thrown down." 3 And as He was sitting on the Mount of Olives, the disciples came to Him privately, saying, "Tell us, when will these things be? And what is the sign of Your coming and of the consummation of the age?" 4 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "Watch out that no one leads you astray. 5 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' and they will lead many astray. 6 And you are going to hear of wars and reports of wars; see, do not be alarmed; for it is necessary for all things to take place, but the end is not yet. 7 For nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be famines and pestilences and earthquakes in various places. 8 And all these are the beginning of birth pains. 9 Then they will hand you over to tribulation and will kill you; and you will be hated by all the nations on account of My name. 10 And then many will be caused to stumble, and they will hand over one another and will hate one another. 11 And many false prophets will rise up and will lead many astray. 12 And because lawlessness is 23:36 all these things will come upon this generation About forty years later, in A.D. 70, Rome destroyed Jerusalem and burned the temple. The generation that rejected its King saw the judgment.

23:37 the way a hen gathers her own chicks under the wings The name repeated shows deep feeling (2 Sam 18:33), and Jesus wept over the city (Luke 19:41). A hen covers her chicks even at the cost of her life. "How often" is the God who called Israel all through its history. He was willing; they were not. God does not force anyone. He calls, and He weeps when people refuse.
23:38 your house is left to you desolate The temple, "My house" at the cleansing (21:13), is now "your house." He walks out of it for the last time (24:1), as Ezekiel saw the glory depart before Babylon came (Ezek 10:18-19; 11:23). When the Lord leaves, a building is only stones.
23:39 until you say, 'Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord.' Not never, but until. Israel will look on the One they pierced (Zech 12:10), and "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). I believe this will happen at the end of the Tribulation, when Jesus returns to the earth and Israel turns to Him. The city that rejected her King will one day welcome Him.
24:1 His disciples came to Him to point out to Him the buildings of the temple Jesus had just said "your house is left to you desolate" (23:38), and now He left it for the last time. Herod began rebuilding about 20 B.C., and work was still going on (John 2:20). Huge white stones and gold that shone in the sun made it look like it would stand forever.
24:2 there will by no means be left here stone upon stone which will not be thrown down About forty years later, in A.D. 70, the Roman army under Titus took Jerusalem after a long siege and burned and tore down the temple. Josephus, who lived through it, described it in his history of the Jewish war.
24:3 what is the sign of Your coming and of the consummation of the age Peter, James, John and Andrew asked (Mark 13:3) when the temple would fall, the sign of His coming, and the sign of the end, likely thinking all would happen together. Luke records more about the near event, the fall of Jerusalem in A.D. 70 (Luke 21:20-24). I believe most of Matthew 24 looks ahead to the future Tribulation and the Second Coming. Parousia, coming, was used for a king's official visit to a city.
24:4 Watch out that no one leads you astray The first danger at the end is deception, not war (24:5, 11, 24). I believe the church will be caught up to meet the Lord before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17; 1 Cor 15:51-52; John 14:1-3), for God "did not appoint us for wrath" (1 Thess 5:9; Rev 3:10). Jesus speaks to Jewish disciples about Judea, the temple and the Sabbath (24:15-20), most directly to those who believe during the Tribulation, especially the remnant of Israel. Every believer can learn to stay awake and not be deceived.
24:5 many will come in My name, saying, 'I am the Christ,' False messiahs stirred crowds before A.D. 70 (Acts 5:36-37), and others have claimed new revelations since. Near the end there will be many. Anyone who says Christ has come back in secret, or that he is Christ, is a liar.
24:6 see, do not be alarmed Wars by themselves are not a sign the end has come. History is in God's hands and moves in His order. Fear and date setting have done a lot of damage in the church.
24:7 nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom Whole nations and empires at war, with famines, pestilences (deadly spreading diseases) and earthquakes. These come in every generation, but here they come together and grow worse. John saw the same pattern in the first seals (Rev 6:1-8), and many teachers match 24:4-8 with the first part of the seven-year Tribulation.
24:8 all these are the beginning of birth pains Labor pains grow closer and stronger until the child is born (Isa 13:8; Jer 30:6-7). These troubles are not random. After the pain comes the kingdom.
24:9 you will be hated by all the nations on account of My name Tribulation means pressure, being crushed. The apostles knew it, and believers in many lands know it now, but in the Tribulation the hatred becomes worldwide, and a great number are killed for their faith (Rev 6:9-11; 7:9-14). The world hates the name of Jesus (John 15:18-21).
24:10 many will be caused to stumble Persecution exposes those who only went along on the outside, and some will betray family and friends (10:21). A faith never tested has not yet shown what it is made of.
24:11 many false prophets will rise up In the Tribulation a great false prophet will lead the world to worship the beast (Rev 13:11-14; 19:20), and many are out already (1 John 4:1). Test every message by the Word (Acts 17:11), however impressive the speaker.
24:12 the love of the many will grow cold Lawlessness is living as if there is no God to answer to. Surrounded by evil, hearts harden and stop being shocked, like a fire left without wood (2 Tim 3:1-5). Believers must keep their love warm (Rev 2:4-5).

multiplied, the love of the many will grow cold. 13 But the one having endured to the end, he will be saved. 14 And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for a testimony to all the nations; and then the end will come.

The Great Tribulation

15 Therefore when you see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet, standing in the holy place (let the one reading understand), 16 then let those in Judea (Ioudaia) flee to the mountains; 17 let the one on the housetop not come down to take anything out of his house; 18 and let the one in the field not turn back to take his garments. 19 But woe to those who are pregnant and to those nursing in those days! 20 And pray that your flight may not happen in winter nor on a Sabbath. 21 For then there will be great tribulation, such as has not happened from the beginning of the world until now, nor by any means will happen. 22 And unless those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved; but because of the elect those days will be shortened. 23 Then if anyone says to you, 'Look, here is the Christ,' or 'Here,' do not believe it. 24 For false christs and false prophets will rise up, and they will give great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. 25 Look, I have told you beforehand.

26 Therefore if they say to you, 'Look, he is in the wilderness,' do not go out; 'Look, in the inner rooms,' do not believe it. 27 For just as the lightning comes out from the east and shines as far as the west, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be. 28 For wherever the carcass may be, there the vultures will be gathered together.

The Coming of the Son of Man

29 And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, and the stars will fall from the sky, and the powers of the heavens will be shaken. 30 And then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn, and they will see the Son of Man coming

24:13 the one having endured to the end, he will be saved Not saved by holding on long enough; salvation is by grace through faith (Eph 2:8-9). In the Tribulation setting, the end is the end of that trouble, and saved most likely means delivered, rescued (8:25), brought through to the coming King and His kingdom. Real faith keeps going because He keeps us (Phil 1:6). Endurance shows salvation is real; it does not earn it.

24:14 this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth The good news that the King is coming and people must repent and believe (3:2; 4:23). In the Tribulation God will use the 144,000 (Rev 7:1-8), the two witnesses (Rev 11:3) and an angel with "an eternal gospel" (Rev 14:6). His mercy offers salvation to the end. Every day we have is a day to share it.

24:15 the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of through Daniel the prophet An abomination is an idol or false worship God hates, bringing ruin to His holy place (Dan 9:27; 11:31; 12:11). Antiochus IV set up an altar to Zeus about 167 B.C., but Jesus spoke of it as still future. Some see it fulfilled in A.D. 70. I believe the Antichrist, the final ruler opposed to Christ, will break his seven-year covenant with Israel at the midpoint and set himself up to be worshiped in a rebuilt temple (2 Thess 2:3-4; Rev 13:14-15).

24:16 let those in Judea flee to the mountains No time to waste. The rugged hills have caves and hiding places. The woman, a picture of Israel, flees to the wilderness where God protects her for three and a half years (Rev 12:6, 13-14). Judea, the holy place and the Sabbath: Jesus speaks of the land and people of Israel in the last days.

24:17 let the one on the housetop not come down to take anything out of his house Flat roofs were used like porches, often with outside stairs. A field worker left his cloak at the edge. A few seconds will matter. Things can be replaced. Lives cannot.

24:19 woe to those who are pregnant and to those nursing in those days A cry of pity, not a curse, for those who cannot run far. His compassion shows even as He describes history's darkest days.

24:20 pray that your flight may not happen in winter nor on a Sabbath Winter brings cold rain and flooded streams. On a Sabbath gates might be shut and travel limited, which fits a future time when Jewish worship is restored. God cares about the timing of our troubles, so pray about the details.

24:21 then there will be great tribulation, such as has not happened from the beginning of the world until now Worse than the flood, the Holocaust or any war. That is why I cannot see A.D. 70 as the complete fulfillment; worse has happened since. It is "a time of distress for Jacob" (Jer 30:7), yet "from it he will be saved" (Jer 30:7; Dan 12:1). Revelation 6-19 gives the details. The second half of the seven years is often called the Great Tribulation from this verse.

24:22 because of the elect those days will be shortened Saved here means kept alive. God has fixed the limit: 1,260 days, forty-two months (Dan 7:25; Rev 11:2-3; 12:6; 13:5). The elect are His chosen alive then, the believing remnant of Israel and all who come to faith in the Tribulation. His love shapes even the length of His judgments.

24:24 they will give great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect Not every miracle comes from God (2 Thess 2:9; Rev 13:13-14). Miracles alone prove nothing; the test is God's Word (Deut 13:1-4). "If possible" tells us the elect cannot finally be led astray. He warned us ahead of time.

24:26 Look, he is in the wilderness Some will claim a messiah hiding in the desert with an army, others a secret coming known to insiders. Do not go and look. His coming will not be secret.

24:27 just as the lightning comes out from the east and shines as far as the west Lightning needs no announcement. His return to the earth will be sudden, public and impossible to miss. "Every eye will see Him" (Rev 1:7).

24:28 wherever the carcass may be, there the vultures will be gathered together The word can mean vultures. Asked "Where, Lord?" (Luke 17:37), Jesus gives this saying: circling birds show where the carcass lies, and judgment will be plain wherever it is due. Compare the birds called to feast on the armies at His return (Rev 19:17-18, 21).

24:29 immediately after the tribulation of those days This dates the Second Coming: at the end of the Tribulation, not before or in the middle. I believe Scripture shows two stages. First He comes in the air for His church before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17). Then after it He comes with His saints to the earth to judge and reign (Zech 14:4-5; Jude 14; Rev 19:11-16). These verses describe the second. The prophets foretold the same signs in the sky (Isa 13:9-10; Joel 2:31), and I take them as real events.

24:30 they will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky with power and great glory Scripture does not say what the sign will be; it may be His own glory across the sky. The tribes mourn in fear before their Judge, and Israel mourns in repentance over "Him whom they have pierced" (Zech 12:10-12) and is saved (Rom 11:26). Daniel 7:13-14 fulfilled. He will come "in the same manner" (Acts 1:11) as He left.

on the clouds of the sky with power and great glory. 31 And He will send His angels with a trumpet of great sound, and they will gather together His elect from the four winds, from the ends of the heavens to their ends.

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

32 Now learn the parable from the fig tree: when its branch has already become tender and puts forth the leaves, you know that the summer is near. 33 So you also, when you see all these things, know that it is near, at the doors. 34 Truly I say to you, this generation will by no means pass away until all these things happen. 35 The heaven and the earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

No One Knows the Day or Hour

36 But concerning that day and the hour no one knows, not even the angels of the heavens, except My Father alone. 37 And just as the days of Noah (Noe) were, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be. 38 For just as in the days before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39 and they did not know until the flood came and took all away, so also will the coming of the Son of Man be. 40 Then two will be in the field; the one is taken and the one is left. 41 Two women will be grinding at the millhouse; one is taken and one is left. 42 Therefore keep watch, for you do not know in what hour your Lord comes. 43 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief comes, he would have kept watch and would not have allowed his house to be broken into. 44 Because of this you also be ready, for in an hour that you do not suppose, the Son of Man comes. 45 Who then is the faithful and wise slave whom his master has set over his household, to give them the food in season? 46 Blessed is that slave whom his master, having come, will find so doing. 47 Truly I say to you that he will set him over all his possessions. 48 But if that evil slave says in his heart, 'My master delays to come,' 49 and begins to beat the fellow slaves, and to eat and drink with those who are drunk, 50 the master of that slave will come on a day in which he does not expect him and at an hour which he does not know, 51 and will cut him in two and will appoint his

24:31 they will gather together His elect from the four winds Some see the rapture here. I believe it is a different gathering. At the rapture the Lord Himself comes in the air and believers are caught up to meet Him (1 Thess 4:16-17). Here, after the Tribulation, angels gather the elect on the earth to the King, as the prophets foretold a great trumpet regathering Israel (Isa 27:12-13; Deut 30:3-4): the believing remnant of Israel and Tribulation believers entering His kingdom.

24:32 learn the parable from the fig tree Most trees in Israel stay green all winter, but the fig loses its leaves, and new leaves mean summer is near. Some see the fig tree as Israel and its return to the land in 1948 as a sign. That may be so, and Israel's return is remarkable, but Jesus' point here is simple: the signs tell you He is coming.

24:33 when you see all these things, know that it is near, at the doors All these things are the birth pains, the abomination and the great tribulation. Those who see them can know the King is right at the door.

24:34 this generation will by no means pass away until all these things happen Three main views. Some say the generation alive then, fulfilled in A.D. 70, but the Son of Man did not come on the clouds then. Some read genea as a race, the Jewish people preserved until all happens. Many take it as the generation that sees "all these things" (24:33), so the whole series happens within one lifetime. Good teachers hold each view. His words will not fail.

24:35 My words will by no means pass away Nothing seems more lasting than sky and earth, yet His words outlast creation. Isaiah 40:8 says this of God's word, and Jesus says it of His own. Only God could. Whatever the headlines say, every promise will be kept.

24:36 concerning that day and the hour no one knows Mark adds "nor the Son" (Mark 13:32). As man He chose not to use all His divine rights on His own (Phil 2:6-8), and the Father kept the timing in His own authority (Acts 1:7). Now glorified, I believe He knows. Every date setter has been wrong. Our job is not to calculate but to be ready.

24:38 they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage Not sins, but ordinary life carried on as if nothing would change. Noah preached righteousness for years (2 Pet 2:5), and they ignored him.

24:39 until the flood came and took all away Sudden and unexpected, it took them away in judgment, and only eight were spared. His coming will be like that for everyone not ready.

24:40 the one is taken and the one is left Many read this as the rapture, and some pre-tribulation teachers do. But in the verse before, the flood "took all away" in judgment, and Noah's family was left to live in a new world. In Luke "Where, Lord?" (Luke 17:37) is answered with the body and the vultures. I believe this is the Second Coming at the end of the Tribulation: unbelievers taken in judgment, believers left to enter Christ's kingdom on earth.

24:41 Two women will be grinding at the millhouse Two people at the same work side by side, one ready and one not. There will be no time then to get ready.

24:42 keep watch, for you do not know in what hour your Lord comes To watch is to stay awake like a guard on duty, not to keep calculating. Believers today wait for Christ to come for His church, "the blessed hope" (Titus 2:13), and live each day as if it might be the day.

24:43 if the master of the house had known in what watch the thief comes The night was divided into watches of about three hours. A thief sends no note. The day of the Lord comes "as a thief in the night" (1 Thess 5:2) on the unbelieving world, but it should not overtake believers, who are children of the light (1 Thess 5:4-5).

24:44 you also be ready Ready means right with God now, not planning to be someday. If Jesus came today, would you be ready to meet Him? If you are not sure, turn from your sin and trust Christ now. There may not be a later.

24:45 the faithful and wise slave whom his master has set over his household A trusted slave managed the household's daily needs. Pastors and teachers feed God's people with His Word (John 21:15-17; 1 Pet 5:2-4), and every believer has something to look after for the Master.

24:46 Blessed is that slave whom his master, having come, will find so doing He was not told the day, and he was faithful anyway. He is set over all his master's possessions. Faithfulness now leads to greater responsibility in the kingdom (25:21; Luke 19:17).

24:48 My master delays to come Said in his heart. Deciding the master is not coming soon, he abuses those under him and indulges himself. Scoffers will say "Where is the promise of His coming?" (2 Pet 3:3-4). What we believe about Christ's return shapes how we live.

24:51 will cut him in two and will appoint his portion with the hypocrites One of the harshest punishments of that time, a picture of being cut off completely. He was a servant on the outside but not in his heart, and he ends where hypocrites belong (8:12; 22:13). When the Master comes, what will He find us doing?

portion with the hypocrites; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.

The Ten Virgins

1 Then the kingdom of the heavens will be likened to ten virgins, who, having taken their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom. 2 Now five of them were wise, and the other five were foolish. 3 Those who were foolish, having taken their lamps, did not take oil with themselves; 4 but the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. 5 Now while the bridegroom was delaying, they all became drowsy and were sleeping. 6 And in the middle of the night there was a cry: 'Look, the bridegroom is coming! Go out to meet him!' 7 Then all those virgins arose and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the foolish said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' 9 But the wise answered, saying, 'No, lest there not be enough for us and you; but go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves.' 10 And while they were going away to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the wedding feast, and the door was shut. 11 And afterward the remaining virgins also come, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us!' 12 But he, answering, said, 'Truly I say to you, I do not know you.' 13 Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming.

The Talents

14 For it is just as a man going on a journey called his own slaves and handed over to them his possessions. 15 And to one he gave approximately 375 pounds (five talents), and to another approximately 150 pounds (two talents), and to another approximately 75 pounds (one talent), to each according to his own ability; and he went on the journey immediately. 16 Now the one who had received the five talents, having gone, traded with them and made another five talents. 17 Likewise also the one who had received the two, he also gained another two. 18 But the one who had received the one, having gone away, dug in the ground and hid the money of his master. 19 And after a long time the master of those slaves comes and settles accounts with them. 20 And the one who had received the five talents, having come, brought another five talents, saying, 'Master, you handed over five talents to me; look, I have gained another five talents in addition to them.' 21 And his master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful slave! You were faithful over a few things; I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your master.' 22 And the one who had received the two talents also, having come, said, 'Master, you handed over two talents to me; look, I have gained another two talents in 25:1 ten virgins, who, having taken their lamps, went out to meet the bridegroom "Then" ties this to His coming in chapter 24. The bridegroom went in the evening to bring his bride home in a joyful procession to the feast. Unmarried friends of the bride waited along the way with torches or small clay lamps that needed oil.

25:2 five of them were wise, and the other five were foolish On the outside all ten looked the same: lamps, waiting, invited.
25:4 the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps The wise prepared for a delay. The foolish had the look of readiness without the substance. Many see the oil as the Holy Spirit (Zech 4:1-6); others as real, living faith. Being in church, knowing the songs and carrying a Bible are not enough. You must have the real thing inside.
25:5 while the bridegroom was delaying, they all became drowsy and were sleeping All ten slept, and Jesus does not blame them. The wise were prepared even while they slept. The delay reminds us the Lord is patient, "not wishing any to perish" (2 Pet 3:9).
25:6 in the middle of the night there was a cry Midnight, the least expected hour. The time for getting ready was over. It was time to go.
25:9 go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves It sounds harsh, but it is the heart of the parable. You cannot borrow someone else's faith. A godly mother, a believing husband or a respected pastor cannot give you their relationship with God (Ezek 14:14).
25:10 and the door was shut Some of the most sobering words in the Bible. The Lord shut Noah in (Gen 7:16), and the door that kept them safe shut everyone else out. Today the door is still open. Jesus is the door (John 10:9). Go through Him while you can.
25:12 Truly I say to you, I do not know you Like 7:21-23. He knew who they were, but they had no real relationship with Him. They knew about Him, were around Him, said the right words, but did not belong to Him.
25:13 Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour Watching means being prepared at all times. In its setting this speaks of the Second Coming after the Tribulation, when those who only looked ready are shut out. I believe Christ will come for His church before the Tribulation, and that could be any moment. Are you ready? Not your family, not your church. You.
25:14 handed over to them his possessions Jesus would soon go back to heaven and leave His work with His servants. Our time, money, abilities, opportunities and the gospel itself belong to Him. We are managers, not owners (1 Cor 4:1-2).
25:15 to each according to his own ability A talent was a large weight of silver or gold, not a coin, and the SLB gives the weights in pounds. Even one was many years' wages, and our word talent for ability comes from this parable. God gives different gifts and amounts (Rom 12:6; 1 Pet 4:10), but no servant has been given nothing.
25:17 he also gained another two "Having gone": they put the money to work right away and both doubled it. God measures not how much we have but what we do with what He gave.
25:18 dug in the ground and hid the money of his master Burying money was a common way to keep it safe. He did not steal or waste it. He did nothing with it. One can avoid open sin and still be unfaithful by doing nothing for the Master. Every gift matters.
25:19 after a long time the master of those slaves comes and settles accounts with them His return would not be right away, and there will be a reckoning. For believers it is the judgment seat of Christ (2 Cor 5:10), not about whether we are saved but rewards for faithful service (1 Cor 3:11-15).
25:21 Well done, good and faithful slave He began "you handed over five talents to me," knowing it all came from the master. A fortune is called "a few things" beside what is coming in the kingdom. The reward is more responsibility and a share in his joy. Is there anything you want to hear more than "Well done" from Jesus?

addition to them.' 23 His master said to him, 'Well done, good and faithful slave! You were faithful over a few things; I will set you over many things. Enter into the joy of your master.' 24 And the one who had received the one talent also, having come, said, 'Master, I knew you, that you are a hard man, reaping where you did not sow, and gathering from where you did not scatter. 25 And having been afraid, having gone away, I hid your talent in the ground. Look, you have what is yours.' 26 And his master, answering, said to him, 'Wicked and lazy slave! You knew that I reap where I did not sow, and gather from where I did not scatter? 27 Therefore you ought to have put my money with the bankers, and having come, I would have received what is mine with interest. 28 Therefore take the talent from him, and give it to the one who has the ten talents. 29 For to everyone who has, it will be given, and he will have abundance; but from the one who does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him. 30 And cast out the worthless slave into the outer darkness; there will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth.'

The Judgment of the Nations

31 Now when the Son of Man comes in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then He will sit on the throne of His glory. 32 And all the nations will be gathered before Him, and He will separate them from one another, just as the shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. 33 And He will set the sheep on His right, but the goats on the left. 34 Then the King will say to those on His right, 'Come, you blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. 35 For I was hungry and you gave Me something to eat; I was thirsty and you gave Me drink; I was a stranger and you took Me in; 36 naked, and you clothed Me; I was sick and you visited Me; I was in prison and you came to Me.' 37 Then the righteous will answer Him, saying, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry and feed You, or thirsty and give You drink? 38 And when did we see You a stranger and take You in, or naked and clothe You? 39 And when did we see You sick or in prison and come to You?' 40 And the King, answering, will say to them, 'Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did it to one of these My brothers, the least ones, you did it to Me.' 41 Then He will also say to those on the left, 'Go from Me, you cursed, into the eternal fire which has been prepared for the devil and his angels. 42 For I was hungry and you did not give Me anything to eat; I was thirsty and you did not give Me drink; 43 I was a stranger and you did not take Me in; naked, and you did not clothe Me; sick and in prison, and you did not visit Me.' 44 Then they themselves also will answer Him, saying, 'Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty or a stranger or naked or sick or in prison, and did not minister to You?' 45 Then He will answer them, saying, 'Truly I say to you, to the extent that you did not do it to one of the least of these,

25:23 You were faithful over a few things; I will set you over many things Word for word the same praise for less. God does not compare you to the person with five talents. He asks whether you were faithful with the two He gave you.
25:24 I knew you, that you are a hard man He blamed the master, who had just shown great generosity. He did not know him at all. His fear was not the healthy fear of the Lord but the kind that hides. When we see God wrongly, we serve Him wrongly, or not at all.
25:26 Wicked and lazy slave His own words condemned him. Even bankers' interest would have been better than nothing. He did nothing good with what was entrusted to him (James 4:17).
25:29 to everyone who has, it will be given As with hearing the Word (13:12), those who use what God gives receive more, and those who neglect it lose even what they have. Use it or lose it.
25:30 cast out the worthless slave into the outer darkness Final judgment (8:12; 22:13; 24:51). He was not a true servant who was a little less productive. He never truly knew or trusted his master. We are not saved by works, but one who belongs to Christ will serve Him (James 2:17-18).
25:31 then He will sit on the throne of His glory Not a parable, though it uses a shepherd picture. This is His return to the earth at the end of the Tribulation (24:29-31). The throne of glory is David's throne (Luke 1:32-33; Matt 19:28). The rejected Carpenter will sit as King and Judge.
25:32 all the nations will be gathered before Him Nations can mean Gentiles. This is the judgment of the nations' people alive on the earth at His return, not the great white throne after the thousand years (Rev 20:11-15; Joel 3:1-2). Many teachers read it as one general final judgment. Sheep and goats grazed together by day and were separated at night. Each is judged one by one.
25:34 inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world Now He is "the King," the goal of Matthew's whole Gospel. An inheritance is received by belonging to the family, not earned. These enter Christ's kingdom on earth alive in natural bodies and live in His thousand-year reign (Rev 20:4-6).
25:35 I was hungry and you gave Me something to eat Simple kindnesses: a meal, a drink, a coat, a visit. They were not saved by works; the kingdom was prepared for them before they did anything. Their works were the fruit of faith. In the Tribulation those who refuse the mark cannot buy or sell (Rev 13:16-17), and helping them will risk one's life. Only true believers would.
25:37 Lord, when did we see You hungry and feed You They kept no record and did not help for reward. The Pharisees did works to be seen (23:5). These did not even remember theirs. Jesus remembered every one.
25:40 to the extent that you did it to one of these My brothers, the least ones, you did it to Me Many teachers see the Jewish people, His brothers by the flesh, hunted in the Tribulation (24:9, 16-22). Others see His followers (12:48-50; 28:10), including the messengers of 24:14. Some combine them. Either way, how people treat His own is how they treat Him (Acts 9:4). When we care for believers in need, we do it for the Lord.
25:41 Go from Me, you cursed, into the eternal fire The sheep hear "Come," the goats "Go from Me." Separation from Christ forever is the heart of hell. The fire was prepared for the devil and his angels, not for people, and God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezek 33:11). Those who side with the devil share his end.
25:43 sick and in prison, and you did not visit Me Not condemned for terrible crimes but for doing nothing for His people. Indifference to Jesus' people is indifference to Jesus.
25:44 Lord, when did we see You hungry or thirsty They seem to say they would have helped had they known. But they saw His people in need and decided they were not worth the risk.
25:45 neither did you do it to Me Jesus so identifies with His people that their need is His. Our faith is tested by what we do when one of the least needs help and no one is watching.

neither did you do it to Me.' 46 And these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life."

MATTHEW 26

The Plot and the Anointing at Bethany

1 And it came about, when Jesus (Iesous) had finished all these words, He said to His disciples, 2 "You know that after two days the Passover takes place, and the Son of Man is handed over to be crucified." 3 Then the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people were gathered together into the courtyard of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas (Kaiaphas), 4 and they plotted together in order that they might seize Jesus by deceit and kill Him. 5 But they were saying, "Not during the feast, so that a riot may not arise among the people." 6 Now when Jesus was in Bethany (Bethania), in the house of Simon the leper, 7 a woman came to Him having an alabaster flask of very costly fragrant oil, and she poured it on His head as He was reclining. 8 And having seen it, His disciples became indignant, saying, "For what purpose is this waste? 9 For this fragrant oil could have been sold for much and given to the poor." 10 But Jesus, having known it, said to them, "Why do you cause trouble for the woman? For she did a beautiful work toward Me. 11 For you always have the poor with you, but Me you do not always have. 12 For in pouring this fragrant oil on My body, she did it to prepare Me for burial. 13 Truly I say to you, wherever this gospel is proclaimed in the whole world, what this woman did will also be spoken of for a memorial of her."

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

14 Then one of the twelve, the one called Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), having gone to the chief priests, 15 said, "What are you willing to give me, and I will hand Him over to you?" And they set for him thirty silver coins. 16 And from that time he was seeking an opportunity that he might hand Him over.

The Last Supper

17 Now on the first day of the Unleavened Bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying to Him, "Where do You want us to prepare for You to eat the Passover?" 18 And He said, "Go into the city to a certain man, and say to him, 'The Teacher says, "My time is near; with you I am keeping the Passover with My disciples."'" 19 And the disciples did as Jesus directed them, and they prepared the Passover. 20 Now evening having come, He was reclining with the twelve. 21 And while they were eating, He said, "Truly I say to you that one of you will hand Me over." 22 And being exceedingly grieved, each of them began to say to Him, "Surely it is not I, Lord?" 23 And He, answering, said, "The one who dipped the hand

25:46 these will go away into eternal punishment, but the righteous into eternal life Some teach hell is not forever, that the lost cease to exist or all are finally saved. Jesus uses the same word, eternal, for both. If the life lasts forever, so does the punishment. I take Him at His word, and it breaks my heart. The Judge on the throne is the Jesus who died for sinners, and He still invites them to come (11:28).
26:1 when Jesus had finished all these words The last of five closings of His great teaching sections (7:28; 11:1; 13:53; 19:1). The teaching is over. Now comes the cross.
26:2 after two days the Passover takes place, and the Son of Man is handed over to be crucified Passover remembered the lamb's blood on the doorposts when the Lord struck Egypt's firstborn (Exod 12). Jesus would die as the true Passover Lamb (1 Cor 5:7). He was not caught in a plot. He named the day before the plotters met.
26:3 the high priest, who was called Caiaphas The highest religious leader in Israel and head of the Sanhedrin, about A.D. 18 to 36. He had said one man should die for the people (John 11:49-53).
26:5 Not during the feast, so that a riot may not arise among the people Jerusalem was packed with pilgrims who saw Jesus as a prophet. But God had other plans. He would die at the feast, as the Passover lambs were killed, just as He said.
26:6 in the house of Simon the leper Likely healed by Jesus, since an active leper could not host guests. John 12:1-8 tells the same event and names the woman Mary, sister of Martha and Lazarus.
26:7 an alabaster flask of very costly fragrant oil Alabaster was soft creamy stone carved into fine jars. The oil was worth about a year's wages (Mark 14:5). Guests reclined on cushions around a low table. Kings were anointed on the head, and whether she understood it or not, she anointed the King.
26:8 For what purpose is this waste Judas led the complaint, a thief who did not care about the poor (John 12:4-6). What looks like waste to the world is not waste when poured out on Jesus.
26:11 you always have the poor with you, but Me you do not always have Not a reason to neglect the poor (Deut 15:11). There is a time for special devotion to Him, and that time was running out.
26:12 she did it to prepare Me for burial Bodies were anointed with spices for burial, and His burial would be so rushed it could not be done properly (27:57-61; 28:1). She may have understood what the disciples kept missing.
26:13 what this woman did will also be spoken of for a memorial of her Here we are reading about her two thousand years later, in lands she never knew. The disciples called it waste; Jesus made it a memorial. He does not forget love shown to Him (Heb 6:10).
26:15 they set for him thirty silver coins Matthew sets Judas beside the woman: she gave a fortune, he sold Jesus for a little money. Thirty silver coins was the price of a slave gored by an ox (Exod 21:32), the shepherd's wage thrown to the potter (Zech 11:12-13). Judas loved money (John 12:6), and Satan entered him (Luke 22:3). Sin allowed to grow can lead us where we never imagined.
26:17 on the first day of the Unleavened Bread A seven-day feast beginning with Passover, when all leaven was removed from homes. The lambs were killed at the temple on the afternoon of Nisan 14 and eaten that evening (Exod 12:6-8; Lev 23:5-6). Preparing meant the lamb, unleavened bread, bitter herbs and wine.
26:18 My time is near A man carrying a water jar would lead them to an upper room (Mark 14:13-15). Jesus did not name him, perhaps so Judas would not know the place ahead. He walked straight toward His hour.
26:22 Surely it is not I, Lord They reclined on their left side, feet behind them. The Greek expects the answer no. They did not accuse each other; each looked at his own heart. When we hear a warning about sin, the right question is whether it is me.
26:23 The one who dipped the hand with Me in the dish Several shared one bowl of sauce. The betrayer was someone close, sharing His table, as Psalm 41:9 foretold (John 13:18).

with Me in the dish, this one will hand Me over. 24 The Son of Man indeed goes, just as it has been written concerning Him; but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is handed over! It would have been good for him if that man had not been born." 25 And Judas, who was handing Him over, answering, said, "Surely it is not I, Rabbi?" He says to him, "You have said it." 26 And while they were eating, Jesus, having taken the bread and having blessed it, broke it, and was giving it to the disciples and said, "Take, eat; this is My body." 27 And having taken the cup and having given thanks, He gave it to them, saying, "Drink from it, all of you; 28 for this is My blood, the blood of the new covenant, which is being poured out for many for forgiveness of sins. 29 But I say to you that I will by no means drink from now on of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of My Father." 30 And having sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives.

Peter's Denial Foretold

31 Then Jesus says to them, "All of you will be caused to stumble in Me during this night; for it has been written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered.' 32 But after I have been raised, I will go before you into Galilee (Galilaia)." 33 And Peter (Petros), answering, said to Him, "Even if all will be caused to stumble in You, I will never be caused to stumble." 34 Jesus said to him, "Truly I say to you that during this night, before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." 35 Peter says to Him, "Even if it is necessary for me to die with You, I will by no means deny You." Likewise all the disciples also said.

Gethsemane

36 Then Jesus comes with them to a place called Gethsemane, and He says to the disciples, "Sit here while I, having gone away over there, pray." 37 And having taken along Peter and the two sons of Zebedee (Zebedaios), He began to be sorrowful and to be deeply distressed. 38 Then He says to them, "My soul is very sorrowful, even to death; remain here and watch with Me." 39 And having gone forward a little, He fell on His face, praying and saying, "My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will." 40 And He comes to the disciples and finds them sleeping, and He says to Peter, "So, were you not able to watch with Me one hour? 41 Watch and pray, so that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing,

26:24 woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is handed over God's plan was written and would be carried out, and Judas was fully responsible. God's sovereignty never excuses man's sin (Acts 2:23). For Judas there would be no good ending.
26:25 Surely it is not I, Rabbi The others said Lord; Judas said Rabbi, teacher, acting innocent with the money already taken. "You have said it" meant yes. Jesus knew all and still let him sit at His table (John 13:30).
26:26 Take, eat; this is My body The unleavened bread pictured a sinless body, since leaven often pictures sin. Bread that had reminded Israel of the haste from Egypt now gained a new meaning: "which is being given for you; do this for My remembrance" (Luke 22:19).
26:27 having taken the cup and having given thanks Passover had several cups of wine. This was likely the third, the cup of blessing (1 Cor 10:16).
26:28 this is My blood, the blood of the new covenant A covenant is a binding agreement. Sinai was sealed with animal blood (Exod 24:8). Jeremiah promised a new covenant with Israel and Judah, sins remembered no more (Jer 31:31-34). "Poured out" is sacrifice language. The church shares now in its forgiveness, and God will still keep its promises to Israel when Christ returns (Rom 11:26-27). Some teachers say the church took Israel's place; I do not believe that.
26:28 for forgiveness of sins Many take "This is My body" as a picture, since He stood there in His body and also called Himself the door and the vine. Paul calls the Supper a remembrance and a proclamation "until He comes" (1 Cor 11:24-26). Roman Catholics hold the elements become His body and blood, Lutherans that He is truly present with them, and many Reformed that He is spiritually present. All should come with reverence, examining their hearts (1 Cor 11:27-29).
26:29 until that day when I drink it new with you in the kingdom of My Father In that night's sorrow He looks ahead. The Supper looks back to the cross and forward to eating with Him in His kingdom (Rev 19:9). Every time we take it, we remember He is coming back.
26:30 having sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives The meal ended with the second part of the Hallel, Psalms 115-118; Hallel means praise. Jesus sang "A stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner" (Ps 118:22) on the way to the cross. He sang praise on the night He was betrayed.
26:31 I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered From Zechariah 13:7. To stumble here is to desert Him in fear. In Zechariah the Lord Himself strikes the shepherd. The cross was God's plan (Isa 53:10).
26:32 after I have been raised, I will go before you into Galilee He knew they would fall and had already planned their restoration. That is grace.
26:33 I will never be caused to stumble Peter meant it, but he trusted his own strength and compared himself with others. "Let the one who thinks he stands watch, lest he fall" (1 Cor 10:12).
26:34 before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times Not just stumble but deny knowing Him, three times before morning. All the others said the same as Peter. Pride says I would never (Prov 16:18). The safest place is dependence on the Lord.
26:36 a place called Gethsemane Oil press, an olive grove at the foot of the Mount of Olives across the Kidron, where Jesus often met with His disciples (John 18:1-2). Olives were crushed under great weight until the oil flowed, a fitting name. Before the cross, He prayed.
26:38 My soul is very sorrowful, even to death The three who saw His glory (17:1-2) would see His agony. Fully man, He felt real dread and grief (Heb 4:15). More than the pain, He was about to bear the world's sin and God's wrath, made "sin on our behalf" (2 Cor 5:21). In His darkest hour He wanted His friends close.
26:39 let this cup pass from Me; nevertheless, not as I will, but as You will Face down in humility. The cup is God's wrath against sin (Ps 75:8; Isa 51:17; Matt 20:22). It was not wrong to ask honestly, and He surrendered. The first Adam chose his own will in a garden; the last Adam chose the Father's (Rom 5:19). If there had been another way, the Father would not have sent His Son to the cross.
26:40 were you not able to watch with Me one hour Exhausted and sorrowful (Luke 22:45). Hours after promising to die with Him, Peter could not stay awake with Him.
26:41 The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak A great test was coming that night, and prayer was the way to be ready. Peter slept instead and fell. Every believer knows the struggle (Rom 7:18-25). The answer is not trying harder in our own strength, but watching, praying and leaning on God.

but the flesh is weak." 42 Again, for a second time, having gone away, He prayed, saying, "My Father, if this cup is not able to pass from Me unless I drink it, let Your will be done." 43 And having come, He finds them sleeping again, for their eyes had become heavy. 44 And having left them, having gone away again, He prayed a third time, saying the same word. 45 Then He comes to His disciples and says to them, "Are you sleeping for the rest of the time and taking your rest? Look, the hour has drawn near, and the Son of Man is handed over into the hands of sinners. 46 Rise, let us go. Look, the one handing Me over has drawn near."

Jesus Arrested

47 And while He was still speaking, look, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs, from the chief priests and elders of the people. 48 Now the one handing Him over gave them a sign, saying, "Whomever I kiss, it is He; seize Him." 49 And immediately, having come up to Jesus, he said, "Greetings, Rabbi," and kissed Him. 50 But Jesus said to him, "Friend, do that for which you are here." Then, having come up, they laid hands on Jesus and seized Him. 51 And look, one of those with Jesus, having stretched out the hand, drew his sword, and having struck the slave of the high priest, cut off his ear. 52 Then Jesus says to him, "Return your sword into its place; for all who take a sword will perish by a sword. 53 Or do you think that I am not able now to call upon My Father, and He will furnish Me more than twelve legions of angels? 54 How then would the Scriptures be fulfilled, that it must come about this way?" 55 In that hour Jesus said to the crowds, "Did you come out as against a robber with swords and clubs to capture Me? Every day I was sitting with you in the temple teaching, and you did not seize Me. 56 But all this has come about so that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled." Then all the disciples, having forsaken Him, fled.

Jesus Before the Council

57 And those who had seized Jesus led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled. 58 And Peter was following Him from afar up to the courtyard of the high priest, and having entered inside, he was sitting with the attendants to see the outcome. 59 And the chief priests and the elders and the whole Sanhedrin were seeking false testimony against Jesus so that they might put Him to death, 60 and they did not find any; even though many false witnesses came forward, they did not find any. But at last two false witnesses, having come forward, 61 said, "This man was saying, 'I am able to destroy the temple of God and to build it in three days.'" 62 And the high priest, having stood up, said to Him, "Do You answer nothing? What are these testifying against You?" 63 But Jesus was silent. And the high priest, answering, said to Him, "I adjure You by the living God that You tell us whether You are the Christ, the Son of God." 64 Jesus says to him, "You have said it. Never-

26:42 let Your will be done First He asked if the cup could pass; now He accepts that it cannot, in the very words He taught us to pray (6:10).
26:44 He prayed a third time, saying the same word Not the empty repetition He warned against (6:7), but a heart pressed to the limit. In great trouble it is right to keep coming back to the Father with the same need.
26:46 Rise, let us go The hour He spoke of so often had come (John 12:23, 27). He did not hide in the olive trees. After praying, He walked out to meet the betrayer. He laid down His life Himself (John 10:18).
26:47 a great crowd with swords and clubs "One of the Twelve" again. Roman soldiers and temple officers came too (John 18:3), with weapons and torches in the dark, to arrest a Man who had taught openly every day.
26:49 Greetings, Rabbi," and kissed Him A disciple's usual greeting of respect for his teacher, so soldiers could pick out the right man in the dark. The word can mean kissed warmly or again and again. He made the sign of love the sign of betrayal (Prov 27:6).
26:50 Friend, do that for which you are here Even now He called him Friend. He was not caught off guard. He was in control of His own arrest.
26:51 cut off his ear It was Peter, and the slave was Malchus (John 18:10). Jesus touched the ear and healed it (Luke 22:51), healing one of the men who came to take Him.
26:52 all who take a sword will perish by a sword His kingdom would not be won by swords (John 18:36). Peter fought a spiritual battle with physical weapons, a mistake the church has made many times. The gospel is not spread by force.
26:53 more than twelve legions of angels A legion was about six thousand soldiers, so over seventy thousand angels, when one angel once struck down 185,000 Assyrians (2 Kgs 19:35). He could have stopped it at any moment. He chose not to, because the Scriptures had to be fulfilled and we had to be saved.
26:55 Every day I was sitting with you in the temple teaching, and you did not seize Me They treated Him like a dangerous criminal and came in the dark because they feared the people.
26:56 all the disciples, having forsaken Him, fled Numbered with transgressors (Isa 53:12), the sheep scattered (Zech 13:7), just as He said (26:31). Those who promised to die with Him ran into the night. Jesus went to the cross alone.
26:57 led Him away to Caiaphas the high priest First to Annas, Caiaphas' father-in-law and a former high priest (John 18:13), then to the council gathered in the middle of the night.
26:58 Peter was following Him from afar To his credit he came back, with John (John 18:15-16), but from afar, near Jesus without being seen with Him, sitting among the men who had arrested his Lord.
26:59 seeking false testimony against Jesus The Sanhedrin was the highest Jewish court, about seventy members and the high priest. The verdict was decided; they needed a reason. Later Jewish writings say capital trials were not to be held at night. The Law required witnesses who agreed (Deut 19:15), and the lies did not match (Mark 14:56).
26:61 I am able to destroy the temple of God and to build it in three days They twisted His words. He had said "Destroy this sanctuary" (John 2:19), and He spoke of His body, not the building in Jerusalem.
26:63 But Jesus was silent "He did not open His mouth; like the lamb that is brought to the slaughter" (Isa 53:7). Not weakness but the quiet strength of the Lamb. To adjure is to put under solemn oath before God, and asked directly who He was, He answered.
26:64 you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power and coming on the clouds of heaven "You have said it" means yes. He joined Psalm 110:1 and Daniel 7:13; "the Power" is a reverent word for God. You judge Me now, but one day I will judge you. Caiaphas will see Him again.

theless I say to you, from now on you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power and coming on the clouds of heaven." 65 Then the high priest tore his garments, saying, "He has blasphemed! What further need do we have of witnesses? Look, now you have heard His blasphemy. 66 What do you think?" And they, answering, said, "He is liable to death." 67 Then they spat into His face and struck Him with fists; and others slapped Him, 68 saying, "Prophesy to us, Christ: who is the one who struck You?"

Peter Denies Jesus

69 Now Peter was sitting outside in the courtyard; and a servant girl came to him, saying, "You also were with Jesus the Galilean." 70 But he denied it before all, saying, "I do not know what you are saying." 71 And when he had gone out to the gateway, another servant girl saw him, and she says to those there, "This man also was with Jesus the Nazarene." 72 And again he denied with an oath, "I do not know the man." 73 And after a little while those who stood by, having come up, said to Peter, "Truly you also are one of them, for even your speech makes you evident." 74 Then he began to curse and to swear, "I do not know the man!" And immediately a rooster crowed. 75 And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, who had said to him, "Before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." And having gone outside, he wept bitterly.

The End of Judas

1 Now morning having come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against Jesus (Iesous) so as to put Him to death. 2 And having bound Him, they led Him away and handed Him over to Pontius (Pontios) Pilate (Pilatos) the governor. 3 Then Judas (Ioudas), the one who handed Him over, having seen that He was condemned, having regretted it, brought back the thirty silver coins to the chief priests and to the elders, 4 saying, "I sinned, having handed over innocent blood." But they said, "What is that to us? You will see to it." 5 And having thrown down the silver coins in the temple, he withdrew, and having gone away, he hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests, having taken the silver coins, said, "It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood." 7 And having taken counsel, they bought with them the field of the potter for a burial place for the strangers. 8 Therefore that field was called "Field of Blood" until this day. 9 Then was fulfilled what was spoken through Jeremiah (Hieremias) the prophet, saying, "And they took the thirty silver coins, the price of the One who had been priced, whom they priced from the sons of Israel, 10 and they gave them for the field of the potter, just 26:65 He has blasphemed Tearing clothes showed grief or horror. Blasphemy is insulting God or claiming equality with Him. They were right that He claimed it. Their mistake was not believing Him. The Law demanded death for a blasphemer (Lev 24:16), and Israel's leaders condemned their Messiah for telling the truth.

26:67 they spat into His face and struck Him with fists Spitting in the face was among the worst insults (Num 12:14; Isa 50:6). Blindfolded (Mark 14:65), He was mocked as a prophet by men whose every name and thought He knew. The hands He made struck their Creator, and He took it for them.
26:70 I do not know what you are saying A servant girl, no real danger. The man who drew a sword hours before could not stand up to her. Fear does strange things. The first denial was a dodge.
26:72 he denied with an oath, "I do not know the man." He moved toward the gateway to slip out of sight. A Nazarene is a man from Nazareth. Now an oath, and he would not even say Jesus' name.
26:74 he began to curse and to swear Galileans had an accent Jerusalem could pick out. He called down curses on himself if he was lying, the worst denial of all. And the rooster crowed.
26:75 having gone outside, he wept bitterly The Lord turned and looked at him (Luke 22:61), with love and sorrow. Judas was sorry and took his own life (27:3-5). Peter wept and came back. Jesus had prayed for him (Luke 22:32), restored him (John 21:15-19), and at Pentecost three thousand were saved (Acts 2:41). If you have failed the Lord, even badly, run back to Him (2 Cor 7:10).
27:1 took counsel against Jesus so as to put Him to death The night trial was over, but the council met again at dawn to make its decision official (Luke 22:66-71). They had condemned Him, but under Roman rule only the governor could order an execution (John 18:31).
27:2 handed Him over to Pontius Pilate the governor Pilate governed Judea from about A.D. 26 to 36. He normally lived in Caesarea on the coast, but he came to Jerusalem during the feasts with extra soldiers to keep order.
27:3 having regretted it, brought back the thirty silver coins Maybe Judas never expected it to go this far. Scripture does not tell us. But when he saw the result, he was filled with regret.
27:4 I sinned, having handed over innocent blood Even the betrayer testified that Jesus was innocent. The priests answered coldly. They had used him, and now they threw him away. Sin always promises more than it gives, and those who lead us into it do not care what happens to us afterward.
27:5 he hanged himself Acts 1:18 adds that he fell headlong and his body burst open. Most likely he hanged himself, and later the body fell. Peter and Judas both failed Jesus that night, and both were sorry. But "the grief according to God produces repentance to salvation without regret, but the grief of the world produces death" (2 Cor 7:10). Peter came back to Jesus; Judas took his sin to the priests instead of the Savior. If you are struggling with dark thoughts, talk to someone today. No sin is too great for Jesus to forgive.
27:6 It is not lawful to put them into the treasury, since it is the price of blood They had no problem paying for an innocent man's death, but they were careful about where the money went afterward. It is the same hypocrisy Jesus exposed in 23:23-24, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel.
27:7 a burial place for the strangers Foreigners who died in Jerusalem with no family grave were buried there. Acts 1:19 tells us that in Aramaic, the local language, the field was called Akeldama, which means field of blood.
27:9 Then was fulfilled what was spoken through Jeremiah the prophet The words most closely match Zechariah 11:12-13, where the shepherd's wage of thirty pieces of silver is thrown to the potter. But Jeremiah also spoke of a potter (Jer 18:1-4), a broken jar in the Valley of Hinnom that would become a burial place (Jer 19:1-11), and buying a field with silver (Jer 32:6-9). Many teachers believe Matthew draws on both prophets and names the greater one. Others note that Jeremiah stood at the head of the scroll of the prophets in the Jewish order. Either way, even the price paid for Jesus had been foretold. The leaders of Israel valued their Messiah at the price of a slave.

as the Lord directed me."

Jesus Before Pilate

11 And Jesus stood before the governor; and the governor questioned Him, saying, "Are You the King of the Jews?" And Jesus said to him, "You say it." 12 And while He was being accused by the chief priests and the elders, He answered nothing. 13 Then Pilate says to Him, "Do You not hear how many things they testify against You?" 14 And He did not answer him, not even to one word, so that the governor marveled greatly. 15 Now at the feast the governor had been accustomed to release to the crowd one prisoner, whom they were wanting. 16 And they were holding at that time a notorious prisoner called Barabbas. 17 Therefore, when they had been gathered together, Pilate said to them, "Whom do you want me to release to you: Barabbas, or Jesus who is called Christ?" 18 For he knew that they had handed Him over because of envy. 19 Now while he was sitting on the judgment seat, his wife sent to him, saying, "Let there be nothing between you and that righteous man; for I suffered many things today in a dream because of Him." 20 But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the crowds that they should ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. 21 And the governor, answering, said to them, "Which of the two do you want me to release to you?" And they said, "Barabbas." 22 Pilate says to them, "What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ?" They all say to him, "Let Him be crucified!" 23 And the governor said, "Why, what evil did He do?" But they were crying out all the more, saying, "Let Him be crucified!" 24 And Pilate, having seen that he was gaining nothing, but rather a riot was arising, having taken water, washed his hands before the crowd, saying, "I am innocent of the blood of this righteous One; you will see to it." 25 And all the people, answering, said, "His blood be on us and on our children." 26 Then he released Barabbas to them; but Jesus, having flogged Him, he handed over so that He might be crucified.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

27 Then the soldiers of the governor, having taken Jesus into the Praetorium, gathered the whole cohort to Him. 28 And having stripped Him, they put a scarlet cloak around Him. 29 And having twisted together a crown out of thorns, they put it on His head, and a reed in His right hand; and having bowed the knee before Him, they were mocking Him, saying, "Hail, King of the Jews!" 30 And having spit on Him, they

27:11 Are You the King of the Jews? Before their council the charge was blasphemy, but Rome did not care about Jewish religious arguments. Before Pilate they accused Him of claiming to be a king, a rebel against Caesar (Luke 23:2). "You say it" was a yes. But He also explained that His kingdom is not of this world (John 18:36). He was not the kind of rebel Pilate needed to fear.

27:12 He answered nothing Pilate had seen many prisoners beg, argue, or curse. He had never seen anyone like this. Jesus was silent like a lamb before its shearers (Isa 53:7). He did not defend Himself, because He had come to die, and the lies answered themselves.

27:16 a notorious prisoner called Barabbas Barabbas had taken part in a rebellion in the city and had committed murder (Mark 15:7; Luke 23:19). He was exactly what the leaders falsely claimed Jesus was, a violent rebel against Rome. His name means son of the father. Releasing one prisoner at Passover, the feast of freedom, was a custom to win favor with the people.

27:18 they had handed Him over because of envy Pilate saw through the leaders. They were jealous of Jesus' hold on the people. Envy is a deadly sin. It led Cain to kill Abel, Joseph's brothers to sell him, and the leaders of Israel to hand over their Messiah.

27:19 Let there be nothing between you and that righteous man Only Matthew tells us this. The judgment seat was the raised platform where a Roman official gave legal rulings. God gave Pilate one more warning. He had his wife's message, his own judgment that Jesus was innocent, and the evidence of envy in the accusers. He had every reason to set Jesus free.

27:20 persuaded the crowds that they should ask for Barabbas This crowd at Pilate's palace may have been a different crowd from the one that welcomed Jesus a few days earlier, many of them likely followers of the leaders. Either way, they were easily moved.

27:21 And they said, "Barabbas." The guilty man went free, and the innocent Man died in his place. That is the gospel in one picture. We are Barabbas. Jesus took our place.

27:22 What then shall I do with Jesus who is called Christ? That is a question every person must answer. You cannot stay neutral about Jesus. Pilate tried, and it did not work.

27:23 Let Him be crucified! No one answered Pilate's question, because there was no answer. Crucifixion was the Roman way of executing slaves, rebels, and the worst criminals: slow, shameful, and agonizing. The crowd wanted the worst death there was.

27:24 washed his hands before the crowd This was a public act to say, I am not responsible (compare Deut 21:7). But washing did not remove his guilt. Pilate had the power to release Jesus (John 19:10), and he gave in to protect his own position. Christians still confess that Jesus suffered under Pontius Pilate. No one can wash his hands of Jesus.

27:25 His blood be on us and on our children The crowd took responsibility for His death, and within forty years Jerusalem was destroyed. But this verse has been terribly misused to justify hatred of the Jewish people. That is wicked and has no place in a Christian heart. The crowd did not speak for every Jew in every generation. Gentiles drove in the nails, and my sin and yours put Jesus on the cross. Peter told Jerusalem to repent and their sins would be wiped away (Acts 3:15, 19). His blood cleanses all who trust in Him, Jew and Gentile alike (1 John 1:7).

27:26 having flogged Him Roman flogging was brutal. The prisoner was tied to a post and beaten with leather straps tied with bits of bone or metal. Some men died from it alone. Matthew does not dwell on the details. Isaiah tells us why He bore it: "by His wound there was healing for us" (Isa 53:5).

27:27 the Praetorium, gathered the whole cohort to Him The Praetorium was the governor's headquarters in Jerusalem. A cohort could number as many as six hundred men at full strength. The whole unit gathered around one beaten prisoner to make sport of Him.

27:29 having twisted together a crown out of thorns Thorns came into the world because of sin (Gen 3:17-18). Now the King who came to undo the curse wore the curse as His crown. The reed was a pretend scepter. Those soldiers knelt in mockery. One day every knee will bow to Him in truth (Phil 2:10-11).

27:30 having spit on Him They spat on the face of God and drove the thorns down with the reed. He endured it without a word of hatred. Peter, who saw it, wrote that when He was insulted He did not insult back, but entrusted Himself to the One who judges righteously (1 Pet 2:23).

took the reed and were striking Him on His head. 31 And when they had mocked Him, they took the cloak off Him, and put His garments on Him, and led Him away to crucify Him.

The Crucifixion

32 Now going out, they found a man of Cyrene (Kyrene) named Simon; this man they compelled to carry His cross. 33 And having come to a place called Golgotha, which is called Place of a Skull, 34 they gave Him sour wine mixed with gall to drink; and having tasted it, He was not willing to drink. 35 And having crucified Him, they divided His garments, casting lots, so that what was spoken by the prophet might be fulfilled: "They divided My garments among themselves, and for My clothing they cast lots." 36 And sitting down, they were guarding Him there. 37 And they put up over His head His accusation written: "THIS IS JESUS, THE KING OF THE JEWS." 38 Then two robbers are crucified with Him, one on the right and one on the left. 39 And those passing by were blaspheming Him, wagging their heads 40 and saying, "You who destroy the temple and build it in three days, save Yourself! If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross!" 41 And likewise the chief priests also, mocking with the scribes and elders, were saying, 42 "He saved others; Himself He is not able to save. If He is the King of Israel, let Him come down now from the cross, and we will believe Him. 43 He has trusted in God; let Him deliver Him now, if He wants Him; for He said, 'I am the Son of God.'" 44 And the robbers who had been crucified with Him also were reviling Him with the same thing.

The Death of Jesus

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" That is, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" 47 And some of those standing there, having heard, were saying, "This man is calling Elijah (Helias)." 48 And immediately one of them, having run and having taken a sponge, and having filled it with sour wine and having put it on a reed, was giving Him it to drink. 49 But the rest were saying, "Leave Him; let us see whether Elijah is coming to save Him." 50 And Jesus, having cried out again

27:32 a man of Cyrene named Simon A condemned man usually carried the crossbeam himself, but Jesus had been so weakened that He could not carry it all the way. Cyrene was a city in North Africa, in what is now Libya, with a large Jewish community. Mark names Simon's sons, Alexander and Rufus (Mark 15:21), as if the church knew them. Many believe a man forced to carry the cross of Jesus came to take up his own cross and follow Him (16:24).
27:33 Golgotha, which is called Place of a Skull Golgotha is Aramaic. The Latin word for skull gives us Calvary. It was outside the city walls (John 19:20; Heb 13:12), near a road where many would pass. Rome wanted people to see.
27:34 sour wine mixed with gall Gall was a bitter substance; Mark says the wine was mixed with myrrh (Mark 15:23). The drink may have been meant to dull the pain (compare Ps 69:21). Jesus refused it. He chose to face the cross with a clear mind and drink the full cup the Father gave Him.
27:35 having crucified Him The Gospel writers do not describe the horror in detail, because their readers knew it. The nails were driven through wrists and feet, and a crucified man could breathe only by pushing himself up on them. Written about a thousand years before, the psalm says, "they pierced my hands and my feet" (Ps 22:16). The quotation of Psalm 22:18 in the second half of this verse is not in most older Greek copies of Matthew; the same words stand in John 19:24. As He died, His executioners gambled at His feet.
27:37 His accusation written Rome posted the crime of the condemned man. John tells us the sign was written in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek (John 19:19-20). Pilate meant it as an insult to the Jewish leaders, but it told the whole world the truth: Israel's true King was dying there.
27:38 two robbers are crucified with Him, one on the right and one on the left "With transgressors He was numbered" (Isa 53:12). James and John had asked for the places at His right and left (20:21). On the cross those places were taken by two criminals, perhaps rebels like Barabbas.
27:39 wagging their heads The psalm foretold it: "All who see me mock at me; they open wide with the lip; they shake the head" (Ps 22:7). Their scorn fulfilled the very Scripture they claimed to defend.
27:40 If You are the Son of God, come down from the cross! They threw His own words back at Him, with the same temptation Satan used in the wilderness: "If You are the Son of God" (4:3). Jesus could have come down. He stayed because He was saving us. The nails did not hold Him there. His love did.
27:42 He saved others; Himself He is not able to save The most religious men in Israel meant it as a joke, but they spoke the deepest truth of the cross. He could not save Himself and save us at the same time. He chose us. They said they would believe if He came down. Three days later He came out of a tomb, and they still did not believe (28:11-15).
27:43 He has trusted in God; let Him deliver Him now, if He wants Him These are nearly the words of Psalm 22:8. The leaders who knew the Psalms by heart did not realize they were fulfilling one as they spoke.
27:44 the robbers who had been crucified with Him also were reviling Him At first both robbers mocked Him. Luke tells us one of them changed and believed, and Jesus promised him Paradise (Luke 23:39-43). He was saved in his last hours with nothing to offer but faith. It is never too late to turn to Jesus while you still have breath.
27:45 darkness over all the land until the ninth hour From noon until three in the afternoon, darkness covered the land. It could not have been an eclipse, because Passover fell at the full moon. It was an act of God. Darkness in Scripture often speaks of judgment, as in Egypt before the first Passover (Exod 10:21-23) and in Amos 8:9. I believe that during these hours the Father was pouring out His judgment against our sin on His Son.
27:46 My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me? The opening words of Psalm 22, given in the language Jesus spoke. For all eternity the Father and Son had shared perfect fellowship. Now, bearing our sin, He was forsaken. God "made the One who did not know sin to be sin on our behalf" (2 Cor 5:21). He did not stop being God, and the Trinity was not broken, but He bore the full weight of judgment as our substitute. He was forsaken so that we never will be. Even here He says My God, and Psalm 22 ends in victory (Ps 22:27-31).
27:48 having filled it with sour wine This was the cheap sour wine the soldiers drank. Jesus had said, "I am thirsty" (John 19:28), so that Scripture would be fulfilled (Ps 69:21). The rest kept mocking to the end.
27:50 yielded up the spirit Crucified men usually died exhausted, barely able to breathe. Jesus cried out "with a loud voice." John tells us the cry: "It has been finished" (John 19:30). No one took His life from Him. He had said, "I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it again" (John 10:18). He died by His own choice, at the moment He chose.

with a loud voice, yielded up the spirit. 51 And look, the veil of the temple was torn into two from top to bottom, and the earth was shaken, and the rocks were split, 52 and the tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised; 53 and having come out of the tombs after His resurrection, they entered into the holy city and appeared to many. 54 And the centurion and those with him keeping guard over Jesus, having seen the earthquake and the things that were happening, feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was God's Son." 55 And many women were there, looking on from afar, who had followed Jesus from Galilee (Galilaia), ministering to Him, 56 among whom was Mary (Maria) the Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James (Iakobos) and Joses (Ioses), and the mother of the sons of Zebedee (Zebedaios).

The Burial of Jesus

57 Now evening having come, a rich man from Arimathea (Arimathaia) came, named Joseph (Ioseph), who himself also had become a disciple to Jesus. 58 This man, having gone to Pilate, asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be given up. 59 And Joseph, having taken the body, wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 and placed it in his new tomb, which he had cut in the rock; and having rolled a great stone to the door of the tomb, he went away. 61 And Mary the Magdalene and the other Mary were there, sitting opposite the tomb.

The Guard at the Tomb

62 Now on the next day, which is after the Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together to Pilate, 63 saying, "Sir, we have remembered that that deceiver said while He was still living, 'After three days I am raised.' 64 Therefore command the tomb to be made secure until the third day, lest His disciples, having come by night, steal Him away and say to the people, 'He was raised from the dead,' and the last deception will be worse than the first." 65 And Pilate said to them, "You have a guard; go, make it as secure as you know how." 66 And having gone, they made the tomb secure, having sealed the stone, with the guard.

He Is Risen

27:51 the veil of the temple was torn into two from top to bottom The great curtain separated the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place, where only the high priest went, once a year and never without blood (Heb 9:7). God tore it from heaven down. The way into His presence was open. We now enter "by the blood of Jesus" (Heb 10:19) through "a new and living way" (Heb 10:20). Any believer can come straight to God. The final sacrifice had been made.

27:52 many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep were raised Only Matthew records this, and he means real bodies. Fallen asleep is the Bible's gentle way of speaking of a believer's death. The tombs opened at His death, but the saints came out "after His resurrection," because Christ must be the first to rise (1 Cor 15:20; Col 1:18). Whether they died again like Lazarus or were raised in glorified bodies and went to heaven with Jesus, Scripture does not say. What is certain is that His death defeated death, and graves opened to prove it.

27:54 Truly this was God's Son A centurion commanded about a hundred soldiers and had likely seen many crucifixions. This Gentile confessed what Israel's leaders would not. Matthew began with Gentile wise men worshiping the newborn King (2:1-2). Near the end, a Gentile soldier confesses Him. The gospel was already reaching the nations.

27:55 many women were there, looking on from afar The men had fled. The women stayed. They had supported Jesus from their own means (Luke 8:1-3), and though they could do nothing, they would not leave Him.

27:56 the mother of the sons of Zebedee Mary Magdalene came from Magdala on the Sea of Galilee; Jesus had freed her from seven demons (Luke 8:2). Zebedee's wife had once asked for her sons to sit at His right and left (20:20-21). Now she saw who was at His right and left. These women would be the first witnesses of the empty tomb.

27:57 a rich man from Arimathea came, named Joseph Sundown would bring the Sabbath, and the Law said a hanged body must not remain overnight (Deut 21:22-23). Joseph was a respected council member who had not agreed with their decision (Mark 15:43; Luke 23:50-51), and a secret disciple out of fear (John 19:38). When the twelve were hiding, a secret disciple became bold.

27:60 placed it in his new tomb, which he had cut in the rock Nicodemus helped with a large amount of spices (John 19:39-40). Rome usually left crucified bodies on the cross or threw them in a common grave. But Isaiah had said, "with a rich man in His deaths" (Isa 53:9), and God saw that His Son was buried with honor. A large round stone rolled in a groove to close the entrance. It took several strong men to move it.

27:61 sitting opposite the tomb These women saw exactly where He was laid. On Sunday morning they did not go to the wrong tomb. They watched Him die and watched Him buried, and God rewarded their faithfulness by making them the first to hear He had risen.

27:62 on the next day, which is after the Preparation The Preparation was Friday, the day to make ready for the Sabbath. So the chief priests and Pharisees went to Pilate on the Sabbath itself, a day they were strict about, because they were worried.

27:63 After three days I am raised Here is the irony. The enemies of Jesus remembered His promise to rise, while His own disciples seemed to have forgotten it.

27:64 the last deception will be worse than the first They thought they were preventing a hoax. In fact, they were making the evidence for the resurrection even stronger. Pilate told them to use the guard they had, which may mean their own temple guard or Roman soldiers.

27:66 having sealed the stone, with the guard The seal was likely a cord stretched across the stone and fixed with wax or clay, stamped with an official mark. Breaking it was a serious crime. A huge stone, an official seal, and armed guards: they did everything human power could do to keep Jesus in the grave. On the third day it was not enough.

28:1 as it was dawning toward the first day of the week The Sabbath ended at sundown Saturday, and the women came as first light broke on Sunday. Jesus had been in the tomb from Friday evening until Sunday, three days by the Jewish way of counting, where any part of a day counted as a day. He had said "on the third day" (16:21), and so it was. The women came with spices to anoint a body (Mark 16:1). No one expected a resurrection, so the disciples did not dream it up.

28:2 rolled away the stone from the door, and was sitting on it The earth shook at His death (27:51) and again at His resurrection. The stone was not rolled away to let Jesus out; the risen Jesus later came into a locked room (John 20:19). It was moved to let the witnesses in. The sealed and guarded stone became an angel's seat. Heaven was not worried about Rome's seal.

Look, I have told you." 8 And having gone out quickly from the tomb with fear and great joy, they ran to tell His disciples. 9 And as they were going to tell His disciples, look, Jesus met them, saying, "Greetings!" And having come up, they took hold of His feet and worshiped Him. 10 Then Jesus says to them, "Do not fear; go, tell My brothers that they should go into Galilee, and there they will see Me."

The Guards' Report

11 Now while they were going, look, some of the guard, having gone into the city, reported to the chief priests all the things that had happened. 12 And having been gathered together with the elders, and having taken counsel, they gave many silver coins to the soldiers, 13 saying, "Say that His disciples, having come by night, stole Him while we were sleeping. 14 And if this is heard by the governor, we will persuade him and keep you free from trouble." 15 And having taken the silver coins, they did as they were instructed. And this word was spread abroad among the Jews until the present day.

The Great Commission

16 And the eleven disciples went into Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. 17 And having seen Him, they worshiped Him; but some doubted. 18 And Jesus, having come up, spoke to them, saying, "All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth. 19 Therefore, having gone, make disciples of all the nations, baptizing

28:4 those keeping guard trembled and became as dead men The angel shone with the glory Daniel saw (Dan 10:6). Trained soldiers posted to guard a dead man now looked like dead men, while the dead Man was alive. All the power of Rome could not keep Jesus in the grave.
28:5 Do not fear, you The guards had reason to fear. The women did not. They had come in love to seek Jesus, and those who seek Him have nothing to fear from heaven.
28:6 He is not here; for He has been raised, just as He said The greatest words ever spoken over a grave. The form of the words tells us God raised Him (Acts 2:24). Jesus had told His disciples again and again that He would die and rise the third day. If He kept that promise, He will keep every promise. The angel invited the women to look. Our faith is not a leap in the dark. It rests on facts that could be checked.
28:7 say to His disciples that He has been raised from the dead Women were the first sent with the news. In that culture their testimony was often not taken seriously in court, so no one making up the story would have chosen them. The Gospels tell it this way because that is what happened. Going before them into Galilee was the promise of 26:32. They had deserted Him, but He still called them His own.
28:8 with fear and great joy They were shaken and full of joy at once. That is a good description of meeting the living God. The proper response to the resurrection is to run and tell someone.
28:9 they took hold of His feet and worshiped Him He greeted them with the ordinary greeting of the day. This was no ghost or vision. He had a real body they could touch (Luke 24:39). And He accepted their worship. He had told Satan worship belongs to God alone (4:10). By receiving it, He showed He is God.
28:10 tell My brothers These were the men who had run away, and Peter had denied Him three times. Jesus did not call them cowards or traitors. He called them brothers. That is the grace of the risen Christ, who is not ashamed to call us brothers (Heb 2:11).
28:11 reported to the chief priests all the things that had happened The guards went to the chief priests, not to Pilate. That suggests they were the temple guard, or Roman soldiers placed under the priests for this task. Either way, they told the leaders the truth.
28:12 they gave many silver coins to the soldiers The men who paid Judas thirty silver coins to betray Jesus now paid the soldiers to lie about His resurrection. They did not deny the tomb was empty. They paid to cover it up.
28:13 stole Him while we were sleeping If the soldiers were asleep, how did they know who took the body? Would soldiers admit to sleeping on duty, which could bring death? And would the frightened disciples steal a body and then preach, suffer, and die for what they knew was a lie? People die for what they believe is true, not for what they know is false.
28:15 this word was spread abroad among the Jews until the present day The story was still told when Matthew wrote, and Justin Martyr in the second century says it was still being repeated. The enemies of Jesus never claimed the tomb still held His body. They admitted it was empty and tried to explain why.
28:16 to the mountain where Jesus had appointed them Eleven now, not twelve. Mountains matter in Matthew: the temptation (4:8), the Sermon (5:1), the transfiguration (17:1), the Olivet Discourse (24:3), and now the final commission. The disciples went where Jesus told them. Obedience is where seeing Jesus begins.
28:17 but some doubted Matthew did not polish the story. The word means to hesitate, to be of two minds. Some may not have been sure at first that it was Him. Some think this was the meeting with more than five hundred (1 Cor 15:6), which would explain the hesitation. If you struggle with doubt, you are not the first. Jesus did not send the doubters away. He came closer.
28:18 All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth Not some. All. Satan once offered Him the kingdoms of the world for a bow (4:8-9). Jesus went to the cross instead, and the Father has given Him all authority. He is the Son of Man of Daniel 7:14. We do not go into the world in our own authority but in His, and there is no nation, culture, or heart where He does not have the right to rule.
28:19 make disciples of all the nations This is the Great Commission. The main command is make disciples: learners and followers who have turned to Him in faith and are learning to obey. Having gone assumes His people will be going, at work, at home, and to the ends of the earth. The Twelve were once sent only to Israel (10:5-6). Now the door is open to every people, as God promised Abraham (Gen 12:3).
28:19 baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit Baptism is the public step of obedience for a new disciple, following repentance and faith. It does not save, but it shows outwardly what God has done inwardly (Rom 6:3-4). Notice "the name," singular. One name, three Persons. This is one of the clearest statements of the Trinity in the Bible. Jesus puts Himself right alongside the Father and the Spirit. No mere man could say that.

them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, 20 teaching them to observe all things, as many as I commanded you; and look, I am with you all the days, until the consummation of the age." Amen.

28:20 teaching them to observe all things, as many as I commanded you Disciple making does not end at baptism. It goes on for life. We teach new believers to keep and obey everything Jesus commanded, including the Sermon on the Mount, the call to forgive and serve, and the call to be ready for His return. All things. We do not get to pick our favorite parts.
28:20 I am with you all the days, until the consummation of the age Matthew began with Immanuel, God with us (1:23), and ends with I am with you. The whole Gospel is wrapped in that promise. All the days, good and bad. He goes with us by His Spirit and will never leave us (Heb 13:5), until the age ends and we see Him face to face. The King is risen. He has all authority. He has given us our orders. Now we go.

MARK

Introduction

Title

The book is named for John Mark, who wrote it. It is the second book of the New Testament and the shortest of the four Gospels. The word gospel means good news, and Mark uses it in his first line: "The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God" (1:1). With Matthew and Luke it is one of the Synoptic Gospels, which see the life of Jesus together and tell many of the same events. Mark is the Gospel of action. He tells almost nothing of Jesus' birth, starts with John the Baptist, and moves fast. The word "immediately" appears more than forty times.

Author and Date

The book does not name its writer, but the early church agreed from the start that John Mark wrote it. John was his Hebrew name and Mark his Roman one. His mother's house in Jerusalem was a place where believers met to pray (Acts 12:12), and he was a cousin of Barnabas (Col 4:10). He turned back partway through the first missionary journey (Acts 13:13), and Paul refused to take him again (Acts 15:37-39). Yet Paul later called him "useful to me for ministry" (2 Tim 4:11), and Peter called him "Mark my son" (1 Pet 5:13). Mark is proof that a person who fails can be restored.

Early writers, among them Papias in the early second century, say Mark was Peter's interpreter and wrote down what Peter preached. The book is full of eyewitness details, and it tells Peter's failures plainly. Some modern scholars doubt the link to Peter, but I see no good reason to set aside what the early church said. Most date the book about A.D. 50 to 65, many in Rome in the 60s. Jesus' words about the temple's fall (13:1-2) read as still waiting to happen, so most place it before A.D. 70.

Background and Setting

Mark wrote mainly for Gentile readers, most likely believers in Rome. He explains Jewish customs (7:3-4), translates Aramaic words such as Talitha koumi (5:41) and Ephphatha (7:34), and uses Latin words familiar to Romans. He names Rufus, son of the man who carried Jesus' cross (15:21), as if readers knew him, and Paul greets a Rufus in Rome (Rom 16:13). After the great fire of A.D. 64, Nero blamed the Christians and put many to death. A book about a suffering Servant and a call to take up the cross (8:34-38) would have meant much to those readers.

The events take place in Israel under Rome, with Pontius Pilate governing Judea and Herod Antipas ruling Galilee. The first half centers on the Sea of Galilee, with Capernaum as Jesus' home base, and reaches into Gentile lands: the Decapolis, Tyre and Sidon, and Caesarea Philippi. The last part takes place in Jerusalem, where the chief priests, scribes and elders ruled through the Sanhedrin.

Themes

Mark shows Jesus as the Son of God and the Servant of the Lord. He has power over sickness, demons, wind and sea, and death, yet He did not come to be served. The theme of the book is in one verse: "For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many" (10:45). The first half shows the Servant serving; the second half shows Him giving His life. More than a third of the book covers the last week.

Again and again Jesus tells demons, people He healed, and His disciples to keep quiet about who He is (1:34, 44; 3:12; 8:30). Teachers call this the messianic secret. Most people wanted a warrior king to drive out Rome, and no one could understand what kind of Messiah He is until they saw Him die and rise (9:9). After the resurrection the message is for the whole world (13:10; 16:15).

Mark also calls every reader to follow: to deny himself, take up his cross, and follow Jesus (8:34). The disciples are shown honestly, slow to understand and quick to fail, and restored by grace.

Christ in Mark

Mark's first line names Him the Son of God (1:1), and the Father says it from heaven at the baptism and on the mountain (1:11; 9:7). Yet for most of the book people ask, "Who then is this" (4:41). Peter confesses Him as the Christ (8:29), and at the cross a Roman centurion says, "Truly this man was God's Son" (15:39). It is the cross that shows who Jesus is. He is the Son of Man of Daniel 7, who gave His life as a ransom, rose on the third day, sat down at the right hand of God (16:19), and will come again "in clouds with great power and glory" (13:26).

Hard Passages

Why does Mark say "in the days of Abiathar" (2:26) when 1 Samuel 21 names Ahimelech? The notes explain it as a time marker using the better-known name.

What is the blasphemy against the Holy Spirit (3:28-30)? The notes give the main views and assure the worried seeker.

Why do parables hide truth from some (4:11-12)? The notes explain hardening of hearts already closed.

What do Jesus' words on divorce mean (10:11-12)? Good teachers differ, and the notes name the main views without taking a hard side.

Mark 13 is read in the notes as looking ahead to the future Tribulation and the Second Coming, after Christ has come for His church. The abomination of 13:14 is taken as future, the gathering of 13:27 as distinct from the rapture, and "this generation" (13:30) is given its three main readings.

Several verses printed in the SLB are missing from most older Greek copies: 7:16, 9:44 and 9:46, 11:26, 15:28, and 16:9-20. The notes say so plainly where they appear. They are commented on as printed, and no teaching rests on them alone.

John the Baptist Prepares the Way

1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus (Iesous) Christ, the Son of God. 2 As it has been written in the prophets, "Look, I send My messenger before Your face, who will prepare Your way before You." 3 "The voice of one crying out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths straight.'" 4 John (Ioannes) came baptizing in the wilderness and preaching a baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins. 5 And all the region of Judea (Ioudaia) and the people of Jerusalem (Hierosolymites) were going out to him, and they were all being baptized by him in the Jordan (Iordanes) River, confessing their sins. 6 Now John was clothed in camel's hair and a leather belt around his waist, and eating locusts and wild honey. 7 And he was preaching, saying, "After me comes the One mightier than I, of whom I am not fit, having stooped down, to untie the strap of His sandals. 8 I indeed baptized you with water, but He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

The Baptism and Testing of Jesus

9 And it came to pass in those days that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee (Galilaia) and was baptized by John in the Jordan. 10 And immediately, coming up from the water, He saw the heavens being torn open, and the Spirit like a dove descending on Him. 11 And a voice came out of the heavens: "You are My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased." 12 And immediately the Spirit drives Him out into the wilderness. 13 And He was there in the wilderness forty days, being tempted by Satan; and He was with the wild animals, and the angels were ministering to Him.

Jesus Calls Four Fishermen

14 And after John was delivered up, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God, 15 and saying, "The time has been fulfilled, and the kingdom of God has drawn near; repent and believe in the gospel." 16 Now walking beside the Sea of Galilee, He saw Simon and Andrew (Andreas) his brother casting a net into the sea; for they

1:1 The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God This first verse is the title of the whole book. Gospel means good news; Mark is announcing news that changes everything. Jesus is the Greek form of Joshua, the Lord saves. Christ is a title, the Anointed One, the same as Messiah. Son of God tells us who He really is. Mark will spend sixteen chapters showing it, and a Roman soldier at the cross will say it out loud (15:39).

1:2 Look, I send My messenger before Your face Mark joins two prophets, Malachi 3:1 and Isaiah 40:3. The gospel did not come out of nowhere; God promised it centuries before. When a king was coming, a messenger went ahead so roads were repaired and the way cleared. John was that messenger. Notice "Your face" and "Your way": the Father speaks to the Son, and in Isaiah the way is the way of the LORD Himself. Jesus is that Lord.

1:4 a baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins Repentance is a change of mind that leads to a change of direction. John's baptism was an outward sign that a person was turning from sin and getting ready for the Messiah. The water did not wash away sin. It showed sorrow for sin and a turning back to God.

1:5 confessing their sins Crowds came from all Judea and Jerusalem. That is where every real meeting with God begins. We cannot be ready for the Savior until we admit we need saving.

1:6 clothed in camel's hair and a leather belt around his waist John looked like Elijah, the hairy man with a leather belt (2 Kgs 1:8). Malachi promised Elijah would come before the day of the Lord (Mal 4:5), and Jesus said John came in that role (9:11-13). Locusts were clean food under the Law (Lev 11:22). John lived plainly, and his life said God's message mattered more than comfort.

1:7 I am not fit, having stooped down, to untie the strap of His sandals Untying sandals was the job of the lowest slave in a house. John was popular, yet he pointed away from himself. If the greatest prophet of his day felt that way about Jesus, how should we think of Him?

1:8 He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit John could only point to the need for a clean heart. Jesus would give the Spirit Himself to live in His people. That promise came true at Pentecost (Acts 1:5; 2:1-4), and every believer receives the Spirit when he trusts in Christ (Eph 1:13).

1:9 Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee and was baptized by John Nazareth was a small hill village no one expected much from (John 1:46). Jesus lived there quietly about thirty years (Luke 3:23). He had no sin to confess. He said it was fitting to fulfill all righteousness (Matt 3:15). I believe He was standing with the people He came to save. He stepped into the water with sinners because He came to carry their sin.

1:10 He saw the heavens being torn open The first "immediately" in Mark, and many more follow. Mark uses the same word for tearing when the temple veil is torn in two (15:38). At the start and at the end of Jesus' ministry, God tears something open to show He is coming near.

1:11 You are My Son, the beloved, in whom I was well pleased The whole Trinity at once: the Son in the water, the Spirit descending, the Father speaking. Jesus had not yet preached or done a miracle, and the Father was already pleased with Him. The words echo Psalm 2:7, about God's King, and Isaiah 42:1, about God's Servant. In one sentence the Father calls Jesus both King and Servant.

1:12 the Spirit drives Him out into the wilderness Drives is a strong word, the same Mark uses for casting out demons. Straight from the high point at the river, the Spirit sent Him into a hard test.

1:13 He was with the wild animals, and the angels were ministering to Him Mark tells the temptation in two verses (see Matt 4:1-11; Luke 4:1-13) and adds the wild animals. Judea's wilderness was lonely and dangerous, yet the Father did not leave Him. Adam was tested in a garden with everything and fell. Jesus was tested in a wilderness with nothing and stood firm. Because He was tempted, He can help us when we are tempted (Heb 2:18).

1:14 after John was delivered up John was arrested and imprisoned by Herod, a story Mark tells in chapter 6. When John's voice was silenced, Jesus began preaching in Galilee, the region in the north around the Sea of Galilee.

1:15 repent and believe in the gospel God's clock had reached the hour He planned, and the King Himself stood in front of them. Repent means turn from sin; believe means trust. They are two sides of one coin. You cannot turn to Christ without turning from sin, and you cannot truly turn from sin without trusting Christ. That is still the message today.

were fishers. 17 And Jesus said to them, "Come after Me, and I will make you become fishers of men." 18 And immediately, having left their nets, they followed Him. 19 And having gone on from there a little, He saw James (Iakobos) the son of Zebedee (Zebedaios) and John his brother, and they were in the boat mending the nets. 20 And immediately He called them; and having left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, they went away after Him.

Authority over an Unclean Spirit

21 And they go into Capernaum (Kapernaoum); and immediately on the Sabbaths, having entered into the synagogue, He was teaching. 22 And they were astonished at His teaching; for He was teaching them as having authority, and not as the scribes. 23 And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out, 24 saying, "Ha! What is there to us and to You, Jesus the Nazarene? Did You come to destroy us? I know You, who You are: the Holy One of God." 25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be silenced, and come out of him!" 26 And the unclean spirit, having thrown him into convulsions and having cried out with a loud voice, came out of him. 27 And they were all astonished, so as to question among themselves, saying, "What is this? What new teaching is this, that with authority He commands even the unclean spirits, and they obey Him?" 28 Now the news of Him went out immediately into all the surrounding region of Galilee.

Many Healed at Peter's House

29 And immediately, having gone out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 And the mother-in-law of Simon was lying down, feverish, and immediately they speak to Him about her. 31 And having come to her, He raised her up, having taken hold of her hand; and the fever left her immediately, and she was ministering to them. 32 Now evening having come, when the sun set, they were bringing to Him all who were ill and those being demonized. 33 And the whole city was gathered at the door. 34 And He healed many who were ill with various diseases, and He cast out many demons; and He was not allowing the demons to speak, because they knew Him.

Preaching Throughout Galilee

35 And early, while it was very much night, having risen up, He went out and departed into a deserted place, and there He was praying. 36 And Simon and those with him pursued Him, 37 and having found Him, they say to Him, "Everyone is seeking You." 38 And He says to them, "Let us go into the neighboring towns, so that I may preach there also; for to this end I have come forth." 39 And He was preaching in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and casting out the demons.

1:17 I will make you become fishers of men Simon and Andrew had met Jesus earlier (John 1:35-42); this was the call to leave everything. He spoke in words fishermen understood. Notice who does the work: "I will make you." We do not make ourselves fishers of men. Jesus does it as we follow Him.
1:18 having left their nets, they followed Him Their nets were their living, and they left them on the shore. Following Jesus always costs something.
1:20 having left their father Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants Zebedee's business was big enough to hire workers. James and John left a good living and their own father. These four would be with Jesus from start to finish, and Peter, James and John would be His closest friends. It began on an ordinary workday. Jesus still calls people in the middle of ordinary days.
1:21 having entered into the synagogue, He was teaching Capernaum, a fishing town on the north shore of the lake, became His home base. A synagogue was a local meeting place where Jews gathered on the Sabbath to pray, read the Scriptures and hear them explained. Any qualified man could be asked to teach.
1:22 He was teaching them as having authority, and not as the scribes The scribes were the experts in the Law of Moses. They taught by quoting other teachers and the traditions of the elders. Jesus quoted no one. He did not tell them what others thought God meant. He told them what God meant, because He is God.
1:24 I know You, who You are: the Holy One of God An unclean spirit is a demon, an evil spirit serving Satan, and here it sat in the middle of worship. It knew exactly who Jesus was, and its question shows the demons knew their time was short.
1:25 Be silenced, and come out of him! No long talk, no chants or rituals, only two commands. He silenced a demon telling the truth because He would not accept praise from the enemy or let the people get the wrong idea about what kind of Messiah He was. We will see this pattern often in Mark.
1:27 What new teaching is this, that with authority He commands even the unclean spirits In one morning they saw authority in His teaching and authority over the spirits. They had never seen anything like Him, and the news spread fast through the region.
1:30 the mother-in-law of Simon was lying down, feverish Yes, Peter was married (1 Cor 9:5). "They speak to Him about her" is a good picture of prayer. When someone we love is hurting, we tell Jesus.
1:31 she was ministering to them The fever left at once, with no time needed to regain strength. Her first act after being healed was to serve. That is the right response. He serves us, and then we serve Him and others.
1:32 Now evening having come, when the sun set The Sabbath ended at sunset. Carrying burdens or traveling far was not allowed on the Sabbath, so the people waited for sundown. Then the whole town filled the street outside Peter's house.
1:34 He was not allowing the demons to speak, because they knew Him Jesus chose who would tell His story, and it would not be the forces of darkness.
1:35 there He was praying After a long day and late night, He rose in the dark to pray alone. Mark shows Jesus praying at three key moments: here, after feeding the five thousand (6:46), and in Gethsemane (14:32-39). The busier He got, the more He prayed. If the Son of God needed time alone with the Father, how much more do we?
1:38 for to this end I have come forth Peter thought Jesus should go back to the waiting crowds. But healing was good, and preaching was His main purpose. Jesus would not let a crowd's demands set His agenda. He let the Father's will set it.

A Leper Cleansed

40 And a leper comes to Him, imploring Him and kneeling down to Him and saying to Him, "If You are willing, You are able to cleanse me." 41 And Jesus, having been moved with compassion, having stretched out His hand, touched him and says to him, "I am willing; be cleansed." 42 And when He had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed. 43 And having sternly warned him, He immediately sent him away, 44 and He says to him, "See that you say nothing to anyone; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer for your cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony to them." 45 But he, having gone out, began to preach much and to spread abroad the matter, so that He was no longer able to enter openly into a city, but He was outside in deserted places; and they were coming to Him from every direction.

A Paralyzed Man Forgiven and Healed

1 And again He entered into Capernaum (Kapernaoum) after some days, and it was heard that He is in the house. 2 And immediately many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room, not even the space at the door; and He was speaking the word to them. 3 And they come to Him, bringing a paralytic being carried by four. 4 And not being able to come near to Him because of the crowd, they removed the roof where He was; and having dug it out, they let down the mat on which the paralytic was lying. 5 Now Jesus (Iesous), having seen their faith, says to the paralytic, "Child, your sins have been forgiven you." 6 Now some of the scribes were sitting there and reasoning in their hearts, 7 "Why does this man speak blasphemies thus? Who is able to forgive sins except One, God?" 8 And immediately Jesus, having known in His spirit that they are reasoning thus within themselves, said to them, "Why do you reason these things in your hearts? 9 Which is easier, to say to the paralytic, 'Your sins have been forgiven you,' or to say, 'Rise, and take up your mat and walk'? 10 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins" (He says to the paralytic), 11 "I say to you, rise, and take up your mat and go to your house." 12 And immediately he arose, and having taken up the mat, he went out before all, so that all were amazed and glorified God, saying, "We never saw it thus!"

The Call of Levi

13 And He went out again beside the sea; and all the crowd was coming to Him, and He was teaching them. 14 And passing by, He saw Levi (Leui) the son of Alphaeus (Alphaios) sitting at the tax booth, and He says to him, "Follow Me." And

2:14 Mark 3:18; Luke 5:27; Matt 9:9

1:40 If You are willing, You are able to cleanse me Leprosy covered a range of skin diseases. A leper had to live outside the town and cry "Unclean" so people stayed away (Lev 13:45-46). He lost home, work and every human touch. This man did not doubt Jesus' power. He wondered if Jesus cared.
1:41 having been moved with compassion, having stretched out His hand, touched him No one had touched this man in who knows how long. Under the Law, touching a leper made a person unclean. But the uncleanness did not pass to Jesus; His cleanness passed to the leper. "I am willing; be cleansed." Jesus still says that to every sinner who comes to Him.
1:44 go, show yourself to the priest Leviticus 14 gave the steps: the priest examined a healed leper, declared him clean, and offerings were brought. That gave the man his life back and stood as a testimony to the priests that Someone had come who could cleanse lepers.
1:45 began to preach much and to spread abroad the matter Jesus knew that if word of His miracles spread, crowds would come for healing and not for the message. That is what happened. The man's excitement is easy to understand, but his disobedience made Jesus' work harder. It is always best to simply do what He says.
2:2 He was speaking the word to them Houses in Capernaum were small, often one main room, and this one, most likely Peter's (1:29), filled fast. People may have come for miracles, but Jesus gave them God's word first. Our greatest need is not a healed body but a right relationship with God, and that comes through His word.
2:4 they removed the roof where He was Flat roofs were wooden beams covered with branches and packed clay, with an outside stairway. Picture the dirt falling on the crowd and the sunlight pouring in. These friends did something messy and costly to get their friend to Jesus. Do we care that much about bringing people to Him?
2:5 Child, your sins have been forgiven you Faith can be seen; it shows up in what we do, and Jesus honored the faith of these friends. The man came for healing, and Jesus went to the deeper need first. Scripture does not say his illness came from a certain sin, but every one of us has the same deeper problem.
2:7 Who is able to forgive sins except One, God? Blasphemy means speaking against God or claiming what belongs to God alone; the Law punished it by death (Lev 24:16). The scribes were right on one point. Every sin is first against God (Ps 51:4), so only He can forgive sin as sin. Jesus was either a blasphemer or God. There is no middle ground.
2:8 having known in His spirit No one told Him what they were thinking. This is another quiet sign that He is more than a man.
2:9 Which is easier Saying "Your sins have been forgiven you" is easy, because no one can see whether it happened. Telling a paralyzed man to walk is harder, because everyone will know at once. Jesus would do what could be seen to prove what could not be seen.
2:10 the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins The first time Mark uses Jesus' favorite name for Himself. It comes from Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man comes with the clouds and receives authority, glory and an endless kingdom. The title sounded humble but pointed to heaven's throne.
2:12 We never saw it thus! The mat that carried him was now carried by him. The healing proved the forgiveness was real. Jesus has authority to forgive sins, and He still uses it for anyone who comes to Him.
2:14 Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax booth Levi is Matthew, who wrote the first Gospel (Matt 9:9; 10:3). Tax collectors worked for Rome or Herod, collecting from their own people, and many took more than was owed. Capernaum sat on a trade road. To most Jews, Levi was a traitor and a thief. A fisherman could go back to fishing, but a tax collector who left his booth would not get it back. Levi gave up a lot of money and never regretted it.

having arisen, he followed Him. 15 And it came to pass, as He was reclining in his house, that many tax collectors and sinners were reclining with Jesus and His disciples; for there were many, and they followed Him. 16 And the scribes and the Pharisees, having seen Him eating with the tax collectors and sinners, were saying to His disciples, "Why is it that He eats and drinks with the tax collectors and sinners?" 17 And having heard, Jesus says to them, "Those who are strong have no need of a physician, but those who are ill. I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance."

A Question About Fasting

18 And the disciples of John (Ioannes) and those of the Pharisees were fasting. And they come and say to Him, "Why do the disciples of John and those of the Pharisees fast, but Your disciples do not fast?" 19 And Jesus said to them, "The sons of the bridechamber are not able to fast while the bridegroom is with them, are they? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they are not able to fast. 20 But days will come when the bridegroom is taken away from them, and then they will fast in those days. 21 And no one sews a patch of unshrunk cloth on an old garment; but if not, its new patch takes away from the old, and a worse tear comes about. 22 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; but if not, the new wine bursts the wineskins, and the wine is poured out, and the wineskins will perish; but new wine must be put into new wineskins."

Lord of the Sabbath

23 And it came to pass that He was passing through the grainfields on the Sabbaths, and His disciples began to make their way, plucking the heads of grain. 24 And the Pharisees were saying to Him, "Look, why are they doing on the Sabbaths what is not lawful?" 25 And He Himself was saying to them, "Did you never read what David (Dabid) did when he had need and was hungry, he and those with him? 26 How he entered into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and ate the loaves of the presentation, which it is not lawful to eat except for the priests, and he gave also to those who were with him?" 27 And He was saying to them, "The Sabbath was made for the sake of man, not man for the sake of the Sabbath. 28 So then the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath."

A Withered Hand Healed

1 And He entered again into the synagogue, and there was a man there having a withered hand. 2 And they were watching Him closely, whether He will heal him on the Sabbaths, so that they might accuse Him. 3 And He says to the man having the withered hand, "Rise into the midst." 4 And He says to them, "Is it lawful on the Sabbaths to do good or to do

2:15 many tax collectors and sinners were reclining with Jesus Levi threw a feast (Luke 5:29) so his friends could meet Jesus. Sinners here meant people the religious leaders saw as outsiders, who did not keep the Law or the traditions.
2:16 the scribes and the Pharisees The Pharisees were a strict religious group who worked hard to keep the Law of Moses and the many traditions added to it, and they kept themselves separate from anyone they saw as unclean. In that culture, eating with someone meant you accepted him.
2:17 I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance Doctors go where the sick people are. Notice the word repentance. Jesus did not eat with sinners to approve their sin but to call them out of it. The Pharisees thought they were well. The difference between them and the tax collectors was not that one group needed Jesus, but that one group knew it.
2:18 Why do the disciples of John and those of the Pharisees fast Fasting is going without food for a time to seek God. The Law commanded only one fast a year, on the Day of Atonement (Lev 16:29), but the Pharisees fasted twice a week (Luke 18:12).
2:19 The sons of the bridechamber are not able to fast while the bridegroom is with them A Jewish wedding was a week-long celebration, and these were the groom's closest friends. Fasting at a wedding would be like coming to a party dressed for a funeral. Jesus' coming was a time of joy.
2:20 when the bridegroom is taken away from them Taken away points to a violent removal. This is the first hint of the cross in Mark. Jesus knew from the start where His road led. Many believers still fast as they pray and wait for His return.
2:22 new wine must be put into new wineskins New cloth shrinks and tears an old garment. Fermenting wine expands; a new goatskin stretches with it, but an old, stiff skin bursts. Jesus did not come to patch up the old religious system. What He brought needed a new container. God's grace in Christ is not an add-on to man-made religion. It calls for a whole new life.
2:24 why are they doing on the Sabbaths what is not lawful? The Sabbath was Saturday, set apart for rest (Exod 20:8-11). The Law let a hungry traveler pick grain by hand from a neighbor's field (Deut 23:25). But to the Pharisees, picking was harvesting and rubbing grain was threshing. The disciples were breaking the Pharisees' traditions, not God's Law.
2:26 in the days of Abiathar the high priest David, fleeing Saul, received the holy bread (1 Sam 21:1-6), the twelve loaves only priests could eat (Lev 24:5-9), and God did not condemn him. Mercy matters to God (Hos 6:6). The priest that day was Ahimelech, Abiathar's father. Abiathar was there and became the best-known high priest of David's reign, so the phrase can simply mark the time by the famous name.
2:27 The Sabbath was made for the sake of man, not man for the sake of the Sabbath God gave the Sabbath as a gift, a day of rest for people who needed it. The Pharisees had turned the gift into a burden, as if people existed to serve the rules.
2:28 the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath God gave the Sabbath, so only God could be its Lord. A Sabbath rest remains for God's people, entered by trusting Christ (Heb 4:9-10), and no one should judge us about Sabbath days (Col 2:16-17). Christians differ on keeping a day of rest today, but Jesus is Lord of our days and gives rest to all who come to Him (Matt 11:28).
3:2 they were watching Him closely Luke the doctor tells us it was the right hand (Luke 6:6), the one a working man needed most. The Pharisees were not there to worship. Their traditions allowed help on the Sabbath only when a life was in danger, and they hoped He would heal so they could accuse Him. It is a sad thing when people go to worship only to find fault.
3:4 Is it lawful on the Sabbaths to do good or to do evil, to save a life or to kill? He brought the man out where all could see. The question cut two ways. Jesus was about to give a man his hand back, while they sat in the synagogue planning to kill Him (3:6). Who was really breaking the Sabbath? They had no answer.

evil, to save a life or to kill?" But they were silent. 5 And having looked around at them with anger, being grieved at the hardness of their heart, He says to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he stretched it out, and his hand was restored sound as the other. 6 And the Pharisees, having gone out, immediately were holding counsel with the Herodians against Him, how they might destroy Him.

Crowds by the Sea

7 And Jesus (Iesous) withdrew with His disciples to the sea; and a great multitude from Galilee (Galilaia) followed Him, and from Judea (Ioudaia), 8 and from Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), and from Idumea (Idoumaia), and beyond the Jordan (Iordanes); and those around Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon, a great multitude, having heard how many things He was doing, came to Him. 9 And He spoke to His disciples that a small boat should wait on Him because of the crowd, so that they would not crush Him. 10 For He healed many, so that they were falling upon Him in order that they might touch Him, as many as had afflictions. 11 And the unclean spirits, whenever they saw Him, were falling down before Him and crying out, saying, "You are the Son of God." 12 And He was rebuking them much, so that they would not make Him known.

