How to Use This Study Bible

The Bible text

The Scripture is the Steadfast Literal Bible, a word-for-word translation from the Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek. Words in bold italic were added in English to make the sense clear; they are not in the original. Many names are given in their familiar English form, with the Hebrew or Greek form in parentheses the first time the name appears in a chapter.

Book introductions

Each book opens with an introduction: its title, author and date, background and setting, themes, where it points to Christ, the hard passages, and an outline. The outline headings appear again in the Bible text, so you always know where you are in the book.

Study notes

The notes at the foot of each page explain the verses on that page. Each note begins with the chapter and verse in bold and the words it explains in italics. The notes come from my verse-by-verse Bible studies, tightened to fit beside the text. Where good Bible teachers hold different views, the notes say so plainly and tell you where I stand.

Cross-references

The band between the text and the notes lists other passages that speak to the same subject, quote the verse, or are quoted by it. Each line begins with the verse in bold.

Abbreviations

Bible books in the notes and cross-references are shortened, for example Gen for Genesis, Judg for Judges, Matt for Matthew and 1 Thess for 1 Thessalonians. B.C. means before Christ. A.D. means in the year of our Lord.

GENESIS

Introduction

Title

Genesis is the first book of the Bible and the first of the five books of Moses, often called the Law or the Torah. The name Genesis comes from a Greek word meaning origin or beginning. The Hebrew title is the book's first word, which means "in the beginning" (1:1). Genesis is the book of beginnings. It tells where the world came from, where we came from, how sin entered the world, and how God began His plan to save us. Every major teaching of the Bible starts here.

Moses marked the parts of the book with a repeated heading, "These are the generations of" (2:4; 5:1; 6:9; 10:1; 11:10; 11:27; 25:12; 25:19; 36:1; 36:9; 37:2). Each one opens a new part of the story. Because Esau's heading appears twice, the count is sometimes given as ten and sometimes as eleven.

Author and Date

Genesis does not name its author, but Jewish and Christian tradition have long held that Moses wrote it, along with the next four books. Jesus spoke of the Law as the writings of Moses (Luke 24:44; John 5:46-47). Moses was not alive for the events of Genesis, so he would have used records and accounts handed down from earlier generations, guided by the Holy Spirit. Many modern scholars believe Genesis was put together from several sources long after Moses, and they point to a few later notes in the text, such as place names updated for later readers (14:14). I hold that Moses wrote it, and that a few of those notes may have been added by later scribes.

Moses wrote during Israel's forty years in the wilderness. Many conservative scholars place the exodus about 1446 B.C. (1 Kgs 6:1), which dates Genesis to about 1445 to 1405 B.C. Others place the exodus in the 1200s B.C.

Background and Setting

Genesis was written to the people of Israel, newly brought out of Egypt and headed for Canaan. Before they could understand the Law, they needed to know who their God was, where the world came from, why it is broken, and why God chose Abraham's family and was giving them the land of Canaan.

The book runs from creation to the death of Joseph in Egypt, about 1805 B.C. Scripture does not give a date for creation, and I won't try to set one. Adding up the ages Genesis gives, the call of Abraham to the death of Joseph covers about 285 years. The story moves from Eden and Babel in the land of the Tigris and Euphrates, to Ur and Haran, into Canaan where Abraham, Isaac and Jacob lived as sojourners, and finally down to Egypt, where Jacob's family settled in Goshen.

Genesis is history, written as history, and the rest of the Bible treats it that way. Jesus spoke of Adam and Eve, Abel, Noah, Abraham and Lot as real people (Matt 19:4-6; Luke 11:51; 17:26-32; John 8:56), and Paul built his teaching on sin and salvation on Adam and Abraham (Rom 4; 5:12-19). These notes take Moses at his word.

A note on the names of God: "LORD" in capital letters stands for God's personal name, Yahweh, which He made known to Moses (Exod 3:14-15). "Lord" in regular letters translates a word meaning master. "God" usually translates Elohim, the general Hebrew word for God. Genesis uses all of these.

Themes

Genesis falls into two parts. Chapters 1 to 11 cover the whole human race: creation, the fall, the first murder, the flood and the tower of Babel. Chapters 12 to 50 slow down and follow one family: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph.

God is the Creator of all things, and He made everything good. Man was made in His image (1:26-27), and sin came into the world through man's disobedience. Right after the fall, in the middle of judgment, God promised a seed of the woman who would crush the serpent's head (3:15). The rest of the book follows that promise through Seth, Noah, Shem and Abraham.

At the center of the book is God's covenant with Abraham. God promised him a land, a great nation, and a blessing: "in you all the families of the earth will be blessed" (12:3). Abraham "believed in the LORD, and He counted it to him as righteousness" (15:6), and that is still how God saves. God alone passed between the pieces (15:17), so the covenant rests on His faithfulness, and He has never broken it. I believe the land promise still stands and God still has a future for Israel.

Again and again God chooses the younger and the unlikely: Abel, Isaac, Jacob, Judah, Joseph, Ephraim. His blessings come by grace, not by birth or merit. And through every family failure, God rules over human choices for His good purpose. Joseph sums up the book: "you planned evil against me; God planned it for good" (50:20).

Christ in Genesis

Jesus is the promised seed of the woman who crushes the serpent's head (3:15), born of a woman (Gal 4:4). He is the seed of Abraham through whom all nations are blessed: "And to your seed," who is Christ (Gal 3:16). Melchizedek, king of Salem and priest of God Most High, points to Christ, a priest forever (14:18-20; Ps 110:4; Heb 7). On Mount Moriah, Abraham told Isaac, "God will see to the lamb for Himself" (22:8), and many see in the father offering his only son a picture of God giving His Son. Jacob foretold that the scepter would not depart from Judah (49:10), and Jesus is "the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5). Many also see in Joseph a picture of Christ: loved by his father, rejected by his brothers, raised from the pit to the throne, and then the savior of the very men who sold him.

Hard Passages

How long were the days of creation (1:1-31)? I take them as six ordinary days. The notes also name the day-age, framework and gap views held by other Christians. They give no age for the earth.

Who were the sons of God (6:2)? Some say fallen angels, others the godly line of Seth, others powerful rulers. The notes give the views fairly without taking a hard side.

Was the flood worldwide (7:19)? I believe it covered the whole earth, as the text says. The notes name the local flood view and its best argument.

What of the children who died in the flood and at Sodom? Genesis does not answer every question, but the Judge of all the earth will do right (18:25). I believe little children who die are safe with God.

Does the curse on Canaan (9:25) fall on a race? No. It fell on Canaan, not on any race, and using it to defend slavery or racism was wrong.

Several chapters record terrible sins: Sodom (19:1-11), Lot and his daughters (19:30-38), the defiling of Dinah and the revenge of her brothers (34), Judah and Tamar (38). Genesis records them without approving them, and the notes handle them with care.

Why did God tell Abraham to offer Isaac (22:2)? It was a one-time test of faith. God stopped Abraham's hand, and He later forbade child sacrifice. God never asks anyone to harm a child.

The Creation of the World

1 In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. 2 And the earth was formlessness and emptiness, and darkness was over the face of the deep, and the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters. 3 And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. 4 And God saw the light, that it was good; and God separated between the light and the darkness. 5 And God called the light "Day," and the darkness He called "Night." And there was evening and there was morning, day one. 6 And God said, "Let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it be separating between waters and waters." 7 And God made the expanse, and He separated between the waters which were under the expanse and the waters which were above the expanse. And it was so. 8 And God called the expanse "Heavens." And there was evening and there was morning, a second day. 9 And God said, "Let the waters under the heavens be gathered to one place, and let the dry land be seen." And it was so. 10 And God called the dry land "Earth," and the gathering of the waters He called "Seas." And God saw that it was good. 11 And God said, "Let the earth sprout vegetation, plant seeding seed, fruit tree making fruit according to its kind, whose seed is in it, on the earth." And it was so. 12 And the earth brought forth vegetation, plant seeding seed according to its kind, and tree making fruit whose seed is in it according to its kind. And God saw that it was good. 13 And there was evening and there was morning, a third day.

Lights, Sea Creatures, Birds and Animals

14 And God said, "Let there be luminaries in the expanse of the heavens to separate between the day and the night, and they shall be for signs and for appointed times and for days and years, 15 and they shall be for luminaries in the expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth." And it was so. 16 And God made the two great luminaries, the great luminary for the rule of the day and the small luminary for the rule of the night, and the stars. 17 And God set them in the expanse of the heavens to give light on the earth, 18 and to rule over the day and over the night, and to separate between the light and the darkness. And God saw that it was good. 19 And there was evening and there was morning, a fourth day. 20 And God said, "Let the waters swarm with swarms of living beings, and let flying things fly over the earth on the face of the expanse of the heavens." 21 And God created the great monsters and every living being that moves, with which the waters swarmed, according to their kind, and every winged flying thing according to its kind.

1:1 In the beginning God The Bible does not argue for God. It starts with Him. He was there before the beginning, and He is the reason there is a beginning at all. You are not an accident. The world was made on purpose by Someone who had a purpose for it.
1:1 God The Hebrew word is Elohim. It is plural in form, but the verb "created" is singular. Many Christians see here an early hint of what the rest of Scripture makes clear: one God who is Father, Son and Holy Spirit. John 1:1-3 says the Word was there in the beginning and all things came into being through Him.
1:1 created the heavens and the earth The Hebrew word for "created" is used in the Bible only for God's work. People make things out of what already exists. God brought the universe into being out of nothing (Heb 11:3). "The heavens and the earth" means everything that exists.
1:2 formlessness and emptiness The earth had no shape yet and nothing living on it. In days one to three God gives the world form, and in days four to six He fills it. God takes what is empty and dark and makes it full and good. He still does that in human lives.
1:2 the Spirit of God was hovering over the face of the waters "Hovering" pictures a bird over its nest, the same word used in Deuteronomy 32:11. The Holy Spirit was there at creation, ready to bring order and life.
1:3 And God said Ten times in this chapter God speaks, and each time it happens. He does not wrestle with the material. He speaks, and the universe obeys (Ps 33:6).
1:3 Let there be light Light comes first, even before the sun (1:14-16). God Himself is the source of light, and the city to come needs no sun because God is its light (Rev 21:23; 22:5).
1:5 there was evening and there was morning, day one The day is counted from evening, which is still how the Jewish day begins. In the ancient world, to name something showed authority over it, and God names the day and the night.
1:7 the waters which were above the expanse The "expanse" is the sky. We are not told exactly what the waters above were. Some think of clouds and water in the air, others of a different arrangement of the world before the flood. The main point is plain: God divided one mass of water and made room for the sky. Day two is the only day not called good, since the dividing of the waters is finished on day three.
1:11 according to its kind The phrase appears here for the first time and repeats all through the chapter. God built order into living things. Plants produce plants like themselves. Life comes from life, and all of it comes from God.
1:14 for signs and for appointed times and for days and years The lights have jobs. Israel's feasts would later be set by the moon and the sun.
1:16 the great luminary for the rule of the day and the small luminary for the rule of the night Genesis does not even use the names sun and moon. The nations around Israel worshiped them as gods. Genesis puts them in their place: lamps God hung in the sky. "And the stars" is almost an aside. If the sky is God's handiwork, look to the One who made the stars, not to the stars (Isa 40:26).
1:21 the great monsters The huge creatures of the sea. Whatever the people of that day feared in the deep, God made it, and it answers to Him.

And God saw that it was good. 22 And God blessed them, saying, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let the flying things multiply on the earth." 23 And there was evening and there was morning, a fifth day. 24 And God said, "Let the earth bring forth living beings according to their kind: livestock and moving things and living things of the earth according to their kind." And it was so. 25 And God made the living things of the earth according to their kind, and the livestock according to their kind, and every moving thing of the ground according to its kind. And God saw that it was good.

God Creates Mankind

26 And God said, "Let Us make mankind in Our image, according to Our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the flying things of the heavens and over the livestock and over all the earth and over every moving thing that moves on the earth." 27 And God created mankind in His image; in the image of God He created him; male and female He created them. 28 And God blessed them, and God said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the flying things of the heavens and over every living thing that moves on the earth." 29 And God said, "Look, I have given to you every plant seeding seed that is on the face of all the earth, and every tree in which is the fruit of a tree seeding seed; to you it shall be for food. 30 And to every living thing of the earth and to every flying thing of the heavens and to everything that moves on the earth in which is a living being, every green plant is for food." And it was so. 31 And God saw all that He had made, and look, it was very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

The Seventh Day

1 And the heavens and the earth were completed, and all their host. 2 And God completed on the seventh day His work which He had done, and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had done. 3 And God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because on it He rested from all His work which God had created to make.

The Man in the Garden

4 These are the generations of the heavens and the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made earth and heavens. 5 And no shrub of the field was yet on the earth, and no plant of the field had yet sprouted, for the LORD God had not caused it to rain on the earth, and there was no man to work the ground. 6 And a mist would go up from the earth and would water all the face of the ground.

2:5 Gen 3:23; Ps 104:14; Heb 6:7

1:22 And God blessed them The first blessing in the Bible. A blessing is God's favor spoken over someone, usually with the power to make it happen. God wanted His world full of life.
1:26 Let Us make mankind in Our image, according to Our likeness The pace changes, as if God pauses before the crowning act of creation. Who is "Us"? Some say God speaks with the angels, but angels never create, and man bears God's image, not theirs. Others see a royal way of speaking. I believe, with many Christians through the centuries, that it is the first hint of the Trinity (compare 1:2; John 1:3).
1:26 in Our image Man was made to reflect God. We are not God, but we can think, love, choose, create, speak and know our Creator. No animal was made this way. That is why every human life has worth, young or old, strong or weak, born or unborn (9:6).
1:26 let them have dominion To rule the earth as God's representative, like a governor ruling a province for his king. It is a trust, not a license to abuse what He made. We will answer to the real King.
1:27 male and female He created them The verse is poetry in Hebrew, with "created" three times. Both the man and the woman bear God's image, and neither more than the other. Jesus quoted this verse when He taught about marriage (Matt 19:4). Adam and Eve were real people, and Jesus and Paul treated them that way (Rom 5:12-14). That dignity belongs to the person you like least, too.
1:28 fill the earth and subdue it Man is the one creature God speaks "to." Children are a blessing (Ps 127:3). To subdue the earth is to bring it under order: to farm it, build on it, care for it. Work was part of God's plan before sin. This creation mandate still stands. Sin made the job harder (3:17-19), but God never took it back.
1:29 to you it shall be for food Plants were given for food. Meat is not given until after the flood (9:3). Many who read Genesis this way believe there was no death among God's creatures before the fall.
1:31 look, it was very good Six times God called His work good. Now, with man and woman in place, it is "very good." No sin, no sickness, no death. The pain in the world today was not there at the start. Chapter 3 tells what went wrong.
1:31 the sixth day I believe these were ordinary days. Each has a number and an evening and a morning, and the Sabbath law points back to this week (Exod 20:11). Bible-believing Christians hold other views: the day-age view (long ages), the framework view (a literary pattern), and the gap view (a long time between verses 1 and 2). The Bible gives no date for creation, and I won't put a number on the age of the earth.
2:1 the heavens and the earth were completed Nothing was missing. God did not rest because He was tired, for He does not grow weary (Isa 40:28). He rested because the work was done. "Rested" is the root of the word Sabbath, which means to stop or cease.
2:3 God blessed the seventh day and sanctified it To sanctify is to set apart as holy. God later built this pattern into Israel's week (Exod 20:8-11). The seventh day alone has no closing evening and morning, and Hebrews 4:9-10 speaks of a rest that remains for God's people, entered by trusting Christ's finished work. We are not machines. Stopping to rest and worship is a way of trusting God to hold the world together.
2:4 These are the generations of the heavens and the earth This heading appears about eleven times in Genesis and marks each new section of the book, much like a chapter heading. Here it opens a closer look at the making of man.
2:4 the LORD God The first time we read this name. LORD in capitals stands for God's personal name, Yahweh. Chapter 1 shows the mighty Creator. Chapter 2 shows the same God coming close in a personal relationship with the people He made.
2:5 there was no man to work the ground No cultivated plants yet, and no rain. A mist watered the ground (2:6). The world was waiting for a gardener.

7 And the LORD God formed the man of dust from the ground, and He breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and the man became a living being. 8 And the LORD God planted a garden in Eden, in the east, and He put there the man whom He had formed. 9 And the LORD God caused to sprout from the ground every tree desirable in appearance and good for food, and the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. 10 And a river was going out from Eden to water the garden, and from there it was divided and became four heads. 11 The name of the one is Pishon; it is the one that goes around all the land of Havilah (Chavila), where the gold is. 12 And the gold of that land is good; the bdellium and the onyx stone are there.
13 And the name of the second river is Gihon (Gichon); it is the one that goes around all the land of Cush (Kush). 14 And the name of the third river is Tigris (Chideqel); it is the one that goes east of Assyria (Ashur). And the fourth river, it is Euphrates (Perat). 15 And the LORD God took the man and settled him in the garden of Eden to work it and to keep it.
16 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, "From every tree of the garden you may surely eat; 17 and from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, you shall not eat from it; for in the day you eat from it you shall surely die."

The First Marriage

18 And the LORD God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone; I will make for him a helper corresponding to him."
19 And the LORD God formed from the ground every living thing of the field and every flying thing of the heavens, and He brought them to the man to see what he would call it; and whatever the man called it, a living being, that was its name.
20 And the man called names for all the livestock and for the flying things of the heavens and for every living thing of the field; and for Adam he did not find a helper corresponding to him. 21 And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall on the man, and he slept; and He took one of his ribs and closed up flesh in its place. 22 And the LORD God built the rib which He had taken from the man into a woman, and He brought her to the man. 23 And the man said, "This one this time is bone from my bones and flesh from my flesh; this one shall be called 'Woman,' because from man this one was taken."
24 Therefore a man leaves his father and his mother and clings to his wife, and they become one flesh. 25 And they were both of them naked, the man and his wife, and they

2:7 the LORD God formed the man of dust from the ground "Formed" is the word for a potter shaping clay (Jer 18:6). The Hebrew for man is adam, and ground is adamah. We are made of dirt, and that should keep us humble.
2:7 He breathed into his nostrils the breath of life No other creature receives life this way. Man is more than a body. Every breath you take is borrowed from the One who gave the first one. Paul compares Adam, the first man, with Jesus, the last Adam, who gives life (1 Cor 15:45).
2:8 a garden in Eden Eden likely means delight. God prepared a beautiful, fruitful home before He placed the man in it, and every tree was "desirable in appearance and good for food" (2:9). God cares about beauty as well as usefulness.
2:9 the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil The tree of life appears again in the New Jerusalem (Rev 22:2). The other was the tree of testing. To eat from it was to decide for yourself what is good and evil instead of trusting God to define it. The rest of the Bible tells how we lost the first tree and how God, through Christ, opens it to us again.
2:10 four heads The Tigris and Euphrates are known rivers in what is now Iraq. The Pishon and Gihon, and the lands of Havilah and Cush, are hard to place. Many think Eden lay in Mesopotamia. I believe the flood changed the face of the earth so much that we cannot trace the garden today, and the later rivers may have been named after the earlier ones. What matters is that Eden was a real place.
2:12 the bdellium and the onyx stone Bdellium is a sweet-smelling resin. God filled the earth with treasures for man to find and use.
2:15 to work it and to keep it Work was part of paradise. To work is to serve the ground, and to keep is to guard it. The same two verbs describe the priests who served and guarded the tabernacle, Israel's worship tent (Num 3:7-8). Many see Eden as the first sanctuary and Adam as its first priest. Work done before God can be worship.
2:16 From every tree of the garden you may surely eat God's first words to the man are generous. Only one tree was off limits. God gives far more than He holds back.
2:17 in the day you eat from it you shall surely die Adam and Eve did not drop dead that day. I believe the warning came true two ways: that day they died spiritually, cut off from God and hiding in shame (3:8), and that day physical death began its work (3:19; 5:5). Death came into the world through sin (Rom 5:12). The one tree gave Adam a real choice to trust and obey freely.
2:18 It is not good for the man to be alone After "good" seven times in chapter 1, this is startling. Sin had not entered, yet something was not yet good. We were made for relationship.
2:18 a helper corresponding to him "Helper" does not mean someone less important. The same word is used of God, Israel's helper (Ps 33:20). It names a role, not a worth. "Corresponding to him" means like him and yet different, a partner who completes what is lacking.
2:19 He brought them to the man to see what he would call it Naming showed Adam's authority over the animals (1:28), and it took careful study.
2:20 for Adam he did not find a helper corresponding to him Every animal had a mate, and none was like him. God let Adam feel his need before He met it, so he would receive the gift with gratitude.
2:21 He took one of his ribs The word can also mean side. An old saying fits well: the woman was not taken from his head to rule him, nor his feet to be walked on, but from his side to stand with him.
2:22 He brought her to the man "Built" pictures God carefully making the woman. God Himself gave away the first bride. Marriage was God's idea from the beginning.
2:23 This one this time is bone from my bones and flesh from my flesh The first recorded human words in the Bible, and they are poetry. You can hear Adam's joy. Woman (ishah) and man (ish) sound alike in Hebrew. She shares his nature. They are equal in worth and made for each other, each with a distinct role.
2:24 a man leaves his father and his mother and clings to his wife, and they become one flesh Moses draws the lesson for every marriage. Leaving: a new family begins. Clinging: holding fast, for marriage is a covenant, a binding promise before God. One flesh: the union of two whole lives, including the physical union. Jesus quoted this verse on divorce (Matt 19:4-6). God's pattern is one man and one woman for life, and Paul says it pictures Christ and His church (Eph 5:31-32).
2:25 they were not ashamed Nothing to hide from each other or from God. The first thing that happens after sin is that they know they are naked and cover themselves (3:7). Shame came with sin. God does not leave us there. He covers them (3:21), and in Christ He clothes us in righteousness (Isa 61:10).

were not ashamed.

The Serpent and the Fall

1 And the serpent was more shrewd than every living thing of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said to the woman, "Has God indeed said, 'You shall not eat from any tree of the garden'?" 2 And the woman said to the serpent, "From the fruit of the trees of the garden we may eat; 3 and from the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God has said, 'You shall not eat from it, and you shall not touch it, lest you die.'" 4 And the serpent said to the woman, "You shall not surely die. 5 For God knows that in the day you eat from it, your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil." 6 And the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and the tree was desirable to make one wise; and she took from its fruit and ate, and she gave also to her husband with her, and he ate. 7 And the eyes of both of them were opened, and they knew that they were naked; and they sewed together fig leaves and made for themselves loin coverings.

God Judges Sin and Promises a Savior

8 And they heard the sound of the LORD God walking about in the garden at the wind of the day, and the man and his wife hid themselves from before the LORD God among the trees of the garden. 9 And the LORD God called to the man and said to him, "Where are you?" 10 And he said, "I heard Your sound in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked, and I hid myself." 11 And He said, "Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree which I commanded you not to eat from?" 12 And the man said, "The woman whom You put with me, she gave to me from the tree, and I ate." 13 And the LORD God said to the woman, "What is this that you have done?" And the woman said, "The serpent deceived me, and I ate." 14 And the LORD God said to the serpent, "Because you have done this, you are cursed more than all the livestock and more than every living thing of the field; on your belly you shall go, and dust you shall eat all the days of your life. 15 And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; he shall bruise you on the head, and you shall bruise him on the heel." 16 To the woman He said, "I will greatly multiply your pain and your pregnancy; in sorrow you shall bear children; and to your husband shall be your desire, and

3:1 the serpent was more shrewd Genesis does not say at once who spoke through this animal, but the rest of the Bible does. Revelation 12:9 calls the devil the ancient serpent, and Jesus called him a murderer from the beginning and the father of lies (John 8:44). Satan used the serpent like a mask.
3:1 Has God indeed said His first move was a question, not an open attack. He planted doubt and twisted God's words, making a generous God sound stingy (2:16-17). That is still his method. When a voice makes God's commands sound like a cage, be careful. That is an old voice.
3:3 and you shall not touch it God never said this. The woman added to His word and softened His warning. We are not told why. A small change to God's word left her more open to the next lie. Adding to God's word is as dangerous as taking from it (Prov 30:6).
3:4 You shall not surely die The first lie in the Bible, a flat denial of what God said (2:17).
3:5 you will be like God, knowing good and evil Satan made God sound jealous. Yet they were already like God, made in His image (1:26). The lie offered what they already had, on terms that would destroy them. Every temptation makes the same offer: be your own god and decide good and evil for yourself.
3:6 good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and the tree was desirable to make one wise John names the same three pulls: the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and the pride of life (1 John 2:16). Jesus faced testing in the wilderness, and where Adam failed, He stood firm (Matt 4:1-11).
3:6 she gave also to her husband with her, and he ate Adam was right there and did not speak up. Eve was deceived, but Adam sinned with his eyes open. That is why sin entered the world through one man (Rom 5:12). As head of the family, he bore the responsibility.
3:7 they sewed together fig leaves Their eyes were opened, but what they saw was their own shame. They now knew evil from the inside. Fig leaves were the first attempt to cover sin by human effort, and fig leaves wilt. Good deeds, religion and excuses do no better. Only God can cover sin (3:21).
3:8 the man and his wife hid themselves God walking in the garden suggests He had come to meet with them before. This time they hid among the trees He had planted. Sin breaks fellowship with God, and it makes us foolish. No one can hide from Him (Ps 139:7-12).
3:9 Where are you God knew. The question was for Adam's sake, calling him to come out and face what he had done. God came seeking the sinner before the sinner sought God. Jesus came to seek and to save the lost (Luke 19:10).
3:12 The woman whom You put with me Adam blamed his wife and blamed God for giving her. Eve blamed the serpent (3:13). Passing the blame came with the first sin. Real repentance stops pointing and simply says, I sinned, and God forgives (1 John 1:9).
3:14 dust you shall eat God asked the serpent no questions. Eating dust pictured total defeat (Mic 7:17). Many teachers see the curse on two levels: the animal, and above all Satan who used it. He is a defeated enemy.
3:15 I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed The first promise of the gospel, the good news, given in the middle of judgment. Enmity is a state of war. "Seed" means offspring and can mean many or one. Satan's seed are those who follow his ways (John 8:44).
3:15 he shall bruise you on the head, and you shall bruise him on the heel The promise narrows to one Person. A blow to the heel hurts but heals. A blow to the head is fatal. Jesus was born of a woman (Gal 4:4). At the cross Satan struck His heel, but by dying and rising He crushed the serpent's head (Heb 2:14; 1 John 3:8; Rom 16:20). The final blow comes in the lake of fire (Rev 20:10). Before God said a word about thorns, He promised a Savior.
3:16 I will greatly multiply your pain and your pregnancy The very thing that would bring the promised Seed into the world would now come with pain.
3:16 to your husband shall be your desire, and he shall rule over you Teachers read this two ways. Some see a longing for her husband even when he treats her badly. Others note the same words in 4:7 and see a desire to control him, with the husband pushing back by ruling harshly. Either way, the partnership of chapter 2 is strained by sin. Harsh rule is a result of the fall, not God's design. Husbands are to love their wives as Christ loved the church (Eph 5:25).

he shall rule over you." 17 And to Adam He said, "Because you listened to the voice of your wife and ate from the tree about which I commanded you, saying, 'You shall not eat from it,' cursed is the ground because of you; in pain you shall eat it all the days of your life. 18 And thorns and thistles it shall cause to sprout for you, and you shall eat the plant of the field. 19 By the sweat of your face you shall eat bread until you return to the ground, for from it you were taken; for you are dust, and to dust you shall return."

Driven from the Garden

20 And the man called the name of his wife Eve (Chava), because she was the mother of every living one. 21 And the LORD God made for Adam and for his wife garments of skin, and He clothed them. 22 And the LORD God said, "Look, the man has become like one of Us, in knowing good and evil; and now, lest he stretch out his hand and take also from the tree of life and eat and live forever—" 23 And the LORD God sent him out from the garden of Eden to work the ground from which he was taken. 24 And He drove out the man; and He caused to dwell at the east of the garden of Eden the cherubim and the flame of the sword that was whirling, to guard the way to the tree of life.

Cain Murders Abel

1 And the man knew Eve (Chava) his wife, and she conceived and bore Cain (Qayin), and she said, "I have acquired a man with the LORD." 2 And again she bore his brother, Abel (Hevel). And Abel was a shepherd of a flock, and Cain was a worker of the ground. 3 And it came about at the end of days, and Cain brought from the fruit of the ground an offering to the LORD. 4 And Abel, he also brought from the firstborn of his flock and from their fat. And the LORD looked to Abel and to his offering, 5 and to Cain and to his offering He did not look. And Cain burned with anger exceedingly, and his face fell. 6 And the LORD said to Cain, "Why do you burn with anger, and why has your face fallen? 7 If you do well, is there not a lifting up? And if you do not do well, sin is crouching at the door; and to you is its desire, and you shall rule over it." 8 And Cain said to Abel his brother. And it came about when they were in the field, and Cain rose up against Abel his brother and killed him. 9 And the LORD said to Cain, "Where is Abel your brother?" And he said, "I do not know. Am I my brother's keeper?" 10 And He said, "What have you done? The voice of your brother's blood is crying out to Me from the ground. 11 And now you are cursed from the ground, which has opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand. 12 When you work the ground, it shall no

3:17 cursed is the ground because of you Adam listened to his wife instead of God. God did not curse Adam himself but the ground he worked. Work was good before the fall. Now it comes with toil, thorns and sweat. All creation groans while it waits to be set free (Rom 8:20-22). Jesus wore a crown of thorns (John 19:2) and became a curse for us (Gal 3:13). One day there will be no curse (Rev 22:3).
3:19 for you are dust, and to dust you shall return The warning of 2:17 came true. Every funeral since then echoes this verse.
3:20 Eve The name sounds like the Hebrew word for life. Adam had just heard the sentence of death, and also that the woman's Seed would defeat the serpent. I believe naming her Eve was an act of faith.
3:21 garments of skin, and He clothed them For skins to be made, an animal had to die, perhaps the first death in the Bible, and God Himself provided it. Fig leaves were replaced by God's provision. Many teachers see here the first hint of sacrifice, a picture fulfilled when Jesus died so we could be clothed in His righteousness. Apart from the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness (Heb 9:22).
3:22 the man has become like one of Us, in knowing good and evil The "Us" echoes 1:26. Man now knew evil by doing it.
3:23 the LORD God sent him out from the garden of Eden This was a mercy. Living forever in a body of sin and death, cut off from God, would be a nightmare. God closed one door to open a better one through Christ.
3:24 the cherubim and the flame of the sword that was whirling, to guard the way to the tree of life Cherubim are powerful angels who guard God's holy presence. Later they were woven into the tabernacle curtain that kept people out of the Most Holy Place (Exod 26:31; Heb 9:7). When Jesus died, that curtain tore from top to bottom (Matt 27:51). In the end the redeemed have the right to the tree of life again (Rev 22:14).
4:1 the man knew Eve his wife The Bible's modest way of speaking of marriage intimacy.
4:1 I have acquired a man with the LORD Eve knew life came from God. Some teachers think she hoped Cain was the promised Seed of 3:15. If so, she was about to learn painfully that he was not.
4:2 Abel His name means breath or vapor, something that passes quickly. It fit his short life. Farming and shepherding were both honorable work, and nothing suggests one was holier than the other.
4:4 from the firstborn of his flock and from their fat The firstborn came first, and the fat was the choicest part. Abel gave God his best, and gave it first.
4:5 to Cain and to his offering He did not look Why? Some point out that Abel's offering involved blood, like the skins of 3:21. The New Testament puts the weight on the heart: Abel offered by faith (Heb 11:4), and Cain's deeds were evil (1 John 3:12). God looked at the worshiper before the gift. Cain sulked. If his heart had been right, he would have asked what he did wrong.
4:7 If you do well, is there not a lifting up God came to Cain with questions, as He came to Adam (3:9). It was not too late. Cain could still turn and be accepted.
4:7 sin is crouching at the door; and to you is its desire, and you shall rule over it Sin is pictured as a wild animal waiting to spring. "Desire" is the word of 3:16. Sin wants to control us, but we must rule over it. Anger fed becomes the door sin uses, and Jesus taught that anger in the heart is the root of murder (Matt 5:21-22). Deal with it while it is still at the door.
4:8 Cain rose up against Abel his brother and killed him The first human death was a murder. Moses keeps repeating "brother." In one generation sin went from a bite of fruit to bloodshed. Jesus called him "Abel the righteous" (Matt 23:35), the first martyr, killed because he was right with God (1 John 3:12).
4:9 Am I my brother's keeper A lie and a sneer. The honest answer is yes. God made us responsible to love and care for one another (Gal 6:2).
4:10 The voice of your brother's blood is crying out to Me from the ground Cain thought no one saw. God did. Innocent blood cries for justice. The blood of Jesus speaks better than Abel's (Heb 12:24): it speaks mercy to all who come to Him.
4:12 a wanderer and a fugitive you shall be on the earth The ground that soaked up Abel's blood would no longer yield to Cain. The farmer who gave God a careless offering could no longer farm.

longer give its strength to you; a wanderer and a fugitive you shall be on the earth." 13 And Cain said to the LORD, "My iniquity is too great to bear. 14 Look, You have driven me today from the face of the ground, and from Your face I shall be hidden; and I shall be a wanderer and a fugitive on the earth, and it will be that everyone who finds me will kill me." 15 And the LORD said to him, "Therefore, anyone who kills Cain, sevenfold he shall be avenged." And the LORD put a sign for Cain, so that anyone who found him would not strike him. 16 And Cain went out from before the LORD and dwelt in the land of Nod, east of Eden.

The Line of Cain

17 And Cain knew his wife, and she conceived and bore Enoch (Chanokh). And he was building a city, and he called the name of the city according to the name of his son, Enoch. 18 And to Enoch was born Irad; and Irad fathered Mehujael (Mechuya'el); and Mehujael fathered Methushael (Metusha'el); and Methushael fathered Lamech (Lemekh). 19 And Lamech took for himself two wives; the name of the one was Adah (Ada), and the name of the second was Zillah (Tsila). 20 And Adah bore Jabal (Yaval); he was the father of dwellers in tents and with herds. 21 And the name of his brother was Jubal (Yuval); he was the father of everyone handling lyre and pipe. 22 And Zillah, she also bore Tubal-cain (Tuval-Qayin), a sharpener of every cutter of bronze and iron; and the sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah (Na'ama). 23 And Lamech said to his wives, "Adah and Zillah, hear my voice; wives of Lamech, give ear to my word: for a man I have killed for my bruise, and a young man for my wound. 24 For sevenfold Cain shall be avenged, and Lamech seventy and seven times."

Seth Is Born

25 And Adam knew his wife again, and she bore a son and called his name Seth (Shet), "for God has appointed for me another seed in place of Abel, because Cain killed him." 26 And to Seth, to him also a son was born, and he called his name Enosh. Then calling on the name of the LORD was begun.

From Adam to Noah

1 This is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day God created mankind, in the likeness of God He made him. 2 Male and female He created them, and He blessed them and called their name Mankind in the day they were created. 3 And Adam lived one hundred and thirty years, and he fathered a son in his likeness, according to his image, and he called his name Seth (Shet). 4 And the days of Adam after he fathered Seth were eight hundred years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 5 And all the days of Adam which he lived were

4:13 My iniquity is too great to bear The word can mean the sin or its punishment, and the rest of his words show which weighed on him. He was sorry about the consequences, not about what he had done.
4:14 everyone who finds me will kill me Adam and Eve had other sons and daughters (5:4), and Cain lived a long time. In time many relatives might want to avenge Abel.
4:15 the LORD put a sign for Cain God showed mercy to a murderer. We are not told what the sign was, and guesses are only guesses. God, not man, would deal with Cain. He is just, and He is patient.
4:16 the land of Nod Nod means wandering. Cain "went out from before the LORD," and even when he settled he was a wanderer at heart.
4:17 Cain knew his wife Adam had sons and daughters (5:4), so Cain married a sister or a niece. The laws against marrying close relatives came much later (Lev 18:9). In the first generations it was the only way the race could grow. Many teachers also suggest that so near creation the human family did not yet carry the inherited weaknesses that make such marriages harmful now.
4:17 he was building a city Cain refused to be a wanderer on God's terms, so he built security for himself.
4:19 Lamech took for himself two wives The first polygamy in the Bible. God's pattern was one man and one woman (2:24). Scripture records polygamy honestly, never as God's ideal, and Genesis will show again and again the pain it caused.
4:20 Jabal Cain's line was full of talent: herdsmen, the first musicians (4:21), metalworkers (4:22). Music, farming and craft are good gifts under the creation mandate (1:28). But Cain's line built a culture without God. A society can be clever and successful and still be lost.
4:23 a man I have killed for my bruise A song of revenge. Lamech brags that he repays far more than he suffers.
4:24 Lamech seventy and seven times God promised to avenge Cain sevenfold. Lamech needed no God. By the seventh generation from Adam, murder in secret had become murder in song. Jesus answers Peter with unlimited forgiveness (Matt 18:22), and Paul tells us to leave revenge to God (Rom 12:19).
4:25 God has appointed for me another seed in place of Abel Seth's name is linked to the word appointed. Through Seth God kept the line of the promised Seed going, and Luke traces Jesus back through Seth to Adam (Luke 3:38).
4:26 Then calling on the name of the LORD was begun While Cain's family built cities and sang of revenge, Seth's family prayed and worshiped. To call on the LORD's name is to pray, trust and worship Him openly. Whoever calls on the name of the Lord will be saved (Rom 10:13). That has been the way from the beginning.
5:1 This is the book of the generations of Adam A new section begins, and it looks back to creation before it lists a single name. Every person here, and every person who has ever lived, carries the image of God. This is a list of real people God knew by name.
5:2 called their name Mankind The Hebrew word is adam, the first man's name and the word for mankind.
5:3 in his likeness, according to his image The wording echoes verse 1. Adam was made in God's likeness, and Seth was born in Adam's. Seth carried God's image, but he also inherited Adam's fallen nature, as every child since has (Ps 51:5; Rom 5:12).
5:5 and he died It took more than nine centuries, but God's warning came true (2:17). The serpent said, "You shall not surely die" (3:4). Every "and he died" in this chapter shows who was telling the truth.

nine hundred and thirty years, and he died. 6 And Seth lived one hundred and five years, and he fathered Enosh. 7 And Seth lived after he fathered Enosh eight hundred and seven years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 8 And all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years, and he died. 9 And Enosh lived ninety years, and he fathered Kenan (Qenan). 10 And Enosh lived after he fathered Kenan eight hundred and fifteen years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 11 And all the days of Enosh were nine hundred and five years, and he died. 12 And Kenan lived seventy years, and he fathered Mahalalel. 13 And Kenan lived after he fathered Mahalalel eight hundred and forty years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 14 And all the days of Kenan were nine hundred and ten years, and he died. 15 And Mahalalel lived sixty-five years, and he fathered Jared (Yered). 16 And Mahalalel lived after he fathered Jared eight hundred and thirty years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 17 And all the days of Mahalalel were eight hundred and ninety-five years, and he died. 18 And Jared lived one hundred and sixty-two years, and he fathered Enoch (Chanokh). 19 And Jared lived after he fathered Enoch eight hundred years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 20 And all the days of Jared were nine hundred and sixty-two years, and he died.

Enoch Walks with God

21 And Enoch lived sixty-five years, and he fathered
Methuselah (Metushelach). 22 And Enoch walked with God after he fathered Methuselah three hundred years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 23 And all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty-five years. 24 And Enoch walked with God, and he was not, for God took him. 25 And Methuselah lived one hundred and eighty-seven years, and he fathered Lamech (Lemekh). 26 And Methuselah lived after he fathered Lamech seven hundred and eighty-two years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 27 And all the days of Methuselah were nine hundred and sixty-nine years, and he died. 28 And Lamech lived one hundred and eighty-two years, and he fathered a son. 29 And he called his name Noah (Noach), saying, "This one shall comfort us from our work and from the pain of our hands, from the ground which the LORD has cursed." 30 And Lamech lived after he fathered Noah five hundred and ninety-five years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 31 And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and seventy-seven years, and he died. 32 And Noah was a son of five hundred years, and Noah fathered Shem, Ham (Cham), and Japheth (Yefet).

Wickedness on the Earth

1 And it came about, when mankind began to become many on the face of the ground, and daughters were born to them, 2 and the sons of God saw the daughters of mankind, that they were good, and they took for themselves wives from all whom they chose. 3 And the LORD said, "My Spirit shall not remain in mankind forever, in that he also is flesh; and his days shall be one hundred and twenty years." 4 The Nephilim were on the earth in those days, and also afterward, when the sons of God went in to the daughters of mankind and

5:6 Seth lived one hundred and five years Seth, Enosh, Kenan, Mahalalel, Jared: each lived for centuries, had children and died. Luke lists the same names in Jesus' family line (Luke 3:36-38). We are not told why they lived so long. Some suggest the world before the flood was different, and bodies so near creation were not yet worn down by sin and disease. After the flood ages fall, until seventy or eighty is a long life (Ps 90:10). I take the ages as written. If the list has no gaps, Adam lived to know Lamech, Noah's father.
5:22 Enoch walked with God Something changed around the birth of his son, and from then on Enoch walked with God. To walk with God is to live in daily fellowship with Him, agreeing with Him and going His way (Amos 3:3). It was three hundred years of ordinary days while raising a family. Walking with God is for ordinary people.
5:24 he was not, for God took him No "and he died" for Enoch. He was taken so he would not see death, and he pleased God by faith (Heb 11:5-6). Jude says he prophesied the Lord's coming in judgment (Jude 14). Many teachers, and I am one, see in Enoch a picture of the rapture: he was taken before the flood judgment fell, while Noah was carried through it. I believe Christ will take His church to Himself before the Tribulation (1 Thess 4:16-17).
5:27 nine hundred and sixty-nine years The longest life in the Bible. Add 187 (5:25), 182 (5:28) and 600 (7:6), and Methuselah died in the year of the flood. Many see God's patience in that, not wanting any to perish (2 Pet 3:9). Yet long life is not the same as a good life. His father lived 365 years and walked with God. What will be said of yours?
5:29 This one shall comfort us from our work and from the pain of our hands Noah's name is close to the Hebrew word for rest or comfort. This Lamech is not the killer of 4:23. One sang of revenge, and this one hoped in the LORD. Noah would not end the curse, but God would give the world a fresh start through him. Every longing for rest points to Jesus, who gives rest to the weary (Matt 11:28).
5:32 Shem, Ham, and Japheth No "and he died" yet, for Noah's story fills the next four chapters. All nations come from these three (10:32). Through Shem come Abraham, Israel and the Messiah, which means Anointed One, the Hebrew form of the title Christ.
6:2 the sons of God saw the daughters of mankind Bible-believing Christians hold two main views. Some say fallen angels, since "sons of God" means angels in Job 1:6 and 2:1, and Jude 6-7 and 2 Peter 2:4-5 speak of angels who sinned near the story of the flood. Others say godly men of Seth's line who married ungodly women of Cain's line, since angels do not marry (Matt 22:30) and the judgment falls on mankind. A third view sees powerful rulers. I won't take a hard side. In every view, evil crossed God's boundaries, and they "took" whom they "chose," following their eyes as Eve did (3:6).
6:3 My Spirit shall not remain in mankind forever God's Spirit had been pleading with people and holding evil back, but God's patience has a limit. "Flesh" means man is weak, short-lived and bent toward sin.
6:3 his days shall be one hundred and twenty years Some take this as a limit on the human lifespan. Many take it as the time left before the flood, a last season of grace. I lean toward the second, since people lived far longer for generations afterward (11:10-26). Either way God was patient while the ark was built (1 Pet 3:20).
6:4 The Nephilim The word may come from a Hebrew word meaning to fall. Older translations call them giants. The only other place they appear is Numbers 13:33. Were they the children of the unions in 6:2? The verse can be read that way, or it may only give the setting. The text does not settle it. The world celebrated these "men of renown." God was about to judge them.

they bore children to them. Those were the mighty men who were from long ago, the men of renown. 5 And the LORD saw that the evil of mankind was great on the earth, and every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil all the day. 6 And the LORD regretted that He had made mankind on the earth, and He was pained to His heart. 7 And the LORD said, "I will wipe out mankind whom I created from the face of the ground, from mankind to livestock to moving things and to the flying things of the heavens; for I regret that I made them." 8 And Noah (Noach) found favor in the eyes of the LORD.

Noah Builds the Ark

9 These are the generations of Noah. Noah was a righteous man; blameless he was in his generations; with God Noah walked. 10 And Noah fathered three sons: Shem, Ham (Cham), and Japheth (Yefet). 11 And the earth was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. 12 And God saw the earth, and look, it was corrupt, for all flesh had corrupted its way on the earth. 13 And God said to Noah, "The end of all flesh has come before Me, for the earth is full of violence because of them; and look, I am about to destroy them with the earth. 14 Make for yourself an ark of gopher wood; with compartments you shall make the ark, and you shall cover it inside and outside with pitch. 15 And this is how you shall make it: the length of the ark approximately 450 feet (three hundred cubits), its breadth approximately 75 feet (fifty cubits), and its height approximately 45 feet (thirty cubits). 16 You shall make a roof for the ark, and to approximately 18 inches (a cubit) you shall finish it from above; and the entrance of the ark you shall put in its side; with lower, second, and third decks you shall make it. 17 And I, look, I am about to bring the flood of waters on the earth to destroy all flesh in which is the breath of life from under the heavens; everything that is on the earth shall perish. 18 And I will establish My covenant with you; and you shall go into the ark, you and your sons and your wife and the wives of your sons with you. 19 And of every living thing, of all flesh, two of every kind you shall bring into the ark to keep them alive with you; they shall be male and female. 20 Of the flying things according to their kind, and of the livestock according to their kind, of every moving thing of the ground according to its kind, two of every kind shall come to you to keep them alive. 21 And you, take for yourself from all food that is eaten, and you shall gather it to yourself; and it shall be for you and for them for food." 22 And Noah did according to all that God commanded him; so he did.

6:5 every inclination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil all the day Every inclination, only evil, all the day. The problem went down to the heart (Jer 17:9; Matt 15:19). That is why better rules and better surroundings can never fix sin. We need new hearts, and only God can give them (Ezek 36:26).
6:6 the LORD regretted that He had made mankind God did not make a mistake. He is not a man that He should repent (Num 23:19), and He knew all from the start. These words show His heart. "He was pained to His heart." Sin wounds God, and we can still grieve the Holy Spirit (Eph 4:30).
6:7 I will wipe out mankind A holy God cannot let evil go on forever. The animals suffer too, because man was the head of creation, and when the head fell everything under him suffered.
6:8 Noah found favor in the eyes of the LORD The first time the word favor, or grace, appears in the Bible. First Noah found favor, then we read that he was righteous (6:9). Grace comes first. Noah became an heir of the righteousness that comes by faith (Heb 11:7), saved the same way we are (Eph 2:8).
6:9 Noah was a righteous man; blameless he was in his generations Blameless does not mean sinless, as chapter 9 shows. It means no one could rightly point a finger at how he lived. "With God Noah walked," like Enoch (5:24). Noah lived in a deeply wicked generation and still walked with God. You cannot blame your surroundings for your choices.
6:11 the earth was corrupt before God Corrupt means ruined, like rotten fruit. The same word is "destroy" in 6:13. Man had already ruined the earth by sin, and judgment would bring that ruin to its end.
6:13 God said to Noah God does not usually hide His plans from those who walk with Him (Amos 3:7). Noah knew what was coming and preached to a world that would not listen. Peter calls him a preacher of righteousness (2 Pet 2:5).
6:14 an ark of gopher wood No one can identify gopher wood with certainty. Some suggest a resinous wood like cypress. Pitch is a tar-like coating. The Hebrew word for "cover" is related to the word later used for atonement, covering sin, and many have seen a picture there.
6:15 the length of the ark approximately 450 feet The Hebrew gives 300 cubits by 50 by 30. A cubit, elbow to fingertip, was about 18 inches. The ark was a long box built to float and stay stable, not to sail. In the early 1990s a team of Korean ship researchers studied these proportions and argued that such a box would be very stable in rough water.
6:16 the entrance of the ark you shall put in its side One door, one way in. Jesus said He is the door, and whoever enters through Him will be saved (John 10:9).
6:17 I am about to bring the flood of waters on the earth God Himself would bring it. The flood was deliberate judgment on sin, not a natural accident. Jesus pointed to it as a warning of His coming (Matt 24:37-39). People ate, drank and married right up to the day. The time to get into the ark is before the rain starts.
6:18 I will establish My covenant with you The first time the word covenant appears. A covenant is a solemn, binding agreement, and when God makes one He binds Himself by His word. It is spelled out in chapter 9. God's grace reached Noah's whole household. Parents, your walk with God matters for your children.
6:19 two of every kind Clean animals went in by sevens (7:2). "Kind" echoes chapter 1. Many who hold to a worldwide flood believe Noah needed only representatives of each kind, and much of today's variety came later.
6:20 two of every kind shall come to you Noah did not hunt the animals down. God brought them. Noah's job was to build, gather food and obey. God took care of what Noah could not do.
6:22 Noah did according to all that God commanded him Building took many years, with no sign of rain and very likely mocking neighbors. Noah did all of it. He acted by faith about things not yet seen (Heb 11:7). His obedience did not save him. God's grace did. But his obedience showed his faith was real.

Into the Ark

1 And the LORD said to Noah (Noach), "Go into the ark, you and all your household, for I have seen you to be righteous before Me in this generation. 2 Of all the clean livestock you shall take for yourself seven by seven, a male and its female; and of the livestock that is not clean, two, a male and its female; 3 also of the flying things of the heavens seven by seven, male and female, to keep seed alive on the face of all the earth. 4 For in seven more days I am about to cause it to rain on the earth forty days and forty nights, and I will wipe out every existing thing that I have made from the face of the ground." 5 And Noah did according to all that the LORD commanded him. 6 And Noah was a son of six hundred years, and the flood of waters was on the earth. 7 And Noah went, and his sons and his wife and the wives of his sons with him, into the ark because of the waters of the flood. 8 Of the clean livestock and of the livestock that is not clean, and of the flying things and of everything that moves on the ground, 9 two by two they came to Noah into the ark, male and female, just as God had commanded Noah. 10 And it came about after the seven days, and the waters of the flood were on the earth.

The Flood Begins

11 In the six hundredth year of the life of Noah, in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on this day all the springs of the great deep were split open, and the floodgates of the heavens were opened. 12 And the rain was on the earth forty days and forty nights. 13 On this very day Noah went, and Shem and Ham (Cham) and Japheth (Yefet), the sons of Noah, and the wife of Noah and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark, 14 they and every living thing according to its kind, and all the livestock according to its kind, and every moving thing that moves on the earth according to its kind, and every flying thing according to its kind, every bird, every wing. 15 And they came to Noah into the ark, two by two of all flesh in which was the breath of life. 16 And those that came, male and female of all flesh, came just as God had commanded him; and the LORD shut it behind him.

The Waters Cover the Earth

17 And the flood was forty days on the earth; and the waters multiplied and lifted up the ark, and it rose up off the earth. 18 And the waters prevailed and multiplied exceedingly on the earth, and the ark went on the face of the waters. 19 And the waters prevailed exceedingly, exceedingly on the earth, and all the high mountains which were under all the heavens were covered. 20 Approximately 22.5 feet (fifteen cubits) upward the waters prevailed, and the mountains were covered. 21 And all flesh that moved on the earth perished, among the flying things and among the livestock and among the living things and among every swarming thing that swarms on the earth, and all mankind. 22 Everything in whose nostrils was the breath of the spirit of life, of all that

7:1 Go into the ark, you and all your household The word can also mean come, as if God invited Noah in where He was. Noah had built the ark, but he waited for God's word. His family came in because of God's grace to him. One man's righteousness brought blessing to many, and in the fullest sense that is what Jesus does for His people (Rom 5:19).
7:2 Of all the clean livestock you shall take for yourself seven by seven Clean animals were those later allowed for food and sacrifice (Lev 11). Noah knew the difference long before Moses wrote it down. The extra clean animals were needed for Noah's sacrifice (8:20) and for food (9:3). "Seven by seven" may mean seven pairs or seven animals, and teachers take it both ways.
7:4 in seven more days One last week of mercy. Forty is often linked with testing and judgment: Israel's forty years, Jesus' forty days of temptation.
7:5 Noah did according to all that the LORD commanded him Said again, as in 6:22. Noah's obedience is the steady drumbeat of these chapters.
7:9 two by two they came to Noah into the ark God brought them. If the neighbors watched animals of every kind walking into the ark, even that did not move them to repent.
7:11 in the second month, on the seventeenth day of the month That is how a historian writes. Genesis presents a real event. Other peoples of Mesopotamia told flood stories too, and many Christians see them as distant memories of what Genesis records truly.
7:11 all the springs of the great deep were split open, and the floodgates of the heavens were opened Water from below and from above. On day two God separated the waters (1:6-7). Now in judgment He let them rush back together, as if creation were being undone to the watery state of 1:2.
7:13 the three wives of his sons with them Eight people in all. Peter says eight souls were brought safely through water (1 Pet 3:20). Out of the whole world, only eight.
7:16 the LORD shut it behind him Noah did not shut the door. God did. Noah was safe because God shut him in, and those outside were lost because God shut them out. Jesus told of a shut door and people knocking too late (Matt 25:10-12). Today the door is open, and Jesus is the door. Now is the time to enter.
7:17 the waters multiplied and lifted up the ark The water that brought death to the world lifted the ark to safety. Peter compares this to baptism, which pictures our being saved through Christ's resurrection (1 Pet 3:20-21).
7:18 the ark went on the face of the waters No sail, rudder or oars. Noah could not steer. In Christ you may not control where the waters carry you, but you are safe, because God has you.
7:19 all the high mountains which were under all the heavens were covered I believe the flood covered the whole earth, as the text says. A local flood would not need such an ark, since Noah could have moved and birds could have flown away, and God's promise in 9:11 would not hold. Peter says the world then was destroyed by water (2 Pet 3:6). Some Christians hold a local flood, noting that "all the earth" can mean a region (Deut 2:25; Gen 41:57). I respect them, but here every kind of universal language is piled up, with more than a year in the ark.
7:20 Approximately 22.5 feet upward the waters prevailed The Hebrew says fifteen cubits, above the highest peaks.
7:22 Everything in whose nostrils was the breath of the spirit of life The breath of life God gave in 2:7 was taken back. The repetition makes us feel the weight of it. These were real people under the judgment of a holy God.

The Waters Recede

1 And God remembered Noah (Noach) and every living thing and all the livestock that were with him in the ark; and God caused a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters subsided. 2 And the springs of the deep and the floodgates of the heavens were shut up, and the rain from the heavens was restrained. 3 And the waters turned back from off the earth, going and turning back; and the waters decreased at the end of one hundred and fifty days. 4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, on the mountains of Ararat. 5 And the waters were going and decreasing until the tenth month; in the tenth month, on the first of the month, the tops of the mountains were seen. 6 And it came about at the end of forty days, and Noah opened the window of the ark which he had made. 7 And he sent out the raven, and it went out, going out and returning, until the waters dried up from off the earth. 8 And he sent out the dove from with him to see whether the waters had abated from off the face of the ground. 9 And the dove did not find a resting place for the sole of its foot, and it returned to him into the ark, for water was on the face of all the earth; and he stretched out his hand and took it and brought it to him into the ark. 10 And he waited yet another seven days, and again he sent out the dove from the ark. 11 And the dove came to him at the time of evening, and look, a freshly plucked olive leaf was in its mouth; and Noah knew that the waters had abated from off the earth. 12 And he waited yet another seven days and sent out the dove, and it did not again return to him anymore. 13 And it came about in the six hundred and first year, in the first month, on the first of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth; and Noah removed the covering of the ark and looked, and look, the face of the ground was dried up. 14 And in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, the earth was dry.

Noah Leaves the Ark and Worships

15 And God spoke to Noah, saying, 16 "Go out from the ark, you and your wife and your sons and the wives of your sons with you. 17 Every living thing that is with you of all flesh, among the flying things and among the livestock and among every moving thing that moves on the earth, bring out with you; and they shall swarm on the earth and be fruitful and multiply on the earth." 18 And Noah went out, and his sons and his wife and the wives of his sons with him. 19 Every living thing, every moving thing, and every flying thing, everything that moves on the earth, according to their families went out from the ark. 20 And Noah built an altar to the LORD, and he took from all the clean livestock and from every clean flying thing, and he offered up burnt offerings on

7:23 only Noah was left, and those who were with him in the ark Everyone outside died, and everyone inside lived. It made no difference how good, strong or famous anyone outside was. The only question that matters for us is whether we are in Christ (Rom 8:1). What of the children who died? Genesis does not answer every question. The Judge of all the earth will do right (18:25), and God cares even for those too young to know right from wrong (Jonah 4:11). We can trust Him with what He has not told us.
7:24 one hundred and fifty days About five months. The rain stopped after forty days, but the water stayed. Faith is for the long days of waiting, too. Noah had only God's promise, and the next chapter opens with "God remembered Noah."
8:1 God remembered Noah When God remembers, He acts on His promise, as with Hannah (1 Sam 1:19) and Israel in Egypt (Exod 2:24). He remembered the animals too (Ps 36:6). If God seems silent in your season, He has not forgotten you. At the right time He will act.
8:1 God caused a wind to pass over the earth The Hebrew word for wind and spirit is the same. As at creation God's Spirit hovered over the waters (1:2), now His wind passes over them, and a new world appears. Chapter 8 reads like a second creation.
8:2 the springs of the deep and the floodgates of the heavens were shut up The God who opened them (7:11) shut them. He controls the waters and the timing.
8:4 the mountains of Ararat Ararat was a region north of Mesopotamia, in what is now eastern Turkey and Armenia. The text names a mountain range, not one peak, and claims to have found the ark should be treated with caution. "Rested" sounds like Noah's name, which means rest (5:29).
8:7 the raven A raven eats dead things and could live on what floated, so it did not need to come back.
8:9 he stretched out his hand and took it and brought it to him into the ark The dove needs dry ground and clean food. The detail is tender. Noah was patient and waited for clear evidence.
8:11 a freshly plucked olive leaf was in its mouth Life was returning to the earth. The dove and the olive branch have stood for peace ever since, and this story is one of the oldest sources of that picture.
8:12 it did not again return to him anymore The land was ready, yet Noah still did not leave until God told him. Evidence is good, but God's word is better.
8:13 in the first month, on the first of the month New Year's Day, the start of a new world. Comparing 8:14 with 7:11, Noah's family was in the ark about a year and ten days. Faith often means a long, unglamorous stretch of waiting and daily chores.
8:16 Go out from the ark God shut Noah in (7:16), and now God sends him out. He went in at God's word and came out at God's word.
8:17 be fruitful and multiply on the earth The blessing of creation is repeated (1:22, 28). The earth had a fresh start, and God's purpose for it had not changed.
8:20 Noah built an altar to the LORD The first altar in the Bible, a raised place for sacrifice. Before a house or a field, Noah worshiped. A burnt offering was wholly burned, given completely to God. It pictured surrender and the need for a substitute, pointing to Jesus, who offered His body once for all (Heb 10:10).

the altar. 21 And the LORD smelled the soothing aroma; and the LORD said to His heart, "I will not again curse the ground anymore because of mankind, for the inclination of the heart of mankind is evil from his youth; and I will not again strike down every living thing anymore, as I have done. 22 All the days of the earth yet to come, seed and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease."

God Blesses Noah

1 And God blessed Noah (Noach) and his sons and said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth. 2 And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be on every living thing of the earth and on every flying thing of the heavens, on everything with which the ground moves, and on all the fish of the sea; into your hand they are given. 3 Every moving thing that lives shall be food for you; like the green plant, I have given to you everything. 4 Only flesh with its life, its blood, you shall not eat. 5 And surely your blood, for your lives, I will require; from the hand of every living thing I will require it; and from the hand of man, from the hand of each man's brother, I will require the life of man. 6 Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man his blood shall be shed; for in the image of God He made man. 7 And you, be fruitful and multiply; swarm on the earth and multiply on it."

The Covenant of the Rainbow

8 And God said to Noah and to his sons with him, saying, 9 "And I, look, I am about to establish My covenant with you and with your seed after you, 10 and with every living being that is with you, among the flying things, among the livestock, and among every living thing of the earth with you, from all who came out of the ark, to every living thing of the earth. 11 And I will establish My covenant with you, and all flesh shall not be cut off again by the waters of the flood, and there shall not again be a flood to destroy the earth." 12 And God said, "This is the sign of the covenant which I am setting between Me and you and every living being that is with you, for everlasting generations: 13 My bow I have set in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of a covenant between Me and the earth. 14 And it shall be, when I bring a cloud over the earth, and the bow is seen in the cloud, 15 and I will remember My covenant which is between Me and you and every living being among all flesh; and the waters shall not again become a flood to destroy all flesh. 16 And the bow shall be in the cloud, and I will see it, to remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living being among all flesh which is on the earth." 17 And God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant which I have established between Me and all flesh which is on the earth."

8:21 the LORD smelled the soothing aroma God accepted Noah's worship. Paul says Christ gave Himself as a fragrant offering to God (Eph 5:2).
8:21 the inclination of the heart of mankind is evil from his youth Almost the words of 6:5. The flood did not change the human heart. Sin came through the flood inside the ark. God chose mercy anyway. The answer was never to wipe out sinners and start over, but to send His Son to bear sin's judgment.
8:22 seed and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease God has kept this every year since. "All the days of the earth yet to come" means this order will not last forever. One day comes a new heaven and a new earth (Rev 21:1). God's covenant is as sure as day and night (Jer 33:20-21). If you doubt His promises, look out the window.
9:1 Be fruitful and multiply, and fill the earth The new world begins as the first did, with God's blessing (1:28). God had not given up on the human race or His purpose for it.
9:2 the fear of you and the dread of you shall be on every living thing Man still has authority over creation, but no longer the easy harmony of Eden. Many animals now keep their distance. One more thing broken by sin.
9:3 Every moving thing that lives shall be food for you Before the flood God gave plants (1:29). Now He gives animals as well. Eating meat is God's gift, and Jesus later declared all foods clean (Mark 7:19).
9:4 Only flesh with its life, its blood, you shall not eat Blood stands for life, and God gave blood on the altar for atonement (Lev 17:11). Pouring it out said that life belongs to God. The early church asked Gentile believers to keep this rule so as not to offend Jewish believers (Acts 15:20).
9:5 I will require the life of man God Himself will hold to account anyone who takes a human life. After Cain and Lamech filled the world with violence (4:8, 23-24), God drew a firm line.
9:6 Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man his blood shall be shed God gave people the duty to punish murder. Many see here the beginning of human government, which does not bear the sword for nothing (Rom 13:4). Most conservative teachers believe this supports the death penalty for murder when carried out justly by rightful authority, never by personal revenge.
9:6 for in the image of God He made man The heart of the verse. Murder is wrong because every person bears God's image. That is why the unborn child, the elderly, the disabled and the stranger all matter to God.
9:7 be fruitful and multiply Said twice, as bookends around the teaching on life and blood (9:1, 7). After such a judgment, Noah's family might have feared to start over. God tells them to live. Children are part of His blessing, not a burden.
9:9 I am about to establish My covenant with you and with your seed after you Promised in 6:18, spelled out now, with all people and every living being. That includes you and me.
9:11 there shall not again be a flood to destroy the earth This covenant is unconditional. Nothing is required of Noah. God binds Himself. There have been terrible local floods since, but never one like Noah's, one more reason I believe that flood was worldwide (see 7:19).
9:13 My bow I have set in the cloud The word is a warrior's bow. Some see God hanging up His weapon, pointed away from the earth. Either way, the rainbow is a sign of peace. A covenant sign is a visible reminder of a promise. Abraham's would be circumcision (17:11), and Israel's at Sinai the Sabbath (Exod 31:16-17).
9:16 I will see it, to remember the everlasting covenant God does not forget. He tells us in words we understand that when we see the rainbow, He sees it too and is keeping His word. John saw a rainbow around God's throne (Rev 4:3). The covenant-keeping God still reigns.
9:18 Ham, he was the father of Canaan Moses mentions Canaan because it matters in a few verses, and because Canaan's people would later live in the land promised to Israel.

9:19 from these all the earth spread abroad Every person alive comes from Noah's three sons. The human race is one family, made from one man (Acts 17:26). Chapter 10 gives the family tree.
9:21 he drank from the wine and became drunk The righteous man who built the ark fell. The Bible does not hide its heroes' failures, nor does it approve of them (Prov 20:1; Eph 5:18). Some excuse Noah as not knowing what wine would do, but Genesis is silent. Even a godly man can fall, often after a great victory, when his guard is down (1 Cor 10:12).
9:22 Ham, the father of Canaan, saw the nakedness of his father, and he told his two brothers outside Some think Ham did something worse, but the text says only that he saw and told. Instead of covering his father's shame, he spread it.
9:23 covered the nakedness of their father Shem and Japheth honored their father at his worst. When a brother falls, will we spread the news or cover it with love? This does not mean hiding sin from those who must deal with it. It means refusing to make a show of someone's shame (Prov 10:12; Gal 6:1).
9:25 Cursed be Canaan The curse fell on Canaan, not on Ham or Ham's other sons (10:6). Scripture does not say why. Perhaps Canaan was involved, or Noah, speaking as a prophet, saw that Canaan's line would go further in Ham's sin. The Canaanites became known for gross immorality (Lev 18:3, 24-25), and some later served Israel (Josh 9:23).
9:25 a slave of slaves he shall be to his brothers This must be said plainly: it was not a curse on any race, and not on Africans or people with dark skin. For centuries some misused this passage to defend slavery and racism. That was wrong and twisted God's Word to excuse terrible sin. Every person bears God's image (9:6), all nations come from one man (Acts 17:26), and heaven will be filled from every nation (Rev 7:9).
9:26 Blessed be the LORD, the God of Shem Noah blessed Shem's God, the highest blessing he could give. From Shem came Abraham, Israel and Jesus the Messiah (Luke 3:36). The word Semitic comes from Shem.
9:27 let him dwell in the tents of Shem Japheth sounds like the Hebrew for making room. His descendants spread widely (10:2-5). Many see this fulfilled when Gentile nations came to share Israel's blessings through her Messiah. Paul pictures Gentile believers as wild branches grafted into Israel's olive tree, and warns them not to be proud, for God still has a future for Israel (Rom 11:17-26).
9:29 all the days of Noah were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died If chapter 11 has no gaps, Noah died either a couple of years before Abram's birth or when Abram was about fifty-eight, depending on Terah's age (11:26, 32), and Shem lived well into Abraham's life. The flood washed the world but could not wash the heart or defeat death. We need a greater Savior than Noah.
10:1 these are the generations of the sons of Noah Moses lists Japheth, then Ham, and saves Shem for last. Genesis often deals briefly with the side branches and then returns to the line of promise. In time, chapter 10 overlaps chapter 11: it shows the map before telling how the map came to be at Babel.
10:2 The sons of Japheth Many scholars link these names with known peoples. Javan is the Hebrew name for the Greeks, Madai the Medes. Gomer, Magog, Tubal and Meshech are often placed to the north, around the Black Sea and what is now Turkey. Tarshish was a distant seaport, possibly in Spain, and Kittim is usually Cyprus.
10:5 each according to his language Japheth's family spread north and west along the coasts, as Noah prayed (9:27). "Language" looks ahead to Babel (11:7-9).
10:6 the sons of Ham were Cush and Mizraim and Put and Canaan Mizraim is the Hebrew name for Egypt. Cush is the region south of Egypt, Put is often Libya, and Canaan is the land later promised to Abraham. Sheba and Dedan (10:7) point to Arabia, likely the home of the queen who visited Solomon (1 Kgs 10). Africa and Arabia are part of the Bible's story from the start.
10:9 a mighty man of hunting before the LORD It may simply mean God saw him, or he was great in God's sight. Many teachers see something darker. His name resembles a Hebrew word for we will rebel, and some think he hunted men as well as animals, gathering power by force. We cannot be sure.
10:10 the beginning of his kingdom was Babylon In Hebrew, Babel. Shinar is Babylonia in southern Mesopotamia. Nimrod also built Nineveh (10:11), later Assyria's capital. Both cities would become cruel enemies of God's people. Nimrod is the first man said to have a kingdom. Man was building his own kingdoms apart from God, and the rest of the Bible tells how God builds His.

The Sons of Shem

21 And to Shem, the father of all the sons of Eber (Ever), the brother of Japheth the elder, to him also sons were born. 22 The sons of Shem were Elam and Asshur (Ashur) and Arpachshad (Arpakhshad) and Lud and Aram. 23 And the sons of Aram were Uz (Uts) and Hul (Chul) and Gether (Geter) and Mash. 24 And Arpachshad fathered Shelah (Shelach), and Shelah fathered Eber. 25 And to Eber were born two sons; the name of the one was Peleg, for in his days the earth was divided; and the name of his brother was Joktan (Yoqtan). 26 And Joktan fathered Almodad and Sheleph (Shelef) and Hazarmaveth (Chatsarmavet) and Jerah (Yerach) 27 and Hadoram and Uzal and Diklah (Diqla) 28 and Obal (Oval) and Abimael (Avima'el) and Sheba 29 and Ophir (Ofir) and Havilah and Jobab (Yovav); all these were the sons of Joktan. 30 And their dwelling place was from Mesha, as you go toward Sephar (Sefar), the hill country of the east. 31 These are the sons of Shem according to their families, according to their languages, in their lands, according to their nations. 32 These are the families of the sons of Noah according to their generations, in their nations; and from these the nations were separated on the earth after the flood.

10:14 from where the Philistines came out Israel's long-running enemies, Goliath's people. Scripture also links them with Caphtor (Amos 9:7), which many identify with Crete. Moses gives Israel the background of the peoples they would meet, all descended from Noah, all under the God of the whole earth.
10:15 Canaan fathered Sidon his firstborn, and Heth Heth is the ancestor of the Hittites. Jebusites, Amorites, Girgashites and Hivites appear again and again in Moses and Joshua as the peoples of the promised land (15:18-21). Israel, about to enter Canaan, needed to know its real borders and real neighbors (10:19).
10:21 the father of all the sons of Eber Eber's name most likely gave us the word Hebrew. Asshur gave his name to Assyria, Elam to a people east of Babylon, and Aram to the Arameans of Syria, where Abraham's relatives later lived (24:10). The line that matters runs Shem, Arpachshad, Shelah, Eber, toward Abraham (11:10-26) and Jesus (Luke 3:34-36).
10:25 Peleg, for in his days the earth was divided Peleg means division. Most teachers take it as the scattering at Babel, which fits this chapter about nations divided into their lands. Some suggest a division of the land masses, but the text gives little to build on. The world was being divided, but God kept His promised line intact.
10:29 Ophir Famous for gold in Solomon's day (1 Kgs 9:28). Joktan's sons are linked with Arabian tribes. Sheba and Havilah appear in Ham's line too (10:7), so families sometimes settled in the same regions or used similar names.
10:32 from these the nations were separated on the earth after the flood About seventy names. Some link the number with Deuteronomy 32:8. God knows every nation by name, and all come from one family (Acts 17:26), so there is no room for racial pride. This is a missionary chapter. God chose Abraham to bless all the families of the earth (12:3), and people from every nation will stand before His throne (Rev 7:9). Genesis 10 is the beginning of the guest list.
11:1 all the earth was of one language and of the same words Chapter 10 listed the nations with their languages. Chapter 11 steps back to tell how those languages came about.
11:2 they found a plain in the land of Shinar, and they dwelt there Shinar is Babylonia, in what is now southern Iraq, where Nimrod built his kingdom (10:10). God said fill the earth. These people found a flat spot and stayed. Settling down is not a sin, but settling down against God's word is.
11:3 let us make bricks and burn them with burning Southern Mesopotamia had little stone, so they baked bricks and used bitumen, a natural asphalt, for mortar. Ruins in that region show many stepped towers called ziggurats, often topped with a small temple, and many believe Babel was an early one.
11:4 let us make for ourselves a name, lest we be scattered over the face of all the earth A tower to heaven, a name for themselves, and no scattering, the very thing God had commanded. It was human pride and security with God left out. In the next chapter God promises Abram that He will "make your name great" (12:2). The world grasps for a name. God gives one to those who trust Him.

earth." 5 And the LORD came down to see the city and the tower which the sons of mankind had built. 6 And the LORD said, "Look, they are one people, and one language is to all of them, and this is what they begin to do; and now nothing that they plan to do will be withheld from them. 7 Come, let Us go down and let Us confuse their language there, so that they will not understand, each the language of his neighbor." 8 And the LORD scattered them from there over the face of all the earth, and they ceased to build the city. 9 Therefore one called its name Babylon (Bavel), because there the LORD confused the language of all the earth; and from there the LORD scattered them over the face of all the earth.

From Shem to Abram

10 These are the generations of Shem: Shem was a son of a hundred years, and he fathered Arpachshad (Arpakhshad) two years after the flood. 11 And Shem lived after he fathered Arpachshad five hundred years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 12 And Arpachshad lived thirty-five years, and he fathered Shelah (Shelach). 13 And Arpachshad lived after he fathered Shelah four hundred and three years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 14 And Shelah lived thirty years, and he fathered Eber (Ever). 15 And Shelah lived after he fathered Eber four hundred and three years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 16 And Eber lived thirty-four years, and he fathered Peleg. 17 And Eber lived after he fathered Peleg four hundred and thirty years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 18 And Peleg lived thirty years, and he fathered Reu. 19 And Peleg lived after he fathered Reu two hundred and nine years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 20 And Reu lived thirty-two years, and he fathered Serug. 21 And Reu lived after he fathered Serug two hundred and seven years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 22 And Serug lived thirty years, and he fathered Nahor (Nachor). 23 And Serug lived after he fathered Nahor two hundred years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 24 And Nahor lived twenty-nine years, and he fathered Terah (Terach). 25 And Nahor lived after he fathered Terah a hundred and nineteen years, and he fathered sons and daughters. 26 And Terah lived seventy years, and he fathered Abram (Avram), Nahor, and Haran.

Terah's Family Moves to Haran

27 And these are the generations of Terah: Terah fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran; and Haran fathered Lot. 28 And Haran died in the presence of Terah his father, in the land of his birth, in Ur of the Chaldeans (Kasdim). 29 And Abram and Nahor took wives for themselves. The name of the wife of Abram was Sarai (Saray), and the name of the wife of Nahor was Milcah (Milka), the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah and the father of Iscah (Yiska). 30 And Sarai was bar-

11:5 the LORD came down to see the city and the tower They thought their tower would reach heaven. It was so small God had to come down to look at it. Moses is gently mocking human pride. God knows all, but Scripture speaks this way to show He looks closely before He judges, as at Sodom (18:21).