The Twelve Appointed

13 And He goes up on the mountain and summons those whom He Himself wanted; and they went to Him. 14 And He appointed twelve, so that they might be with Him, and so that He might send them out to preach, 15 and to have authority to heal the diseases and to cast out the demons. 16 And He put the name Peter (Petros) on Simon; 17 and James (Iakobos) the son of Zebedee (Zebedaios), and John (Ioannes) the brother of James, and He put on them the names Boanerges, which is, "Sons of thunder"; 18 and Andrew (Andreas), and Philip (Philippos), and Bartholomew (Bartholomaios), and Matthew (Matthaios), and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus (Alphaios), and Thaddaeus (Thaddaios), and Simon the Cananite, 19 and Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), who also delivered Him up. And they come into a house.

A House Divided

20 And a crowd comes together again, so that they are not able even to eat bread. 21 And those belonging to Him, having heard, went out to seize Him; for they were saying, "He is beside Himself." 22 And the scribes who had come down from Jerusalem were saying, "He has Beelzebul," and, "By the ruler of the demons He casts out the demons."

3:5 having looked around at them with anger, being grieved at the hardness of their heart One of the few places the Gospels say Jesus was angry, and His anger was mixed with grief. Their hard hearts cared more about rules than a hurting man. That is righteous anger, aimed at sin and full of sorrow for the sinner. The man could not stretch out his hand by himself, but he obeyed. Jesus often asks what we cannot do, then gives the power as we obey.

3:6 holding counsel with the Herodians against Him, how they might destroy Him The Herodians were Jews who supported Herod's family and, through Herod, Roman rule. They and the Pharisees normally could not stand each other, but they agreed Jesus had to go. Only chapter 3, and the plot has begun. Jesus spent the Sabbath giving life; His enemies spent it planning death.

3:8 from Idumea, and beyond the Jordan; and those around Tyre and Sidon Galilee in the north, Judea and Jerusalem in the south, Idumea far south in old Edom, the land east of the river, and the Gentile coast to the northwest. People came from every direction, Jews and some Gentiles. In three chapters His name had spread through the whole land.

3:10 as many as had afflictions The word for afflictions is the word for a whip or scourge, a picture of the pain of sickness. When you are hurting and Someone can heal you, you push. But Jesus kept a boat ready and made room to teach. He would not become only a healer people used and then forgot.

3:12 He was rebuking them much, so that they would not make Him known Bible teachers call this the messianic secret. I see three plain reasons in Mark. He would not take His testimony from demons. Most people expected a warrior king to drive out Rome, and would try to make Him that kind of king (John 6:15). And no one could understand who the Messiah is until they saw Him die and rise (9:9). It was a matter of timing. After the resurrection, the secret is out, and every believer's job is to tell it.

3:13 summons those whom He Himself wanted The choice was His, and Luke tells us He spent the whole night before in prayer (Luke 6:12).

3:14 so that they might be with Him, and so that He might send them out to preach Being with Jesus comes first, and being sent comes second. We cannot give out what we have not first received by spending time with Him. Many of us want to skip straight to the work. Jesus starts with the walk. Twelve matches Israel's tribes, and in the future kingdom these men will sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel (Matt 19:28). God will keep that promise to Israel.

3:16 He put the name Peter on Simon Peter means rock. When Jesus met him, Simon was anything but steady. Jesus named him for what He would make him.

3:17 Boanerges, which is, "Sons of thunder" Mark explains Aramaic words and Jewish customs, a sign he wrote for readers outside Israel. The name may have fit their temper; these two wanted to call down fire on a Samaritan village (Luke 9:54). Yet John became the apostle of love who wrote 1 John. Jesus can change anyone.

3:18 Simon the Cananite Not a man from Canaan; the word comes from an Aramaic word for zeal, and Luke calls him the Zealot (Luke 6:15). The Zealots wanted to throw off Rome by force. Matthew had worked for Rome; Simon had wanted to fight it. Jesus put them on the same team. Bartholomew is most likely Nathanael (John 1:45-49), and Thaddaeus is Luke's Judas of James (Luke 6:16).

3:19 Judas Iscariot, who also delivered Him up Mark tells the end of Judas' story right at the start. He was chosen, sent out, and saw every miracle, and he still betrayed Jesus. Being close to Jesus is not the same as belonging to Him.

3:21 He is beside Himself Those belonging to Him were His family (3:31). They thought He had lost His mind. Even His brothers did not believe in Him yet (John 7:5). If your family does not understand your following Jesus, you are in good company. And there is hope: after the resurrection His brothers believed (Acts 1:14), and James became a leader of the church in Jerusalem.

3:22 He has Beelzebul Official experts came down from Jerusalem. They could not deny the miracles, so they said His power came from hell. Beelzebul was a name for Satan, perhaps from an old name for a Philistine false god (2 Kgs 1:2).

23 And having summoned them, He was speaking to them in parables: "How is Satan able to cast out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom is not able to stand. 25 And if a house is divided against itself, that house is not able to stand. 26 And if Satan has risen up against himself and has been divided, he is not able to stand, but has an end. 27 No one is able, having entered into the house of the strong man, to plunder his goods unless he first binds the strong man; and then he will plunder his house. 28 Truly I say to you that all the sins will be forgiven to the sons of men, and the blasphemies, whatever they may blaspheme; 29 but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit does not have forgiveness to the age, but is liable to eternal judgment," 30 because they were saying, "He has an unclean spirit."

Jesus' True Family

31 Then His brothers and His mother come, and standing outside, they sent to Him, calling Him. 32 And a crowd was sitting around Him; and they said to Him, "Look, Your mother and Your brothers outside are seeking You." 33 And He answered them, saying, "Who is My mother, or My brothers?" 34 And having looked around at those sitting around Him in a circle, He says, "Look, My mother and My brothers! 35 For whoever does the will of God, he is My brother and My sister and mother."

The Parable of the Sower

1 And again He began to teach beside the sea. And a great crowd was gathered to Him, so that He, having climbed into a boat, sat in the sea; and all the crowd was by the sea on the land. 2 And He was teaching them many things in parables, and He was saying to them in His teaching, 3 "Listen! Look, the sower went out to sow. 4 And it came to pass, while sowing, some fell along the road, and the birds of the sky came and devoured it. 5 And other fell on the rocky ground, where it did not have much soil; and immediately it sprang up because of not having depth of soil. 6 But the sun having risen, it was scorched; and because of not having root, it withered away. 7 And other fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it, and it did not yield fruit. 8 And other fell into the good soil, and was yielding fruit, growing up and increasing, and was bearing, one thirty, and one sixty, and one a hundred." 9 And He was saying to them, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

The Sower Explained

10 Now when He was alone, those around Him with the twelve asked Him about the parable. 11 And He was saying to them, "To you it has been given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but to those who are outside, all things are

3:24 if a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom is not able to stand Plain logic. If Satan cast out his own demons, he would be destroying his own work. Satan is evil, but he is not stupid. We know how true the picture is: a church divided by fighting or a family torn by bitterness cannot stand for long.
3:27 unless he first binds the strong man Satan is the strong man, and the people he holds captive are his goods. Jesus is the stronger One who has entered his house, tied him up, and is taking back what he stole. Every demon cast out proved the strong man had met his match. Jesus won in the wilderness (1:12-13) and once for all at the cross (Col 2:15; Heb 2:14).
3:28 all the sins will be forgiven to the sons of men Truly is amen. Jesus puts it first to stress that what follows is true and important. Here it opens a huge promise. There is no sin too big for God's forgiveness.
3:29 whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit does not have forgiveness to the age Verse 30 tells us what this was: they saw the plain work of the Spirit through Jesus and called it Satan's. They looked at the light and called it darkness, hardening themselves against the only One who leads to repentance. Some teachers limit it to Jesus' earthly days; others see any final unbelief. If you are worried you have committed it, you have not. Anyone who comes to Jesus He will not turn away (John 6:37).
3:31 His brothers and His mother come They came to take Him home (3:21). His brothers were James, Joses, Simon and Judas, and He had sisters (Matt 13:55-56). They were the sons of Joseph and Mary, born after Jesus (Matt 1:25). Some churches hold that Mary stayed a virgin all her life and that these were Joseph's sons by an earlier marriage or cousins.
3:35 whoever does the will of God, he is My brother and My sister and mother Jesus was not cruel to His family; He cared for His mother even from the cross (John 19:26-27). But there is a family closer than blood, and doing God's will begins with believing in the One He sent (John 6:29). If your own family has rejected you for Jesus, you have brothers, sisters and mothers in His family (10:29-30). And no one is a Christian by being raised in a Christian home. Mary's own sons had to come to faith like everyone else.
4:1 having climbed into a boat, sat in the sea Teachers in that day sat to teach. Near Capernaum the land slopes up from the water like a natural theater, and sound carries well across water. Jesus used what was at hand.
4:2 He was teaching them many things in parables A parable is a story from ordinary life laid beside a spiritual truth to explain it; the word means to throw alongside. Parables are easy to remember, but they make the listener think. Those who want the truth will dig for it. Those who do not care walk away with a nice story and nothing more.
4:4 some fell along the road A farmer often scattered seed by hand as he walked, sometimes plowing afterward, so seed went everywhere. Footpaths through the fields were packed hard, and the seed sat on top for the birds.
4:5 other fell on the rocky ground Not a field of loose stones but a shelf of limestone under thin soil, common in Galilee. The shallow soil warmed fast and the seed sprouted fast, but the roots hit rock, found no water, and the plants died in the heat.
4:7 other fell among the thorns The thorn roots were already hidden in the ground. They grew faster and taller, took the water, soil and light, and the good plant lived but bore no fruit.
4:8 one thirty, and one sixty, and one a hundred A normal harvest then might be far less. Jesus described a harvest beyond what any farmer expected.
4:9 He who has ears to hear, let him hear Everyone in the crowd had ears. Jesus meant another kind of hearing: listening with the heart and taking His words in.
4:11 To you it has been given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God In the Bible a mystery is a truth God kept hidden before and now reveals. The disciples were not smarter than the crowd. It was given to them.

done in parables, 12 so that seeing they may see and not perceive, and hearing they may hear and not understand, lest they should turn and the sins be forgiven them." 13 And He says to them, "Do you not know this parable? And how will you know all the parables? 14 The sower sows the word. 15 And these are the ones along the road where the word is sown; and when they hear, immediately Satan comes and takes away the word that has been sown in their hearts. 16 And these are likewise the ones being sown on the rocky places, who, when they hear the word, immediately receive it with joy; 17 and they do not have root in themselves, but are temporary; then, when tribulation or persecution comes because of the word, immediately they are caused to stumble. 18 And these are the ones being sown among the thorns, the ones hearing the word, 19 and the cares of this age, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the desires concerning the other things, entering in, choke the word, and it becomes unfruitful. 20 And these are the ones having been sown on the good soil, who hear the word and receive it and bear fruit, one thirty, and one sixty, and one a hundred."

A Lamp on a Stand

21 And He was saying to them, "Does the lamp come so that it may be put under the basket or under the bed? Is it not so that it may be put on the lampstand? 22 For there is not anything hidden which will not be made manifest, nor did anything become secret except that it should come into the open. 23 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear." 24 And He was saying to them, "Take heed what you hear. With what measure you measure, it will be measured to you; and it will be added to you who hear. 25 For whoever has, it will be given to him; and he who does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him."

The Growing Seed and the Mustard Seed

26 And He was saying, "Thus is the kingdom of God: as if a man should cast the seed on the earth, 27 and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should sprout and grow, how, he himself does not know. 28 For the earth bears fruit by itself: first a blade, then a head, then full grain in the head. 29 But when the fruit permits, immediately he sends the sickle, because the harvest has come." 30 And He was saying, "To what shall we liken the kingdom of God? Or in what parable shall we compare it? 31 It is like a grain of mustard, which, when it is sown on the earth, is smaller than all the seeds that are on the earth; 32 and when it is sown, it grows up and becomes greater than all the garden plants, and produces great branches, so that the birds of the sky are able to nest under its shade." 33 And with many such parables He was speaking the word to them, as they were able to 4:12 so that seeing they may see and not perceive Jesus quotes Isaiah 6:9-10, where Isaiah's preaching would harden already hard hearts. Parables reveal and hide at once. To an open heart, a parable opens the door wider. To a heart already closed, like the scribes of chapter 3, it becomes a closed door. God does not shut out seeking hearts, but when people keep rejecting the light, He may give them what they chose. Some teachers stress God's sovereign choice more strongly. The call to hear is still open.

4:13 how will you know all the parables? The parable of the sower is a key to the rest. Understand this one and you have a tool for the others.
4:14 The sower sows the word The seed is God's message, sown first by Jesus and then by all who share it. The sower and the seed never change. Only the soil changes. The difference is in the hearer.
4:15 immediately Satan comes and takes away the word The hard road is the heart that hears but never lets the word in. The devil is a thief, using distraction, pride, mockery or simple forgetting. Have you ever heard a sermon Sunday and remembered nothing by Monday? Do not let him take the seed.
4:17 they do not have root in themselves, but are temporary Quick to receive, quick to quit. Following Jesus is more than an exciting start. It takes a root that goes deep into Christ. Jesus never promised it would be easy; He said trouble would come because of the word.
4:19 the cares of this age, and the deceitfulness of riches Worries, riches that promise happiness and security and lie, and desires for anything we want more than God. None are big, open sins. They are ordinary life: bills, work, things we want. That is what makes them dangerous. They slowly choke the plant until it bears nothing. What are the thorns in your life?
4:20 who hear the word and receive it and bear fruit Real faith takes the word in, holds on, and lets it change the life. Not every plant bears the same, and God does not ask us to compare harvests. Teachers debate whether the rocky and thorny soils were ever truly saved: some see people who seemed to believe but never did, others believers who did not grow. Plainly, only the good soil bears fruit, and fruit is the mark of real life (John 15:8).
4:21 Is it not so that it may be put on the lampstand? A lamp was a small clay bowl of olive oil with a wick, set on a stand to light the room. The truth about Jesus was veiled for a time, but it was never meant to stay hidden. What we hear from Him in private we are meant to share in public.
4:24 With what measure you measure, it will be measured to you Be careful how you listen. The picture is a merchant measuring out grain. Give a little attention to God's word and you get a little. Give much, and God gives more, and more besides.
4:25 he who does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him It sounds unfair until you think about learning anything. A person who uses what he knows learns more. One who ignores it loses even that. God's word works the same way. Use it or lose it.
4:27 how, he himself does not know Only Mark records this parable. A great comfort to anyone who shares the gospel. We plant and water, but God makes it grow (1 Cor 3:6-7). We cannot see what He is doing in a heart. Growth takes time and comes in stages. Be patient with new believers and with yourself.
4:29 he sends the sickle, because the harvest has come The harvest points to the end of the age, when God gathers His harvest and judges the world (Joel 3:13; Rev 14:15).
4:31 smaller than all the seeds that are on the earth It was the smallest seed farmers in Israel planted in their gardens, and people used it as a saying for something tiny. The kingdom started small: a carpenter from Nazareth and twelve ordinary men.
4:32 the birds of the sky are able to nest under its shade A mustard plant can stand ten feet tall. When Jesus returns to set up His kingdom on the earth, it will fill the world (Dan 2:35, 44). Some see the birds as evil settling into the church, since birds stood for Satan in verse 4. Others see the nations finding shelter, as in Ezekiel 17:23. Either way: small beginnings, huge results.

hear. 34 But without a parable He was not speaking to them; but privately He was explaining all things to His disciples.

Jesus Calms the Storm

35 And He says to them on that day, evening having come, "Let us pass over to the other side." 36 And having dismissed the crowd, they take Him along as He was in the boat; and other little boats also were with Him. 37 And a great storm of wind comes, and the waves were breaking into the boat, so that it was already being filled. 38 And He Himself was on the stern, sleeping on the cushion. And they wake Him and say to Him, "Teacher, does it not concern You that we are perishing?" 39 And having been awakened, He rebuked the wind and said to the sea, "Be quiet! Be silenced!" And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm. 40 And He said to them, "Why are you so fearful? How is it that you do not have faith?" 41 And they feared a great fear, and they were saying to one another, "Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him?"

Legion Cast Out

1 And they came to the other side of the sea, into the region of the Gadarenes. 2 And when He had come out of the boat, immediately a man out of the tombs with an unclean spirit met Him, 3 who had his dwelling in the tombs; and no one was able to bind him, not even with chains, 4 because he had often been bound with shackles and chains, and the chains had been torn apart by him and the shackles shattered; and no one was strong enough to subdue him. 5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains and in the tombs, crying out and cutting himself with stones. 6 Now having seen Jesus (Iesous) from afar, he ran and worshiped Him, 7 and having cried out with a loud voice, he said, "What is there to me and to You, Jesus, Son of God Most High? I adjure You by God, do not torment me." 8 For He was saying to him, "Come out, unclean spirit, out of the man!" 9 And He was asking him, "What is your name?" And he answered, saying, "Legion is my name, because we are many." 10 And he was begging Him much that He would not send them out of the region. 11 Now there was there near the mountains a great herd of pigs feeding. 12 And all the demons begged Him, saying, "Send us into the pigs, so that we may enter into them." 13 And immediately Jesus allowed them. And having gone out, the unclean spirits entered into the pigs; and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the sea (now they were about two thousand), and they were drowned in the sea. 14 And those feeding the pigs fled and reported it in the city and in the fields. And they went out to see what it is that has happened. 15 And

4:34 privately He was explaining all things to His disciples He gave the crowd what they could take in. Those who stay close to Jesus get the explanation. If you want to understand His word, spend time with Him in it.
4:35 Let us pass over to the other side He did not say we are going halfway and then sinking. When Jesus tells you where you are going, you will get there. The other boats are a small eyewitness detail, the kind Peter would remember.
4:37 a great storm of wind comes The lake lies about 700 feet below sea level, ringed by hills. Cool air can rush down the valleys and hit the warm water without warning. Even fishermen like Peter feared these storms.
4:38 sleeping on the cushion The stern is the back of the boat. He was tired, and He slept; the Son of God was a true man. "Does it not concern You?" Have you ever prayed that? It can feel that way when the storm is loud and Jesus seems quiet. But His sleep was not a lack of care. It was perfect peace.
4:39 Be quiet! Be silenced! He spoke to the storm as He spoke to the demon (1:25). Even after wind stops, waves keep rolling, but the sea went flat at once. Only God rules the raging sea and stills its waves (Ps 89:9; 107:29). The disciples were watching the God of the Psalms sitting in their boat.
4:40 How is it that you do not have faith? They had seen Him heal and heard Him say they were crossing, and still they thought they would die. Faith does not mean we never feel fear. It means we trust the One in the boat with us. Storms come even when we are right where Jesus told us to be. The question is whether Jesus is bigger.
4:41 Who then is this, that even the wind and the sea obey Him? Before, they feared the storm; now they feared the One who stopped it, the holy awe of God's presence. That is the question of the whole book. Mark answered it in his first verse, Peter will answer it in chapter 8, and each of us has to answer it too.
5:1 into the region of the Gadarenes The east side of the lake was mostly Gentile country, part of the Decapolis, ten Greek-style cities. Older Greek copies give the name as Gadarenes, Gerasenes or Gergesenes (compare Matt 8:28; Luke 8:26), likely a town and the wider district. The storm had not stopped Jesus. Someone on the other side needed Him.
5:3 who had his dwelling in the tombs Matthew mentions two men (Matt 8:28); Mark and Luke focus on the one who spoke. Tombs were caves cut in the hillside, to a Jew the most unclean place there was.
5:5 crying out and cutting himself with stones This is what Satan does to those he holds. He isolates them, torments them, and gets them to harm themselves. He never gives life, only takes it (John 10:10). Society had no answer but chains. Jesus had a better answer.
5:7 Jesus, Son of God Most High The demons did not doubt who He was. They feared Him; the demons believe and shudder (James 2:19). Knowing facts about Jesus is not the same as trusting Him. The tormentor now begged not to be tormented. The demons know their final end is coming (Rev 20:10).
5:9 Legion is my name, because we are many Jesus asked so the size of the problem would be clear to all. A Roman legion was several thousand soldiers. This man was troubled by a whole army of demons. Luke adds that they begged not to be sent into the abyss (Luke 8:31), a place of confinement for evil spirits.
5:12 Send us into the pigs Pigs were unclean under the Law (Lev 11:7), and no faithful Jew would raise them. This was Gentile country. The demons could go nowhere without His permission.
5:13 the herd rushed down the steep bank into the sea Why let the pigs be destroyed? Scripture does not give all His reasons. But the drowning proved the demons were real and had truly left the man, showed what they had wanted to do to him all along, and showed that one soul is worth more to Jesus than a whole herd of pigs.
5:15 sitting and clothed and being of sound mind The naked, screaming man sat calm, at the feet of Jesus (Luke 8:35). And the people were afraid.

they come to Jesus and see the one being demonized sitting and clothed and being of sound mind, the one having had the legion; and they were afraid. 16 And those having seen it related to them how it happened to the one being demonized, and concerning the pigs. 17 And they began to implore Him to depart from their region. 18 And when He had gotten into the boat, the one having been demonized was begging Him that he might be with Him. 19 But Jesus did not permit him, but says to him, "Go to your house, to your own people, and report to them how much the Lord did for you, and how He had mercy on you." 20 And he departed and began to preach in the Decapolis (Dekapolis) how much Jesus did for him; and all were marveling.

Jairus' Daughter and a Woman Healed

21 And Jesus having crossed over again in the boat to the other side, a great crowd was gathered to Him; and He was beside the sea. 22 And look, one of the synagogue rulers comes, Jairus (Iaeiros) by name; and having seen Him, he falls at His feet, 23 and he was begging Him much, saying, "My little daughter is at the point of death; I ask that, having come, You may lay Your hands on her, so that she may be saved, and she will live." 24 And He departed with him. And a great crowd was following Him, and they were pressing in on Him. 25 And a certain woman, being with a flow of blood twelve years, 26 and having suffered much under many physicians, and having spent all that she had, and having benefited nothing, but rather having come to the worse, 27 having heard about Jesus, having come in the crowd behind, touched His garment. 28 For she was saying, "If I touch even His garments, I will be saved." 29 And immediately the fountain of her blood was dried up, and she knew in the body that she has been healed of the affliction. 30 And immediately Jesus, having known in Himself that power had gone forth out of Him, having turned around in the crowd, was saying, "Who touched My garments?" 31 And His disciples were saying to Him, "You see the crowd pressing in on You, and You say, 'Who touched Me?'" 32 And He was looking around to see her who had done this. 33 And the woman, having been afraid and trembling, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell down before Him and told Him all the truth. 34 And He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has saved you; go in peace, and be healthy from your affliction." 35 While He was still speaking, they come from the synagogue ruler, saying, "Your daughter died; why do you still trouble the Teacher?" 36 And Jesus, immediately having heard the word being spoken, says to the synagogue ruler, "Do not fear; only believe." 37 And He did not allow anyone to follow with Him except Peter (Petros) and James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes) the brother of James. 38 And He comes to the house of the synagogue ruler, and He sees a commotion, and people weeping and wailing much. 39 And having entered, He says to them, "Why are you making a commotion

5:17 they began to implore Him to depart from their region Perhaps they feared His power, or cared more about their pigs and money than about a man made whole. It still happens. When Jesus starts to change things, it can cost us, and some would rather have their pigs than Jesus. He left. He does not force Himself on anyone.

5:19 Go to your house, to your own people, and report to them how much the Lord did for you The man wanted to stay close to the One who freed him, but Jesus gave him a job. Here He did not ask for silence. This was Gentile land, where no one was looking for a Jewish Messiah to make king, and Jesus was leaving. He left behind a witness.

5:20 began to preach in the Decapolis how much Jesus did for him Told to tell what the Lord did, he told what Jesus did. He understood they are the same. When Jesus returned to the region, crowds were waiting (7:31-37; 8:1-9). One changed man had prepared the way. You can start at home and tell your own people what the Lord has done for you.

5:22 one of the synagogue rulers comes, Jairus by name A synagogue ruler arranged the services and chose who would read and teach, an important man in town, and many religious leaders were already against Jesus. But when your child is dying, you do not care what the other leaders think.

5:25 being with a flow of blood twelve years The Law made her unclean, and anyone she touched (Lev 15:25-27). She could not go to the temple or join in worship. For twelve years she had been shut out.

5:26 having suffered much under many physicians Mark tells it plainly; Luke the doctor puts it more gently (Luke 8:43). Sick, broke, alone and out of hope. When we reach the end of every human answer, we often finally reach for Jesus.

5:28 If I touch even His garments, I will be saved She came from behind, not wanting to be seen, since by the Law she should not have been in that crowd at all. Saved here means made well, rescued. Twelve years of sickness ended in a moment, and she felt it in her body.

5:30 Who touched My garments? The disciples thought it a silly question with people bumping Him on every side. But Jesus knew the difference between a crowd pressing against Him and one person reaching out in faith. Many are near Jesus. Fewer reach out and touch Him by faith. He would not let her slip away.

5:33 told Him all the truth Not to embarrass her. I believe Jesus wanted her to have more than a healed body. He wanted her to know Him, to know her healing was not stolen, and He wanted the town to know she was clean.

5:34 Daughter, your faith has saved you The only person in the Gospels Jesus calls Daughter. For twelve years no one had touched her; now the Son of God calls her family. She came for healing and left with peace. Her faith did not heal her. Jesus did. Her faith was the hand that reached out to Him. A weak, trembling faith in a strong Savior is enough.

5:35 Your daughter died; why do you still trouble the Teacher? While Jesus stopped for the woman, Jairus' daughter died. The delay must have felt like it cost him everything.

5:36 Do not fear; only believe Jesus did not say, do not be sad. He said, do not let fear take over; keep trusting Me. Jairus had believed Jesus could heal a sick girl. Now he had to believe He could raise a dead one. Jesus is never late. His delays can be part of a greater plan (John 11:6, 21-27).

5:37 except Peter and James and John These three would also see the transfiguration (9:2) and be near Him in Gethsemane (14:33).

5:39 The child did not die, but is sleeping Families hired professional mourners to wail and play flutes (Matt 9:23). She really was dead, and everyone knew it. Jesus meant that, for Him, death is like sleep. Someone asleep will wake. That is how the New Testament speaks of believers who have died (1 Thess 4:13-14).

and weeping? The child did not die, but is sleeping." 40 And they were laughing at Him. But He, having put them all out, takes along the father of the child and the mother and those with Him, and enters in where the child was lying. 41 And having taken hold of the hand of the child, He says to her, "Talitha koumi," which is, being translated, "Little girl, I say to you, arise." 42 And immediately the little girl arose and was walking; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed with great amazement. 43 And He instructed them strictly that no one should know this, and He said that something should be given to her to eat.

Rejected at Nazareth

1 And He went out from there and came into His hometown, and His disciples follow Him. 2 And when the Sabbath came, He began to teach in the synagogue; and many hearing were astonished, saying, "From where are these things to this man? And what is the wisdom that has been given to Him, that even such miracles are done through His hands? 3 Is this not the carpenter, the son of Mary (Maria), and brother of James (Iakobos) and Joses (Ioses) and Jude (Ioudas) and Simon? And are His sisters not here with us?" And they were caused to stumble in Him. 4 And Jesus (Iesous) was saying to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown, and among his relatives, and in his house." 5 And He was not able to do any miracle there, except that, having laid His hands on a few sick people, He healed them. 6 And He was marveling because of their unbelief. And He was going around the villages in a circle, teaching.

The Twelve Sent Out

7 And He summons the twelve, and He began to send them out two by two, and He was giving them authority over the unclean spirits. 8 And He instructed them that they should take nothing for the road except a staff only: no bag, no bread, no money in the belt, 9 but having sandals tied on, and not to put on two tunics. 10 And He was saying to them, "Wherever you enter into a house, remain there until you go out from there. 11 And as many as do not receive you nor hear you, departing from there, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony to them. Truly I say to you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom (Sodoma) or Gomorrah (Gomorra) in the day of judgment than for that city." 12 And having gone out, they were preaching that people should repent. 13 And they were casting out many demons, and were anointing with oil many sick people, and were healing

5:40 they were laughing at Him The mourners went from weeping to mocking in a moment. Jesus put them out and took only the parents and His three disciples. Unbelief had no place in that room.
5:41 Talitha koumi Touching a dead body made a person unclean (Num 19:11), but again Jesus touched the unclean and gave life. Mark keeps the very Aramaic words, the everyday language of the Jews then, and translates them. Peter heard them in that room and, I believe, never forgot them. They were gentle words, the kind a parent says to wake a child in the morning.
5:42 she was twelve years old The woman had been sick twelve years; this girl had lived twelve years. Both were given new life the same day.
5:43 something should be given to her to eat He wanted no miracle-seeking crowd to keep Him from His real work. And He thought of her being hungry. The Lord of life cares about the small things too. One day Jesus will speak and the dead in Christ will rise (1 Thess 4:16; John 5:28-29). Death does not have the last word. Jesus does.
6:2 From where are these things to this man? In Nazareth, likely in the synagogue He had attended all His life, they could not deny the wisdom or the miracles, but they could not figure out where they came from. Teachers differ on whether Luke 4:16-30 tells this same visit or an earlier one. Either way, Nazareth did not welcome Him.
6:3 Is this not the carpenter, the son of Mary The word means a builder or craftsman in wood and sometimes stone. They had seen Him make their tables and doors. Calling a man his mother's son was unusual; it may have been an insult whispering about His birth, or Joseph may have died. These brothers and sisters were Joseph and Mary's children born after Jesus. James and Jude would later believe and write the letters that bear their names.
6:3 they were caused to stumble in Him The word comes from skandalon, a trap or stumbling block. They tripped over His ordinary life. They thought they knew Him, so they missed Him. That can happen to people who grew up around church too.
6:4 A prophet is not without honor except in his hometown A well-known saying Jesus applied to Himself. Those closest to us often find it hardest to believe God works through us; they remember us as kids. If your family has brushed you off, Jesus felt it too. Keep living it out in front of them. His own brothers came around in the end.
6:5 He was not able to do any miracle there Jesus did not lose His power; He still healed a few. He would not force His works on people who refused to believe. His miracles pointed people to God, and Nazareth had decided not to look.
6:6 He was marveling because of their unbelief Only twice do the Gospels say Jesus marveled: at His hometown's unbelief, and at a Roman centurion's great faith (Luke 7:9). Which would Jesus marvel at in you? Rejection did not stop Him. He went on teaching in the villages.
6:7 He began to send them out two by two Chosen to be with Him and to be sent (3:14), now they went. The Law required two witnesses (Deut 19:15), and two can help, encourage and pray for each other (Eccl 4:9-10). Jesus never meant His people to serve alone. The power was His, shared with them for the work.
6:8 no bag, no bread, no money in the belt Men carried coins in a fold of the belt; a tunic was the long shirt under the cloak. They were to depend on God to provide through those who welcomed them. This was a short trip through Galilee; before the cross Jesus gave different instructions (Luke 22:35-36). The lesson stays: trust God to supply what you need for the work He gives.
6:11 shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony to them Jews coming back from Gentile lands sometimes shook off the dust so as not to bring anything unclean home. Doing it to a Jewish town was a strong warning: the responsibility is now yours. Sodom never heard the messengers of God's Son. The more light we receive, the more we are held responsible. This sentence about Sodom is in the Received Text the SLB follows but not in many older Greek copies of Mark; it stands in Matthew 10:15.
6:12 they were preaching that people should repent The heart of their message, the same as John's and Jesus' (1:4, 15).
6:13 were anointing with oil many sick people Oil was used as medicine (Luke 10:34) and was a sign of God's touch and blessing. James tells church elders to anoint the sick with oil and pray (James 5:14). The healing came from God, not the oil.

The Death of John the Baptist

14 And King Herod (Herodes) heard of it, for His name had become known; and he was saying, "John (Ioannes) the Baptizer was raised from the dead, and because of this the powers are at work in him." 15 Others were saying, "He is Elijah (Helias)"; and others were saying, "He is a prophet, or like one of the prophets." 16 But Herod, having heard, said, "Whom I beheaded, John, this is he; he himself was raised from the dead!" 17 For Herod himself, having sent, seized John and bound him in the prison because of Herodias, the wife of Philip (Philippos) his brother, because he had married her. 18 For John was saying to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have the wife of your brother." 19 And Herodias was holding it against him and was wanting to kill him, and she was not able; 20 for Herod was afraid of John, knowing him to be a righteous and holy man, and he was keeping him safe. And having heard him, he was doing many things, and he was hearing him gladly. 21 And an opportune day having come, when Herod on his birthday was making a dinner for his great men and the commanders of thousands and the leading men of Galilee (Galilaia), 22 and when the daughter of Herodias herself had entered and danced and pleased Herod and those reclining with him, the king said to the girl, "Ask me whatever you wish, and I will give it to you." 23 And he swore to her, "Whatever you ask me, I will give you, up to half of my kingdom." 24 And having gone out, she said to her mother, "What shall I ask?" And she said, "The head of John the Baptist." 25 And having entered immediately with haste to the king, she asked, saying, "I desire that you give me at once on a platter the head of John the Baptist." 26 And the king, having become very sorrowful, because of the oaths and those reclining with him, was not willing to refuse her. 27 And immediately the king, having sent an executioner, commanded his head to be brought. And having gone, he beheaded him in the prison, 28 and brought his head on a platter and gave it to the girl, and the girl gave it to her mother. 29 And having heard, his disciples came and took up his corpse and laid it in a tomb.

Five Thousand Fed

30 And the apostles are gathered together to Jesus, and they reported to Him all things, both what they had done and what they had taught. 31 And He said to them, "Come, you yourselves, privately into a deserted place and rest a little." For those coming and those going were many, and they were not even having opportunity to eat. 32 And they went away in the boat into a deserted place privately. 33 And the crowds saw them going, and many recognized Him, and on foot from all the cities they ran together there, and went ahead of them, and came together to Him. 34 And having gone out, Jesus saw a great crowd, and He was moved with compassion toward them, because they were like sheep not having a shepherd; and He began to teach them many things. 35 And the hour having already become late, His disciples, having come to Him, say, "The place is deserted, and the hour is already late. 36 Dismiss them, so that, having gone into the surrounding fields and villages, they may buy loaves for themselves; for they do not have what they may eat."

6:14 King Herod heard of it Herod Antipas, a son of Herod the Great, ruled Galilee and Perea for Rome. His real title was tetrarch, ruler of part of a kingdom, but people called him king.
6:16 Whom I beheaded, John, this is he People guessed John, Elijah, a prophet. Herod was sure. A guilty conscience will not stay quiet. Mark then goes back to tell what happened.
6:17 because of Herodias, the wife of Philip his brother Herod divorced his own wife to marry Herodias, who had been married to his half-brother. The Law forbade marrying a brother's wife while the brother lived (Lev 18:16; 20:21).
6:18 It is not lawful for you to have the wife of your brother John told Herod to his face. He did not soften the truth because Herod was powerful. He called sin what it was, and it cost him his freedom.
6:20 he was hearing him gladly Herod protected John, respected him and was moved by him, but would not give up his sin. Many are like him. They like a good preacher. But liking the truth is not the same as obeying it.
6:22 the daughter of Herodias herself had entered and danced A birthday dinner for the officials and commanders of Galilee. Most likely this was the kind of dance no respectable mother would allow her daughter to do before a room of drunken men. Herodias knew what she was doing.
6:23 up to half of my kingdom The rash promise of a proud man showing off before his guests. He had no kingdom to give; Rome did. But he wanted to look big.
6:25 at once on a platter the head of John the Baptist Herodias did not hesitate, and the girl hurried back to ask for it like a dish at the dinner.
6:26 because of the oaths and those reclining with him Herod was more afraid of looking weak before his guests than of killing a holy man. Pride and fear of people have led many to do what they knew was wrong. A foolish promise is better broken than kept when keeping it means sin.
6:29 took up his corpse and laid it in a tomb The greatest prophet of his day (Matt 11:11) died in a prison because of a dance and a drunken promise. To the world he lost; to heaven he finished his work. Mark tells it here because what happened to the forerunner points to what will happen to Jesus. Faithful servants often suffer, but no one who loses his life for Christ truly loses it (8:35).
6:30 the apostles are gathered together to Jesus The only time Mark calls them apostles, sent ones, as they returned from being sent.
6:31 Come, you yourselves, privately into a deserted place and rest a little They had no time even to eat. Jesus cares about our rest. Serving God does not mean running ourselves into the ground. If you are tired from serving, it is not unspiritual to stop and rest with Jesus.
6:34 they were like sheep not having a shepherd Their quiet day was gone, but His first response was compassion, not frustration. Sheep without a shepherd are lost, hungry and helpless (Num 27:17). Israel's leaders had failed to shepherd (Ezek 34:2-6). Jesus is the Good Shepherd (John 10:11), and what they needed most was the truth.

37 But answering, He said to them, "You give them something to eat." And they say to Him, "Having gone, shall we buy two hundred denarii worth of loaves and give them to eat?" 38 And He says to them, "How many loaves do you have? Go and see." And having found out, they say, "Five, and two fish." 39 And He commanded them to make all recline company by company on the green grass. 40 And they reclined group by group, by hundreds and by fifties. 41 And having taken the five loaves and the two fish, having looked up to heaven, He blessed, and broke the loaves, and was giving them to His disciples so that they might set them before them; and the two fish He divided among all. 42 And all ate and were satisfied. 43 And they took up twelve baskets full of broken pieces, and of the fish. 44 And those having eaten the loaves were about five thousand men.

Jesus Walks on the Water

45 And immediately He compelled His disciples to get into the boat and to go ahead to the other side, to Bethsaida, until He Himself should dismiss the crowd. 46 And having taken leave of them, He departed into the mountain to pray. 47 And evening having come, the boat was in the middle of the sea, and He Himself alone on the land. 48 And He saw them straining in the rowing, for the wind was contrary to them; and about the fourth watch of the night He comes to them, walking on the sea, and He was wanting to pass by them. 49 But having seen Him walking on the sea, they thought it to be a ghost, and cried out; 50 for all saw Him and were troubled. And immediately He spoke with them, and says to them, "Take courage; I am He; do not fear." 51 And He went up to them into the boat, and the wind ceased. And they were exceedingly amazed in themselves beyond measure, and were marveling. 52 For they did not understand about the loaves, for their heart was hardened.

Healing at Gennesaret

53 And having crossed over, they came onto the land of Gennesaret and anchored. 54 And when they had come out of the boat, immediately, having recognized Him, 55 having run around all that surrounding region, they began to carry around on the mats those who were ill, wherever they were hearing that He is there. 56 And wherever He was entering, into villages or cities or fields, they were laying the ailing in the marketplaces, and were begging Him that they might touch even the fringe of His garment; and as many as were touching Him were being saved.

MARK 7

Tradition and the Commandment of God

1 And the Pharisees and some of the scribes, having come from Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), are gathered together to Him. 2 And having seen some of His disciples eating bread with defiled hands, that is, unwashed, they found fault. 3 For the Pharisees and all the Jews, unless they wash the hands with 6:37 You give them something to eat Sending them away sounded sensible. A denarius was a Roman silver coin, about a day's pay; two hundred was most of a year's wages, and there was no store out there anyway.

6:38 How many loaves do you have? Go and see He always starts with what we have. Five loaves and two fish, a boy's lunch (John 6:9). Not much, but enough in His hands.
6:39 on the green grass Peter's eye for detail. Green grass means spring, near Passover (John 6:4). Groups of hundreds and fifties recall how Moses organized Israel (Exod 18:21). One greater than Moses was about to feed His people in the wilderness, and He worked in order.
6:41 having looked up to heaven, He blessed, and broke the loaves He gave thanks first. The miracle happened in His hands as He broke and kept giving, and the disciples carried it to the people. That is still how He works: He provides, and His people carry it to others.
6:42 all ate and were satisfied No one got a crumb or a taste. They were full.
6:43 twelve baskets full of broken pieces More left over than they started with. Jesus gives more than enough.
6:44 about five thousand men The word means men; with women and children the crowd could have been far larger (Matt 14:21). Besides the resurrection, this is the only miracle in all four Gospels. Jesus later taught that He is the Bread of Life (John 6:35). He feeds more than our bodies.
6:45 He compelled His disciples to get into the boat The crowd wanted to make Him king by force (John 6:15). He would not be that kind of king and did not want His disciples caught up in it.
6:46 He departed into the mountain to pray After a day of great success, He went to be alone with the Father. When things go well we often forget to pray. Jesus did not.
6:48 He saw them straining in the rowing They could not see Him, but He saw them. The fourth watch was about 3 to 6 in the morning; they had fought the wind for hours. "Wanting to pass by them" recalls God passing by Moses and Elijah to show His glory (Exod 33:19-22; 1 Kgs 19:11). God alone walks on the waves of the sea (Job 9:8).
6:50 Take courage; I am He; do not fear I am He is ego eimi, I am, how God named Himself to Moses (Exod 3:14). Jesus was saying more than they understood that night. The God who calls Himself I AM stood on the water before them. He says the same to us in the night when the wind is against us.
6:52 they did not understand about the loaves, for their heart was hardened The One who made bread from five loaves could surely handle a storm, but they had not put it together. Mark is honest about the disciples, and Peter must have been honest about himself as he preached. Jesus did not give up on them, and He does not give up on us.
6:56 that they might touch even the fringe of His garment Gennesaret was a fertile plain on the northwest shore. The fringe was the tassel faithful Jews wore to remember God's commands (Num 15:38-39). Word of the woman in 5:27-29 had spread. Many came for healing; how many came for Him we do not know. But the door was open to all, and it still is.
7:1 having come from Jerusalem The second group sent from Jerusalem to watch Jesus (3:22). The leaders in the capital were keeping an eye on Him.
7:2 eating bread with defiled hands, that is, unwashed Mark explains the word for his readers. This was not about dirt or germs but about being ritually unclean, unfit for God by the standards of their religious rules.
7:3 holding the tradition of the elders Mark explains Jewish customs a Jewish reader would not need explained, a clear sign he wrote for Gentiles, most likely in Rome. "With the fist" may mean a cupped hand, rubbing fist in palm, or washing to the wrist; it was a ritual with set steps. The tradition was a large body of teaching passed down by word of mouth, meant to protect the Law, but treated as just as binding.

the fist, do not eat, holding the tradition of the elders; 4 and coming from the marketplace, unless they wash themselves, they do not eat; and there are many other things which they received to hold: washings of cups and pitchers and copper vessels and couches. 5 Then the Pharisees and the scribes question Him, "Why do Your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders, but eat the bread with unwashed hands?" 6 And He, answering, said to them, "Well did Isaiah (Hesaias) prophesy concerning you hypocrites, as it has been written: 'This people honors Me with the lips, but their heart is far away from Me. 7 And in vain they worship Me, teaching as teachings the precepts of men.' 8 For having left the commandment of God, you hold the tradition of men, washings of pitchers and cups; and many other such similar things you do." 9 And He was saying to them, "Well do you set aside the commandment of God, so that you may keep your tradition. 10 For Moses said, 'Honor your father and your mother'; and, 'The one speaking evil of father or mother, let him die by death.' 11 But you say, 'If a man says to the father or to the mother, "Corban," that is, a gift, "is whatever you might be profited from me,"' 12 and you no longer permit him to do anything for his father or for his mother, 13 making void the word of God by your tradition which you handed down; and many such similar things you do."

What Defiles a Person

14 And having called to Him all the crowd, He was saying to them, "Hear Me, all of you, and understand: 15 There is nothing outside the man entering into him that is able to defile him; but the things going out from him, those are the things defiling the man. 16 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear." 17 And when He entered into a house from the crowd, His disciples were asking Him concerning the parable. 18 And He says to them, "Are you yourselves also thus without understanding? Do you not perceive that everything from outside entering into the man is not able to defile him, 19 because it does not enter into his heart but into the belly, and goes out into the latrine, cleansing all the foods?" 20 And He was saying, "That which goes out of the man, that defiles the man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of men, go out the evil thoughts, adulteries, sexual immoralities, murders, 22 thefts, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, sensuality, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness. 23 All these evil things go out from within and defile the man."

7:4 washings of cups and pitchers and copper vessels and couches The Law had washing rules for priests serving at the tabernacle (Exod 30:17-21). The tradition stretched them to every Jew at every meal, and to pots and even dining couches.
7:5 Why do Your disciples not walk according to the tradition of the elders They did not ask why His disciples broke God's Law, but why they broke tradition. That is the key to the passage. The Pharisees could no longer tell the difference between what God said and what men had added.
7:6 This people honors Me with the lips, but their heart is far away from Me A hypocrite was first a stage actor wearing a mask; these men played holy men. Jesus quotes Isaiah 29:13. Their words were right; their hearts were not. Worship built on man-made rules is empty. Do I honor God with my lips while my heart is somewhere else? It is easy to sing the songs and say the prayers and keep our hearts far from Him.
7:9 Well do you set aside the commandment of God, so that you may keep your tradition They had not just added to God's word; they had let go of it. Well is biting: you are very good at it. Traditions are not bad in themselves, and many churches have good ones. The danger comes when they become more important to us than God's word or let us get around it. Every tradition must be tested by Scripture.
7:10 Honor your father and your mother Moses gave the command (Exod 20:12; Deut 5:16) and a death penalty for cursing parents (Exod 21:17; Lev 20:9). Honoring parents includes caring for them when they are old and in need.
7:11 Corban A word Mark explains as a gift dedicated to God. A man could declare his property Corban, keep using it himself, and tell his parents it belonged to God. The scribes held that a vow must be kept and would not let him undo it, even to help his own mother and father.
7:13 making void the word of God by your tradition A religious-sounding word let a man walk away from his parents in need, and it was a pattern, not one slip. We still do it, claiming to be too busy at church to care for our family. A believer who will not provide for his household has denied the faith (1 Tim 5:8). God does not accept religious service in place of obeying His plain commands.
7:15 the things going out from him, those are the things defiling the man The Pharisees thought uncleanness worked from the outside in. Jesus said it works from the inside out. We like to blame our upbringing, our situation, other people. Those things can tempt us, but sin comes from inside us.
7:16 If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear A call to listen with the heart after words that turned the Pharisee system on its head (4:9, 23). Most older Greek copies of Mark lack this verse, and many modern Bibles bracket it, footnote it, or skip the number. The SLB follows the Received Text, which includes it. No teaching rests on it alone, and the same words stand in 4:9 and 4:23.
7:19 cleansing all the foods Food goes into the belly, not the heart, and passes out of the body. The phrase may describe the body's natural process, or it may be Mark's note that by saying this Jesus made all foods clean, as many modern Bibles take it. Either way, the food laws of Moses do not bind believers in Christ (Acts 10:9-16; Rom 14:14), good news for the Gentile believers in Rome.
7:21 out of the heart of men, go out the evil thoughts Evil thoughts come first, because every sin starts there. Then sins of action. Sexual immoralities is porneia, any sexual sin outside marriage between a man and a woman. Covetings is greedy wanting of what is not ours.
7:22 deceit, sensuality, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness Sins of attitude. Sensuality is throwing off all restraint, sin with no shame. An evil eye meant envy and stinginess. Foolishness in the Bible is not a lack of brains but living as if God does not matter.
7:23 All these evil things go out from within and defile the man No one can read this list without seeing himself. The heart is deceitful above all things (Jer 17:9), and water and rituals cannot wash it. We need a new heart, and God promises it in Christ (Ezek 36:26; 2 Cor 5:17). Jesus does not just clean up the outside. He changes us from within.
7:24 He went away into the borders of Tyre and Sidon Gentile cities on the Mediterranean coast north of Galilee, in what is now Lebanon, the farthest into Gentile land we see Jesus go. He may have wanted rest with His disciples, but His fame had gone ahead of Him.

borders of Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon. And having entered into the house, He was wanting no one to know it, and He was not able to be hidden. 25 For a woman, having heard about Him, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having come, fell at His feet. 26 Now the woman was a Greek, a Syrophoenician by race; and she was asking Him that He would cast the demon out of her daughter. 27 But Jesus (Iesous) said to her, "Let the children first be satisfied; for it is not good to take the bread of the children and to cast it to the little dogs." 28 But she answered and says to Him, "Yes, Lord; for even the little dogs under the table eat from the crumbs of the little children." 29 And He said to her, "Because of this word, go; the demon has gone out of your daughter." 30 And having gone away to her house, she found the demon having gone out, and the daughter having been laid on the bed.

A Deaf Man Healed

31 And again, having gone out from the region of Tyre and Sidon, He came to the Sea of Galilee (Galilaia), through the midst of the region of Decapolis (Dekapolis). 32 And they bring to Him a deaf man who spoke with difficulty, and they implore Him that He would lay the hand on him. 33 And having taken him away from the crowd privately, He put His fingers into his ears, and having spit, He touched his tongue; 34 and having looked up to heaven, He sighed deeply, and He says to him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened." 35 And immediately his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he was speaking correctly. 36 And He ordered them that they should tell no one; but as much as He Himself was ordering them, so much the more exceedingly they were proclaiming it. 37 And they were astonished beyond measure, saying, "He has done all things well; He makes both the deaf to hear and the mute to speak."

MARK 8

Four Thousand Fed

1 In those days, the crowd being very great and not having anything they might eat, Jesus (Iesous), having called His disciples to Him, says to them, 2 "I am moved with compassion on the crowd, because already three days they remain with Me, and they do not have anything they might eat. 3 And if I send them away hungry to their home, they will faint on the way; for some of them have come from far away." 4 And His disciples answered Him, "From where will anyone be able to satisfy these people with bread here in a desolate place?" 5 And He was asking them, "How many loaves do you have?" And they said, "Seven." 6 And He commanded the crowd to recline on the ground; and having taken the seven loaves, having given thanks, He broke them and was giving them to His disciples so that they might set them before them; and they set them before the crowd. 7 And they had a few small fish; and having blessed them, He said to set them also before them. 8 And they ate and were satisfied; and they took up

8:8 Mark 8:19,20; Ps 107:8,9; Ps 145:16

7:26 a Greek, a Syrophoenician by race A Gentile, from the part of Phoenicia in the Roman province of Syria. Matthew calls her a Canaanite (Matt 15:22), of Israel's old enemies. Right after Jesus taught that uncleanness comes from the heart and not from food or race, a Gentile woman comes with a clean heart of faith.
7:27 Let the children first be satisfied The children were Israel, the bread the blessing of the Messiah's ministry. Jews sometimes called Gentiles dogs as an insult. But Jesus used the word for little dogs, house pets, and He said first. The gospel would go first to Israel and then to the Gentiles (Rom 1:16). He left the door open a crack, testing her faith to bring it out.
7:28 even the little dogs under the table eat from the crumbs of the little children She walked through that crack. She did not argue or take offense. She agreed: I am not one of the children, and I only ask a crumb. She knew she had no claim on Him and trusted only His goodness, and she knew one crumb from Jesus was enough to drive out a demon.
7:30 she found the demon having gone out He did not go or touch the girl. He spoke, and it was done miles away. This Gentile mother received what the leaders from Jerusalem never did, because she came humbly. God still gives grace to the humble (James 4:6).
7:31 through the midst of the region of Decapolis A long way around, north to Sidon then back to the lake, into the area where the freed man had told everyone what Jesus did (5:20). The people were ready.
7:33 having taken him away from the crowd privately A deaf man in a noisy crowd would not understand what was happening. Jesus spoke in a language he could understand, touch, showing him without words what He was about to do.
7:34 He sighed deeply, and He says to him, "Ephphatha," that is, "Be opened." He looked to heaven to show the power came from God. The sigh was a groan of grief over the brokenness sin has brought into the world (Rom 8:22). Mark keeps another Aramaic word for us.
7:35 he was speaking correctly He did not need months to learn to talk. Isaiah promised that in the Messiah's days the deaf would hear and the mute would shout for joy (Isa 35:5-6). Sin makes us deaf to God and unable to speak rightly of Him. Jesus opens our ears to His word and loosens our tongues to praise Him. Has He opened your ears?
7:36 so much the more exceedingly they were proclaiming it In Gentile land He had let the freed man tell (5:19). Here crowds were starting to see Him only as a wonder worker, and that was not the message He wanted spread.
7:37 He has done all things well The words echo God looking at His creation and finding it very good (Gen 1:31). The Creator was making things good again, doing just what the prophets said the Messiah would do. These Gentiles saw it more clearly than the leaders from Jerusalem.
8:2 I am moved with compassion on the crowd Still in the Decapolis (7:31), the crowd had been with Him three days, and whatever food they brought was gone. Jesus saw their need before anyone mentioned it. The Lord who teaches our souls also cares about our bodies. He knows when you are tired and hungry and running on empty.
8:4 From where will anyone be able to satisfy these people with bread They had seen Him feed five thousand not long before (6:35-44). But how often has God provided for you, and the next time a need comes you worry as if He never had? We forget quickly. That is why the Bible tells us to remember what the Lord has done (Ps 103:2).
8:6 having given thanks, He broke them The same pattern as before: thanks, breaking, giving, and again the disciples carried the food to the people.
8:8 seven large baskets of leftovers A different word from 6:43: baskets large enough to hold a man, like the one Paul was let down in over the wall of Damascus (Acts 9:25).

seven large baskets of leftovers of broken pieces. 9 Now those having eaten were about four thousand; and He sent them away. 10 And immediately, having embarked into the boat with His disciples, He came into the parts of Dalmanutha (Dalmanoutha).

The Leaven of the Pharisees

11 And the Pharisees went out and began to dispute with Him, seeking from Him a sign from heaven, testing Him. 12 And having sighed deeply in His spirit, He says, "Why does this generation seek a sign? Truly I say to you, no sign will be given to this generation." 13 And having left them, having embarked again into the boat, He went away to the other side. 14 And the disciples forgot to take loaves, and except for one loaf they did not have any with them in the boat. 15 And He was ordering them, saying, "Watch out, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod (Herodes)." 16 And they were reasoning with one another, saying, "It is because we do not have loaves." 17 And Jesus, having known it, says to them, "Why do you reason that you do not have loaves? Do you not yet perceive or understand? Do you still have your heart hardened? 18 Having eyes, do you not see? And having ears, do you not hear? And do you not remember? 19 When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many baskets full of broken pieces did you take up?" They say to Him, "Twelve." 20 "And when the seven for the four thousand, of how many large baskets did you take up fillings of broken pieces?" And they said, "Seven." 21 And He was saying to them, "How do you not understand?"

A Blind Man Healed at Bethsaida

22 And He comes to Bethsaida; and they bring to Him a blind man, and they implore Him that He would touch him. 23 And having taken hold of the hand of the blind man, He led him out of the village; and having spit on his eyes, having laid the hands on him, He was asking him if he sees anything. 24 And having looked up, he was saying, "I see the men like trees, walking." 25 Then again He laid the hands on his eyes, and made him look up; and he was restored, and he saw everyone clearly. 26 And He sent him away to his home, saying, "Do not enter into the village, nor tell it to anyone in the village."

Peter's Confession

27 And Jesus and His disciples went out into the villages of Caesarea (Kaisareia) of Philip (Philippos); and on the way He was questioning His disciples, saying to them, "Who do men say that I am?" 28 And they answered, "John (Ioannes) the Baptist; and others, Elijah (Helias); but others, one of the prophets." 29 And He Himself says to them, "But you, who do you say that I am?" And Peter (Petros), answering, says to

8:28 Mal 4:5; Matt 14:2; John 1:21
8:29 John 6:69; John 11:27; Mark 4:11

8:9 about four thousand Some think this is the five thousand told twice. But the numbers of people, loaves and baskets differ, the place differs, and Jesus Himself speaks of two feedings (8:19-20). I take it as written. The first was for a mostly Jewish crowd in Galilee; this one was in Gentile country. Jesus is the Bread of Life for Jews and Gentiles alike.
8:10 the parts of Dalmanutha Scripture does not say exactly where it was. Matthew calls it Magadan (Matt 15:39). It was most likely on the west shore, back in Jewish territory.
8:11 seeking from Him a sign from heaven, testing Him He had healed, cast out demons, calmed a storm, raised a dead girl and fed thousands. They wanted a sign on their terms, something in the sky.
8:12 no sign will be given to this generation Their unbelief grieved Him. Matthew adds the one sign they would get, Jonah, His death and resurrection (Matt 12:39-40). More proof does not change a heart that has decided not to believe. If they will not listen to Moses and the prophets, they will not be persuaded even if someone rises from the dead (Luke 16:31). The problem was not a lack of evidence. It was a hard heart.
8:13 having left them He did not stay to argue. There comes a point where Jesus leaves those who keep refusing Him. That should make every one of us take His word seriously while He is still speaking.
8:15 beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of Herod Leaven is yeast, a little working through the whole lump, often a picture of sin or false teaching spreading quietly (1 Cor 5:6-8; Gal 5:9). The Pharisees' leaven was hypocrisy (Luke 12:1) and unbelief that demanded signs while rejecting God's Son. Herod's was worldliness and political power, a faith that bends to whatever keeps you comfortable.
8:16 It is because we do not have loaves They completely missed it and were still thinking about lunch.
8:18 Having eyes, do you not see? And having ears, do you not hear? These are the words used of the outsiders in 4:12 (compare Jer 5:21). Jesus was asking if His own disciples were becoming just as blind and deaf. The questions are for us too. Do we see what He has done? Do we remember?
8:21 How do you not understand? Twelve baskets, seven baskets. One loaf in the boat with Jesus is more than enough. They were worried about bread while sitting beside the One who made bread for thousands. They needed to understand who was with them. Mark leaves the question hanging, and the next story shows how their eyes would be opened.
8:23 having taken hold of the hand of the blind man, He led him out of the village Picture the Son of God holding a blind man's hand and walking him out of town. This is the only time in the Gospels that Jesus asks whether a healing has worked.
8:24 I see the men like trees, walking He saw, but blurry, and knew they were people only because they moved. He knew what trees looked like, so he may not have been born blind.
8:25 he saw everyone clearly Two stages, not because His power was weak. Many see a living picture of the disciples. They had begun to see who Jesus was, but their sight was blurry. Peter will see that He is the Christ but not yet what kind of Christ. They needed a second touch, and many of us do too. Jesus keeps touching our eyes until we see Him as He is.
8:27 the villages of Caesarea of Philip About twenty-five miles north of the lake at the foot of Mount Hermon, rebuilt by Herod Philip and named for Caesar and himself. Shrines to the Greek god Pan were cut into the cliffs. Among the idols, Jesus asked the most important question there is.
8:28 John the Baptist; and others, Elijah All compliments, and all short of the truth. Many today say Jesus was a good teacher or a prophet. That sounds nice, but it is not enough.
8:29 But you, who do you say that I am? In Greek, you comes first for stress. Peter answered for the group: the Christ, the Messiah, the King God promised. For eight chapters the question has built, and now a disciple says it. Mark, with Peter's preaching behind him, gives the shortest account (Matt 16:13-20); perhaps Peter did not care to tell the part that honored him. Not what your parents or church say: who do you say Jesus is?

Him, "You are the Christ." 30 And He warned them that they should tell no one concerning Him.

Jesus Foretells His Death

31 And He began to teach them that it is necessary for the Son of Man to suffer many things and to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, and after three days to rise again. 32 And He was speaking the word openly. And Peter, having taken Him aside, began to rebuke Him. 33 But He, having turned around and having seen His disciples, rebuked Peter, saying, "Go behind Me, Satan; for you are not minding the things of God, but the things of men."

Take Up Your Cross

34 And having called the crowd to Him with His disciples, He said to them, "Whoever desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross, and let him follow Me. 35 For whoever desires to save his life will lose it; but whoever loses his life on account of Me and the gospel, this one will save it. 36 For what will it profit a man, if he gains the whole world and forfeits his life? 37 Or what will a man give as an exchange for his life? 38 For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man also will be ashamed of him when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels."

MARK 9

1 And He was saying to them, "Truly I say to you that there are some of those standing here who will certainly not taste of death until they see the kingdom of God having come with power."

The Transfiguration

2 And after six days Jesus (Iesous) takes along Peter (Petros) and James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes), and brings them up into a high mountain privately, alone. And He was transfigured before them; 3 and His garments became shining, exceedingly white like snow, such as a launderer on the earth is not able to whiten. 4 And Elijah (Helias) with Moses appeared to them, and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter, answering, says to Jesus, "Rabbi, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for You and one for Moses and one for Elijah." 6 For he did not know what he might say; for they were terrified. 7 And a cloud came overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying,

8:30 Matt 16:20; Luke 9:21; Mark 9:9

9:4 Deut 34:5; 2 Kgs 2:11; Deut 34:6
9:5 Exod 33:17; Ps 62:2,3; Ps 84:10
9:6 Mark 16:5-8; Dan 10:15-19; Rev 1:17
9:7 Deut 18:15; Exod 40:34; Ps 97:2

8:30 He warned them that they should tell no one concerning Him They had the right title but the wrong picture, a Christ who would throw out Rome and reign in Jerusalem. They were not ready to preach it until they understood it.
8:31 it is necessary for the Son of Man to suffer many things Everything changes here; from now on He speaks again and again of the cross (9:31; 10:33-34). Necessary means God's plan. The elders, chief priests and scribes made up the Sanhedrin, the ruling council; God's leaders would reject God's Christ. After three days counts parts of days, Friday to Sunday; Matthew and Luke say on the third day (Matt 16:21). He never spoke of His death without His resurrection.
8:32 Peter, having taken Him aside, began to rebuke Him No more hints. Peter, who had just said the right thing, now did the wrong thing. He could not fit a suffering Messiah into his picture. Kings conquer. They do not die.
8:33 Go behind Me, Satan Peter was not Satan, but without knowing it he said what Satan said in the wilderness: take the crown without the cross (Matt 4:8-10). Go behind Me means get back in your place as a follower. A person can love Jesus and still think like the world. Good intentions without God's mind can still stand in the way of God's plan.
8:34 let him deny himself, and let him take up his cross, and let him follow Me For everyone, not only the twelve. Denying yourself is giving up the throne of your life, not just chocolate for a season. A man carrying a cross was on his way to die; Rome made the condemned carry the beam, and they had seen it. It means choosing His way even when it costs, and if need be dying for Him. And follow, daily (Luke 9:23).
8:35 whoever loses his life on account of Me and the gospel, this one will save it Hold on to your life for yourself and you lose it in the end. Let go of it for Jesus and you find real life, now and forever. Only Mark records "and the gospel." His readers in Rome would soon face Nero's persecution, and some would die for Christ. Jesus promised they would not lose in the end.
8:36 what will it profit a man, if he gains the whole world and forfeits his life? Picture a man who gets money, power, fame and pleasure, then dies and loses his soul. The word for life, psyche, also means soul.
8:37 what will a man give as an exchange for his life? Once the soul is lost, nothing can buy it back. Only Jesus could pay that price, and He did with His own life (10:45). What are you living for? Is it worth your soul?
8:38 when He comes in the glory of His Father with the holy angels Adulterous means unfaithful to God, as Israel was called when it turned to idols (Hos 2:2-5). He is not coming next time as a suffering Servant but as King and Judge (Matt 25:31). I believe He will return visibly to the earth at the end of the Tribulation to set up His kingdom (Rev 19:11-16). Peter denied Him (14:66-72), yet was restored (John 21:15-19) and lived unashamed. There is grace for those who failed.
9:1 until they see the kingdom of God having come with power To taste death is a Hebrew way of saying to die. Many teachers believe the next verses answer this. Six days later three of these men saw Jesus in glory, a preview of the King as He will appear when He comes in power. Peter tied that mountain to the power and coming of our Lord (2 Pet 1:16-18). Others take it as the resurrection, Pentecost, or the judgment on Jerusalem in A.D. 70.
9:2 He was transfigured before them Mark rarely counts days, but here he does. The same three saw Jairus' daughter raised (5:37) and would be nearest in Gethsemane (14:33). The Greek is metamorphoo, to be changed in form. This was no light shining on Him from outside. The glory that was always His shone out from within.
9:3 such as a launderer on the earth is not able to whiten A homely detail for ordinary people. No soap on earth could do that. This was the glory of God.
9:4 Elijah with Moses appeared to them Moses gave the Law and Elijah stood for the prophets, the whole Old Testament bearing witness to Jesus. Both left this world unusually (Deut 34:5-6; 2 Kgs 2:11). They talked of His departure at Jerusalem (Luke 9:31); on the mountain of glory the subject was the cross. And they were alive and known by name centuries later. Those who die in the Lord are with Him.
9:5 let us make three tabernacles A tabernacle was a tent or booth like those of the Feast of Tabernacles. Perhaps Peter wanted the moment to last, or thought the kingdom had come. Mark, likely from Peter himself, says he did not know what to say. His mistake was putting Jesus on the level of Moses and Elijah, one tent each.
9:7 This is My Son, the beloved; listen to Him God's presence came in a cloud over the tabernacle (Exod 40:34-35). At the baptism the Father spoke to the Son (1:11); here He speaks to the disciples about Him. Moses promised a Prophet the people must listen to (Deut 18:15). Jesus is that Prophet and far more.

"This is My Son, the beloved; listen to Him." 8 And suddenly, having looked around, they no longer saw anyone except Jesus alone with themselves. 9 Now as they were coming down from the mountain, He ordered them that they should tell no one what they had seen, except when the Son of Man has risen out of the dead. 10 And they kept the word to themselves, questioning together what the rising out of the dead is. 11 And they were asking Him, saying, "Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first?" 12 And He, answering, said to them, "Elijah indeed, having come first, restores all things; and how has it been written of the Son of Man that He should suffer many things and be treated with contempt? 13 But I say to you that Elijah also has come, and they did to him whatever they wished, just as it has been written of him."

A Boy Freed from a Spirit

14 And having come to the disciples, He saw a great crowd around them, and scribes disputing with them. 15 And immediately all the crowd, having seen Him, were greatly amazed, and running to Him, they were greeting Him. 16 And He asked the scribes, "What are you disputing with them?" 17 And one out of the crowd, answering, said, "Teacher, I brought to You my son, having a mute spirit; 18 and wherever it seizes him, it throws him down; and he foams and grinds his teeth and is withering away. And I spoke to Your disciples that they might cast it out, and they were not able." 19 And He, answering him, says, "O unbelieving generation, until when will I be with you? Until when will I bear with you? Bring him to Me." 20 And they brought him to Him. And having seen Him, the spirit immediately convulsed him, and having fallen on the ground, he was rolling around, foaming. 21 And He asked his father, "How long a time is it since this has happened to him?" And he said, "From childhood. 22 And often it has cast him both into fire and into waters so that it might destroy him. But if You are able to do anything, help us, having compassion on us." 23 And Jesus said to him, "If you are able to believe, all things are possible to the one believing." 24 And immediately the father of the child, having cried out with tears, was saying, "I believe, Lord; help my unbelief." 25 Now Jesus, having seen that a crowd was running together, rebuked the unclean spirit, saying to it, "Mute and deaf spirit, I command you, come out of him, and enter into him no more." 26 And having cried out and having convulsed him much, it came out; and he became like a dead man, so that many said that he had died. 27 But Jesus, having taken hold of him by the hand, raised him up, and he arose. 28 And when He had entered into a house, His disciples were asking Him privately, "Why were we not able to cast it out?" 29 And He said to them, "This kind is able to come out by nothing except by prayer and fasting."

9:8 they no longer saw anyone except Jesus alone Moses and Elijah were great servants, and they stepped away. Jesus is the One who stays. When everything else fades, He is the One we listen to.
9:9 except when the Son of Man has risen out of the dead Talk of a shining Messiah would only feed hopes of a king to throw out Rome. The glory would make sense only after the cross and the empty tomb.
9:10 questioning together what the rising out of the dead is Most Jews, apart from the Sadducees, believed in a resurrection at the end of the age. What they could not fit in was the Messiah dying and rising on His own before then.
9:11 Why do the scribes say that Elijah must come first? The scribes, experts in the Law, taught from Malachi 4:5 that Elijah would come before the day of the Lord, and the disciples had just seen him.
9:13 Elijah also has come, and they did to him whatever they wished He meant John, who came in the spirit and power of Elijah (Luke 1:17) and was killed by Herod (6:14-29). What they did to the forerunner they would do to the Messiah. Some teachers believe Elijah will also come again before Christ's return (Mal 4:5; Rev 11). Jesus' words leave room for both: John filled the role at His first coming, and the full restoring of all things still lies ahead.
9:14 scribes disputing with them From the mountaintop to the valley. The nine had failed, and the scribes were enjoying it. Jesus stepped right into the argument. He does not leave His disciples alone in their failure.
9:18 he foams and grinds his teeth and is withering away A mute spirit kept the boy from speaking. Some signs look like what we call seizures, and he may have had both, but Mark is clear a spirit was behind it. The twelve had cast out many demons before (6:13). Now they could not. Something was missing.
9:19 O unbelieving generation Spoken to all of them, scribes, crowd, father and disciples, by One just come from the Father's glory into a world of doubt. We hear sorrow, not only frustration. Yet in the same breath, "Bring him to Me." When others cannot help and we have run out of ideas, bring it to Jesus.
9:20 the spirit immediately convulsed him Evil often makes its loudest noise right before it is defeated.
9:22 if You are able to do anything, help us, having compassion on us From childhood: this dad had watched it for years, with fire and water. Help us. When a child suffers, the whole family suffers.
9:23 all things are possible to the one believing Jesus turned the father's words around. The question was not whether Jesus was able but whether the father would believe.
9:24 I believe, Lord; help my unbelief One of the most honest prayers in the Bible. He had faith mixed with doubt and brought both to Jesus without pretending. Jesus did not reject him. Faith is not how strong we feel but where we turn. A little faith placed in a great Savior is enough.
9:25 come out of him, and enter into him no more He did not chant or bargain. He commanded, and the spirit had to obey. Enter no more gave the father what he needed: the healing would last.
9:27 Jesus, having taken hold of him by the hand, raised him up The boy lay like a corpse. A small picture of what Jesus does for every sinner: He takes the hand of one who looks dead and raises him to life.
9:29 This kind is able to come out by nothing except by prayer and fasting The disciples may have thought the power was theirs to switch on. It comes from dependence on God. Prayer says, Lord, I cannot, but You can. Fasting sets food aside to seek Him more fully. The missing piece was not a formula but reliance on God. Our service grows weak when our prayer life grows thin. Many older Greek copies have only "by prayer"; the SLB follows the Received Text.

through Galilee (Galilaia), and He was not wanting anyone to know it. 31 For He was teaching His disciples and was saying to them, "The Son of Man is being delivered into the hands of men, and they will kill Him; and having been killed, He will rise on the third day." 32 But they were not understanding the declaration, and they were afraid to ask Him. 33 And He came to Capernaum (Kapernaoum). And having been in the house, He was asking them, "What were you discussing among yourselves on the way?" 34 But they were silent; for on the way they had discussed with one another who was greater. 35 And having sat down, He called the twelve and says to them, "If anyone desires to be first, he will be last of all and servant of all." 36 And having taken a child, He set it in the midst of them; and having taken it in His arms, He said to them, 37 "Whoever receives one of such children in My name receives Me; and whoever receives Me does not receive Me, but the One having sent Me."

Whoever Is Not Against Us

38 Now John answered Him, saying, "Teacher, we saw someone casting out demons in Your name, who does not follow us; and we forbade him, because he does not follow us." 39 But Jesus said, "Do not forbid him; for there is no one who will do a mighty work in My name and will be able soon to speak evil of Me. 40 For whoever is not against us is for us. 41 For whoever gives you a cup of water to drink in My name because you are Christ's, truly I say to you, he will certainly not lose his reward.

Warnings Against Stumbling

42 And whoever causes one of these little ones believing in Me to stumble, it is better for him rather if a millstone is put around his neck and he has been cast into the sea. 43 And if your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life crippled than having the two hands to go away into Gehenna, into the unquenchable fire, 44 where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched. 45 And if your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off; it is better for you to enter into life lame than having the two feet to be cast into Gehenna, into the unquenchable fire, 46 where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched. 47 And if your eye causes you to stumble, cast it out; it is better for you to enter into the kingdom of God one-eyed than having two eyes to be cast into the Gehenna of fire, 48 where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched. 49 For everyone will be salted with fire, and every sacrifice will be salted with salt. 50 Salt is good; but if the salt becomes unsalty, with what will you season it? Have salt in yourselves, and be at 9:31 The Son of Man is being delivered into the hands of men His Galilee ministry was ending, and He focused on the twelve. This is the second plain prediction (8:31).

9:32 they were afraid to ask Him Sometimes we do not ask because we are afraid of the answer.
9:34 on the way they had discussed with one another who was greater While He talked about a cross, they talked about crowns. Before we shake our heads, how often do we do the same? Pride is quick to show up, even among people who follow Jesus.
9:35 he will be last of all and servant of all He sat, as a teacher did for something important. He did not say wanting greatness is wrong. He showed the way to it. In God's kingdom the way up is down. The Servant was teaching His servants to be like Him (10:45).
9:37 Whoever receives one of such children in My name receives Me Children had no standing and could do nothing for you. To receive is to welcome and make room for. Welcoming the least for Jesus' sake welcomes Him and the Father who sent Him. How we treat people who can do nothing for us shows what we really think of Jesus.
9:38 we forbade him, because he does not follow us Notice us. The man was following Jesus, just not part of their group, and succeeding where they had failed.
9:40 whoever is not against us is for us Not everyone who serves Jesus will be in our group or do things our way. If they honor His name and preach the true gospel, they are not our enemies. This is not anything goes; Jesus warned of false prophets using His name (Matt 7:22-23). The test is whether they honor Him and His truth.
9:41 he will certainly not lose his reward A cup of water cost almost nothing but meant much in a hot, dry land. God notices small kindnesses done for His people. Nothing done for Him is wasted.
9:42 it is better for him rather if a millstone is put around his neck To cause to stumble is to trip someone into sin or away from faith. The little ones include children and any humble or young believer. A large millstone took a donkey to turn. Better to die than lead one of His children into sin. Those who abuse, mislead or corrupt others, especially children, need to hear this.
9:43 if your hand causes you to stumble, cut it off Not a call to cut off body parts. The problem is the heart (7:21-23). Deal with sin ruthlessly: whatever leads you into it, a habit, a friendship, a website, a place, cut it out. Gehenna is the Valley of Hinnom south of Jerusalem, where children were once burned to Molech (Jer 7:31). Jesus used it for hell, the place of final punishment.
9:44 where their worm does not die and the fire is not quenched From the last verse of Isaiah (Isa 66:24), picturing punishment that does not end. Jesus spoke of hell more than anyone in the Bible, out of love, to warn us. Verses 44 and 46 are in the Received Text the SLB follows, but not in most older Greek copies, and many modern Bibles bracket or skip them. The same words stand in verse 48 in all copies, so nothing is lost, and no teaching rests on these two verses alone.
9:45 if your foot causes you to stumble, cut it off The foot takes us places. Some places lead straight into sin, and the answer is to stop going. Verse 46 repeats the words of verse 44.
9:47 if your eye causes you to stumble, cast it out The eye is often the first step into sin. David looked before he took (2 Sam 11:2), and a lustful look is adultery in the heart (Matt 5:28). Entering life (9:43, 45) is entering the kingdom of God; hell is being outside it forever. When Jesus repeats Isaiah's words a third time, we should listen.
9:49 everyone will be salted with fire One of the hardest verses in Mark. Every grain offering was salted (Lev 2:13); salt preserves, and fire tests and purifies (1 Pet 1:7). Many see the fiery trials that purify every believer as an offering to God (Rom 12:1). Others see the judgment on the unbeliever just described. Either way, following Jesus is costly, but the fire He allows in a believer's life purifies; it does not destroy.
9:50 Have salt in yourselves, and be at peace with one another Salt from the Dead Sea area was mixed with other minerals; if the real salt washed out, what was left looked like salt but had no taste. The chapter began with an argument about greatness. Pride kills peace. Humble service keeps the salt in the salt.

peace with one another."

Marriage and Divorce

1 And having risen up from there, He comes into the region of Judea (Ioudaia) through the region beyond the Jordan (Iordanes). And crowds come together to Him again, and as He had been accustomed, He was again teaching them. 2 And the Pharisees, having come to Him, asked Him if it is lawful for a husband to divorce a wife, testing Him. 3 And He, answering, said to them, "What did Moses command you?" 4 And they said, "Moses permitted to write a scroll of divorce and to divorce her." 5 And Jesus (Iesous), answering, said to them, "Because of your hardness of heart he wrote this commandment for you. 6 But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. 7 On account of this a man will leave his father and mother and will be joined to his wife, 8 and the two will be into one flesh; so that they are no longer two, but one flesh. 9 Therefore what God has joined together, let man not separate." 10 And in the house His disciples again asked Him concerning the same matter. 11 And He says to them, "Whoever divorces his wife and marries another commits adultery against her. 12 And if a woman divorces her husband and is married to another, she commits adultery."

Jesus Blesses the Children

13 And they were bringing little children to Him so that He might touch them; but the disciples were rebuking those bringing them. 14 But Jesus, having seen it, was indignant and said to them, "Permit the little children to come to Me, and do not hinder them; for of such is the kingdom of God. 15 Truly I say to you, whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will certainly not enter into it." 16 And having taken them in His arms, laying the hands on them, He was blessing them.

The Rich Man

17 And as He was going out on the way, one having run up and having knelt before Him was asking Him, "Good Teacher, what should I do so that I may inherit eternal life?" 18 And Jesus said to him, "Why do you call Me good? No one is good

10:18 Luke 18:19; 1 Sam 2:2; Matt 19:17

10:1 as He had been accustomed, He was again teaching them Beyond the Jordan, east of the river, was often called Perea; Galilean travelers often went that way to Jerusalem. Mark shows a man of action, but notice His habit: He taught. He never forgot their greatest need was the truth.

10:2 if it is lawful for a husband to divorce a wife, testing Him The rabbis argued over Deuteronomy 24:1. One school allowed divorce only for serious sexual sin; another for almost any reason, even a burned dinner. And Jesus was in Herod Antipas' territory, where John lost his head for speaking against Herod's marriage (6:17-18). Whatever He said, someone would be angry.

10:4 Moses permitted to write a scroll of divorce Notice their own word, permitted. Moses never commanded divorce. He put limits on a practice already happening (Deut 24:1-4). The written certificate protected the woman, proving she was free to marry again without being called an adulteress.

10:5 Because of your hardness of heart he wrote this commandment for you A concession to human failure, not God's plan. That the law allowed something does not mean God approved it. They wanted to know how far they could go; Jesus wanted them to see what God wanted from the start. Pride, selfishness and unwillingness to forgive still lie at the root of most broken marriages.

10:6 from the beginning of creation God made them male and female Jesus went back further than Moses, to Genesis 1:27 and 2:24. God designed marriage. It is not a human invention, and people do not get to redefine it. It is one man and one woman.

10:8 the two will be into one flesh Leaving parents forms a new family. Joined means stuck together like glue. One flesh is more than the physical union; it is two lives made one. When you tear apart one flesh, both people are hurt.

10:9 what God has joined together, let man not separate Marriage is not only a contract between two people. God Himself joins them. No one, husband, wife, judge or outsider, has the right to pull apart what He joined. If you are married, guard your marriage.

10:11 commits adultery against her Many thought adultery was only a sin against a husband. Jesus gave the wife equal dignity, and He spoke of a wife divorcing her husband, which Roman law allowed, a word for Mark's Roman readers. Matthew records the exception for sexual immorality (Matt 19:9), and Paul speaks of an unbelieving spouse who leaves (1 Cor 7:15). Some believe the innocent person may remarry in those cases; others allow no remarriage while the spouse lives. All agree the breaking of marriage was never God's plan.

10:12 she commits adultery If you have been through divorce, it is not the unforgivable sin. The same Jesus forgives every sinner who comes to Him. And these words never mean a person must stay where he or she is being abused. If you are in danger, get to safety and get help.

10:13 the disciples were rebuking those bringing them Jewish parents often brought children to a rabbi for a blessing. The disciples may have thought Jesus too busy or children unimportant, though they had just learned otherwise (9:36-37). We learn slowly, do we not?

10:14 Permit the little children to come to Me, and do not hinder them The only place Jesus is said to be indignant at His own disciples. The kingdom belongs to such as these. Never do anything that keeps a child from Jesus. Teach them, pray with them, bring them. Children's ministry is not babysitting. It is kingdom work.

10:15 whoever does not receive the kingdom of God like a little child A child cannot earn or pay for a gift. He simply trusts and receives. We do not enter God's kingdom by being impressive or working our way in. We come with empty hands and receive it as a gift (Eph 2:8-9). The rich man next shows the opposite.

10:16 having taken them in His arms Only Mark tells us this. The parents wanted a touch; He gave a hug and a blessing. He is never too busy for the least of us.

10:17 what should I do so that I may inherit eternal life? He was young (Matt 19:20) and a ruler (Luke 18:18). He ran and knelt and asked the most important question there is. But what should I do shows he thought eternal life could be earned, one more thing to add to his wealth, position and reputation.

10:18 No one is good except One, God Jesus was not denying He is good or God. He was making the man think: if only God is good and you call Me good, do you know what you are saying? It also challenged the man's idea of his own goodness. There is none righteous, not even one (Rom 3:10).

except One, God. 19 You know the commandments: 'Do not commit adultery; do not murder; do not steal; do not bear false witness; do not defraud; honor your father and mother.'" 20 And he, answering, said to Him, "Teacher, all these I have kept from my youth." 21 And Jesus, having looked at him, loved him and said to him, "One thing you lack: go, sell whatever you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven; and come, follow Me, having taken up the cross." 22 But he, having become gloomy at the word, went away grieving; for he was one having many possessions. 23 And having looked around, Jesus says to His disciples, "How difficultly will those having riches enter into the kingdom of God!" 24 And the disciples were amazed at His words. But Jesus, answering again, says to them, "Children, how difficult it is for those having trusted in riches to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of the needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God." 26 And they were exceedingly astonished, saying to themselves, "And who is able to be saved?" 27 And having looked at them, Jesus says, "With men it is impossible, but not with God; for all things are possible with God." 28 And Peter (Petros) began to say to Him, "Look, we left all and followed You." 29 And Jesus, answering, said, "Truly I say to you, there is no one who has left house or brothers or sisters or father or mother or wife or children or lands on account of Me and the gospel, 30 who will not receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses and brothers and sisters and mothers and children and lands, with persecutions, and in the coming age eternal life. 31 But many first will be last, and the last first."

Third Prediction

32 Now they were on the way, going up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), and Jesus was going on ahead of them; and they were amazed, and following, they were afraid. And having taken the twelve along again, He began to tell them the things about to happen to Him: 33 "Look, we are going up to Jerusalem, and the Son of Man will be delivered to the chief priests and to the scribes; and they will condemn Him to death and will deliver Him to the Gentiles; 34 and they will mock Him and will flog Him and will spit on Him and will kill Him; and on the third day He will rise again."

James and John's Request

35 And James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes), the sons of Zebedee (Zebedaios), come up to Him, saying, "Teacher, we desire that You would do for us whatever we ask." 36 And He said to them, "What do you desire Me to do for you?" 37 And they said to Him, "Grant to us that we may sit, one at Your right and one at Your left, in Your glory." 38 But Jesus said to them, "You do not know what you are asking. Are you able to drink the cup which I drink, and to be baptized with the bap-

10:19 You know the commandments The second half of the Ten Commandments, about how we treat others (Exod 20:12-16; Deut 5:16-20). Do not defraud may sum up the command not to covet, or point to cheating. Jesus did not list the commands about loving God first, and that was where the man's real problem lay.
10:20 all these I have kept from my youth On the outside he had lived a decent life. But the Law reaches the heart: anger is murder and lust is adultery in the heart (Matt 5:21-28). He measured himself by what others could see. Yet he knew something was missing, or why run to Jesus?
10:21 Jesus, having looked at him, loved him Only Mark tells us this. What came next was love telling the truth. His money was his god. Jesus does not ask every believer to sell everything; He asked this man because this idol stood between him and God. The real call was follow Me. Whatever holds first place in your heart instead of Jesus has to go.
10:22 went away grieving; for he was one having many possessions One of the saddest verses in the Bible. He came running to the right Person with the right question and walked away from eternal life rather than let go of what he could not keep. Jesus let him go. He does not force anyone to follow Him.
10:24 how difficult it is for those having trusted in riches Many Jews thought riches were a sign of God's blessing. Jesus said it again more tenderly: Children. The problem is not having money but trusting in it.
10:25 easier for a camel to go through the eye of the needle The largest animal in Israel and the smallest opening. Some say a small Jerusalem gate was called the Needle's Eye, but there is no good evidence for that. Jesus meant what He said. It is impossible.
10:27 With men it is impossible, but not with God No one, rich or poor, can save himself. Salvation is God's work from start to finish. He can change a heart that loves money into a heart that loves Him, as with Zacchaeus (Luke 19:1-10).
10:30 a hundredfold now in this time Following Jesus brings a family of brothers, sisters, mothers and children in the church, and homes open everywhere. Notice what He slipped into the list: with persecutions. He never promised an easy life. And in the coming age eternal life. The best is still ahead.
10:31 many first will be last, and the last first The rich man seemed first and walked away; fishermen and tax collectors seemed last. Do not judge anyone's standing with God by the outside, including your own.
10:32 Jesus was going on ahead of them Jerusalem sits high in the hills, so travelers went up to it. Picture Jesus walking out in front, set on the city where He would die. Jesus did not stumble into the cross. He walked straight toward it.
10:34 they will mock Him and will flog Him and will spit on Him and will kill Him The third and most detailed prediction (8:31; 9:31). The chief priests, mostly Sadducees, ran the temple. The leaders could not carry out a death sentence (John 18:31), so they would hand Him to the Romans. Every detail came true in chapters 14 and 15, and He never left out the third day.
10:35 we desire that You would do for us whatever we ask That is not how to pray. They wanted Jesus to sign a blank check.
10:37 one at Your right and one at Your left, in Your glory They believed He was King and the kingdom was coming; that was faith. But they wanted the top seats, and their mother came with them (Matt 20:20-21). He had just spoken of flogging and death, and they were thinking about power.
10:38 Are you able to drink the cup which I drink A cup often pictured God's judgment poured out (Ps 75:8; Isa 51:17), and He would pray about this cup in Gethsemane (14:36). Baptism here means being plunged under, overwhelmed by the judgment we deserved.

tism with which I am baptized?" 39 And they said to Him, "We are able." And Jesus said to them, "The cup which I drink you will indeed drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized you will be baptized; 40 but to sit at My right and at My left is not Mine to give, but it is for those for whom it has been prepared." 41 And having heard it, the ten began to be indignant about James and John. 42 But Jesus, having called them to Him, says to them, "You know that those being accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 43 But it will not be so among you; but whoever desires to become great among you will be your servant; 44 and whoever of you desires to become first will be slave of all. 45 For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give His life as a ransom for many."

Blind Bartimaeus

46 And they come to Jericho (Hiericho). And as He was going out from Jericho, and His disciples and a large crowd, a son of Timaeus (Timaios), Bartimaeus (Bartimaios) the blind man, was sitting beside the road begging. 47 And having heard that it is Jesus the Nazarene, he began to cry out and to say, "Son of David (Dabid), Jesus, have mercy on me!" 48 And many were rebuking him that he should be silent; but he was crying out much more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!" 49 And Jesus, having stopped, said for him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying to him, "Take courage; rise, He calls you." 50 And he, having thrown off his cloak, having risen, came to Jesus. 51 And Jesus, answering, says to him, "What do you desire that I should do for you?" And the blind man said to Him, "Rabboni, that I may receive sight." 52 And Jesus said to him, "Go; your faith has saved you." And immediately he received sight and was following Jesus on the way.

The King Enters Jerusalem

1 And when they draw near to Jerusalem (Hierousalem), to Bethphage and Bethany (Bethania), toward the Mount of Olives, He sends two of His disciples 2 and says to them, "Go into the village opposite you; and immediately, entering into it, you will find a colt tied, on which no one of men has sat; having untied it, bring it. 3 And if anyone says to you, 'Why are you doing this?' say that the Lord has need of it, and immediately he will send it here." 4 And they went away and found the colt tied at the door outside on the street, and they untie it. 5 And some of those standing there were saying to them, "What are you doing, untying the colt?" 6 And they spoke to them just as Jesus (Iesous) had commanded; and

11:4 Matt 21:6,7; Matt 26:19; Luke 19:32-34

10:39 The cup which I drink you will indeed drink James was the first apostle killed for his faith (Acts 12:2), and John was sent to Patmos for the word of God (Rev 1:9). They could never drink the cup of wrath for sin. Only Jesus could. But they would share His sufferings. The seats in glory the Father has already settled; they are not given to those who push.
10:41 the ten began to be indignant about James and John Probably not because the two were proud, but because they asked first. Pride in one stirs up pride in others, and soon the whole group is fighting. That is how many church fights start.
10:42 their great ones exercise authority over them Under Rome they knew what worldly power looked like: being on top and making others serve you. It is still that way in governments, businesses, and sadly some churches.
10:43 whoever desires to become great among you will be your servant His people are to be different. Servant is diakonos, one who waits on tables, the source of deacon. Slave is doulos, one who belongs to another and lives to do his will. Do you want to be great? Ask how you can serve the people around you today.
10:45 to give His life as a ransom for many The key verse of Mark. The Son of Man all peoples will serve (Dan 7:14) came first to serve. A ransom was the price paid to free a slave or prisoner. We were slaves to sin under God's judgment and could not pay our way out. Jesus paid with His life, dying in our place, the Servant bearing the sins of many (Isa 53:11-12). Teachers discuss what for many tells us, but the plain point is that His one life was enough for a great multitude.
10:46 Bartimaeus the blind man, was sitting beside the road begging Jericho, about fifteen miles northeast of Jerusalem, was the last town before the steep climb, and Passover pilgrims crowded through. Mark gives his name, perhaps because the early church knew him. A blind man had few ways to live but begging where crowds passed.
10:47 Son of David, Jesus, have mercy on me! A title for the Messiah, the son promised David's throne forever (2 Sam 7:12-16). Blind Bartimaeus saw who Jesus was better than many with good eyes. It is the first public use of the title in Mark, and Jesus does not silence him. The time for hiding was almost over.
10:48 he was crying out much more When people try to keep you from Jesus, keep calling. He knew his need and who could meet it. That is the faith Jesus answers.
10:50 having thrown off his cloak Jesus, walking to the cross with the weight of the world on Him, stopped for one beggar. A beggar's cloak was everything, warmth at night and perhaps a cloth to catch coins. The rich man would not let go of his possessions. Bartimaeus let go of all he had.
10:51 What do you desire that I should do for you? The same question He asked James and John (10:36). They asked for power; he asked for mercy. Prayer is not telling God what He does not know but coming in trust and naming our need. Rabboni is a warm, respectful word, my teacher or my master.
10:52 was following Jesus on the way Saved can mean healed or saved from sin, and for Bartimaeus it meant both. His faith reached out to the One with power. The way led to Jerusalem and the cross. He is a picture of a true disciple: helpless, crying for mercy, throwing off everything, following Jesus.
11:1 to Bethphage and Bethany, toward the Mount of Olives The Mount of Olives is a ridge just east of Jerusalem, across the Kidron Valley from the temple. Bethany, on its far side about two miles from the city, was the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus (John 11:1). The Lord's feet will stand on this mount when He comes to fight for Jerusalem (Zech 14:4). Jesus left this world from here (Acts 1:9-12), and He will return here.
11:2 a colt tied, on which no one of men has sat An animal never ridden was set apart for a sacred purpose (Num 19:2; 1 Sam 6:7).
11:3 the Lord has need of it Some think Jesus had arranged it with the owner; others that He simply knew, as with the upper room (14:13-16). Either way He was in full control. Nothing about the coming week caught Him by surprise. And when the disciples did just as He said, they found He had gone ahead of them.

they let them go. 7 And they brought the colt to Jesus and put their cloaks on it, and He sat on it. 8 And many spread their cloaks on the road, and others were cutting branches from the trees and were spreading them on the road. 9 And those going ahead and those following were crying out, saying, "Hosanna! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord! 10 Blessed is the coming kingdom, in the name of the Lord, of our father David (Dabid)! Hosanna in the highest!" 11 And Jesus entered into Jerusalem and into the temple; and having looked around at all things, the hour already being late, He went out to Bethany with the twelve.

The Fig Tree and the Temple

12 And on the next day, when they had gone out from Bethany, He was hungry. 13 And having seen from far away a fig tree having leaves, He went to see if perhaps He would find anything on it. And having come to it, He found nothing except leaves; for it was not the season of figs. 14 And Jesus, answering, said to it, "May no one eat fruit from you anymore forever." And His disciples were listening. 15 And they come to Jerusalem. And Jesus, having entered into the temple, began to cast out those selling and buying in the temple, and He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those selling the doves. 16 And He was not permitting anyone to carry a vessel through the temple. 17 And He was teaching, saying to them, "Has it not been written, 'My house will be called a house of prayer for all the nations'? But you made it a den of robbers." 18 And the scribes and the chief priests heard it, and they were seeking how they might destroy Him; for they were afraid of Him, because all the crowd was astonished at His teaching. 19 And when evening came, He was going out of the city.

Faith, Prayer and Forgiveness

20 And passing by in the morning, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots. 21 And having remembered, Peter (Petros) says to Him, "Rabbi, look, the fig tree which You cursed has been dried up." 22 And Jesus, answering, says to them, "Have faith of God. 23 For truly I say to you that whoever says to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be cast into the sea,' and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that the things he says happen, it will be done for him, whatever he says. 24 Because of this I say to you, all things whatever you ask, praying, believe that you receive them, and it will be done for 11:7 He sat on it For over five hundred years Israel had the promise: "Look, your King comes to you" (Zech 9:9), humble and riding on a colt. Jesus was telling the city, as plainly as He could without words, that He was that King. A king on a war horse came to make war; a king on a donkey came in peace.

11:8 many spread their cloaks on the road That is how Israel once greeted a new king (2 Kgs 9:13). John tells us the branches were palms (John 12:13), which is why many churches call this day Palm Sunday.
11:9 Hosanna! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord! Hosanna is Hebrew for save now, save, we pray, and it had become a shout of praise. The words come from Psalm 118:25-26, sung by pilgrims on the way to the feasts.
11:10 Blessed is the coming kingdom, in the name of the Lord, of our father David! They expected the kingdom promised to David right then, and many pictured a Messiah to throw out Rome. They were right that He is the King, but He had come first to die. Within a week some in the same city would shout "Crucify Him!" (15:13). Crowds are fickle. Real faith keeps following when the cheering stops.
11:11 having looked around at all things Like a landlord walking his property, noting what was wrong. He did not act that evening but came back the next day. Jesus never acts rashly. When He moves, it is on purpose.
11:13 He found nothing except leaves; for it was not the season of figs He was hungry; fully God and fully man, He got tired and hungry like we do. Why look for fruit out of season? In Israel fig trees put out small early fruit along with their leaves in spring, before the main crop, and people often ate them. A tree in full leaf promised something should be there. This tree made a show but had nothing to give.
11:14 May no one eat fruit from you anymore forever The only miracle of judgment in Mark. Jesus was not losing His temper at a tree but acting out a living parable, as the prophets often did. The fig tree pictured Israel (Jer 8:13; Hos 9:10). Mark wraps the tree around the temple cleansing so we read them together. The temple was full of religious leaves and no fruit. God is not impressed with leaves. He looks for fruit.
11:15 He overturned the tables of the money changers and the seats of those selling the doves This was the Court of the Gentiles, the only part of the temple where non-Jews could come and pray. Pilgrims needed animals and the right coin for the temple tax, and money changers often took a fat fee. Doves were the sacrifice the poor could afford (Lev 5:7). This was no quiet protest. The gentle Servant was also Lord of the temple, and He was angry.
11:16 He was not permitting anyone to carry a vessel through the temple People used the outer court as a shortcut, carrying their goods. Only Mark records this. How we treat the place and time of worship shows what we think of God. Our gatherings should be marked by reverence, not business as usual.
11:17 My house will be called a house of prayer for all the nations Jesus quotes Isaiah 56:7, and only Mark includes "for all the nations." God always meant His temple as a place where Gentiles could pray, and the trade had shut them out. A den of robbers (Jer 7:11) is where robbers hide after robbing. The leaders cheated in God's name and hid behind the temple. Jeremiah's warning came before the first temple fell, and Jesus' words came true in A.D. 70.
11:18 they were seeking how they might destroy Him The chief priests ran the temple and profited from the trade, and Jesus hit them where it hurt. They could not arrest Him before the astonished crowd, so they looked for another way. Each night that week He left the city, likely for Bethany or the Mount of Olives (Luke 21:37).
11:21 the fig tree which You cursed has been dried up Dead from the roots up, not just wilted. What Jesus says happens. Religion with leaves and no fruit will not last.
11:22 Have faith of God He did not explain the tree. He turned them to faith that has God as its object. The disciples were amazed at the power; Jesus pointed them to the One it came from. Our faith is only as good as the One we put it in.
11:23 whoever says to this mountain, 'Be taken up and be cast into the sea,' Likely standing on the Mount of Olives, where on a clear day you can see the Dead Sea. A mountain was a common Jewish picture of a problem impossible to move. Jesus is not teaching that we can make God do whatever we want if we believe hard enough. Faith is trust in God, not a force we use on Him. Praying in line with His will, no obstacle is too big for Him.
11:24 believe that you receive them, and it will be done for you A wonderful promise read with the rest of Scripture: we receive what we ask "according to His will" (1 John 5:14), and Jesus prayed, "not what I want, but what You want" (14:36). Believing prayer asks for what God wants to give and trusts Him for His way and time. Do you pray expecting an answer, or pray and go on worrying?

you. 25 And whenever you stand praying, forgive if you have anything against anyone, so that your Father who is in the heavens may also forgive you your trespasses. 26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in the heavens forgive your trespasses."