11:6 nothing that they plan to do will be withheld from them Not that they could storm heaven, but that a united humanity set against God would go further and further into rebellion. The judgment was also a mercy that slowed the spread of evil.

11:7 Come, let Us go down and let Us confuse their language The builders twice said "Come, let us" (11:3-4), and God answers with His own. The plural echoes 1:26 and 3:22. Some see a royal way of speaking or God with His heavenly court. I believe, with many teachers, it is an early hint of the Trinity.

11:8 the LORD scattered them from there What they feared most is exactly what happened. You cannot build your way out from under God's command.

11:9 one called its name Babylon, because there the LORD confused the language In Hebrew the name is Babel, which sounds like balal, to confuse. Babylon's people said the name meant gate of god. Moses says it means confusion. Babylon becomes a picture of the world organized against God, all the way to Revelation 17-18. At Pentecost people from many nations heard the gospel in their own languages (Acts 2:5-11). Babel scattered. The gospel gathers (Rev 7:9).

11:10 These are the generations of Shem The story narrows to the line of blessing (9:26). Life spans are already falling: Shem 600 years, Arpachshad 438, Eber 464, Peleg 239. Something changed after the flood, though Genesis does not say what. Eber likely gave us the word Hebrew (10:21), and Peleg's division many link with Babel (10:25).

11:24 Nahor lived twenty-nine years, and he fathered Terah The ages keep dropping. Nahor lived 148 years. Abraham will live 175, and Moses 120. These lists show God keeping the line of promise through every generation, down to Jesus (Luke 3:34-36).

11:26 Terah lived seventy years, and he fathered Abram, Nahor, and Haran Not all in one year. Abram is named first as the most important, not necessarily the oldest. Terah died at 205 (11:32), Abram left Haran at seventy-five (12:4), and Stephen says he left after his father died (Acts 7:4). That puts Abram's birth when Terah was about 130.

11:27 these are the generations of Terah From here on Genesis is mostly about Abram and his family.

11:28 Haran died in the presence of Terah his father Haran died young. Lot had lost his father, and his uncle Abram seems to have looked after him.

11:28 Ur of the Chaldeans Most likely the great city of Ur in southern Mesopotamia, wealthy and advanced, where the moon god was worshiped. Some argue for a northern Ur near Haran. The Chaldeans are known from later times, so the name may tell later readers which Ur was meant, as Dan is used in 14:14. Terah's family served other gods (Josh 24:2). God called Abram out of idolatry by grace.

11:29 The name of the wife of Abram was Sarai She was his half sister (20:12), a marriage later forbidden (Lev 18:9) but not yet in Abram's day. Milcah, Nahor's wife, becomes Rebekah's grandmother (22:20-23).

11:30 Sarai was barren; she had no child Said twice so we will not miss it. A family without an heir had no future, yet God is about to promise this couple a great nation. He often begins where human strength runs out. To anyone who has longed for a child: Sarai, Rebekah and Rachel were part of God's unique plan to bring the promised line into the world. Their stories are not a promise that every couple who prays will have a child, and childlessness is not a sign that God is angry or your faith is too small. The God who saw Hagar (16:13) sees you.

ren; she had no child. 31 And Terah took Abram his son, and Lot the son of Haran, his son's son, and Sarai his daughter-in-law, the wife of Abram his son; and they went out with them from Ur of the Chaldeans to go to the land of Canaan (Kena'an); and they came as far as Haran (Charan), and they dwelt there. 32 And the days of Terah were two hundred and five years, and Terah died in Haran.

The Call of Abram

1 And the LORD said to Abram (Avram), "Go for yourself from your land and from your kindred and from the house of your father, to the land which I will show you. 2 And I will make you into a great nation, and I will bless you and make your name great; and be a blessing. 3 And I will bless those who bless you, and the one who disdains you I will curse; and in you all the families of the earth will be blessed." 4 And Abram went, just as the LORD had spoken to him, and Lot went with him. And Abram was a son of seventy-five years when he went out from Haran (Charan). 5 And Abram took Sarai (Saray) his wife and Lot the son of his brother, and all their possessions which they had accumulated, and the souls whom they had acquired in Haran; and they went out to go to the land of Canaan (Kena'an), and they came to the land of Canaan. 6 And Abram passed through the land as far as the place of Shechem (Shekhem), as far as the terebinth of Moreh (More). And the Canaanite was then in the land. 7 And the LORD appeared to Abram and said, "To your seed I will give this land." And he built there an altar to the LORD, who had appeared to him. 8 And he moved on from there to the mountain east of Bethel (Bet-El), and he pitched his tent, Bethel being on the west and Ai (Ay) on the east; and he built there an altar to the LORD, and he called on the name of the LORD. 9 And Abram journeyed, going on and journeying toward the Negeb (Negev).

Abram in Egypt

10 And there was a famine in the land, and Abram went down to Egypt (Mitsrayim) to sojourn there, for the famine was heavy in the land. 11 And it happened, as he drew near to enter Egypt, and he said to Sarai his wife, "Look, please, I know that you are a woman beautiful of appearance. 12 And it will be, when the Egyptians see you, and they will say, 'This is his wife,' and they will kill me, and you they will keep alive. 13 Please say that you are my sister, so that it may go well for me for your sake, and my soul will live on account of you." 14 And it happened, when Abram entered Egypt, and the Egyptians saw the woman, that she was very beautiful.

11:31 they came as far as Haran, and they dwelt there God first appeared to Abram in Mesopotamia, before Haran (Acts 7:2-4), so the move began with God's call. Haran lay far north, in what is now southern Turkey, and was another center of moon worship. The family stopped halfway. Many of us start to follow God and then settle somewhere comfortable short of where He told us to go.

12:1 Go for yourself from your land and from your kindred and from the house of your father Abram did not go looking for God. God came to a man from an idol-worshiping family (Josh 24:2), by grace. Each step was harder: land, relatives, father's house. In that culture family was safety, income and identity.

12:1 to the land which I will show you God did not give the address. Abram went out not knowing where he was going (Heb 11:8). Faith often takes the next step before it sees the road. God usually gives enough light for today.

12:2 I will make you into a great nation God answered every loss with a promise. A great nation from a couple who could not have one child (11:30)? Only God could do it, and that was the point.

12:2 make your name great; and be a blessing The builders of Babel tried to make a name and were scattered (11:4). Abram received greatness as a gift, and his name is honored around the world. God never blesses us only for ourselves.

12:3 I will bless those who bless you, and the one who disdains you I will curse God tied His own honor to Abram and his family. I believe this still applies to how nations treat Abram's descendants, the people of Israel. Many Christians see it at work in history, though we should be careful about claiming to know exactly how God has judged any nation.

12:3 in you all the families of the earth will be blessed Babel scattered the families of the earth, and God answers by blessing them through one family. Here God preached the gospel beforehand to Abraham (Gal 3:8), and the blessing comes through Abraham's Seed, who is Christ (Gal 3:16; Matt 1:1). If you are a Gentile who believes in Jesus, you are part of the answer to this promise. This begins the Abrahamic covenant, resting on God's "I will," spelled out in chapters 15, 17 and 22.

12:4 Abram went, just as the LORD had spoken to him No argument. Faith shows in what we do. Abram was seventy-five. God's call does not retire people.

12:5 the souls whom they had acquired in Haran Servants and workers, a large household. Some Jewish teachers also saw people Abram had led to the true God, but the plain meaning is his servants.

12:6 the terebinth of Moreh Shechem lay in the middle of the land between two mountains, about thirty miles north of Jerusalem. Moreh means teacher, and the great tree may have been a place where pagans sought guidance.

12:6 the Canaanite was then in the land The land was already full of people. Faith trusts God's promise when circumstances seem to say the opposite.

12:7 the LORD appeared to Abram The first time Genesis says God appeared to someone. We are not told what Abram saw.

12:7 To your seed I will give this land Now a homeland for the nation, repeated again and again (13:15; 15:18; 17:8). God's gifts and calling are irrevocable (Rom 11:29), and I believe that includes this land, so His promise of it to Israel still stands. Abram's altar was worship and a public statement in a pagan land: this ground belongs to the LORD.

12:8 he pitched his tent Wherever Abram went, a tent and an altar. The tent showed he was a traveler, and the altar showed whom he lived for. He was looking for a city whose builder is God (Heb 11:9-10). He called on the LORD's name out in the open.

12:9 toward the Negeb The dry southern region of Israel, often spelled Negev today.

12:10 Abram went down to Egypt Right after obedience came a famine. Obeying God does not mean life will be easy. Egypt had the Nile and often had food. We are not told God sent him, and he built no altars there. Many teachers see a step out of faith into his own planning. The text itself does not judge the move, but it did not go well.

12:13 Please say that you are my sister Sarai was his half sister (20:12), but a half-truth told to deceive is a lie. His plan protected himself and endangered his wife. Strong faith in one area does not mean strong faith in every area. Abram repeats this in chapter 20, and Isaac does it too (26:7). Our sins often get passed down.

15 And the officials of Pharaoh saw her, and they praised her to Pharaoh; and the woman was taken to the house of Pharaoh. 16 And he did good to Abram for her sake; and he had sheep and cattle and male donkeys and male servants and female servants and female donkeys and camels. 17 And the LORD plagued Pharaoh with great plagues, and his house, on account of Sarai, the wife of Abram. 18 And Pharaoh called Abram and said, "What is this that you have done to me? Why did you not tell me that she is your wife? 19 Why did you say, 'She is my sister,' and I took her for myself as a wife? And now, look, your wife; take her and go." 20 And Pharaoh commanded men concerning him, and they sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

Abram and Lot Separate

1 And Abram (Avram) went up from Egypt (Mitsrayim), he and his wife and all that he had, and Lot with him, to the Negeb (Negev). 2 And Abram was very rich in livestock, in silver, and in gold. 3 And he went on his journeys from the Negeb as far as Bethel (Bet-El), to the place where his tent had been at the beginning, between Bethel and Ai (Ay), 4 to the place of the altar which he had made there at the first; and there Abram called on the name of the LORD. 5 And Lot also, who was going with Abram, had sheep and cattle and tents. 6 And the land did not support them to dwell together, for their possessions were great, and they were not able to dwell together. 7 And there was a quarrel between the herdsmen of the livestock of Abram and the herdsmen of the livestock of Lot. And the Canaanite and the Perizzite were then dwelling in the land. 8 And Abram said to Lot, "Please let there be no strife between me and you, and between my herdsmen and your herdsmen, for we are men, brothers. 9 Is not all the land before you? Please separate from me. If the left, then I will go right; and if the right, then I will go left." 10 And Lot lifted up his eyes and saw all the district of the Jordan (Yarden), that all of it was well-watered, before the LORD destroyed Sodom (Sedom) and Gomorrah (Amora), like the garden of the LORD, like the land of Egypt, as you go to Zoar (Tso'ar). 11 And Lot chose for himself all the district of the Jordan, and Lot set out toward the east; and they separated, each from his brother. 12 Abram dwelt in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), and Lot dwelt in the cities of the district, and he moved his tent as far as Sodom. 13 And the men of Sodom were evil and sinners against the LORD, exceedingly.

God Renews His Promise

14 And the LORD said to Abram, after Lot had separated from him, "Please lift up your eyes and look from the place where you are, northward and southward and eastward and westward; 15 for all the land which you are seeing, to you I will give it, and to your seed forever. 16 And I will make your seed like the dust of the earth, so that if a man is able to 12:15 the woman was taken to the house of Pharaoh Pharaoh was the title of Egypt's king, not his name. Sarai was taken to become one of his wives.

12:16 he did good to Abram for her sake Abram got rich and lost his wife. Hagar, the Egyptian maid of chapter 16, may have come from this trip. Gains won by sin often bring a hidden cost.
12:17 the LORD plagued Pharaoh with great plagues Abram failed, but God did not. He would not let His promise be lost in Pharaoh's palace. If we are faithless, He remains faithful (2 Tim 2:13). These plagues preview the ones God will send on Egypt in Moses' day.
12:18 What is this that you have done to me The pagan king acts with more honor than the man of God, and Abram has no answer. He is called the friend of God (James 2:23), yet he was a real man with real weakness. God does not use perfect people. He uses forgiven people who keep coming back to Him.
13:1 Abram went up from Egypt In the Bible you go down to Egypt and up to the land of promise. Canaan's hill country is higher, but it is also a picture: leaving Egypt was a step back up.
13:2 Abram was very rich in livestock, in silver, and in gold Wealth was counted mostly in animals. God blessed Abram in spite of his failure. Riches are not a sin, but they bring their own tests, and this chapter shows one.
13:4 to the place of the altar which he had made there at the first Abram went back to the last place he had walked closely with God. That is how you recover after failing: go back to where you left the path, confess, and pick up again in worship and prayer.
13:7 the Canaanite and the Perizzite were then dwelling in the land The pagan neighbors were watching. When God's people fight over money and property, the world sees it (1 Cor 6:1-8). Problems of plenty can be as hard as problems of want. Many families have been split by fights over an inheritance.
13:8 for we are men, brothers Abram was Lot's uncle. "Brothers" was used for close relatives. Family should not fight.
13:9 Is not all the land before you As the elder and head of the family, Abram had every right to choose first, and he let Lot choose. He could be generous because he trusted God, who had promised him the whole land. When you know God is caring for you, you can let others go first (Phil 2:3).
13:10 Lot lifted up his eyes and saw all the district of the Jordan It looked like paradise and the best deal. Lot chose by sight. We read nothing of prayer or of what the place would do to his family's soul. And Moses adds, "before the LORD destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah."
13:11 Lot set out toward the east In Genesis moving east is often a move away from God, as with Adam and Eve and with Cain (3:24; 4:16).
13:12 he moved his tent as far as Sodom First he looked toward Sodom, then chose the valley, then pitched near Sodom. Next he is living in it (14:12), and by chapter 19 he sits in its gate. Spiritual drift usually comes one small step at a time.
13:13 the men of Sodom were evil and sinners against the LORD, exceedingly Lot knew, or should have known. Peter calls him a righteous man tormented by what he saw there (2 Pet 2:7-8). He was saved, but he and his family paid a high price.
13:14 Please lift up your eyes and look Abram had just given up the best land. Lot lifted his eyes to what he wanted. Abram lifted his at God's command and saw what God was giving him.
13:15 to you I will give it, and to your seed forever An everlasting possession. As at 12:7, I believe this promise still stands.
13:16 I will make your seed like the dust of the earth Abram still had no child. Later God uses the stars (15:5) and the sand (22:17) for the same promise.

count the dust of the earth, your seed also can be counted. 17 Arise, walk about in the land, through its length and through its breadth, for to you I will give it." 18 And Abram moved his tent, and he came and dwelt by the terebinths of Mamre, which are in Hebron (Chevron); and he built there an altar to the LORD.

War of the Kings and Lot Captured

1 And it happened in the days of Amraphel (Amrafel) king of Shinar, Arioch (Aryokh) king of Ellasar (Elasar), Chedorlaomer (Kedorla'omer) king of Elam, and Tidal king of Goiim (Goyim), 2 that they made war with Bera king of Sodom (Sedom), and with Birsha king of Gomorrah (Amora), Shinab (Shinav) king of Admah (Adma), and Shemeber (Shemever) king of Zeboiim (Tsevoyim), and the king of Bela, that is Zoar (Tso'ar). 3 All these joined together at the Valley of Siddim (Sidim), that is the Salt Sea. 4 Twelve years they served Chedorlaomer, and in the thirteenth year they rebelled. 5 And in the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer came, and the kings who were with him, and they struck the Rephaim in Ashteroth-karnaim (Ashterot-Qarnayim), and the Zuzim in Ham, and the Emim in Shaveh-kiriathaim (Shave-Qiryatayim), 6 and the Horites in their mountain Seir (Se'ir), as far as El-paran, which is by the wilderness. 7 And they turned back and came to En-mishpat, that is Kadesh (Qadesh), and they struck all the country of the Amalekite, and also the Amorite who was dwelling in Hazazon-tamar (Chatsatson-Tamar). 8 And the king of Sodom went out, and the king of Gomorrah, and the king of Admah, and the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela, that is Zoar; and they arranged battle with them in the Valley of Siddim, 9 with Chedorlaomer king of Elam, and Tidal king of Goiim, and Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arioch king of Ellasar, four kings with the five. 10 And the Valley of Siddim was pits, pits of bitumen; and the king of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, and they fell there; and those who remained fled to the mountain. 11 And they took all the possessions of Sodom and Gomorrah, and all their food, and they went. 12 And they took Lot and his possessions, the son of the brother of Abram (Avram), and they went; and he was dwelling in Sodom.

Abram Rescues Lot

13 And the one who escaped came and told Abram the Hebrew; and he was dwelling by the terebinths of Mamre the Amorite, the brother of Eshcol (Eshkol) and the brother of Aner; and they were covenant partners of Abram. 14 And Abram heard that his brother had been taken captive, and he drew out his trained men, born in his house, three hundred and eighteen, and he pursued as far as Dan. 15 And he divided himself against them by night, he and his servants, and he struck them, and he pursued them as far as Hobah (Chova), which is north of Damascus (Dameseq). 16 And he brought back all the possessions, and also Lot his brother and his possessions he brought back, and also the women and the people.

Melchizedek Blesses Abram

17 And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after his return from striking Chedorlaomer and the kings who were with him, to the Valley of Shaveh, that is the Valley of the 13:17 Arise, walk about in the land Walking over land may have been a way of claiming it, and many teachers read it so. Abram walked as owner while he held not one acre. He never received even a foot of it in his lifetime (Acts 7:5). We too trust what God has promised before we see it.

13:18 the terebinths of Mamre, which are in Hebron Hebron, about twenty miles south of Jerusalem, became Abram's main home, and the patriarchs would be buried near there (23:19; 49:29-31). Lot moved toward Sodom, and Abram moved to an altar: in the land, in a tent, worshiping God.
14:1 Amraphel king of Shinar Shinar is Babylonia, and Elam lay east of it in what is now southwest Iran. Chedorlaomer seems to have led. Scholars have tried to match these kings with names in ancient records, and older writers linked Amraphel with Hammurabi, but no match is certain. Moses writes real names and places, as history.
14:3 the Valley of Siddim, that is the Salt Sea The Salt Sea is the Dead Sea. The five cities are most often placed near its southern end.
14:4 Twelve years they served Chedorlaomer They paid tribute, money or goods paid to a stronger king.
14:5 they struck the Rephaim The Rephaim, Zuzim and Emim were known as tall and strong peoples (Deut 2:10-11, 20-21), and the Horites lived in Seir, later Esau's land. This army had beaten giants, which makes Abram's victory all the more striking.
14:10 the Valley of Siddim was pits, pits of bitumen Natural asphalt, still found floating on the Dead Sea. The word is the same as at Babel (11:3), and Moses may want us to link the two as centers of human pride.
14:12 they took Lot and his possessions Lot pitched near Sodom (13:12), and now he is "dwelling in Sodom." When judgment fell on Sodom, it fell on Lot too. When we make our home among the world's ways, we often share the world's troubles. He chose Sodom for its riches and lost them all.
14:13 Abram the Hebrew The first time the word Hebrew appears. It may come from Eber (10:21) or from a word meaning one who crossed over. It marks Abram as an outsider. He lived at peace and in treaty with his Amorite neighbors while worshiping only the LORD.
14:14 he drew out his trained men, born in his house, three hundred and eighteen Abram could have said Lot made his choice. He went after him. With women and children, his household may have numbered over a thousand. Abram was a peaceful man, but not helpless.
14:14 as far as Dan The town was Laish in Abram's day and was renamed Dan much later (Judg 18:29). Moses or a later inspired editor used the name readers would know. Some suggest an earlier Dan.
14:16 he brought back all the possessions, and also Lot his brother The army that beat giants was beaten by a shepherd's household, because God delivered them (14:20). Abram fought to rescue, not to conquer. He took no land and made himself no king.
14:17 the Valley of the King Many think it was near Jerusalem (2 Sam 18:18). Two kings now come to Abram. One offers the riches of this world, and the other the blessing of God.

King. 18 And Melchizedek (Malki-Tsedeq) king of Salem (Shalem) brought out bread and wine; and he was a priest of God Most High. 19 And he blessed him and said, "Blessed be Abram by God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth; 20 and blessed be God Most High, who has delivered your adversaries into your hand." And he gave him a tenth of everything. 21 And the king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give me the souls, and the possessions take for yourself." 22 And Abram said to the king of Sodom, "I have lifted up my hand to the LORD, God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth, 23 that from a thread even to a sandal strap, I will not take anything of all that is yours, and you will not say, 'I myself made Abram rich'; 24 apart from me, only that which the young men have eaten, and the share of the men who went with me, Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre; let them take their share."

Abram Believes the LORD

1 After these things the word of the LORD came to Abram (Avram) in a vision, saying, "Do not fear, Abram. I am a shield to you; your reward will be exceedingly great." 2 And Abram said, "Lord GOD, what will You give me, and I am going childless, and the heir of my house is Damascus (Dameseq) Eliezer?" 3 And Abram said, "Look, to me You have not given seed; and look, a son of my house is inheriting from me." 4 And look, the word of the LORD came to him, saying, "This one will not inherit from you; but one who will come out from your inward parts, he will inherit from you." 5 And He brought him outside and said, "Please look toward the heavens, and count the stars, if you are able to count them." And He said to him, "So will your seed be." 6 And he believed in the LORD, and He counted it to him as righteousness.

The Covenant Between the Pieces

7 And He said to him, "I am the LORD who brought you out from Ur of the Chaldeans (Kasdim) to give you this land to possess it." 8 And he said, "Lord GOD, by what will I know that I will possess it?" 9 And He said to him, "Bring Me a heifer three years old, and a female goat three years old, and a ram three years old, and a turtledove, and a young pigeon." 10 And he brought Him all these and cut them apart in the middle, and he set each piece to meet its neighbor; and the birds he did not cut apart. 11 And the birds of prey came

14:18 Melchizedek king of Salem His name means king of righteousness, and Salem means peace (Heb 7:2). Salem is most likely the early name of Jerusalem (Ps 76:2). He was king and priest. A priest stands between God and people with sacrifices and prayers. In Israel no king could also be a priest, but Melchizedek was both.
14:18 brought out bread and wine A meal of welcome for tired soldiers. Some connect it with the Lord's Supper, but the New Testament does not, so I would not press it.
14:18 God Most High In Hebrew El Elyon. Even in pagan Canaan, God had a priest who knew Him. God was at work where Abram did not expect.
14:20 he gave him a tenth of everything The first tithe in the Bible, a tenth given to God, centuries before the Law required one, given out of thankfulness. The Messiah would be "a priest forever according to the order of Melchizedek" (Ps 110:4), and Hebrews 7 says Jesus is that King and Priest. With no recorded parents, birth or death, Melchizedek was made like the Son of God (Heb 7:3). The greater blesses the lesser (Heb 7:7), so Jesus' priesthood is greater than Levi's. Some believe Melchizedek was the Son of God Himself. Most see a real human king used as a picture of Christ, and I believe that fits Hebrews best.
14:21 Give me the souls, and the possessions take for yourself It sounded generous. Melchizedek brought bread and a blessing. The king of Sodom brought nothing and made a deal that would tie Abram to Sodom.
14:22 I have lifted up my hand to the LORD, God Most High Raising the hand made a solemn promise. Abram adds "the LORD," God's personal name: God Most High is the LORD he worships.
14:23 from a thread even to a sandal strap Not even a shoelace, so no one could say Sodom made Abram rich. Some offers look like blessings but come with strings. Abram had just met God's priest. He had no need of Sodom's gold.
14:24 let them take their share Abram did not force his standard on his allies, and he excepted what his young men had eaten. He was strict with himself and fair to others.
15:1 Do not fear, Abram. I am a shield to you; your reward will be exceedingly great Abram had made enemies of four kings and turned down a fortune. God answers both. He is Abram's protection, and He will reward him far beyond Sodom's goods. This is the first "Do not fear" in the Bible, and not the last. God rewards those who earnestly seek Him (Heb 11:6).
15:2 Lord GOD, what will You give me, and I am going childless "Lord GOD" stands for Adonai, Master, with Yahweh, God's personal name. Abram calls God Master, but he does not hide his disappointment. God welcomes honest prayer. That is faith talking to God about what it cannot yet see.
15:2 the heir of my house is Damascus Eliezer His chief servant. Some scholars point to ancient contracts, such as tablets from Nuzi, where a childless man adopted someone to care for him and inherit. How closely they match is debated.
15:4 one who will come out from your inward parts, he will inherit from you Abram's heir would be his own son.
15:5 count the stars, if you are able to count them Out in the dry country, with no city lights, the sky was full. First the dust (13:16), now the stars. Every clear night would remind Abram of the promise. God often gives reminders of His word in ordinary things.
15:6 he believed in the LORD, and He counted it to him as righteousness Few verses matter more. Abram took God at His word when nothing he could see made it look possible (Rom 4:20-21). "Counted" means credited to his account. Righteousness, being right with God, was not earned. God credited it. Paul builds his teaching on this verse (Rom 4:3), noting it came before circumcision (Rom 4:10) and centuries before the Law (Gal 3:17). It has always been by grace through faith. We are made right the same way, believing God's promise fulfilled in Jesus, who was raised for our justification (Rom 4:23-25). Those who believe are sons of Abraham (Gal 3:7).
15:7 I am the LORD who brought you out from Ur of the Chaldeans The whole journey was God's doing, with one purpose: to give him the land.
15:8 by what will I know that I will possess it Some hear doubt. I believe it was a request for assurance, since verse 6 says Abram believed. God did not scold him. He answered with a covenant.
15:10 cut them apart in the middle The same kinds of animals later used in Israel's sacrifices. Covenants were sometimes sealed by walking between the halves, saying in effect, may I be cut in pieces if I break this covenant (Jer 34:18-20).
15:11 Abram drove them away Abram waited and guarded the sacrifice. Waiting on God is often part of receiving His promises.

down on the carcasses, and Abram drove them away. 12 And it happened, as the sun was going down, and a deep sleep fell on Abram; and look, dread, a great darkness, was falling on him. 13 And He said to Abram, "You will surely know that your seed will be a sojourner in a land that is not theirs, and they will serve them, and they will afflict them four hundred years. 14 And also the nation which they will serve I will judge; and afterward they will come out with great possessions. 15 And you, you will go to your fathers in peace; you will be buried in a good old age. 16 And in the fourth generation they will return here, for the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete." 17 And it happened, the sun had gone down, and there was thick darkness; and look, an oven of smoke and a torch of fire which passed between these pieces. 18 On that day the LORD cut a covenant with Abram, saying, "To your seed I have given this land, from the river of Egypt (Mitsrayim) to the great river, the river Euphrates (Perat): 19 the Kenite and the Kenizzite and the Kadmonite, 20 and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Rephaim, 21 and the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Girgashite and the Jebusite."

Sarai and Hagar

1 And Sarai (Saray), the wife of Abram (Avram), had not borne children to him; and she had an Egyptian female servant, and her name was Hagar. 2 And Sarai said to Abram, "Look, please, the LORD has restrained me from bearing. Please go in to my female servant; perhaps I will be built up from her." And Abram listened to the voice of Sarai. 3 And Sarai the wife of Abram took Hagar the Egyptian, her female servant, at the end of ten years of the dwelling of Abram in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), and she gave her to Abram her husband, to him as a wife. 4 And he went in to Hagar, and she conceived; and she saw that she had conceived, and her mistress became of little account in her eyes. 5 And Sarai said to Abram, "The violence done to me is on you! I myself gave my female servant into your bosom, and she saw that she had conceived, and I became of little account in her eyes. May the LORD judge between me and you." 6 And Abram said to Sarai, "Look, your female servant is in your hand; do to her what is good in your eyes." And Sarai afflicted her, and she fled from before her.

15:13 they will afflict them four hundred years Egypt. God told Abram ahead of time so his people would know they were not forgotten. Four hundred is likely a round number. Exodus 12:40 gives 430 years. Teachers count the period differently, and some, following Galatians 3:17 and the Greek Old Testament, count from Abraham's time.
15:14 afterward they will come out with great possessions The plagues and the exodus foretold, when Israel left with Egypt's silver and gold (Exod 12:35-36). God's people may suffer, but He judges their oppressors and brings them out.
15:15 you will be buried in a good old age Abram would not see the slavery or the return. He died in peace at 175 (25:7-8).
15:16 the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete The Amorites stand for the peoples of Canaan. God would not give the land yet, because their sin had not reached its full measure. He was patient even with the Canaanites. Scripture presents the later conquest as God's judgment on centuries of wickedness, not a land grab (Deut 9:4-5). God gives time to repent (2 Pet 3:9), but His patience has an end.
15:17 an oven of smoke and a torch of fire which passed between these pieces Smoke and fire often show God's presence (Exod 13:21; 19:18). Only God passed between the pieces. Abram was asleep. God took the whole weight of the promise on Himself. That is why I believe this covenant is unconditional. Its fulfillment rests on God alone.
15:18 from the river of Egypt to the great river, the river Euphrates The river of Egypt may be the seasonal stream at Canaan's southern edge (Num 34:5) or the easternmost branch of the Nile. Teachers differ. Israel came closest in David and Solomon's days (1 Kgs 4:21), but I believe the full promise still awaits a future fulfillment.
15:21 the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Girgashite and the Jebusite Ten real peoples, and God promised their land to Abram's descendants. God's gifts and calling are irrevocable (Rom 11:29).
16:2 the LORD has restrained me from bearing God had promised Abram a son of his own body (15:4) but had not yet said it would be through Sarai. She drew her own conclusion.
16:2 Please go in to my female servant; perhaps I will be built up from her Ancient law codes such as the Laws of Hammurabi, and marriage contracts from Mesopotamia, show this custom: a childless wife gave her servant to her husband, and the child counted as hers. The servant became a concubine, a secondary wife with fewer rights. It was legal and normal in their world, but it was not God's way or God's plan.
16:2 Abram listened to the voice of Sarai The words echo 3:17. In both cases a husband went along with a plan he should have brought to God. When we tire of waiting, we are tempted to take matters into our own hands.
16:3 at the end of ten years Abram was eighty-five and Sarai seventy-five. Scripture records this honestly but does not approve it. God's pattern is one man and one woman (2:24; Matt 19:4-6), and every time the Bible shows a man with more than one wife, trouble follows. Hagar the Egyptian may have come from Abram's shortcut in Egypt (12:16).
16:4 her mistress became of little account in her eyes The plan worked, and it was a disaster. Sarai got what she asked for and lost her peace. Getting what we want by our own methods often brings pain we did not expect.
16:5 The violence done to me is on you It was her idea, yet she blamed him, as Adam blamed Eve (3:12). Still, Sarai was not entirely wrong. Abram was head of the home and let his responsibility go.
16:6 Sarai afflicted her, and she fled from before her Abram washed his hands of it and did not protect the woman carrying his child. "Afflicted" is the word later used of Egypt's treatment of Israel (15:13; Exod 1:11-12). Everyone here did wrong, and the most powerless person paid the highest price.
16:7 the angel of the LORD found her His first appearance in the Bible. Hagar was not looking for God, but God came looking for her, on the road home to Egypt. "Angel" means messenger, yet this angel speaks as God, makes promises only God can make, and Hagar calls Him God (16:10, 13). Many teachers believe He was the Son of God appearing before His birth in Bethlehem. Others see a created angel speaking with God's full authority. Later notes point back here.
16:8 Hagar, female servant of Sarai Abram and Sarai never call her by name in this chapter. God does. His two questions still speak to anyone running from a hard place: where have you come from, and where are you going?

said, "Hagar, female servant of Sarai, where have you come from, and where are you going?" And she said, "From before Sarai my mistress I am fleeing." 9 And the angel of the LORD said to her, "Return to your mistress, and humble yourself under her hands." 10 And the angel of the LORD said to her, "I will surely multiply your seed, and it will not be counted because of its multitude." 11 And the angel of the LORD said to her, "Look, you are pregnant, and you will bear a son, and you will call his name Ishmael (Yishma'el), for the LORD has listened to your affliction. 12 And he will be a wild donkey of a man; his hand will be against everyone, and the hand of everyone against him; and in the face of all his brothers he will dwell." 13 And she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, "You are a God of seeing," for she said, "Have I also here seen after Him who sees me?" 14 Therefore one called the well Beer-lahai-roi (Be'er-Lachay-Ro'i); look, it is between Kadesh (Qadesh) and Bered. 15 And Hagar bore Abram a son; and Abram called the name of his son, whom Hagar bore, Ishmael. 16 And Abram was a son of eighty-six years when Hagar bore Ishmael to Abram.

Abram Becomes Abraham

1 And Abram (Avram) was a son of ninety-nine years, and the LORD appeared to Abram and said to him, "I am God Almighty; walk before Me, and be blameless. 2 And I will set My covenant between Me and you, and I will multiply you exceedingly, exceedingly." 3 And Abram fell on his face, and God spoke with him, saying, 4 "As for Me, look, My covenant is with you, and you will become a father of a multitude of nations. 5 And your name will no longer be called Abram, and your name will be Abraham (Avraham), for a father of a multitude of nations I have made you. 6 And I will make you fruitful exceedingly, exceedingly, and I will make you into nations, and kings will come out from you. 7 And I will establish My covenant between Me and you and your seed after you throughout their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be God to you and to your seed after you. 8 And I will give to you and to your seed after you the land of your sojournings, all the land of Canaan (Kena'an), for an everlasting possession; and I will be God to them."

The Sign of Circumcision

9 And God said to Abraham, "And you, you shall keep My covenant, you and your seed after you throughout their generations. 10 This is My covenant which you shall keep, between Me and you and your seed after you: every male among you shall be circumcised. 11 And you shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be for a sign of 16:9 Return to your mistress, and humble yourself under her hands A hard command. God did not approve of Sarai's treatment, but out in the wilderness Hagar and the baby might well have died, and God went with her and protected her. This was God's word to Hagar in her place. It is not a rule for anyone being mistreated. God never asks anyone to stay where they are abused. If you are in danger at home, reach out to a pastor, a counselor or the authorities and get safe.

16:10 I will surely multiply your seed The angel says "I will," as only God could. A slave woman received a promise much like Abram's.
16:11 Ishmael, for the LORD has listened to your affliction Ishmael means God hears. Every time Hagar called her son's name, she would remember that God heard her when no one else did.
16:12 a wild donkey of a man Not mainly an insult. The wild donkey was a free, untamed desert animal. Ishmael would live free and independent, often in conflict. His descendants became desert tribes in Arabia (25:12-18). Some read the phrase more negatively.
16:13 You are a God of seeing In Hebrew, El Roi. Hagar is the only person in Genesis to give God a name like this: a foreign slave woman, pregnant, mistreated and alone. If you feel unseen today, used by others or overlooked by your family, the God who saw her sees you.
16:14 Beer-lahai-roi The well of the Living One who sees me. Isaac later lived near it (24:62; 25:11).
16:16 Abram was a son of eighty-six years Thirteen years pass before God speaks again of the promised son (17:1). God loved and blessed Ishmael (17:20), but he was not the son of promise. Paul uses the two sons to show the difference between doing God's will in our own strength and receiving it as a gift of promise (Gal 4:22-31).
17:1 Abram was a son of ninety-nine years Thirteen silent years since chapter 16. Abram may have settled on Ishmael as the promised son, and Sarai was far past the age for children. Every human hope was gone. That is when God speaks.
17:1 I am God Almighty In Hebrew, El Shaddai, the first time God calls Himself by this name. It speaks of His power to do what no one else can, even give a son to a man of ninety-nine and a woman of eighty-nine.
17:1 walk before Me, and be blameless To live every day in His presence, knowing He sees. Blameless means wholehearted, a life of integrity, not sinless. Grace comes first, and then God calls us to live in a way that fits it.
17:3 Abram fell on his face Worship and humility. God is confirming and expanding the covenant of chapters 12 and 15. Abram never got casual with God. The closer we walk with Him, the more we bow.
17:5 your name will be Abraham Abram means exalted father. Abraham sounds like father of a multitude. Picture an old man with one teenage son introducing himself that way. It took faith to say his own name. Paul says Abraham is the father of all who believe, Jew and Gentile (Rom 4:16-17), and if you belong to Christ you are his child (Gal 3:29).
17:6 kings will come out from you Israel's kings, David among them, and the greatest King, Jesus, "son of David, son of Abraham" (Matt 1:1).
17:7 to be God to you and to your seed after you The best gift of the covenant is not land or children but God Himself. The whole Bible moves toward this, to the day God dwells among His people and is their God (Rev 21:3).
17:8 all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession I take "everlasting" plainly. God has not rejected His people (Rom 11:1-2), and His gifts and calling are irrevocable (Rom 11:29). I believe God still has a future for the nation of Israel, including the land. Gentile believers share Abraham's blessing through Christ, but that does not erase what God promised his physical descendants.
17:10 every male among you shall be circumcised God's part is the promise, and Abraham's part is to receive it and carry its sign. Circumcision is the cutting away of the foreskin. Other peoples practiced it, but God gave it new meaning. It was a seal of the righteousness Abraham had by faith before he was circumcised (Rom 4:11). The sign never saved anyone. It pointed to God's promise.

the covenant between Me and you. 12 And a son of eight days shall be circumcised among you, every male throughout your generations, one born of the house and one bought with silver from any foreigner who is not of your seed. 13 He shall surely be circumcised, the one born of your house and the one bought with your silver; and My covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant. 14 And an uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin, that soul shall be cut off from its kinsmen; he has broken My covenant."

Sarah and the Promised Son

15 And God said to Abraham, "Sarai (Saray) your wife, you shall not call her name Sarai, for Sarah (Sara) is her name. 16 And I will bless her, and also I will give you a son from her; and I will bless her, and she shall become nations; kings of peoples shall be from her." 17 And Abraham fell on his face and laughed, and he said in his heart, "Will one be born to a son of a hundred years? And will Sarah, a daughter of ninety years, bear?" 18 And Abraham said to God, "If only Ishmael (Yishma'el) might live before You!" 19 And God said, "Indeed, Sarah your wife is bearing you a son, and you shall call his name Isaac (Yitschaq); and I will establish My covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, for his seed after him. 20 And concerning Ishmael, I have heard you. Look, I have blessed him, and I will make him fruitful and multiply him exceedingly, exceedingly; twelve princes he will father, and I will make him into a great nation. 21 And My covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear to you at this appointed time in the next year." 22 And He finished speaking with him, and God went up from Abraham. 23 And Abraham took Ishmael his son, and all those born of his house, and all those bought with his silver, every male among the men of the house of Abraham, and he circumcised the flesh of their foreskin on this very day, just as God had spoken with him. 24 And Abraham was a son of ninety-nine years when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 25 And Ishmael his son was a son of thirteen years when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 26 On this very day Abraham was circumcised, and Ishmael his son. 27 And all the men of his house, one born of the house and one bought with silver from a foreigner, were circumcised with him.

17:12 a son of eight days shall be circumcised among you Babies and servants, even foreigners in the household, came under the sign. It marked them as God's people from the start, and they would be taught what it meant.
17:13 My covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant The covenant went as deep as the body. Moses and the prophets taught that God wanted circumcised hearts that love Him (Deut 10:16; 30:6; Jer 4:4).
17:14 that soul shall be cut off from its kinsmen Removed from the covenant community and its blessings. Refusing the sign meant refusing the covenant. Christians need not be circumcised, as the church settled in Acts 15 (Gal 6:15). What it always pointed to is a heart changed by the Spirit (Rom 2:28-29; Col 2:11). Today God's mark on His people is that changed heart through faith in Christ (Eph 1:13).
17:15 Sarah is her name Both names likely mean princess. A new beginning for her too.
17:16 I will give you a son from her For the first time God says plainly the son will come through Sarah. She had felt left out and tried to help through Hagar. Now God names her the mother of the promised line.
17:17 Abraham fell on his face and laughed Unbelief or amazed joy? Perhaps some of both. Paul says Abraham considered his body as good as dead and still did not waver (Rom 4:19-20). God did not rebuke the laugh. He turned it into the boy's name. Some teachers see more doubt here.
17:18 If only Ishmael might live before You Abraham loved the son he had raised thirteen years and asked God to bless him.
17:19 you shall call his name Isaac Isaac means he laughs. Abraham laughed, and God named the boy Laughter (21:6). The line would go through Isaac. God's plans do not bend to our preferences, even our loving ones.
17:20 concerning Ishmael, I have heard you Ishmael means God hears, and God heard. Twelve princes came from him (25:12-16). God can bless many people while keeping one line of promise.
17:21 at this appointed time in the next year After twenty-four years of waiting, the son would come within a year.
17:23 on this very day, just as God had spoken with him Abraham did not put it off. He circumcised himself at ninety-nine, Ishmael at thirteen and hundreds of men (14:14), leading by example. Faith in chapter 15 led to obedience in chapter 17. That is always the order (James 2:21-24).
17:25 Ishmael his son was a son of thirteen years Though the line went through Isaac, Ishmael received the sign as a member of Abraham's household.
18:1 the LORD appeared to him by the terebinths of Mamre Moses tells us up front who the visitor is, though Abraham may not have known at first. As the story goes on we learn one was the LORD and two were angels (19:1). Many believe this was the Son of God appearing before His birth (see 16:7). We are not told how, but the text plainly says the LORD was there, speaking and eating at Abraham's table.
18:2 he ran to meet them from the opening of the tent A man of ninety-nine running in the midday heat, when most people rested. Bowing was a common way to honor a guest.
18:3 Lord, if, please, I have found favor in Your eyes Some believe Abraham already knew he spoke to the LORD. Others think he first meant a polite sir, and the SLB's capital follows what the story reveals. Either way he speaks humbly and calls himself "Your servant."
18:5 let me bring a piece of bread Polite understatement for the feast to come. Hospitality was a sacred duty, since travelers could die without it. Some have entertained angels without knowing it (Heb 13:2), and Abraham is the clearest example. He was simply kind.

said, "So you shall do, just as you have spoken." 6 And Abraham (Avraham) hurried into the tent to Sarah (Sara), and he said, "Hurry, approximately 21 quarts (three seahs) of meal, fine flour! Knead it and make cakes." 7 And Abraham ran to the herd, and he took a young one of the herd, tender and good, and gave it to the young man, and he hurried to prepare it. 8 And he took curds and milk and the young one of the herd which he had prepared, and set it before them; and he was standing by them under the tree, and they ate. 9 And they said to him, "Where is Sarah your wife?" And he said, "Look, in the tent." 10 And He said, "I will surely return to you when the time revives, and look, Sarah your wife will have a son." And Sarah was listening at the opening of the tent, and it was behind him. 11 And Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in days; it had ceased to be with Sarah after the way of women. 12 And Sarah laughed within herself, saying, "After I have become worn out, will I have pleasure, and my lord is old?" 13 And the LORD said to Abraham, "Why is this that Sarah laughed, saying, 'Will I also truly bear a child, and I am old?' 14 Is anything too wonderful for the LORD? At the appointed time I will return to you, when the time revives, and Sarah will have a son." 15 And Sarah denied it, saying, "I did not laugh," for she was afraid. And He said, "No, but you did laugh."

Abraham Pleads for Sodom

16 And the men arose from there and looked down over the face of Sodom (Sedom), and Abraham was walking with them to send them off. 17 And the LORD said, "Shall I conceal from Abraham what I am about to do, 18 and Abraham will surely become a great and mighty nation, and in him all the nations of the earth will be blessed? 19 For I have known him, so that he may command his sons and his house after him, and they will keep the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice, so that the LORD may bring on Abraham that which He has spoken concerning him." 20 And the LORD said, "The outcry of Sodom and Gomorrah (Amora), indeed, is great, and their sin, indeed, is exceedingly heavy. 21 Let Me go down, please, and see whether they have done altogether according to its outcry which has come to Me; and if not, I will know." 22 And the men turned from there and went toward Sodom, and Abraham was still standing before the LORD. 23 And Abraham drew near and said, "Will You also sweep away the righteous with the wicked? 24 Perhaps there are fifty righteous in the midst of the city; will You also sweep it away and not forgive the place for the sake of the fifty righteous who are in its midst? 25 Far be it from You to do according to this manner, to put to death the righteous with the wicked, and it would be, the righteous as the wicked. Far be it from You! Will not the Judge of all the earth do justice?" 26 And the LORD said, "If I find in Sodom fifty righteous in the midst of the city, then I will forgive all the place for their sake." 27 And Abraham answered and said, "Look, please, I have undertaken to speak to the Lord, and I am dust and ashes. 28 Perhaps the fifty righteous will lack 18:6 approximately 21 quarts of meal, fine flour The Hebrew says three seahs, a great deal of flour. Meat (18:7) was a rare luxury.

18:8 he was standing by them under the tree, and they ate Abraham stood ready to serve. The LORD ate with His friend (2 Chr 20:7; Isa 41:8; James 2:23). The risen Jesus ate with His disciples too (Luke 24:41-43). God draws near to His people around a table.
18:9 Where is Sarah your wife How did a stranger know her new name (17:15)? This was no ordinary guest.
18:10 Sarah your wife will have a son God had told Abraham. Now He said it where Sarah could hear. Women usually did not join male guests, so she listened out of sight.
18:11 it had ceased to be with Sarah after the way of women She was past the change of life. Humanly speaking, it was impossible.
18:12 Sarah laughed within herself A quiet laugh inside, from someone who had hoped too long and been disappointed too often. She still called Abraham "my lord," and Peter points to her respect and trust in God (1 Pet 3:5-6). His point is trust in God, not that a wife must go along with wrong. Sarah's story shows the harm when a husband endangers his wife to protect himself (12:13; 20:2).
18:13 Why is this that Sarah laughed He heard a laugh she never said aloud. Only God knows the heart.
18:14 Is anything too wonderful for the LORD The center of the chapter. Nothing is too hard for God, and Gabriel said much the same to Mary (Luke 1:37). God gave a son to a barren old woman, and one day a Son to a virgin. This is not a promise that every couple who prays will have a child (see 11:30). But no need of ours is too hard for Him, and none is outside His care.
18:15 No, but you did laugh Sarah lied out of fear. God did not let the lie stand, nor did He punish her. He is gentle and always honest. Later she would laugh with joy (21:6), and by faith she received power to conceive (Heb 11:11). Her doubt was not the end of her story.
18:17 Shall I conceal from Abraham what I am about to do God shares His plans with His friends (Amos 3:7; John 15:15).
18:19 that he may command his sons and his house after him God chose Abraham to raise a family that would keep "the way of the LORD by doing righteousness and justice." The covenant blessing was to be passed down through godly parenting. Christian parents have the same job today.
18:20 The outcry of Sodom and Gomorrah The word is used for the cry of people suffering injustice. Sodom's victims were crying out, and God heard.
18:21 Let Me go down, please, and see As at Babel (11:5). God already knew, but He never judges on rumor. The Judge gathers the evidence before the verdict.
18:22 Abraham was still standing before the LORD The two angels went on to Sodom (19:1). Abraham stayed because he had something to say. Some ancient Hebrew scribes noted that the verse may first have read that the LORD remained standing before Abraham, as if waiting for him to speak.
18:23 Will You also sweep away the righteous with the wicked Abraham "drew near," and prayer is coming near to God. He was thinking of Lot, but his prayer was bigger than one man.
18:25 Will not the Judge of all the earth do justice Abraham was not accusing God but holding on to what he knew God to be. The best prayers are built on who God is and what He has said.
18:27 I am dust and ashes Humble and bold together. We come knowing we deserve nothing, and we come boldly because God invites us (Heb 4:16).

five; will You destroy all the city for five?" And He said, "I will not destroy it if I find there forty-five." 29 And he spoke to Him yet again and said, "Perhaps forty will be found there." And He said, "I will not do it for the sake of the forty." 30 And he said, "Please let the Lord not be angry, and let me speak: perhaps thirty will be found there." And He said, "I will not do it if I find there thirty." 31 And he said, "Look, please, I have undertaken to speak to the Lord: perhaps twenty will be found there." And He said, "I will not destroy it for the sake of the twenty." 32 And he said, "Please let the Lord not be angry, and let me speak only this once: perhaps ten will be found there." And He said, "I will not destroy it for the sake of the ten." 33 And the LORD went, when He had finished speaking to Abraham; and Abraham returned to his place.

The Wickedness of Sodom

1 And the two angels came to Sodom (Sedom) in the evening, and Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom. And Lot saw them, and he arose to meet them, and he bowed down with his face to the ground. 2 And he said, "Look, please, my lords, please turn aside to the house of your servant, and spend the night, and wash your feet; and you may rise early and go on your way." And they said, "No, but we will spend the night in the square." 3 And he pressed them exceedingly, and they turned aside to him and came into his house; and he made a feast for them, and he baked unleavened bread, and they ate. 4 Before they lay down, the men of the city, the men of Sodom, surrounded the house, from young man even to old man, all the people from every end. 5 And they called to Lot and said to him, "Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out to us, and let us know them." 6 And Lot went out to them, to the entrance, and the door he shut behind him, 7 and he said, "Please, my brothers, do not do evil. 8 Look, please, I have two daughters who have not known a man; please let me bring them out to you, and do to them as is good in your eyes; only to these men do not do anything, for because of this they have come under the shadow of my roof." 9 And they said, "Draw back!" And they said, "This one came to sojourn, and he keeps judging! Now we will do evil to you more than to them." And they pressed hard against the man, against Lot, exceedingly, and they drew near to break the door. 10 And the men stretched out their hand and brought Lot to them into the house, and they shut the door. 11 And the men who were at the entrance of the house they struck with blindness, from small even to great, and they wearied themselves to find the entrance.

Sodom and Gomorrah Destroyed

12 And the men said to Lot, "Whom else do you have here? A son-in-law, and your sons, and your daughters, and all whom you have in the city, bring them out from the place; 13 for we are about to destroy this place, because their outcry has become great before the face of the LORD, and the LORD has sent us to destroy it." 14 And Lot went out and spoke to his sons-in-law, who were taking his daughters, and he said, "Arise, go out from this place, for the LORD is about to destroy the city." And he was like one who jests in the eyes of his sons-in-law. 15 And when the dawn came up, the angels urged Lot, saying, "Arise, take your wife and your two daughters who are found here, lest you be swept away in the iniquity of the city." 16 And he lingered, and the men seized his hand and the hand of his wife and the hand of his two daughters, in the compassion of the LORD on him; and they

18:32 I will not destroy it for the sake of the ten God never lost patience. Abraham stopped asking before God stopped answering. We are not told why he stopped at ten. There were not ten, but God remembered Abraham and rescued Lot (19:29). God is more willing to show mercy than we are to ask. Pray this way for your city, your nation and those who do not know God (1 Tim 2:1-4).
19:1 Lot was sitting in the gate of Sodom The gate was where a town's leaders sat to do business and judge. Lot was now one of Sodom's leading men. His slide (13:12; 14:12) was complete. Peter calls him righteous, tormented day after day by what he saw (2 Pet 2:7-8). He believed in God, but he chose to live where his soul was vexed.
19:3 he pressed them exceedingly Lot showed hospitality as Abraham had, and he knew what could happen to strangers outside at night in Sodom.
19:4 from young man even to old man, all the people from every end The whole city took part. There were not ten righteous men (18:32).
19:5 let us know them "Know" is a Hebrew way of speaking of sexual relations. The men of Sodom meant to gang rape the visitors. Sodom's sin included this homosexual violence (Jude 7), and Ezekiel adds pride, plenty, careless ease and neglect of the poor and needy (Ezek 16:49-50). It was a whole way of life turned from God. We must be honest about what Scripture teaches and humble too. None of us stands by our own goodness, and the gospel is for sinners of every kind (1 Cor 6:9-11).
19:7 Please, my brothers, do not do evil He knew it was evil, yet he called them brothers, a sign of how much he had become part of that city.
19:8 I have two daughters who have not known a man; please let me bring them out to you Hard to read. A host's duty to protect guests was very strong, but nothing excuses offering his own daughters to be abused. Long years in a wicked place had twisted a believer's judgment. God did not let the offer be carried out.
19:9 This one came to sojourn, and he keeps judging Lot gave his life to Sodom, and Sodom never accepted him. The world rarely loves the believer who tries to fit in.
19:11 they wearied themselves to find the entrance Struck blind, they still groped for the door. Their lust was stronger than their fear. Sin blinds long before any physical blindness falls.
19:14 he was like one who jests in the eyes of his sons-in-law Lot had lived in Sodom so long that his warning meant nothing. His life had not backed up his words. Our witness is built over years, and people judge our words by our lives.
19:16 he lingered, and the men seized his hand His house, wealth and position were all in Sodom. He was rescued "in the compassion of the LORD on him," not because he was quick to obey. None of us runs to God on our own. He takes hold of us.

brought him out and set him outside the city. 17 And it happened, when they had brought them outside, and he said, "Escape for your life! Do not look behind you, and do not stop in all the district; escape to the mountain, lest you be swept away." 18 And Lot said to them, "Not so, please, Lord! 19 Look, please, Your servant has found favor in Your eyes, and You have made great Your steadfast love which You have done with me by keeping my soul alive; and I am not able to escape to the mountain, lest the disaster cling to me and I die. 20 Look, please, this city is near to flee there, and it is a little one; please let me escape there (is it not a little one?), and my soul will live." 21 And He said to him, "Look, I have lifted up your face also concerning this matter, not to overthrow the city of which you have spoken. 22 Hurry, escape there, for I am not able to do anything until you come there." Therefore one called the name of the city Zoar (Tso'ar). 23 The sun had come out over the earth, and Lot came to Zoar. 24 And the LORD rained on Sodom and on Gomorrah (Amora) sulfur and fire from the LORD out of the heavens. 25 And He overthrew these cities, and all the district, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and the growth of the ground. 26 And his wife looked from behind him, and she became a pillar of salt. 27 And Abraham (Avraham) rose early in the morning and went to the place where he had stood there before the face of the LORD. 28 And he looked down over the face of Sodom and Gomorrah, and over all the face of the land of the district, and he saw, and look, the smoke of the land went up like the smoke of the furnace. 29 And it happened, when God destroyed the cities of the district, and God remembered Abraham, and He sent Lot out from the midst of the overthrow, when He overthrew the cities in which Lot had dwelt.

Lot and His Daughters

30 And Lot went up from Zoar and dwelt in the mountain, and his two daughters with him, for he was afraid to dwell in Zoar; and he dwelt in the cave, he and his two daughters. 31 And the firstborn said to the younger, "Our father is old, and there is no man in the earth to come in to us according to the way of all the earth. 32 Come, let us make our father drink wine, and let us lie with him, so that we may preserve seed from our father." 33 And they made their father drink wine that night, and the firstborn went in and lay with her father; and he did not know when she lay down and when she arose. 34 And it happened on the next day, and the firstborn said to the younger, "Look, I lay last night with my father; let us make him drink wine tonight also, and go in, lie with him, so that we may preserve seed from our father." 35 And they made their father drink wine that night also, and the younger arose and lay with him; and he did not know when she lay down and when she arose. 36 And the two daughters of Lot conceived from their father. 37 And the firstborn bore a son, and she called his name Moab (Mo'av); he is the father of Moab to this day. 38 And the younger, she also bore a son, and she called his name Ben-ammi (Ben-Ami); he is the father of the sons of Ammon (Amon) to this day.

19:38 Deut 2:9,19; Deut 23:3; Judg 10:6-18

19:17 Do not look behind you The command was clear: flee to the mountain and do not look back.
19:20 it is a little one Even in rescue, Lot bargained for a small piece of the life he was leaving. Zoar means small (19:22).
19:22 I am not able to do anything until you come there God held back judgment until Lot was safe. The Lord knows how to rescue the godly and keep the wicked for judgment (2 Pet 2:6-9). As with Enoch (5:24), I believe this pictures God taking His church out before the judgments of the Tribulation fall (1 Thess 1:10; Rev 3:10).
19:24 sulfur and fire from the LORD out of the heavens Sulfur, called brimstone in older translations, burns with fierce heat. Genesis does not explain the means. Some suggest God used natural forces of the region, its tar pits (14:10) and gases. Whatever the means, it was His judgment. Many place Sodom near the southern end of the Dead Sea, while some suggest sites to the north.
19:25 He overthrew these cities, and all the district The valley Lot chose because it looked like the garden of the LORD (13:10) was gone in a morning. Jesus pointed to this day as a picture of His return, when people will be eating, buying and building as judgment falls (Luke 17:28-30). Sodom stands as a warning that God's judgment is real (Jude 7).
19:26 she became a pillar of salt She was out of the city, but her heart was still in it. She disobeyed a clear command out of longing for what she left. Jesus said, remember Lot's wife (Luke 17:32). It is possible to be close to rescue and still be lost because our hearts cling to what God is judging.
19:28 the smoke of the land went up like the smoke of the furnace Abraham went back to the place where he had prayed. There were not ten.
19:29 God remembered Abraham, and He sent Lot out Abraham's prayer was answered, not as he asked, but in the way that mattered most to him. Lot never knew his uncle had stood before the LORD for him. Your prayers for others matter.
19:30 he dwelt in the cave, he and his two daughters Lot ended up in the mountains after all. He came into the land rich (13:5), chose the best, sat in the city gate. Now he lived in a cave, his wife a pillar of salt, his sons-in-law dead. Choices that look wise by sight can end in ruin.
19:32 let us make our father drink wine, and let us lie with him This was incest, a sexual relationship between close relatives, later plainly forbidden (Lev 18:6-7). Scripture does not excuse it. Yet these young women had just lived through terrible things: a father who offered them to a mob, a dead mother, dead fiances. Fear and despair drove a terrible plan. Lot is not excused either. His drunkenness left him open to shame, as with Noah (9:21). If your own family has been a place of abuse, the shame belongs to the one who did the wrong. Talk with a pastor, counselor or the proper authorities (see 34:2).
19:37 Moab The Moabites and Ammonites (19:38) lived east of the Jordan and were often Israel's enemies. Yet generations later a Moabite woman, Ruth, trusted the God of Israel and became David's great-grandmother (Ruth 4:13-17), named in Jesus' family line (Matt 1:5). No family history is too broken for God's grace to reach.

Abraham and Abimelech

1 And Abraham (Avraham) set out from there toward the land of the Negeb (Negev), and he dwelt between Kadesh (Qadesh) and Shur, and he sojourned in Gerar. 2 And Abraham said concerning Sarah (Sara) his wife, "She is my sister." And Abimelech (Avimelekh) king of Gerar sent and took Sarah. 3 And God came to Abimelech in a dream of the night and said to him, "Look, you are about to die because of the woman whom you have taken, and she is married to a husband." 4 And Abimelech had not come near her. And he said, "Lord, will You kill even a righteous nation? 5 Did he not himself say to me, 'She is my sister'? And she, she also said, 'He is my brother.' In the integrity of my heart and in the innocence of my hands I have done this." 6 And God said to him in a dream, "I also know that in the integrity of your heart you have done this, and I also withheld you from sinning against Me; therefore I did not let you touch her. 7 And now return the wife of the man, for he is a prophet, and he will pray for you, and live. And if you do not return her, know that you will surely die, you and all who are yours."

Abimelech Restores Sarah

8 And Abimelech rose early in the morning and called all his servants, and he spoke all these words in their ears; and the men were exceedingly afraid. 9 And Abimelech called Abraham and said to him, "What have you done to us? And how have I sinned against you, that you have brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? Deeds which ought not to be done you have done to me." 10 And Abimelech said to Abraham, "What did you see, that you have done this thing?" 11 And Abraham said, "Because I said, 'Surely there is no fear of God in this place, and they will kill me on account of my wife.' 12 And also she truly is my sister, the daughter of my father, only not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife. 13 And it happened, when God caused me to wander from the house of my father, and I said to her, 'This is your steadfast love which you will do for me: to every place where we come, say of me, "He is my brother."'" 14 And Abimelech took sheep and cattle and male servants and female servants, and he gave them to Abraham, and he returned Sarah his wife to him. 15 And Abimelech said, "Look, my land is before you; dwell where it is good in your eyes." 16 And to Sarah he said, "Look, I have given a thousand pieces of silver to your brother; look, it is for you a covering of the eyes to all who are with you, and with everyone; and you are vindicated." 17 And Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech and his wife and his maidservants, and they bore children. 18 For the LORD had surely shut up every womb of the house of Abimelech on account of Sarah the wife of Abraham.

20:1 he sojourned in Gerar To sojourn is to live somewhere as a temporary resident, a foreigner without full rights. Gerar lay in the southwest, between Gaza and Beersheba. Perhaps Abraham moved for pasture, or to be away from the sight of Sodom's smoke (19:28).
20:2 She is my sister The same lie as in Egypt (12:13), after years of walking with God and a promise of a son within a year (18:10). Old sins can return even after great spiritual experiences. We need God's grace every day.
20:2 Abimelech king of Gerar sent and took Sarah Abimelech may have been a title for Gerar's kings, like Pharaoh. Sarah was about ninety. We are not told why the king wanted her, her beauty or an alliance with a wealthy chief. The mother of the promised son was in a pagan king's house.
20:3 God came to Abimelech in a dream of the night God rules kings and nations whether they know Him or not. Taking another man's wife deserved death even in ignorance, for God's standard for marriage is for all people. God was also guarding His promise. Isaac was about to be conceived, and there could be no doubt who his father was.
20:5 In the integrity of my heart and in the innocence of my hands I have done this Abimelech had a good argument. He was deceived by the people who should have been most honest. Sarah went along. When a husband leads his family wrong, they often follow.
20:6 I also withheld you from sinning against Me A hidden mercy, perhaps through illness in his household (20:17). We do not know how often God has kept us from sin in ways we never noticed.
20:7 he is a prophet, and he will pray for you The first time the word prophet appears, someone God speaks to and through, and it is used of Abraham in the middle of a failure. His calling rested on grace, not performance. Yet the man who prays for others caused the trouble.
20:8 the men were exceedingly afraid Lot's sons-in-law laughed at God's warning (19:14). A pagan court took it seriously.
20:9 Deeds which ought not to be done you have done to me The man of God is rebuked by a man who did not know God, and the rebuke is right. When believers act dishonestly, the world sees, and it shames the LORD's name.
20:11 Surely there is no fear of God in this place Abraham assumed the worst, and he was wrong. We can be quick to think we are the only ones who take God seriously.
20:12 she truly is my sister Technically true, but a half-truth told to mislead is still a lie.
20:13 to every place where we come, say of me, He is my brother The plan had been in place since they left home. Fear had a long-standing hiding place in his heart. There is no clear word of repentance, and Isaac will tell the same lie in the same town (26:6-11). Unconfessed patterns tend to be passed down.
20:16 it is for you a covering of the eyes The silver was a public statement that Sarah had done nothing wrong with the king. "Brother" may carry a gentle sting. God protected Sarah's name as well as her body.
20:17 Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech Abraham prayed for another household's wombs to open while his own wife was still barren, and God answered. The next chapter opens with God doing the same for Sarah.
20:18 the LORD had surely shut up every womb of the house of Abimelech A specific act to protect Sarah and the promise. It does not mean a childless couple today is under judgment (see 11:30). This chapter shows God's faithfulness more than Abraham's. He keeps His promises because of who He is, not who we are.

Isaac Is Born

1 And the LORD visited Sarah (Sara) just as He had said, and the LORD did to Sarah just as He had spoken. 2 And Sarah conceived and bore a son to Abraham (Avraham) in his old age, at the appointed time which God had spoken of with him. 3 And Abraham called the name of his son who was born to him, whom Sarah bore to him, Isaac (Yitschaq). 4 And Abraham circumcised Isaac his son, a son of eight days, just as God had commanded him. 5 And Abraham was a son of a hundred years when Isaac his son was born to him. 6 And Sarah said, "God has made laughter for me; everyone who hears will laugh for me." 7 And she said, "Who would have said to Abraham, 'Sarah has nursed children'? For I have borne a son in his old age."

Hagar and Ishmael Sent Away

8 And the child grew and was weaned, and Abraham made a great feast on the day Isaac was weaned. 9 And Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian, whom she had borne to Abraham, mocking. 10 And she said to Abraham, "Drive out this maidservant and her son, for the son of this maidservant shall not inherit with my son, with Isaac." 11 And the matter was very bad in the eyes of Abraham on account of his son. 12 And God said to Abraham, "Let it not be bad in your eyes concerning the lad and concerning your maidservant. All that Sarah says to you, listen to her voice, for in Isaac seed will be called for you. 13 And also the son of the maidservant I will make into a nation, for he is your seed." 14 And Abraham rose early in the morning and took bread and a skin of water and gave them to Hagar, putting them on her shoulder, and the child, and he sent her away. And she went and wandered in the wilderness of Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva). 15 And the water in the skin was used up, and she threw the child under one of the bushes. 16 And she went and sat down by herself opposite him, at a distance about a bowshot, for she said, "Let me not look on the death of the child." And she sat opposite him, and she lifted up her voice and wept. 17 And God heard the voice of the lad, and the angel of God called to Hagar from the heavens and said to her, "What is it to you, Hagar? Do not be afraid, for God has heard the voice of the lad where he is there. 18 Arise, lift up the lad and make your hand firm on him, for I will make him into a great nation." 19 And God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went and filled the skin with water and gave the lad a drink. 20 And God was with the lad, and he grew; and he dwelt in the wilderness, and he became a shooter, a bowman. 21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Paran, and his mother took a wife for him from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim).

The Covenant at Beersheba

22 And it happened at that time, and Abimelech (Avimelekh) and Phicol (Pikhol) the commander of his army said to Abraham, saying, "God is with you in all that you are doing.

21:1 the LORD visited Sarah just as He had said Said twice so we will not miss it. This birth came from God's word, not human effort. The Hagar plan brought only trouble. Now God does what only He can do.
21:2 at the appointed time which God had spoken of with him Promised a year before (18:14), after twenty-five years of waiting. God's timing often feels slow, but He is never late. As at 11:30, this was God's unique plan for the promised line, not a promise to every couple who prays.
21:4 Abraham circumcised Isaac his son, a son of eight days Abraham gave the name God chose (17:19) and the covenant sign (17:10-12). The son of the promise received the sign of the promise.
21:5 a son of a hundred years Abraham's body was as good as dead, and so was Sarah's womb (Rom 4:19). Saving faith trusts the God who gives life to the dead.
21:6 God has made laughter for me A year before she laughed in unbelief (18:12). Now she laughs for joy. Every time she called Isaac, whose name means he laughs, she would remember both laughs. When God does something wonderful, it is meant to be told.
21:8 Abraham made a great feast on the day Isaac was weaned Children were usually nursed two or three years, and weaning celebrated a child surviving the dangerous early years.
21:9 mocking Ishmael was now about sixteen or seventeen (16:16). We are not told what he did. The word is related to Isaac's name, so he seems to have mocked the child and the promise. Paul calls it the son of the flesh persecuting the son of the Spirit (Gal 4:29).
21:10 Drive out this maidservant and her son Sarah would not use their names. Her concern was the inheritance, the father's property and blessing.
21:11 the matter was very bad in the eyes of Abraham on account of his son Abraham loved Ishmael. This grief grew from the plan of chapter 16. A second wife went against God's pattern (2:24), and everyone paid for it.
21:12 in Isaac seed will be called for you God told Abraham to listen, not because Sarah's anger was right, but because the line of promise ran through Isaac. Paul quotes this to show that being a child of promise is God's choice, not physical descent (Rom 9:7).
21:13 also the son of the maidservant I will make into a nation God's choice of Isaac did not mean He had no love for Ishmael.
21:14 took bread and a skin of water and gave them to Hagar Abraham obeyed at once, but it was very little for a mother and son facing the desert. Hagar paid the cost. The wilderness of Beersheba is the dry far south of Canaan.
21:16 Let me not look on the death of the child A woman used, then pushed out, expecting to lose her son. If you have been cast aside by people who should have cared for you, Hagar's story is for you.
21:17 God heard the voice of the lad Ishmael means God hears (16:11). God named the boy for this very moment. "Do not be afraid." As in chapter 16, God met her in the wilderness (see 16:7).
21:19 God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water The well may have been there all along, and she could not see it through her tears. God's help is often closer than we think, and we need Him to open our eyes.
21:20 God was with the lad Ishmael was not the son of promise, but he was not forgotten. He lived by his bow, a free man of the wilderness (16:12). Paran is the desert south of Canaan in the Sinai Peninsula. His twelve sons became princes (25:12-18), as God promised (17:20).
21:22 God is with you in all that you are doing Abraham had failed badly before this man (20:2), yet Abimelech saw God's hand on him. Neighbors notice when God is blessing us. Bringing the army commander showed they meant business.

23 And now swear to me by God here that you will not deal falsely with me, and with my offspring, and with my posterity; according to the steadfast love that I have done with you, you will do with me and with the land in which you have sojourned." 24 And Abraham said, "I, I will swear." 25 And Abraham reproved Abimelech on account of the well of water which the servants of Abimelech had seized. 26 And Abimelech said, "I do not know who has done this thing; and also you did not tell me, and also I, I have not heard of it except today." 27 And Abraham took sheep and cattle and gave them to Abimelech, and the two of them cut a covenant. 28 And Abraham set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves. 29 And Abimelech said to Abraham, "What are they, these seven ewe lambs which you have set by themselves?" 30 And he said, "For seven ewe lambs you will take from my hand, so that it may be for me a witness that I dug this well." 31 Therefore he called that place Beersheba, for there the two of them swore. 32 And they cut a covenant at Beersheba; and Abimelech arose, and Phicol the commander of his army, and they returned to the land of the Philistines. 33 And he planted a tamarisk in Beersheba, and he called there on the name of the LORD, the God of eternity. 34 And Abraham sojourned in the land of the Philistines many days.

God Tests Abraham

1 And it happened after these things, and God tested Abraham (Avraham), and He said to him, "Abraham!" And he said, "Here I am." 2 And He said, "Take, please, your son, your only son, whom you love, Isaac (Yitschaq), and go for yourself to the land of Moriah (Moriya), and offer him up there as a burnt offering on one of the mountains which I will tell you." 3 And Abraham rose early in the morning and saddled his donkey, and he took two of his young men with him, and Isaac his son; and he split the wood of the burnt offering, and he arose and went to the place which God had told him. 4 On the third day Abraham lifted up his eyes and saw the place from a distance. 5 And Abraham said to his young men, "Stay here by yourselves with the donkey, and I and the lad will go over there, and we will worship, and we will return to you." 6 And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering and put it on Isaac his son, and he took in his hand the fire and the knife; and the two of them went together. 7 And Isaac said to Abraham his father, and he said, "My father!" And he said, "Here I am, my son." And he said, "Look, the fire and the wood, and where is the lamb for a burnt offering?" 8 And Abraham said, "God will see to the lamb for Himself for a burnt offering, my son." And the two of them went together.

21:23 swear to me by God here that you will not deal falsely with me After chapter 20, the request stung, but it was fair.
21:25 the well of water which the servants of Abimelech had seized In dry country a well was life for a herdsman and his flocks.
21:30 so that it may be for me a witness that I dug this well By accepting the seven ewe lambs, Abimelech publicly agreed the well was Abraham's.
21:31 Beersheba Beer means well, and sheba sounds like seven and oath: the well of the seven and of the oath. It later marked Israel's southern edge, "from Dan to Beersheba" (Judg 20:1).
21:32 the land of the Philistines We are not told how these early Philistines relate to the later nation. Many think the name is used for the people of that coastal area.
21:33 the LORD, the God of eternity The Hebrew is El Olam. The tamarisk, a hardy long-lived shade tree, showed Abraham meant to stay. He had a treaty with a king, but his real security was the God who never changes.
21:34 Abraham sojourned in the land of the Philistines many days He owned a well but not the land. He lived in tents, looking for a city whose builder is God (Heb 11:9-10). We too are only passing through.
22:1 God tested Abraham After a long road of faith comes the hardest test. Satan tempts to draw us into sin (James 1:13-14). God tests to prove and strengthen faith, as fire proves gold (1 Pet 1:6-7). God knew Abraham's heart. The test was for Abraham's good and ours.
22:1 Here I am Abraham was available before he heard the assignment.
22:2 your son, your only son, whom you love, Isaac Each phrase tightens the grip. Ishmael was gone, and Isaac was the son of promise (21:12). This is the first time the word love appears, the love of a father for his only son. It is hard not to think of John 3:16. Abraham was asked to do what the Father would one day really do.
22:2 offer him up there as a burnt offering Some ancient peoples sacrificed children (2 Kgs 3:27), and God later forbade it in the strongest terms (Lev 18:21; Deut 12:31). God never meant for Isaac to die, though Abraham did not know that yet. This was a one-time test in God's plan. God will never ask anyone to harm a child, and any voice that says so is not from Him.
22:2 the land of Moriah Solomon built the temple on Mount Moriah in Jerusalem (2 Chr 3:1). Many believe the temple stood on this very ridge, not far from where Jesus was crucified.
22:3 Abraham rose early in the morning No argument, no bargaining, no delay, as at 21:14. Delayed obedience is a kind of disobedience. Then three days to think, and every step a choice to keep obeying.
22:4 On the third day In Abraham's mind Isaac had been as good as dead three days, and he received him back as a figure of resurrection (Heb 11:19).
22:5 we will worship, and we will return to you We, not I. Abraham reasoned that God could raise the dead (Heb 11:17-19). God had promised Isaac descendants, so if Isaac died, God would raise him. Worship at its heart is giving God what He asks because He is worthy, even when it costs everything.
22:6 put it on Isaac his son Isaac was strong enough to carry wood up a mountain and could have resisted his old father, but there is no hint he did. Many see a picture of Jesus carrying His own cross (John 19:17). "The two of them went together," said twice (22:6, 8).
22:7 where is the lamb for a burnt offering The question must have pierced his father's heart.
22:8 God will see to the lamb for Himself God did, that day with the ram, and later far more. John the Baptist answered Isaac's question when he saw Jesus: "Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!" (John 1:29).
22:9 he bound Isaac his son and put him on the altar Moses slows down so we feel each movement. A young man could have run from a father over one hundred, yet he let himself be bound. He trusted his father, and his father trusted God.

Abraham built the altar there and arranged the wood, and he bound Isaac his son and put him on the altar, on top of the wood. 10 And Abraham stretched out his hand and took the knife to slaughter his son. 11 And the angel of the LORD called to him from the heavens and said, "Abraham, Abraham!" And he said, "Here I am." 12 And he said, "Do not stretch out your hand against the lad, and do not do anything to him; for now I know that you fear God, and you have not withheld your son, your only son, from Me." 13 And Abraham lifted up his eyes and looked, and look, a ram behind him caught in the thicket by its horns. And Abraham went and took the ram and offered it up as a burnt offering in place of his son. 14 And Abraham called the name of that place "The LORD Will See," as it is said this day, "On the mountain of the LORD it will be seen." 15 And the angel of the LORD called to Abraham a second time from the heavens, 16 and said, "By Myself I have sworn, declares the LORD, that because you have done this thing and have not withheld your son, your only son, 17 that I will surely bless you, and I will surely multiply your seed as the stars of the heavens and as the sand which is on the shore of the sea; and your seed will possess the gate of his enemies. 18 And all the nations of the earth will bless themselves by your seed, because you have listened to My voice." 19 And Abraham returned to his young men, and they arose and went together to Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva); and Abraham dwelt in Beersheba.