Jesus' Authority Questioned

27 And they come again to Jerusalem. And as He is walking in the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders come to Him, 28 and they say to Him, "By what authority are You doing these things? And who gave You this authority, that You should do these things?" 29 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "I also will ask you one word, and answer Me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things: 30 The baptism of John (Ioannes), was it from heaven or from men? Answer Me." 31 And they were reasoning with themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?' 32 But if we say, 'From men'"—they were afraid of the people; for all were holding John, that he truly was a prophet. 33 And answering, they say to Jesus, "We do not know." And Jesus, answering, says to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

MARK 12

The Wicked Tenants

1 And He began to say to them in parables: "A man planted a vineyard, and put a fence around it, and dug a wine vat, and built a tower; and he rented it out to farmers and went abroad. 2 And at the season he sent a slave to the farmers, so that he might receive from the farmers from the fruit of the vineyard. 3 And they, having taken him, beat him and sent him away empty. 4 And again he sent to them another slave; and having stoned that one, they wounded him in the head and sent him away dishonored. 5 And again he sent another; and that one they killed; and many others, beating some and killing some. 6 Having yet therefore one son, his beloved, he sent him also to them last, saying, 'They will respect my son.' 7 But those farmers said to themselves, 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.' 8 And having taken him, they killed him and cast him out of the vineyard. 9 What therefore will the master of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy the farmers and give the vineyard to others. 10 Have you not even read this Scripture: 'A stone which those building rejected, this has become the head of the corner; 11 this was from the Lord, and it is mar-

11:25 forgive if you have anything against anyone Jews often stood to pray. You cannot hold a grudge in one hand and reach out to God with the other. We do not earn God's forgiveness by forgiving, but a heart that has received mercy shows mercy. If you are struggling in prayer, ask whether there is someone you need to forgive.
11:26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in the heavens forgive your trespasses The same truth the other way around: one who refuses to forgive has not understood God's forgiveness (Matt 18:21-35). The SLB follows the Received Text, which includes this verse. Most older Greek copies of Mark lack it, and many modern Bibles bracket or footnote it. Jesus says the same in Matthew 6:15 in all copies, so no teaching rests on this verse alone.
11:27 the chief priests and the scribes and the elders The three groups of the Sanhedrin, the ruling council of seventy and the high priest. This was an official challenge.
11:28 By what authority are You doing these things? They had not given Him the right to cleanse the temple. Say from God, and they could charge blasphemy; say from Himself, and they could dismiss Him.
11:30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men? A question back was a common way rabbis debated, and it was no dodge. John had pointed to Jesus (1:7-8). If John's ministry came from God, so did Jesus' authority. Before judging Him they had to deal with what God had already said through John.
11:31 Why then did you not believe him? They never asked what was true, only what was safe. That is the mark of someone who does not want the truth. They feared the crowd more than God.
11:33 We do not know A lie, and a cowardly one, from the teachers of Israel about the most famous prophet of their day. Jesus would not give more light to those refusing the light they had. When people keep rejecting what God shows them, He may stop showing them more. For an honest heart the answer is plain: His authority is from heaven, because He is the Son of God.
12:1 A man planted a vineyard Told to the leaders who had just questioned His authority (11:27). Any Jew would think of Isaiah's song of the vineyard, "the house of Israel" (Isa 5:7), where God looked for good grapes and found wild ones. The owner did everything needed: a fence for protection, a vat to press grapes, a tower for a watchman. Absent landowners renting to tenant farmers for a share of the crop were common in Galilee.
12:5 many others, beating some and killing some The owner had a right to his share. The slaves are the prophets God sent again and again. Jeremiah was beaten and thrown in a pit; tradition says Isaiah was killed; Zechariah son of Jehoiada was stoned in the temple court (2 Chr 24:20-21). Any human landlord would have given up long before. This is God's long patience with His people.
12:6 Having yet therefore one son, his beloved, he sent him also to them last Beloved is the Father's word from heaven at the baptism and transfiguration (1:11; 9:7). Jesus was telling them plainly who He is. Last means no one would come after Him. God spoke through the prophets, and in these last days He has spoken in His Son (Heb 1:1-2). Jesus is God's final word.
12:7 This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance will be ours That is the heart of sin. People want God's gifts without God, to run their own lives and keep what belongs to Him.
12:8 they killed him and cast him out of the vineyard Jesus was telling these leaders what they were about to do. Within days they would hand Him over, and He would die outside the city walls (Heb 13:12).
12:9 He will come and destroy the farmers and give the vineyard to others Judgment fell on those who rejected the Son when Rome destroyed Jerusalem and the temple in A.D. 70, ending these leaders' rule. The others are new leaders over God's people, the apostles and the church built on the Son. This does not mean God has rejected Israel forever. A partial hardening lasts until the fullness of the Gentiles comes in, and "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). God's promises to Israel still stand.
12:10 A stone which those building rejected, this has become the head of the corner The experts in Scripture had not read it rightly. Psalm 118, the psalm the crowds sang (11:9), says the builders, Israel's leaders, threw the stone aside, but God made Him the most important stone in the building. They would kill the Son; God would raise Him. Peter preached this to the same council (Acts 4:10-11).

velous in our eyes'?" 12 And they were seeking to lay hold of Him, and they feared the crowd; for they knew that He had spoken the parable against them. And having left Him, they went away.

Taxes to Caesar

13 And they send to Him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, so that they might catch Him in a word. 14 And having come, they say to Him, "Teacher, we know that You are true and You do not care about anyone; for You do not look at the face of men, but You teach the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give a poll tax to Caesar, or not? 15 Should we give, or should we not give?" But He, knowing their hypocrisy, said to them, "Why are you testing Me? Bring Me a denarius, so that I may see it." 16 And they brought it. And He says to them, "Whose is this image and the inscription?" And they said to Him, "Caesar's." 17 And Jesus (Iesous), answering, said to them, "Give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God." And they marveled at Him.

A Question About the Resurrection

18 And Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, come to Him; and they asked Him, saying, 19 "Teacher, Moses wrote for us that if anyone's brother dies and leaves behind a wife and does not leave children, his brother should take his wife and raise up seed for his brother. 20 There were therefore seven brothers; and the first took a wife, and dying, he did not leave seed. 21 And the second took her and died, and neither did he leave seed; and the third likewise. 22 And the seven took her and did not leave seed. Last of all the woman also died. 23 In the resurrection, therefore, when they rise, of which of them will she be wife? For the seven had her as wife." 24 And Jesus, answering, said to them, "Is it not because of this that you are in error, not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God? 25 For when they rise out of the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels who are in the heavens. 26 But concerning the dead, that they are raised, have you not read in the book of Moses, how at the bush God spoke to him, saying, 'I am the God of Abraham (Abraam) and the God of Isaac (Isaak) and the God of Jacob (Iakob)'? 27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the living. You therefore are greatly in error."

The Great Commandment

28 And one of the scribes, having come up, having heard them disputing, knowing that He had answered them well, asked Him, "Which is the first commandment of all?" 29 And Jesus answered him, "The first of all the commandments is: 'Hear, Israel: the Lord our God, the Lord is one; 30 and you shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'

12:12 they knew that He had spoken the parable against them They understood exactly and still did not repent. They did what the parable said they would do. It is possible to understand the truth perfectly and still refuse it. Knowing about Jesus is not bowing to Him.
12:13 so that they might catch Him in a word A hunting picture, a snare. The Pharisees hated Roman rule; the Herodians backed Herod, who ruled with Rome's support. They agreed on nothing except getting rid of Jesus (3:6).
12:14 Is it lawful to give a poll tax to Caesar, or not? They began with flattery, every word true and none meant. Flattery is praise with a hook in it. The poll tax was paid by every person to Rome, and the Jews hated it. Say yes, and the crowd would see Him siding with Rome; say no, and the Herodians could report Him as a rebel. He asked for a denarius, the silver Roman coin used to pay the tax, about a day's wage, bearing the face of Tiberius Caesar and words calling him son of the divine Augustus.
12:17 Give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God Caesar's image was on the coin, so give it back. Christians pay taxes and respect government (Rom 13:1-7). But what bears God's image? We do (Gen 1:27). Caesar can have the coin; God must have all of you. No government gets what belongs to God alone: our worship and final loyalty. The trap snapped shut on empty air.
12:18 Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection The only time Mark mentions them. A smaller party of wealthy, powerful Jews, many of them priests, who controlled the temple and high priesthood. They took only the five books of Moses as final authority and denied resurrection, angels and spirits (Acts 23:8).
12:19 his brother should take his wife and raise up seed for his brother Deuteronomy 25:5-6. The custom kept a dead man's family line and land alive; Ruth and Boaz show a related custom (Ruth 4). They started with Moses, thinking he was on their side.
12:23 In the resurrection, therefore, when they rise, of which of them will she be wife? They likely used this story often to embarrass the Pharisees. If life after death is just like this life, they reasoned, resurrection creates impossible problems, so there must not be one.
12:24 not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God Jesus did not mock them. He went to the root. They had read the Scriptures without understanding, and they limited God to what they could imagine. Most errors about the faith come from one or both. The answer is to know God's word and trust God's power.
12:25 they neither marry nor are given in marriage, but are like angels The resurrection life is not a copy of this one. Marriage is for this age; where there is no death, there is no need for new births. We do not become angels; we are like them in this. The verse does not say we will forget those we love. Believers will be with the Lord and with one another (1 Thess 4:17). And yes, angels are real.
12:26 I am the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob Jesus answered from Moses, the part of Scripture they accepted (Exod 3:6). The patriarchs had been dead for centuries, yet God said I am, not I was.
12:27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the living God's covenant with them did not end at death. They are alive to Him and will be raised. Jesus built an argument on the tense of one verb, showing how much He trusted every word of Scripture. "Greatly in error": plain words, said in love.
12:28 Which is the first commandment of all? The rabbis counted 613 commands in the Law and debated which were heavier. Matthew calls the question a test (Matt 22:35), but Mark shows an honest man impressed with Jesus' answer.
12:29 Hear, Israel: the Lord our God, the Lord is one The Shema, from the Hebrew for hear, prayed by every Jew morning and evening (Deut 6:4-5). There is only one true God. This is the starting point.
12:30 with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength Heart, our inner life and choices. Soul, life itself. Mind, the way we think. Strength, all our energy and effort. God does not want part of us. He wants all of us. Loving God is not just a feeling. It is giving Him everything we are.

This is the first commandment. 31 And the second is like it, this: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.' There is no other commandment greater than these." 32 And the scribe said to Him, "Well said, Teacher; You have spoken in truth that God is one, and there is no other besides Him; 33 and to love Him with all the heart and with all the understanding and with all the soul and with all the strength, and to love the neighbor as oneself, is more than all the burnt offerings and the sacrifices." 34 And Jesus, having seen him, that he answered wisely, said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God." And no one any longer was daring to question Him.

David's Son and Lord

35 And Jesus, answering, was saying, teaching in the temple, "How do the scribes say that the Christ is the son of David (Dabid)? 36 For David himself said by the Holy Spirit, 'The Lord said to my Lord, "Sit at My right hand until I make Your enemies a footstool of Your feet."' 37 Therefore David himself calls Him Lord; and from where is He his son?" And the great crowd was listening to Him gladly.

Warnings and a Widow's Gift

38 And He was saying to them in His teaching, "Beware of the scribes who desire to walk around in robes, and greetings in the marketplaces, 39 and first seats in the synagogues and first places at the feasts, 40 who devour the houses of the widows, and for a pretext pray at length. These will receive greater judgment." 41 And Jesus, having sat down opposite the treasury, was watching how the crowd casts copper money into the treasury; and many rich people were casting in much. 42 And one poor widow, having come, cast in two lepta, which is a quadrans. 43 And having called His disciples to Him, He says to them, "Truly I say to you that this poor widow has cast in more than all those having cast into the treasury; 44 for all cast in out of what is abounding to them, but she out of her poverty cast in all that she had, her whole livelihood."

Signs of the End

1 And as He is going out of the temple, one of His disciples says to Him, "Teacher, look, what stones and what buildings!" 2 And Jesus (Iesous), answering, said to him, "Do you see these great buildings? There will certainly not be left stone on stone which will certainly not be thrown down." 3 And as He is sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter (Petros) and James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes) and Andrew (Andreas) were asking Him privately, 4 "Tell us, when will these things be? And what will be the sign when all these things are about to be accomplished?" 5 And Jesus, answering them, began to say, "Take heed lest 12:31 You shall love your neighbor as yourself Asked for one, He gave two (Lev 19:18). You cannot love God and hate the people He made (1 John 4:20). Every other command hangs on these. And none of us has kept them perfectly. Only Jesus has. That is why we need Him.

12:33 is more than all the burnt offerings and the sacrifices A brave thing to say in the temple with sacrifices going on all around, but the prophets said it long before (1 Sam 15:22; Hos 6:6). Rituals mean nothing without a heart that loves God and others.
12:34 You are not far from the kingdom of God A compliment and a warning. Not far is not the same as in. He knew love mattered more than ritual, but he still needed to come to the King Himself. Many today know the facts and agree with the teaching and have never turned to Jesus. Are you in, or only near? Every trap had failed.
12:36 The Lord said to my Lord Psalm 110:1, the Old Testament verse most quoted in the New. Jesus says David wrote it by the Holy Spirit; Scripture is inspired by God. No father in Israel would call his own son Lord.
12:37 David himself calls Him Lord; and from where is He his son? The Messiah is both: David's son, born in his line, and David's Lord, the eternal Son of God. Jesus is fully man and fully God.
12:38 Beware of the scribes who desire to walk around in robes Not every scribe; He had just praised one. Long flowing robes showed off status, and people bowed in the markets and called them Rabbi. The front seats in the synagogue faced the people.
12:40 who devour the houses of the widows, and for a pretext pray at length Some took advantage of widows who trusted them with their property, or lived off their gifts, and prayed long in public to look holy. The more you know, the more you answer for (James 3:1). Religious leaders who abuse the weak will face God.
12:41 was watching how the crowd casts copper money into the treasury Offering boxes stood in the Court of the Women, said to be shaped like trumpets, and thrown coins made noise. Jesus still sees what we give and how, not just the amount but the heart.
12:42 two lepta, which is a quadrans A lepton was the smallest Jewish coin; two made a quadrans, the smallest Roman coin, as Mark explains for Roman readers. Right after the warning about scribes devouring widows' houses, here is a widow giving to God anyway. She could have kept one coin. She gave both.
12:44 she out of her poverty cast in all that she had, her whole livelihood God measures a gift by what is left over. The rich gave from their extra and never missed it; she gave all she had to live on and trusted God. A small gift from a sacrificial heart means more to Him than a big one that costs nothing. In days Jesus would give His whole life. She is the last person He points to before leaving the temple for good.
13:1 Teacher, look, what stones and what buildings! Herod the Great began rebuilding the temple about 20 B.C., and work was still going on (John 2:20). Some stones weighed many tons, and the white stone and gold trim shone in the sun. The disciples were like tourists from the country. But Jesus had just watched a widow give everything to that temple while its leaders devoured widows' houses (12:40-44).
13:2 There will certainly not be left stone on stone About forty years later, in A.D. 70, the Roman army under Titus captured Jerusalem and burned the temple, and the Romans tore the buildings down, as the Jewish historian Josephus describes. What looks most solid can be gone in a day. Only God and His word last forever.
13:3 as He is sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple From the Mount of Olives you look straight across the Kidron Valley at the temple mount. The four who asked were the first four He called (1:16-20).
13:4 when will these things be? They asked when the temple would fall and what the sign would be. Matthew shows they also asked about His coming and the consummation of the age (Matt 24:3). In their minds these were one event. Jesus' answer covers both, and we must read carefully to see which part speaks of which.

anyone mislead you. 6 For many will come in My name, saying, 'I am He,' and they will mislead many. 7 And when you hear of wars and rumors of wars, do not be alarmed; for it must happen, but the end is not yet. 8 For nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be earthquakes in various places, and there will be famines and disturbances. These are beginnings of birth pains. 9 But take heed to yourselves; for they will deliver you up to councils, and in synagogues you will be beaten, and before governors and kings you will be brought for My sake, for a testimony to them. 10 And to all the nations the gospel must first be preached. 11 And when they lead you, delivering you up, do not be anxious beforehand what you should speak, nor premeditate; but whatever is given to you in that hour, speak this; for you are not the ones speaking, but the Holy Spirit. 12 And brother will deliver up brother to death, and a father his child; and children will rise up against parents and will put them to death. 13 And you will be hated by all on account of My name; but the one having endured to the end, he will be saved.

13:6 many will come in My name, saying, 'I am He,' The first thing Jesus gave was a warning, not a date. He cared more about their faithfulness than their curiosity. False messiahs rose before A.D. 70 and in every century since, some claiming to be Jesus returned, others claiming a special word no one else has. They will fool many. The way to spot a counterfeit is to know the real thing, Jesus as Scripture shows Him.
13:7 do not be alarmed; for it must happen, but the end is not yet Wars will come. Jesus said not to panic. They are not the sign that the end has arrived.
13:8 These are beginnings of birth pains Labor pains come closer together and harder as the birth nears. These troubles are part of every age, but they will grow in strength as the end approaches and point to the great travail of the Tribulation. Every war and earthquake reminds us this broken world is not our home and Jesus is coming.
13:9 they will deliver you up to councils, and in synagogues you will be beaten The councils were local Jewish courts, and synagogues also held trials. Acts shows it coming true: Peter and John before the Sanhedrin (Acts 4), Paul beaten in synagogues and standing before Felix, Festus and Agrippa (Acts 24-26). Even persecution becomes a testimony to them.
13:10 to all the nations the gospel must first be preached God's plan from the start (Gen 12:3), and our job while we wait for Jesus. Even during the Tribulation God will send His gospel to every nation, tribe, tongue and people (Rev 14:6). He will not let the end come without warning the world.
13:11 you are not the ones speaking, but the Holy Spirit A promise for believers on trial for their faith, not for lazy preachers who will not study. Peter, who would deny Jesus, later stood before the council "filled with the Holy Spirit" (Acts 4:8) and spoke boldly.
13:13 the one having endured to the end, he will be saved The deepest pain of persecution often comes from family. Hated not for being difficult or unkind but for His name. We do not save ourselves by hanging on. Those who truly belong to Him will endure, because He keeps them. In the setting of the Tribulation it can also mean those who endure to the end of that time will be delivered when Christ returns. Endurance is the mark of real faith.
13:14 the abomination of the desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet An abomination is something God hates, here an idol set in His holy place, bringing ruin (Dan 9:27; 11:31; 12:11). Antiochus Epiphanes set up an altar to Zeus in the temple about 167 B.C., a preview, but Jesus spoke of it as still to come. I believe it belongs to the future Tribulation. A coming ruler will make a seven-year covenant and break it in the middle (Dan 9:27), and the man of lawlessness will take his seat in God's temple, displaying himself as God (2 Thess 2:3-4). Many believe this is the Antichrist. A.D. 70 (Luke 21:20-24) was a terrible judgment and a foretaste. Some teachers see this verse fulfilled wholly in A.D. 70, but I hold the future view.
13:15 let the one on the housetop not come down into the house Flat roofs were used for rest and work, often with outside stairs. Go straight down and run. Do not go back for anything.
13:16 not turn back to the things behind to take his cloak A field worker left his outer cloak at the edge of the field. Do not go back even for that. Lot's wife looked back (Gen 19:26). When God says flee, you flee.
13:18 pray that your flight may not happen in winter Jesus had tender pity for mothers who could not run fast. Winter brings rain, cold and flooded streams. Jesus cared about the practical details of His people's suffering. He knows what is coming, and He cares.
13:19 tribulation such as has not happened like it from the beginning of creation Worse than anything in all history and anything after. That is why I believe this cannot be only A.D. 70; worse has followed. Daniel ties such a time of distress to the end and the resurrection (Dan 12:1); Jeremiah calls it the time of Jacob's distress (Jer 30:7); Revelation 6-19 describes it. I believe Christ will come for His church before it begins: "God did not appoint us for wrath, but for obtaining salvation" (1 Thess 5:9; see 1 Thess 4:16-17; John 14:3). The discourse speaks to disciples as Jews in Israel, and in that day to those in Judea who come to faith during the Tribulation.
13:20 on account of the elect, whom He chose, He shortened the days Saved here means kept alive. Without God's limit no one would survive. The elect are those who belong to Him in the Tribulation, Israel and people from every nation who turn to Him then (Rev 7). Daniel and Revelation measure it: three and a half years, 1,260 days, forty-two months (Dan 7:25; Rev 11:2-3; 12:6). Even in history's darkest time, God is in control and watches over His own.
13:21 Look, here is the Christ! People will claim Christ has come in secret, in some hidden place. Do not believe it. His coming will be seen by all.
13:22 they will give signs and wonders so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect The false prophets will do real signs; one will make fire come down from heaven (Rev 13:13-14). Miracles alone do not prove something is from God (Deut 13:1-3). Test everything by God's word. "If possible" tells us God will keep His own. The elect will not be finally deceived.

ble, even the elect. 23 But you, take heed; look, I have foretold all things to you.

The Coming of the Son of Man

24 But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not give its light, 25 and the stars of heaven will be falling, and the powers that are in the heavens will be shaken. 26 And then they will see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory. 27 And then He will send His angels and will gather together His elect from the four winds, from the end of the earth to the end of heaven.

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

28 Now learn the parable from the fig tree: when its branch has already become tender and puts forth the leaves, you know that the summer is near. 29 So you also, when you see these things coming to pass, know that it is near, at the doors. 30 Truly I say to you that this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things happen. 31 The heaven and the earth will pass away, but My words will certainly not pass away.

Keep Watch

32 But concerning that day and the hour no one knows, not even the angels who are in heaven, nor the Son, except the Father. 33 Take heed, be alert and pray; for you do not know when the time is. 34 It is like a man away on a journey, having left his house and having given to his slaves the authority, and to each one his work; and he commanded the doorkeeper that he should keep watch. 35 Keep watch therefore, for you do not know when the master of the house is coming, in the evening, or at midnight, or at the crowing of the rooster, or in the morning, 36 lest, having come suddenly, he find you sleeping. 37 And what I say to you, I say to all: keep watch!"

MARK 14

The Anointing at Bethany

1 Now the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread were after two days. And the chief priests and the scribes were seeking how, having seized Him by deceit, they might kill Him. 2 But they were saying, "Not during the feast, lest there 13:23 I have foretold all things to you Prophecy is not given so we can argue about charts but so we stay faithful, watchful and calm when the world shakes. God is never surprised.

13:24 after that tribulation, the sun will be darkened Matthew says "immediately after the tribulation" (Matt 24:29). The words echo the prophets (Isa 13:10; Joel 2:31). I take them plainly. God will shake the heavens, and the lights of the sky will fail (Rev 6:12-14). The universe will announce that its Creator is about to appear.
13:26 they will see the Son of Man coming in clouds with great power and glory This is the Second Coming, in the words of Daniel 7:13. His first coming was quiet, a baby in a manger and a servant on a donkey. This one will be in power, and everyone will see it (Rev 1:7). Christ returns visibly to the earth at the end of the Tribulation as King of kings (Rev 19:11-16) and sets up His kingdom on the earth for a thousand years (Rev 20:4-6).
13:27 He will send His angels and will gather together His elect from the four winds The four winds means every direction. Some see the rapture here. I believe it is not. At the rapture the Lord Himself comes in the air for the church and believers are caught up to meet Him (1 Thess 4:16-17). Here, at the end of the Tribulation, angels gather the believing remnant of Israel and those who came to faith in the Tribulation to enter His kingdom. The prophets promised God would gather scattered Israel (Isa 11:12; Deut 30:3-4), and He has a future for that nation (Rom 11:25-29).
13:28 learn the parable from the fig tree Olive trees keep their leaves all year; the fig tree loses them in winter, and new leaves mean summer is close. Some teachers also see the fig tree as Israel and point to its rebirth as a nation in 1948, but Jesus' main point is simpler: when the signs begin, know that His coming is near, at the doors.
13:30 this generation will certainly not pass away until all these things happen One of the most debated verses. Many dispensational teachers take it as the generation that sees the signs; those alive when the abomination is set up will see the Lord return. Others read generation as race or kind, the Jewish people preserved until all is fulfilled. Others apply it to the disciples' own generation and A.D. 70. Good teachers hold each view.
13:31 My words will certainly not pass away Whatever we debate, this is certain. The universe will one day be gone, but every word Jesus spoke will stand. You can stake your life on it.
13:32 no one knows, not even the angels who are in heaven, nor the Son, except the Father As man, the Son set aside the independent use of some divine rights (Phil 2:6-8). He lived as a servant in full dependence on the Father and knew what the Father gave Him to know. Even after the resurrection He said the times were the Father's (Acts 1:7). Anyone who sets a date claims to know what Jesus said only the Father knows. Run from date setters.
13:33 Take heed, be alert and pray The right response to prophecy is not fear or speculation but watchfulness and prayer. Are you ready if Jesus came today? Is there anything you would want to make right first?
13:34 to each one his work; and he commanded the doorkeeper that he should keep watch Jesus is the man away on a journey, gone to the Father. We are not to sit and stare at the sky but to be busy with the work He gave us, ready to open the door the moment He comes. Each of us has a job in His house. Are you doing yours?
13:36 having come suddenly, he find you sleeping The four Roman watches ran from evening to dawn; He could come at any hour. The danger is not that Jesus will come too soon, but that we will be spiritually asleep: careless, distracted, living for ourselves. Suddenly fits the teaching that Christ's coming for His church could happen at any moment. Nothing has to happen first.
13:37 what I say to you, I say to all: keep watch! Spoken to four men on a hillside and meant for everyone who would ever follow Him. Not a timeline or a chart, but a command. In Gethsemane these same men were told to keep watch and fell asleep (14:34-41). Let us learn from them. Stay awake. Stay faithful. Jesus is coming.
14:1 the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread were after two days Passover remembered the night the angel of death passed over the houses marked with the lamb's blood (Exod 12), and the seven-day Feast of Unleavened Bread followed. Jerusalem was packed with pilgrims. The leaders had already decided He must die; the only question was how.
14:2 Not during the feast, lest there be an uproar of the people They wanted to wait until the crowds went home. But God had His own timing. Jesus, "our Passover" (1 Cor 5:7), would die at the Passover, when the lambs were sacrificed.

be an uproar of the people." 3 And while He was in Bethany (Bethania) in the house of Simon the leper, as He was reclining, a woman came having an alabaster flask of perfume of pure nard, very costly; and having broken the alabaster flask, she poured it down on His head. 4 But there were some indignant among themselves and saying, "Why has this waste of the perfume happened? 5 For this could have been sold for more than three hundred denarii and given to the poor." And they were scolding her. 6 But Jesus (Iesous) said, "Leave her alone. Why are you causing her trouble? She did a good work toward Me. 7 For you always have the poor with you, and whenever you want, you are able to do good to them; but Me you do not always have. 8 What this woman had she did; she came beforehand to anoint My body for the burial. 9 Truly I say to you, wherever this gospel is preached in the whole world, what this woman did will also be spoken of for a memorial of her."

Judas Agrees to Betray Jesus

10 And Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), one of the twelve, went away to the chief priests in order that he might deliver Him up to them. 11 And having heard it, they rejoiced and promised to give him money. And he was seeking how he might conveniently deliver Him up.

The Last Supper

12 And on the first day of the Unleavened Bread, when they were sacrificing the Passover, His disciples say to Him, "Where do You want us, having gone, to prepare, so that You may eat the Passover?" 13 And He sends two of His disciples and says to them, "Go into the city, and a man carrying a jar of water will meet you; follow him. 14 And wherever he enters, say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says, "Where is the guest room where I may eat the Passover with My disciples?"' 15 And he himself will show you a large upper room, furnished and ready; there prepare for us." 16 And His disciples went out and came into the city and found it just as He had said to them; and they prepared the Passover. 17 And evening having come, He comes with the twelve. 18 And as they were reclining and eating, Jesus said, "Truly I say to you that one of you will deliver Me up, the one eating with Me." 19 And they began to be grieved and to say to Him one by one, "Surely not I?" And another, "Surely not I?" 20 And answering, He said to them, "It is one of the twelve, the one dipping with Me into the bowl. 21 The Son of Man indeed goes just as it has been written concerning Him; but woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is delivered up! It would have been good for him if that man had not been born." 22 And as they were eating, Jesus, having taken bread, having blessed, broke it and gave it to them and said, "Take, eat; this is My body." 23 And having taken the cup, having given thanks, He gave it to them, and they all drank

14:3 an alabaster flask of perfume of pure nard, very costly Simon may have been a leper Jesus healed, since no one with active leprosy could host a dinner. Nard came from a plant in the mountains of India. An alabaster flask was a long-necked jar of soft white stone. She broke it and gave all of it, not a few drops. John tells us she was Mary, sister of Martha and Lazarus (John 12:3).
14:5 more than three hundred denarii Close to a year's pay. Judas was among the critics (John 12:4-6). What they called waste, Jesus called worship. Those who do not love Jesus much will always think love for Him is wasteful.
14:6 She did a good work toward Me The word for good means beautiful. What she did was lovely to Him.
14:7 you always have the poor with you Jesus was not saying the poor do not matter; He echoed Deuteronomy 15:11, which tells Israel to open its hand to them. There would always be a chance to help the poor, but only days left to honor Jesus before the cross. Some opportunities come only once.
14:8 she came beforehand to anoint My body for the burial She gave what she had, and that is all God asks. Bodies were anointed after death; she did it before. Maybe she understood what the disciples did not, that He was really going to die.
14:9 what this woman did will also be spoken of for a memorial of her Two thousand years later we are telling her story. Jesus kept His word. Nothing done for Him out of love is ever forgotten.
14:10 Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve A woman gave a year's wages; one of His own went to sell Him. Iscariot probably means man of Kerioth, a town in Judea. Matthew tells of the thirty silver coins (Matt 26:15); John says he was a thief and that Satan entered him (John 12:6; 13:27). Money had been his god a long time, and the leaders now had a man on the inside.
14:12 when they were sacrificing the Passover The lambs were killed at the temple in the afternoon, and each group roasted its lamb to eat that night with unleavened bread, bitter herbs and wine. Thousands of pilgrims needed a room in the city. Mark is read here plainly as a Passover meal.
14:13 a man carrying a jar of water will meet you The two were Peter and John (Luke 22:8). Carrying water jars was usually women's work, so a man doing it would stand out.
14:15 a large upper room, furnished and ready He kept the place secret, perhaps so Judas could not lead the leaders there before the meal was over. They found it just as He said. Everything was going according to His plan.
14:18 one of you will deliver Me up, the one eating with Me Eating together meant friendship and trust, so betraying one you shared bread with was the worst treachery (Ps 41:9).
14:19 Surely not I? To their credit, none pointed at someone else. Each looked at his own heart. That is a good place to start when we hear a warning.
14:20 the one dipping with Me into the bowl They all dipped bread into a shared bowl. Jesus did not name Judas before everyone. Even now He gave him room to turn back.
14:21 woe to that man through whom the Son of Man is delivered up His death was God's plan, foretold in Scripture, yet that did not remove Judas' guilt. He chose freely and was responsible. Both are true: God is in control, and people are accountable. Better never born are among the most solemn words Jesus spoke about anyone.
14:22 Take, eat; this is My body Flat bread without yeast. The head of the house explained each part of the meal, and Jesus gave the bread a new meaning: His body about to be broken for them. As we take food in, we take Christ by faith. Here began the Lord's Supper, kept in remembrance of Him (1 Cor 11:24).

of it. 24 And He said to them, "This is My blood, the blood of the new covenant, which is being poured out for many. 25 Truly I say to you that I will certainly no longer drink of the produce of the vine until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God."

Peter's Denial Foretold

26 And having sung a hymn, they went out to the Mount of Olives. 27 And Jesus says to them, "All of you will be caused to stumble in Me during this night; for it has been written, 'I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered.' 28 But after I have been raised, I will go before you into Galilee (Galilaia)." 29 But Peter (Petros) said to Him, "Even if all will be caused to stumble, yet not I!" 30 And Jesus says to him, "Truly I say to you that today, in this night, before a rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times." 31 But he kept saying all the more emphatically, "If I must die with You, I will certainly not deny You!" And likewise they all were also saying.

Gethsemane

32 And they come to a place whose name is Gethsemane; and He says to His disciples, "Sit here while I pray." 33 And He takes along Peter and James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes) with Him, and He began to be greatly alarmed and to be deeply distressed. 34 And He says to them, "My soul is very sorrowful, to the point of death. Remain here and keep watch." 35 And having gone forward a little, He fell on the ground and was praying that, if it is possible, the hour might pass from Him. 36 And He was saying, "Abba, Father, all things are possible for You; take this cup away from Me. But not what I want, but what You want." 37 And He comes and finds them sleeping, and He says to Peter, "Simon, are you sleeping? Were you not able to keep watch one hour? 38 Keep watch and pray, so that you may not enter into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak." 39 And again having gone away, He prayed, saying the same word. 40 And having returned, He found them again sleeping, for their eyes were weighed down; and they did not know what they should answer Him. 41 And He comes the third time and says to them, "Are you still sleeping and taking your rest? It is enough; the hour has come. Look, the Son of Man is delivered up into the hands of the 14:24 This is My blood, the blood of the new covenant A covenant is a binding agreement. Moses sprinkled the blood of the covenant at Sinai (Exod 24:8), and Jeremiah promised a new covenant written on hearts, with sins remembered no more (Jer 31:31-34). The lamb's blood saved Israel from death; Christ's blood saves us from sin and judgment. For many points back to 10:45.

14:24 which is being poured out for many Christians understand these words differently: Roman Catholics teach the bread and wine become Christ's body and blood, Lutherans that He is present in, with and under them, many Reformed a spiritual presence, and many Baptist and Bible churches that they are pictures, as He called Himself the door and the vine. Plainly, the Supper is a remembrance and a proclamation: we "proclaim the death of the Lord until He comes" (1 Cor 11:26). Come with reverence and an examined heart.

14:24 the blood of the new covenant Jeremiah says the new covenant is made "with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah" (Jer 31:31). Some teachers say the church has taken Israel's place in it. I believe the church shares now in its forgiveness through His blood, while God will still keep every promise of it to the nation of Israel when Christ returns (Rom 11:26-27).

14:25 until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God Not goodbye forever. He looked past the cross to the kingdom, certain of His resurrection and return. He will eat and drink with His people again at the marriage supper of the Lamb (Rev 19:9). At the table we look back to the cross and forward to that day.

14:26 having sung a hymn At Passover Jews sang the Hallel, Psalms 113 to 118, likely finishing as they left. Psalm 118 holds the rejected stone (118:22) and "This is the day which the LORD has made" (Ps 118:24). Think of Jesus singing praise on His way to Gethsemane and the cross.

14:27 I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep will be scattered From Zechariah 13:7. Notice who strikes: God Himself. The cross was not only men's work but God's plan to punish sin in His Son (Isa 53:10).

14:28 after I have been raised, I will go before you into Galilee Before they had even failed, He promised a reunion. He would not abandon them after they abandoned Him. That is grace.

14:30 before a rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times Peter meant his boast and loved Jesus, but he trusted his own strength. Only Mark mentions two crowings, a detail Peter would remember. Every one of them was sure. Self-confidence is not faith. "Let the one who thinks he stands watch, lest he fall" (1 Cor 10:12).

14:32 a place whose name is Gethsemane Gethsemane means oil press, an olive grove on the slope of the Mount of Olives where olives were crushed for oil. That night Jesus would be pressed under the weight of what was coming. In the greatest crisis of His life, He prayed. How much more do we need to?

14:33 He began to be greatly alarmed and to be deeply distressed The three who saw His glory on the mountain now saw His agony in the garden. Mark uses strong words. Jesus was overwhelmed.

14:34 My soul is very sorrowful, to the point of death Fully human, He felt real grief and dread. Many have faced death bravely, but Jesus was about to bear the sin of the world and God's wrath against it (2 Cor 5:21). No one has ever faced anything like that. He wanted His friends near.

14:36 Abba, Father Abba is the Aramaic word a child used for his father, a word of close, loving trust, and only Mark keeps it here. The cup was God's wrath against sin (Isa 51:17). The greatest act of surrender in history: He told the Father honestly what He felt, then gave His will to the Father's. We can pray that way. The cup did not pass, because there was no other way for us to be saved.

14:37 Simon, are you sleeping? His old name, not Peter, the rock. A few hours earlier Peter promised to die with Him. Now he could not stay awake.

14:38 The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak The inner man who loves God may be willing, but human weakness gives out. The answer is to watch and pray. Peter slept instead of praying, and within hours he fell. Prayerlessness always comes before a fall.

14:40 they did not know what they should answer Him He prayed the same word again, and it is not wrong to bring the same request more than once (Luke 18:1). Exhausted and full of sorrow (Luke 22:45), they had no excuse. We have all been embarrassed by our weakness before the Lord.

14:41 the hour has come Three times He prayed and three times they slept; soon Peter would deny Him three times. The time for prayer was over and the time to act had come.

sinners. 42 Rise up, let us go. Look, the one delivering Me up has drawn near."

Jesus Arrested

43 And immediately, while He was still speaking, Judas comes up, being one of the twelve, and with him a great crowd with swords and clubs from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 Now the one delivering Him up had given them a signal, saying, "Whomever I kiss, He is the one; seize Him and lead Him away securely." 45 And having come, immediately having gone up to Him, he says, "Rabbi, Rabbi!" And he kissed Him warmly. 46 And they laid their hands on Him and seized Him. 47 But a certain one of those standing by, having drawn the sword, struck the slave of the high priest and cut off his ear. 48 And answering, Jesus said to them, "Did you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs, to arrest Me? 49 Every day I was with you in the temple teaching, and you did not seize Me; but it is so that the Scriptures may be fulfilled." 50 And having left Him, they all fled. 51 And one certain young man was following Him, having thrown a linen cloth around his naked body; and the young men seize him. 52 But having left behind the linen cloth, he fled from them naked.

Jesus Before the Council

53 And they led Jesus away to the high priest; and all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes come together to him. 54 And Peter followed Him from a distance, as far as inside into the courtyard of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers and warming himself at the fire. 55 And the chief priests and the whole council were seeking testimony against Jesus to put Him to death, and they were not finding any. 56 For many were bearing false testimony against Him, and the testimonies were not alike. 57 And some, having risen up, were bearing false testimony against Him, saying, 58 "We heard Him saying, 'I will destroy this temple made with hands, and in three days I will build another not made with hands.'" 59 And not even so was their testimony alike. 60 And the high priest, having stood up in the midst, questioned Jesus, saying, "Do You not answer anything? What are these testifying against You?" 61 But He was silent and did not answer anything. Again the high priest was questioning Him and says to Him, "Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?" 62 And Jesus said, "I am; and you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power and coming with the clouds of heaven." 63 And the high priest, having torn his tunics, says, "What further need do we have of witnesses? 64 You heard the blasphemy. How does it appear to you?" And they all condemned Him to be deserving of death. 65 And some began to spit on Him and to cover His 14:42 Rise up, let us go He did not run or hide. He walked toward His betrayer. After the agony of prayer came the calm of surrender. He went to the cross on purpose.

14:43 a great crowd with swords and clubs One of the twelve, again, and it still stings. Roman soldiers and temple police came too (John 18:3, 12), armed at night as if for a dangerous rebel. Jesus had nothing in His hands.
14:45 he kissed Him warmly In the dark the crowd needed a signal, and a kiss was how a disciple greeted his teacher. The word means kissed over and over, with a show of affection. Judas used a sign of love to betray the One who loved him. The kisses of an enemy are deceitful (Prov 27:6). Betrayal hurts most from someone close.
14:47 cut off his ear The Son of God let Himself be taken; He could have called legions of angels (Matt 26:53). John names Peter and the slave Malchus (John 18:10), and Luke tells us Jesus healed the ear (Luke 22:51). Peter could not stay awake to pray but was ready to fight. That was not the battle Jesus came for. His kingdom does not advance by the sword.
14:49 it is so that the Scriptures may be fulfilled Robber can mean rebel or bandit. They had every chance to take Him openly in the temple but came at night, afraid of the people and of the truth. Even this was God's plan; He was counted with the transgressors (Isa 53:12).
14:50 having left Him, they all fled Just as He said (14:27). Those who promised to die with Him ran into the night. Fear has made all of us run at some point. But Jesus would restore them. He came to save failures, and that includes you and me.
14:51 one certain young man was following Him Only Mark tells this. Many teachers believe it may have been Mark himself. The church met at his mother's house in Jerusalem (Acts 12:12), and some think the Supper was there, so he may have thrown on a linen cloth and followed, like a writer quietly signing his work. We cannot be sure. Either way, everyone deserted Jesus. He went to the cross alone.
14:53 they led Jesus away to the high priest Caiaphas, with his father-in-law Annas involved (John 18:13, 24). The Sanhedrin of about seventy plus the high priest met at night, against their own rules for capital trials.
14:54 Peter followed Him from a distance He deserves credit for coming back. But he followed at a distance and sat warming himself with the temple guards, close to Jesus' enemies and far from Jesus. That is a dangerous place for a believer.
14:55 seeking testimony against Jesus to put Him to death They had the verdict and were looking for evidence. That is not justice.
14:56 the testimonies were not alike A death sentence required two or three witnesses who agreed (Deut 17:6). Even liars could find nothing true to say against the sinless Son of God.
14:58 I will destroy this temple made with hands He had said, "Destroy this sanctuary" (John 2:19), and spoke of His body. Enemies of truth often take a real word and bend it into a lie. Even so their case fell apart.
14:61 Are You the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One? Like a lamb led to slaughter He did not open His mouth (Isa 53:7) against lies. The Blessed One was a way of saying God without speaking His name, and the high priest asked under oath (Matt 26:63).
14:62 I am; and you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Power He stayed quiet against lies but would not stay quiet about the truth. Ego eimi echoes God's name, I AM (Exod 3:14). He joined Psalm 110:1 and Daniel 7:13; the Power means God. Today you judge Me; one day you will see Me seated at God's right hand, coming to judge. Everyone who rejects Jesus will one day stand before Him.
14:64 You heard the blasphemy The high priest tore his tunics in a show of horror, but this was what he wanted. Blasphemy is claiming what belongs only to God. If Jesus were not who He said, it would have been. But He told the truth, and the council condemned its own Messiah for it.
14:65 some began to spit on Him and to cover His face Spitting in the face was the worst insult (Num 12:14), foretold of the Servant (Isa 50:6). They mocked Him as a false prophet at the very moment His prophecy about Peter was coming true in the courtyard below.

face and to beat Him with fists and to say to Him,
"Prophesy!" And the officers were striking Him with slaps.

Peter Denies Jesus

66 And while Peter was below in the courtyard, one of the servant girls of the high priest comes, 67 and having seen Peter warming himself, having looked at him, she says, "You also were with the Nazarene, Jesus." 68 But he denied it, saying, "I do not know nor understand what you are saying." And he went out outside into the forecourt, and a rooster crowed. 69 And the servant girl, having seen him, began again to say to those standing by, "This man is of them." 70 But again he was denying it. And after a little while again those standing by were saying to Peter, "Truly you are of them; for you are also a Galilean, and your speech is like theirs." 71 But he began to curse and to swear, "I do not know this man of whom you speak!" 72 And a second time a rooster crowed. And Peter remembered the word that Jesus had said to him, "Before a rooster crows twice, you will deny Me three times." And having broken down, he was weeping.

Jesus Before Pilate

1 And immediately, in the morning, the chief priests, having held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, having bound Jesus (Iesous), led Him away and delivered Him to Pilate (Pilatos). 2 And Pilate questioned Him, "Are You the King of the Jews?" And answering, He said to him, "You say it." 3 And the chief priests were accusing Him of many things, but He Himself answered nothing. 4 And Pilate again questioned Him, saying, "Do You not answer anything? See how many things they testify against You!" 5 But Jesus no longer answered anything, so that Pilate was amazed. 6 Now at the feast he was releasing to them one prisoner, whomever they were requesting. 7 And there was the one called Barabbas, bound with the fellow rebels who had committed murder in the insurrection. 8 And the crowd, having cried out, began to ask him to do just as he was always doing for them. 9 But Pilate answered them, saying, "Do you want me to release to you the King of the Jews?" 10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered Him up because of envy. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the crowd, so that he would rather release Barabbas to them. 12 And Pilate, answering, again said to them, "What then do you want me to do to Him whom you call King of the Jews?" 13 And they again cried out, "Crucify Him!" 14 And Pilate was saying to them, "Why, what evil has He done?" But they cried out all the more, "Crucify Him!" 15 And Pilate, wishing to do what was satisfying to the crowd, released Barabbas to them; and having flogged Jesus, he delivered Him up so that He might be crucified.

15:15 Matt 27:26; John 19:1,16; Mark 10:34

14:68 I do not know nor understand what you are saying Not a soldier or a priest, but a servant girl. Peter, who drew a sword against a crowd, folded before her. Fear makes us weak in strange places. He slipped away from the firelight, and the first rooster crowed, a warning he did not hear.
14:70 for you are also a Galilean, and your speech is like theirs Galileans had an accent. He could deny Jesus with words, but his speech gave him away. Our lives should show that we have been with Jesus (Acts 4:13).
14:71 he began to curse and to swear He called down a curse on himself if lying and took an oath, and would not even say Jesus' name, only this man. This was Peter at his lowest, how far a believer can fall trusting his own strength and not watching and praying.
14:72 having broken down, he was weeping The Lord turned and looked at him (Luke 22:61). Judas was sorry too and took his own life (Matt 27:3-5); Peter wept and came back. The difference is not how bad the sin was but where they went with it (2 Cor 7:10). If Mark wrote what Peter preached, Peter told this story on himself again and again, so others would see the grace that restored him (John 21:15-19). If you have failed Jesus, your story is not over. Come back to Him.
15:1 having bound Jesus, led Him away and delivered Him to Pilate They met again at dawn to make the sentence official, since by their own rules a capital case had to be decided in daylight. Pilate governed Judea from about A.D. 26 to 36, and under Rome only he could carry out a death sentence (John 18:31). Delivered to the Gentiles, just as Jesus said (10:33).
15:2 Are You the King of the Jews? Pilate would not care about blasphemy, so they brought a political charge: a king was a threat to Caesar. Jesus did not deny it. He is the King. But His kingdom is not of this world (John 18:36). He was not leading a revolt. He was going to die for His people.
15:5 Jesus no longer answered anything, so that Pilate was amazed The charges included misleading the nation and forbidding taxes to Caesar (Luke 23:2), a lie (12:17), yet He did not argue. Prisoners usually begged or shouted their innocence. Jesus was not helpless. He was willing, silent like a sheep before its shearers (Isa 53:7). Pilate had never seen anyone like Him.
15:7 the one called Barabbas, bound with the fellow rebels The Passover release was a gesture to keep the people happy. Barabbas was a rebel against Rome and a murderer. Pilate may have thought he had a way out. Surely they would choose Jesus over a killer.
15:10 he knew that the chief priests had delivered Him up because of envy Pilate could see this was not about crimes. The chief priests were jealous of Jesus' popularity and power. Envy can make religious people do terrible things. It put Jesus on the cross.
15:11 the chief priests stirred up the crowd Many who praised Jesus earlier may not have been there that early, and those who were were easily swayed. A crowd can be pushed almost anywhere by the right voices. Think for yourself in the light of God's word, and do not just go along with the noise.
15:14 Why, what evil has He done? The right question, and no one could answer it; Pilate himself found no guilt in Him (John 18:38). When the facts are against a crowd, it often just gets louder. Crucifixion was Rome's cruelest death, for slaves, rebels and the worst criminals, slow, public and shameful.
15:15 wishing to do what was satisfying to the crowd, released Barabbas to them Pilate knew Jesus was innocent but cared more about peace and his job than justice. Flogging with leather straps tipped with bone or metal tore skin and muscle, and some men died from it. Barabbas was guilty and walked free; Jesus was innocent and died in his place. We are Barabbas. Jesus took our place.

The Soldiers Mock Jesus

16 And the soldiers led Him away inside the courtyard, which is the Praetorium, and they call together the whole cohort. 17 And they clothe Him in purple, and having woven a crown of thorns, they put it on Him. 18 And they began to salute Him, "Hail, King of the Jews!" 19 And they were striking His head with a reed and were spitting on Him, and bending the knees, they were worshiping Him. 20 And when they had mocked Him, they took the purple off Him and put His own garments on Him. And they lead Him out so that they may crucify Him.

The Crucifixion

21 And they compel a certain man passing by, Simon, a Cyrenian, coming from the country, the father of Alexander (Alexandros) and Rufus (Hrouphos), to carry His cross. 22 And they bring Him to the place Golgotha, which is, being translated, Place of a Skull. 23 And they were giving Him wine mixed with myrrh to drink; but He did not take it. 24 And having crucified Him, they were dividing His garments, casting a lot for them, who should take what. 25 Now it was the third hour, and they crucified Him. 26 And the inscription of His accusation was written: "THE KING OF THE JEWS." 27 And with Him they crucify two robbers, one at His right and one at His left. 28 And the Scripture was fulfilled which says, "And He was reckoned with the lawless." 29 And those passing by were blaspheming Him, shaking their heads and saying, "Aha! You who destroy the temple and build it in three days, 30 save Yourself and come down from the cross!" 31 Likewise also the chief priests, mocking with one another along with the scribes, were saying, "He saved others; Himself He is not able to save. 32 Let the Christ, the King of Israel, come down now from the cross, so that we may see and believe." And those crucified with Him were reproaching Him.

The Death of Jesus

15:32 Isa 44:6; Zeph 3:15; Zech 9:9
15:33 Amos 8:9; Matt 27:45; Mark 15:25

15:16 the Praetorium, and they call together the whole cohort The governor's headquarters; Mark explains the Latin word for Roman readers. A cohort could be several hundred soldiers, gathered not to guard Him but for sport.

15:17 they clothe Him in purple, and having woven a crown of thorns Purple was the color of kings because the dye was so costly; they likely used an old soldier's cloak. Thorns came with the curse on the ground because of sin (Gen 3:18). Jesus wore a crown of them as He went to bear the curse for us (Gal 3:13).

15:19 bending the knees, they were worshiping Him They mimicked the greeting given Caesar, with a reed for a scepter. The worship was a joke to them. But one day every knee will bow and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord (Phil 2:10-11). Those soldiers will bow too.

15:20 they lead Him out so that they may crucify Him They put His own clothes back on Him, the clothes they would soon gamble for. Executions took place outside the walls (Heb 13:12), and the condemned was marched through the streets with the crossbeam as a warning.

15:21 Simon, a Cyrenian, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus Too weak from the flogging, Jesus could carry it no farther, and Roman soldiers could force anyone to carry a load. Cyrene was in North Africa, in what is now Libya, with a large Jewish community; Simon was likely a Passover pilgrim. Mark names his sons as if readers knew them. Paul greets a Rufus in Rome (Rom 16:13) who may be the same man. The day Simon was forced to carry a cross may have been the day his family came to know the One who died on it.

15:22 Golgotha, which is, being translated, Place of a Skull Aramaic; the Latin for skull gives us Calvary. Scripture does not say why it had the name, perhaps a skull-shaped hill or a place of execution. It was just outside the wall by a road where many passed (John 19:20).

15:23 wine mixed with myrrh Myrrh was a bitter resin that, mixed with wine, dulled pain; some think the women of Jerusalem provided it out of mercy. He refused it. He would face the cross fully awake and drink the Father's cup with nothing to dull it.

15:24 having crucified Him Mark does not describe the nails; his readers knew. The executioners got the victim's clothes, as Psalm 22:18 foretold a thousand years before. While Jesus died for the world, men gambled for His clothes.

15:25 it was the third hour, and they crucified Him Jews counted from sunrise, so about nine in the morning. John puts Pilate's judgment about the sixth hour (John 19:14). Some think John used the Roman count from midnight; others note that time was spoken of in rough three-hour blocks. Mark's timeline is clear: crucified at nine, darkness at noon, death at three.

15:26 THE KING OF THE JEWS Rome posted the crime of the condemned. John says it was in Hebrew, Latin and Greek (John 19:20). Pilate meant it to mock the Jews, and the chief priests hated it (John 19:21). But the charge was the truth. He is the King.

15:27 one at His right and one at His left Likely rebels like Barabbas. Days before, James and John asked for those places in His glory (10:37). Now two criminals held them. This was His glory: dying for sinners.

15:28 And He was reckoned with the lawless Isaiah 53:12. The sinless One was counted with sinners, so the guilty could take His place among the righteous (2 Cor 5:21). The SLB follows the Received Text, which includes this verse. Most older Greek copies of Mark lack it, and many modern Bibles bracket or footnote it. Jesus Himself quoted the same words the night before (Luke 22:37), so the truth stands either way, and no teaching rests on this verse alone.

15:29 shaking their heads A sign of scorn foretold in Psalm 22:7. They twisted His words again (14:58). In truth He was building a new temple right then. His body was being destroyed, and in three days He would raise it up (John 2:19-21).

15:31 He saved others; Himself He is not able to save Without meaning to, they spoke the deepest truth of the cross. He could not save Himself and save us at the same time. It was not nails that held Him there. It was love.

15:32 so that we may see and believe They would not have believed. They had seen miracles and still plotted. In three days He did something greater than come down from a cross; He came up out of a grave, and most still did not believe. At first both robbers mocked, but one later turned and was promised paradise (Luke 23:39-43). It is never too late while there is breath.

15:33 darkness came over the whole land until the ninth hour Noon to three in the afternoon. Not an eclipse; Passover came at full moon, when a solar eclipse cannot happen. Darkness often goes with judgment, as over Egypt before the first Passover (Exod 10:22) and in Amos 8:9. For three hours the Son bore God's judgment against sin, and the world went dark.

the whole land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cried out with a loud voice, saying, "Eloi, Eloi, lamma sabachthani?" which is, being translated, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" 35 And some of those standing by, having heard, were saying, "Look, He is calling Elijah (Helias)." 36 And one, having run and having filled a sponge with sour wine, and having put it on a reed, was giving Him to drink, saying, "Leave Him alone; let us see whether Elijah comes to take Him down." 37 But Jesus, having uttered a loud cry, expired. 38 And the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom. 39 And the centurion who stood by opposite Him, having seen that He, having cried out thus, expired, said, "Truly this man was God's Son." 40 And there were also women looking on from a distance, among whom were also Mary (Maria) the Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James (Iakobos) the Less and of Joses (Ioses), and Salome, 41 who also, when He was in Galilee (Galilaia), were following Him and ministering to Him, and many other women who had come up with Him to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma).

The Burial of Jesus

42 And evening having already come, since it was the Preparation, which is the day before the Sabbath, 43 Joseph (Ioseph) of Arimathea (Arimathaia), a prominent council member, who himself also was waiting for the kingdom of God, came and, having taken courage, went in to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. 44 And Pilate wondered if He had already died; and having summoned the centurion, he questioned him whether He had died long ago. 45 And having learned it from the centurion, he granted the body to Joseph. 46 And having bought a linen cloth and having taken Him down, he wrapped Him in the linen cloth and laid Him in a tomb which had been cut out of rock; and he rolled a stone against the door of the tomb. 47 And Mary the Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses were watching where He is laid.

MARK 16

He Is Risen

1 And when the Sabbath had passed, Mary (Maria) the Magdalene and Mary the mother of James (Iakobos) and Salome bought spices so that, having come, they might anoint Him. 2 And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb, the sun having risen. 3 And they were saying among themselves, "Who will roll away the stone for us from the door of the tomb?" 4 And having looked up, they see that the stone has been rolled away; for it was extremely large.

15:34 My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me? The only saying from the cross in Mark, Psalm 22:1 in Aramaic. For all eternity Father and Son had perfect fellowship. On the cross the Father turned away, because the Son bore our sins (2 Cor 5:21). He was forsaken so we never will be, cut off so we could be brought near. We will never fully understand it. Yet He still said My God, and Psalm 22 ends in praise and the nations turning to the Lord (Ps 22:27-31).
15:36 having filled a sponge with sour wine Eloi sounded like Elijah, whom many believed came to help the righteous in trouble. The sour wine was a cheap vinegar soldiers and workers drank (Ps 69:21). The mockery went on. They did not understand that the One on the cross was greater than Elijah.
15:37 having uttered a loud cry, expired Crucified men usually died too weak to speak. Jesus cried out with a loud voice and gave up His life when He chose. His word was "It has been finished" (John 19:30). "No one takes it away from Me, but I lay it down from Myself" (John 10:18).
15:38 the veil of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom The thick curtain shut off the Most Holy Place, where only the high priest went, once a year with blood (Lev 16). No man tore it. God did, from above. The way into His presence is open through the death of His Son (Heb 10:19-20). You do not need a priest or a temple. You need Jesus.
15:39 Truly this man was God's Son A centurion commanded about a hundred soldiers and had seen many men die on crosses, but none like this. Mark opened with "the Son of God" (1:1). The Father and demons said it, but this is the first human in Mark to say it aloud, and he is a Roman Gentile at the foot of the cross. It is the cross that shows who Jesus is.
15:40 women looking on from a distance The men had fled; the women stayed. Mary Magdalene came from Magdala on the lake, freed from seven demons (Luke 8:2). Salome was likely the mother of James and John (compare Matt 27:56).
15:41 were following Him and ministering to Him They had supported Him from their own means (Luke 8:3) and stayed faithful when it was dangerous and heartbreaking. God made them the first witnesses of the resurrection. Never think your quiet faithfulness goes unseen.
15:43 having taken courage, went in to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus The Preparation was Friday, before the Sabbath began at sundown, and a hanged body must not stay up overnight (Deut 21:22-23). Joseph sat on the Sanhedrin but had not agreed with its decision (Luke 23:50-51), a secret disciple out of fear (John 19:38). Now he risked his reputation and his seat. The cross made a secret disciple brave.
15:45 having learned it from the centurion Crucified men often lived a day or more, so Pilate wondered at six hours. A Roman officer who knew death confirmed it. Some claim Jesus only fainted and revived in the tomb. Mark shuts that idea down. Jesus truly died, so His resurrection was real.
15:46 laid Him in a tomb which had been cut out of rock Nicodemus brought spices (John 19:39-40); it was Joseph's own new tomb (Matt 27:60), as Isaiah said He would be with a rich man in His death (Isa 53:9). A large round stone rolled in a groove sealed the entrance, and it took several men to move it (16:3).
15:47 were watching where He is laid They would not go to the wrong tomb on Sunday. Mark shows witnesses at every step: they saw Him die, saw Him buried, and would see the empty tomb. His enemies thought it was over. But the first day of the week was coming.
16:1 bought spices so that, having come, they might anoint Him The Sabbath ended at sundown Saturday, and the shops opened again. They came to care for a dead body, not to see a risen Lord, though He had told them again and again. Their love was real. Their faith had not yet caught up with His promises.
16:2 very early on the first day of the week Sunday. This is why Christians have gathered on Sunday from the earliest days (Acts 20:7; 1 Cor 16:2). Every Sunday celebrates the resurrection.
16:3 Who will roll away the stone for us from the door of the tomb? Too heavy for them, and they went anyway. They did not have all the answers, but they kept walking toward Jesus. Often the problems we worry about on the way are already solved by the time we get there.
16:4 the stone has been rolled away; for it was extremely large Not to let Jesus out; He was already gone. It was rolled back, by an angel (Matt 28:2), to let the witnesses in. No small group of grieving women could have moved it.

5 And having entered into the tomb, they saw a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe; and they were greatly alarmed. 6 And he says to them, "Do not be greatly alarmed. You are seeking Jesus (Iesous) the Nazarene, the One who has been crucified. He has been raised; He is not here. See the place where they laid Him. 7 But go, tell His disciples and Peter (Petros) that He is going before you into Galilee (Galilaia); there you will see Him, just as He said to you." 8 And having gone out quickly, they fled from the tomb; and trembling and astonishment held them. And they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid.

Appearances of the Risen Lord

9 Now having risen early on the first day of the week, He appeared first to Mary the Magdalene, from whom He had cast out seven demons. 10 She, having gone, reported it to those who had been with Him, who were mourning and weeping. 11 And they, having heard that He is alive and was seen by her, disbelieved. 12 And after these things He was manifested in another form to two of them as they were walking, going into the country. 13 And they, having gone away, reported it to the rest; they did not believe even them.

The Commission and the Ascension

14 Afterward He was manifested to the eleven as they were reclining, and He reproached their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they did not believe those who had seen Him raised. 15 And He said to them, "Having gone into all the world, preach the gospel to all the creation. 16 The one having believed and having been baptized will be saved; but the one having disbelieved will be condemned. 17 And these signs will accompany those having believed: in My name they will cast out demons; they will speak with new tongues; 18 they will take up serpents; and if they drink anything deadly, it will certainly not hurt them; they will lay hands on the sick, and they will be well." 19 So then the Lord, after speaking to them, was taken up into heaven and sat down at the right hand of God. 20 And they, having gone out, preached everywhere, the Lord working with them and confirming the word through the accompanying signs. Amen.

16:20 Acts 5:12; Acts 14:3,8-10; Heb 2:4

16:5 a young man sitting on the right, clothed in a white robe The robe and message show he was an angel, as Matthew and Luke make clear (Matt 28:2-5; Luke 24:4, 23); angels often appear as men. Greatly alarmed is the word Mark used for Jesus in Gethsemane (14:33).

16:6 He has been raised; He is not here The greatest words ever spoken at a grave. Jesus the Nazarene, the crucified One: the One who died is the One who rose, raised by God (Acts 2:24). The empty place was right in front of them. If Christ has not been raised, our faith is worthless and we are still in our sins (1 Cor 15:17). But He has been raised. Death is not the end for those who belong to Him.

16:7 tell His disciples and Peter Only Mark records "and Peter." The man who denied Him three times may have thought he was no longer a disciple, but Jesus sent a message with his name on it. If Mark wrote Peter's preaching, Peter must have told this with tears. Just as He said (14:28). If you have failed Him, He still puts your name in His invitation.

16:8 they said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid Holy fear, the awe of meeting God's power face to face. They did not stop to talk on the road; Matthew says they ran "with fear and great joy" (Matt 28:8) to tell the disciples. Fear and joy, trembling and wonder, all at once, are normal when God does something this big.

16:9 He appeared first to Mary the Magdalene, from whom He had cast out seven demons A woman's testimony was often not accepted in court, so no one inventing the story would choose her. She was freed from great darkness and loved much, and He called her by name at the tomb (John 20:11-18). Good news for anyone who thinks his past is too much for Jesus. Verses 9 to 20 are in the Received Text the SLB follows and have been read in churches for centuries, but the two oldest complete Greek copies of Mark end at verse 8, and some copies have a shorter ending. Many modern Bibles bracket them or add a note, and Bible-believing scholars differ on whether Mark wrote them. Nearly all they say is taught elsewhere, and no teaching rests on them alone. They are commented on here as printed.

16:11 having heard that He is alive and was seen by her, disbelieved Grieving as if all hope had died, they thought her words nonsense (Luke 24:11). These were not gullible men. They had to be convinced, which makes their later boldness, even to death, all the more powerful.

16:12 He was manifested in another form to two of them The road to Emmaus (Luke 24:13-35). They did not know Him at first. His resurrection body was real but glorified, changed in ways we do not fully understand.

16:13 they did not believe even them Three witnesses now, and still unbelief. It is stubborn. Sometimes it takes Jesus Himself to break through.

16:14 He reproached their unbelief and hardness of heart They had His promises and the witness of Mary and the two, and still refused. Hardness of heart is not a lack of evidence but an unwillingness to accept it. Jesus loved them too much to leave them there.

16:15 preach the gospel to all the creation Mark's form of the Great Commission (compare Matt 28:19), for every people and place. He rebuked their unbelief, then sent them out. He did not wait for them to be perfect. He still uses doubting, failing people. Where is your all the world? It may start across the street or across the table.

16:16 the one having disbelieved will be condemned Some read this as requiring baptism for salvation. But it is the one who disbelieved, not the one unbaptized, who is condemned. In the early church believers were baptized right away (Acts 2:41; 8:36-38), the public step of obedience. Salvation is by grace through faith alone (Eph 2:8-9); the thief on the cross was never baptized (Luke 23:43). Repent and believe, then obey the Lord in baptism.

16:17 these signs will accompany those having believed A sign is a miracle pointing beyond itself, showing the message was from God. Acts shows demons cast out in His name (Acts 16:18) and believers speaking languages they never learned (Acts 2:4-11). The power was never in the disciples. It was in His name.

16:18 they will take up serpents On Malta a viper bit Paul as he gathered sticks, and he shook it off unharmed (Acts 28:3-6); he laid hands on the sick there and they were healed (Acts 28:8-9). He was not looking for a snake. It found him while he served. This is protection in the dangers of ministry, never a test. We must not put the Lord God to the test (Matt 4:7). People have died handling snakes or drinking poison to prove their faith. That is testing God, the very thing Jesus refused. Whether such signs continue today, good teachers differ (Heb 2:3-4), but all agree God can heal and we should pray for the sick (James 5:14-15).

16:19 was taken up into heaven and sat down at the right hand of God The Servant who was crucified is now the Lord. He was taken up from the Mount of Olives, with the promise He will return the same way (Acts 1:9-11). The right hand is the place of highest honor, fulfilling Psalm 110:1 (12:36; 14:62). He sat down because His work of paying for sin was finished (Heb 10:12). He lives to pray for us (Rom 8:34), and He will come again.

16:20 the Lord working with them and confirming the word through the accompanying signs The scared men behind locked doors preached everywhere because they had seen Jesus alive. He was in heaven, yet working with them; He did not send them alone (Matt 28:20). The signs served the word. Amen means so be it. Mark ends as he began, with the gospel going out, and it goes on today through everyone who believes it and tells it.

LUKE

Introduction

Title

The book is named for Luke, who wrote it. It is the third book of the New Testament and the longest of the four Gospels. The word gospel means good news. With Matthew and Mark it is one of the Synoptic Gospels, from a word that means seen together, because they tell many of the same events in much the same order. Matthew shows Jesus as the King promised to Israel and Mark as the Servant who gave His life. Luke shows Him as the Son of Man, fully God and fully human, the Savior of every kind of person. Luke is the first of two books. Acts, which calls this Gospel "The first account" (Acts 1:1), carries the story on from the ascension.

Author and Date

The book does not name its writer, but the early church agreed from the start that Luke wrote it, and he also wrote Acts. Both are written to Theophilus (1:3; Acts 1:1). Luke was a doctor and Paul's close friend, "the beloved physician" (Col 4:14), and near the end of Paul's life he wrote, "Luke alone is with me" (2 Tim 4:11). In parts of Acts Luke slips from they to we (Acts 16:10; 20:5 to 21:18; 27:1 to 28:16), showing he traveled with Paul. Paul names his Jewish co-workers first and Luke with the others (Col 4:10-14), so most teachers believe Luke was a Gentile, the only Gentile writer of a book of the Bible. Some modern scholars doubt that Paul's companion wrote these books. I take the early church's witness at its word.

Luke was not one of the twelve. He tells us he "followed all things carefully from the first" (1:3), drawing on eyewitnesses, perhaps during Paul's two years in prison at Caesarea (Acts 24:27). Acts ends with Paul under house arrest in Rome about A.D. 62, and the Gospel came before Acts, so many date it about A.D. 60 to 62. Many other scholars date it after A.D. 70 because Jesus speaks of Jerusalem surrounded by armies (21:20). I believe Jesus foretold that fall, so the prophecy does not require a later date. Scripture does not tell us where Luke wrote.

Background and Setting

Luke writes to "most excellent Theophilus" (1:3), a title he also gives Roman governors (Acts 23:26; 26:25), so Theophilus was likely a man of rank who had already been taught the faith. Luke wants him to "come to know the certainty concerning the words in which you were instructed" (1:4). Behind Theophilus stands a wider Gentile audience. Luke explains Jewish places and customs, traces Jesus' line back to Adam (3:38), and shows that the good news is for all the nations (2:32; 24:47).

Luke sets his story in real history and dates events by emperors, governors and high priests (2:1-2; 3:1-2). Jesus was born in Bethlehem while Herod the Great was king under Rome and grew up in Nazareth in Galilee. Augustus and then Tiberius were emperors. Herod Antipas, who put John the Baptist to death, ruled Galilee, and Pontius Pilate governed Judea. Luke follows Jesus' ministry in Galilee, then the long journey south that begins when "He Himself set His face steadfastly to go to Jerusalem" (9:51), and then the last week, the cross and the resurrection in and around the city. About half of the book is found only in Luke, including the birth of John, the shepherds, the good Samaritan, the lost son, Zacchaeus, the thief on the cross, and the walk to Emmaus.

Themes

The key verse is Jesus' word at the house of Zacchaeus: "for the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which has been lost" (19:10). Luke shows Jesus as the Savior of all kinds of people. He gives special attention to the poor (1:52-53; 4:18; 6:20), to women, who appear more often here than in any other Gospel (8:1-3; 10:38-42), to lepers, tax collectors and sinners (5:27-32; 15:1-2), and to Samaritans and Gentiles (10:30-37; 17:11-19). Again and again God goes looking for the lost, and heaven rejoices when one is found (15:7, 10).

Luke loves to show Jesus praying: at His baptism (3:21), before choosing the twelve (6:12), before Peter's confession (9:18), on the mountain (9:28-29), in the garden (22:41-44), and on the cross (23:34, 46). He points to the Holy Spirit, who fills John, Elizabeth and Zechariah, comes upon Mary, and leads Jesus in power (4:1, 14). And there is great joy in Luke, from the angels' "great joy as good news" (2:10) to the disciples praising God in the temple (24:52-53).

Luke also keeps God's promises to Israel in view. Gabriel tells Mary that God will give her Son "the throne of David His father" and that "of His kingdom there will be no end" (1:32-33). Jerusalem would be trampled by the nations, but only "until the times of the nations are fulfilled" (21:24).

Christ in Luke

Luke presents Jesus as the Son of God, conceived by the Holy Spirit and born of a virgin (1:35), and as the Son of Man, traced back to Adam (3:38), the perfect man for all humanity. He is the Savior, Christ the Lord, born in the city of David (2:11), the anointed One of Isaiah 61 who brings good news to the poor (4:18). He is the Son of Man who must suffer, be rejected and rise on the third day (9:22), who set His face to go to Jerusalem, wept over the city, died between two criminals praying for His enemies, and rose bodily, eating fish before His disciples (24:39-43). After His resurrection He opened the Scriptures and showed that Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms all speak of Him (24:27, 44). He was carried up into heaven while blessing His people (24:51), and He will come again "in a cloud with power and great glory" (21:27).

Hard Passages

How does the census under Quirinius (2:2) fit the reign of Herod? The notes give the common answers and trust that Luke got it right.

Why does Luke's family line differ from Matthew's (3:23-38)? The notes give the two main views: Mary's line, or Joseph's natural line joined to his legal line.

What do Jesus' words on divorce mean (16:18)? Good teachers differ, and the notes name the main views without taking a hard side. The notes also give both views on whether the rich man and Lazarus (16:19-31) is a parable or a true account, while stating plainly what it teaches about life after death.

Luke 17:22-37 and 21:25-36 are read as looking ahead to Christ's visible return to the earth after the future Tribulation, after He has come for His church. The one taken in 17:34-36 is taken in judgment, as in the days of Noah and Lot. Luke 21:20-24 is read as the fall of Jerusalem in A.D. 70, distinct from the future abomination of desolation in Matthew and Mark. "This generation" (21:32) is given its three main readings.

Several verses printed in the SLB are missing from most or many older Greek copies: 17:36, 22:43-44 and 23:17, along with shorter phrases at 9:54-56 and in the Lord's Prayer (11:2-4). The notes say so plainly where they appear. They are commented on as printed, and no teaching rests on them alone.

Luke's Purpose in Writing

1 Inasmuch as many have undertaken to compile a narrative concerning the things that have been fulfilled among us, 2 just as those who from the beginning became eyewitnesses and servants of the word delivered them to us, 3 it seemed good to me also, having followed all things carefully from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus (Theophilos), 4 so that you may come to know the certainty concerning the words in which you were instructed.

The Birth of John Foretold

5 There was in the days of Herod (Herodes), the king of Judea (Ioudaia), a certain priest named Zechariah (Zacharias), of the division of Abijah (Abia); and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth (Elisabet). 6 Now they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless. 7 And there was no child to them, because Elizabeth was barren, and both were advanced in their days. 8 Now it came to pass, while he was serving as priest in the order of his division before God, 9 according to the custom of the priesthood, it fell to him by lot to burn incense, having entered into the temple of the Lord. 10 And all the multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of the incense. 11 Then an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing on the right of the altar of the incense. 12 And Zechariah was troubled, having seen him, and fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said to him, "Do not fear, Zechariah, because your petition has been heard, and your wife Elizabeth will bear a son to you, and you will call his name John (Ioannes). 14 And he will be joy to you and gladness, and many will rejoice at his birth. 15 For he will be great before the Lord, and he shall certainly not drink wine and strong drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit even from his mother's womb. 16 And he will turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God. 17 And he himself will go before Him in the spirit and power of Elijah (Helias), to turn the hearts of fathers to children, and the disobedient to the understanding of the righteous, to make

1:1 many have undertaken to compile a narrative Luke opens with a long, careful sentence like a learned Greek writer. He was not the first to write; many believe Mark was one of those accounts. He calls them "the things that have been fulfilled among us." The life of Jesus is God keeping His promises.
1:2 eyewitnesses and servants of the word The facts came from people who saw Jesus with their own eyes and spent their lives serving His message. The Christian faith does not rest on visions or private feelings but on events that happened before witnesses.
1:3 having followed all things carefully from the first, to write to you in order, most excellent Theophilus Luke did his homework. In order means an organized account, not always exact time order. Theophilus means loved by God, and "most excellent" was a title for men of high rank, used also of the governors Felix and Festus (Acts 23:26; 26:25).
1:4 so that you may come to know the certainty Theophilus had been taught about Jesus, and Luke wanted him to be sure. God does not ask us to believe with our eyes closed. He has given us a record we can trust. If you have ever had doubts, Luke wrote this book with you in mind.
1:5 in the days of Herod, the king of Judea Herod the Great ruled under Rome from about 37 B.C. to about 4 B.C., a great builder and a cruel man who later killed the boys of Bethlehem (Matt 2:16). The thousands of priests, all from Aaron, were divided by David into twenty-four divisions, each serving a week about twice a year (1 Chr 24:1-19); Abijah's was the eighth. A priest marrying a priest's daughter was counted a special blessing.
1:6 they were both righteous before God Not sinless, but living real faith and obedience. They took God's word seriously, offered the sacrifices the Law required, and showed no pattern of open sin.
1:7 there was no child to them, because Elizabeth was barren Childlessness was a deep sorrow and often a public shame, assumed to show God's displeasure. Luke tells us it was not so here. Sometimes faithful people carry long sorrows that are not because of their sin. God sees you, as He saw Elizabeth. Sarah, Rebekah, Rachel, Hannah and Samson's mother were barren too, and each child was part of God's plan.
1:9 it fell to him by lot to burn incense Priests cast lots for who would burn incense on the golden altar in the Holy Place. With so many priests, a man might do it once in his life, and many never did. This was the high point of Zechariah's service.
1:10 all the multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of the incense Rising incense pictured prayer going up to God (Ps 141:2; Rev 8:3-4). Luke's Gospel begins with people praying in the temple and ends the same way (24:53).
1:11 an angel of the Lord appeared to him For about four hundred years, since Malachi, there had been no new word from God to Israel. In the middle of an ordinary day of service, heaven broke the silence.
1:12 fear fell upon him The normal response to an angel in the Bible. Angels are not chubby babies on greeting cards but mighty servants of God.
1:13 your petition has been heard Most likely the prayer for a son he and Elizabeth may have given up on, and perhaps his priestly prayer for Israel's redemption. God was about to answer both. John means the Lord is gracious. God Himself named the child, and the name told what God was doing.
1:15 he will be great before the Lord John would never be rich or powerful by the world's standards. He wore camel's hair and lived in the wilderness. But he was great in God's eyes, the only greatness that lasts. No wine was like the vow of a Nazirite set apart to God (Num 6:1-4). The Spirit was at work in him before birth, as we see in 1:41.
1:16 he will turn many of the sons of Israel to the Lord their God That was John's job: to call God's people back to Him. Joy, promised in 1:14, is one of Luke's favorite themes, and it starts here.
1:17 in the spirit and power of Elijah The angel points to the last words of the Old Testament (Mal 4:5-6). John was not Elijah back from heaven (John 1:21), but he came with Elijah's spirit and power, and Jesus said he filled that role for those willing to receive it (Matt 11:14). He goes before the Lord God of Israel, and the One who came after him was Jesus. Some believe John was the whole fulfillment. I believe, with many pre-tribulation teachers, that he fulfilled it in part, since Jesus said, "Elijah indeed comes first, and will restore all things" (Matt 17:11).

ready for the Lord a people prepared." 18 And Zechariah said to the angel, "By what will I know this? And he himself was making signs to them and was remaining mute. 23 And it came to pass, when the days of his service were fulfilled, he departed to his house. 24 Now after these days Elizabeth his wife conceived, and she was hiding herself five months, saying, 25 "Thus the Lord has done to me in the days in which He looked upon me to take away my disgrace among men."

The Birth of Jesus Foretold

26 Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city of Galilee (Galilaia) whose name was Nazareth, 27 to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph (Ioseph), of the house of David (Dabid); and the name of the virgin was Mary (Maria). 28 And having come in to her, the angel said, "Greetings, you who have been favored! The Lord is with you; blessed are you among women." 29 And she, having seen him, was greatly troubled at his word, and she was pondering what kind of greeting this might be. 30 And the angel said to her, "Do not fear, Mary, for you have found favor with God. 31 And look, you will conceive in the womb and will bear a son, and you will call His name Jesus (Iesous). 32 He will be great and will be called Son of the Most High; and the Lord God will give Him the throne of David His father, 33 and He will reign over the house of Jacob (Iakob) to the ages, and of His kingdom there will be no end." 34 Then Mary said to the angel, "How will this be, since I do not know a man?" 35 And answering, the angel said to her, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore also the holy One being born of you will be called Son of God. 36 And look, Elizabeth your relative, she also has conceived a son in her old age; and this is

1:18 By what will I know this? He looked at the facts of nature, and they said it could not happen. Standing in God's temple talking with an angel, he still doubted. How often do we pray and then doubt when God says yes?
1:19 I am Gabriel, the one standing before God One of only two holy angels named in the Bible, with Michael. He told Daniel of the coming Messiah about five hundred years earlier (Dan 8:16; 9:21-27), and now he announced the time had come. To announce as good news is the first appearance of the gospel idea in Luke.
1:20 you will be silent and not able to speak A sign, a discipline and a mercy, reminding him every day for months that God's word is true. God's word does not fail because we doubt it. It will come to pass in its season.
1:22 he was not able to speak to them Burning incense did not take long, and the people began to wonder. He was meant to give the priestly blessing (Num 6:24-26) and could not. Then he went home to the hill country and waited. God's plan does not always unfold in a flash.
1:24 she was hiding herself five months Scripture does not say why. Perhaps she wanted to be sure, or wanted time alone with God to give thanks.
1:25 to take away my disgrace among men For years she carried the shame of being childless. Now God had looked upon her. She saw this child as a personal gift from a God who saw her pain. He sees ours too.
1:26 the angel Gabriel was sent by God to a city of Galilee whose name was Nazareth The sixth month of Elizabeth's pregnancy. Nazareth was a small village people looked down on (John 1:46). The first announcement came in the temple to an old priest; the second came in a little town to a young woman. God chose the humble place.
1:27 a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David Betrothal was a legal contract, usually about a year, ended only by divorce; the couple were called husband and wife but did not yet live together. Mary was likely in her teens. Luke calls her a virgin twice in one verse, Isaiah's word for the mother of the promised Son (Isa 7:14). Joseph's line matters for what Gabriel says next.
1:28 Greetings, you who have been favored! The Greek kecharitomene means one on whom grace has been poured out. It points to what God gave her, not what she earned, and not a store of grace she gives to others. Roman Catholic teaching reads full of grace and ties it to the Immaculate Conception. Mary was chosen by grace, as every believer is.
1:29 she was pondering what kind of greeting this might be She was troubled more by the greeting than by the angel. She did not think of herself as anyone special.
1:31 you will call His name Jesus God was not angry; He had chosen her for the greatest privilege any woman has had. Jesus is the Greek form of Yeshua or Joshua, the Lord saves, for He would save His people from their sins (Matt 1:21). Seven hundred years earlier Isaiah wrote, "Look, the virgin is pregnant and bearing a son" (Isa 7:14), and Mary's Son fulfills it (Matt 1:22-23).
1:32 the Lord God will give Him the throne of David His father John would be great before the Lord; Jesus is simply great, with no limit, the Son of the Most High, the Son of God. God promised David a descendant on his throne forever (2 Sam 7:12-16; Isa 9:6-7). Through Mary, Jesus was David's true descendant; through Joseph, his legal heir.
1:33 He will reign over the house of Jacob to the ages I take these words at face value. The house of Jacob is Israel, and Jesus will reign over Israel from David's throne forever. He was rejected at His first coming, but the promise is not canceled. When He returns He will reign on the earth for a thousand years (Rev 20:1-6), and His kingdom goes on into eternity. God has not replaced Israel (Rom 11:25-29). Gabriel's words will be fulfilled to the letter.
1:34 How will this be, since I do not know a man? To know is the Bible's way of speaking of sexual relations (Gen 4:1). Zechariah wanted proof. Mary did not doubt it would happen; she asked how. That is why Gabriel rebuked him and simply answered her.
1:35 the power of the Most High will overshadow you No human father. God by His Spirit would create life in Mary's womb. Overshadow is used of the glory cloud over the tabernacle (Exod 40:34-35) and at the transfiguration (9:34). The virgin conception means Jesus is truly human, born of a woman, and truly God, the Son of God, and born without the sin nature passed down from Adam.
1:36 Elizabeth your relative, she also has conceived a son in her old age A sign Mary did not ask for. The Bible does not say how they were related. If God could give a son to an old, barren woman, He could do what He promised Mary.

the sixth month for her who is called barren. 37 For with God no declaration will be impossible." 38 Then Mary said, "Look, the slave of the Lord; may it happen to me according to your declaration." And the angel departed from her.

Mary Visits Elizabeth

39 Then Mary, having risen up in these days, went into the hill country with haste to a city of Judah (Iouda), 40 and she entered into the house of Zechariah and greeted Elizabeth. 41 And it came to pass, as Elizabeth heard the greeting of Mary, the baby leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit, 42 and she cried out with a loud voice and said, "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb! 43 And from where is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? 44 For look, as the voice of your greeting came into my ears, the baby leaped in exultation in my womb. 45 And blessed is she who believed, that there will be a fulfillment for the things spoken to her from the Lord."

Mary's Song

46 And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord, 47 and my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior, 48 because He has looked upon the lowliness of His slave; for look, from now on all the generations will call me blessed. 49 For the Mighty One has done great things for me, and holy is His name. 50 And His mercy is to generations of generations, to those who fear Him. 51 He has worked strength with His arm; He has scattered the proud in the thought of their heart. 52 He has brought down rulers from thrones and has exalted the lowly. 53 Those who hunger He has filled with good things, and those who are rich He has sent away empty. 54 He has helped Israel His servant, to remember mercy, 55 just as He spoke to our fathers, to Abraham (Abraam) and to his seed to the age." 56 And Mary remained with her about three months, and returned to her house.

The Birth of John the Baptist

57 Now for Elizabeth the time was fulfilled for her to give birth, and she bore a son. 58 And the neighbors and her relatives heard that the Lord had magnified His mercy with her, and they were rejoicing with her. 59 And it came to pass on the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child, and they were calling him by the name of his father, Zechariah. 60 And answering, his mother said, "No, but he will be called John." 61 And they said to her, "There is no one among your relatives who is called by this name." 62 And they were

1:37 For with God no declaration will be impossible Declaration is rhema, a spoken word. Nothing God says will fail (compare Gen 18:14). When God speaks, it happens, as true for us as for Mary.
1:38 Look, the slave of the Lord; may it happen to me according to your declaration One of the great statements of faith in the Bible. An unmarried, betrothed girl found pregnant faced shame and gossip; Joseph might divorce her (Matt 1:19), and by the Law she could have faced death. She said yes anyway. When God shows us His will, the right answer is the same.
1:39 went into the hill country with haste to a city of Judah Luke does not name the town, a trip of several days, eighty miles or more. She went to see the sign and to be with the one woman who might understand.
1:41 the baby leaped in her womb; and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit Not a normal kick; it was for joy (1:44). The promise of 1:15 came true, and before birth John was pointing to Jesus. Luke calls John a baby in the womb, the same word he uses for Jesus in the manger (2:12, 16). God sees the unborn child as a person.
1:42 Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the fruit of your womb! Mary had told her nothing yet. The Holy Spirit showed Elizabeth what had happened.
1:43 the mother of my Lord An older woman and a priest's wife humbled herself before a girl from Nazareth, and called a child perhaps only days or weeks conceived my Lord.
1:45 blessed is she who believed This is why Mary is blessed. Zechariah did not believe and was struck silent; Mary believed. When a woman blessed the womb that bore Him, Jesus said those who hear God's word and keep it are blessed (11:27-28). Mary is honored because she heard and trusted.
1:46 My soul magnifies the Lord Called the Magnificat, from the Latin for magnifies. To magnify the Lord is to make Him great in our eyes and others'. The song is full of the Old Testament and sounds much like Hannah's (1 Sam 2:1-10). Mary knew her Bible.
1:47 my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior Only sinners need a Savior. Mary was a godly young woman, but she knew she needed saving like the rest of us.
1:48 from now on all the generations will call me blessed Every generation has, and we should not be shy to. She was chosen, believed, and shows faith and humility. Yet Scripture never tells us to pray to Mary or ask her to go to God for us, though Roman Catholic and Orthodox Christians do. She called God her Savior and told the servants at Cana, "Whatever He says to you, do it" (John 2:5). The best way to honor her is to trust her Son.
1:50 His mercy is to generations of generations, to those who fear Him She did not boast in herself but praised the Mighty One. To fear God is to stand in awe, take Him seriously, and trust and obey. His mercy reaches every generation that fears Him, including ours (Ps 103:17).
1:52 He has brought down rulers from thrones and has exalted the lowly God turns the world's order upside down. Mary speaks as if it already happened, because when God sets out to do something, it is as good as done.
1:53 those who are rich He has sent away empty A theme all through Luke: "Blessed are the poor" and woe to the rich (6:20, 24). God is not against people for having money. He is against pride and the self-sufficiency that says I do not need God. The hungry who come to Him are filled.
1:55 to Abraham and to his seed to the age God promised Abraham that in his seed all nations would be blessed (Gen 12:3; 22:18). The birth of Jesus was God remembering. Because the promise was made forever, it still stands for Abraham's descendants today.
1:56 Mary remained with her about three months About the time of Elizabeth's delivery; Luke does not say whether Mary stayed for the birth. Then she went home to face Joseph and the town. God spoke to Joseph in a dream (Matt 1:18-25).
1:58 they were rejoicing with her God kept His word to the day, and many rejoiced as Gabriel said (1:14). When God answers a long, painful prayer, it is right for those around us to rejoice with us (Rom 12:15).
1:59 on the eighth day, they came to circumcise the child The sign of the covenant commanded to Abraham (Gen 17:12), and a common time to name a child. Sons were often named for father or grandfather.
1:61 There is no one among your relatives who is called by this name Zechariah had surely written down for Elizabeth what the angel said. This child would not fit anyone's expectations. He belonged to God.

making signs to his father, what he would want him to be called. 63 And having asked for a writing tablet, he wrote, saying, "John is his name." And they all marveled. 64 Then his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue, and he was speaking, blessing God. 65 And fear came upon all those dwelling around them; and in all the hill country of Judea all these declarations were being talked about. 66 And all who heard laid them up in their heart, saying, "What then will this child be?" And the hand of the Lord was with him.

Zechariah's Prophecy

67 And Zechariah his father was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied, saying, 68 "Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, because He has visited and has worked redemption for His people, 69 and has raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of David His servant, 70 just as He spoke through the mouth of His holy prophets, those from the age:
71 salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all those who hate us, 72 to work mercy with our fathers and to remember His holy covenant, 73 the oath which He swore to Abraham our father, 74 to grant to us, without fear, having been delivered from the hand of our enemies, to serve Him 75 in holiness and righteousness before Him all the days of our life. 76 And you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High; for you will go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways, 77 to give knowledge of salvation to His people in the forgiveness of their sins, 78 because of the tender mercy of our God, in which the Sunrise from on high has visited us, 79 to shine upon those sitting in darkness and the shadow of death, to direct our feet into the way of peace." 80 And the child was growing and was being strengthened in spirit, and he was in the deserts until the day of his public appearance to Israel.

1:63 John is his name They made signs to him, so he may have been deaf as well as mute; the word in 1:22 can mean either or both. He did not write the name would be John but that it is. God had settled it, and months of silence had taught him to believe.
1:64 he was speaking, blessing God His first words after nine months of silence were praise. He had doubted, God disciplined him, and now he worshiped.
1:66 What then will this child be? They would find out about thirty years later in the wilderness. God's hand on a life is the greatest blessing a child can have. Parents, that is the best thing we can pray for our children.
1:68 He has visited and has worked redemption for His people Zechariah's song is called the Benedictus, from the Latin for Blessed, a prophecy given by the Spirit. Jesus was not yet born, but he speaks as if redemption had come. Redemption means setting free by paying a price.
1:69 a horn of salvation for us in the house of David His servant A horn pictures strength, like a strong animal's horns, so this is a mighty Savior (Ps 18:2). Zechariah was a Levite, so this is not his son John but Mary's Son, the Son of David.
1:74 having been delivered from the hand of our enemies, to serve Him God saves us so we can serve Him, set free from sin, death and the devil to live holy lives without fear. Many expected only freedom from Rome. These words speak of real enemies, and I believe God will fully deliver Israel from all its enemies when Jesus returns to reign. But the heart of it is spiritual.
1:76 you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High The first prophet in Israel in four hundred years, going before the face of the Lord (Isa 40:3; Mal 3:1). Again, the One John goes before is the Lord. Jesus is the Lord.
1:77 in the forgiveness of their sins Our greatest enemy is not Rome or any earthly power but our own sin. Real salvation starts with forgiveness. John would point people to the One who takes sins away (John 1:29).
1:78 the Sunrise from on high has visited us Salvation comes from God's tender mercy, not our deserving. Sunrise means the dawn. Malachi spoke of the sun of righteousness rising with healing (Mal 4:2). Jesus is the dawn after a long night.
1:79 to shine upon those sitting in darkness and the shadow of death The people in darkness see a great light (Isa 9:2). Without Christ people sit in darkness under the shadow of death. Jesus brings light and guides us into peace with God.
1:80 he was in the deserts until the day of his public appearance to Israel Thirty years in one verse, in the dry wilderness of Judea near the Dead Sea. Some suggest contact with the Qumran community there, but that is only a guess. God prepared him in quiet, out of sight. God often prepares His servants in hidden places before He uses them in public.
2:1 a decree went out from Caesar Augustus for all the world to be registered Augustus, the first Roman emperor (27 B.C. to A.D. 14), liked to be called the bringer of peace and even a savior. A registration was a census for taxes, and all the world means the Roman world. Augustus thought he ran the world, but God was using him to bring His Son to the right town at the right time (Prov 21:1).
2:2 while Quirinius was governing Syria Josephus tells of a census under Quirinius about A.D. 6, ten years after Herod died, yet Jesus was born in Herod's days (1:5). Some note the word for first can mean before. Others point to evidence Quirinius held an earlier post in Syria. Others suggest a census begun under Herod and finished under Quirinius. Luke knew of the later census (Acts 5:37) and calls this one first. I believe Luke got it right, even if we cannot be sure which answer is correct.
2:4 to the city of David which is called Bethlehem People went to the town of their family line, fitting Jewish records kept by tribe and clan. About ninety miles, several days on foot. Bethlehem, six miles south of Jerusalem, was David's hometown (1 Sam 16:1). Micah said the ruler of Israel would come from there, one whose goings out are "from the days of antiquity" (Mic 5:2). Mary lived in Nazareth. God moved an empire to keep His word.
2:5 who was betrothed to him, his wife, being pregnant Legally married, but Joseph did not have relations with her until after Jesus was born (Matt 1:24-25).

pass, while they were there, the days were fulfilled for her to give birth. 7 And she gave birth to her son, the firstborn, and she wrapped Him in swaddling cloths and laid Him in the manger, because there was no place for them in the lodging place.

Shepherds and Angels

8 And there were shepherds in the same region living out in the fields and keeping watches of the night over their flock.
9 And look, an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they feared a great fear.
10 And the angel said to them, "Do not fear; for look, I announce to you great joy as good news, which will be to all the people. 11 For there has been born to you today a Savior, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David. 12 And this is the sign to you: you will find a baby wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in the manger." 13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly army, praising God and saying, 14 "Glory in the highest to God, and on earth peace, among men good will!" 15 And it came to pass, as the angels departed from them into heaven, and the men, the shepherds, said to one another, "Let us go over now to Bethlehem and see this declaration that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us." 16 And they came, having hurried, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the baby lying in the manger. 17 And having seen Him, they made known widely the declaration which had been spoken to them concerning this child. 18 And all those who heard marveled concerning the things spoken by the shepherds to them. 19 But Mary was treasuring up all these declarations, pondering them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things which they had heard and seen, just as it was spoken to them.

Jesus Presented in the Temple

21 And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising the child, then His name was called Jesus (Iesous), the name called by the angel before He was conceived in the womb.
22 And when the days of her purification were fulfilled according to the law of Moses, they brought Him up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) to present Him to the Lord, 23 just as it has been written in the law of the Lord, "Every male opening a womb shall be called holy to the Lord," 24 and to give a sacrifice according to what has been said in the law of the Lord, "A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons."
25 And look, there was a man in Jerusalem (Hierousalem)

2:7 she gave birth to her son, the firstborn Firstborn means her first child, not her only one; the Gospels later speak of His brothers and sisters (8:19-21; Mark 6:3). Swaddling cloths were snug strips every mother in Israel used. The Son of God was cared for like any other baby.

2:7 laid Him in the manger, because there was no place for them in the lodging place A manger is a feeding trough, so He was born where animals were kept: a stable, perhaps a cave as was common near Bethlehem, or the lower room of a house. Lodging place can mean an inn or a guest room; Luke uses it for the upper room (22:11). The Creator was born in a place meant for animals. He "emptied Himself, having taken the form of a slave" (Phil 2:7). From the beginning, Jesus came low.

2:8 shepherds in the same region living out in the fields Shepherds were poor, often away from home, kept by their work from the rules about washing and the Sabbath, and not always trusted. God sent His angels to them first. David had shepherded these fields, and the baby would call Himself the Good Shepherd (John 10:11). We do not know the date of His birth; December 25 was set centuries later. What matters is that He came.

2:9 the glory of the Lord shone around them The bright, visible presence of God that Israel had seen over the tabernacle and temple now shone on a hillside over shepherds. No wonder they were terrified.

2:10 great joy as good news, which will be to all the people The gospel in one sentence. The news is good, it brings great joy, and it is for everyone.

2:11 a Savior, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David Savior, to rescue us from sin and death. Christ, the Anointed One, the promised King. Lord, the title the Greek Old Testament uses for God's name. People called Augustus savior and lord; the real Savior and Lord was just born in Bethlehem. And born to you: for shepherds, the poor, sinners, and you.

2:12 you will find a baby wrapped in swaddling cloths, lying in the manger Swaddling cloths were normal. A manger was not; no one laid a newborn in a feeding trough. The sign of the Savior's coming was humility.

2:14 Glory in the highest to God, and on earth peace, among men good will! Picture the sky filling with an army of heaven, come not to fight but to worship. His birth brings glory to God and peace to men, first peace with God (Rom 5:1). Without Jesus we are at war with God because of our sin. The SLB follows the text reading good will toward men; other copies read peace among men with whom He is pleased. Both say the peace comes from God's favor, not our goodness.

2:16 found both Mary and Joseph, and the baby lying in the manger They did not argue or wait; they believed and went. Everything was just as the angel said. When God tells us something, we will always find it true.

2:17 they made known widely the declaration The first to tell others about Jesus were shepherds with no training or standing, but they had seen Him. A witness tells what he has seen and heard. Many marveled (2:18), but Luke does not say they all believed. Many marvel at Jesus and go on with their lives.

2:19 Mary was treasuring up all these declarations, pondering them in her heart She did not understand everything at once but stored it up for years, and Luke may have heard these memories from Mary herself. When God does something in our lives, we should not rush past it.

2:20 the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God Their jobs did not change, but they did. Meeting Jesus does not always change our work, but it changes how we do it and fills us with praise.

2:21 when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising the child In obedience to the Law (Gen 17:12; Lev 12:3), like John (1:59). He was "born under law" (Gal 4:4) and kept it perfectly from His first week, to redeem those who could not. His parents obeyed God in naming Him.

2:22 when the days of her purification were fulfilled After a son's birth a mother waited forty days and offered a sacrifice to be ceremonially clean (Lev 12:1-8), not because having a baby was sin but as part of the ceremonial law teaching holiness. Every firstborn son belonged to God, a reminder of the firstborn spared at the first Passover (Exod 13:2, 12-15), and was bought back for five shekels (Num 18:15-16).

2:24 A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons The Law asked a lamb and a bird, or two birds from a family too poor for a lamb (Lev 12:8). Mary and Joseph were poor. The Lamb of God was presented in the temple, and His parents could not afford a lamb.

2:25 waiting for the consolation of Israel The comfort God promised when the Messiah came (Isa 40:1-2). Simeon was one of a faithful few still watching, and the promise that he would see the Christ before death suggests he was old. Notice how much the Spirit is at work in these chapters: John, Elizabeth, Zechariah, Mary, and now Simeon.

whose name was Simeon (Symeon), and this man was righteous and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And it had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not see death before he should see the Christ of the Lord. 27 And he came in the Spirit into the temple; and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, for them to do according to the custom of the law concerning Him, 28 and he himself received Him into his arms and blessed God and said, 29 "Now You are releasing Your slave, Master, according to Your declaration, in peace, 30 because my eyes have seen Your salvation, 31 which You have prepared before the face of all the peoples, 32 a light for revelation of the Gentiles, and glory of Your people Israel." 33 And Joseph and His mother were marveling at the things being spoken concerning Him. 34 And Simeon blessed them and said to Mary His mother, "Look, this One is appointed for the falling and rising up of many in Israel, and for a sign spoken against 35 (and a sword will go through your own soul also), so that the thoughts from many hearts may be revealed."

Anna the Prophetess

36 And there was Anna, a prophetess, a daughter of Phanuel (Phanouel), of the tribe of Asher (Aser). She was advanced in many days, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, 37 and she was a widow of about eighty-four years, who did not depart from the temple, serving with fastings and petitions night and day. 38 And she, having come up at that very hour, was giving praise in response to the Lord, and she was speaking concerning Him to all those waiting for redemption in Jerusalem. 39 And when they had performed all the things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth. 40 And the child was growing and was being strengthened in spirit, being filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him.

The Boy Jesus in the Temple

41 And His parents were going every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover. 42 And when He was twelve years old, they having gone up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast, 43 and having completed the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem; and Joseph and His mother did not know it. 44 But having supposed Him to be in the caravan, they went a day's journey, and they were seeking Him among the relatives and among the acquaintances. 45 And not having found Him, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking Him. 46 And it came to pass, after three days they found Him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and questioning them. 47 And all those hearing Him were amazed at His understanding and answers. 48 And having seen Him, they were astonished; and His mother said to Him, "Child, why did

2:28 he himself received Him into his arms and blessed God On just the right day the Spirit led him among thousands to the one Child. He saw no royal robes or army, only a poor couple and a baby, and he knew he held God's salvation.
2:29 Now You are releasing Your slave, Master, according to Your declaration, in peace Called the Nunc Dimittis, from the Latin now You release. Like a watchman finished with his watch and allowed to go home, he was ready to die, because he had seen what God promised. Salvation is not just a plan. It is a Person, and to see Jesus is to see God's salvation.
2:32 a light for revelation of the Gentiles, and glory of Your people Israel Simeon knew Isaiah's Servant, a light to the nations (Isa 42:6; 49:6). Gentiles are all who are not Jews. This baby was for the whole world, and also Israel's glory. Jesus is not a Savior for Gentiles in place of Israel. He is Israel's own Messiah and the light of the nations too.
2:33 Joseph and His mother were marveling Each new word still amazed them. Luke is careful: Joseph by name, Mary His mother. Joseph was His legal father and raised Him, but Jesus had no human father.
2:34 appointed for the falling and rising up of many in Israel Jesus would divide people, some falling by rejecting Him and some rising by believing, the stone some stumble over and others build on (Isa 8:14; 28:16). He would be opposed and crucified, and how a person responds to Him shows what is in his heart.
2:35 a sword will go through your own soul also A word for Mary alone. About thirty-three years later she would stand at the cross and watch her Son die (John 19:25). What mother could bear that? Mary did, and she stayed.
2:36 Anna, a prophetess, a daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher A prophetess speaks God's message. Asher was a northern tribe scattered by Assyria about seven hundred years earlier, but some families kept their records.
2:37 a widow of about eighty-four years, who did not depart from the temple The Greek can mean she was eighty-four or had been a widow eighty-four years, which would make her over a hundred. She gave her long years alone to fasting and prayer. Widows were among the poorest and most overlooked, and God saw her and let her see His Son.
2:38 she was speaking concerning Him to all those waiting for redemption in Jerusalem Like Simeon she came at just the right moment, and she made sure the faithful who waited knew He had come. Luke loves to pair a man and a woman: Zechariah and Mary, Simeon and Anna. Both were witnesses from the beginning.
2:39 they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth Luke skips the wise men, the flight to Egypt and Herod's killing of the children (Matt 2), which came before the family settled in Nazareth. Each Gospel writer chose what to include for his purpose.
2:40 the child was growing and was being strengthened in spirit, being filled with wisdom Fully God and fully human, He grew in body and wisdom. Scripture gives no stories of childhood miracles; the so-called lost gospels that tell them were written much later and are not Scripture.
2:41 His parents were going every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the Passover The Law called men to appear three times a year (Deut 16:16), but many who lived far away went only at Passover, which remembered the lamb's blood saving the firstborn in Egypt. Joseph and Mary were faithful in worship and brought their family. In later Jewish custom a boy took on the duties of the Law at about thirteen, so at twelve Jesus was near that age.
2:44 having supposed Him to be in the caravan Not careless parenting. Families traveled in large caravans of relatives and neighbors, and a boy of twelve would be with cousins or friends. Any parent who has lost a child for a few minutes knows their fear.
2:46 sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them and questioning them Three days likely means a day out, a day back, and a day searching. The rabbis often taught in the temple courts. He was not lecturing but listening and asking like a good student, yet His grasp of God's word went far beyond His years.
2:48 Your father and I, being in anguish, were seeking You She spoke as any mother would, and rightly called Joseph His father, the man who raised Him and stood as father in law and in the town.

You do thus to us? Look, Your father and I, being in anguish, were seeking You." 49 And He said to them, "Why is it that you were seeking Me? Did you not know that I must be in the things of My Father?" 50 And they themselves did not understand the declaration which He spoke to them. 51 And He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and He was being subject to them. And His mother was keeping all these declarations in her heart. 52 And Jesus was advancing in wisdom and stature and favor with God and men.

The Preaching of John the Baptist

1 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius (Tiberios) Caesar, while Pontius (Pontios) Pilate (Pilatos) was governing Judea (Ioudaia), and Herod (Herodes) was tetrarch of Galilee (Galilaia), and Philip (Philippos) his brother was tetrarch of Iturea and the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias was tetrarch of Abilene, 2 in the time of the high priests Annas and Caiaphas (Kaiaphas), a declaration of God came upon John (Ioannes) the son of Zechariah (Zacharias) in the wilderness. 3 And he went into all the surrounding region of the Jordan (Iordanes), proclaiming a baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins, 4 as it has been written in the book of the words of Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet, saying, "The voice of one crying out in the wilderness: 'Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths straight. 5 Every valley will be filled, and every mountain and hill will be made low; and the crooked places will become straight, and the rough roads smooth ways; 6 and all flesh will see the salvation of God.'" 7 Therefore he was saying to the crowds coming out to be baptized by him, "Offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? 8 Therefore produce fruits worthy of repentance, and do not begin to say within yourselves, 'We have Abraham (Abraam) as father.' For I say to you that God is able from these stones to raise up children to Abraham. 9 And already also the ax is laid at the root of the trees; therefore every tree not producing good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire." 10 And the crowds were asking him, saying, "What then shall we do?" 11 And answering, he says to them, "The one having two tunics, let him share with the one not having any; and the one having food, let him do likewise." 12 And tax collectors also came to be baptized, and they said to him, "Teacher, what shall we do?" 13 And he said to them, "Collect nothing more than what has been

3:13 Luke 19:8; Ps 18:23; Prov 28:13

2:49 Did you not know that I must be in the things of My Father? The first recorded words of Jesus. The Greek can mean in My Father's house or about My Father's business; both are true. Mary spoke of His father, and He gently answered that His Father is God. At twelve He knew who He was. Notice must, which runs through Luke to the cross (9:22; 24:7, 26). Even Mary and Joseph did not fully understand.
2:51 He was being subject to them As remarkable as the temple scene. The Son of God went home and obeyed His parents, keeping the fifth commandment perfectly, and lived about eighteen more quiet years in Nazareth as a carpenter (Mark 6:3). Mary kept holding on to what she did not yet understand.
2:52 Jesus was advancing in wisdom and stature and favor with God and men Mentally, physically, spiritually and socially. He skipped no part of being human: baby, boy, teenager, young man. He can sympathize with our weaknesses, tempted in all things as we are, yet without sin (Heb 4:15). Whatever stage of life you are in, Jesus has been there.
3:1 in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar Tiberius followed Augustus in A.D. 14 after sharing some power with him, so this falls about A.D. 26 to 29. Pilate governed Judea about A.D. 26 to 36. Herod Antipas, a son of Herod the Great, was tetrarch, ruler of part of a kingdom, over Galilee; Philip ruled to the northeast and Lysanias in Abilene, northwest of Damascus. This is history, rooted in real time and place.
3:2 in the time of the high priests Annas and Caiaphas The Law had one high priest at a time. Rome removed Annas about A.D. 15, and his sons and son-in-law Caiaphas held the office after him, but the Jews still saw Annas as the real high priest (John 18:13; Acts 4:6). After all those powerful names, God's word came not to the emperor or the high priest but to a man in the desert. That is how God often works.
3:3 proclaiming a baptism of repentance for forgiveness of sins To repent is to change your mind about sin and God and turn around, a turning of the whole life, more than feeling sorry. Baptism means to dip or immerse. John's baptism was a sign of repentance and readiness for the Messiah. Jews had washings already, and later writings speak of Gentile converts being immersed, though we cannot be sure how early. John told Jews they too must come as sinners. The water did not wash away sin. Christian baptism likewise does not save; it is the believer's public step after repentance and faith.
3:4 Prepare the way of the Lord; make His paths straight Isaiah 40:3-5. Before a king's visit, workers filled low places, cut down high places, and straightened curves. John was the road crew for hearts. The proud must be brought low and the humble lifted, and crooked hearts made straight. That is what repentance does.
3:6 all flesh will see the salvation of God Luke quotes one line further than Matthew and Mark, and it fits his whole Gospel. Salvation is for all flesh, every kind of person.
3:7 Offspring of vipers, who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? When a field burned, snakes fled the fire. Many came only to escape judgment, not because they had turned from sin, and Pharisees and Sadducees were among them (Matt 3:7). God's wrath against sin is real. A preacher who never warns of judgment is not preaching the whole truth. But the warning is mercy, to send people running to the One who saves.
3:8 We have Abraham as father Real repentance shows in a changed life; you can tell a tree by its fruit. Many thought descent from Abraham guaranteed a place in God's kingdom. In Hebrew children (banim) and stones (abanim) may make a play on words. Being born into a believing family is a great gift, but it does not make you a child of God. Each person must repent and believe.
3:9 already also the ax is laid at the root of the trees Not hanging on the wall, but set against the tree, ready to swing. Judgment was near, and there was no time to wait.
3:10 What then shall we do? The right question when God's word cuts to the heart.
3:11 The one having two tunics, let him share A tunic was the shirt worn next to the skin, and most people had one or two. John did not tell them to live in the desert like him but to love their neighbor in plain, everyday ways. Repentance changes how we treat people in need.
3:13 Collect nothing more than what has been appointed to you Tax collectors bid for the right to collect in an area, charged more than the tax, and kept the difference; many got rich cheating their own people and were hated as traitors and thieves. John did not tell them to quit but to work honestly. Repentance does not always mean changing careers, but it does mean changing how we work.

appointed to you." 14 And those serving as soldiers were also asking him, saying, "And what shall we ourselves do?" And he said to them, "Extort from no one, nor accuse falsely, and be content with your wages."

John Points to the Christ

15 Now as the people were expecting, and all were reasoning in their hearts concerning John, whether he himself might be the Christ, 16 John answered, saying to all, "I indeed baptize you with water; but the One mightier than I is coming, of whom I am not worthy to untie the strap of His sandals. He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire, 17 whose winnowing fork is in His hand, and He will thoroughly clean His threshing floor and will gather the wheat into His barn; but the chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire." 18 So then, exhorting many other things also, he was preaching the gospel to the people. 19 But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him concerning Herodias the wife of Philip his brother, and concerning all the evils which Herod had done, 20 added this also to all, and he locked up John in the prison.

The Baptism of Jesus

21 Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, Jesus (Iesous) also having been baptized and praying, the heaven was opened, 22 and the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form as a dove upon Him, and a voice came out of heaven, saying, "You are My Son, the beloved; in You I was well pleased."

The Family Line of Jesus

23 And Jesus Himself, when beginning, was about thirty years old, being, as was supposed, son of Joseph (Ioseph), the son of Heli, 24 the son of Matthat, the son of Levi (Leui), the son of Melchi, the son of Janna (Ianna), the son of Joseph, 25 the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos, the son of Nahum (Naoum), the son of Esli, the son of Naggai (Nangai), 26 the son of Maath, the son of Mattathias, the son of Semei, the son of Joseph, the son of Judah (Ioudas), 27 the son of Joanna (Ioannas), the son of Rhesa (Hresa), the son of Zerubbabel (Zorobabel), the son of Salathiel, the son of Neri, 28 the son of Melchi, the son of Addi, the son of Cosam (Kosam), the son of Elmodam, the son of Er, 29 the son of Jose (Iose), the son of Eliezer, the son of Jorim (Ioreim), the son of Matthat, the son of Levi, 30 the son of Simeon (Symeon), the son of Judah, the son of Joseph, the son of Jonan (Ionan), the son of Eliakim (Eliakeim), 31 the son of Melea (Meleas), the son of Menam, the son of Mattatha, the son of Nathan, the son of David (Dabid), 32 the son of Jesse (Iessai), the son of Obed, the son of Boaz (Booz), the son of Salmon, the son of Nahshon (Naasson), 33 the son of Amminadab (Aminadab), the son of Aram, the son of Hezron (Esrom), the son of Perez (Phares),

3:14 Extort from no one, nor accuse falsely, and be content with your wages Perhaps Jewish soldiers of Herod Antipas or guards for the tax collectors, poorly paid and quick to bully people for money. He did not tell them to leave the army but not to use power to take what is not theirs. Be content with your wages is a good word for every worker. Greed and complaining are not the fruit of a changed heart.
3:15 whether he himself might be the Christ The people were waiting for the Messiah, and John preached with such power that some thought he might be the One.
3:16 He Himself will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and fire John, the greatest prophet, was not worthy to do a lowly slave's job for Jesus. Jesus would give the Spirit, beginning at Pentecost with tongues "as of fire" (Acts 2:3). Some see the fire as the Spirit purifying believers; others as judgment on those who reject Christ, since unquenchable fire follows; some see both, the Spirit for those who repent and judgment for those who do not.
3:17 whose winnowing fork is in His hand Farmers tossed grain in the air with a wooden fork; the wind blew away the light chaff, and the wheat fell back to the floor. A picture of final judgment: the Messiah will separate true from false, gathering His own and burning the chaff with fire that does not go out. John did not soften it. But the One holding the fork is the One who came to save.
3:18 he was preaching the gospel to the people Luke calls this hard preaching good news. The warning drives us to the Savior. You cannot see how good the good news is until you know how bad the bad news is.
3:19 being reproved by him concerning Herodias the wife of Philip his brother Herod Antipas divorced his wife to marry his half-brother's wife, which the Law forbade while the brother lived (Lev 18:16). John told him it was not lawful (Matt 14:4). Powerful or not, sin was sin.
3:20 he locked up John in the prison Later he would have John beheaded (9:9; Mark 6:17-29). Luke tells of the arrest here to finish John's story, though in time it came a little later. Speaking truth to the powerful can cost much. John paid the price.
3:21 Jesus also having been baptized and praying, the heaven was opened He had no sin to repent of, but it was fitting to fulfill all righteousness (Matt 3:14-15). He stood with sinners from the start. Only Luke tells us He was praying, the first of many turning points in Luke where Jesus prays.
3:22 the Holy Spirit descended in a bodily form as a dove upon Him Something people could see. The Spirit anointed Him for His public ministry (Acts 10:38). Son baptized, Spirit descending, Father speaking: one God in three Persons. The words echo Psalm 2:7 and Isaiah 42:1, King and Servant. Before a single miracle, the Father was well pleased with Him.
3:23 being, as was supposed, son of Joseph, the son of Heli About thirty: the age priests began (Num 4:3), Joseph entered Pharaoh's service (Gen 41:46), and David became king (2 Sam 5:4). People supposed Him Joseph's son; Joseph was His legal, not natural, father. Matthew names Joseph's father Jacob (Matt 1:16). Many believe Luke gives Mary's line, Heli being her father and Joseph his son-in-law, since women were not usually listed. Others, following the early writer Julius Africanus, see Joseph's natural line joined to the legal line by a levirate marriage (Deut 25:5-6). Faithful teachers hold both.
3:27 the son of Zerubbabel, the son of Salathiel Most names here are found nowhere else, ordinary people only God knows, each a link in the chain to Jesus. Zerubbabel, who led the return from Babylon and rebuilt the temple (Ezra 3:8), and Salathiel appear in Matthew too (Matt 1:12). They may be the same men where the lines crossed, or different men with the same names. Scripture does not say.
3:31 the son of Nathan, the son of David Matthew traces the line through Solomon, Luke through Nathan, another son of David and Bathsheba (1 Chr 3:5). God cursed King Jeconiah of Solomon's line, saying none of his offspring would sit on David's throne (Jer 22:30), and Joseph came from that line (Matt 1:11-12). If Luke's line is Mary's, Jesus is David's son by blood through Nathan without the curse, and the legal heir through Joseph. God's plan covered every detail.
3:33 the son of Perez, the son of Judah Jesse, Obed and Boaz, who married Ruth the Moabite and was David's great-grandfather (Ruth 4:18-22). Judah was the royal tribe (Gen 49:10). Then Jacob, Isaac and Abraham, to whom God promised that all nations would be blessed in his seed (Gen 22:18). Matthew starts with Abraham. Luke goes further.

the son of Judah, 34 the son of Jacob (Iakob), the son of Isaac (Isaak), the son of Abraham, the son of Terah (Thara), the son of Nahor (Nachor), 35 the son of Serug (Sarouch), the son of Reu (Hragau), the son of Peleg (Phalek), the son of Eber, the son of Sala, 36 the son of Cainan (Kainan), the son of Arphaxad, the son of Shem (Sem), the son of Noah (Noe), the son of Lamech, 37 the son of Methuselah (Mathousala), the son of Enoch (Henoch), the son of Jared (Iared), the son of Mahalalel (Maleleel), the son of Cainan, 38 the son of Enosh (Enos), the son of Seth, the son of Adam, the son of God.

Jesus Tested in the Wilderness

1 Now Jesus (Iesous), full of the Holy Spirit, returned from the Jordan (Iordanes), and He was led in the Spirit into the wilderness, 2 being tempted forty days by the devil. And He ate nothing in those days; and when they had ended, afterward He was hungry. 3 And the devil said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, speak to this stone that it may become bread." 4 And Jesus answered him, saying, "It has been written, 'Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every declaration of God.'" 5 And the devil, having led Him up into a high mountain, showed Him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. 6 And the devil said to Him, "To You I will give all this authority and their glory, because it has been delivered to me, and I give it to whomever I wish. 7 You therefore, if You worship before me, all will be Yours." 8 And answering, Jesus said to him, "Get behind Me, Satan; for it has been written, 'You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him only you shall serve.'" 9 And he led Him to Jerusalem (Hierousalem) and set Him on the pinnacle of the temple and said to Him, "If You are the Son of God, throw Yourself down from here. 10 For it has been written, 'He will command His angels concerning You, to guard You,' 11 and, 'On their hands they will lift You up, lest You strike Your foot against a stone.'" 12 And answering, Jesus said to him, "It has been said, 'You shall not test the Lord your God.'" 13 And having finished every temptation, the devil departed from Him until an opportune time.

Rejected at Nazareth

3:36 the son of Cainan, the son of Arphaxad This Cainan does not appear in the Hebrew of Genesis 11:12, but he does in the Greek translation of the Old Testament many used in Luke's day. Teachers explain it differently, and it does not change the point of the list.
3:38 the son of Adam, the son of God Adam is called son of God because God created him directly. Jesus is the Son of God in a far greater sense, the eternal Son become man. Matthew, writing mainly to Jews, shows Him son of Abraham and David; Luke shows Him son of Adam, related to every human being, "the last Adam" (1 Cor 15:45). The list sits between the Father's "You are My Son" and the devil's "If You are the Son of God." Adam failed when tempted. Jesus will not.
4:1 He was led in the Spirit into the wilderness The testing was no accident. The Father allowed it and the Spirit led Him into it. Being full of the Spirit does not keep us from hard places; sometimes the Spirit leads us right into them.
4:2 being tempted forty days by the devil The devil is a real being, a fallen angel leading the rebellion against God. Satan means adversary; devil means slanderer. Forty days recalls Israel's forty years of testing (Deut 8:2), and all three answers come from Deuteronomy 6 to 8. Where Israel failed, Jesus succeeded. He was a real man and was hungry, and the devil came hardest then. He often comes at us when we are tired, hungry or alone.
4:3 If You are the Son of God, speak to this stone that it may become bread If carries the sense of since; the Father had just called Him Son (3:22). Making bread was not wrong in itself; He later fed five thousand. But this meant using His power for Himself at the devil's word instead of trusting the Father to provide.
4:4 Man shall not live on bread alone, but on every declaration of God Deuteronomy 8:3: God fed Israel manna to teach that life comes from His word. Jesus would rather stay hungry and obey. He fought not with argument or a show of power but with Scripture, "the sword of the Spirit" (Eph 6:17). If Jesus needed it, how much more do we?
4:6 it has been delivered to me, and I give it to whomever I wish The devil showed Him every nation's glory at once in some kind of vision. His claim was partly true. Jesus calls him "the ruler of this world" (John 12:31); since Adam's sin the world system lies under his influence (1 John 5:19). But he is a liar (John 8:44), and God has the final say over the kingdoms (Dan 4:17).
4:7 if You worship before me, all will be Yours The crown without the cross. Jesus will one day rule all the world's kingdoms (Rev 11:15), but the way runs through the cross. The devil offered a shortcut: bow once.
4:8 You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him only you shall serve Deuteronomy 6:13. Worship belongs to God alone. Most of us are offered smaller deals: bend a little, compromise a little, get what you want faster. But anything we put in God's place becomes what we worship.
4:9 set Him on the pinnacle of the temple A high corner of the temple above the Kidron Valley. Luke puts this test last, Matthew second (Matt 4:5-10), perhaps because Luke's whole Gospel moves toward Jerusalem, where Jesus wins the final victory.
4:10 He will command His angels concerning You, to guard You Now the devil quotes Psalm 91:11-12, leaving out "in all your ways" (Ps 91:11), the ways of obedience, and twisting a promise of care into a temptation to test God. The devil knows the Bible and will use it when it suits him. We must know it well enough to see when it is twisted.
4:12 You shall not test the Lord your God Deuteronomy 6:16. To jump and demand that God catch Him would be forcing God to prove Himself. That is not faith but presumption. Real faith trusts and obeys. It does not try to make God perform on our terms.
4:13 the devil departed from Him until an opportune time Resist the devil and he will flee (James 4:7), but only for a time. He came back through the leaders, through Peter (Matt 16:22-23), through Judas (22:3), and in the garden and at the cross. The tests touched the body, power and glory, and pride, "the lust of the flesh and the lust of the eyes and the boasting of life" (1 John 2:16). He was tempted in all things yet without sin (Heb 4:15), so He can help us.
4:15 being glorified by all He went in full of the Spirit and came back to Galilee in His power. A synagogue was a local meeting place for reading Scripture, prayer and teaching. Luke skips about a year of early ministry that John records (John 1-4). Everyone was praising Him. That is about to change.

their synagogues, being glorified by all. 16 And He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up; and according to His custom He entered on the day of the Sabbath into the synagogue, and He stood up to read. 17 And the scroll of the prophet Isaiah (Hesaias) was given to Him. And having unrolled the scroll, He found the place where it was written, 18 "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the broken in heart, to proclaim release to captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to send away the oppressed in release, 19 to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." 20 And having rolled up the scroll, having given it back to the attendant, He sat down; and the eyes of all in the synagogue were fixed on Him. 21 Then He began to say to them, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your ears." 22 And all were bearing witness to Him and were marveling at the words of grace which were proceeding out of His mouth, and they were saying, "Is this not the son of Joseph (Ioseph)?" 23 And He said to them, "Surely you will say to Me this proverb, 'Physician, heal Yourself! As many things as we have heard having happened in Capernaum (Kapernaoum), do also here in Your hometown.'" 24 And He said, "Truly I say to you, no prophet is acceptable in his hometown. 25 But in truth I say to you, many widows were in the days of Elijah (Helias) in Israel, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when a great famine came upon all the land; 26 and to none of them was Elijah sent, except to Zarephath (Sarepta) of Sidon, to a woman, a widow. 27 And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha (Elissaios) the prophet; and none of them was cleansed except Naaman (Neeman) the Syrian." 28 And all in the synagogue were filled with rage, hearing these things. 29 And having risen up, they cast Him out of the city, and they led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city had been built, to throw Him down. 30 But He Himself, having passed through the midst of them, was going away.

Authority over an Unclean Spirit

31 And He went down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and He was teaching them on the Sabbaths. 32 And they were astonished at His teaching, because His word was with authority. 33 And in the synagogue there was a man having a spirit of an unclean demon, and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 saying, "Ha! What is there to us and to You, Jesus the Nazarene? Did You come to destroy us? I know You, who You are: the Holy One of God." 35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Be silenced, and come out of him!" And the demon, having thrown him into the midst, came out from him, having hurt

4:16 according to His custom He entered on the day of the Sabbath into the synagogue The Son of God made a habit of gathering with God's people to hear His word read, though the teachers knew far less than He did. If Jesus needed that habit, so do we. A reading came from the Law and from the Prophets, and a visiting teacher stood to read and sat to teach. Books were long scrolls, and Jesus chose the passage, what we call Isaiah 61.
4:18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He has anointed Me Messiah means Anointed One, and He had just been anointed at the Jordan. Good news to the poor, both the materially poor and those who know they have nothing to offer God; healing for shattered hearts; release for those bound by sin and Satan; sight for blind eyes, physical and spiritual; freedom for the crushed. The SLB includes "to heal the broken in heart," from the Received Text, though some older copies lack it.
4:19 to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord The Year of Jubilee, when debts were canceled, slaves freed, and land returned every fiftieth year (Lev 25:8-13). Jesus brings the great Jubilee. And He stopped mid-sentence, before "a day of vengeance of our God" (Isa 61:2). His first coming brought favor; the day of vengeance comes with His Second Coming (Rev 19:11-16). Between the comma and the next phrase lies this whole age of grace. Today is still the acceptable year. Today is the day to come to Him.
4:21 Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your ears He sat to teach, and every eye was fixed on Him. The heart of the sermon: I am the One Isaiah wrote about. The Messiah is not coming someday. He is standing in front of you.
4:22 Is this not the son of Joseph? At first they liked His words of grace. Then they could not get past the carpenter's son who grew up down the street. Many today think they already know who Jesus is and never really listen to what He says.
4:24 no prophet is acceptable in his hometown They had heard of miracles in Capernaum and wanted a show, not a Savior. Those who watched someone grow up often have the hardest time seeing God at work in him. His own brothers did not believe until after the resurrection (John 7:5; Acts 1:14).
4:26 except to Zarephath of Sidon, to a woman, a widow In Elijah's famine, among many widows in Israel, God sent His prophet to feed a Gentile widow (1 Kgs 17:8-16) in Sidon, the home region of wicked Jezebel.
4:27 none of them was cleansed except Naaman the Syrian A Gentile commander of Israel's enemy, healed when he obeyed Elisha (2 Kgs 5:1-14). When Israel turned from God, God showed grace to Gentiles who believed. Nazareth thought it had a right to His miracles. God's grace is owed to no one. It goes to those who receive it in faith, Jew or Gentile.
4:28 all in the synagogue were filled with rage Minutes before they marveled at His words of grace. Now they were furious that despised Gentiles had received what they refused. Pride hates grace when grace goes to the wrong people.
4:29 they led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city had been built, to throw Him down Nazareth sits on a hill with drops nearby. They would kill Him on the Sabbath, straight from the synagogue, a picture of the end, when His own people would lead Him out of the city to die.
4:30 having passed through the midst of them, was going away Luke does not say how. No one could touch Him, because His time had not come (John 7:30). No one could take His life until He chose to lay it down (John 10:18).
4:32 His word was with authority Capernaum, a fishing town on the north shore below the hills of Nazareth, became His home base (Matt 4:13). Most teachers quoted other rabbis. Jesus did not need to. He spoke as the One who gave the Law.
4:33 a man having a spirit of an unclean demon Demons are fallen angels who followed Satan, called unclean because they are wicked and defile those they control. This man was at worship. Evil can be present even in religious places.
4:34 I know You, who You are: the Holy One of God The demon knew Jesus better than Nazareth did, and knew He came to destroy the works of the devil (1 John 3:8). But knowing who Jesus is saves no one. The demons believe and shudder (James 2:19).
4:35 having hurt him in nothing Jesus would not let the enemy announce Him. No rituals or special words, only a command the demon had to obey. Luke the doctor notes the man was unhurt; the demon's last show of power could not harm him. Authority is the right to command and power the ability to carry it out, and Jesus has both.

him in nothing. 36 And astonishment came upon all, and they were speaking to one another, saying, "What is this word, that with authority and power He commands the unclean spirits, and they come out?" 37 And a report concerning Him was going out into every place of the surrounding region.

Many Healed at Capernaum

38 Then, having risen up from the synagogue, He entered into the house of Simon. And the mother-in-law of Simon was gripped with a great fever, and they asked Him concerning her. 39 And standing over her, He rebuked the fever, and it left her; and immediately, having arisen, she was serving them. 40 Now when the sun was setting, all who had any ailing with various diseases brought them to Him; and He, laying His hands on each one of them, healed them. 41 And demons also were coming out from many, crying out and saying, "You are the Christ, the Son of God!" And rebuking them, He was not allowing them to speak, because they knew Him to be the Christ. 42 Now when day came, having gone out, He went into a deserted place; and the crowds were seeking Him, and they came up to Him and were holding Him back, so that He would not go away from them. 43 But He said to them, "To the other cities also I must announce the kingdom of God as good news, because for this I have been sent." 44 And He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee.

LUKE 5

The Catch of Fish and the First Disciples

1 Now it came to pass, while the crowd was pressing upon Him to hear the word of God, and He Himself was standing by the lake of Gennesaret, 2 and He saw two boats standing by the lake; but the fishermen, having gone out from them, washed the nets. 3 Then, having gotten into one of the boats, which was Simon's, He asked him to put out a little from the land. And having sat down, He was teaching the crowds from the boat. 4 And when He had stopped speaking, He said to Simon, "Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a catch." 5 And answering, Simon said to Him, "Master, having toiled through the whole night, we took nothing; but at Your declaration I will let down the net." 6 And having done this, they enclosed a great multitude of fish, and their net was breaking. 7 And they signaled to the partners in the other boat to come and help them. And they came and filled both the boats, so that they were sinking. 8 Now Simon Peter (Petros), having seen it, fell at the knees of Jesus (Iesous), saying, "Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord." 9 For astonishment seized him and all those with him at the catch of the fish which they had taken; 10 and likewise also James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes), sons of Zebedee (Zebedaios), who were partners with Simon. And Jesus said to Simon, "Do not fear; from now on you will be catching men." 11 And having brought the boats to land, having left all, they followed Him.

4:38 the mother-in-law of Simon was gripped with a great fever Simon Peter, named before his call in chapter 5. Peter was married. Luke the doctor notes it was a great fever, a high one.
4:39 He rebuked the fever, and it left her He spoke to the fever as to the demon; sickness and demons both bow to His word. No recovery time: she got up and served. He lifts us up, and we serve.
4:40 He, laying His hands on each one of them, healed them The Jewish day ran sunset to sunset, and Sabbath rules kept people from carrying the sick until sundown. Then they came in crowds. Each one: Jesus did not wave over the crowd but touched every person. He never treats people as a crowd. And He would not let demons announce who He was.
4:43 To the other cities also I must announce the kingdom of God as good news Nazareth tried to throw Him out; Capernaum tried to hold Him in. He had slipped away to pray (Mark 1:35). The kingdom of God is God's rule through His King. Healing showed His power and compassion, but the message mattered most. Must again: He knew why He was sent and would not be pulled away, even by good things.
4:44 He was preaching in the synagogues of Galilee Some Greek copies read Judea, perhaps meaning the whole land of the Jews; the SLB reads Galilee, which fits the context. Either way He kept moving, town after town, preaching the kingdom.
5:3 having gotten into one of the boats, which was Simon's By the lake of Gennesaret, the Sea of Galilee, the fishermen had fished all night and were cleaning their nets. The water carried His voice to the crowd. Peter had met Jesus before (John 1:40-42) and seen his mother-in-law healed (4:38-39). Jesus often starts small. He asks for what we have and uses it.
5:4 Put out into the deep, and let down your nets for a catch Fishermen on this lake worked at night in shallow water when fish came up to feed, not in deep water at midday. Jesus was a carpenter; Peter was the expert.
5:5 at Your declaration I will let down the net Master means one in charge, an overseer. Peter was tired and knew there were no fish, but he obeyed. That is faith: obeying Jesus even against our experience and feelings. Many of us have toiled all night and caught nothing. Will we let down the net again because He said so?
5:7 they came and filled both the boats, so that they were sinking More than the nets could hold. When Jesus blesses, He often gives more than we can hold.
5:8 Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, Lord Not a shout of joy over the money. Seeing who Jesus was showed Peter who he was, and Master became Lord. Isaiah cried woe (Isa 6:5); Job repented in dust and ashes (Job 42:5-6). The closer we come to the holiness of Jesus, the more clearly we see our sin. That is the beginning of grace.
5:10 from now on you will be catching men James and John were Simon's partners, and these three would be Jesus' closest friends. Peter asked Jesus to go; Jesus gave him a new job instead. The word means to catch alive. Fishermen catch fish to kill them; Peter would catch men to give them life. When we confess our sin, Jesus does not push us away. He forgives and gives us a purpose.
5:11 having left all, they followed Him Boats, nets and the biggest catch of their lives, left on the shore. Not because Jesus needed them, but because they had found something worth far more. Jesus does not call every believer to leave his job, but He calls every believer to put Him first.

A Leper Cleansed

12 And it came to pass, while He was in one of the cities, and look, a man full of leprosy; and having seen Jesus, having fallen on his face, he begged Him, saying, "Lord, if You are willing, You are able to cleanse me." 13 And having stretched out His hand, He touched him, saying, "I am willing; be cleansed." And immediately the leprosy departed from him. 14 And He Himself ordered him to tell no one, "But having gone, show yourself to the priest and offer for your cleansing just as Moses commanded, for a testimony to them." 15 But the word concerning Him was spreading still more; and great crowds were coming together to hear and to be healed by Him from their sicknesses. 16 But He Himself was withdrawing in the deserts and praying.

A Paralyzed Man Forgiven and Healed

17 And it came to pass on one of the days, and He Himself was teaching; and there were sitting there Pharisees and teachers of the law who had come out of every village of Galilee (Galilaia) and Judea (Ioudaia) and Jerusalem (Hierousalem); and the power of the Lord was present for healing them. 18 And look, men carrying on a bed a man who was paralyzed, and they were seeking to bring him in and to place him before Him. 19 And not having found by what way they might bring him in because of the crowd, having gone up on the housetop, they let him down through the tiles with the cot into the midst before Jesus. 20 And having seen their faith, He said to him, "Man, your sins have been forgiven you." 21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, "Who is this who speaks blasphemies? Who is able to forgive sins except God alone?" 22 But Jesus, having recognized their reasonings, answering, said to them, "Why are you reasoning in your hearts? 23 Which is easier, to say, 'Your sins have been forgiven you,' or to say, 'Arise and walk'? 24 But so that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins" (He said to the paralyzed man), "I say to you, arise, and having taken up your cot, go to your house." 25 And immediately, having stood up before them, having taken up that on which he was lying, he departed to his house, glorifying God. 26 And amazement seized all, and they were glorifying God, and they were filled with fear, saying, "We have seen remarkable things today."

The Call of Levi

27 And after these things He went out and saw a tax collector named Levi (Leui) sitting at the tax booth, and He said to him, "Follow Me." 28 And having left all, having arisen, he followed Him. 29 And Levi made a great banquet for Him in his house; and there was a great crowd of tax collectors and

5:29 John 12:2; Matt 9:10; Mark 2:15

5:12 a man full of leprosy Luke the doctor notes the disease was advanced. Leprosy covered serious skin diseases; a leper tore his clothes, cried "Unclean!" and lived alone (Lev 13:45-46), cut off from worship and family, and many thought it God's punishment. He did not doubt Jesus' power, only whether He would want to help someone like him. Many still wonder that.

5:13 He touched him, saying, "I am willing; be cleansed." He could have healed with a word. This man may not have felt a human touch in years. Touching a leper made one unclean, but Jesus did not become unclean; the leper became clean. That is His answer to all who wonder if He is willing. When Jesus heals, He needs no time.

5:14 show yourself to the priest and offer for your cleansing just as Moses commanded He did not want to be known only as a miracle worker; the man did not obey, and the crowds grew (Mark 1:45). Leviticus 14 gave the steps: examination, declaration and sacrifices. Jesus kept the Law and sent the man as living proof that God was at work.

5:16 He Himself was withdrawing in the deserts and praying The more the crowds pressed in, the more He pulled away to pray, and the Greek shows it was His habit. He did not let a busy schedule crowd out the Father. The busier we get, the more we need to pray, not less.

5:17 Pharisees and teachers of the law Luke's first mention of the Pharisees, strict keepers of the Law and of many rules added by their teachers; many were sincere, and many became proud and judged others. Teachers of the law, or scribes, copied and explained the Law. They came from everywhere, even Jerusalem, to check out the new teacher, and God's power to heal was at work in that room.

5:19 they let him down through the tiles with the cot into the midst before Jesus Roofs were flat with outside stairs, and this one may have been tiled. They tore it open to get their friend to Jesus. Do we care enough to bring friends to Jesus even when it is hard? Some will never come unless someone carries them.

5:20 Man, your sins have been forgiven you Jesus saw the faith of the friends, and likely the man's, shown in action. The man came to be healed, and Jesus went to the deeper need. This does not mean a certain sin caused the illness. A paralyzed body is terrible, but a soul without forgiveness is worse.

5:21 Who is able to forgive sins except God alone? Blasphemy is speaking against God or claiming what belongs only to Him. They were right: only God forgives sins (Isa 43:25). If you wrong me, I can forgive what you did to me, but sin is ultimately against God. Either Jesus was a blasphemer or He was God. There is no middle ground.

5:23 Which is easier They said nothing aloud, and He knew their thoughts. Saying sins are forgiven is easy to say because no one can see it. Saying get up and walk will be tested at once. Doing either takes the power of God.

5:24 the Son of Man has authority on the earth to forgive sins The first time in Luke Jesus calls Himself the Son of Man, His favorite title, from Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man receives an everlasting kingdom. It speaks of His true humanity and His heavenly glory and authority. He did the harder, visible thing to prove the invisible one. The healing proved the forgiveness was real.

5:26 We have seen remarkable things today He walked out carrying the mat that carried him, praising God. Remarkable is paradoxa, things against all expectation.

5:27 a tax collector named Levi sitting at the tax booth Levi is Matthew, who wrote the first Gospel (Matt 9:9; Mark 2:14). Tax collectors worked for Rome, often cheated their own people, and were treated as traitors. Capernaum lay on a trade road, so Levi likely collected tolls on passing goods. With two words Jesus called the most hated man in town.

5:28 having left all, having arisen, he followed Him Fishermen could go back to fishing; once Levi left his booth, someone else would take it. He gave up much money and gained far more. His careful records may be one reason his Gospel is so ordered. God uses who we were, once we follow Him.

5:29 Levi made a great banquet for Him in his house His first act was a party so his friends could meet Jesus, people never welcome in a Pharisee's home. A good pattern for any new believer. Guests reclined on couches at a low table, leaning on one elbow.

others who were reclining with them. 30 And their scribes and the Pharisees were grumbling at His disciples, saying, "Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners?" 31 And answering, Jesus said to them, "Those who are healthy have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. 32 I have not come to call righteous ones but sinners to repentance."

A Question About Fasting

33 And they said to Him, "Why do the disciples of John fast often and make petitions, likewise also those of the Pharisees, but Yours eat and drink?" 34 And He said to them, "Can you make the sons of the bridechamber fast while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But days will come, and when the bridegroom is taken away from them, then they will fast in those days." 36 And He was also speaking a parable to them: "No one puts a patch of a new garment on an old garment; otherwise, the new also tears it, and the patch that is from the new does not match the old. 37 And no one puts new wine into old wineskins; otherwise the new wine will burst the wineskins, and it will be spilled out, and the wineskins will be destroyed. 38 But new wine must be put into new wineskins, and both are preserved together. 39 And no one having drunk old wine immediately desires new; for he says, 'The old is better.'"

LUKE 6

Lord of the Sabbath

1 Now it came to pass on a second-first Sabbath that He was passing through the grainfields, and His disciples were plucking and eating the heads of grain, rubbing them with their hands. 2 And some of the Pharisees said to them, "Why are you doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbaths?" 3 And answering, Jesus (Iesous) said to them, "Have you not even read this, what David (Dabid) did when he was hungry, he and those who were with him, 4 how he entered into the house of God, and took the loaves of the presentation and ate, and gave also to those with him, which it is not lawful to eat except only for the priests?" 5 And He was saying to them, "The Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath."

A Withered Hand Restored

6 And it came to pass also on another Sabbath that He entered into the synagogue and was teaching; and a man was there, and his right hand was withered. 7 And the scribes and the Pharisees were watching Him closely, whether He would heal on the Sabbath, so that they might find an accusation against Him. 8 But He Himself knew their thoughts, and He said to the man who had the withered hand, "Rise and stand

6:8 Luke 5:22; 1 Chr 28:9; 1 Chr 29:17

5:30 Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and sinners? Eating with someone meant accepting him as a friend. The Pharisees thought Jesus was dirtying Himself. They grumbled to the disciples, not to Jesus.
5:32 I have not come to call righteous ones but sinners to repentance Luke the doctor records the saying; a doctor does not avoid the sick. The Pharisees were not righteous; no one is (Rom 3:10). Those who think they are will never come, because they think they need nothing. Only the sick go to the doctor. And to repentance: He loved sinners too much to leave them as they were. He called them to turn and follow, as Levi did.
5:34 the sons of the bridechamber Fasting is going without food to seek God. The Law required one fast a year, but many Pharisees fasted twice a week (18:12). The sons of the bridechamber were the groom's closest friends, like groomsmen. A Jewish wedding lasted a week, and no one fasted there. John called Jesus the bridegroom (John 3:29). While He was with them, it was a time of joy.
5:35 when the bridegroom is taken away from them The first hint in Luke that He would be taken by force, speaking of His death. His followers did fast later (Acts 13:2-3; 14:23), and fasting is right for believers as we wait for the Bridegroom to return for His bride.
5:36 No one puts a patch of a new garment on an old garment A parable is a short story from everyday life teaching a spiritual truth. Cutting a new coat to patch an old one ruins the new and does not match the old. Jesus did not come to patch up the old religious system with a few improvements. He came to bring something new.
5:38 new wine must be put into new wineskins Fermenting wine expands. A new skin stretches; an old, dry one bursts. The new wine is the life of grace and forgiveness; the old skins were the Pharisees' rigid rules. It needs a new heart. God's Law was not bad, and Jesus came to fulfill it (Matt 5:17), but the man-made system could not hold the joy and freedom He brings.
5:39 The old is better Only Luke records this. People used to the old way do not want to change, even when the new comes from God. Many would rather keep the religion they know than receive new life. Do not let comfort with the old way keep you from what God is doing.
6:1 on a second-first Sabbath This unusual phrase is in the Received Greek Text that the SLB follows. Most older Greek copies simply say on a Sabbath. No one is sure what second-first means; some think it was the first Sabbath after the second day of Passover, others the first Sabbath of the second month or of a cycle. It does not change the meaning of the story.
6:2 Why are you doing what is not lawful to do on the Sabbaths The problem was the day. The teachers had added many rules defining work on the Sabbath. To them picking grain was harvesting and rubbing it was threshing. The disciples were breaking the Pharisees' rules, not God's Law. Picking grain by hand from a neighbor's field was allowed (Deut 23:25).
6:4 took the loaves of the presentation and ate When David fled from Saul, the priest gave his hungry men the holy bread (1 Sam 21:1-6): twelve loaves set before the Lord each week, which only priests were allowed to eat (Lev 24:5-9). Human need came before a ceremonial rule, and God did not condemn David. How much more could the disciples of David's greater Son pick grain on the Sabbath? God's laws were given for our good, not to keep us hungry.
6:5 The Son of Man is Lord also of the Sabbath A bold claim. God gave the Sabbath, and to be Lord over it is to claim to be God. Jesus was not breaking the Sabbath; He had the right to say what it was for. The One who made the day of rest gives true rest (Matt 11:28; Heb 4:9-10).
6:7 so that they might find an accusation against Him The man's right hand, likely his working hand, was withered. They did not care about the man; they were using him as bait. Their rules allowed help on the Sabbath only if life was in danger, and a withered hand could wait. In a house of worship on a holy day they were looking for a reason to accuse the Son of God.
6:8 He Himself knew their thoughts They had said nothing, but Jesus knew. He called the man into the middle of the room where everyone could see. He was not afraid of the Pharisees, and He would not leave a hurting man in the corner.

in the midst." And having risen, he stood. 9 Then Jesus said to them, "I will ask you something: Is it lawful on the Sabbaths to do good or to do evil, to save a life or to destroy it?" 10 And having looked around on them all, He said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." And he did so, and his hand was restored sound as the other. 11 But they themselves were filled with rage, and were discussing with one another what they might do to Jesus.

The Twelve Chosen

12 And it came to pass in those days that He went out to the mountain to pray, and He was spending the whole night in prayer to God. 13 And when it became day, He called His disciples to Him, and having chosen twelve from them, whom He also named apostles: 14 Simon, whom He also named Peter (Petros), and Andrew (Andreas) his brother, James (Iakobos) and John (Ioannes), Philip (Philippos) and Bartholomew (Bartholomaios), 15 Matthew (Matthaios) and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus (Alphaios), and Simon, the one called Zealot, 16 Judas (Ioudas) of James, and Judas Iscariot (Iskariotes), who also became the betrayer.

Blessings and Woes

17 And having come down with them, He stood on a level place, and a crowd of His disciples and a great multitude of the people from all Judea (Ioudaia) and Jerusalem (Hierousalem) and the seacoast of Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon, who came to hear Him and to be healed of their diseases, 18 and those who were troubled by unclean spirits; and they were being healed. 19 And all the crowd was seeking to touch Him, because power was going out from Him and was healing all. 20 And He, having lifted up His eyes toward His disciples, was saying, "Blessed are the poor, for yours is the kingdom of God. 21 Blessed are those who hunger now, for you will be filled. Blessed are those who weep now, for you will laugh. 22 Blessed are you when men hate you, and when they exclude you and insult you and cast out your name as evil, on account of the Son of Man. 23 Rejoice in that day and leap for joy, for look, your reward is great in heaven; for according to these things their fathers were doing to the prophets. 24 But woe to you who are rich, for you have your comfort in full. 25 Woe to you who have been filled, for you will hunger. Woe to you who laugh now, for you will mourn and weep. 26 Woe to you when all men speak well of you, for according to these things their fathers were doing to the false prophets.

6:9 to save a life or to destroy it Jesus turned the question on them. The real question was whether it was right to do good on God's day. Refusing to do good when you can is a kind of evil. And notice the irony: Jesus wanted to save a life on the Sabbath, while they were planning, on the Sabbath, how to destroy His.

6:10 Stretch out your hand The man could not do that, but when Jesus gives a command He gives the power to obey it. Jesus did not touch him or pray; He did nothing anyone could call work. He spoke, the man obeyed, and he was healed.

6:11 they themselves were filled with rage They had just seen a crippled hand made whole, and they were furious. Mark says they began to plot with the Herodians (Mark 3:6). When hearts are set against God, even miracles only make them angrier.

6:12 He was spending the whole night in prayer to God Jesus was about to choose the twelve men He would train and send out, and before He chose, He prayed all night. How often do we make big decisions without praying at all? If the Son of God needed to seek His Father, we need to far more.

6:13 having chosen twelve from them, whom He also named apostles A disciple is a student or follower; Jesus had many. An apostle is one who is sent, a messenger with the authority of the one who sent him. The number matches the twelve tribes, and the twelve will sit on thrones judging the tribes of Israel in His kingdom (22:30).

6:14 Simon, whom He also named Peter Peter means rock. Peter, Andrew, James and John were fishermen. Bartholomew is likely the man John calls Nathanael (John 1:45). These were ordinary men, not religious leaders, and none was perfect. God uses ordinary people.

6:15 Simon, the one called Zealot The Zealots wanted to overthrow Rome, by force if necessary. Matthew, the former tax collector, had worked for Rome; Simon had wanted to fight it. Jesus put them side by side. Only Jesus can bring people like that together. Judas of James is likely the Thaddaeus of Matthew and Mark.

6:16 Judas Iscariot, who also became the betrayer Even after a whole night of prayer, Jesus chose Judas. He knew what Judas would do (John 6:64, 70), and Scripture fulfilled its purpose through him.

6:17 He stood on a level place So this is often called the Sermon on the Plain. Matthew records the Sermon on the Mount (Matt 5 to 7) with many of the same teachings. Teachers differ: a level place could be a flat area on a mountainside, so they may be one sermon, or Jesus taught the same truths on more than one occasion. Either way, the teaching is the same. The crowd came even from the Gentile cities of Tyre and Sidon.

6:20 Blessed are the poor, for yours is the kingdom of God Blessed means truly well off in God's eyes, not just cheerful. Matthew records "the poor in spirit" (Matt 5:3); both are true. Jesus spoke especially to disciples who had left everything. Being poor saves no one, but wealth often makes people feel they do not need God, and God has a special care for the poor who trust Him.

6:21 Blessed are those who hunger now, for you will be filled Notice the word now. Jesus compares this life with the life to come. His followers may hunger and weep now, but a day is coming when they will be filled and laugh, when God Himself will wipe away every tear (Rev 21:4).

6:22 on account of the Son of Man This is not a blessing for people disliked because they are rude. It is for those who suffer because they belong to Jesus. To exclude means to cut off, as a Jew could be put out of the synagogue for following Jesus (John 9:22).

6:23 Rejoice in that day and leap for joy How can anyone rejoice when insulted? Because they are in good company. God's people, like the prophets before them, have always been treated this way, and God has always rewarded them.

6:24 you have your comfort in full Woe is a cry of sorrow and warning, the opposite of blessed. It is not a sin to have money; Abraham and Job were rich. But those who live for this world have been paid in full, like a receipt. They have already received everything they will ever get. Those who laugh now without a thought of God will one day weep.

6:26 Woe to you when all men speak well of you If everyone likes you, it may be because you tell them only what they want to hear. Israel's false prophets were popular because they said all was well (Jer 6:14). We should not try to be disliked, but we must not please everyone at the cost of the truth.

Love Your Enemies

27 But I say to you who are hearing: love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, 28 bless those who curse you, and pray for those who mistreat you. 29 To the one who strikes you on the cheek, offer also the other; and from the one who takes away your cloak, do not withhold also the tunic. 30 And give to everyone who asks you; and from the one who takes away what is yours, do not ask it back. 31 And just as you desire that men do to you, you also do to them likewise. 32 And if you love those who love you, what credit is there to you? For even the sinners love those who love them. 33 And if you do good to those who do good to you, what credit is there to you? For even the sinners do the same.
34 And if you lend to those from whom you expect to receive back, what credit is there to you? For even the sinners lend to sinners, so that they may receive back the same amount.
35 But love your enemies, and do good, and lend, expecting nothing in return; and your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, for He Himself is kind to the ungrateful and evil. 36 Therefore be merciful, just as your Father also is merciful.

Do Not Judge

37 Do not judge, and you will certainly not be judged; do not condemn, and you will certainly not be condemned; release, and you will be released. 38 Give, and it will be given to you;
good measure, pressed down and shaken together and running over, they will give into your lap. For with the same measure with which you measure, it will be measured back to you." 39 And He spoke a parable to them: "A blind man is not able to lead a blind man, is he? Will they not both fall into a pit? 40 A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher. 41 And why do you look at the splinter that is in your brother's eye, but the beam that is in your own eye you do not notice? 42 Or how are you able to say to your brother, 'Brother, allow that I cast out the splinter that is in your eye,' you yourself not seeing the beam in your eye? Hypocrite, first cast out the beam from your eye, and then you will see clearly to cast out the splinter that is in your brother's eye.

A Tree and Its Fruit

43 For there is no good tree producing bad fruit, nor a bad tree producing good fruit. 44 For each tree is known by its own fruit. For they do not gather figs from thorns, nor do they harvest a grape cluster from a bramble bush. 45 The good man out of the good treasure of his heart brings forth what is good, and the evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart brings forth what is evil; for out of the overflow of the heart his mouth speaks.

6:27 love your enemies, do good to those who hate you One of the hardest teachings in the Bible. This love (agape) chooses to seek another's good whether he deserves it or not. It is practical: doing good, speaking blessing, praying. That is how God loved us; while we were enemies we were reconciled to Him (Rom 5:10). This does not mean letting people go on hurting us or others. It means refusing to hate and leaving judgment to God (Rom 12:17-21).

6:29 offer also the other A slap on the cheek was more insult than attack. Do not strike back or take revenge. Jesus is not teaching that we never protect the weak or that governments never punish crime (Rom 13:1-4). The cloak was the outer coat and the tunic the shirt beneath it; do not cling to things so tightly that you fight over them. People matter more than possessions.

6:30 give to everyone who asks you Jesus calls us to be open-handed. This does not mean funding a drunk's next bottle; if a man will not work, he should not eat (2 Thess 3:10). Giving wisely is still giving, but our first instinct should be generosity, not suspicion. Our things belong to God anyway.

6:31 just as you desire that men do to you, you also do to them likewise The Golden Rule. Many before Jesus taught the negative form: do not do to others what you would not want done to you. Jesus put it in positive form. It is not enough to avoid hurting people; we must actively do for them the good we would want.

6:35 you will be sons of the Most High, for He Himself is kind to the ungrateful and evil Anyone can love his friends; even sinners do that. Sons show the family likeness. God sends sun and rain on everyone (Matt 5:45); every breath an unbeliever takes is a gift of His kindness. This is not how we become God's children, which is by faith in Christ (John 1:12). It is how His children show they belong to Him.

6:37 Do not judge, and you will certainly not be judged Many quote this to say no one may call anything sin. In this same sermon Jesus tells us to recognize bad fruit (6:43-45), and Scripture calls us to judge between right and wrong (John 7:24; 1 Cor 5:12). He warns against a harsh, condemning spirit like the Pharisees'. We are no one's final judge (James 4:12). To release is to forgive, to let go of a debt (Matt 6:14-15).

6:38 good measure, pressed down and shaken together and running over, they will give into your lap A generous grain seller fills the measure, presses it, shakes it to settle, and fills it until it spills over. The fold of a long robe at the waist served as a pocket. This is a principle, not a promise that giving money will make you rich. God repays mercy, forgiveness and generosity in His way and time, in this life or the next.

6:39 A blind man is not able to lead a blind man, is he A spiritually blind teacher cannot lead others to the truth; Jesus later called the Pharisees blind guides (Matt 15:14). Be careful whom you follow, and careful about leading when you cannot see clearly yourself.

6:40 everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher A student becomes like the one who teaches him. Follow a blind teacher and you end up blind. Follow Jesus and you become like Him, the goal of the Christian life (Rom 8:29).

6:42 Hypocrite, first cast out the beam from your eye Picture a man with a beam in his eye squinting at a speck in his brother's. A hypocrite was a masked actor on a stage. Jesus does not say never help your brother with his speck. Deal with your own sin first; then you will see clearly to help him with humility (Gal 6:1).

6:45 for out of the overflow of the heart his mouth speaks A tree is known by its fruit, and over time a life shows what a person is. The heart is the inner person, where we think, feel and choose, and what is stored there comes out. Listen to what you talk about and you will know what you love. To change what comes out of your mouth, let God change your heart.

The Two Builders

46 And why do you call Me 'Lord, Lord,' and do not do what I say? 47 Everyone who comes to Me and hears My words and does them, I will show you whom he is like: 48 he is like a man building a house, who dug and went deep and laid a foundation on the rock; and when a flood came, the river burst against that house and was not able to shake it, for it had been founded on the rock. 49 But the one who heard and did not do is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation, against which the river burst, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great."

LUKE 7

The Faith of a Centurion

1 Now when He had completed all His declarations in the hearing of the people, He entered into Capernaum (Kapernaoum). 2 And a certain centurion's slave, being sick, was about to die, who was highly valued by him. 3 And having heard about Jesus (Iesous), he sent to Him elders of the Jews, asking Him that, having come, He would save his slave. 4 And having come to Jesus, they were begging Him earnestly, saying, "He is worthy for whom He will grant this, 5 for he loves our nation, and he himself built the synagogue for us." 6 And Jesus was going with them. And when He was already not far distant from the house, the centurion sent friends to Him, saying to Him, "Lord, do not be troubled, for I am not worthy that You should come in under my roof.
7 Therefore neither did I count myself worthy to come to You; but say it with a word, and my servant will be healed.
8 For I also am a man placed under authority, having soldiers under myself; and I say to this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and to another, 'Come,' and he comes; and to my slave, 'Do this,' and he does it." 9 And having heard these things, Jesus marveled at him, and having turned to the crowd that was following Him, He said, "I say to you, not even in Israel did I find such great faith." 10 And those who had been sent, having returned to the house, found the ailing slave in good health.

A Widow's Son Raised at Nain

11 And it came to pass on the next day that He was going into a city called Nain, and many of His disciples were going with Him, and a great crowd. 12 And as He drew near to the gate of the city, then look, one who had died was being carried out, an only son of his mother, and she was a widow; and a considerable crowd of the city was with her. 13 And having seen her, the Lord felt compassion for her and said to her,
"Do not weep." 14 And having come up, He touched the bier,

7:14 1 Kgs 17:21; 2 Kgs 4:35; Luke 8:54,55

6:46 why do you call Me 'Lord, Lord,' and do not do what I say A master is someone you obey. To call Jesus Lord and ignore what He says makes no sense. Many say the right words about Jesus; the question is whether we do what He says.
6:48 dug and went deep and laid a foundation on the rock Three steps: come, hear, do. Digging to bedrock is slow, hard work, and a builder in Israel might be tempted by a dry, flat riverbed. When the flood came, the house on the rock stood. When life's storms come, and they will, the life built on obedience to Jesus will stand.
6:49 the one who heard and did not do Both men heard. The difference was what they did, and the houses may have looked alike until the storm. The storm is the trials of life and also the final judgment. Knowing the right answers is not enough; a faith that never obeys is no real faith (James 2:17). The only safe foundation is Jesus and His word (1 Cor 3:11).
7:1 He entered into Capernaum The sermon had just ended with a call to hear Jesus' words and do them. Now Luke shows a man who took Jesus at His word.
7:2 a certain centurion's slave A centurion was a Roman officer over about a hundred soldiers, a Gentile and part of the force that kept the Jews under Rome. "Highly valued" can mean precious or dear. Many masters saw slaves as property; this man cared about his slave as a person.
7:3 he sent to Him elders of the Jews The respected older men who led the town. Perhaps he knew a Jewish teacher might not want to deal directly with a Gentile. Matthew tells it briefly as if he came himself (Matt 8:5-13). It was normal to say a man did what he did through his messengers, as we say a president signed a treaty his ambassador signed. Luke gives the fuller picture.
7:5 he himself built the synagogue for us Unusual words from Jewish elders about a Roman soldier. He was likely a God-fearer, a Gentile who worshiped Israel's God without becoming a Jew. The elders said, "He is worthy." Watch what he says about himself.
7:6 I am not worthy that You should come in under my roof The elders said he was worthy; he said he was not. A Jew who entered a Gentile's house was counted unclean by the rules of that day, and he may not have wanted to put Jesus in that position. More than that, he knew who Jesus was and who he was before Him. That is humility.
7:7 say it with a word, and my servant will be healed He believed Jesus did not need to be there. A word from Him was enough.
7:8 I also am a man placed under authority He took orders from above and gave orders below, and he did not need to be present to see them carried out. He saw that Jesus had that kind of authority over sickness. Great faith is not a feeling; it is trusting that Jesus' word has power.
7:9 Jesus marveled at him Here Jesus marvels at a Gentile's faith; in Mark 6:6 He marvels at His hometown's unbelief. Israel had the Law, the prophets and the promises, yet a Roman soldier understood Jesus better than most. All through Luke the good news is for Gentiles too, and sometimes they receive it more readily than those who grew up with it.
7:10 found the ailing slave in good health Jesus did not go in or touch the man. His authority does not depend on distance. He can work in our lives today, by the same word, from heaven.
7:11 a city called Nain A small town about six miles southeast of Nazareth, named only here in the Bible.
7:12 an only son of his mother, and she was a widow Two crowds met at the gate: one following the Lord of life, the other following a dead body. The dead were buried the same day, outside the town. She had lost her husband and now her only son. A widow with no son had no one to support or protect her. She lost her family, her future and her living at once.
7:13 the Lord felt compassion for her Luke calls Jesus "the Lord" here in the story itself. Compassion is a love felt deep inside that hurts with someone. No one asked Him, and no one showed faith; He saw her pain and was moved. From anyone else, "Do not weep" would be cruel. From Jesus it was a promise.
7:14 He touched the bier An open frame for carrying the wrapped body. Touching anything connected with the dead made a Jew unclean (Num 19:11), but Jesus' touch did not make Him unclean; it made the dead alive. Unlike Elijah and Elisha (1 Kgs 17:20-22; 2 Kgs 4:33-35), He did not pray first. He spoke on His own authority to a dead man as if he could hear, because to Jesus he could.

and those carrying it stood still. And He said, "Young man, I say to you, arise." 15 And the dead man sat up and began to speak, and He gave him to his mother. 16 And fear seized all, and they were glorifying God, saying, "A great prophet has been raised up among us!" and, "God has visited His people!" 17 And this word concerning Him went out in all Judea (Ioudaia) and in all the surrounding region.

Messengers from John the Baptist

18 And the disciples of John (Ioannes) reported to him concerning all these things. 19 And having called to him a certain two of his disciples, John sent them to Jesus, saying, "Are You the One who is coming, or are we to look for another?" 20 And having come to Him, the men said, "John the Baptist has sent us to You, saying, 'Are You the One who is coming, or are we to look for another?'" 21 And in that same hour He healed many of diseases and afflictions and evil spirits, and to many who were blind He granted sight. 22 And answering, Jesus said to them, "Having gone, report to John what you have seen and heard: that the blind receive sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, the poor have the gospel preached to them. 23 And blessed is whoever is not caused to stumble in Me."

Jesus Speaks of John

24 And when the messengers of John had departed, He began to speak to the crowds concerning John: "What have you gone out into the wilderness to look at? A reed shaken by the wind? 25 But what have you gone out to see? A man clothed in soft garments? Look, those who are in splendid clothing and living in luxury are in the royal palaces. 26 But what have you gone out to see? A prophet? Yes, I say to you, and more than a prophet. 27 This is he concerning whom it has been written: 'Look, I send My messenger before Your face, who will prepare Your way before You.' 28 For I say to you, among those born of women there is no greater prophet than John the Baptist; but the one who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he." 29 And all the people, having heard, and the tax collectors, justified God, having been baptized with the baptism of John. 30 But the Pharisees and the lawyers rejected the counsel of God for themselves, not having been baptized by him. 31 And the Lord said, "To what then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? 32 They are like little children who sit in a marketplace and call to one another and say, 'We played the flute for you, and you did not dance; we sang a dirge for you, and you did not weep.' 33 For John the Baptist has come neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, 'He has a demon.' 34 The Son of Man has come eating and drinking, and you say, 'Look, a man, a glutton and a wine drinker, a friend of tax collectors and sinners!' 35 And wisdom was justified by all her children."

7:15 He gave him to his mother The man sat up and talked. These are the words used of Elijah giving back the widow's son (1 Kgs 17:23). Jesus did it for her, not for show. With Jairus' daughter (8:49-56) and Lazarus (John 11), it previews the day He will raise the dead, and every believer to a body that never dies (John 5:28-29; 1 Cor 15:51-52).
7:16 God has visited His people They were more right than they knew. Elijah raised a widow's son at Zarephath, and Elisha a mother's only son at Shunem, just across the valley from Nain (2 Kgs 4:8-37). Jesus was more than a prophet. In Him God Himself had come, as Zechariah sang (1:68).
7:19 Are You the One who is coming, or are we to look for another The One who is coming meant the Messiah. John was in prison (3:20). He had baptized Jesus and heard the Father's voice, but he had preached an ax at the root and fire for the chaff (3:9, 17), and Jesus was healing and eating with sinners while John sat in Herod's prison. Even great men of faith can doubt when they suffer. John took his doubt to Jesus.
7:21 in that same hour He healed many Jesus did not answer at once with words. He let John's messengers watch Him work.
7:22 the blind receive sight, the lame walk Every item comes from Isaiah's promises of the Messiah and His kingdom (Isa 35:5-6; 61:1). John knew his Bible and would understand. The judgment he preached is still coming; Jesus stopped reading Isaiah 61 before the day of vengeance (4:19). It will come when Jesus returns. First He came with mercy.
7:23 blessed is whoever is not caused to stumble in Me To stumble is to be offended, to trip over Jesus and fall away because He did not do what we expected. Jesus gently tells John, and us, to trust Him even when we do not understand His timing.
7:24 A reed shaken by the wind Jesus praised John so no one would think less of him for his question. Reeds along the Jordan bent with every breeze; John stood firm against kings. He wore camel's hair and did not live for comfort. Now he was in one of Herod's strongholds, but in its prison.
7:26 and more than a prophet John was himself the subject of prophecy. Jesus quotes Malachi 3:1: John was the messenger going before the Lord. Other prophets spoke of the Messiah from far away; John saw Him and pointed to Him.
7:28 the one who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he John was the last and greatest of the Old Testament prophets, and he will be in the kingdom. Jesus speaks of privilege and position. John died before the cross, the resurrection and Pentecost. The humblest believer after the cross knows more of God's plan and enjoys the full blessings of the new covenant. That should make us grateful and want to live up to what we have.
7:29 justified God Declared that God was right. The ordinary people and tax collectors had repented and been baptized, agreeing with God's verdict on their sin.
7:30 rejected the counsel of God for themselves Lawyers were experts in the Law of Moses, the same as scribes. God had a plan for them, but they would not admit they needed to repent. Notice "for themselves": when we reject God's counsel, we only hurt ourselves.
7:32 like little children who sit in a marketplace Picture children in the town square. One group plays wedding, and the others will not dance; they play funeral, and the others will not mourn. Nothing pleases them.
7:34 a friend of tax collectors and sinners Strict John, they said, had a demon; Jesus, who went to dinners, they called a glutton, one who overeats, and a wine drinker. Neither charge was true. But one part of the insult was true and is the best news in the world. People who do not want God's message always find an excuse to reject the messenger. The problem is the heart.
7:35 wisdom was justified by all her children God's wisdom is proven right by those who receive it. The changed lives of the tax collectors and sinners who believed are the proof. You can tell wisdom by what it produces.

A Sinful Woman Forgiven

36 And one of the Pharisees was asking Him that He would eat with him; and having entered into the house of the Pharisee, He reclined at the table. 37 And look, a woman who was a sinner in the city, having learned that He was reclining at the table in the house of the Pharisee, having brought an alabaster flask of fragrant oil, 38 and having stood behind Him at His feet, weeping, she began to wet His feet with her tears, and she was wiping them with the hairs of her head, and was kissing His feet and anointing them with the fragrant oil. 39 And having seen this, the Pharisee who had invited Him spoke within himself, saying, "This man, if He were a prophet, would know who and what sort of woman this is who is touching Him, that she is a sinner." 40 And answering, Jesus said to him, "Simon, I have something to say to you." And he says, "Teacher, say it." 41 "There were two debtors to a certain creditor: the one was owing five hundred denarii, and the other fifty. 42 And when they had nothing to pay, he graciously forgave both. Which of them therefore, tell Me, will love him more?" 43 And answering, Simon said, "I suppose that it is he to whom he graciously forgave the more." And He said to him, "You have judged rightly." 44 And having turned to the woman, He said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I entered into your house; you did not give water for My feet; but she wet My feet with her tears and wiped them with the hairs of her head. 45 You did not give Me a kiss; but she, from the time I came in, has not ceased kissing My feet. 46 You did not anoint My head with oil; but she anointed My feet with fragrant oil. 47 For this reason I say to you, her sins, which are many, have been forgiven, for she loved much; but he to whom little is forgiven loves little." 48 And He said to her, "Your sins have been forgiven." 49 And those reclining at the table with Him began to say within themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?" 50 And He said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you; go in peace."

Women Who Served Him

1 And it came to pass soon afterward that He Himself was traveling throughout every city and village, proclaiming and preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God; and the twelve were with Him, 2 and certain women who had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities: Mary (Maria), the one called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out, 3 and Joanna (Ioanna), wife of Chuza (Chouzas), a steward of Herod (Herodes), and Susanna (Sousanna), and many others, who were ministering to Him from their possessions.

7:36 He reclined at the table The Pharisee was Simon (7:40). Not every Pharisee was hostile, though this one did not show Jesus much honor. At a formal dinner guests lay on low couches, leaning on the left elbow with feet stretched out behind, so a woman could stand behind Jesus at His feet.
7:37 a woman who was a sinner in the city Luke does not name her sin; many assume prostitution, but the text does not say so. Later tradition called her Mary Magdalene, without evidence in Scripture; Luke introduces Mary Magdalene as someone new in 8:2. This is also a different event from Mary of Bethany's anointing in Jesus' last week (John 12:1-8). People could enter a dinner's courtyard to hear a visiting teacher. Alabaster was a soft, beautiful stone, and the oil was costly.
7:38 she was wiping them with the hairs of her head She did not plan to cry; it poured out of her. A respectable woman did not let her hair down in public, and she did not care. Everything she did showed love, sorrow for sin and gratitude.
7:39 This man, if He were a prophet, would know Simon thought it silently. A real prophet would know she was a sinner, and a holy man would not let her touch him. Simon was wrong on both counts. Jesus knew who she was, and He knew what Simon was thinking, which proved He was a prophet after all.
7:41 the one was owing five hundred denarii, and the other fifty A denarius was about a day's wage. Five hundred was more than a year and a half of work; fifty, less than two months. Neither could pay, and both were forgiven freely.
7:43 You have judged rightly Simon answered carefully, as if he sensed a trap. He had just judged himself.
7:44 Do you see this woman Simon saw a category, a problem. Jesus asked him to really see her. A good host had a servant wash a guest's dusty feet, greeted him with a kiss, and put a little oil on his head. Simon did none of it. The sinful woman honored Jesus more than the religious man who invited Him.
7:47 her sins, which are many, have been forgiven, for she loved much Jesus is not saying she earned forgiveness by loving. The story makes the order clear: the one forgiven more loved more. Love is the result of forgiveness, the proof she had already been forgiven, and verse 50 says her faith saved her. Simon was not a smaller sinner; he did not know how much he needed forgiveness.
7:48 Your sins have been forgiven Jesus said it to her directly, in front of everyone. Everyone in that room had looked down on her. Now the Son of God declared her clean.
7:49 Who is this who even forgives sins The same question the scribes asked (5:21), and the right one. Only God can forgive sins. Luke leaves it for us to answer.
7:50 Your faith has saved you; go in peace Not her tears, perfume or love, but trusting Jesus saved her. By grace we are saved through faith, the gift of God (Eph 2:8). She came in carrying shame and left with the peace of a heart made right with God. Jesus still does that for anyone who comes to Him in faith.
8:1 proclaiming and preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God Jesus did not wait for people to come to Him. He walked from village to village through Galilee. The twelve learned by watching Him; He trained them by bringing them along, not just by teaching them in a classroom.
8:2 Mary, the one called Magdalene, from whom seven demons had gone out Only Luke tells us about these women. Few rabbis had women among their followers, and many would not teach women the Law; Jesus welcomed them. Magdalene means from Magdala, on the western shore of the lake. Mary stood near the cross (John 19:25) and was the first to see the risen Lord (John 20:11-18). Nothing in Scripture says she had been a prostitute. That idea came from later tradition.
8:3 ministering to Him from their possessions A steward managed a household or estate; Chuza served Herod Antipas, who imprisoned John, so the good news had reached Herod's household. Joanna would be at the empty tomb (24:10). The Son of God, who made everything, let Himself be supported by the gifts of women He had healed, and God recorded their names.

The Parable of the Sower

4 And when a great crowd was coming together, and those from each city were coming to Him, He spoke by a parable:
5 "The sower went out to sow his seed. And in his sowing, some fell along the road, and it was trampled down, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock, and having sprung up, it withered, because of not having moisture. 7 And other fell in the midst of the thorns, and the thorns, having sprung up with it, choked it. 8 And other fell on the good soil, and having sprung up, it produced fruit a hundredfold." Saying these things, He was calling out, "The one who has ears to hear, let him hear." 9 And His disciples were asking Him, saying, "What might this parable be?" 10 And He said, "To you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God, but to the rest it is in parables, so that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11 Now this is the parable: the seed is the word of God. 12 And those along the road are those who hear; then the devil comes and takes away the word from their heart, so that they may not, having believed, be saved. 13 And those on the rock are those who, when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, who believe for a time, and in a time of testing fall away. 14 And that which fell into the thorns, these are those who have heard, and going along, are choked by cares and riches and pleasures of life, and do not bring fruit to maturity. 15 And that in the good soil, these are those who, having heard the word in a noble and good heart, hold it fast and bear fruit with perseverance.

A Lamp on a Lampstand

16 Now no one, having lit a lamp, covers it with a vessel or puts it under a bed; but he puts it on a lampstand, so that those who enter may see the light. 17 For nothing is hidden that will not become manifest, nor is anything secret that will not be known and come into the open. 18 Therefore watch how you hear; for whoever has, to him it will be given; and whoever does not have, even what he seems to have will be taken away from him."

Jesus' True Family

19 And His mother and brothers came to Him, and they were not able to get to Him because of the crowd. 20 And it was reported to Him, some saying, "Your mother and Your brothers are standing outside, wanting to see You." 21 But answering, He said to them, "My mother and My brothers are these who hear the word of God and do it."

8:5 some fell along the road A large crowd held many kinds of hearers, and this parable is about them. A farmer threw seed by hand, and some landed where he did not intend. Paths through the fields were packed hard by feet, so the seed could not sink in.

8:6 other fell on the rock Much of Galilee has limestone just under the soil. Seed there sprouted fast in the warm, thin soil, but the roots could not reach water. Among thorns, the weeds grew faster and choked the good seed.

8:8 it produced fruit a hundredfold A hundred times what was sown, an amazing harvest. Everyone had ears, but not everyone was really listening. Jesus called out loudly for them to pay attention, because this story was about them.

8:10 To you it has been given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God A mystery is not a puzzle for clever people but a truth God kept hidden and now reveals. It was given to the disciples. Quoting Isaiah 6:9-10, Jesus shows that parables open the truth to those who want it and invite them to ask, while hiding it from those who have already rejected Him. God does not force His truth on people who do not want it.

8:11 the seed is the word of God The seed is always good, and the sower is the same. The difference is in the soil. When God's word bears no fruit, the problem is never the word but the heart.

8:12 then the devil comes and takes away the word from their heart The hard path is a hard heart; the word never sinks in. People hear a sermon and forget it before they reach the car. Notice the devil's goal, that they may not believe and be saved. He knows the word is how people come to faith, so he works hard to take it away.

8:13 who believe for a time, and in a time of testing fall away The shallow heart responds quickly with joy, but when following Jesus costs friends, comfort or reputation, it walks away. Teachers differ on whether these were ever truly saved. Many say their faith was never real saving faith, because true faith endures (1 John 2:19); others see real believers who stop following. Either way, a quick, emotional response is not a rooted faith.

8:14 are choked by cares and riches and pleasures of life The crowded heart. Worries, money and the good times of this life are not always sinful, but they crowd out God's word slowly, like weeds in a garden. I think this is the soil most of us need to watch. We do not usually walk away from Jesus all at once. We just get busy.

8:15 hold it fast and bear fruit with perseverance The good soil is a heart God has prepared. It hears, keeps hold of the word, and bears fruit with steady endurance. Fruit takes a season to grow. Over the long haul, through hard times and good, a true believer's life shows the fruit of God's word.

8:17 nothing is hidden that will not become manifest No one lights a lamp to hide it; the truth Jesus gives is meant to be shared. The mysteries hidden for a time would be made known. One day everything will come into the open, even what is hidden in our hearts (1 Cor 4:5). That is both a promise and a warning.

8:18 Therefore watch how you hear This is the point of everything since verse 4. The one who receives the word and acts on it will be given more understanding. The one who ignores it will lose even the little he thought he had. Truth we hear and do not obey slips away.

8:19 His mother and brothers came to Him These were Mary and the sons she had with Joseph after Jesus was born. They had come thinking He was out of His mind (Mark 3:21, 31), and His brothers did not yet believe (John 7:5). After the resurrection they did, and James led the Jerusalem church (Acts 15:13). Catholic and Orthodox teaching holds that Mary stayed a virgin and calls these cousins or Joseph's sons by an earlier marriage. Read plainly, with Matthew 1:25 and Mark 6:3, they are His half-brothers.

8:21 My mother and My brothers are these who hear the word of God and do it Jesus was not cold to His family; from the cross He cared for His mother (John 19:26-27). But there is a family closer than blood. This ties back to the parable: if you hear and obey, you are as close to Jesus as His own mother and brothers.

over to the other side of the lake." And they set out. 23 And as they were sailing, He fell asleep. And a storm of wind came down onto the lake, and they were being swamped and were in danger. 24 And having come to Him, they woke Him, saying, "Master, Master, we are perishing!" And having arisen, He rebuked the wind and the raging of the water; and they ceased, and a calm came. 25 And He said to them, "Where is your faith?" And having become afraid, they marveled, saying to one another, "Who then is this, that He commands even the winds and the water, and they obey Him?"

Legion Cast Out

26 And they sailed down to the region of the Gadarenes, which is opposite Galilee (Galilaia). 27 And when He had gone out onto the land, a certain man out of the city met Him, who had demons for a long time, and was not wearing a garment, and was not staying in a house, but in the tombs. 28 And having seen Jesus (Iesous), and having cried out, he fell down before Him, and with a loud voice said, "What is there to me and to You, Jesus, Son of God Most High? I beg You, do not torment me!" 29 For He had commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For many times it had seized him, and he was bound with chains and shackles, being kept under guard; and breaking the bonds, he was driven by the demon into the deserted places. 30 And Jesus asked him, saying, "What is your name?" And he said, "Legion," because many demons had entered into him. 31 And they were begging Him that He would not command them to depart into the abyss. 32 Now there was a herd of many pigs feeding there on the mountain; and they were begging Him that He would allow them to enter into those. And He allowed them. 33 And the demons, having gone out from the man, entered into the pigs, and the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and was drowned. 34 And those feeding them, having seen what had happened, fled, and having gone, reported it in the city and in the fields. 35 And they went out to see what had happened, and they came to Jesus and found the man from whom the demons had gone out sitting, clothed and being of sound mind, at the feet of Jesus; and they were afraid. 36 And those also who had seen it reported to them how the one who had been demon-possessed was saved. 37 And all the multitude of the surrounding region of the Gadarenes asked Him to depart from them, because they were seized with great fear. And He, having gotten into the boat, returned. 38 And the man from whom the demons had gone out was begging Him to be with Him; but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 "Return to your house, and relate how much God has done for you." And he departed through all the city, proclaiming how much Jesus had done for him.

8:23 He fell asleep He had said they were going to the other side, not that they would drown halfway. Jesus was fully man and got tired after a long day of teaching. The lake sits about seven hundred feet below sea level among hills, and cold air rushing down the valleys can stir a sudden, violent storm. These fishermen knew it could kill them.
8:24 He rebuked the wind and the raging of the water They woke Him in a panic, but at least they went to the right person. He rebuked the storm as He rebuked fever and demons, as their Master. Usually waves roll on for hours after a storm. This time wind and water stopped at once.
8:25 Where is your faith Jesus did not say they had none. He asked where it was. They forgot it in the storm, though He had said they were going across and He was in the boat. They were more afraid after the calm, for only God stills the roaring of the seas (Ps 65:7; 107:29). Who is this? That is the question Luke wants every reader to answer.
8:26 the region of the Gadarenes The east side of the lake, in the mostly Gentile Decapolis, the ten cities. Different Greek copies name the region from different nearby towns, Gadara, Gerasa or Gergesa, all pointing to the same area.
8:27 a certain man out of the city met Him, who had demons Matthew mentions two men (Matt 8:28); Luke and Mark focus on one, likely the one who spoke. If there were two, there was certainly one. Tombs were caves in the hillsides, unclean places under the Law. Naked, homeless, living among the dead: this is what Satan does. He promises freedom and gives bondage.
8:28 Jesus, Son of God Most High The demons could not stay away and were forced to bow. Most High was a title Gentiles often used for Israel's God. They did not doubt His power. They knew He was their judge and begged for mercy.
8:29 he was bound with chains and shackles Jesus had already ordered the spirit out, and it cried out in fear. The townspeople had tried chains, and nothing worked. Human power could not set him free. Only Jesus could.
8:30 Legion A Roman legion was several thousand soldiers. Jesus did not need the name to have power over them. Asking showed everyone how great the bondage was, and how great the victory would be.
8:31 that He would not command them to depart into the abyss The bottomless pit, where some fallen spirits are kept locked up (2 Pet 2:4; Jude 6). Satan himself will be thrown into it for a thousand years (Rev 20:1-3). The demons knew it was real and that Jesus had authority to send them there.
8:33 the herd rushed down the steep bank into the lake and was drowned Jews did not raise unclean pigs; this was Gentile country. Scripture does not say directly why Jesus allowed this. It showed how many demons there were and how destructive they are. It gave the man visible proof they were gone. And it showed that one soul is worth more to Jesus than a whole herd of pigs.
8:35 sitting, clothed and being of sound mind, at the feet of Jesus What a change: once running wild, now sitting; once naked, now clothed; once out of his mind, now of sound mind. At Jesus' feet is the place of a disciple. That is a picture of what Jesus does for every person He saves. They should have rejoiced. Instead they were afraid.
8:37 asked Him to depart from them Luke says the man was saved, not only healed. Yet the people feared a power they could not control, and they had lost a costly herd. They cared more for pigs and comfort than for a man set free. Many still would rather keep their lives as they are than let Jesus change everything. Jesus does not force Himself on people. They asked Him to leave, and He left.
8:39 relate how much God has done for you The town begged Jesus to leave; the man begged to go with Him. Jesus said no but gave him a mission where Jesus had been sent away. Told to say what God had done, he told what Jesus had done; he understood they were the same. Sometimes the hardest and best mission field is your own house.

received Him; for they were all looking for Him. 41 And look, a man came whose name was Jairus (Iaeiros), and he was a ruler of the synagogue; and having fallen at the feet of Jesus, he was begging Him to come into his house, 42 because he had an only daughter, about twelve years old, and she was dying. And as He was going, the crowds were pressing around Him. 43 And a woman, having a flow of blood for twelve years, who, having spent all her living on physicians, was not able to be healed by anyone, 44 having come up behind Him, touched the fringe of His cloak; and immediately the flow of her blood stopped. 45 And Jesus said, "Who is the one who touched Me?" And when all were denying it, Peter (Petros) and those with him said, "Master, the crowds are surrounding You and pressing in on You, and You say, 'Who is the one who touched Me?'" 46 But Jesus said, "Someone touched Me, for I knew that power had gone out from Me." 47 And the woman, having seen that she was not hidden, came trembling, and having fallen down before Him, she declared to Him before all the people for what cause she had touched Him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And He said to her, "Take courage, daughter; your faith has saved you. But He said, "Do not weep; she did not die, but sleeps." 53 And they were laughing at Him, knowing that she had died. 54 And He, having put them all outside and having taken hold of her hand, called out, saying, "Child, arise." 55 And her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately; and He directed that something be given to her to eat. 56 And her parents were amazed; but He instructed them to tell no one what had happened.

8:41 he was a ruler of the synagogue A leader who arranged the services and cared for the building, an important man. Many synagogue leaders were turning against Jesus, but Jairus did not care what anyone thought. He fell at Jesus' feet before the whole crowd. Desperate need makes us humble.
8:43 a flow of blood for twelve years The daughter had lived twelve years; this woman had suffered twelve. Such bleeding made her unclean all the time, and anyone she touched became unclean (Lev 15:25-27). She was shut out of temple and synagogue and cut off from family and community. Luke the doctor notes plainly that physicians could not help her. Some older Greek copies leave out those words, but Mark says the same (Mark 5:26).
8:44 touched the fringe of His cloak Likely the tassel Jewish men wore on the corners of the outer garment (Num 15:38-39). She was not supposed to touch anyone, so she came from behind, hoping no one would notice. Twelve years of suffering ended in a moment.
8:46 Someone touched Me, for I knew that power had gone out from Me There is a difference between bumping into Jesus and touching Him in faith. Many were close to Him; only one reached out in faith. Many today are around Jesus, at church and in Christian homes, but have never reached out to Him for themselves.
8:47 she declared to Him before all the people Jesus did not call her forward to shame her. For twelve years she had been unclean and hidden. Now the whole town heard she was healed, so her return to the community would be complete.
8:48 Take courage, daughter; your faith has saved you The only person Jesus addresses as daughter in the Gospels. Cut off from everyone, she was welcomed into His family. He spoke the same words as to the sinful woman (7:50). She came for a cure. She left with a Savior.
8:49 Your daughter has died; do not trouble the Teacher Jairus had waited while Jesus stopped, and now it seemed too late. Sometimes God's delays feel like disasters. But Jesus is never too late.
8:50 Do not fear; only believe Jesus spoke at once, before fear could take over. Fear and faith pull in opposite directions. Jairus had just seen a woman healed by faith; now he must believe when it looked hopeless.
8:51 except Peter and James and John His three closest disciples, who would also see the transfiguration (9:28) and be near Him in the garden (Mark 14:33). No crowd and no show, just a quiet room and a grieving family.
8:52 she did not die, but sleeps Families often hired professional mourners. "Her spirit returned" (8:55) shows she had truly died. For Jesus, death is like sleep, something He wakes a person from, as with Lazarus (John 11:11-14). Paul calls believers' death falling asleep (1 Thess 4:13-14). For those who belong to Jesus, morning is coming. The mourners' laughter showed they knew death but not the Lord of life.
8:55 her spirit returned, and she rose up immediately Again Jesus touched the dead and was not made unclean. When a person dies the spirit leaves the body (James 2:26), and Jesus called it back. The order to feed her is the kind of detail a doctor notices. She was really alive in a real body, and Jesus cares about the ordinary needs of those He loves.
8:56 He instructed them to tell no one what had happened The town would find out, but Jesus did not want crowds chasing miracles. He wanted people to come for who He is. In this stretch He showed authority over nature, demons, disease and death. His question in the boat is ours too: "Where is your faith?"
9:2 He sent them to proclaim the kingdom of God and to heal Jesus gave them power, the ability, and authority, the right. Preaching comes first, and healing goes with it. The miracles were not the main message; they backed it up, showing the King had come. These twelve are now called apostles (9:10), sent ones.
9:3 Take nothing for the journey A short, urgent mission. They were to travel light, trust God to provide through those who welcomed them, and stay in one house without shopping around for better lodging. Later Jesus told them to take a purse and a bag (22:35-36), but the principle stands: we go where He sends and trust Him to supply.

there. 5 And as many as do not receive you, going out from that city, shake off even the dust from your feet as a testimony against them." 6 And going out, they were passing through the villages, preaching the gospel and healing everywhere.

Herod Is Perplexed

7 Now Herod (Herodes) the tetrarch heard of all the things being done by Him, and he was perplexed, because it was being said by some that John (Ioannes) had been raised from the dead, 8 and by some that Elijah (Helias) had appeared, and by others that a prophet, one of the ancients, had risen. 9 And Herod said, "John I beheaded; but who is this concerning whom I hear such things?" And he was seeking to see Him.

Five Thousand Fed

10 And having returned, the apostles related to Him all that they had done. And having taken them, He withdrew privately into a deserted place of a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the crowds, having learned it, followed Him; and having received them, He was speaking to them concerning the kingdom of God, and those who had need of healing He was healing. 12 And the day began to decline; and having come, the twelve said to Him, "Dismiss the crowd, so that, having gone into the surrounding villages and the countryside, they may lodge and find provisions; for here we are in a deserted place." 13 But He said to them, "You give them something to eat." And they said, "We have no more than five loaves and two fish, unless perhaps, having gone, we buy food for all this people." 14 For they were about five thousand men. And He said to His disciples, "Make them recline in groups of fifty each." 15 And they did so, and made all recline. 16 And having taken the five loaves and the two fish, having looked up to heaven, He blessed them and broke them, and He was giving them to the disciples to set before the crowd. 17 And they ate and were all satisfied; and what was left over by them was taken up, twelve baskets of fragments.

Peter's Confession

18 And it came to pass, as He was praying alone, the disciples were with Him, and He questioned them, saying, "Who do the crowds say that I am?" 19 And answering, they said, "John the Baptist, and others Elijah, and others that a prophet, one of the ancients, has risen." 20 And He said to them, "But you, who do you say that I am?" And answering, Peter (Petros) said, "The Christ of God." 21 And having strictly warned them, He instructed them to tell this to no one, 22 having said, "It is necessary for the Son of Man to suffer many things, and to be rejected by the elders and chief priests and scribes, and to be killed, and on the third day to be raised."

9:5 shake off even the dust from your feet as a testimony against them Jews returning from Gentile lands sometimes shook off the dust so as not to carry unclean soil into Israel. Here the apostles do it to Jewish towns that reject the King. It was a warning: you have heard, and you are responsible for what you did with it.
9:6 preaching the gospel and healing everywhere The gospel is the good news that God's promised King had come. Ordinary fishermen and a tax collector were doing the work of the kingdom, because Jesus had sent them.
9:9 John I beheaded; but who is this Herod Antipas, son of Herod the Great, ruled Galilee and Perea under Rome. Luke told of John's imprisonment (3:19-20); now we learn Herod had him killed. A guilty conscience does not rest easy. Herod finally saw Jesus on the day of the cross, and Jesus would not say a word to him (23:8-9). Curiosity is not faith.
9:10 He withdrew privately into a deserted place of a city called Bethsaida A town on the north shore of the lake. Mark says Jesus wanted them to rest awhile (Mark 6:31). After a season of hard work it is right to come away with Jesus, tell Him about it, and rest. Busy people in ministry burn out when they skip this step.
9:11 having received them The quiet time was over before it started, yet Jesus welcomed those who interrupted His rest. He never sees a needy person as an annoyance. Many of us do not respond that way when our plans change. This verse shows a better way.
9:13 You give them something to eat Sending the crowd away sounded sensible. Jesus asked the impossible to show them their own lack so they would look to Him. They counted and came up short, and that is often where God begins. When we admit we do not have enough, we are ready to see what He can do with the little we bring.
9:14 about five thousand men Only the men were counted; with women and children the crowd could have been two or three times as large. Groups of fifty made it orderly and easy to serve. God is not a God of confusion (1 Cor 14:33). The disciples obeyed before they saw how it would work.
9:16 having looked up to heaven, He blessed them and broke them He gave thanks as every Jewish head of a home did before a meal. Then He kept giving to the disciples, and they kept setting it before the people. The bread multiplied in His hands.
9:17 twelve baskets of fragments One for each apostle. God provides more than enough. Besides the resurrection, this is the only miracle told in all four Gospels (John 6:1-14). The next day Jesus said, "I am the bread of life" (John 6:35). The One who fed the crowd is Himself the bread our souls need.
9:18 as He was praying alone Luke is the Gospel of prayer. Before this important question Jesus had been talking with His Father.
9:19 John the Baptist, and others Elijah The crowds put Jesus with the great men of God. But a great prophet is not enough. Many today call Jesus a good teacher or a prophet, and that is a long way from the truth.
9:20 The Christ of God Christ is the Greek form of Messiah, the anointed one, the promised King from David's line whom God anointed and sent. Matthew gives a longer account (Matt 16:13-20). This is the most important question you will ever answer: not what your parents believe or your church teaches, but who you say Jesus is.
9:21 He instructed them to tell this to no one Most people expected a Messiah who would drive out Rome and set up an earthly kingdom at once. Announcing Him then would have stirred the wrong kind of excitement.
9:22 It is necessary for the Son of Man to suffer many things Son of Man was Jesus' favorite name for Himself, from Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man receives an everlasting kingdom. The elders, chief priests and scribes made up the Sanhedrin, the ruling council. Scribes copied and taught the Law. "It is necessary": the cross was not an accident but God's plan for our salvation.

The Cost of Following

23 And He was saying to all, "If anyone desires to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow Me. 24 For whoever desires to save his life will lose it; but whoever loses his life on account of Me, this one will save it. 25 For what is a man profited, having gained the whole world, but having lost or forfeited himself? 26 For whoever is ashamed of Me and My words, of him the Son of Man will be ashamed when He comes in His glory and the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. 27 But I say to you truly, there are some of those standing here who will certainly not taste death until they see the kingdom of God."

The Transfiguration

28 And it came to pass about eight days after these words, and having taken Peter and John and James (Iakobos), He went up on the mountain to pray. 29 And it came to pass, as He was praying, the appearance of His face became different, and His clothing became white, flashing like lightning. 30 And look, two men were talking with Him, who were Moses and Elijah, 31 who, having appeared in glory, were speaking of His departure which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem (Hierousalem). 32 But Peter and those with him were weighed down with sleep; and having become fully awake, they saw His glory and the two men standing with Him. 33 And it came to pass, as they were departing from Him, Peter said to Jesus (Iesous), "Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tents, one for You and one for Moses and one for Elijah," not knowing what he was saying. 34 And while he was saying these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them; and they were afraid as those entered into the cloud. 35 And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, "This is My Son, the Beloved; listen to Him." 36 And when the voice came, Jesus was found alone. And they were silent and told no one in those days anything of what they had seen.

A Boy Set Free

37 And it came to pass on the next day, when they had come down from the mountain, a great crowd met Him. 38 And look, a man from the crowd cried out, saying, "Teacher, I beg You, look upon my son, for he is my only child. 39 And look, a spirit seizes him, and suddenly he cries out, and it convulses him with foaming, and with difficulty it departs from him, bruising him. 40 And I begged Your disciples that they might cast it out, and they were not able." 41 And answering, Jesus said, "O unbelieving and perverted generation, until when will I be with you and bear with you? Bring your son here." 42 And while he was still approaching, the demon threw him down and convulsed him. But Jesus rebuked the unclean

9:23 take up his cross daily To deny yourself is to stop putting your own wishes first. A man carrying a cross was on his way to die; everyone knew that. Only Luke records "daily." Every morning we lay down our way and pick up His. Salvation is a free gift (Eph 2:8-9), but following Him costs everything we are.
9:24 whoever loses his life on account of Me, this one will save it It sounds backward but is true. The one who holds on to his life, living for himself, loses what matters most. The one who gives his life to Jesus finds real life, now and forever.
9:25 having gained the whole world, but having lost or forfeited himself Owning everything in the world and losing your own soul is a terrible trade. Jesus asks us to do the math.
9:26 when He comes in His glory and the glory of the Father and of the holy angels To be ashamed of Jesus is to hide that we belong to Him for fear of what others think. This points to His return to the earth in power at the end of the Tribulation (Matt 24:30; Rev 19:11-16). How foolish to be ashamed now of the One every knee will bow to then (Phil 2:10-11).
9:27 some of those standing here who will certainly not taste death until they see the kingdom of God The next event gives the best answer. Eight days later three disciples saw Jesus in His kingdom glory on the mountain. Peter called himself an eyewitness of His majesty on the holy mountain (2 Pet 1:16-18). The transfiguration was a preview of the coming kingdom.
9:28 about eight days after these words Matthew and Mark say six days; Luke says about eight, likely counting the first and last days. There is no conflict. The mountain is not named; many think Mount Hermon near Caesarea Philippi, others Mount Tabor. Again Jesus went up to pray, and the glory came while He prayed.
9:29 His clothing became white, flashing like lightning The transfiguration, from a word meaning changed in form. Jesus did not borrow light from somewhere else. The glory that was always His as the Son shone through for a moment (John 1:14). The three saw who Jesus really is.
9:30 Moses and Elijah The lawgiver and the great prophet, standing for the Law and the Prophets, the whole Old Testament, which pointed to Jesus.
9:31 speaking of His departure which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem Only Luke tells us the subject. Departure is the word exodus, a way out. Moses led Israel out of slavery in Egypt. Jesus would lead His people out of slavery to sin through His death, resurrection and ascension. On the mountain of glory, the subject was the cross.
9:33 not knowing what he was saying The three had been weighed down with sleep, as they would be in Gethsemane (22:45). Peter may have wanted to make the moment last. But putting Jesus on the level of Moses and Elijah was a mistake. He is far above them.
9:34 a cloud came and overshadowed them God showed His presence in a cloud at Sinai and in the tabernacle (Exod 24:15-16; 40:34). The disciples were rightly afraid.
9:35 This is My Son, the Beloved; listen to Him This answers Peter's three tents. Moses and Elijah were servants; Jesus is the Son. Moses foretold a Prophet like himself whom Israel must hear (Deut 18:15), and God points to Him. The Father's command for us is the same: listen to Him.
9:36 Jesus was found alone Moses and Elijah were gone; Jesus remains, and everything in the Bible points to Him. Jesus told them to keep quiet until He rose (Mark 9:9). They would not understand until after the cross and the empty tomb.
9:38 for he is my only child Luke the doctor likes to note an only child (7:12; 8:42). He felt the weight of a parent's pain.
9:40 they were not able The spirit threw the boy into fits with foaming at the mouth. Days earlier the disciples had been given authority over demons (9:1), and now they failed. From the mountain of glory, Jesus came down into a valley of need and failure.
9:41 O unbelieving and perverted generation Perverted means twisted out of shape. Jesus speaks to the whole generation, His disciples included, whose failure came from lack of faith (Matt 17:19-20). Weary of their unbelief, He did not walk away: "Bring your son here." When others fail us, Jesus does not.
9:42 gave him back to his father The enemy did his worst one last time. I love this phrase. Jesus handed the boy back to his dad, whole.

spirit, and healed the boy, and gave him back to his father.