The Family of Nahor

20 And it happened after these things, and it was told to Abraham, saying, "Look, Milcah (Milka), she also has borne sons to Nahor (Nachor) your brother: 21 Uz (Uts) his firstborn, and Buz his brother, and Kemuel (Qemu'el) the father of Aram, 22 and Chesed (Kesed), and Hazo (Chazo), and Pildash, and Jidlaph (Yidlaf), and Bethuel (Betu'el)." 23 And Bethuel fathered Rebekah (Rivqa). These eight Milcah bore to Nahor, the brother of Abraham. 24 And his concubine, and her name was Reumah (Reuma), and she also bore Tebah (Tevach), and Gaham (Gacham), and Tahash (Tachash), and Maacah (Ma'akha).

GENESIS 23

Give me a possession of a grave with you, and let me bury my dead from before me." 5 And the sons of Heth answered Abraham, saying to him, 6 "Hear us, my lord: you are a prince of God in our midst. In the choicest of our graves bury your dead; none of us will withhold his 22:10 took the knife to slaughter his son In his heart the sacrifice was made. Abraham was declared righteous by faith years before (15:6). On Moriah his works proved his faith was real (James 2:21-22).

22:12 now I know that you fear God To fear God is to hold Him in such awe and trust that you obey Him above everything. The test brought into the open what was true in Abraham's heart. The angel speaks as the One to whom the offering was made (see 16:7). If He was the Son of God, the One who stopped Abraham's hand would one day not be spared Himself.
22:13 offered it up as a burnt offering in place of his son The ram died so Isaac could live. Substitution, one dying in another's place, runs through the Bible: the skins in the garden (3:21), the Passover lamb (Exod 12), and the cross, the just for the unjust (1 Pet 3:18).
22:14 The LORD Will See In Hebrew, Yahweh Yireh, sometimes written Jehovah-jireh. Many translations say will provide, and both are true: God sees our need ahead of time and sees to it. On Moriah God gave a ram. On another hill near Jerusalem He gave the Lamb. God stopped Abraham's hand. No one stopped the Father from giving His Son (Rom 8:32).
22:16 By Myself I have sworn God could swear by no one greater, so He swore by Himself (Heb 6:13). The oath makes the promise doubly sure.
22:17 your seed will possess the gate of his enemies The city gate was the place of defense and rule. They would overcome their enemies.
22:18 all the nations of the earth will bless themselves by your seed The wording differs a little from 12:3, but either way the nations' blessing comes through Abraham's Seed, and Paul says the seed points to one Person, Christ (Gal 3:8, 16). Every Gentile who comes to Jesus is part of its fulfillment.
22:18 because you have listened to My voice The covenant was already sworn unconditionally (15:17-18). Abraham's obedience did not earn it. It showed he truly believed, and God confirmed what He had given. Some teachers see a conditional element here. I believe these promises still stand, the land included.
22:19 Abraham dwelt in Beersheba Life went on. Mountaintop tests are few. The daily walk with God is where we live. Isaac surely came home with his father, and we should not build anything on the silence.
22:20 Milcah, she also has borne sons to Nahor your brother This short list sets up what comes next. Reumah was a concubine (see 16:2).
22:23 Bethuel fathered Rebekah The key name. The girl who will be Isaac's wife has already been born. God prepares the next step before we know to ask.
23:1 the life of Sarah was a hundred years and twenty years and seven years Sarah is the only woman in the Bible whose age at death is recorded. Isaac was about thirty-seven. She was not perfect, yet the New Testament honors her faith (Heb 11:11; 1 Pet 3:6).
23:2 Kiriath-arba, that is Hebron Moses gives the old name and then the one his readers knew. Hebron lay south of Jerusalem near Mamre (13:18).
23:2 to mourn for Sarah and to weep for her The first time Scripture tells of a man weeping. Faith does not mean we do not grieve. Jesus wept at Lazarus' tomb (John 11:35). Believers grieve, but not as those without hope (1 Thess 4:13).
23:3 the sons of Heth The Hittites living around Hebron. Scholars are not certain how they relate to the larger Hittite empire to the north in what is now Turkey.
23:4 I am a sojourner and a resident with you Over sixty years in Canaan, all of it promised to him, and he owned none of it, not even a foot's length (Acts 7:5).
23:6 you are a prince of God in our midst They had watched Abraham for years and saw God's blessing on him.

grave from you, from burying your dead." 7 And Abraham rose and bowed down to the people of the land, to the sons of Heth. 8 And he spoke with them, saying, "If it is your desire to bury my dead from before me, hear me, and intercede for me with Ephron (Efron) the son of Zohar (Tsochar), 9 that he may give me the cave of Machpelah (Makhpela) which is his, which is at the end of his field; for full silver let him give it to me in your midst as a possession of a grave." 10 And Ephron was sitting among the sons of Heth; and Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the ears of the sons of Heth, of all who entered the gate of his city, saying, 11 "No, my lord, hear me: the field I give to you, and the cave that is in it, to you I give it; before the eyes of the sons of my people I give it to you. Bury your dead." 12 And Abraham bowed down before the people of the land. 13 And he spoke to Ephron in the ears of the people of the land, saying, "Only if you, if only you would hear me! I give the silver of the field; take it from me, and let me bury my dead there." 14 And Ephron answered Abraham, saying to him, 15 "My lord, hear me: a land of approximately 10 pounds (four hundred shekels) of silver, between me and you, what is it? And bury your dead." 16 And Abraham listened to Ephron; and Abraham weighed out for Ephron the silver which he had spoken of in the ears of the sons of Heth, approximately 10 pounds (four hundred shekels) of silver, passing with the merchant. 17 And the field of Ephron which was in Machpelah, which was before Mamre, the field and the cave which was in it, and every tree that was in the field, that was in all its border all around, was confirmed 18 to Abraham as a purchase before the eyes of the sons of Heth, among all who entered the gate of his city. 19 And after this Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah facing Mamre, that is Hebron, in the land of Canaan. 20 And the field and the cave which was in it were confirmed to Abraham as a possession of a grave from the sons of Heth.

A Wife for Isaac

1 And Abraham (Avraham) was old, advanced in days; and the LORD had blessed Abraham in everything. 2 And Abraham said to his servant, the elder of his house, who ruled over all that he had, "Please put your hand under my thigh, 3 that I may make you swear by the LORD, the God of the heavens and the God of the earth, that you will not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, among whom I am dwelling; 4 but you will go to my land and to my kindred, and you will take a wife for my son, for Isaac (Yitschaq)." 5 And the servant said to him, "Perhaps the woman will not be willing to go after me to this land. Shall I indeed take your son back to the land from which you came out?" 6 And Abraham said to him, "Guard yourself, lest you take my son back there. 7 The LORD, the God of the heavens, who took me from the house of my father and from the land of my kindred, and who spoke to me and who swore to me, saying, 'To your seed I will give this land,' He will send His angel before you, and you will take a wife for my son from 23:7 Abraham rose and bowed down to the people of the land Wealthy and respected, yet polite and humble. Believers should be people of courtesy, in business too, and with those who do not share our faith.

23:9 for full silver let him give it to me Abraham wanted a place of his own, not a borrowed grave. A gift could be taken back or claimed by heirs. A purchase before witnesses made it his beyond question.
23:10 in the ears of the sons of Heth, of all who entered the gate of his city The gate was where business and legal matters were settled (19:1). Everyone present was a witness.
23:11 the field I give to you Many commentators note that a generous-sounding offer could be a polite way to open bargaining. It may have been sincere, or the first move in setting the price. Abraham answered courteously and firmly.
23:15 approximately 10 pounds of silver The Hebrew says four hundred shekels. A shekel was a weight of about two-fifths of an ounce. Most commentators think Ephron asked a lot. Jeremiah later paid seventeen shekels for a field (Jer 32:9), though times differed.
23:16 passing with the merchant Silver in the weight traders accepted, so no one could say he was cheated. Abraham did not haggle. He wanted clear title. A believer's dealings should be honest and above reproach.
23:17 every tree that was in the field, that was in all its border all around Spelled out like a legal deed. In a land promised to him, Abraham now owned one field and one cave.
23:19 Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah Abraham, Isaac, Rebekah, Jacob and Leah would lie here too (25:9; 49:29-31; 50:13). Many believe a building in Hebron still stands over the cave. Burying Sarah in Canaan was a statement of faith: this land is home because God promised it. The patriarchs died in faith, seeing the promises from afar (Heb 11:13). That small field was a down payment, and I believe the land promise still stands (15:18). God has prepared a city for those who trust Him (Heb 11:16).
24:1 the LORD had blessed Abraham in everything Abraham was about 140, and Isaac about forty (25:20). After all the waiting, testing and grief, God had been faithful at every turn.
24:2 his servant, the elder of his house Parents arranged marriages in that culture. Many think this was Eliezer (15:2), but the text does not name him.
24:2 Please put your hand under my thigh A solemn way of swearing an oath. It seems connected with a man's descendants, fitting an oath about the family's future. Jacob asked Joseph to swear the same way (47:29).
24:3 you will not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites They worshiped false gods, and their ways were deeply corrupt (15:16). Abraham wanted a wife who would share the family's faith. Christians are not to be bound together with unbelievers (2 Cor 6:14). Faith in God belongs at the center of marriage.
24:6 Guard yourself, lest you take my son back there God called Abraham out of that land and promised him this one. To go back would be to turn from God's call.
24:7 He will send His angel before you Abraham did not know who the bride would be, but he knew the God who would lead the way.

there. 8 And if the woman is not willing to go after you, then you will be free from this oath of mine; only you shall not take my son back there." 9 And the servant put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and he swore to him concerning this matter.

The Servant Meets Rebekah

10 And the servant took ten camels from the camels of his master and went, and every good thing of his master was in his hand; and he arose and went to Mesopotamia (Aram-Naharayim), to the city of Nahor (Nachor). 11 And he made the camels kneel outside the city by the well of water, at the time of evening, at the time when the women who draw water go out. 12 And he said, "O LORD, God of my master Abraham, please make it happen before me this day, and do steadfast love with my master Abraham. 13 Look, I am standing by the spring of water, and the daughters of the men of the city are coming out to draw water. 14 And it will be that the young woman to whom I say, 'Please lower your jar, that I may drink,' and she says, 'Drink, and I will also give your camels a drink,' her You have appointed for Your servant, for Isaac; and by it I will know that You have done steadfast love with my master." 15 And it happened, before he had finished speaking, and look, Rebekah (Rivqa) was coming out, who was born to Bethuel (Betu'el) the son of Milcah (Milka), the wife of Nahor, the brother of Abraham; and her jar was on her shoulder. 16 And the young woman was very good of appearance, a virgin, and no man had known her; and she went down to the spring and filled her jar and came up. 17 And the servant ran to meet her and said, "Please give me a little water to sip from your jar." 18 And she said, "Drink, my lord." And she hurried and let her jar down on her hand and gave him a drink. 19 And she finished giving him a drink, and she said, "I will also draw for your camels, until they have finished drinking." 20 And she hurried and emptied her jar into the trough, and she ran again to the well to draw, and she drew for all his camels. 21 And the man was gazing at her, keeping silent, to know whether the LORD had made his way successful or not. 22 And it happened, when the camels had finished drinking, and the man took a ring of gold, its weight approximately 1/5 ounce (a beka), and two bracelets on her hands, their weight approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels) of gold. 23 And he said, "Whose daughter are you? Please tell me. Is there room in the house of your father for us to lodge?" 24 And she said to him, "I am the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Milcah, whom she bore to Nahor." 25 And she said to him, "Both straw and fodder are plentiful with us, and also room to lodge." 26 And the man bowed low and bowed down to the LORD. 27 And he said, "Blessed be the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who has not forsaken His steadfast love and His faithfulness from my master. As for me, on the way the LORD has led me to the house of the brothers of my master."

Laban Welcomes the Servant

28 And the young woman ran and told the house of her mother according to these things. 29 And Rebekah had a brother, and his name was Laban (Lavan); and Laban ran to the man outside, to the spring. 30 And it happened, when he saw the ring and the bracelets on the hands of his sister, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, "Thus the man spoke to me," and he came to the man; and look, he was standing by the camels at the spring. 31 And he said, "Come in, blessed of the LORD! Why do you stand outside? And I, I have prepared the house, and a place for the camels." 32 And the man came into the house, and he unloaded the camels; and he gave straw and fodder to the camels, and water to wash his feet and the feet of the men who were with him. 33 And food was set before him to eat, and he said, "I will not eat until I have spoken my words." And he said, 24:8 if the woman is not willing to go after you, then you will be free Abraham did not force anything. God guides, but He does not drag anyone into His plan against their will.

24:10 he arose and went to Mesopotamia, to the city of Nahor Mesopotamia means between the rivers. The city of Nahor was Haran or a town near it, weeks away. Ten camels loaded with gifts showed Abraham's wealth.
24:12 O LORD, God of my master Abraham, please make it happen before me this day The servant had learned from his master to bring everything to God.
24:14 Drink, and I will also give your camels a drink He did not ask for magic but for a woman who showed kindness, hard work and generosity to a stranger, the very qualities a godly wife would need. He was on a special mission before Scripture was written. Today God guides mainly through His Word, prayer, wise counsel and His Spirit. But we can and should pray specifically about the details of our lives.
24:15 before he had finished speaking God answered while the prayer was still being prayed (Isa 65:24). Rebekah was from the very family Abraham named.
24:19 I will also draw for your camels, until they have finished drinking A thirsty camel can drink many gallons, and there were ten. She ran to the well again and again, doing far more than she was asked, and cheerfully.
24:21 the man was gazing at her, keeping silent It is good to pray, and also good to wait quietly and watch how God answers.
24:22 its weight approximately 1/5 ounce The Hebrew says half a shekel for the ring and ten shekels for the bracelets. A nose ring was common jewelry for women there (24:47).
24:26 the man bowed low and bowed down to the LORD Before another word to Rebekah, he gave thanks.
24:27 on the way the LORD has led me He set out not knowing where the road would end, kept walking and praying, and God led him to the right house. God usually guides people who are already moving in obedience.
24:30 when he saw the ring and the bracelets A clue to Laban. His eye was on the gold. We will see much more of him in chapters 29 to 31, and money will always be on his mind.
24:33 I will not eat until I have spoken my words His master's errand came before his own comfort. A faithful servant keeps the main thing the main thing.

"Speak." 34 And he said, "I am the servant of Abraham. 35 And the LORD has blessed my master exceedingly, and he has become great; and He has given him sheep and cattle, and silver and gold, and male servants and female servants, and camels and donkeys. 36 And Sarah (Sara) the wife of my master bore a son to my master after her old age, and he has given him all that he has. 37 And my master made me swear, saying, 'You shall not take a wife for my son from the daughters of the Canaanites, in whose land I am dwelling; 38 but you shall go to the house of my father and to my family, and you shall take a wife for my son.' 39 And I said to my master, 'Perhaps the woman will not go after me.' 40 And he said to me, 'The LORD, before whom I have walked, will send His angel with you and will make your way successful; and you will take a wife for my son from my family and from the house of my father. 41 Then you will be free from my oath, when you come to my family; and if they do not give her to you, then you will be clear of my oath.' 42 And I came this day to the spring, and I said, 'O LORD, God of my master Abraham, if You are, please, making successful my way on which I am going, 43 look, I am standing by the spring of water; and it will be that the maiden who comes out to draw, and I say to her, "Please give me a little water to drink from your jar," 44 and she says to me, "Both you drink, and I will also draw for your camels," she is the woman whom the LORD has appointed for the son of my master.' 45 I, before I had finished speaking to my heart, and look, Rebekah was coming out, and her jar was on her shoulder; and she went down to the spring and drew, and I said to her, 'Please give me a drink.' 46 And she hurried and let her jar down from upon her, and she said, 'Drink, and I will also give your camels a drink.' And I drank, and she also gave the camels a drink. 47 And I asked her and said, 'Whose daughter are you?' And she said, 'The daughter of Bethuel, the son of Nahor, whom Milcah bore to him.' And I put the ring on her nose and the bracelets on her hands. 48 And I bowed low and bowed down to the LORD, and I blessed the LORD, the God of my master Abraham, who had led me in the way of truth to take the daughter of the brother of my master for his son. 49 And now, if you are doing steadfast love and faithfulness with my master, tell me; and if not, tell me, that I may turn to the right or to the left."

Rebekah Agrees to Go

50 And Laban and Bethuel answered and said, "The matter has come out from the LORD; we are not able to speak to you bad or good. 51 Look, Rebekah is before you; take her and go, and let her be a wife for the son of your master, just as the LORD has spoken." 52 And it happened, when the servant of Abraham heard their words, and he bowed down to the ground to the LORD. 53 And the servant brought out articles of silver and articles of gold and garments, and he gave them to Rebekah; and he gave precious gifts to her brother and to her mother. 54 And they ate and drank, he and the men who were with him, and they lodged; and they arose in the morning, and he said, "Send me away to my master." 55 And her brother and her mother said, "Let the young woman stay with us some days, or ten; after that she will go." 56 And he said to them, "Do not delay me, and the LORD has made my way successful; send me away, and let me go to my master." 57 And they said, "Let us call the young woman and ask her mouth." 58 And they called Rebekah and said to her, "Will you go with this man?" And she said, "I will go." 59 And they sent away Rebekah their sister and her nurse, and the servant of Abraham and his men. 60 And they blessed Rebekah and said to her, "Our sister, you, become thousands of ten thousands; and may your seed possess the gate of those who hate him." 61 And Rebekah arose, and her young women, and they rode on the camels and went after the man; and the servant took Rebekah and went.

24:34 I am the servant of Abraham He does not give his own name. His identity was wrapped up in his master. Moses records the retelling in full because the servant saw everything through God's hand at work.
24:36 he has given him all that he has Many see here a picture of the Father sending His Spirit to call out a bride for His Son. The Spirit does not speak of Himself but points to the Son, and all the Father has belongs to the Son (John 16:13-15). The New Testament does not make this comparison directly, so hold it lightly.
24:45 before I had finished speaking to my heart He had prayed silently. No one at the spring knew what he asked, so Rebekah's offer could not have been staged.
24:49 tell me, that I may turn to the right or to the left He laid out the facts of God's leading and let them decide, without pressure.
24:50 The matter has come out from the LORD Even this family, which seems to have mixed the LORD's worship with other gods (31:19, 30), could see God was in it. When God's hand is this clear, there is nothing left to argue.
24:52 he bowed down to the ground to the LORD Every step of this journey was marked by prayer before and praise after.
24:53 he gave precious gifts to her brother and to her mother Part of the marriage custom: a bride price to the family and gifts to the bride.
24:55 Let the young woman stay with us some days, or ten A natural request. They were losing her, likely forever.
24:56 Do not delay me When God has made His will clear, it is wise to act on it.
24:58 I will go Brave and simple. She left home, family and country to marry a man she had never seen, because she believed the LORD was in it. She walked Abraham's road of faith (12:1).
24:59 her nurse Deborah, mentioned again at her death many years later (35:8).
24:60 may your seed possess the gate of those who hate him Echoing God's promise on Moriah (22:17). Without knowing it, her family prayed in line with God's covenant.

Isaac Marries Rebekah

62 And Isaac had come from going to Beer-lahai-roi (Be'er-Lachay-Ro'i), and he was dwelling in the land of the Negeb (Negev). 63 And Isaac went out to meditate in the field at the turning of evening; and he lifted up his eyes and saw, and look, camels were coming. 64 And Rebekah lifted up her eyes and saw Isaac, and she got down from upon the camel.
65 And she said to the servant, "Who is this man who is walking in the field to meet us?" And the servant said, "He is my master." And she took the veil and covered herself. 66 And the servant recounted to Isaac all the things that he had done. 67 And Isaac brought her into the tent of Sarah his mother, and he took Rebekah, and she became his wife, and he loved her; and Isaac was comforted after his mother.

GENESIS 25

The Death of Abraham

1 And Abraham (Avraham) again took a wife, and her name was Keturah (Qetura). 2 And she bore to him Zimran and Jokshan (Yoqshan) and Medan and Midian (Midyan) and Ishbak (Yishbaq) and Shuah (Shuach). 3 And Jokshan fathered Sheba (Sheva) and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were Asshurim and Letushim and Leummim (Le'umim). 4 And the sons of Midian were Ephah (Efa) and Epher (Efer) and Hanoch (Chanokh) and Abida (Avida) and Eldaah (Elda'a). All these were the sons of Keturah. 5 And Abraham gave all that he had to Isaac (Yitschaq). 6 And to the sons of the concubines whom Abraham had, Abraham gave gifts; and he sent them away from Isaac his son while he was still alive, eastward, to the land of the east. 7 And these are the days of the years of the life of Abraham which he lived: a hundred years and seventy years and five years. 8 And Abraham breathed his last and died in a good old age, old and satisfied, and he was gathered to his people. 9 And Isaac and Ishmael (Yishma'el) his sons buried him in the cave of Machpelah (Makhpela), in the field of Ephron (Efron) the son of Zohar (Tsochar) the Hittite, which is facing Mamre, 10 the field which Abraham bought from the sons of Heth (Chet). There Abraham was buried, and Sarah (Sara) his wife. 11 And it happened after the death of Abraham, and God blessed Isaac his son; and Isaac dwelt near Beer-lahai-roi (Be'er-Lachay-Ro'i).

The Line of Ishmael

12 And these are the generations of Ishmael the son of Abraham, whom Hagar the Egyptian, the female servant of Sarah, bore to Abraham. 13 And these are the names of the sons of Ishmael, by their names, according to their generations: the firstborn of Ishmael, Nebaioth (Nevayot); and Kedar (Qedar) and Adbeel and Mibsam (Mivsam), 14 and Mishma and Dumah (Duma) and Massa (Masa), 15 Hadad (Chadad) and Tema, Jetur (Yetur), Naphish (Nafish), and Kedemah (Qedma). 16 These, they are the sons of Ishmael, and these are their names, by their villages and by their encampments:
twelve princes according to their tribes. 17 And these are the years of the life of Ishmael: a hundred years and thirty years and seven years; and he breathed his last and died, and he was gathered to his people. 18 And they dwelt from Havilah (Chavila) to Shur, which is facing Egypt (Mitsrayim) as you go toward Assyria (Ashur). In the face of all his brothers he fell.

24:62 Beer-lahai-roi The well where the angel of the LORD met Hagar (16:13-14). The Negeb is the dry south.
24:63 Isaac went out to meditate in the field at the turning of evening Alone, perhaps praying, perhaps grieving his mother.
24:65 she took the veil and covered herself Modesty and respect, a bride meeting her groom.
24:67 he loved her; and Isaac was comforted after his mother An arranged marriage filled with love. God provided a ram on Moriah, and now a wife and comfort in grief. He cares about the details of our lives.
25:1 Abraham again took a wife, and her name was Keturah We are not told when. 1 Chronicles 1:32 calls her a concubine, and 25:6 speaks of concubines, so some think it was while Sarah lived. Midian fathered the Midianites, among whom Moses would later live and marry (Exod 2:15-21). Sheba and Dedan became Arabian trading peoples (25:3). The father of many nations (17:4-5) was taking shape.
25:5 Abraham gave all that he had to Isaac Isaac, the son of promise, was chief heir.
25:6 he sent them away from Isaac his son while he was still alive Abraham made his wishes clear before he died, leaving less room for fighting, and kept the line of promise in the land God gave Isaac. Parents today do well to plan with the same care.
25:7 a hundred years and seventy years and five years He came into Canaan at seventy-five (12:4), so he lived exactly a hundred years in the land as a sojourner.
25:8 old and satisfied, and he was gathered to his people A beautiful epitaph. Being gathered to his people is separate from burial (25:9) and hints that he joined those who died before him. God is the God of Abraham, the God of the living (Matt 22:32). Abraham is alive with God now.
25:9 Isaac and Ishmael his sons buried him The half brothers, once separated, stood side by side at their father's grave.
25:11 God blessed Isaac his son The blessing passed to the next generation.
25:12 these are the generations of Ishmael the son of Abraham Twelve princes, just as God promised (17:20). Nebaioth and Kedar appear later as Arabian peoples (Isa 60:7). Every promise God made about Ishmael came true.
25:18 In the face of all his brothers he fell The Hebrew can mean he lived in hostility toward his relatives, or that he settled east of them or alongside them. It recalls 16:12. Then Moses sets Ishmael aside to follow Isaac.
25:19 these are the generations of Isaac the son of Abraham A new section begins.

ham: Abraham fathered Isaac. 20 And Isaac was a son of forty years when he took Rebekah (Rivqa), the daughter of Bethuel (Betu'el) the Aramean of Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram), the sister of Laban (Lavan) the Aramean, for himself as a wife. 21 And Isaac entreated the LORD for his wife, for she was barren; and the LORD was entreated by him, and Rebekah his wife conceived. 22 And the children struggled together within her, and she said, "If it is so, why am I this way?" And she went to inquire of the LORD. 23 And the LORD said to her, "Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples from your inner parts will be separated; and one people will be stronger than the other people, and the elder will serve the younger." 24 And her days to give birth were fulfilled, and look, twins were in her womb. 25 And the first came out red, all of him like a cloak of hair; and they called his name Esau (Esav). 26 And after that his brother came out, and his hand was grasping the heel of Esau; and he called his name Jacob (Ya'aqov). And Isaac was a son of sixty years when she bore them.

Esau Sells His Birthright

27 And the lads grew, and Esau was a man knowing hunting, a man of the field; and Jacob was a blameless man, dwelling in tents. 28 And Isaac loved Esau, for game was in his mouth; and Rebekah was loving Jacob. 29 And Jacob cooked stew, and Esau came from the field, and he was exhausted. 30 And Esau said to Jacob, "Please let me gulp some of the red, this red stew, for I am exhausted." Therefore one called his name Edom. 31 And Jacob said, "Sell me your birthright as of this day." 32 And Esau said, "Look, I am going to die; and what is this to me, a birthright?" 33 And Jacob said, "Swear to me as of this day." And he swore to him, and he sold his birthright to Jacob. 34 And Jacob gave Esau bread and stew of lentils; and he ate and drank, and he arose and went. And Esau despised the birthright.

Isaac and Abimelech

1 And there was a famine in the land, besides the former famine which was in the days of Abraham (Avraham). And Isaac (Yitschaq) went to Abimelech (Avimelekh) king of the Philistines, to Gerar. 2 And the LORD appeared to him and said, "Do not go down to Egypt (Mitsrayim); dwell in the land which I will tell you. 3 Sojourn in this land, and I will be with you and will bless you; for to you and to your seed I will give all these lands, and I will establish the oath which I swore to Abraham your father. 4 And I will multiply your seed as the stars of the heavens, and I will give to your seed all these lands; and all the nations of the earth will bless themselves by your seed, 5 because Abraham listened to My voice and 25:20 Paddan-aram The plain of Aram, the region around Haran. Rebekah's family were Arameans.

25:21 Isaac entreated the LORD for his wife, for she was barren Again the family of promise depended on a miracle. Isaac did not take a second wife as his father had. He prayed. The twins came when he was sixty (25:26), so they waited and prayed about twenty years. This was God's unique plan for the line, not a promise to every couple (see 11:30).
25:22 she went to inquire of the LORD The right response to confusion. Take it to God.
25:23 Two nations are in your womb Israel from Jacob and Edom from Esau. Their struggle in the womb pictured a struggle lasting centuries.
25:23 the elder will serve the younger Custom gave the firstborn greater honor. God turned it upside down, choosing before the twins had done good or bad (Rom 9:10-13). Paul pairs it with Malachi 1:2-3, loved Jacob and hated Esau. "Love" and "hate" can describe choosing one and not the other (compare Luke 14:26). Many read Malachi mainly of nations, others of individuals too. Some read Paul as teaching God's choice of individuals for salvation, others His choice of nations and their roles. Good teachers land on both sides, and I won't settle it here. God is free to show grace as He wills, and no one can claim to have earned it.
25:25 they called his name Esau Red and hairy. The word for hairy sounds like Seir, where Esau's descendants would live.
25:26 his hand was grasping the heel of Esau; and he called his name Jacob The name is linked to the word heel and came to mean one who grabs the heel or supplants (27:36). Hosea looks back on it (Hos 12:3). Jacob grasped from the start. His life is the story of God making a grasping man into a man of faith.
25:27 Jacob was a blameless man, dwelling in tents Blameless here can mean complete, settled or whole, not sinless, as the next verses show. Esau was rugged and outdoors. Jacob stayed near home and the flocks.
25:28 Isaac loved Esau, for game was in his mouth; and Rebekah was loving Jacob Each parent had a favorite, and Isaac's love was tied to his appetite. It will tear the family apart (27), and Jacob will repeat it with Joseph (37:3). Parents, love each child fully. Children notice, and the wounds last.
25:30 Therefore one called his name Edom Edom means red. Esau was so hungry he did not even name the food.
25:31 Sell me your birthright as of this day The birthright usually meant a double share (Deut 21:17) and family leadership. In this family it was tied to God's covenant promise to bless all nations.
25:32 what is this to me, a birthright He was hungry, not dying. He traded what was eternal for what would be gone in minutes.
25:34 Esau despised the birthright Both brothers were wrong. Jacob schemed and took advantage of his brother instead of trusting God. But Moses puts the main blame on Esau, who treated it as worthless, a profane man who sold his birthright for one meal (Heb 12:16). What does it profit to gain the world and lose your soul (Mark 8:36)? Don't sell your birthright for a bowl of stew.
26:1 Isaac went to Abimelech king of the Philistines, to Gerar Gerar lay in the western Negeb. As at 21:32, we are not told how these early Philistines relate to the later nation. Many decades had passed since chapter 20, so this was probably not the same Abimelech. The name may have been a royal title, or he was a son or grandson.
26:2 Do not go down to Egypt The first time God is said to appear to Isaac. Abraham went to Egypt in a famine and got into trouble (12:10). Isaac was to stay in the land.
26:3 I will establish the oath which I swore to Abraham your father Presence, blessing, land, descendants like the stars, and blessing for the nations (26:4). The covenant passed to Isaac. God did not renegotiate it each generation. He confirmed it.
26:5 because Abraham listened to My voice Abraham's obedience did not earn the covenant. He was declared righteous by faith long before (15:6). But his obedience showed his faith was real, and God honored it. Our faithfulness can bless our children and grandchildren.

kept My charge, My commandments, My statutes, and My laws." 6 And Isaac dwelt in Gerar. 7 And the men of the place asked about his wife, and he said, "She is my sister," for he was afraid to say, "My wife," thinking, "Lest the men of the place kill me on account of Rebekah (Rivqa), for she is good of appearance." 8 And it happened, when the days had been long for him there, and Abimelech king of the Philistines looked down through the window and saw, and look, Isaac was playing with Rebekah his wife. 9 And Abimelech called Isaac and said, "Surely, look, she is your wife! And how did you say, 'She is my sister'?" And Isaac said to him, "Because I said, 'Lest I die on account of her.'" 10 And Abimelech said, "What is this you have done to us? One of the people nearly lay with your wife, and you would have brought guilt upon us." 11 And Abimelech commanded all the people, saying, "He who touches this man or his wife shall surely be put to death."

Wells and Quarrels

12 And Isaac sowed in that land and found in that year a hundredfold; and the LORD blessed him. 13 And the man became great, and he kept on going and becoming great until he had become exceedingly great. 14 And he had livestock of flocks and livestock of herds and many servants; and the Philistines envied him. 15 And all the wells which the servants of his father had dug in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistines stopped them up and filled them with dust. 16 And Abimelech said to Isaac, "Go away from us, for you have become much mightier than we." 17 And Isaac went from there and camped in the wadi of Gerar, and he dwelt there. 18 And Isaac again dug the wells of water which they had dug in the days of Abraham his father, and the Philistines had stopped them up after the death of Abraham; and he called their names according to the names which his father had called them. 19 And the servants of Isaac dug in the wadi and found there a well of living water. 20 And the herdsmen of Gerar quarreled with the herdsmen of Isaac, saying, "The water is ours." And he called the name of the well Esek (Eseq), because they contended with him. 21 And they dug another well, and they quarreled over it also; and he called its name Sitnah (Sitna). 22 And he moved on from there and dug another well, and they did not quarrel over it; and he called its name Rehoboth (Rechovot), and he said, "For now the LORD has made room for us, and we will be fruitful in the land."

The LORD Appears at Beersheba

23 And he went up from there to Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva). 24 And the LORD appeared to him in that night and said, "I am the God of Abraham your father. Do not be afraid, for I am with you, and I will bless you and will multiply your seed for the sake of Abraham My servant." 25 And he built an altar there and called on the name of the LORD, and he pitched his tent there; and the servants of Isaac dug a well there. 26 And Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath (Achuzat) his friend, and Phicol (Pikhol) the commander of his army. 27 And Isaac said to them, "Why have you come to me, and you, you hate me and have sent me away from you?" 28 And they said, "We have surely seen that the LORD has been with you; and we said, 'Let there be, please, an oath between us, between us and you, and let us cut a covenant with you, 29 that you will do no harm with us, just as we have not touched you, and just as we have done with you only good and have sent you away in peace.' You are now the blessed of the LORD." 30 And he made a feast for them, and they ate and drank. 31 And they rose early in the morning and swore, each to his brother; and Isaac sent them away, 26:7 She is my sister Abraham told a half-truth (20:12). Rebekah was not Isaac's sister at all, so this was a plain lie. Sins often pass down in families unless God breaks the pattern. Isaac had just heard "I will be with you," and he let fear crowd out the promise.

26:8 Isaac was playing with Rebekah his wife Showing affection plainly as husband and wife. Once again a pagan king had to correct a man of God (26:10).
26:11 He who touches this man or his wife shall surely be put to death God protected them anyway. His faithfulness did not depend on Isaac's.
26:12 Isaac sowed in that land and found in that year a hundredfold In a famine, a crop a hundred times what he planted. Good farming alone could not explain it. "The LORD blessed him."
26:14 the Philistines envied him Blessing often draws envy. Not everyone is glad when God is good to someone.
26:15 the Philistines stopped them up and filled them with dust In a dry land, stopping a man's well was hostility meant to drive him out.
26:18 he called their names according to the names which his father had called them Isaac honored his father's work and faith. There is something good about reopening the old wells, the truths that sustained the generations before us.
26:19 a well of living water A spring, a great prize.
26:20 he called the name of the well Esek Esek means contention, and Sitnah (26:21) means opposition.
26:22 Rehoboth Broad places, room. Isaac was a man of peace. He let others take what was his, and God gave him room in the end. Be at peace with all, as far as it depends on you (Rom 12:18). Sometimes peace means letting go and trusting God to provide.
26:24 Do not be afraid, for I am with you God came to Isaac the night after he chose peace. He had been lied about, envied and driven out. God reminded him He was with him.
26:25 he built an altar there and called on the name of the LORD Worship first, then home, then work, as his father always did.
26:27 you, you hate me and have sent me away from you Isaac was blunt.
26:28 We have surely seen that the LORD has been with you They drove Isaac away but could not stop God from blessing him. Now they wanted a covenant, a treaty of peace.
26:29 just as we have done with you only good They bent the truth. Isaac could have argued. He made them a feast instead. When a man's ways please the LORD, He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him (Prov 16:7).

and they went from him in peace. 32 And it happened on that day, and the servants of Isaac came and told him concerning the well which they had dug, and they said to him, "We have found water." 33 And he called it Shibah (Shiva); therefore the name of the city is Beersheba to this day. 34 And Esau (Esav) was a son of forty years, and he took as a wife Judith (Yehudit) the daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Basemath (Basmat) the daughter of Elon the Hittite. 35 And they were a bitterness of spirit to Isaac and to Rebekah.

Rebekah's Plan

1 And it happened, when Isaac (Yitschaq) was old and his eyes were too dim to see, and he called Esau (Esav) his elder son and said to him, "My son." And he said to him, "Here I am." 2 And he said, "Look, please, I am old; I do not know the day of my death. 3 And now, please take up your weapons, your quiver and your bow, and go out to the field and hunt game for me; 4 and make savory food for me such as I love, and bring it to me, and let me eat, so that my soul may bless you before I die." 5 And Rebekah (Rivqa) was listening when Isaac spoke to Esau his son. And Esau went to the field to hunt game, to bring it. 6 And Rebekah said to Jacob (Ya'aqov) her son, saying, "Look, I heard your father speaking to Esau your brother, saying, 7 'Bring me game and make savory food for me, and let me eat, and let me bless you before the LORD before my death.' 8 And now, my son, listen to my voice, to that which I am commanding you. 9 Please go to the flock and take for me from there two good kids of the goats, and let me make them savory food for your father, such as he loves. 10 And you will bring it to your father, and he will eat, so that he may bless you before his death." 11 And Jacob said to Rebekah his mother, "Look, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am a smooth man. 12 Perhaps my father will feel me, and I will be in his eyes like a mocker, and I will bring on myself a curse and not a blessing." 13 And his mother said to him, "On me be your curse, my son; only listen to my voice, and go, take them for me." 14 And he went and took them and brought them to his mother; and his mother made savory food, such as his father loved. 15 And Rebekah took the choice garments of Esau her elder son, which were with her in the house, and she clothed Jacob her younger son. 16 And the skins of the kids of the goats she put on his hands and on the smooth part of his neck. 17 And she put the savory food and the bread which she had made into the hand of Jacob her son.

Jacob Takes the Blessing

18 And he came to his father and said, "My father." And he said, "Here I am. Who are you, my son?" 19 And Jacob said to his father, "I am Esau your firstborn. I have done just as you spoke to me. Please arise, sit and eat of my game, so that your soul may bless me." 20 And Isaac said to his son, "What is this that you have been quick to find it, my son?" And he said, "Because the LORD your God made it happen before me." 21 And Isaac said to Jacob, "Please come near, that I may feel you, my son, whether you are really my son Esau or not." 22 And Jacob came near to Isaac his father, and he felt him and said, "The voice is the voice of Jacob, and the hands are the hands of Esau." 23 And he did not recognize him, for his hands were hairy, like the hands of Esau his brother; and he blessed him. 24 And he said, "Are you really my son Esau?" And he said, "I am." 25 And he said, "Bring it near to me, and let me eat of the game of my son, so that my soul may bless you." And he brought it near to him, and he ate; and he brought him wine, and he drank. 26 And Isaac his father said to him, "Please come near and kiss me, my son."

26:33 he called it Shibah It sounds like oath and seven. Abraham had named the place Beersheba after his own treaty (21:31). The name may have fallen out of use when the wells were stopped up. The son walked in his father's steps, and God was faithful to both.
26:34 he took as a wife Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite Abraham took great care that Isaac not marry a Canaanite (24:3). Esau did not care, and he took two wives at once.
26:35 they were a bitterness of spirit to Isaac and to Rebekah He despised his birthright, and now his family's faith. This sets the stage for chapter 27.
27:1 his eyes were too dim to see Isaac thought he might die soon, though he lived many more years (35:28).
27:4 so that my soul may bless you before I die A father's final blessing was solemn: a spoken word that passed on the family leadership and, in this family, the covenant promises. Once given it could not be taken back. Isaac very likely knew what God said before the twins were born (25:23), and he knew Esau's Hittite wives. Yet he planned to bless Esau, privately, driven by appetite and favoritism (25:28). If he knew God's word, he was working against it.
27:5 Rebekah was listening She overheard and moved fast.
27:8 listen to my voice, to that which I am commanding you Rebekah was right about God's promise and wrong about how to get there. She did not pray or speak to her husband. She schemed. Like Sarah with Hagar, she tried to help God by doing wrong. God does not need our sin to do His will. The end never justifies sinful means.
27:12 I will be in his eyes like a mocker Jacob's only worry was getting caught, not whether it was wrong.
27:13 On me be your curse, my son It sounds like great love, and maybe it was, but it was reckless. In the end she did bear the cost.
27:16 the skins of the kids of the goats she put on his hands The whole household was caught up in the lie. The family chosen to bless the world was acting like any family without faith.
27:19 I am Esau your firstborn Jacob looked his blind father in the face and lied.
27:20 Because the LORD your God made it happen before me The worst lie of all, using God's name to cover sin (Exod 20:7). He said "your God," not my God. Jacob did not yet speak of the LORD as his own.
27:22 The voice is the voice of Jacob, and the hands are the hands of Esau His ears told the truth, but he trusted his hands.
27:24 I am Lie upon lie. Each lie needs another to hold it up.

27 And he came near and kissed him; and he smelled the smell of his garments, and he blessed him and said, "See, the smell of my son is like the smell of a field which the LORD has blessed. 28 And may God give you of the dew of the heavens, and of the fatness of the earth, and abundance of grain and new wine. 29 Let peoples serve you, and let nations bow down to you. Be lord over your brothers, and let the sons of your mother bow down to you. Cursed be those who curse you, and blessed be those who bless you."

Esau's Bitter Cry

30 And it happened, as soon as Isaac had finished blessing Jacob, and it happened, Jacob had only just gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, and Esau his brother came in from his hunting. 31 And he also made savory food and brought it to his father; and he said to his father, "Let my father arise and eat of the game of his son, so that your soul may bless me." 32 And Isaac his father said to him, "Who are you?" And he said, "I am your son, your firstborn, Esau." 33 And Isaac trembled with a very great trembling, and he said, "Who then is he who hunted game and brought it to me, and I ate of all before you came, and I blessed him? Yes, he will be blessed." 34 When Esau heard the words of his father, he cried out with a great and very bitter cry, and he said to his father, "Bless me, me also, my father!" 35 And he said, "Your brother came with deceit and took your blessing." 36 And he said, "Is it because one called his name Jacob that he has supplanted me these two times? My birthright he took, and look, now he has taken my blessing." And he said, "Have you not reserved a blessing for me?" 37 And Isaac answered and said to Esau, "Look, I have made him lord over you, and all his brothers I have given to him as servants, and with grain and new wine I have sustained him. And for you then, what shall I do, my son?" 38 And Esau said to his father, "Is it one blessing you have, my father? Bless me, me also, my father!" And Esau lifted up his voice and wept. 39 And Isaac his father answered and said to him, "Look, from the fatness of the earth will be your dwelling, and from the dew of the heavens from above. 40 And by your sword you will live, and your brother you will serve; and it will be, when you break loose, that you will tear his yoke from off your neck."

Jacob Is Sent Away

41 And Esau held a grudge against Jacob because of the blessing with which his father had blessed him; and Esau said in his heart, "The days of mourning for my father are drawing near, and I will kill Jacob my brother." 42 And the words of Esau her elder son were told to Rebekah; and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and she said to him, "Look, Esau your brother is comforting himself concerning you, to kill you. 43 And now, my son, listen to my voice, and arise, flee for yourself to Laban (Lavan) my brother, to Haran (Charan). 44 And you will stay with him a few days, until the fury of your brother turns back, 45 until the anger of your brother turns back from you and he forgets what you did to him; and I will send and take you from there. Why should I be bereaved also of both of you in one day?" 46 And Rebekah said to Isaac, "I loathe my life because of the daughters of Heth (Chet). If Jacob takes a wife from the daughters of Heth, like these, from the daughters of the land, what is life to me?"

27:27 the smell of my son is like the smell of a field which the LORD has blessed Esau's clothes did their work.
27:29 Cursed be those who curse you, and blessed be those who bless you Dew, fat land, grain and wine, rule over peoples and brothers, and words that echo God's promise to Abraham (12:3). Isaac thought he blessed Esau, but God guided the blessing to Jacob as He had said. By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come (Heb 11:20). His faith was weak and his methods wrong, but the words were God's, and they came true.
27:33 Isaac trembled with a very great trembling He had been fooled, but more: God had overruled him. He tried to bless the son God had not chosen, and God steered the blessing anyway. "Yes, he will be blessed." Isaac seems to have bowed to God's will.
27:34 he cried out with a great and very bitter cry Esau was wronged, and we should feel sorrow for him.
27:36 Is it because one called his name Jacob that he has supplanted me these two times The name sounds like one who takes another's place by trickery (25:26). Yet Esau sold the birthright willingly (25:33).
27:38 Esau lifted up his voice and wept He sought the blessing with tears but found no place for repentance (Heb 12:17). He wept over losing the blessing, not over despising it. Worldly sorrow grieves lost benefits but never turns to God (2 Cor 7:10).
27:39 from the fatness of the earth will be your dwelling The Hebrew "from" can mean away from, and that is how it turned out. Edom, south and east of the Dead Sea, is rugged and dry.
27:40 by your sword you will live, and your brother you will serve Edom lived by war and came under Israel when David conquered it (2 Sam 8:14). Under Jehoram of Judah it broke loose and set up its own king (2 Kgs 8:20-22). Isaac's words reached centuries ahead.
27:41 I will kill Jacob my brother The grudge became a plan for murder, the sin of Cain (4:8). Hatred left to grow will always look for a way out.
27:44 you will stay with him a few days The few days became twenty years (31:38, 41). Scripture never records that Rebekah saw Jacob again, and her death is not described, only her nurse's and her burial place (35:8; 49:31).
27:45 Why should I be bereaved also of both of you in one day If Esau killed Jacob, she would lose both sons. Deception brought the family to the edge of ruin. What a man sows he reaps (Gal 6:7). Jacob deceived his father with a goat and his brother's clothes. His sons will deceive him with a goat and their brother's coat (37:31-33).
27:46 I loathe my life because of the daughters of Heth Her concern was real (26:35), but she used it to steer her husband without the whole truth. For all the sin here, God's plan moved forward. He did not approve the lies, and everyone paid. He works through broken families because His grace is greater (Rom 8:28).

Isaac Sends Jacob to Paddan-aram

1 And Isaac (Yitschaq) called to Jacob (Ya'aqov), and he blessed him, and he commanded him and said to him, "You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan (Kena'an). 2 Arise, go to Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram), to the house of Bethuel (Betu'el), the father of your mother, and take for yourself from there a wife from the daughters of Laban (Lavan), the brother of your mother. 3 And may God Almighty bless you, and make you fruitful, and multiply you, and you shall become an assembly of peoples. 4 And may He give to you the blessing of Abraham (Avraham), to you and to your seed with you, for you to possess the land of your sojournings, which God gave to Abraham." 5 And Isaac sent Jacob away, and he went to Paddan-aram, to Laban, the son of Bethuel the Aramean, the brother of Rebekah (Rivqa), the mother of Jacob and Esau (Esav). 6 And Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and had sent him away to Paddan-aram to take for himself a wife from there, and that when he blessed him he commanded him, saying, "You shall not take a wife from the daughters of Canaan," 7 and that Jacob had listened to his father and to his mother, and had gone to Paddan-aram. 8 And Esau saw that the daughters of Canaan were evil in the eyes of Isaac his father. 9 And Esau went to Ishmael (Yishma'el), and he took Mahalath (Machalat), the daughter of Ishmael, the son of Abraham, the sister of Nebaioth (Nevayot), in addition to his wives, for himself for a wife.

Jacob's Dream at Bethel

10 And Jacob went out from Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva) and went toward Haran (Charan). 11 And he came upon the place, and he lodged there, for the sun had set; and he took from the stones of the place, and he put it at his head, and he lay down in that place. 12 And he dreamed, and look, a stairway was set up on the earth, and its top was reaching toward the heavens; and look, the angels of God were going up and going down on it. 13 And look, the LORD was standing above it, and He said, "I am the LORD, the God of Abraham your father and the God of Isaac. The land on which you are lying, to you I will give it, and to your seed. 14 And your seed shall be like the dust of the earth, and you shall spread out toward the west and toward the east and toward the north and toward the south; and in you and in your seed all the families of the ground shall be blessed. 15 And look, I am with you, and I will keep you in all places where you go, and I will bring you back to this ground; for I will not forsake you until I have done what I have spoken to you." 16 And Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, "Surely the LORD is in this place, and I, I did not know it." 17 And he was afraid and said, "How awesome is this place! This is nothing other than the house of God, and this is the gate of the heavens." 18 And Jacob rose early in the morning, and he took the stone that he had put at his head, and he set it up as a pillar, and he poured oil on its top. 19 And he called the name of that place Bethel (Bet-El); but Luz was the name of the city at the first. 20 And

28:20 2 Sam 15:8; Gen 31:13; 1 Tim 6:8

28:1 Isaac called to Jacob, and he blessed him No disguise this time. Isaac knew whom he blessed. He had accepted what God had done (27:33). Like Abraham (24:3), he protected the family of promise from Canaan's idolatry.
28:3 may God Almighty bless you El Shaddai, the name God used with Abraham (17:1). "An assembly of peoples" looks ahead to the twelve tribes.
28:4 the blessing of Abraham Including the land. Jacob was leaving it, yet his father blessed him with the promise that it would be his.
28:5 the mother of Jacob and Esau Both sons were hers, and she was losing them both, one to anger and one to exile.
28:9 Esau went to Ishmael, and he took Mahalath He tried to please his father, but he added a third wife without sending the others away, and he married into the line set aside from the covenant (21:12). Religion that only fixes appearances never reaches the heart.
28:11 he took from the stones of the place, and he put it at his head No tent, servants or family. Abraham's servant went to Haran with ten camels (24:10). Jacob went with a walking stick (32:10). At the lowest point of his life so far, God met him. God often meets us at the end of ourselves.
28:12 a stairway was set up on the earth, and its top was reaching toward the heavens The Hebrew word appears only here and may mean a ladder, stairway or ramp. Most know it as Jacob's ladder. Babel's builders wanted their top to reach heaven (11:4). This way was God's doing. Jesus gave its meaning: the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man (John 1:51). Jesus is the ladder, the only way to the Father (John 14:6). Jacob saw it in a dream. We know His name.
28:13 I am the LORD, the God of Abraham your father and the God of Isaac God gives Jacob the same covenant: land, countless descendants, and blessing for all families (28:14).
28:14 in you and in your seed all the families of the ground shall be blessed God did not tell Jacob to clean up first. He had just lied to his father and cheated his brother. That is grace. The covenant rested on God's choice and faithfulness. The blessing points to Christ, Abraham's Seed (Gal 3:8, 16). I believe the land promise to Jacob's descendants still stands, and God has not finished with Israel.
28:15 I will not forsake you until I have done what I have spoken to you God spoke to each fear: I am with you, I will keep you, I will bring you back, I will finish. He who began a good work will complete it (Phil 1:6), and Jesus is with His people always (Matt 28:20). If you belong to Christ, this promise has your name on it.
28:16 Surely the LORD is in this place, and I, I did not know it Jacob thought of God as the God of his father's tent, not of a lonely field. Many believers can look back on a dark time and say the same.
28:17 How awesome is this place Holy fear, awe in God's presence. The stones did not make it holy. God's presence did.
28:18 he set it up as a pillar, and he poured oil on its top Oil was precious, and pouring it set something apart for God. The pillar was a memorial of what God did there, not an object of worship.
28:19 Bethel House of God, about eleven miles north of Jerusalem. God will send Jacob back here (35:1). Centuries later a king set up a golden calf at Bethel (1 Kgs 12:28-29). Places that once meant meeting God can become empty religion when hearts turn away.
28:20 If God will be with me Some see Jacob still bargaining. Others note God had just promised all this, and some think "if" carries the sense of since here, though its normal meaning is if. Either way, Jacob was a young believer with far to go, but for the first time he speaks of the LORD becoming "God to me" (28:21).

Jacob vowed a vow, saying, "If God will be with me, and will keep me on this way on which I am going, and will give me bread to eat and clothing to wear, 21 and I return in peace to the house of my father, and the LORD will be God to me, 22 and this stone, which I have set up as a pillar, will be the house of God; and all that You give me, I will surely give a tenth of it to You."

Jacob Meets Rachel

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) lifted up his feet and went to the land of the sons of the east. 2 And he saw, and look, a well in the field, and look, three flocks of sheep were lying there beside it, for from that well they watered the flocks; and the stone on the mouth of the well was large. 3 And all the flocks would be gathered there, and they would roll the stone from over the mouth of the well and water the sheep, and they would put the stone back over the mouth of the well, in its place. 4 And Jacob said to them, "My brothers, where are you from?" And they said, "We are from Haran (Charan)." 5 And he said to them, "Do you know Laban (Lavan), the son of Nahor (Nachor)?" And they said, "We know him." 6 And he said to them, "Is there peace for him?" And they said, "Peace. And look, Rachel his daughter is coming with the sheep." 7 And he said, "Look, the day is still long; it is not the time for the livestock to be gathered. Water the sheep, and go, pasture them." 8 And they said, "We are not able, until all the flocks are gathered, and they roll the stone from over the mouth of the well; and then we water the sheep." 9 He was still speaking with them, and Rachel came with the sheep that belonged to her father, for she was a shepherdess. 10 And it came about, when Jacob saw Rachel, the daughter of Laban his mother's brother, and the sheep of Laban his mother's brother, and Jacob drew near and rolled the stone from over the mouth of the well, and he watered the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. 11 And Jacob kissed Rachel, and he lifted up his voice and wept. 12 And Jacob told Rachel that he was her father's brother, and that he was the son of Rebekah (Rivqa); and she ran and told her father. 13 And it came about, when Laban heard the report of Jacob his sister's son, and he ran to meet him, and he embraced him and kissed him and brought him to his house. And he recounted to Laban all these things. 14 And Laban said to him, "Surely you are my bone and my flesh." And he stayed with him a month of days.

Jacob Marries Leah and Rachel

15 And Laban said to Jacob, "Is it because you are my brother that you should serve me for nothing? Tell me, what will your wages be?" 16 And Laban had two daughters: the name of the older was Leah (Le'a), and the name of the younger was Rachel. 17 And the eyes of Leah were weak, and Rachel was beautiful of form and beautiful of appearance. 18 And Jacob loved Rachel, and he said, "I will serve you seven years for Rachel your younger daughter." 19 And Laban said, "My giving her to you is better than my giving her to another man; stay with me." 20 And Jacob served seven years for Rachel, and they were in his eyes like a few days, because of his love for her. 21 And Jacob said to Laban, "Give me my wife, for my days are completed, and let me go in to her." 22 And Laban gathered all the men of the place, and he made a feast. 23 And it came about in the evening, and he took Leah his daughter and brought her to him, and he went in to her. 24 And Laban gave to her Zilpah (Zilpa) his female servant, to Leah his daughter as a female servant. 25 And it came about in the morning, and look, she was Leah. And he said to Laban, "What is this you have done to me? Did I not serve with you for Rachel? And why have you deceived me?"

28:22 all that You give me, I will surely give a tenth of it to You Abraham gave a tenth to Melchizedek (14:20). Jacob would give back from what God first gave. Everything we have comes from God, and giving says so.
29:1 Jacob lifted up his feet He set out again, with a new spring in his step after Bethel, toward the region east of Canaan.
29:2 the stone on the mouth of the well was large The stone protected precious water from dirt, evaporation and anyone taking more than his share. The shepherds rolled it away together when all the flocks gathered (29:3). Abraham's servant found Rebekah at a well (24:11), and Moses will meet his wife at one (Exod 2:15-21). God was guiding Jacob's steps.
29:7 Water the sheep, and go, pasture them Jacob, used to managing things, gives advice at once. He may simply have wanted the shepherds gone so he could meet Rachel alone.
29:10 Jacob drew near and rolled the stone from over the mouth of the well A stone that usually took several men, moved by one.
29:11 Jacob kissed Rachel, and he lifted up his voice and wept A kiss was a normal greeting among relatives. The tears showed what this meant to a man who had traveled hundreds of miles alone, running from a brother who wanted him dead. God had led him straight to his family.
29:13 he ran to meet him, and he embraced him and kissed him The last time Laban ran out to a visitor, his eye was on the gold (24:30). Jacob came with nothing, but Laban may have hoped there was more to come.
29:14 Surely you are my bone and my flesh You are family. Meanwhile Laban watched what a capable worker he had.
29:15 what will your wages be It sounded generous, but it turned a nephew into an employee. For twenty years the relationship would be about work and wages, and Laban would take advantage.
29:17 the eyes of Leah were weak The Hebrew can mean tender or soft, so it may mean her eyes lacked sparkle, or it may be a compliment. Either way she is set in contrast to Rachel.
29:18 I will serve you seven years for Rachel your younger daughter A man paid a bride price to the bride's family. Jacob had no money, so he offered his labor.
29:20 they were in his eyes like a few days, because of his love for her Love makes hard work light. When we love Christ, His commandments are not burdensome (1 John 5:3).
29:23 he took Leah his daughter and brought her to him The bride was veiled, and it was dark.
29:25 why have you deceived me Jacob asks the question Esau and Isaac could have asked him. He deceived his blind father in his brother's clothes, and now he is deceived in the dark by a woman in her sister's place. God is not mocked (Gal 6:7). He did not cause Laban's sin, but He used it to teach Jacob how it feels on the other side of a lie. Leah likely had little choice, and her marriage began with her always feeling second.

26 And Laban said, "It is not done so in our place, to give the younger before the firstborn. 27 Complete the week of this one, and let us give to you this one also, for the service that you will serve with me yet another seven years." 28 And Jacob did so, and he completed the week of this one; and he gave him Rachel his daughter, to him for a wife. 29 And Laban gave to Rachel his daughter Bilhah (Bilha) his female servant, to her for a female servant. 30 And he went in also to Rachel, and he also loved Rachel more than Leah; and he served with him yet another seven years.

Leah's Sons

31 And the LORD saw that Leah was hated, and He opened her womb; and Rachel was barren. 32 And Leah conceived and bore a son, and she called his name Reuben (Reuven), for she said, "Because the LORD has looked on my affliction; for now my husband will love me." 33 And she conceived again and bore a son, and she said, "Because the LORD has heard that I am hated, and He has given me this one also." And she called his name Simeon (Shimon). 34 And she conceived again and bore a son, and she said, "Now this time my husband will be joined to me, for I have borne to him three sons." Therefore he called his name Levi. 35 And she conceived again and bore a son, and she said, "This time I will praise the LORD." Therefore she called his name Judah (Yehuda). And she ceased from bearing.

Rachel's Rivalry and Jacob's Children

1 And Rachel saw that she had not borne children to Jacob (Ya'aqov), and Rachel was jealous of her sister, and she said to Jacob, "Give me children, and if not, I am dying." 2 And the anger of Jacob burned against Rachel, and he said, "Am I in the place of God, who has withheld from you the fruit of the womb?" 3 And she said, "Look, my maidservant Bilhah (Bilha); go in to her, and let her bear on my knees, and let me also be built up from her." 4 And she gave him Bilhah her female servant for a wife, and Jacob went in to her. 5 And Bilhah conceived and bore Jacob a son. 6 And Rachel said, "God has judged me, and He has also listened to my voice and has given me a son." Therefore she called his name Dan. 7 And she conceived again, and Bilhah, the female servant of Rachel, bore a second son to Jacob. 8 And Rachel said, "With wrestlings of God I have wrestled with my sister; also I have prevailed." And she called his name Naphtali (Naftali). 9 And Leah (Le'a) saw that she had ceased from bearing, and she took Zilpah (Zilpa) her female servant and gave her to Jacob for a wife. 10 And Zilpah, the female servant of Leah, bore Jacob a son. 11 And Leah said, "Good fortune has come!" And she called his name Gad. 12 And Zilpah, the female servant of Leah, bore a second son to Jacob. 13 And Leah said, "In my happiness! For daughters will call me happy." And she called his name Asher.

29:26 It is not done so in our place, to give the younger before the firstborn A sting. The younger had taken the firstborn's place back home. Laban may not have known it, but God did.
29:27 Complete the week of this one The seven days of wedding celebration. Then Rachel, for seven more years of work.
29:29 Bilhah his female servant Zilpah for Leah (29:24) and Bilhah for Rachel. Their names matter in the next chapter.
29:30 he also loved Rachel more than Leah Two wives, two sisters, and a home filled with rivalry. God's pattern was one man and one woman (2:24; Matt 19:4-6), and the Law later forbade marrying a wife's sister as her rival (Lev 18:18). Jacob's household shows why. Favoritism was now built into his marriage.
29:31 the LORD saw that Leah was hated In this setting the word means loved less (29:30). God saw her pain and opened her womb. The wife her husband loved less was the one God blessed with children.
29:32 Reuben The name sounds like see, a son, and like He has seen my misery. Leah knew God saw her, but her heart was still set on winning Jacob's love. Like Hagar (16:13), she found that God noticed her when her husband did not. If you feel unloved, the LORD sees you.
29:33 Simeon Related to the word hear. Levi (29:34) sounds like attached. Three sons, and still she hoped her husband would love her.
29:35 This time I will praise the LORD Judah is related to the word praise. For the first time she does not mention her husband. Her eyes moved from what she lacked to the God who gave so much. We can spend years trying to get from people what only God can give. From Levi came Moses, Aaron and the priests. From Judah came David and Jesus, "the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5). The line of the Messiah came through the unloved wife. God delights to lift up the lowly.
30:1 Give me children, and if not, I am dying Rachel had her husband's love, Leah had four sons, and each wanted what the other had. Jealousy is never satisfied. Childlessness was felt as deep shame in that culture, and her pain was real, but she turned it on her husband instead of taking it to God.
30:2 Am I in the place of God True, only God gives children, but he spoke without compassion. Isaac prayed for barren Rebekah (25:21). We are not told Jacob prayed for Rachel. When someone we love is hurting, pray with them and for them.
30:3 let her bear on my knees Rachel received the baby as her own, the path Sarah took with Hagar (16:2). Ancient law codes and contracts, such as the Laws of Hammurabi and tablets from Nuzi, mention a similar practice. Accepted, perhaps, but not God's way, and it brought more rivalry.
30:6 Dan Judge or vindicate.
30:8 With wrestlings of God I have wrestled with my sister Naphtali comes from the word for wrestling. Rachel saw her family as a contest she was winning.
30:9 she took Zilpah her female servant and gave her to Jacob for a wife Not to be outdone. The rivalry now pulled four women and one man into a tangled household.
30:13 Asher Happy, and Gad (30:11) means good fortune. Children named as trophies in a war between sisters. The names say more about the mothers than the babies. Yet each boy would head a tribe of Israel. God built His nation from very imperfect people.
30:14 mandrakes A strong-smelling plant whose root can look a little like a human figure. Many believed it helped a woman conceive. The Hebrew name is related to the word for love.

Leah his mother. And Rachel said to Leah, "Please give me some of the mandrakes of your son." 15 And she said to her, "Is your taking my husband a small thing, and now you would take also the mandrakes of my son?" And Rachel said, "Therefore he will lie with you tonight in exchange for the mandrakes of your son." 16 And Jacob came from the field in the evening, and Leah went out to meet him and said, "You will come in to me, for I have surely hired you with the mandrakes of my son." And he lay with her that night. 17 And God listened to Leah, and she conceived and bore to Jacob a fifth son. 18 And Leah said, "God has given me my wages, because I gave my female servant to my husband." And she called his name Issachar (Yisashkhar). 19 And Leah conceived again and bore a sixth son to Jacob. 20 And Leah said, "God has endowed me with a good endowment; this time my husband will honor me, for I have borne him six sons." And she called his name Zebulun (Zevulun). 21 And afterward she bore a daughter, and she called her name Dinah (Dina). 22 And God remembered Rachel, and God listened to her and opened her womb. 23 And she conceived and bore a son, and she said, "God has taken away my reproach." 24 And she called his name Joseph (Yosef), saying, "May the LORD add to me another son."

Jacob's Flocks Increase

25 And it came about, when Rachel had borne Joseph, and Jacob said to Laban (Lavan), "Send me away, and let me go to my place and to my land. 26 Give me my wives and my children, for whom I have served you, and let me go; for you, you know my service with which I have served you." 27 And Laban said to him, "If, please, I have found favor in your eyes—I have learned by divination that the LORD has blessed me on account of you." 28 And he said, "Name your wages to me, and let me give it." 29 And he said to him, "You, you know how I have served you, and how your livestock has been with me. 30 For the little that you had before me has increased to abundance, and the LORD has blessed you at my foot. And now, when shall I also provide for my house?" 31 And he said, "What shall I give you?" And Jacob said, "You shall not give me anything. If you will do this thing for me, I will again pasture your flock and keep it. 32 Let me pass through all your flock today, removing from there every speckled and spotted one of the flock, and every dark one of the flock among the lambs, and the spotted and speckled among the goats; and these shall be my wages. 33 And my righteousness will answer for me on a day to come, when you come concerning my wages before you: every one that is not speckled and spotted among the goats and dark among the lambs, it is stolen with me." 34 And Laban said, "Look, if only it may be according to your word." 35 And on that day he removed the male goats that were striped and spotted, and all the female goats that were speckled and spotted, every one on which there was white, and every dark one among the lambs, and he gave them into the hand of his sons. 36 And he set a journey of three days between himself and Jacob; and Jacob was pasturing the rest of the flock of Laban. 37 And Jacob took for himself branches of fresh poplar and almond and plane tree, and he peeled white streaks in them, laying bare the white that was on the branches. 38 And he set the branches that he had peeled in the troughs, in the watering channels of the water, where the flock came to drink, in front of the flock; and they mated when they came to drink. 39 And the flock mated at the branches, and the flock bore striped, speckled, and spotted ones. 40 And Jacob separated the lambs, and he set the faces of the flock toward the striped and every dark one in the flock of Laban; and he 30:15 Is your taking my husband a small thing Leah's reply shows how deep the wound went. The wives bargained over their husband, and Jacob went along. He was living with the results of marrying two sisters.

30:17 God listened to Leah She had been praying. Rachel had the mandrakes, but Leah had the baby. Children come from God, not from charms.
30:18 God has given me my wages Issachar sounds like wages. Leah thought God was rewarding her for giving Zilpah. Genesis does not say God saw it that way.
30:20 this time my husband will honor me Zebulun is related to gift and to honor or dwell. Even after six sons she longed for her husband's love. Some wounds run deep.
30:21 Dinah The only daughter of Jacob whose birth is recorded. We meet her again in chapter 34.
30:22 God remembered Rachel God acted for her at the right time, as He remembered Noah (8:1). Not the mandrakes, not the maid, not her schemes. God opened her womb.
30:24 Joseph, saying, May the LORD add to me another son Joseph means may He add. God answered with Benjamin, though it would cost Rachel her life (35:16-18). Out of a home of rivalry and pain, God brought the son through whom He would save the whole family.
30:25 Send me away, and let me go to my place and to my land Fourteen years of service were done. Jacob wanted to go back to the land of promise.
30:27 I have learned by divination that the LORD has blessed me on account of you To divine is to seek secret knowledge by pagan practices such as omens, later forbidden (Deut 18:10). Laban kept household gods (31:19). Yet even he could see God's blessing on Jacob, a small fulfillment of 12:3.
30:30 when shall I also provide for my house God blessed Laban "at my foot," but Jacob had nothing of his own. A man who loves his family wants to provide for them (1 Tim 5:8).
30:32 these shall be my wages Sheep there were usually white and goats dark. Jacob asked only for the unusual animals, the speckled goats and dark sheep, so any normal-colored animal in his flock could be counted stolen. It looked like a very good deal for Laban.
30:35 he removed the male goats that were striped and spotted Laban took away the very animals Jacob was to start with and put three days between them. He cheated again, and changed Jacob's wages ten times (31:7).
30:37 he peeled white streaks in them Many in the ancient world believed what an animal saw while mating affected its young. Science would say no. Jacob later explains that God showed him in a dream He was causing it, because He saw what Laban did (31:10-12). The rods were Jacob's idea, and the blessing was God's. Jacob also seems to have been a skilled breeder, choosing the strongest (30:41).

made droves for himself alone, and he did not put them with the flock of Laban. 41 And it would be, whenever the vigorous ones of the flock were in heat, and Jacob would put the branches before the eyes of the flock in the troughs, for them to mate at the branches. 42 And when the flock was feeble, he would not put them; and the feeble were Laban's, and the vigorous Jacob's. 43 And the man increased very, very much, and he had many flocks, and female servants and male servants, and camels and donkeys.

Jacob Flees from Laban

1 And he heard the words of the sons of Laban (Lavan), saying, "Jacob (Ya'aqov) has taken all that belonged to our father, and from what belonged to our father he has made all these riches." 2 And Jacob saw the face of Laban, and look, it was not toward him as before. 3 And the LORD said to Jacob, "Return to the land of your fathers and to your kindred, and I will be with you." 4 And Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah (Le'a) to the field, to his flock. 5 And he said to them, "I see the face of your father, that it is not toward me as before; and the God of my father has been with me. 6 And you, you know that with all my strength I have served your father. 7 And your father has deceived me and changed my wages ten times; and God has not allowed him to do harm to me. 8 If he said thus, 'The speckled shall be your wages,' and all the flock bore speckled; and if he said thus, 'The striped shall be your wages,' and all the flock bore striped. 9 And God has taken away the livestock of your father and given it to me. 10 And it came about at the time the flock mated, and I lifted up my eyes and saw in a dream, and look, the male goats that were going up on the flock were striped, speckled, and mottled. 11 And the angel of God said to me in the dream, 'Jacob,' and I said, 'Here I am.' 12 And He said, 'Please lift up your eyes and see: all the male goats that are going up on the flock are striped, speckled, and mottled; for I have seen all that Laban is doing to you. 13 I am the God of Bethel (Bet-El), where you anointed a pillar, where you vowed a vow to Me. Now arise, go out from this land, and return to the land of your kindred.'" 14 And Rachel and Leah answered and said to him, "Is there still a portion and an inheritance for us in the house of our father? 15 Are we not regarded by him as foreigners? For he has sold us, and he has also completely consumed our money. 16 For all the wealth that God has taken away from our father, it belongs to us and to our children. And now, all that God has said to you, do." 17 And Jacob arose, and he lifted his children and his wives onto the camels. 18 And he drove away all his livestock and all his possessions that he had gathered, the livestock of his acquiring, which he had gathered in Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram), to go to Isaac (Yitschaq) his father, to the land of Canaan (Kena'an). 19 And Laban had gone to shear his flock, and Rachel stole the teraphim that belonged to her father. 20 And Jacob deceived Laban the Aramean, in that he did not tell him that he was fleeing. 21 And he fled, he and all that belonged to him; and he arose and crossed the River, and he set his face toward the hill country of Gilead (Gilad).

Laban Pursues Jacob

22 And it was told to Laban on the third day that Jacob had fled. 23 And he took his brothers with him, and he pursued after him a journey of seven days, and he overtook him in 30:43 the man increased very, very much He came with a staff and now had flocks, servants, camels and donkeys. God kept His Bethel promise (28:15) while Jacob was still a schemer. Work hard and honestly, but "the blessing of the LORD" is what makes rich (Prov 10:22).

31:1 Jacob has taken all that belonged to our father Not true. Laban cheated Jacob for years, and God blessed Jacob anyway (30:43). Jealousy rarely tells the whole story.
31:3 Return to the land of your fathers and to your kindred, and I will be with you A cold welcome is not always a sign to leave, but this time God spoke plainly, repeating His Bethel promise of twenty years before (28:15).
31:4 called Rachel and Leah to the field Probably so Laban's household would not overhear.
31:7 changed my wages ten times Perhaps a round number for over and over: a man who kept moving the line. "God has not allowed him to do harm to me."
31:9 God has taken away the livestock of your father and given it to me In chapter 30 it may have looked like Jacob's cleverness. Now he admits it was God all along. That is growth. The young Jacob trusted his schemes. The older Jacob is learning that blessing comes from the Lord.
31:12 I have seen all that Laban is doing to you This explains chapter 30. The flocks came out in Jacob's favor because God was watching. Jacob felt alone and used, but God sees every wrong done to His people.
31:13 I am the God of Bethel The angel of God calls Himself God and recalls the pillar and the vow (28:18-22), speaking as the angel of the LORD did to Hagar (see 16:7).
31:15 For he has sold us, and he has also completely consumed our money Jacob paid the bride price with fourteen years of work (29:18, 27). Their words suggest they expected some of that value as security, but Laban kept it all. Two sisters who fought for years speak with one voice, united by their father's greed.
31:16 all that God has said to you, do Good advice in any home.
31:18 to go to Isaac his father Isaac was still alive, and Jacob had not seen him in twenty years.
31:19 Rachel stole the teraphim that belonged to her father Images of household gods, many small, though one in David's day could pass for a man in bed (1 Sam 19:13). We are not told why she took them. She may still have trusted them. Older books suggested holding them supported an inheritance claim, but many scholars now doubt it. Rachel had married into the family of the true God but kept a foot in her father's religion.
31:20 Jacob deceived Laban the Aramean In Hebrew he stole Laban's heart, the same word as Rachel's theft. Jacob obeyed God by leaving but chose a sneaky way. Old habits die hard.
31:21 he arose and crossed the River The Euphrates. Gilead is the hill country east of the Jordan.

the hill country of Gilead. 24 And God came to Laban the Aramean in a dream of the night, and He said to him, "Guard yourself, lest you speak with Jacob from good to bad." 25 And Laban overtook Jacob. And Jacob had pitched his tent in the hill country, and Laban pitched his tent with his brothers in the hill country of Gilead. 26 And Laban said to Jacob, "What have you done, that you have deceived me and have led away my daughters like captives of the sword? 27 Why did you hide yourself to flee, and deceive me, and not tell me? And I would have sent you away with gladness and with songs, with tambourine and with lyre. 28 And you did not allow me to kiss my sons and my daughters. Now you have acted foolishly in doing so. 29 It is in the power of my hand to do harm to you; and the God of your father spoke to me last night, saying, 'Guard yourself from speaking with Jacob from good to bad.' 30 And now, you have surely gone, because you have surely longed for the house of your father; why did you steal my gods?" 31 And Jacob answered and said to Laban,
"Because I was afraid, for I said, 'Lest you tear away your daughters from me.' 32 With whomever you find your gods, he shall not live. Before our brothers, examine for yourself what is with me, and take it for yourself." And Jacob did not know that Rachel had stolen them. 33 And Laban went into the tent of Jacob and into the tent of Leah and into the tent of the two maidservants, and he did not find them. And he came out from the tent of Leah and went into the tent of Rachel. 34 And Rachel had taken the teraphim and put them in the saddle of the camel, and she sat on them. And Laban felt through all the tent, and he did not find them. 35 And she said to her father, "Let it not burn with anger in the eyes of my lord that I am not able to rise before you, for the way of women is on me." And he searched, and he did not find the teraphim. 36 And Jacob burned with anger, and he contended with Laban; and Jacob answered and said to Laban, "What is my transgression? What is my sin, that you have hotly pursued after me? 37 For you have felt through all my goods; what have you found of all the goods of your house? Set it here before my brothers and your brothers, and let them decide between the two of us. 38 These twenty years I have been with you; your ewes and your female goats have not miscarried, and the rams of your flock I have not eaten. 39 The torn I did not bring to you; I, I bore the loss of it; from my hand you required it, stolen by day and stolen by night. 40 Thus I was: in the day the heat consumed me, and the frost in the night, and my sleep fled from my eyes. 41 These have been for me twenty years in your house: I served you fourteen years for your two daughters and six years for your flock, and you changed my wages ten times. 42 If the God of my father, the God of Abraham (Avraham) and the Fear of Isaac, had not been for me, surely now you would have sent me away empty. My affliction and the toil of my hands God has seen, and He decided last night."