True Greatness

43 And they were all astonished at the majesty of God. But while all were marveling at all the things which Jesus did, He said to His disciples, 44 "You, put these words into your ears; for the Son of Man is about to be delivered into the hands of men." 45 But they did not understand this declaration, and it was veiled from them so that they might not perceive it; and they were afraid to ask Him concerning this declaration. 46 And a reasoning came in among them, this: who of them might be greater. 47 And Jesus, having seen the reasoning of their heart, having taken hold of a child, stood him beside Himself, 48 and He said to them, "Whoever receives this child in My name receives Me; and whoever receives Me receives Him who sent Me. For the one who is least among you all, this one will be great." 49 And answering, John said, "Master, we saw someone casting out demons in Your name, and we forbade him, because he does not follow with us." 50 And Jesus said to him, "Do not forbid him; for whoever is not against us is for us."

Rejected by a Samaritan Village

51 And it came to pass, when the days of His being taken up were being fulfilled, that He Himself set His face steadfastly to go to Jerusalem. 52 And He sent messengers before His face. And having gone, they entered into a village of the Samaritans so as to make ready for Him. 53 And they did not receive Him, because His face was going toward Jerusalem. 54 And having seen it, His disciples James and John said, "Lord, do You want us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, as Elijah also did?" 55 But having turned, He rebuked them, and said, "You do not know of what kind of spirit you are. 56 For the Son of Man did not come to destroy the lives of men, but to save them." And they went to another village.

The Cost of Following Jesus

57 And it came to pass, as they were going along the road, someone said to Him, "I will follow You wherever You go, Lord." 58 And Jesus said to him, "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have nests, but the Son of Man does not have a place where He may lay His head." 59 And He said to another, "Follow Me." But he said, "Lord, allow me, having gone away, first to bury my father." 60 And Jesus said to him, "Leave the dead to bury their own dead; but you, having gone, declare the kingdom of God." 61 And another also said, "I will follow You, Lord; but first allow me to bid farewell to those at my house." 62 And Jesus said to him, "No one having put his hand on the plow and looking at the things behind is fit for the kingdom of God."

9:43 they were all astonished at the majesty of God The people saw the work of God Himself. In Jesus, God's own greatness was on display.
9:44 the Son of Man is about to be delivered into the hands of men Jesus said it again while the crowd was cheering, because popularity can make us forget the cross.
9:45 they were afraid to ask Him concerning this declaration They could not fit a suffering Messiah into their thinking. Sometimes we do not ask God hard questions because we fear the answer. They would understand after His resurrection, when He opened their minds (24:45).
9:48 the one who is least among you all, this one will be great Right after Jesus spoke of His death, they argued about rank. A child had no rank in that world. To welcome a child for Jesus' sake, with nothing to gain, is to welcome Jesus and the Father who sent Him. In God's kingdom, the way up is down.
9:49 because he does not follow with us Notice "with us." The man was not wrong; he was not in their group.
9:50 whoever is not against us is for us The man was really working in Jesus' name, and demons were really going out. Later Jesus said that the one not with Him is against Him (11:23). Both are true. Toward Jesus Himself there is no neutral ground. But we should not oppose someone who truly serves Christ just because he is not in our church or group.
9:51 He Himself set His face steadfastly to go to Jerusalem A turning point in Luke. Being taken up points to His death, resurrection and ascension (Acts 1:2, 11). To set your face is to make up your mind and not turn back, like the Servant who set His face like flint (Isa 50:7). Jesus knew what waited and went anyway, for us. The journey runs to 19:28, and much of chapters 10 to 18 is found only in Luke.
9:52 a village of the Samaritans Part Jewish and part Gentile, descended from Israelites who mixed with foreign peoples after Assyria conquered the north. They had once had a temple on Mount Gerizim and still worshiped there. Jews and Samaritans had hated each other for centuries (John 4:9). Since He was heading to the temple in Jerusalem, the village would not welcome Him.
9:54 do You want us to command fire to come down from heaven and consume them, as Elijah also did They were thinking of Elijah calling fire on a wicked king's soldiers (2 Kgs 1:10-12). Jesus called these brothers Sons of Thunder (Mark 3:17), and we can see why. The words "as Elijah also did" are in the Received Greek Text the SLB follows; many older Greek copies lack them.
9:55 You do not know of what kind of spirit you are They wanted judgment, but this first time He came to save. Judgment will come at His return. John later went to Samaria and saw Samaritans receive the Spirit (Acts 8:14-17), changed from a man who wanted fire to fall to one who prayed for them. These words and the start of 9:56 are not in many older Greek copies, but no teaching rests on them alone; Jesus says the same in 19:10 and John 3:17.
9:58 the Son of Man does not have a place where He may lay His head The first man's offer sounds wonderful. Jesus wanted him to know what he was signing up for. The Creator of the world had no home of His own on this journey. Following Him does not promise comfort. Before you say "wherever," count the cost.
9:60 Leave the dead to bury their own dead Burying a parent was a sacred duty. Many teachers think the father was not yet dead, and the man meant to follow later once family matters were settled; others think the father had just died. Either way, let the spiritually dead take care of this world's things. The kingdom comes first.
9:62 No one having put his hand on the plow and looking at the things behind Elijah let Elisha say farewell (1 Kgs 19:19-21); Jesus asks more. A plowman had to keep his eyes ahead or the furrow went crooked. Notice "first" in both of the last two men. Jesus will not be second to anything. What do you need to stop looking back at, so you can follow Him with your whole heart?

The Seventy Sent Out

1 Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others also, and sent them two by two before His face into every city and place where He Himself was about to come. 2 Then He was saying to them, "The harvest is indeed plentiful, but the workers are few; therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest that He send out workers into His harvest. 3 Go; look, I send you out as lambs in the midst of wolves. 4 Do not carry a purse, nor a bag, nor sandals; and greet no one on the road. 5 And into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this house.' 6 And if indeed the son of peace is there, your peace will rest upon him; but if not, it will return to you. 7 And remain in that same house, eating and drinking the things supplied by them; for the worker is worthy of his wages. Do not move from house to house. 8 And into whatever city you enter, and they receive you, eat the things set before you, 9 and heal the sick in it, and say to them, 'The kingdom of God has drawn near to you.' 10 But into whatever city you enter and they do not receive you, having gone out into its streets, say, 11 'Even the dust of your city which has clung to us we wipe off against you; yet know this, that the kingdom of God has drawn near to you.' 12 And I say to you that it will be more tolerable in that day for Sodom (Sodoma) than for that city.

Woes on Unrepentant Towns

13 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! For if the miracles that took place in you had taken place in Tyre (Tyros) and Sidon, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14 But it will be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment than for you. 15 And you, Capernaum (Kapernaoum), who have been exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades. 16 The one who hears you hears Me, and the one who rejects you rejects Me; and the one who rejects Me rejects Him who sent Me."

The Seventy Return with Joy

17 And the seventy returned with joy, saying, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us in Your name." 18 And He said to them, "I was watching Satan fall like lightning out of heaven. 19 Look, I give you the authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy,

10:1 the Lord appointed seventy others also, and sent them two by two Only Luke tells of this wider mission ahead of Jesus. A matter was confirmed by two witnesses (Deut 19:15), and two could encourage, pray with and hold each other accountable. Moses had seventy elders (Num 11:16), and Genesis 10 lists about seventy nations, but Scripture does not say why Jesus chose that number. Some old Greek copies read seventy-two; it makes no difference to the meaning.

10:2 pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest that He send out workers Ripe grain does not wait. People are ready to hear, and too few will go and tell them. Before they go, they pray, and they pray for more workers. The harvest is the Lord's, and He sends. Have you ever prayed for God to send workers, and then realized He was sending you?

10:3 as lambs in the midst of wolves Lambs cannot defend themselves. Jesus did not hide the danger. Long Eastern greetings on the road would waste time on an urgent mission. Some would welcome them, and some would turn on them.

10:6 if indeed the son of peace is there Peace (shalom) meant wholeness and well-being from God. The son of peace is the person open to God's peace and ready for the message. If no one was, the blessing returned to them. They lost nothing by being turned away.

10:7 the worker is worthy of his wages They were to accept the hospitality given, gratefully, without moving around for a nicer place. Paul quotes these words and calls them Scripture (1 Tim 5:18). Those who give their lives to preaching should be supported by those they serve (1 Cor 9:14), and the worker must not be greedy or picky.

10:9 The kingdom of God has drawn near to you Eating what was set before them would matter more as the gospel moved into Gentile lands. The healings showed the kingdom's power and the message explained it. The kingdom had come near because the King was coming right behind them.

10:12 more tolerable in that day for Sodom than for that city Even a town that rejected them heard that the kingdom had come near. God destroyed wicked Sodom with fire (Gen 19), yet a town that rejects Jesus faces worse. The greater the light, the greater the responsibility. Sodom never saw the Son of God or heard His messengers.

10:13 Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida Towns near the north end of the lake, close to many of His miracles. Tyre and Sidon were Gentile coastal cities known for pride and idolatry (Ezek 28). Sackcloth was rough mourning cloth, and ashes on the head showed grief over sin. God knows not only what people do but what they would have done, and judgment will match what each knew.

10:15 And you, Capernaum, who have been exalted to heaven, will be brought down to Hades Capernaum, Jesus' home base (Matt 4:13), was honored above every town because the Son of God lived there. But honor saves no one; only faith does. Hades is the place of the dead, here the lowest depth. Today Capernaum and Chorazin are empty ruins, and even Bethsaida's site is debated.

10:16 The one who hears you hears Me Those who listened to the messengers were listening to Jesus, and those who turned them away turned away Jesus and the Father. When we faithfully share His word, people who reject it are rejecting Him, not us. That should make us both humble and bold.

10:17 even the demons are subject to us in Your name They came back thrilled. They knew the power was not their own. The name of Jesus stands for His person and authority. Demons do not fear us. They fear Him.

10:18 I was watching Satan fall like lightning out of heaven Teachers give a few answers. Some see Satan's first fall when he rebelled before man was made (Isa 14:12-15 is often read so). Others see the seventy's mission as a defeat that showed his kingdom breaking. Others look ahead to his being thrown down during the Tribulation (Rev 12:7-10). The plain point is that his power is not equal to God's, and his fall is as sure and sudden as lightning.

10:19 the authority to tread upon serpents and scorpions Real dangers on Israel's roads, and pictures of evil powers (Gen 3:15; Ps 91:13). This promise was for their mission, not a command to handle snakes. Paul survived a viper's bite (Acts 28:3-6) but did not go looking for one. No power of the enemy can separate God's people from Him (Rom 8:38-39).

and nothing will by any means injure you. 20 Yet do not rejoice in this, that the spirits are subject to you; but rather rejoice that your names were written in the heavens." 21 In that same hour Jesus (Iesous) rejoiced greatly in the spirit and said, "I praise You, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that You hid these things from the wise and intelligent and revealed them to little children. Yes, Father, for so it became well-pleasing before You." 22 "All things were delivered to Me by My Father, and no one knows who the Son is except the Father, and who the Father is except the Son, and he to whom the Son wills to reveal Him." 23 And having turned to the disciples privately, He said, "Blessed are the eyes that see what you see. 24 For I say to you that many prophets and kings desired to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it."

The Good Samaritan

25 And look, a certain lawyer stood up, testing Him and saying, "Teacher, having done what will I inherit eternal life?" 26 And He said to him, "What has been written in the law? How do you read?" 27 And answering, he said, "'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your strength, and with all your mind,' and 'your neighbor as yourself.'" 28 And He said to him, "You have answered correctly; do this, and you will live." 29 But he, desiring to justify himself, said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" 30 And having taken it up, Jesus said, "A certain man was going down from Jerusalem (Hierousalem) to Jericho (Hiericho), and he fell among robbers, who, having both stripped him and inflicted wounds, went away, having left him half dead as he was. 31 And by chance a certain priest was going down on that road, and having seen him, he passed by on the opposite side. 32 And likewise a Levite also, having been at the place, having come and seen him, passed by on the opposite side. 33 But a certain Samaritan, journeying, came to him, and having seen him, he felt compassion, 34 and having approached, he bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine; and having put him on his own animal, he brought him to an inn and took care of him. 35 And on the next day, having gone out, having taken out two denarii, he gave them to the innkeeper and said to him, 'Take care of him; and whatever more you spend, I, when I return, will repay you.' 36 Which therefore of these three seems to you to have become a neighbor to the one who fell among the robbers?" 37 And he said, "The one who showed mercy toward him." Then Jesus said to him, "Go, and you do likewise."

10:20 rejoice that your names were written in the heavens A gentle correction. Power in ministry is exciting, but it is not the main thing. The greatest gift is what God has done for us. A name written in heaven means belonging to His people (Phil 4:3; Rev 21:27). Success comes and goes; that cannot be erased. If you know Christ, this is your deepest joy on good days and bad.
10:21 You hid these things from the wise and intelligent and revealed them to little children Luke speaks much of joy and of the Holy Spirit, and here they meet. The wise are those who think they know it all, like many of the scribes. The little children are the humble who know their need, like these ordinary followers. God does not reveal Himself to the proud, and Jesus rejoiced in His Father's plan.
10:22 no one knows who the Son is except the Father This sounds like John's Gospel. Jesus claims a relationship with the Father no one else has. We cannot reach God by our own wisdom. He shows Himself to us, and He does that only in the Son (John 1:18; 14:6).
10:24 many prophets and kings desired to see what you see Isaiah, David and Daniel wrote of the Messiah but did not see Him. The prophets searched for the time and Person their words pointed to (1 Pet 1:10-12). These disciples lived in the fulfillment. We have the full written word telling us who Jesus is, and that is a great blessing.
10:25 having done what will I inherit eternal life A lawyer here was an expert in the Law of Moses, like a scribe. A good question with a wrong motive: he was testing Jesus. And he wants to know what to do. He thought of eternal life as something to earn.
10:27 You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart Jesus sent him back to the Scriptures he claimed to know, and he answered well from Deuteronomy 6:5 and Leviticus 19:18. Jesus named these the two greatest commandments (Matt 22:37-40). Love for God comes first, with every part of us, and love for others flows out of it.
10:28 do this, and you will live Jesus was not teaching that we earn eternal life. He showed the law's standard so the man could see how far short he fell. No one but Jesus has loved God and neighbor perfectly every moment. The law shows us our sin (Rom 3:20) and drives us to a Savior. If you try to be saved by doing, the standard is perfection. That is why we need grace.
10:29 desiring to justify himself To make himself look right. Many Jews counted only fellow Jews as neighbors, not Gentiles or Samaritans. If he could narrow the circle, he could say he had kept the law. We do the same when we decide whom we must love and whom we need not.
10:30 he fell among robbers The road from Jerusalem to Jericho drops about 3,300 feet in some fifteen miles of rocky desert, known for robbers hiding in caves. Jesus does not say who the man was. Stripped and unconscious, no one could tell if he was Jew or Gentile, rich or poor. He was a human being in need.
10:31 he passed by on the opposite side A priest offered sacrifices at the temple, and the Levites, from the tribe of Levi, assisted the priests. If anyone should have helped, they should. Jesus does not say why they did not. Some suggest fear of touching a dead body (Num 19:11), others fear of robbers. They knew the law of love and walked away. Religion without love is empty.
10:33 But a certain Samaritan, journeying, came to him The shock of the story. Jews and Samaritans despised each other, and the lawyer would never expect a Samaritan to be the good one. All three saw him. The difference was in what they felt and did. Compassion is pity that moves you to act.
10:34 he bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine The others moved away; he moved closer. Oil soothed and wine cleaned the wounds, a detail Luke the doctor would like. He walked so the hurt man could ride, and stayed through the night. Real love costs time, comfort and money.
10:35 whatever more you spend, I, when I return, will repay you A denarius was a day's wage; two would pay for some days of lodging and care. He gave freely, promised more, and took full responsibility for a stranger, maybe even an enemy.
10:37 Go, and you do likewise Jesus turned the question around: not who deserves my love, but whether I will show love to whoever is in front of me. The lawyer could not bring himself to say "the Samaritan." Many have seen Jesus in the Samaritan, coming to us half dead in sin and paying the cost to heal us. That is a true picture of what He did, but the main point is the command. The old reading that makes every detail stand for something is not the point. Who has God put on your road this week?

Mary and Martha

38 And it came to pass, as they were going, that He entered into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received Him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called Mary (Maria), who also, having sat down beside the feet of Jesus, was listening to His word. 40 But Martha was distracted about much serving; and having come up, she said, "Lord, does it not concern You that my sister has left me alone to serve? Tell her therefore that she help me." 41 And answering, Jesus said to her, "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and troubled about many things; 42 but there is need of one thing; and Mary has chosen the good portion, which will not be taken away from her."

LUKE 11

Teach Us to Pray

1 And it came to pass, while He was in a certain place praying, when He ceased, one of His disciples said to Him, "Lord, teach us to pray, just as John (Ioannes) also taught his disciples." 2 Then He said to them, "When you pray, say: 'Our Father who is in the heavens, let Your name be sanctified; let Your kingdom come; let Your will be done, as in heaven, also on the earth. 3 Give us each day our daily bread. 4 And forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from evil.'"

Ask, Seek, Knock

5 And He said to them, "Which of you will have a friend, and will go to him at midnight and say to him, 'Friend, lend me three loaves, 6 since a friend of mine has come to me from a journey, and I have nothing that I will set before him'; 7 and that one, answering from within, says, 'Do not cause me trouble; the door has already been shut, and my children are with me in the bed; I am not able, having risen, to give to you'? 8 I say to you, even if he will not give to him, having risen, because of his being his friend, yet because of his shamelessness, having risen, he will give him as many as he needs. 9 And I say to you, ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you. 10 For everyone who asks receives, and the one who seeks finds, and to the one who knocks it will be opened. 11 Now which of you who is the father, if the son will ask for bread, will give him a stone? And if a fish, will he give him a serpent instead of a fish? 12 Or also if he asks for an egg, will he give

10:38 a certain woman named Martha received Him into her house The village was Bethany near Jerusalem, home of Martha, Mary and Lazarus (John 11:1). Welcoming Jesus was good. The story moves from loving your neighbor to loving God by listening to Him.
10:39 having sat down beside the feet of Jesus, was listening to His word The place of a student (Acts 22:3). It was unusual for a woman to sit as a rabbi's student, and Jesus welcomed her. Luke often shows His respect for women as disciples (8:1-3).
10:40 Martha was distracted about much serving Distracted means dragged in many directions. A meal for thirteen or more guests is a lot of work. She is upset with Mary and with Jesus too: "does it not concern You?" When we are stressed and overloaded, we can start to think God does not care.
10:42 Mary has chosen the good portion, which will not be taken away from her Saying Martha's name twice shows tender care, not anger. The one thing is to be with Jesus and hear His word. Jesus never says Martha's work was wrong, but serving that pulls us away from Him becomes a burden. The meal would be forgotten; what Mary received would last forever. Many of us are so busy working for Him that we spend little time with Him. Sit at His feet today.
11:1 Lord, teach us to pray The disciples had watched Jesus pray many times and saw the place prayer had in His life. The Gospels never say they asked Him to teach them to preach or work miracles. They asked Him to teach them to pray. Prayer does not come naturally. It has to be learned.
11:2 Our Father who is in the heavens The Jews knew God as the Father of their nation (Isa 63:16), but Jesus invites His followers to speak to Him as children to a loving father, a right that belongs to those who have trusted Christ (John 1:12; Gal 4:6). To sanctify is to set apart as holy; God's name stands for who He is. The first request is not for ourselves but that God be honored.
11:2 let Your kingdom come We pray for the day Christ returns to reign on the earth, and for His rule in hearts now. In heaven His will is done gladly and fully, and we ask for that here, starting with ourselves.
11:3 Give us each day our daily bread Bread stands for everything we need to live, asked a day at a time, as Israel received manna daily (Exod 16:4). Even with a full pantry, pray this. Every meal and paycheck is His gift, and asking keeps us humble and thankful.
11:4 forgive us our sins, for we ourselves also forgive everyone who is indebted to us Sin is a debt we owe God. We do not earn His forgiveness by forgiving, but a heart that holds grudges shows it has not understood how much it has been forgiven (Matt 18:21-35).
11:4 do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from evil God tempts no one to sin (James 1:13). This humbly asks Him to keep us from trials where we would fall and to rescue us in the test. Evil can mean evil in general or the evil one; we need help against both. Luke's form is shorter than Matthew's (Matt 6:9-13). The SLB's Received Text includes several phrases here that many older Greek copies of Luke lack, but every one is in Matthew, so nothing is lost. This is a pattern, not a magic formula (Matt 6:7).
11:6 I have nothing that I will set before him Travelers often walked in the cool of evening, and hospitality was a sacred duty. Having nothing to serve a guest was a real shame. A poor family in a one-room house slept together on mats; getting up meant waking everyone.
11:8 because of his shamelessness Boldness, not giving up, not caring about looking pushy. God is not a grumpy neighbor to be worn down. This argues from the lesser to the greater. If a tired neighbor gives to bold asking, how much more will our Father, who never sleeps (Ps 121:4), hear His children. Keep praying, boldly.
11:9 ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock The verbs carry the idea of keeping on, and each is stronger than the last: asking with words, seeking with effort, knocking until the door opens. This is not a blank check. Some ask with wrong motives (James 4:3), and we must ask by His will (1 John 5:14). God answers yes, wait, or with something better.
11:11 if the son will ask for bread, will give him a stone A small round loaf could look like a stone, a fish like a serpent, a curled scorpion like an egg. No father would play such a cruel trick on a hungry child. Even a poor father wants to give good things.

him a scorpion? 13 If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will the Father who is from heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him!"

A House Divided

14 And He was casting out a demon, and it was mute. And it came to pass, the demon having gone out, the mute man spoke; and the crowds marveled. 15 But some of them said, "By Beelzebul, the ruler of the demons, He casts out the demons." 16 And others, testing Him, were seeking from Him a sign from heaven. 17 But He, knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is made desolate, and a house against a house falls. 18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand?
Because you say that I cast out the demons by Beelzebul. 19 And if I cast out the demons by Beelzebul, by whom do your sons cast them out? Because of this they will be your judges. 20 But if I cast out the demons by the finger of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you. 21 When the strong man, fully armed, guards his own courtyard, his possessions are in peace; 22 but when one stronger than he, having come upon him, overcomes him, he takes away his full armor in which he had trusted, and divides his spoils. 23 The one who is not with Me is against Me, and the one who does not gather with Me scatters.

The Return of an Unclean Spirit

24 When the unclean spirit goes out from the man, it passes through waterless places seeking rest; and not finding any, it says, 'I will return to my house from which I came out.' 25 And having come, it finds it swept and put in order. 26 Then it goes and takes seven other spirits more evil than itself, and having entered, they dwell there; and the last state of that man becomes worse than the first." 27 And it came to pass, while He was saying these things, a certain woman from the crowd, having lifted up her voice, said to Him, "Blessed is the womb that bore You, and the breasts at which You nursed!" 28 But He said, "Rather, blessed are those who hear the word of God and keep it!"

The Sign of Jonah

29 And while the crowds were gathering together, He began to say, "This generation is evil; it seeks a sign, and a sign will not be given to it except the sign of Jonah (Ionas) the prophet. 30 For just as Jonah became a sign to the Ninevites, so also the Son of Man will be to this generation. 31 The queen of the south will rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation and will condemn them, because she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and look, something greater than Solomon is here. 32 The men of Nineveh will stand up in the judgment with this generation and will condemn it, because they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and look, something greater than Jonah is here.

11:13 how much more will the Father who is from heaven give the Holy Spirit to those who ask Him Compared with God, even the best father is evil. Matthew says the Father gives good things (Matt 7:11); Luke names the greatest gift. Before Pentecost the disciples were to ask for the Spirit. Now every believer receives Him at the moment of faith (Rom 8:9; Eph 1:13), and we can still ask God to fill and lead us day by day (Eph 5:18).
11:14 it was mute The demon kept the man from speaking. No one doubted something amazing had happened. The question was what it meant.
11:15 By Beelzebul, the ruler of the demons A name for Satan, possibly from Baal-zebub, a Philistine god (2 Kgs 1:2). They could not deny the miracle, so they attacked its source. Others wanted a sign from heaven after watching a man set free. Hearts set against Jesus never have enough evidence. The problem is not the mind but the will.
11:18 if Satan also is divided against himself, how will his kingdom stand It would be like a general shooting his own soldiers. Satan is evil, but not foolish. If Jesus was destroying the devil's work, He could not be working for the devil.
11:19 by whom do your sons cast them out Some Jewish exorcists tried to cast out demons (Acts 19:13), and no one accused them of working by Satan. Their own people showed how unfair the charge was.
11:20 by the finger of God When Pharaoh's magicians could not copy Moses' signs, they called it the finger of God (Exod 8:19). Matthew says the Spirit of God (Matt 12:28). If Jesus drove out demons by God's own power, the King was here and His kingdom had broken in.
11:22 when one stronger than he, having come upon him, overcomes him The strong man is Satan, holding people captive. Jesus is the stronger one who sets the captives free, and every demon cast out showed it. At the cross He disarmed the powers of darkness (Col 2:15). Satan is still active but defeated, and his end is sure (Rev 20:10).
11:23 The one who is not with Me is against Me In 9:50 Jesus told His disciples not to forbid a man serving in His name. Here He tells the crowd no one can be neutral about Him. You are either gathering with Him or scattering. Which is it for you?
11:25 it finds it swept and put in order Clean but empty. Getting rid of evil is not enough; a life must be filled with God. Reform without new birth leaves a person open to worse things. Many in Israel were glad to see demons driven out but would not receive the One who drove them out, like anyone who cleans up the outside but never gives his heart to Christ.
11:28 blessed are those who hear the word of God and keep it The woman's praise of His mother was sincere. Jesus was not putting Mary down; she was blessed (1:42, 48), most of all because she believed God's word (1:38, 45). He turns from a family tie to what anyone can have. The greatest blessing is to hear God's word and obey it.
11:29 except the sign of Jonah the prophet They had seen many signs and wanted one on their terms. Jonah came to Nineveh as one brought back, in effect, from death after three days in the fish (Matt 12:40). Jesus' resurrection after three days would be the great sign. Jonah warned Nineveh, and they repented. Jesus warned Israel. Would they?
11:31 The queen of the south The queen of Sheba, from southern Arabia (1 Kgs 10:1-13), a Gentile who traveled far to hear Solomon's wisdom. These people had the wisdom of God standing in their streets and would not listen. Her example will testify against them at the judgment.
11:32 something greater than Jonah is here Nineveh, capital of cruel Assyria, repented when Jonah preached (Jonah 3:5-10). If pagans repented at less, how much more should God's people repent at the preaching of His Son? The same warning applies to anyone who has heard the gospel many times.

The Lamp of the Body

33 Now no one, having lit a lamp, puts it in a hidden place, nor under the basket, but on the lampstand, so that those who enter may see the light. 34 The lamp of the body is the eye. Therefore when your eye is clear, your whole body also is full of light; but when it is evil, your body also is full of darkness. 35 Watch out therefore lest the light that is in you is darkness. 36 If therefore your whole body is full of light, not having any part dark, the whole will be full of light, as when the lamp by its shining gives you light."

Woes to the Pharisees and Lawyers

37 And while He was speaking, a certain Pharisee was asking Him to dine with him; and having gone in, He reclined. 38 And the Pharisee, having seen it, marveled that He did not first wash before the dinner. 39 Then the Lord said to him, "Now you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish, but your inside is full of plundering and wickedness. 40 Fools! Did not the One who made the outside make the inside also? 41 But give as alms the things that are within, and look, all things are clean to you. 42 But woe to you Pharisees, because you tithe the mint and the rue and every herb, and you pass by justice and the love of God. These things you ought to have done, and not to leave those undone. 43 Woe to you Pharisees, because you love the first seat in the synagogues and the greetings in the marketplaces. 44 Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, because you are like the unmarked tombs, and the men who walk over them do not know it." 45 And answering, one of the lawyers says to Him, "Teacher, saying these things You insult us also." 46 And He said, "Woe to you lawyers also! Because you load men with burdens hard to bear, and you yourselves do not touch the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 Woe to you, because you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 So you bear witness and consent to the works of your fathers; because they indeed killed them, and you build their tombs. 49 Because of this also the wisdom of God said, 'I will send to them prophets and apostles, and some of them they will kill and persecute, 50 so that the blood of all the prophets, which is being shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation, 51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah (Zacharias), who perished between the altar and the house.' Yes, I say to you, it will be required of this generation. 52 Woe to you lawyers, because you have taken away the key of knowledge. You yourselves did not enter, and you hindered those who were entering." 53 And as He was saying these things to them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to press Him hard and to provoke

11:33 no one, having lit a lamp, puts it in a hidden place God has not hidden the light. In Jesus He has put it where everyone can see. The problem is not a lack of light.
11:34 The lamp of the body is the eye A clear eye is healthy and focused; an evil eye is diseased, and in the Bible it can picture a greedy, stingy heart. The problem was not the light but their eyes. How we look at Jesus decides whether we live in light or darkness.
11:35 Watch out therefore lest the light that is in you is darkness A person can think he sees clearly while he is in the dark, as the Pharisees did (John 9:40-41). Jesus wants every corner of our lives open to His light. Ask the Lord to show you any area you have kept from Him.
11:38 He did not first wash before the dinner Not about clean hands but a ceremony. Pharisees, a strict group who kept the Law and many added traditions, washed hands in a set way before meals as a ritual of purity (Mark 7:3-4). The Law of Moses did not require it.
11:39 you Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the dish Who would wash the outside of a cup and leave the inside dirty? They looked clean, but their hearts were full of plundering, grabbing what belongs to others. God made the whole person, inside and out. Outward religion cannot cover an unclean heart.
11:41 give as alms the things that are within Alms are gifts to the poor. Some read this as give from the heart, give yourself; others as give what is inside the cup and dish, your food and goods, to the poor instead of grabbing for yourself. Either way, the cure for a greedy heart is generous love.
11:42 you tithe the mint and the rue and every herb, and you pass by justice and the love of God The Law required a tenth of grain, wine, oil and produce (Deut 14:22-23), and they even tithed garden herbs. Careful with tiny things, careless with big things. Jesus does not call tithing wrong; it was not enough. Small things done right do not make up for neglecting justice and love.
11:43 you love the first seat in the synagogues The first seats faced the people, where everyone could see you, and religious leaders were greeted with honored titles. Their religion was about their image. Do we serve to be seen, or to please God?
11:44 you are like the unmarked tombs A hypocrite was a masked actor. Touching a grave made a person unclean for seven days (Num 19:16), so tombs were marked white. People passed the Pharisees thinking them holy and were made unclean without knowing it. Instead of leading people to God, they spread spiritual death.
11:46 you load men with burdens hard to bear Most of the Pharisees' rules came from the lawyers' teaching, and Jesus did not back down. They piled rules on the people, excused themselves, and gave no help to the crushed. His yoke is easy and His burden light (Matt 11:28-30).
11:47 you build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them It sounds like honor, but it showed they were like their fathers. They honored dead prophets while rejecting their living word, and they were about to kill the greatest Prophet of all. Honoring God's servants means listening to God's message.
11:49 I will send to them prophets and apostles God had planned and said that His messengers would be sent and rejected.
11:51 from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah Abel was the first murdered (Gen 4:8); Zechariah was stoned in the temple court (2 Chr 24:20-22). Chronicles is the last book of the Hebrew Bible, so this spans the Old Testament first to last. The generation that rejected God's own Son would bear the weight of all that rejection. That judgment fell when Jerusalem was destroyed in A.D. 70.
11:52 you have taken away the key of knowledge The true understanding of God's word, which opens the door to knowing Him. The teachers of Scripture buried it under tradition, did not go in, and kept others out. A teacher who twists God's word blocks the way for others.

Him to speak about many things, 54 lying in wait for Him and seeking to catch something out of His mouth, so that they might accuse Him.

Whom to Fear

1 In these circumstances, when the myriads of the crowd had gathered together, so as to trample on one another, He began to say to His disciples first, "Be on guard for yourselves against the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. 2 Now nothing is covered up that will not be revealed, and nothing is hidden that will not be known. 3 Therefore whatever you have said in the darkness will be heard in the light, and what you have spoken into the ear in the inner rooms will be proclaimed on the housetops. 4 Now I say to you, My friends, do not fear those who kill the body, and after these things do not have anything more to do. 5 But I will show you whom you should fear: fear the One who, after the killing, has authority to cast into Gehenna. Yes, I say to you, fear Him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two assaria? And not one of them is forgotten before God. 7 But even the hairs of your head have all been numbered. Therefore do not fear; you are more valuable than many sparrows. 8 Now I say to you, everyone who confesses Me before men, the Son of Man also will confess him before the angels of God; 9 but the one who has denied Me before men will be denied before the angels of God. 10 And everyone who will speak a word against the Son of Man, it will be forgiven him; but to the one who has blasphemed against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven. 11 And when they bring you before the synagogues and the rulers and the authorities, do not be anxious how or what you should answer in defense, or what you should say; 12 for the Holy Spirit will teach you in that same hour what you must say."

The Rich Fool

13 Then someone from the crowd said to Him, "Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me." 14 But He said to him, "Man, who appointed Me a judge or divider over you?" 15 And He said to them, "Watch out and guard yourselves from covetousness, because even when anyone has abundance, his life is not from his possessions." 16 Then He spoke a parable to them, saying, "The land of a certain rich man produced abundantly. 17 And he was reasoning within himself, saying, 'What shall I do, because I do not have a place where I will store my fruits?' 18 And he said, 'This I will do: I will tear down my barns and build greater ones, and I

11:54 seeking to catch something out of His mouth From now on they were openly hostile, hunting, not seeking truth. The road to the cross becomes plain. Yet Jesus would not soften His words to save Himself. He loved them enough to tell the truth. Do we love people enough to do the same, gently and honestly?

12:1 Be on guard for yourselves against the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy A myriad is ten thousand, so this was a huge, uncounted crowd, Jesus at the height of His popularity. Yet He spoke to His disciples first. A little yeast works through the whole lump. Hypocrisy starts small, a bit of putting on a show, and spreads through a life and a church. Having just left a Pharisee's table (11:37-54), Jesus warns His own not to catch the disease.

12:3 will be proclaimed on the housetops Hypocrisy is foolish because it cannot last. People called out news from Israel's flat roofs. What we whisper in secret will one day be announced, for God will judge the secrets of men (Rom 2:16). Live today as if every word and deed will be made public, because one day it will.

12:5 fear the One who, after the killing, has authority to cast into Gehenna Jesus says a hard thing as a friend: men can kill the body, and that is all. Gehenna, Jesus' word for hell, was the Valley of Hinnom south of Jerusalem, where children had once been burned to false gods (Jer 7:31). It became a picture of final punishment. The One to fear is God. This fear is not terror that drives us from Him but deep respect that keeps us faithful when men threaten us.

12:6 Are not five sparrows sold for two assaria An assarion was a small copper coin, about a sixteenth of a day's wage, and sparrows were the poor man's food. Matthew says two for one assarion (Matt 10:29). Here five sell for two, so the fifth was thrown in free. Even that one is not forgotten by God.

12:7 even the hairs of your head have all been numbered God knows you that closely. Here are both sides of the fear of God. Fear Him, and you need fear nothing else, because He cares for you.

12:8 everyone who confesses Me before men To confess Jesus is to say openly that you belong to Him. When we own Him before people, He will own us before heaven.

12:9 the one who has denied Me before men will be denied before the angels of God This speaks of a settled refusal to own Christ. Peter denied Jesus in a moment of fear and was restored (22:61-62; John 21:15-19), so there is hope for the believer who fails and repents. But a life that never confesses Christ shows a heart that never belonged to Him.

12:10 to the one who has blasphemed against the Holy Spirit, it will not be forgiven Blasphemy is insulting or slandering God. Many misunderstood Jesus, even His brothers (John 7:5), and later repented. Blasphemy against the Spirit is calling the Spirit's work through Jesus Satan's work (11:15), a settled, knowing rejection of His witness to Christ. The Spirit brings people to repentance, so finally rejecting Him shuts the only door. Some hold it could be done only while Jesus was on earth; others say it is any final, hardened unbelief. If you worry that you have committed it, that worry is good evidence you have not.

12:12 the Holy Spirit will teach you in that same hour what you must say Jesus told His followers they would be put on trial. Acts shows it again and again: Peter and John before the Sanhedrin (Acts 4:8-13), Stephen (Acts 6:10), Paul before kings (Acts 26). This does not excuse us from studying God's word. It is a promise for the moment of trial. The Spirit will not leave us on our own.

12:14 who appointed Me a judge or divider over you Rabbis were often asked to settle inheritance disputes; the oldest son got a double share (Deut 21:17). Jesus did not come to sort out family property. He came to deal with the heart. The man had heard Jesus speak of eternal matters, and all he could think about was his money.

12:15 his life is not from his possessions Covetousness is the craving for more that never gets satisfied, and Paul calls it idolatry (Col 3:5). Advertising tells us every day that the next purchase will make us happy. It never does. You can have plenty and still be empty.

12:17 What shall I do, because I do not have a place where I will store my fruits A good harvest was not wrong; God sends rain and sun, and the man did not steal. But listen to him: I, my and me over and over. He never mentions God or anyone else. His whole world is himself.

will store there all my produce and my goods. 19 And I will say to my soul, "Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years; rest, eat, drink, be merry."' 20 But God said to him, 'Fool! This night they are demanding your soul from you; and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?' 21 So is the one who treasures up for himself and is not rich toward God."

Do Not Be Anxious

22 And He said to His disciples, "Because of this I say to you, do not be anxious for your life, what you will eat, nor for the body, what you will put on. 23 The life is more than the food, and the body more than the clothing. 24 Consider the ravens, that they neither sow nor reap; they have no storeroom nor barn, and God feeds them. How much more valuable are you than the birds! 25 And which of you, being anxious, is able to add to his lifespan approximately 1.5 feet (one cubit)? 26 If then you are not able to do even the least, why are you anxious about the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they do not labor nor do they spin; but I say to you, not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these. 28 But if God so clothes the grass in the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the furnace, how much more you, you of little faith! 29 And you, do not seek what you will eat or what you will drink, and do not be unsettled. 30 For the nations of the world seek all these things; and your Father knows that you need these things. 31 But seek the kingdom of God, and all these things will be added to you. 32 Do not fear, little flock, because your Father has been pleased to give you the kingdom. 33 Sell your possessions and give alms; make for yourselves purses that do not grow old, an unfailing treasure in the heavens, where a thief does not come near nor a moth destroys. 34 For where your treasure is, there your heart also will be.

Ready for the Master's Return

35 Let your waists be girded and the lamps burning; 36 and you be like men who are waiting for their master, when he will return from the wedding feasts, so that when he has come and knocked, they may immediately open to him. 37 Blessed are those slaves whom the master, having come, will find watching. Truly I say to you that he will gird himself and have them recline at table, and having come up, he will serve them. 38 And if he comes in the second watch, and comes in the third watch, and finds them so, blessed are those slaves. 39 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief is coming, he would have watched and would not have allowed his house to be broken

12:19 Soul, you have many goods laid up for many years His plan was to keep it all. He thought he had many years and that goods could satisfy a soul. He was wrong on both counts (James 4:13-15).
12:20 Fool! This night they are demanding your soul from you In the Bible a fool lives as if there is no God (Ps 14:1). This man was a success by the world's standards and a fool by God's. His life was a loan, and it was being called in. He planned for many years and had one night. Have you ever noticed that a hearse never pulls a trailer?
12:21 is not rich toward God The problem was not that he was rich but that he was rich only for himself. To be rich toward God is to know Him, trust Him, and use what He gives for His kingdom and for others (1 Tim 6:17-19).
12:22 do not be anxious for your life Jesus turns to His disciples, many of them poor. The rich man's problem was greed; the poor man's temptation is worry. Both put trust in things instead of God. God gave you life. Will He not also give what you need to live?
12:24 Consider the ravens Unclean birds under the Law (Lev 11:15), with no barns at all, yet God feeds them (Ps 147:9). This does not mean we should not work; birds work hard for their food. It means we should not worry. Do your work, and trust God with the outcome.
12:25 approximately 1.5 feet The SLB gives the cubit, the length from elbow to fingertip, as its modern measure. Here it pictures adding even a little time to your life. Worry cannot do it. It changes nothing except us, for the worse, stealing today's strength and doing nothing about tomorrow's trouble.
12:27 not even Solomon in all his glory was clothed like one of these Spinning was making thread. The wildflowers of Galilee do nothing for their beauty, yet outshine Israel's richest king.
12:28 how much more you, you of little faith Dry grass fueled ovens. If God dresses what lasts a day so beautifully, He will clothe His children. Worry is a faith problem. It forgets who our Father is.
12:30 your Father knows that you need these things Unsettled pictures a ship tossed on the waves. The nations are those who do not know God, so it is natural for them to chase food and clothes. We have a Father who knows our needs before we ask (Matt 6:8).
12:31 seek the kingdom of God, and all these things will be added to you This is the answer to worry. Put God's rule first in your choices, time and money, and He will take care of the rest. It is a promise not of riches but of provision: everything we need to do His will.
12:32 Do not fear, little flock A tender verse. His followers are small and weak, like sheep, and the world may not think much of them. But it was the Father's joy to give them the kingdom. If He has promised you His kingdom, why worry about the price of groceries? The greater gift guarantees the lesser.
12:33 Sell your possessions and give alms Jesus told one rich ruler to sell everything because money was his god (18:22). The Jerusalem church sold property to help the needy (Acts 2:44-45), but Peter said it was voluntary (Acts 5:4). Hold your things loosely and be generous. Money given for God's work becomes treasure no thief can steal and no moth can eat.
12:34 where your treasure is, there your heart also will be Your heart follows your money. If you want to know what you love, look at your bank statement. If you want to love God more, start putting your treasure into His work.
12:35 Let your waists be girded and the lamps burning Now Jesus turns to readiness for His return. Men tucked their long robes into a belt to work or travel. Burning lamps meant staying awake at night, ready.
12:36 when he will return from the wedding feasts A wedding feast could last for days, and no one knew when the master would get home. Good servants stayed up so they could open the moment he knocked.
12:37 he will gird himself and have them recline at table, and having come up, he will serve them No master in that day served his slaves, yet Jesus, the Master, will. He did it once when He washed His disciples' feet (John 13:4-5), and He will reward His faithful servants beyond anything they imagine.
12:38 if he comes in the second watch, and comes in the third watch Counting four watches as the Romans did, these were the dead of night, about nine to three. Even if He comes late, blessed are those He finds ready.

into. 40 You also therefore be ready, because the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect." 41 Then Peter (Petros) said to Him, "Lord, are You speaking this parable to us, or also to all?" 42 And the Lord said, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager whom the master will set over his household servants, to give them the measure of grain in season? 43 Blessed is that slave whom his master, having come, will find doing so. 44 In truth I say to you that he will set him over all his possessions. 45 But if that slave says in his heart, 'My master delays to come,' and begins to beat the male servants and the female servants, and to eat and to drink and to get drunk, 46 the master of that slave will come on a day that he does not expect and at an hour that he does not know, and will cut him in two and will assign his portion with the unfaithful. 47 And that slave who knew the will of his master and did not prepare nor do according to his will, will be beaten with many blows; 48 but the one who did not know, and did things worthy of blows, will be beaten with few. And everyone to whom much was given, much will be required from him; and to whom they entrusted much, they will ask of him all the more.

Not Peace but Division

49 I came to cast fire into the earth, and what do I wish, if it has already been kindled? 50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how I am distressed until it is accomplished! 51 Do you think that I have come to give peace on the earth? No, I say to you, but rather division. 52 For from now on there will be five in one house divided, three against two and two against three. 53 Father will be divided against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against her daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law."

Reading the Times

54 And He was also saying to the crowds, "When you see the cloud rising from the west, immediately you say, 'A rainstorm is coming,' and so it happens. 55 And when you see a south wind blowing, you say, 'There will be scorching heat,' and it happens. 56 Hypocrites! You know how to discern the appearance of the sky and of the earth, but how is it that you do not discern this time? 57 And why, even of yourselves, do you not judge what is righteous? 58 For as you are going with your adversary before a ruler, on the way give effort to be released from him, lest he drag you to the judge, and the judge hand you over to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison. 59 I say to you, you will certainly not come out from there until you have paid even the last lepton."

12:40 the Son of Man is coming at an hour you do not expect No thief announces his hour. Being ready means being right with God and living faithfully now, not planning to get serious later. In context Jesus speaks of His coming as Son of Man to set up His kingdom, when He returns visibly at the end of the Tribulation (Matt 24:29-31; Rev 19:11-16). Scripture also teaches that before the Tribulation He will come for His church (John 14:1-3; 1 Thess 4:13-18). No signs must come first, and no one knows the day. Are you ready to meet Him today?
12:41 are You speaking this parable to us, or also to all Jesus does not answer directly. His next parable speaks to anyone given responsibility in God's house, especially leaders, while the call to be ready is for all.
12:42 the faithful and wise manager A slave put in charge of the others, seeing they got their food on time. The picture fits pastors and teachers who feed God's people His word (1 Pet 5:2-4), and every believer given something to look after for God.
12:44 he will set him over all his possessions The blessing goes to the one found doing his job when the master arrives. Faithfulness now leads to greater responsibility in His kingdom (19:17).
12:45 My master delays to come This slave decided the master was not coming soon, so he could do as he pleased. Peter warned of scoffers who mock the promise of His coming (2 Pet 3:3-4).
12:46 will cut him in two and will assign his portion with the unfaithful A picture of severe punishment. His place is with those who never truly believed. His behavior showed he never belonged to the master at all.
12:47 will be beaten with many blows There are degrees of punishment. God is just, and those who knew more will be held more responsible.
12:48 everyone to whom much was given, much will be required from him One of Luke's most quoted verses, and a sobering one. Most of us have Bibles in our homes, churches on our streets and teaching at our fingertips. Much has been given to us. What are we doing with it?
12:49 I came to cast fire into the earth Fire often pictures judgment and purifying; John said Jesus would baptize with the Spirit and fire (3:16). His coming forces people to decide, and that decision divides and refines.
12:50 I have a baptism to be baptized with His death, being plunged into suffering and God's judgment against sin on the cross (Mark 10:38). He felt its weight walking toward Jerusalem, pressed in until it was done. He did not look forward to the pain but to finishing the work.
12:51 Do you think that I have come to give peace on the earth He is the Prince of Peace (Isa 9:6). He gives peace with God to those who trust Him (Rom 5:1) and will bring peace to the earth when He reigns. But His first coming divides, because some receive Him and some reject Him.
12:53 Father will be divided against son Jesus echoes Micah 7:6. Many believers know this pain when one person in a family comes to Christ. Jesus does not want division for its own sake, but He is worth following even when it costs our family's approval.
12:56 how is it that you do not discern this time Clouds off the sea meant rain and a south wind off the desert meant heat. They could predict the weather but could not see the Messiah standing before them, with miracles, fulfilled prophecies and the preaching of John and Jesus. They could judge what was right for themselves if willing. Many today know everything about sports, stocks or politics but will not think about their own souls.
12:59 until you have paid even the last lepton Settle on the way to court before you reach the judge, or you pay to the lepton, the smallest copper coin; you would pay every last cent. The picture is our case before God. We are guilty and on the road to judgment. Now is the time to be reconciled, while still on the way. After death it is too late (Heb 9:27; 2 Cor 6:2).

Repent or Perish

1 Now some were present at that very time, reporting to Him about the Galileans whose blood Pilate (Pilatos) had mixed with their sacrifices. 2 And answering, Jesus (Iesous) said to them, "Do you think that these Galileans were sinners beyond all the Galileans, because they have suffered such things? 3 No, I say to you; but unless you repent, you will all perish likewise. 4 Or those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell and killed them, do you think that these were debtors beyond all the men who dwell in Jerusalem (Hierousalem)? 5 No, I say to you; but unless you repent, you will all perish likewise."

The Barren Fig Tree

6 Then He was speaking this parable: "A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard, and he came seeking fruit on it and did not find any. 7 Then he said to the vinedresser, 'Look, for three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree and do not find any. Cut it down; why does it even use up the ground?' 8 And answering, he says to him, 'Sir, leave it this year also, until I dig around it and put in manure; 9 and if indeed it bears fruit—but if not, in the future you will cut it down.'"

A Bent Woman Healed on the Sabbath

10 Now He was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. 11 And look, there was a woman having a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and she was bent over and was not able to straighten up completely. 12 And having seen her, Jesus called her to Him and said to her, "Woman, you have been released from your infirmity." 13 And He laid His hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and she was glorifying God. 14 But answering, the ruler of the synagogue, indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, was saying to the crowd, "There are six days in which one must work; therefore coming on these, be healed, and not on the day of the Sabbath." 15 Then the Lord answered him and said, "Hypocrite! Does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey from the stall, and having led it away, give it drink? 16 And this woman, being a daughter of Abraham (Abraam), whom Satan has bound, look, ten and eight years, was it not necessary for her to be untied from this bond on the day of the Sabbath?" 17 And as He was saying these things, all those who were opposed to Him were being put to shame; and all the crowd was rejoicing at all the glorious things that were being done by Him.

The Mustard Seed and the Leaven

18 Then He was saying, "To what is the kingdom of God like?

13:18 Luke 13:20; Luke 7:31; Lam 2:13

13:1 the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices Pontius Pilate governed Judea from about A.D. 26 to 36 and was known for harshness and contempt for Jewish feelings. His soldiers killed Galileans offering sacrifices in the temple area. No other ancient writer records this event, but it fits what we know of him. The reporters may have wanted Jesus to speak against Rome, or thought the victims must have done something terrible.

13:3 unless you repent, you will all perish likewise Many believed great suffering meant great sin, like Job's friends (Job 4:7) and the disciples (John 9:2). Jesus does not explain the tragedy; He turns it into a warning. The question is not why they died but whether you are ready to die. To repent is to change your mind about sin and God and turn from sin to Him.

13:4 those eighteen on whom the tower in Siloam fell Siloam was in the south part of Jerusalem, with a pool of that name (John 9:7). Debtors means sinners who owe God. One tragedy came from a cruel ruler, the other from a falling building, and the dead were no worse than anyone else. When we hear of a disaster, the right response is not to judge the victims but to examine our own hearts.

13:7 for three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree and do not find any Fig trees grew in vineyards, and vine and fig both picture Israel (Hos 9:10; Isa 5:1-7). A young fig takes time to bear, but three years of nothing meant something was wrong. It used up the ground and gave nothing back. Jesus' ministry had run about three years, though that link should not be pressed. God had looked for the fruit of repentance in Israel and had not found it.

13:8 leave it this year also, until I dig around it and put in manure The vinedresser asked one more year to loosen the soil and fertilize it, giving the tree every chance. This pictures God's patience and its limit (2 Pet 3:9). For Israel, judgment came in A.D. 70 when Rome destroyed Jerusalem and the temple. For each of us a day will come when it is too late. Do not mistake His patience for approval.

13:11 a woman having a spirit of infirmity eighteen years Luke's last scene of Jesus teaching in a synagogue. Infirmity is weakness or disease. Luke the doctor notes she could not stand straight at all; for eighteen years she looked at the ground. Her trouble came from a spirit, and Jesus says Satan had bound her (13:16). Not every illness comes from a demon, but hers did.

13:13 immediately she was made straight, and she was glorifying God She did not ask; Jesus noticed her and called her. After eighteen years she stood up and looked people in the eye, and the first thing she did was praise God. Jesus sees the people others overlook, bent over by burdens no one notices. He sees you too.

13:14 indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath The synagogue ruler did not dare speak to Jesus, so he scolded the crowd. The Law never called healing work; that came from rabbinic tradition. A woman was free after eighteen years, and all he could see was a broken rule. When our religion makes us angry about someone else's blessing, something is badly wrong.

13:15 Does not each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or his donkey Even the strict rabbis let a farmer lead his animals to water on the Sabbath. They would not let an animal go thirsty one day.

13:16 this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has bound A Jewish woman, one of God's covenant people. If you can untie an animal, how much more should she be untied from Satan's chains? God gave the Sabbath for rest and blessing (Mark 2:27), so it was the perfect day for her freedom.

13:17 all those who were opposed to Him were being put to shame The leaders were embarrassed and the people glad. Again and again, those with the most to lose opposed Him most, and those with the most need received Him gladly.

And to what will I compare it? 19 It is like a grain of mustard, which a man, having taken, cast into his own garden; and it grew and became a great tree, and the birds of the sky nested in its branches." 20 And again He said, "To what will I compare the kingdom of God? 21 It is like leaven, which a woman, having taken, hid in approximately 21 quarts (three seahs) of flour until all was leavened."

The Narrow Door

22 And He was going through towns and villages, teaching and making His way toward Jerusalem. 23 Then someone said to Him, "Lord, are those who are being saved few?" And He said to them, 24 "Strive to enter through the narrow gate; for many, I say to you, will seek to enter and will not be able. 25 From whenever the master of the house has risen up and shut the door, and you begin to stand outside and to knock at the door, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us,' and answering, he will say to you, 'I do not know you, where you are from,' 26 then you will begin to say, 'We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets.' 27 And he will say, 'I say to you, I do not know you, where you are from. Depart from me, all you workers of unrighteousness.' 28 There will be the weeping and the gnashing of the teeth there, when you see Abraham and Isaac (Isaak) and Jacob (Iakob) and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but yourselves being cast outside. 29 And they will come from east and west, and from north and south, and will recline in the kingdom of God. 30 And look, there are last who will be first, and there are first who will be last."

Jesus Grieves over Jerusalem

31 On that same day certain Pharisees came, saying to Him, "Go out and proceed from here, because Herod (Herodes) wants to kill You." 32 And He said to them, "Having gone, say to this fox, 'Look, I cast out demons and perform cures today and tomorrow, and on the third day I am perfected.' 33 But I must proceed today and tomorrow and the day following, because it is not possible for a prophet to perish outside of Jerusalem. 34 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, the one killing the prophets and stoning those sent to her! How often I was willing to gather your children together, the way a hen gathers her own brood under her wings, and you were not willing! 35 Look, your house is left to you desolate. And truly I say to you that you will by no means see Me until the time comes when you say, 'Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord.'"

13:35 Ps 118:26; Isa 5:5; Isa 52:7

13:19 It is like a grain of mustard The tiny seed grows to ten feet or more in a season. The kingdom began with Jesus and a few followers in a corner of the empire and would grow beyond imagining. Many see the birds as people of all nations sheltering in it (Ezek 17:23; Dan 4:12). Others note birds earlier picture the evil one (8:5, 12) and see Christendom growing large and giving room to evil. Either way, the point is surprising growth from a tiny beginning.
13:21 It is like leaven Three seahs, the SLB's twenty-one quarts, could make bread for a hundred people. Many see the gospel quietly working through the world and a life, changing everything from inside. Others note leaven nearly always pictures sin, as in 12:1, and read a warning of false teaching spreading through the professing church. Good teachers hold both. Both agree that something small and hidden ends up affecting the whole.
13:22 making His way toward Jerusalem Luke reminds us where Jesus is headed (9:51). Every step brought Him closer to the cross, and He used every stop to teach.
13:24 Strive to enter through the narrow gate Many believed nearly all Israel would be saved as Abraham's children, but Jesus made the question personal. Strive (agonizomai, our agonize) means to struggle hard like an athlete. Salvation is a free gift (Eph 2:8-9), not earned by effort, but we must seriously enter, turning from sin and trusting Christ, not assume we are fine. The gate is narrow because there is one way, through Jesus (John 10:9; 14:6). Many want in on their own terms, or wait too long.
13:25 I do not know you, where you are from The door is open today, and one day it will close: for each person at death, for the world when the Lord comes in judgment. It is not enough to know about Jesus. He must know you as one of His own (John 10:14).
13:26 We ate and drank in your presence, and you taught in our streets They saw Him and heard Him, and may have gone to church every Sunday. But being near Jesus is not belonging to Him.
13:27 Depart from me, all you workers of unrighteousness Words from Psalm 6:8. A lifetime around the things of God will not save a person who never truly turned to Him (Matt 7:21-23).
13:28 when you see Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God Weeping is sorrow; gnashing of teeth is anger and anguish, the misery of those shut out forever. Those sure they were in as Abraham's children will see Abraham inside and themselves outside. Being born into a religious family saves no one (3:8).
13:29 they will come from east and west, and from north and south People of every nation coming to faith and sitting at the kingdom feast with Abraham, as Isaiah foresaw (Isa 49:6; 25:6-8). Luke loves to show the gospel is for all people.
13:30 there are last who will be first Religious leaders and Israel, with every advantage, could end up last; Gentiles, sinners and outcasts, first. God does not rank people as we do. Pride keeps people out. Humble faith brings people in.
13:31 Herod wants to kill You Herod Antipas ruled Galilee and Perea and had killed John. Not all Pharisees opposed Jesus (Acts 5:34; John 3:1-2), and some may have meant to help. Others may have wanted Him out of their area or on to Jerusalem. Scripture does not tell us their motive.
13:32 say to this fox A fox pictured a sly, destructive person, sometimes a small and insignificant one. Jesus was not afraid. Today, tomorrow and the third day mean a short time with a set end. He would finish His work on His Father's schedule, not Herod's. "I am perfected" means I reach My goal, the cross and resurrection.
13:33 it is not possible for a prophet to perish outside of Jerusalem A sad irony: the holy city was where God's prophets were most often rejected and killed. Notice "must." Jesus was not running from Herod. He was going toward Jerusalem on purpose, for us.
13:34 the way a hen gathers her own brood under her wings Repeating the name is a cry of grief. Jerusalem's history was one of rejecting God's messengers (2 Chr 36:15-16). A hen spreads her wings over her chicks against danger. Look at the two wills: "I was willing" and "you were not willing." God does not force anyone to come. His heart breaks over those who refuse Him (19:41).
13:35 Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord Their house, the temple, city or nation, would be left desolate, abandoned; Rome destroyed it in A.D. 70. The words are from Psalm 118:26, and crowds shouted them at the entry (19:38). The deeper fulfillment is future. Israel as a nation will turn to Jesus as Messiah and welcome Him. They will look on the One they pierced and mourn (Zech 12:10), and Paul says all Israel will be saved (Rom 11:26). God is not finished with Israel.

A Man Healed at a Pharisee's House

1 And it came to pass, when He went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a Sabbath to eat bread, that they were watching Him closely. 2 And look, a certain man with dropsy was before Him. 3 And answering, Jesus (Iesous) spoke to the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?" 4 But they were silent. And having taken hold of him, He healed him and released him. 5 And answering them, He said, "Which of you, whose donkey or ox falls into a pit, will not also immediately pull it up on the day of the Sabbath?" 6 And they were not able to reply to Him regarding these things.

The Lowest Seat

7 Then He was speaking a parable to those who had been invited, noticing how they were choosing the first places, saying to them, 8 "When you are invited by someone to wedding feasts, do not recline in the first place, lest someone more honored than you has been invited by him, 9 and having come, the one who invited you and him will say to you, 'Give your place to this man,' and then you will begin with shame to occupy the last place. 10 But when you are invited, having gone, recline in the last place, so that when the one who has invited you comes, he may say to you, 'Friend, come up higher.' Then you will have glory before those who recline with you. 11 For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted." 12 And He was also saying to the one who had invited Him, "When you make a dinner or a supper, do not call your friends nor your brothers nor your relatives nor rich neighbors, lest they also invite you in return and it becomes a repayment to you. 13 But when you make a reception, call the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; 14 and you will be blessed, because they do not have anything to repay you; for it will be repaid to you in the resurrection of the righteous."

The Great Banquet

15 Then one of those reclining with Him, having heard these things, said to Him, "Blessed is he who will eat bread in the kingdom of God!" 16 But He said to him, "A certain man made a great supper and invited many; 17 and at the hour of the supper he sent his slave to say to those who had been invited, 'Come, because all things are now ready.' 18 And they all began with one accord to make excuses. The first said to him, 'I have bought a field, and I have need to go out and see it; I ask you, have me excused.' 19 And another said, 14:1 they were watching Him closely A ruler of the Pharisees was a leading man among them, perhaps on the Sanhedrin. A Sabbath meal was cooked the day before, and guests were invited after the synagogue service. They were spying, waiting for Him to break a rule. Jesus knew it and went anyway. He never refused to eat with anyone, tax collector or Pharisee. Each needed what He came to give.

14:2 a certain man with dropsy An old word for swelling from fluid building up in the body, today called edema, often a sign of heart or kidney failure. Only Luke the doctor records this healing. He may have been planted to trap Jesus; Scripture does not say.

14:4 they were silent The Law said nothing against healing on the Sabbath; their traditions did. Saying yes broke their rules; saying no looked heartless before a suffering man. Jesus did not wait for their permission. He took hold of him, healed him and sent him home.

14:5 whose donkey or ox falls into a pit A farmer would not leave his animal in a well to die until sundown. If an animal is worth rescuing on the Sabbath, how much more a man made in God's image? Their rules made them care more about property than people. We should ask whether our church habits ever do the same.

14:7 how they were choosing the first places Guests reclined on couches around a low table, and places nearest the host were the places of honor. While they were watching Him, He was watching them push for the best seats.

14:9 then you will begin with shame to occupy the last place Picture the walk of shame from the head table to the back of the room, with everyone watching, since the other good places are gone. Pride sets us up for humiliation (Prov 25:6-7).

14:10 recline in the last place This is not a clever strategy for getting honor in the end. True humility does not take the low seat hoping to be moved up. It takes it because it does not need the high one, and leaves the honor to God.

14:11 everyone who exalts himself will be humbled A law of God's kingdom that Jesus says more than once (18:14; Matt 23:12). God opposes the proud and gives grace to the humble (James 4:6). Jesus humbled Himself to death on a cross, and God highly exalted Him (Phil 2:8-9). If the Son of God took the lowest place, how can we fight over the best seats, in church or anywhere?

14:12 lest they also invite you in return and it becomes a repayment to you It is no sin to have family and friends to dinner; Jesus uses strong contrast. I invite you, you invite me, and we keep score. That is trading favors. It is not love but business.

14:13 call the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind People often left out; some religious groups even kept the crippled and blind out of their meetings. Jesus says invite them in.

14:14 it will be repaid to you in the resurrection of the righteous When we give to those who cannot pay us back, God Himself repays. The resurrection of the righteous is the raising of believers, when God rewards His people (John 5:28-29; Rev 20:4-6). Kindness that seems wasted now is never wasted in God's eyes. Who could you invite who cannot pay you back?

14:15 Blessed is he who will eat bread in the kingdom of God The Jews looked for a great banquet when Messiah came (Isa 25:6). It sounded pious, but the man assumed he would be at that table. Jesus answers with a parable that asks, will you really be there?

14:17 Come, because all things are now ready Invitations went out ahead, guests accepted, and when the meal was ready a servant called them. Refusing at the last minute was a serious insult. The master is God; the first guests are Israel, especially its leaders, told for centuries by the prophets that the feast was coming. Now the Messiah had come, and everything was ready.

14:18 they all began with one accord to make excuses Who buys a field without seeing it first? And it would be there tomorrow. Excuses for not coming to God usually sound reasonable but do not hold up. The real reason is that we do not want to come.

14:19 I have bought five yoke of oxen Five pairs meant a big farm and a wealthy man, and no one buys ten oxen without trying them. His business came first. Many today will not come to Christ or serve Him because work and possessions fill all their time and attention.

'I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I am going to test them; I ask you, have me excused.' 20 And another said, 'I have married a wife, and because of this I am not able to come.' 21 And having come, that slave reported these things to his master. Then the master of the house, having become angry, said to his slave, 'Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor and crippled and lame and blind.' 22 And the slave said, 'Master, it has been done as you commanded, and there is still room.' 23 And the master said to the slave, 'Go out into the roads and hedges and compel them to come in, so that my house may be filled. 24 For I say to you that not one of those men who were invited will taste my supper.'"

The Cost of Being a Disciple

25 Now great crowds were going along with Him; and having turned, He said to them, 26 "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate his own father and mother and wife and children and brothers and sisters, and yes, even his own life, he is not able to be My disciple. 27 And whoever does not carry his cross and come after Me is not able to be My disciple. 28 For which of you, wanting to build a tower, does not first, having sat down, count the cost, whether he has the means for completion? 29 Otherwise, when he has laid a foundation and is not able to finish, all who see it may begin to mock him, 30 saying, 'This man began to build and was not able to finish.' 31 Or what king, going to engage another king in war, does not, having sat down, first consider whether he is able with ten thousand to meet the one coming against him with twenty thousand? 32 And if not, while he is still far away, having sent a delegation, he asks the terms for peace. 33 So therefore everyone of you who does not renounce all his own possessions is not able to be My disciple. 34 Salt is good; but if the salt becomes tasteless, with what will it be seasoned? 35 It is fit neither for soil nor for the manure heap; they cast it out. The one who has ears to hear, let him hear."

LUKE 15

The Lost Sheep

1 Now all the tax collectors and the sinners were drawing near to Him to hear Him. 2 And the Pharisees and the scribes were grumbling, saying, "This man receives sinners and eats with them." 3 Then He spoke this parable to them, saying,

14:20 Deut 24:5; Luke 14:26-28; Luke 18:29,30
14:21 Luke 14:13; John 9:39; Luke 9:10
14:22 Acts 1:1-9; Ps 103:6; Ps 130:7
14:23 Acts 13:47,48; Ps 98:3; Isa 11:10

14:27 Matt 10:38; Luke 9:23-25; Mark 8:34-37
14:28 Prov 24:27; Luke 14:33; Matt 8:20
14:30 Matt 7:27; Matt 27:3-8; Acts 1:18,19
14:31 Judg 7:3; 2 Kgs 18:21; 2 Kgs 18:22
14:32 Luke 12:58; 1 Kgs 20:31-34; 2 Kgs 10:4,5
14:33 Phil 3:7,8; Luke 5:11,28; 1 John 2:15,16
14:34 Matt 5:13; Col 4:6; Mark 9:49,50
14:35 Matt 11:15; John 15:6; Luke 8:8
15:1 Matt 9:10-13; Luke 5:29-32; Luke 13:30
15:2 Matt 9:11; Luke 19:7; Luke 5:30

14:20 I have married a wife A new husband got a year off from military service (Deut 24:5), but not from a dinner, and he did not even ask to be excused. Marriage is God's gift, but good things become a problem when they keep us from God. Possessions, work and family: none are bad, and none are worth missing the feast.
14:21 bring in here the poor and crippled and lame and blind The same people Jesus told the host to invite (14:13). In His ministry they picture Israel's outcasts, the tax collectors and sinners coming to Jesus while the leaders refused. Those who thought they did not need the invitation missed it. Those who knew they did not deserve it came in.
14:23 Go out into the roads and hedges and compel them to come in There is always room for one more. The roads and hedges were country lanes outside the city, where travelers and vagrants were found. Many see the Gentiles invited here (Acts 13:46-48). Compel does not mean force. A poor stranger would politely refuse a rich man's invitation as too good to be real, so the servant had to urge and insist. Church leaders in past centuries misused this verse to justify forced conversion. We compel with love and urgency, never with force.
14:24 not one of those men who were invited will taste my supper God's invitation is gracious, but not endless. The guest who spoke of eating bread in the kingdom needed to hear this. Being invited is not the same as coming. Have you accepted God's invitation, or are you still making excuses?
14:25 great crowds were going along with Him Jesus was not impressed by numbers. He turned and spoke words that would thin the crowd. He wanted followers who knew what they were getting into.
14:26 does not hate his own father and mother One of His hardest sayings. Scripture tells us to honor parents (Exod 20:12) and love our wives as Christ loved the church (Eph 5:25). Hebrew speech used love and hate to show which comes first (Gen 29:30-31), and Matthew's form is loving father or mother more than Jesus (Matt 10:37). Our love for Him must be so great that by comparison every other love looks like hate. When family and Christ pull different ways, Christ wins.
14:27 whoever does not carry his cross and come after Me A man carrying a cross was walking to his death (9:23). To carry your cross is to die to your own way, plans and pride, and follow Jesus whatever it costs. Each has his own: rejection by family, a career or habit given up, for some prison or death. Jesus does not ask us to carry His cross. He carried that for us.
14:28 wanting to build a tower, does not first, having sat down, count the cost A watchtower in a vineyard or a farm building. A half-built house with weeds around it draws mockery. Do not start following Jesus lightly and then quit. Think it through. The Christian life is not a sprint but a lifetime of building.
14:31 whether he is able with ten thousand to meet the one coming against him with twenty thousand A wise king does not rush into a battle he cannot win; outnumbered, he seeks terms for peace. Some see a further lesson: we are the weaker king, and God is coming with overwhelming power, so seek peace with Him while there is time. The main point is the same: think before you commit. Following Jesus costs everything, and it is worth it.
14:33 everyone of you who does not renounce all his own possessions To renounce is to say goodbye to, to let go. Jesus did not ask Zacchaeus to give away everything (19:8-9), but every disciple gives up ownership of everything. It all belongs to Jesus, and we are only managers. He does not want a corner of your life. He wants all of it.
14:35 they cast it out Salt flavored food and kept meat from spoiling; Dead Sea salt mixed with other minerals could wash out and leave something that only looked like salt. A disciple who will not pay the cost is like salt without taste: he looks like a follower but makes no difference. Is your life making any difference for Christ in the world around you?
15:1 all the tax collectors and the sinners were drawing near to Him to hear Him Tax collectors gathered Rome's taxes, often overcharging and keeping the extra (3:12-13), and most Jews saw them as traitors and thieves. Sinners were people living openly immoral lives or ignoring the Pharisees' rules. Jesus told them the truth about their sin, and also about God's love and forgiveness. These were the ones with ears to hear (14:35).
15:2 This man receives sinners and eats with them Grumbling is the word for Israel complaining in the wilderness (Exod 16:2), and "this man" was said with contempt. Sharing a meal meant acceptance, and the Pharisees would not even touch a sinner. They meant it as an insult, but they spoke the gospel without knowing it. If Jesus did not receive sinners, none of us would have hope.
15:3 He spoke this parable to them One parable in three stories, each raising the stakes: one sheep of a hundred, one coin of ten, one son of two. All three answer the complaint of verse 2. Why does Jesus receive sinners? Because God loves to find the lost.

4 "What man of you, having a hundred sheep and having lost one of them, does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the one that has been lost until he finds it? 5 And having found it, he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing. 6 And having come into the house, he calls together the friends and the neighbors, saying to them, 'Rejoice with me, because I have found my sheep that had been lost!' 7 I say to you that in the same way there will be joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, rather than over ninety-nine righteous ones who have no need of repentance.

The Lost Coin

8 Or what woman, having ten drachmas, if she loses one drachma, does not light a lamp and sweep the house and seek carefully until she finds it? 9 And having found it, she calls together the friends and the neighbors, saying, 'Rejoice with me, because I have found the drachma that I lost!' 10 In the same way, I say to you, there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents."

The Lost Son

11 Then He said, "A certain man had two sons. 12 And the younger of them said to the father, 'Father, give me the portion of the property that falls to me.' And he divided the livelihood between them. 13 And not many days after, the younger son, having gathered all together, went away into a distant country, and there he squandered his property, living recklessly. 14 But when he had spent everything, a severe famine arose throughout that country, and he began to be in need. 15 And having gone, he joined himself to one of the citizens of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed pigs. 16 And he was longing to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating, and no one was giving anything to him. 17 But having come to himself, he said, 'How many hired servants of my father have an abundance of bread, but I am perishing with hunger! 18 Having risen up, I will go to my father and will say to him, "Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you, 19 and I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me like one of your hired servants."' 20 And having risen up, he went to his own father. But while he was still far distant, his father saw him and was moved with compassion, and having run, he fell on his neck and kissed him. 21 Then the son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and before you, and I am no longer

15:4 does not leave the ninety-nine in the wilderness and go after the one that has been lost until he finds it Sheep wander, have no sense of direction, and are in real danger from wild animals and cliffs. A good shepherd does not settle for the ninety-nine. "Until he finds it": he does not give up. God is the Shepherd who seeks His lost sheep (Ezek 34:11-16), and Jesus is that Shepherd (John 10:11).

15:5 he lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing He does not scold or make it walk. A frightened, exhausted sheep would often lie down and refuse to move. We cannot find our own way back to God. Jesus comes where we are, lifts us up and carries us home, with joy, not with a sigh. His joy is too big to keep to himself, and even lost, it was still "my sheep."

15:7 ninety-nine righteous ones who have no need of repentance Heaven throws a party when a sinner repents. No one is truly righteous on his own (Rom 3:10, 23). Jesus speaks with gentle irony of the Pharisees, who thought themselves righteous and saw no need to repent (18:9). There is no joy in heaven over people who think they are fine without God.

15:8 having ten drachmas, if she loses one drachma A Greek silver coin worth about a day's wage, perhaps a poor woman's life savings; some think the coins were part of a headdress given at marriage. Windowless houses with dirt floors could swallow a coin in dust and straw. Luke often pairs a story of a man with one of a woman, and here the seeking God is pictured by a woman searching her house.

15:10 there is joy before the angels of God over one sinner who repents Joy in the angels' presence. The angels surely rejoice, but the One whose joy fills heaven is God. When you came to Christ, the God of the universe rejoiced over you.

15:12 Father, give me the portion of the property that falls to me The story is about a father and two sons, and the father is the main character. The older son got a double share (Deut 21:17), so his part was a third. An inheritance normally came at the father's death. To ask now was like wishing his father dead, wanting his money and not him. Yet the father let him go. God does not force anyone to love Him. He lets us choose our way, even when it will hurt us.

15:13 there he squandered his property, living recklessly He turned his share into cash and went as far from his father as he could. To squander is to scatter like seed in the wind; reckless living is wild, with no thought for tomorrow. His brother says it was with prostitutes (15:30). Sin always promises freedom and never tells you the bill comes due.

15:14 a severe famine arose throughout that country His money ran out at the worst time, and the friends who helped spend it were gone. God sometimes lets us hit bottom, not because He is cruel, but because sometimes it is the only way we will look up.

15:16 he was longing to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating For a Jew this was as low as he could go: working for a Gentile, feeding unclean animals (Lev 11:7). The pods were likely carob, used for feed, and he envied the pigs. The son who wanted freedom became a slave. Sin takes you further than you wanted to go, keeps you longer than you wanted to stay, and costs more than you wanted to pay.

15:17 having come to himself I love this phrase. It is as if he woke up after being out of his mind. Sin is a kind of insanity, and repentance is coming to your senses. Even the day laborers, the lowest workers, had plenty in his father's house. He began to remember what kind of man his father was.

15:19 make me like one of your hired servants He owns that his sin was against God, heaven being a reverent word for Him, and against his father, with no excuses. He planned to work off his debt and thought a job was the best he could hope for. Many think they must earn their way back to God. They do not yet know the father's heart.

15:20 while he was still far distant, his father saw him and was moved with compassion Repentance is not just feeling bad; it is getting up and going home. The father saw him far off because he had been watching the road. An older man of standing did not run, hitching up his robe, but this father ran and kissed him before the son could say a word. God does not wait with crossed arms for us to clean up. He runs to meet us.

15:21 I am no longer worthy to be called your son He begins the practiced speech, but the father does not let him reach the part about the hired servant. Confession is needed, and when we confess, God forgives and cleanses us (1 John 1:9). We come back not as hired hands but as sons and daughters.

worthy to be called your son.' 22 But the father said to his slaves, 'Bring out the best robe and clothe him, and give a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet; 23 and having brought the fattened calf, kill it, and having eaten, let us be merry; 24 because this son of mine was dead and came to life again, and he was lost and was found.' And they began to be merry.

The Older Brother

25 Now his elder son was in a field; and as he was coming, he drew near to the house and heard music and dancing. 26 And having called one of the servants to him, he was inquiring what these things might be. 27 And he said to him, 'Your brother has come, and your father has killed the fattened calf, because he has received him back in good health.' 28 But he became angry and was not willing to go in. Therefore his father, having come out, was pleading with him. 29 But answering, he said to the father, 'Look, so many years I have been serving you, and I never transgressed a commandment of yours, and to me you never gave a young goat, so that I might be merry with my friends; 30 but when this son of yours came, who has devoured your livelihood with prostitutes, you killed the fattened calf for him.' 31 And he said to him, 'Child, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours. 32 But it was necessary to be merry and to rejoice, because this brother of yours was dead and came to life again, and was lost and was found.'"

The Shrewd Manager

1 And He was also saying to His disciples, "There was a certain rich man who had a manager, and this man was accused to him as squandering his possessions. 2 And having called him, he said to him, 'What is this I hear about you? Give the account of your management, for you will not be able to manage any longer.' 3 Then the manager said within himself, 'What shall I do, because my master is taking away the management from me? I am not able to dig; I am ashamed to beg. 4 I know what I will do, so that when I have been removed from the management, they may receive me into their houses.' 5 And having called to him each one of the debtors of his own master, he was saying to the first, 'How much do you owe my master?' 6 And he said, 'Approximately 600 gallons (a hundred baths) of oil.' And he said to him, 'Take your bill, and having sat down quickly, write fifty.' 7 Then he said to another, 'And you, how much do you owe?' And he said, 'Approximately 600 bushels (a hundred kors) of wheat.' And

16:6 Ezra 7:22; Ezek 45:14; Luke 16:9,12
16:7 Ezra 7:22; Luke 20:9,12; Song 8:11,12

15:22 Bring out the best robe and clothe him, and give a ring for his hand and sandals for his feet The best robe, likely the father's own, covered the rags of the far country. The ring may have been a signet carrying the family's authority. Sandals marked a free man; slaves went barefoot. He came home smelling of pigs and was dressed as an honored son. That is grace. God clothes us in His righteousness (Isa 61:10; 2 Cor 5:21) and restores us to the family.

15:24 this son of mine was dead and came to life again, and he was lost and was found The fattened calf, saved for the biggest celebration, would feed the village. Dead and alive, lost and found, is the language of salvation; we were dead in sins and God made us alive with Christ (Eph 2:1, 4-5). Notice they "began" to be merry. The story is not over.

15:26 he was inquiring what these things might be The older son had been working, as always. He did not go in to see but stood outside asking a servant, a stranger in his own father's house. The servant's news was simple: your brother is home and safe.

15:28 he became angry and was not willing to go in Here is the point of the chapter. The older brother is the Pharisees and scribes of verse 2, angry that Jesus welcomed sinners. The father went out to the younger son on the road, and now goes out to the older one in the yard, pleading. God is as patient with proud religious people as with wild sinners. Both need to come in.

15:29 so many years I have been serving you, and I never transgressed a commandment of yours Serving here is the word for slaving. He saw himself as a slave earning his keep, not a son enjoying his father's love, just as the Pharisees saw themselves. A young goat was worth far less than a calf, and he wanted to celebrate with his friends, not his father. He was as far from his father's heart as his brother had been, without ever leaving the farm.

15:30 this son of yours He will not say my brother. He brings up prostitutes, something no one had mentioned. Self-righteousness keeps score, remembers other people's sins in detail, and is angry when grace goes to the undeserving, forgetting that grace is never deserved.

15:31 Child, you are always with me, and all that is mine is yours The father answers gently with a word of affection. The older son never had to earn anything; it was his already, and he could have had a party any day. Many in church have served for years but never really enjoyed God as a loving Father.

15:32 this brother of yours was dead and came to life again The father gently corrects him: this is your brother. And the story ends without telling us whether he went in, left open on purpose, because the Pharisees were standing there. Which son are you? Maybe you need to come home from the far country. Maybe you have always been in the house and need to come in to the joy. The Father is pleading with you to come.

16:1 this man was accused to him as squandering his possessions A manager or steward ran his master's business, handling money, rents and deals in his name, often for a landowner who lived far away. Squandering is the word used of the younger son (15:13). Right after the prodigal comes another man who wasted what was not his.

16:2 Give the account of your management He was fired on the spot and had to turn in the books. Every one of us is a manager in this sense. Our time, money, talents and lives belong to God, and each will give an account to Him (Rom 14:12). The question is whether we will be ready when we are called in.

16:4 I know what I will do Too weak to dig and too proud to beg, he used his last hours in the job to make friends who would owe him a favor. He was thinking ahead. That is the one thing about him Jesus will point to.

16:6 Approximately 600 gallons of oil A hundred baths, roughly the oil from a large olive grove, cut in half. The next debt, a hundred kors or about six hundred bushels of wheat, was cut to eighty. Scripture does not say whether he cut his own commission, the interest, or simply cheated his master; teachers suggest all three. Jesus calls him "the manager of unrighteousness," so he was not honest either way.

he says to him, 'Take your bill and write eighty.' 8 And the master praised the manager of unrighteousness because he had acted shrewdly; because the sons of this age are more shrewd than the sons of the light in their own generation. 9 And I say to you, make friends for yourselves by the wealth of unrighteousness, so that when you fail, they may receive you into the eternal tents. 10 The one who is faithful in very little is faithful also in much; and the one who is unrighteous in very little is unrighteous also in much. 11 If therefore you have not been faithful in the unrighteous wealth, who will entrust to you the true riches? 12 And if you have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? 13 No household servant is able to serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to one and despise the other. You are not able to serve God and wealth."

The Law and the Kingdom

14 Now the Pharisees also, being lovers of money, were hearing all these things, and they were ridiculing Him. 15 And He said to them, "You are those who justify yourselves before men, but God knows your hearts; because that which is exalted among men is an abomination before God. 16 The law and the prophets were until John (Ioannes); from that time the kingdom of God is announced as good news, and everyone forces his way into it. 17 But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away than for one stroke of the law to fall. 18 Everyone who sends away his wife and marries another commits adultery; and everyone who marries her who has been sent away from a husband commits adultery.

The Rich Man and Lazarus

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and fine linen, making merry in splendor every day. 20 And there was a certain poor man named Lazarus (Lazaros), who had been laid at his gate, covered with sores, 21 and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that were falling from the table of the rich man; but even the dogs, coming,

16:8 the master praised the manager of unrighteousness because he had acted shrewdly The verse that puzzles people. The master praised not his dishonesty but his shrewdness, his sharp thinking ahead. Sons of this age live only for this world; sons of the light are God's people (Eph 5:8; 1 Thess 5:5). Worldly people often plan more carefully for their next few years than believers do for eternity. How much thought do we give to what will last forever?

16:9 make friends for yourselves by the wealth of unrighteousness Money belongs to this fallen world and so easily leads to sin. It is not evil in itself, but it is dangerous. When you fail means when you die and money can no longer help. Use it now for God's work and people in need, so there will be people in the eternal tents to welcome you. We do not buy our way into heaven, which is by grace through faith alone, but we can make an eternal difference.

16:10 The one who is faithful in very little is faithful also in much Character shows in small things. A man who cheats on small things will cheat on big ones. How do you handle the cashier's mistake, your time card, your tax return? God watches the small things, because they show who we really are.

16:11 who will entrust to you the true riches Money is the least of God's gifts. The true riches are knowing God, serving Him and eternal reward. Everything on earth is God's, only borrowed, and faithfulness with it leads to an inheritance that is ours forever (1 Pet 1:4). If we cannot be trusted with money, why would He trust us with more?

16:13 You are not able to serve God and wealth A slave could not belong to two owners demanding full loyalty. Older Bibles say mammon, from an Aramaic word for wealth. Money can become a master, telling us what to do and what to love. You can use money to serve God, but you cannot serve both. Look at where your time, thoughts and worries go, and you will know your master.

16:14 being lovers of money Ridiculing means turning up the nose, sneering. Many believed wealth showed God's approval, so they laughed at Jesus' teaching. The love of money, not money itself, is a root of all kinds of evil (1 Tim 6:10). We can be faithful in church and still be in love with money.

16:15 that which is exalted among men is an abomination before God They could fool people, but not God (1 Sam 16:7). An abomination is something God finds disgusting. What the world praises, wealth, pride, status, self-made success, God often hates, because it comes from a heart that does not need Him. Be careful what you admire and chase.

16:16 everyone forces his way into it The Law and the Prophets, the Old Testament, looked ahead to the King, and John was the last of those prophets, pointing to Jesus. Some read this phrase of people pressing eagerly into the kingdom, like the tax collectors and sinners. Others read it of people trying to seize the kingdom on their own terms, which no one can do. Either way, the kingdom calls for wholehearted response, not casual interest.

16:17 than for one stroke of the law to fall A stroke is the tiny hook that tells one Hebrew letter from another. The kingdom does not throw out God's law; every word will stand until fulfilled (Matt 5:17-18). Jesus was not loose with the Law. He was stricter than the Pharisees, because He went to its heart.

16:18 Everyone who sends away his wife and marries another commits adultery Some rabbis allowed divorce for almost any reason. Jesus says marriage is a lifelong bond. Perhaps it appears here because the Pharisees broke the Law by easy divorce as by love of money. Luke, like Mark (Mark 10:11-12), gives no exception; Matthew records one for sexual immorality (Matt 19:9), and Paul speaks of an unbelieving spouse who leaves (1 Cor 7:15). Many believe the innocent spouse may divorce and remarry after unfaithfulness or desertion; others allow separation but not remarriage while the former spouse lives; others limit Matthew's exception to betrothal or unlawful marriages. All agree God's plan is one man and one woman for life. Divorce is not the unforgivable sin; there is forgiveness and a new start in Christ.

16:19 clothed in purple and fine linen, making merry in splendor every day Purple dye from shellfish was worn by kings and the very wealthy, and fine linen made the best undergarments. He dressed like royalty and partied every day. He is not named; the tradition calling him Dives just uses the Latin for rich man. Jesus now shows the money-loving Pharisees where such a life ends.

16:21 even the dogs, coming, were licking his sores Lazarus, the only person named in any of Jesus' stories (from Eleazar, God helps; not the Lazarus of John 11), was laid there, likely unable to walk. The wealthy wiped their hands on bread and tossed it under the table, and Lazarus would have been glad for the scraps. These were wild, unclean street dogs, and they paid him more attention than the rich man did. His sin was not being rich. He lived in luxury with a dying man at his door and did nothing. He did not even see him.

were licking his sores. 22 And it came to pass that the poor man died and was carried away by the angels into the bosom of Abraham (Abraam); and the rich man also died and was buried. 23 And in Hades, having lifted up his eyes, being in torments, he sees Abraham from afar, and Lazarus in his bosom. 24 And he, having called out, said, 'Father Abraham, have mercy on me and send Lazarus, so that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am in anguish in this flame.' 25 But Abraham said, 'Child, remember that you received your good things in your lifetime, and Lazarus likewise the bad things; but now he is comforted, and you are in anguish. 26 And besides all these things, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, so that those who want to cross over from here to you may not be able, nor may those from there pass over to us.' 27 And he said, 'Then I ask you, father, that you send him to the house of my father— 28 for I have five brothers—so that he may testify thoroughly to them, lest they also come into this place of torment.' 29 Abraham says to him, 'They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them.' 30 And he said, 'No, father Abraham; but if someone goes to them from the dead, they will repent.' 31 But he said to him, 'If they do not hear Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead.'"

Stumbling Blocks, Forgiveness and Faith

1 And He said to the disciples, "It is impossible that the stumbling blocks should not come, but woe to him through whom they come! 2 It is better for him if a donkey's millstone is hung around his neck and he has been thrown into the sea, than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. 3 Take heed to yourselves. Now if your brother sins against you, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him. 4 And if he sins against you seven times in the day, and seven times in the day returns to you, saying, 'I repent,' you will forgive him." 5 And the apostles said to the Lord, "Add faith to us!" 6 And the Lord said, "If you had faith like a grain of mustard, you would say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you.

Unworthy Servants

7 Now which of you, having a slave plowing or shepherding, who will say to him when he has come in out of the field, 'Having come immediately, recline at table'? 8 But will he

16:22 was carried away by the angels into the bosom of Abraham Lazarus probably had no funeral, but angels came for him. Abraham's bosom is the place of honor beside him at a feast (John 13:23), the Jews' phrase for the rest of the righteous dead. No one is saved by being poor; Abraham was very rich. His name, God helps, may point to a man who trusted God when no one else would help. The rich man's grand funeral is all he got.
16:23 in Hades, having lifted up his eyes, being in torments Hades is the place of the dead, like Sheol. Many teachers believe that before the cross it had two parts, comfort for the righteous, Abraham's bosom or paradise (23:43), and torment for the wicked, and that at His ascension Christ brought the righteous dead to heaven (Eph 4:8-10), so believers now go straight to the Lord (2 Cor 5:8). Others read it simply: Lazarus is with God and the rich man in punishment, seen across a great distance. Scripture gives no map.
16:24 I am in anguish in this flame He still treats Lazarus as an errand boy. He calls Abraham father, but being born into God's people did not save him (3:8). He sees, speaks, remembers and feels pain. This is not sleep or being wiped out. It is real, conscious suffering.
16:25 Child, remember that you received your good things in your lifetime No cruelty in Abraham's voice, but the answer is no. Memory goes with us after death. He chose to have his good things now, living for himself, and the tables are turned (6:24).
16:26 between us and you a great chasm has been fixed Fixed means set and permanent. After death there is no second chance. Destiny is settled: no purgatory to work our way up, no crossing over. It is appointed for men to die once, and after this judgment (Heb 9:27). Now is the time to be sure.
16:29 They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them The rich man still thought something more than God's word was needed for his brothers. The Law commanded care for the poor (Deut 15:7-11), and the prophets thundered against the rich who ignored the needy (Amos 6:4-7). We have even more, the whole Bible, which is able to lead us to salvation (2 Tim 3:15).
16:31 neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead Faith comes from hearing God's word (Rom 10:17), not from signs. It came true: Jesus rose and most leaders still would not believe, and when He raised the real Lazarus, the chief priests planned to kill him too (John 12:9-11). Parable or true account? Many say parable, since it opens like 16:1; others note Lazarus and Abraham are named. Either way, Jesus teaches nothing false: we exist after death fully aware, there are two fixed destinies, and God's word is enough to warn us. Will you listen while you still have time?
17:2 than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble Stumbling blocks, things that trip people into sin, are certain in a fallen world, but woe, sorrow and judgment together, to the one who brings them. A donkey's millstone was the great upper stone turned by an animal. Drowning with one would be better than what waits for the one who trips up a little one. That may mean children, and in context new or weak believers like the tax collectors and sinners coming to Jesus (15:1-2). God takes it personally.
17:3 if your brother sins against you, rebuke him; and if he repents, forgive him Watch yourself first. Then do not ignore sin or stew in silence; going to the person is part of love (Matt 18:15). When he owns it and turns from it, we must forgive, not hold it over him or keep a record, as God treats us when we confess (1 John 1:9).
17:4 seven times in the day By the fourth time most of us would say he does not mean it. Seven is not a limit but every time (Matt 18:21-22). We forgive because we have come back to God over the same sins again and again. Forgiving does not mean trusting a person with everything at once or removing consequences. It means letting go of the debt and not taking revenge.
17:5 Add faith to us The apostles asked, not because of a hard miracle, but because of the command to forgive. They knew they could not do it on their own. When God's commands look too big, the answer is not to lower them but to ask Him for more faith.
17:6 you would say to this mulberry tree, 'Be uprooted, and be planted in the sea,' and it would obey you The size of your faith is not the main thing; the size of your God is. The mulberry was known for deep roots, and a tree in the sea is a picture of the impossible. Here one deep-rooted thing to be pulled up is bitterness toward someone who wronged us. This is not a promise to order nature for our wishes. Faith trusts God and does His will.

not say to him, 'Prepare what I may dine on, and having girded yourself, serve me until I eat and drink; and after these things you will eat and drink'? 9 Does he have thanks for that slave because he did the things commanded him? I think not. 10 So you also, when you have done all the things commanded you, say, 'We are unworthy slaves, for we have done what we were obligated to do.'"

Ten Lepers Cleansed

11 And it came to pass, in His going to Jerusalem (Hierousalem), that He was passing through the midst of Samaria (Samareia) and Galilee (Galilaia). 12 And as He was entering into a certain village, ten leprous men met Him, who stood far off. 13 And they lifted up their voice, saying, "Jesus (Iesous), Master, have mercy on us!" 14 And having seen them, He said to them, "Go, show yourselves to the priests." And it came to pass, in their going, they were cleansed. 15 And one of them, having seen that he was healed, turned back, glorifying God with a loud voice, 16 and he fell on his face at His feet, giving thanks to Him; and he was a Samaritan. 17 And answering, Jesus said, "Were not the ten cleansed? But the nine, where are they? 18 Were none found who returned to give glory to God except this foreigner?" 19 And He said to him, "Rise up and go; your faith has saved you."

The Coming of the Kingdom

20 Now having been asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God is coming, He answered them and said, "The kingdom of God does not come with careful observation; 21 nor will they say, 'Look, here!' or, 'Look, there!' For look, the kingdom of God is within you." 22 And He said to the disciples, "Days will come when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man, and you will not see it. 23 And they will say to you, 'Look, here!' or, 'Look, there!' Do not go away, nor pursue them. 24 For just as the lightning that flashes out of the one part under heaven shines to the other part under heaven, so also will the Son of Man be in His day. 25 But first He must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation. 26 And just as it came to pass in the days of Noah (Noe), so also will it be in the days of the Son of Man: 27 they were eating, they were drinking, they were marrying, they were being given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed all. 28 Likewise

17:9 Does he have thanks for that slave because he did the things commanded him A slave on a small farm might plow all day and then cook for his master. He earned no special reward by doing his job. Jesus is not teaching how masters should treat workers but using that day's customs to teach about God.

17:10 We are unworthy slaves, for we have done what we were obligated to do Perhaps the apostles thought great faith would put God in their debt. Even our best obedience does not; we owe Him everything already. This guards against pride. Yet the wonder of grace is that this same Lord will gird Himself and serve His faithful servants at His table (12:37). We do not earn it. He gives it.

17:11 He was passing through the midst of Samaria and Galilee Jesus is still on His way to Jerusalem to die (9:51), along the border between Galilee and Samaria. Samaritans descended from Israelites who mixed with foreign peoples after Assyria conquered the north (2 Kgs 17:24-41) and worshiped on their own mountain (John 4:20). Both peoples might be found on a border road.

17:12 ten leprous men met Him, who stood far off Leprosy covered serious skin diseases. The Law said a leper was unclean, lived outside the camp, cried out "Unclean," and kept away (Lev 13:45-46). They called Jesus Master and asked not for money but for mercy, the right prayer for every sinner. Sickness had broken down the wall between Jew and Samaritan. These men were together because no one else would have them.

17:14 in their going, they were cleansed A priest examined a healed leper and declared him clean (Lev 14:1-32). Jesus sent them while their skin was still sick. They took Him at His word, and on the way they were healed. Sometimes God asks us to step out in obedience before we see the answer.

17:16 and he was a Samaritan The loud voice that cried for mercy now shouted praise, and he came close, as he now could, and bowed at Jesus' feet. The one the Jews looked down on was the only one who came back. The outsider often sees what the insider misses (10:33).

17:17 But the nine, where are they You can hear the sorrow in the three questions. Maybe the nine were eager to see the priests and meant to come back later; Scripture does not say. A foreigner gave God glory. How often are we like the nine, praying hard in trouble and forgetting to thank Him? A heart turning from God does not give thanks (Rom 1:21).

17:19 your faith has saved you All ten were cleansed in body. To this one Jesus said more. Saved can mean made well, and it means rescued, the words spoken to the forgiven woman (7:50). Many believe he received a right relationship with God. The nine got a gift. The one got the Giver.

17:20 The kingdom of God does not come with careful observation Like most Jews, the Pharisees expected a Messiah who would defeat Rome and rule from Jerusalem, so they asked when. Careful observation means watching for signs to chart, like watching the sky to set a calendar. The kingdom would not come the way they expected.

17:21 the kingdom of God is within you The Greek entos can mean within or among. Some take it as printed: God's rule begins in the heart that submits to the King. Others note He was speaking to Pharisees who rejected Him and read it as in your midst: the King was standing before them doing the kingdom's works (11:20). Either way, they scanned the horizon and missed the King. You can study prophecy charts and never bow to Jesus. This does not mean the kingdom will never come on earth; the next verses speak of a day still to come.

17:22 you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man Son of Man, from Daniel 7:13-14, was Jesus' favorite title. He was with them now but going away, and hard days would come when they longed to have Him back even for a day. That is the cry of every suffering believer.

17:23 Do not go away, nor pursue them People who long for something badly are easy to fool. False teachers will say Christ has appeared in some secret place. Through history many have claimed it. Jesus warned us ahead of time not to chase them.

17:24 just as the lightning that flashes out of the one part under heaven Lightning does not happen in a back room. When Jesus returns to the earth in glory, no one will need to be told. It will be sudden, visible and impossible to miss.

17:25 But first He must suffer many things Before the glory comes the cross (9:22). He was not going to Jerusalem to set up His kingdom in glory but to suffer and die. "Must": the cross was God's plan. There is no crown without the cross, for Him or His people.

17:27 until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came and destroyed all Eating, drinking and marrying are not wrong. People lived as if that was all there was, though Noah warned them (2 Pet 2:5). Jesus treats the flood as real history, and so should we. The world before His coming will be the same: busy, comfortable and careless about God.

also, as it came to pass in the days of Lot: they were eating, they were drinking, they were buying, they were selling, they were planting, they were building; 29 but on the day that Lot went out from Sodom (Sodoma), it rained fire and sulfur from heaven and destroyed all. 30 According to these things it will be in the day the Son of Man is revealed. 31 In that day, the one who will be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not come down to take them away; and the one in the field likewise, let him not turn back to the things behind. 32 Remember the wife of Lot. 33 Whoever seeks to save his life will lose it, and whoever loses it will preserve it alive. 34 I say to you, in this night there will be two men on one bed: the one will be taken, and the other will be left. 35 Two women will be grinding at the same place: the one will be taken, and the other will be left. 36 Two men will be in the field: the one will be taken, and the other will be left." 37 And answering, they say to Him, "Where, Lord?" And He said to them, "Where the body is, there the vultures will be gathered together."

The Persistent Widow

1 And He was also speaking a parable to them about its being necessary always to pray and not to lose heart, 2 saying, "There was a certain judge in a certain city, not fearing God and not respecting man. 3 Now there was a widow in that city, and she was coming to him, saying, 'Avenge me of my adversary.' 4 And he was not willing for a time; but after these things he said within himself, 'Even if I do not fear God and do not respect man, 5 yet because this widow causes me trouble, I will avenge her, so that she may not wear me out by continually coming.'" 6 And the Lord said, "Hear what the judge of unrighteousness says. 7 And will God by no means execute the avenging of His elect, those crying out to Him day and night, and being patient toward them? 8 I say to you that He will execute the avenging of them with speed. Nevertheless, the Son of Man, having come, will He find the faith on the earth?"

The Pharisee and the Tax Collector

9 And He also spoke this parable to some who had trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and were despising the 17:29 it rained fire and sulfur from heaven and destroyed all In Sodom (Gen 18 to 19) business was good and building was booming. Sulfur, or brimstone, burns with great heat. The fire fell the very day Lot left. God waited until His man was out.

17:30 in the day the Son of Man is revealed Revealed means unveiled to all. In both examples God's people were removed or kept safe, and then judgment came suddenly. I believe Christ will come for His church before the seven-year Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17; John 14:1-3), and at its end return to the earth in power to judge and reign (Rev 19:11-16). The day described here, visible like lightning, is that return to the earth. But the warning fits every age. God's patience is real, and it has an end.
17:31 the one who will be on the housetop Flat roofs were reached by an outside stair. Do not go in for your things. Matthew uses these words of fleeing when the abomination of desolation is set up (Matt 24:15-18). Here the point is the heart. When the Lord comes, possessions will not matter, and a heart tied to stuff will want to turn back.
17:32 Remember the wife of Lot One of the shortest and most serious verses in the Bible. Led out by an angel's hand and told not to look back, she looked and became a pillar of salt (Gen 19:16, 26). She was out of Sodom, but Sodom was not out of her. You can be very close to rescue and still be lost because you love the world more than God.
17:33 whoever loses it will preserve it alive Clinging to comfort, things and our own way loses everything in the end (9:24). Lot's wife held on to her old life and lost it. What are you holding on to?
17:34 the one will be taken, and the other will be left Night in one place and morning grinding in another: His coming will be worldwide and at one moment. Many read this as the rapture, and some pre-tribulation teachers do. But in Noah's and Lot's days those taken were destroyed, and those left lived on, and in verse 37 the answer to where is vultures over a body. Two can share a bed or work and one be ready and the other not. So I believe this is the Second Coming at the end of the Tribulation: those taken go to judgment, and those left enter Christ's kingdom on earth.
17:36 Two men will be in the field: the one will be taken, and the other will be left The same lesson as the two before. This verse follows the Received Greek Text; most older Greek copies of Luke do not have it here. The same words are in Matthew 24:40, so we know Jesus said them, and no teaching rests on this verse alone.
17:37 Where the body is, there the vultures will be gathered together Vultures circling show what lies below. The answer is grim on purpose: those taken are taken to death and judgment. Revelation pictures the birds gathered to the flesh of the armies that fight Christ at His return (Rev 19:17-21). No one will hide from it. The only safe place is in Christ, before that day comes.
18:1 always to pray and not to lose heart Luke gives the point before the parable, which helps us read it rightly. To lose heart is to grow tired and quit when the answer is slow. Always does not mean words every minute but a constant habit of life (1 Thess 5:17). Coming right after Jesus' words on His coming (17:22-37), it shows that prayer keeps us from giving up while we wait.
18:3 Avenge me of my adversary The judge was moved neither by conscience nor shame, though Israel's judges were to fear God (Deut 16:18-20). A widow had almost no power, no husband to speak for her and often no money for a bribe, and God repeatedly shows His care for widows and anger at those who use them (Exod 22:22-24; Ps 68:5). Her adversary was likely an opponent in a legal matter, perhaps after her land or little money. She asked for justice.
18:5 so that she may not wear me out by continually coming The phrase comes from a word for hitting under the eye, giving a black eye. The judge is half joking but worn down. He acts not from kindness but to be rid of her.
18:7 will God by no means execute the avenging of His elect God is not like the judge; He is his opposite. If a wicked judge finally gives a stranger justice, how much more will God do right for His chosen ones, who may come to Him day and night. Being patient toward them may mean He is patient with them as they wait, or that He seems slow. His delay is never because He does not care.
18:8 will He find the faith on the earth When God's time comes He acts quickly. He will set all things right, and His people's prayers for justice will be fully answered when Christ returns to judge (Rev 6:9-11; 19:1-2). Then the searching question: will He find this persistent, trusting faith when He comes? Are we praying and holding on, or have we lost heart?
18:9 some who had trusted in themselves that they were righteous Again the point comes first. This is for people who think they meet God's standard on their own and look down on everyone else. You cannot trust in yourself and in God's mercy at the same time.

18:10 the one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector People went up to the temple on its hill, and there were set times of prayer each day. The Pharisee was the model of strict religion; the tax collector worked for Rome and was seen as a traitor and thief. Everyone listening expected the Pharisee to be the hero.

18:11 God, I thank You that I am not like the rest of men Standing was a normal posture for prayer, but he prayed "to himself," about himself, no higher than the ceiling. He asks for nothing and confesses nothing. He compares himself with the worst people he can think of and points at the tax collector. God does not grade on a curve. The standard is His holiness, not the person next to us.

18:12 I fast twice in the week; I tithe all things The Law required one fast a year, on the Day of Atonement (Lev 16:29-31); strict Pharisees fasted Mondays and Thursdays. He tithed even small things. These were good things, but he used them as his ticket to God, showing his good works like a bank balance. He went far beyond the Law and still did not know he needed mercy.

18:13 God, be propitious to me, the sinner He stood far off, would not look up, and beat his chest in grief over sin. Propitious means merciful because the wrath against sin has been satisfied, tied to the sacrifice whose blood was sprinkled on the mercy seat on the Day of Atonement (Lev 16:14-15). "The sinner": he thought only of his own sin. Today we know the answer. Jesus is the propitiation, the sacrifice that turns away God's wrath for all who trust Him (Rom 3:25; 1 John 2:2).

18:14 this one went down to his house justified rather than that one Justified is declared righteous by God, not for what we have done but because He forgives. This is the heart of the gospel. The man who brought nothing but his sin went home right with God; the one with a long list did not (Rom 3:28; Eph 2:8-9). Pride keeps us from God, and humility is the door (14:11). Most of us have a little Pharisee in us. Come with nothing but a cry for mercy.

18:15 the disciples rebuked them Parents commonly asked a respected teacher to lay hands on their children and pray. The disciples thought Jesus too busy and important for babies. The Pharisee looked down on the tax collector; now the disciples look down on children. Pride shows up in many ways.

18:16 Permit the little children to come to Me Jesus was indignant with the disciples (Mark 10:14) and called the children to Him. In a world where children had little value, He had time for them. No one is too small to come. Children are not sinless, but they are dependent. They cannot earn anything and do not try; they simply receive.

18:17 whoever does not receive the kingdom of God as a little child A child receives a gift with open hands and does not try to pay for it. The Pharisee came as a successful adult with achievements; the tax collector came empty-handed like a child. That is the only way in. Children matter to Jesus, and teaching them about Him is one of the most important things we can do (2 Tim 3:15).

18:18 Good Teacher, having done what will I inherit eternal life Matthew says he was young (Matt 19:20); Luke says a ruler, likely a synagogue leader or council member. Eternal life is life with God that never ends and begins now for those who know Him (John 17:3). "Having done what": he wanted to know what was left on his list.

18:19 Why do you call Me good? No one is good except One, God Jesus is not denying He is good or God. If only God is truly good and you call Me good, do you know who you are talking to? It also corrects the man's idea of goodness. If only God is good, no man is good enough to earn eternal life.

18:21 All these I have kept from my youth Jesus listed the commandments about others (Exod 20:12-16), and the man meant it; he had lived a respectable life. But Jesus left out coveting (Exod 20:17) and having no other gods. He was about to show him where his heart was.

18:22 Yet one thing is lacking to you Not everyone must sell everything; Zacchaeus gave half and salvation came to his house (19:8-9). Jesus put His finger on what ruled this man's heart. Money was his god. The heart of the call is "come, follow Me." Eternal life is found not in doing more but in following Jesus. What are you holding on to?

18:23 he became very sorrowful, for he was extremely rich Sad, but unchanged. Jesus looked at him and loved him (Mark 10:21). One of the saddest scenes in the Gospels: he ran to the right Person with the right question and left without eternal life because he loved his money more.

18:25 easier for a camel to enter through the eye of a needle The largest animal and the smallest opening: a picture of the impossible on purpose. The story of a small Jerusalem gate called the Needle's Eye has no good evidence and misses the point. It cannot be done by human effort. Riches make people feel safe and in control, as if they do not need God (1 Tim 6:17).

Jesus Foretells His Death Again

31 And having taken the twelve aside, He said to them, "Look, we are going up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), and all the things written through the prophets about the Son of Man will be accomplished. 32 For He will be delivered up to the Gentiles, and will be mocked, and will be insulted, and will be spit upon, 33 and having flogged Him, they will kill Him; and on the third day He will rise again." 34 And they understood none of these things, and this declaration was hidden from them, and they were not knowing the things being said.

A Blind Beggar Receives Sight

35 And it came to pass, in His drawing near to Jericho (Hiericho), a certain blind man was sitting beside the road, begging. 36 And having heard a crowd passing through, he was inquiring what this might be. 37 And they told him that Jesus the Nazarene is passing by. 38 And he called out, saying, "Jesus, Son of David (Dabid), have mercy on me!" 39 And those going before were rebuking him, that he should be silent; but he was crying out much more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!" 40 And having stopped, Jesus commanded him to be brought to Him; and when he had drawn near, He asked him, 41 saying, "What do you want Me to do for you?" And he said, "Lord, that I may receive sight." 42 And Jesus said to him, "Receive sight; your faith has saved you." 43 And immediately he received sight, and was following Him, glorifying God. And all the people, having seen it, gave praise to God.

18:27 The things impossible with men are possible with God Many saw wealth as God's blessing, so the hearers were stunned. No one can save himself, rich or poor. But God can open a rich man's hand and a proud man's eyes, and in the next chapter a rich tax collector is saved (19:1-10). What God commands, He makes possible by grace.
18:28 we have left all and followed You Unlike the ruler, they had left boats, nets and a tax booth (5:11, 28). Peter was really asking, what will we get?
18:30 many times more in this time, and in the age that is coming, eternal life Jesus does not scold Peter. No sacrifice for Him is wasted. Many times more is not more money but a new family, brothers, sisters and mothers in the faith all over the world (Mark 10:30), as many missionaries can testify. The age to come follows Christ's return. What we give up is small next to what He gives.
18:31 all the things written through the prophets about the Son of Man will be accomplished The third plain prediction of His death (9:22, 44), told privately. Psalm 22, Isaiah 53, Daniel 9:26 and Zechariah 12:10 spoke of the Messiah's suffering. The cross was not a surprise to God but the plan written long before.
18:33 having flogged Him, they will kill Him; and on the third day He will rise again Handed to the Gentiles, the Romans under Pilate. A Roman scourge had leather straps with bone or metal tied in, and some men died from it. Every detail happened as He said (22:63-65; 23:11, 36; John 19:1). He never spoke of His death without His resurrection.
18:34 they understood none of these things Luke says it three ways. They still expected the Messiah to defeat Rome at once, and a dying Messiah did not fit. Only after the resurrection did their eyes open (24:25-27, 45). Sometimes our own ideas about God keep us from hearing what He plainly says.
18:35 a certain blind man was sitting beside the road, begging Jericho lay about fifteen miles northeast of Jerusalem in the Jordan Valley, on the pilgrims' route from Galilee. Mark names him Bartimaeus and says Jesus was leaving Jericho (Mark 10:46); Matthew mentions two men (Matt 20:29-30). There were two Jerichos, the old city and Herod's newer one nearby, so Jesus could be leaving one and approaching the other, and Mark and Luke focus on the better-known man. They do not contradict each other.
18:38 Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me Jesus would never pass through Jericho again. The crowd said the Nazarene, from Nazareth; the blind man named the Messiah, the son promised David's throne forever (2 Sam 7:12-16; Isa 9:6-7). A blind beggar saw what the twelve struggled to see. Like the tax collector and the lepers, he asked for mercy.
18:39 he was crying out much more Those in front told him not to make a scene. He would not be stopped. Like the widow (18:1-8), he knew what he needed and who could give it.
18:41 What do you want Me to do for you The crowd wanted him quiet; Jesus stopped everything for one blind beggar. He knew, but asked him to say it. God wants us to bring our needs plainly. He called Him Lord and had no doubt He could do it.
18:42 Receive sight; your faith has saved you The words spoken to the Samaritan leper (17:19) and the woman who touched His garment (8:48). Faith did not heal by its own power; it reached out to Jesus, and Jesus healed. Isaiah foretold the blind seeing when Messiah came (Isa 35:5), and the Son of David proved who He was.
18:43 was following Him, glorifying God The first face he saw was Jesus', and the first thing he did was follow Him to Jerusalem. The rich ruler had everything and went away sad. The beggar had nothing and followed, praising God. When God changes one life, others praise Him too.
19:2 he was a chief tax collector, and this one was rich Jericho was a rich city of palms and balsam groves on a major trade road, a good place to collect taxes. Zacchaeus means pure or righteous, not how anyone described him. Rome sold the right to collect taxes, collectors added their own fees, and a chief collector took a cut from the men under him. He was rich from cheating his own people, who saw him as a traitor.
19:3 he was seeking to see Jesus, who He is Perhaps he had heard Jesus ate with tax collectors (5:29-30; 15:1-2) or about Levi leaving his booth (5:27-28). Scripture does not tell us all that was in his heart. He was short, and no one was going to make room for Zacchaeus.

was small in stature. 4 And having run ahead in front, he went up into a sycamore-fig tree so that he might see Him, for He was about to pass through by that way. 5 And as He came to the place, Jesus, having looked up, saw him and said to him, "Zacchaeus, having hurried, come down; for today I must stay in your house." 6 And having hurried, he came down and received Him, rejoicing. 7 And having seen it, all were grumbling, saying, "He has gone in to lodge with a sinful man." 8 And Zacchaeus, having stood, said to the Lord, "Look, Lord, the half of my possessions I give to the poor; and if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore fourfold." 9 And Jesus said to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abraham (Abraam); 10 for the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which has been lost."

The Parable of the Minas

11 Now while they were hearing these things, having added, He spoke a parable, because of His being near Jerusalem (Hierousalem), and because they were thinking that the kingdom of God was about to appear immediately.
12 Therefore He said, "A certain man of noble birth went to a distant country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return. 13 And having called ten of his own slaves, he gave them approximately 12.5 pounds (ten minas) and said to them, 'Do business until I come.' 14 But his citizens were hating him, and sent a delegation after him, saying, 'We do not want this man to reign over us.' 15 And it came to pass, in his returning, having received the kingdom, that he said for these slaves to whom he gave the money to be called to him, so that he might know who had gained what by doing business. 16 And the first came up, saying, 'Master, your mina has gained ten minas more.' 17 And he said to him, 'Well done, good slave! Because you were faithful in a very little, be one having authority over ten cities.' 18 And the second came, saying, 'Master, your mina has made five minas.' 19 And he said also to this one, 'And you, be over five cities.' 20 And another came, saying, 'Master, look, your mina, which I was keeping laid away in a cloth; 21 for I was afraid of you, because you are a harsh man: you take up what you did not lay down, and you reap what you did not sow.' 22 And he says to him, 'Out of your mouth I will judge you, evil slave. You knew that I am a harsh man, taking up what I

19:4 he went up into a sycamore-fig tree A sturdy tree with low, wide branches. Grown men of rank did not run or climb trees in public. Zacchaeus did not care what anyone thought. He went to where Jesus would be.
19:5 today I must stay in your house Zacchaeus was looking for Jesus, but Jesus was looking for Zacchaeus. He stopped under that tree and called him by name; no one had to tell Him. "I must": it was His Father's plan. Of all the people in Jericho, He chose to stay with the most hated man in town.
19:6 received Him, rejoicing No waiting and no excuses. Luke loves to show joy when the lost are found (15:7, 10, 32).
19:7 He has gone in to lodge with a sinful man The cheering crowd now complained, as the Pharisees had (15:2). Staying in a man's home meant accepting him. The crowd saw a sinner; Jesus saw a man He came to save. Are we more like Jesus or that crowd when we see people far from God?
19:8 if I have defrauded anyone of anything, I restore fourfold No one told him to say this, and Jesus gave him no rules first. He had met Jesus, and his heart was changed. The Law required restoring fraud plus a fifth (Lev 6:1-5; Num 5:6-7); fourfold was the penalty for stealing a sheep (Exod 22:1). He treated his cheating like the worst theft. Unlike the rich ruler, he opened his hands (18:27). He did this not to be saved but because Jesus had come to him. When Jesus comes into a house, the money changes too.
19:9 Today salvation has come to this house, because he also is a son of Abraham Today: salvation came the day he received Jesus. A Jew by birth whom the crowd had written off, he was a true son of Abraham by faith, for the children of Abraham are those who believe (Gal 3:7). The man everyone threw away belonged to God's family.
19:10 for the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which has been lost The key verse of Luke's Gospel, telling why Jesus came. He seeks, like the shepherd and the woman with the lamp (15:4-10), and stopped under a tree for one man. He saves, rescuing the lost by giving His life on the cross days later. Every one of us is lost until Christ finds us (Rom 3:23). No one is too lost for Jesus. If He could save Zacchaeus, He can save you.
19:11 they were thinking that the kingdom of God was about to appear immediately Jerusalem was about fifteen miles away, and the crowds and disciples expected Jesus to take David's throne there at once. This parable corrects that. The kingdom would come, but first the King would go away, and later return.
19:12 A certain man of noble birth went to a distant country to receive for himself a kingdom and to return A would-be ruler had to receive his kingdom from the emperor in Rome. After Herod the Great died, his son Archelaus did just that, and Jews sent a delegation after him to protest; Josephus tells of it, and Archelaus had a palace in Jericho. The nobleman is Jesus, the distant country heaven. He went to the Father and will come back to reign (Acts 1:9-11; Dan 7:13-14).
19:13 Do business until I come A mina was about a hundred days' wages, a fair sum but not a fortune, and each got one. While our Lord is away we are to put the gospel, our time, gifts and lives to work, not sit and wait. Unlike the talents in Matthew 25:14-30, where the amounts differ, here each gets the same and the faithful earn different results.
19:14 We do not want this man to reign over us A picture of the nation's leaders rejecting Jesus; days later they would claim no king but Caesar (John 19:15). It also pictures everyone who will not let Jesus rule his life. Many are glad to have Jesus as a helper. Far fewer want Him as King.
19:15 in his returning, having received the kingdom The King's return is certain, and He will call His servants to account. Every believer will give account at the judgment seat of Christ (2 Cor 5:10). That is not about whether we are saved, which was settled at the cross, but about rewards for faithful service.
19:17 Because you were faithful in a very little, be one having authority over ten cities "Your mina": he knew it was not his; he was managing it. The master calls a mina a very little. What we have now is small next to what He will give, and the reward for faithfulness is more responsibility. His faithful servants will reign with Him (2 Tim 2:12; Rev 20:4-6).
19:19 be over five cities The second slave is not scolded but rewarded in proportion. Reward in the kingdom is real, and not the same for everyone, but every faithful servant is rewarded.
19:21 for I was afraid of you, because you are a harsh man He wrapped the mina in a cloth and did nothing, then blamed the master. His words showed he did not know or love his master.

did not lay down and reaping what I did not sow. 23 And why did you not give my money to the bank, and I, having come, would have collected it with interest?' 24 And he said to those standing by, 'Take the mina from him and give it to the one having the ten minas.' 25 And they said to him, 'Master, he has ten minas!' 26 'For I say to you that to everyone who has, more will be given; but from the one who does not have, even what he has will be taken away from him. 27 But those enemies of mine, who did not want me to reign over them, bring them here and slay them before me.'"

The King Enters Jerusalem

28 And having said these things, He was going on ahead, going up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma). 29 And it came to pass, as He drew near to Bethphage and Bethany (Bethania), toward the mount that is called the Mount of Olives, He sent two of His disciples, 30 saying, "Go into the village opposite, in which, entering, you will find a colt tied, on which no one of men has ever yet sat; having untied it, bring it. 31 And if anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' thus you will say to him, 'Because the Lord has need of it.'" 32 And having departed, those who had been sent found it just as He had said to them. 33 And as they were untying the colt, its masters said to them, "Why are you untying the colt?" 34 And they said, "The Lord has need of it." 35 And they led it to Jesus, and having cast their own garments on the colt, they put Jesus on it. 36 And as He was going, they were spreading their garments on the road. 37 And as He was drawing near, already at the descent of the Mount of Olives, all the multitude of the disciples began, rejoicing, to praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen, 38 saying, "Blessed is the King coming in the name of the Lord! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!" 39 And some of the Pharisees from the crowd said to Him, "Teacher, rebuke Your disciples." 40 And answering, He said to them, "I say to you that if these should be silent, the stones will cry out."

Jesus Weeps over the City

41 And as He drew near, having seen the city, He wept over it, 42 saying, "If you had known, even you, indeed in this your day, the things for your peace! But now they were hidden from your eyes. 43 For days will come upon you, and your enemies will cast up a barricade around you, and will surround you, and will hem you in on every side, 44 and will level you to the ground, and your children within you; and 19:23 why did you not give my money to the bank The master takes him at his word: if you thought me harsh, you should have worked harder. Even the least effort would have earned interest. He was faithful in nothing. The problem was not ability but lack of love and trust. Many teachers believe he pictures someone who claims the King but never truly knew Him; others see a believer who loses reward.

19:26 to everyone who has, more will be given The bystanders thought it unfair to give more to the one with ten. But this is a law of the kingdom. The one who uses what God gives receives more; the one who will not use it loses even that, true of gifts, opportunities and the truth we hear (8:18). Use it or lose it.

19:27 those enemies of mine, who did not want me to reign over them When Christ returns to reign, those who refused Him will face His judgment (2 Thess 1:7-9; Rev 19:15). He is the Savior who seeks the lost and the King who will judge His enemies. The kingdom was not appearing immediately. The King would go, His servants work, and He return to reward and judge. We live in that time of waiting now.

19:28 He was going on ahead, going up to Jerusalem Jesus led the way while the disciples followed amazed and afraid (Mark 10:32). The road climbs about 3,300 feet in some fifteen miles of dry, rocky hills. He knew what waited at the top.

19:30 you will find a colt tied, on which no one of men has ever yet sat Bethany, home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus, lay about two miles east of the city, with Bethphage nearby; the Mount of Olives is the ridge across the Kidron Valley from the temple. The colt was a donkey's (Matt 21:2-5). An animal never used was fit for a holy purpose (Num 19:2; 1 Sam 6:7).

19:31 Because the Lord has need of it Jesus knew where the colt was and what would be said. He was not swept along by events; He planned every detail.

19:34 The Lord has need of it Everything happened as He said, and that answer was enough. Perhaps the owners knew Him. When the Lord needs something we have, the right answer is to let it go.

19:35 they put Jesus on it Cloaks made a saddle, and cloaks spread on the road welcomed a king (2 Kgs 9:13). Zechariah foretold the King coming humble on a donkey's colt (Zech 9:9). Kings rode horses to war; a king coming in peace might ride a donkey. Jesus declared Himself the promised King, coming in humility and peace.

19:37 at the descent of the Mount of Olives From the top the whole city comes into view, the temple shining in the sun, and the crowd of disciples burst into praise for the mighty works they had seen.

19:38 Blessed is the King coming in the name of the Lord From Psalm 118:26, sung at the feasts; Luke includes the word King. They openly called Jesus the Messiah, and their words echo the angels' song at His birth (2:14). He had often told people to keep quiet about who He was. Now He let them shout it.

19:40 if these should be silent, the stones will cry out The Pharisees may have feared Rome would see rebellion, or simply did not believe. The praise was right because it was true. If people kept silent, creation itself would shout it.

19:41 having seen the city, He wept over it The crowd cheered; Jesus sobbed, a stronger word than at Lazarus' tomb (John 11:35). He knew the city would reject Him in days and be destroyed in about forty years. He takes no pleasure in judgment, nor does God in the death of the wicked (Ezek 33:11). His tears show God's heart toward those who turn Him away.

19:42 the things for your peace Jerusalem's name has often been tied to shalom. Peace rode into the city on a colt, and they did not recognize Him. Having rejected Him again and again, their eyes were closed (John 12:37-40). A person or nation that keeps refusing God's truth can come to where it no longer sees it.

19:43 your enemies will cast up a barricade around you A siege wall of earth and stakes so no one could get in or out.

19:44 they will not leave a stone upon a stone in you Exactly what happened in A.D. 70. Titus' army walled in and starved Jerusalem, killed many thousands, burned the temple and tore down much of the city, as Josephus, who was there with the Romans, recorded. A visitation is God coming near, to bless or judge. He walked their streets in His Son, and they did not know Him (John 1:11). God is not finished with Israel; their hardening is partial until the fullness of the Gentiles, and then all Israel will be saved (Rom 11:25-26). Is God visiting you now? Do not let the time pass.

they will not leave a stone upon a stone in you, because you did not know the time of your visitation."

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

45 And having entered into the temple, He began to cast out those selling in it and buying, 46 saying to them, "It has been written, 'My house is a house of prayer,' but you have made it a den of robbers." 47 And He was teaching daily in the temple; but the chief priests and the scribes were seeking to destroy Him, and the foremost of the people, 48 and they were not finding what they might do, for all the people were hanging on Him, listening.

LUKE 20

The Authority of Jesus Questioned

1 And it came to pass on one of those days, as He was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes with the elders came up, 2 and they spoke to Him, saying, "Tell us, by what authority do You do these things? Or who is the one who gave You this authority?" 3 And answering, He said to them, "I also will ask you one thing, and tell Me: 4 The baptism of John (Ioannes), was it from heaven or from men?" 5 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, "If we say, 'From heaven,' He will say, 'Why then did you not believe him?' 6 But if we say, 'From men,' all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John is a prophet." 7 And they answered that they did not know from where it was. 8 And Jesus (Iesous) said to them, "Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things."

The Wicked Farmers

9 And He began to speak this parable to the people: "A certain man planted a vineyard, and leased it to farmers, and went abroad for a long time. 10 And in season he sent a slave to the farmers, that they should give him from the fruit of the vineyard; but the farmers, having beaten him, sent him away empty. 11 And he proceeded to send another slave; but they, having beaten that one also and having dishonored him, sent him away empty. 12 And he proceeded to send a third; and they, having wounded this one also, cast him out. 13 And the master of the vineyard said, 'What shall I do? I will send my son, the beloved; perhaps having seen him, they will respect him.' 14 But having seen him, the farmers were reasoning among themselves, saying, 'This is the heir; come, let us kill him, so that the inheritance may become ours.' 15 And having cast him out outside the vineyard, they killed him. What therefore will the master of the vineyard do to 19:46 My house is a house of prayer, but you have made it a den of robbers In the Court of the Gentiles merchants sold sacrifices and changed money for the temple tax, turning the one place Gentiles could pray into a crooked market. Jesus joins Isaiah 56:7 and Jeremiah 7:11. A den is a robbers' hideout: they cheated people and hid behind religion. John tells of a cleansing at the start of His ministry (John 2:13-17), and most teachers believe there were two. What would He find in our churches, or in our bodies, His temple (1 Cor 6:19)?

19:47 the chief priests and the scribes were seeking to destroy Him Jesus taught openly in the temple courts every day that week. The chief priests came largely from the high priest's families, and the scribes taught the Law. With the city's leading men, they wanted Him dead.

19:48 all the people were hanging on Him, listening Hanging on every word like a rope. The leaders feared the people and could not arrest Him in the open. In chapter 22 they would find another way in Judas.

20:1 the chief priests and the scribes with the elders came up The last week before the cross, the day after He drove the sellers out (19:45-46). Together these groups made up the Sanhedrin, the ruling council: chief priests who led the temple, scribes expert in the Law, and elders, the nation's leading men. This was an official challenge.

20:2 by what authority do You do these things Clearing the temple, teaching, healing and letting crowds call Him King. He had no license from them and had not trained under their rabbis. In their eyes He had no right to any of it.

20:4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men Not a dodge but the answer, if they were honest. From heaven meant from God. John had pointed to Jesus as the One coming after him (3:16). If John's ministry came from God, his witness about Jesus was true, and they had their answer.

20:6 all the people will stone us, for they are persuaded that John is a prophet They did not ask what was true but what was safe to say. They had not believed John or repented (7:30), and the people still honored him. They were trapped between the truth they would not accept and the crowd they feared.

20:7 they answered that they did not know from where it was The men whose job was to judge true and false prophets said they did not know. It was not honest. It is possible to say I don't know when the real problem is I won't.

20:8 Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things Jesus would not play their game. Those who refuse the light they have will not be given more.

20:9 A certain man planted a vineyard, and leased it to farmers Listeners would think of Isaiah 5:1-7, where Israel is God's vineyard that gave only wild grapes. The owner is God, the vineyard Israel, the farmers the leaders who should tend it. Renting land to tenants who paid with part of the harvest was common.

20:10 the farmers, having beaten him, sent him away empty At harvest the owner sent a servant for his share, then another, then a third. The slaves stand for the prophets God sent again and again, many mocked, beaten, imprisoned or killed (2 Chr 36:15-16; Neh 9:26; Heb 11:36-38). Jeremiah was thrown into a pit; Zechariah was stoned in the temple court. God was patient.

20:13 I will send my son, the beloved Nearly the Father's words from heaven at Jesus' baptism (3:22). Jesus is telling the leaders who He is: not one more servant but the owner's Son. After all they had done, the owner still sent the one he loved most. That is the love of God (John 3:16).

20:14 This is the heir; come, let us kill him The heir receives the property. They killed him not by mistake but because of who he was. That was the leaders' plan already (19:47). Jesus' claims threatened their power, and they wanted to keep the nation for themselves.

20:15 having cast him out outside the vineyard, they killed him Jesus was crucified outside Jerusalem's walls (John 19:17; Heb 13:12). He describes His own death days before it happened.

them? 16 He will come and destroy these farmers, and will give the vineyard to others." And having heard it, they said, "May it not be!" 17 But having looked at them, He said, "What then is this that is written: 'The stone which the builders rejected, this has become the head of the corner'? 18 Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces; but on whomever it falls, it will crush him to powder." 19 And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay their hands on Him in that hour, and they feared the people; for they perceived that He had spoken this parable against them.

Tribute to Caesar

20 And having watched Him, they sent spies, pretending themselves to be righteous, that they might take hold of His word, so as to deliver Him to the rule and to the authority of the governor. 21 And they questioned Him, saying, "Teacher, we know that You speak and teach rightly, and You do not show partiality, but You teach the way of God in truth. 22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not?" 23 But having perceived their craftiness, He said to them, "Why are you testing Me? 24 Show Me a denarius. Whose image and inscription does it have?" And answering, they said, "Caesar's." 25 And He said to them, "Then give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God." 26 And they were not able to take hold of His declaration before the people; and having marveled at His answer, they became silent.

The Sadducees and the Resurrection

27 And some of the Sadducees, those who deny that there is a resurrection, having approached, questioned Him, 28 saying, "Teacher, Moses wrote to us that if anyone's brother dies having a wife, and he dies childless, his brother should take the wife and raise up seed for his brother. 29 Therefore there were seven brothers; and the first, having taken a wife, died childless. 30 And the second took the wife, and this one died childless. 31 And the third took her, and likewise also the seven; and they did not leave children, and they died. 32 And last of all the woman also died. 33 Therefore in the resurrection, of which of them does she become wife? For the seven had her as wife." 34 And answering, Jesus said to them, "The sons of this age marry and are given in marriage; 35 but those who have been considered worthy to obtain that age and the resurrection from the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage; 36 for neither are they able to die any more, for they are like angels, and they are sons of God, 20:16 He will come and destroy these farmers, and will give the vineyard to others The leaders who killed the Son would be judged, as in A.D. 70 when Jerusalem and the temple fell and the priestly rulers lost their place. The people were horrified. The judgment falls on the wicked tenants, not on the vineyard. God gave the care of His work to the apostles, who were Jews, and the church grown from their preaching. This does not mean the church has replaced Israel. God has not rejected His people (Rom 11:2), and all Israel will be saved (Rom 11:26).

20:17 The stone which the builders rejected, this has become the head of the corner Jesus looked them in the eye and quoted Psalm 118:22, the psalm the crowd had sung (19:38). The builders, Israel's leaders, said this stone did not fit and threw Him away. God made Him the head of the corner, the main stone that holds the building together and sets every line straight. Peter preached this verse to the Sanhedrin (Acts 4:11).

20:18 Everyone who falls on that stone will be broken to pieces Two ways to meet this stone. To fall on it is stumbling over Christ and being broken (Isa 8:14-15); some take it as coming to Him broken in repentance. To have it fall on you is final judgment, like the stone cut without hands that crushes the world's kingdoms and fills the earth (Dan 2:34-35, 44-45), Christ at His return. No one stays neutral. We are broken before Him now or crushed by Him later.

20:19 they perceived that He had spoken this parable against them They knew they were the farmers. Instead of repenting they wanted to seize Him on the spot, just as the farmers did. Only fear of the crowd held them back.

20:20 they sent spies, pretending themselves to be righteous They acted like honest men with a sincere question. If Jesus said something against Rome, Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, would deal with Him.

20:21 You do not show partiality Flattery: everything they said was true, and they did not mean a word. Flattery is praise with a hook in it.

20:22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute to Caesar, or not Tribute was the tax paid directly to Rome, and Caesar was the emperor's title. Yes would make Jesus a traitor in many Jewish eyes; no would make Him a rebel to report to Pilate. There seemed to be no safe answer.

20:24 Show Me a denarius. Whose image and inscription does it have A silver coin worth about a day's wage, used for the tribute, bearing the emperor's head and words calling him son of the divine Augustus. Jesus had to ask them for one. They were carrying Caesar's coin in their own pockets, in the temple.

20:25 give back the things of Caesar to Caesar, and the things of God to God The coin bore Caesar's image, so give it back. Believers should pay taxes and respect government (Rom 13:1-7; 1 Pet 2:13-17). But what bears God's image? We do (Gen 1:27). Caesar can have his coins; God wants all of you. Government has a real but limited place. God's claim covers everything, including Caesar.

20:26 having marveled at His answer, they became silent The trap failed before everyone, and they had nothing for Pilate. Even so, days later they would lie that He forbade the tribute (23:2).

20:27 the Sadducees, those who deny that there is a resurrection A priestly party, many wealthy, who controlled the temple. They took the books of Moses as their main authority and denied the resurrection of the body, angels and spirits (Acts 23:8). This is their only appearance in Luke.

20:28 his brother should take the wife and raise up seed for his brother The law of Deuteronomy 25:5-10. If a man died without a son, his brother married the widow, and the first son carried on the dead man's name and inheritance. Ruth and Boaz show this kind of family care (Ruth 4:5-10).

20:33 in the resurrection, of which of them does she become wife A story made up to make the resurrection look silly, probably used against Pharisees for years. If there is a resurrection, they meant, heaven would be a mess.

20:35 neither marry nor are given in marriage Marriage is God's good gift for this age. In the age to come people will not marry. The Sadducees' mistake was thinking the next life would be just like this one. Scripture does not give all the details, but those who love each other in Christ will be together with the Lord (1 Thess 4:17).

20:36 for they are like angels In this life marriage carries on the race because people die. In the resurrection no one dies. People never become angels; they are like angels in not dying and not marrying, which also answered men who denied angels. Sons of the resurrection share in it, in bodies that will never die (1 Cor 15:42-44, 53-54).

being sons of the resurrection. 37 But that the dead are raised, even Moses showed at the bush, when he calls the Lord 'the God of Abraham (Abraam) and the God of Isaac (Isaak) and the God of Jacob (Iakob).' 38 Now He is not God of the dead, but of the living; for all live to Him." 39 And answering, some of the scribes said, "Teacher, You have spoken well." 40 And they no longer dared to question Him about anything.

20:37 the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac and the God of Jacob Jesus answered from Moses, the Scripture they valued most. At the bush God named Himself this centuries after those men died (Exod 3:6).
20:38 He is not God of the dead, but of the living; for all live to Him Not I was their God, but I am. They were still alive to God, and since His covenant was with them as whole people, He would raise their bodies too. Death does not end a person's relationship with God. Believers we have lost are not gone. They are alive to God.
20:40 they no longer dared to question Him about anything The scribes who praised Him were likely Pharisees, glad to see the Sadducees silenced. Every trap had failed. From here on the leaders would use force.
20:41 How do they say the Christ is the son of David Now Jesus asks. Christ means anointed one, Messiah, and all agreed He would descend from David. Jesus does not deny it (18:38). He wants them to see the Messiah is more than David's son.
20:42 The Lord said to my Lord, Sit at My right hand Psalm 110:1, the Old Testament verse most quoted in the New. The first Lord is God's name, Yahweh; the second is adoni, my master. The right hand was the place of honor and power beside a king, and conquered enemies were made to bow under a king's feet.
20:44 Therefore David calls Him Lord, and how is He his son A father did not call his son lord. The Messiah is both: David's son by human birth (Rom 1:3) and David's Lord as the eternal Son of God. Only Jesus fits. He sat down at God's right hand (Acts 2:34-36; Heb 1:13) and waits until His enemies are made His footstool. One day He will come back and reign.
20:46 who desire to walk around in long robes He spoke to the disciples loud enough for all to hear. Robes that showed importance, bows and titles in the market, front seats facing the people, places beside the host: every one is about being seen. Jesus is not against good clothes or greetings, but against a heart that lives for people's praise.
20:47 who devour the houses of widows, and for a pretense pray at length Some scribes used their position to eat up the property of the most helpless, perhaps by fees for legal help, managing estates for themselves, or living off gifts, and covered it with long prayers for show. The more we claim to serve God, the more we answer for (James 3:1). Are we serving people or using them? Praying to be heard by God or seen by men?
21:1 He saw the ones casting their gifts into the treasury, rich men Jesus sat across from the treasury and watched (Mark 12:41). In the Court of the Women stood thirteen trumpet-shaped offering boxes, and a big gift of many coins made a lot of noise. Jesus watches what we give. He is not counting the amount. He is looking at the heart.
21:2 a certain poor widow casting in there two lepta The lepton was the smallest copper coin in use, a tiny part of a day's wage. A widow likely had no one to support her. Jesus had just warned of scribes who devour widows' houses (20:47), and here is one with almost nothing left.
21:4 she out of her poverty cast in all the livelihood that she had The rich gave from their extra and went home to dinner as usual. She could have kept one coin and gave both. God measures giving not by the amount but by what it costs and what we keep back. She trusted God to care for her. This is not a command to give away all we have, but is our giving a sacrifice, or only what we will never miss? God loves a cheerful giver (2 Cor 9:7).
21:6 a stone will not be left upon a stone that will not be thrown down Herod the Great began rebuilding the temple about 20 B.C., and work still went on (John 2:20): huge white stones, gold, and gifts on display like a golden vine at the entrance. It came true in A.D. 70, when Titus' army captured Jerusalem and burned and pulled down the temple, within about forty years. Buildings, however grand, do not last. Only what is built on Christ lasts forever (1 Cor 3:11-15).
21:7 when then will these things be They asked about the temple's destruction, and Matthew adds the sign of His coming and the end of the age (Matt 24:3); they likely thought it would all happen at once. Luke records more of the near event, the fall of Jerusalem (21:20-24), and Jesus also looks to His coming in glory (21:25-28). I believe Christ will come for His church before the seven-year Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17; 5:9) and return visibly to the earth after it (Rev 19:11-16). Jesus speaks here to Jewish disciples about Jerusalem and Israel. Some came true in A.D. 70 and some looks to the future Tribulation and His Second Coming, but all of it calls every believer to be faithful and watchful.
21:8 See that you are not led astray His first concern was not a timeline but protecting them from being fooled. Some would claim to be Messiah, others to know the time. Before A.D. 70 several men stirred crowds with promises of freedom (Acts 5:36-37), and many more have since. The real Christ will need no one to point Him out (17:23-24).

near.' Therefore do not go after them. 9 And when you hear of wars and disorders, do not be terrified; for these things must take place first, but the end is not immediately." 10 Then He was saying to them, "Nation will rise up against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. 11 And there will be both great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be both fearful sights and great signs from heaven. 12 But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you and will persecute you, delivering you up to synagogues and prisons, being brought before kings and governors on account of My name. 13 And it will turn out for you as a testimony. 14 Therefore settle it in your hearts not to prepare beforehand to make a defense; 15 for I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all those opposing you will not be able to contradict nor resist. 16 And you will be delivered up even by parents and brothers and relatives and friends, and they will put some of you to death. 17 And you will be hated by all because of My name. 18 And a hair of your head will by no means perish. 19 By your endurance acquire your souls.

The Fall of Jerusalem Foretold

20 And when you see Jerusalem (Hierousalem) being encircled by encampments, then know that her desolation has drawn near. 21 Then let those in Judea (Ioudaia) flee to the mountains, and let those in her midst depart out, and let those in the countryside not enter into her; 22 for these are days of avenging, that all the things that are written may be fulfilled. 23 But woe to those who have a child in the womb and to those who are nursing in those days! 21:9 when you hear of wars and disorders, do not be terrified Disorders are uprisings and riots. Jesus does not want His people living in panic. Wars and unrest are part of a fallen world and do not mean the end has come. God is not surprised, and the end will come in His time.

21:11 great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences A pestilence is a deadly, widespread disease. These happen in every generation, but Jesus describes a time when they come together and grow worse. John saw war, famine, death and signs in the sky as the seals were opened (Rev 6:1-17). Many teachers believe these verses match the first part of the seven-year Tribulation, the beginning of birth pains (Matt 24:8).

21:12 But before all these things, they will lay their hands on you Before the wars and signs, the disciples themselves would suffer. A synagogue also served as a local court where a person could be judged and beaten. Acts records it: Peter and John before the Sanhedrin (Acts 4:1-3), James killed by Herod (Acts 12:1-2), Paul beaten in synagogues and standing before Felix, Festus and Agrippa (Acts 24 to 26). It would turn out as a testimony; Paul in chains preached to Agrippa (Acts 26), and the worst the world does becomes a pulpit. Believers in many countries still face this.

21:15 I will give you a mouth and wisdom To settle it is to make up your mind ahead of time not to worry about what to say. Jesus Himself would give the words, as Stephen's enemies could not withstand his wisdom (Acts 6:10). This is no excuse not to study; it is a promise for believers on trial. Standing before people who hate Christ, you need not fear running out of words.

21:16 you will be delivered up even by parents and brothers One of the hardest things Jesus said. Persecution can come from inside the family. In many places today a person who comes to Christ from another religion is cut off, reported or even killed by his own family. The world hates believers not for kindness but for His name (John 15:18-21).

21:18 a hair of your head will by no means perish Jesus just said some would be killed, so this is no promise that no believer will be hurt. Nothing can touch their real life. Their bodies may die, but they cannot be lost; even their hairs are counted (12:7), and God will raise them whole. Nothing that belongs to Christ will be lost in the end.

21:19 By your endurance acquire your souls Endurance is patient staying power under pressure, and to acquire your souls is to gain your true life. We do not save ourselves by enduring; salvation is a gift through faith. But real faith keeps going, and endurance is the mark of a faith that is real.

21:20 when you see Jerusalem being encircled by encampments, then know that her desolation has drawn near Encampments are army camps; desolation is ruin and emptiness. Matthew and Mark speak here of the abomination of desolation (Matt 24:15; Mark 13:14), but Luke gives another part of Jesus' answer. The Jews rebelled in A.D. 66; Roman armies surrounded the city and then pulled back, and many Christians left. In A.D. 70 Titus walled it in and took it after months of starvation. I believe Luke 21:20-24 speaks of that fall. The abomination in Matthew and Mark points ahead to the future Antichrist (Dan 9:27; 2 Thess 2:3-4). A.D. 70 was real judgment and a picture of greater trouble still to come. Some teachers see Daniel 9:27 fulfilled in A.D. 70; I read it as future.

21:21 let those in Judea flee to the mountains Normally people ran into a walled city when an army came. Jesus says the opposite: get out, head for the hills. The early historian Eusebius tells that Jerusalem's Christians remembered a warning and fled before the fall, many to Pella across the Jordan. They obeyed Jesus, and their lives were spared.

21:22 these are days of avenging God's just judgment. The prophets warned that a people who broke God's covenant would be besieged and scattered (Lev 26:31-33; Deut 28:49-64; Dan 9:26). Jesus had wept because the city did not know the time of its visitation (19:41-44).

21:23 woe to those who have a child in the womb and to those who are nursing A cry of pity, not a curse, for women who could not run or travel far. The siege was one of the most terrible in history. Josephus, who was with the Roman army, describes terrible hunger and many thousands of deaths. Jesus saw it coming, and His heart broke for those who would suffer it.

21:24 Jerusalem will be trampled by the nations until the times of the nations are fulfilled Many were killed and thousands taken as slaves, and within a few generations the Jews were scattered across the world. Nations is often translated Gentiles. Trampled means under foreign control, as Jerusalem was from A.D. 70 under one Gentile power after another. The times of the nations is the long period of Gentile rule over Jerusalem, begun when Babylon took it in 586 B.C. (Dan 2:36-45). But "until": it will end. Many teachers believe it ends when Christ returns, destroys the last Gentile world power, and reigns from Jerusalem (Dan 2:44; Zech 14:4, 9). God still has a future for Jerusalem and Israel (Rom 11:25-29).

21:25 there will be signs in sun and moon and stars Now Jesus looks past the fall of Jerusalem and the times of the nations to the end of the age. Matthew places these signs right after the tribulation of those days (Matt 24:29), and the prophets foretold them for the day of the Lord (Isa 13:9-10; Joel 2:30-31). I take them as real events in the heavens. Perplexity is being at a loss with nowhere to turn, as the whole world falls into confusion and nature into upheaval.

surge roaring, 26 men fainting from fear and expectation of the things coming on the inhabited earth; for the powers of the heavens will be shaken. 27 And then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. 28 Now when these things begin to take place, straighten up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near."

The Lesson of the Fig Tree

29 And He spoke a parable to them: "See the fig tree and all the trees. 30 When they already put forth leaves, seeing it, you know of yourselves that the summer is already near. 31 So also you, when you see these things taking place, know that the kingdom of God is near. 32 Truly I say to you that this generation will by no means pass away until all take place. 33 The heaven and the earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away.

Keep Watch

34 Now take heed to yourselves, lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of life, and that day come upon you suddenly. 35 For as a snare it will come upon all those sitting on the face of all the earth. 36 Therefore keep watch at every season, praying that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that are about to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man." 37 Now during the days He was teaching in the temple, and during the nights, going out, He was lodging on the mount that is called the Mount of Olives. 38 And all the people were coming early in the morning to Him in the temple to hear Him.

21:26 the powers of the heavens will be shaken People will faint from terror at what is coming. God, who made the heavens, will shake them (Hag 2:6; Heb 12:26-27). Things people thought could never move will move.
21:27 then they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory The Second Coming of Christ to the earth. Daniel saw one like a son of man coming with the clouds to receive an everlasting kingdom (Dan 7:13-14). He will come back as He went (Acts 1:11), and every eye will see Him (Rev 1:7). He came first in humility on a donkey. He will come again as King of kings and Lord of lords (Rev 19:16).
21:28 straighten up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near Redemption is being set free by payment of a price. Christ paid it at the cross; here it is the final deliverance His coming brings. While the world faints with fear, God's people look up. Spoken first to Jewish disciples, it speaks most directly to those who come to faith during the Tribulation, but believers today share the same blessed hope (Titus 2:13).
21:30 you know of yourselves that the summer is already near The fig and many trees lose their leaves in winter, and new leaves mean summer is near. As leaves tell of summer, the signs tell those who see them that the kingdom Christ will set up on earth is close. Luke's "and all the trees" shows the main point is a simple picture from nature anyone could understand.
21:32 this generation will by no means pass away until all take place One of the most debated verses. Some say the people alive then, fulfilled in A.D. 70, but the Son of Man did not come in glory then, nor did the signs in the heavens, so this view must treat much as figures of speech. Some say genea can mean a race, and Jesus promises the Jewish people will survive until all is done; God has indeed preserved them. Others say the generation that sees these signs begin will see the end. Good teachers hold each view. What matters most is the next verse.
21:33 The heaven and the earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away Nothing seems more permanent than sky and ground, yet His words will outlast them. Only God could speak this way of His own words (Isa 40:8). Every promise He made will be kept and every warning will come true. We can build our lives on what He said.
21:34 lest your hearts be weighed down with dissipation and drunkenness and cares of life Jesus turns from what will happen to how we should live. Dissipation is wild living and its dull aftermath. Notice that the cares of life sit right beside drunkenness. Ordinary worry can weigh the heart down as much as wild living, and a heavy heart is not watching for the Lord. A sleepy, distracted heart will be caught off guard.
21:35 as a snare it will come upon all those sitting on the face of all the earth A trap that snaps shut without warning. That day will come on the whole world that way, and no one on earth will be outside its reach.
21:36 praying that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that are about to take place, and to stand before the Son of Man Keep watch at every season, not only when the news is frightening, and pray. Many pre-tribulation teachers see here the hope of being kept out of the Tribulation altogether, like the promise to Philadelphia to be kept from the hour of testing coming on the whole world (Rev 3:10). Others read it as watching and praying so as not to be swept away by judgment but to stand approved when He comes. Either way, the goal is to stand before Him unashamed (1 John 2:28). Counted worthy is not earned; it describes the watchful, praying life that shows a person belongs to Christ.
21:37 He was lodging on the mount that is called the Mount of Olives Bethany lay on the far side of the mount, and Gethsemane on its slope (22:39). The people rose early to hear Him while the leaders wanted Him dead. In His last days before the cross Jesus did not hide. He taught God's word, prayed and stayed faithful, and that is how He calls us to wait for His coming: faithful in His word, watchful in prayer, and ready.
22:1 the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which is called Passover Passover remembered the night the angel of death passed over houses marked with a lamb's blood (Exod 12:1-13). Seven days of bread without yeast followed, recalling how quickly Israel left Egypt (Exod 12:14-20), and the whole week was called Passover. Jerusalem was packed with pilgrims.
22:2 seeking how they might do away with Him, for they were afraid of the people They had already decided to kill Him (19:47). The only question was how, without starting a riot during the feast.
22:3 Then Satan entered into Judas Iscariot likely means man of Kerioth, a town in Judea. Judas had walked with Jesus three years, seen the miracles and heard the teaching, yet his heart never truly belonged to Him. He was a thief who stole from the money bag (John 12:6). Satan did not force his way into a heart devoted to Christ. Judas had been opening the door through his love of money. It is possible to be close to Jesus outside and far from Him inside.

might deliver Him up to them. 5 And they rejoiced, and they agreed to give him money. 6 And he promised, and was seeking an opportunity to deliver Him up to them apart from a crowd.

The Passover Prepared

7 Then the day of Unleavened Bread came, on which it was necessary for the Passover to be sacrificed. 8 And He sent Peter (Petros) and John (Ioannes), saying, "Having gone, prepare the Passover for us, so that we may eat." 9 And they said to Him, "Where do You want us to prepare it?" 10 And He said to them, "Look, when you have entered into the city, a man carrying a pitcher of water will meet you; follow him into the house where he enters. 11 And you will say to the master of the house, 'The Teacher says to you, "Where is the guest room where I may eat the Passover with My disciples?"' 12 And he will show you a large upper room, furnished; prepare there." 13 And having gone, they found it just as He had said to them; and they prepared the Passover.

The Lord's Supper

14 And when the hour came, He reclined at table, and the twelve apostles with Him. 15 And He said to them, "With desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. 16 For I say to you that I will certainly no longer eat of it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God." 17 And having received a cup, having given thanks, He said, "Take this and divide it among yourselves. 18 For I say to you that I will certainly not drink of the produce of the vine until the kingdom of God comes." 19 And having taken bread, having given thanks, He broke it and gave it to them, saying, "This is My body, which is being given for you; do this for My remembrance." 20 And likewise the cup after dining, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is being poured out for you. 21 But look, the hand of the one delivering Me up is with Me on the table. 22 And indeed the Son of Man goes according to what has been determined; but woe to that man through whom He is delivered up!" 23 And they began to question among themselves which of them then it might be who was about to do this.

Who Is the Greatest

24 And there was also a dispute among them, which of them is thought to be greater. 25 And He said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and those exer-

22:5 they agreed to give him money The captains led the temple guard, a Jewish police force run by the priests. The leaders were glad that one of His own would help them. The price was thirty pieces of silver (Matt 26:15), the price of a slave (Exod 21:32). Judas watched for a quiet time away from the crowds. He knew where Jesus went to pray.

22:8 prepare the Passover for us That afternoon thousands of lambs were killed at the temple. Preparing meant getting a lamb, having it sacrificed, roasting it, and setting out unleavened bread, bitter herbs, wine and the rest. It was a lot of work.

22:10 a man carrying a pitcher of water will meet you Carrying water jars was usually women's work, so the man would stand out. An upper room was built on the roof, and furnished means set with couches and tables. The secret plan kept Judas from bringing guards to the meal. Some think it was the home of John Mark's family (Acts 12:12); Scripture does not say.

22:13 they found it just as He had said to them Again it happened exactly as Jesus said (19:32). He was not a victim of events. He was in control of every detail of His last night.

22:14 when the hour came, He reclined at table Guests lay on couches around a low table, leaning on the left elbow. The hour was evening, and also the hour the Father had set for Him to die (John 13:1).

22:15 With desire I have desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer A strong way of saying, I have longed for this with all My heart. On the night before He died, His heart was set on being with His disciples. He loves His people and wants our company.

22:16 until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God The Passover lamb pointed to Him; Christ is our Passover sacrificed for us (1 Cor 5:7). The meal will be fulfilled when His people sit at His table in His kingdom (Rev 19:9). Jesus looks past the cross to celebrating with His people there.

22:18 I will certainly not drink of the produce of the vine until the kingdom of God comes Luke mentions a cup early in the meal and another after it (22:20). The produce of the vine is wine. This is a promise as much as a farewell. He will drink it with us again.

22:19 This is My body, which is being given for you; do this for My remembrance Unleavened bread recalled Israel's hurried exit from Egypt. Jesus gave it new meaning: His body offered on the cross the next day in our place. He gave His church a meal to remember Him by. Every time believers eat the bread together, we look back to the cross.

22:20 This cup is the new covenant in My blood, which is being poured out for you A covenant is a binding agreement. Sinai's covenant was sealed with animal blood (Exod 24:8); through Jeremiah God promised a new covenant with Israel and Judah, writing His law on their hearts and remembering their sins no more (Jer 31:31-34). Many believe Jesus spoke in a picture, as when He called Himself the door; the Supper is a remembrance that proclaims His death until He comes (1 Cor 11:26). Catholics teach the elements become His body and blood, Lutherans that He is truly present with them, many Reformed that He is spiritually present. Come with reverence (1 Cor 11:27-29). The church shares now in the covenant's forgiveness, and God will still keep every word of it with Israel and Judah when Christ returns (Rom 11:27).

22:21 the hand of the one delivering Me up is with Me on the table Judas had shared the bread, as Psalm 41:9 foretold of a close friend lifting up his heel.

22:22 the Son of Man goes according to what has been determined; but woe to that man Both truths stand side by side. God determined that Jesus would die for sinners (Acts 2:23), yet Judas was fully responsible. God's plan excuses no one's sin. Judas was not a puppet. He chose money over his Master.

22:23 which of them then it might be who was about to do this No one pointed at Judas; he hid his heart well. Each man wondered about himself, which is healthy. Any of us can fall if we are not walking close to the Lord (1 Cor 10:12).

22:24 which of them is thought to be greater Minutes after He spoke of giving His body and blood, they argued about rank, as before (9:46). Pride is stubborn and shows up even at the Lord's Table. How often have we done the same?

22:25 those exercising authority over them are called benefactors A benefactor is a patron who does good for others. Rulers loved the title, some putting it on coins, while ruling with a heavy hand. In the world, power is used to be served, and the powerful want credit for it.

cising authority over them are called benefactors. 26 But you, not so; but the greater among you, let him become as the younger, and the one leading as the one serving. 27 For who is greater, the one reclining at table or the one serving? Is it not the one reclining? But I am in your midst as the One serving. 28 And you are those who have remained with Me in My trials. 29 And I appoint to you, just as My Father appointed to Me, a kingdom, 30 so that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom, and may sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

Peter's Denial Foretold

31 And the Lord said, "Simon, Simon, look, Satan has asked for you, to sift you like wheat. 32 But I begged for you, that your faith may not fail; and you, when you have turned back, strengthen your brothers." 33 And he said to Him, "Lord, with You I am ready to go both to prison and to death." 34 And He said, "I tell you, Peter, a rooster will certainly not crow today before you deny three times that you know Me." 35 And He said to them, "When I sent you without purse and bag and sandals, did you lack anything?" And they said, "Nothing." 36 Then He said to them, "But now, the one who has a purse, let him take it, likewise also a bag; and the one who does not have one, let him sell his cloak and buy a sword. 37 For I say to you that this which has been written must still be accomplished in Me: 'And He was counted with lawless ones.' For also the things concerning Me have an end." 38 And they said, "Lord, look, here are two swords." And He said to them, "It is enough."

Jesus Prays on the Mount of Olives

39 And having gone out, He went according to the custom to the Mount of Olives; and His disciples also followed Him. 40 And having come to the place, He said to them, "Pray not to enter into temptation." 41 And He was drawn away from them about a stone's throw, and having knelt down, He was praying, 42 saying, "Father, if You are willing, remove this cup from Me; yet not My will, but Yours be done." 43 And an angel from heaven appeared to Him, strengthening Him. 44 And being in agony, He was praying more earnestly; and His sweat became like thick drops of blood falling down upon

22:26 But you, not so Jesus turns the world's idea of greatness upside down. The youngest got the lowest jobs, yet the greatest should act like the youngest and the leader like a servant. Leadership in the church is not position or titles but service.
22:27 I am in your midst as the One serving The Lord of glory was among them as a servant. At this same meal He washed their feet (John 13:1-17), and the next day He gave His life as a ransom (Mark 10:45). If our Lord took the place of a servant, no job is beneath us.
22:30 sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel For all their faults, they had stayed with Him when many walked away (John 6:66-69). The Father gave the kingdom to the Son, and the Son shares it with His faithful followers. When Christ returns and reigns, the apostles will rule over Israel's twelve tribes under Him (Matt 19:28), one more sign that God has a future for the nation. They argued about greatness; the real honor is ahead, given by Him, not grabbed.
22:31 Satan has asked for you, to sift you like wheat Saying Simon twice shows how serious this was. Sifting shakes grain hard so the chaff is left. As with Job, Satan had to ask permission (Job 1:6-12) and cannot touch God's people beyond what God allows. The first "you" is plural in Greek; Satan wanted them all.
22:32 But I begged for you, that your faith may not fail Now "you" is singular. Jesus prayed for Peter by name, and He still intercedes for His people (Heb 7:25). He did not pray that Peter would not fall, for he fell that night, but that his faith would not fail. His courage failed; his faith did not. Jesus already gave him a job for afterward, and his letters show a man made humble and gentle (1 Pet 5:5-10).
22:33 with You I am ready to go both to prison and to death Peter meant it. He did later go to prison for Jesus (Acts 12:3-5), and church history says he died for Him. But that night he trusted in himself.
22:34 a rooster will certainly not crow today The Jewish day began at sunset, so before the night was over. The moment we think we could never fall is the moment we are closest to falling.
22:36 let him sell his cloak and buy a sword Before, God cared for them through those who welcomed them (9:3; 10:4). Things were changing. After Jesus was gone they would face a hostile world and need to provide for themselves. Some believe the sword is a picture of dangerous days ahead, and "It is enough" ends talk they did not understand. Others believe He meant a real sword for self-defense on the road, never for the gospel. Either way, hours later He told Peter to stop (22:51; Matt 26:52). His kingdom does not advance by the sword (John 18:36).
22:37 And He was counted with lawless ones From Isaiah 53:12, the chapter of the suffering Servant who carries the sins of many. The next day He was crucified between two criminals (23:32-33). The Holy One was counted with the lawless so that lawbreakers like us could be counted righteous.
22:38 It is enough Two swords against Rome and the temple guard would not go far. Many hear sadness here. They still did not understand His battle.
22:39 He went according to the custom to the Mount of Olives He prayed there every night that week (21:37), in Gethsemane, oil press, a garden of olive trees (Matt 26:36). Judas knew the custom (John 18:2). Jesus did not hide. He went where He knew Judas would find Him.
22:40 Pray not to enter into temptation A test that could make them fall. Their best defense was prayer before the soldiers came. We usually lose battles with temptation long before it comes, because we did not pray when we had the chance.
22:42 Father, if You are willing, remove this cup from Me; yet not My will, but Yours be done Men usually stood to pray; He knelt, and Matthew says He fell on His face (Matt 26:39). The cup often pictures God's wrath against sin (Ps 75:8; Isa 51:17; Jer 25:15). He was not just afraid of death, which many have faced bravely. He would drink God's anger against the world's sin, made sin who knew no sin (2 Cor 5:21). Here is His real human will and His perfect obedience. That is the most important prayer anyone can pray.
22:43 an angel from heaven appeared to Him, strengthening Him The Father did not take the cup away but gave strength to drink it. Often God does not remove our trial; He gives strength to go through it (2 Cor 12:9). This verse and the next follow the Received Greek Text. Some of the oldest Greek copies lack them, while other very early copies have them and second-century writers knew them. No teaching rests on them alone; all the Gospels show His anguish of soul (Mark 14:33-34; Heb 5:7).
22:44 His sweat became like thick drops of blood falling down upon the ground Agony is the deepest anguish of soul, and the angel's strength helped Him pray harder. Luke the doctor says "like." Some take it as sweat falling in heavy drops as blood drips from a wound; others note that under extreme stress tiny vessels can break and mix blood with sweat, a rare condition doctors describe. We will never know what it cost our Savior to say yes to the cross.

the ground. 45 And having risen up from the prayer, having come to His disciples, He found them sleeping from the sorrow, 46 and He said to them, "Why are you sleeping? Having risen up, pray, so that you may not enter into temptation."

Jesus Arrested

47 And while He was still speaking, look, a crowd, and the one called Judas, one of the twelve, was going before them, and he drew near to Jesus (Iesous) to kiss Him. 48 And Jesus said to him, "Judas, are you delivering up the Son of Man with a kiss?" 49 And those around Him, having seen what was going to be, said to Him, "Lord, shall we strike with a sword?" 50 And a certain one of them struck the slave of the high priest and cut off his right ear. 51 And answering, Jesus said, "Allow as far as this." And having touched his ear, He healed him. 52 And Jesus said to those who had come against Him, chief priests and captains of the temple and elders, "Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs? 53 While I was with you every day in the temple, you did not stretch out your hands against Me. But this is your hour, and the power of the darkness."

Peter Denies Jesus

54 And having seized Him, they led Him away and brought Him into the house of the high priest. And Peter was following at a distance. 55 And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the courtyard and had sat down together, Peter was sitting in the midst of them. 56 And a certain servant girl, having seen him sitting by the light and having looked intently at him, said, "This one also was with Him." 57 But he denied Him, saying, "Woman, I do not know Him." 58 And after a little while another, having seen him, said, "You also are of them." But Peter said, "Man, I am not." 59 And about one hour having passed, a certain other man was strongly affirming, saying, "In truth this one also was with Him, for he also is a Galilean." 60 But Peter said, "Man, I do not know what you are saying." And immediately, while he was still speaking, the rooster crowed. 61 And having turned, the Lord looked at Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how He had said to him, "Before a rooster crows, you will deny Me three times." 62 And having gone outside, Peter wept bitterly.

Jesus Before the Council

22:45 He found them sleeping from the sorrow Only Luke says why: grief had worn them out. Jesus repeats His warning without harsh scolding. They had a short time and were sleeping it away. In minutes every one of them would run.
22:47 he drew near to Jesus to kiss Him "One of the twelve": that is the sad heart of it. The crowd included Roman soldiers and temple officers (John 18:3). A kiss was the normal greeting of disciple to teacher, and Judas had made it the signal (Mark 14:44). The sign of love became the sign of betrayal.
22:48 Judas, are you delivering up the Son of Man with a kiss Jesus called him by name, one more chance to see what he was doing. He spoke to him as a man, not a monster. Betraying love with a sign of love is especially evil.
22:50 struck the slave of the high priest and cut off his right ear It was Peter, and the slave was Malchus (John 18:10). Peter was probably aiming for his head, keeping his promise to fight to the death. But it was the wrong fight.
22:51 having touched his ear, He healed him Only Luke the doctor tells this. Jesus' last healing before the cross was for a man who came to arrest Him. He loved His enemies as He had taught (6:27-28), and He kept Peter from arrest for assault. Even while betrayed, He cared for others.
22:52 Have you come out as against a robber, with swords and clubs He was no armed rebel. They could have taken Him any day in the temple. They came at night because they feared the people and were ashamed of what they were doing.
22:53 But this is your hour, and the power of the darkness Darkness means Satan and the forces of evil. God let darkness have its hour, but only an hour, and nothing beyond what He allowed. In three days it would be defeated.
22:54 brought Him into the house of the high priest. And Peter was following at a distance Caiaphas was high priest that year, son-in-law of Annas who held the office before him; Jesus was taken first to Annas (John 18:13, 24). The high priest led the Sanhedrin. Peter was brave enough to follow and afraid enough to stay back. Following Jesus at a distance is a dangerous place to be.
22:55 Peter was sitting in the midst of them Early spring nights in Jerusalem can be cold. In the open courtyard Peter sat with the servants and guards by the fire, trying to blend in with those who had arrested his Lord.
22:57 Woman, I do not know Him The firelight showed his face. Hours before, he was ready for prison and death. Now a servant girl frightened him into denying he knew Jesus, and each lie made the next easier.
22:59 for he also is a Galilean His accent gave him away (Matt 26:73); Galileans spoke in a way Jerusalem recognized. Mark says he began to curse and swear (Mark 14:71). The rooster crowed while the words were still in his mouth.
22:61 the Lord looked at Peter Only Luke tells this. Jesus must have been where He could see the courtyard, perhaps being led from one place to another, and their eyes met. Luke does not say what was in that look, but Jesus had already prayed for him (22:32). It was surely the look of a friend who knew and loved him anyway.
22:62 Peter wept bitterly Real repentance makes no excuses and blames no one. Judas and Peter both failed that night. Judas was sorry and took his own life (Matt 27:3-5); Peter wept and came back. There is sorrow that leads to repentance and sorrow that leads to death (2 Cor 7:10). Jesus restored Peter, and he strengthened his brothers (John 21:15-19; Acts 2:14-41). If you have failed the Lord, even badly, come back. He knew, He prayed for you, and He is ready to restore you.
22:64 Prophesy! Who is it who struck You They mocked Him as a prophet, though that night He foretold Peter's denial and the rooster had just proved Him right.
22:65 many other things they were saying against Him, blaspheming To blaspheme is to speak against God, and they insulted the Son of God to His face. Isaiah foretold the Servant giving His back to strikers and not hiding His face from insult (Isa 50:6). Peter, who watched that night, wrote that He did not revile in return (1 Pet 2:23).

things they were saying against Him, blaspheming. 66 And when it became day, the body of elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes, and they led Him up into their own council, 67 saying, "If You are the Christ, tell us." And He said to them, "If I tell you, you will certainly not believe; 68 and if I also ask you, you will certainly not answer Me, nor release Me. 69 From now on the Son of Man will be sitting at the right hand of the power of God." 70 And they all said, "Are You then the Son of God?" And He said to them, "You say that I am." 71 And they said, "What further need of testimony do we have? For we ourselves have heard it from His mouth."

Jesus Before Pilate and Herod

1 And the whole multitude of them, having risen up, led Him to Pilate (Pilatos). 2 And they began to accuse Him, saying, "We found this man misleading the nation and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying Himself to be Christ, a king." 3 And Pilate questioned Him, saying, "Are You the King of the Jews?" And answering him, He said, "You say it." 4 And Pilate said to the chief priests and the crowds, "I find no guilt in this man." 5 But they were insisting, saying, "He stirs up the people, teaching throughout all Judea (Ioudaia), having begun from Galilee (Galilaia) as far as here." 6 And Pilate, having heard of Galilee, asked whether the man is a Galilean. 7 And having learned that He is from the jurisdiction of Herod (Herodes), he sent Him up to Herod, he also himself being in Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) in these days. 8 And Herod, having seen Jesus (Iesous), was exceedingly glad; for he had been wishing for a long time to see Him, because of hearing many things about Him, and he was hoping to see some sign done by Him. 9 And he was questioning Him with many words, but He answered him nothing. 10 And the chief priests and the scribes stood vehemently accusing Him. 11 And Herod with his troops, having treated Him with contempt and having mocked Him, having put splendid apparel on Him, sent Him back to Pilate. 12 And both Pilate and Herod became friends with one another on that same day; for they had previously been at enmity between themselves.

Barabbas Released, Jesus Condemned

13 And Pilate, having called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people, 14 said to them, "You brought this man to me as one turning away the people; and look, I, having examined Him before you, found in this man no guilt in the things of which you are accusing Him; 15 but neither did Herod, for I sent you up to him; and look, nothing worthy of death has been done by Him. 16 Therefore, having chas-

22:66 they led Him up into their own council The Sanhedrin, about seventy men and the high priest. Matthew and Mark tell of a night trial. Custom expected a death sentence by day, so at dawn they met again to make it official.
22:67 If You are the Christ, tell us Christ means the Anointed One, the Messiah. It was not an honest question; their minds were made up. He had already asked them questions they would not answer (20:3-8, 41-44).
22:69 the Son of Man will be sitting at the right hand of the power of God Jesus joins Daniel's Son of Man who receives an everlasting kingdom (Dan 7:13-14) with Psalm 110:1, which He had just asked them about (20:42-43). They were not really His judges; He would soon be seated as theirs. The prisoner on trial was the King of heaven.
22:70 You say that I am They understood His claim, and this was a way of saying yes. Jesus was condemned not for any wrong but for telling the truth about who He is.
22:71 we ourselves have heard it from His mouth To them it was blasphemy worthy of death (Lev 24:16). If the claim was true, and it was, the blasphemy was theirs. Either it is true and we must bow to Him, or the council was right. There is no middle ground.
23:1 led Him to Pilate The council condemned Jesus at dawn (22:66-71), but under Rome they could not execute anyone without the governor (John 18:31). Pontius Pilate governed Judea about A.D. 26 to 36, living in Caesarea and coming to Jerusalem at feasts with extra soldiers. Ancient writers call him harsh and stubborn, and Luke mentioned his killing of Galileans at their sacrifices (13:1).
23:2 forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying Himself to be Christ, a king Before their council the charge was blasphemy (22:70-71), but a Roman governor would not care about a Jewish religious argument, so they made it political. Every charge was twisted. Jesus called the nation to repent, not astray. He said to pay Caesar (20:25). He was the Christ, the King, but not one who would lead a revolt.
23:3 Are You the King of the Jews Pilate must have looked at this beaten, bound, lonely man and wondered how He could be a king. "You say it" was a careful yes. Jesus explained that His kingdom is not of this world (John 18:33-38). He was a King, but no threat to Rome in the way they claimed.
23:4 I find no guilt in this man The first of three times Pilate declares Jesus innocent (23:4, 14, 22). Luke wants us to see it. Jesus did not die guilty of anything. The Roman judge himself said so. He died as the innocent One in the place of the guilty.
23:7 he sent Him up to Herod Naming Galilee, known for rebels, was meant to make Pilate nervous, but it gave him a way out. Jurisdiction is the area of a ruler's legal authority. Herod Antipas ruled Galilee, had beheaded John (9:7-9), and was in Jerusalem for Passover. Pilate wanted to pass the problem to someone else. No one can hand off the decision about Jesus.
23:8 he was hoping to see some sign done by Him Herod had long been curious (9:9). He wanted a show, like a king calling for a magician. He was looking for entertainment, not truth. Many today are curious about Jesus but have no interest in bowing to Him.
23:9 He answered him nothing This was the man who silenced John, God's voice to him. Now the Word of God stood before him silent. When a person keeps refusing God's truth, a time can come when God stops speaking. The Servant was silent like a sheep before its shearers (Isa 53:7), while the priests kept shouting their charges.
23:11 having put splendid apparel on Him Contempt is treating someone as worthless. Herod's soldiers mocked Jesus as a joke king in a bright robe and sent Him back. That day old enemies Herod and Pilate became friends over Him, as Peter saw in Psalm 2 (Acts 4:25-28). Herod found nothing to charge Him with either.
23:16 having chastised Him, I will release Him A governor and a king had both found nothing worthy of death. To have Him whipped as a warning, hoping a beating would satisfy the crowd. Think how unjust that is: innocent, so whip Him. Pilate cared more about keeping the peace than about justice.

tised Him, I will release Him." 17 Now he had a necessity to release one to them at every feast. 18 But they cried out all together, saying, "Take away this man, and release to us Barabbas"— 19 who had been cast into prison on account of a certain insurrection that had occurred in the city, and murder. 20 Pilate therefore called out again, wishing to release Jesus. 21 But they were crying out, saying, "Crucify, crucify Him!" 22 And a third time he said to them, "For what evil has this man done? I found no guilt deserving of death in Him. Therefore, having chastised Him, I will release Him." 23 But they were insistent with loud voices, asking for Him to be crucified; and their voices and those of the chief priests were prevailing. 24 And Pilate gave sentence that their demand be done. 25 And he released to them the one who had been cast into the prison on account of insurrection and murder, whom they were asking for; but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

The Road to the Cross

26 And as they led Him away, having laid hold of Simon, a certain Cyrenian coming from the country, they put the cross on him to carry it behind Jesus. 27 And a great multitude of the people was following Him, and of women who also were mourning and lamenting Him. 28 And having turned to them, Jesus said, "Daughters of Jerusalem (Hierousalem), do not weep for Me, but weep for yourselves and for your children. 29 For look, days are coming in which they will say, 'Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that did not bear, and the breasts that did not nurse.' 30 Then they will begin to say to the mountains, 'Fall on us,' and to the hills, 'Cover us.' 31 For if they do these things in the green tree, what may happen in the dry?"

The Crucifixion

32 And two others also, criminals, were being led with Him to be put to death. 33 And when they went away to the place which is called Skull, there they crucified Him and the criminals, one on the right and one on the left. 34 And Jesus was saying, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." And dividing His garments, they cast a lot. 35 And the people stood watching. And the rulers also with them were sneering, saying, "He saved others; let Him save

23:17 he had a necessity to release one to them at every feast At Passover, the feast of Israel's freedom from slavery, the governor released one prisoner (Matt 27:15; Mark 15:6), and Pilate hoped they would choose Jesus. This verse follows the Received Greek Text; most older Greek copies of Luke do not have it. The custom is in Matthew, Mark and John (John 18:39), so the fact is not in doubt, and no teaching rests on this verse alone.

23:19 on account of a certain insurrection that had occurred in the city, and murder An insurrection is an armed uprising. They accused Jesus of rebellion He never stirred, then asked for a man who really had led one and killed. Barabbas was guilty and went free; Jesus was innocent and died in his place. That is the gospel in one picture. Each of us is Barabbas.

23:21 Crucify, crucify Him Rome's death for slaves, rebels and the worst criminals: nailed or tied to a cross and left to hang, often for hours or days, slow, public and shameful. Anyone hanged on a tree was under God's curse (Deut 21:22-23). They wanted Him to die the most shameful death there was.

23:24 Pilate gave sentence that their demand be done A third time Pilate asked what evil He had done, and no one could answer, but the shouting of a crowd beat the judgment of a judge. He had power to release Jesus (John 19:10) and knew He was innocent, but they threatened that he would be no friend of Caesar (John 19:12). Afraid for his position, he gave in. Every time we go along with the crowd against what we know is right, we stand where Pilate stood.

23:25 but Jesus he delivered up to their will The murderer released, Jesus handed over. Luke skips the flogging and thorns (Matt 27:26-31; John 19:1-3) and moves to the road to the cross. Guilt for His death has been laid on the Jewish people as a whole and used to justify hatred and violence. That is wicked and has no place in a Christian's heart. Gentile governor and Jewish leaders took part together (Acts 4:27), and in the deepest sense my sin and yours put Him there (Isa 53:5-6).

23:26 they put the cross on him to carry it behind Jesus A condemned man usually carried the crossbeam, but Jesus, beaten, flogged and sleepless, was too weak. Cyrene was in North Africa, in today's Libya, home to many Jews. Mark calls Simon the father of Alexander and Rufus (Mark 15:21), men known to the church, and some think the Rufus of Romans 16:13 was his son, though we cannot be sure. "Behind Jesus" is a picture of every disciple (9:23).

23:28 Daughters of Jerusalem, do not weep for Me Not everyone wanted Jesus dead, and only Luke tells of these mourning women. On the way to His death He thought of others, of the judgment on the city He had wept over (19:41-44).

23:29 Blessed are the barren Children were among God's greatest blessings and barrenness a deep sorrow. A time was coming so terrible that it would seem better never to have had children than to watch them suffer.

23:30 to the mountains, 'Fall on us,' and to the hills, 'Cover us.' From Hosea 10:8: people so desperate they wish the mountains would bury them. It came true in the siege of A.D. 70, and Revelation uses the same words for the terror of the coming day of God's wrath (Rev 6:16).

23:31 if they do these things in the green tree, what may happen in the dry A green tree is full of life and hard to burn; a dry one catches easily. If Rome did this to an innocent man, what would it do to a guilty, rebellious nation ripe for judgment? Some also hear God's judgment: if He let this happen to His innocent Son, how much worse for those who reject Him?

23:33 the place which is called Skull Jesus was counted with lawless ones, as He said (22:37; Isa 53:12). In Aramaic Golgotha, in Latin Calvaria, our Calvary. It was outside the wall near a busy road (John 19:17, 20; Heb 13:12). Why it was called Skull is not known, perhaps a skull-shaped hill or a place of execution. Luke does not describe the nails; his readers knew what crucifixion meant. Jesus was placed in the middle, as if the worst of the three.

23:34 Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing Was saying can mean He kept saying it, while the nails went in. Them includes the soldiers and the leaders and crowd who did not fully understand they were crucifying the Lord of glory (Acts 3:17; 1 Cor 2:8). Ignorance did not make them innocent; that is why they needed forgiveness. God answered: at Pentecost thousands in Jerusalem were forgiven (Acts 2:36-41), even priests (Acts 6:7). Stephen prayed the same way (Acts 7:60). If Jesus could pray this from a cross, He can give you grace to forgive.

23:35 He saved others; let Him save Himself The soldiers cast lots for His garments, as Psalm 22:18 foretold. To sneer is to turn up the nose in scorn. Without knowing it they spoke the truth. He would not save Himself because He was saving others. He could have come down. He stayed because He loved us.

Himself, if this is the Christ, the Chosen One of God." 36 And the soldiers also were mocking Him, coming near, and offering sour wine to Him, 37 and saying, "If You are the King of the Jews, save Yourself!" 38 And there was also an inscription written over Him in Greek and Latin and Hebrew letters: "This is the King of the Jews."

The Two Criminals

39 And one of the criminals who had been hanged was blaspheming Him, saying, "If You are the Christ, save Yourself and us!" 40 But the other, answering, was rebuking him, saying, "Do you not even fear God, since you are under the same judgment? 41 And we indeed justly, for we are receiving things worthy of what we did; but this man did nothing wrong." 42 And he was saying to Jesus, "Remember me, Lord, when You come in Your kingdom." 43 And Jesus said to him, "Truly I say to you, today you will be with Me in Paradise."

The Death of Jesus

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and darkness came over all the land until the ninth hour. 45 And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was torn in the middle. 46 And having called out with a loud voice, Jesus said, "Father, into Your hands I will commit My spirit." And having said these things, He expired. 47 And the centurion, having seen what had taken place, glorified God, saying, "Certainly this man was righteous." 48 And all the crowds who had come together to this spectacle, seeing the things that had taken place, were returning, beating their breasts. 49 And all His acquaintances stood at a distance, and women who had followed with Him from Galilee, watching these things.

50 And look, a man named Joseph (Ioseph), being a council member, a good and righteous man— 51 this man had not consented to their counsel and deed—from Arimathea (Arimathaia), a city of the Jews, who also himself was waiting for the kingdom of God; 52 this man, having gone to Pilate, asked for the body of Jesus. 53 And having taken it down, he wrapped it in a linen cloth, and placed it in a rock-hewn

23:36 offering sour wine to Him Cheap, vinegar-like soldiers' wine, as Psalm 69:21 foretold. To them a real king had power and an army. They could not imagine a King whose greatest act of power was to lay down His life.
23:38 This is the King of the Jews Rome posted the crime above the victim's head. In Greek, the empire's common tongue, Latin, Rome's, and Hebrew, the Jews', everyone could read it. The chief priests wanted it changed, and Pilate refused (John 19:21-22). He meant it as mockery or a jab at the leaders. God made it a proclamation to the world. It was true.
23:39 If You are the Christ, save Yourself and us He did not want a Savior from sin but a way off the cross. At first both criminals mocked (Matt 27:44), but something changed in one of them.
23:41 we indeed justly, for we are receiving things worthy of what we did Having heard Jesus pray for His enemies, this man now feared God. Real repentance: no excuses, no blame. I deserve this, and this man did nothing wrong. He saw what Pilate saw, and more.
23:42 Remember me, Lord, when You come in Your kingdom One of the greatest statements of faith in the Bible. He saw a beaten, mocked, dying man under a sign calling Him king, and called Him Lord. He believed Jesus would have a kingdom and that death would not be His end. The disciples had run away; a dying thief believed. He asked only to be remembered, knowing he had nothing to offer.
23:43 today you will be with Me in Paradise Today, not someday; with Me, not just remembered. Paradise first meant a park or garden, used of Eden, and in Jesus' day of the place of blessing for the righteous dead (2 Cor 12:2-4; Rev 2:7). Some believe it was then the place of comfort called Abraham's bosom (16:22), its saints led to heaven after the resurrection (Eph 4:8-10); others that it was heaven itself. Moving the comma to read "I say to you today" goes against the plain sense. A believer who dies goes at once to be with the Lord (2 Cor 5:8; Phil 1:23).
23:43 Truly I say to you This man could not be baptized, join a church, do good works or make up for his past. He could only turn to Jesus in faith, and that was enough. Salvation is by grace through faith in Christ alone; baptism and good works follow for those who have time. It is never too late while there is breath. And it is a warning not to wait. Only one thief turned.
23:44 darkness came over all the land until the ninth hour Counting from sunrise, about noon to three in the afternoon. Passover fell at the full moon, when no eclipse of the sun can happen. It was an act of God, and darkness often goes with His judgment (Exod 10:21-23; Amos 8:9). In those hours Jesus bore the judgment for our sins, and at the end cried out that God had forsaken Him (Matt 27:46).
23:45 the veil of the temple was torn in the middle The thick curtain before the most holy place, where only the high priest went once a year with blood (Lev 16:2; Heb 9:7). It said God is holy and sinners cannot come near. God tore it from top to bottom (Matt 27:51). Now anyone who trusts Jesus can come boldly to God by His blood (Heb 10:19-22). We need no priest or curtain between us and God.
23:46 Father, into Your hands I will commit My spirit From Psalm 31:5, perhaps a common bedtime prayer, with "Father" added. The crucified usually grew too weak to speak, but He cried with a loud voice. He laid down His life when He chose (John 10:18). Expired means breathed His last, a real death. Our spirits too are safe in our Father's hands (Acts 7:59).
23:47 Certainly this man was righteous A centurion commanded about a hundred soldiers and oversaw the crucifixion. He had seen many men die, never like this. Matthew and Mark add that he called Him God's Son (Mark 15:39). After Pilate, Herod and the thief, a Roman soldier declared Him innocent and glorified God, a preview of the many Gentiles who would believe through the cross.
23:48 were returning, beating their breasts They came for a spectacle and went home grieving like the tax collector (18:13), shaken by the darkness and the way He died. Some may have repented at Pentecost.
23:49 women who had followed with Him from Galilee, watching these things His acquaintances watched from far off. The women who had supported Him from their means (8:1-3) stayed to the end. Luke notes them because they will be the first witnesses of the empty tomb.
23:50 a man named Joseph, being a council member, a good and righteous man A prominent member of the Sanhedrin (Mark 15:43) who had not voted for its plan, and a secret disciple for fear (John 19:38). Like Simeon and Anna (2:25, 38), he was waiting for God's promises.
23:52 having gone to Pilate, asked for the body of Jesus This took courage. Asking for the body of a man executed as a rebel king could cost his seat and good name. Rome often left bodies on the cross or threw them in a common grave. When it mattered most, this quiet believer came forward while most of the twelve hid.
23:53 placed it in a rock-hewn tomb, where no one had yet been laid A burial cave cut from solid rock, the kind only the wealthy could afford. It was Joseph's own new tomb (Matt 27:57-60), and Nicodemus helped (John 19:39-40). Isaiah foretold the Servant's grave with a rich man (Isa 53:9). A new tomb meant no confusion later about whose body was missing.

tomb, where no one had yet been laid. 54 And it was the day of Preparation, and the Sabbath was dawning. 55 And the women also, who had come with Him out of Galilee, having followed after, saw the tomb and how His body was laid. 56 And having returned, they prepared spices and ointments. And on the Sabbath they indeed rested according to the commandment.

He Is Risen

1 But on the first day of the week, at deep dawn, they came to the tomb, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them. 2 And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb. 3 And having entered, they did not find the body of the Lord Jesus (Iesous). 4 And it came to pass, while they were perplexed about this, that look, two men stood by them in flashing garments. 5 And as they became terrified and were bowing the face to the ground, they said to them, "Why do you seek the living One among the dead? 6 He is not here, but He has been raised. Remember how He spoke to you while He was still in Galilee (Galilaia), 7 saying that the Son of Man must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and on the third day rise." 8 And they remembered His declarations, 9 and having returned from the tomb, they reported all these things to the eleven and to all the rest. 10 Now it was Mary (Maria) the Magdalene and Joanna (Ioanna) and Mary of James (Iakobos), and the other women with them, who were telling these things to the apostles. 11 And their declarations appeared before them like nonsense, and they were not believing them. 12 But Peter (Petros), having risen up, ran to the tomb; and having stooped down, he sees the linen strips lying alone; and he went away to his home, wondering at what had come to pass.

The Road to Emmaus

13 And look, two of them were going on that same day to a village distant approximately 7 miles (sixty stadia) from Jerusalem (Hierousalem), whose name is Emmaus (Emmaous). 14 And they were talking with one another about all these things that had taken place. 15 And it came to pass, while they were talking and reasoning, that Jesus Himself, having drawn near, was walking along with them. 16 But their eyes were being held, so as not to recognize Him. 17 And He said to them, "What are these words which you are exchanging with one another while walking, and you are 23:54 it was the day of Preparation, and the Sabbath was dawning Friday, when everything was readied for the Sabbath, which began at sundown. Jesus died about three, so Joseph had little time.

23:56 they prepared spices and ointments The women knew exactly which tomb it was. The spices were a last act of love, to honor the dead and cover the smell of decay. They expected a body, not a resurrection. They kept the Sabbath (Exod 20:8-10) and waited through the darkest day of their lives. But Sunday was coming.
24:1 on the first day of the week, at deep dawn, they came to the tomb Sunday, very early, as soon as the Sabbath allowed. They came with spices for a body, not expecting to see Him alive, and there were more women than Luke names. Because He rose on this day, the early church gathered on it (Acts 20:7; 1 Cor 16:2). Every Sunday reminds us of the empty tomb.
24:2 they found the stone rolled away from the tomb A large round stone rolled in a groove across the entrance took several men to move, and the women had wondered who would do it (Mark 16:3). Inside they did not find the body of "the Lord Jesus," Luke's first use of the full title. It was not rolled away to let Jesus out; He did not need that (John 20:19). It was rolled away to let the witnesses in.
24:4 two men stood by them in flashing garments Perplexed is at a loss. They were angels (24:23; John 20:12), their clothes shining like lightning. Matthew and Mark mention the one who spoke (Mark 16:5). If there were two, there was certainly one.
24:5 Why do you seek the living One among the dead They bowed in fear and awe. One of the great questions of the Bible. A tomb is for the dead, and Jesus is the living One. Many still look for Him among the dead, admiring a great teacher from a history book. He is not a dead hero. He is alive.
24:6 He is not here, but He has been raised The most important words ever spoken at a grave. God raised Him bodily, never to die again (Rom 6:9). "Must": it was God's plan, and should not have been a surprise. The women had been with Him in Galilee (8:1-3) and heard Him foretell it more than once (9:22, 44; 18:31-33).
24:8 they remembered His declarations Suddenly His words made sense. God often brings His word back to mind at the right moment (John 14:26), one reason to fill our hearts with it now.
24:10 it was Mary the Magdalene and Joanna and Mary of James Mary of Magdala had been freed of seven demons (8:2); Joanna was the wife of Herod's steward (8:3); Mary of James was likely James' mother. The eleven are the twelve without Judas. A woman's word counted for little in court, and no one inventing a story would make women the first witnesses. Naming them shows Luke tells what really happened, and how God honors those the world overlooks.
24:11 their declarations appeared before them like nonsense A word for the wild talk of someone in a fever. The disciples were not gullible men who made up a story. They did not expect a resurrection and refused to believe it at first. It took real evidence to change their minds, and then they were willing to die for what they had seen.
24:12 he sees the linen strips lying alone Peter had to see for himself, and John ran with him (John 20:3-8). Thieves would not unwrap a body and leave the cloths. Peter went home wondering. That day the Lord appeared to him personally (24:34; 1 Cor 15:5). After three denials, we know Jesus restored him.
24:13 a village distant approximately 7 miles from Jerusalem, whose name is Emmaus Its site is not known for sure. These two were not of the eleven but the wider group of disciples. One was Cleopas (24:18). Some think the other was his wife, but Scripture does not say.
24:15 Jesus Himself, having drawn near, was walking along with them They were going over the cross, the burial and the women's report. Jesus came to two sad, confused disciples on a dusty road. He did not wait for them to come to Him.
24:16 their eyes were being held, so as not to recognize Him God kept them from knowing Him for a time. Jesus wanted them to understand His death and resurrection from the Scriptures first. Faith must rest on the word of God.
24:17 What are these words which you are exchanging with one another while walking, and you are sad Jesus knew the answer and asked so they would pour out their hearts. He knows what troubles us and still invites us to tell Him. Their faces showed they had lost all hope.

sad?" 18 And answering, the one whose name was Cleopas (Kleopas) said to Him, "Are You alone sojourning in Jerusalem, and did not know the things that have come to pass in it in these days?" 19 And He said to them, "What things?" And they said to Him, "The things concerning Jesus the Nazarene, who was a man, a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people, 20 and how the chief priests and our rulers delivered Him up to a judgment of death, and crucified Him. 21 But we were hoping that it is He who is about to redeem Israel. But indeed, with all these things, this is the third day today since these things came to pass. 22 But also certain women from among us amazed us, having been at the tomb early; 23 and not having found His body, they came, saying that they had also seen a vision of angels, who say that He is living. 24 And some of those with us went to the tomb and found it so, just as the women also said; but Him they did not see." 25 And He said to them, "O foolish ones and slow in heart to believe in all that the prophets spoke! 26 Was it not necessary for the Christ to suffer these things and to enter into His glory?" 27 And having begun from Moses and from all the prophets, He was explaining to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself. 28 And they drew near to the village where they were going, and He made as though to be going farther. 29 And they urged Him strongly, saying, "Stay with us, for it is toward evening, and the day has declined." And He went in to stay with them. 30 And it came to pass, as He reclined at table with them, having taken the bread, He blessed it, and having broken it, He was giving it to them. 31 And their eyes were opened, and they recognized Him; and He vanished from them. 32 And they said to one another, "Was not our heart burning within us while He was speaking to us on the road, and while He was opening the Scriptures to us?" 33 And having risen up that same hour, they returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven and those with them gathered together, 34 saying, "The Lord has truly been raised, and He has appeared to Simon." 35 And they were relating the things on the road, and how He was made known to them in the breaking of the bread.

Jesus Appears to the Disciples

36 And as they were saying these things, Jesus Himself stood in the midst of them and says to them, "Peace to you." 37 But having been startled and having become terrified, they were thinking that they were seeing a spirit. 38 And He said to them, "Why are you troubled? And why do doubts come up

24:18 Are You alone sojourning in Jerusalem A sojourner is a short-term visitor. Everyone was talking about the crucifixion. The irony is that Cleopas was asking the one Person who knew those events better than anyone alive.
24:19 a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people Jesus let them tell it. They believed Him a great prophet, proven by miracles and teaching, and they said plainly that their own leaders had handed Him over to die.
24:21 But we were hoping that it is He who is about to redeem Israel Some of the saddest words in the Bible, hope in the past tense. To redeem Israel meant to set the nation free, likely from Rome. Their hope was right but too small. He came to redeem Israel and the world by dying for sin, and He will still redeem Israel as a nation when He comes again (Rom 11:26). They mention the third day without seeing what it meant.
24:24 but Him they did not see They had all the facts: an empty tomb, angels saying He lived, others checking and finding it so. But they could not put it together, while He walked right beside them.
24:25 O foolish ones and slow in heart to believe in all that the prophets spoke Foolish means without understanding. They believed the prophets about a glorious King but not all they spoke, including His suffering. We too can pick the parts of Scripture we like. We need to believe all of it.
24:26 Was it not necessary for the Christ to suffer these things and to enter into His glory The cross was not a failure of God's plan; it was the plan. The order all through Scripture is suffering, then glory (1 Pet 1:10-11).
24:27 He was explaining to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself What a Bible study! Moses means the first five books. We are not told which passages, but think of the seed of the woman (Gen 3:15), the ram in Isaac's place (Gen 22:8, 13), the Passover lamb (Exod 12), the bronze serpent (Num 21:8-9; John 3:14), the prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15), the pierced Servant (Isa 53), the King on a donkey (Zech 9:9), the One they pierced (Zech 12:10), and the Son of Man on the clouds (Dan 7:13-14). The whole Bible is about Jesus. Look for Him on every page.
24:29 Stay with us, for it is toward evening He acted as if He would go on and did not force Himself on them. Night roads were not safe, and their hearts were stirred though they did not know why. Jesus still waits to be invited in (Rev 3:20).
24:30 having taken the bread, He blessed it, and having broken it, He was giving it to them The guest took the host's place and did what He did at the feeding of the five thousand (9:16) and the Last Supper (22:19).
24:31 their eyes were opened, and they recognized Him; and He vanished from them Maybe it was the way He broke the bread, or the nail wounds in His hands. Scripture does not say, but God opened their eyes. His resurrection body was real but not bound by the limits our bodies have now.
24:32 Was not our heart burning within us Looking back, their hearts had been on fire the whole time He taught. God's word is not dry and dead. When the Spirit shows us Christ in it, our hearts burn. If your heart feels cold, spend time in His word and ask Him to open it to you.
24:34 The Lord has truly been raised, and He has appeared to Simon They had walked seven miles and walked back at night, unable to keep the news. Before they could tell it, they heard the others'. Paul lists this appearance first (1 Cor 15:5). Peter, who denied Him, was the first apostle to see Him alive. That is grace.
24:35 how He was made known to them in the breaking of the bread Two groups had seen Him in two places, and the witnesses were adding up. The breaking of the bread became a name for believers' shared meals and the Lord's Supper (Acts 2:42, 46). Each time we break bread in His name, we remember He is alive and with us.
24:36 Peace to you The doors were locked in fear (John 20:19), and He was suddenly there. Shalom was the normal greeting, but that night it meant far more. To men who had run away, His first word was not a rebuke but peace. Through His death He made peace between God and sinners (Rom 5:1; Col 1:20).

in your hearts? 39 See My hands and My feet, that it is I Myself; touch Me and see, for a spirit does not have flesh and bones, just as you see Me having." 40 And having said this, He showed them His hands and His feet. 41 And while they were still disbelieving for joy and wondering, He said to them, "Do you have anything to eat here?" 42 And they gave Him a piece of a broiled fish and some from a honeycomb. 43 And having taken it, He ate it before them.

The Commission and the Promise

44 And He said to them, "These are the words which I spoke to you while I was still with you, that all the things which are written concerning Me in the law of Moses and the prophets and the psalms must be fulfilled." 45 Then He opened their mind to understand the Scriptures, 46 and He said to them, "Thus it has been written, and thus it was necessary for the Christ to suffer and to rise out from the dead on the third day, 47 and repentance and forgiveness of sins to be proclaimed in His name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem. 48 And you are witnesses of these things. 49 And look, I am sending the promise of My Father upon you; but you, remain in the city of Jerusalem until you are clothed with power from on high."