The Covenant at Mizpah

43 And Laban answered and said to Jacob, "The daughters are my daughters, and the sons are my sons, and the flock is my flock, and all that you see, it is mine. And to my daughters, what can I do to these today, or to their sons whom they have borne? 44 And now come, let us cut a covenant, I and you, and it shall be for a witness between me and you." 45 And Jacob took a stone and raised it up as a pillar. 46 And Jacob said to his brothers, "Gather stones." And they took stones and made a heap, and they ate there by the heap. 47 And Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha (Yegar-Sahaduta), and Jacob called it Galeed (Galed). 48 And Laban said, "This heap is a witness between me and you today." Therefore he

31:24 Guard yourself, lest you speak with Jacob from good to bad A Hebrew way of saying try nothing at all. God protected Jacob though he fled less than honestly. His protection is grace, not a reward for perfect behavior.
31:27 with gladness and with songs, with tambourine and with lyre Hard to believe from a man who cheated Jacob for twenty years.
31:29 It is in the power of my hand to do harm to you Laban had the men and the will, but he knew whose hand was on Jacob.
31:30 why did you steal my gods A god that can be stolen and carried off on a camel is no god at all. Laban's gods could not even keep themselves at home.
31:32 With whomever you find your gods, he shall not live A rash promise that put the wife Jacob loved most in real danger.
31:35 the way of women is on me The Law later treats that time as ceremonially unclean, keeping a woman from worship for a while (Lev 15:19-20), a matter of ritual, not sin or worth. Laban's precious gods spent the search under her. The story mocks idols, but that does not make her lie right. Deception ran deep in this family.
31:36 What is my transgression? What is my sin Twenty years of bottled-up hurt came out.
31:39 The torn I did not bring to you; I, I bore the loss of it Shepherds were not normally held responsible for animals torn by beasts (Exod 22:13). Jacob paid anyway.
31:40 in the day the heat consumed me, and the frost in the night Honest work for a dishonest boss. He did not cut corners because Laban cheated. Work as for the Lord (Col 3:23). God sees the work no one notices.
31:42 the Fear of Isaac An unusual name for God: the God Isaac feared and worshiped with reverence. Jacob gives God the glory again.
31:43 all that you see, it is mine Laban never answers the charges. He never stopped thinking of people as property.
31:46 they ate there by the heap A shared meal sealed the agreement, as with Isaac and Abimelech (26:30).
31:47 Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha, and Jacob called it Galeed Both mean heap of witness, in Aramaic and Hebrew. It is the first Aramaic in the Bible, a reminder that the two men came from different worlds.

called its name Galeed, 49 and Mizpah (Mitspa), for he said, "May the LORD watch between me and you when we are hidden each from his neighbor. 50 If you mistreat my daughters, and if you take wives besides my daughters, though no man is with us, see, God is a witness between me and you." 51 And Laban said to Jacob, "Look, this heap, and look, the pillar that I have set up between me and you. 52 This heap is a witness, and the pillar is a witness, that I will not pass beyond this heap to you, and that you will not pass beyond this heap and this pillar to me, for harm. 53 May the God of Abraham and the God of Nahor (Nachor) judge between us, the God of their father." And Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac. 54 And Jacob sacrificed a sacrifice in the hill country, and he called his brothers to eat bread; and they ate bread and lodged in the hill country. 55 And Laban rose early in the morning, and he kissed his sons and his daughters and blessed them. And Laban went and returned to his place.

Jacob Prepares to Meet Esau

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) went on his way, and the angels of God met him. 2 And Jacob said when he saw them, "This is the camp of God." And he called the name of that place Mahanaim (Machanayim). 3 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau (Esav) his brother, to the land of Seir (Se'ir), the territory of Edom. 4 And he commanded them, saying, "Thus you shall say to my lord, to Esau: 'Thus says your servant Jacob: With Laban (Lavan) I have sojourned, and I have stayed until now. 5 And I have oxen and donkeys, flocks and male servants and female servants; and I have sent to tell my lord, to find favor in your eyes.'" 6 And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, "We came to your brother, to Esau, and he is also coming to meet you, and four hundred men are with him." 7 And Jacob was exceedingly afraid, and he was distressed; and he divided the people who were with him, and the flock and the herd and the camels, into two camps. 8 And he said, "If Esau comes to the one camp and strikes it, and the camp that remains will become an escape." 9 And Jacob said, "God of my father Abraham (Avraham) and God of my father Isaac (Yitschaq), LORD, who said to me, 'Return to your land and to your kindred, and I will do good with you,' 10 I am too small for all the acts of steadfast love and all the faithfulness that You have done with Your servant; for with my staff I crossed this Jordan (Yarden), and now I have become two camps. 11 Deliver me, please, from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau; for I fear him, lest he come and strike me, mother with children. 12 And You, You said, 'I will surely do good with you, and I will make your seed like the sand of the sea, which cannot be counted for multitude.'" 13 And he lodged there that night, and he took from what had come into his hand a gift for Esau his brother: 14 two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams, 15 thirty nursing camels and their young, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys. 16 And he gave them into the hand of his servants, each drove by itself, and he said to his servants, "Pass over before me, and put a space between drove and drove." 17 And he commanded the first, saying, "When Esau my brother meets you and asks you, saying, 'Whose are you? And where are you going? And whose are these before you?' 18 and you shall say, 'They are your servant Jacob's; it is a gift sent to my lord, to Esau; and look, he also is behind us.'" 19 And he commanded also the second, also the third, also all who were going after the droves, saying, "According to this word you shall speak to Esau when 31:49 May the LORD watch between me and you when we are hidden each from his neighbor Mizpah means watchtower. These words are sometimes engraved on jewelry as a blessing, but in context Laban meant: I don't trust you, so God had better watch you. Still, God does see what happens when no one else is watching.

31:53 the God of Abraham and the God of Nahor Laban lumps the God of Abraham with the gods of Nahor and Terah, who served other gods (Josh 24:2). Jacob would not swear that way. He swore by the one true God his father feared.
31:55 Laban went and returned to his place The last we see of Laban in the Bible. God kept His word (28:15) and turned a dangerous chase into a peace treaty.
32:1 the angels of God met him When Jacob fled he saw angels at Bethel (28:12), and as he returns angels meet him again. God bookends his years away with reminders that heaven was watching the whole time.
32:2 Mahanaim Two camps, Jacob's and God's. Jacob was not traveling alone. Elisha's servant learned the same when he saw the hills full of fiery chariots (2 Kgs 6:17). Believers are surrounded by more help than we can see.
32:4 Thus says your servant Jacob Seir is Edom, south and east of the Dead Sea. The stolen blessing said Jacob would be lord over his brother (27:29). Now he calls Esau "my lord" and takes the low place. When we have wronged someone, humility is the right first step.
32:5 I have oxen and donkeys Probably his way of saying he was not coming back to take anything.
32:6 four hundred men are with him A small army. We are not told what Esau intended. Jacob assumed the worst.
32:7 he divided the people who were with him Jacob did what he always did first: he made a plan. God had shown him two camps, His and Jacob's. Now in fear Jacob makes two camps of his own. Planning is not wrong, but his real need was God Himself.
32:10 I am too small for all the acts of steadfast love and all the faithfulness that You have done with Your servant A model prayer: he begins with who God is (32:9), recalls God's command, confesses his unworthiness, remembers he crossed the Jordan with only a staff, names his fear honestly (32:11) and stands on God's promise (32:12). Steadfast love is God's loyal covenant love.
32:12 You, You said Praying God's promises back to Him is faith, not bossing God. We pray boldly because God has spoken first.
32:14 two hundred female goats and twenty male goats A huge present, sent in waves with space between the droves (32:16).

you find him, 20 and you shall say, 'Also, look, your servant Jacob is behind us.'" For he said, "Let me appease his face with the gift that goes before me, and afterward I will see his face; perhaps he will lift up my face." 21 And the gift passed over before him, and he lodged that night in the camp.

Jacob Wrestles with God

22 And he rose up that night, and he took his two wives and his two female servants and his eleven children, and he crossed the ford of the Jabbok (Yaboq). 23 And he took them and sent them across the wadi, and he sent across what belonged to him. 24 And Jacob was left alone, and a man wrestled with him until the going up of the dawn. 25 And he saw that he had not prevailed against him, and he touched the socket of his thigh; and the socket of the thigh of Jacob was dislocated as he wrestled with him. 26 And he said, "Let me go, for the dawn has come up." And he said, "I will not let you go unless you have blessed me." 27 And he said to him, "What is your name?" And he said, "Jacob." 28 And he said, "Your name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel (Yisra'el); for you have striven with God and with men, and you have prevailed." 29 And Jacob asked and said, "Please tell me your name." And he said, "Why is this, that you ask for my name?" And he blessed him there. 30 And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel (Peni'el): "For I have seen God face to face, and my life has been delivered." 31 And the sun rose on him as he passed Penuel (Penu'el), and he was limping on his thigh. 32 Therefore the sons of Israel do not eat the sinew of the hip which is on the socket of the thigh, to this day, for he touched the socket of the thigh of Jacob in the sinew of the hip.

Jacob and Esau Meet

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) lifted up his eyes and looked, and look, Esau (Esav) was coming, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children to Leah (Le'a) and to Rachel and to the two female servants. 2 And he put the female servants and their children first, and Leah and her children behind, and Rachel and Joseph (Yosef) behind them. 3 And he, he passed over before them, and he bowed down to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother. 4 And Esau ran to meet him, and he embraced him and fell on his neck and kissed him; and they wept. 5 And he lifted up his eyes and saw the women and the children, and he said, "Who are these with you?" And he said, "The children whom God has graciously given your servant." 6 And the female servants came near, they and their children, and they bowed down. 7 And Leah also came near, and her children, and they bowed down; and afterward Joseph came near, and Rachel, and they bowed down. 8 And he said, "What to you is all this camp that I met?" And he said, "To find favor in the eyes of my lord." 9 And Esau said, "I have much, my brother; let what is 32:20 Let me appease his face with the gift that goes before me To appease is to calm anger. Faith or fear? Probably both. Wise planning and prayer can go together (Neh 4:9), and Jacob may have meant to repay some of what he took. But he still seemed to trust his gifts more than his God. That night God dealt with it.

32:22 the ford of the Jabbok A stream flowing west into the Jordan. Jacob sent everyone and everything across and stayed behind. Sometimes God gets us alone, with nothing in our hands, before He does His deepest work.

32:24 a man wrestled with him until the going up of the dawn Jacob wrestled all his life: Esau's heel, the birthright, the blessing, Laban. Now he wrestles with God. Jacob says he saw God face to face (32:30), and Hosea calls the wrestler an angel and God (Hos 12:3-4). Many believe this was the angel of the LORD in human form (see 16:7).

32:25 he touched the socket of his thigh One touch ended the contest. The match was never in doubt. God let Jacob wrestle all night so he would learn something.

32:26 I will not let you go unless you have blessed me With his hip out of joint Jacob could no longer fight, only hang on. The man who always grabbed blessing by strength now clung to God because he had none left. Hosea says he wept and sought His favor (Hos 12:4). A limp can be a gift if it teaches us to hold on to God.

32:27 What is your name? And he said, Jacob The last time he was asked, he lied and said Esau (27:18-19). This time he confessed who he was: the heel-grabber.

32:28 Your name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel Israel most likely means he strives with God, or God strives. Jacob prevailed not by overpowering God but by clinging to Him. The whole nation would bear the name, the sons of Israel. When God changes a name, He is changing a life.

32:29 Why is this, that you ask for my name The angel of the LORD answered Manoah much the same (Judg 13:18). God reveals Himself on His terms. Jacob did not get every answer, but he got the blessing he needed.

32:30 I have seen God face to face, and my life has been delivered Peniel means face of God. No sinful man can see God's full glory and live (Exod 33:20), but God came in a form Jacob could bear.

32:31 the sun rose on him When he fled, the sun set on him at Bethel (28:11). Now it rises on a new man, limping. Weaker in body, stronger in faith. God's power is made perfect in weakness (2 Cor 12:9).

32:32 the sons of Israel do not eat the sinew of the hip A custom of remembrance, not a command from God.

33:2 Rachel and Joseph behind them The safest spot. Everyone could see whom Jacob loved most. Favoritism had already caused trouble between Rachel and Leah, and it will cause worse with Joseph and his brothers (37).

33:3 he passed over before them, and he bowed down to the ground seven times The night before, he sent everyone ahead. Now, limping from his meeting with God, he goes first, bowing as a servant before a king. The man who grabbed for the top spot takes the low place.

33:4 Esau ran to meet him, and he embraced him and fell on his neck and kissed him Jacob braced for revenge and received a hug. Genesis does not say what changed Esau, but Jacob had prayed (32:11), and God did not just protect him, He gave him his brother back. The father of the prodigal ran, fell on his neck and kissed him (Luke 15:20). Forgiveness runs.

33:4 and they wept Most of what Jacob feared never happened. Many of us lose sleep the same way (Matt 6:34). Not every hard meeting ends in hugs, but the God who went ahead of Jacob goes ahead of us, and He can soften a heart we thought was closed.

33:5 The children whom God has graciously given your servant Jacob saw his family as a gift of grace, not something earned. His whole family humbled itself before the brother he had wronged (33:6-7).

33:9 I have much, my brother Jacob kept saying "my lord," and Esau said "my brother."

yours be yours." 10 And Jacob said, "No, please; if, please, I have found favor in your eyes, then accept my gift from my hand, for therefore I have seen your face, like seeing the face of God, and you have been pleased with me. 11 Please take my blessing that has been brought to you, for God has been gracious to me, and for I have everything." And he urged him, and he took it.

Jacob Settles at Shechem

12 And he said, "Let us set out, and let us go, and let me go before you." 13 And he said to him, "My lord knows that the children are weak, and the flock and the herd that are nursing are on me; and if they drive them hard one day, and all the flock will die. 14 Let my lord, please, pass over before his servant, and I, I will lead on gently, according to the pace of the possessions that are before me and according to the pace of the children, until I come to my lord, to Seir (Se'ir)." 15 And Esau said, "Please let me leave with you some of the people who are with me." And he said, "Why this? Let me find favor in the eyes of my lord." 16 And Esau returned that day on his way to Seir. 17 And Jacob set out to Succoth (Sukot), and he built a house for himself, and for his livestock he made booths. Therefore he called the name of the place Succoth. 18 And Jacob came safely to the city of Shechem (Shekhem), which is in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), when he came from Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram); and he camped before the city. 19 And he bought the portion of the field where he had pitched his tent from the hand of the sons of Hamor (Chamor), the father of Shechem, for a hundred pieces of money. 20 And he set up an altar there, and he called it "God, the God of Israel (Yisra'el)."

The Defiling of Dinah

1 And Dinah (Dina), the daughter of Leah (Le'a), whom she had borne to Jacob (Ya'aqov), went out to see the daughters of the land. 2 And Shechem (Shekhem), the son of Hamor (Chamor) the Hivite, the chief of the land, saw her, and he took her and lay with her and humbled her. 3 And his soul clung to Dinah the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the young woman, and he spoke to the heart of the young woman. 4 And Shechem said to Hamor his father, saying, "Take for me this girl for a wife." 5 And Jacob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter; and his sons were with his livestock in the field, and Jacob kept silent until they came. 6 And Hamor the father of Shechem went out to Jacob to speak with him. 7 And the sons of Jacob came from the field when they heard; and the men were grieved, and they burned with anger exceedingly, for he had done a disgraceful thing in Israel (Yisra'el) by lying with the daughter of Jacob, and thus it is not done. 8 And Hamor spoke with them, saying, "Shechem my son, his soul longs for your daughter. Please give her to him for a wife. 9 And intermarry with us: your daughters you shall give to us, and our daughters you shall take for yourselves. 10 And with us you shall dwell, and the land shall be before you; dwell and trade in it, and acquire possessions in it." 11 And Shechem said to her father and to her brothers, "Let me find favor in your eyes, and what you say to me I will 33:10 I have seen your face, like seeing the face of God The night before, Jacob saw God's face and lived (32:30). Now he sees grace in his brother's face. The God who met him at the river had gone ahead to prepare Esau.

33:11 Please take my blessing He uses the word for blessing, not the usual word for gift. Many commentators think Jacob was in some way giving back what he stole. In taking it, Esau accepted the peace that came with it.
33:14 until I come to my lord, to Seir Genesis does not say Jacob ever went. Some see old Jacob slipping into half-truth. Others think he was wise to keep distance, since God told him to return to Canaan, not Seir. The text does not judge him. The brothers stayed at peace and buried Isaac together (35:29). Reconciliation does not always mean living side by side.
33:17 Succoth Succoth means booths, shelters of branches. Building a house suggests a stay of some years, since Dinah seems a young woman by chapter 34. The brothers' families became two nations, and the peace did not always last: Edom refused Israel passage (Num 20:14-21), and Obadiah rebuked Edom for cheering at Jerusalem's fall. Still, that day God gave two brothers peace.
33:18 Jacob came safely to the city of Shechem Safely can mean in peace, recalling his Bethel vow to return in peace (28:21). God did it.
33:19 he bought the portion of the field The family's second plot in Canaan after Machpelah (23:16-20). Joseph's bones would be buried here (Josh 24:32), and Jesus would sit by Jacob's well nearby (John 4:5-6).
33:20 God, the God of Israel In Hebrew, El-Elohe-Israel. For the first time Jacob uses his new name. The God of Abraham and Isaac is now Jacob's own God. A godly heritage is good, but each of us must call Him our own. Yet Jacob had vowed to make Bethel God's house (28:22; 31:13), and many think he stopped short at Shechem. Settling beside a Canaanite city brought his family into great danger.
34:1 Dinah, the daughter of Leah Many think she was a teenager. She went out to see the young women of the city. Scripture does not blame her for going. What happened was not her fault.
34:2 he took her and lay with her and humbled her This was rape. The Bible uses plain words because it does not hide evil. If you or someone you love has suffered abuse, God sees, and He calls it what it is. The shame belongs to the one who did the wrong. "The LORD is near to the broken of heart" (Ps 34:18). Please talk with a pastor, a trusted counselor or the proper authorities. You do not have to carry it alone.
34:3 he loved the young woman, and he spoke to the heart of the young woman Some soften Shechem because of these words. We should not. Feelings after a violent act do not undo it. He "defiled" her (34:5). He spoke first to his own father, and he kept Dinah in his house the whole time (34:26). Love that honors God waits, honors and protects (1 Cor 13:4-7; Eph 5:25).
34:5 Jacob kept silent until they came He may have been wise to wait for counsel. But in the whole chapter Jacob never speaks a word of grief for his daughter or anger at the crime. His silence is troubling.
34:7 he had done a disgraceful thing in Israel Israel here stands for Jacob's family as a people. God's people were to have a different standard of purity and honor. The brothers' anger at the wrong was right. What they did with it was not.
34:9 intermarry with us Hamor never apologized. He talked business. If Jacob's family married into the Canaanites, the line of promise would disappear into the nations (24:3; 28:1). The world's invitations are often polite. That does not make them safe.

give. 12 Increase upon me exceedingly the bride-price and gift, and let me give according as you say to me; and give me the young woman for a wife."

The Deceit of Jacob's Sons

13 And the sons of Jacob answered Shechem and Hamor his father with deceit, and they spoke, because he had defiled Dinah their sister. 14 And they said to them, "We are not able to do this thing, to give our sister to a man who has a foreskin, for it is a reproach to us. 15 Only in this will we consent to you: if you will be like us, by every male of you being circumcised. 16 And we will give our daughters to you, and your daughters we will take for ourselves, and we will dwell with you, and we will become one people. 17 And if you will not listen to us to be circumcised, and we will take our daughter and go." 18 And their words were good in the eyes of Hamor and in the eyes of Shechem, the son of Hamor. 19 And the young man did not delay to do the thing, for he delighted in the daughter of Jacob. And he was more honored than all the house of his father. 20 And Hamor and Shechem his son came to the gate of their city, and they spoke to the men of their city, saying, 21 "These men, they are at peace with us; and let them dwell in the land and trade in it, and the land, look, is broad on both sides before them. Their daughters we will take for ourselves for wives, and our daughters we will give to them. 22 Only in this will the men consent to us to dwell with us, to become one people: when every male among us is circumcised, as they are circumcised. 23 Their livestock and their possessions and all their animals, will they not be ours? Only let us consent to them, and let them dwell with us." 24 And all who went out of the gate of his city listened to Hamor and to Shechem his son; and every male was circumcised, all who went out of the gate of his city.

Simeon and Levi Take Revenge

25 And it came about on the third day, when they were in pain, and two of the sons of Jacob, Simeon (Shimon) and Levi, the brothers of Dinah, took each his sword and came upon the city securely, and they killed every male. 26 And Hamor and Shechem his son they killed by the mouth of the sword, and they took Dinah from the house of Shechem and went out. 27 The sons of Jacob came upon the slain and plundered the city, because they had defiled their sister. 28 Their flocks and their herds and their donkeys, and what was in the city and what was in the field, they took. 29 And all their wealth and all their little ones and their wives they took captive, and they plundered, and all that was in the house. 30 And Jacob said to Simeon and to Levi, "You have brought trouble on me by making me odious among the inhabitants of the land, among the Canaanites and among the Perizzites; and I am few in number, and they will gather against me and strike me, and I will be destroyed, I and my house." 31 And they said, "Should he treat our sister like a prostitute?"

Return to Bethel

1 And God said to Jacob (Ya'aqov), "Arise, go up to Bethel (Bet-El), and dwell there, and make there an altar to the God who appeared to you when you fled from before Esau (Esav) your brother." 2 And Jacob said to his household and to all who were with him, "Remove the gods of the foreigner that are in your midst, and purify yourselves, and change your clothes. 3 And let us arise, and let us go up to Bethel, and I will make there an altar to the God who answered me in the day of my distress, and He was with me on the way that I have gone." 4 And they gave to Jacob all the gods of the foreigner that were in their hand, and the rings that were in 34:13 the sons of Jacob answered Shechem and Hamor his father with deceit They had learned deception well, from Jacob and from Laban.

34:15 if you will be like us, by every male of you being circumcised A terrible misuse of the covenant sign (17:10-11), used as bait for a trap. Using faith as a cover for our own plans is a serious sin.
34:19 he was more honored than all the house of his father His word carried weight in the city.
34:23 Their livestock and their possessions and all their animals, will they not be ours At the gate they never mentioned Dinah or the crime. They planned to swallow Jacob's family and wealth. Both sides were scheming, and nobody here is seeking God.
34:25 Simeon and Levi, the brothers of Dinah, took each his sword Her full brothers. Their anger was understandable, but they took revenge on a whole city for one man's sin, through lies and murder. The Law later made punishment fit the crime (Exod 21:23-25; Deut 24:16). Believers are to be "not avenging yourselves" (Rom 12:19). Jacob later says, "Cursed be their anger, for it is fierce" (49:7).
34:27 The sons of Jacob came upon the slain and plundered the city Taking the wealth, women and children shows justice had turned into greed. Hamor wanted Jacob's goods (34:23), and the opposite happened. Yet two wrongs were done in this city, and God approved neither.
34:30 You have brought trouble on me Every sentence is about me and my. Nothing about Dinah, nothing about the slaughter, nothing about God.
34:31 Should he treat our sister like a prostitute Their question has force. Someone had to care about Dinah. But it did not excuse what they did. Simeon and Levi would be scattered (49:7), yet Levi was later scattered as priests and teachers after standing with the LORD at Sinai (Exod 32:26-29). God can bring good from a family's worst moment, though that never makes the sin good. We are never told what became of Dinah. Some wounds are not healed within Genesis, but God has not forgotten them.
35:1 Arise, go up to Bethel, and dwell there After the silence of chapter 34, God speaks. He does not scold. He calls Jacob back to where it all began, to keep his vow (28:20-22). When we drift, God often calls us back to where we first met Him (Rev 2:5). The way forward often begins by going back.
35:2 Remove the gods of the foreigner that are in your midst Some idols may have come from Laban's house (31:19), others with the captives of Shechem (34:29). Jacob had let them stay. Now he deals with them. Repentance turns from sin back to God. You cannot go up to Bethel carrying your idols. An idol is anything we trust, love or serve in God's place (1 Thess 1:9).
35:4 the rings that were in their ears These may have been charms tied to idol worship. Jacob buried the old life.

their ears; and Jacob hid them under the oak that was near Shechem (Shekhem). 5 And they set out, and the terror of God was on the cities that were around them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. 6 And Jacob came to Luz, which is in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), that is Bethel, he and all the people who were with him. 7 And he built there an altar, and he called the place El-bethel (El-Bet-El), for there God had been revealed to him when he fled from before his brother. 8 And Deborah (Devora), the nurse of Rebekah (Rivqa), died, and she was buried below Bethel, under the oak; and he called its name Allon-bacuth (Alon-Bakhut). 9 And God appeared to Jacob again when he came from Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram), and He blessed him. 10 And God said to him, "Your name is Jacob; your name shall not be called Jacob again, but Israel (Yisra'el) shall be your name." And He called his name Israel. 11 And God said to him, "I am God Almighty. Be fruitful and multiply; a nation and an assembly of nations shall be from you, and kings shall come out from your loins. 12 And the land which I gave to Abraham (Avraham) and to Isaac (Yitschaq), to you I will give it, and to your seed after you I will give the land." 13 And God went up from him at the place where He had spoken with him. 14 And Jacob set up a pillar at the place where He had spoken with him, a pillar of stone; and he poured out on it a drink offering, and he poured on it oil. 15 And Jacob called the name of the place where God had spoken with him there Bethel.

The Deaths of Rachel and Isaac

16 And they set out from Bethel, and there was still a stretch of the land to go to Ephrath (Efrata); and Rachel gave birth, and she had hard labor in her giving birth. 17 And it came about, when she was in hard labor in her giving birth, and the midwife said to her, "Do not be afraid, for this also is a son for you." 18 And it came about, as her soul was going out, for she died, and she called his name Ben-oni; and his father called him Benjamin (Binyamin). 19 And Rachel died, and she was buried on the way to Ephrath, that is Bethlehem (Bet-Lechem). 20 And Jacob set up a pillar over her grave; it is the pillar of the grave of Rachel until this day. 21 And Israel set out, and he pitched his tent beyond the tower of the flock (Migdal-Eder). 22 And it came about, when Israel dwelt in that land, and Reuben (Reuven) went and lay with Bilhah (Bilha), the concubine of his father; and Israel heard. And the sons of Jacob were twelve. 23 The sons of Leah (Le'a): the firstborn of Jacob, Reuben, and Simeon (Shimon), and Levi, and Judah (Yehuda), and Issachar (Yisashkhar), and Zebulun (Zevulun). 24 The sons of Rachel: Joseph (Yosef) and Benjamin. 25 And the sons of Bilhah, the female servant of Rachel: Dan and Naphtali (Naftali). 26 And the sons of Zilpah (Zilpa), the female servant of Leah: Gad and Asher. These are the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram. 27 And Jacob came to Isaac his father at Mamre, Kiriath-arba (Qiryat-Arba), that is Hebron (Chevron), where Abraham and Isaac had sojourned. 28 And the days of Isaac were a hundred 35:5 the terror of God was on the cities that were around them Jacob feared attack after Shechem (34:30). God handled it.

35:7 El-bethel The God of Bethel. About thirty years earlier he named the place house of God. Now his focus moved from the place to the Person.
35:8 Deborah, the nurse of Rebekah, died She came from Haran with Rebekah (24:59) and must have been very old. Allon-bacuth means oak of weeping. Genesis records the nurse's death but never Rebekah's. Faithful servants matter to God.
35:10 your name shall not be called Jacob again, but Israel shall be your name Given in a night of struggle (32:28), now confirmed at the place of worship after the idols are gone. Shechem showed the old Jacob still alive. God's word was firm: you are Israel now, live like it. In Christ we have a new identity (2 Cor 5:17), and God does not take back what He has made us.
35:11 I am God Almighty El Shaddai, as in the covenant with Abraham (17:1). "Kings shall come out from your loins," and the greatest is Jesus, the Son of David.
35:12 to your seed after you I will give the land As at 15:18 and 17:8, it rests on God's faithfulness, and He has not taken it back.
35:14 he poured out on it a drink offering Wine or another liquid poured out in worship, the first drink offering in the Bible, a way of giving himself and all he had to God.
35:15 Jacob called the name of the place where God had spoken with him there Bethel Again (28:19). The first time he was a frightened young man with nothing. Now he heads a large household, with a new name and a limp. The place is the same, but Jacob is not.
35:17 Do not be afraid, for this also is a son for you Rachel's prayer for a second son (30:24) was answered.
35:18 she called his name Ben-oni; and his father called him Benjamin Ben-oni means son of my sorrow. Benjamin means son of the right hand, the place of honor and strength. Jacob would not let his son carry a name of grief. He gave him a name of hope. He never forgot Rachel (48:7).
35:19 Ephrath, that is Bethlehem Bethlehem's first appearance, later the town of David and the birthplace of Jesus (Mic 5:2; Luke 2:4-7). Matthew recalls Rachel weeping for her children when Herod killed the boys there (Matt 2:17-18; Jer 31:15). Great sorrow and the greatest joy would both come near Rachel's grave.
35:22 Reuben went and lay with Bilhah, the concubine of his father We are not told Bilhah's side. As a servant she may have had little power to refuse the firstborn. The sin was Reuben's. He may have been claiming his father's place, as taking a ruler's concubine could do (2 Sam 16:21-22). Jacob said nothing then, but he did not forget. Reuben lost the firstborn's place (49:3-4; 1 Chr 5:1). Sin's consequences can come years later.
35:23 The sons of Leah The twelve sons, grouped by mother, became the fathers of the twelve tribes. In spite of favoritism, rivalry and sin, God built His nation from them, and their names will be on the gates of the New Jerusalem (Rev 21:12).
35:26 These are the sons of Jacob who were born to him in Paddan-aram Benjamin was born near Bethlehem. The summary speaks of the family as a whole.

years and eighty years. 29 And Isaac breathed his last and died, and he was gathered to his people, old and satisfied with days; and Esau and Jacob his sons buried him.

The Descendants of Esau

1 And these are the generations of Esau (Esav), that is Edom. 2 Esau took his wives from the daughters of Canaan (Kena'an): Adah (Ada) the daughter of Elon the Hittite, and Oholibamah (Oholivama) the daughter of Anah (Ana), the daughter of Zibeon (Tsivon) the Hivite, 3 and Basemath (Basmat) the daughter of Ishmael (Yishma'el), the sister of Nebaioth (Nevayot). 4 And Adah bore Eliphaz (Elifaz) to Esau, and Basemath bore Reuel, 5 and Oholibamah bore Jeush (Yeush) and Jalam (Yalam) and Korah (Qorach). These are the sons of Esau who were born to him in the land of Canaan. 6 And Esau took his wives and his sons and his daughters and all the souls of his house, and his livestock and all his animals and all his property which he had acquired in the land of Canaan, and he went to a land away from before Jacob (Ya'aqov) his brother. 7 For their property was too great for dwelling together, and the land of their sojournings was not able to bear them because of their livestock. 8 And Esau dwelt in the hill country of Seir (Se'ir); Esau, that is Edom. 9 And these are the generations of Esau, the father of Edom, in the hill country of Seir. 10 These are the names of the sons of Esau: Eliphaz the son of Adah the wife of Esau, Reuel the son of Basemath the wife of Esau. 11 And the sons of Eliphaz were Teman, Omar, Zepho (Tsefo), and Gatam, and Kenaz (Qenaz). 12 And Timna was a concubine to Eliphaz the son of Esau, and she bore Amalek (Amaleq) to Eliphaz. These are the sons of Adah the wife of Esau. 13 And these are the sons of Reuel: Nahath (Nachat) and Zerah (Zerach), Shammah (Shama) and Mizzah (Miza). These were the sons of Basemath the wife of Esau. 14 And these were the sons of Oholibamah the daughter of Anah, the daughter of Zibeon, the wife of Esau; and she bore to Esau Jeush and Jalam and Korah. 15 These are the chiefs of the sons of Esau: the sons of Eliphaz the firstborn of Esau: chief Teman, chief Omar, chief Zepho, chief Kenaz, 16 chief Korah, chief Gatam, chief Amalek. These are the chiefs of Eliphaz in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Adah. 17 And these are the sons of Reuel the son of Esau: chief Nahath, chief Zerah, chief Shammah, chief Mizzah. These are the chiefs of Reuel in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Basemath the wife of Esau. 18 And these are the sons of Oholibamah the wife of Esau: chief Jeush, chief Jalam, chief Korah. These are the chiefs of Oholibamah the daughter of Anah, the wife of Esau. 19 These are the sons of Esau, and these are their chiefs; that is Edom.

The Sons of Seir

20 These are the sons of Seir the Horite, the inhabitants of the land: Lotan and Shobal (Shoval) and Zibeon and Anah, 21 and Dishon and Ezer (Etser) and Dishan. These are the chiefs of the Horites, the sons of Seir, in the land of Edom. 22 And the sons of Lotan were Hori (Chori) and Hemam; and the sister of Lotan was Timna. 23 And these are the sons of Shobal: Alvan and Manahath (Manachat) and Ebal (Eval), Shepho (Shefo) and Onam. 24 And these are the sons of Zibeon: both Aiah (Aya) and Anah. He is the Anah who found the hot springs in the wilderness when he was pasturing the donkeys of Zibeon his father. 25 And these are the children of Anah: Dishon and Oholibamah the daughter of Anah. 26 And these are the sons of Dishon (Dishan): Hemdan (Chemdan) and Eshban and Ithran (Yitran) and Cheran (Keran). 27 These are the sons of Ezer: Bilhan and Zaavan and 35:29 Esau and Jacob his sons buried him Gathered to his people hints that death is not the end. The brothers who once fought stood together at their father's grave. Isaac's death closes his story here but likely came years later. Jacob was 130 in Egypt (47:9) and Joseph 39 then (41:46), so Jacob was about 108 when Joseph was sold, and Isaac about 168. Moses often finishes one person's story before moving on.

36:1 these are the generations of Esau, that is Edom A new section, as for Ishmael (25:12) and Isaac (25:19). Edom means red, recalling the stew (25:30).

36:2 Esau took his wives from the daughters of Canaan The names differ from 26:34 and 28:9, and Genesis does not explain it. Some suggest people often had more than one name, or a woman's name could change at marriage. Others think there were more wives than any one list gives. Clear enough: Esau married into the Canaanites, which grieved his parents (26:35).

36:7 their property was too great for dwelling together As with Abraham and Lot (13:6). Esau did not fight for Canaan. He simply moved on. Quietly God sorted it out, so the land of promise went to the heir of promise.

36:8 Esau dwelt in the hill country of Seir The rugged mountain country south and east of the Dead Sea. Edom would be a nation Israel dealt with for centuries.

36:11 Teman Job's friend Eliphaz was a Temanite, and Job lived in Uz (Job 1:1; 2:11), a name that appears among the Horites (36:28). Some think Job is set among these peoples, but the link is not certain.

36:12 she bore Amalek to Eliphaz Father of the Amalekites, the first nation to attack Israel after the exodus (Exod 17:8-16) and bitter enemies for centuries. A name that looks small here grew into a long, painful story.

36:15 These are the chiefs of the sons of Esau A chief was a clan leader, and the word may mean leader of a thousand. Edom was organized and powerful long before Israel, while Jacob's sons would soon be slaves in Egypt. God's promises do not always look like they are winning. Israel's time would come on God's schedule.

36:20 the sons of Seir the Horite, the inhabitants of the land The Horites lived in Seir before Esau, and his descendants later drove them out (Deut 2:12, 22). The two peoples blended through marriage (36:2, 12, 22).

36:24 He is the Anah who found the hot springs in the wilderness Scripture remembers an ordinary man at an ordinary job who found something useful. God's Word is rooted in real places and real people.

Akan (Aqan). 28 These are the sons of Dishan: Uz (Uts) and Aran. 29 These are the chiefs of the Horites: chief Lotan, chief Shobal, chief Zibeon, chief Anah, 30 chief Dishon, chief Ezer, chief Dishan. These are the chiefs of the Horites, according to their chiefs in the land of Seir.

The Kings and Chiefs of Edom

31 And these are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom before a king reigned over the sons of Israel (Yisra'el). 32 And Bela the son of Beor reigned in Edom, and the name of his city was Dinhabah (Dinhava). 33 And Bela died, and Jobab (Yovav) the son of Zerah from Bozrah (Botsra) reigned in his place. 34 And Jobab died, and Husham (Chusham) from the land of the Temanites reigned in his place. 35 And Husham died, and Hadad the son of Bedad, who struck Midian (Midyan) in the field of Moab (Mo'av), reigned in his place; and the name of his city was Avith (Avit). 36 And Hadad died, and Samlah (Samla) from Masrekah (Masreqa) reigned in his place. 37 And Samlah died, and Shaul from Rehoboth (Rechovot) of the River (Nahar) reigned in his place. 38 And Shaul died, and Baal-hanan (Ba'al-Chanan) the son of Achbor (Akhbor) reigned in his place. 39 And Baal-hanan the son of Achbor died, and Hadar reigned in his place; and the name of his city was Pau, and the name of his wife was Mehetabel (Mehetav'el), the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Mezahab (Me-Zahav). 40 And these are the names of the chiefs of Esau, according to their clans, according to their places, by their names: chief Timna, chief Alvah (Alva), chief Jetheth (Yetet), 41 chief Oholibamah, chief Elah (Ela), chief Pinon, 42 chief Kenaz, chief Teman, chief Mibzar (Mivtsar), 43 chief Magdiel, chief Iram. These are the chiefs of Edom, according to their dwelling places in the land of their possession; that is Esau, the father of Edom.

Joseph's Dreams

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) dwelt in the land of the sojournings of his father, in the land of Canaan (Kena'an). 2 These are the generations of Jacob. Joseph (Yosef), a son of seventeen years, was shepherding with his brothers among the flock, and he was a youth with the sons of Bilhah (Bilha) and with the sons of Zilpah (Zilpa), the wives of his father; and Joseph brought a bad report of them to their father. 3 And Israel (Yisra'el) loved Joseph more than all his sons, for he was a son of old age to him; and he made for him a full-length tunic. 4 And his brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers, and they hated him, and they were not able to speak to him in peace. 5 And Joseph dreamed a dream, and he told it to his brothers, and they hated him still more. 6 And he said to them, "Hear, please, this dream which I have dreamed: 7 And look, we were binding sheaves in the middle of the field, and look, my sheaf arose and also stood upright; and look, your sheaves gathered around and bowed down to my sheaf." 8 And his brothers said to him, "Will you really reign over us? Or will you really rule over us?" And they hated him still more for his dreams and for his words. 9 And he dreamed yet another dream, and he recounted it to his brothers, and he said, "Look, I have dreamed a dream again, and look, the sun and the moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me." 10 And he recounted it to his father and to his brothers, and his father rebuked him and said to him, "What is this dream which you have dreamed? Will we really come, I and your mother and your brothers, to bow down to you to the ground?" 11 And his brothers were jealous of him, and his father kept the matter.

36:31 before a king reigned over the sons of Israel How could Moses write this? God had promised Jacob kings (35:11), and Moses knew it (Deut 17:14-15), so he could write looking ahead. Others think a later inspired writer added the note. Either way, it is God's Word.
36:33 Jobab the son of Zerah from Bozrah reigned in his place No king is the son of the one before, and each comes from a different city. Edom's kings seem to have been chosen or seized power. Israel's kings would come through one promised line, David's, leading to Jesus.
36:43 These are the chiefs of Edom, according to their dwelling places in the land of their possession Israel was told not to detest an Edomite, "for he is your brother" (Deut 23:7). Yet Edom refused Israel passage (Num 20:14-21), Obadiah condemned its pride, and Herod the Great came from Idumea, the later name for Edom. Esau gained land, power and kings, but he gave away what mattered most (Heb 12:16-17; Mark 8:36). Moses now leaves Esau's line for Jacob's, where God's plan of salvation goes.
37:1 the land of the sojournings of his father Isaac lived in Canaan as a foreigner, and now Jacob does. The land was promised but not yet possessed.
37:2 These are the generations of Jacob The final section of Genesis. It is Jacob's family story, but the spotlight falls on Joseph.
37:2 Joseph brought a bad report of them to their father We are not told what it was, or whether Joseph was faithful or telling tales. It did not help his standing.
37:3 he made for him a full-length tunic A long robe with sleeves, called a coat of many colors in older translations. Not work clothing but a garment of honor, perhaps marking Joseph for the firstborn's place Reuben lost (35:22; 1 Chr 5:1-2). Favoritism runs through this family like a crack in a wall (25:28; 29:30).
37:4 they hated him, and they were not able to speak to him in peace The bitter fruit of favoritism shows at once.
37:7 your sheaves gathered around and bowed down to my sheaf Joseph may have been young and unwise in how he told it, but the dream came from God. Years later the brothers bowed exactly so (42:6).
37:9 the sun and the moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me When God gives a dream twice, the matter is settled (41:32).
37:11 his father kept the matter Jacob scolded outwardly but wondered inwardly whether God was speaking, much as Mary "was treasuring up all these declarations, pondering them in her heart" (Luke 2:19).

at Shechem (Shekhem). 13 And Israel said to Joseph, "Are your brothers not pasturing at Shechem? Come, and I will send you to them." And he said to him, "Here I am." 14 And he said to him, "Go, please, see the welfare of your brothers and the welfare of the flock, and bring me back word." And he sent him from the valley of Hebron (Chevron), and he came to Shechem. 15 And a man found him, and look, he was wandering in the field; and the man asked him, saying, "What are you seeking?" 16 And he said, "I am seeking my brothers. Tell me, please, where they are pasturing." 17 And the man said, "They have set out from here, for I heard them saying, 'Let us go to Dothan (Dotan).'" And Joseph went after his brothers and found them at Dothan. 18 And they saw him from a distance, and before he drew near to them, and they plotted against him to kill him. 19 And they said, each to his brother, "Look, this master of the dreams is coming. 20 And now, come, and let us kill him, and let us throw him into one of the pits, and we will say, 'An evil animal has eaten him'; and we will see what his dreams will be." 21 And Reuben (Reuven) heard, and he rescued him from their hand, and he said, "Let us not strike him as to his life." 22 And Reuben said to them, "Do not shed blood. Throw him into this pit which is in the wilderness, and do not stretch out a hand against him," so as to rescue him from their hand, to restore him to his father. 23 And it came about, when Joseph came to his brothers, and they stripped Joseph of his tunic, the full-length tunic which was on him. 24 And they took him and threw him into the pit; and the pit was empty; there was no water in it.

Joseph Sold into Egypt

25 And they sat down to eat bread, and they lifted up their eyes and saw, and look, a caravan of Ishmaelites was coming from Gilead (Gilad), and their camels were carrying gum and balm and myrrh, going to take them down to Egypt (Mitsrayim). 26 And Judah (Yehuda) said to his brothers, "What profit is there if we kill our brother and conceal his blood? 27 Come, and let us sell him to the Ishmaelites, and let not our hand be on him, for he is our brother, our flesh." And his brothers listened. 28 And Midianite men, traders, passed by, and they drew and brought up Joseph from the pit, and they sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver; and they brought Joseph to Egypt. 29 And Reuben returned to the pit, and look, Joseph was not in the pit; and he tore his clothes. 30 And he returned to his brothers and said, "The boy is not there; and I, where am I going?" 31 And they took the tunic of Joseph, and they slaughtered a male goat of the goats, and they dipped the tunic in the blood. 32 And they sent the full-length tunic, and they brought it to their father, and they said, "This we have found. Examine, please, whether it is the tunic of your son or not." 33 And he recognized it, and he said, "It is the tunic of my son. An evil animal has eaten him; Joseph has surely been torn to pieces." 34 And Jacob tore his clothes, and he put sackcloth on his loins, and he mourned for his son many days. 35 And all his sons and all his daughters arose to comfort him, and he refused to be comforted, and he said, "For I will go down to my son mourning, to Sheol." And his father wept for him.

37:13 Here I am Shechem, about fifty miles north, was where Simeon and Levi killed the city's men (34). Jacob may have been worried. Joseph obeyed though it meant going to brothers who hated him.
37:14 Go, please, see the welfare of your brothers Many see in Joseph a picture of Christ: the beloved son, sent by his father to his brothers, who did not receive him (John 1:11). The New Testament never calls Joseph a type in so many words, though Stephen comes close (Acts 7:9-14), but the parallels are striking.
37:15 a man found him, and look, he was wandering in the field Without this stranger, Joseph would have gone home. God's guiding hand often hides in small moments. Dothan lay about fifteen miles farther north.
37:19 Look, this master of the dreams is coming Years of simmering hatred boiled over.
37:20 we will see what his dreams will be Irony. Every step they took to stop the dreams moved them closer to coming true. "The counsel of the LORD, it will stand" (Prov 19:21).
37:22 to restore him to his father As firstborn Reuben was responsible for his brothers, and he may also have hoped to win back favor after his sin (35:22).
37:24 the pit was empty; there was no water in it A cistern cut in rock to catch rainwater. A dry one could be a prison or a grave. Joseph pleaded, and they did not listen (42:21).
37:25 they sat down to eat bread While their brother cried from the pit, they ate. That shows how hard their hearts had become.
37:27 let us sell him to the Ishmaelites It sounds like mercy, but Judah traded his brother's life for money. The Law later made kidnapping and selling a person a capital crime (Exod 21:16).
37:28 they sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver The value the Law later set for a boy his age (Lev 27:5). Ishmaelites and Midianites were related (16:15; 25:2), and the names seem to have been used loosely for desert traders. Some think a Midianite group traveled with the caravan, or that the Midianites pulled him out and sold him to the Ishmaelites. Many notice that Judah sold his brother for silver, and Judas, the Greek form of the name, sold Jesus for thirty (Matt 26:14-16). The New Testament does not draw that line, but the echo is hard to miss.
37:30 and I, where am I going Reuben worried about answering to his father. He meant well but lacked courage to stand openly against his brothers. Good intentions without courage are not enough.
37:31 they slaughtered a male goat of the goats, and they dipped the tunic in the blood Jacob deceived his father with goatskins and his brother's clothes (27:9-16). Now his sons deceive him with a goat and their brother's clothes (Gal 6:7). They let him draw his own wrong conclusion (37:32).
37:34 he put sackcloth on his loins Sackcloth was rough cloth worn in mourning.
37:35 For I will go down to my son mourning, to Sheol Sheol is the Hebrew word for the grave, the place of the dead. The sons watched his grief and kept their secret more than twenty years. Hidden sin does not stay small.

36 And the Medanites sold him into Egypt to Potiphar (Potifar), an official of Pharaoh, the commander of the bodyguards.

Judah's Sons

1 And it came about at that time, and Judah (Yehuda) went down from his brothers, and he turned aside to an Adullamite man, and his name was Hirah (Chira). 2 And Judah saw there the daughter of a Canaanite man, and his name was Shua; and he took her and went in to her. 3 And she conceived and bore a son, and he called his name Er. 4 And she conceived again and bore a son, and she called his name Onan. 5 And she yet again bore a son, and she called his name Shelah (Shela); and he was in Chezib (Keziv) when she bore him. 6 And Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, and her name was Tamar. 7 And Er, the firstborn of Judah, was evil in the eyes of the LORD, and the LORD put him to death. 8 And Judah said to Onan, "Go in to the wife of your brother, and perform the duty of a husband's brother for her, and raise up seed for your brother." 9 And Onan knew that the seed would not be his; and it came about, whenever he went in to the wife of his brother, and he wasted it on the ground, so as not to give seed to his brother. 10 And what he did was evil in the eyes of the LORD, and He put him to death also. 11 And Judah said to Tamar his daughter-in-law, "Dwell as a widow at the house of your father until Shelah my son grows up"; for he said, "Lest he also die like his brothers." And Tamar went and dwelt at the house of her father.

Tamar Deceives Judah

12 And the days increased, and the daughter of Shua, the wife of Judah, died; and Judah was comforted, and he went up to the shearers of his sheep, he and Hirah his friend the Adullamite, to Timnah (Timna). 13 And it was told to Tamar, saying, "Look, your father-in-law is going up to Timnah to shear his sheep." 14 And she removed the clothes of her widowhood from on her, and she covered herself with the veil and wrapped herself up, and she sat at the entrance of Enaim (Einayim), which is on the road to Timnah; for she had seen that Shelah had grown up, and she had not been given to him as a wife. 15 And Judah saw her and considered her a prostitute, for she had covered her face. 16 And he turned aside to her by the road, and he said, "Come, please, let me go in to you"; for he did not know that she was his daughter-in-law. And she said, "What will you give me, that you may go in to me?" 17 And he said, "I, I will send a kid of the goats from the flock." And she said, "If you will give a pledge until you send it." 18 And he said, "What is the pledge that I shall give you?" And she said, "Your seal and your cord and your staff that is in your hand." And he gave them to her, and he went in to her, and she conceived by him. 19 And she arose and went, and she removed her veil from on her, and she put on the clothes of her widowhood. 20 And Judah sent the kid of the goats by the hand of his friend the Adullamite to take the pledge from the hand of the woman; and he did not find her. 21 And he asked the men of her place, saying, "Where is the cult prostitute, she who was at Enaim by the road?" And they said, "There has been no cult prostitute in this place." 22 And he returned to Judah and said, "I did not find her; and also the men of the place said, 'There has been no cult prostitute in this place.'" 23 And Judah said, "Let her take them for herself, lest we become an object of contempt. Look, I sent this kid, and you, you did not find her."

37:36 sold him into Egypt to Potiphar Jacob mourned a son he thought dead, but Joseph was alive. God had not lost track of him. Joseph would say at the end, "you planned evil against me; God planned it for good" (50:20). When all looks lost, God is often at work behind the scenes.
38:1 Judah went down from his brothers At the very time Joseph was carried to Egypt. Perhaps guilt drove him, or he could not bear his father's grief. Genesis does not say. Abraham and Isaac worked hard to keep their sons from Canaanite wives (24:3; 28:1), and Judah walked right into it (38:2). He drifted from his family and from God's ways.
38:7 the LORD put him to death We are not told what Er did, only that it was evil enough for God to judge him directly. God is patient, but He does not ignore sin forever.
38:8 perform the duty of a husband's brother for her A custom already in place and later part of the Law (Deut 25:5-6), called levirate marriage, from a Latin word for brother-in-law. The brother married the widow, and the first son carried on the dead man's name and inheritance. It protected widows and kept a family line alive.
38:9 Onan knew that the seed would not be his With no heir for Er, Onan's share of the inheritance grew. He was willing to use Tamar but not to provide for her or his brother's line. His sin was greed and deceit, a refusal to care for his brother's widow and name (38:10).
38:11 Lest he also die like his brothers Judah blamed Tamar for deaths caused by his sons' own sin, and made a promise he never meant to keep. A widow without husband or child had little protection. Judah should have cared for her and sent her away instead.
38:14 she had not been given to him as a wife Judah's promise was broken. She seems determined to have a child from the family she married into, since Judah had shut every honest door. Her plan was wrong, but Judah created her situation.
38:15 Judah saw her and considered her a prostitute The Bible tells it plainly so we see how far Judah had fallen. Widowed and away from home, he gave in without a second thought. Paul says flee sexual immorality (1 Cor 6:18). Judah did the opposite.
38:18 Your seal and your cord and your staff A seal was a small carved stone, often worn on a cord, used to stamp a man's mark in clay, like a signature or ID card. Judah handed over what proved who he was.
38:21 Where is the cult prostitute A different word from 38:15, related to the Hebrew for holy, usually understood as a woman attached to a pagan shrine. Older books said ritual sex was common in Canaanite religion, but many scholars now question how common. Hirah may have used the more respectable word to dress up the errand.
38:23 lest we become an object of contempt Judah cared more for his reputation than his sin. He was about to learn that sin does not stay hidden (Num 32:23).

She Is More Righteous Than I

24 And it came about, about three months later, and it was told to Judah, saying, "Tamar your daughter-in-law has played the prostitute, and also, look, she is pregnant by prostitution." And Judah said, "Bring her out, and let her be burned." 25 She was being brought out, and she sent to her father-in-law, saying, "By the man to whom these belong, I am pregnant." And she said, "Examine, please, to whom belong these, the seal and the cords and the staff." 26 And Judah recognized them, and he said, "She is more righteous than I, because I did not give her to Shelah my son." And he did not know her again. 27 And it came about at the time of her giving birth, and look, twins were in her womb. 28 And it came about, when she was giving birth, and he put out a hand; and the midwife took and tied on his hand a scarlet thread, saying, "This one came out first." 29 And it came about, as he drew back his hand, and look, his brother came out; and she said, "What a breach you have broken through for yourself!" And he called his name Perez (Perets). 30 And afterward his brother came out, on whose hand was the scarlet thread; and he called his name Zerah (Zerach).

The LORD Is with Joseph

1 And Joseph (Yosef) had been brought down to Egypt (Mitsrayim); and Potiphar (Potifar), an official of Pharaoh, the commander of the bodyguards, an Egyptian man, bought him from the hand of the Ishmaelites who had brought him down there. 2 And the LORD was with Joseph, and he was a successful man; and he was in the house of his master the Egyptian. 3 And his master saw that the LORD was with him, and all that he was doing the LORD was making successful in his hand. 4 And Joseph found favor in his eyes, and he served him; and he appointed him over his house, and all that he had he gave into his hand. 5 And it came about, from the time he appointed him in his house and over all that he had, and the LORD blessed the house of the Egyptian on account of Joseph; and the blessing of the LORD was on all that he had, in the house and in the field. 6 And he left all that he had in the hand of Joseph, and he did not know anything with him except the bread which he was eating. And Joseph was handsome of form and handsome of appearance.

Joseph Refuses Potiphar's Wife

7 And it came about after these things, and the wife of his master lifted up her eyes to Joseph, and she said, "Lie with me." 8 And he refused, and he said to the wife of his master, "Look, my master does not know with me what is in the house, and all that he has he has given into my hand. 9 He is not greater in this house than I, and he has not withheld from me anything except you, because you are his wife. And how shall I do this great evil, and sin against God?" 10 And it came about, as she spoke to Joseph day by day, and he did not listen to her, to lie beside her, to be with her. 11 And it came about on this day, and he went into the house to do his work, and not anyone of the men of the house was there in the house. 12 And she seized him by his garment, saying, "Lie with me." And he left his garment in her hand, and he fled and went outside. 13 And it came about, when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand and had fled outside,

38:24 Bring her out, and let her be burned Judah, who had just slept with a woman he took for a prostitute, demanded death for Tamar. It is easy to be strict with others and easy on ourselves (Matt 7:3-5).
38:25 Examine, please, to whom belong these The words used when the brothers brought Jacob the bloody tunic (37:32). Judah once asked his father to examine evidence that covered a lie. Now he examines evidence that uncovers the truth about himself.
38:26 She is more righteous than I A public confession and the turning point of Judah's life. All three sinned, but Judah bore the greater guilt. The man who sold his brother will later offer himself as a slave in place of Benjamin (44:33). God was beginning to change him.
38:28 a scarlet thread The midwife marked the first hand, but the other twin came out first.
38:29 he called his name Perez Perez means breach, breaking through. Again the younger takes the place of the elder. Perez is the ancestor of Boaz, David and Jesus (Ruth 4:18-22), and Matthew names Tamar in Jesus' family tree (Matt 1:3). Jesus did not come from a spotless family. He came from families like Judah's, and ours, to save sinners. That does not make the sin right, but it shows how great God's mercy is.
39:1 Potiphar, an official of Pharaoh, the commander of the bodyguards Picture Joseph at about seventeen, in a strange land with a strange language and gods, betrayed by his brothers and sold like an animal. Genesis does not name this Pharaoh. Many scholars place Joseph in the early second millennium B.C., but dates are debated. What matters is which God was watching over him.
39:2 the LORD was with Joseph, and he was a successful man Said of a slave, not a free man at home. God's presence does not always change where we are. It changes who we are and what happens through us there.
39:3 his master saw that the LORD was with him Joseph's faith showed in his work, "in sincerity of heart, fearing God" (Col 3:22). People should see God's hand in how we do our jobs.
39:5 the LORD blessed the house of the Egyptian on account of Joseph God's promise to Abraham in action (12:3), as with Laban and Jacob (30:27).
39:6 Joseph was handsome of form and handsome of appearance This sets up the next scene. Success and good looks are gifts, but they can bring temptation.
39:7 Lie with me Blunt. Joseph was young, far from home and a slave. Saying yes would be easy and saying no dangerous. She had power over him.
39:9 how shall I do this great evil, and sin against God Joseph honored his master's trust and the marriage, but above all he saw sin as against God, as David did: "Against You, You alone, I have sinned" (Ps 51:4). He lived in a land where no one knew his God, yet he lived as if God were watching, because He was. Integrity is being the same when no one is looking.
39:10 she spoke to Joseph day by day Temptation often comes day after day, wearing a person down. Joseph would not even "be with her." Keep your way far from her door (Prov 5:8). He made his decision ahead of time and kept it daily.
39:12 he left his garment in her hand, and he fled and went outside Sometimes running is the bravest thing a person can do (2 Tim 2:22; 1 Cor 6:18). He lost his garment and kept his integrity. Twice a garment was taken from Joseph, by hatred and by lust, and both times it was used to tell a lie about him.

14 and she called out to the men of her house, and she said to them, saying, "See, he has brought to us a Hebrew man to mock us. He came to me to lie with me, and I called out with a great voice. 15 And it came about, when he heard that I raised my voice and called out, and he left his garment beside me, and he fled and went outside." 16 And she placed his garment beside her until his master came to his house. 17 And she spoke to him according to these words, saying, "The Hebrew servant, whom you brought to us, came to me to mock me. 18 And it came about, when I raised my voice and called out, and he left his garment beside me and fled outside."

Joseph in Prison

19 And it came about, when his master heard the words of his wife which she spoke to him, saying, "According to these things your servant did to me," and his anger burned. 20 And the master of Joseph took him, and he put him into the prison house, the place where the prisoners of the king were confined; and he was there in the prison house. 21 And the LORD was with Joseph, and He extended steadfast love to him, and He gave him favor in the eyes of the commander of the prison house. 22 And the commander of the prison house gave into the hand of Joseph all the prisoners who were in the prison house; and all that they were doing there, he was the one doing it. 23 The commander of the prison house was not seeing anything at all in his hand, because the LORD was with him; and what he was doing, the LORD was making successful.

The Dreams of the Cupbearer and the Baker

1 And it came about after these things, the cupbearer of the king of Egypt (Mitsrayim) and the baker sinned against their master, against the king of Egypt. 2 And Pharaoh was angry with his two officials, with the chief of the cupbearers and with the chief of the bakers. 3 And he put them in the custody of the house of the commander of the bodyguards, into the prison house, the place where Joseph (Yosef) was confined. 4 And the commander of the bodyguards appointed Joseph with them, and he served them; and they were days in custody. 5 And they dreamed a dream, both of them, each his dream in one night, each according to the interpretation of his dream, the cupbearer and the baker who belonged to the king of Egypt, who were confined in the prison house. 6 And Joseph came to them in the morning, and he saw them, and look, they were dejected. 7 And he asked the officials of Pharaoh who were with him in the custody of the house of his master, saying, "Why are your faces sad today?" 8 And they said to him, "We dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it." And Joseph said to them, "Do not interpretations belong to God? Recount it to me, please."

Joseph Interprets the Dreams

9 And the chief of the cupbearers recounted his dream to Joseph, and he said to him, "In my dream, and look, a vine was before me, 10 and on the vine were three branches; and it was as though budding, its blossom went up, its clusters ripened into grapes. 11 And the cup of Pharaoh was in my hand, and I took the grapes and squeezed them into the cup of Pharaoh, and I put the cup on the palm of Pharaoh." 12 And Joseph said to him, "This is its interpretation: the 39:14 he has brought to us a Hebrew man to mock us She blamed her husband for bringing him in and played on prejudice against a foreigner. It was a lie built around real evidence, like the brothers' lie to Jacob (37:31-33).

39:17 The Hebrew servant, whom you brought to us, came to me to mock me Joseph did right and was still accused of wrong. Suffering patiently for doing right finds favor with God (1 Pet 2:20), and Jesus too was falsely accused. This story shows false accusations happen. It must never make us slow to listen to someone who says they have been abused. Most who speak up are telling the truth, and Scripture calls us to protect the weak (Ps 82:3-4).
39:20 he put him into the prison house, the place where the prisoners of the king were confined A slave accused of such a crime might well have been put to death. An old Egyptian story, the Tale of Two Brothers, tells of a wife falsely accusing a young man much the same way. Some think Potiphar doubted his wife, though we are not told. God spared Joseph and placed him where he would meet the king's officials. His feet were hurt with fetters until the LORD's word tested him (Ps 105:17-19).
39:21 the LORD was with Joseph, and He extended steadfast love to him The words of 39:2 again. His address changed, but his God did not. Steadfast love is God's faithful covenant love.
39:23 the LORD was making successful Faithful in Potiphar's house and punished for it, Joseph kept being faithful in prison. Many see a picture of Christ: tempted without sin, falsely accused, later raised to honor. Jesus "has been tempted in all things according to likeness, without sin" (Heb 4:15).
40:1 the cupbearer of the king of Egypt and the baker A cupbearer served the king his wine and may have tasted it first against poison, a post of great trust. Nehemiah held it in Persia (Neh 1:11). The chief baker oversaw the food for the king's table. Their offense is not named.
40:4 the commander of the bodyguards appointed Joseph with them Most likely Potiphar himself (39:1). The man who imprisoned Joseph now trusted him with the king's officials. God was setting the stage.
40:4 they were days in custody Joseph was sold at seventeen (37:2) and stood before Pharaoh at thirty (41:46), about thirteen years from the pit to the palace. He served faithfully in a place he did not choose, for a time he did not know. Such seasons are not wasted when God is in them.
40:7 Why are your faces sad today Joseph had every reason to be wrapped up in his own troubles, yet he noticed others' faces and cared. A hurt heart can grow hard or grow kind. Joseph's grew kind.
40:8 Do not interpretations belong to God Egypt had trained dream interpreters, but these men had none. Joseph claimed no power of his own and pointed to God, as Daniel did before Nebuchadnezzar (Dan 2:27-28).
40:10 on the vine were three branches A dream about his own job, with growth so quick it pointed to something soon. Not every dream is from God (Deut 13:1-3; Jer 23:28). God has now spoken fully in His Son (Heb 1:1-2), and we test everything by His written Word. Before any Scripture was written, God chose to reveal His plans this way.

three branches, they are three days. 13 In three more days Pharaoh will lift up your head, and he will restore you to your position, and you will put the cup of Pharaoh in his hand according to the former custom, when you were his cupbearer. 14 Only remember me with you when it goes well for you, and please show steadfast love to me, and mention me to Pharaoh, and bring me out from this house. 15 For I was surely stolen from the land of the Hebrews, and also here I have not done anything that they should have put me in the pit." 16 And the chief of the bakers saw that he had interpreted well, and he said to Joseph, "I also, in my dream, and look, three baskets of white bread were on my head, 17 and in the upper basket were some of all the food of Pharaoh, the work of a baker; and the birds were eating them from the basket, from on my head." 18 And Joseph answered and said, "This is its interpretation: the three baskets, they are three days. 19 In three more days Pharaoh will lift up your head from on you, and he will hang you on a tree, and the birds will eat your flesh from on you." 20 And it came about on the third day, the day of the birth of Pharaoh, and he made a feast for all his servants; and he lifted up the head of the chief of the cupbearers and the head of the chief of the bakers among his servants. 21 And he restored the chief of the cupbearers to his cupbearing, and he put the cup on the palm of Pharaoh. 22 And the chief of the bakers he hanged, just as Joseph had interpreted to them. 23 And the chief of the cupbearers did not remember Joseph, and he forgot him.

Pharaoh's Dreams

1 And it came about at the end of two full years, and Pharaoh was dreaming, and look, he was standing by the Nile (Ye'or). 2 And look, from the Nile seven cows were coming up, beautiful of appearance and fat of flesh, and they grazed among the reeds. 3 And look, seven other cows were coming up after them from the Nile, ugly of appearance and thin of flesh, and they stood beside the cows on the bank of the Nile. 4 And the cows ugly of appearance and thin of flesh ate the seven cows beautiful of appearance and fat. And Pharaoh awoke. 5 And he slept and dreamed a second time, and look, seven ears of grain were coming up on one stalk, fat and good. 6 And look, seven ears of grain, thin and scorched by an east wind, were springing up after them. 7 And the thin ears of grain swallowed the seven fat and full ears of grain. And Pharaoh awoke, and look, it was a dream. 8 And it came about in the morning, and his spirit was troubled; and he sent and summoned all the magicians of Egypt (Mitsrayim) and all its wise men; and Pharaoh recounted to them his dream, and there was no interpreter of them for Pharaoh. 9 And the chief of the cupbearers spoke with Pharaoh, saying, "My sins I am calling to mind today. 10 Pharaoh was angry with his servants, and he put me in the custody of the house of the commander of the bodyguards, me and the chief of the bakers. 11 And we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; each according to the interpretation of his dream we dreamed. 12 And there with us was a Hebrew young man, a servant to the commander of the bodyguards; and we recounted them to him, and he interpreted our dreams for us; to each according to his dream he interpreted. 13 And it came about, just as he interpreted for us, so it was: me he restored to my position, and him he hanged."

40:13 Pharaoh will lift up your head A way of saying he would be honored and brought before the king. Joseph did not say maybe. Faith rests on what God has revealed.
40:14 Only remember me with you when it goes well for you Trusting God does not mean never asking people for help. Paul appealed to Caesar (Acts 25:11). Pray and also act wisely.
40:15 I was surely stolen from the land of the Hebrews Joseph did not name his brothers or blame Potiphar's wife. He simply said he was innocent.
40:17 the birds were eating them from the basket In the cupbearer's dream the work was completed. In the baker's, the food never reached the king.
40:19 Pharaoh will lift up your head from on you The same phrase with a terrible twist. One head lifted in honor, the other lifted off. Joseph did not soften it. Those who speak for God must give both the good and the hard (Acts 20:27). Hiding the truth would have been the cruelty.
40:20 the day of the birth of Pharaoh The first birthday mentioned in the Bible.
40:22 just as Joseph had interpreted to them Joseph was no lucky guesser. A true word from God comes to pass (Deut 18:22). His own dreams had not yet come true, but God showed him in a small way that He keeps His word.
40:23 the chief of the cupbearers did not remember Joseph, and he forgot him It hurts. Two full years followed (41:1). People forget, but God does not forget His own (Isa 49:15). Had Joseph been freed then, he might have been sent home and missed Pharaoh's dreams. If you feel forgotten, God sees you in the prison.
41:1 at the end of two full years Two more years in a cell after the cupbearer forgot (40:14, 23), and Joseph could not see what God was doing with them. Scripture does not name this Pharaoh.
41:1 he was standing by the Nile The Nile was the life of Egypt. Almost no rain falls there, and every crop depended on the river rising each year. Fat cows in the reeds pictured a good year (41:2).
41:6 scorched by an east wind The east wind blows hot off the desert and can wither crops in a day.
41:8 all the magicians of Egypt and all its wise men A class of priests and scholars who studied omens, dreams and sacred writings. Moses would face men like them (Exod 7:11). They had books and methods, yet no answer. The world's best wisdom cannot read the mind of God (1 Cor 1:20-25).
41:9 My sins I am calling to mind today Perhaps the offense that jailed him, or forgetting Joseph, or both. He chose his words carefully before a king who had been angry with him.
41:12 a Hebrew young man, a servant How the Egyptians saw Joseph: young, foreign, a slave. But his word had come true to the detail (41:13). God used a forgetful man's memory at the exact moment it was needed.

Joseph Is Brought Before Pharaoh

14 And Pharaoh sent and summoned Joseph (Yosef), and they brought him quickly from the pit; and he shaved and changed his clothes, and he came to Pharaoh. 15 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it; and I, I have heard about you, saying, 'You hear a dream to interpret it.'" 16 And Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, "It is not in me; God will answer for the welfare of Pharaoh." 17 And Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, "In my dream, look, I was standing on the bank of the Nile. 18 And look, from the Nile seven cows were coming up, fat of flesh and beautiful of form, and they grazed among the reeds. 19 And look, seven other cows were coming up after them, poor and very ugly of form and thin of flesh; I have not seen any like them in all the land of Egypt for ugliness. 20 And the thin and ugly cows ate the first seven fat cows. 21 And they went into their insides, and it was not known that they had gone into their insides, and their appearance was ugly just as at the beginning. And I awoke. 22 And I saw in my dream, and look, seven ears of grain were coming up on one stalk, full and good. 23 And look, seven ears of grain, withered, thin, scorched by an east wind, were springing up after them. 24 And the thin ears of grain swallowed the seven good ears of grain. And I told it to the magicians, and there was no one declaring it to me."

Seven Years of Plenty and Seven of Famine

25 And Joseph said to Pharaoh, "The dream of Pharaoh, it is one; what God is about to do He has declared to Pharaoh. 26 The seven good cows, they are seven years; and the seven good ears of grain, they are seven years; the dream, it is one. 27 And the seven thin and ugly cows that came up after them, they are seven years; and the seven empty ears of grain, scorched by the east wind, will be seven years of famine. 28 That is the word which I spoke to Pharaoh: what God is about to do He has shown Pharaoh. 29 Look, seven years are coming, great plenty in all the land of Egypt. 30 And seven years of famine will arise after them, and all the plenty will be forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine will consume the land. 31 And the plenty will not be known in the land because of that famine afterward, for it will be very heavy. 32 And concerning the repeating of the dream to Pharaoh twice, it is because the matter is established by God, and God is hastening to do it. 33 And now let Pharaoh look for a discerning and wise man, and let him set him over the land of Egypt. 34 Let Pharaoh act, and let him appoint overseers over the land, and let him take a fifth of the land of Egypt in the seven years of plenty. 35 And let them gather all the food of these good years that are coming, and let them store up grain under the hand of Pharaoh, food in the cities, and let them keep it. 36 And the food shall be for a store for the land for the seven years of famine which will be in the land of Egypt, and the land shall not be cut off by the famine."

Joseph Rules over Egypt

37 And the word was good in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of all his servants. 38 And Pharaoh said to his servants, "Can we find one like this, a man in whom is the spirit of God?" 39 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "After God has made you know all this, there is no one discerning and wise like you. 40 You, you shall be over my house, and on your mouth all my people shall kiss; only in the throne will I be greater than you." 41 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "See, I have set you over all the land of Egypt." 42 And Pharaoh removed his signet ring from on his hand and set it on the hand of Joseph, and he clothed him in garments of fine linen, and he put the 41:14 they brought him quickly from the pit; and he shaved and changed his clothes After years of waiting, everything changed in a morning. Hebrew men wore beards, but Egyptians were clean-shaven. Clothing runs through Joseph's story: the robe stripped (37:23), the garment grabbed (39:12), and soon fine linen (41:42). When God's time comes, it can come quickly.

41:16 It is not in me; God will answer for the welfare of Pharaoh His big moment, and he refused the praise, as he had in prison (40:8). In the court of a king thought to be a god, Joseph pointed to the true God. Whatever gift we have comes from God, and He gets the glory.

41:21 it was not known that they had gone into their insides The famine would be so severe that even the good years would seem to vanish without a trace.

41:25 what God is about to do He has declared to Pharaoh Three times Joseph says God is behind it (41:25, 28, 32). Not luck, fate or Egypt's gods. The God of Abraham rules the Nile and the harvest, and He told the future so lives could be saved.

41:30 seven years of famine will arise after them A famine is a long shortage of food from failed harvests.

41:32 the matter is established by God, and God is hastening to do it When God says it twice, it is settled. Joseph's own dreams came in a pair (37:5-9).

41:34 let him take a fifth of the land of Egypt Twenty percent of the harvest in the good years. Knowing the future is not enough. You must act on it. Joseph trusted God completely and planned carefully, and the two do not fight. The ant stores food in summer (Prov 6:6-8).

41:38 a man in whom is the spirit of God Pharaoh did not mean all that we mean by the Holy Spirit, but he could see Joseph's God was with him. People can tell when God is at work in your life.

41:40 only in the throne will I be greater than you Second in Egypt, an office some call prime minister or vizier. For thirteen years it looked as if the dreams of chapter 37 had died. Now God brings them to pass in His way.

41:42 Pharaoh removed his signet ring from on his hand and set it on the hand of Joseph The ring bore the king's seal and signed documents with his authority. Fine linen was the dress of royalty and high officials, and the gold chain a mark of honor.

chain of gold on his neck. 43 And he made him ride in the second chariot which belonged to him, and they called out before him, "Bow the knee!" And he set him over all the land of Egypt. 44 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "I am Pharaoh, and apart from you no man shall lift up his hand and his foot in all the land of Egypt." 45 And Pharaoh called the name of Joseph Zaphenath-paneah (Tsafnat-Paneach), and he gave to him Asenath (Asnat), the daughter of Potiphera (Poti-Fera) priest of On, as a wife. And Joseph went out over the land of Egypt.

The Famine Comes

46 And Joseph was a son of thirty years when he stood before Pharaoh king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from before Pharaoh, and he passed through all the land of Egypt. 47 And the land produced in the seven years of plenty by handfuls. 48 And he gathered all the food of the seven years which were in the land of Egypt, and he put food in the cities; the food of the field of the city which was around it he put in its midst. 49 And Joseph stored up grain like the sand of the sea, very much, until he ceased to count, for there was no number. 50 And to Joseph two sons were born before the year of the famine came, whom Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On, bore to him. 51 And Joseph called the name of the firstborn Manasseh (Menashe): "For God has made me forget all my trouble and all the house of my father." 52 And the name of the second he called Ephraim (Efrayim): "For God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction." 53 And the seven years of the plenty that was in the land of Egypt came to an end. 54 And the seven years of the famine began to come, just as Joseph had said; and there was famine in all the lands, and in all the land of Egypt there was bread. 55 And all the land of Egypt was hungry, and the people cried out to Pharaoh for bread; and Pharaoh said to all Egypt, "Go to Joseph; what he says to you, you shall do." 56 And the famine was over all the face of the land; and Joseph opened all that was in them, and he sold grain to Egypt; and the famine was severe in the land of Egypt. 57 And all the earth came to Egypt to buy grain, to Joseph, for the famine was severe in all the earth.

Joseph's Brothers Come to Egypt

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) saw that there was grain in Egypt (Mitsrayim), and Jacob said to his sons, "Why are you looking at one another?" 2 And he said, "Look, I have heard that there is grain in Egypt. Go down there and buy grain for us from there, and we will live and not die." 3 And the ten brothers of Joseph (Yosef) went down to buy grain from Egypt. 4 And Benjamin (Binyamin), the brother of Joseph, Jacob did not send with his brothers, for he said, "Lest harm happen to him." 5 And the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) came to buy grain among those coming, for the famine was in the land of Canaan (Kena'an). 6 And Joseph, he was the ruler over the land; he was the one selling grain to all the people of the land. And the brothers of Joseph came and bowed down to him, face to the ground. 7 And Joseph saw his broth-

41:43 Bow the knee Many see a picture of Christ: rejected by His brothers, suffering unjustly, then raised to highest authority, and every knee will bow to Him (Phil 2:9-11). The New Testament never calls Joseph a type in so many words, so I hold this loosely.
41:45 Zaphenath-paneah Scholars are not sure of the meaning. Suggestions include God speaks and he lives, and the one who supplies the food of life.
41:45 Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera priest of On On, in what is now northeast Cairo, was later called Heliopolis, city of the sun, a center of the worship of the sun god Ra. We are not told whether Asenath came to worship Joseph's God. Joseph had an Egyptian name, wife and job, yet he named his sons in praise of the God of his fathers (41:51-52). You can live in a foreign culture without letting it rule your heart, as Daniel did (Dan 1:7-8).
41:46 Joseph was a son of thirty years when he stood before Pharaoh Thirteen years of slavery, false accusation and prison lay behind him, and they taught him to run a household, manage a prison and trust God. David was thirty when he began to reign (2 Sam 5:4), and Jesus about thirty at the start of His ministry (Luke 3:23). God often prepares His servants in hidden places a long time.
41:48 the food of the field of the city which was around it he put in its midst Each city kept its own fields' grain, close to the people who would need it.
41:49 like the sand of the sea The picture of God's promise to Abraham's family (22:17; 32:12). God gave more than enough.
41:51 For God has made me forget all my trouble and all the house of my father Manasseh sounds like forget. Joseph did not stop caring about his father. God had healed the sharp pain, and the memories no longer ruled him.
41:52 For God has made me fruitful in the land of my affliction Ephraim sounds like fruitful. Joseph did not have to leave Egypt to be fruitful. God can help you let go of what was done to you and make you fruitful in the very place that broke your heart.
41:54 in all the land of Egypt there was bread "Just as Joseph had said." One man's obedience and planning meant life for a nation.
41:55 Go to Joseph; what he says to you, you shall do Many see a picture of the gospel. There is one place to find the bread of life, Jesus (John 6:35), and no other name by which we must be saved (Acts 4:12).
41:57 all the earth came to Egypt to buy grain The whole region, the world as people then knew it. Up in Canaan an old man and his sons were running out of food too. God was about to bring the brothers to the man they tried to get rid of.
42:1 Why are you looking at one another The family was running out of food, and the brothers just stood there. Some think they hesitated because Egypt was where they had sent Joseph. The text does not say, but guilt can make us freeze.
42:2 we will live and not die Famine was life and death. God was using hunger to move this family toward the rescue He had already prepared.
42:3 the ten brothers of Joseph went down Moses calls them Joseph's brothers on purpose. This family must face what it did.
42:4 Lest harm happen to him Benjamin was Rachel's other son. Jacob's favoritism had not ended. It had moved from Joseph to Benjamin, and the other sons must have felt it.
42:6 the brothers of Joseph came and bowed down to him, face to the ground The dream of the sheaves (37:5-8). They sold him to stop it, and now they fulfilled it without knowing. People cannot stop what God has said He will do.

ers, and he recognized them; and he acted as a stranger to them, and he spoke harsh things with them, and he said to them, "From where have you come?" And they said, "From the land of Canaan, to buy food." 8 And Joseph recognized his brothers, and they did not recognize him. 9 And Joseph remembered the dreams which he had dreamed about them, and he said to them, "You are spies! To see the nakedness of the land you have come." 10 And they said to him, "No, my lord, and your servants have come to buy food. 11 All of us are sons of one man; we are honest; your servants have not been spies." 12 And he said to them, "No, but the nakedness of the land you have come to see." 13 And they said, "Your servants are twelve brothers; we are the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and look, the youngest is with our father today, and the one is not." 14 And Joseph said to them, "It is what I spoke to you, saying, 'You are spies.' 15 By this you will be tested: by the life of Pharaoh, you will not go out from here unless your youngest brother comes here. 16 Send one of you, and let him take your brother, and you, be bound, and let your words be tested, whether truth is with you; and if not, by the life of Pharaoh, surely you are spies." 17 And he gathered them into custody for three days.

Simeon Held as Hostage

18 And Joseph said to them on the third day, "Do this and live; I fear God. 19 If you are honest, let one brother of yours be bound in the house of your custody; and you, go, bring grain for the hunger of your households. 20 And your youngest brother you will bring to me, and let your words be verified, and you will not die." And they did so. 21 And they said, each to his brother, "Truly we are guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the distress of his soul when he pleaded with us for favor, and we did not listen. Therefore this distress has come to us." 22 And Reuben (Reuven) answered them, saying, "Did I not say to you, saying, 'Do not sin against the boy'? And you did not listen; and also his blood, look, is being required." 23 And they did not know that Joseph understood, for the interpreter was between them. 24 And he turned away from them, and he wept, and he returned to them, and he spoke to them, and he took Simeon (Shimon) from them, and he bound him before their eyes. 25 And Joseph commanded, and they filled their vessels with grain, and commanded to return their silver, each man's to his sack, and to give them provisions for the way. And he did so for them. 26 And they lifted their grain onto their donkeys, and they went from there. 27 And the one opened his sack to give fodder to his donkey at the lodging place, and he saw his silver, and look, it was in the mouth of his bag. 28 And he said to his brothers, "My silver has been returned, and also, look, it is in my bag." And their heart failed, and they trembled, each to his brother, saying, "What is this that God has done to us?"

The Brothers Report to Jacob

29 And they came to Jacob their father, to the land of Canaan, and they told him all the things that had happened to them, saying, 30 "The man, the lord of the land, spoke harsh things with us, and he took us for men spying out the land. 31 And we said to him, 'We are honest; we have not been spies. 32 We are twelve brothers, sons of our father; the one is not, and the youngest is today with our father in the land of Canaan.' 33 And the man, the lord of the land, said to us, 'By this I will know that you are honest: leave one brother of yours with me, and take grain for the hunger of your households, and go. 34 And bring your youngest brother to me, and I will know that you are not spies, that you are hon-

42:8 they did not recognize him He was a teenager when they last saw him, now a man near forty, shaved like an Egyptian, in royal linen, speaking through an interpreter (42:23). And they thought him a slave somewhere, or dead.
42:9 You are spies Egypt's northeast border faced Canaan, and spies looking for weak spots were a real concern. "Joseph remembered the dreams" and understood that God had kept His word.
42:11 we are honest That must have stung. These men sold their brother and lied to their father for over twenty years.
42:13 the one is not They told more than they meant. Joseph stood before them hearing them call him dead, and learned his father and Benjamin were alive.
42:15 by the life of Pharaoh A solemn oath, the way an Egyptian official would swear.
42:17 he gathered them into custody for three days Joseph spent years in prison because of their sin, and they got a small taste. Was it revenge? I don't believe so. Everything Joseph does here aims at one question: had they changed? Would they treat Benjamin as they had treated him? God used the tests to bring them to repentance. Some teachers think Joseph also struggled with his own anger. Scripture does not explain his motives.
42:18 Do this and live; I fear God Unknown to them, an Egyptian ruler said he served their God. Even while testing them, he provided "for the hunger of your households" (42:19).
42:21 Truly we are guilty concerning our brother Genesis 37 does not say Joseph begged from the pit, but they never forgot it. A guilty conscience can be buried, but it does not die. For the first time they confess their sin aloud. God had begun His work in their hearts.
42:22 also his blood, look, is being required Reuben had tried to save Joseph (37:21-22). They believed God was finally calling them to account.
42:24 he turned away from them, and he wept The first of many times Joseph weeps (43:30; 45:2, 14-15; 46:29; 50:1, 17). He was not cold. He loved his brothers, and hearing their confession broke his heart.
42:24 he took Simeon from them, and he bound him before their eyes We are not told why. Reuben had tried to save him, and Simeon was next in line, with a violent past (34:25). Many suggest he led the plot, though we cannot be sure.
42:25 to return their silver, each man's to his sack They sold Joseph for silver (37:28), and he secretly gave them their silver back. He was paying for their food himself.
42:28 What is this that God has done to us The first time they speak of God in this story, and they assume His hand is against them. A guilty heart reads kindness as a threat. Sin makes us afraid of God even when He is good. The answer is to confess and come home (1 John 1:9).
42:30 The man, the lord of the land Their report is honest but softened. They leave out the prison and Simeon bound before their eyes.

est. Your brother I will give to you, and you will go about in the land.'" 35 And it happened as they were emptying their sacks, and look, each man's bundle of silver was in his sack; and they saw their bundles of silver, they and their father, and they were afraid. 36 And Jacob their father said to them, "Me you have bereaved: Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and Benjamin you will take. Upon me all of them have been." 37 And Reuben said to his father, saying, "My two sons you may put to death if I do not bring him to you. Give him into my hand, and I will bring him back to you." 38 And he said, "My son will not go down with you, for his brother is dead, and he alone is left; and harm may happen to him on the way on which you go, and you will bring down my gray hair in sorrow to Sheol."

The Second Journey to Egypt

1 And the famine was heavy in the land. 2 And it happened, when they had finished eating the grain which they had brought from Egypt (Mitsrayim), and their father said to them, "Go back; buy a little food for us." 3 And Judah (Yehuda) said to him, saying, "The man solemnly warned us, saying, 'You will not see my face unless your brother is with you.' 4 If you are sending our brother with us, we will go down, and we will buy food for you. 5 And if you are not sending him, we will not go down; for the man said to us, 'You will not see my face unless your brother is with you.'" 6 And Israel (Yisra'el) said, "Why did you do evil to me by telling the man whether you still had a brother?" 7 And they said, "The man asked closely about us and about our kindred, saying, 'Is your father still alive? Do you have a brother?' And we told him according to these words. Could we really know that he would say, 'Bring your brother down'?" 8 And Judah said to Israel his father, "Send the young man with me, and let us arise and go, and we will live and not die, both we and you and our little ones. 9 I, I will be surety for him; from my hand you may require him. If I do not bring him to you and set him before you, then I will have sinned against you all the days. 10 For if we had not delayed, surely now we would have returned these two times." 11 And Israel their father said to them, "If so, then, do this: take from the choicest of the land in your vessels, and take down to the man a gift: a little balm and a little honey, gum and myrrh, pistachio nuts and almonds. 12 And take double silver in your hand; and the silver that was returned in the mouth of your bags you will take back in your hand; perhaps it was a mistake. 13 And take your brother, and arise, go back to the man. 14 And may God Almighty give you compassion before the man, and he will release to you your other brother and Benjamin (Binyamin). And I, as I am bereaved, I am bereaved."

The Brothers Return with Benjamin

15 And the men took this gift, and they took double silver in their hand, and Benjamin; and they arose and went down to Egypt, and they stood before Joseph (Yosef). 16 And Joseph saw Benjamin with them, and he said to the one who was over his house, "Bring the men into the house, and slaughter a slaughter and prepare it; for the men will eat with me at noon." 17 And the man did as Joseph said, and the man brought the men into the house of Joseph. 18 And the men

42:36 Upon me all of them have been Did Jacob suspect his sons in Joseph's loss? The text does not say, but his words come close. He saw only loss, yet every one of these things was working for him: Joseph alive, Simeon to be returned, Benjamin safe, the grain a gift. All things work together for good to those who love God (Rom 8:28). You may not see the whole story yet.
42:37 My two sons you may put to death if I do not bring him to you Sincere but senseless. Reuben had lost his standing through sin (35:22), and his father did not trust him.
42:38 he alone is left Words that must have hurt the other sons. Jacob spoke as if Benjamin were his only son. To "bring down my gray hair in sorrow to Sheol" meant it would send him to the grave.
43:1 the famine was heavy in the land Jacob could refuse to send Benjamin, but he could not refuse to eat. God sometimes lets pressure build until we face what we have avoided.
43:2 buy a little food for us "A little" shows his denial. He wanted an ordinary shopping trip and to avoid the real issue.
43:3 Judah said to him From here on Judah leads. The man who suggested selling Joseph (37:26-27) and who confessed "She is more righteous than I" (38:26) had begun to change. He does not argue with his father's grief. He tells the truth.
43:6 Israel said The covenant name God gave him (32:28).
43:7 Could we really know that he would say, Bring your brother down Men who once covered sin with a bloody robe (37:31-33) are now honest even when it costs them.
43:9 I, I will be surety for him A guarantee backed by his own life. Reuben offered his sons (42:37). Judah offered himself. He once sold his brother for silver, and now he puts himself on the line for his brother. Judah is the ancestor of David and Jesus (Matt 1:2-3; Heb 7:14), and many see a faint picture of Christ, the guarantee of a better covenant (Heb 7:22), who took our blame on Himself.
43:10 if we had not delayed Jacob's fear had cost them time, and perhaps Simeon's comfort in prison.
43:11 a little balm and a little honey, gum and myrrh, pistachio nuts and almonds Balm was a healing resin and myrrh a sweet-smelling one used in perfume, luxury goods of Canaan. Ishmaelite traders carried balm and myrrh to Egypt when they bought Joseph (37:25).
43:12 perhaps it was a mistake Double silver, to repay and to buy. Jacob wanted his sons to be honest.
43:14 may God Almighty give you compassion before the man El Shaddai, the name of the promises (17:1; 35:11). Jacob turned back to the God of the covenant.
43:14 as I am bereaved, I am bereaved A surrender. Jacob had held Benjamin with all his strength. Now he opened his hands and placed him in God's care. The hardest step of faith is often letting go of what we fear losing most.
43:16 the one who was over his house A steward ran a household, its servants and business. Joseph had once been Potiphar's steward (39:4). Now he had one of his own.
43:18 to take us for slaves, and our donkeys Being brought into the governor's house felt like a trap. Guilt colors everything. They had sold their brother as a slave and now feared becoming slaves.

were afraid, because they were brought into the house of Joseph; and they said, "On account of the silver that returned in our bags at the first, we are being brought in, to roll himself upon us and to fall upon us, and to take us for slaves, and our donkeys." 19 And they approached the man who was over the house of Joseph, and they spoke to him at the entrance of the house. 20 And they said, "Please, my lord, we surely came down at the first to buy food. 21 And it happened, when we came to the lodging place, and we opened our bags, and look, each man's silver was in the mouth of his bag, our silver in its weight; and we have brought it back in our hand. 22 And other silver we have brought down in our hand to buy food. We do not know who put our silver in our bags." 23 And he said, "Peace be to you; do not fear. Your God and the God of your father gave you treasure in your bags; your silver came to me." And he brought Simeon (Shimon) out to them. 24 And the man brought the men into the house of Joseph, and he gave water, and they washed their feet; and he gave fodder to their donkeys. 25 And they prepared the gift until Joseph came at noon, for they had heard that there they would eat bread.

Joseph Eats with His Brothers

26 And Joseph came into the house, and they brought to him the gift which was in their hand into the house, and they bowed down to him to the ground. 27 And he asked them about their welfare, and he said, "Is your father well, the old man of whom you spoke? Is he still alive?" 28 And they said, "Your servant, our father, is well; he is still alive." And they bowed low, and they bowed down. 29 And he lifted up his eyes and saw Benjamin his brother, the son of his mother, and he said, "Is this your youngest brother of whom you spoke to me?" And he said, "May God be gracious to you, my son." 30 And Joseph hurried, for his compassion grew warm toward his brother, and he sought to weep; and he went into the inner room, and he wept there. 31 And he washed his face and came out, and he restrained himself, and he said, "Set out bread." 32 And they set for him by himself, and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians (Mitsrim) who ate with him by themselves; for the Egyptians were not able to eat bread with the Hebrews, for it is an abomination to Egypt. 33 And they sat before him, the firstborn according to his birthright and the youngest according to his youth; and the men looked at one another in astonishment, each to his neighbor. 34 And he carried portions from before him to them, and the portion of Benjamin was greater than the portions of all of them, five times. And they drank, and they became drunk with him.

The Silver Cup

1 And he commanded the one who was over his house, saying, "Fill the bags of the men with food, as much as they are able to carry, and put each man's silver in the mouth of his bag. 2 And my cup, the cup of silver, you will put in the mouth of the bag of the youngest, and the silver of his grain." And he did according to the word of Joseph (Yosef) which he had spoken. 3 The morning became light, and the men were sent away, they and their donkeys. 4 They had gone out of the city; they had not gone far, and Joseph said to the one who was over his house, "Arise, pursue after the men; and you will overtake them, and you will say to them, 'Why have you repaid evil for good? 5 Is not this the one from which my lord drinks, and he surely divines by it? You have done evil in what you have done.'" 6 And he overtook them, and he spoke these words to them. 7 And they said to him, "Why does my lord speak according to these words? Far be it from your servants to do according to this thing. 8 Look, the 43:23 Peace be to you; do not fear The steward knew their God, perhaps taught by Joseph, and gave Him the credit. Then Simeon walked out free. They came expecting punishment and received peace, a gift and a brother back, a small picture of grace.

43:24 he gave water, and they washed their feet People wore sandals on dusty roads, and foot-washing was hospitality. They were honored guests, not prisoners.
43:26 they bowed down to him to the ground Now all eleven brothers bow, as in the dream of the stars (37:9).
43:27 Is he still alive Twenty-two years had passed. The question nearest Joseph's heart.
43:28 Your servant, our father, is well Jacob is called Joseph's servant, another fulfillment of the dream (37:10), though they had no idea.
43:29 Benjamin his brother, the son of his mother His only full brother, a small child when Joseph was taken, now a grown man.
43:30 he went into the inner room, and he wept there A powerful ruler with a tender heart. Strength and tears are not opposites. Jesus wept at Lazarus' tomb (John 11:35).
43:32 for it is an abomination to Egypt Egyptians thought it shameful to eat with foreigners, especially shepherds (46:34). That separation would later let Israel live in Goshen as a distinct people, not swallowed up by Egypt.
43:33 the firstborn according to his birthright and the youngest according to his youth Eleven brothers seated in exact birth order. The odds by chance are tiny. Little by little they were shown that this man knew more about them than they could explain.
43:34 the portion of Benjamin was greater than the portions of all of them, five times A test. They hated Joseph for their father's favoritism (37:4). Would they resent Benjamin? They did not. They relaxed and ate. But one more test, the hardest, was coming.
44:2 my cup, the cup of silver, you will put in the mouth of the bag of the youngest Joseph set up a scene much like the day he was sold. Again a favored son of Rachel would be in danger, and again the brothers could walk away and save themselves. What would they do this time?
44:4 Why have you repaid evil for good They had hardly left the city, happy, with Simeon and Benjamin safe.
44:5 he surely divines by it Divination tries to learn secrets or the future through signs. Babylonian texts describe pouring oil on water in a cup and reading the shapes. God's Law forbids it (Deut 18:10-12). Did Joseph practice it? I don't believe so. Everywhere else he insists understanding comes from God (40:8; 41:16). This was his disguise, the way an Egyptian official would talk, meant to make the brothers think he could uncover anything (44:15). Some commentators think he may have adopted the custom.

Did you not know that a man who is like me surely divines?" 16 And Judah said, "What will we say to my lord? What will we speak? And how will we justify ourselves? Judah Offers Himself for Benjamin 18 And Judah drew near to him, and he said, "Please, my lord, let your servant speak, please, a word in the ears of my lord, and let not your anger burn against your servant, for you are like Pharaoh. 19 My lord asked his servants, saying, 'Do you have a father or a brother?' 20 And we said to my lord, 'We have an old father, and a young child of his old age; and his brother is dead, and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loves him.' 21 And you said to your servants, 'Bring him down to me, and let me set my eye on him.' 22 And we said to my lord, 'The young man is not able to leave his father; and if he leaves his father, then he will die.' 23 And you said to your servants, 'If your youngest brother does not come down with you, you will not again see my face.' 24 And it happened, when we went up to your servant my father, and we told him the words of my lord. 25 And our father said, 'Go back; buy a little food for us.' 26 And we said, 'We are not able to go down. 44:9 With whomever of your servants it is found, then he will die A rash vow, like Jacob's to Laban (31:32).

44:10 the one with whom it is found will be a slave to me, and you will be innocent The steward softened the terms, and that was the test. The others were free to go.
44:12 with the oldest he began, and with the youngest he finished Every sack clean, the tension growing, then the last one.
44:13 they tore their clothes, and each man loaded his donkey, and they went back to the city Jacob tore his clothes over Joseph's robe (37:34). Now the brothers tore theirs over Benjamin. And every one went back. Twenty-two years before they sold a brother and went home. This time they stood with one.
44:14 Judah and his brothers came into the house of Joseph Judah is named first. He has become their leader.
44:16 God has found the iniquity of your servants Iniquity is guilt, crooked wrongdoing. Judah knew they had not stolen the cup, but he believed God was dealing with their real sin against Joseph. "Know your sin, that it will find you" (Num 32:23). He made no excuses, did not blame Benjamin, and offered them all as slaves.
44:17 you, go up in peace to your father The heart of the test. The road home was open. All they had to do was leave Benjamin, the same choice they faced at the pit in Dothan.
44:18 for you are like Pharaoh One word from this man could end Judah's life, yet he spoke. Real courage is often quiet and humble. He did not demand or threaten. He pleaded.
44:20 his father loves him Said plainly, without bitterness. Such favoritism once filled the brothers with hatred. Now Judah simply accepted it.
44:27 You know that my wife bore two sons to me My wife meant Rachel. One sentence shows how Jacob always saw things, and how Leah's sons were not counted in his heart the same way.
44:28 Surely he has been torn, torn to pieces Judah repeats the lie they let Jacob believe. Joseph was hearing for the first time how his father grieved for him.
44:30 his soul is bound up with his soul Losing Benjamin would kill Jacob.
44:32 your servant became surety for the young man to my father Judah meant to keep his word (43:9).
44:33 please let your servant remain instead of the young man as a slave to my lord The turning point of the Joseph story. The man who sold his brother offered himself in his brother's place, giving up freedom, family and home. Many see a picture of Christ, the Lion of the tribe of Judah (Rev 5:5), who took the place of the guilty so they could go free. Judah offered to be a slave. Jesus gave His life as a ransom for many (Mark 10:45).
44:34 how will I go up to my father, and the young man is not with me Twenty-two years before they watched their father weep over Joseph's robe and said nothing. Now Judah would rather be a slave than cause that grief again.

how will I go up to my father, and the young man is not with me? Lest I see the calamity that will find my father."

Joseph Makes Himself Known

1 And Joseph (Yosef) was not able to restrain himself before all those standing by him, and he called out, "Make every man go out from me!" And no man stood with him when Joseph made himself known to his brothers. 2 And he gave his voice in weeping, and Egypt (Mitsrayim) heard, and the house of Pharaoh heard. 3 And Joseph said to his brothers, "I am Joseph. Is my father still alive?" And his brothers were not able to answer him, for they were terrified before him. 4 And Joseph said to his brothers, "Draw near to me, please." And they drew near. And he said, "I am Joseph your brother, whom you sold into Egypt. 5 And now, do not be grieved, and let it not burn in your eyes that you sold me here; because for preservation of life God sent me before you. 6 For these two years the famine has been in the midst of the land, and there are still five years in which there is neither plowing nor harvest. 7 And God sent me before you to set for you a remnant on the earth, and to keep you alive by a great deliverance. 8 And now, it was not you who sent me here, but God; and He has appointed me as a father to Pharaoh, and as lord of all his house, and ruler over all the land of Egypt. 9 Hurry and go up to my father, and you will say to him, 'Thus says your son Joseph: "God has appointed me lord of all Egypt. Come down to me; do not delay. 10 And you will dwell in the land of Goshen, and you will be near to me, you and your sons and the sons of your sons, and your flock and your herd and all that you have. 11 And I will provide for you there, for there are still five years of famine, lest you become impoverished, you and your household and all that you have."' 12 And look, your eyes are seeing, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin (Binyamin), that it is my mouth that is speaking to you. 13 And you will tell my father all my glory in Egypt and all that you have seen; and you will hurry, and you will bring my father down here." 14 And he fell on the neck of Benjamin his brother, and he wept; and Benjamin wept on his neck. 15 And he kissed all his brothers, and he wept over them; and after that his brothers spoke with him.

Pharaoh Invites Jacob to Egypt

16 And the report was heard in the house of Pharaoh, saying, "The brothers of Joseph have come." And it was good in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants. 17 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, "Say to your brothers, 'Do this: load your animals and go, come into the land of Canaan (Kena'an), 18 and take your father and your households, and come to me; and let me give you the good of the land of Egypt, and eat the fat of the land.' 19 And you, you are commanded: 'Do this: take for yourselves from the land of Egypt carts for your little ones and for your wives, and you will carry your father, and you will come. 20 And let your eye not pity your goods, for the good of all the land of Egypt, it is yours.'" 21 And the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) did so; and Joseph gave them carts at the command of Pharaoh, and he gave them provisions for 45:1 Make every man go out from me Judah's words broke through two chapters of restraint. Joseph wanted this private. The Egyptians did not need to hear what the brothers had done. He protected their shame even as he revealed himself. Love covers a multitude of sins (1 Pet 4:8).

45:2 he gave his voice in weeping, and Egypt heard Not polite tears. Twenty-two years of sorrow poured out.

45:3 I am Joseph. Is my father still alive In Hebrew now, with no interpreter. Judah had just said his father lived, but Joseph asked anyway, the cry of a son who had longed for his father.

45:3 they were terrified before him The brother they sold stood before them holding their lives in his hands. Every wrong came rushing back.

45:4 Draw near to me, please He drew them near. Then he named the sin plainly: "whom you sold into Egypt." Forgiveness does not say the wrong was not wrong. It faces it honestly and chooses not to hold it against the one who did it.

45:5 for preservation of life God sent me before you The heart of the chapter. "You sold me": their choice and sin. "God sent me": God's plan. Both are true. God was not the author of their evil, but He ruled over it to save many lives. Joseph saw that the wrong was not the final word. God was. One caution: forgiving is not the same as trusting again. Joseph revealed himself only after he saw over time that his brothers had changed. If someone has abused you, you can release them to God and still keep yourself safe. Forgiveness is yours to give. Trust must be earned.

45:6 neither plowing nor harvest Five more years of famine. Without help, this family would starve.

45:7 to set for you a remnant on the earth A remnant is a small part that survives when the rest is lost. God promised to bless the world through this family (12:3; 28:14). If they died, the promise died. God sent Joseph ahead to keep alive the line that would lead to Jesus.

45:8 it was not you who sent me here, but God The third time (45:5, 7, 8). Father to Pharaoh was a title for a chief adviser. They tried to make Joseph a slave, and God made him a ruler. This is providence, God's care and control over all things, working through ordinary events and even wicked choices. Jesus was handed over by God's plan, yet His killers were guilty (Acts 2:23).

45:10 the land of Goshen A fertile region in the eastern Nile Delta, good for flocks, near Joseph and the road to Canaan. Its exact boundaries are not known.

45:11 I will provide for you there The brother they rejected became the one who kept them alive.

45:13 you will tell my father all my glory in Egypt Not bragging. A father who grieved twenty-two years needed every detail that his son was safe and able to care for him.

45:15 after that his brothers spoke with him He kissed every one of them, the ones who threw him in the pit and sold him. They once "were not able to speak to him in peace" (37:4). Forgiveness opened a door closed for twenty-two years. Where it is safe, ask God whether it is time to open a door in your life.

45:18 eat the fat of the land The land's richest food. Pharaoh went beyond what Joseph offered.

45:20 let your eye not pity your goods Don't worry about what you leave behind. What we give up to follow God is small next to what He has prepared.

the way. 22 To all of them he gave, to each man, changes of clothes; and to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver and five changes of clothes. 23 And to his father he sent like this: ten donkeys carrying some of the good things of Egypt, and ten female donkeys carrying grain and bread and sustenance for his father for the way. 24 And he sent his brothers away, and they went; and he said to them, "Do not be stirred up on the way." 25 And they went up from Egypt, and they came to the land of Canaan, to Jacob (Ya'aqov) their father. 26 And they told him, saying, "Joseph is still alive, and indeed he is ruling over all the land of Egypt." And his heart grew numb, for he did not believe them. 27 And they spoke to him all the words of Joseph which he had spoken to them, and he saw the carts which Joseph had sent to carry him; and the spirit of Jacob their father revived. 28 And Israel said, "Enough! Joseph my son is still alive. Let me go and see him before I die."

Jacob Goes to Egypt

1 And Israel (Yisra'el) set out, and all that he had, and he came to Beersheba (Be'er-Sheva), and he sacrificed sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac (Yitschaq). 2 And God said to Israel in the visions of the night, and He said, "Jacob (Ya'aqov), Jacob." And he said, "Here I am." 3 And He said, "I am God, the God of your father. Do not be afraid of going down to Egypt (Mitsrayim), for into a great nation I will make you there. 4 I, I will go down with you to Egypt, and I, I will also surely bring you up; and Joseph (Yosef) will put his hand on your eyes." 5 And Jacob arose from Beersheba; and the sons of Israel carried Jacob their father and their little ones and their wives in the carts which Pharaoh had sent to carry him. 6 And they took their livestock and their possessions which they had acquired in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), and they came to Egypt, Jacob and all his seed with him: 7 his sons and the sons of his sons with him, his daughters and the daughters of his sons; and all his seed he brought with him to Egypt.

The Family That Went to Egypt

8 And these are the names of the sons of Israel who came to Egypt, Jacob and his sons: the firstborn of Jacob, Reuben (Reuven). 9 And the sons of Reuben: Hanoch (Chanokh) and Pallu (Palu) and Hezron (Chetsron) and Carmi (Karmi). 10 And the sons of Simeon (Shimon): Jemuel (Yemu'el) and Jamin (Yamin) and Ohad and Jachin (Yakhin) and Zohar (Tsochar) and Shaul, the son of the Canaanite woman. 11 And the sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath (Qehat), and Merari. 12 And the sons of Judah (Yehuda): Er and Onan and Shelah (Shela) and Perez (Perets) and Zerah (Zerach); and Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan. And the sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul (Chamul). 13 And the sons of Issachar (Yisashkhar): Tola and Puvah (Puva) and Yob (Yov) and Shimron. 14 And the sons of Zebulun (Zevulun): Sered and Elon and Jahleel (Yachle'el). 15 These are the sons of Leah (Le'a), whom she bore to Jacob in Paddan-aram (Padan-Aram), and Dinah (Dina) his daughter; all the souls of his sons and his daughters were thirty-three. 16 And the sons of Gad: Ziphion (Tsifyon) and Haggi (Chagi), Shuni and Ezbon (Etsbon), Eri and Arodi and Areli. 17 And the sons of Asher: Imnah (Yimna) and Ishvah (Yishva) and Ishvi (Yishvi) and

45:22 to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver and five changes of clothes They sold Joseph for twenty pieces (37:28). Garments, once the cause of jealousy (37:3-4), are now gifts.
45:24 Do not be stirred up on the way The word can mean quarrel or be troubled and afraid. Joseph knew his brothers might start blaming each other on the road. Once forgiven, they needed to live at peace.
45:26 his heart grew numb, for he did not believe them The news was too good to be true. He had grieved too long. Telling him likely meant confessing what they had done.
45:27 the spirit of Jacob their father revived The carts were the proof. The man who said he would go down to Sheol in sorrow came back to life.
45:28 Joseph my son is still alive Moses calls him Israel again (43:6), and faith rises. There is even better news: the One rejected and handed over to death is alive, and He reigns. When we believe it, our spirits come alive too.
46:1 he came to Beersheba, and he sacrificed sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac The last major stop before the desert road to Egypt, where Abraham called on the LORD (21:33) and God appeared to Isaac (26:23-25). Before leaving the promised land, Jacob worshiped. Before a big move or decision, stop and seek God.
46:2 Jacob, Jacob God had not spoken to Jacob in Genesis since chapter 35. A name said twice is a tender, urgent call, as with Abraham (22:11) and Moses (Exod 3:4).
46:3 Do not be afraid of going down to Egypt Abraham got into trouble there (12:10-20), Isaac was told not to go (26:2), and God foretold four hundred years of oppression (15:13). Leaving the land was serious. But in Canaan they were a family, and in Egypt they would grow into a nation.
46:4 I, I will go down with you to Egypt, and I, I will also surely bring you up God's presence is not tied to one place. Jacob would be buried in Canaan (50:13), his descendants would return in the exodus, and Joseph would close his eyes in death. Wherever God sends you, He goes with you (Matt 28:20).
46:6 Jacob and all his seed with him No one was left behind. At 130, Jacob left the land promised to his grandfather for a country of strange gods, because God had spoken and his son was waiting. Many scholars place this in the first half of the second millennium B.C., though the date is debated.
46:8 these are the names of the sons of Israel who came to Egypt Exodus 1:1 opens with almost the same words, tying the two books together. The list is arranged by Jacob's four wives.
46:10 the son of the Canaanite woman A reminder that some of Jacob's sons married local women.
46:11 Gershon, Kohath, and Merari The three families of the Levites. Moses and Aaron came from Kohath (Exod 6:16-20).
46:12 the sons of Perez were Hezron and Hamul Hezron is in the line that leads to David (Ruth 4:18-22) and to Jesus (Matt 1:3).
46:17 Serah their sister One of the few women named. Each name became a family, many of them clans within the tribes (Num 26). God knows His people by name.

All the souls of the house of Jacob who came to Egypt were seventy.

Jacob Meets Joseph

28 And Judah he sent before him to Joseph, to show the way before him to Goshen; and they came to the land of Goshen. 29 And Joseph harnessed his chariot, and he went up to meet Israel his father to Goshen; and he appeared to him, and he fell on his neck, and he wept on his neck a long while. 30 And Israel said to Joseph, "Let me die this time, after I have seen your face, that you are still alive." 31 And Joseph said to his brothers and to the house of his father, "I will go up and tell Pharaoh, and I will say to him, 'My brothers and the house of my father, who were in the land of Canaan, have come to me. 32 And the men are shepherds of a flock, for they have been men of livestock; and their flock and their herd and all that they have, they have brought.' 33 And it will be, when Pharaoh calls you and says, 'What are your occupations?' 34 then you will say, 'Your servants have been men of livestock from our youth and until now, both we and our fathers,' so that you may dwell in the land of Goshen; for the abomination of Egypt is every shepherd of a flock."

Jacob Before Pharaoh

1 And Joseph (Yosef) came and told Pharaoh, and he said, "My father and my brothers, and their flock and their herd and all that they have, have come from the land of Canaan (Kena'an); and look, they are in the land of Goshen." 2 And from among his brothers he took five men, and he presented them before Pharaoh. 3 And Pharaoh said to his brothers, "What are your occupations?" And they said to Pharaoh, "Your servants are shepherds of a flock, both we and our fathers." 4 And they said to Pharaoh, "To sojourn in the land we have come, for there is no pasture for the flock that your servants have, for the famine is heavy in the land of Canaan. And now, please let your servants dwell in the land of Goshen." 5 And Pharaoh said to Joseph, saying, "Your father and your brothers have come to you. 6 The land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), it is before you; in the best of the land settle your father and your brothers; let them dwell in the land of Goshen. And if you know, and there are among them men of ability, then you will appoint them chiefs of livestock over what is mine." 7 And Joseph brought Jacob (Ya'aqov) his 46:21 the sons of Benjamin Called "the boy" in chapters 43 and 44, Benjamin was a grown man with ten sons.

46:27 All the souls of the house of Jacob who came to Egypt were seventy Sixty-six direct descendants traveled, and with Jacob, Joseph and his two sons the house numbered seventy. Stephen says seventy-five (Acts 7:14), most likely quoting the Greek Old Testament, the Septuagint, which counts more of Joseph's descendants. Both are honest ways to count the same family. About seventy nations were listed in chapter 10. Seventy went down, and about four hundred years later some six hundred thousand men came out (Exod 12:37).

46:28 Judah he sent before him to Joseph The brother who led the way in selling Joseph now leads the way to him. Jacob trusted him.

46:29 he fell on his neck, and he wept on his neck a long while The ruler of Egypt did not wait at the palace. He went out to meet his father. Twenty-two years melted away.

46:30 Let me die this time He had nothing left to wish for. God gave him seventeen more years with Joseph (47:28).

46:34 for the abomination of Egypt is every shepherd of a flock Genesis does not say why. Egyptian art sometimes shows herdsmen as rough and low-class, and Egyptians were wary of foreign herders. Pharaoh himself owned flocks (47:6). Joseph turned the prejudice into protection. Apart in Goshen, the family could grow into a nation without mixing with others as they had begun to in Canaan (38). God can use even the world's prejudice to protect His people.

47:2 from among his brothers he took five men Joseph chose five brothers to stand before the king. Moses does not tell us which ones. They answered just as Joseph had coached them (46:33-34).

47:4 To sojourn in the land we have come They came to live as foreigners for a time, as Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had done. Even in Egypt this family knew it was not home. Their eyes were still on the land God promised, as those who "confessed that they are strangers and sojourners on the earth" (Heb 11:13).

47:6 in the best of the land settle your father and your brothers Pharaoh answered generously and even offered the capable brothers jobs over his own herds. God blessed this family through a pagan king's favor, keeping His word to Abraham, "I will bless those who bless you" (12:3).

47:7 Jacob blessed Pharaoh An old shepherd who came asking for food blessed the king of Egypt, a man his people thought was a god. "The lesser is blessed by the better" (Heb 7:7). In God's eyes the man who carried His covenant promise was the greater one, and a Gentile king received the blessing promised to all the families of the earth (12:3).

father and made him stand before Pharaoh; and Jacob blessed Pharaoh. 8 And Pharaoh said to Jacob, "How many are the days of the years of your life?" 9 And Jacob said to Pharaoh, "The days of the years of my sojournings are a hundred and thirty years; few and evil have been the days of the years of my life, and they have not reached the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their sojournings." 10 And Jacob blessed Pharaoh, and he went out from before Pharaoh. 11 And Joseph settled his father and his brothers, and he gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the land of Rameses (Ra'amses), as Pharaoh had commanded. 12 And Joseph provided for his father and his brothers and all the house of his father with bread, according to the mouth of the little ones.

Joseph and the Famine

13 And there was no bread in all the land, for the famine was very heavy; and the land of Egypt and the land of Canaan languished because of the famine. 14 And Joseph gathered up all the silver that was found in the land of Egypt and in the land of Canaan, for the grain which they were buying; and Joseph brought the silver into the house of Pharaoh. 15 And the silver was finished from the land of Egypt and from the land of Canaan, and all Egypt came to Joseph, saying, "Give us bread; and why should we die before you? For the silver has come to an end." 16 And Joseph said, "Give your livestock, and let me give bread to you for your livestock, if the silver has come to an end." 17 And they brought their livestock to Joseph, and Joseph gave them bread for the horses and for the livestock of the flock and for the livestock of the herd and for the donkeys; and he sustained them with bread for all their livestock in that year. 18 And that year was finished, and they came to him in the second year and said to him, "We will not hide from my lord that the silver is finished, and the livestock of the animals is my lord's; nothing is left before my lord except our bodies and our ground. 19 Why should we die before your eyes, both we and our ground? Buy us and our ground for bread, and we and our ground will be slaves to Pharaoh; and give seed, and we will live and not die, and the ground will not be desolate." 20 And Joseph bought all the ground of Egypt for Pharaoh, for Egypt sold each man his field, for the famine was severe upon them; and the land became Pharaoh's. 21 And the people, he moved them to the cities, from the end of the border of Egypt even to its end. 22 Only the ground of the priests he did not buy, for the priests had an allotment from Pharaoh, and they ate their allotment which Pharaoh gave them; therefore they did not sell their ground. 23 And Joseph said to the people, "Look, I have bought you today, and your ground, for Pharaoh. Look, here is seed for you, and you will sow the ground. 24 And it will be at the harvests that you will give a fifth to Pharaoh, and four parts will be yours, for seed of the field and for your food and for those who are in your households, and to eat for your little ones." 25 And they said, "You have kept us alive; may we find favor in the eyes of my lord, and we will be slaves to Pharaoh." 26 And Joseph set it as a statute until this day over the ground of Egypt: to Pharaoh belongs the fifth; only the ground of the priests by themselves did not become Pharaoh's.

Jacob's Request

47:9 few and evil have been the days of the years of my life Abraham lived to 175 (25:7) and Isaac to 180 (35:28). Jacob felt his 130 years had been short and hard, and much of the trouble was his own doing: deceit, flight, Laban, the loss of Rachel, the grief over Joseph. He called his whole life his "sojournings," a pilgrimage. Yet God had been faithful through it all.
47:11 in the land of Rameses Another name for Goshen or part of it. Rameses is best known from the store city of Exodus 1:11, linked with the kings named Ramesses in the 1200s B.C. Those who date the exodus to the 1400s B.C. see a later scribe updating an old place name, as 14:14 uses Dan for Laish. Those who date it to the 1200s see the name of Moses' own day.
47:12 according to the mouth of the little ones Joseph made sure every household got enough, down to the smallest child. The dream had come true, and Joseph used his power to serve his family, not to lord it over them.
47:14 Joseph brought the silver into the house of Pharaoh The grain money all went to the king. Joseph was an honest manager and kept none of it for himself.
47:16 Give your livestock When the silver ran out, the people traded their animals for grain. In a famine they could not have fed the animals anyway. Horses appear here for the first time in Genesis. Joseph kept the people alive another year.
47:19 Buy us and our ground for bread The people made the offer themselves. They seem to have become tenant farmers working the king's land and paying him a share. That was probably closer to tenant farming than to the brutal slavery Israel would later suffer, though it still cost them their freedom and their land.
47:21 he moved them to the cities Perhaps to bring the people near the grain stores (41:48). Some ancient copies read instead that he made the people servants. Some readers find Joseph's policy harsh, since it made Pharaoh far more powerful and may have laid the groundwork for later oppression. Genesis tells what Joseph did without praising or blaming it. What is clear is that the people lived.
47:22 Only the ground of the priests he did not buy The priests lived on a regular allowance from Pharaoh, so they never had to sell.
47:24 a fifth to Pharaoh The same twenty percent Joseph collected in the years of plenty (41:34). For ancient times that was likely a moderate share. The old Babylonian laws of Hammurabi, for example, speak of fields rented out for a half or a third of the harvest.
47:25 You have kept us alive The people did not see Joseph as a tyrant. They saw the man who saved their lives. "Until this day" in the next verse means the rule of the fifth was still in force when Moses wrote.
47:27 they were fruitful and multiplied exceedingly A contrast: Egypt lost its land to Pharaoh, but Israel gained possessions. These words echo God's first blessing, "Be fruitful and multiply" (1:28), and His promise at Bethel (35:11). Exodus 1:7 picks them up again. In a foreign land and a famine, God was growing His people.
47:28 seventeen years Jacob cared for Joseph for the first seventeen years of Joseph's life (37:2). Now Joseph cared for him for the last seventeen years of his. God gave back to Jacob what he thought he had lost.

land of Egypt seventeen years; and the days of Jacob, the years of his life, were a hundred and forty-seven years. 29 And the days of Israel drew near to die, and he called his son Joseph, and he said to him, "Please, if I have found favor in your eyes, please put your hand under my thigh, and deal with me in steadfast love and faithfulness: please do not bury me in Egypt. 30 And I will lie down with my fathers, and you will carry me from Egypt and bury me in their grave." And he said, "I, I will do according to your word." 31 And he said, "Swear to me." And he swore to him. And Israel bowed down on the head of the bed.

Jacob Adopts Ephraim and Manasseh

1 And it happened after these things, and one said to Joseph (Yosef), "Look, your father is sick." And he took his two sons with him, Manasseh (Menashe) and Ephraim (Efrayim).
2 And one told Jacob (Ya'aqov), and said, "Look, your son Joseph is coming to you." And Israel (Yisra'el) strengthened himself and sat on the bed. 3 And Jacob said to Joseph, "God Almighty appeared to me at Luz in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), and He blessed me, 4 and He said to me, 'Look, I am making you fruitful, and I will multiply you, and I will make you into an assembly of peoples, and I will give this land to your seed after you as an everlasting possession.' 5 And now, your two sons who were born to you in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) before I came to you to Egypt, they are mine; Ephraim and Manasseh, like Reuben (Reuven) and Simeon (Shimon), they will be mine. 6 And your offspring whom you have fathered after them will be yours; by the name of their brothers they will be called in their inheritance. 7 And I, when I came from Paddan (Padan), Rachel died beside me in the land of Canaan on the way, when there was still a stretch of land to go to Ephrath (Efrata); and I buried her there on the way of Ephrath, that is Bethlehem (Bet-Lechem)."

47:29 please do not bury me in Egypt Jacob asked for the same solemn oath Abraham asked of his servant, the hand under the thigh (24:2). He wanted to lie with his fathers in Canaan, the land God promised his descendants forever (48:4). Egypt was a place to live for a while. Canaan was home. His burial would be a statement of faith in God's promise.
47:31 Israel bowed down on the head of the bed He "worshiped leaning on the top of his staff" (Heb 11:21). Hebrews follows the Greek translation, which reads the Hebrew word as staff instead of bed. The Hebrew letters are the same; only the vowels differ. Either way, an old man near death bowed to worship God.
48:1 he took his two sons with him, Manasseh and Ephraim The boys were born before the famine (41:50), so they were probably about twenty or a little older by now.
48:2 Israel strengthened himself and sat on the bed Watch the names in these chapters. Jacob is the man, weak and dying. Israel is the bearer of God's covenant, and in that role he still had something powerful to give. He gathered his strength to pass on the blessing well.
48:3 God Almighty appeared to me at Luz Jacob began with God, not with himself. Luz was the old name for Bethel, where God met him in the dream of the ladder (28:19) and again on his return (35:6-12).
48:4 an everlasting possession God gave the land as part of His unconditional covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (15:18-21; 17:8). Everlasting means just that. I believe the promise still stands and God still has a future for Israel (Rom 11:28-29).
48:5 Ephraim and Manasseh, like Reuben and Simeon, they will be mine Jacob adopted Joseph's two sons as his own, each to head a tribe. That gave Joseph the double share of the firstborn (Deut 21:17), which Reuben lost by sleeping with his father's concubine (35:22; 49:4). First Chronicles 5:1-2 says this plainly.
48:6 by the name of their brothers they will be called in their inheritance Any later sons of Joseph would be counted under Ephraim and Manasseh. That is why later tribal lists sometimes include Ephraim and Manasseh and leave out Levi, who received no land, or list Joseph in place of his sons.
48:7 Rachel died beside me Rachel was never far from Jacob's heart. She was Joseph's mother and died young. By adopting her grandsons, Jacob in a way gave her more sons; through Joseph she became the mother of three tribes. Bethlehem is a quiet name in Genesis, but David would be born there, and so would Jesus (Mic 5:2; Matt 2:1).
48:10 the eyes of Israel were heavy from old age Jacob once deceived his own blind father to steal the blessing (27:1-29). Now he was the blind father giving the blessing.
48:11 God has shown me also your seed Jacob thought he would never see Joseph again. God gave him back his son and his grandsons too. God often gives more than we dare to ask (Eph 3:20).
48:14 he crossed his hands Joseph placed Manasseh, the firstborn, at Jacob's right hand, the place of greater honor. Jacob crossed his hands on purpose. All through Genesis God chooses the younger: Abel over Cain, Isaac over Ishmael, Jacob over Esau, Judah and Joseph over Reuben, Perez over Zerah. His blessings come by grace, not by birth order, and He loves to lift up those the world passes over (1 Cor 1:27-29).
48:15 the God who has shepherded me all my life until this day Jacob described God three ways. He is the covenant God of Abraham and Isaac. He is a shepherd, and Jacob the shepherd knew what that meant: God had led, fed and protected him, even through his worst years. This is the first time the Bible calls God a shepherd, long before Psalm 23.

life until this day, 16 the angel who has redeemed me from all evil, may He bless the young men; and may my name be called on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and may they teem into a multitude in the midst of the earth." 17 And Joseph saw that his father was putting his right hand on the head of Ephraim, and it was displeasing in his eyes; and he grasped the hand of his father to remove it from the head of Ephraim to the head of Manasseh. 18 And Joseph said to his father, "Not so, my father, for this is the firstborn; put your right hand on his head." 19 And his father refused, and he said, "I know, my son, I know; he also will become a people, and he also will become great; and yet his younger brother will become greater than he, and his seed will become the fullness of the nations." 20 And he blessed them on that day, saying, "By you Israel will bless, saying, 'May God make you like Ephraim and like Manasseh.'" And he put Ephraim before Manasseh. 21 And Israel said to Joseph, "Look, I am dying; and God will be with you, and He will bring you back to the land of your fathers. 22 And I, I give to you one ridge above your brothers, which I took from the hand of the Amorites with my sword and with my bow."

Jacob Blesses His Sons

1 And Jacob (Ya'aqov) called to his sons, and he said, "Gather yourselves, and let me tell you what will happen to you at the end of the days. 2 Assemble yourselves and listen, sons of Jacob, and listen to Israel (Yisra'el) your father. 3 Reuben (Reuven), you are my firstborn, my strength and the beginning of my vigor, preeminence of dignity and preeminence of power. 4 Reckless as water, you will not have preeminence, for you went up onto the beds of your father; then you profaned it: he went up onto my couch! 5 Simeon (Shimon) and Levi are brothers; weapons of violence are their swords. 6 Into their council let my soul not enter; with their assembly let my glory not be united; for in their anger they killed a man, and in their self-will they hamstrung an ox. 7 Cursed be their anger, for it is fierce, and their wrath, for it is harsh. I will divide them in Jacob, and I will scatter them in Israel. 8 Judah (Yehuda), you, your brothers will praise you; your hand will be on the neck of your enemies; the sons of your father will bow down to you. 9 Judah is a lion's cub; from the prey, my son, you have gone up. He bows down, he lies down

48:16 the angel who has redeemed me from all evil To redeem means to rescue or buy back. Jacob set this angel beside God as the one who blesses. Many believe this was the angel of the LORD (see 16:7), the One who wrestled with Jacob and whom Jacob said was God (32:24-30). The Hebrew verb "bless" is singular, as if God and the angel were one, though that point is debated. Ephraim later grew so great that the northern kingdom was sometimes called by its name (Hos 11:8).
48:17 it was displeasing in his eyes Joseph had his own idea of how the blessing should go. God had other plans. Our part is to trust God's choices, even when they surprise us.
48:19 I know, my son, I know A gentle answer. Jacob was blind in his eyes but not in his spirit. It came true. Ephraim outnumbered Manasseh in the first wilderness census (Num 1:32-35), though the numbers reversed by the second (Num 26:34, 37). Joshua came from Ephraim (Num 13:8), and Ephraim became the leading tribe of the north.
48:20 May God make you like Ephraim and like Manasseh Jewish fathers have blessed their sons with these words for generations, and many families still do on the Sabbath. Perhaps it is because the two were born in a foreign land and stayed faithful to their fathers' God, or because they were brothers, one placed above the other, who never became rivals.
48:21 He will bring you back to the land of your fathers Jacob was dying, but God was not. His hope rested on God's promise to bring His people home.
48:22 one ridge above your brothers The Hebrew word for ridge is shechem, also the name of the town where Jacob bought land (33:19) and where Joseph's bones would be buried (Josh 24:32). Genesis records no battle where Jacob took land "with my sword and with my bow," unless he means his sons' attack on Shechem (34:25-29), which he condemned. We are not told more.
49:1 what will happen to you at the end of the days The phrase can mean the future in general, and in the Old Testament it often points toward the last days and the Messiah. Jacob's words came true in stages, first in the history of the tribes and finally in Christ. I believe their full hope will be completed when Jesus returns to reign. The passage gives no timetable, and I don't try to build one from it.
49:2 listen to Israel your father Jacob speaks as a father and as the bearer of God's covenant. This is poetry, and it is prophecy.
49:4 Reckless as water, you will not have preeminence Water that boils over or floods is wild and unstable, and Reuben acted on impulse. He slept with Bilhah years before (35:22). Jacob said nothing then; now he spoke. The double portion went to Joseph (48:5; 1 Chr 5:1-2) and leadership to Judah. No judge, prophet or king ever came from Reuben. Sin we think is forgotten can shape our future, yet Reuben remained a tribe, named in Revelation 7:5.
49:5 weapons of violence are their swords Jacob was remembering Shechem, where Simeon and Levi killed all the men of the city to avenge Dinah (34:25-30).
49:6 they hamstrung an ox To hamstring an ox was to cut its leg tendons so it could not walk. It was senseless cruelty, and Jacob wanted no part in their plans.
49:7 I will divide them in Jacob, and I will scatter them in Israel Jacob cursed their anger, not his sons. Both tribes were scattered, but differently. Simeon's land lay inside Judah's (Josh 19:1-9), and the tribe faded. Levi received only cities spread through Israel (Josh 21). But when Israel worshiped the golden calf, the Levites stood with the LORD (Exod 32:26-29) and became the priestly tribe, putting teachers of God's Law in every part of the land. By grace, the same judgment became a blessing.
49:8 Judah, you, your brothers will praise you The name Judah sounds like the Hebrew word for praise (29:35). His brothers would "bow down" to him, echoing Isaac's blessing on Jacob (27:29). Judah was not the obvious choice. He suggested selling Joseph and sinned with Tamar. But he changed, and offered his own life for Benjamin (44:33). God chose the repentant Judah to lead.
49:9 Judah is a lion's cub The lion pictures strength, courage and royalty. No one would dare disturb him. The lion became the symbol of the tribe of Judah.

like a lion, and like a lioness; who will rouse him? 10 The scepter will not depart from Judah, and the ruler's staff from between his feet, until Shiloh (Shilo) comes, and to him will be the obedience of peoples. 11 Binding his donkey to the vine, and the son of his female donkey to the choice vine, he has washed his clothing in wine, and his robe in the blood of grapes. 12 Dark of eyes from wine, and white of teeth from milk.

Zebulun to Benjamin

13 Zebulun (Zevulun) will dwell at the shore of the seas, and he will be a shore for ships, and his flank will be toward Sidon (Tsidon). 14 Issachar (Yisashkhar) is a strong-boned donkey, lying down between the sheepfolds. 15 And he saw a resting place, that it was good, and the land, that it was pleasant; and he bent his shoulder to bear, and he became a worker at forced labor. 16 Dan will judge his people as one of the tribes of Israel. 17 Let Dan be a serpent on the way, a horned viper on the path, that bites the heels of the horse, and its rider falls backward. 18 For Your salvation I have waited, O LORD. 19 Gad, a raiding band will raid him, and he will raid at their heel. 20 From Asher, his bread will be rich, and he will give delicacies of a king. 21 Naphtali (Naftali) is a doe let loose, the one who gives words of beauty. 22 Joseph (Yosef) is a son of a fruitful one, a son of a fruitful one by a spring; daughters step over a wall. 23 And they embittered him, and they shot, and the masters of arrows bore a grudge against him. 24 And his bow remained firm, and the arms of his hands were agile, from the hands of the Mighty One of Jacob, from there is the Shepherd, the Stone of Israel, 25 from the God of your father, and He will help you, and by the Almighty, and He will bless you with blessings of the heavens from above, blessings of the deep that lies beneath, blessings of the breasts and of the womb. 26 The blessings of your father have prevailed above the blessings of my progenitors, up to the boundary of the everlasting hills; may they be on the head of Joseph, and on the crown of the head of the one set apart from his brothers. 27 Benjamin (Binyamin) is a wolf; he tears; in the morning he will eat the prey, and at evening he will divide the spoil."

49:10 The scepter will not depart from Judah The verse the whole chapter builds toward. A scepter is a king's rod of authority, and kingship would belong to Judah, fulfilled in David and his line. Shiloh is hard to translate. Many read it as until he comes to whom it belongs; others take it as a title meaning something like the peaceful one. Either way, Jews and Christians have long seen the Messiah here. Jesus "has sprung out of Judah" (Heb 7:14) and is "the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5). The obedience of peoples means all nations will one day bow to Him.
49:11 his robe in the blood of grapes A picture of overflowing plenty: vines so many a man ties his donkey to one, wine so common he could wash his clothes in it. It fits the vineyards of Judah's hill country around Hebron and Bethlehem. Many also see the blessings of the Messiah's kingdom, as the prophets pictured (Amos 9:13). Some notice Jesus' ride on a donkey's colt (Matt 21:1-7) and the cup of the Lord's Supper, but the New Testament does not link them to this verse, so I offer them only as pictures some see.
49:13 Zebulun will dwell at the shore of the seas Zebulun's land lay in Galilee between the Sea of Galilee and the Mediterranean (Josh 19:10-16). Joshua does not show it touching the sea itself, so many think it means Zebulun would be near the coast and profit from the sea trade. Jesus spent much of His ministry in Zebulun's region, as Isaiah foretold (Matt 4:13-16).
49:15 he became a worker at forced labor Issachar received good farmland in the Jezreel Valley, and loving its comfort, the tribe would rather serve others than fight for freedom. Comfort can make us give up what God has given just to keep the peace. Still, in David's day Issachar's men had "understanding of the times, to know what Israel should do" (1 Chr 12:32).
49:16 Dan will judge his people Dan means judge. Though the son of a maid, he would be a full tribe with his own leaders. Samson came from Dan (Judg 13:2).
49:17 Let Dan be a serpent on the way A small snake can bring down horse and rider. Dan would win by cunning, not strength. The picture has a darker side: Dan set up its own idol shrine (Judg 18:30-31), and one of Jeroboam's golden calves stood at Dan (1 Kgs 12:28-30). Dan is also missing from the tribes in Revelation 7:5-8. We aren't told why, and we should not say more than Scripture does.
49:18 For Your salvation I have waited, O LORD In the middle of the blessings Jacob suddenly prays, perhaps after picturing Dan's failure. Whatever his sons did, his hope rested on the LORD. This is the first time the word salvation appears in the Bible. Believers still wait for the full salvation Jesus will bring when He returns (Rom 8:23; Heb 9:28).
49:19 Gad, a raiding band will raid him Gad's name sounds like the Hebrew word for raid. Gad settled east of the Jordan, open to desert raiders, but its men were known as fighters (1 Chr 12:8).
49:20 he will give delicacies of a king Asher, whose name means happy (30:13), received fertile land on the northern coast, producing food fit for a king.
49:21 Naphtali is a doe let loose A doe is quick and free. Some think the words of beauty point to the song of Deborah and Barak (Judg 5:1), since Barak was from Naphtali (Judg 4:6).
49:22 Joseph is a son of a fruitful one The picture is a fruitful tree by a spring, never drying up, like the righteous man who is "like a tree planted by streams of water" (Ps 1:3). The daughters stepping over the wall are its branches. Joseph's life spread blessing beyond his family to Egypt and the whole region, and through his sons he became two great tribes.
49:23 the masters of arrows bore a grudge against him Joseph was hated, sold, falsely accused and forgotten in prison. People shot at him with arrows of hatred and lies.
49:24 from the hands of the Mighty One of Jacob Joseph did not break, because God held his arms steady. Jacob gives God three names: the Mighty One of Jacob, the Shepherd (48:15), and the Stone of Israel, a rock that never moves. Later Scripture calls God the Rock again and again (Deut 32:4), and the New Testament calls Jesus the chief cornerstone (Eph 2:20). When people attack you, your strength can come from the same Mighty One.
49:26 the one set apart from his brothers Jacob piled up blessings from above and below: rain and sun, springs and wells, children and healthy flocks. The Hebrew word for set apart can also mean a prince. Joseph had been separated from his brothers for years. Now he was set apart for honor.
49:27 Benjamin is a wolf The baby of the family is pictured as a fierce hunter. Benjamin was known for its fighters: Ehud (Judg 3:15) and King Saul (1 Sam 9:1-2) came from it. Its fierceness had a dark side too (Judg 19-21). And Paul, who once hunted Christians and became the great missionary to the Gentiles, was a Benjamite (Rom 11:1).

28 All these are the twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father spoke to them; and he blessed them, each one according to his blessing he blessed them.

The Death of Jacob

29 And he commanded them, and he said to them, "I am about to be gathered to my people. Bury me with my fathers in the cave that is in the field of Ephron (Efron) the Hittite, 30 in the cave that is in the field of Machpelah (Makhpela), which is facing Mamre, in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), which Abraham (Avraham) bought with the field from Ephron the Hittite as a possession of a burial site. 31 There they buried Abraham and Sarah (Sara) his wife; there they buried Isaac (Yitschaq) and Rebekah (Rivqa) his wife; and there I buried Leah (Le'a): 32 the purchase of the field and the cave that is in it was from the sons of Heth (Chet)." 33 And Jacob finished commanding his sons, and he gathered his feet into the bed, and he breathed his last, and he was gathered to his peoples.

Jacob Buried in Canaan

1 And Joseph (Yosef) fell on the face of his father, and he wept over him, and he kissed him. 2 And Joseph commanded his servants, the physicians, to embalm his father; and the physicians embalmed Israel (Yisra'el). 3 And forty days were completed for him, for thus the days of the embalming are completed; and Egypt (Mitsrayim) wept for him seventy days. 4 And the days of his weeping passed, and Joseph spoke to the household of Pharaoh, saying, "If, please, I have found favor in your eyes, please speak in the ears of Pharaoh, saying, 5 'My father made me swear, saying, "Look, I am about to die; in my grave which I dug for myself in the land of Canaan (Kena'an), there you shall bury me." And now, please let me go up and bury my father, and I will return.'" 6 And Pharaoh said, "Go up and bury your father, just as he made you swear." 7 And Joseph went up to bury his father, and with him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his household, and all the elders of the land of Egypt, 8 and all the household of Joseph, and his brothers, and the household of his father; only their little ones and their flocks and their herds they left in the land of Goshen. 9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen, and the camp was very great. 10 And they came to the threshing floor of Atad, which is beyond the Jordan (Yarden), and they lamented there with a great and very heavy lamentation; and he made for his father a mourning of seven days. 11 And the inhabitant of the land, the Canaanite, saw the mourning at the threshing floor of Atad, and they said, "This is a heavy mourning for Egypt." Therefore one called its name Abel-mizraim (Avel-Mitsrayim), which is beyond the Jordan. 12 And his sons did for him thus, just as he had commanded them. 13 And his sons carried him to the land of Canaan, and they buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah (Makhpela), which Abraham (Avraham) had bought with the field for a possession of a burial site from Ephron (Efron) the Hittite, in front of Mamre. 14 And Joseph returned to Egypt, he and his brothers and all who had gone up with him to bury his father, after he had buried his father.

49:28 All these are the twelve tribes of Israel The first time the Bible calls them the twelve tribes. Jacob's sons were becoming a nation. Some words were hard to hear, but each son got what God intended, and even the warnings told the truth and kept them in God's family.
49:29 I am about to be gathered to my people As at 25:8, the phrase speaks of life beyond death. Jacob expected to be with his fathers.
49:31 there I buried Leah Leah, the wife Jacob loved less, would lie beside him forever, while Rachel lay near Bethlehem (35:19). The cave was the first piece of the Promised Land the family ever owned, bought at full price (23:16). By being buried there, Jacob declared that God's promise of the land was true.
49:33 he breathed his last, and he was gathered to his peoples A quiet, peaceful death after a life of struggle. Jacob deceived and was deceived, wrestled with God and grieved deeply. But he ended well, blessing his children, worshiping God (Heb 11:21) and trusting God's promises. None of us chooses the story of our life from the beginning, but by God's grace we can finish well.
50:1 Joseph fell on the face of his father, and he wept over him God promised that "Joseph will put his hand on your eyes" (46:4), and He kept it exactly. The most powerful man in Egypt grieved openly. Believers do not grieve "just as also the rest who have no hope" (1 Thess 4:13), but we do grieve. Tears at a graveside are not a lack of faith. They are love.
50:2 the physicians embalmed Israel Egyptians dried and preserved bodies with natron, a natural salt, along with oils and resins. Jacob's body had a long journey ahead. Scripture records the embalming of only Jacob and Joseph (50:26). It was not an Israelite custom, and nothing suggests Joseph shared Egyptian beliefs about the afterlife.
50:3 Egypt wept for him seventy days The Greek historian Herodotus says Egyptian embalming could take seventy days, and Diodorus says Egypt mourned a king for seventy-two. Jacob was honored almost like royalty as the father of the man who saved Egypt.
50:4 Joseph spoke to the household of Pharaoh He may have gone through the household because a man in mourning did not properly come into Pharaoh's presence.
50:5 I will return Joseph kept his word to his father and his word to Pharaoh. A man of integrity keeps his word to everyone.
50:9 the camp was very great The leaders of Egypt traveled to Canaan to bury a Hebrew shepherd. The family that came hungry was now honored by the whole nation. Centuries later Israel would leave Egypt again with all its flocks and herds, never to return (Exod 12:31-38). This journey was a small preview.
50:10 the threshing floor of Atad, which is beyond the Jordan A threshing floor was a flat, open place for separating grain from husks. "Beyond the Jordan" is hard to place. We aren't told whether the procession took a longer route around the Dead Sea or whether the phrase is used from a different point of view.
50:11 Abel-mizraim The name means mourning of Egypt, or meadow of Egypt. The Canaanites marked the place by the grief they saw.
50:13 they buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah Jacob was laid with Abraham, Sarah, Isaac, Rebekah and Leah (23:17-20). The family returned to Egypt for many years, but the bones in Machpelah testified that the land was theirs by God's promise and they would come back.

God Planned It for Good

15 And the brothers of Joseph saw that their father had died, and they said, "What if Joseph bears a grudge against us, and he certainly repays us all the evil which we dealt out to him?" 16 And they commanded a message to Joseph, saying, "Your father commanded before his death, saying, 17 'Thus you shall say to Joseph: "We beg you, please forgive the transgression of your brothers and their sin, for they dealt out evil to you."' And now, please forgive the transgression of the servants of the God of your father." And Joseph wept when they spoke to him. 18 And his brothers also went and fell before him, and they said, "Look, we are to you as slaves." 19 And Joseph said to them, "Do not fear, for am I in the place of God? 20 And you, you planned evil against me; God planned it for good, so as to do as it is this day, to keep alive a numerous people. 21 And now, do not fear; I will provide for you and your little ones." And he comforted them, and he spoke to their heart.

The Death of Joseph

22 And Joseph remained in Egypt, he and the household of his father; and Joseph lived one hundred and ten years. 23 And Joseph saw sons of the third generation of Ephraim (Efrayim); also the sons of Machir (Makhir), the son of Manasseh (Menashe), were born on the knees of Joseph. 24 And Joseph said to his brothers, "I am about to die, and God will certainly visit you, and He will bring you up from this land to the land which He swore to Abraham, to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov)." 25 And Joseph made the sons of Israel swear, saying, "God will certainly visit you, and you shall bring up my bones from here." 26 And Joseph died, a son of one hundred and ten years; and they embalmed him, and he was put in the coffin in Egypt.

50:15 What if Joseph bears a grudge against us Seventeen years after Joseph forgave and kissed them (45:15), and fed their families all that time, they still feared he was waiting for their father to die. Guilt is hard to let go. Many believers live this way, waiting for God to punish what He has forgiven. In Christ there is "no condemnation" (Rom 8:1).
50:17 please forgive the transgression of your brothers and their sin Scripture never records Jacob giving this instruction. Maybe he did; maybe the brothers made it up out of fear. Either way they finally asked plainly, calling it transgression and sin. Joseph wept, perhaps hurt that they still doubted his love, perhaps moved to hear the words at last. Love that is doubted still hurts.
50:18 Look, we are to you as slaves One last time Joseph's dreams came true (37:7-10). The brothers who mocked the idea that he would rule over them now offered themselves as his slaves.
50:19 am I in the place of God Joseph refused to play God. Judgment and revenge belong to God, "not avenging yourselves, beloved, but give place to the wrath" (Rom 12:19). Trusting God to be the Judge freed Joseph to be a brother.
50:20 you planned evil against me; God planned it for good The key verse of Joseph's story. The brothers were guilty, and Joseph does not pretend otherwise. But the same pit and prison had two purposes. God did not cause their sin. He ruled over it and turned it to save lives, even theirs. This is His providence. "To those who love God all things work together for good" (Rom 8:28) does not mean all things are good, but that God brings good out of them. The greatest example is the cross (Acts 2:23; 4:27-28), and many see Joseph as a picture of Christ, rejected by his brothers and then their savior.
50:21 he comforted them, and he spoke to their heart Joseph promised to keep caring for them and their children, and he reassured them again and again. Real forgiveness is more than words. Where it is safe and the other person has truly changed, it shows itself in kindness over time.
50:22 Joseph lived one hundred and ten years Egyptian writings sometimes speak of 110 years as an ideal life. One Egyptian tale describes the wise man Djedi as 110 years old.
50:23 born on the knees of Joseph This probably means Joseph welcomed Machir's sons as his own family, possibly a kind of adoption, as Jacob did with Joseph's sons (48:12). Joseph lost his childhood home, and God gave him a house full of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.
50:24 God will certainly visit you Joseph lived in Egypt over ninety years, with an Egyptian name, wife and office, yet his heart was never there. His hope rested on God's promise to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. To visit means God would come and act for them. Joseph knew hard times were coming. He also knew God would come.
50:25 you shall bring up my bones from here Joseph asked to go with his people when God brought them out. Hebrews 11:22 calls this an act of faith. Moses carried the bones out of Egypt (Exod 13:19), Israel bore them through the wilderness, and they were buried at Shechem in the land Jacob bought (Josh 24:32), a standing reminder that God keeps His promises.
50:26 he was put in the coffin in Egypt Genesis begins "In the beginning God created" (1:1) and ends with a coffin in Egypt. Sin brought death in chapter 3. But this coffin is a promise waiting to be kept. God would visit His people and bring them out, and one day He would send the true Deliverer from Judah, who would not stay in His tomb. Jesus rose and broke the power of death forever. Like Joseph, we wait for God to finish what He started.

EXODUS

Introduction

Title

Exodus is the second book of the Bible and the second of the five books of Moses, often called the Law or the Torah. The name Exodus comes from a Greek word meaning going out or departure. The Hebrew title comes from the book's first words, "And these are the names" (1:1), and is often shortened to Shemot, which means names. The book begins with a list of the names of Jacob's sons who came down to Egypt, and so it picks up right where Genesis ends.

Author and Date

Jewish and Christian tradition have long held that Moses wrote Exodus, along with the other books of the Law. The book itself says Moses wrote down God's words and the events he saw (17:14; 24:4; 34:27), and Jesus quoted Exodus as "the book of Moses" (Mark 12:26). Moses was present for nearly everything after chapter 2, and he was raised in Pharaoh's court, where he would have learned to read and write (Acts 7:22). Many modern scholars believe the books of the Law were put together from several sources long after Moses. I take the book at its word and hold that Moses wrote it, with perhaps a few later notes, such as updated place names, added by scribes. He wrote during Israel's forty years in the wilderness, about 1445 to 1405 B.C.

Background and Setting

Genesis ends with Jacob's family in Egypt and Joseph in a coffin. Exodus opens about four hundred years later, when that family has become a great nation of slaves. First Kings 6:1 says Solomon began building the temple in the 480th year after Israel came out of Egypt. That places the exodus about 1446 B.C., and these notes follow that date. Moses was eighty years old at the time (7:7), so he was born about 1526 B.C. Some scholars place the exodus in the 1200s B.C., in the days of Ramesses II, mostly because of the city named Rameses (1:11), but that may be a later name for the place. Exodus does not name the Pharaohs of the oppression or of the exodus, and I won't try to name them.

The book covers about four hundred years quickly and then about one year in great detail, from the exodus to the day the tabernacle was set up (40:17). The story moves from Goshen in the eastern Nile delta, where Israel lived as slaves, to Midian in the desert, back to Egypt, across the sea, and through the wilderness to Mount Sinai, also called Horeb. Israel reaches Sinai in chapter 19 and is still camped there when the book ends.

Exodus is history, written as history. The psalmists and prophets look back to it again and again (Ps 78; 106; Hos 11:1). Jesus spoke of Moses, the burning bush and the manna as real (Mark 12:26; John 6:31-32), and Paul says these things happened to Israel "as examples" (1 Cor 10:11) for us. In the SLB, "the LORD" in capital letters stands for God's personal name, YHWH, which He made known to Moses at the burning bush (3:14-15).

Themes

The theme of Exodus is redemption that leads to a relationship. God brings His people out of slavery so that they can belong to Him and so that He can live among them: "I will dwell in the midst of the sons of Israel, and I will be God for them" (29:45).

The book falls into two halves. In chapters 1 to 18 God saves Israel. He hears their cry and remembers His covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (2:24). He reveals His name, "I AM WHO I AM" (3:14), judges Egypt and its gods with ten plagues, spares Israel by the blood of the Passover lamb ("I will see the blood, and I will pass over you," 12:13), and brings them through the sea. In chapters 19 to 40 God makes Israel His own people. At Sinai He calls them to be "a kingdom of priests and a holy nation" (19:6), gives them His Law, and tells them to build the tabernacle so He can dwell among them.

The order matters. The Ten Commandments begin, "I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt" (20:2). The Law was given to a people God had already saved. It was never the way to be saved; it was God's way for a saved people to live.

Exodus also shows God's mercy toward sinners. Weeks after promising to obey, Israel worshiped a golden calf. Moses pleaded for them, and God renewed the covenant and proclaimed His name: "The LORD, the LORD, a God compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and great in steadfast love and faithfulness" (34:6). The book ends with the glory of the LORD filling the tabernacle (40:34).