The Ascension

50 And He led them out as far as Bethany (Bethania), and having lifted up His hands, He blessed them. 51 And it came to pass, while He was blessing them, He parted from them and was being carried up into heaven. 52 And having worshiped Him, they returned to Jerusalem with great joy, 53 and they were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

24:53 Mark 16:20; Acts 2:46,47; Acts 5:41,42

24:39 a spirit does not have flesh and bones, just as you see Me having They thought they saw a spirit; people who expect a resurrection do not react this way. Jesus was patient with their fear and gave evidence: nail wounds to see and a body to touch. Some say His resurrection was only spiritual while His body stayed in the grave. Jesus says no. The same body that was crucified was raised, changed and glorified, never to die again, and it is the pattern for ours (Phil 3:21).
24:40 He showed them His hands and His feet He still bears those wounds. John saw Him in heaven as a Lamb standing as though slain (Rev 5:6). The scars of the cross are His forever.
24:43 He ate it before them Disbelieving for joy, they found it too good to be true. A spirit does not eat fish. Peter later preached that the apostles ate and drank with Him after He rose (Acts 10:41). The words "some from a honeycomb" in 24:42 follow the Received Greek Text and are lacking in many older Greek copies.
24:44 in the law of Moses and the prophets and the psalms The Jews divided the Old Testament into the Law, the Prophets and the Writings, and the Psalms, first and largest of the Writings, can stand for that part. Every part speaks of Him, and it must be fulfilled. God's word cannot fail.
24:45 Then He opened their mind to understand the Scriptures They had heard the Scriptures all their lives without understanding until He opened their minds. Reading the Bible is not only a matter of brains. We need the Spirit's help (1 Cor 2:12-14), so we pray before we study for eyes to see wonderful things in His word (Ps 119:18).
24:47 repentance and forgiveness of sins to be proclaimed in His name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem The suffering and rising on the third day were written beforehand (Ps 16:10; Isa 53:5-12; Hos 6:2). Luke's form of the Great Commission. Repentance turns from sin to God; forgiveness sends sins away. In His name means on His authority and through faith in Him, to every people on earth. The city that crucified Him heard the offer first, and Acts shows it spreading to the ends of the earth (Acts 1:8). We cannot leave out sin and still preach the gospel Jesus gave.
24:48 you are witnesses of these things A witness tells what he has seen and heard, and Acts is the story of these witnesses (Acts 1:22; 2:32). We are not eyewitnesses, but we have their testimony in Scripture and the experience of a changed life. Every believer is called to tell others what Jesus has done.
24:49 until you are clothed with power from on high The promise of the Father is the Holy Spirit, promised by the prophets (Joel 2:28-29; Ezek 36:26-27) and by John (3:16). Clothed means covered as with a garment. They were not to preach in their own strength but wait. Ten days after the ascension, at Pentecost, the Spirit came in power (Acts 2:1-4). God's work can only be done by God's power.
24:50 having lifted up His hands, He blessed them Bethany lay on the Mount of Olives' eastern slope (Acts 1:12), at the end of the forty days Luke describes in Acts 1:3. Lifting the hands to bless was a priest's act (Lev 9:22). Our great High Priest lifted His nail-scarred hands over His people. The last thing they saw Him do on earth was bless them.
24:51 He parted from them and was being carried up into heaven The ascension, bodily, a cloud taking Him from sight (Acts 1:9). In a sense He has never stopped blessing; He prays for His people at the Father's right hand (Rom 8:34; Heb 7:25). This same Jesus will come as they saw Him go (Acts 1:11). I believe He will first come for His church (John 14:2-3; 1 Thess 4:16-17), and after the Tribulation return to the Mount of Olives in power and glory to reign (Zech 14:4; Rev 19:11-16).
24:52 having worshiped Him, they returned to Jerusalem with great joy Faithful Jews worshiped only God, and they now knew who Jesus was. Their Lord had left, yet they were full of joy because He was alive, Lord, had blessed them, and promised His Spirit and His return. Luke began with great joy at His birth (2:10) and ends with great joy.
24:53 they were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen Luke began in the temple with Zechariah's incense (1:8-9) and ends there with praise. They waited for the promise with praise, as God's people should, and Acts picks up the story here. Amen means it is true. Jesus lived, died, rose and went up to heaven, and He is coming again.

JOHN

Introduction

Title

The book is named for its writer, John. It is the fourth and last of the Gospels. The word gospel means good news, and each Gospel tells the good news of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. Matthew, Mark and Luke are often called the Synoptic Gospels, from a word meaning seeing together, because they tell many of the same events in much the same order. John is different. Most of what he records is not found in the other three. He does not tell of Jesus' birth, baptism, temptation or parables. He opens before the creation of the world and tells us who Jesus is: the eternal Word of God who became a man.

Author and Date

The book never names its author. It calls him "the disciple whom Jesus was loving" and says he was an eyewitness who wrote these things (21:20-24). The early church held that this disciple is John the apostle, the son of Zebedee and brother of James, a fisherman from Galilee and one of the three closest to Jesus, along with Peter and James. He also wrote the three letters of John and Revelation. I hold this traditional view. The writer knows the land, the feasts and the customs of the Jews, gives small details only an eyewitness would remember, and never once names himself, though he names nearly everyone else.

Early church tradition places John in Ephesus, in the Roman province of Asia, in the later years of his life, and most believe he wrote his Gospel there. He wrote after the other three Gospels, most likely about A.D. 80 to 95. Some scholars date it earlier, before the Romans destroyed Jerusalem and the temple in A.D. 70.

Background and Setting

John covers the public ministry of Jesus, which lasted about three years. We know this because John mentions at least three Passovers (2:13; 6:4; 11:55). Much of the action takes place in Jerusalem at the Jewish feasts: Passover, Booths and Dedication. John slows down dramatically for the last week of Jesus' life. Chapters 13 to 17 cover a single evening in the upper room and on the way to the garden.

When John writes "the Jews," he usually means the religious leaders in Jerusalem who opposed Jesus, not the Jewish people as a whole. John himself was Jewish, as were Jesus and every one of the disciples. We meet the Pharisees, a strict party careful about the Law and the traditions built around it; the chief priests, mostly Sadducees, who controlled the temple; and the Sanhedrin, the ruling council. Judea was under Roman rule, and only the Romans could carry out the death penalty (18:31). John explains Hebrew words and Jewish customs for his readers, which tells us he wrote for people across the Roman world.

Themes

John tells us his purpose plainly: "these have been written so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing you may have life in His name" (20:31). I often call John the believing Gospel. He uses the word "believe" nearly a hundred times, more than Matthew, Mark and Luke put together. For John, faith is something you do. You believe in Jesus, trust Him, and keep on trusting Him.

John never calls Jesus' miracles miracles. He calls them signs, because a sign points beyond itself. Most teachers count seven in Jesus' public ministry: water into wine (2:1-11), the official's son (4:46-54), the man at Bethesda (5:1-18), the five thousand fed (6:1-14), walking on the water (6:16-21), the man born blind (9:1-41) and Lazarus raised (11:1-44). The greatest sign of all is His own resurrection.

Other key words run through the book: life, light and darkness, truth, witness, the world, the hour, and remain. John shows us how to be saved (3:16), how the Holy Spirit works in believers (14-16), and how to love one another as Jesus loved us (13:34-35).

Christ in John

From the first verse John tells us Jesus is God: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God" (1:1). Then "the Word became flesh and dwelt among us" (1:14). He is the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world (1:29), the only begotten Son (3:16), and the One who existed before Abraham: "before Abraham came into being, I am" (8:58), taking God's name from the burning bush (Exod 3:14).

Jesus joins "I am" to seven pictures of what He is to us: the bread of life (6:35), the light of the world (8:12), the door (10:7), the good shepherd (10:11), the resurrection and the life (11:25), the way and the truth and the life (14:6), and the true vine (15:1). The book closes its main story with Thomas looking at the risen Jesus and saying, "My Lord and my God" (20:28). Jesus accepted it, because it was true.

Hard Passages

Two passages printed in the SLB are missing from the earliest Greek copies we have: the angel stirring the water at Bethesda (5:3b-4) and the woman caught in adultery (7:53-8:11). The notes comment on both as printed and explain why many Bibles mark them. No teaching of the faith rests on them alone.

What does "born of water and the Spirit" mean (3:5)? The notes give the main views and explain the reading from Ezekiel 36:25-27.

How do God's drawing and man's coming fit together (6:37, 44; 12:39-40)? What does it mean to eat His flesh and drink His blood (6:53-58)? The notes name the main views. Can a true believer be lost (5:24; 10:28-29; 15:6)? Good teachers land on both sides, and the notes leave it open while holding out the comfort Jesus meant to give.

Who may forgive or retain sins (20:23)? The notes explain it as the church's authority to declare forgiveness through the gospel. Is "I am coming again and will receive you to Myself" (14:3) the Rapture? I believe it is, and the notes name the other view. How does John's timing of the Passover and the sixth hour fit the other Gospels (18:28; 19:14)? The notes give the common explanations.

The Word Became Flesh

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 He was in the beginning with God. 3 All things came into being through Him, and without Him not even one thing came into being that has come into being. 4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. 5 And the light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not grasp it. 6 There came a man sent from God; his name was John (Ioannes). 7 He came for testimony, that he might testify concerning the Light, that all might believe through him. 8 He was not the Light, but came that he might testify concerning the Light. 9 That was the true Light, which enlightens every man coming into the world. 10 He was in the world, and the world came into being through Him, and the world did not know Him. 11 He came to His own things, and His own people did not receive Him. 12 But as many as received Him, to them He gave authority to become children of God, to those who believe in His name, 13 who were born not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of a man, but of God. 14 And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, glory as of an only begotten from the Father, full of grace and truth. 15 John testifies concerning Him and has cried out, saying, "This was He of whom I said, 'The One coming after me has come to be ahead of me, because He was before me.'" 16 And from His fullness we all have received, and grace for grace. 17 For the law was given through Moses; the grace and the truth came through Jesus (Iesous) Christ. 18 No one has ever seen God; the only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, He has

1:1 In the beginning was the Word These words take us straight back to Genesis 1:1. Before anything was created, the Word already was. He did not come into being at some point. The Greek word is logos, a word or message, the way a hidden thought is made known. In the same way Jesus is how God makes Himself known to us.
1:1 the Word was God John tells us three things: the Word existed in the beginning, He was with God as a distinct person, and He was God, sharing the very nature of God. Some say it should read that the Word was a god, but that reading does not hold up. It would make John, a Jew who believed in one God (Deut 6:4), teach two gods. Thomas will call the risen Jesus "My Lord and my God" (20:28), and Jesus accepts it.
1:3 All things came into being through Him John says it two ways so there is no loophole. If Jesus made everything that was made, then He Himself was not made. He is the Creator, not part of the creation (Col 1:16-17; Heb 1:2).
1:4 In Him was life, and the life was the light of men Not only the life God breathed into Adam, but the eternal life that runs all through this Gospel. Light lets us see what is true. Jesus shows us who God is, and He shows us who we really are.
1:5 the darkness did not grasp it The word can mean to understand, and it can mean to overpower or seize. Both fit. The darkness of this world did not understand Jesus, and for all its trying it could not put Him out. Even the cross did not put out the Light.
1:6 There came a man sent from God; his name was John This is John the Baptist, not the apostle who wrote this book. The Word was; John came. Whenever this Gospel uses the name John for someone in the story, it means the Baptist. The writer never names himself.
1:7 that all might believe through him A witness tells what he has seen and heard, and "testify" is a key word in this Gospel. John the Baptist pointed people to Jesus so they would believe in Jesus, not in John. That is the goal of the whole book (20:31).
1:8 He was not the Light Jesus said no one born of women was greater than John (Matt 11:11), yet some were following John as if he were the Messiah, and his followers were still around years later (Acts 19:1-4). John was the signpost, not the destination.
1:9 which enlightens every man coming into the world Jesus is the true Light among many false ones. This does not mean every person is saved. The Light is offered to everyone, and every person will stand in that Light one way or another, either drawn to Him or exposed by Him (3:19-21).
1:10 the world did not know Him The Creator came into His own creation, and it did not recognize Him. In John, "the world" usually means mankind in rebellion against God.
1:11 His own people did not receive Him The first "His own" means His own home or property, the second His own people, Israel. He came to the nation God had prepared for Him through the promises, the prophets and the temple, and as a whole they did not receive Him. That rejection runs through this Gospel until the cross.
1:12 authority to become children of God The good news in a single verse. We are all created by God, but we become His children by receiving His Son, which John explains as believing in His name. To believe in His name is to trust all His name stands for: who He is and what He has done.
1:13 not of bloods, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of a man, but of God The new birth does not come from family line, human desire or someone else's decision. You cannot inherit salvation from your parents. God does the work of making us new, as Jesus will tell Nicodemus in chapter 3.
1:14 the Word became flesh The most amazing thing of all. God did not only appear to be human. He became a real man with a real body who got hungry, tired and thirsty. He did not stop being God. He added humanity to His deity.
1:14 dwelt among us The word means He pitched His tent among us, a reminder of the tabernacle where God's glory lived among Israel (Exod 40:34). "Only begotten" means one of a kind. He came "full of grace and truth," giving us what we do not deserve and telling us what we need to hear.
1:15 He was before me John was born about six months before Jesus (Luke 1:26, 36) and began preaching first. Yet he says Jesus outranks him because Jesus existed before He was ever born in Bethlehem.
1:16 grace for grace Like waves on the shore: one wave of God's kindness rolls in, and before it is gone another comes behind it. Christ never runs short, and we never use Him up.
1:17 the law was given through Moses; the grace and the truth came through Jesus Christ The Law was good and holy and showed Israel what God required, but it could not give the power to keep it. Grace and truth came in full through Jesus. This is the first time John uses the name Jesus Christ. The Word now has a name.
1:18 No one has ever seen God No one has seen God in all His glory and lived (Exod 33:20). The word for "made Him known" gives us our word exegesis. Jesus explains the Father. If you want to know what God is like, look at Jesus. "In the bosom of the Father" is the closest, most loving relationship there is.

made Him known.

The Witness of John the Baptist

19 And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) that they might ask him, "Who are you?" 20 And he confessed and did not deny, but confessed, "I am not the Christ." 21 And they asked him, "What then? Are you Elijah (Helias)?" And he says, "I am not." "Are you the prophet?" And he answered, "No." 22 Therefore they said to him, "Who are you, that we may give an answer to those who sent us? What do you say about yourself?" 23 He said, "I am a voice of one crying in the wilderness, 'Make straight the way of the Lord,' as Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet said." 24 And those who had been sent were from the Pharisees. 25 And they asked him and said to him, "Why then do you baptize, if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the prophet?" 26 John answered them, saying, "I baptize with water, but in the midst of you One has stood whom you do not know. 27 He is the One coming after me, who has come to be ahead of me, the strap of whose sandal I am not worthy to untie." 28 These things took place in Bethabara across the Jordan (Iordanes), where John was baptizing. 29 On the next day John sees Jesus coming to him, and says, "Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world! 30 This is He of whom I said, 'After me comes a man who has come to be ahead of me, because He was before me.' 31 And I did not know Him; but that He might be revealed to Israel, for this reason I came baptizing with the water." 32 And John testified, saying, "I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven, and He remained upon Him. 33 And I did not know Him; but the One who sent me to baptize with water, He said to me, 'Upon whomever you see the Spirit descending and remaining on Him, this is the One who baptizes with the Holy Spirit.' 34 And I have seen and have testified that this is the Son of God."

The First Disciples

35 On the next day again John was standing, and two of his disciples, 36 and looking at Jesus as He walked, he says, "Look, the Lamb of God!" 37 And the two disciples heard him speaking, and they followed Jesus. 38 Then Jesus, having turned and having beheld them following, says to them, "What are you seeking?" And they said to Him, "Rabbi" (which is to say, being interpreted, Teacher), "where are You staying?" 39 He says to them, "Come and see." They went and saw where He was staying, and they stayed with Him that day. Now the hour was about the tenth. 40 Andrew (Andreas), the brother of Simon Peter (Petros), was one of

1:19 the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem When John writes "the Jews," he usually means the religious leaders who opposed Jesus, not the Jewish people as a whole. John himself was Jewish, as were Jesus and every one of the disciples. Levites were the tribe of Levi, who served at the temple.
1:20 I am not the Christ Christ is the Greek form of the Hebrew Messiah. Both mean Anointed One, God's promised King. John could have taken the attention. He did the opposite.
1:21 Are you Elijah? Malachi 4:5 promised Elijah before the great day of the Lord. John would come "in the spirit and power of Elijah" (Luke 1:17), and Jesus said he filled that role for those willing to accept it (Matt 11:14). He was not Elijah come back in person, so he answered honestly. "The prophet" is the prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15), and that Prophet is Jesus (Acts 3:22).
1:23 I am a voice of one crying in the wilderness John answered with Isaiah 40:3. Before a king traveled, workers went ahead to fill holes and straighten the road. John prepared hearts for the King by calling people to repent, and he claimed no title for himself, only a voice.
1:24 from the Pharisees The Pharisees were a strict religious party, careful about the Law and the traditions built around it. They will become some of Jesus' strongest opponents in this Gospel.
1:25 Why then do you baptize Many scholars believe Jews already baptized Gentiles who converted. John was baptizing Jews, telling them they needed to repent and be cleansed just like outsiders. By what authority?
1:27 the strap of whose sandal I am not worthy to untie Untying sandals was the lowest job a servant could do. John knew exactly who he was and who he was not.
1:28 Bethabara across the Jordan Many Greek copies read Bethany here. Either way the place was on the east side of the river, not the Bethany near Jerusalem where Lazarus lived (11:1).
1:29 Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world Every Jew listening would think of the temple lambs and the Passover lamb whose blood saved Israel in Egypt (Exod 12). Isaiah 53:7 pictured the Messiah as a lamb led to slaughter. Jesus is the sacrifice all those lambs pointed to, and not for Israel only but for the world. The same Lamb stands at the throne in Revelation 5.
1:31 I did not know Him John and Jesus were relatives (Luke 1:36), so he likely knew Him as a man. He did not know Him as the Messiah until God showed him. The whole point of his baptizing was that the Messiah would be revealed to Israel.
1:32 He remained upon Him The other Gospels tell this at Jesus' baptism (Matt 3:16-17). In the Old Testament the Spirit came on prophets and kings for a time. On Jesus the Spirit remained.
1:33 this is the One who baptizes with the Holy Spirit John could put people in water. Only Jesus can put the Holy Spirit inside a person. That promise was fulfilled at Pentecost, the feast fifty days after Passover (Acts 2), and is fulfilled every time someone believes (Acts 2:38-39).
1:34 this is the Son of God The high point of John's testimony, and the very thing this Gospel was written to convince us of (20:31).
1:36 Look, the Lamb of God! John knew that if he pointed his own disciples to Jesus, they would leave him. He did it anyway. A faithful teacher points his students past himself.
1:38 What are you seeking? Jesus' first words in this Gospel are a question, and it is still a good one for each of us. Their answer, "where are You staying," shows they wanted time with Him, not a quick word in passing. John translates Rabbi for readers outside Israel.
1:39 Come and see Jesus did not hand them an argument. He invited them to spend time with Him. The tenth hour was most likely about four in the afternoon, counting from sunrise as the Jews did. It is the kind of detail an eyewitness remembers.
1:40 one of the two who heard from John and followed Him The other is not named. Many believe he was John himself, the writer, who never names himself and later calls himself "the disciple whom Jesus was loving" (21:20).

the two who heard from John and followed Him. 41 He first finds his own brother Simon and says to him, "We have found the Messiah" (which is, being translated, the Christ). 42 And he led him to Jesus. Now Jesus, having looked at him, said, "You are Simon the son of Jonah (Ionas); you will be called Cephas (Kephas)" (which is translated, Peter). 43 On the next day Jesus wanted to go forth into Galilee (Galilaia), and He finds Philip (Philippos), and says to him, "Follow Me." 44 Now Philip was from Bethsaida, from the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip finds Nathanael and says to him, "We have found Him of whom Moses wrote in the law, and the prophets: Jesus the son of Joseph (Ioseph), the one from Nazareth." 46 And Nathanael said to him, "Can any good thing be out of Nazareth?" Philip says to him, "Come and see." 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to Him, and He says concerning him, "Look, truly an Israelite, in whom there is no deceit!" 48 Nathanael says to Him, "From where do You know me?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Before Philip called you, while you were under the fig tree, I saw you." 49 Nathanael answered and says to Him, "Rabbi, You are the Son of God; You are the King of Israel!" 50 Jesus answered and said to him, "Because I said to you, 'I saw you underneath the fig tree,' do you believe? You will see greater things than these." 51 And He says to him, "Truly, truly, I say to you, from now on you will see heaven opened, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man."

Water Turned into Wine

1 And on the third day a wedding took place in Cana (Kana) of Galilee (Galilaia), and the mother of Jesus (Iesous) was there. 2 Now Jesus also was invited, and His disciples, to the wedding. 3 And when the wine ran out, the mother of Jesus says to Him, "They have no wine." 4 Jesus says to her, "What is that to Me and to you, woman? My hour has not yet come." 5 His mother says to the servants, "Whatever He says to you, do it." 6 Now there were six stone water jars standing there according to the purification of the Jews, holding approximately 20 or 30 gallons (two or three metretes) apiece. 7 Jesus says to them, "Fill the water jars with water." And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And He says to them, "Draw out now, and carry it to the master of the feast." And they carried it. 9 Now when the master of the feast tasted the water that had become wine, and did not know where it was from (but the servants who had drawn the water knew), the

1:41 We have found the Messiah The first thing Andrew did was find his brother. He did not wait until he understood everything. Every time Andrew appears in this Gospel he is bringing someone to Jesus (6:8-9; 12:22).
1:42 you will be called Cephas Cephas is Aramaic for rock, and Peter is the Greek form. Simon was anything but a rock yet, impulsive and up and down. Jesus named him for who He would make him to be. He sees not only who we are but who we will become in Him.
1:43 Follow Me This time Jesus did the finding. Everything about being a disciple is packed into these two words.
1:44 Bethsaida A fishing town on the north shore of the Sea of Galilee. God often uses ordinary ties, neighbors and family, to spread the good news.
1:45 Him of whom Moses wrote in the law, and the prophets The whole Old Testament points to Jesus. Philip called Him "the son of Joseph" because that is how people knew Him. He did not yet understand the full truth about Jesus' birth, but he knew enough to bring his friend.
1:46 Can any good thing be out of Nazareth? Nazareth was a small, unimportant village. Philip did not argue. He gave the best answer to an honest skeptic: "Come and see." Introduce people to Jesus and let Him do the rest.
1:47 truly an Israelite, in whom there is no deceit Jacob, the father of Israel, was known for his deceit (Gen 27:35-36). Nathanael said what he thought, even about Nazareth, and Jesus respected it.
1:48 while you were under the fig tree, I saw you A fig tree was a common place for shade, rest and prayer. Whatever Nathanael was doing or praying there, Jesus knew. He knows us just as well.
1:49 You are the Son of God; You are the King of Israel From doubter to believer in one conversation. Honest seekers who come and see find that Jesus is more than they expected.
1:51 the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man "Truly, truly" marks something very important. Jacob dreamed of a ladder from earth to heaven with angels going up and down (Gen 28:12). Jesus is that ladder, the connection between God and man. Son of Man was His favorite name for Himself, from Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man receives an everlasting kingdom.
2:1 on the third day a wedding took place in Cana of Galilee Most likely three days after Jesus called Philip and Nathanael. Cana was a small village a few miles from Nazareth, and Nathanael's hometown (21:2). Weddings could last several days, and the groom's family hosted the guests. John never names Mary. She is always "the mother of Jesus" or "His mother."
2:2 Jesus also was invited Jesus' first sign happened at a wedding party. He was not a grim, joyless figure. He went to weddings, ate with people and cared about ordinary life.
2:3 They have no wine In a culture built on hospitality, running out of wine was an embarrassment the family would carry for years. Mary did not tell Jesus what to do. She simply told Him what was wrong. That is a good pattern for our prayers.
2:4 What is that to Me and to you, woman? "Woman" was a respectful address in that day. Jesus used it from the cross when He put His mother into John's care (19:26). Still, He was gently setting a boundary. His mission would be directed by His Father, not by His family.
2:4 My hour has not yet come A phrase that runs through this Gospel (7:30; 8:20). His hour is the time of His death, resurrection and return to the Father, and in 12:23 He says, "The hour has come." Everything Jesus did was on His Father's schedule.
2:5 Whatever He says to you, do it The last words of Mary recorded in the Bible, and still good advice for every believer.
2:6 six stone water jars Each held twenty to thirty gallons, well over a hundred gallons in all. They held water for the ceremonial washings of hands and dishes by tradition (Mark 7:3-4). By that tradition stone did not become unclean the way clay did. Jesus was about to take the water of religious ritual and turn it into something far better.
2:7 they filled them up to the brim No room was left for anything to be added. No one could say later that the servants slipped something in.
2:8 carry it to the master of the feast The servants knew they had poured plain water. It took faith to carry it to the man in charge. Sometimes Jesus asks us to take a step before we see how it will work out. People who obey Him often see what He is doing when others miss it (2:9).

master of the feast calls the bridegroom 10 and says to him, "Every man sets out the good wine first, and when they have drunk freely, then the inferior; you have kept the good wine until now." 11 This beginning of the signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and He revealed His glory, and His disciples believed in Him. 12 After this He went down to Capernaum (Kapernaoum), He and His mother and His brothers and His disciples, and they stayed there not many days.

Jesus Cleanses the Temple

13 And the Passover of the Jews was near, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma). 14 And He found in the temple those selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers sitting. 15 And having made a whip of cords, He drove all out of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and He poured out the coins of the money changers and overturned the tables. 16 And to those selling the doves He said, "Take these things from here; do not make the house of My Father a house of trade." 17 And His disciples remembered that it is written, "The zeal of Your house has consumed Me." 18 Therefore the Jews answered and said to Him, "What sign do You show us, that You do these things?" 19 Jesus answered and said to them, "Destroy this sanctuary, and in three days I will raise it up." 20 Therefore the Jews said, "In forty and six years this sanctuary was built, and You will raise it up in three days?" 21 But He was speaking concerning the sanctuary of His body. 22 Therefore when He was raised from the dead, His disciples remembered that He was saying this to them, and they believed the Scripture and the word which Jesus had spoken. 23 Now when He was in Jerusalem at the Passover, at the feast, many believed in His name, beholding His signs which He was doing. 24 But Jesus Himself was not entrusting Himself to them, because He knew all men, 25 and because He had no need that anyone should testify concerning man; for He Himself knew what was in man.

2:10 you have kept the good wine until now A host normally served the best wine first and the cheaper wine once guests would not notice. This was better than anything served earlier, and far more than the party needed. When Jesus provides, He does not give second best. It is "grace for grace" (1:16).
2:11 This beginning of the signs John never calls Jesus' miracles miracles. He calls them signs, because a sign points beyond itself. This one "revealed His glory." Most teachers count seven signs in the first half of this Gospel. The disciples already believed enough to follow Him, and now their faith grew deeper. That is what the signs are for (20:30-31).
2:12 His mother and His brothers Capernaum, on the north shore of the Sea of Galilee, became His home base in Galilee. His brothers were sons born to Mary and Joseph after Jesus. They did not believe in Him yet (7:5), but after the resurrection they did (Acts 1:14), and His brother James became a leader of the church in Jerusalem.
2:13 the Passover of the Jews was near The yearly feast remembering how the blood of a lamb on the doorposts protected Israel's families in Egypt (Exod 12). John mentions at least three Passovers in Jesus' ministry (2:13; 6:4; 11:55), which is why we say His public ministry lasted about three years.
2:14 those selling oxen and sheep and doves, and the money changers The Court of the Gentiles was meant to be a place where non-Jews could pray. It was full of animals, noise and business. Travelers needed animals for sacrifice and the coins accepted for the temple tax, but those services had taken over the one place Gentiles could worship, and many believe the prices took advantage of worshipers.
2:15 having made a whip of cords Jesus took time to make the whip. This was not a loss of temper but holy anger on purpose. Some picture Jesus as only gentle and mild, but He also stood up for His Father's honor. Love and holiness go together.
2:16 do not make the house of My Father a house of trade Doves were the sacrifice the poor could afford (Lev 5:7; Luke 2:24), and He told those sellers to take them away. "My Father" is a claim to a unique relationship with God. It was His Father's house, and He had every right to clean it.
2:17 The zeal of Your house has consumed Me From Psalm 69:9. Zeal is a burning passion. Jesus' love for God's house put Him on a collision course with the temple leaders that ended at the cross.
2:18 What sign do You show us They did not argue that the temple should be a market. They challenged His authority. He had just given a sign by cleansing the temple, as the prophets said the Lord would (Mal 3:1-3). They wanted a show.
2:19 Destroy this sanctuary, and in three days I will raise it up They would destroy, and He would raise. They would put Him to death, and He would rise again. At His trial false witnesses twisted these words into a threat against the temple (Mark 14:57-58).
2:20 In forty and six years this sanctuary was built Herod the Great had begun rebuilding and enlarging the temple decades earlier, and work was still going on. Three days sounded crazy to them.
2:21 the sanctuary of His body The temple was where God lived among His people, and now God lived among them in the body of Jesus (1:14). The stone temple was a picture and Jesus is the reality. The Romans destroyed the stone temple in A.D. 70. The temple of His body was destroyed on the cross and raised three days later, never to die again.
2:22 they believed the Scripture and the word which Jesus had spoken After the resurrection it all came together. Some things God says to us only make sense later. God's written Word and Jesus' own words carry the same authority.
2:23 many believed in His name, beholding His signs It sounds wonderful, but the next verses show their belief was not the real thing. They believed in the miracles more than in the Man.
2:24 Jesus Himself was not entrusting Himself to them "Entrust" is the same Greek word as "believed" in verse 23. They believed in Him, but He did not believe in them. He knew who followed for the show and who would stay when things got hard (6:66).
2:25 He Himself knew what was in man We cannot impress Him and we cannot fool Him. The good news is that the One who knows us best is also the One who loves us most. The next chapter shows what He does with a heart that is honestly searching.
3:1 Nicodemus was his name, a ruler of the Jews A Pharisee and a member of the Sanhedrin, the ruling council of the Jewish people. Jesus calls him "the teacher of Israel" (3:10). If anyone could earn his way into God's kingdom by religion and good behavior, it was Nicodemus. Each time we meet him again he is a little bolder for Jesus (7:50-51; 19:39).

(Nikodemos) was his name, a ruler of the Jews. 2 He came to Jesus (Iesous) by night and said to Him, "Rabbi, we know that You have come from God as a teacher; for no one is able to do these signs that You do unless God is with him." 3 Jesus answered and said to him, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless someone is born from above, he is not able to see the kingdom of God." 4 Nicodemus says to Him, "How is a man able to be born when he is old? Is he able to enter a second time into the womb of his mother and be born?" 5 Jesus answered, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless someone is born of water and the Spirit, he is not able to enter into the kingdom of God. 6 That which has been born of the flesh is flesh, and that which has been born of the Spirit is spirit. 7 Do not marvel that I said to you, 'You must be born from above.' 8 The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from and where it goes; so is everyone who has been born of the Spirit." 9 Nicodemus answered and said to Him, "How are these things able to come about?" 10 Jesus answered and said to him, "You are the teacher of Israel, and you do not know these things? 11 Truly, truly, I say to you, what we know we speak, and what we have seen we testify, and you do not receive our testimony. 12 If I have told you the earthly things and you do not believe, how will you believe if I tell you the heavenly things? 13 And no one has gone up into heaven except the One who came down out of heaven, the Son of Man who is in heaven. 14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, 15 so that everyone who believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life. 16 For God so loved the world, that He gave His Son, the only begotten, so that everyone who believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life. 17 For God did not send His Son into the world that He might judge the world, but that the world might be saved through Him. 18 The one who believes in Him is not judged; but the one who does not believe has been judged already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 And this is the judgment, that the Light has come into the world, and men loved the darkness rather than the Light; for their

3:2 He came to Jesus by night Maybe he feared what the other leaders would think, or maybe he wanted a quiet talk away from the crowds. Either way, he came. The "we" shows other leaders thought the same. He was right as far as he went, but "a teacher" from God was not nearly enough. Jesus is far more than a good teacher.
3:3 unless someone is born from above The Greek word can mean from above or again, and both are true. The new birth is a second birth, and it comes from God. Nicodemus had spent his life studying and keeping the Law. Jesus told him none of that was enough. He needed to start over completely.
3:4 How is a man able to be born when he is old? Nicodemus was a teacher and knew Jesus was using a figure of speech. I think he was saying, How can a man my age start all over? I can't undo my whole life. Many of us have asked that question.
3:5 born of water and the Spirit Some take water as physical birth, some as baptism. I believe the best reading is what Nicodemus should already have known. In Ezekiel 36:25-27 God promised to sprinkle clean water on His people to cleanse them, give them a new heart, and put His Spirit within them. To be born again is to be cleansed from sin and made new by the Spirit. Baptism pictures this cleansing, but it is the Spirit's cleansing and new life that saves, not the water itself.
3:6 That which has been born of the flesh is flesh Like produces like. Our good works, religious background and best efforts are all flesh. They cannot make a dead spirit come alive. Only God can do that.
3:7 You must be born from above The "you" is plural. This is not a message only for Nicodemus or for really bad sinners. The most religious man in the room needed it, and so do we. The prophets had already promised it, so it should not have been a shock.
3:8 The wind blows where it wishes In both Greek and Hebrew the same word can mean wind or spirit. You cannot see or control the wind, but you can hear it and see what it does. We cannot explain exactly how God makes a person new, but we can see the results in a changed life.
3:10 You are the teacher of Israel, and you do not know these things? A gentle rebuke. He knew Ezekiel and the prophets, yet did not recognize what they promised when it stood in front of him. It is possible to know a lot about the Bible and still miss its main point.
3:11 what we know we speak, and what we have seen we testify Jesus speaks as an eyewitness of heaven, not passing on someone's opinion. The "we" may include His disciples or John the Baptist. The sad part is the end: they would not take His word for it.
3:12 the earthly things The new birth happens here on earth in real lives. If Nicodemus could not believe that, how could he believe the deeper truths about the Father, the Son and God's eternal plan?
3:13 the One who came down out of heaven No human being has gone up to heaven and come back to report. Jesus came down from there. He is not guessing about God. He knows Him.
3:14 as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness In Numbers 21:4-9 God sent poisonous snakes among complaining Israel. When they repented, Moses lifted a bronze snake on a pole, and anyone bitten could look and live. They did not earn it or fix themselves. They only looked in faith. "Lifted up" is the first of three sayings about the cross (8:28; 12:32-34). Sin has poisoned every one of us, and the cure is to look to Jesus and believe.
3:16 For God so loved the world The whole gospel in one sentence. "So" means in this way: God's love is shown by what He did. He loved the whole rebellious human race, and love gives. He did not send an angel. He gave His only begotten Son.
3:16 everyone who believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life "Everyone" means you. Believing is more than agreeing with facts. It is putting your whole weight on Him, the way you trust a chair to hold you. There are only two outcomes. Perishing is eternal separation from God. Eternal life is knowing God and Jesus Christ whom He sent (17:3). It begins the moment you believe and never ends.
3:17 that the world might be saved through Him The world was already lost and did not need a judge to tell it so. It needed a Savior. Jesus will come again as Judge (5:22, 27; Rev 19:11), but His first coming was a rescue mission.
3:18 The one who believes in Him is not judged His case is settled. The one who does not believe "has been judged already," not because God is eager to condemn, but because he has turned down the only way to be saved. Rejecting the cure leaves a person with the disease.
3:19 men loved the darkness rather than the Light Jesus names the deepest reason people turn away: not weak evidence, but a love for darkness. Honest questions deserve honest answers, and Jesus welcomes them (20:27).

works were evil. 20 For everyone who practices wicked things hates the Light and does not come to the Light, so that his works may not be exposed. 21 But the one who does the truth comes to the Light, that his works may be revealed, that they have been done in God."

He Must Increase

22 After these things Jesus and His disciples came into the Judean land, and there He was staying with them and was baptizing. 23 Now John (Ioannes) also was baptizing in Aenon (Ainon) near Salim (Saleim), because there were many waters there; and they were coming and were being baptized. 24 For John had not yet been cast into the prison. 25 Then a debate arose from the disciples of John with Jews about purification. 26 And they came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, He who was with you across the Jordan (Iordanes), to whom you have testified, look, He is baptizing, and all are coming to Him." 27 John answered and said, "A man is able to receive nothing unless it has been given to him from heaven. 28 You yourselves testify to me that I said, 'I am not the Christ,' but, 'I am sent before Him.' 29 The one who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom, who stands and listens to him, rejoices with joy because of the voice of the bridegroom. Therefore this joy of mine has been fulfilled. 30 He must increase, but I must decrease. 31 The One coming from above is above all. The one who is from the earth is from the earth and speaks from the earth. The One coming from heaven is above all. 32 And what He has seen and heard, this He testifies, and no one receives His testimony. 33 The one who has received His testimony has set his seal that God is true. 34 For He whom God sent speaks the words of God; for God does not give the Spirit by measure. 35 The Father loves the Son and has given all things into His hand. 36 The one who believes in the Son has eternal life; but the one who does not obey the Son will not see life, but the wrath of God remains on him."

The Woman at the Well

1 Therefore when the Lord knew that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus (Iesous) makes and baptizes more disciples than John (Ioannes) 2 (although Jesus Himself was not baptizing, but His disciples), 3 He left Judea (Ioudaia) and went away again into Galilee (Galilaia). 4 Now it was necessary for Him to pass through Samaria (Samareia). 5 Therefore He comes to a city of Samaria called Sychar, near the plot of ground that Jacob (Iakob) gave to Joseph (Ioseph) his son.

3:20 so that his works may not be exposed Turn on the light in a dirty kitchen at night and watch the cockroaches scatter. People who do evil hate the light because it shows what they really are.
3:21 the one who does the truth comes to the Light Honest people are not afraid to have their lives examined. Whatever good is in their lives was worked in them by God. This may be a gentle invitation to Nicodemus, who came in the dark. By the end of this Gospel he steps into the light (19:39).
3:22 was baptizing Jesus Himself did not baptize. His disciples did it under His authority (4:2).
3:23 there were many waters there The exact place of Aenon near Salim is uncertain today. The reason John gives tells us he baptized people in enough water to need a good supply.
3:24 John had not yet been cast into the prison The other Gospels begin Jesus' ministry in Galilee after the Baptist's arrest (Mark 1:14). This tells readers the events of John 1 to 3 came earlier.
3:26 He is baptizing, and all are coming to Him You can hear the jealousy. They felt their teacher was losing his crowd. In ministry and in life it is easy to start competing instead of cooperating.
3:27 A man is able to receive nothing unless it has been given to him from heaven If people were going to Jesus, God was sending them. John did not see Jesus' success as his loss. Our gifts, opportunities and influence all come from God.
3:29 the friend of the bridegroom Like a best man, who helped arrange the wedding and then stepped back, thrilled to hear the groom's voice with his bride. Scripture pictures God's people as a bride and Jesus as the Bridegroom (Rev 19:7; 21:2). John was happy just to be the friend who brought them together.
3:30 He must increase, but I must decrease One of the best mottos a Christian could have. It is not thinking poorly of ourselves but thinking more about Jesus. The more He fills our lives, the less room there is for pride. These words sum up John the Baptist's whole life.
3:31 The One coming from above is above all Scholars debate whether verses 31-36 are still the Baptist speaking or the apostle adding his own comments. The message is the same. Every human messenger, even one as great as John, is "from the earth." Jesus speaks from heaven's point of view.
3:33 has set his seal that God is true A seal on a document was like a signature: I stand behind this. When we believe Jesus we put our signature on God's truthfulness. Refusing to believe Him calls God a liar (1 John 5:10).
3:34 God does not give the Spirit by measure The prophets received the Spirit for certain tasks and times. Jesus has the fullness of the Spirit without limit. That is why we can trust every word He says.
3:35 has given all things into His hand Jesus is not a junior partner in God's plan. All authority belongs to Him (Matt 28:18). Salvation, judgment and the future of the world are in His hand.
3:36 the wrath of God remains on him The believer "has" eternal life now, as a present possession. John sets believing against not obeying, because refusing to trust the Son is refusing God's command. God's wrath is not an out-of-control temper but His settled, holy opposition to sin. Apart from Christ it is already on us, and the only way out from under it is to believe in the Son.
4:2 although Jesus Himself was not baptizing, but His disciples I believe John adds this so no one could brag about being baptized by Jesus personally, the same kind of problem Paul met in Corinth (1 Cor 1:13-17).
4:3 He left Judea Not out of fear of the Pharisees. His hour had not yet come (2:4; 7:30), and He worked on His Father's timetable, not theirs.
4:4 it was necessary for Him to pass through Samaria Samaria lay between Judea and Galilee, but many Jews took the longer road east of the Jordan to avoid it. The Greek word dei, it is necessary, is the word John uses for what God has planned (3:14, 30). I believe Jesus had to go because there was a woman, and a whole town, His Father had sent Him to reach.
4:5 the plot of ground that Jacob gave to Joseph his son Sychar was near old Shechem, by the land Jacob bought and gave to Joseph (Gen 33:18-19; 48:22), where Joseph's bones were buried (Josh 24:32). The Samaritans were proud of this holy ground.

6 Now the spring of Jacob was there. Therefore Jesus, having been wearied from the journey, was sitting thus at the spring. The hour was about the sixth. 7 A woman comes out of Samaria to draw water. Jesus says to her, "Give Me some- thing to drink." 8 For His disciples had gone away into the city that they might buy food. 9 Therefore the Samaritan woman says to Him, "How do You, being a Jew, ask something to drink from me, being a Samaritan woman?" For Jews do not associate with Samaritans. 10 Jesus answered and said to her, "If you had known the gift of God, and who it is who says to you, 'Give Me something to drink,' you would have asked Him, and He would have given you living water." 11 The woman says to Him, "Sir, You have nothing to draw with, and the well is deep. From where then do You have the living water? 12 Are You greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank of it himself, and his sons and his livestock?" 13 Jesus answered and said to her, "Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again; 14 but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will certainly never thirst;
but the water that I will give him will become in him a spring of water welling up into eternal life." 15 The woman says to Him, "Sir, give me this water, so that I may not thirst nor come here to draw." 16 Jesus says to her, "Go, call your husband, and come here." 17 The woman answered and said, "I do not have a husband." Jesus says to her, "You have spoken well, 'I do not have a husband'; 18 for you have had five husbands, and the one whom you now have is not your husband;
this you have spoken truly." 19 The woman says to Him, "Sir, I perceive that You are a prophet. 20 Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, and you say that in Jerusalem (Hierosolyma) is the place where it is necessary to worship."
21 Jesus says to her, "Woman, believe Me, an hour is coming when neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem will you worship the Father. 22 You worship what you do not know; we worship what we know, because salvation is from the Jews. 23 But an hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father also seeks such people worshiping Him. 24 God is spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth." 25 The woman says to Him, "I know that Messiah is coming, who is called Christ; when He comes, He will tell us all things." 26 Jesus says to her, "I am He, the One speaking to you."

4:6 having been wearied from the journey The Word who made all things (1:3) got tired feet and sat down. Jesus is fully God and fully man, and He knows what it is to be worn out (Heb 4:15). The sixth hour was most likely about noon, the hottest part of the day. Women usually drew water in groups in the cool hours, so a woman coming alone at noon may have been avoiding the others.
4:7 Give Me something to drink He starts not with a sermon but with a simple human need. Sometimes the best way to open a door is to let someone help you. The disciples were in town, so they were alone at the well.
4:9 Jews do not associate with Samaritans A Jewish man would not normally speak to a Samaritan woman in public, much less drink from her jar. The Samaritans came from the people Assyria settled in the north after 722 B.C., who mixed with the Israelites left there (2 Kgs 17). The hatred ran deep on both sides and had built for centuries.
4:10 He would have given you living water She thinks He is the one in need, but she is, and He holds the gift. Living water was fresh, running spring water, not water standing in a cistern. God calls Himself "a spring of living water" (Jer 2:13). Jesus is offering her life from God Himself.
4:12 Are You greater than our father Jacob The way she asks expects the answer no. The irony is that the answer is yes. Jacob gave a well. Jesus gives eternal life.
4:13 Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again True of everything this world offers: money, pleasure, approval. They satisfy for a while, and then the thirst comes back.
4:14 a spring of water welling up into eternal life The water Jesus gives does not run dry. Later John tells us this living water is the Holy Spirit, given to those who believe (7:37-39). When we come to Christ we are not just given a drink. We are given a spring.
4:15 give me this water, so that I may not thirst nor come here to draw Many people are like this with Jesus. They want help with everyday problems but have not yet seen their real need.
4:16 Go, call your husband Jesus is not unkind. He puts His finger on the place she hurts most. Before a person can receive living water, he has to admit he is thirsty, and that means being honest about sin.
4:18 you have had five husbands We are not told why her marriages ended: death, divorce, or both. A woman could not easily divorce her husband then, so she may have been sent away more than once. Jesus does not shame her and twice says she has spoken truly. He knows the worst about us and still offers living water. That is grace.
4:20 Our fathers worshiped on this mountain Mount Gerizim, in plain view of the well, where the Samaritans worshiped. Their temple there had been destroyed by a Jewish ruler more than a century before. When the Lord gets close to a sore spot, it is easier to argue about churches than to deal with sin.
4:21 neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem A time was coming when the place would not matter. Through Jesus' death and resurrection the way to God was opened to every believer anywhere. The temple in Jerusalem was destroyed in A.D. 70.
4:22 salvation is from the Jews The Samaritans accepted only the five books of Moses, so they worshiped with a partial picture of God. God's promises, the Scriptures and the Messiah came through Israel (Rom 9:4-5). It was not about Jews being better people but about the line God chose to bring the Savior.
4:24 God is spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth God cannot be boxed into a building or a mountain, so worship must come from the inside, not only from ritual. It must also line up with who God really is, as shown in His Word and in Jesus, the truth (14:6). Spirit without truth turns into feelings with no anchor. Truth without spirit turns into cold, dead religion. And the Father is seeking such worshipers (4:23).
4:25 I know that Messiah is coming The Samaritans expected a prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15) who would explain everything. She may be thinking, This is over my head.
4:26 I am He, the One speaking to you In Greek simply ego eimi, I am. It is the first time in this Gospel Jesus openly says He is the Messiah, and He says it to a Samaritan woman with a broken past, not to the leaders in Jerusalem. That tells us a lot about the heart of our Savior.

The Fields Are White for Harvest

27 And at this His disciples came, and they marveled that He was speaking with a woman; yet no one said, "What do You seek?" or, "Why do You speak with her?" 28 Then the woman left her water jar and went away into the city and says to the men, 29 "Come, see a man who told me all things that I did. This is not the Christ, is it?" 30 Therefore they went forth out of the city and were coming to Him. 31 Now in the meantime the disciples were asking Him, saying, "Rabbi, eat." 32 But He said to them, "I have food to eat that you do not know." 33 Therefore the disciples were saying to one another, "Has anyone brought Him something to eat?" 34 Jesus says to them, "My food is that I may do the will of Him who sent Me, and may finish His work. 35 Do you not say, 'It is yet four months, and the harvest comes'? Look, I say to you, lift up your eyes and see the fields, that they are white for harvest already. 36 And the one who reaps receives a reward and gathers fruit into eternal life, so that both the one who sows and the one who reaps may rejoice together. 37 For in this the saying is true, 'One is the one who sows, and another the one who reaps.' 38 I sent you to reap that for which you have not toiled; others have toiled, and you have entered into their labor." 39 Now from that city many of the Samaritans believed in Him because of the word of the woman testifying, "He told me all things that I did."

40 Therefore when the Samaritans came to Him, they were asking Him to stay with them; and He stayed there two days. 41 And many more believed because of His word, 42 and they were saying to the woman, "No longer do we believe because of your speech; for we ourselves have heard, and we know that this is truly the Savior of the world, the Christ."

The Official's Son Healed

43 Now after the two days He went forth from there and went away into Galilee. 44 For Jesus Himself testified that a prophet has no honor in his own hometown. 45 Therefore when He came into Galilee, the Galileans received Him, having seen all things that He had done in Jerusalem at the feast; for they themselves also had gone to the feast. 46 Therefore Jesus came again to Cana (Kana) of Galilee, where He had made the water wine. And there was a certain royal official whose son was sick in Capernaum (Kapernaoum). 47 He, having heard that Jesus had come out of Judea into Galilee, went to Him and was asking Him that He would come down and heal his son; for he was about to die. 48 Therefore Jesus said to him, "Unless you see signs and wonders, you will certainly not believe." 49 The royal official says to Him, "Sir, come down before my child dies." 50 Jesus says to him, "Go; your son lives." And the man believed the word that Jesus said to him, and he was going. 51 And as he was already going down, his servants met him and reported, saying, "Your boy lives." 52 Therefore he inquired from them the hour in which he got better. And they said to him,

4:27 they marveled that He was speaking with a woman Jewish teachers were warned against talking much with women, and a rabbi alone with a woman in public would raise eyebrows. The disciples were learning that Jesus did not follow man's rules about who was worth His time.
4:28 the woman left her water jar She came for water and forgot all about it. She went back to the town she had been avoiding.
4:29 Come, see a man who told me all things that I did She had no training. She told what Jesus did for her and invited people to see for themselves. That is what a witness does. Her careful question made them curious, and it worked.
4:32 I have food to eat that you do not know The disciples hear only the physical side, just as the woman did with the water. John often shows people misunderstanding Jesus this way.
4:34 My food is that I may do the will of Him who sent Me Doing the Father's will fed Him more than any meal. He had been tired and thirsty. After reaching this woman He was so refreshed He did not want lunch. When we serve God, He gives strength we did not have before.
4:35 the fields, that they are white for harvest already The grain harvest was still four months off. I believe Jesus may have pointed to the Samaritans already coming toward Him across those fields. People were ready to receive the gospel, and the disciples had not noticed.
4:37 One is the one who sows, and another the one who reaps The disciples were about to reap where the prophets, John the Baptist and now this woman had labored. We may plant seeds we never see grow or reap where someone else planted. The work is God's, and the joy is shared (1 Cor 3:6-8).
4:39 many of the Samaritans believed in Him because of the word of the woman The person the town looked down on led them to the Messiah. God loves to use the people the world overlooks.
4:40 He stayed there two days A Jewish teacher staying as a guest in a Samaritan town was unheard of.
4:42 we ourselves have heard Someone else's testimony can bring us to Jesus, but our faith has to become our own. "The Savior of the world," and from Samaritans. They saw what many in Israel missed (3:16; 1 John 4:14).
4:44 a prophet has no honor in his own hometown Teachers disagree whether His hometown here means Judea, where He was born, or Galilee, where He grew up. Either way, the people who think they know Jesus best are often the slowest to receive Him.
4:45 having seen all things that He had done in Jerusalem at the feast Their welcome rested on miracles (2:23). That kind of faith is shallow, as the next verses show.
4:46 a certain royal official whose son was sick in Capernaum Probably an officer of Herod Antipas, ruler of Galilee. Capernaum was about a day's walk from Cana. Rank and power could not help his dying son.
4:48 Unless you see signs and wonders, you will certainly not believe The "you" is plural. Jesus speaks to the Galilean crowd as much as to the man. They wanted a show. He wanted faith. Faith that depends on miracles will always need another one.
4:49 come down before my child dies He believes Jesus can heal but thinks Jesus must be there in person.
4:50 the man believed the word that Jesus said to him Jesus did not go. He only said, "Your son lives." The man walked home on nothing but a promise. That is real faith, and it is what we are asked to do every day: take God at His word before we see the result.
4:52 Yesterday at the seventh hour Most likely about one in the afternoon.

53 Therefore the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said to him, "Your son lives." And he himself believed, and his whole household. 54 This again is the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judea into Galilee.

JOHN 5

The Healing at Bethesda

1 After these things there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus (Iesous) went up to Jerusalem (Hierosolyma). 2 Now there is in Jerusalem by the Sheep Gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these were lying a great multitude of those who were sick, blind, lame, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. 4 For an angel was going down at a season into the pool and was stirring the water; whoever then stepped in first after the stirring of the water was becoming well of whatever disease he was being held by. 5 Now a certain man was there, having thirty and eight years in his infirmity. 6 Jesus, having seen him lying there, and having known that he had already been so a long time, says to him, "Do you want to become well?" 7 The one who was sick answered Him, "Sir, I have no man to put me into the pool when the water is stirred; but while I am coming, another goes down before me." 8 Jesus says to him, "Rise, take up your mat and walk." 9 And immediately the man became well, and took up his mat and was walking. Now it was the Sabbath on that day. 10 Therefore the Jews were saying to the one who had been healed, "It is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for you to take up the mat." 11 He answered them, "The One who made me well, that One said to me, 'Take up your mat and walk.'" 12 Therefore they asked him, "Who is the man who said to you, 'Take up your mat and walk'?" 13 But the one who had been healed did not know who it was; for Jesus had slipped away, a crowd being in the place. 14 After these things Jesus finds him in the temple and said to him, "Look, you have become well; sin no more, so that something worse may not happen to you." 15 The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well. 16 And because of this the Jews were persecuting Jesus and were seeking to kill Him, because He was doing these things on the Sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them, "My Father is working until now, and I am working." 18 Therefore because of this the Jews were seeking all the more to kill Him, because He not only was breaking the Sabbath, but also was calling God His own Father, making Himself equal to God.

4:53 he himself believed, and his whole household It was the very hour Jesus spoke. Distance means nothing to Jesus. His faith grew from trusting a promise to full belief, and it spread to his family.
4:54 the second sign Also in Cana. This sign shows Jesus is Lord over sickness and over distance, and His word has the power of life.
5:1 a feast of the Jews John does not say which feast. Teachers have guessed Passover, Pentecost, Booths and Purim, but no one knows. Jesus went up as a faithful Jewish man, keeping the feasts God gave Israel.
5:2 Bethesda, having five porches Usually understood to mean house of mercy. Critics once said John made the place up. Then in the late 1800s a pool was found near the Church of St. Anne in Jerusalem, and later digs uncovered two pools side by side with a wall between. Colonnades on four sides and one across the middle make five. God's Word holds up.
5:4 an angel was going down at a season into the pool The earliest Greek copies we have do not include the end of verse 3 and all of verse 4, so many modern Bibles put these words in a footnote. The SLB prints them. No teaching here depends on them, because the man says the same thing in verse 7. Only the fastest could be helped, so those who needed it most never had a chance. Jesus did not wait for the water at all.
5:5 thirty and eight years in his infirmity Longer than many people then lived. Some teachers note Israel wandered thirty-eight years after Kadesh (Deut 2:14). Whether John meant that or not, this man had been stuck a very long time with no way out on his own.
5:6 Do you want to become well? Out of the whole crowd Jesus went to one man. After thirty-eight years a person can lose all hope, and being sick can become who you are. Getting well would mean a new life with new duties. Jesus asks us the same about our sin and brokenness.
5:7 I have no man to put me into the pool He looks to the water and to other people. He does not see that the One who can heal him is standing in front of him. Many still look for help from every place except Jesus.
5:8 Rise, take up your mat and walk Jesus bypasses the pool. The mat was a light pallet that could be rolled up. Each of the three commands would have been impossible a second earlier.
5:9 immediately the man became well No recovery time. Jesus did not ask him for faith first. This healing was pure grace to a man who did not even know who Jesus was. "It was the Sabbath" sets up the rest of the chapter.
5:10 It is the Sabbath; it is not lawful for you to take up the mat The Law commanded rest (Exod 20:8-11), and Jeremiah warned against carrying loads through the gates (Jer 17:21-22). But teachers had added a mountain of rules about what counted as work, and carrying a sleeping mat was on their list. They cared more about their rules than about a man made whole.
5:12 Who is the man who said to you They did not ask who healed him but who told him to carry his mat. They wanted someone to blame.
5:14 sin no more, so that something worse may not happen to you Jesus went looking for him. Not every sickness comes from a person's own sin (9:1-3), but sin has consequences, and something worse than thirty-eight years of illness is facing God's judgment. Jesus cared about his body, and even more about his soul.
5:15 told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well Some think he was turning Jesus in, others that he was answering their question or giving Jesus the credit. John does not say. He never shows the bold faith of the blind man in chapter 9.
5:16 the Jews were persecuting Jesus In John "the Jews" usually means the religious leaders in Jerusalem who opposed Jesus. Jesus, His disciples and John were all Jewish. "Persecuting" is ongoing in the Greek. It became a pattern that led to the cross.
5:17 My Father is working until now, and I am working God rested on the seventh day (Gen 2:2-3), but He never stopped holding the world together. Babies are born and the sun rises on the Sabbath. Jesus says He does what His Father does with the same right. "My Father," not our Father, claims a relationship with God no one else has.
5:18 calling God His own Father, making Himself equal to God Some say Jesus never claimed to be God. His enemies heard the claim clearly and wanted Him dead for it. Jesus never corrected them. He goes on to explain His equality with the Father more fully.

The Authority of the Son

19 Therefore Jesus answered and said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son is able to do nothing of Himself, unless it is something He sees the Father doing; for whatever He does, these things the Son also does likewise. 20 For the Father loves the Son and shows Him all things that He Himself does; and He will show Him greater works than these, so that you may marvel. 21 For as the Father raises up the dead and gives life, so also the Son gives life to whom He wishes. 22 For the Father does not judge anyone, but has given all the judgment to the Son, 23 so that all may honor the Son even as they honor the Father. The one who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father who sent Him. 24 Truly, truly, I say to you, the one who hears My word and believes Him who sent Me has eternal life, and does not come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life. 25 Truly, truly, I say to you, an hour is coming, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who have heard will live. 26 For as the Father has life in Himself, so He gave also to the Son to have life in Himself, 27 and He gave Him authority also to execute judgment, because He is Son of Man. 28 Do not marvel at this; for an hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs will hear His voice, 29 and will come forth, those who have done the good things to a resurrection of life, and those who have practiced the wicked things to a resurrection of judgment.

Witnesses to Jesus

30 I am able to do nothing of Myself. As I hear, I judge; and My judgment is righteous, because I do not seek My will but the will of the Father who sent Me. 31 If I testify concerning Myself, My testimony is not true. 32 There is another who testifies concerning Me, and I know that the testimony which He testifies concerning Me is true. 33 You have sent to John (Ioannes), and he has testified to the truth. 34 But I do not receive the testimony from man, but I say these things so that you may be saved. 35 He was the burning and shining lamp, and you were willing to rejoice for an hour in his light. 36 But I have the testimony greater than that of John; for the works which the Father gave Me that I may complete them, the very works that I do, testify concerning Me that the Father has sent Me. 37 And the Father who sent Me, He Himself has testified concerning Me. You have neither heard His voice at any time nor seen His form. 38 And you do not have His word abiding in you, because whom He sent, Him you do not believe. 39 You search the Scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and these are they that

5:39 Deut 32:47; Deut 17:18; Dan 12:2

5:19 the Son is able to do nothing of Himself "Truly, truly" is amen, amen in Greek: this is the solemn truth. This is not weakness but perfect unity. The Son never acts apart from the Father, and whatever the Father does, the Son does too. Only someone one with God can do everything God does.
5:20 He will show Him greater works than these If they marveled that a lame man walked, wait until they see the dead raised (11:43-44) and Jesus Himself rise from the grave.
5:21 the Son gives life to whom He wishes In the Old Testament only God gives life to the dead (Deut 32:39; 1 Sam 2:6). Jesus is not borrowing power. He gives life by His own choice.
5:23 so that all may honor the Son even as they honor the Father If Jesus were only a good teacher, this would be blasphemy. He is God the Son. No one can claim to love God while rejecting Jesus. You cannot have the Father without the Son (1 John 2:23).
5:24 has eternal life, and does not come into judgment, but has passed out of death into life Notice the tenses. He has eternal life now, and he has passed from death to life. When we trust Jesus, God moves us from the column of the dead to the column of the living. Our hope rests on the word of Jesus, not on how good we were this week. Christians differ on whether one who later turns away was ever saved or can be lost (10:28; Heb 3:12-14; 6:4-6), but all agree the one who believes has eternal life right now.
5:25 the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God, and those who have heard will live "And now is" means it is happening already. These dead are spiritually dead in sin (Eph 2:1). Every time someone hears His voice through His Word and believes, this verse comes true again.
5:26 so He gave also to the Son to have life in Himself The Father gets life from no one. He is its source. You and I have borrowed life. Jesus has life in Himself, just like the Father, which is why He could say, "I am the resurrection and the life" (11:25).
5:27 because He is Son of Man From Daniel 7:13-14, where one like a son of man receives everlasting dominion. Because Jesus became a man and lived as one of us, He is the perfect Judge. No one will be able to say He does not know what it is like to be human.
5:28 all who are in the tombs will hear His voice From the spiritual resurrection now to the bodily resurrection still to come. Every person who ever lived will be raised. No one simply disappears.
5:29 to a resurrection of life, and those who have practiced the wicked things to a resurrection of judgment Good deeds are the fruit that shows real faith, not the root that earns it (5:24; Eph 2:8-10; James 2:17-18). The "hour" is a period, as in verse 25. Revelation 20:4-6 shows the two resurrections separated by the thousand years. I believe Christ first comes for His church before the Tribulation, raising the dead in Christ (1 Thess 4:16), returns to earth at its end, and raises the rest of the dead to judgment after the thousand years.
5:30 My judgment is righteous A human judge can be swayed by bias, bribes or his own interests. Jesus never will be. That should comfort believers and warn everyone else.
5:31 If I testify concerning Myself, My testimony is not true The Law required two or three witnesses (Deut 19:15). Jesus plays by their rules and calls witnesses. The "another" in verse 32 is, I believe, the Father Himself (5:37).
5:34 I say these things so that you may be saved John the Baptist had told their messengers plainly who Jesus was (1:19, 29-34). Even while they plot to kill Him, Jesus is trying to save them.
5:35 He was the burning and shining lamp A lamp carries the light but is not the Light (1:8). They enjoyed the excitement of a new prophet for a while, but when John pointed them to Jesus, many did not follow.
5:36 the very works that I do, testify concerning Me Every miracle was the Father's signature on Jesus' claims (10:25, 37-38).
5:37 the Father who sent Me, He Himself has testified concerning Me Out loud at Jesus' baptism (Matt 3:17), and through His Word. They did not believe the One He sent, which shows His word did not live in them. A person who truly knows God's Word will recognize God's Son.
5:39 You search the Scriptures They memorized the Scriptures and argued over every word, and thought the study itself gave eternal life. The Bible is not the goal. Jesus is. The Scriptures all point to Him (Luke 24:27, 44).

testify concerning Me; 40 and you are not willing to come to Me so that you may have life. 41 I do not receive glory from men; 42 but I know you, that you do not have the love of God in yourselves. 43 I have come in the name of My Father, and you do not receive Me; if another comes in his own name, him you will receive. 44 How are you able to believe, receiving glory from one another, and you do not seek the glory that is from the only God? 45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father; there is one who accuses you, Moses, in whom you have hoped. 46 For if you believed Moses, you would believe Me; for he wrote concerning Me. 47 But if you do not believe his writings, how will you believe My words?"

Feeding the Five Thousand

1 After these things Jesus (Iesous) went away to the other side of the Sea of Galilee (Galilaia), of Tiberias. 2 And a great crowd was following Him, because they were seeing His signs which He was doing on those who were sick. 3 And Jesus went up on the mountain, and there He was sitting with His disciples. 4 Now the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was near. 5 Therefore Jesus, having lifted up the eyes and having seen that a great crowd is coming to Him, says to Philip (Philippos), "From where will we buy loaves, that these may eat?" 6 Now He was saying this testing him, for He Himself knew what He was about to do. 7 Philip answered Him, "Two hundred denarii worth of loaves are not sufficient for them, that each of them may receive a little." 8 One of His disciples, Andrew (Andreas), the brother of Simon Peter (Petros), says to Him, 9 "There is one little boy here who has five barley loaves and two small fish; but these, what are they for so many?" 10 And Jesus said, "Make the men recline." Now there was much grass in the place. Therefore the men reclined, in number about five thousand. 11 And Jesus took the loaves, and having given thanks He distributed them to the disciples, and the disciples to those reclining; likewise also of the small fish, as much as they were wanting. 12 And when they were filled, He says to His disciples, "Gather together the fragments that are left over, so that nothing may be lost." 13 Therefore they gathered them together and filled twelve baskets of fragments from the five barley loaves, which were left over to those having eaten.

14 Therefore the men, having seen the sign which Jesus had done, were saying, "This is truly the Prophet who is coming into the world." 15 Therefore Jesus, having known that they are about to come and seize Him, that they may make Him king, withdrew again to the mountain, Himself alone.

5:40 you are not willing to come to Me Their problem was not a lack of evidence but their will. That is still the problem for many today.
5:42 you do not have the love of God in yourselves You can be very religious and still not love God.
5:43 if another comes in his own name, him you will receive Israel later followed false messiahs. The best known was Simon bar Kokhba, who led a revolt against Rome around A.D. 132 and was hailed by some as Messiah. It ended in disaster. I believe this also points to the final deceiver, the antichrist, whom the world will welcome (2 Thess 2:3-4, 9-10; Rev 13).
5:44 receiving glory from one another When you care most about what people think, it is very hard to stand up for Jesus. Pride and faith pull in opposite directions.
5:45 there is one who accuses you, Moses, in whom you have hoped The very Moses they trusted would condemn them.
5:46 he wrote concerning Me God promised a prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15-18). The Passover lamb, the bronze serpent (3:14), the manna and the sacrifices all pointed to Jesus. If they had believed Moses, they would have believed Him.
6:1 the Sea of Galilee, of Tiberias The lake was also named for Tiberias, the city Herod Antipas built on its western shore and named for the emperor Tiberius. John made sure readers across the Roman world would know the place.
6:2 because they were seeing His signs People can follow Jesus for what He does for them without ever trusting Him for who He is. Do I follow Jesus for His gifts, or for Himself?
6:4 the Passover, the feast of the Jews, was near The second Passover in John (2:13; 11:55). Passover remembered how God brought Israel out of Egypt and fed them in the wilderness. Moses, manna and the wilderness all come up later in this chapter.
6:6 testing him, for He Himself knew what He was about to do Philip was from nearby Bethsaida (1:44). God sometimes asks questions so we will discover what is in our own hearts. Would Philip look at the size of the problem or at the One in front of him?
6:7 Two hundred denarii A denarius was about a day's wage (Matt 20:2), so this was roughly eight months of pay. Philip was right about the math and wrong about the situation. He forgot who was asking.
6:9 five barley loaves and two small fish Andrew is again bringing someone to Jesus (1:40-42; 12:22). Barley bread was the cheap bread of the poor. Jesus could have made bread from nothing, but He chose to start with one boy's lunch. He still takes what we bring, our time, skills, money and even weakness, and multiplies it. Never think what you have is too small to give Him.
6:10 in number about five thousand The grass shows it was spring, near Passover (6:4). Mark says they sat in groups of hundreds and fifties (Mark 6:40). With women and children (Matt 14:21), the crowd could easily have been more than double.
6:11 having given thanks He thanked the Father for what He had before it was enough. Then He gave "as much as they were wanting." Everyone ate their fill. Our God is not stingy.
6:12 so that nothing may be lost The One who could make bread from nothing did not waste what He made. Gratitude includes being a good steward of what God gives.
6:13 filled twelve baskets of fragments One for each of the twelve, the men who had wondered how there could be enough. God wanted them to see it with their eyes and carry it with their hands.
6:14 This is truly the Prophet who is coming into the world They were thinking of the prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15-18). Moses fed Israel manna in the wilderness, and here was someone feeding them bread in the wilderness. They were right that He was the Prophet and wrong about what kind of Savior He came to be.
6:15 that they may make Him king They wanted a king who would fill their stomachs and throw off Rome. He is King, but He would not be crowned on man's terms or timing. His path to the throne went through the cross. He went up to pray (Matt 14:23).

Jesus Walks on the Water

16 And when evening came, His disciples went down to the sea, 17 and having embarked into the boat, they were going over the sea to Capernaum (Kapernaoum). And darkness had already come, and Jesus had not come to them, 18 and the sea, a great wind blowing, was being stirred up.
19 Therefore, having rowed approximately three to three and a half miles (twenty-five or thirty stadia), they see Jesus walking on the sea and coming near the boat, and they were afraid. 20 But He says to them, "I am He; do not be afraid." 21 Then they were willing to receive Him into the boat, and immediately the boat was at the land to which they were going.

I Am the Bread of Life

22 On the next day the crowd which was standing on the other side of the sea, having seen that no other small boat was there except one, that into which His disciples had embarked, and that Jesus had not gone in with His disciples into the small boat, but His disciples went away alone, 23 but other small boats came from Tiberias near the place where they ate the bread, the Lord having given thanks, 24 when therefore the crowd saw that Jesus is not there, nor His disciples, they themselves also embarked into the boats and came to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. 25 And having found Him on the other side of the sea, they said to Him, "Rabbi, when did You come here?" 26 Jesus answered them and said, "Truly, truly, I say to you, you seek Me, not because you saw signs, but because you ate of the loaves and were satisfied. 27 Do not work for the food which perishes, but for the food which endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give to you; for the Father, God, sealed Him." 28 Therefore they said to Him, "What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?" 29 Jesus answered and said to them, "This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He sent." 30 Therefore they said to Him, "What sign then do You do, that we may see and believe You? What do You work? 31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, even as it is written, 'He gave them bread out of heaven to eat.'" 32 Therefore Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, Moses has not given you the bread out of heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is the One coming down out of heaven and giving life to the world."
34 Therefore they said to Him, "Sir, always give us this bread." 35 And Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life. The one coming to Me will certainly not hunger, and the one believing in Me will certainly not thirst at any time. 36 But I said to you that you have also seen Me, and you do not believe. 37 All that the Father gives Me will come to Me, and the one coming to Me I will certainly not cast out. 38 For I have come down out of heaven, not that I may do My own

6:17 darkness had already come, and Jesus had not come to them Jesus had sent them ahead (Mark 6:45). Many of us have been in that boat, doing what Jesus told us, in the dark, wondering where He is.
6:18 a great wind blowing The lake sits low among hills, and winds can rush down on it quickly. They were in trouble while obeying, not because they disobeyed. Storms are not always a sign we are out of God's will.
6:19 they see Jesus walking on the sea John states it plainly as fact. The Creator who made the sea walked on top of it. The One who multiplied bread on the hillside ruled the water at night.
6:20 I am He; do not be afraid In Greek ego eimi, I am, the phrase of His "I am" sayings and an echo of God's name in Exodus 3:14. Knowing who He is drives out fear.
6:21 immediately the boat was at the land Perhaps another miracle, or simply how quickly the trip ended. Either way, when Jesus is in the boat we arrive where He is taking us.
6:23 the place where they ate the bread, the Lord having given thanks John remembers the thanksgiving as much as the bread. These verses explain how the crowd crossed the lake to find Him.
6:25 Rabbi, when did You come here? Jesus never answers how He crossed the lake. He goes straight to the question they should have asked.
6:26 because you ate of the loaves and were satisfied A sign points beyond itself. They looked at the sign and saw only lunch.
6:27 Do not work for the food which perishes Not a call to quit our jobs (2 Thess 3:10), but a question of what we live for. Bread spoils, and the life Jesus gives lasts forever. A seal marked something as genuine and approved. The Father has put His stamp of approval on Jesus.
6:29 This is the work of God, that you believe in Him whom He sent They were thinking of a list. Jesus gave one work. One of the clearest verses on how a person is made right with God: salvation is received by trusting Jesus, not earned by good deeds (Eph 2:8-9). Faith is not a work that earns favor. It is receiving what God offers.
6:31 Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness The crowd that ate miracle bread the day before now asks for a sign (Ps 78:24; Exod 16:4). Moses fed their fathers forty years, and Jesus one meal. Unbelief always wants one more sign.
6:32 My Father gives you the true bread out of heaven It was God, not Moses, who gave the manna, and the manna was a picture pointing ahead. Manna fed one nation for a time. Jesus gives life to the whole world forever (6:33).
6:34 Sir, always give us this bread Like the woman at the well (4:15), they wanted the gift and did not see that the gift was Jesus Himself.
6:35 I am the bread of life The first of seven "I am" sayings with a picture. Bread was eaten at every meal. Jesus is not an extra in life but its most basic need. Coming to Him and believing in Him are the same thing. He does not point us to a program or a set of rules. He points to Himself. He truly sustains spiritual life the way bread sustains the body.
6:36 you have also seen Me, and you do not believe Seeing is not believing. Many know a great deal about Jesus and have never trusted Him.
6:37 the one coming to Me I will certainly not cast out Two truths side by side. God is in charge of salvation and His plan will not fail. And no one who truly comes will be turned away. "Certainly not" is a strong double negative: I will never throw you out. I do not claim to understand how both fit together. Jesus said both in the same breath. Our job is to come and to invite others.
6:38 not that I may do My own will, but the will of the One who sent Me His heavenly origin and His perfect obedience. There is no competition inside the Godhead. The Son delights to do the Father's will.

will, but the will of the One who sent Me. 39 And this is the will of the Father who sent Me, that all which He has given Me, I may lose none of it, but may raise it up on the last day. 40 Now this is the will of the One who sent Me, that everyone who sees the Son and believes in Him may have eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day."

The Living Bread from Heaven

41 Therefore the Jews were grumbling about Him, because He said, "I am the bread which came down out of heaven." 42 And they were saying, "Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph (Ioseph), whose father and mother we know? How then does this one say, 'I have come down out of heaven'?"

43 Therefore Jesus answered and said to them, "Do not grumble with one another. 44 No one is able to come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him, and I will raise him up on the last day. 45 It is written in the Prophets, 'And they will all be taught of God.' Therefore everyone who has heard from the Father and has learned comes to Me. 46 Not that anyone has seen the Father, except the One who is from God; He has seen the Father. 47 Truly, truly, I say to you, the one believing in Me has eternal life. 48 I am the bread of life. 49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died. 50 This is the bread which comes down out of heaven, that anyone may eat of it and not die. 51 I am the living bread which came down out of heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever; and the bread also which I will give is My flesh, which I will give for the life of the world." 52 Therefore the Jews were arguing with one another, saying, "How is this man able to give us His flesh to eat?" 53 Therefore Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you do not have life in yourselves. 54 The one feeding on My flesh and drinking My blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up on the last day. 55 For My flesh is truly food, and My blood is truly drink. 56 The one feeding on My flesh and drinking My blood abides in Me, and I in him. 57 Even as the living Father sent Me, and I live because of the Father, also the one feeding on Me, even that one will live because of Me. 58 This is the bread which came down out of heaven; not as your fathers ate the manna and died; the one feeding on this bread will live forever." 59 He said these things in a synagogue, teaching in Capernaum.

Many Disciples Turn Away

60 Therefore many of His disciples, having heard, said, "This word is hard; who is able to hear it?" 61 But Jesus, knowing in Himself that His disciples are grumbling about this, said to 6:39 I may lose none of it, but may raise it up on the last day Jesus promises resurrection on the last day four times in this chapter (6:39, 40, 44, 54). Eternal life begins when we believe and is completed at the bodily resurrection. I believe He comes for His church before the Tribulation and raises the dead in Christ (1 Thess 4:16-17; 1 Cor 15:51-52). Every believer can stand on the main point: Jesus will not lose one of His own.

6:40 everyone who sees the Son and believes in Him may have eternal life The Father's will has two sides: Jesus keeps all the Father gives Him (6:39), and everyone who looks to the Son and believes has life.

6:42 Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph They grumbled as their fathers grumbled about the manna (Exod 16:2, 8). They knew Mary and Joseph, but they did not know His Father.

6:44 No one is able to come to Me unless the Father who sent Me draws him Left to ourselves none of us would come. Some believe God draws only those He has chosen and His drawing always succeeds. Others point to 12:32, "will draw all men to Myself," and believe a person can resist. I take it as it stands: no one comes on his own strength, and anyone who comes has been drawn by God. That makes us humble about our salvation and bold in sharing the gospel.

6:45 And they will all be taught of God From Isaiah 54:13. The drawing is not forced. It happens through hearing and learning. God draws people by His Word.

6:46 He has seen the Father Jesus is not one more teacher who learned about God. He came from the Father's presence (1:18; 14:9).

6:47 the one believing in Me has eternal life Not will have someday, or might have if he does enough, but has, right now.

6:49 Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died Manna kept them alive for a while, but they all died. Physical death still comes to those who eat the bread of life, but eternal death, separation from God, has no claim on them.

6:51 the bread also which I will give is My flesh, which I will give for the life of the world Jesus points to the cross. The bread of life is not only His teaching. It is His death in our place, offered to all.

6:52 How is this man able to give us His flesh to eat? They took Him in the crudest physical sense, the same mistake Nicodemus made (3:4) and the woman at the well (4:11).

6:53 unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood Drinking blood was forbidden by the Law (Lev 17:10-14), so His words forced hearers to think. Coming and believing satisfy (6:35), the believer has eternal life (6:47), and the one who eats His flesh has eternal life (6:54). The promise is the same, so the meaning is the same: to receive Him by faith, taking in His death for us as our only life.

6:54 The one feeding on My flesh and drinking My blood has eternal life Many see a link to the Lord's Supper, which pictures His body given and blood shed. But it had not yet been given, and He spoke to unbelievers. Some churches teach the bread and wine become His actual body and blood. I do not believe the text teaches that. Jesus speaks of living faith in His sacrifice, which the Supper later pictured and proclaimed (1 Cor 11:26).

6:55 My flesh is truly food, and My blood is truly drink Everything else we feed on, money, success, approval, pleasure, leaves us hungry again.

6:56 abides in Me, and I in him To abide is to stay, remain, make your home. The Greek word meno becomes one of John's great words, rendered "remain" in chapter 15. Faith is not a one-time snack but an ongoing relationship.

6:57 the one feeding on Me, even that one will live because of Me Our spiritual life depends on Him as His earthly mission depended on the Father. We were never meant to live the Christian life on our own power.

6:59 in a synagogue, teaching in Capernaum A synagogue was a local Jewish meeting place for prayer and the reading of Scripture. This was public teaching in Jesus' home base in Galilee (Matt 4:13).

6:60 This word is hard; who is able to hear it? The wider group of followers, not only the twelve. Hard means harsh, hard to accept. Their problem was less with their heads than with their hearts.

them, "Does this cause you to stumble? 62 What then if you see the Son of Man ascending where He was before? 63 The Spirit is the One giving life; the flesh profits nothing. The words which I speak to you are spirit and are life. 64 But there are some of you who do not believe." For Jesus knew from the beginning who they are who do not believe, and who it is who will betray Him. 65 And He was saying, "Because of this I have said to you that no one is able to come to Me unless it has been granted to him from My Father." 66 From this time many of His disciples went away back and were no longer walking with Him. 67 Therefore Jesus said to the twelve, "You do not also want to go away, do you?" 68 Therefore Simon Peter answered Him, "Lord, to whom will we go? You have words of eternal life. 69 And we have believed and have known that You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." 70 Jesus answered them, "Did I not choose you, the twelve? And of you one is a devil." 71 Now He was speaking of Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), son of Simon; for he was about to betray Him, being one of the twelve.

Jesus' Brothers Do Not Believe

1 And after these things Jesus (Iesous) was walking in Galilee (Galilaia); for He was not wanting to walk in Judea (Ioudaia), because the Jews were seeking to kill Him. 2 Now the feast of the Jews, the Feast of Booths, was near. 3 Therefore His brothers said to Him, "Depart from here and go into Judea, so that Your disciples also may see Your works which You are doing. 4 For no one does anything in secret and himself seeks to be in public. If You do these things, show Yourself to the world." 5 For not even His brothers were believing in Him. 6 Therefore Jesus says to them, "My time is not yet here, but your time is always ready. 7 The world is not able to hate you, but it hates Me, because I testify concerning it that its works are evil. 8 You go up to this feast; I am not yet going up to this feast, because My time has not yet been fulfilled." 9 Now having said these things to them, He remained in Galilee. 10 But when His brothers had gone up, then He Himself also went up to the feast, not openly, but as in secret. 11 Therefore the Jews were seeking Him at the feast and were saying, "Where is that One?" 12 And there was much grumbling about Him among the crowds. Some were saying, "He is good"; but others were saying, "No, but He deceives the crowd." 13 However, no one was speaking publicly about Him because of the fear of the Jews.

6:62 the Son of Man ascending where He was before If they stumbled that He came down from heaven, what would they do when they saw Him go back up? His ascension (Acts 1:9-11) would prove where He came from.
6:63 The Spirit is the One giving life; the flesh profits nothing A key to the chapter. Jesus Himself says His words about eating are not about physical eating. His words are how we feed on Him. When we take in His Word and trust it, the Spirit gives life.
6:64 Jesus knew from the beginning Nothing caught Jesus by surprise, not even Judas. When people turn away, God's plan has not failed.
6:65 unless it has been granted to him from My Father Coming to Christ is a gift. If you have come, thank God. You did not figure it out on your own.
6:66 many of His disciples went away back The day before they wanted to make Him king. Jesus did not chase them or water down His message. Large crowds are not always a sign of true faith. People still leave when He does not give what they want or when He speaks of sin, the cross or surrender. Hard words from Jesus are still words of life.
6:67 You do not also want to go away, do you? The Greek expects the answer no, yet Jesus let them answer for themselves. Faith that is forced is not faith.
6:68 Lord, to whom will we go? You have words of eternal life One of the finest confessions in the Bible. Peter did not claim to understand everything. He knew there was nowhere else to go.
6:69 You are the Christ, the Son of the living God Believing comes first, and with it a settled knowing. The same confession as Caesarea Philippi (Matt 16:16). Some Greek copies read "the Holy One of God" (Mark 1:24) here. Either way, Peter knew who Jesus was.
6:70 of you one is a devil Judas saw the miracles, ate the bread and heard every word, yet his heart was not with Jesus. Being close to Jesus on the outside is not the same as belonging to Him on the inside.
7:1 the Jews were seeking to kill Him The religious leaders in Judea (5:18). Jesus was not afraid, but He was not reckless either. The time for His death had not yet come.
7:2 the Feast of Booths Also called Tabernacles, Sukkot in Hebrew, one of three feasts when Jewish men were to go up to Jerusalem (Deut 16:16). It came in the fall after harvest. For seven days the people lived in shelters of branches to remember God's care in the wilderness (Lev 23:33-43). It was a happy, crowded, noisy celebration.
7:4 show Yourself to the world Advice from a campaign manager. They may have been mocking Him or wanting a name for the family. Jesus did not come to impress people but to do His Father's will. These brothers were sons of Mary and Joseph born after Jesus: James, Joses, Simon and Jude (Matt 13:55).
7:5 not even His brothers were believing in Him Those who grew up in the same house and watched His sinless life did not believe. If your family does not yet believe, Jesus understands that pain. After the resurrection He appeared to James (1 Cor 15:7), the brothers prayed with the believers (Acts 1:14), and James and Jude wrote books of the Bible. Do not give up on your family.
7:6 My time is not yet here, but your time is always ready His brothers' lives were not on a divine mission, and the world had no reason to hate them. His time pointed to His death and glory, the "hour" John mentions again and again (2:4; 8:20; 12:23; 13:1).
7:7 it hates Me, because I testify concerning it that its works are evil When the light shines, those who love darkness do not thank it (3:19-20). Jesus warned His followers the world would hate them for the same reason (15:18-19).
7:8 I am not yet going up to this feast A few days later He went. He was refusing to go their way, as a public show at their urging. Some ancient copies leave out "yet," but either way Jesus did not lie. He went quietly, on the Father's timing (7:10).
7:12 He is good No one said He was ordinary. But a merely good man does not claim to be the bread from heaven or one with God. Jesus is either who He said He is, or He is not good at all. The middle ground does not exist.

Teaching at the Feast of Booths

14 Now the feast being already in its middle, Jesus went up into the temple and was teaching. 15 And the Jews were marveling, saying, "How does this man know letters, not having learned?" 16 Jesus answered them and said, "My teaching is not Mine, but that of the One who sent Me. 17 If anyone wills to do His will, he will know concerning the teaching, whether it is from God or I speak from Myself. 18 The one speaking from himself seeks his own glory; but the One seeking the glory of the One who sent Him, He is true, and unrighteousness is not in Him. 19 Has not Moses given you the law? And none of you does the law. Why do you seek to kill Me?" 20 The crowd answered and said, "You have a demon! Who seeks to kill You?" 21 Jesus answered and said to them, "I did one work, and you all marvel. 22 Because of this Moses has given you circumcision (not that it is from Moses, but from the fathers), and on a Sabbath you circumcise a man. 23 If a man receives circumcision on a Sabbath so that the law of Moses may not be broken, are you angry with Me because I made an entire man healthy on a Sabbath? 24 Do not judge according to appearance, but judge the righteous judgment." 25 Therefore some of the people of Jerusalem (Hierosolymites) were saying, "Is this not He whom they seek to kill? 26 And look, He speaks publicly, and they say nothing to Him. Can it be that the rulers truly have recognized that this is truly the Christ? 27 But we know where this man is from; but the Christ, whenever He comes, no one knows where He is from." 28 Therefore Jesus cried out in the temple, teaching and saying, "You both know Me and know where I am from; and I have not come of Myself, but the One who sent Me is true, whom you do not know. 29 But I know Him, because I am from Him, and He sent Me." 30 Therefore they were seeking to seize Him; and no one laid his hand on Him, because His hour had not yet come. 31 And many out of the crowd believed in Him, and were saying, "The Christ, when He comes, will not do more signs than these which this man has done, will He?" 32 The Pharisees heard the crowd grumbling these things about Him, and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers that they might seize Him.

33 Therefore Jesus said to them, "Yet a little time I am with you, and I go to the One who sent Me. 34 You will seek Me and will not find Me; and where I am, you are not able to come." 35 Therefore the Jews said among themselves, "Where is this man about to go that we will not find Him? Is He about to go to the Dispersion among the Greeks and to teach the Greeks? 36 What is this word that He said, 'You will seek Me and will not find Me; and where I am, you are not able to come'?"

7:14 Jesus went up into the temple and was teaching Halfway through the feast He taught openly in the busiest place in Jerusalem, in the busiest week of the year, under the noses of men who wanted to kill Him.
7:15 How does this man know letters, not having learned? Jesus never studied under a famous rabbi, yet knew the Scriptures better than all of them. They could not deny His knowledge, so they questioned His credentials.
7:16 My teaching is not Mine, but that of the One who sent Me His teacher was the Father. He never claimed to invent something new.
7:17 If anyone wills to do His will, he will know concerning the teaching Many want proof before they will obey. Jesus says it often works the other way. When we are unwilling to obey in some area, the Bible can seem unclear there. When we become willing, the lights come on. God does not hide His truth from honest hearts.
7:18 The one speaking from himself seeks his own glory A good test of a teacher still: whose glory is he after? A preacher who keeps pointing to himself should make us careful.
7:19 Why do you seek to kill Me? They boasted in Moses and the Law, yet planned to break "You shall not murder" (Exod 20:13).
7:20 You have a demon! Many pilgrims did not know about the plot and thought Him paranoid. The leaders knew exactly what He meant and said nothing.
7:21 I did one work, and you all marvel The healing at Bethesda on the Sabbath (5:1-16), which set off their plans to kill Him (5:16-18).
7:23 I made an entire man healthy on a Sabbath Circumcision on the eighth day (Lev 12:3), going back to Abraham (Gen 17:10-12), was done even on a Sabbath. So they already agreed some work on the Sabbath was right. If one part of a man could be treated to keep the Law, why not make the whole man well? The Sabbath was given for rest and restoration (Mark 2:27).
7:24 Do not judge according to appearance, but judge the righteous judgment Often misused. Jesus does not forbid all judging. He calls us to judge rightly, by God's standards and not by surface appearance or tradition. They saw work. Righteous judgment would have seen a crippled man restored by God.
7:26 Can it be that the rulers truly have recognized that this is truly the Christ? People in Jerusalem knew of the plot and wondered whether the leaders had secretly decided He was the Messiah, the Anointed King God promised.
7:27 we know where this man is from Some believed no one would know where the Messiah came from. They thought they knew His story, a carpenter's son from Nazareth. In truth they did not know where He came from at all. He came from heaven.
7:29 I know Him, because I am from Him, and He sent Me He "cried out" so all in the temple courts could hear. A bold claim: Israel's leaders did not know God, and He did.
7:30 no one laid his hand on Him, because His hour had not yet come No mob, soldier or plot could touch Him until the moment the Father set. When it came, He gave up His life willingly (10:18).
7:31 many out of the crowd believed in Him No Messiah could do more signs than these. That is why John wrote the signs down (20:31).
7:32 the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers The chief priests were mostly Sadducees, who controlled the temple and often clashed with the Pharisees. Their shared hatred of Jesus brought them together.
7:34 You will seek Me and will not find Me He spoke of His death, resurrection and return to the Father. There is a warning too. A day comes when the opportunity to believe is over. Today is the day to come (2 Cor 6:2).
7:35 the Dispersion among the Greeks The Dispersion, diaspora in Greek, meant Jews scattered among the Gentile nations. They said it with scorn, but it came true. Through the apostles His message would go to the scattered Jews and to the Greeks (Acts 1:8).

Rivers of Living Water

37 Now on the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus was standing, and He cried out, saying, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink. 38 The one believing in Me, even as the Scripture said, 'Rivers of living water will flow out of his belly.'" 39 Now He said this concerning the Spirit, whom those believing in Him were about to receive; for the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified.

Division Among the People

40 Therefore many out of the crowd, having heard the word, were saying, "This is truly the Prophet." 41 Others were saying, "This is the Christ." But others were saying, "For surely the Christ does not come out of Galilee? 42 Has not the Scripture said that the Christ comes out of the seed of David (Dabid), and from Bethlehem (Bethleem), the village where David was?" 43 Therefore a division occurred in the crowd because of Him. 44 Now some of them were wanting to seize Him, but no one laid his hands on Him. 45 Therefore the officers came to the chief priests and Pharisees, and those men said to them, "Why did you not bring Him?" 46 The officers answered, "Never did a man speak like this, as this man speaks." 47 Therefore the Pharisees answered them, "You have not also been deceived, have you? 48 Has anyone of the rulers believed in Him, or of the Pharisees? 49 But this crowd which does not know the law, they are accursed."

50 Nicodemus (Nikodemos) says to them (the one who came to Him by night, being one of them), 51 "Our law does not judge the man unless it first hears from him and knows what he does, does it?" 52 They answered and said to him, "You are not also from Galilee, are you? Search and see that out of Galilee a prophet has not arisen." 53 And each one went to his house.

The Woman Caught in Adultery

1 But Jesus (Iesous) went to the Mount of Olives. 2 Now early in the morning He came again into the temple, and all the people were coming to Him; and having sat down, He was teaching them. 3 And the scribes and the Pharisees bring to Him a woman caught in adultery, and having set her in the midst, 4 they say to Him, "Teacher, this woman was caught in the very act, committing adultery. 5 Now in the law Moses commanded us that such women be stoned. You therefore, what do You say?" 6 Now they were saying this testing Him, that they might have grounds to accuse Him. But Jesus, having stooped down, was writing with the finger on the 7:37 If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink Each morning of the feast a priest drew water from the Pool of Siloam in a golden pitcher, carried it up in a joyful procession, and poured it at the altar, a prayer for rain and a reminder of the water from the rock. Teachers disagree whether "the last day" is the seventh or eighth day. Jesus stood, though teachers usually sat, and cried out, I am the One the water points to. "If anyone" leaves no thirsty person out.

7:38 Rivers of living water will flow out of his belly No single Old Testament verse says these words. Jesus seems to sum up promises of water and the Spirit poured on God's people (Isa 44:3; 58:11; Ezek 47:1-12; Zech 14:8). A believer is not a pond that only collects but a river that flows. The fruit of the Spirit (Gal 5:22-23) blesses the people around him.

7:39 the Holy Spirit was not yet given, because Jesus was not yet glorified The Spirit was at work in the Old Testament, but He had not yet been poured out to live in every believer. That happened at Pentecost, after Jesus died, rose and returned to the Father (Acts 2:1-4, 33).

7:40 This is truly the Prophet The prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15-18). Others said, "This is the Christ." Both were moving the right way. Jesus is both.

7:42 the Christ comes out of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem They were right about the Scriptures (2 Sam 7:12-13; Mic 5:2) and wrong about Jesus. He was born in Bethlehem of David's line (Matt 1:1; 2:1; Luke 2:4-7). They never checked. Many still reject Jesus on assumptions they never test.

7:43 a division occurred in the crowd because of Him Jesus still divides people. You cannot stay in the middle with Him forever.

7:46 Never did a man speak like this, as this man speaks Hired men under orders went to arrest Jesus, and His words arrested them. He spoke with authority, not like the scribes (Matt 7:28-29). People who come to argue with His words often find His words arguing with them (Heb 4:12).

7:48 Has anyone of the rulers believed in Him, or of the Pharisees? The experts don't believe, so neither should you. They scorned the crowd as accursed. Pride blinded the men who claimed to know the Law best to the One the Law pointed to.

7:51 Our law does not judge the man unless it first hears from him The Law required a fair hearing (Deut 1:16-17). Here was one of the rulers, the man who came by night (3:1-2), taking a small, brave step. At the cross he takes a much bigger one (19:39).

7:52 out of Galilee a prophet has not arisen Simply wrong. Jonah came from Gath-hepher (2 Kgs 14:25) in Zebulun in Galilee (Josh 19:13), and Isaiah 9:1-2 promised a great light in Galilee of the Gentiles, fulfilled in Jesus (Matt 4:13-16). In their anger they ignored their own Scriptures.

7:53 each one went to his house This begins the account of the woman caught in adultery (7:53-8:11). Many Bibles mark it with a note because the earliest copies of John we have do not contain it. I include and teach it, because I believe it is a true account of Jesus and fits all we know of Him. More at 8:1.

8:1 But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives The earliest and most reliable Greek copies we have do not contain 7:53-8:11, and some later copies place it elsewhere, after John 7:36 or Luke 21:38. That is why most modern Bibles mark it. Many scholars believe it is a true event passed down and later placed here. I teach it because it fits all we know of Jesus and contradicts nothing in Scripture. The Mount of Olives lay east of the city, where Jesus often spent the night (Luke 21:37).

8:3 the scribes and the Pharisees bring to Him a woman caught in adultery Scribes were experts in the Law of Moses. Standing her in the middle was cruel humiliation. Her sin was real, but they cared nothing for her soul. And where was the man? The Law called for both to die (Lev 20:10; Deut 22:22). Bringing only her shows this was never about justice.

8:5 You therefore, what do You say? A trap. Let her go, and He set aside Moses. Stone her, and He lost His name for mercy and crossed Rome, which did not let the Jews carry out death sentences (18:31). Either answer looked like a loss.

8:6 was writing with the finger on the ground People have guessed for centuries: the accusers' sins, or Jeremiah 17:13 about those written in the earth. Scripture does not tell us. If it mattered, John would have said. What matters is what He said next.

ground, not making as though He heard. 7 But as they were continuing asking Him, having straightened up He said to them, "The sinless one among you, let him first cast the stone at her." 8 And again having stooped down, He was writing on the ground. 9 And those having heard, and being convicted by the conscience, were going out one by one, having begun from the older ones until the last; and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst. 10 Then Jesus, having straightened up and having seen no one except the woman, said to her, "Woman, where are those accusers of yours? Has no one condemned you?" 11 And she said, "No one, Sir." And Jesus said to her, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more."

I Am the Light of the World

12 Therefore again Jesus spoke to them, saying, "I am the light of the world. The one following Me will certainly not walk in the darkness, but will have the light of life." 13 Therefore the Pharisees said to Him, "You testify concerning Yourself; Your testimony is not true." 14 Jesus answered and said to them, "Even if I testify concerning Myself, My testimony is true, because I know from where I came and where I am going; but you do not know from where I come and where I am going. 15 You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one. 16 And even if I do judge, My judgment is true, because I am not alone, but I and the Father who sent Me. 17 And also in your law it has been written that the testimony of two men is true. 18 I am the One testifying concerning Myself, and the Father who sent Me testifies concerning Me." 19 Therefore they were saying to Him, "Where is Your Father?" Jesus answered, "You know neither Me nor My Father. If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also." 20 Jesus spoke these words in the treasury, teaching in the temple; and no one seized Him, because His hour had not yet come. 21 Therefore Jesus said to them again, "I am going away, and you will seek Me, and you will die in your sin. Where I am going, you are not able to come." 22 Therefore the Jews were saying, "He will not kill Himself, will He, because He says, 'Where I am going, you are not able to come'?" 23 And He said to them, "You are from below; I am from above. You are from this world; I am not from this world. 24 Therefore I said to you that you will die in your sins; for unless you believe that I am He, you will die in your sins." 25 Therefore they were saying to Him, "Who are You?" And Jesus said to them, "I am what I have also been speaking to you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you; but the One who sent Me is true, and the things which I heard from Him, these I say to the world." 27 They did not understand that He was speaking to them about the Father. 28 Therefore Jesus said to them, "When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am He, and I do nothing from Myself, but even as My Father taught Me, these things I speak. 29 And the One who sent Me is with Me; the Father has not left Me alone, because I always do the things pleasing to Him." 30 As He was speaking these things, many believed in Him.

8:7 The sinless one among you, let him first cast the stone at her The witnesses were to throw the first stones (Deut 17:7). Jesus did not set aside the Law. He turned the spotlight around. This does not mean sin should never be judged or courts never punish wrongdoing. It means the guilty should not use God's Law as a weapon while hiding their own sin.
8:9 having begun from the older ones I think the older men left first because they had lived long enough to know their own hearts. Conviction did its work.
8:11 Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more The only One without sin, who had the right to throw a stone, chose not to. Grace came first, then the call to a changed life. He did not excuse her sin or call it something else. Forgiveness is never permission to keep going. It is the power to walk away from sin.
8:12 I am the light of the world At the Feast of Booths great lamps were lit in the temple courts, and their light was said to be seen all over Jerusalem. Against that backdrop Jesus spoke the second "I am" saying (6:35). Light shows the way and exposes what is hidden (1:4). The promise is for the one who follows. Admiring the light is not enough. We have to walk in it.
8:14 I know from where I came and where I am going He came from the Father and was returning to Him. They knew neither. You cannot judge a witness when you do not know who He is.
8:15 You judge according to the flesh; I judge no one They judged by outward appearance and human standards. Judging was not the purpose of His first coming (3:17), but when He judges, He and the Father are never apart in it.
8:17 the testimony of two men is true The Law required two or three witnesses (Deut 17:6; 19:15). Jesus had two: Himself and the Father, who testified through His works and the Scriptures (5:36-39). Watch the words "I am" in this chapter. They build toward verse 58.
8:19 Where is Your Father? They thought of an earthly father, and may have been taking a jab at talk about His birth. To know Jesus is to know God (14:9).
8:20 in the treasury The area of the offering boxes, in the middle of the leaders' own ground. God's timetable, not the plans of men, decided when Jesus would go to the cross.
8:21 you will die in your sin One of the most serious warnings in this Gospel. Rejecting Jesus is not a small mistake.
8:23 You are from below; I am from above He was not a good teacher who rose up from among men. He came down from heaven (3:13, 31).
8:24 unless you believe that I am He, you will die in your sins "He" is not in the Greek. Word for word, unless you believe that I am. It points back to God's name at the burning bush, "I AM WHO I AM" (Exod 3:14). Believing in Jesus means believing He is who He says He is. There is no other way out of our sins.
8:27 They did not understand that He was speaking to them about the Father They heard the words but missed the meaning.
8:28 When you lift up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am He The cross (3:14; 12:32-33). At the cross some confessed who He was (Matt 27:54), and after the resurrection thousands in Jerusalem believed (Acts 2:41). The Son is equal with the Father, yet He chose to submit to Him.
8:29 I always do the things pleasing to Him No other person in history could honestly say that. His sinless life is why He could be the perfect sacrifice for our sins.
8:30 many believed in Him Even in a hostile crowd, God's Word did its work. A hard crowd does not mean a wasted message.