Christ in Exodus

The New Testament itself makes many of the links. Christ is "our Passover" (1 Cor 5:7), the Lamb without blemish whose blood shields us from judgment, and not a bone of His was broken (12:46; John 19:36). Jesus called Himself the true bread from heaven, of which the manna was only a picture (John 6:32-35). Paul says of the rock that gave Israel water, "the rock was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4). John says the Word "dwelt among us" (John 1:14), and the word means He pitched His tent, as God lived among Israel in the tabernacle. Hebrews 8 to 10 shows that the tabernacle, the priesthood and the sacrifices were copies and shadows of Christ, our great High Priest, who opened the way to God "through the veil, that is, His flesh" (Heb 10:20). Jesus took the name from the burning bush for Himself: "before Abraham came into being, I am" (John 8:58). On the mountain of transfiguration Moses and Elijah spoke with Him of His departure (Luke 9:31), His own exodus, by which His death and resurrection set His people free from sin and death.

Hard Passages

Who hardened Pharaoh's heart (4:21)? Exodus says both that Pharaoh hardened his own heart and that God hardened it. The notes explain the hardening as God confirming Pharaoh's chosen pride, and they name the view that puts more weight on God's sovereign purpose (Rom 9:17-18).

Why did God strike Egypt with plagues and take the firstborn (11:5; 12:29)? These were warned judgments on a nation that enslaved Israel and drowned its baby boys (1:22), given by the God who alone gives and takes life, and every plague came with time to repent. A way of escape was open to anyone under the blood. The drowning of Pharaoh's army (14:28) is treated the same way. I believe little children who die are safe with God.

How many left Egypt (12:37)? The notes take the six hundred thousand men as written and name the view that reads the word thousand as a clan or unit. The 430 years of 12:40 are counted two ways, and the notes give both. The place of the sea crossing is left open.

What of the laws on servants, injuries and the death penalty (21 and 22)? The notes explain Hebrew servants as limited debt service, not race-based slavery, and stress the protections the Law gave. The death penalties were for Israel's courts under God's direct rule, not a pattern for the church. At 21:22 both readings of the injured pregnant woman are given, and the life of the unborn is affirmed.

What of the Levites' judgment after the golden calf (32:25-29) and the commands about Amalek and the Canaanites (17:14; 23:23; 34:13-16)? These are handled as God's judgment after long patience, given to Israel for that time, and never a pattern for believers today, for "our wrestling is not against blood and flesh" (Eph 6:12).

Israel Multiplies in Egypt

1 And these are the names of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) who came to Egypt (Mitsrayim) with Jacob (Ya'aqov); each man and his household came: 2 Reuben (Reuven), Simeon (Shimon), Levi, and Judah (Yehuda), 3 Issachar (Yisashkhar), Zebulun (Zevulun), and Benjamin (Binyamin), 4 Dan and Naphtali (Naftali), Gad and Asher. 5 And all the souls who came out of the thigh of Jacob were seventy souls; and Joseph (Yosef) was in Egypt. 6 And Joseph died, and all his brothers, and all that generation. 7 And the sons of Israel were fruitful, and they swarmed, and they multiplied, and they became mighty exceedingly, exceedingly; and the land was filled with them. 8 And a new king arose over Egypt who did not know Joseph. 9 And he said to his people, "Look, the people of the sons of Israel is more numerous and mightier than we.
10 Come, let us deal wisely with it, lest it multiply, and it will be, when war happens, that it also will be added to those who hate us, and it will fight against us and go up from the land."
11 And they set over it officers of forced labor so as to afflict it with their burdens; and it built storage cities for Pharaoh, Pithom (Pitom) and Rameses (Ra'amses). 12 And just as they afflicted it, so it multiplied, and so it spread out; and they felt dread because of the sons of Israel. 13 And Egypt made the sons of Israel serve with harshness, 14 and they made their lives bitter with hard service, in mortar and in bricks, and in all service in the field, all their service which they served through them, with harshness.

Pharaoh Orders the Boys Killed

15 And the king of Egypt said to the Hebrew midwives, of whom the name of the one was Shiphrah (Shifra) and the name of the second was Puah (Pu'a), 16 and he said, "When you help the Hebrew women give birth, and you look on the stones, if it is a son, then you shall kill him; and if it is a daughter, then she shall live." 17 And the midwives feared God, and they did not do just as the king of Egypt had spoken to them, and they let the boys live. 18 And the king of Egypt called for the midwives, and he said to them, "Why have you

1:1 And these are the names of the sons of Israel who came to Egypt with Jacob The book opens with "And," tying Exodus straight to Genesis. Moses lists the twelve sons of Jacob, the fathers of the twelve tribes. Joseph is set apart at the end because he was already in Egypt.
1:5 seventy souls Seventy came down to Egypt (Gen 46:27). Stephen gives seventy-five (Acts 7:14), following the Greek translation of the Old Testament, which counted some of Joseph's descendants too. It is two ways of counting the same small family. Remember the number. By the end of the chapter, seventy people have become a nation that frightens the king of Egypt.
1:6 Joseph died, and all his brothers, and all that generation The men who saw God's hand in Joseph's day were gone. But God's promise did not die with them.
1:7 the sons of Israel were fruitful, and they swarmed, and they multiplied Moses stacks up the words of Genesis 1:28 and of God's promise that Abraham's seed would be as many as the stars (Gen 15:5). God told Jacob, "into a great nation I will make you there" (Gen 46:3). The people forgot Joseph. God did not forget His covenant, the promise He made by Himself to give Abraham's descendants a land, make them a great nation and bless all nations through them (Gen 12:1-3; 15:18). Exodus is the story of God keeping that promise.
1:8 a new king arose over Egypt who did not know Joseph The Bible does not name this Pharaoh. Pharaoh was a title, like king, not a personal name. Some scholars think he came from a new ruling family with no reason to honor a Hebrew who once saved Egypt. Scripture doesn't say which king it was, and I will not guess.
1:10 let us deal wisely with it Pharaoh feared the Hebrews would side with Egypt's enemies and leave. Worldly wisdom set against God's people always ends in folly. His plan to stop Israel from growing was a plan to stop God's promise, and no one can do that.
1:11 Pithom and Rameses Storage cities to hold grain and supplies. The name Rameses is often taken as a later name for the city that readers would know, the way Genesis updates some place names. Some use this verse to argue for an exodus in the 1200s B.C. This study follows the date of about 1446 B.C. (1 Kgs 6:1).
1:12 just as they afflicted it, so it multiplied The more Egypt pressed, the more Israel grew. Pharaoh could make their lives hard. He could not make God's promise fail.
1:14 they made their lives bitter with hard service, in mortar and in bricks The words "with harshness" frame verses 13 and 14. At the Passover, Israel would eat bitter herbs to remember these days (12:8). Their suffering was real, but God was not absent. He had told Abraham ahead of time that his descendants would be slaves in a land not their own and would come out with great possessions (Gen 15:13-14). The slavery was part of a story God had already told.
1:15 the name of the one was Shiphrah and the name of the second was Puah Two women could hardly serve so large a people alone, so they may have led the other midwives. Scripture gives their names and not Pharaoh's. God remembers the faithful.
1:16 if it is a son, then you shall kill him When forced labor failed, Pharaoh turned to murder. Boys could grow up to be soldiers; girls could be married into Egyptian families and lost to Israel. Behind Pharaoh stood an older enemy. From Genesis 3:15 on, Satan has fought the promised Seed of the woman, and here he tried to wipe out the line through which the Savior would come.
1:17 the midwives feared God The key to the chapter. They feared God more than the most powerful man on earth. This is one of Scripture's first examples of godly civil disobedience. God sets up rulers, and we are to obey them (Rom 13:1). But when a ruler commands what God forbids, "It is necessary to obey God rather than men" (Acts 5:29). Two women simply refused to kill babies, and God used them to protect a nation.

done this thing, and let the boys live?" 19 And the midwives said to Pharaoh, "Because the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian (Mitsri) women; for they are vigorous; before the midwife comes to them, they have given birth." 20 And God did good to the midwives; and the people multiplied, and they became very mighty. 21 And it was, because the midwives feared God, that He made households for them. 22 And Pharaoh commanded all his people, saying, "Every son that is born, you shall throw him into the Nile (Ye'or), and every daughter you shall let live."

The Birth of Moses

1 And a man from the house of Levi went, and he took a daughter of Levi. 2 And the woman conceived, and she bore a son; and she saw him, that he was good, and she hid him three months. 3 And she was not able to hide him any longer, and she took for him an ark of papyrus, and she coated it with bitumen and with pitch; and she put the child in it, and she put it among the reeds at the bank of the Nile (Ye'or). 4 And his sister stationed herself at a distance to know what would be done to him. 5 And the daughter of Pharaoh went down to bathe at the Nile, and her young women were walking beside the Nile; and she saw the ark in the midst of the reeds, and she sent her maid, and she took it. 6 And she opened it, and she saw him, the child, and look, a boy crying! And she had compassion on him, and she said, "This is one of the children of the Hebrews." 7 And his sister said to the daughter of Pharaoh, "Shall I go and call for you a nursing woman from the Hebrew women, so that she may nurse the child for you?" 8 And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, "Go." And the young woman went, and she called the mother of the child. 9 And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, "Take this child away, and nurse him for me, and I, I will give your wages." And the woman took the child, and she nursed him. 10 And the child grew up, and she brought him to the daughter of Pharaoh, and he became a son to her. And she called his name Moses (Moshe), and she said, "Because I drew him out of the water."

Moses Flees to Midian

11 And it was in those days, and Moses grew up, and he went out to his brothers, and he looked on their burdens; and he saw an Egyptian man striking a Hebrew man, one of his brothers. 12 And he turned this way and that way, and he saw that there was no man, and he struck the Egyptian, and he hid him in the sand. 13 And he went out on the second day, and look, two Hebrew men were struggling together; and he said to the guilty one, "Why are you striking your companion?" 14 And he said, "Who appointed you as a man, a ruler and a judge over us? Are you saying to kill me, just as

1:19 the Hebrew women are not like the Egyptian women; for they are vigorous Was it a lie? Some think it was at least partly true, since the women were strong from hard labor. Others think the midwives deceived Pharaoh to protect the children, as Rahab later hid the spies (Josh 2). Notice that God blesses them because they "feared God" (1:21), not for what they said. Scripture records their answer without praising or condemning it.
1:21 He made households for them God saw what they did in secret and gave them families of their own. The women who protected other people's children were given children and homes. Most of us will never stand before a king, but we may be asked to go along with what we know is wrong. Fearing God is not weakness. It is the beginning of wisdom (Prov 9:10).
1:22 Every son that is born, you shall throw him into the Nile Now the plan was public, and all Egypt was drawn into the crime. The Egyptians worshiped the Nile as a god of fertility, and Pharaoh made it a grave for Hebrew babies. When God turns the Nile to blood in chapter 7, He judges Egypt in the very place it sinned. Centuries later Herod would kill the baby boys of Bethlehem, and God would protect His Son (Matt 2:13-16). The enemy keeps trying. God keeps His promise.
2:1 a man from the house of Levi went, and he took a daughter of Levi We learn later the parents were Amram and Jochebed (6:20). The plain wording puts the focus on God's work, not on the family.
2:2 she saw him, that he was good, and she hid him three months Stephen says Moses "was beautiful to God" (Acts 7:20). Hebrews says his parents hid him by faith, "and they did not fear the edict of the king" (Heb 11:23). This was more than a mother's love. It was the same fear of God the midwives had.
2:3 she took for him an ark of papyrus The Hebrew word for this basket is used in only one other place, for Noah's ark (Gen 6:14). In both, God saves a life through the water that brings death to others, in a box sealed with pitch. She obeyed Pharaoh's order in a strange way: she put her son in the Nile, but in a waterproof basket among the reeds where she could watch.
2:4 his sister stationed herself at a distance Likely Miriam (15:20). The family did what they could and left the rest with God.
2:6 she had compassion on him Of all the people in Egypt, the one who could protect a Hebrew boy from Pharaoh was Pharaoh's daughter. The king's order was undone inside his own family. God does not always remove the danger. Sometimes He places His people right in the middle of it and protects them there.
2:9 nurse him for me, and I, I will give your wages Jochebed gave her son up to God at the river, and God gave him back, safe under royal protection, and she was paid to raise him. Children then were often nursed until two or three or older, so she had time to teach him who he was and who his God was.
2:10 Because I drew him out of the water The name Moses sounds like a Hebrew word meaning to draw out. It also sounds like an Egyptian word for son, found in names like Thutmose. Moses "was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians" (Acts 7:22). God was preparing the man who would write the first five books of the Bible and lead a nation. Nothing in his life was wasted.
2:12 he turned this way and that way, and he saw that there was no man Moses was about forty (Acts 7:23). He looked in every direction except one. He did not look up. Hebrews 11:24-26 praises his choice to suffer with God's people, so his heart was right. But he acted in anger and his own strength. Some teachers see a justified defense of a brother, and Scripture does not directly judge it. Still, God would deliver Israel, but not by one man's hidden violence.
2:14 Who appointed you as a man, a ruler and a judge over us Moses supposed his brothers would understand that God was giving them salvation through him, "but they did not understand" (Acts 7:25). The man God sent to save Israel was first rejected by Israel, as Stephen told the leaders who rejected Jesus (Acts 7:35). Jesus came to His own, and they did not receive Him (John 1:11). Like Moses, He will one day be received by the people who first rejected Him.

you killed the Egyptian?" And Moses was afraid, and he said, "Surely the matter has become known." 15 And Pharaoh heard this matter, and he sought to kill Moses; and Moses fled from before Pharaoh, and he dwelt in the land of Midian (Midyan), and he sat by the well. 16 And the priest of Midian had seven daughters; and they came, and they drew water, and they filled the troughs to water the flock of their father. 17 And the shepherds came, and they drove them away; and Moses arose, and he saved them, and he watered their flock. 18 And they came to Reuel, their father, and he said, "Why have you hurried to come today?" 19 And they said, "An Egyptian man delivered us from the hand of the shepherds, and also he surely drew water for us, and he watered the flock." 20 And he said to his daughters, "And where is he? Why is this, that you have left the man? Call him, so that he may eat bread." 21 And Moses was willing to dwell with the man; and he gave Zipporah (Tsipora), his daughter, to Moses. 22 And she bore a son, and he called his name Gershom, for he said, "A sojourner I have become in a foreign land."

God Hears Israel's Groaning

23 And it was in those many days, and the king of Egypt (Mitsrayim) died; and the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) groaned from the service, and they cried out, and their cry for help went up to God from the service. 24 And God heard their groaning, and God remembered His covenant with Abraham (Avraham), with Isaac (Yitschaq), and with Jacob (Ya'aqov). 25 And God saw the sons of Israel, and God knew.

EXODUS 3

The Burning Bush

1 And Moses (Moshe) was pasturing the flock of Jethro (Yitro), his father-in-law, the priest of Midian (Midyan); and he drove the flock to the far side of the wilderness, and he came to the mountain of God, to Horeb (Chorev). 2 And the angel of the LORD appeared to him in a flame of fire from the midst of the bush; and he looked, and look, the bush was burning with fire, and the bush was not consumed. 3 And Moses said, "Let me turn aside, please, and see this great sight, why the bush does not burn." 4 And the LORD saw that he had turned aside to look, and God called to him from the midst of the bush, and He said, "Moses, Moses!" And he said, "Here I am." 5 And He said, "Do not draw near here; take off your sandals from on your feet, for the place on which you are standing, it is ground of holiness." 6 And He said, "I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham (Avraham), the God of Isaac (Yitschaq), and the God of Jacob (Ya'aqov)." And Moses hid his face, for he was afraid to look at God. 7 And the LORD said, "I have certainly seen the affliction of My people who are in Egypt (Mitsrayim), and I have heard their cry

2:15 he dwelt in the land of Midian A desert region near the Gulf of Aqaba, home to descendants of Abraham through Keturah (Gen 25:2).
2:17 Moses arose, and he saved them, and he watered their flock Like Abraham's servant (Gen 24) and Jacob (Gen 29), Moses meets his future wife at a well. Even in exile he could not stand to see the weak pushed around. This time he killed no one. He stood up for them and did the work himself. The angry prince is beginning to become a servant.
2:18 Reuel, their father He is called Jethro in 3:1. Reuel means friend of God. People then often had more than one name or title, and Jethro may have been a title. Some think Reuel was the clan head or grandfather (compare Num 10:29).
2:20 Call him, so that he may eat bread In that world it was shameful to let a man who helped you leave without a meal. The invitation opened the door to Moses' new life.
2:22 A sojourner I have become in a foreign land Gershom sounds like the Hebrew for a sojourner there. Moses was not at home in Egypt or in Midian. The patriarchs lived the same way (Heb 11:13), and believers still do, "as sojourners and exiles" (1 Pet 2:11). Moses spent about forty years in Midian (Acts 7:30), learning patience, humility and the desert roads he would one day lead Israel through.
2:23 their cry for help went up to God The verse does not say they cried out in faith or even to God by name. They cried out in pain, and it reached Him. God hears the suffering, even when they hardly know how to pray.
2:24 God remembered His covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob Four short statements, each with God as subject: God heard, remembered, saw and knew. In the Bible, when God remembers, He acts on what He promised (Gen 8:1). He had not forgotten.
2:25 God saw the sons of Israel, and God knew The verse ends almost abruptly. God knew their pain, their need and their names. If you are in a hard place, God hears, remembers, sees and knows. While Israel groaned in Egypt, God was already preparing a shepherd in Midian.
3:1 Moses was pasturing the flock of Jethro, his father-in-law The prince of Egypt now tended someone else's sheep. Forty years had passed (Acts 7:30), and Moses was about eighty (7:7). God often calls people in the middle of ordinary work: Gideon threshing wheat (Judg 6:11), David keeping sheep (1 Sam 16:11), Peter and Andrew fishing (Matt 4:18).
3:1 the mountain of God, to Horeb Horeb is another name for Mount Sinai, where God would give the Law. Moses calls it the mountain of God because of what happened there.
3:2 the angel of the LORD appeared to him in a flame of fire In verses 4 to 6 the One speaking from the bush is called the LORD and God, and He says, "I am the God of your father." This is no ordinary angel. Many Bible teachers believe the angel of the LORD is the Son of God appearing before He was born in Bethlehem. Stephen tells the story the same way (Acts 7:30-32). Others see a created angel speaking for God.
3:2 the bush was not consumed Fire often shows God's holy presence (19:18), for "our God is also a consuming fire" (Heb 12:29). The bush kept burning because the fire did not need it for fuel. God needs nothing from anyone. Many have also seen in the bush a picture of Israel, small and humble in the fire of affliction, yet not destroyed, because God was in the midst.
3:4 Moses, Moses God waited until Moses turned aside to look. Calling a name twice shows warmth and urgency, as with Abraham (Gen 22:11), and Moses answered as Abraham did, "Here I am." How often do we miss God because we never stop long enough to hear Him?
3:5 take off your sandals from on your feet There was nothing special about the dirt. It was holy because God was there. Holy means set apart, wholly different from everything common and sinful. Removing his sandals showed respect and humility. Joshua was told the same (Josh 5:15).
3:6 I am the God of your father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob Jesus used this verse to prove the resurrection. God says "I am" their God, not I was, so the patriarchs are alive to Him: "He is not the God of the dead, but God of the living" (Mark 12:27). Moses hid his face. He was no longer a curious onlooker but a sinner before a holy God.
3:7 I have certainly seen the affliction of My people Warm, personal words: I have seen, I have heard, I know. They pick up 2:24-25. Israel's cry had reached the heart of God.

because of its taskmasters, for I know its pains. 8 And I have come down to deliver it from the hand of Egypt, and to bring it up from that land to a land good and spacious, to a land flowing with milk and honey, to the place of the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite. 9 And now, look, the cry of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) has come to Me; and also I have seen the oppression with which Egypt is oppressing them. 10 And now, go, and I will send you to Pharaoh, and bring out My people, the sons of Israel, from Egypt."

I AM WHO I AM

11 And Moses said to God, "Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh, and that I should bring out the sons of Israel from Egypt?" 12 And He said, "Surely I will be with you; and this shall be the sign for you that I, I have sent you: when you bring out the people from Egypt, you shall serve God on this mountain." 13 And Moses said to God, "Look, I am going to the sons of Israel, and I will say to them, 'The God of your fathers has sent me to you,' and they will say to me, 'What is His name?' What shall I say to them?" 14 And God said to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM." And He said, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, 'I AM has sent me to you.'" 15 And God said again to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel, 'The LORD, the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, has sent me to you.' This is My name forever, and this is My memorial to generation after generation. 16 Go, and gather the elders of Israel, and say to them, 'The LORD, the God of your fathers, has appeared to me, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, saying, "I have certainly visited you and seen what has been done to you in Egypt. 17 And I have said, I will bring you up from the affliction of Egypt to the land of the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, to a land flowing with milk and honey."' 18 And they will listen to your voice; and you shall go, you and the elders of Israel, to the king of Egypt, and you shall say to him, 'The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us; and now, please let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and let us sacrifice to the LORD our God.' 19 And I, I know that the king of Egypt will not permit you to go, and not by a strong hand. 20 And I will stretch out My hand, and I will strike Egypt with all My marvels which I will do in its midst; and after that he will let you go. 21 And I will give the favor of this people in the eyes of Egypt; and it will be, when you go, you will not go empty. 22 And each woman shall ask from her neighbor and from the sojourner of her house articles of silver and articles of gold and clothes; and you shall put them on your sons and on your daughters; and you shall plunder Egypt."

Signs for Moses

3:8 I have come down to deliver it God does not watch from far away. He comes down. This points to the greatest coming down of all, when the Son said, "I have come down out of heaven" (John 6:38). A land "flowing with milk and honey" means rich pasture for herds and plenty of flowers for bees, the land promised to Abraham (Gen 15:18-21).
3:10 go, and I will send you to Pharaoh God says, I have come down, and you go. He could have freed Israel without human help, but He chose to use Moses. Forty years earlier Moses tried to save Israel on his own and failed. God's work done in God's way and time, with His call behind it, cannot fail.
3:11 Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh The first of five objections Moses raises in chapters 3 and 4. He had lost the confidence of his younger years.
3:12 Surely I will be with you God's answer does not tell Moses who he is. It tells him who is with him. The question is never really, Who am I? It is, Who is with me? Jesus gave the same promise, "I am with you all the days" (Matt 28:20). The sign could be seen only after Moses obeyed: Israel would worship at this very mountain (chapter 19). Faith steps out first.
3:13 What is His name In the ancient world a name told something about the one who carried it. The people would want to know what kind of God had sent Moses and whether He could stand against the gods of Egypt.
3:14 I AM WHO I AM One of the deepest statements in the Bible. God needs nothing outside Himself to exist. He always was, is and will be. He does not change, and He is not defined by what we say about Him. He simply is. Jesus took this name for Himself: "before Abraham came into being, I am" (John 8:58). The leaders picked up stones, because they understood He was claiming to be God.
3:15 This is My name forever The LORD in capital letters is God's personal name, four Hebrew letters, YHWH, usually written Yahweh. It comes from the verb to be and is tied to I AM in verse 14. Out of respect Jewish readers stopped saying it aloud and read Lord instead, which is why most English Bibles print the LORD. He is still the covenant-keeping God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and the God of all who come to Him by faith in Jesus Christ.
3:16 I have certainly visited you The elders were the older men who led the tribes and families. To visit often means to come and act, in blessing or judgment. Joseph had said on his deathbed, "God will certainly visit you" (Gen 50:24). Now that word was coming true.
3:18 let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness Why ask for only three days? This was a modest first request that exposed Pharaoh's heart. If he would not allow even this, he would never let them go for good. God was not lying. A trip to worship was the first step, and God never said they would come back. Some teachers see it as an honest first stage of a larger plan.
3:19 the king of Egypt will not permit you to go, and not by a strong hand Pharaoh would not give in, even under heavy pressure, at least at first. God told Moses the truth from the start.
3:20 I will stretch out My hand Pharaoh's strong hand would meet God's stronger hand. God told Moses the end before the beginning. When God gives a hard task, He often tells us it will be hard, so we will not lose heart when it is.
3:22 you shall plunder Egypt God promised Abraham that his descendants would come out "with great possessions" (Gen 15:14). This was not stealing. It was back pay for centuries of slave labor, given freely by people God moved to give. Much of this gold and silver was later given for the tabernacle (35:22). God provided ahead of time for the worship He was about to command.
4:1 they will not believe me, and they will not listen to my voice Moses' third objection. God had already said the elders would listen (3:18), so Moses was doubting what God told him. His fear was natural, since his own people rejected him once (2:14). God's Word says one thing and our fears say another. God is patient with honest weakness and answers again.

they will say, 'The LORD did not appear to you.'" 2 And the LORD said to him, "What is this in your hand?" And he said, "A staff." 3 And He said, "Throw it to the ground." And he threw it to the ground, and it became a snake; and Moses fled from before it. 4 And the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand, and grasp its tail." And he stretched out his hand, and he seized it, and it became a staff in his hand, 5 "so that they may believe that the LORD, the God of their fathers, the God of Abraham (Avraham), the God of Isaac (Yitschaq), and the God of Jacob (Ya'aqov), has appeared to you." 6 And the LORD said to him again, "Please put your hand into your bosom." And he put his hand into his bosom, and he brought it out, and look, his hand was leprous like snow. 7 And He said, "Return your hand into your bosom." And he returned his hand into his bosom, and he brought it out from his bosom, and look, it had turned back like his flesh. 8 "And it will be, if they will not believe you and will not listen to the voice of the first sign, then they will believe the voice of the latter sign. 9 And it will be, if they will not believe even these two signs and will not listen to your voice, then you shall take some of the water of the Nile (Ye'or), and you shall pour it on the dry ground; and the water which you take from the Nile will become, it will become blood on the dry ground." 10 And Moses said to the LORD, "Pardon me, Lord, I am not a man of words, neither from yesterday nor from the day before, nor since You spoke to Your servant; for I am heavy of mouth and heavy of tongue." 11 And the LORD said to him, "Who has made a mouth for mankind? Or who makes one mute or deaf or seeing or blind? Is it not I, the LORD? 12 And now, go, and I, I will be with your mouth, and I will teach you what you shall speak." 13 And he said, "Pardon me, Lord, please send by the hand of whomever You will send." 14 And the anger of the LORD burned against Moses, and He said, "Is not Aaron (Aharon) the Levite your brother? I know that he, he surely speaks. And also, look, he is coming out to meet you; and he will see you, and he will be glad in his heart. 15 And you shall speak to him, and you shall put the words in his mouth; and I, I will be with your mouth and with his mouth, and I will teach you what you shall do. 16 And he, he shall speak for you to the people; and it will be that he, he will be a mouth for you, and you, you will be in the place of God to him. 17 And this staff you shall take in your hand, with which you shall do the signs."

Moses Returns to Egypt

18 And Moses went, and he returned to Jethro (Yeter), his father-in-law, and he said to him, "Please let me go and return to my brothers who are in Egypt (Mitsrayim), and let me see whether they are still alive." And Jethro (Yitro) said to Moses, "Go in peace." 19 And the LORD said to Moses in Midian (Midyan), "Go, return to Egypt, for all the men who were seeking your life have died." 20 And Moses took his wife and his sons, and he made them ride on the donkey, and he returned to the land of Egypt; and Moses took the staff of God in his hand. 21 And the LORD said to Moses, "When you go to return to Egypt, see all the wonders which I have put in your hand, and you shall do them before Pharaoh; and I, I will strengthen his heart, and he will not let the people go.

4:2 What is this in your hand Just a shepherd's staff. God usually uses what we already have. Given to God, it became "the staff of God" (4:20).
4:3 it became a snake The cobra was a symbol of Egypt's power and appeared on Pharaoh's crown. God told Moses to grab it by the tail, the most dangerous way to hold a snake. God was in control of Egypt's power, and Moses could grasp it by faith. The sign had a purpose: "so that they may believe" (4:5).
4:6 his hand was leprous like snow Leprosy in the Bible covers several feared skin diseases that made a person unclean (Lev 13). Only God could heal it. The sign showed His power to strike and to heal, and may have reminded Moses that God could make him clean, whatever he carried from his past.
4:9 it will become blood on the dry ground A sign held in reserve, a small sample of the first plague (7:20). The Nile, Egypt's source of life and the grave of Hebrew boys (1:22), would become blood.
4:10 I am heavy of mouth and heavy of tongue Moses' fourth objection. Some think he had a speech problem. Others think he was out of practice after forty years with sheep, or no longer spoke Egyptian well. Stephen says he had been "mighty in words and in deeds" (Acts 7:22) in Egypt, so the problem may have been more fear than ability.
4:11 Who has made a mouth for mankind God made Moses, weaknesses and all. Our limits do not surprise Him.
4:12 I, I will be with your mouth Jesus gave a similar promise to disciples standing before rulers (Luke 12:11-12). God does not wait until we are gifted enough. He sends us and goes with us.
4:13 please send by the hand of whomever You will send In plain words, send someone else. This is no longer humility. It is refusal.
4:14 the anger of the LORD burned against Moses God answered four objections with patience. The fifth was not a question but a no, and God is not pleased when we simply refuse Him. Even in His anger He made a way. Aaron was already on his way to meet Moses. God arranged it before Moses ever asked.
4:16 you, you will be in the place of God to him Moses would receive God's words and Aaron would pass them on, much as a prophet passes on God's words (7:1). The plan brought blessing and trouble, since Aaron would one day make the golden calf (32). Second best often brings its own problems. Still, God used both brothers.
4:18 let me see whether they are still alive Moses asked permission of the man who gave him a home for forty years. Following God's call does not give us permission to be rude or careless with others.
4:19 all the men who were seeking your life have died One more word of comfort. The danger that drove Moses out was gone.
4:20 Moses took the staff of God in his hand He took his wife and sons. Only Gershom has been named so far; Eliezer is named in 18:4. The staff was the same as before, but now it belonged to God.
4:21 I, I will strengthen his heart, and he will not let the people go The first mention of Pharaoh's hardened heart. Exodus says both that God hardened it and that Pharaoh hardened it himself (8:15, 32). In the first plagues Pharaoh hardens himself. Later God confirms what Pharaoh chose. God did not take a tender heart and force it to be cruel. Pharaoh was already proud and said, "I do not know the LORD" (5:2). God gave him over to his choice and used it to show His power (9:16; Rom 9:17). Some teachers stress God's sovereign hardening more strongly (Rom 9:17-18). Both are in the text.

22 And you shall say to Pharaoh, 'Thus says the LORD: "Israel (Yisra'el) is My son, My firstborn. 23 And I said to you, 'Let My son go, so that he may serve Me'; and you refused to let him go. Look, I am about to kill your son, your firstborn."'" 24 And it was on the way, at the lodging place, and the LORD met him, and He sought to kill him. 25 And Zipporah (Tsipora) took a flint, and she cut off the foreskin of her son, and she made it touch his feet; and she said, "Surely a bridegroom of blood you are to me." 26 And He withdrew from him. Then she said, "A bridegroom of blood," because of the circumcision. 27 And the LORD said to Aaron, "Go to meet Moses into the wilderness." And he went, and he met him at the mountain of God, and he kissed him. 28 And Moses told Aaron all the words of the LORD with which He had sent him, and all the signs which He had commanded him. 29 And Moses and Aaron went, and they gathered all the elders of the sons of Israel. 30 And Aaron spoke all the words which the LORD had spoken to Moses, and he did the signs before the eyes of the people. 31 And the people believed; and they heard that the LORD had visited the sons of Israel and that He had seen their affliction, and they bowed low and worshiped.

Moses and Aaron Before Pharaoh

1 And afterward Moses (Moshe) and Aaron (Aharon) went, and they said to Pharaoh, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel (Yisra'el): 'Let My people go, so that they may celebrate a festival to Me in the wilderness.'" 2 And Pharaoh said, "Who is the LORD, that I should listen to His voice to let Israel go? I do not know the LORD, and also Israel I will not let go." 3 And they said, "The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please let us go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and let us sacrifice to the LORD our God, lest He fall on us with the pestilence or with the sword." 4 And the king of Egypt (Mitsrayim) said to them, "Why, Moses and Aaron, are you making the people refrain from its works? Go to your burdens." 5 And Pharaoh said, "Look, the people of the land are now many, and you make them cease from their burdens." 6 And Pharaoh commanded on that day the taskmasters over the people and its foremen, saying, 7 "You shall no longer give straw to the people to make the bricks as yesterday and the day before; they, let them go and gather straw for themselves. 8 And the quota of the bricks which they were making yesterday and the day before, you shall put on them; you shall not reduce anything from it; for they are idle; therefore they are crying out, saying, 'Let us go, let us sacrifice to our God.' 9 Let the service be heavy on the men, so that they may work at it, and let them not pay attention to words of falsehood."

Bricks Without Straw

10 And the taskmasters of the people and its foremen went out, and they said to the people, saying, "Thus says Pharaoh:

4:22 Israel is My son, My firstborn The firstborn was the heir, given a double portion and the father's special care. God claimed Israel as His own. "Out of Egypt I called My son" (Hos 11:1), words Matthew applies to Jesus, God's true Son (Matt 2:15).
4:23 Let My son go, so that he may serve Me Freedom from Egypt was freedom to serve God. That is the point of the exodus and of our salvation. Then the warning: Pharaoh held God's firstborn as a slave and had killed Israel's sons. If he would not let God's firstborn go, he would lose his own. It is measure-for-measure justice, fulfilled in the tenth plague (12:29).
4:24 the LORD met him, and He sought to kill him One of the hardest passages in Exodus. Most take "him" to be Moses. Circumcision was the sign of God's covenant with Abraham, and an uncircumcised male was to be cut off (Gen 17:10-14). The man sent to lead God's covenant people had not given his own son the covenant sign. God would not let him ignore the covenant at home while calling others to obey it.
4:25 Surely a bridegroom of blood you are to me Zipporah's words sound unhappy. Perhaps she had objected to circumcising the boy. Good teachers read the details differently: some think "him" in verse 24 is the son, and whose feet she touched is unclear. What is plain is that God takes His covenant seriously, and leaders must obey at home what they ask of others. Moses seems to have sent his family back to Jethro after this (18:2-3).
4:27 he met him at the mountain of God, and he kissed him One brother raised in Pharaoh's palace, the other as a slave, met after forty years at the mountain where God called Moses. God had been working in both places at once.
4:31 the people believed Moses' fear in verse 1 never came true. God said they would listen, and they did. How much worry would we save if we simply took God at His word? Their first response was worship. They were still slaves, but God had spoken, and that was enough to make them bow.
5:1 Let My people go, so that they may celebrate a festival to Me in the wilderness Two old men, eighty and eighty-three (7:7), a shepherd from the desert and a slave from the brick pits, walked into the court of the most powerful king on earth. This is the first time we hear the famous command. A festival was a holy feast held in worship. God was not only freeing workers. He was calling His people to worship Him.
5:2 Who is the LORD, that I should listen to His voice Pharaoh was treated as a god in Egypt. Why listen to the god of his slaves? He meant it as an insult, but God would answer his question. Again and again God acts so that Egypt "shall know that I am the LORD" (7:5). Many still say, Who is God, that I should obey Him? One day "every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord" (Phil 2:11).
5:3 lest He fall on us with the pestilence or with the sword They spoke of God's judgment falling on Israel, not Egypt. Our God has commanded this, and we are in danger if we don't obey. They did not yet threaten Pharaoh.
5:4 Go to your burdens To Pharaoh, worship was only a way to get out of work. He saw the people as labor and numbers. The world often sees time given to God as wasted, but we were made for God, and worship is never a waste.
5:7 let them go and gather straw for themselves The taskmasters were Egyptian slave drivers; the foremen were Hebrews put over their own people. Straw mixed into clay held bricks together. Now the slaves had to gather it themselves and still make the same number of bricks.
5:9 let them not pay attention to words of falsehood To Pharaoh, God's words were lies. If the people were exhausted enough, they would have no strength left to hope. This is still one of the enemy's tools. A crowded life can drown out God's Word as easily as a hard life.
5:10 Thus says Pharaoh Moses had said, "Thus says the LORD." Now the slave drivers echo him for their own king. Two kings were giving orders, and Israel had to decide whom to trust.

'I am not giving you straw. 11 You, go, get straw for yourselves from wherever you can find it; for nothing is reduced from your service.'" 12 And the people scattered in all the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw. 13 And the taskmasters were pressing, saying, "Complete your works, the matter of a day in its day, just as when there was the straw." 14 And the foremen of the sons of Israel, whom the taskmasters of Pharaoh had appointed over them, were struck, saying, "Why have you not completed your allotment in making bricks as yesterday and the day before, both yesterday and today?" 15 And the foremen of the sons of Israel came, and they cried out to Pharaoh, saying, "Why do you do thus to your servants? 16 Straw is not given to your servants, and they are saying to us, 'Make bricks!' And look, your servants are being struck, and the sin is your people's." 17 And he said, "Idle, you are idle! Therefore you are saying, 'Let us go, let us sacrifice to the LORD.' 18 And now, go, serve; and straw shall not be given to you, and the quota of bricks you shall give." 19 And the foremen of the sons of Israel saw themselves in trouble, when it was said, "You shall not reduce anything from your bricks, the matter of a day in its day." 20 And they met Moses and Aaron, standing to meet them, as they came out from Pharaoh. 21 And they said to them, "May the LORD look on you and judge, because you have made our odor stink in the eyes of Pharaoh and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to kill us." 22 And Moses returned to the LORD, and he said, "Lord, why have You done evil to this people? Why is this that You have sent me? 23 And since I came to Pharaoh to speak in Your name, he has done evil to this people; and You have not delivered Your people at all."

I Am the LORD

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh; for by a strong hand he will let them go, and by a strong hand he will drive them out from his land." 2 And God spoke to Moses, and He said to him, "I am the LORD. 3 And I appeared to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov) as God Almighty; and by My name, the LORD, I did not make Myself known to them. 4 And also I established My covenant with them, to give to them the land of Canaan (Kena'an), the land of their sojournings, in which they sojourned. 5 And also I, I have heard the groaning of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), whom Egypt (Mitsrayim) is making serve, and I have remembered My covenant. 6 Therefore say to the sons of Israel, 'I am the LORD, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of Egypt, and I will deliver you from their service, and I will redeem you with an outstretched arm and with great acts of judgment. 7 And I will take you for Myself as a people, and I will be God to you; and you shall know that I am the LORD your God, who brings you out from under the burdens of 5:12 to gather stubble for straw Stubble is the short stalks left after harvest. Gathering it took hours.

5:14 the foremen of the sons of Israel, whom the taskmasters of Pharaoh had appointed over them, were struck The Hebrew foremen were beaten for their people's failure to meet the quota, caught between Pharaoh's demands and their people's limits.
5:15 they cried out to Pharaoh They went to Pharaoh, not to God. They still looked to Egypt's king to fix their problem. It is easy to run to the world's systems for help before we cry out to the Lord.
5:18 straw shall not be given to you, and the quota of bricks you shall give Pharaoh had no answer for the injustice, only more work. He is a picture of what sin does. It promises nothing and demands everything. "Everyone who does sin is a slave of sin" (John 8:34), and only the Son can make us truly free (John 8:36).
5:21 you have made our odor stink in the eyes of Pharaoh You have made us hateful to him. In chapter 4 the people believed and worshiped. A few days later they were cursing Moses. Faith that depends on things getting easier right away will not last, and Israel would show this weakness again and again in the wilderness.
5:22 Moses returned to the LORD The best thing Moses does in the chapter. He did not argue with the foremen or run back to Midian. He took his complaint to God. Evil here means harm or trouble, not wickedness. Lord, You have made things worse.
5:23 You have not delivered Your people at all God lets us bring honest questions to Him, as many psalms do: "How long, LORD?" (Ps 13:1). It is better to bring our hurt to God than to walk away. But Moses had forgotten that God said Pharaoh would refuse (3:19-20). Things getting worse was not a sign God had failed. Sometimes the darkest hour is just before God moves.
6:1 Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh God did not scold Moses. He told him to watch. Pharaoh had said he would not let Israel go (5:2). God says he will drive them out, and he did (12:31-33).
6:2 I am the LORD Everything in this section rests on these words, which appear four times in verses 2 to 8.
6:3 by My name, the LORD, I did not make Myself known to them God appeared to the patriarchs as God Almighty, El Shaddai (Gen 17:1). But Abraham did use the name the LORD (Gen 15:7; 22:14). Most conservative teachers understand that the patriarchs knew the name but not by experience all it meant: the God who keeps His covenant and saves with a mighty hand. Abraham received the promises. Israel was about to see them kept. Some read the line as a question, and critical scholars use it to argue for separate sources.
6:4 the land of their sojournings The patriarchs lived in Canaan as foreigners, owning only a burial cave (Gen 23). God promised the whole land to their descendants.
6:5 I have remembered My covenant Repeating 2:24. Israel did not deserve to be saved. God saved them because He had made a promise, and He keeps His promises.
6:6 I will redeem you with an outstretched arm One of the great salvation passages of the Old Testament. Count the promises in verses 6 to 8: I will bring you out, deliver you, redeem you, take you as a people, be God to you, bring you in, and give you the land. To redeem means to set free by paying a price or by power, as a relative could redeem a family member sold into slavery (Lev 25:47-49). Every promise begins with God. Israel only received.
6:7 I will take you for Myself as a people This is the shape of our salvation in Christ. He brings us out from sin, redeems us with His blood (1 Pet 1:18-19), makes us "a special people" (Titus 2:14), and brings us into an inheritance kept in heaven (1 Pet 1:4). Long after Moses, Jewish families built the Passover meal around four cups linked to these promises.

of Israel go from his land." 12 And Moses spoke before the LORD, saying, "Look, the sons of Israel have not listened to me; and how will Pharaoh listen to me, and I am uncircumcised of lips?" 13 And the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron (Aharon), and He commanded them for the sons of Israel and for Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to bring out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt.

6:8 I will give it to you as a possession. I am the LORD The promise begins and ends with "I am the LORD." God's name is the guarantee.

6:9 because of shortness of spirit and because of hard service They were discouraged, worn out, with no breath left for hope. Pharaoh's plan had worked. Yet God did not cancel His promises because the people could not believe them that day. His promises rest on His faithfulness, not the strength of their faith. If you are too tired to hope, God has not given up on you.

6:12 I am uncircumcised of lips Uncircumcised means unfit or unready, like an ear that does not respond (Jer 6:10). God did not argue this time. He simply commanded Moses and Aaron (6:13). Sometimes God answers our objections by repeating His command, and the command carries His promise to help.

6:14 These are the heads of the house of their fathers Moses pauses the story for a family record. It begins with Reuben and Simeon and stops at Levi, because the point is to show where Moses and Aaron came from.

6:15 Shaul, the son of the Canaanite woman A small reminder that some of Jacob's sons married Canaanite women (Gen 38:2).

6:16 Gershon and Kohath and Merari The three main clans of Levites, who would later carry and care for the tabernacle (Num 3-4).

6:20 Amram took Jochebed, his father's sister Here we learn the names of Moses' parents. Amram married his aunt, which the Law later forbade (Lev 18:12), but the Law had not been given yet. Moses did not hide it. Scripture tells the truth about its heroes. Some teachers think this list has gaps, since four generations seem short for 430 years (12:40), and "son" can mean descendant. Others take the list as complete and count the 430 years from Abraham (Gal 3:17).

6:21 Korah Korah will lead a rebellion against Moses and Aaron (Num 16). His sons survived (Num 26:11), and their descendants wrote some of the psalms.

6:23 Elisheba, the daughter of Amminadab, the sister of Nahshon Nahshon led Judah and was an ancestor of David (Ruth 4:20). Nadab and Abihu would die for offering strange fire (Lev 10:1-2). Eleazar would succeed Aaron as high priest, and his son Phinehas would be known for zeal for God (Num 25:7-13). The list is full of stories still ahead.

6:26 according to their armies Armies means organized groups, tribe by tribe. Israel would not leave Egypt as a mob of runaway slaves but march out in order. The list ends by naming Aaron and Moses twice. These are the men God chose, from a real family, in real history.

6:30 how will Pharaoh listen to me The story picks up from verse 12. The chapter began and ended with Moses doubting, and in between stood God saying, "I am the LORD." Our feelings rise and fall. God does not change, and His name is still the anchor for our faith.

Aaron's Staff Becomes a Serpent

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "See, I have made you in the place of God to Pharaoh, and Aaron (Aharon) your brother shall be your prophet. 2 You, you shall speak all that I command you, and Aaron your brother shall speak to Pharaoh, and he shall let the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) go from his land. 3 And I, I will harden the heart of Pharaoh, and I will multiply My signs and My wonders in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 4 And Pharaoh will not listen to you, and I will put My hand on Egypt, and I will bring out My armies, My people, the sons of Israel, from the land of Egypt by great acts of judgment. 5 And Egypt will know that I am the LORD, when I stretch out My hand on Egypt, and I will bring out the sons of Israel from their midst." 6 And Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD commanded them; so they did. 7 And Moses was a son of eighty years, and Aaron was a son of

7:19 Exod 8:5,6,16; Exod 10:12,21; Exod 14:21,26

7:1 I have made you in the place of God to Pharaoh, and Aaron your brother shall be your prophet Moses said he could not speak, and God gave him a role. Moses would speak with God's authority, and Aaron would be his spokesman. This is a clear picture of a prophet: one who speaks for another, passing on the words he is given. The true prophets of Israel would say, "Thus says the LORD."
7:4 I will bring out My armies, My people God calls slaves His armies. He sees His people not by what they look like now but by what He has made them to be.
7:5 Egypt will know that I am the LORD Pharaoh said, "I do not know the LORD" (5:2). God's answer runs through the next five chapters. The plagues were just judgments on a cruel nation that enslaved Israel and killed its sons. They were also lessons, so that Egypt, Israel and the world would learn that the LORD is the one true God. And each plague was a warning, a chance to turn before the next came.
7:7 Moses was a son of eighty years At eighty most people think their work is done. Moses' greatest work was just beginning. Stephen divides his life into three forties: Egypt, Midian, and leading Israel (Acts 7:23, 30, 36). God is never done with a willing servant. From here on, Moses does not argue. He obeys.
7:9 let it become a serpent Pharaoh would ask for a wonder to prove they spoke for a god. This word for serpent differs from the snake of 4:3. It can mean a large reptile, even a crocodile or sea creature, a fitting sign before a king whose land was the Nile.
7:11 the magicians of Egypt, did so by their secret arts Paul names two men who opposed Moses, "Jannes and Jambres" (2 Tim 3:8), and Jewish tradition places them among these magicians. Scripture does not say how they did it. It may have been trickery such as snake charming, or real demonic power, since Satan can work "signs and wonders of falsehood" (2 Thess 2:9).
7:12 the staff of Aaron swallowed up their staffs Satan can copy, but he cannot defeat God. The power of Egypt was swallowed up by the power of the LORD.
7:13 the heart of Pharaoh was strong Here the text does not say God hardened him. He saw a clear sign and chose not to listen. Seeing a miracle does not change a heart that does not want to change. "If they do not hear Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded if someone rises from the dead" (Luke 16:31).
7:14 The heart of Pharaoh is heavy The same Hebrew word can mean glory or honor. Pharaoh's heart was heavy with pride.
7:15 he is going out to the waters Many think Pharaoh went to the Nile each morning, perhaps to worship, since Egyptians honored the river as a god. Moses was to meet him there with the staff that had become a snake.
7:17 they shall be changed into blood Why the Nile first? It was Egypt's life; without it the land was desert. Egyptians honored the river and its flood, linked with a god they called Hapi. And Pharaoh had used the Nile to drown Hebrew boys (1:22). God's judgment matched the sin. Later He says plainly, "on all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments" (12:12). Many teachers pair each plague with a god of Egypt, though some of the specific pairings are debated.
7:19 both in the wood and in the stone Even the water stored in wooden and stone jars in people's homes would turn to blood. The judgment reached every canal, pool and household.

The Second Plague: Frogs

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "Go in to Pharaoh, and you shall say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, "Let My people go, so that they may serve Me. 2 And if you are refusing to let them go, look, I am striking all your territory with frogs. 3 And the Nile (Ye'or) shall swarm with frogs, and they shall go up and come into your house and into the chamber of your bed and on your couch, and into the house of your servants and on your people, and into your ovens and into your kneading troughs. 4 And on you and on your people and on all your servants the frogs shall go up."'" 5 And the LORD said to Moses, "Say to Aaron (Aharon), 'Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, over the canals, and over the pools, and bring up the frogs on the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim).'" 6 And Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and the frogs went up, and they covered the land of Egypt. 7 And the magicians did so by their secret arts, and they brought up the frogs on the land of Egypt. 8 And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and he said, "Pray to the LORD, that He may remove the frogs from me and from my people; and I will let the people go, that they may sacrifice to the LORD." 9 And Moses said to Pharaoh, "Glorify yourself over me: for when shall I pray for you and for your servants and for your people, to cut off the frogs from you and from your houses? Only in the Nile shall they remain." 10 And he said, "For tomorrow." And he said, "It shall be according to your word, so that you may know that there is none like the LORD our God. 11 And the frogs shall depart from you and from your houses and from your servants and from your people; only in the Nile shall they remain." 12 And Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh, and Moses cried out to the LORD concerning the matter of the frogs which He had set on Pharaoh. 13 And the LORD did according to the word of Moses, and the frogs died from the houses, from the courtyards, and from the fields. 14 And they heaped them up, heaps and heaps, and the land stank. 15 And Pharaoh saw that the relief had come, and he made his heart heavy, and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had spoken.

7:20 all the waters that were in the Nile were changed into blood Some suggest natural means, such as red soil or algae in a flood season. God can use natural means, but the timing, command and scope show a miracle. It came at Moses' word, the moment the water was struck. Revelation 16:3-4 describes a future judgment when seas and rivers become blood. The God who judged Egypt will judge the world.
7:22 the magicians of Egypt did so by their secret arts They managed to turn some water to blood, but they could not turn blood back to water. They could imitate God's judgment but not undo it. It was enough for Pharaoh, who wanted a reason not to believe.
7:23 he did not set his heart even to this His people were thirsty, their fish dead, their river turned to blood, and Pharaoh walked home without a second thought.
7:24 all Egypt dug around the Nile for water to drink The people suffered for their king's pride. Leaders' sins often bring trouble on many.
7:25 after the LORD struck the Nile Aaron raised the staff, but the LORD struck the river. For a full week God gave Pharaoh time to think and turn. He did not.
8:2 I am striking all your territory with frogs The second plague. Egyptians linked frogs with fertility and life, and their goddess Heqet was pictured with a frog's head. What Egypt honored, God turned into a plague. Nothing we worship in place of God can save us. In the end it only becomes a burden.
8:3 into the chamber of your bed and on your couch No place would be free of them: bedrooms, ovens, kneading troughs, even Pharaoh's own bed.
8:7 the magicians did so by their secret arts Egypt already had too many frogs. The magicians could make more but could not remove one. False religion often works that way. It can copy, but it cannot cure.
8:8 Pray to the LORD, that He may remove the frogs For the first time Pharaoh blinked. The king who said, "I do not know the LORD" (5:2) now asks Moses to pray to the LORD, and he promises to let the people go.
8:9 Glorify yourself over me In other words, you pick the time. Moses wanted Pharaoh to see that this was no accident.
8:10 For tomorrow Why not today? Perhaps Pharaoh hoped the frogs would leave on their own. Many treat God the same way. They know they need Him but put it off until tomorrow. Moses agreed, "so that you may know that there is none like the LORD our God."
8:14 they heaped them up, heaps and heaps, and the land stank Moses cried out, and God did as he asked. The frogs were gone, but the smell was not. God can remove a judgment, but the results of sin can linger.
8:15 Pharaoh saw that the relief had come, and he made his heart heavy Here the text says plainly that Pharaoh hardened himself. As soon as the pressure was off, he broke his word. How many make promises to God in trouble and forget them when it passes? God wants a changed heart, not a bargain. "Just as the LORD had spoken" reminds us Pharaoh's choice did not surprise Him.
8:16 strike the dust of the earth, and it shall become gnats The third plague came with no warning. The word may mean gnats, lice or mosquitoes, tiny biting insects on man and beast. Egypt's ground turned against it. Egyptians were careful about being clean, and their priests shaved their bodies to stay pure for worship. Now no one could stay clean, and the priests could not even serve their gods.

become gnats in all the land of Egypt.'" 17 And they did so; and Aaron stretched out his hand with his staff, and he struck the dust of the earth, and the gnats were on mankind and on livestock; all the dust of the earth became gnats in all the land of Egypt. 18 And the magicians did so by their secret arts to bring forth the gnats, and they were not able; and the gnats were on mankind and on livestock. 19 And the magicians said to Pharaoh, "It is the finger of God." And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had spoken.

The Fourth Plague: Flies

20 And the LORD said to Moses, "Rise early in the morning, and station yourself before Pharaoh; look, he is going out to the waters; and you shall say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, "Let My people go, so that they may serve Me. 21 For if you are not letting My people go, look, I am sending the swarm on you and on your servants and on your people and on your houses; and the houses of Egypt shall be full of the swarm, and also the ground on which they are. 22 And I will set apart on that day the land of Goshen, on which My people are standing, so that no swarm shall be there, so that you may know that I am the LORD in the midst of the land. 23 And I will put a ransom between My people and your people. Tomorrow this sign shall be."'" 24 And the LORD did so; and a heavy swarm came into the house of Pharaoh and the house of his servants; and in all the land of Egypt the land was ruined because of the swarm. 25 And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and he said, "Go, sacrifice to your God in the land." 26 And Moses said, "It is not right to do so; for we will sacrifice the abomination of Egypt to the LORD our God. Look, we will sacrifice the abomination of Egypt before their eyes, and will they not stone us? 27 We will go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to the LORD our God, just as He says to us." 28 And Pharaoh said, "I, I will let you go, and you shall sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only you shall certainly not go far away in your going. Pray for me." 29 And Moses said, "Look, I am going out from you, and I will pray to the LORD, and the swarm shall turn aside from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people tomorrow; only let Pharaoh not again deal deceitfully by not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD." 30 And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and he prayed to the LORD. 31 And the LORD did according to the word of Moses, and He removed the swarm from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people; not one remained. 32 And Pharaoh made his heart heavy this time also, and he did not let the people go.

The Fifth and Sixth Plagues: Livestock and Boils

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "Go in to Pharaoh, and you shall speak to him, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, "Let My people go, so that they may serve Me. 2 For if you are refusing to let them go, and you are still holding on to them, 3 look, the hand of the LORD will be on your livestock which is in the field, on the horses, on the donkeys, on the camels, on the herd, and on the flock, a very heavy pestilence. 4 And the LORD will set apart between the livestock of Israel (Yisra'el) and the livestock of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and not a thing shall die of all that belongs to 8:18 they were not able The end of the magicians' contest. They could not make life out of dust. Only God gives life (Gen 2:7).

8:19 It is the finger of God God's own direct power. The same phrase describes God writing the Ten Commandments (31:18), and Jesus cast out demons "by the finger of God" (Luke 11:20). Pharaoh's own experts admitted this was beyond them, and still he would not listen. When a heart is set against God, no evidence is enough.
8:21 I am sending the swarm on you The fourth plague. The Hebrew word means a mixture or swarm of insects. Many think flies, perhaps biting dog flies.
8:22 I will set apart on that day the land of Goshen Goshen was the region in the eastern Nile delta where Jacob's family settled (Gen 47:6). The LORD is not a god of one river or region. He rules "in the midst of the land," and He can protect His people while judging those around them.
8:23 I will put a ransom between My people and your people A ransom is a price paid to set someone free. The Hebrew word usually means redemption, while many versions read division or distinction, following the Greek and Latin. Either way God made a clear difference between His people and Egypt, and from here on Israel is spared (9:4, 26; 10:23; 11:7). God still knows His own. Jesus "is delivering us from the wrath that is coming" (1 Thess 1:10), "because God did not appoint us for wrath" (1 Thess 5:9). I believe He will keep His church from the coming day of wrath.
8:24 the LORD did so No staff this time. God simply did it. The palace was not safe and the land was ruined, while Goshen, just down the road, was quiet. Egypt could see the God of the Hebrews protecting His people.
8:25 Go, sacrifice to your God in the land Pharaoh's first bargain: stay in Egypt and worship here.
8:26 we will sacrifice the abomination of Egypt Sheep, goats and cattle were sacred to some Egyptians or detested as offerings, and Hebrew sacrifices in Egypt could cause a riot. Moses would not change what God commanded. Worship must be on God's terms. The world still says, Worship your God, but here, our way, and don't be different. God says, "come out from the midst of them and be separate" (2 Cor 6:17).
8:28 only you shall certainly not go far away The second offer was still a trap, keeping Israel close enough to pull back. Satan's offer is often the same: follow God if you want, but don't go too far. Keep one foot in Egypt.
8:29 only let Pharaoh not again deal deceitfully Moses had learned from the frogs and spoke plainly about the broken promise.
8:31 not one remained God's answers are complete. When He removes a judgment, He removes it fully.
8:32 Pharaoh made his heart heavy this time also Each time Pharaoh hardened his heart, the next wrong choice came easier. We are warned not to be "hardened by the deceitfulness of sin" (Heb 3:13). The time to listen to God is when He speaks.
9:3 a very heavy pestilence The fifth plague, a deadly disease on livestock in the field. Horses, donkeys, camels, herds and flocks were Egypt's wealth, transport, farming and food, and Egyptians honored some animals as sacred, such as the bull Apis.
9:4 the LORD will set apart between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt Plague by plague God taught Egypt that He protects His own.

the sons of Israel."'" 5 And the LORD set an appointed time, saying, "Tomorrow the LORD will do this thing in the land." 6 And the LORD did this thing on the next day, and all the livestock of Egypt died; and of the livestock of the sons of Israel not one died. 7 And Pharaoh sent, and look, of the livestock of Israel not even one had died. And the heart of Pharaoh was heavy, and he did not let the people go. 8 And the LORD said to Moses and to Aaron (Aharon), "Take for yourselves the fullness of your hollow hands of soot of a furnace, and let Moses sprinkle it toward the heavens in the eyes of Pharaoh. 9 And it shall become fine dust over all the land of Egypt, and it shall become boils breaking out in blisters on mankind and on livestock in all the land of Egypt." 10 And they took the soot of the furnace, and they stood before Pharaoh, and Moses sprinkled it toward the heavens; and it became boils of blisters breaking out on mankind and on livestock. 11 And the magicians were not able to stand before Moses because of the boils, for the boils were on the magicians and on all Egypt. 12 And the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not listen to them, just as the LORD had spoken to Moses.

The Seventh Plague: Hail

13 And the LORD said to Moses, "Rise early in the morning, and station yourself before Pharaoh, and you shall say to him, 'Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, "Let My people go, so that they may serve Me. 14 For at this time I am sending all My plagues into your heart and on your servants and on your people, so that you may know that there is none like Me in all the earth. 15 For now I could have sent out My hand, and I could have struck you and your people with the pestilence, and you would have been effaced from the earth. 16 And yet for this I have caused you to stand: in order to show you My power, and in order to recount My name in all the earth. 17 You are still exalting yourself against My people, so as not to let them go. 18 Look, I am raining about this time tomorrow a very heavy hail, the like of which has not been in Egypt from the day it was founded and until now. 19 And now send, bring your livestock and all that is yours in the field to refuge; all mankind and livestock that is found in the field and is not gathered into the house, the hail shall come down on them, and they shall die."'" 20 The one fearing the word of the LORD among the servants of Pharaoh made his servants and his livestock flee into the houses. 21 And whoever did not set his heart to the word of the LORD left his servants and his livestock in the field. 22 And the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the heavens, so that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, on mankind and on livestock and on every plant of the field in the land of Egypt." 23 And Moses stretched out his staff toward the heavens, and the LORD gave thunders and hail, and fire went to the earth; and the LORD rained hail on the land of Egypt. 24 And there was hail, and fire flashing in the midst of the hail, very heavy, the like of which had not been in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation. 25 And the hail struck in all the land of Egypt all that was in the field,

9:25 Ps 105:33

9:5 Tomorrow the LORD will do this thing God named the day ahead of time so no one could call it chance.
9:6 all the livestock of Egypt died The plague was on livestock "in the field" (9:3), so "all" likely means all the animals in the open fields, or all kinds. Some Egyptian animals were still alive later (9:19; 12:29). The Bible often uses all in this broad way.
9:7 of the livestock of Israel not even one had died Pharaoh sent men to check and saw the proof: exactly what God said, on the day He said, with a clear line between Egypt and Israel. Evidence does not change a heart that has made up its mind.
9:8 soot of a furnace The sixth plague came with no warning. The furnace may have been a kiln for firing the very bricks Israel was forced to make. The ash of Israel's slavery was thrown into the air and came down as judgment.
9:9 boils breaking out in blisters Painful sores covered people and animals. Egypt prided itself on its medicine and healing gods. None of them could help.
9:11 the magicians were not able to stand before Moses First they copied the plagues, then admitted "the finger of God" (8:19), and now they could not even stand in the room. We do not hear of them again. Every power set against God will fall in the end.
9:12 the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh The first time in the plagues the text says plainly that the LORD hardened him. Before this Pharaoh hardened himself again and again (7:13, 22; 8:15, 19, 32; 9:7). God did not harden a man who wanted to obey. After five refusals, God confirmed Pharaoh in his own choice, as Paul says God "gave them up" (Rom 1:24) to what they chose. Reformed teachers stress God's sovereign purpose more (Rom 9:17-18). Either way, we should take God's voice seriously while we can still hear it.
9:14 I am sending all My plagues into your heart The plagues ahead would be heavier and strike the very heart Pharaoh kept hardening, so he would know "there is none like Me in all the earth."
9:15 you would have been effaced from the earth God could have wiped out Egypt in a moment. He held back.
9:16 for this I have caused you to stand: in order to show you My power Pharaoh thought he was in charge. God says, I have let you stand. His life, throne and stubbornness were all used for God's purpose. It worked. Rahab said Jericho had heard what the LORD did (Josh 2:9-10), the Philistines still spoke of it (1 Sam 4:8), and Paul quotes this verse to show God is sovereign in mercy and judgment (Rom 9:17). We still tell the story.
9:18 a very heavy hail, the like of which has not been in Egypt Pharaoh's real problem was pride. Hail in Egypt was rare, and a storm like this was unheard of.
9:19 bring your livestock and all that is yours in the field to refuge Mercy in the middle of judgment. God gave a full day's warning and a way of escape for anyone who would listen.
9:20 The one fearing the word of the LORD among the servants of Pharaoh For the first time some Egyptians feared God's word. The same warning went to all. Some believed and some ignored it, as when the gospel is preached today. Some of these may have joined the mixed multitude that left with Israel (12:38).
9:23 the LORD gave thunders and hail, and fire went to the earth The fire was likely lightning. Egyptians honored gods of the sky and weather, and the LORD showed that He rules the heavens. Revelation 16:21 describes great hail falling on the earth in a future day of wrath. The God who judged Egypt with hail will judge the world.

from mankind and to livestock; and every plant of the field the hail struck, and every tree of the field it shattered. 26 Only in the land of Goshen, where the sons of Israel were, there was no hail.

Pharaoh Hardens His Heart Again

27 And Pharaoh sent, and he called for Moses and for Aaron, and he said to them, "I have sinned this time; the LORD is the righteous one, and I and my people are the wicked ones. 28 Pray to the LORD, and there has been enough of the thunders of God and hail; and I will let you go, and you shall not continue to stay." 29 And Moses said to him, "When I have gone out of the city, I will spread out my palms to the LORD; the thunders shall cease, and the hail shall be no more, so that you may know that the earth belongs to the LORD. 30 And you and your servants, I know that you do not yet fear before the LORD God." 31 And the flax and the barley were struck, for the barley was in the ear, and the flax was in bud. 32 And the wheat and the spelt were not struck, for they were late. 33 And Moses went out from Pharaoh, out of the city, and he spread out his palms to the LORD; and the thunders and the hail ceased, and rain was not poured out on the earth. 34 And Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders had ceased, and he continued to sin, and he made his heart heavy, he and his servants. 35 And the heart of Pharaoh was strong, and he did not let the sons of Israel go, just as the LORD had spoken by the hand of Moses.

The Eighth Plague: Locusts

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "Go in to Pharaoh, for I, I have made his heart heavy and the heart of his servants, in order that I may set these signs of Mine in his midst, 2 and in order that you may recount in the ears of your son and of the son of your son how I have made sport of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and My signs which I have set among them; and you shall know that I am the LORD." 3 And Moses and Aaron (Aharon) went in to Pharaoh, and they said to him, "Thus says the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, 'Until when have you refused to humble yourself before Me? Let My people go, so that they may serve Me. 4 For if you are refusing to let My people go, look, I am bringing locusts into your territory tomorrow. 5 And they shall cover the eye of the land, and one shall not be able to see the land; and they shall eat the remainder of what has escaped, what remains to you from the hail, and they shall eat every tree that sprouts for you from the field. 6 And they shall fill your houses and the houses of all your servants and the houses of all Egypt, which your fathers and the fathers of your fathers have not seen from the day they were on the ground until this day.'" And he turned, and he went out from Pharaoh. 7 And the servants of Pharaoh said to him, "Until when shall this one be a snare to us? Let the men go, so that they may serve the LORD their God. Do you not yet know that Egypt has perished?" 8 And Moses and Aaron were brought back to Pharaoh, and he said to them, "Go, serve the LORD your God. Who and who are the ones going?" 9 And Moses said, "With our young and with our old we will go; with our sons and with our daughters, with our flock and with our herd we will go; for the festival of the LORD is ours." 10 And he said to them, "Let the LORD be so with you, just as I will let you and your little ones go!

9:26 Only in the land of Goshen A wall of storm over Egypt and calm skies over Goshen. Again God made a clear difference between His people and those who opposed Him.
9:27 I have sinned this time Good words, but "this time" gives him away. He did not see his life of pride as sin, only this one act, and he spoke from fear of the storm, not sorrow over sin. "The grief of the world produces death" (2 Cor 7:10). Real repentance turns from the sin itself.
9:29 I will spread out my palms to the LORD The open-handed posture of prayer. The storm would stop "so that you may know that the earth belongs to the LORD."
9:30 I know that you do not yet fear before the LORD God Moses was not fooled, yet he prayed anyway. We pray for people even when we doubt their sincerity. Our prayers depend on God, not on how others respond.
9:31 the barley was in the ear, and the flax was in bud Spelt is a kind of wheat. Barley ripens earlier than wheat in Egypt, about January to March. It is the kind of detail an eyewitness gives, and it explains why the locusts still had something to eat. God spared part of the harvest, still leaving room for repentance.
9:34 he continued to sin, and he made his heart heavy, he and his servants Now the servants hardened with their king. Sin spreads from leaders to those who follow them.
9:35 just as the LORD had spoken by the hand of Moses Every refusal was already known to God. Nothing in this story was out of His control, and nothing in ours is either.
10:1 I, I have made his heart heavy and the heart of his servants Pharaoh had hardened his own heart many times, and now God was confirming it, so that He might set His signs in Egypt's midst.
10:2 in order that you may recount in the ears of your son and of the son of your son The plagues were lessons for Israel's children and grandchildren too. God wanted the story told at every table, generation after generation (Ps 78:4-7). Do the children in your life know the stories of God's faithfulness, in Scripture and in your own life?
10:3 Until when have you refused to humble yourself before Me The real issue was pride. Pharaoh would not bow.
10:4 I am bringing locusts into your territory tomorrow The eighth plague. Locusts were among the most feared disasters of the ancient world. A swarm could strip a country bare in hours and leave it facing famine. Joel 1-2 uses a locust plague as a picture of the coming day of the LORD. This time Moses did not wait for an answer.
10:7 Do you not yet know that Egypt has perished Pharaoh's own advisers told him the truth. Livestock dead, crops broken, water turned to blood, people covered in sores. Only Pharaoh refused to see it. Pride blinds a person to what everyone else can see.
10:9 With our young and with our old we will go Pharaoh wanted terms. Moses was clear: everyone and everything would go, "for the festival of the LORD is ours." The worship of God was for the whole family.
10:10 Let the LORD be so with you, just as I will let you and your little ones go Pharaoh meant it as a curse, something like, the LORD help you if I ever let your children go. He accused them of plotting escape.

See, for evil is before your faces. 11 Not so! Go, please, you men, and serve the LORD, for that is what you are requesting." And one drove them out from the face of Pharaoh. 12 And the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, so that they may come up on the land of Egypt, and they may eat every plant of the land, all that the hail has left." 13 And Moses stretched out his staff over the land of Egypt, and the LORD drove an east wind in the land all that day and all the night; the morning came, and the east wind carried the locusts. 14 And the locusts came up on all the land of Egypt, and they settled in all the territory of Egypt, very heavy; before them there had not been such locusts as them, and after them there shall not be such. 15 And they covered the eye of all the land, and the land grew dark; and they ate every plant of the land and all the fruit of the trees that the hail had left; and not any green thing was left on the trees and on the plants of the field in all the land of Egypt. 16 And Pharaoh hurried to call for Moses and for Aaron, and he said, "I have sinned against the LORD your God and against you. 17 And now, forgive, please, my sin only this time, and pray to the LORD your God, that He may remove from me only this death." 18 And he went out from Pharaoh, and he prayed to the LORD. 19 And the LORD turned a very strong sea wind, and it lifted the locusts, and it thrust them into the Red Sea; not one locust remained in all the territory of Egypt. 20 And the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not let the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) go.

The Ninth Plague: Darkness

21 And the LORD said to Moses, "Stretch out your hand toward the heavens, so that there may be darkness over the land of Egypt, and one may feel darkness." 22 And Moses stretched out his hand toward the heavens, and there was darkness of gloom in all the land of Egypt three days. 23 They did not see each man his brother, and each man did not rise from his place three days; and for all the sons of Israel there was light in their dwellings. 24 And Pharaoh called for Moses, and he said, "Go, serve the LORD; only your flock and your herd shall be held back; your little ones also shall go with you." 25 And Moses said, "You also shall give into our hand sacrifices and burnt offerings, and we will offer them to the LORD our God. 26 And also our livestock shall go with us; not a hoof shall be left behind, for from it we will take to serve the LORD our God; and we, we do not know with what we shall serve the LORD until we come there." 27 And the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he was not willing to let them go. 28 And Pharaoh said to him, "Go from me! Take heed to yourself; do not again see my face, for on the day you see my face you shall die." 29 And Moses said, "Rightly you have spoken; I will not again see your face anymore."

10:11 Go, please, you men, and serve the LORD He would keep the women and children as hostages. Satan still offers this: go and worship if you must, but leave your children with me. Many are glad to follow God themselves but do little to bring their children. God wants whole families: "I and my house, we will serve the LORD" (Josh 24:15).
10:13 the LORD drove an east wind in the land all that day and all the night God used a natural means, the wind, but He controlled its timing and strength.
10:15 not any green thing was left The swarm was so thick the land grew dark. Egypt, the breadbasket of the ancient world, was stripped bare.
10:17 remove from me only this death Pharaoh, who claimed to be a god, begged Moses for forgiveness. But he said "the LORD your God," not my God. He wanted the locusts gone, not God. He called them "this death" because without crops Egypt faced starvation.
10:19 it thrust them into the Red Sea A strong west wind from the Mediterranean swept them away. The Hebrew name is Yam Suph, sea of reeds. God sent the locusts with a wind and took them away with a wind. He controls all of nature. Pharaoh's confession lasted only as long as the trouble.
10:21 one may feel darkness The ninth plague came without warning: three days of thick, heavy darkness. The chief god of Egypt was Ra, the sun god, and Pharaoh was called the son of Ra. For three days Egypt's greatest god was blotted out. Some suggest a severe sandstorm as the means, but the focus is God's act.
10:23 for all the sons of Israel there was light in their dwellings People in Egypt were frozen where they sat, while Goshen had light. God "rescued us out of the authority of the darkness" (Col 1:13). Those without Christ walk in darkness. Those who follow Him "will have the light of life" (John 8:12).
10:24 only your flock and your herd shall be held back Pharaoh's final offer. Without animals, Israel could not worship and would have a reason to return.
10:25 sacrifices and burnt offerings A burnt offering was an animal wholly burned on the altar, showing that the worshiper gave himself fully to God. Pharaoh would even have to supply them.
10:26 not a hoof shall be left behind Israel did not yet know what God would ask, so they would take everything and hold it ready. That is a good way to live. If we hold all we have ready for God, nothing will be missing when He calls.
10:28 on the day you see my face you shall die Pharaoh told God's messenger to go away, and he got what he asked for. There may come a time when God stops pleading with a hard heart. "Today, if you hear His voice, do not harden your hearts" (Heb 3:15).
10:29 I will not again see your face anymore Moses answered calmly. His last message (11:4-8) seems to belong to this same meeting, and then he left in burning anger. Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron again after the tenth plague (12:31), which many read as a message sent through servants or a final meeting Pharaoh called.
11:1 Yet one plague I will bring on Pharaoh and on Egypt The last. The king who said, "Israel I will not let go" (5:2) would soon drive them out, as God said from the start (6:1). Many think God spoke these words before Moses' last meeting with Pharaoh ended (10:29), and that verses 4 to 8 belong to that same meeting.

will surely drive you out from here. 2 Speak, please, in the ears of the people, that they may ask, each man from his neighbor and each woman from her neighbor, articles of silver and articles of gold." 3 And the LORD gave the favor of the people in the eyes of Egypt. Also the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt, in the eyes of the servants of Pharaoh and in the eyes of the people. 4 And Moses said, "Thus says the LORD, 'About the middle of the night I am going out into the midst of Egypt, 5 and every firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sits on his throne, to the firstborn of the female servant who is behind the hand mill, and every firstborn of livestock. 6 And there shall be a great cry in all the land of Egypt, the like of which has not been, and the like of which shall not be again. 7 And against all the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) a dog shall not sharpen its tongue, from man and to livestock, so that you may know that the LORD sets apart between Egypt and Israel.' 8 And all these servants of yours shall come down to me, and they shall bow down to me, saying, 'Go out, you and all the people who are at your feet.' And after that I will go out." And he went out from Pharaoh with burning anger. 9 And the LORD said to Moses, "Pharaoh will not listen to you, so that My wonders may become many in the land of Egypt." 10 And Moses and Aaron (Aharon) did all these wonders before Pharaoh; and the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not let the sons of Israel go from his land.