The Truth Will Set You Free

31 Therefore Jesus was saying to the Jews who had believed Him, "If you abide in My word, you are truly My disciples, 32 and you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free." 33 They answered Him, "We are seed of Abraham (Abraam), and we have never been enslaved to anyone. How do You say, 'You will become free'?" 34 Jesus answered them, "Truly, truly, I say to you that everyone who does sin is a slave of sin. 35 Now the slave does not abide in the house forever; the son abides forever. 36 Therefore if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. 37 I know that you are seed of Abraham; but you seek to kill Me, because My word has no place in you. 38 I speak what I have seen with My Father; and you therefore do what you have seen with your father." 39 They answered and said to Him, "Our father is Abraham." Jesus says to them, "If you were children of Abraham, you would be doing the works of Abraham. 40 But now you seek to kill Me, a man who has spoken to you the truth which I heard from God; Abraham did not do this. 41 You are doing the works of your father." Therefore they said to Him, "We have not been born of sexual immorality; we have one Father: God." 42 Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love Me, for I came forth from God and am here; for I have not even come of Myself, but He sent Me. 43 Why do you not understand My speech? Because you are not able to hear My word. 44 You are of your father, the devil, and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and he has not stood in the truth, because there is no truth in him. Whenever he speaks the lie, he speaks from his own things, for he is a liar and the father of it. 45 But because I speak the truth, you do not believe Me. 46 Which of you convicts Me concerning sin? And if I speak the truth, why do you not believe Me? 47 The one who is of God hears the words of God; because of this you do not hear, because you are not of God."

Before Abraham Came into Being, I Am

48 Therefore the Jews answered and said to Him, "Do we not rightly say that You are a Samaritan and have a demon?" 49 Jesus answered, "I do not have a demon; but I honor My Father, and you dishonor Me. 50 But I do not seek My glory; there is the One seeking and judging. 51 Truly, truly, I say to you, if anyone keeps My word, he will certainly never see death." 52 Therefore the Jews said to Him, "Now we know that You have a demon. Abraham died, and the prophets, and You say, 'If anyone keeps My word, he will certainly never taste death.' 53 You are not greater than our father Abraham, who died, are You? And the prophets died. Whom do You make Yourself out to be?" 54 Jesus answered, "If I glorify Myself, My glory is nothing; it is My Father who glorifies Me, of whom you say that He is your God. 55 And you have not known Him, but I know Him; and if I say that I do not know Him, I will be a liar like you. But I know Him and I keep His word. 56 Abraham your father exulted that he might see My

8:31 If you abide in My word, you are truly My disciples To abide is to remain, to continue. A real disciple does not agree with Jesus for an afternoon. He stays in His Word for life. Within minutes many in this group were arguing with Him, which shows how shallow their faith was.
8:32 the truth will set you free Often carved on university buildings as if it were about education. In context the truth is Jesus Himself (14:6) and His Word, and the freedom is freedom from sin. No book learning can do that.
8:33 we have never been enslaved to anyone They had been slaves in Egypt and captives in Babylon, and were under Rome at that moment. Pride has a short memory. They trusted their family line to make them right with God.
8:34 everyone who does sin is a slave of sin "Truly" is amen, so be it, it is true. Sin is not only something we do. It is a master that owns us until someone sets us free.
8:36 if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed A slave had no lasting place in a household and could be sold. A son belonged to the family forever (8:35). The Son has authority to free slaves and bring them into the family. No government or law can give that freedom.
8:39 If you were children of Abraham, you would be doing the works of Abraham Abraham believed God and welcomed His messengers (Gen 15:6; 18:1-8). They were trying to kill the One who told them God's truth. Being Abraham's child is about faith, not only family (Gal 3:7).
8:41 We have not been born of sexual immorality Perhaps a dig at Jesus, since rumors about His birth had likely followed Him.
8:42 If God were your Father, you would love Me A child of God recognizes the Son of God. Their hatred proved they did not belong to the Father.
8:43 you are not able to hear My word His words were not too hard. Their hearts would not receive them.
8:44 You are of your father, the devil Some of the strongest words Jesus spoke. The devil brought death to mankind in the Garden (Gen 3), and lying is his nature. Jesus was not speaking of the Jewish people as a whole. He and all His first disciples were Jewish. He spoke to men trying to kill Him at that moment. Anyone of any background who rejects God's truth for lies follows the same father.
8:46 Which of you convicts Me concerning sin? They did not believe Him because He told the truth. His enemies watched Him closely for three years and could not point to one sin.
8:47 The one who is of God hears the words of God A simple test for any of us. Do we hear God's Word and receive it, or argue with it?
8:48 You are a Samaritan and have a demon Out of arguments, they turned to insults. To them a Samaritan meant a half-breed and a heretic. When people cannot answer the truth, they often attack the one who speaks it.
8:51 he will certainly never see death Not that believers never die physically. They will never face death as God's final judgment, the second death (Rev 20:6, 14). For the believer, physical death is a doorway into His presence.
8:53 You are not greater than our father Abraham The answer is yes. That is exactly what He was claiming.
8:55 I know Him and I keep His word If He pretended not to know the Father, He would be a liar like them.
8:56 Abraham your father exulted that he might see My day Abraham looked ahead by faith to the promise that in his offspring all nations would be blessed (Gen 22:18). The patriarchs saw the promises from afar (Heb 11:13).

day, and he saw it and rejoiced." 57 Therefore the Jews said to Him, "You do not yet have fifty years, and have You seen Abraham?" 58 Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham came into being, I am." 59 Therefore they took up stones that they might cast them at Him; but Jesus was hidden and went out of the temple, passing through the midst of them, and so He was passing by.

A Man Born Blind Receives Sight

1 And passing by, He saw a man blind from birth. 2 And His disciples asked Him, saying, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he should be born blind?" 3 Jesus (Iesous) answered, "Neither this man sinned, nor his parents; but it was so that the works of God might be revealed in him. 4 I must work the works of the One who sent Me while it is day; night is coming, when no one is able to work. 5 While I am in the world, I am the light of the world." 6 Having said these things, He spat on the ground and made clay from the spittle, and He smeared the clay on the eyes of the blind man. 7 And He said to him, "Go, wash in the pool of Siloam" (which is translated, Sent). Therefore he went away and washed, and came seeing. 8 Therefore the neighbors and those who were seeing him before, that he was blind, were saying, "Is this not the one who sits and begs?" 9 Others were saying, "It is he"; others, "He is like him." He was saying, "I am he."

10 Therefore they were saying to him, "How were your eyes opened?" 11 He answered and said, "A man who is called Jesus made clay and smeared my eyes and said to me, 'Go to the pool of Siloam and wash.' And having gone away and having washed, I received sight." 12 Therefore they said to him, "Where is that One?" He says, "I do not know."

The Pharisees Investigate

13 They bring him who once was blind to the Pharisees. 14 Now it was a Sabbath when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes. 15 Therefore again the Pharisees also were asking him how he had received sight. And he said to them, "He put clay on my eyes, and I washed, and I see."
16 Therefore some of the Pharisees were saying, "This man is not from God, because He does not keep the Sabbath." Others were saying, "How is a sinful man able to do such signs?" And there was a division among them. 17 They say to the blind man again, "What do you say concerning Him, that He opened your eyes?" And he said, "He is a prophet."
18 Therefore the Jews did not believe concerning him that he had been blind and had received sight, until they called the parents of him who had received sight. 19 And they asked them, saying, "Is this your son, of whom you say that he was born blind? How then does he now see?" 20 His parents answered them and said, "We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind; 21 but how he now sees we do not know, or who opened his eyes we do not know. He is of age;

8:57 You do not yet have fifty years Jesus was about thirty when He began (Luke 3:23), and Abraham lived some two thousand years before. They thought they had caught Him in an absurd claim.
8:58 before Abraham came into being, I am Not I was, but I am. Abraham came into being at a point in time. Jesus simply is, always has been and always will be. This is God's name from Exodus 3:14. Some groups teach Jesus was a created being, a lesser god. This verse will not allow it. Jesus did not claim to be old. He claimed to be eternal.
8:59 they took up stones that they might cast them at Him They understood exactly what He claimed. A blasphemer was to be stoned (Lev 24:16). Either Jesus was guilty of blasphemy, or He told the truth and He is God. There is no middle ground.
9:1 He saw a man blind from birth The blind man could not see Jesus, but Jesus saw him. He did not ask for help. That is a picture of grace: God comes looking for us before we look for Him. Giving sight to eyes that had never worked was something no one had ever heard of (9:32).
9:2 who sinned, this man or his parents Many then believed every illness was punishment for a specific sin, even sin before birth. Job's friends made the same mistake.
9:3 that the works of God might be revealed in him Sickness and death came into the world through sin in general (Gen 3; Rom 5:12), and sometimes a sin brings its own consequences. But we should never assume a person suffers because of what he did. Some of the strongest testimonies of God's goodness come from people who walked the hardest roads.
9:4 night is coming, when no one is able to work Day was His earthly ministry, and night His arrest and cross. He sent His disciples, and us, to carry on the work (20:21). Each of us has limited time to serve God in this life. We should not waste it.
9:5 I am the light of the world He repeats 8:12 and is about to show it. The healing is a living picture of the spiritual sight He gives everyone who believes.
9:6 He spat on the ground and made clay He healed others with only a word, and Scripture does not say why He did it this way. Some see Genesis 2:7, where God formed man from the dust. It gave the man something to feel and do, and it set up the conflict, because to the leaders making clay on the Sabbath was work.
9:7 Go, wash in the pool of Siloam Siloam means Sent, and Jesus is the One sent by the Father. The man walked across the city with mud on his eyes, still blind, and had to obey before he could see. Faith often looks like that. In 2004 workers repairing a sewer line uncovered the steps of a large pool from Jesus' day, identified as the pool of Siloam.
9:9 He is like him The change was so great people could not be sure it was the same man. When Jesus truly changes a life, people notice.
9:11 A man who is called Jesus He told his story simply. Watch his understanding grow: "a man" (9:11), "a prophet" (9:17), "from God" (9:33), and at last "Lord," whom he worships (9:38).
9:14 it was a Sabbath when Jesus made the clay The religious teachers' long list of what counted as work included kneading, which is what you do to make clay, and healing unless a life was in danger. Jesus did not break God's Law (Exod 20:8-11). He broke the man-made rules piled on top of it.
9:16 How is a sinful man able to do such signs? The first group started with their conclusion and threw out the evidence. The second at least let the evidence make them think. If we come to Jesus with our minds made up, we will miss what is in front of us.
9:17 He is a prophet Prophets like Elijah and Elisha did great miracles by God's power. Whoever opened his eyes was sent from God.
9:18 until they called the parents If they could prove he was a different man or never truly blind, the problem would go away.
9:21 he is of age A grown man, old enough to give legal testimony for himself.

ask him; he will speak concerning himself." 22 His parents said these things because they were afraid of the Jews; for the Jews had already agreed together that if anyone confessed Him to be Christ, he would be put out of the synagogue. 23 Because of this his parents said, "He is of age; ask him." 24 Therefore a second time they called the man who was blind, and said to him, "Give glory to God; we know that this man is a sinner." 25 Then he answered and said, "Whether He is a sinner, I do not know; one thing I know, that being blind, now I see." 26 And they said to him again, "What did He do to you? How did He open your eyes?" 27 He answered them, "I told you already, and you did not hear. Why do you want to hear it again? You do not also want to become His disciples, do you?" 28 Therefore they reviled him and said, "You are a disciple of that One, but we are disciples of Moses. 29 We know that God has spoken to Moses; but this man, we do not know where He is from." 30 The man answered and said to them, "For in this is an amazing thing, that you do not know where He is from, and He opened my eyes. 31 Now we know that God does not hear sinners; but if anyone is God-fearing and does His will, He hears him. 32 Since the age began it has not been heard that anyone opened the eyes of one born blind. 33 If this man were not from God, He would not be able to do anything." 34 They answered and said to him, "You were entirely born in sins, and you teach us?" And they cast him out.

Spiritual Blindness

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out, and having found him, He said to him, "Do you believe in the Son of God?" 36 He answered and said, "Who is He, Sir, that I may believe in Him?" 37 And Jesus said to him, "You have both seen Him, and the One speaking with you is He." 38 And he said, "I believe, Lord." And he worshiped Him. 39 And Jesus said, "For judgment I came into this world, that those not seeing may see, and those seeing may become blind." 40 And those of the Pharisees who were with Him heard these things, and they said to Him, "We are not also blind, are we?" 41 Jesus said to them, "If you were blind, you would not have sin; but now you say, 'We see.' Therefore your sin remains."

9:22 he would be put out of the synagogue The synagogue was the center of Jewish community life. Being put out could cut a person off from friends, worship and even work. Fear is powerful, but it is sad to see parents too afraid to stand with their son on the greatest day of his life. Following Jesus may cost us our place among people (16:2). Will we confess Him anyway?
9:24 Give glory to God A solemn way of saying, tell the truth before God (Josh 7:19). They put him under oath and told him the answer they wanted.
9:25 one thing I know, that being blind, now I see He did not try to win a debate with the experts. He told what happened to him. No one can argue you out of what Jesus has done in your life. John Newton put these words into his hymn Amazing Grace.
9:27 You do not also want to become His disciples, do you? A beggar who had never read a book was teasing the most powerful religious leaders in the city. The more they pushed, the bolder he became.
9:29 this man, we do not know where He is from In 7:27 the crowd said they did know. Now, when it suits them, the leaders say they do not. They set Moses against Jesus, but Moses wrote about Jesus (5:46). You cannot truly follow Moses and reject the One he pointed to.
9:31 God does not hear sinners A common belief, close to Psalm 66:18 and Proverbs 15:29: God does not answer those living in open rebellion. These are the words of a new believer, not a doctrine Jesus taught. God does hear the sinner who turns to Him. The tax collector prayed, "God, be propitious to me, the sinner" (Luke 18:13), and went home justified.
9:32 it has not been heard that anyone opened the eyes of one born blind No such case is recorded in the Old Testament. The prophets spoke of the eyes of the blind opened as a sign of God's coming salvation (Isa 35:5). The man was living proof of it.
9:34 You were entirely born in sins Now they admit he was born blind, the very thing they refused to believe. They put him out of the synagogue. When people cannot answer the truth, they try to silence it.
9:35 having found him The leaders threw him out, and Jesus took him in. When you are rejected for His sake, He will find you. Some Greek copies read "Son of Man," His favorite name for Himself (Dan 7:13-14). Either way, Jesus asked for his faith.
9:37 You have both seen Him He was healed after he went away to wash, so this may be the first time he laid eyes on the man who healed him. The first face he looked for was the face of the Son of God.
9:38 I believe, Lord. And he worshiped Him When people tried to worship apostles or angels, they refused (Acts 10:25-26; Rev 19:10; 22:8-9). Jesus accepted it, because He is God.
9:39 For judgment I came into this world In 3:17 He said He did not come to judge. Both are true. His purpose was to save, but His coming divides people. Those who admit they are blind receive sight. Those who think they see end up blinder than before.
9:41 now you say, 'We see.' Therefore your sin remains If they admitted their blindness, they could be healed and forgiven. Claiming to see, they shut the door on the only One who could help. Pride is the most dangerous blindness, because the person who has it does not know it.
10:1 the one not entering through the door into the fold of the sheep A sheepfold was usually a stone pen with one opening, where sheep were kept safe at night. Anyone who climbed the wall was there to take, not to care. Jesus is speaking to the Pharisees who had just thrown the healed man out (9:34). They had climbed into authority over God's people without coming God's way, and they did not love the sheep.
10:3 he calls his own sheep by name Several flocks often shared a fold overnight, and in the morning each shepherd called and only his own sheep came. The Good Shepherd does not see a crowd. He sees you and calls you personally, as He had just done with the blind man (9:35).

his own sheep by name and leads them out. 4 And when he brings out his own sheep, he goes before them, and the sheep follow him, because they know his voice. 5 But a stranger they will certainly not follow, but they will flee from him, because they do not know the voice of strangers." 6 Jesus (Iesous) spoke this figure of speech to them, but they did not know what the things were which He was speaking to them. 7 Therefore Jesus said to them again, "Truly, truly, I say to you, I am the door of the sheep. 8 All, as many as came before Me, are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not hear them. 9 I am the door. If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved, and he will go in and will go out and will find pasture. 10 The thief does not come except that he may steal and kill and destroy. I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly. 11 I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down His life for the sheep. 12 But the hired man, and not being a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, sees the wolf coming, and leaves the sheep and flees; and the wolf snatches them and scatters the sheep. 13 Now the hired man flees because he is a hired man and is not concerned about the sheep. 14 I am the good shepherd; and I know My own, and I am known by My own, 15 even as the Father knows Me and I know the Father; and I lay down My life for the sheep. 16 And I have other sheep which are not of this fold; those also I must bring, and they will hear My voice, and there will be one flock, one shepherd. 17 Because of this the Father loves Me, because I lay down My life, so that I may take it again. 18 No one takes it away from Me, but I lay it down from Myself. I have authority to lay it down, and I have authority to take it again. This commandment I received from My Father." 19 Therefore a division occurred again among the Jews because of these words. 20 And many of them were saying, "He has a demon and is insane. Why do you listen to Him?" 21 Others were saying, "These declarations are not those of one being demonized. A demon is not able to open the eyes of the blind, is it?"

I and the Father Are One

22 Now the Feast of Dedication took place in Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), and it was winter, 23 and Jesus was walking in the temple, in the porch of Solomon. 24 Therefore the Jews surrounded Him and were saying to Him, "How long do You hold our soul in suspense? If You are the Christ, tell us plainly." 25 Jesus answered them, "I told you, and you do not believe. The works which I do in the name of My Father, these testify concerning Me. 26 But you do not believe, for you are not of My sheep, even as I said to you. 27 My sheep

10:4 the sheep follow him, because they know his voice An Eastern shepherd walked ahead of his sheep rather than driving them. A stranger could use the same words, but the voice was wrong (10:5). The more time we spend with our Shepherd in His Word, the more a false teacher, even one using Bible words, will sound off to us. You learn a voice by hearing it often.
10:6 this figure of speech The Greek paroimia, an illustration. The Pharisees missed it completely. They had eyes but could not see, the point Jesus made in 9:39-41.
10:7 I am the door of the sheep The third "I am" saying. In the field a shepherd often lay down across the opening of the pen at night. Nothing got in or out without passing him. He was the door.
10:8 All, as many as came before Me, are thieves and robbers Not the prophets, who pointed to Him, but those who claimed to be the way to God while leading people away from Him: false messiahs and self-serving leaders.
10:9 If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved One of the plainest statements of salvation in the Bible. "If anyone" opens the invitation to all. Going in and out to pasture pictures the life that follows: safety, freedom, and food to grow. Jesus did not say He is one of many doors (14:6).
10:10 I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly The thief, finally Satan and every leader who serves himself at the flock's expense, comes to destroy. The Greek perissos means overflowing, more than enough. Not a promise of money or ease. Jesus Himself was poor and was crucified. Abundant life is life with God, full of meaning, forgiveness and peace, beginning now and never ending.
10:11 I am the good shepherd The fourth "I am" saying. "Good" is kalos, noble, beautiful, the model shepherd. A hired shepherd might fight off a wolf, but no one expected him to die for the flock. In the Old Testament the LORD is Israel's Shepherd (Ps 23:1; Ezek 34:11-16), and Jesus steps into that role.
10:12 the hired man He works for a paycheck and runs when danger comes, because the sheep are not his. A warning to anyone in ministry. The sheep belong to Christ, and those of us who teach will answer to Him for how we treat them.
10:14 I know My own, and I am known by My own A relationship, not just a job, compared to the closest one there is, the Father and the Son (10:15). The cross was not an accident that caught Him by surprise. He went to it on purpose, for us.
10:16 I have other sheep which are not of this fold The fold was Israel. The other sheep are the Gentiles, most of us reading this. "One flock, one shepherd" is the church, Jew and Gentile together under one Lord (Eph 2:14), ending in a multitude from every nation (Rev 7:9).
10:18 No one takes it away from Me, but I lay it down from Myself Not Judas, the high priest, Pilate or the soldiers. Only God has authority over life and death. Scripture says the Father raised Him (Acts 2:24), the Spirit was at work (Rom 8:11), and here the Son takes His life up again. All three Persons of the one God, the Trinity, were at work in the resurrection.
10:21 A demon is not able to open the eyes of the blind, is it? Again His words divide the crowd (7:43; 9:16). No one stays neutral about Him for long, and the works He did are the evidence that settles it.
10:22 the Feast of Dedication Today's Hanukkah, the Feast of Lights. It celebrates the rededication of the temple in about 164 B.C., after the Maccabees drove out Antiochus IV Epiphanes, who had defiled it with pagan sacrifices. Daniel foretold this ruler (Dan 8; 11), and many teachers see him as a forerunner of the antichrist to come.
10:23 the porch of Solomon A covered walkway along the east side of the temple courts, where the early church later met (Acts 3:11; 5:12). Jesus, the true temple (2:19-21), walked there at the feast of its cleansing.
10:24 If You are the Christ, tell us plainly Not an honest question. They wanted words to accuse Him to the Romans or to stone Him for blasphemy.
10:26 you are not of My sheep He had told them by His words and works. Unbelief is not usually a head problem. It is a heart problem.
10:27 My sheep hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me A simple picture of a true believer: they hear, He knows them, they follow.

hear My voice, and I know them, and they follow Me. 28 And I give them eternal life, and they will certainly never perish, and no one will snatch them out of My hand. 29 My Father, who has given them to Me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch them out of the hand of My Father. 30 I and the Father are one." 31 Therefore the Jews again took up stones so that they might stone Him. 32 Jesus answered them, "Many good works I have shown you from My Father. Because of which work of them do you stone Me?" 33 The Jews answered Him, saying, "For a good work we do not stone You, but for blasphemy, and because You, being a man, make Yourself God." 34 Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your law, 'I said, you are gods'? 35 If He called them gods, to whom the word of God came (and the Scripture is not able to be broken), 36 do you say of Him whom the Father sanctified and sent into the world, 'You blaspheme,' because I said, 'I am the Son of God'? 37 If I do not do the works of My Father, do not believe Me; 38 but if I do, even if you do not believe Me, believe the works, so that you may know and believe that the Father is in Me, and I in Him." 39 Therefore they were seeking again to seize Him, and He went out of their hand. 40 And He went away again beyond the Jordan (Iordanes) to the place where John (Ioannes) was baptizing at first, and He stayed there. 41 And many came to Him and were saying, "John indeed did no sign, but all things, as many as John said about this man, were true." 42 And many believed in Him there.

Lazarus Dies

1 Now there was a certain man being sick, Lazarus (Lazaros) of Bethany (Bethania), of the village of Mary (Maria) and Martha her sister. 2 Now Mary was the one who anointed the Lord with fragrant oil and wiped His feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 Therefore the sisters sent to Him, saying, "Lord, look, he whom You love dearly is sick." 4 And having heard it, Jesus (Iesous) said, "This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God, so that the Son of God may be glorified through it." 5 Now Jesus was loving Martha and her sister and Lazarus. 6 Therefore when He heard that he was sick, then He indeed remained two days in the place where He was. 7 Then after this He says to the disciples, "Let us go into Judea (Ioudaia) again." 8 The disciples say to Him, "Rabbi, just now the Jews were seeking to stone You, and You are going there again?" 9 Jesus answered, "Are there not 10:28 no one will snatch them out of My hand The believer's safety rests on the Shepherd, not on the sheep. Some believe these words teach that a true believer can never be lost. Others note the promise is for sheep who keep hearing and following, and believe a person can choose to leave (Heb 3:12-14). Good people land on both sides. No one should miss the comfort: no outside power, not Satan, people or circumstances, can take His sheep from Him.

10:29 no one is able to snatch them out of the hand of My Father A second hand. The sheep are held in the Son's hand and the Father's (6:37-39). This is double protection from the only One who has all power.
10:30 I and the Father are one Among the strongest claims to deity Jesus made. The Greek hen is neuter: not one Person, since He speaks to and about the Father throughout, but one in nature and essence, power and purpose. Some say He only meant He agreed with God. The men standing there did not take it that way (10:31).
10:31 the Jews again took up stones As in 8:59. Stoning was the Law's penalty for blasphemy (Lev 24:16). If He had only meant God and I agree, no one would have reached for a rock.
10:33 You, being a man, make Yourself God They were right about what He claimed and wrong about who He was. Jesus did not make Himself God. He is God, who became a man (1:1, 14).
10:34 I said, you are gods From Psalm 82:6, where God calls Israel's judges elohim, gods, because they stood in God's place to judge, though they would die like men. Jesus reasons from lesser to greater. If Scripture calls mere judges gods, how is it blasphemy for the One the Father set apart and sent to say, "I am the Son of God" (10:36)? He is not claiming to be a lesser god. Their charge fails by their own Bible.
10:35 the Scripture is not able to be broken Jesus built His argument on one word in one psalm and said Scripture cannot be set aside or proven wrong. If that was His view of God's Word, it should be ours.
10:38 believe the works Do not take My word for it. Look at what I do. God never asks for blind faith. He gives evidence and asks us to trust Him on the basis of what He has shown.
10:39 He went out of their hand As before (7:30, 44; 8:59). No one could lay a hand on Him until the Father's time.
10:41 John indeed did no sign, but all things, as many as John said about this man, were true Back where His ministry began (1:28). John never did a miracle, but he told the truth about Jesus, and years later people still came to faith because of it. We may never do anything spectacular, but God can use our witness long after we are gone.
11:1 Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of Mary and Martha her sister We meet this family in Luke 10:38-42, Martha busy serving and Mary at Jesus' feet. Lazarus is a Greek form of Eleazar, God has helped, a fitting name for a man God was about to help in the most amazing way. John points ahead to Mary's anointing in chapter 12.
11:3 he whom You love dearly is sick They do not ask Him to come or tell Him what to do. They bring the need and trust His love. That is a good model for prayer. Their confidence was in His love, not in their own worthiness.
11:4 This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God Lazarus did die, but death would not be the final word. As with the man born blind (9:3), God sometimes allows suffering for reasons we cannot see in the moment. That does not mean He does not care.
11:6 then He indeed remained two days in the place where He was Jesus loved them (11:5), and so He waited. Coming at once, He would have healed a sick man. By waiting He raised a dead man and showed His power over death itself. God's delays are not God's denials. Not every prayer for healing is answered this way, and Lazarus died again someday, but for those who belong to Him death is not the last word (11:25).
11:8 just now the Jews were seeking to stone You The last time near Jerusalem they tried to stone Him (10:31). The disciples were thinking of safety. Jesus was thinking of His Father's plan and His friend.
11:9 Are there not twelve hours in the day? Jesus walked in the light of the Father's will, and nothing could happen to Him before His time. When we walk in God's light, we need not be ruled by fear.

twelve hours in the day? If anyone walks in the day, he does not stumble, because he sees the light of this world. 10 But if anyone walks in the night, he stumbles, because the light is not in him." 11 He said these things, and after this He says to them, "Lazarus our friend has fallen asleep; but I go so that I may wake him." 12 Therefore His disciples said, "Lord, if he has fallen asleep, he will recover." 13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death, but they thought that He was speaking of the rest of sleep. 14 Then therefore Jesus said to them plainly, "Lazarus died. 15 And I rejoice for your sake that I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him." 16 Therefore Thomas, who is called Didymus (Didymos), said to the fellow disciples, "Let us also go, so that we may die with Him."

I Am the Resurrection and the Life

17 Therefore having come, Jesus found that he had already been four days in the tomb. 18 Now Bethany was near Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), approximately 1.7 miles (fifteen stadia) away. 19 And many of the Jews had come to those around Martha and Mary, so that they might console them concerning their brother. 20 Therefore Martha, when she heard that Jesus was coming, met Him; but Mary was sitting in the house. 21 Then Martha said to Jesus, "Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died. 22 But even now I know that whatever You may ask God, God will give You." 23 Jesus says to her, "Your brother will rise again."

24 Martha says to Him, "I know that he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day." 25 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one believing in Me, even if he dies, will live, 26 and everyone living and believing in Me will certainly never die. Do you believe this?" 27 She says to Him, "Yes, Lord; I have believed that You are the Christ, the Son of God, the One coming into the world."

Jesus Wept

28 And having said these things, she went away and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, "The Teacher is here and calls you." 29 She, when she heard, rises quickly and comes to Him. 30 Now Jesus had not yet come into the village, but was in the place where Martha met Him. 31 Then the Jews who were with her in the house and consoling her, having seen Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, saying, "She is going to the tomb so that she may weep there." 32 Therefore Mary, when she came where Jesus was, having seen Him, fell at His feet, saying to Him, "Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died."

33 Therefore when Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her weeping, He was deeply moved in the spirit and troubled Himself. 34 And He said, "Where have you

11:11 Lazarus our friend has fallen asleep The Bible often calls a believer's death sleep (Acts 7:60; 1 Thess 4:13-14). That does not mean the soul is unconscious. To be absent from the body is to be at home with the Lord (2 Cor 5:8). It means death is temporary, and the body will be raised. For Jesus, waking Lazarus from death was as easy as waking a friend from a nap.

11:15 I rejoice for your sake that I was not there, so that you may believe Not glad His friends grieved, but glad for what the disciples would see. In a few weeks they would watch Him die, and they needed to know He had power over the grave.

11:16 Let us also go, so that we may die with Him Didymus means twin. Thomas is remembered as doubting Thomas (20:25), but here he is loyal and brave, ready to follow Jesus even at the cost of his life. Let's give him credit for that.

11:17 he had already been four days in the tomb Burial usually took place the same day. Four days meant no question he was truly dead, and decay had begun (11:39). Jesus let it become humanly hopeless so only God could get the glory.

11:19 many of the Jews had come to those around Martha and Mary Bethany was less than two miles from Jerusalem. Mourning lasted several days, and friends came to sit with the family. God arranged a crowd of witnesses.

11:20 Martha, when she heard that Jesus was coming, met Him; but Mary was sitting in the house Each acts as we would expect from Luke 10. Neither is wrong. God made people differently, and He meets each of us where we are.

11:21 Lord, if You had been here, my brother would not have died Faith and hurt together. She believed He could have healed him and may have wondered why He did not come. We can bring Him our questions and our if-only moments. Faith and grief can live in the same heart.

11:24 he will rise again in the resurrection on the last day Many Jews, especially Pharisees, believed in a future resurrection (Dan 12:2). Martha had good theology but expected nothing that day. Jesus will raise His people on the last day (6:39-40). I believe the dead in Christ rise when He comes for His church before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17). But the resurrection is not only an event. It is a Person.

11:25 I am the resurrection and the life The fifth "I am" saying. Not I will bring the resurrection, but I am it. The believer will live even if he dies, for his body will be raised. And everyone who lives and believes will never die, for the soul will never be separated from God (11:26). Death for a believer is a doorway into the Lord's presence.

11:26 Do you believe this? He asks you the same question today, and how you answer it shapes everything else.

11:27 You are the Christ, the Son of God, the One coming into the world One of the great confessions of the Bible, and exactly John's purpose for writing (20:31). Martha, the busy, practical sister, gets it right. Faith does not belong only to the quiet types.

11:28 The Teacher is here and calls you Said secretly, probably because of the danger with so many visitors from Jerusalem. When Jesus calls, the right response is to go to Him right away.

11:31 She is going to the tomb so that she may weep there Without knowing it, the mourners followed her straight to Jesus and the greatest miracle they would ever see.

11:32 fell at His feet Where we usually find Mary (Luke 10:39; 12:3). She says the same words as Martha. Jesus answered Martha with teaching. He answers Mary with tears. He gives each of us what we need.

11:33 He was deeply moved in the spirit and troubled Himself The Greek embrimaomai is strong and can include anger or indignation. Not at Mary. I believe He was moved by the grief before Him and stirred against death itself, the enemy sin brought into God's good world. Death was never part of God's original design.

11:34 Lord, come and see The words of chapter 1 (1:39, 46). Now the mourners invite Jesus to come and see their sorrow.

laid him?" They say to Him, "Lord, come and see." 35 Jesus wept. 36 Therefore the Jews were saying, "Look how He was loving him dearly!" 37 But some of them said, "Was not this man, who opened the eyes of the blind man, able to cause that this man also should not die?"

Lazarus Raised

38 Therefore Jesus, again being deeply moved in Himself, comes to the tomb. Now it was a cave, and a stone was lying against it. 39 Jesus says, "Take away the stone." The sister of the one who had died, Martha, says to Him, "Lord, already he stinks, for he is four days dead." 40 Jesus says to her, "Did I not say to you that if you believe, you will see the glory of God?" 41 Therefore they took away the stone where the one who had died was laid. And Jesus lifted His eyes upward and said, "Father, I thank You that You heard Me. 42 And I knew that You always hear Me; but because of the crowd standing around I said it, so that they may believe that You sent Me." 43 And having said these things, He cried out with a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" 44 And the one who had died came out, bound feet and hands with linen strips, and his face had been bound around with a cloth. Jesus says to them, "Unbind him and allow him to go."

The Plot to Kill Jesus

45 Therefore many of the Jews who had come to Mary and had seen what Jesus did believed in Him. 46 But some of them went away to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus did. 47 Therefore the chief priests and the Pharisees gathered a council and were saying, "What are we doing? For this man does many signs. 48 If we let Him alone like this, all will believe in Him, and the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation." 49 But a certain one of them, Caiaphas (Kaiaphas), being high priest of that year, said to them, "You know nothing, 50 nor do you consider that it is profitable for us that one man die for the people, and not the whole nation perish." 51 Now this he did not say from himself, but being high priest of that year he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation, 52 and not for the nation only, but that He might also gather together into one the children of God who have been scattered. 53 Therefore from that day they took counsel together that they might kill Him. 54 Therefore Jesus was no longer walking publicly among the Jews, but went away from there into the region near the wilderness, to a city called Ephraim, and there He stayed with His disciples. 55 Now the Passover of the Jews was near, and many went up to Jerusalem out of the region before the Passover, so that they might purify themselves. 56 Therefore they were seeking Jesus and were saying among one another, standing in the temple, "What does it seem to 11:35 Jesus wept The shortest verse in most English Bibles, and one of the deepest. The word means to shed tears quietly, not the loud wailing around Him. He knew He would raise Lazarus, yet He truly feels our pain. He came close enough to cry with us (Heb 4:15). If you are grieving today, Jesus weeps with you.

11:37 Was not this man, who opened the eyes of the blind man, able to cause that this man also should not die? The same question as the sisters', but from doubt instead of faith. There will always be people who look at Jesus' love and find fault.

11:38 it was a cave, and a stone was lying against it A typical family tomb. The body lay on a shelf inside, and the stone kept out animals and robbers. It would not stand there long.

11:39 Take away the stone Jesus could have moved it with a word but gave the people something to do. God often asks us to do the part we can before He does the part only He can. Martha's objection proves beyond doubt that Lazarus was dead. Jesus was not reviving a man who fainted.

11:40 if you believe, you will see the glory of God Martha's facts were correct. Faith is not ignoring the facts. It is trusting that God is bigger than the facts.

11:41 Father, I thank You that You heard Me He thanked the Father before anything happened. He prayed aloud for the crowd's sake, so they would know the Father sent Him (11:42). His miracles always pointed back to the One who sent Him. We too can thank God in faith before we see the answer.

11:43 Lazarus, come out! He called His friend by name, as the Good Shepherd calls His sheep (10:3). Death has no choice but to obey the voice of the Son of God. Lazarus was a preview of the hour when all in the tombs will hear His voice (5:28-29).

11:44 Unbind him and allow him to go Again the people had a job. Only Jesus gives new life to the spiritually dead (Eph 2:1, 5), but He invites us to help new believers get free of the grave clothes of their old life. Lazarus was restored to this life and would die again. Jesus rose never to die again (Rom 6:9).

11:46 some of them went away to the Pharisees Standing before a man raised from the dead, some still did not believe. As Jesus said, "neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead" (Luke 16:31). Miracles alone do not change a heart that has decided against God.

11:48 the Romans will come and take away both our place and nation The council, the Sanhedrin, did not deny the signs. Their place meant the temple and their own power. They feared losing it more than they cared whether Jesus told the truth. What they feared came anyway: Rome destroyed the temple and Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

11:49 Caiaphas, being high priest of that year High priest from about A.D. 18 to 36. "That year" means that one fateful year. His plan was cold political calculation: remove the problem for the good of the country.

11:51 he prophesied that Jesus was about to die for the nation Caiaphas meant, sacrifice Jesus to save ourselves. God meant, Jesus will die in the people's place to save them. And not for Israel only, but to gather God's scattered children into one (11:52), the "other sheep" of 10:16. God can use even the words of wicked men for His purpose.

11:53 from that day they took counsel together that they might kill Him The raising of Lazarus hardened their hearts. This is the turning point of John's Gospel. From here the road leads straight to the cross.

11:54 a city called Ephraim Jesus was not running from the cross. His hour had to come at Passover, and He would not let them take Him a moment early.

11:55 so that they might purify themselves The third Passover in John (2:13; 6:4) and the last of Jesus' life. Pilgrims came early for the purification rites (Num 9:6-10). They were careful to be ceremonially clean while their leaders planned murder.

you? That He will certainly not come to the feast?" 57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a command that if anyone knew where He was, he should report it, so that they might seize Him.

Mary Anoints Jesus

1 Therefore six days before the Passover Jesus (Iesous) came to Bethany (Bethania), where Lazarus (Lazaros) was, who had died, whom He raised out from the dead. 2 Therefore they made a supper for Him there, and Martha was serving, and Lazarus was one of those reclining at table with Him. 3 Therefore Mary (Maria), having taken approximately 12 ounces (a litra) of fragrant oil of pure nard, very costly, anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped His feet with her hair; and the house was filled with the fragrance of the oil. 4 Therefore Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), son of Simon, one of His disciples, who was about to betray Him, says, 5 "Why was this fragrant oil not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?" 6 Now he said this, not because he was concerned about the poor, but because he was a thief, and had the money bag, and was carrying off what was being put into it. 7 Therefore Jesus said, "Leave her alone; she has kept it for the day of My burial. 8 For the poor you always have with you, but Me you do not always have." 9 Therefore a great crowd of the Jews knew that He was there; and they came, not because of Jesus only, but so that they might also see Lazarus, whom He had raised out from the dead. 10 But the chief priests took counsel that they might kill Lazarus also, 11 because on account of him many of the Jews were going away and were believing in Jesus.

The King Comes to Jerusalem

12 On the next day a great crowd that had come to the feast, having heard that Jesus was coming into Jerusalem (Hierosolyma), 13 took the branches of the palm trees and went out to meet Him, and were crying out, "Hosanna! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord, the King of Israel!" 14 And Jesus, having found a young donkey, sat on it, even as it is written: 15 "Do not fear, daughter of Zion (Sion); look, your King comes, sitting on a colt of a donkey." 16 Now His disciples did not know these things at first; but when Jesus was glorified, then they remembered that these things had been written about Him, and that they had done these things to Him. 17 Therefore the crowd which was with Him when He called Lazarus out of the tomb and raised him out from the dead was testifying. 18 Because of this the crowd also met Him, because it heard that He had done this sign. 19 Therefore the Pharisees said among themselves, "You see that you gain nothing. Look, the world has gone after Him."

11:57 if anyone knew where He was, he should report it Jesus had become a wanted man. The Lamb of God (1:29) would come to Jerusalem at the feast of the lamb.
12:1 six days before the Passover Jesus came to Bethany Less than two miles from Jerusalem on the Mount of Olives. The raising of Lazarus is the backdrop for this chapter. It drew the crowds and pushed the leaders to plan His death (11:53). Jesus, the Lamb of God (1:29), is about to die at the feast of the lamb (Exod 12).
12:2 Lazarus was one of those reclining at table with Him People ate lying on low couches, leaning on one elbow, feet stretched away from the table. A man dead and buried four days was eating and talking. He did not have to preach a sermon. His life was the testimony.
12:3 anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped His feet with her hair Nard was a costly perfume from a plant grown in India. A respectable woman did not let her hair down in public, and washing feet was the lowest servant's job. Mary held nothing back. The fragrance filled the house. Real worship cannot be hidden and affects everyone around it. Each time we see Mary, she is at His feet (Luke 10:39; 11:32).
12:5 three hundred denarii A denarius was about a day's wage, so this was close to a year's pay. Judas' complaint sounds reasonable, even godly. Sin often dresses itself in good-sounding words.
12:6 because he was a thief The only place in the Gospels that tells us this. Judas kept the money bag and stole from it. He spent about three years with Jesus, saw the miracles and heard the teaching, yet his heart never changed. Being close to Jesus is not the same as belonging to Him.
12:7 she has kept it for the day of My burial Bodies were anointed with spices for burial. Whether Mary fully understood or not, Jesus accepts her gift as preparation for His death.
12:8 the poor you always have with you Sometimes misused as an excuse to ignore the poor. Jesus echoes Deuteronomy 15:11, which commands generosity to the poor. His point is timing. There would always be chances to help the poor, but He was going to the cross. Worship of Him comes first, and true worship leads us to care for the poor.
12:9 so that they might also see Lazarus Curiosity brought many of them, but curiosity alone does not save anyone.
12:10 the chief priests took counsel that they might kill Lazarus also They could not deny the miracle, so they planned to get rid of the evidence. A changed life is one of the strongest witnesses for Christ, and it can bring opposition (15:18).
12:13 Hosanna! Blessed is the One coming in the name of the Lord Palm branches were a sign of victory and national hope, the day many churches remember as Palm Sunday. Hosanna means save now, from Psalm 118:25-26, a psalm sung at the great feasts. "The King of Israel" hailed Him as Messiah. They were right about who He was. Most were wrong about what kind of King. Many wanted a king to throw off Rome. He came first to deal with sin.
12:15 your King comes, sitting on a colt of a donkey Fulfilling Zechariah 9:9 (Matt 21:1-7). A conquering king rode a war horse, and a king coming in peace rode a donkey. In Revelation 19:11 Jesus returns on a white horse. The first time He came to save. Next time He comes to judge and reign. It is the same King.
12:16 His disciples did not know these things at first Only after His death, resurrection and return to the Father did they see the Scriptures were written about Him. Understanding often comes later as the Spirit brings God's Word to mind (14:26). If you do not understand everything the first time, you are in good company.
12:18 it heard that He had done this sign Eyewitnesses of Lazarus' raising kept telling others. This sign pointed to Jesus as the resurrection and the life (11:25).
12:19 Look, the world has gone after Him Meant as an exaggeration, but true. In the next verse people from outside Israel come looking for Him.

The Grain of Wheat

20 Now there were certain Greeks among those coming up so that they might worship at the feast. 21 Therefore these came to Philip (Philippos), who was from Bethsaida of Galilee (Galilaia), and were asking him, saying, "Sir, we want to see Jesus." 22 Philip comes and tells Andrew (Andreas), and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus. 23 And Jesus answered them, saying, "The hour has come that the Son of Man may be glorified. 24 Truly, truly, I say to you, unless the grain of wheat, having fallen into the ground, dies, it remains alone; but if it dies, it bears much fruit. 25 The one loving his life will lose it, and the one hating his life in this world will keep it to eternal life. 26 If anyone serves Me, let him follow Me; and where I am, there My servant also will be. And if anyone serves Me, the Father will honor him. 27 Now My soul has been troubled, and what shall I say? 'Father, save Me from this hour'? But because of this I came to this hour. 28 Father, glorify Your name." Therefore a voice came out of heaven: "I have both glorified it, and I will glorify it again."
29 Therefore the crowd that stood there and heard it was saying that thunder had occurred. Others were saying, "An angel has spoken to Him." 30 Jesus answered and said, "This voice has come not because of Me, but because of you.
31 Now is the judgment of this world; now the ruler of this world will be cast out. 32 And I, if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to Myself." 33 Now He was saying this, signifying by what kind of death He was about to die.
34 The crowd answered Him, "We have heard from the law that the Christ remains forever; and how do You say, 'The Son of Man must be lifted up'? Who is this Son of Man?" 35 Therefore Jesus said to them, "Yet a little while the light is with you. Walk while you have the light, so that darkness may not overtake you; and the one walking in the darkness does not know where he is going. 36 While you have the light, believe in the light, so that you may become sons of light." Jesus spoke these things, and having gone away, He was hidden from them.

Unbelief and Belief

37 But though He had done so many signs before them, they were not believing in Him, 38 so that the word of Isaiah (Hesaias) the prophet might be fulfilled, which he said:
"Lord, who has believed our report? And to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?" 39 Because of this they were not able to believe, because Isaiah said again: 40 "He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart, so that they may not see with the eyes and understand with the heart,

12:21 Sir, we want to see Jesus Probably Gentiles who worshiped Israel's God without becoming full converts. Philip had a Greek name and came from a town near Gentile areas. This request should be the prayer of everyone who opens the Bible or walks into a church. We come to see Jesus, not a preacher or a building.

12:22 Philip comes and tells Andrew Each time we see Andrew he is bringing someone to Jesus (1:41-42; 6:8-9). Not everyone is called to preach to crowds, but every believer can do what Andrew did.

12:23 The hour has come that the Son of Man may be glorified Until now His hour had not come (2:4; 7:30; 8:20). Gentiles seeking Him signaled the time to die for the whole world. To Jesus, glory meant the cross first, then the resurrection, then His return to the Father. The cross was not defeat but the clearest display of God's glory.

12:24 unless the grain of wheat, having fallen into the ground, dies, it remains alone A seed in the bag stays alone. Only buried does it bear a harvest. Because He died and rose, there is a great harvest from every nation (Rev 7:9). John alone doubles the "Truly," amen, marking something very important and certain.

12:25 the one hating his life in this world will keep it to eternal life Not despising ourselves, but loving Jesus so much more that our comfort and plans look small beside Him (Luke 14:26). Those who hold this life as all there is lose what really matters.

12:26 where I am, there My servant also will be For Him the path led to the cross, then glory. The world may never notice your service, but the Father does, and He will honor you.

12:27 Now My soul has been troubled Fully God and fully man, He felt the weight of what was coming, John's look at the struggle the other Gospels show in Gethsemane. He did not drift into the cross. He came for it, knowing exactly what it would cost.

12:28 Father, glorify Your name The heart of His whole life. The Father answered aloud, as at the baptism (Matt 3:17) and the Transfiguration (Matt 17:5). He glorified His name through Jesus' life and signs and would again through His death and resurrection.

12:29 thunder had occurred People can hear the same thing and reach very different conclusions. Closed hearts often explain away what God is doing. The voice came for their sake (12:30), a chance to believe.

12:31 now the ruler of this world will be cast out At the cross sin was exposed, and Satan, which looked like his victory, was defeated. Christ disarmed the rulers and authorities and triumphed over them (Col 2:15). Satan is still active (1 Pet 5:8), but his defeat was settled, and his end is the lake of fire (Rev 20:10).

12:32 if I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to Myself "Lifted up" pointed to crucifixion (12:33; 3:14; 8:28). "All men" does not mean every person will be saved (3:18, 36). It means all kinds of people, Jew and Greek, from every nation. The Greeks who came asking were the first fruits.

12:34 the Christ remains forever From passages like Psalm 89:36 and Isaiah 9:7. They had half the picture. The Old Testament taught both a suffering Servant (Isa 53) and a reigning King. The same Messiah does both. He died and rose, and He does remain forever.

12:35 Walk while you have the light Jesus, the Light (8:12), would be with them only a little longer. The time to respond to Him is limited.

12:36 sons of light In Hebrew thinking a son of something shares its nature. Then Jesus hid Himself. His public teaching to the crowds was finished, a sad and serious moment.

12:37 though He had done so many signs before them, they were not believing in Him John sums up the public ministry. People who do not want to believe will find a reason not to, no matter what they see (Luke 16:31).

12:38 Lord, who has believed our report? From Isaiah 53:1, the great chapter of the suffering Servant. The rejection of Jesus did not surprise God. It was foretold.

12:40 He has blinded their eyes and hardened their heart From Isaiah 6:10. They had seen sign after sign and kept refusing. Their hearts were hardened over time by their own choice, and God then confirmed the choice they had made. God said He would harden Pharaoh's heart (Exod 4:21), and Pharaoh hardened his own (Exod 8:15). Every time we push God's truth away, it gets easier the next time (Heb 3:15).

and turn, and I should heal them." 41 Isaiah said these things when he saw His glory, and he spoke concerning Him. 42 Nevertheless, even of the rulers many believed in Him, but because of the Pharisees they were not confessing Him, so that they might not be put out of the synagogue. 43 For they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God. 44 Then Jesus cried out and said, "The one believing in Me does not believe in Me, but in the One who sent Me. 45 And the one seeing Me sees the One who sent Me. 46 I have come as a light into the world, so that everyone believing in Me may not remain in the darkness. 47 And if anyone hears My declarations and does not believe, I do not judge him; for I did not come that I might judge the world, but that I might save the world. 48 The one rejecting Me and not receiving My declarations has the one judging him: the word which I spoke, that will judge him on the last day. 49 For I did not speak from Myself, but the Father who sent Me, He gave Me a commandment, what I should say and what I should speak. 50 And I know that His commandment is eternal life. Therefore the things which I speak, even as the Father has said to Me, so I speak."

Jesus Washes the Disciples' Feet

1 Now before the feast of the Passover, Jesus (Iesous), knowing that His hour had come that He should depart out of this world to the Father, having loved His own who were in the world, He loved them to the end. 2 And supper having come, the devil having already put into the heart of Judas (Ioudas) Iscariot (Iskariotes), son of Simon, that he should betray Him, 3 Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands, and that He came forth from God and is going to God, 4 rises from the supper and lays aside His garments, and having taken a towel, He girded Himself. 5 After that He pours water into the basin and began to wash the feet of the disciples and to wipe them with the towel with which He was girded. 6 Then He comes to Simon Peter (Petros), and that one says to Him, "Lord, do You wash my feet?" 7 Jesus answered and said to him, "What I do you do not know now, but you will know after these things." 8 Peter says to Him, "You will certainly never wash my feet." Jesus answered him, "Unless I wash you, you have no part with Me." 9 Simon Peter says to Him, "Lord, not my feet only, but also the hands and the head." 10 Jesus says to him, "The one who has bathed has no need except to wash the feet, but is wholly clean; and you are clean, but not all." 11 For He knew the one betraying Him; because of this He said, "You are not all clean." 12 So when He had washed their feet and taken His garments and reclined again, He said to them, "Do you know what I have 12:41 Isaiah said these things when he saw His glory In Isaiah 6 the prophet saw the Lord on a throne, high and lifted up. John says it was the glory of Jesus. Jesus is the LORD of the Old Testament, fully God.

12:43 they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God Many rulers believed but kept quiet for fear of being put out of the synagogue (9:22). That temptation meets us at work, with family and with friends. Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea later stepped forward at the cross (19:38-39). Fear does not have to have the last word.
12:45 the one seeing Me sees the One who sent Me His last public call in this Gospel. You cannot separate the Son from the Father. No one can say he believes in God while rejecting Jesus (14:9).
12:46 so that everyone believing in Me may not remain in the darkness In John darkness stands for sin, ignorance of God and separation from Him. Everyone starts there. No one has to stay.
12:48 the word which I spoke, that will judge him on the last day His first coming was to save (3:17), but the message refused will stand as evidence. I believe the dead in Christ are raised when He comes for His church before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17), He returns as Judge and King at its end (Rev 19:11-16), and the rest of the dead are judged after the thousand years (Rev 20:5, 11-15). "The last day" takes in that whole closing work of judgment.
12:50 His commandment is eternal life Everything Jesus said came from the Father, whose message is eternal life. Rejecting His words is rejecting the Father's offer of life. From chapter 13 on He is alone with His disciples, preparing them for the cross.
13:1 He loved them to the end John describes His death as a departure to the Father, not an ending. "To the end" can mean to the end of His life or to the uttermost, completely. Both are true. His love did not run out when things got hard, and everything in chapters 13 to 17 flows from it.
13:2 the devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot Satan worked on a heart already open to him. Judas was a thief (12:6). Small sins left alone can grow into great ones. Do not give the devil an opportunity (Eph 4:27).
13:3 knowing that the Father had given all things into His hands Before John tells what Jesus did, he tells what Jesus knew. He did not wash feet because He thought little of Himself, but because He was completely secure in who He was. People who know who they are in God are free to serve.
13:5 began to wash the feet of the disciples Dusty roads and sandals made this a dirty job for the lowest servant. That same night the disciples argued over who was greatest (Luke 22:24), and none had picked up the towel. The hands that made the universe (1:3) washed the feet of fishermen, a tax collector and the man about to betray Him (Phil 2:6-8).
13:6 Lord, do You wash my feet? In the Greek "You" and "my" sit side by side for emphasis. It felt backward to Peter.
13:7 What I do you do not know now, but you will know after these things Some of what God does in our lives makes no sense in the moment. Looking back we often see His purpose. Until then, we trust Him.
13:8 Unless I wash you, you have no part with Me Peter's refusal sounds humble but was pride, telling Jesus what He could do. Now Jesus speaks of more than feet. Unless He cleanses us from sin, we have no share in Him. No one can clean himself up enough to come to God. We must let Jesus do the washing. That is grace.
13:9 not my feet only, but also the hands and the head Peter swings to the other extreme. He was all in, even when he did not fully understand.
13:10 The one who has bathed has no need except to wash the feet A guest bathed at home and only needed his feet washed on arrival. When a person trusts Jesus he is washed clean once for all. As we walk through this world we pick up the dirt of daily sin. We do not need to be saved again. We need to confess and be cleansed (1 John 1:9), which keeps our fellowship with God close.
13:11 You are not all clean Judas had his feet washed by Jesus, but his heart was never washed. He went through the motions without the reality.

done to you? 13 You call Me 'the Teacher' and 'the Lord,' and you say rightly, for I am. 14 If therefore I, the Lord and the Teacher, washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet. 15 For I gave you an example, so that even as I did to you, you also may do. 16 Truly, truly, I say to you, a slave is not greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. 17 If you know these things, blessed are you if you do them. 18 I do not speak concerning all of you; I know whom I chose; but it is so that the Scripture may be fulfilled, 'The one feeding on the bread with Me lifted up his heel against Me.' 19 From now on I am telling you before it happens, so that when it happens you may believe that I am He. 20 Truly, truly, I say to you, the one receiving whomever I send receives Me; and the one receiving Me receives the One who sent Me."

Jesus Foretells His Betrayal

21 Having said these things, Jesus was troubled in the spirit, and testified and said, "Truly, truly, I say to you that one of you will betray Me." 22 Therefore the disciples were looking at one another, being at a loss about whom He was speaking. 23 Now there was reclining in the bosom of Jesus one of His disciples, whom Jesus was loving. 24 Therefore Simon Peter motions to this one to ask who it might be about whom He was speaking. 25 And that one, having fallen on the breast of Jesus, says to Him, "Lord, who is it?" 26 Jesus answers, "It is that one to whom I shall give it, having dipped the morsel." And having dipped the morsel, He gives it to Judas Iscariot, son of Simon. 27 And after the morsel, then Satan entered into that one. Therefore Jesus says to him, "What you are doing, do more quickly." 28 But no one of those reclining knew for what purpose He said this to him. 29 For some were thinking, since Judas had the money bag, that Jesus is saying to him, "Buy what we have need of for the feast," or that he should give something to the poor. 30 Therefore having received the morsel, that one went out immediately. And it was night.

A New Commandment

31 Therefore when he had gone out, Jesus says, "Now the Son of Man has been glorified, and God has been glorified in Him. 32 If God has been glorified in Him, God will also glorify Him in Himself, and He will glorify Him immediately. 33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. You will seek Me, and even as I said to the Jews, 'Where I am going, you are not able to come,' I also say to you now. 34 A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; even as I have loved you, that you also love one another. 35 By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love among one

13:13 You call Me 'the Teacher' and 'the Lord,' and you say rightly, for I am Jesus gave up none of His authority by serving. Serving others does not make us less. It makes us more like Jesus.
13:14 you also ought to wash one another's feet Some churches practice foot washing as an ordinance, and it can be a meaningful reminder. The main point is the attitude: humble, practical service, even when it is dirty, unseen and unthanked. Is there a towel job I have been avoiding because I think it is beneath me?
13:15 I gave you an example A pattern to copy. Jesus did not only tell us to serve. He showed us how.
13:16 nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him "Messenger" translates the word from which we get apostle, one sent. If the Master served, no follower is too important to serve.
13:17 blessed are you if you do them Knowing is not enough. The blessing comes in the doing (James 1:22). Many of us know far more of the Bible than we practice. I include myself.
13:18 The one feeding on the bread with Me lifted up his heel against Me From Psalm 41:9, David's words about a trusted friend who turned on him. Sharing bread was a sign of friendship, and lifting the heel pictured a violent kick. Jesus said it would be fulfilled in Judas.
13:19 so that when it happens you may believe that I am He In the Greek simply ego eimi, I am (Exod 3:14). Jesus announced the betrayal in advance so that it would become evidence that He is God.
13:20 the one receiving Me receives the One who sent Me Even with a betrayer at the table, Jesus assures the rest that their mission is real.
13:21 Jesus was troubled in the spirit He was not a stone. Betrayal by a friend hurt Him deeply.
13:22 being at a loss about whom He was speaking Not one pointed at Judas. He had hidden his heart for three years. Each asked, Surely not I (Matt 26:22).
13:23 one of His disciples, whom Jesus was loving Reclining next to Jesus, near His chest. The first use of this phrase. Tradition, and I believe the Gospel itself, point to John the apostle, the author (21:20-24). He did not call himself the one who loved Jesus, which could fail, but the one Jesus loved, which never does.
13:26 having dipped the morsel, He gives it to Judas Iscariot For a host to hand a guest a dipped piece of bread was a sign of honor and friendship. It was one last offer of love. Judas took the bread but did not turn back.
13:27 then Satan entered into that one Judas had opened the door again and again, and now he gave himself over completely. Jesus was in control even of the timing of His betrayal. He laid His life down (10:18).
13:29 that he should give something to the poor Jesus and His disciples had a habit of giving to the poor. And again, Judas hid what was inside him well.
13:30 And it was night Night outside, and night in Judas' soul. He walked away from the Light of the world (8:12) into the dark. One of the saddest sentences in the Bible.
13:31 Now the Son of Man has been glorified The betrayal was set in motion, and the cross hours away. Through it the Father would be glorified in the Son, and the Father would glorify the Son by raising Him, "immediately" (13:32), that very weekend.
13:33 Little children The Greek teknia is a tender word for little ones. John, who heard it, uses it over and over in his first letter (1 John 2:1, 12). Where Jesus is going they cannot come, not yet.
13:34 A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another Leviticus 19:18 already said to love your neighbor. What is new is the measure: "even as I have loved you." He had just washed their feet, and within hours He would give His life. It is a love that serves and sacrifices.
13:35 By this all will know that you are My disciples The mark of a Christian is not a bumper sticker or how much Bible we know. It is love for other believers. The world watches how Christians treat each other, when we fight and gossip and when we love as Jesus loved.

another." 36 Simon Peter says to Him, "Lord, where are You going?" Jesus answered him, "Where I am going, you are not able to follow Me now; but you will follow Me afterward." 37 Peter says to Him, "Lord, why am I not able to follow You now? I will lay down my life for You." 38 Jesus answered him, "Will you lay down your life for Me? Truly, truly, I say to you, the rooster will certainly not crow until you have denied Me three times."

The Way, the Truth, and the Life

1 "Let your heart not be troubled; you believe in God, believe also in Me. 2 In the house of My Father are many dwelling places; but if not, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. 3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I am coming again and will receive you to Myself, so that where I am, you also may be. 4 And where I am going you know, and the way you know." 5 Thomas says to Him, "Lord, we do not know where You are going, and how are we able to know the way?" 6 Jesus (Iesous) says to him, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me. 7 If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also; and from now on you know Him and have seen Him." 8 Philip (Philippos) says to Him, "Lord, show us the Father, and it is enough for us." 9 Jesus says to him, "Have I been with you so long a time, and you have not known Me, Philip? The one who has seen Me has seen the Father; and how do you say, 'Show us the Father'? 10 Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father is in Me? The declarations which I speak to you I do not speak from Myself; but the Father who remains in Me, He does the works. 11 Believe Me that I am in the Father and the Father in Me; but if not, believe Me because of the works themselves. 12 Truly, truly, I say to you, the one believing in Me, the works which I do, that one also will do; and greater than these he will do, because I am going to My Father. 13 And whatever you ask in My name, this I will do, so that the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 If you ask anything in My name, I will do it.

The Promise of the Helper

15 If you love Me, keep My commandments. 16 And I will ask the Father, and He will give you another Helper, so that He may remain with you forever, 17 the Spirit of truth, whom the world is not able to receive, because it does not see Him nor know Him; but you know Him, because He remains with 13:36 you will follow Me afterward Peter skipped the command to love and asked about leaving. He would follow later, in his own death (21:18-19) and into heaven.

13:37 I will lay down my life for You I believe Peter meant every word. He even drew a sword in the garden (18:10). But he trusted his own strength, and our own strength will fail us.
13:38 the rooster will certainly not crow until you have denied Me three times It happened that night (18:15-27). But the risen Jesus restored Peter, asking three times, "Do you love Me" (21:15-17). Failure is not final with Jesus, and His promise that Peter would follow Him came true.
14:1 Let your heart not be troubled Said the night before His death, while His own soul was troubled (12:27; 13:21). He was thinking of them. The cure for a troubled heart is faith, and He sets believing in Himself beside believing in God. No mere man could say that.
14:2 In the house of My Father are many dwelling places Older Bibles said mansions. The Greek word means a place to stay or remain. The point is not luxury but belonging. If heaven were not real He would have told them. His going to the cross, the grave and back to the Father is what makes our place possible.
14:3 I am coming again and will receive you to Myself A clear promise that He returns in person (Acts 1:11). I hold the pre-tribulation view and see this as the Rapture, when Jesus comes for His church and takes us to be with Him before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17). Others believe He comes once, after the Tribulation. Do not miss the heart of it. The best part of heaven is not the place but the Person: "where I am, you also may be."
14:5 how are we able to know the way? Thomas said aloud what the others were probably thinking. If you do not understand something, ask. His honest question led to one of the greatest things Jesus ever said.
14:6 I am the way and the truth and the life The sixth "I am" saying. He does not only know or teach the way. He is the way, the truth and the life. "No one comes to the Father except through Me" is among the most unpopular verses today, but if another way existed, the cross would not have been necessary (Acts 4:12). This is not narrow-mindedness but love. When there is only one way out of a burning building, the kindest thing is to point people to it.
14:7 If you had known Me, you would have known My Father also Every time they looked at Jesus for three years, they were looking at the Father.
14:8 show us the Father, and it is enough for us Philip wanted a vision like Moses asked for (Exod 33:18). Many still say, if God would only show Himself, then I would believe.
14:9 The one who has seen Me has seen the Father Not the same Person, for they are distinct, but Jesus is the exact picture of the Father (Heb 1:3; Col 1:15). If you want to know what God is like, look at how Jesus treated sinners, touched lepers, wept at a grave and washed feet.
14:10 the Father who remains in Me, He does the works Perfect unity. Everything Jesus said and did came out of that union.
14:11 believe Me because of the works themselves The signs were evidence. God does not ask for blind faith (20:30-31).
14:12 greater than these he will do, because I am going to My Father Greater in reach, not in power. Jesus stayed in a small area. After He sent the Spirit, His followers carried the gospel to the world, and about three thousand were saved at Pentecost alone (Acts 2:41). The greatest work is a soul brought from death to life.
14:13 whatever you ask in My name, this I will do Not a blank check or a magic phrase tacked onto a prayer. To ask in someone's name is to ask by his authority and in line with his character and will (1 John 5:14). The purpose is that the Father be glorified in the Son.
14:15 If you love Me, keep My commandments Love for Jesus shows up in obedience. We do not obey to earn His love. We obey because we already have it.
14:16 He will give you another Helper The Greek parakletos is one called alongside to help: counselor, advocate, comforter. "Another" means another of the same kind. The Spirit is just like Jesus. Jesus walked beside them three years. The Spirit would remain forever.
14:17 He remains with you and will be in you Before Pentecost the Spirit was with them through Jesus. After it He would live in them, as He lives in every believer today (Rom 8:9; 1 Cor 6:19). He teaches, reminds, testifies and guides (14:26; 15:26; 16:13). The Holy Spirit is a Person, not a force.

you and will be in you. 18 I will not leave you orphans; I am coming to you. 19 Yet a little while and the world no longer sees Me, but you see Me; because I live, you also will live. 20 In that day you will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you. 21 The one having My commandments and keeping them, that one is the one loving Me; and the one loving Me will be loved by My Father, and I will love him and will manifest Myself to him." 22 Judas (Ioudas), not the Iscariot (Iskariotes), says to Him, "Lord, what has happened that You are about to manifest Yourself to us and not to the world?" 23 Jesus answered and said to him, "If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word; and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and will make a dwelling place with him. 24 The one not loving Me does not keep My words; and the word which you hear is not Mine, but the Father's who sent Me. 25 These things I have spoken to you while remaining with you. 26 But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in My name, He will teach you all things and will remind you of all things that I said to you. 27 Peace I leave with you; My peace I give to you; not as the world gives do I give to you. Let your heart not be troubled, nor let it be afraid. 28 You heard that I said to you, 'I am going away, and I am coming to you.' If you loved Me, you would have rejoiced because I said, 'I am going to the Father,' because My Father is greater than I. 29 And now I have told you before it happens, so that when it happens you may believe. 30 I will no longer speak much with you, for the ruler of this world is coming, and he has nothing in Me; 31 but so that the world may know that I love the Father, and even as the Father commanded Me, so I do. Rise, let us go from here.

The True Vine

1 I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser. 2 Every branch in Me not bearing fruit, He takes it away; and every branch bearing fruit, He prunes it, so that it may bear more fruit. 3 Already you are clean because of the word which I have spoken to you. 4 Remain in Me, and I in you. Even as the branch is not able to bear fruit from itself unless it remains in the vine, so neither can you unless you remain in Me. 5 I am the vine; you are the branches. The one remaining in Me and I in him, this one bears much fruit; for apart

14:18 I will not leave you orphans; I am coming to you An orphan has no one to care for him. He would come after the resurrection, through the Spirit, and again at the end of the age. All three are true.
14:19 because I live, you also will live After the resurrection He showed Himself only to His followers (Acts 10:40-41). His resurrection guarantees ours. Death has no final claim on anyone who belongs to Him.
14:20 you in Me, and I in you Union with Christ. A believer does not only agree with Jesus' teaching. He is joined to Him.
14:21 I will love him and will manifest Myself to him As we obey, we come to know Jesus more deeply. Obedience opens the door to closer fellowship.
14:22 Judas, not the Iscariot Probably the one called Thaddaeus in Matthew and Mark, and Judas son of James in Luke 6:16. Many expected the Messiah to show Himself openly in power.
14:23 We will come to him and will make a dwelling place with him The same word as the dwelling places of verse 2. Jesus prepares a place for us in the Father's house, and meanwhile the Father and the Son make their home in us, with the Spirit (14:16-17).
14:24 the word which you hear is not Mine, but the Father's who sent Me To reject Jesus is to reject God.
14:26 He will teach you all things and will remind you of all things that I said to you A key verse for how we got the New Testament. The Spirit helped the apostles remember and understand, which is how John could record these talks years later, and one reason we can trust the Gospels. The same Spirit teaches believers today as we read God's Word, though He does not add new Scripture to it.
14:27 Peace I leave with you; My peace I give to you Shalom was the common greeting and farewell, but His peace is deep, settled peace with God. The world's peace depends on everything going well. His holds when everything falls apart, and He said this hours before His arrest. We choose whether to let fear rule or to trust Him.
14:28 My Father is greater than I Some use this to deny that Jesus is fully God. He is equal with the Father in nature (1:1; 10:30). In becoming a man He took a humble position and submitted to the Father's will (Phil 2:6-8). The Father was greater in position, not in nature. They thought of their loss. He wanted them to think of His return to glory (17:5).
14:29 so that when it happens you may believe Fulfilled prophecy builds faith.
14:30 he has nothing in Me Satan was about to move through Judas and the soldiers, but he had no claim on Jesus, no foothold, no sin to point to. Jesus went to the cross because He chose to.
14:31 Rise, let us go from here His obedience was an act of love for the Father. It seems they left the upper room here, and chapters 15 to 17 may have been spoken on the way to Gethsemane (18:1). Jesus went out to meet what was coming.
15:1 I am the true vine, and My Father is the vinedresser The last of the seven "I am" sayings. In the Old Testament Israel was God's vine or vineyard (Ps 80:8-16; Isa 5:1-7), and again and again it failed to bear the fruit God sought. Jesus is the vine that does what Israel could not. The Father owns and tends the vineyard. Jesus is not a plant, but the picture points to something real: our spiritual life comes from Him alone.
15:2 every branch bearing fruit, He prunes it, so that it may bear more fruit Pruning looks harsh. Good wood is cut away, but a vine left alone grows long and leafy with little fruit. The hard seasons, losses and correction we go through are often His pruning shears. They hurt, but they are not punishment. They are the work of a Father who wants more fruit from us.
15:3 Already you are clean because of the word which I have spoken to you "Prune" and "clean" come from the same Greek root. Through the word they heard and believed, they had been through the first and most important pruning. Judas had left (13:30), and those who remained were truly His (13:10).
15:4 Remain in Me, and I in you The key word of the chapter, meno, to remain, stay, dwell (older Bibles say abide). To remain in Christ is to keep trusting, listening and living close to Him day after day, and He lives in us. A branch cut off cannot bear one grape no matter how hard it tries. Fruit is not manufactured by willpower. It grows when we stay connected to the vine.
15:5 apart from Me you are not able to do anything Not that an unbeliever cannot build a house, but nothing of eternal value comes from us apart from Christ. Serving God in our own strength wears us out. The fruit is a changed character, "love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control" (Gal 5:22-23), along with obedience, answered prayer and people coming to Christ.

from Me you are not able to do anything. 6 Unless someone remains in Me, he is thrown out as the branch and is dried up; and they gather them and throw them into the fire, and they are burned. 7 If you remain in Me, and My declarations remain in you, you will ask whatever you wish, and it will happen for you. 8 In this My Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit; and you will become My disciples. 9 Even as the Father loved Me, I also loved you; remain in My love. 10 If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love, even as I have kept the commandments of My Father and remain in His love. 11 These things I have spoken to you so that My joy may remain in you, and your joy may be full.
12 This is My commandment, that you love one another even as I loved you. 13 Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends. 14 You are My friends if you do whatever I command you. 15 No longer do I call you slaves, for the slave does not know what his master is doing;
but I have called you friends, because all things which I heard from My Father I have made known to you. 16 You did not choose Me, but I chose you and appointed you, so that you may go and bear fruit, and your fruit may remain, so that whatever you ask the Father in My name He may give you. 17 These things I command you, so that you love one another.

The World's Hatred

18 If the world hates you, you know that it has hated Me before you. 19 If you were of the world, the world would love its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, because of this the world hates you.
20 Remember the word which I said to you, 'A slave is not greater than his master.' If they persecuted Me, they will persecute you also; if they kept My word, they will keep yours also. 21 But all these things they will do to you on account of My name, because they do not know the One who sent Me. 22 If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not have sin; but now they have no excuse for their sin. 23 The one hating Me hates My Father also. 24 If I had not done among them the works which no other one has done, they would not have sin; but now they have both seen and hated both Me and My Father. 25 But this is so that the word written in their law may be fulfilled, 'They hated Me

15:6 Unless someone remains in Me, he is thrown out as the branch Christians read this three ways: a true believer can lose salvation; a believer whose life produced nothing loses reward, not salvation (1 Cor 3:12-15); or it describes those who seemed attached but never truly were. I will not settle that debate here. Judas shows how serious it is. He walked with Jesus three years and did not remain in Him. The proof of a living branch is fruit.
15:7 you will ask whatever you wish, and it will happen for you When Christ's words live in us, they shape what we want, and our prayers line up with His will. This is not a blank check but the natural result of a life so joined to Jesus that His desires have become ours.
15:8 In this My Father is glorified, that you bear much fruit A farmer is honored by a good harvest, and God by His people growing, changing and serving. Fruit is how we show, and keep showing, that we are His disciples (Matt 7:20).
15:9 Even as the Father loved Me, I also loved you The measure of His love for us is the perfect, eternal love between the Father and the Son. We do not earn it, but we can stay in it and enjoy it, as a child stays close to a loving parent.
15:10 If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love Not earning salvation but staying close. A disobedient child is still his father's child, but closeness is lost until it is made right. Jesus kept His Father's commandments and lived every moment in His love.
15:11 so that My joy may remain in you, and your joy may be full Said the night before the cross. His joy did not depend on circumstances but on His relationship with the Father, and He offers that joy to us. The Christian life is not meant to be grim duty.
15:13 Greater love than this no one has, that one lay down his life for his friends Within hours He did exactly that. We honor the soldier who falls on a grenade for his friends. Jesus went further. He died for us "while we were still sinners" (Rom 5:8).
15:14 You are My friends if you do whatever I command you We do not become His friends by obeying. This describes what His friends look like.
15:15 but I have called you friends A slave follows orders without being told the reasons. Jesus shared with them all He heard from the Father. Abraham was called the friend of God (Isa 41:8; James 2:23), and now every follower is offered that friendship. We still serve, as the apostles called themselves bond-servants (Rom 1:1), but as friends who know His heart.
15:16 You did not choose Me, but I chose you and appointed you A student usually picked his rabbi. Jesus did it the other way and called His disciples (Mark 1:16-20). He chose them to bear fruit that lasts into eternity. To pray in His name is to pray as His representatives, for His purposes, trusting His authority.
15:17 so that you love one another He closes where He began (15:12). This command ties everything else together.
15:18 If the world hates you, you know that it has hated Me before you The tone changes from love to hatred. In John, the world, kosmos, often means people organized in rebellion against God. When a believer is mocked for following Christ, it is really about the One he follows.
15:19 I chose you out of the world We still live, work and raise families here, but our loyalty and citizenship are elsewhere (Phil 3:20). When someone stops living by the world's values, it notices and often pushes back.
15:20 If they persecuted Me, they will persecute you also Both warning and encouragement (13:16). We will face opposition, but some will hear and believe, just as some believed Jesus.
15:21 they do not know the One who sent Me The root is spiritual blindness. Paul was one of these before he met Jesus (1 Tim 1:13).
15:22 now they have no excuse for their sin Not that they would have been sinless. His coming removed every excuse. The more light we have, the more responsible we are for what we do with it.
15:23 The one hating Me hates My Father also There is no neutral ground. Many say they believe in God but have no use for Jesus. According to Jesus that is not possible (10:30).
15:24 the works which no other one has done A man born blind given sight, a man four days dead raised. Those who saw and still hated Him had seen the evidence and rejected both the Son and the Father.
15:25 They hated Me without cause From the Psalms (Ps 35:19; 69:4). "Their law" means the Hebrew Scriptures broadly. The leaders who prided themselves on the Scriptures fulfilled them without knowing it.

without cause.' 26 But when the Helper comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who goes forth from the Father, He will testify concerning Me. 27 And you also testify, because you are with Me from the beginning.

The Work of the Holy Spirit

1 These things I have spoken to you so that you may not be caused to stumble. 2 They will make you ones put out of the synagogue; but an hour is coming that everyone who has killed you may think that he is offering service to God. 3 And these things they will do to you, because they did not know the Father, nor Me. 4 But these things I have spoken to you so that when the hour comes, you may remember them, that I said them to you. Now these things I did not say to you from the beginning, because I was with you. 5 But now I am going away to the One who sent Me, and none of you asks Me, 'Where are You going?' 6 But because I have spoken these things to you, grief has filled your heart. 7 But I say the truth to you: it is profitable for you that I go away; for if I do not go away, the Helper will not come to you; but if I go, I will send Him to you. 8 And having come, He will convict the world concerning sin and concerning righteousness and concerning judgment: 9 concerning sin, because they do not believe in Me; 10 and concerning righteousness, because I am going away to My Father, and you no longer see Me; 11 and concerning judgment, because the ruler of this world has been judged. 12 I still have many things to say to you, but you are not able to bear them now. 13 But when He comes, the Spirit of truth, He will guide you into all the truth; for He will not speak from Himself, but whatever He hears He will speak, and He will declare to you the things that are coming. 14 He will glorify Me, because He will take from what is Mine and will declare it to you. 15 All things, as many as the Father has, are Mine; because of this I said that He will take from what is Mine and will declare it to you.

Grief Turned to Joy

16 A little while, and you do not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me, because I am going away to the Father." 17 Therefore some of His disciples said to one another, "What is this that He says to us, 'A little while, and you do not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me'; and, 'Because I am going away to the Father'?"

18 Therefore they were saying, "What is this that He says, 'the little while'? We do not know what He is speaking."

15:26 the Spirit of truth who goes forth from the Father, He will testify concerning Me He comes from the Father, and the Son sends Him, one of the places Scripture shows the Father, Son and Spirit working together. The Spirit never points to Himself. He always points to Christ.
15:27 you also testify, because you are with Me from the beginning The Spirit's witness and the apostles' eyewitness record work together, which is what we have in the New Testament. Every believer carries that testimony to those around us.
16:1 so that you may not be caused to stumble The Greek word pictures a trap that trips someone up. Persecution that comes by surprise can shake faith. Persecution predicted ahead of time can strengthen it, because it proves Jesus knew what was coming.
16:2 everyone who has killed you may think that he is offering service to God Being put out of the synagogue cost a Jewish believer community, friends, and sometimes family and work (9:22). Saul of Tarsus approved Stephen's stoning and hunted Christians, sure he was doing God's will (Acts 8:1; 26:9-11). Religious zeal without the truth is dangerous.
16:3 because they did not know the Father, nor Me They may be very religious, but they do not know God. It is possible to be sincere and still be sincerely wrong.
16:4 because I was with you While He was present, the world's anger landed on Him, and He protected them. Now He was leaving, and they needed to be ready. Remembering that He told them would anchor their faith.
16:5 none of you asks Me, 'Where are You going?' Peter asked in 13:36 and Thomas in 14:5, but their questions were about what His leaving meant for them. None asked about the Father and the glory waiting for Him. They were so focused on their loss that they missed the big picture.
16:7 it is profitable for you that I go away In His body Jesus could be in one place at a time. The Spirit lives in every believer, everywhere, all the time. Jesus had to finish His work, die, rise and return to the Father before sending Him at Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4, 33). The Helper had been beside them three years, and "another Helper" (14:16) would never leave.
16:8 He will convict the world The Greek elencho means to expose, to prove wrong, to bring into the light so it cannot be denied, what a prosecutor does when he lays out the evidence.
16:9 concerning sin, because they do not believe in Me Not murder or theft, though those are real sins. The root sin is unbelief. The one who rejects Christ rejects the only remedy for sin (3:18). No preacher can make a person see his own sin. When someone feels that weight and knows he needs a Savior, that is the Spirit at work.
16:10 concerning righteousness, because I am going away to My Father The world judged Jesus a criminal and put Him to death. The Father raised Him and took Him into heaven. That was God's verdict. True righteousness is found not in our goodness but in Christ alone.
16:11 the ruler of this world has been judged Satan (12:31; 14:30) was defeated at the cross, where he seemed to win. If he is judged, all who follow him will be. The Spirit warns that judgment is real and coming (Rev 20:10-15).
16:12 you are not able to bear them now A good teacher knows how much a student can take in. Jesus did not hold back the truth. He was pacing it.
16:13 He will guide you into all the truth A guide does not make up the road. He leads along one already there. Given first to the apostles, this was fulfilled as the Spirit helped them remember (14:26) and write the New Testament, including the prophecy of Revelation. In a secondary way He still helps believers understand the Scriptures He inspired, and He never leads anyone to a "truth" that contradicts the written Word.
16:14 He will glorify Me A simple test for any teaching that claims to be of the Spirit: does it lift up Jesus? The true Holy Spirit always points to Christ.
16:15 All things, as many as the Father has, are Mine No mere man or prophet could say this. The Father, the Son and the Spirit work together as one God.
16:16 A little while, and you do not see Me Within hours He would be arrested, crucified and buried, and three days later He would appear to them. I believe this refers first to His death and resurrection. It may also look ahead to His return, when all His people will see Him (Rev 1:7).
16:18 We do not know what He is speaking The apostles who walked with Him daily did not always understand Him either. It is all right to admit we do not understand a passage. Keep asking and listening.

19 Therefore Jesus (Iesous) knew that they were wanting to ask Him, and He said to them, "Are you seeking among one another concerning this, that I said, 'A little while, and you do not see Me; and again a little while, and you will see Me'? 20 Truly, truly, I say to you that you will weep and lament, but the world will rejoice; and you will be grieved, but your grief will become joy. 21 The woman, when she is giving birth, has grief, because her hour has come; but when she has brought forth the child, she no longer remembers the tribulation, because of the joy that a man has been born into the world. 22 And you therefore now indeed have grief; but I will see you again, and your heart will rejoice, and no one takes your joy from you. 23 And in that day you will ask Me nothing. Truly, truly, I say to you that whatever you ask the Father in My name, He will give you. 24 Until now you have asked nothing in My name; ask, and you will receive, so that your joy may be made full. 25 These things I have spoken to you in figurative sayings; but an hour is coming when I will no longer speak to you in figurative sayings, but I will tell you plainly concerning the Father. 26 In that day you will ask in My name; and I do not say to you that I will ask the Father for you; 27 for the Father Himself loves you dearly, because you have loved Me dearly and have believed that I came forth from God. 28 I came forth from the Father and have come into the world; again, I leave the world and go to the Father." 29 His disciples say to Him, "Look, now You are speaking plainly, and You say no figurative saying. 30 Now we know that You know all things, and have no need that anyone ask You; by this we believe that You came forth from God." 31 Jesus answered them, "Do you now believe?

32 Look, an hour is coming, and has now come, that you will be scattered, each to his own things, and will leave Me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me. 33 These things I have spoken to you so that in Me you may have peace. In the world you will have tribulation; but take courage, I have overcome the world."

Jesus Prays for Himself

1 These things Jesus (Iesous) spoke, and He lifted up His eyes to heaven and said, "Father, the hour has come; glorify Your Son, so that Your Son also may glorify You, 2 even as You gave Him authority over all flesh, so that all that You have given Him, He may give to them eternal life. 3 And this is the eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom You sent. 4 I glorified You on the earth; I finished the work which You have given Me that I should do it. 5 And now You, Father, glorify Me with Yourself, with the glory which I had with You before the world was.

16:20 your grief will become joy His enemies celebrated at the cross while His followers hid behind locked doors (20:19). The grief would be turned into joy. The very cross that caused it became the source of their greatest joy.
16:21 she no longer remembers the tribulation Labor pain is real and serves a purpose, and the joy that follows is greater.
16:22 no one takes your joy from you These frightened men later faced beatings, prison and death with joy (Acts 5:41). The resurrection changed everything for them.
16:23 whatever you ask the Father in My name, He will give you After the resurrection and the coming of the Spirit they would go straight to the Father in prayer, on the basis of who Jesus is and what He has done. Until now they had never prayed in His name (16:24). Prayer is one of God's ways of filling our lives with joy.
16:25 I will tell you plainly concerning the Father The vine, the shepherd and the woman in labor were figures. After the resurrection He opened their minds to the Scriptures (Luke 24:45), and the Spirit taught them.
16:27 the Father Himself loves you dearly Some picture an angry, reluctant Father with Jesus pleading to calm Him. That is not the picture Jesus gives. The Father loved the world enough to send His Son (3:16). Jesus does intercede for us (Rom 8:34; Heb 7:25), but not to win over an unwilling Father. They are of one heart toward us.
16:28 I came forth from the Father and have come into the world One verse sums up His whole story: His life before His birth, His coming as a man, His death and resurrection, and His ascension. Only God could truthfully say this.
16:31 Do you now believe? Their faith was real, but Jesus knew how fragile it was about to prove.
16:32 you will be scattered Fulfilling Zechariah 13:7, quoted that night (Matt 26:31). Every one of them ran. Yet the Father was with Him. On the cross He cried, "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me" (Matt 27:46), bearing the full weight of our sin and its judgment, a separation we cannot fully understand, for a short time and for us.
16:33 In the world you will have tribulation; but take courage, I have overcome the world In Him peace, in the world thlipsis, pressure and affliction. Jesus never promised an easy life, and many believers face severe persecution today. This is ordinary trouble, not the coming Tribulation, from which I believe the church will be taken before it begins. Trouble is normal for a Christian, not a sign God has left us. He has already overcome.
17:1 Father, the hour has come; glorify Your Son, so that Your Son also may glorify You He lifted His eyes, as in 11:41, and called God simply Father, six times in this prayer. The hour of His death, resurrection and return to the Father had come (12:23). Even here the goal is the Father's glory. In John the cross is not defeat but the place where God's love and justice are shown most clearly.
17:2 all that You have given Him A phrase that runs through this prayer (17:2, 6, 9, 24; 18:9). Salvation starts with God. Those who come to Jesus are the Father's gift to the Son, and He treasures them.
17:3 this is the eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom You sent Eternal life is more than living forever. Its heart is knowing God, not facts about Him but a close, personal relationship. If you know Him, it has already started. Jesus places Himself beside the only true God, against the false gods of the world.
17:4 I finished the work which You have given Me He speaks as if the cross were done, so certain was He. Before the next sunset He would cry, "It has been finished" (19:30). He did everything the Father asked, with nothing left undone.
17:5 the glory which I had with You before the world was One of the clearest statements that Jesus existed before Bethlehem (1:1). He set aside the outward display of that glory (Phil 2:6-8) but never stopped being God. God will not give His glory to another (Isa 42:8), yet Jesus shares it. No created being, not even the highest angel, could pray this.

Jesus Prays for His Disciples

6 I revealed Your name to the men whom You have given Me out of the world. They were Yours, and You have given them to Me, and they have kept Your word. 7 Now they have known that all things, as many as You have given Me, are from You; 8 for the declarations which You have given Me I have given to them; and they received them, and knew truly that I came forth from You, and they believed that You sent Me. 9 I am asking concerning them; I am not asking concerning the world, but concerning those whom You have given Me, because they are Yours. 10 And all Mine are Yours, and Yours are Mine; and I have been glorified in them. 11 And I am no longer in the world, and yet these are in the world, and I am coming to You. Holy Father, keep them in Your name, those whom You have given Me, so that they may be one, even as We are. 12 When I was with them in the world, I was keeping them in Your name; those whom You have given Me I guarded, and none of them perished except the son of destruction, so that the Scripture might be fulfilled. 13 But now I am coming to You; and these things I speak in the world, so that they may have My joy made full in them. 14 I have given them Your word; and the world hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. 15 I do not ask that You take them out of the world, but that You keep them from the evil. 16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. 17 Sanctify them in Your truth; Your word is truth. 18 Even as You sent Me into the world, I also sent them into the world. 19 And on behalf of them I sanctify Myself, so that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth.

Jesus Prays for All Believers

20 And I do not ask concerning these only, but also concerning those who will believe in Me through their word, 21 that they all may be one, even as You, Father, are in Me and I in You, that they also may be one in Us, so that the world may believe that You sent Me. 22 And the glory which You have given Me I have given to them, so that they may be one, even as We are one: 23 I in them and You in Me, so that they may be perfected into one, and so that the world may know that You sent Me and loved them, even as You loved Me.
24 Father, those whom You have given Me, I desire that where I am, they also may be with Me, so that they may see My glory which You gave Me; because You loved Me before the foundation of the world. 25 Righteous Father, and the world did not know You, but I knew You, and these knew that You sent Me; 26 and I made Your name known to them, and will make it known, so that the love with which You loved Me may be in them, and I in them."

17:6 I revealed Your name A name stands for a person's whole character. Jesus showed them who God really is. "They have kept Your word" is generous of men who would run within hours. He looked at their hearts.
17:8 they received them, and knew truly that I came forth from You The word given, the word received, the word believed. That is how faith worked for the disciples and how it works for us as we read the Scriptures.
17:9 I am not asking concerning the world Not that He does not care for the world. He died for it (3:16). This part of the prayer asks what only believers can receive: to be kept, made holy and united. He prays for the world indirectly in verses 21 and 23.
17:10 Yours are Mine Any believer can say to God, all that is mine is Yours. No mere man could say, all that is Yours is mine. Jesus says both.
17:11 Holy Father, keep them in Your name The only place in the Bible God is called Holy Father. His disciples would stay behind in a hostile world. The goal of the keeping is unity, "even as We are."
17:12 none of them perished except the son of destruction One marked for ruin, Judas, whose betrayal fulfilled Scripture (Ps 41:9; 13:18). Some see him as never truly given to Jesus, others as a warning that a disciple can turn away. He was a thief (12:6), Jesus knew from the start (6:64, 70-71), Judas chose his path, and God used even that for His plan. Paul uses the same phrase for the man of lawlessness, the antichrist (2 Thess 2:3).
17:13 so that they may have My joy made full in them He prayed aloud so they would hear Him pray for them to the Father. This prayer is written down for us too.
17:14 the world hated them, because they are not of the world Receiving God's word changes a person and sets him apart, and the world can tell the difference.
17:15 I do not ask that You take them out of the world, but that You keep them from the evil God's plan is to protect His people in the middle of trouble, not to remove them from it. We are left here on purpose, as witnesses. This is about everyday life, not the coming Tribulation. Revelation 3:10, a main verse behind the pre-tribulation view, promises to keep the church from that hour of testing. Until He comes for us (14:3), He keeps us safe from the evil one.
17:17 Sanctify them in Your truth; Your word is truth To sanctify is to set apart for God, to make holy, and God does it through His word. Not contains truth, but is truth. When many believe truth is whatever you want, this is a rock to stand on. There is no shortcut around the Bible to holiness.
17:18 I also sent them into the world We are saved out of the world and sent back into it with a mission (20:21).
17:19 I sanctify Myself He was already perfectly holy. Here it means setting Himself apart for His task, the cross. His sacrifice makes our holiness possible.
17:20 also concerning those who will believe in Me through their word If you have believed through the apostles' message in the New Testament, Jesus prayed for you that night, long before you were born.
17:21 that they all may be one Not one big church organization, and not pretending we agree on everything, but a unity of life, believers living in the Father and the Son and so joined to one another. When Christians love and stand together, the world sees something it cannot explain apart from God. When we fight and divide, it sees nothing different from itself.
17:23 and loved them, even as You loved Me God loves believers as much as He loves His own Son. It is almost too much to take in, but Jesus said it.
17:24 I desire that where I am, they also may be with Me His great desire for us and our future hope: to be with Him and see His glory (Rev 1:12-16). The Father and the Son shared perfect love before anything was made. God did not create us because He was lonely, but to share in a love that existed forever.
17:25 Righteous Father, and the world did not know You Only two groups here: those who know God through Jesus and those who do not.
17:26 so that the love with which You loved Me may be in them The prayer ends with the love that always existed between the Father and the Son, now poured into the hearts of all who believe.

JOHN 18

The Arrest in the Garden

1 Having said these things, Jesus (Iesous) went out with His disciples beyond the winter brook of Kidron (Kedros), where there was a garden, into which He Himself entered, and His disciples. 2 Now Judas (Ioudas) also, who was delivering Him up, knew the place, because Jesus was often gathered together there with His disciples. 3 Therefore Judas, having received the cohort and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, comes there with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Therefore Jesus, knowing all the things that were coming upon Him, having gone out, said to them, "Whom are you seeking?" 5 They answered Him, "Jesus the Nazarene." Jesus says to them, "I am He." And Judas also, who was delivering Him up, was standing with them. 6 Therefore when He said to them, "I am He," they went backward and fell to the ground. 7 Therefore He questioned them again, "Whom are you seeking?" And they said, "Jesus the Nazarene." 8 Jesus answered, "I told you that I am He. Therefore if you are seeking Me, allow these to go away," 9 so that the word might be fulfilled which He spoke, "Those whom You have given Me, I lost not one of them." 10 Then Simon Peter (Petros), having a sword, drew it and struck the high priest's slave and cut off his right ear. Now the slave's name was Malchus (Malchos). 11 Therefore Jesus said to Peter, "Put your sword into the sheath. The cup which the Father has given Me, shall I not drink it?"

Before Annas and Peter's Denials

12 Then the cohort and the commander and the officers of the Jews seized Jesus and bound Him, 13 and led Him away to Annas first; for he was father-in-law of Caiaphas (Kaiaphas), who was high priest that year. 14 Now Caiaphas was the one who gave counsel to the Jews that it is profitable for one man to perish on behalf of the people. 15 Now Simon Peter was following Jesus, and another disciple. And that disciple was known to the high priest, and he entered with Jesus into the courtyard of the high priest; 16 but Peter was standing at the door outside. Therefore the other disciple, who was known to the high priest, went out and spoke to the doorkeeper, and brought Peter in. 17 Therefore the servant girl, the doorkeeper, says to Peter, "You are not also one of the disciples of this man, are you?" He says, "I am not." 18 Now the slaves and the officers were standing there, having made a fire of coals, because it was cold, and they were warming themselves; and Peter was standing with them and warming himself. 19 Then the high priest questioned Jesus concerning His 18:1 beyond the winter brook of Kidron, where there was a garden The Kidron runs along the east side of Jerusalem below the Mount of Olives. Matthew and Mark name the garden Gethsemane, oil press, probably an olive grove (Matt 26:36). Long before, David crossed the same brook weeping, betrayed by a trusted counselor (2 Sam 15:23, 31). Now the Son of David crosses it, about to be betrayed by a trusted friend.

18:2 Judas also, who was delivering Him up, knew the place Jesus did not hide. He went where He knew Judas would find Him. Judas used a place of prayer and fellowship as the place of betrayal.

18:3 the cohort and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees A Roman cohort at full strength numbered several hundred soldiers. We do not know how many came, but it was a large armed force, with the temple police. Passover fell at the full moon, yet they brought torches, perhaps expecting a man who would hide. The Light of the World walked right up to them.

18:4 Jesus, knowing all the things that were coming upon Him, having gone out He did not wait to be found. "No one takes it away from Me" (10:18). Here we see it happen.

18:5 I am He In Greek ego eimi, I am, the words of 8:58 and the name God revealed to Moses (Exod 3:14). And Judas, who had eaten with Him hours before, stood with His enemies.

18:6 they went backward and fell to the ground Only John records it. Armed men were knocked flat by two Greek words. He could have walked away or called more than twelve legions of angels (Matt 26:53). Jesus was not arrested because He was weak, but because He was willing.

18:8 if you are seeking Me, allow these to go away Even while arrested He protected His disciples. The Good Shepherd stood between the wolves and His flock (10:11).

18:9 Those whom You have given Me, I lost not one of them As He said in 6:39 and 17:12. He kept them physically safe that night, and many see a picture of how He keeps their souls. Christians who differ on eternal security agree that no outside power can take His sheep from Him (10:28-29).

18:10 struck the high priest's slave and cut off his right ear Only John names Peter and Malchus. John knew the high priest's household (18:15). Luke the physician says Jesus healed the ear (Luke 22:51). Peter had promised to die for Him (13:37), but he fought the wrong battle with the wrong weapon.

18:11 The cup which the Father has given Me, shall I not drink it? In the Old Testament a cup often pictures God's judgment on sin (Isa 51:17; Jer 25:15). In the garden He prayed for it to pass if possible (Matt 26:39). Now He has fully accepted it. The cross was a cup the Father gave Him, and He chose to drink it for us.

18:12 seized Jesus and bound Him The One who holds the universe together (Col 1:17) let Himself be tied with ropes by men He created.

18:13 led Him away to Annas first Annas had been high priest until the Romans removed him. Several of his sons later held the office, and now his son-in-law Caiaphas. Many still saw Annas as the real power behind the priesthood, so this was an informal questioning before the official trial.

18:14 it is profitable for one man to perish on behalf of the people Caiaphas' cold calculation (11:49-52), which God used as prophecy. Jesus would truly die as a substitute.

18:15 another disciple. And that disciple was known to the high priest John never names himself. Many believe, and I agree, that this was John. At least Peter and John did not run as far as the others.

18:17 You are not also one of the disciples of this man, are you? The question expected the answer no, and Peter took the easy way out. Hours earlier he swore to die for Jesus and drew a sword against a cohort. It is often easier to be brave in a big moment than to stand firm when a quiet question catches us off guard.

18:18 having made a fire of coals Peter warmed himself with the men who arrested his Lord. The Greek word for this charcoal fire appears only here and in 21:9. By one fire Peter denied Jesus three times. By another the risen Jesus asked him three times, "Do you love Me." God has a way of meeting us back at the place of our failure.

disciples and concerning His teaching. 20 Jesus answered him, "I spoke openly to the world; I always taught in the synagogue and in the temple, where the Jews always come together, and in secret I spoke nothing. 21 Why do you question Me? Question those who have heard what I spoke to them; look, these know what I said." 22 And when He had said these things, one of the officers standing by gave Jesus a slap, saying, "Do You answer the high priest like this?" 23 Jesus answered him, "If I spoke wrongly, testify concerning the wrong; but if rightly, why do you strike Me?" 24 Therefore Annas sent Him bound to Caiaphas the high priest. 25 Now Simon Peter was standing and warming himself. Therefore they said to him, "You are not also one of His disciples, are you?" He denied it and said, "I am not." 26 One of the slaves of the high priest, being a relative of the one whose ear Peter cut off, says, "Did I not see you in the garden with Him?" 27 Therefore Peter denied again, and immediately a rooster crowed.

Jesus Before Pilate