The Passover Instituted

1 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe) and to Aaron (Aharon) in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), saying, 2 "This month shall be for you the beginning of months; it shall be first for you of the months of the year. 3 Speak to all the congregation of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'On the tenth of this month they shall take for themselves, each man, a lamb for each house of fathers, a lamb for each household. 4 And if the household is too small to be enough for a lamb, then he and his neighbor who is near to his house shall take one according to the number of souls; each man according to his eating you shall count for the lamb. 5 Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male, a son of a year; you shall take it from the sheep or from the goats. 6 And it shall be for you for keeping until the fourteenth day of this month; and all the assembly of the congregation of Israel shall slaughter it between the two evenings. 7 And they shall take some of the blood, and they shall put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel, on the houses in which they eat it. 8 And they shall eat the flesh in this night, roasted with fire, and they shall eat it with unleavened bread

11:2 articles of silver and articles of gold Promised at the bush (3:21-22) and long before to Abraham, that his descendants would come out "with great possessions" (Gen 15:14).
11:3 the man Moses was very great in the land of Egypt The shepherd who fled for his life was now honored across the land. This is not boasting, for Moses "was very humble" (Num 12:3). It explains why the Egyptians gave so freely.
11:4 About the middle of the night I am going out into the midst of Egypt The most terrible warning in the story. This plague would come through no staff or hand. The LORD would go through Egypt Himself. Chapter 12 shows it came on the night of the fourteenth day of the first month.
11:5 every firstborn in the land of Egypt shall die A hard verse, not to be read lightly. The hand mill was the work of the lowest servant, so no one was too high or too low. Why would God do this? It was the judgment He warned of before the first plague (4:22-23), refused through nine plagues and many months. It matched Egypt's crime of drowning Israel's sons (1:22) and its long cruel slavery. And God, the giver of life, alone has the right to take it. We do not understand all His ways, but He is just, He warned many times, and He opened a way of escape through the blood (chapter 12).
11:6 there shall be a great cry in all the land of Egypt Years before, Israel had cried out in Egypt (2:23). Now Egypt would cry.
11:7 against all the sons of Israel a dog shall not sharpen its tongue Egypt would be full of wailing, and Israel so quiet that not a dog would growl. God has made a difference again and again (8:22; 9:4, 26; 10:23), and here most clearly. But as chapter 12 shows, Israel was not spared for being better people. They were spared by the blood of a lamb.
11:8 he went out from Pharaoh with burning anger Pharaoh's servants did bow and beg them to go (12:31-33). This was not the selfish anger of 2:12 but righteous anger at a pride about to bring death on a whole land. Jesus was angry, "grieved at the hardness of their heart" (Mark 3:5). Moses' anger did not lead him to sin. He gave God's message and left.
11:10 the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh A summary of everything since chapter 7. Nine plagues had fallen, Egypt was ruined, and Pharaoh still would not bow. Some Egyptians listened; many did not. God still warns before He judges. The question is whether we will listen.
12:2 This month shall be for you the beginning of months God reset Israel's calendar to begin with the month of their salvation, called Abib (13:4), later Nisan, our March or April. Salvation is a new beginning. "If anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation" (2 Cor 5:17). Israel's life as a nation began with the Passover. Ours with God begins at the cross.
12:3 each man, a lamb for each house of fathers Each household chose its own lamb, sharing with neighbors if small, so no lamb was wasted and no family left out. Notice the steps: a lamb, the lamb, your lamb (12:5). It is not enough to know Christ died for the world. Each person must receive Him.
12:5 Your lamb shall be without blemish, a male, a son of a year Perfect, young and strong. We were redeemed "with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pet 1:19). Jesus is the only spotless One who ever lived.
12:6 until the fourteenth day of this month For four days the family lived with the lamb and saw it had no defect. Many have noticed that Jesus entered Jerusalem in the days before Passover and was examined by priests, Pharisees and Pilate, who said, "I find no cause in Him" (John 18:38). "Between the two evenings" means twilight, late afternoon. Jesus died about three in the afternoon (Mark 15:34-37), about the hour the Passover lambs were killed, though the exact calendar of that week is debated.
12:7 they shall take some of the blood, and they shall put it on the two doorposts and on the lintel The lintel is the beam over the door. The blood had to be applied. A lamb killed but its blood left in the basin protected no one. This is the gospel in picture: Christ's death is enough for all, but each must take it by faith. Moses kept "the sprinkling of the blood" (Heb 11:28) by faith.
12:8 roasted with fire, and they shall eat it with unleavened bread and with bitter herbs The lamb roasted with fire pictures the judgment that fell on our substitute. Bitter herbs recalled the bitterness of slavery (1:14). Unleavened bread, made without yeast, was the bread of haste. Leaven spreads through the whole lump, and in the Bible it often pictures sin (1 Cor 5:6-8).

and with bitter herbs. 9 Do not eat any of it raw, or boiled at all in water, but roasted with fire, its head with its legs and with its inner parts. 10 And you shall not leave any of it over until morning; and what is left over of it until morning you shall burn with fire. 11 And thus you shall eat it: your loins girded, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand; and you shall eat it in haste. It is a Passover to the LORD. 12 And I will pass through the land of Egypt in this night, and I will strike every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from mankind and to livestock; and on all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments. I am the LORD. 13 And the blood shall be for you for a sign on the houses where you are; and I will see the blood, and I will pass over you, and there shall not be among you a plague for destruction when I strike in the land of Egypt. 14 And this day shall be for you for a memorial, and you shall celebrate it as a festival to the LORD throughout your generations; as a statute forever you shall celebrate it. 15 Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread; surely on the first day you shall remove leaven from your houses; for anyone eating leavened bread, that soul shall be cut off from Israel, from the first day until the seventh day. 16 And on the first day there shall be a convocation of holiness, and on the seventh day a convocation of holiness for you; no work shall be done on them; only what is eaten by every soul, that alone may be done by you. 17 And you shall keep the unleavened bread, for on this very day I brought out your armies from the land of Egypt; and you shall keep this day throughout your generations as a statute forever. 18 In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, in the evening, you shall eat unleavened bread, until the twenty-first day of the month in the evening. 19 Seven days leaven shall not be found in your houses; for anyone eating what is leavened, that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel, whether among the sojourner or among the native of the land. 20 Anything leavened you shall not eat; in all your dwellings you shall eat unleavened bread.'"

Israel Keeps the Passover

21 And Moses called for all the elders of Israel, and he said to them, "Draw out and take for yourselves flock animals according to your families, and slaughter the Passover. 22 And you shall take a bunch of hyssop, and you shall dip it in the blood that is in the basin, and you shall touch the lintel and the two doorposts with some of the blood that is in the basin; and you, you shall not go out, each man from the door of his house, until morning. 23 And the LORD will pass through to strike Egypt, and He will see the blood on the lintel and on the two doorposts, and the LORD will pass over the door, and He will not allow the destroyer to come into your houses to strike. 24 And you shall keep this thing as a decree for you and for your sons forever. 25 And it shall be, when you come to the land which the LORD will give to you, just as He has spoken, that you shall keep this service. 26 And it shall be, when your sons say to you, 'What is this service to you?' 27 that you shall say, 'It is a sacrifice of Passover to the LORD, who passed over the houses of the sons of Israel in Egypt when He struck Egypt, and He delivered our houses.'" And the people bowed low and worshiped. 28 And the sons of Israel went, and they did just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron; so they did.

12:11 your loins girded, your sandals on your feet, and your staff in your hand To gird the loins was to tuck a long robe into the belt to move quickly. They ate dressed for travel. Passover means the LORD would pass over the homes marked by blood. Those saved by Christ's blood should live ready to go, "awaiting the blessed hope" (Titus 2:13).
12:12 on all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments None of them could protect even Pharaoh's own son.
12:13 I will see the blood, and I will pass over you God did not say, when I see how good you are. Israel's safety rested on the blood, not their goodness. An Israelite home without it would have suffered like an Egyptian home. Scripture does not say so directly, but it seems an Egyptian home under the blood would have been safe, since a mixed company left with Israel (12:38) and the door was open to sojourners (12:48). We are saved because God sees the blood of His Son, for "apart from shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22).
12:14 this day shall be for you for a memorial God wanted His people never to forget. Jesus ate the Passover the night before He died and said of the bread, "This is My body, which is being given for you; do this for My remembrance" (Luke 22:19). The Lord's Supper was born at a Passover table.
12:15 Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread The Feast of Unleavened Bread ran from the fifteenth to the twenty-first (12:18). To be "cut off" meant removal from the community, possibly death at God's hand. Paul applies it: "our Passover was sacrificed for us: Christ" (1 Cor 5:7), so "cleanse out the old leaven" (1 Cor 5:7). Salvation comes first, by the blood. A clean life follows.
12:16 a convocation of holiness A holy gathering on the first and seventh days, with no work except preparing food. These were days of rest and worship.
12:19 whether among the sojourner or among the native of the land A sojourner was a foreigner living among Israel. Whoever joined the feast was under the same rule. God's way was the same for everyone.
12:22 you shall take a bunch of hyssop A small plant with leafy stems, good for sprinkling. It was later used in cleansing (Lev 14:4), "purify me from sin with hyssop" (Ps 51:7), and a sponge on hyssop was lifted to Jesus on the cross (John 19:29). Safety was only inside the house under the blood, until morning.
12:23 He will not allow the destroyer to come into your houses Scripture does not define the destroyer. It seems to be an angel acting under the LORD's command (2 Sam 24:16; Heb 11:28).
12:26 What is this service to you God built teaching into worship. The children would see the lamb, the blood and the bitter herbs, and they would ask. Our children should see and hear our faith, and we should be ready to tell them what God has done.
12:27 the people bowed low and worshiped They believed God's word before the night came.
12:28 they did just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron Saving faith obeys. Israel did not argue about the blood or try another way. "The faith, if it does not have works, is dead by itself" (James 2:17). Their faith showed in a lamb killed and blood applied.

The Death of the Firstborn and the Exodus

29 And it came about in the middle of the night, and the LORD struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of Pharaoh who sat on his throne, to the firstborn of the captive who was in the house of the pit, and every firstborn of livestock. 30 And Pharaoh rose up by night, he and all his servants and all Egypt; and there was a great cry in Egypt, for there was not a house where there was not one dead. 31 And he called for Moses and for Aaron by night, and he said, "Rise up, go out from the midst of my people, both you and the sons of Israel; and go, serve the LORD as you have spoken. 32 Both your flock and your herd take, just as you have spoken, and go; and bless me also." 33 And Egypt urged the people, hurrying to send them away from the land, for they said, "All of us are dying." 34 And the people carried their dough before it was leavened, their kneading troughs bound up in their clothes on their shoulder. 35 And the sons of Israel did according to the word of Moses, and they asked from Egypt articles of silver and articles of gold and clothes.
36 And the LORD gave the favor of the people in the eyes of Egypt, and they granted them what they asked; and they plundered Egypt. 37 And the sons of Israel set out from Rameses (Ra'amses) to Succoth (Sukot), about six hundred thousand on foot, the men, apart from little ones. 38 And also a great mixed company went up with them, and flock and herd, very numerous livestock. 39 And they baked the dough which they had brought out from Egypt into unleavened cakes, for it was not leavened, because they had been driven out from Egypt, and they were not able to delay; and also they had not made provisions for themselves. 40 And the dwelling of the sons of Israel, which they dwelt in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years. 41 And it came about at the end of four hundred and thirty years, and it came about on this very day, all the armies of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt. 42 It is a night of vigils for the LORD, to bring them out from the land of Egypt; this night is for the LORD, vigils for all the sons of Israel throughout their generations.

The Passover Rules

43 And the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "This is the statute of the Passover: no son of a foreign land shall eat of it.
44 And every slave of a man, purchased with silver, and you shall circumcise him, then he may eat of it. 45 A resident and a hired worker shall not eat of it. 46 In one house it shall be eaten; you shall not bring out any of the flesh from the house outside; and you shall not break a bone of it. 47 All the congregation of Israel shall do it. 48 And when a sojourner sojourns with you, and would do the Passover to the LORD, every male of his must be circumcised, and then he may draw near to do it, and he shall be like a native of the land; and any uncircumcised one shall not eat of it. 49 One law shall be for the native and for the sojourner who sojourns in your midst." 50 And all the sons of Israel did just as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron; so they did. 51 And it came about on this very day, the LORD brought out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt by their armies.

12:29 the LORD struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt Every word of the warning came true, from Pharaoh's son to the prisoner in the dungeon.
12:30 there was not a house where there was not one dead A heavy verse, never to be read with glee. God warned for months, and Pharaoh refused. Many suffered for their king's pride. God's judgment is real, just and terrible. That is why God provided the Lamb.
12:31 go, serve the LORD as you have spoken The proud king was broken. No more bargaining. Children, flocks and herds could all go.
12:32 bless me also The man who said, "I do not know the LORD" (5:2) now asked a blessing from the LORD's servants.
12:34 the people carried their dough before it was leavened They left in such haste that the bread had no time to rise.
12:36 they plundered Egypt Slaves who had nothing walked out with the wealth of Egypt, as God said (3:22; 11:2). Much of it would build the tabernacle (35:22).
12:37 about six hundred thousand on foot, the men, apart from little ones With women and children the total would be about two million or more. I take the number as written. Some scholars read the Hebrew word for thousand as a clan or military unit, which would make the number much smaller, but the careful count of 603,550 men in Numbers 1:46 is hard to read that way.
12:38 a great mixed company went up with them People who were not Israelites, likely Egyptians and others who had seen God's power and chose to go with His people. God's salvation was open to anyone who would come.
12:40 four hundred and thirty years God told Abraham of about four hundred years of affliction (Gen 15:13). Teachers count the 430 years two ways. Some take it as Israel's whole time in Egypt. Others count from the promise to Abraham, since Paul says the law came "four hundred and thirty years afterward" (Gal 3:17), which leaves about 215 years in Egypt. The Greek text of this verse reads that way too. Either way, God kept His timetable "on this very day."
12:42 It is a night of vigils for the LORD The LORD kept watch over Israel that night, and Israel would keep watch every year in remembrance. "He will not slumber and He will not sleep, the Keeper of Israel" (Ps 121:4).
12:43 no son of a foreign land shall eat of it An outsider who had not joined Israel could not eat, nor could a temporary resident or hired worker. A purchased slave could eat once circumcised, as part of the household. The Passover was for those inside the covenant, as the Lord's Supper is for those who belong to Christ (1 Cor 11:27-29).
12:46 you shall not break a bone of it The soldiers broke the legs of the men crucified with Jesus but not His, because He was already dead, "so that the Scripture might be fulfilled, 'A bone of His will not be broken'" (John 19:36). Jesus is the true Passover Lamb, down to the smallest detail.
12:48 he shall be like a native of the land A foreigner could join Israel's worship by joining the covenant through circumcision (Gen 17:10-14). The door was open to outsiders from the start, because God planned to bless all nations through Abraham's seed (Gen 12:3). In Christ that door is open wide to all who believe (Eph 2:12-13).
12:51 the LORD brought out the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt by their armies Moses led and Israel walked, but the salvation was God's. Four hundred thirty years of waiting ended in one night. God's promises can take a long time, but they are never late.

EXODUS 13

The Firstborn Set Apart

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying,
2 "Consecrate to Me every firstborn, what opens every womb among the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), among mankind and among livestock; it is Mine." 3 And Moses said to the people, "Remember this day, on which you went out from Egypt (Mitsrayim), from a house of slaves; for by strength of hand the LORD brought you out from here; and leavened bread shall not be eaten. 4 Today you are going out, in the month of Abib (Aviv). 5 And it shall be, when the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Amorite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, which He swore to your fathers to give to you, a land flowing with milk and honey, that you shall serve this service in this month. 6 Seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a festival to the LORD. 7 Unleavened bread shall be eaten the seven days; and leavened bread shall not be seen with you, and leaven shall not be seen with you in all your territory. 8 And you shall tell your son on that day, saying, 'It is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out from Egypt.' 9 And it shall be for you for a sign on your hand and for a memorial between your eyes, so that the law of the LORD may be in your mouth; for with a strong hand the LORD brought you out from Egypt. 10 And you shall keep this statute at its appointed time from days to days. 11 And it shall be, when the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanite, just as He swore to you and to your fathers, and He gives it to you, 12 that you shall cause everything that opens a womb to pass over to the LORD, and everything that opens, offspring of livestock which you have; the males shall be the LORD's. 13 And everything that opens the womb of a donkey you shall ransom with a lamb; and if you do not ransom it, then you shall break its neck; and every firstborn of mankind among your sons you shall ransom. 14 And it shall be, when your son asks you in time to come, saying, 'What is this?' that you shall say to him, 'By strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Egypt, from a house of slaves. 15 And it came about, when Pharaoh made it hard to let us go, that the LORD killed every firstborn in the land of Egypt, from the firstborn of mankind and to the firstborn of livestock. Therefore I sacrifice to the LORD everything that opens a womb, the males, and every firstborn of my sons I ransom.' 16 And it shall be for a sign on your hand and for frontlets between your eyes; for by strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Egypt."

The Pillar of Cloud and Fire

17 And it came about, when Pharaoh let the people go, that God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines, for it was near; for God said, "Lest the people regret when they see war, and they return to Egypt." 18 And God led the people around by the way of the wilderness to the Red Sea; and the sons of Israel went up armed from the land of Egypt. 19 And Moses took the bones of Joseph (Yosef) with him, for he had certainly made the sons of Israel swear,

13:19 Heb 11:22; Josh 24:32; Acts 7:16

13:2 Consecrate to Me every firstborn To consecrate is to set apart for God. On Passover night God spared Israel's firstborn by the blood. They were alive because God had bought them, so they belonged to Him. Later God took the tribe of Levi in place of the firstborn to serve at the tabernacle (Num 3:11-13). So with believers: "you are not your own" (1 Cor 6:19), "for you were bought with a price" (1 Cor 6:20).
13:3 from a house of slaves God wanted Israel to remember where they had been, so they would never want to go back. They did not free themselves. God did, "by strength of hand."
13:4 in the month of Abib Abib means ear of grain, the spring month when barley ripened. Israel's new life began in a season of new life.
13:7 leaven shall not be seen with you in all your territory Not just in the house but in all the land. Freedom from Egypt was to be matched by a clean break from the old life. God wants His people's whole lives marked by what He has done.
13:8 It is because of what the LORD did for me when I came out from Egypt Notice "me." Each father told the story as his own, and generations later every Israelite was to see himself in it. The LORD did this for me.
13:9 for a sign on your hand and for a memorial between your eyes The feast would be like a reminder tied to the hand and placed before the eyes. Later many Jews took this and Deuteronomy 6:8 as a command to wear small boxes holding Scripture, called phylacteries or tefillin, which Jesus mentions (Matt 23:5). Whether worn or not, God's saving acts should shape what we do, see and say.
13:12 you shall cause everything that opens a womb to pass over to the LORD The firstborn males of clean animals such as cattle, sheep and goats were sacrificed.
13:13 everything that opens the womb of a donkey you shall ransom with a lamb A donkey was unclean and could not be offered, so a lamb died in its place, or the donkey was killed. It could not be kept as if it were not God's. That is a picture of us: unclean, unable to come to God, and without a Lamb in our place we would die. Christ is that Lamb.
13:13 every firstborn of mankind among your sons you shall ransom Sons were never sacrificed. Israel was never to offer children as the pagans did. Each firstborn son was bought back, later for five shekels of silver (Num 18:15-16). Mary and Joseph presented Jesus at the temple under this law (Luke 2:22-23).
13:14 when your son asks you in time to come, saying, 'What is this?' Every firstborn lamb offered or son redeemed meant the story was told again. God tied memory to daily life. Faith is passed on best not only at church but at the dinner table, in the car, and in the questions children ask.
13:17 God did not lead them by the way of the land of the Philistines The coastal road was shortest but guarded by Egyptian forts and led into Philistine land. These lifelong slaves were not soldiers, and a battle so soon would break them. The shortest road is not always God's road. Sometimes He leads us the long way because He knows what we are ready for.
13:18 the sons of Israel went up armed The word may mean in battle array or organized in ranks. They left as an orderly people. The Hebrew for Red Sea is Yam Suph, sea of reeds. The crossing place is debated (the Gulf of Suez, the Bitter Lakes region, the Gulf of Aqaba and others), but it was a real sea, deep enough to drown Pharaoh's army (14:28).
13:19 Moses took the bones of Joseph with him Joseph believed God's promise so firmly that he gave orders about his burial in a land he would never see (Gen 50:25; Heb 11:22). After about four centuries his coffin went with Israel, to be buried at Shechem (Josh 24:32). Every Israelite who saw it was reminded that God keeps His word, even if it takes centuries.

saying, "God will certainly visit you, and you shall bring up my bones from here with you." 20 And they set out from Succoth (Sukot), and they encamped at Etham (Etam), at the edge of the wilderness. 21 And the LORD was going before them by day in a pillar of cloud to lead them on the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to give light to them, to go by day and by night. 22 The pillar of the cloud by day and the pillar of the fire by night did not depart from before the people.

Pharaoh Pursues Israel

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), that they turn back and encamp before Pi-hahiroth (Pi-Hachirot), between Migdol and the sea, before Baal-zephon (Ba'al-Tsefon); opposite it you shall encamp by the sea. 3 And Pharaoh will say of the sons of Israel, 'They are wandering in confusion in the land; the wilderness has shut in on them.' 4 And I will strengthen the heart of Pharaoh, and he will pursue after them; and I will be glorified in Pharaoh and in all his army, and Egypt (Mitsrayim) will know that I am the LORD." And they did so. 5 And it was told to the king of Egypt that the people had fled; and the heart of Pharaoh and his servants was changed toward the people, and they said, "What is this we have done, that we have let Israel go from serving us?" 6 And he harnessed his chariot, and he took his people with him. 7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariotry of Egypt, and officers over all of it. 8 And the LORD strengthened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the sons of Israel; and the sons of Israel were going out with a raised hand. 9 And Egypt pursued after them, and they overtook them encamped by the sea, every horse of the chariotry of Pharaoh, and his horsemen and his army, by Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon. 10 And Pharaoh drew near, and the sons of Israel lifted up their eyes, and look, Egypt was marching after them; and they were very afraid, and the sons of Israel cried out to the LORD. 11 And they said to Moses, "Is it because there are no graves in Egypt that you have taken us to die in the wilderness? What is this you have done to us, by bringing us out from Egypt? 12 Is not this the word that we spoke to you in Egypt, saying, 'Cease from us, and let us serve Egypt'? For serving Egypt is better for us than our dying in the wilderness." 13 And Moses said to the people, "Do not be afraid; station yourselves, and see the salvation of the LORD, which He will do for you today; for Egypt, whom you have seen today, you shall not again see them anymore, forever. 14 The LORD will fight for you, and you, you shall keep silent."

Crossing the Red Sea

15 And the LORD said to Moses, "Why do you cry out to Me? Speak to the sons of Israel, that they set out. 16 And you, raise your staff, and stretch out your hand over the sea, and split it, so that the sons of Israel may go into the midst of the sea on the dry land. 17 And I, look, I am strengthening the heart of Egypt, so that they may go in after them; and I will be glorified in Pharaoh and in all his army, in his chariots and in his horsemen. 18 And Egypt will know that I am the LORD, when I am glorified in Pharaoh, in his chariots and in 13:21 the LORD was going before them by day in a pillar of cloud God did not give Israel a map. He gave them Himself. The cloud led them, shaded them and showed He was near. The fire gave light and warmth in the dark. In 14:19 the pillar is linked with the angel of God.

13:22 did not depart from before the people Not once. Through all their grumbling and failure, the cloud stayed forty years (Neh 9:19). Believers today have the Holy Spirit within, and God has said, "I will certainly not leave you, nor will I ever forsake you" (Heb 13:5).
14:2 encamp before Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea The sites are not known today. What we know is that God led them into what looked like a dead end, with the sea in front. They did not get lost. Sometimes God leads His people where there is no way out except Him.
14:3 the wilderness has shut in on them Israel looked weak. God was setting a trap, and Israel was the bait. They obeyed even though it made no sense. Faith often means obeying first and understanding later.
14:4 I will be glorified in Pharaoh and in all his army God would gain glory through Pharaoh's last act of rebellion, so Egypt would know that He is the LORD.
14:5 What is this we have done, that we have let Israel go from serving us The grief of Passover night had passed, and they missed their slaves. Sin is like that. When we leave it, it often comes after us to drag us back.
14:7 six hundred chosen chariots Chariots were the most feared weapon of the ancient world, fast and deadly against people on foot. Egypt sent its best against former slaves with their families and flocks.
14:8 the sons of Israel were going out with a raised hand Boldly, openly, with confidence.
14:10 they were very afraid, and the sons of Israel cried out to the LORD Their confidence vanished in a moment. Crying out to the LORD was right. The trouble was what they said next.
14:11 Is it because there are no graves in Egypt Bitter sarcasm, in a land famous for its tombs and pyramids. Days after walking out free, they wished they were slaves again, the first of many times Israel would want to go back. Ten plagues and a Passover night were behind them, and still they panicked. How often have we done the same?
14:13 station yourselves, and see the salvation of the LORD One of the great words of faith in Scripture. Do not be afraid. Stand still. Watch God save. Salvation here means rescue from danger, and it would be the LORD's work, not theirs.
14:14 The LORD will fight for you, and you, you shall keep silent There was nothing for Israel to do but trust. That is how God saves sinners. We cannot fight our way out of sin and death. Christ has fought and won. "By grace you have been saved through faith" (Eph 2:8).
14:15 Why do you cry out to Me There is a time to stand still and a time to move. Prayer is never wrong, but when God has already spoken, we are to obey.
14:16 stretch out your hand over the sea, and split it The command looked impossible: walk forward into the sea. But God had a road where no one else could see one.
14:18 Egypt will know that I am the LORD The phrase runs through the whole story of the plagues. At the sea they would know.

The Song of Moses and Miriam

1 Then Moses (Moshe) and the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) sang this song to the LORD, and they said, saying, "I will sing to the LORD, for He has surely risen up in majesty; the horse and its rider He has thrown into the sea. 2 My strength and song is the LORD, and He has become salvation for me; this is my God, and I will praise Him; the God of my father, and I will exalt Him. 3 The LORD is a man of war; the LORD is His name. 4 The chariots of Pharaoh and his army He has cast into the sea; and the choicest of his officers have been sunk

14:19 the angel of God, who was going before the camp of Israel The same God who led from the front now guarded from behind. The angel of God is tied to the pillar and to the angel of the LORD at the bush (see 3:2).
14:20 there was the cloud and the darkness, and it lit up the night Darkness to Egypt, light to Israel. The same presence that brings light to God's people brings darkness to His enemies, as the gospel is "a scent of death to death" (2 Cor 2:16) to some "and to the other a scent of life to life" (2 Cor 2:16).
14:21 the LORD caused the sea to go by a strong east wind all the night God used a wind, as with the locusts, but no ordinary wind splits the waters into walls. This was a miracle.
14:22 the waters were a wall for them on their right and on their left Not mud, dry land. Picture two million people, children and old men, flocks and herds, walking all night between walls of water. They passed through "by faith" (Heb 11:29). Israel "were baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea" (1 Cor 10:2), joined to their leader and cut off from Egypt for good, a picture of believers joined to Christ and cut off from the old life (Rom 6:4).
14:23 they went in after them Pride makes people reckless. They saw the path God made for His people and thought they could use it too.
14:24 in the morning watch The last hours before dawn.
14:25 He removed the wheels of its chariots Chariots stuck in mud or with broken wheels are useless. Egypt finally said what it should have said months before, "the LORD is fighting for them," just as Moses had said (14:14). But it was too late.
14:27 the LORD shook off Egypt in the midst of the sea At daybreak the sea returned to its normal flow, and the fleeing Egyptians ran straight into it.
14:28 not even one remained among them A solemn end. The army that came to drag Israel back was gone. The Egyptians who threw Hebrew boys into the water died in the water, after warning upon warning. Exodus 14 does not say whether Pharaoh himself drowned. God "shook off Pharaoh and his army in the Red Sea, for His steadfast love is forever" (Ps 136:15). His judgment on Egypt was an act of love for His people.
14:29 the sons of Israel walked on the dry land in the midst of the sea Moses repeats it so we will not miss it. The sea that was death to Egypt was a road of life for Israel.
14:30 the LORD saved Israel on that day from the hand of Egypt The great salvation event of the Old Testament, recalled by psalmists and prophets (Ps 106:9-11; Isa 51:10). On the mountain Moses and Elijah spoke with Jesus of His departure, His exodus, "which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem" (Luke 9:31). Jesus' death and resurrection is the greater exodus, freeing His people from sin and death.
14:31 the people feared the LORD, and they believed in the LORD and in Moses His servant Fear of the LORD and faith in Him came together. This is the high point of the first half of Exodus, but Israel's faith would soon waver. Faith built on one great moment needs feeding day by day. When the next trouble comes, look back at the shore and remember the great hand of the LORD.
15:1 I will sing to the LORD, for He has surely risen up in majesty The song is sung to the LORD about what He did, not about Israel's courage, for they had none. Egypt's chariots were its pride, and in one night God threw them into the sea. Praise is the right answer to salvation. In Revelation those who overcome the beast "sing the song of Moses the slave of God, and the song of the Lamb" (Rev 15:3). The God who saved Israel at the sea will save His people at the end.
15:2 My strength and song is the LORD, and He has become salvation for me The LORD does not only give strength. He is the strength, and He is the song. The words return in Psalm 118:14 and Isaiah 12:2. The God of their fathers was now their God. Faith handed down became faith they owned.
15:3 The LORD is a man of war Israel had no army that night. The LORD fought for them, as Moses said (14:14). God is a warrior against evil, and Christ will come again, "and in righteousness He judges and makes war" (Rev 19:11).

Bitter Water Made Sweet

22 And Moses led Israel out from the Red Sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shur; and they went three days in the wilderness, and they did not find water. 23 And they came to Marah (Mara), and they were not able to drink the waters from Marah, for they were bitter; therefore one called its name Marah. 24 And the people grumbled against Moses,

15:5 they went down into the depths like a stone A stone sinks and stays down, a judgment quick and complete. Micah uses the same picture for mercy: "You will cast all their sins into the depths of the sea" (Mic 7:19). What God buries, He does not dig back up.
15:6 Your right hand, O LORD, is glorious in power The right hand stands for strength and skill. Moses' staff was lifted, but God's hand did the work.
15:7 it consumes them like stubble Dry stalks burn up in a moment. God's anger is not bad temper. It is His holy, settled opposition to evil, and Egypt had stood against Him through ten plagues.
15:8 by the breath of Your nostrils the waters were piled up Chapter 14 says a strong east wind divided the sea (14:21). The song tells us whose breath that wind was. What looks like nature is often God's hand at work.
15:9 I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the plunder Seven times the enemy says I or my. Pharaoh's army planned the victory, counted the plunder and drew the sword.
15:10 You blew with Your breath; the sea covered them One line answers all the boasting. Proud men make big plans. God only needs to breathe. "He who sits in the heavens laughs" (Ps 2:4).
15:11 Who is like You among the gods, O LORD The plagues judged the gods of Egypt (12:12): the Nile, the frogs, the sun and Pharaoh himself. None could stand. The answer is no one. This is the first time the Bible calls God glorious in holiness, set apart and wholly pure. The rest of Exodus, the mountain, the Law and the tabernacle, teaches what it means to live near a holy God.
15:12 the earth swallowed them The sea is pictured as part of the earth that swallowed Egypt's army.
15:13 You have led in Your steadfast love the people whom You have redeemed Steadfast love is hesed, loyal love that keeps its promises. Redeemed means set free by paying a price, as God promised (6:6), paid in the blood of the Passover lambs. God did not save Israel to leave them in the desert. He was bringing them to Himself, as Christ suffered "so that He might bring us to God" (1 Pet 3:18).
15:15 all the inhabitants of Canaan have melted away This came true. Forty years later Rahab told the spies their hearts had melted when they heard how the LORD dried up the Red Sea (Josh 2:9-11).
15:16 until the people whom You have bought pass over Israel belonged to God because He bought them, as believers are bought with a price (1 Cor 6:19-20).
15:17 You will plant them on the mountain of Your inheritance God would plant His people like a tree, to put down roots and stay. A sanctuary is a holy place set apart for God, pointing to the tabernacle, then Mount Zion and the temple. God's goal was always to live among His people.
15:18 The LORD shall reign forever and ever Pharaoh claimed to be a god-king, and his reign was over. The LORD's has no end. One day heaven will say, "The kingdoms of the world have become those of our Lord and of His Christ, and He will reign to the ages of the ages" (Rev 11:15).
15:20 Miriam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron The first time Miriam is named. She is very likely the sister who watched over baby Moses (2:4-8), though chapter 2 does not name her. A prophetess speaks for God. She led the women in worship with music and joy.
15:21 Sing to the LORD, for He has surely risen up in majesty Her song repeats Moses' first line. Worship in Scripture is often loud and joyful when God has done great things. There is a time for quiet awe and a time for tambourines.
15:22 they went three days in the wilderness, and they did not find water Shur lay east of Egypt in the northwest of the Sinai Peninsula. Three days without water in the desert, with children and animals, is a real danger.
15:23 they were not able to drink the waters from Marah, for they were bitter Marah means bitter. Imagine the hope at the sight of water and then the bitter taste.
15:24 the people grumbled against Moses Three days before they were singing. The people who sang of God's power doubted He could give them a drink. Grumbling is complaining that blames, and in Exodus it is really unbelief that says God will not take care of us. It will come up again and again.

saying, "What shall we drink?" 25 And he cried out to the LORD, and the LORD showed him a tree, and he threw it into the waters, and the waters became sweet. There He made for him a statute and a judgment, and there He tested him. 26 And He said, "If you will surely listen to the voice of the LORD your God, and do what is right in His eyes, and give ear to His commandments, and keep all His statutes, all the sickness which I put on Egypt (Mitsrayim) I will not put on you; for I am the LORD who heals you." 27 And they came to Elim, and there were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees; and they encamped there by the waters.

Israel Grumbles for Food

1 And they set out from Elim, and all the congregation of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai (Sinay), on the fifteenth day of the second month of their going out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 2 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel grumbled against Moses (Moshe) and against Aaron (Aharon) in the wilderness. 3 And the sons of Israel said to them, "Who will give that we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the pot of the meat, when we ate bread to the full! For you have brought us out into this wilderness to put this whole assembly to death with hunger." 4 And the LORD said to Moses, "Look, I am about to rain bread from the heavens for you; and the people shall go out and gather the matter of a day in its day, so that I may test them, whether they will walk in My law or not. 5 And it shall be on the sixth day, and they shall prepare what they bring in, and it shall be double over what they gather day by day." 6 And Moses and Aaron said to all the sons of Israel, "At evening, then you shall know that the LORD brought you out from the land of Egypt; 7 and in the morning, then you shall see the glory of the LORD, in that He has heard your grumblings against the LORD; and what are we, that you grumble against us?" 8 And Moses said, "This shall be when the LORD gives you in the evening meat to eat and in the morning bread to be satisfied, in that the LORD has heard your grumblings which you are grumbling against Him. And what are we? Your grumblings are not against us, but against the LORD." 9 And Moses said to Aaron, "Say to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, 'Draw near before the LORD, for He has heard your grumblings.'" 10 And it was, as Aaron spoke to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and they turned toward the wilderness, and look, the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud. 11 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 12 "I have heard the grumblings of the sons of Israel. Speak to them, saying, 'Between the two evenings you shall eat meat, and in the morning you shall be satisfied with bread; and you shall know that I am the LORD your God.'"

Bread From Heaven

13 And it was in the evening, and the quail came up and covered the camp; and in the morning there was a layer of the dew around the camp. 14 And the layer of the dew went up, and look, on the face of the wilderness was a thin, flake-like thing, thin like the frost on the ground. 15 And the sons of Israel saw it, and they said each man to his brother, "What is it?" for they did not know what it was. 15:25 the LORD showed him a tree, and he threw it into the waters, and the waters became sweet The people grumbled at Moses. Moses prayed to God. When trouble comes we can do one or the other. Nothing is said of special wood; the healing came from God. Many Christians see a picture of the cross, called "the tree" (1 Pet 2:24), turning bitterness sweet. The New Testament does not draw that link here, so I hold it only as a picture. God was testing Israel to show what was in their hearts.
15:26 I am the LORD who heals you A new name for God. He healed the water and wanted to heal His people. The promise was part of His covenant with Israel, tied to obedience. It does not promise that a believer today will never be sick. But it shows God's heart to heal, and one day "God will wipe away every tear from their eyes" (Rev 21:4).
15:27 twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees After Marah came rest, shade and plenty. Twelve springs, one for each tribe, and seventy palms, perhaps one for each of the seventy who went down to Egypt (1:5), though the text does not say so. Marah was a test; Elim was a gift. If you are at Marah today, keep walking with the LORD. He knows where Elim is.
16:1 the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai The name has nothing to do with the English word sin. It was a desert region on the way to Mount Sinai. Israel had been traveling a month.
16:3 when we sat by the pot of the meat This time the whole congregation grumbled. Their memory had changed. They forgot the whips, the bricks and the drowned boys and remembered only the meat pots. When we are unhappy with where God has us, we often remember our slavery as better than it was. Grumbling always assumes the worst about God and His servants.
16:4 I am about to rain bread from the heavens for you God answered unbelief with bread, not judgment. Rain comes from God without our work. They could not earn or grow it, only gather it. God gave enough for each day, so every morning they had to trust Him again. "Give us today our daily bread" (Matt 6:11). Daily bread teaches daily trust.
16:5 it shall be double over what they gather day by day God already had the seventh day in mind.
16:8 Your grumblings are not against us, but against the LORD When we complain against the leaders God has given, or against our circumstances, we are often really complaining against God. Paul warned the church not to grumble as Israel did (1 Cor 10:10).
16:10 the glory of the LORD appeared in the cloud The glory of the LORD is the shining, visible sign of His presence. They grumbled, and God showed up. His gifts are meant to show us who He is, "and you shall know that I am the LORD your God" (16:12).
16:13 the quail came up and covered the camp Large flocks of quail still cross the Sinai on their spring and autumn migrations, and tired birds land low where they are easy to catch. God used something natural but sent it at the exact time He promised.
16:15 What is it In Hebrew the question is man hu, the source of the name manna (16:31). Some try to explain manna as a natural substance, such as the sweet drops some insects leave on tamarisk trees. But that comes in small amounts a few weeks a year. Manna came six days a week for forty years, fed a nation, doubled on the sixth day and stopped on the seventh. This was a miracle.

food. 16 This is the word which the LORD has commanded: 'Gather of it each man according to his eating, approximately 2 quarts (an omer) per head, by the number of your souls; you shall take, each man, for those who are in his tent.'" 17 And the sons of Israel did so, and they gathered, the one who gathered much and the one who gathered little. 18 And they measured it with the omer, and the one who gathered much had no surplus, and the one who gathered little had no lack; each man had gathered according to his eating. 19 And Moses said to them, "Let no man leave any of it until morning." 20 And they did not listen to Moses, and men left of it until morning, and it bred worms and stank; and Moses was angry with them. 21 And they gathered it in the morning, in the morning, each man according to his eating; and the sun became hot, and it melted.

The Sabbath and the Manna

22 And it was on the sixth day, they gathered double bread, approximately 4 quarts (two omers) for the one; and all the leaders of the congregation came and told Moses. 23 And he said to them, "It is what the LORD has spoken: 'Tomorrow is a Sabbath rest, a Sabbath of holiness to the LORD. What you will bake, bake, and what you will boil, boil; and all the surplus, leave for yourselves to be kept until the morning.'" 24 And they left it until the morning, just as Moses had commanded; and it did not stink, and a maggot was not in it. 25 And Moses said, "Eat it today, for today is a Sabbath to the LORD; today you will not find it in the field. 26 Six days you shall gather it, and on the seventh day is a Sabbath; it will not be in it." 27 And it was on the seventh day, some of the people went out to gather, and they did not find it. 28 And the LORD said to Moses, "Until when do you refuse to keep My commandments and My laws? 29 See, for the LORD has given you the Sabbath; therefore He is giving you on the sixth day bread of two days. Stay each man in his place; let no man go out from his place on the seventh day." 30 And the people rested on the seventh day. 31 And the house of Israel called its name manna; and it was like coriander seed, white, and its taste was like a wafer with honey. 32 And Moses said, "This is the word which the LORD has commanded: 'The fullness of the omer of it, approximately 2 quarts, is to be kept for your generations, so that they may see the bread which I fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you out from the land of Egypt.'" 33 And Moses said to Aaron, "Take one jar, and put there the fullness of the omer of manna, and set it down before the LORD to be kept for your generations." 34 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so Aaron set it down before the Testimony to be kept. 35 And the sons of Israel ate the manna forty years, until they came to an inhabited land; they ate the manna until they came to the border of the land of Canaan (Kena'an). 36 And the omer, it is a tenth of the ephah.

Water From the Rock

1 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) set out from the wilderness of Sin by their stages, at the mouth of the LORD, and they encamped at Rephidim (Refidim); and 16:16 approximately 2 quarts per head An omer, an old dry measure. Each man gathered enough for everyone in his tent.

16:18 the one who gathered much had no surplus, and the one who gathered little had no lack When it was measured, everyone had exactly what they needed. Paul quotes this verse, "He who gathered much did not have excess" (2 Cor 8:15), to teach the church to share. What God gives us is not only for us.
16:20 it bred worms and stank The stored manna was proof of unbelief. They did not trust God to send more tomorrow. Disobedience to God's clear word is serious, and Moses was angry.
16:21 the sun became hot, and it melted The repeated "in the morning" shows a daily habit. If they wanted bread, they had to rise and gather early. The time to seek God is early, before the heat of the day takes over.
16:23 Tomorrow is a Sabbath rest, a Sabbath of holiness to the LORD The first time the word Sabbath appears. It comes from the Hebrew word for stop or rest. God rested on the seventh day of creation (Gen 2:2-3), and here, before Sinai, He gives the seventh day to Israel. How the Sabbath applies to believers today is discussed at 20:8.
16:24 it did not stink, and a maggot was not in it The manna that rotted on other days stayed fresh on the Sabbath. Rest is God's gift.
16:27 some of the people went out to gather, and they did not find it Some always test the rules to see if God means what He says, and their disobedience showed the heart of the people (16:28).
16:29 the LORD has given you the Sabbath A gift, not a burden. Slaves in Egypt never had a day off. Now God gave them one every week. "There remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God" (Heb 4:9), the deeper rest we find when we stop trying to earn God's favor and trust Christ (Heb 4:10).
16:31 its taste was like a wafer with honey Coriander seeds are small, round and pale, and the taste was sweet. God gave them not only enough but something good. Psalm 78:24-25 calls it "the grain of heaven" (Ps 78:24) and "the bread of mighty ones" (Ps 78:25), which many take to mean the bread of angels.
16:34 Aaron set it down before the Testimony to be kept The Testimony means the tablets of the Law, later kept in the ark (25:16). Moses writes after those things were made. Hebrews 9:4 says the golden jar of manna was kept in the ark.
16:35 the sons of Israel ate the manna forty years It stopped the day after they ate the produce of Canaan (Josh 5:12). Every morning but the Sabbath for forty years God fed them, even in the years they wandered for their unbelief. Jesus said, "I am the bread of life" (John 6:35), and "My Father gives you the true bread out of heaven" (John 6:32). Those who ate manna still died (John 6:49), but "If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever" (John 6:51). Have you come to Him for that bread?
16:36 the omer, it is a tenth of the ephah A note for later readers. An ephah was a dry measure of roughly two-thirds of a bushel.
17:1 at the mouth of the LORD At His command. The cloud led and they followed, so they were exactly where God wanted them, and there was no water. Being in God's will does not mean having no problems. Sometimes God leads us into a dry place on purpose, to test us and show His power.

there was no water for the people to drink. 2 And the people quarreled with Moses (Moshe), and they said, "Give us water, that we may drink." And Moses said to them, "Why do you quarrel with me? Why do you test the LORD?" 3 And the people thirsted there for water, and the people grumbled against Moses, and they said, "Why then have you brought us up from Egypt (Mitsrayim), to put me and my children and my livestock to death with thirst?" 4 And Moses cried out to the LORD, saying, "What shall I do for this people? Yet a little, and they will stone me." 5 And the LORD said to Moses, "Pass on before the people, and take with you some of the elders of Israel; and your staff, with which you struck the Nile (Ye'or), take in your hand, and go. 6 Look, I am standing before you there on the rock at Horeb (Chorev); and you shall strike the rock, and water shall come out from it, and the people shall drink." And Moses did so in the eyes of the elders of Israel. 7 And he called the name of the place Massah (Masa) and Meribah (Meriva), because of the quarreling of the sons of Israel, and because they tested the LORD, saying, "Is the LORD in our midst or not?"

Victory Over Amalek

8 And Amalek (Amaleq) came, and he fought with Israel at Rephidim. 9 And Moses said to Joshua (Yehoshua), "Choose men for us, and go out, fight against Amalek. Tomorrow I will be standing on the top of the hill, and the staff of God will be in my hand." 10 And Joshua did just as Moses had said to him, to fight against Amalek; and Moses, Aaron (Aharon), and Hur (Chur) went up to the top of the hill. 11 And it was, when Moses lifted up his hand, Israel prevailed; and when he let his hand rest, Amalek prevailed. 12 And the hands of Moses were heavy; and they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat on it; and Aaron and Hur supported his hands, one on this side and one on that side; and his hands were steady until the sun went down. 13 And Joshua overwhelmed Amalek and his people by the mouth of the sword. 14 And the LORD said to Moses, "Write this as a memorial in the book, and put it in the ears of Joshua, for I will surely wipe out the remembrance of Amalek from under the heavens." 15 And Moses built an altar, and he called its name "The LORD Is My Banner." 16 And he said, "For a hand is on the throne of the LORD: war belongs to the LORD with Amalek from generation to generation."

Jethro Visits Moses

18:1 Acts 7:35; Acts 14:27; Acts 7:36

17:2 Why do you test the LORD The Hebrew word for quarrel is the root of Meribah. It means to bring a legal complaint, and they put Moses, and really God, on trial. To test the LORD is to demand that He prove Himself, as if He had not already done so after the plagues, the sea, Marah and the daily manna.
17:3 to put me and my children and my livestock to death with thirst The same old complaint. Thirst is real and hard, but the way they spoke showed they did not trust God at all. Unbelief has a short memory.
17:4 Yet a little, and they will stone me Leaders carry heavy loads, and Moses feared for his life. He did the right thing and took the problem to God.
17:5 your staff, with which you struck the Nile The staff that brought judgment on Egypt would bring life to Israel. The elders went as witnesses.
17:6 you shall strike the rock, and water shall come out from it God Himself stood on the rock at Horeb, another name for Sinai or its range. Water came out for a whole nation and its animals (Ps 78:15-16). Paul says Israel drank "from a spiritual rock that followed them, and the rock was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4). Christ was struck for us so that living water could flow: "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37). Later Moses struck a rock he was told only to speak to (Num 20), and many teachers see a reason in the picture: Christ was "offered once" (Heb 9:28) and need not be struck again.
17:7 Is the LORD in our midst or not Massah means testing and Meribah quarreling, lasting reminders of Israel's sin. The cloud was right there and manna fell every morning, yet they asked if God was with them. Psalm 95 warns, "do not harden your heart as at Meribah" (Ps 95:8), and Hebrews 3:7-19 applies it to us. Jesus answers the question: "I am with you all the days" (Matt 28:20).
17:8 Amalek came, and he fought with Israel at Rephidim The Amalekites descended from Esau's grandson Amalek (Gen 36:12). They struck from behind, picking off the weak and tired at the rear (Deut 25:17-18), a cowardly attack by a people who did not fear God.
17:9 Moses said to Joshua The first time Joshua is named. He would serve Moses forty years and then lead Israel into the land. His name means the LORD saves, the Hebrew form of the name Jesus. Joshua fought in the valley and Moses prayed on the hill. Both were needed.
17:10 Moses, Aaron, and Hur Hur appears again as a leader in the camp (24:14).
17:11 when Moses lifted up his hand, Israel prevailed The battle was not won by swords alone but as Moses held the staff of God toward heaven. Raised hands often go with prayer, "lifting up holy hands" (1 Tim 2:8). Victory comes from the LORD.
17:12 Aaron and Hur supported his hands Moses was eighty and tired. Even a great man of God cannot hold up his arms all day. This is a picture of the body of Christ. No one serves God alone, and leaders need people who will hold up their hands. Is there a pastor, missionary or tired friend whose hands you could hold up in prayer this week?
17:13 by the mouth of the sword That is, by its sharp edge.
17:14 Write this as a memorial in the book The first time God tells Moses to write something down, which fits the long belief that Moses wrote the books of the Law. God passed judgment on Amalek for attacking His people when they were weak. It came over centuries, under Saul (1 Sam 15) and David (1 Sam 30), and the last of them fell in Hezekiah's day (1 Chr 4:43). God keeps His word, even when it takes centuries.
17:15 The LORD Is My Banner A banner was a flag or pole raised over an army as a rallying point. Israel's banner was the LORD Himself, and the staff lifted on the hill pointed to Him. The root of Jesse "will stand as a banner of the peoples" (Isa 11:10). Jesus Christ is our banner, and we rally to Him.
17:16 war belongs to the LORD with Amalek from generation to generation The first words are hard in Hebrew. Some read banner for throne; others see an oath with a hand lifted to God's throne. The point is plain: the LORD swore lasting war on Amalek. Our battles are "against the spiritual forces of evil" (Eph 6:12), and we win them as Israel did, looking to the LORD, praying and standing together.
18:1 Jethro, the priest of Midian, the father-in-law of Moses, heard News of the exodus traveled fast. Jethro had taken Moses in forty years before (2:15-22).

had brought Israel out from Egypt (Mitsrayim). 2 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, took Zipporah (Tsipora), the wife of Moses, after her sending away, 3 and her two sons, of whom the name of the one was Gershom, for he said, "I have been a sojourner in a foreign land"; 4 and the name of the

He delivered me from the sword of Pharaoh." 5 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, came, and his sons and his wife, to Moses, into the wilderness where he was encamped, at the mountain of God. 6 And he said to Moses, "I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to you, and your wife and her two sons with her." 7 And Moses went out to meet his father-in-law, and he bowed down and kissed him; and they asked each man of his neighbor about his peace; and they went into the tent. 8 And Moses recounted to his father-in-law all that the LORD had done to Pharaoh and to Egypt on account of Israel, all the hardship that had found them on the way, and how the LORD had delivered them.
9 And Jethro rejoiced over all the good which the LORD had done for Israel, whom He had delivered from the hand of Egypt. 10 And Jethro said, "Blessed be the LORD, who has delivered you from the hand of Egypt and from the hand of Pharaoh, who has delivered the people from under the hand of Egypt. 11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all the gods; for in the matter in which they acted presumptuously,
He was over them." 12 And Jethro, the father-in-law of Moses, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God; and Aaron (Aharon) and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before God.

Jethro's Counsel

13 And it was on the next day, and Moses sat to judge the people; and the people stood by Moses from the morning until the evening. 14 And the father-in-law of Moses saw all that he was doing for the people, and he said, "What is this thing that you are doing for the people? Why are you sitting by yourself alone, and all the people standing by you from morning until evening?" 15 And Moses said to his father-in-law, "Because the people come to me to inquire of God. 16 When they have a matter, it comes to me, and I judge between a man and his neighbor, and I make known the statutes of God and His laws." 17 And the father-in-law of Moses said to him, "The thing that you are doing is not good.
18 You will surely wear out, both you and this people that is with you; for the thing is too heavy for you; you are not able to do it by yourself alone. 19 Now listen to my voice; I will advise you, and may God be with you. You be for the people before God, and you bring the matters to God; 20 and you shall warn them about the statutes and the laws, and you shall make known to them the way in which they must walk and the work that they must do. 21 And you, you shall look out from all the people men of ability, fearing God, men of truth, hating unjust gain; and you shall set these over them as officials of thousands, officials of hundreds, officials of fifties, and officials of tens. 22 And let them judge the people at every time; and it shall be that every great matter they shall bring to you, and every small matter they shall judge themselves; and lighten the load from on you, and they shall bear it with you. 23 If you do this thing, and God commands you, then you will be able to stand, and also all this people

18:2 after her sending away Moses had sent his wife and sons back to Jethro, perhaps after the trouble on the road (4:24-26) or for safety during the plagues. Scripture doesn't say why.
18:4 the God of my father was my help Gershom recalls exile, "a sojourner in a foreign land." Eliezer means my God is help. The first name speaks of loss, the second of God's help. That is the story of many believers' lives.
18:5 at the mountain of God Mount Sinai, where God called Moses (3:1). Israel arrives there in 19:1-2, so the writer may be telling this visit a little out of time order to keep Jethro's story together. Some take the order as strictly chronological.
18:7 he bowed down and kissed him The leader of a great nation honored his father-in-law with deep respect. Greatness does not cancel humility.
18:8 how the LORD had delivered them Moses told the hard parts and the victories, and the hero was the LORD, not himself. When we tell our story, the hero should be God.
18:11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all the gods This was the purpose of the plagues. A priest from outside Israel came to know the LORD is above every god. Whether he already worshiped the LORD or came to faith here is debated. The rest of the verse is short and hard in Hebrew, but the sense is that God proved greater in the very thing the Egyptians acted proudly about.
18:12 to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before God A shared meal was a sign of fellowship and peace. God always meant people from every nation to know Him (Gen 12:3). Jethro was a foretaste of that, and so are we.
18:13 the people stood by Moses from the morning until the evening Every dispute in a nation of two million came to one man. The line must have been endless.
18:16 I make known the statutes of God and His laws Moses was helping people find God's will. It was a good thing done the wrong way.
18:17 The thing that you are doing is not good Jethro did not flatter his famous son-in-law. A true friend tells us the truth.
18:18 you are not able to do it by yourself alone Moses would burn out and the people would wear out waiting. Many in ministry try to do everything themselves. It may look like faithfulness, but it can be pride or fear of letting go. God never meant one person to carry the whole load.
18:19 You be for the people before God Jethro offered his counsel humbly and wanted it tested before God (18:23). Moses would keep the most important work: standing between God and the people in prayer.
18:20 you shall make known to them the way in which they must walk Teaching. If the people knew God's laws, many problems would be settled before they reached a judge. The apostles made a similar choice so they could give themselves to prayer and the ministry of the word (Acts 6:2-4).
18:21 men of ability, fearing God, men of truth, hating unjust gain Capable, answerable to God, honest, and hating bribes. These are still the right qualities for leaders in church, government and business, and Paul's lists for elders and deacons sound much the same (1 Tim 3:1-13; Titus 1:5-9). Skill without character is dangerous.
18:22 every great matter they shall bring to you Small cases were judged close to home, and Moses handled the hard ones.
18:23 If you do this thing, and God commands you Jethro was wise enough to say, check this with God.

shall go to its place in peace." 24 And Moses listened to the voice of his father-in-law, and he did all that he had said. 25 And Moses chose men of ability from all Israel, and he made them heads over the people, officials of thousands, officials of hundreds, officials of fifties, and officials of tens. 26 And they judged the people at every time; the difficult matter they brought to Moses, and every small matter they judged themselves. 27 And Moses sent off his father-in-law, and he went his way to his land.

Israel at Mount Sinai

1 In the third month of the going out of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), on this day, they came to the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay). 2 And they set out from Rephidim (Refidim), and they came to the wilderness of Sinai, and they encamped in the wilderness; and Israel encamped there before the mountain. 3 And Moses (Moshe) went up to God, and the LORD called to him from the mountain, saying, "Thus you shall say to the house of Jacob (Ya'aqov), and tell the sons of Israel: 4 'You yourselves have seen what I did to Egypt, and I carried you on the wings of eagles and brought you to Myself. 5 And now, if you will surely listen to My voice and keep My covenant, then you shall be to Me a treasured possession out of all the peoples; for all the earth belongs to Me. 6 And you, you shall be to Me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation.' These are the words which you shall speak to the sons of Israel." 7 And Moses came, and he called for the elders of the people, and he set before them all these words which the LORD had commanded him. 8 And all the people answered together, and they said, "All that the LORD has spoken we will do." And Moses brought back the words of the people to the LORD. 9 And the LORD said to Moses, "Look, I am coming to you in the thickness of the cloud, so that the people may hear when I speak with you, and also may believe in you forever." And Moses told the words of the people to the LORD. 10 And the LORD said to Moses, "Go to the people, and sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their garments; 11 and let them be ready for the third day; for on the third day the LORD will come down in the eyes of all the people on Mount Sinai. 12 And you shall set bounds for the people all around, saying, 'Take heed to yourselves against going up on the mountain and touching its edge; whoever touches the mountain shall surely be put to death. 13 A hand shall not touch him, for he shall surely be stoned or surely be shot; whether animal or man, he shall not live.' When the ram's horn draws out its sound, they shall go up on the mountain." 14 And Moses went down from the mountain to the people, and he sanctified the people, and they washed their garments. 15 And he said to the people, "Be ready for three days; do not draw near to a woman."

18:24 Moses listened to the voice of his father-in-law Moses "was very humble" (Num 12:3). The man God spoke with face to face listened to an older man from Midian. Deuteronomy 1:9-18 adds that the tribes chose wise and respected men.
18:27 he went his way to his land Jethro went home, but his counsel shaped Israel for generations. Are you carrying alone what God meant to be shared? "Victory is in a multitude of counselors" (Prov 11:14).
19:1 In the third month of the going out of the sons of Israel Israel left Egypt on the fifteenth day of the first month. Now, about seven weeks later, they reached Sinai.
19:2 Israel encamped there before the mountain God promised at the bush, "you shall serve God on this mountain" (3:12). Moses stood where he had stood at the bush, now with the whole nation. Sinai is traditionally placed at Jebel Musa in the south of the Sinai Peninsula, though other sites, including some in Arabia, have been suggested.
19:4 I carried you on the wings of eagles and brought you to Myself The picture returns in Deuteronomy 32:11, an eagle carrying its young. God brought Israel not only out of Egypt but to Himself. Salvation is rescue from something and for Someone. And notice the order. God saved Israel first and then gave the Law. The Law was not the way to be saved but the way for a saved people to live, just as we are saved by grace through faith and then "created in Christ Jesus for good works" (Eph 2:10).
19:5 if you will surely listen to My voice and keep My covenant A covenant is a solemn, binding agreement that sets up a relationship, with promises and duties. God's covenant with Abraham was unconditional (Gen 15). The covenant at Sinai, often called the Mosaic or old covenant, tied blessings to obedience. A treasured possession is a king's private treasure. All the earth is God's, but He chose Israel as His special people.
19:6 a kingdom of priests and a holy nation A priest stands between God and people. Israel was to show the nations what God is like and bring them to Him, and to be set apart from them. Peter uses this language for believers: "a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for His possession" (1 Pet 2:9). That does not mean the church has replaced Israel, for "the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable" (Rom 11:29). In Christ, believers from every nation share the calling to belong to God and make Him known.
19:8 All that the LORD has spoken we will do They meant it, but they did not know their own hearts. Within weeks they would dance around a golden calf (32:1-6). The Sinai covenant would show that left to ourselves we cannot keep God's law. The law "was added because of transgressions, until the seed should come" (Gal 3:19).
19:9 so that the people may hear when I speak with you God would speak so the people could hear, confirming Moses as His true messenger.
19:10 sanctify them today and tomorrow, and let them wash their garments To sanctify is to set apart as holy, to make ready for God. Washing clothes was an outward sign of inward readiness. You do not come into the presence of the holy God carelessly.
19:12 whoever touches the mountain shall surely be put to death Severe, and meant to be. Before anything else Israel had to learn that God is holy and sinful people cannot simply walk into His presence. The boundary protected them. Later the tabernacle, with its curtains, priests and sacrifices, would teach the same lesson every day and point to the One who would open the way.
19:13 When the ram's horn draws out its sound A ram's horn, or shofar, was blown as a signal. When it sounded long, the people could come near the mountain. The one who broke the boundary was to be stoned or shot from a distance, so no one would touch him.
19:15 do not draw near to a woman For three days husbands and wives kept apart. This does not mean marriage is sinful, for "Marriage is to be honorable among all, and the bed undefiled" (Heb 13:4). It was a time to set everything aside and give full attention to meeting God, as Paul allows couples to agree to do for prayer (1 Cor 7:5).

The LORD Comes Down on the Mountain

16 And it was on the third day, when it was morning, and there were thunders and lightnings and a heavy cloud on the mountain, and the sound of a ram's horn very strong; and all the people who were in the camp trembled. 17 And Moses brought the people out from the camp to meet God, and they stood at the lower part of the mountain. 18 And Mount Sinai smoked, all of it, because the LORD had come down on it in the fire; and its smoke went up like the smoke of the furnace, and the whole mountain trembled exceedingly. 19 And the sound of the ram's horn was going on and growing very strong; Moses spoke, and God answered him with a voice. 20 And the LORD came down on Mount Sinai, to the top of the mountain; and the LORD called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up. 21 And the LORD said to Moses, "Go down, warn the people, lest they break through to the LORD to see, and many of them fall. 22 And also let the priests who draw near to the LORD sanctify themselves, lest the LORD break out against them." 23 And Moses said to the LORD, "The people are not able to go up to Mount Sinai, for You, You warned us, saying, 'Set bounds for the mountain, and sanctify it.'" 24 And the LORD said to him, "Go, go down, and you shall come up, you and Aaron (Aharon) with you; and let not the priests and the people break through to come up to the LORD, lest He break out against them." 25 And Moses went down to the people, and he spoke to them.

The Ten Commandments

1 And God spoke all these words, saying, 2 "I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), from a house of slaves. 3 There shall not be for you other gods before My face. 4 You shall not make for yourself a carved image, or any form which is in the heavens above, or which is on the earth beneath, or which is in the waters under the earth. 5 You shall not bow down to them, and you shall not be made to serve them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons, on the third and on the fourth generation of those who hate Me, 6 and doing steadfast love to thousands, to those who love Me and to those who keep My commandments. 7 You shall not lift up the name of the LORD your God to emptiness, for the LORD will not leave unpunished whoever 19:16 all the people who were in the camp trembled Lightning, thunder, a heavy cloud, and the loud blast of a horn with no one blowing it.

19:17 Moses brought the people out from the camp to meet God The meeting was the whole point.
19:18 Mount Sinai smoked, all of it, because the LORD had come down on it in the fire Fire often shows God's holy presence, as at the bush. Hebrews 12:18-24 looks back on this day, "so fearful was the sight that Moses said, 'I am terrified and trembling'" (Heb 12:21). Believers in Christ "have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God" (Heb 12:22), to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant. We come with confidence through Christ, but "our God is also a consuming fire" (Heb 12:29). Grace does not make God less holy.
19:21 lest they break through to the LORD to see, and many of them fall God knew their curiosity could cost them their lives, and He repeated the warning because He cared. He did not want anyone to die.
19:22 let the priests who draw near to the LORD sanctify themselves These were probably firstborn sons or family heads who served before the Levites were set apart, though the text does not say who they were.
19:25 Moses went down to the people, and he spoke to them The scene is set for God Himself to speak the Ten Commandments. Some see God as a kind grandfather who overlooks sin. Sinai shows He is holy and to be feared, and yet He came down to meet His people. Through Jesus the way to this holy God is open to all: "No one comes to the Father except through Me" (John 14:6).
20:1 God spoke all these words Moses did not make up the Ten Commandments. God spoke them aloud to the whole nation (Deut 5:22) and later wrote them with His own finger (31:18). The Hebrew calls them the ten words (34:28). They are the heart of the Sinai covenant, and chapters 21 to 23 apply them to daily life. Jesus said, "I did not come to abolish, but to fulfill" (Matt 5:17). The law shows us our sin, for "through law is knowledge of sin" (Rom 3:20), and it is "our child-guardian to Christ" (Gal 3:24). No one is saved by keeping it, but it still shows what God is like, and nine of the ten are repeated in the New Testament for believers.
20:2 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt Before one command, God says who He is and what He has done. The commands come after the rescue. That is the gospel pattern. God does not say, obey Me and I will free you, but, I have freed you, now live as My people. We obey because He has already loved and saved us. "If you love Me, keep My commandments" (John 14:15).
20:3 There shall not be for you other gods before My face The first commandment comes first because everything flows from it. Egypt and Canaan were full of gods. Before My face means in My presence, and since God is everywhere, anywhere at all. Anything we love, trust or fear more than God becomes our god: money, comfort, approval, success, even family. Paul calls covetousness "idolatry" (Col 3:5). What do you run to first when you are afraid?
20:4 You shall not make for yourself a carved image The first commandment says whom to worship, the second how. Egypt worshiped gods shaped like birds, animals and fish. "God is spirit" (John 4:24), and any image shrinks Him to our size. At Sinai "you did not see any form" (Deut 4:15). Israel broke this within weeks with a golden calf they called a feast to the LORD (32:4-5). God has given one true image of Himself: Christ, "the image of the invisible God" (Col 1:15).
20:5 I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God Not petty or insecure, but the holy zeal of a husband who will not share his wife's love. Idolatry is spiritual adultery. Does God punish children for parents' sins? "A son shall not bear the iniquity of the father" (Ezek 18:20). Notice "of those who hate Me." When children follow their parents in hating God, the effects of sin pass down, as we see in many families.
20:6 doing steadfast love to thousands Judgment reaches three or four generations. Steadfast love reaches thousands, which may mean thousands of generations (Deut 7:9). God's mercy is far bigger than His anger, and one person who turns to God can change a family's course for generations.
20:7 You shall not lift up the name of the LORD your God to emptiness To use His name in a false, empty or careless way: a false oath, a curse, a promise we don't mean, or thoughtless habit. It goes deeper than words. To carry the LORD's name and live as if He does not matter also takes it in vain. Jesus taught us to pray, "let Your name be sanctified" (Matt 6:9).

lifts up His name to emptiness. 8 Remember the day of the Sabbath, to sanctify it. 9 Six days you shall labor and do all your work, 10 and the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God; you shall not do any work, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and your livestock, and your sojourner who is within your gates. 11 For in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, the sea and all that is in them, and He rested on the seventh day; therefore the LORD blessed the day of the Sabbath, and He sanctified it. 12 Honor your father and your mother, so that your days may be long on the ground which the LORD your God is giving you. 13 You shall not murder. 14 You shall not commit adultery. 15 You shall not steal. 16 You shall not answer against your neighbor as a witness of falsehood. 17 You shall not covet the house of your neighbor; you shall not covet the wife of your neighbor, and his male servant, and his female servant, and his ox, and his donkey, and anything that belongs to your neighbor."

The People Afraid; the Altar Law

18 And all the people were seeing the thunders and the flashes and the sound of the ram's horn and the mountain smoking; and the people saw, and they trembled, and they stood from a distance. 19 And they said to Moses (Moshe), "You speak with us, and we will listen; and let not God speak with us, lest we die." 20 And Moses said to the people, "Do not be afraid; for God has come in order to test you, and in order that the fear of Him may be before your faces, so that you do not sin." 21 And the people stood from a distance, and Moses drew near to the thick darkness where God was. 22 And the LORD said to Moses, "Thus you shall say to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el): 'You yourselves have seen that from the heavens I have spoken with you. 23 You shall not make with Me gods of silver, and gods of gold you shall not make for yourselves. 24 An altar of earth you shall make for Me, and you shall sacrifice on it your burnt offerings and your peace offerings, your sheep and your cattle. 20:8 Remember the day of the Sabbath, to sanctify it Israel had met the Sabbath with the manna (16:23-30). Now it became part of the covenant. The New Testament does not repeat this one as a command for the church. Jesus said, "The Sabbath was made for the sake of man, not man for the sake of the Sabbath" (Mark 2:27), and Paul calls Sabbaths "a shadow of the things coming, but the body is of Christ" (Col 2:17; Rom 14:5). The early church gathered "on the first day of the week" (Acts 20:7). Believers differ: some hold the command now applies to Sunday, some keep the seventh day, and many see it fulfilled in our rest in Christ (Heb 4:9-10) while still valuing a weekly day of rest and worship. God made us to need rest, and He wants part of our time set apart for Him.

20:10 you shall not do any work, you and your son and your daughter, your male servant and your female servant, and your livestock Work is good, and God commands six days of it. But everyone rested on the seventh, servants, animals and foreigners too. Where slaves and animals were worked without end, this was mercy.

20:11 in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth The Sabbath follows the pattern of creation (Gen 2:2-3). Deuteronomy 5:15 adds that Israel was to remember they had been slaves and the LORD set them free. Later God called it a sign between Him and Israel (31:13-17).

20:12 Honor your father and your mother Now the commands turn to people, beginning at home. To honor is to give weight to: obeying parents while young, respecting them always, caring for them when old (Mark 7:10-13; 1 Tim 5:4). Paul calls it the first commandment with a promise (Eph 6:2-3). A nation of strong families lasts. Honor does not mean following parents into sin or staying under abuse, but how we treat our parents matters to God.

20:13 You shall not murder Life is sacred because every person bears God's image (Gen 9:6). The Hebrew word means unlawful killing, which is why the SLB says murder. The same Law allows just war and the death penalty for murder (21:12). Jesus went to the heart: anger and contempt bring judgment (Matt 5:21-22), and "Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer" (1 John 3:15).

20:14 You shall not commit adultery God made marriage one man and one woman for life (Gen 2:24). Adultery breaks that covenant, wounds spouse and children, and sins against God (Gen 39:9). "Everyone who looks at a woman to lust for her has already committed adultery with her in his heart" (Matt 5:28). All of us, married or single, are called to purity. Where we have failed, Christ forgives those who confess (1 John 1:9).

20:15 You shall not steal God gives people the right to own things. Stealing includes cheating in business, unfair wages, a dishonest day's work and unpaid debts. Grace turns the thief into a giver: "Let the one who steals no longer steal, but rather let him labor, working with the hands what is good, so that he may have something to share with the one who has need" (Eph 4:28).

20:16 You shall not answer against your neighbor as a witness of falsehood First in court, where a false witness could ruin a man or cost his life. The Law required two or three witnesses and gave the false witness the punishment he sought (Deut 19:15-19). But it reaches all our words: lies, gossip, slander, twisted truth. Jesus was condemned by false witnesses (Mark 14:56-57). "Speak truth each one with his neighbor" (Eph 4:25).

20:17 You shall not covet To covet is to desire strongly what belongs to another. The first nine could in part be kept outwardly. This one is all in the heart, where only God sees. It showed Paul his sin: "I also had not known covetousness except that the law was saying, 'You shall not covet'" (Rom 7:7). The law shows us we need a Savior. The cure is contentment: "I have learned to be content in whatever circumstances I am" (Phil 4:11). If we have God, we have enough.

20:19 You speak with us, and we will listen; and let not God speak with us, lest we die They wanted a mediator, and their fear was right in one way: sinners cannot stand before a holy God on their own. God said they had spoken well (Deut 5:28) and promised a Prophet like Moses (Deut 18:15-18), fulfilled in Jesus (Acts 3:22-23). "There is one God, and one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Tim 2:5).

20:20 Do not be afraid; for God has come in order to test you, and in order that the fear of Him may be before your faces Not a contradiction. There is a fear that runs from God in terror, and a fear that respects Him and stays close in reverence. God wanted them to take Him seriously enough not to sin. "The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge" (Prov 1:7).

20:21 Moses drew near to the thick darkness where God was The people stood far off, and Moses went in. Through Christ believers can now "draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith" (Heb 10:22).

20:23 You shall not make with Me gods of silver Here begins what 24:7 calls the book of the covenant, and it starts with worship. No image even beside the LORD. Within weeks Aaron would make a calf of gold (32:4).

20:24 An altar of earth you shall make for Me An altar is a raised place for sacrifice. A burnt offering was wholly burned as a gift to God. A peace offering was shared: part burned, the rest eaten by the worshiper in fellowship with God. The altar was to be simple. God wanted hearts that came His way. He chooses where He meets His people, later one place for His name (Deut 12:5), and now wherever they worship "in spirit and truth" (John 4:24).

where I cause My name to be remembered, I will come to you, and I will bless you. 25 And if you make for Me an altar of stones, you shall not build them of hewn stone; for you have wielded your tool on it, and you have profaned it. 26 And you shall not go up by steps to My altar, that your nakedness may not be uncovered on it.'"

Laws About Servants

1 "And these are the judgments which you shall set before them. 2 When you buy a Hebrew slave, six years he shall serve, and in the seventh he shall go out free, for nothing. 3 If he comes in by himself, he shall go out by himself; if he is the husband of a wife, then his wife shall go out with him. 4 If his master gives him a wife, and she bears him sons or daughters, the woman and her children shall belong to her master, and he shall go out by himself. 5 And if the slave surely says, 'I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free,' 6 then his master shall bring him near to God, and he shall bring him near to the door or to the doorpost; and his master shall pierce his ear with the awl, and he shall serve him forever. 7 And if a man sells his daughter as a female slave, she shall not go out as the male slaves go out. 8 If she is evil in the eyes of her master, who designated her for himself, then he shall let her be ransomed; he shall not have rule to sell her to a foreign people, in his dealing treacherously with her. 9 And if he designates her for his son, he shall deal with her according to the judgment of the daughters. 10 If he takes another for himself, her food, her covering, and her marital right he shall not reduce. 11 And if he does not do these three for her, then she shall go out for nothing, without money.

Laws About Violence and Injuries

12 Whoever strikes a man, and he dies, shall surely be put to death. 13 And if he did not lie in wait, but God let him fall into his hand, then I will designate for you a place to which he may flee. 14 And if a man acts presumptuously against his neighbor, to kill him with cunning, you shall take him from My altar to die. 15 And whoever strikes his father or his mother shall surely be put to death. 16 And whoever steals a man, and sells him, or he is found in his hand, shall surely be 20:25 you shall not build them of hewn stone Cut stone could become a work of art drawing attention to the builder. God's altar was to be as He made the stones. We cannot add to what God provides for our approach to Him. Many have seen a picture of the gospel: salvation is God's work, not something we shape (Eph 2:8-9).

20:26 you shall not go up by steps to My altar Pagan worship around Israel was often joined to sexual immorality. God's worship was to be modest and pure, and later the priests received linen undergarments (28:42-43). These altars point to the only sacrifice that truly takes away sin, Christ's, once for all (Heb 10:10-14).
21:1 these are the judgments which you shall set before them Judgments are legal rulings for the courts. These laws were given to Israel as a nation under the Mosaic covenant. Christians are "not under law but under grace" (Rom 6:14), and no one is saved by keeping law (Gal 2:16). Yet "Every Scripture is God-breathed and profitable for teaching" (2 Tim 3:16). These laws show God's justice, His care for the weak and the worth of every life, and their moral heart is repeated: "You shall love your neighbor as yourself" (Gal 5:14). They were given in a hard world, often limiting customs that already existed, as Moses allowed divorce "in view of your hardness of heart" (Matt 19:8).
21:2 six years he shall serve, and in the seventh he shall go out free, for nothing The first law is about servants, fitting for a people just freed from slavery. This was a Hebrew who sold himself or was sold for a debt he could not pay, working it off with another family. It was not the slavery of the American South. It was not based on race and not lifelong. After six years he went free owing nothing, and he was not to be sent away empty (Deut 15:13-15). He was to be treated like a hired worker (Lev 25:39).
21:3 his wife shall go out with him His debt was not to break up his family.
21:4 the woman and her children shall belong to her master Hard to read. The wife the master gave was herself a servant under her own terms, perhaps a foreigner or one whose years were not finished. The man could go free but not take what was not his. Verses 5 and 6 show how the family could stay together.
21:5 I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free Notice the word love. This was a home where the servant was treated well enough that he wanted to stay for life.
21:6 his master shall pierce his ear with the awl, and he shall serve him forever "Near to God" may mean before the judges who served in God's name (Ps 82:6 uses the word for judges) or at the sanctuary. The pierced ear at the doorpost was a public sign of a free choice. Psalm 40:6 says, "ears You have dug for me" (Ps 40:6), applied to Christ in Hebrews 10:5-7. Many see in this servant a picture of Jesus, who in love took "the form of a slave" (Phil 2:7), though the New Testament does not tie it directly to this verse.
21:7 if a man sells his daughter as a female slave A very poor father might give his daughter to another family, planning that she would become a wife to the master or his son. This law did not let it be done carelessly. It protected her.
21:8 he shall let her be ransomed If the master did not want her as his wife, her family could buy her back, and she could never be sold to foreigners.
21:10 her food, her covering, and her marital right he shall not reduce In a world where a poor young woman had almost no rights, God's law gave her food, clothing, the rights of a wife and a way out if wronged (21:11). God's design was always one man and one woman (Gen 2:24; Matt 19:4-6). The Law does not praise a second wife. It limits the harm when men took one.
21:12 Whoever strikes a man, and he dies, shall surely be put to death Murder was punished by death, going back to God's word to Noah: "Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man his blood shall be shed; for in the image of God He made man" (Gen 9:6). It was not that life was cheap but that it is precious.
21:13 I will designate for you a place to which he may flee For an accidental killing God promised a place of safety, later the cities of refuge (Num 35; Josh 20), where the killer was safe until his case was judged.
21:14 you shall take him from My altar to die A murderer could not hide by grabbing the altar. God's mercy is not a shelter for the unrepentant.
21:15 whoever strikes his father or his mother shall surely be put to death In Israel the family was the foundation of the nation, so attacking parents attacked the order God made. It is the fifth commandment taken seriously (20:12). Such cases came before the elders, not a hot-tempered father (Deut 21:18-21).
21:16 whoever steals a man, and sells him Kidnapping to sell a person was a capital crime. The trade that carried millions of Africans across the ocean was built on exactly this sin, and Paul lists "enslavers" among the lawless (1 Tim 1:10). Those who used the Bible to defend that trade twisted it.

put to death. 17 And whoever curses his father or his mother shall surely be put to death. 18 And if men quarrel, and a man strikes his neighbor with a stone or with a fist, and he does not die, and he falls to bed, 19 if he rises and walks about outside on his staff, then the one who struck him shall be free of guilt; only he shall pay for his sitting idle, and he shall surely have him healed. 20 And if a man strikes his male slave or his female slave with the rod, and he dies under his hand, he shall surely be avenged. 21 Only, if he remains a day or two days, he shall not be avenged; for he is his money. 22 And if men struggle together, and they strike a pregnant woman, and her children come out, and there is no harm, he shall surely be fined, just as the husband of the woman lays on him; and he shall give by judges. 23 And if there is harm, then you shall give life for life, 24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, 25 burn for burn, wound for wound, stripe for stripe. 26 And if a man strikes the eye of his male slave or the eye of his female slave, and destroys it, he shall set him free for his eye. 27 And if he knocks out the tooth of his male slave or the tooth of his female slave, he shall set him free for his tooth.

Laws About Animals

28 And if an ox gores a man or a woman, and he dies, the ox shall surely be stoned, and its flesh shall not be eaten; and the owner of the ox shall be free of guilt. 29 And if the ox was prone to gore from yesterday and the day before, and it has been testified to its owner, and he does not guard it, and it kills a man or a woman, the ox shall be stoned, and also its owner shall be put to death. 30 If a ransom is laid on him, then he shall give the ransom of his life according to all that is laid on him. 31 Whether it gores a son or gores a daughter, according to this judgment it shall be done to him. 32 If the ox gores a male slave or a female slave, he shall give to his master approximately 12 ounces (thirty shekels) of silver, and the ox shall be stoned. 33 And if a man opens a pit, or if a man digs a pit and does not cover it, and an ox or a donkey falls into it, 34 the owner of the pit shall make restitution; he shall return money to its owner, and the dead animal shall be his. 35 And if the ox of a man strikes the ox of his neighbor, and it dies, then they shall sell the living ox and divide its money, and also the dead animal they shall divide. 36 Or if it is known that the ox was prone to gore from yesterday and the day before, and its owner has not guarded it, he shall surely make restitution, ox for ox, and the dead animal shall be his.

21:17 whoever curses his father or his mother shall surely be put to death These death penalties were given to Israel's courts under the Mosaic covenant. The church does not carry the sword (John 18:36), though government "does not bear the sword in vain" (Rom 13:4), and Christians differ on how capital punishment applies today. These laws show how serious these sins are and what all of us deserve, since every one of us has dishonored our parents. Christ took the death we deserved (Rom 5:8).
21:19 only he shall pay for his sitting idle, and he shall surely have him healed The one who caused harm paid for the lost work and the medical care. Justice in God's law was not only punishment. It made things right for the one hurt.
21:20 he shall surely be avenged Around Israel a master could often kill his slave without penalty. Not in Israel. The servant's life mattered to God.
21:21 for he is his money One of the hardest lines in the Law. It covers a case where intent to kill was unclear, and the loss of the servant's work was counted as the master's penalty. It does not mean a servant was only property; verses 26 and 27 show the opposite. The New Testament goes much further: "Masters, grant to the slaves what is righteous and fair" (Col 4:1), and a slave is "a beloved brother" (Phlm 1:16).
21:22 they strike a pregnant woman, and her children come out Good teachers read this two ways. Many take it, as the SLB's words suggest, as a premature birth. If mother and child are unharmed, there is a fine; if there is harm to either, the penalty matches it, even life for life, so the unborn child counts as a full person. Others read a miscarriage, with the fine for the child and the harm meaning harm to the mother. Even then the unborn life has value. Scripture shows God forms and knows children in the womb (Ps 139:13; Jer 1:5; Luke 1:41).
21:24 eye for eye, tooth for tooth The law of equal justice, given to judges, not to people taking revenge. It limited punishment to the harm done, no more and no less, and kept the rich from buying their way out. A payment could stand in for some penalties (21:30), and since a ransom is forbidden only for a murderer (Num 35:31), it seems payment was often allowed for lesser injuries. Jesus taught His followers not to take personal revenge (Matt 5:38-39). He was not overturning justice in the courts but forbidding us to use the law to feed our anger.
21:26 he shall set him free for his eye A remarkable law. Even for a knocked-out tooth the servant went free (21:27), and the master lost all his remaining service. Servants were people with rights, not tools, and masters had strong reason never to strike them. Where else in the ancient world would a slave go free for a tooth?
21:28 the ox shall surely be stoned Even an animal that took a human life was put to death (Gen 9:5). The owner was free of guilt because he could not have known.
21:29 also its owner shall be put to death If the owner had been warned and did nothing, careless neglect that cost a life was a grave sin, though a ransom could be set instead (21:30). We are responsible for what we own and control. If we know something is dangerous and do nothing, we share the blame.
21:32 approximately 12 ounces of silver Thirty shekels, the price of a servant. It is the price the chief priests paid Judas to betray Jesus (Matt 26:15; Zech 11:12-13). The Son of God was valued at the price of a servant gored by an ox.
21:34 the owner of the pit shall make restitution Restitution means paying back to make things right. If one ox killed another, both owners shared the loss, unless the goring ox was known and unguarded (21:35-36). These small matters show that God cares about everyday fairness. Holiness reaches the farm and the field. Loving your neighbor means covering your pits.
22:1 five cattle for the ox and four sheep for the sheep In God's law a thief did not go to prison. He paid back, and more. An ox was a working animal, so the owner lost its plowing too, and once killed or sold it could not be returned. Zacchaeus knew this law: "I restore fourfold" (Luke 19:8). Real repentance wants to make things right.

the man, if the thief is found, he shall make restitution dou-

22:2 If the thief is found in the breaking in Bloodguilt is guilt for shedding blood. A man defending his home in the dark could not tell whether the thief meant to kill, so he was not guilty.
22:3 If the sun has risen on him, there is bloodguilt for him In daylight the owner could see who it was and call for help. A thief's life still mattered to God, and property is never worth more than a human life. A thief who could not pay worked it off under the limits of 21:2.
22:5 from the best of his field and the best of his vineyard Not the worst. The best.
22:6 the one who kindled the fire shall surely make restitution Farmers burned weeds and thorns, and in dry country a fire spread fast. If you started it, you paid, even without meaning harm. We are responsible for what we start. "How great a forest a small fire kindles!" (James 3:5).
22:8 the master of the house shall be brought near to God Without banks, people left valuables with a trusted neighbor while traveling. Near to God probably means before the judges who served in God's name, or at the sanctuary to take an oath.
22:9 the case of the two of them shall come to God Every property dispute was finally a matter before God, who sees what no human judge can. "All things are naked and laid bare to the eyes of Him to whom our account is to be given" (Heb 4:13).
22:11 the oath of the LORD shall be between the two of them When no one saw what happened to a kept animal, the keeper swore before the LORD, and the owner accepted it. An oath in God's name was serious, because God is the witness.
22:13 let him bring it as evidence If a wild animal tore it, part of the body proved it, as a shepherd rescues "two legs or a piece of an ear" (Amos 3:12) from a lion. These laws are practical, fair and full of common sense.
22:15 if it was hired, it came for its hire The rental price covered the risk. God cares how we treat what belongs to others. Do you return what you borrow in good shape? A Christian should be the most trustworthy neighbor on the street.
22:16 he shall surely pay the bride-price for her to be his wife Betrothed means formally promised in marriage, almost as binding as marriage itself. A bride-price was a gift to the bride's family. A seduced young woman would find it hard to marry, so the man could not use her and walk away. He had to pay and offer marriage.
22:17 If her father utterly refuses to give her to him The man still paid the full bride-price. The father, who knew them both, could protect his daughter from a bad marriage. God's plan keeps sex within marriage (Heb 13:4), and where that is broken Christ offers forgiveness and a new start (1 Cor 6:9-11).
22:18 You shall not let a sorceress live A sorceress used magic and tried to use spirits or occult powers. In Canaan sorcery was tied to idolatry and sometimes child sacrifice (Deut 18:9-12). It was a direct attack on God's rule over Israel.
22:19 Whoever lies with an animal shall surely be put to death Practiced in some Canaanite worship, it twists God's design for people made in His image.
22:20 shall be devoted to destruction The Hebrew word is herem, something set apart to God for destruction. To sacrifice to other gods broke the first commandment, the heart of the covenant. These laws were for Israel as God's covenant nation, carried out by its courts. The church does not put such people to death but calls them to repent, as those in Ephesus burned their magic books when they came to Christ (Acts 19:19). Still, God takes the occult, sexual perversion and idolatry very seriously.
22:21 for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt Israel knew what it was to be strangers in a land that did not want them. "You shall love him as yourself" (Lev 19:34).
22:22 Any widow and fatherless child you shall not afflict Widows and orphans had no husband or father to protect them, the easiest people to take advantage of.

child you shall not afflict. 23 If you surely afflict him, then if he surely cries out to Me, I will surely hear his cry; 24 and My anger shall burn, and I will kill you with the sword; and your wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless. 25 If you lend money to My people, to the poor who is with you, you shall not be to him like a creditor; you shall not lay interest on him. 26 If you surely take the cloak of your neighbor as a pledge, you shall return it to him by the time the sun goes down, 27 for it is his only covering; it is his cloak for his skin. In what shall he lie down? And it shall be, when he cries out to Me, then I will hear, for I am gracious. 28 You shall not revile God, and a leader among your people you shall not curse. 29 Your fullness and your juice you shall not delay to offer. The firstborn of your sons you shall give to Me. 30 Thus you shall do with your ox and with your sheep: seven days it shall be with its mother; on the eighth day you shall give it to Me. 31 And you shall be men of holiness to Me; and flesh torn in the field you shall not eat; you shall throw it to the dog.

22:23 I will surely hear his cry Surely is repeated three times. God takes the side of the weak. When no one else hears, He does, and those who make widows and orphans suffer would see their own families suffer the same (22:24). Pure religion is "to visit orphans and widows in their tribulation" (James 1:27). How does your church treat the foreigner, the widow and the fatherless?
22:25 you shall not lay interest on him This is about loans to a poor Israelite in need, not business loans, though some Christians have read it more broadly. A creditor here is a harsh lender. Do not profit from your brother's need.
22:26 you shall return it to him by the time the sun goes down A pledge guaranteed a loan, and a poor man's cloak was also his blanket. Even a lender's rights had limits. Mercy came first.
22:27 I will hear, for I am gracious God is gracious and expects His people to be. "Lend, expecting nothing in return" (Luke 6:35).
22:28 You shall not revile God, and a leader among your people you shall not curse To revile is to speak with contempt. Paul quoted this when he spoke harshly to the high priest: "You shall not speak evil of a ruler of your people" (Acts 23:5). We may disagree with leaders, and sometimes we must obey God rather than men (Acts 5:29), but we are to honor and pray for them, not curse them (1 Pet 2:17; 1 Tim 2:1-2).
22:29 Your fullness and your juice you shall not delay to offer The fullness is the grain harvest, the juice wine and oil. God gets the first, not the leftovers, and without delay. The firstborn sons were redeemed (13:13), belonging to God because He spared them at Passover.
22:30 seven days it shall be with its mother Even in this law there is care for the mother animal.
22:31 you shall be men of holiness to Me An animal killed by a wild beast still had its blood in it, and God forbade eating blood (Gen 9:4). Holiness reached even the table. "Be holy, because I am holy" (1 Pet 1:16). We are not under Israel's food laws, which Christ fulfilled (Mark 7:19; Col 2:16-17), but the call to be set apart for God in every part of life has not changed.
23:1 You shall not lift up a report of falsehood The ninth commandment applied to everyday speech and the courtroom. Spreading a false rumor is a kind of false witness, and so is lying to help a wicked man do harm.
23:2 You shall not be after many to evil Do not follow the crowd when the crowd is wrong. In court that meant not going along with the majority to bend justice. It is hard to stand alone, but a crowd once cried out for Jesus to be crucified, and the crowd was wrong.
23:3 a poor man you shall not favor in his dispute Elsewhere God forbids favoring the rich (Lev 19:15). Here He forbids favoring the poor. Justice must be blind to wealth both ways. Feeling sorry for someone is no reason to rule against the truth.
23:4 If you meet the ox of your enemy or his donkey wandering, you shall surely return it to him Not your friend's ox, your enemy's. And help lift his fallen donkey too (23:5). This is love for enemies in the Law of Moses. Jesus taught, "love your enemies, bless those cursing you, do good to those hating you" (Matt 5:44), and Proverbs 25:21 says to feed a hungry enemy. God's heart has always been the same. Whose donkey could you help lift this week?
23:6 You shall not turn aside the judgment of your needy man Verse 3 forbids favoring the poor; this forbids cheating them. The poor are easy to push aside because they cannot fight back.
23:7 I will not justify the wicked Stay far from lies that could condemn an innocent person. God will not declare the guilty righteous. That makes the gospel more wonderful. He "justifies the ungodly" (Rom 4:5) who believe, not by ignoring sin but because Christ paid for it (Rom 3:25-26).
23:8 the bribe blinds the clear-sighted A bribe can blind even a good and wise man. That is why Israel's judges had to hate unjust gain (18:21).
23:9 you know the soul of the sojourner A tender twist on 22:21: you know how it feels. God uses our own past suffering to make us kind to others who suffer.
23:11 the seventh year you shall let it rest and leave it fallow Fallow means left unplanted. Every seventh year the land had a Sabbath (Lev 25:1-7), and whatever grew on its own fed the poor and the wild animals. Israel learned to trust God, who promised a sixth-year harvest big enough to carry them (Lev 25:20-22). Israel did not keep these years, and the exile let the land enjoy its Sabbaths at last (2 Chr 36:21).

grove. 12 Six days you shall do your works, and on the seventh day you shall rest, so that your ox and your donkey may rest, and the son of your female slave and the sojourner may be refreshed. 13 And in all that I have said to you, take heed; and the name of other gods you shall not mention; let it not be heard on your mouth. 14 Three times you shall celebrate a festival to Me in the year. 15 The Festival of Unleavened Bread you shall keep; seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, just as I commanded you, at the appointed time of the month of Abib (Aviv), for in it you came out from Egypt; and they shall not appear before My face empty. 16 And the Festival of the Harvest, the firstfruits of your works which you sow in the field; and the Festival of the Ingathering at the going out of the year, when you gather in your works from the field. 17 Three times in the year every male of yours shall appear before the face of the Lord, the LORD. 18 You shall not sacrifice the blood of My sacrifice with leaven; and the fat of My festival shall not remain overnight until morning. 19 The first of the firstfruits of your ground you shall bring into the house of the LORD your God. The Angel Who Goes Before Israel

20 Look, I am sending an angel before you to guard you on the way and to bring you into the place which I have prepared. 21 Take heed before him and listen to his voice; do not embitter him, for he will not forgive your transgression; for My name is in him. 22 For if you surely listen to his voice and do all that I speak, then I will be an enemy to your enemies and an adversary to your adversaries. 23 For My angel shall go before you and bring you to the Amorite and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Canaanite, the Hivite and the Jebusite; and I will annihilate them. 24 You shall not bow down to their gods, and you shall not be made to serve them, and you shall not do according to their works; for you shall utterly tear them down, and you shall surely shatter their pillars. 25 And you shall serve the LORD your God, and He will bless your bread and your water; and I will remove sickness from your midst. 26 There shall not be one miscarrying or barren in your land; the number of your days I will fulfill. 27 My terror I will send before you, and I will throw into confusion all the people among whom you come, and I will give all your enemies to you turning the neck. 28 And I will send the hornet before you, and it shall drive out the Hivite, the Canaanite, and the Hittite from before you. 29 I will not drive them out from before you in one year, lest the land become a desolation and the living things of the field become many against you. 30 Little by little I will drive them out from before you, until you become fruitful and possess the land.

23:12 so that your ox and your donkey may rest, and the son of your female slave and the sojourner may be refreshed Here the reason for the Sabbath is mercy, and the ones God names have the least power. Believers hold different views on how the Sabbath applies now (see 20:8; Col 2:16-17), but God's concern is plain. Those who work for us need rest too.
23:13 the name of other gods you shall not mention Israel was not to pray to other gods or swear by them. The LORD's name alone was to be on their lips.
23:14 Three times you shall celebrate a festival to Me in the year The three feasts were the heart of Israel's year of worship, all tied to the harvest and to God's saving acts. God wanted His people to stop, gather and remember.
23:15 The Festival of Unleavened Bread you shall keep In the spring month of Abib, right after Passover, recalling the hasty night they left Egypt (12:15-20). "Our Passover was sacrificed for us: Christ" (1 Cor 5:7). They were not to come before God empty-handed.
23:16 the Festival of the Harvest The Harvest came at the wheat harvest fifty days later, later called the Feast of Weeks, in Greek Pentecost. On that day God poured out His Spirit and about three thousand were saved, the firstfruits of the church (Acts 2:1-4). The Ingathering came at the end of the fall harvest, later the Feast of Booths, recalling the wilderness (Lev 23:42-43). At that feast Jesus cried, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37), and in Christ's kingdom the nations will go up to keep it (Zech 14:16).
23:18 You shall not sacrifice the blood of My sacrifice with leaven Leaven often pictures sin spreading (1 Cor 5:6-8). The fat, the best part, belonged to God and was offered at once.
23:19 The first of the firstfruits of your ground The best and first go to God. "Honor the LORD from your wealth, and from the first of all your yield" (Prov 3:9). Do we give God the first or the leftovers?
23:19 You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother Repeated in 34:26 and Deuteronomy 14:21. We do not know for sure why. Some think it was a pagan fertility rite. Others think it taught respect for the bond of mother and young, like 22:30. Later Jewish tradition built on it the rule of not eating meat and milk together. God's people were to be different, even in the kitchen.
23:20 I am sending an angel before you The word angel means messenger. God would not leave Israel to find their own way.
23:21 for he will not forgive your transgression; for My name is in him No ordinary angel. He can forgive or not forgive sin, which only God can do (Mark 2:7), and God's own name is in him. Many Bible teachers believe this is the angel of the LORD, the Son of God before His birth, as at the bush (3:2-6). Others see a created angel carrying God's full authority. Either way, to obey him was to obey God.
23:24 you shall surely shatter their pillars Sacred stones set up in the worship of Canaanite gods. Israel was not to borrow that worship or blend it with the LORD's. They were to destroy it.
23:26 There shall not be one miscarrying or barren in your land Covenant blessings for Israel in the land, tied to faithfulness (Deut 28:1-14). They are not a promise that a Christian will never be sick or lose a child. Godly people like Hannah waited long for children. But they show God's good heart and look ahead to the day when "death will not be any longer" (Rev 21:4).
23:28 I will send the hornet before you God says He drove them out "not by your sword and not by your bow" (Josh 24:12). Some take this as real hornets, others as a picture of the panic God sent. Either way, God fought for Israel.
23:30 Little by little I will drive them out from before you Israel was not yet large enough to fill the land, and an emptied land would be overrun by wild animals. God often works little by little in us too. We want every battle won at once, but He gives growth over time, and "He who began a good work in you will complete it" (Phil 1:6).

31 And I will set your border from the Red Sea to the Sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the River (Nahar); for I will give into your hand the inhabitants of the land, and you shall drive them out from before you. 32 You shall not make a covenant with them or with their gods. 33 They shall not dwell in your land, lest they cause you to sin against Me; for you will serve their gods, for it will become a snare to you."

The Covenant Confirmed

1 And to Moses (Moshe) He said, "Come up to the LORD, you and Aaron (Aharon), Nadab (Nadav) and Abihu (Avihu), and seventy of the elders of Israel (Yisra'el), and you shall bow down from a distance. 2 And Moses alone shall draw near to the LORD, and they shall not draw near; and the people shall not come up with him." 3 And Moses came, and he recounted to the people all the words of the LORD and all the judgments; and all the people answered with one voice, and they said, "All the words which the LORD has spoken we will do." 4 And Moses wrote all the words of the LORD. And he rose early in the morning, and he built an altar under the mountain, and twelve pillars for the twelve tribes of Israel. 5 And he sent the young men of the sons of Israel, and they offered up burnt offerings, and they sacrificed sacrifices, peace offerings to the LORD, bulls. 6 And Moses took half of the blood, and he put it in the bowls; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar. 7 And he took the book of the covenant, and he read it in the ears of the people; and they said, "All that the LORD has spoken we will do, and we will obey." 8 And Moses took the blood, and he sprinkled it on the people, and he said, "Look, the blood of the covenant which the LORD has cut with you concerning all these words."

Moses on the Mountain

9 And Moses went up, and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel. 10 And they saw the God of Israel; and under His feet was like a work of a pavement of sapphire, and like the substance of the heavens for purity. 11 And against the nobles of the sons of Israel He did not stretch out His hand; and they gazed on God, and they ate and they drank. 12 And the LORD said to Moses, "Come up to Me to the mountain, and be there, and let Me give you the tablets of stone, and the law and the commandment which I have written to teach them." 13 And Moses arose, and Joshua (Yehoshua) his attendant; and Moses went up to the mountain of God. 14 And to the elders he said, "Remain for us in 23:31 from the Red Sea to the Sea of the Philistines, and from the wilderness to the River The Mediterranean and the Euphrates, matching the promise to Abraham (Gen 15:18). Israel came closest under David and Solomon (1 Kgs 4:21). Some see the promise as fulfilled then (compare Josh 21:43-45). I believe it will be fully fulfilled in Christ's future kingdom.

23:33 lest they cause you to sin against Me Why drive out these nations? God waited four hundred years because "the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete" (Gen 15:16), and it was "for the wickedness of these nations" (Deut 9:5), not Israel's righteousness. Their worship included child sacrifice and gross immorality (Deut 12:31). Living beside them would be a snare, as it was in the judges' days (Judg 2:1-3). The lesson is not to hate people but to guard our hearts: "Little children, guard yourselves from idols" (1 John 5:21).
24:1 you shall bow down from a distance These words were likely given while Moses was on the mountain (20:21), before he came down in verse 3, though some read them as given after verses 3 to 8. Nadab and Abihu were Aaron's oldest sons, and the seventy elders stood for the nation. Worship begins with humble reverence.
24:2 Moses alone shall draw near to the LORD There were levels of nearness: the people below, the leaders part way, Moses all the way. The tabernacle repeats the pattern: people in the courtyard, priests in the Holy Place, the high priest alone in the Most Holy Place. Through Christ every believer can now draw near (Heb 10:19-22).
24:3 All the words which the LORD has spoken we will do They had said almost the same in 19:8, and they were sincere. But promises made in our own strength do not hold. Within forty days they broke the first and second commandments. We need God to change our hearts, which the new covenant promises: "on their heart I will write it" (Jer 31:33).
24:4 Moses wrote all the words of the LORD The covenant was put in writing to be read and kept. The altar stood for God and the twelve pillars for the tribes. Both sides of the covenant were present.
24:5 he sent the young men of the sons of Israel The Levitical priests were not yet set apart. Burnt offerings spoke of total dedication, peace offerings of fellowship shared in a meal. Both sealed the covenant.
24:6 half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar Blood stands for a life given. The blood on the altar was given to God.
24:7 he took the book of the covenant, and he read it in the ears of the people For the third time the people promised to obey.
24:8 Look, the blood of the covenant Covenants were said to be cut, sealed with the death of an animal (Gen 15:9-18). The blood bound God and the people together and warned that breaking the covenant was a matter of life and death. Hebrews 9:18-22 says even the first covenant was put into effect with blood. Jesus used Moses' words on purpose: "this is My blood, the blood of the new covenant, which is being poured out for many for forgiveness of sins" (Matt 26:28). Believers are chosen for "sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ" (1 Pet 1:2).
24:10 they saw the God of Israel; and under His feet was like a work of a pavement of sapphire Moses describes only what was under His feet, a deep blue as clear as the sky, as Ezekiel saw beneath God's throne (Ezek 1:26). God later says "man shall not see Me and live" (33:20), and "No one has ever seen God" (John 1:18). They saw a vision or form He allowed, not His full glory. John adds that the only begotten Son "has made Him known" (John 1:18), and many believe that whenever God was seen in the Old Testament, it was the Son.
24:11 they gazed on God, and they ate and they drank They expected to die, and God welcomed them. The covenant was sealed with a meal in God's presence, a sign of peace and friendship. Jesus gave His church a meal and promises "the supper of the marriage of the Lamb" (Rev 19:9). Yet Nadab and Abihu, who ate with God here, later died for strange fire (Lev 10:1-2). Being near holy things does not guarantee a holy heart.
24:12 the tablets of stone, and the law and the commandment which I have written to teach them God Himself would write on the stone, and the purpose was to teach.
24:13 Moses arose, and Joshua his attendant Joshua went partway up, being trained for the day he would lead.
24:14 look, Aaron and Hur are with you The men who held up Moses' hands (17:12) were left in charge. While Moses was gone, Aaron would give in and make the golden calf (32:1-6). Leaders are tested most when no one seems to be watching.

this place until we return to you; and look, Aaron and Hur (Chur) are with you. Whoever has matters shall draw near to them." 15 And Moses went up to the mountain, and the cloud covered the mountain. 16 And the glory of the LORD dwelt on the mountain of Sinai (Sinay), and the cloud covered it six days; and He called to Moses on the seventh day from the midst of the cloud. 17 And the appearance of the glory of the LORD was like a consuming fire on the top of the mountain to the eyes of the sons of Israel. 18 And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and he went up to the mountain; and Moses was on the mountain forty days and forty nights.

Offerings for the Tabernacle

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and let them take for Me a contribution; from every man whose heart makes him willing you shall take My contribution. 3 And this is the contribution which you shall take from them: gold and silver and bronze, 4 and blue and purple and crimson scarlet, and fine linen and goats' hair, 5 and skins of rams dyed red, and skins of dolphins, and acacia wood, 6 oil for the light, spices for the oil of the anointing and for the incense of the fragrances, 7 onyx stones and stones for setting, for the ephod and for the breastpiece. 8 And they shall make for Me a sanctuary, and I will dwell in their midst. 9 According to all that I am showing you, the pattern of the tabernacle and the pattern of all its articles, so you shall make it.

The Ark and the Mercy Seat

10 And they shall make an ark of acacia wood: approximately 3.75 feet (two cubits and a half) shall be its length, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its breadth, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its height. 11 And you shall overlay it with pure gold; from inside and from outside you shall overlay it; and you shall make on it a molding of gold all around. 12 And you shall cast for it four rings of gold, and you shall put them on its four feet, and two rings on its one side, and two rings on its second side. 13 And you shall make poles of acacia wood, and you shall overlay them with gold. 14 And you shall bring the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark, to carry the ark by them. 15 In the rings of the ark the poles shall be; they shall not be removed from it. 16 And you shall put into the ark the testimony which I will give to you. 17 And you shall make a mercy seat of pure gold: approximately 3.75 feet (two cubits and a half) shall be its length, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its breadth. 18 And you shall make two cherubim of gold; of hammered work you shall make them, from the two ends of the mercy seat. 19 And make one cherub from the end on this side, and one cherub from the end on that side; from the mercy seat you shall make the cherubim on its two ends. 20 And the cherubim shall be spreading out wings upward, 24:16 the glory of the LORD dwelt on the mountain of Sinai The word dwelt is tied to the later word shekinah, used for God's glory living among His people. Moses waited six days before God spoke. Waiting on God is part of meeting Him.

24:17 like a consuming fire on the top of the mountain From below the people saw what looked like fire on the mountaintop, and Moses walked into it.
24:18 Moses was on the mountain forty days and forty nights He ate no bread and drank no water (Deut 9:9). In these days God showed him the pattern of the tabernacle and the priesthood (25-31). Jesus also fasted forty days and nights (Matt 4:2). The God whose glory was a fire on Sinai came to live among us: "the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory" (John 1:14).
25:2 from every man whose heart makes him willing you shall take My contribution The tabernacle would be built from gifts, not taxes. God wanted only what was given freely, for "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor 9:7).
25:3 gold and silver and bronze Where did former slaves get gold and fine cloth in the desert? From the Egyptians, the night they left (12:35-36). God provided for His house before He asked for it. What we give to God was His gift to us first.
25:5 skins of dolphins, and acacia wood The rare Hebrew word for these skins is also rendered fine leather or sea cow hides. Acacia is a hard desert wood that resists rot. Blue, purple and crimson yarn, fine linen, oil, spices and precious stones complete the list (25:4-7).
25:8 they shall make for Me a sanctuary, and I will dwell in their midst The heart of the whole section. God did not want to stay on a mountain far from His people. Sin broke the fellowship of Eden, and now the holy God would camp in the middle of a sinful people in a tent like theirs. John says the Word "dwelt among us" (John 1:14), pitched His tent among us, and at the end, "the tabernacle of God is with men" (Rev 21:3).
25:9 the pattern of the tabernacle Moses did not design it. God showed him a pattern. Hebrews says the tabernacle was "a copy and shadow of the heavenly things" (Heb 8:5), where Christ now serves as our High Priest (Heb 9:24). We do not invent our own way to God. He shows us the way.
25:10 they shall make an ark of acacia wood An ark is a chest, here about three feet nine inches long and two feet three inches wide and high. A cubit was about eighteen inches, elbow to fingertip. It was covered with gold inside and out. Many have seen in wood covered with gold a picture of Christ, fully human and fully God. The New Testament does not say so of the ark, so I offer it only as a picture.
25:15 they shall not be removed from it The ark was always ready to move, because God traveled with His people. It was carried on the Levites' shoulders and never touched by hand, as Uzzah's death later showed (2 Sam 6:6-7).
25:16 the testimony which I will give to you The two tablets of the Ten Commandments, God's witness to His covenant. Later the ark also held the jar of manna and Aaron's staff (Heb 9:4). Christ is the One in whose heart God's law was perfectly kept: "Your law is in the midst of my inward parts" (Ps 40:8).
25:17 you shall make a mercy seat of pure gold The lid of the ark, solid gold. The Hebrew word comes from the word for atonement, to cover sin and make peace with God. On the Day of Atonement the high priest sprinkled blood on it for the nation's sins (Lev 16:14-15).
25:20 covering over the mercy seat with their wings Cherubim are powerful angelic beings who guard God's holiness, as they guarded the way to the tree of life (Gen 3:24). Picture it: inside the ark, the law Israel had broken; above, the throne of the holy God; between, the mercy seat sprinkled with blood. God looked at His broken law through the blood. That is how a holy God shows mercy to sinners.

covering over the mercy seat with their wings, and their faces shall be each toward its fellow; toward the mercy seat the faces of the cherubim shall be. 21 And you shall put the mercy seat on the ark from above, and into the ark you shall put the testimony which I will give to you. 22 And I will meet with you there, and I will speak with you from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim which are on the ark of the testimony, all that I will command you concerning the sons of Israel.

The Table and the Lampstand

23 And you shall make a table of acacia wood: approximately 3 feet (two cubits) shall be its length, and approximately 18 inches (a cubit) its breadth, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its height. 24 And you shall overlay it with pure gold, and you shall make for it a molding of gold all around. 25 And you shall make for it a rim of approximately 3 inches (a handbreadth) all around, and you shall make a molding of gold for its rim all around. 26 And you shall make for it four rings of gold, and you shall put the rings on the four corners which belong to its four feet. 27 Close to the rim the rings shall be, for housings for poles to carry the table. 28 And you shall make the poles of acacia wood, and you shall overlay them with gold, and the table shall be carried by them. 29 And you shall make its dishes and its pans and its jugs and its bowls, with which drink offerings shall be poured out; of pure gold you shall make them. 30 And you shall put on the table bread of the Presence before Me continually. 31 And you shall make a lampstand of pure gold; of hammered work the lampstand shall be made; its base and its shaft, its cups, its bulbs, and its blossoms shall be from it. 32 And six branches shall be coming out from its sides: three branches of the lampstand from its one side, and three branches of the lampstand from its second side; 33 three cups, almond-shaped, on the one branch, a bulb and a blossom; and three cups, almond-shaped, on the one branch, a bulb and a blossom; so for the six branches which come out from the lampstand. 34 And on the lampstand shall be four cups, almond-shaped, its bulbs and its blossoms; 35 and a bulb under the two branches from it, and a bulb under the two branches from it, and a bulb under the two branches from it, for the six branches which come out from the lampstand. 36 Their bulbs and their branches shall be from it; all of it shall be one hammered work of pure gold. 37 And you shall make its lamps, seven; and he shall lift up its lamps, and he shall give light on the side in front of it. 38 And its tongs and its fire pans shall be of pure gold. 39 Of approximately 75 pounds (a talent) of pure gold he shall make it, with all these articles. 40 And see, and make them by their pattern which you are being shown on the mountain.

EXODUS 26

The Curtains of the Tabernacle

1 And the tabernacle you shall make with ten curtains of twisted fine linen and blue and purple and crimson scarlet; with cherubim, the work of a designer, you shall make them. 2 The length of the one curtain shall be approximately 42 feet (twenty-eight by the cubit), and the breadth of the one curtain approximately 6 feet (four by the cubit); one measure for all the curtains. 3 Five of the curtains shall be joined each to its fellow, and five curtains joined each to its fellow. 4 And you shall make loops of blue on the edge of the one curtain, at the end in the set; and so you shall do on the edge of the outermost curtain in the second coupling. 5 Fifty loops you shall make on the one curtain, and fifty loops you shall make at the end of the curtain which is in the second coupling, the loops being opposite each to its fellow. 6 And you shall make fifty clasps of gold, and you shall join the curtains each to its

25:22 I will meet with you there God set forth Christ "as a propitiation through faith in His blood" (Rom 3:25), using the Greek word for the mercy seat (Heb 9:5). A propitiation is a sacrifice that turns away God's anger by paying for sin. "He Himself is the propitiation for our sins" (1 John 2:2). Jesus is our mercy seat, so we "come with boldness to the throne of grace" (Heb 4:16).

25:23 you shall make a table of acacia wood About three feet long, eighteen inches wide and two feet three inches high, overlaid with gold, with a rim and rings and poles for carrying. Its dishes and bowls for drink offerings were pure gold (25:29).

25:30 bread of the Presence before Me continually Twelve loaves, one for each tribe, replaced each Sabbath (Lev 24:5-9). The bread stood in God's presence, a sign that He provided for His people and kept the twelve tribes before Him in fellowship. "I am the bread of life" (John 6:35). Christ's provision is never taken away.

25:31 you shall make a lampstand of pure gold Beaten from one piece of gold, a center shaft with three branches on each side, each with cups shaped like almond blossoms. It looked like a small golden almond tree in bloom, made from a talent of gold, about seventy-five pounds (25:39).

25:37 you shall make its lamps, seven The Holy Place had no windows. Without the lampstand the priests would work in the dark. The lamps burned olive oil and were kept burning (27:20-21). Jesus is "the light of the world" (John 8:12), the only true light. His followers are lights too (Matt 5:14), and the seven lampstands of Revelation 1:20 are churches. Our light is borrowed from Him.

25:40 make them by their pattern which you are being shown on the mountain God repeats it: build it My way. The tabernacle was a God-given shadow, "not the very image of the things" (Heb 10:1). Christ is the reality the shadow pointed to.

26:1 ten curtains of twisted fine linen and blue and purple and crimson scarlet; with cherubim The innermost layer, the ceiling and walls the priests saw from inside, woven with cherubim. Each curtain was about forty-two feet by six. Surrounded by gold walls and a ceiling of color, lit by the lampstand, the Holy Place must have looked like a small piece of heaven, a copy of heavenly things (Heb 8:5).

26:6 the tabernacle shall be one Fifty gold clasps joined two sets of five curtains into one dwelling. Many members, one house: believers "are being built together into a dwelling place of God in the Spirit" (Eph 2:22).

fellow with the clasps; and the tabernacle shall be one. 7 And you shall make curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle; eleven curtains you shall make them. 8 The length of the one curtain shall be approximately 45 feet (thirty by the cubit), and the breadth of the one curtain approximately 6 feet (four by the cubit); one measure for the eleven curtains. 9 And you shall join five of the curtains by themselves and six of the curtains by themselves, and you shall fold double the sixth curtain at the front of the face of the tent. 10 And you shall make fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain, the outermost in the set, and fifty loops on the edge of the curtain of the second set. 11 And you shall make clasps of bronze, fifty, and you shall bring the clasps into the loops, and you shall join the tent, and it shall be one. 12 And the overhang that remains in the curtains of the tent, the half of the curtain that remains, shall hang over the back of the tabernacle. 13 And approximately 18 inches (the cubit) on this side and approximately 18 inches (the cubit) on that side, in what remains in the length of the curtains of the tent, shall be hanging over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it. 14 And you shall make a covering for the tent of skins of rams dyed red, and a covering of skins of dolphins from above.

The Boards and Bars

15 And you shall make the boards for the tabernacle of acacia wood, standing upright. 16 Approximately 15 feet (ten cubits) shall be the length of the board, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and the half of the cubit) the breadth of the one board. 17 Two tenons shall be for the one board, fitted each to its fellow; so you shall do for all the boards of the tabernacle. 18 And you shall make the boards for the tabernacle: twenty boards for the side of the south, southward. 19 And you shall make forty bases of silver under the twenty boards: two bases under the one board for its two tenons, and two bases under the one board for its two tenons. 20 And for the second side of the tabernacle, for the north side, twenty boards, 21 and their forty bases of silver: two bases under the one board, and two bases under the one board. 22 And for the rear of the tabernacle westward you shall make six boards. 23 And two boards you shall make for the corners of the tabernacle at the rear. 24 And they shall be doubled from below, and together they shall be complete at its top to the one ring; so it shall be for both of them; they shall be for the two corners. 25 And there shall be eight boards, and their bases of silver, sixteen bases: two bases under the one board, and two bases under the one board. 26 And you shall make bars of acacia wood: five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle, 27 and five bars for the boards of the second side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the side of the tabernacle for the rear, westward. 28 And the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall be passing through from end to end. 29 And the boards you shall overlay with gold, and their rings you shall make of gold, housings for the bars; and you shall overlay the bars with gold. 30 And you shall raise up the tabernacle according to its plan which you have been shown on the mountain.

The Veil and the Screen

31 And you shall make a veil of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen; the work of a designer he shall make it, with cherubim. 32 And you shall put it on four pillars of acacia overlaid with gold, their hooks of gold, on four bases of silver. 33 And you shall put the veil under the clasps, and you shall bring there, inside the veil, the ark of the testimony; and the veil shall separate for you between the holy place and the holy of holies. 34 And you shall put the mercy

26:7 curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle Eleven curtains, each about forty-five feet by six, slightly larger than the linen so they hung over its back and sides (26:12-13).

26:14 a covering for the tent of skins of rams dyed red, and a covering of skins of dolphins from above The outer covering was plain and weather-proof. From outside the tabernacle did not look like much; all the beauty was inside. Many have seen a picture of Christ, who had "no form to Him and no splendor, that we should look at Him" (Isa 53:2), plain to those outside but full of glory to those who come in. The red rams' skins recall the ram that died in Isaac's place (Gen 22:13). These are pictures, not direct New Testament teaching.

26:16 Approximately 15 feet shall be the length of the board Each upright frame was about fifteen feet tall and two feet three inches wide, with two pegs at the bottom set into silver bases (26:17-19). Twenty boards on each long side and eight at the back made a tent about forty-five feet long and fifteen feet wide and tall, though the exact layout at the back and corners is debated.

26:19 forty bases of silver The silver came from the atonement money, half a shekel for each Israelite (30:11-16; 38:25-27). God's dwelling rested on "the silver of the atonement" (30:16), the price of redemption. We were redeemed "not with perishable things, silver or gold" (1 Pet 1:18), but with the precious blood of Christ.

26:28 the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall be passing through from end to end Gold-covered bars held the boards firmly together.

26:30 you shall raise up the tabernacle according to its plan which you have been shown on the mountain The third time God says follow the pattern (25:9, 40). Every piece could be carried. For almost five hundred years, until Solomon's temple, God's house was a tent that traveled with His people. Our bodies are an earthly "tent" (2 Cor 5:1), our lives a journey, and God goes with us.

26:31 you shall make a veil A thick curtain woven with cherubim, hung on four gold-covered pillars.

26:33 the veil shall separate for you between the holy place and the holy of holies The Most Holy Place, holding the ark and mercy seat, was most likely a cube about fifteen feet each way, as Solomon's inner room was a cube (1 Kgs 6:20). The veil's message was keep out. Only the high priest went behind it, once a year and with blood (Lev 16; Heb 9:7), "the Holy Spirit signifying this, that the way into the holy places has not yet been made manifest" (Heb 9:8). When Jesus died, "the veil of the temple was torn into two from top to bottom" (Matt 27:51). God tore it, not man. We now enter "by a new and living way which He inaugurated for us through the veil, that is, His flesh" (Heb 10:20).

seat on the ark of the testimony in the holy of holies. 35 And you shall set the table outside the veil, and the lampstand opposite the table on the side of the tabernacle southward; and the table you shall put on the north side. 36 And you shall make a screen for the entrance of the tent of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen, the work of an embroiderer. 37 And you shall make for the screen five pillars of acacia, and you shall overlay them with gold, their hooks of gold; and you shall cast for them five bases of bronze.

The Bronze Altar

1 And you shall make the altar of acacia wood, approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits) in length and approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits) in breadth; the altar shall be square, and approximately 4.5 feet (three cubits) shall be its height. 2 And you shall make its horns on its four corners; its horns shall be from it; and you shall overlay it with bronze. 3 And you shall make its pots to remove its ashes, and its shovels and its bowls and its forks and its fire pans; all its articles you shall make of bronze. 4 And you shall make for it a grating, a work of network of bronze; and you shall make on the net four rings of bronze on its four ends. 5 And you shall put it under the ledge of the altar from below, and the net shall be to the middle of the altar. 6 And you shall make poles for the altar, poles of acacia wood, and you shall overlay them with bronze. 7 And its poles shall be brought into the rings, and the poles shall be on the two sides of the altar when carrying it. 8 Hollow, of planks, you shall make it; just as He showed you on the mountain, so they shall make it.

The Courtyard and the Oil for the Lamp

9 And you shall make the courtyard of the tabernacle: for the side of the south, southward, hangings for the courtyard of twisted fine linen, approximately 150 feet (a hundred by the cubit) in length for the one side; 10 and its pillars twenty, and their bases twenty, of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver. 11 And so for the side of the north in length, hangings approximately 150 feet (a hundred cubits) in length; and its pillars twenty, and their bases twenty, of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver. 12 And the breadth of the courtyard on the side of the west shall be hangings of approximately 75 feet (fifty cubits); their pillars ten, and their bases ten. 13 And the breadth of the courtyard on the side of the east, eastward, shall be approximately 75 feet (fifty cubits). 14 And approximately 22.5 feet (fifteen cubits) of hangings shall be for the one wing; their pillars three, and their bases three. 15 And for the second wing, approximately 22.5 feet (fifteen cubits) of hangings; their pillars three, and their bases three. 16 And for the gate of the courtyard a screen of approximately 30 feet (twenty cubits), of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen, the work of an embroiderer; their pillars four, and their bases four. 17 All the pillars of the courtyard all around shall be banded with silver; their hooks of silver, and their bases of bronze. 18 The length of the courtyard shall be approximately 150 feet (a hundred by the cubit), and the breadth approximately 75 feet (fifty by fifty), and the height approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits), of twisted fine linen; and their bases of bronze. 19 All the articles of the tabernacle in all its service, and all its pegs, and all the pegs

26:35 you shall set the table outside the veil, and the lampstand opposite the table In the Holy Place, twice as long as the inner room, the table stood on the north side and the lampstand on the south, facing each other.
26:36 you shall make a screen for the entrance of the tent The door into the Holy Place, on five gold-covered pillars set in bronze bases, since bronze marked the things nearer the courtyard and altar. There was one entrance, on the east. "I am the door. If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved" (John 10:9). The whole tent preaches Christ: one door, bread and light, a veil that is His flesh torn for us, a mercy seat sprinkled with blood. It is a picture book of the gospel. Have you come in through the one door?
27:1 you shall make the altar of acacia wood The largest piece of furniture, about seven and a half feet square and four and a half feet high, often called the bronze altar or altar of burnt offering, to tell it from the gold altar of incense (30:1-10).
27:2 its horns shall be from it; and you shall overlay it with bronze A horn stands for power. Blood of sin offerings was put on the horns (Lev 4:25), and a man in danger might take hold of them to ask for mercy (1 Kgs 1:50). The altar was a place of death and of refuge. Its fire was never to go out (Lev 6:13), and bronze could stand the heat. Gold was used near God's presence; bronze out where sin was dealt with.
27:3 all its articles you shall make of bronze Pots for ashes, shovels, bowls for catching blood, forks for the meat, fire pans for coals.
27:4 a grating, a work of network of bronze The grate sat halfway up inside the altar. The fire burned on it and ashes fell through. Rings and bronze-covered poles made the altar portable (27:6-7).
27:8 Hollow, of planks, you shall make it When set up it may have been filled with earth or stones, like the simple altars of 20:24-25, though Scripture doesn't say. Why was this altar the first thing inside the gate? No sinner can come near a holy God without a sacrifice. Every animal that died here said that sin brings death and God accepts a substitute. Yet "it is impossible for the blood of bulls and of goats to take away sins" (Heb 10:4). They pointed to Christ, who "offered Himself unblemished to God" (Heb 9:14), and "having offered one sacrifice for sins for all time, sat down" (Heb 10:12). "We have an altar" (Heb 13:10), the cross. The bronze altar was the shadow.
27:9 you shall make the courtyard of the tabernacle An open yard about 150 feet by 75, about half a football field, walled with hangings of white linen on pillars set in bronze, with silver hooks and bands.
27:16 for the gate of the courtyard a screen of approximately 30 feet The gate was wide and colorful, in the same colors as the veil, standing out against the white walls. There was only one gate. You could not climb the wall or come in at the side. "I am the door of the sheep" (John 10:7). Wide enough for anyone who would come, but the only way.
27:18 the height approximately 7.5 feet, of twisted fine linen From outside no one could see in. The wall marked a clear line between the camp and God's holy ground. The linen may picture the righteousness God requires, as "the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints" (Rev 19:8). God's holiness sets a boundary sinners cannot cross on their own.
27:19 all its pegs, and all the pegs of the courtyard, shall be of bronze Even the tent pegs were part of God's house. Nothing in His service is too small to matter. Some are curtains and some are tent pegs, but all are needed. "Enter His gates with thanksgiving, His courts with praise" (Ps 100:4).

of the courtyard, shall be of bronze. 20 And you, you shall command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and let them bring to you pure olive oil, beaten, for the light, to cause a lamp to go up continually. 21 In the tent of meeting, outside the veil which is over the testimony, Aaron (Aharon) shall arrange it, and his sons, from evening until morning before the LORD; a statute forever throughout their generations from the sons of Israel.

The Ephod

1 And you, bring near to yourself Aaron (Aharon) your brother, and his sons with him, from among the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), for him to serve as priest to Me: Aaron, Nadab (Nadav) and Abihu (Avihu), Eleazar (Elazar) and Ithamar (Itamar), the sons of Aaron. 2 And you shall make garments of holiness for Aaron your brother, for glory and for beauty. 3 And you, you shall speak to all the wise of heart, whom I have filled with a spirit of wisdom, and they shall make the garments of Aaron to sanctify him, for him to serve as priest to Me. 4 And these are the garments which they shall make: a breastpiece and an ephod and a robe, and a tunic of checkered work, a turban, and a sash; and they shall make garments of holiness for Aaron your brother and for his sons, for him to serve as priest to Me. 5 And they, they shall take the gold and the blue and the purple and the crimson scarlet and the fine linen. 6 And they shall make the ephod of gold, blue and purple, crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen, the work of a designer. 7 It shall have two shoulder pieces joined at its two ends, and it shall be joined. 8 And the band of its ephod which is on it shall be like its work, from it, of gold, blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen. 9 And you shall take two onyx stones, and you shall engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel, 10 six of their names on the one stone, and the names of the six that remain on the second stone, according to their generations. 11 With the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, you shall engrave the two stones according to the names of the sons of Israel; surrounded with filigree settings of gold you shall make them. 12 And you shall put the two stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, stones of memorial for the sons of Israel; and Aaron shall bear their names before the LORD on his two shoulders for a memorial. 13 And you shall make filigree settings of gold, 14 and two chains of pure gold; braided you shall make them, a work of cordage; and you shall put the chains of cordage on the filigree settings.

The Breastpiece

15 And you shall make a breastpiece of judgment, the work of a designer; like the work of the ephod you shall make it; of gold, blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen you shall make it. 16 It shall be square, folded double; approximately 9 inches (a span) its length, and approximately 9 inches (a span) its breadth. 17 And you shall fill in it a setting of stone, four rows of stone: a row of ruby, topaz, and beryl shall be the first row; 18 and the second row a turquoise, a sapphire, and an emerald; 19 and the third row a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst; 20 and the fourth row a chrysolite, and an onyx, and a jasper; set in gold they shall be in their settings. 21 And the stones shall be according to the names of the sons of Israel, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, each according to his name;

27:20 pure olive oil, beaten, for the light, to cause a lamp to go up continually Beaten oil was the best. Olives were crushed gently in a mortar rather than a large press, giving clear oil that burned bright with little smoke. The whole nation supplied it.
27:21 In the tent of meeting Another name for the tabernacle, where God met His people. Here Aaron and his sons are first named as the ones who would serve (28-29). The lamp burned all night, every night. Oil is often linked to the Holy Spirit (Zech 4:1-6). The light of Christ in us is kept burning as we "be filled with the Spirit" (Eph 5:18), and it is meant to shine through the night.
28:1 bring near to yourself Aaron your brother, and his sons with him Until now Moses and family heads had offered sacrifices. Now God set apart one family of Levi. Aaron did not apply. God chose him. "No one takes the honor for himself, but the one being called by God, just as also Aaron was" (Heb 5:4), and so the Christ "did not glorify Himself to become a high priest" (Heb 5:5). Nadab and Abihu would later die for strange fire (Lev 10:1-2). Holy work is an honor and a serious trust.
28:2 garments of holiness for Aaron your brother, for glory and for beauty Holy clothes set apart for God's service, showing that Aaron stood before a holy God and giving his office honor.
28:3 whom I have filled with a spirit of wisdom The workers' skill was God's gift. Their leader, Bezalel, appears in chapter 31. God still gives His people gifts to use for His house (1 Pet 4:10).
28:4 a breastpiece and an ephod and a robe, and a tunic of checkered work, a turban, and a sash Six pieces in the same materials as the tabernacle (25:4). The high priest was dressed to match God's house.
28:6 they shall make the ephod An outer garment like a vest or apron, with shoulder pieces and a woven waistband, with gold thread worked in so it would shine (39:3).
28:12 Aaron shall bear their names before the LORD on his two shoulders for a memorial Two onyx stones, six tribes on each in birth order. Every time he served, Aaron carried all twelve tribes on his shoulders, the place of strength. The shepherd finds the lost sheep and "lays it on his shoulders, rejoicing" (Luke 15:5). Our High Priest carries us before God. We do not stand there on our own strength.
28:15 you shall make a breastpiece of judgment A square pouch about nine inches each way, folded double, worn on the chest.
28:17 four rows of stone Twelve precious stones in four rows of three. We are not sure of the modern names for some of them, and translations differ. Each was different and each precious.
28:21 like the engravings of a signet, each according to his name A signet was a seal cut into stone. Each tribe had its own stone and name. No tribe was lost in the crowd. John saw the New Jerusalem built on precious stones with the tribes' names on its gates (Rev 21:12, 19-20). God's people are His jewels.

they shall be for the twelve tribes. 22 And you shall make on the breastpiece braided chains, a work of cordage, of pure gold. 23 And you shall make on the breastpiece two rings of gold, and you shall put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece. 24 And you shall put the two cords of gold on the two rings at the ends of the breastpiece. 25 And the two ends of the two cords you shall put on the two filigree settings, and you shall put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front of its face. 26 And you shall make two rings of gold, and you shall put them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on its edge which is toward the side of the ephod inward. 27 And you shall make two rings of gold, and you shall put them on the two shoulder pieces of the ephod from below, from the front of its face, close to its joining, above the band of the ephod. 28 And let them bind the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, to be on the band of the ephod, and the breastpiece shall not be displaced from on the ephod. 29 And Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel on the breastpiece of judgment over his heart when he goes into the holy place, for a memorial before the LORD continually. 30 And you shall put into the breastpiece of judgment the Urim and the Thummim, and they shall be over the heart of Aaron when he goes in before the LORD; and Aaron shall bear the judgment of the sons of Israel over his heart before the LORD continually.

The Robe and Other Garments

31 And you shall make the robe of the ephod entirely of blue. 32 And the opening of its head shall be in its midst; an edge shall be for its opening all around, the work of a weaver; like the opening of a coat of mail it shall be for it; it shall not be torn. 33 And you shall make on its hem pomegranates of blue and purple and crimson scarlet, on its hem all around, and bells of gold in their midst all around: 34 a bell of gold and a pomegranate, a bell of gold and a pomegranate, on the hems of the robe all around. 35 And it shall be on Aaron to minister, and its sound shall be heard when he goes into the holy place before the LORD and when he comes out, and he shall not die. 36 And you shall make a plate of pure gold, and you shall engrave on it like the engravings of a signet, 'Holiness to the LORD.' 37 And you shall put it on a lace of blue, and it shall be on the turban; at the front of the face of the turban it shall be. 38 And it shall be on the forehead of Aaron, and Aaron shall bear the iniquity of the holy things which the sons of Israel sanctify, for all the gifts of their holy things; and it shall be on his forehead continually, for acceptance for them before the LORD. 39 And you shall weave the tunic of fine linen in checkered work, and you shall make a turban of fine linen, and a sash you shall make, the work of an embroiderer. 40 And for the sons of Aaron you shall make tunics, and you shall make for them sashes, and headdresses you shall make for them, for glory and for beauty. 41 And you shall clothe Aaron your brother with them, and his sons with him, and you shall anoint them, and you shall fill their hand, and you shall sanctify them, and they shall serve as priests to Me. 42 And make for them undergarments of linen to cover the flesh of nakedness; from the hips and to the thighs they shall be. 43 And they shall be on Aaron and on his sons when they go into the tent of meeting, or when they draw near to the altar to minister in the holy place, and they shall not

28:28 the breastpiece shall not be displaced from on the ephod Gold chains, rings and a blue lace bound the names over the heart to the names on the shoulders, so they could not slip while Aaron worked. "No one will snatch them out of My hand" (John 10:28).

28:29 Aaron shall bear the names of the sons of Israel on the breastpiece of judgment over his heart The shoulders speak of strength, the heart of love. Our High Priest carries our names on His heart. "He is also able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through Him, always living to intercede for them" (Heb 7:25). To intercede is to plead for someone, and Jesus does it now for every believer (Rom 8:34).

28:30 the Urim and the Thummim The words mean lights and perfections. Scripture never describes them. Kept in the pouch, they were used to learn God's will in important decisions (Num 27:21; 1 Sam 28:6). Many suggest they were lots giving a yes or no answer. We do not need them today. God has spoken fully in His Son (Heb 1:1-2) and given us His Word and Spirit.

28:32 it shall not be torn The blue robe was one piece, its neck bound so it would not tear, and the high priest was forbidden to tear his garments (Lev 21:10). At Jesus' trial "the high priest tore his garments" (Matt 26:65), and many see in this a sign that his office was passing away before the true High Priest.

28:35 its sound shall be heard when he goes into the holy place before the LORD and when he comes out, and he shall not die Pomegranates and gold bells alternated around the hem. The people outside could hear that their priest was alive and still serving. God's presence was not a place to wander into carelessly.

28:36 Holiness to the LORD Engraved on a gold plate tied to the front of the turban, on Aaron's forehead, "the crown of holiness" (29:6).

28:38 Aaron shall bear the iniquity of the holy things Even the people's gifts came from sinful hands. The high priest carried that guilt so the gifts would be accepted. Our best prayers and service are mixed with sin, and they are accepted because Christ is holy for us: "holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners" (Heb 7:26). We offer "spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ" (1 Pet 2:5).

28:40 for the sons of Aaron you shall make tunics The ordinary priests received simpler tunics, sashes and headdresses, yet still "for glory and for beauty." Every priest was dressed with honor.

28:41 you shall anoint them, and you shall fill their hand, and you shall sanctify them To anoint is to pour oil to set someone apart. To fill the hand is the Hebrew way of saying ordain. To sanctify is to make holy. The priests could not serve until God clothed them. Neither can we: "He has clothed me with garments of salvation" (Isa 61:10), and Christ is our righteousness (2 Cor 5:21).

28:42 undergarments of linen to cover the flesh of nakedness Pagan worship often included shameful things. God's worship was modest and pure, as with the altar without steps (20:26).

28:43 a statute forever for him and for his seed after him Forever here means as long as that priesthood stood. Aaron's priesthood was a shadow that gave way to a better one: the oath "appoints a Son, perfected forever" (Heb 7:28). Jesus "holds the priesthood permanently" (Heb 7:24), a priest after the order of Melchizedek (Heb 5:6). Some teachers see a role for Levitical priests again in the millennial temple (Ezek 44:15). Aaron needed holy clothes. Jesus is holiness itself.

bear iniquity and die; it shall be a statute forever for him and for his seed after him.

The Consecration of the Priests

1 And this is the thing which you shall do to them to sanctify them, to serve as priests to Me: take one young bull, a son of the herd, and two rams without blemish, 2 and bread of unleavened loaves, and cakes of unleavened loaves mixed with oil, and wafers of unleavened loaves smeared with oil; of fine flour of wheat you shall make them. 3 And you shall put them on one basket, and you shall bring them near in the basket, and the young bull and the two rams. 4 And Aaron (Aharon) and his sons you shall bring near to the entrance of the tent of meeting, and you shall wash them with water. 5 And you shall take the garments, and you shall clothe Aaron with the tunic and the robe of the ephod and the ephod and the breastpiece, and you shall gird him with the band of the ephod. 6 And you shall put the turban on his head, and you shall put the crown of holiness on the turban. 7 And you shall take the oil of the anointing, and you shall pour it on his head, and you shall anoint him. 8 And his sons you shall bring near, and you shall clothe them with tunics, 9 and you shall gird them with a sash, Aaron and his sons, and you shall bind headdresses on them; and the priesthood shall be theirs for a statute forever. And you shall fill the hand of Aaron and the hand of his sons.

The Ordination Offerings

10 And you shall bring near the young bull before the tent of meeting, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the young bull. 11 And you shall slaughter the young bull before the LORD, at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 12 And you shall take some of the blood of the young bull, and you shall put it on the horns of the altar with your finger; and all the blood you shall pour out at the base of the altar. 13 And you shall take all the fat that covers the entrails, and the lobe on the liver, and the two kidneys and the fat which is on them, and you shall make them smoke on the altar. 14 And the flesh of the young bull and its hide and its dung you shall burn with fire outside the camp; it is a sin offering. 15 And the one ram you shall take, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram. 16 And you shall slaughter the ram, and you shall take its blood, and you shall sprinkle it on the altar all around. 17 And the ram you shall cut into its pieces, and you shall wash its entrails and its legs, and you shall put them with its pieces and with its head. 18 And you shall make the whole ram smoke on the altar; it is a burnt offering to the LORD, a soothing aroma; a fire offering to the LORD it is. 19 And you shall take the second ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram. 20 And you shall slaughter the ram, and you shall take some of its blood, and you shall put it on the lobe of the ear of Aaron and on the lobe of the ear of his sons, the right ear, and on the thumb of their right hand, and on the big toe of their right foot; and you shall sprinkle the blood on the altar all around. 21 And you shall take some of the blood which is on the altar, and some of the oil of the anointing, and you shall spatter it on Aaron and on his garments, and on his sons and on the garments of his sons with him; and he shall be holy, he and his garments, and his sons and the garments of his sons with him. 22 And you shall take from the ram the fat and the fat tail, and the fat that covers the entrails, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and the fat which is on them, and the right thigh, for it is a ram of installation; 23 and one round loaf of bread, and one

29:23 Exod 29:2,3

29:1 two rams without blemish To sanctify the priests was to set them apart for God. They were sinners like everyone else, and something had to be done for them first. Without blemish means without defect, pointing to Christ, "a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pet 1:19).
29:4 you shall wash them with water The first step. No one could serve God unclean.
29:7 you shall pour it on his head, and you shall anoint him The oil ran "down on the beard, the beard of Aaron" (Ps 133:2). Oil often pictures the Holy Spirit. Notice the order: washed, clothed, anointed. God saved us "through the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit" (Titus 3:5). Messiah or Christ means the Anointed One. Jesus was anointed with the Spirit (Acts 10:38), and through Him every believer is washed, clothed in His righteousness and given the Spirit.
29:9 the priesthood shall be theirs for a statute forever The priesthood stayed in Aaron's family as long as the Law stood. To fill the hand means to ordain (28:41). Later Moses actually fills their hands with God's portion (29:24).
29:10 Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the young bull Laying hands on the animal meant, this one stands in my place.
29:14 you shall burn with fire outside the camp; it is a sin offering A sin offering dealt with sin and its guilt so the sinner could be cleansed and forgiven. Before Aaron could pray for others, his own sin had to be dealt with (Heb 5:3). Jesus never needed that. And "so that He might sanctify the people through His own blood, suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12), as the sin offering was burned outside the camp.
29:18 it is a burnt offering to the LORD, a soothing aroma The burnt offering was burned completely, nothing held back, picturing complete surrender. The sin offering dealt with sin; the burnt offering said, now I am wholly Yours. God was pleased not with smoke but with the heart behind it. Christ gave Himself "for an aroma of fragrance" (Eph 5:2), and we are to present our bodies "as a living, holy sacrifice, well-pleasing to God" (Rom 12:1).
29:20 on the lobe of the ear of Aaron A common explanation: the ear hears God's word, the hand does His work, the foot walks His ways. The whole man was marked by the blood and given to God. Every part of a believer's life is bought with His blood (1 Cor 6:19-20).
29:21 some of the blood which is on the altar, and some of the oil of the anointing Blood cleanses and oil sets apart. We need both what Christ did for us on the cross and what the Spirit does in us.

cake of bread with oil, and one wafer, from the basket of the unleavened loaves which is before the LORD. 24 And you shall put the whole on the palms of Aaron and on the palms of his sons, and you shall wave them as a wave offering before the LORD. 25 And you shall take them from their hand, and you shall make them smoke on the altar on the burnt offering, for a soothing aroma before the LORD; it is a fire offering to the LORD. 26 And you shall take the breast from the ram of installation which is for Aaron, and you shall wave it as a wave offering before the LORD; and it shall be for you for a portion. 27 And you shall sanctify the breast of the wave offering and the thigh of the contribution, which was waved and which was lifted up, from the ram of installation, from that which is for Aaron and from that which is for his sons. 28 And it shall be for Aaron and for his sons for a due forever from the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), for it is a contribution; and it shall be a contribution from the sons of Israel from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, their contribution to the LORD.

God Will Dwell With Israel

29 And the garments of holiness which are for Aaron shall be for his sons after him, for anointing in them and for filling their hand in them. 30 Seven days the priest in his place from among his sons shall wear them, who goes into the tent of meeting to minister in the holy place. 31 And the ram of installation you shall take, and you shall boil its flesh in a holy place. 32 And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram and the bread which is in the basket, at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 33 And they shall eat those things by which atonement was made, to fill their hand, to sanctify them; and a stranger shall not eat them, for they are holy. 34 And if any of the flesh of the installation and of the bread is left over until the morning, then you shall burn what is left over with fire; it shall not be eaten, for it is holy. 35 And you shall do thus to Aaron and to his sons, according to all that I have commanded you; seven days you shall fill their hand. 36 And a young bull as a sin offering you shall offer each day for atonement; and you shall make a sin offering on the altar when you make atonement on it, and you shall anoint it to sanctify it. 37 Seven days you shall make atonement on the altar, and you shall sanctify it; and the altar shall be a holy of holies; whatever touches the altar shall be holy. 38 And this is what you shall offer on the altar: lambs, sons of a year, two each day, continually. 39 The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the second lamb you shall offer between the two evenings; 40 and approximately 2 quarts (a tenth of an ephah) of fine flour mixed with approximately 1 quart (the fourth of the hin) of beaten oil, and a drink offering of approximately 1 quart (the fourth of the hin) of wine, for the one lamb. 41 And the second lamb you shall offer between the two evenings; like the grain offering of the morning and like its drink offering you shall offer with it, for a soothing aroma, a fire offering to the LORD, 42 a continual burnt offering throughout your generations at the entrance of the tent of meeting before the LORD, where I will meet with you, to speak to you there. 43 And I will meet there with the sons of Israel, and it shall be sanctified by My glory. 44 And I will sanctify the tent of meeting and the altar; and Aaron and his sons I will sanctify to serve as priests to Me. 45 And I will dwell in the midst of the sons of Israel, and I will be God for them. 46 And they shall know that I am the LORD their God, who brought them out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), that I might dwell in their midst; I am the LORD their God.

29:24 you shall wave them as a wave offering before the LORD The ordination ram's portions and the bread were put in the priests' palms and lifted before God to show all belonged to Him. This is the filling of the hand that gives ordination its name. Aaron's hands were filled with God's portion, and he gave it back.
29:28 it shall be for Aaron and for his sons for a due forever From then on the breast and thigh of the people's peace offerings belonged to the priests. A peace offering was shared in a meal, part burned for God and part eaten, a sign of fellowship. The priests had no land, and God fed them from the offerings.
29:29 the garments of holiness which are for Aaron shall be for his sons after him Aaron's clothes were put on Eleazar before Aaron died (Num 20:25-28). The clothes stayed and the men changed. "They indeed have become many priests because they are prevented by death from continuing" (Heb 7:23). Jesus abides forever, and we will never need another.
29:33 they shall eat those things by which atonement was made Atonement means covering sin and making peace between God and man. The priests ate the meal that made them clean. A stranger here means anyone outside the priestly family.
29:35 seven days you shall fill their hand The ceremony was repeated daily for a week, seven being the number of completeness, and the priests did not leave the tent's entrance (Lev 8:33-35). Being set apart for God takes time and care.
29:37 whatever touches the altar shall be holy Even the altar, made by sinful hands among a sinful people, needed atonement, for the copies of heavenly things had to be cleansed with blood (Heb 9:21-23). Whatever touched it came to belong to God and had to be treated that way.
29:38 lambs, sons of a year, two each day, continually One in the morning and one at twilight, with fine flour, oil and a drink offering of wine poured out before God (29:40). For centuries Israel's day began and ended with a sacrifice, and it never finished the work: these sacrifices "can never take away sins" (Heb 10:11). Jesus is the Lamb they pointed to (John 1:29). Many have noticed He died about the hour of the evening offering (Mark 15:34-37), though Scripture does not draw that link.
29:43 it shall be sanctified by My glory All this was not ceremony for its own sake. The blood, washing and priests made it possible for a holy God to meet sinners without consuming them.
29:46 who brought them out from the land of Egypt, that I might dwell in their midst The goal of the exodus. Salvation is not only rescue from something but being brought to Someone. The promise runs through the Bible: to Israel in the new covenant (Jer 31:33), to believers, "I will dwell in them and walk among them" (2 Cor 6:16), and at the end, "the tabernacle of God is with men" (Rev 21:3). What God began in the desert, He will finish in the new creation.

The Altar of Incense

1 And you shall make an altar for the smoking of incense; of acacia wood you shall make it. 2 Approximately 18 inches (a cubit) shall be its length, and approximately 18 inches (a cubit) its breadth; it shall be square; and approximately 3 feet (two cubits) its height; its horns shall be from it. 3 And you shall overlay it with pure gold, its top and its sides all around and its horns; and you shall make for it a molding of gold all around. 4 And two rings of gold you shall make for it under its molding; on its two sides you shall make them, on its two sides; and they shall be for housings for poles to carry it by them. 5 And you shall make the poles of acacia wood, and you shall overlay them with gold. 6 And you shall put it before the veil which is by the ark of the testimony, before the mercy seat which is over the testimony, where I will meet with you there. 7 And Aaron (Aharon) shall make incense of fragrances smoke on it; morning by morning, when he tends the lamps, he shall make it smoke. 8 And when Aaron lifts up the lamps between the two evenings, he shall make it smoke, a continual incense before the LORD throughout your generations. 9 You shall not offer up on it strange incense, or burnt offering, or grain offering; and a drink offering you shall not pour out on it. 10 And Aaron shall make atonement on its horns once in the year; with the blood of the sin offering of atonement once in the year he shall make atonement on it throughout your generations; it is a holy of holies to the LORD."

The Atonement Money

11 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 12 "When you take the sum of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) by their enrolled men, then they shall give each man a ransom for his soul to the LORD when enrolling them, and there shall not be a plague among them when enrolling them. 13 This they shall give, everyone who passes over to those enrolled: approximately 1/5 ounce (the half of the shekel) by the shekel of the holy place; the shekel is approximately 2/5 ounce (twenty gerahs); the half of the shekel is a contribution to the LORD. 14 Everyone who passes over to those enrolled, from a son of twenty years and upward, shall give the contribution of the LORD. 15 The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less, than approximately 1/5 ounce (the half of the shekel), in giving the contribution of the LORD, to make atonement for your souls. 16 And you shall take the silver of the atonement from the sons of Israel, and you shall give it for the service of the tent of meeting; and it shall be for the sons of Israel for a memorial before the LORD, to make atonement for your souls."

The Laver, Oil and Incense

17 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 18 "And you shall make a laver of bronze and its base of bronze for washing; and you shall put it between the tent of meeting and the altar, and you shall put water there. 19 And Aaron and his sons shall wash from it their hands and their feet. 20 When they go into the tent of meeting they shall wash with water, and they shall not die; or when they draw near to the altar to minister, to make a fire offering smoke to the LORD, 21 then

30:21 Exod 28:43

30:1 you shall make an altar for the smoking of incense Incense is a mixture of spices that gives sweet smoke when burned. This small altar, about eighteen inches square and three feet high, was covered in gold with horns, rings and poles. Why it is described here and not in chapter 25 is not stated. One suggestion is that it belongs with the priests' daily service just described. It completed the Holy Place: table on the north, lampstand on the south, this altar in the middle.
30:6 you shall put it before the veil which is by the ark of the testimony It stood as close to the ark as anything could outside the holy of holies, with only the veil between, which is why Hebrews 9:4 links the golden altar with the inner room.
30:8 a continual incense before the LORD throughout your generations Morning and evening, as the lamps were tended, incense rose. Incense pictures prayer: "Let my prayer be established as incense before You" (Ps 141:2), and in heaven the elders hold "golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints" (Rev 5:8). While Zechariah burned incense, the people prayed outside (Luke 1:9-10). Our prayers rise to God's throne because our High Priest brings them there.
30:9 You shall not offer up on it strange incense Any incense not made by God's recipe. Nadab and Abihu died for strange fire (Lev 10:1-2). God decides how He is approached.
30:10 Aaron shall make atonement on its horns once in the year On the Day of Atonement blood went on these horns too (Lev 16:18-19). Even the place of prayer needed cleansing. Our prayers are accepted not because they are pure but because they come through the blood of Christ.
30:12 they shall give each man a ransom for his soul to the LORD A ransom is a price paid to set someone free or spare his life. Counting the army could become pride, trusting numbers instead of God, and the people belonged to God, not their leaders. The ransom said, my life is the LORD's. A plague followed David's proud census (2 Sam 24). Scripture does not fully explain why a census without the ransom brought a plague.
30:15 The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less Every man twenty and older gave half a shekel, a weight of silver about a fifth of an ounce. Every soul had the same value before God. "All sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Rom 3:23), and all are saved the same way, at the same price, the blood of Christ.
30:16 you shall take the silver of the atonement This silver made the bases on which the tabernacle's boards stood (38:25-28). God's house rested on ransom money, as God's people stand on the price of their redemption. By Jesus' day it had become a yearly temple tax (Matt 17:24-27). Jesus came "to give His life as a ransom for many" (Matt 20:28).
30:18 a laver of bronze and its base of bronze for washing A large basin between the tent and the altar. Its size and shape are not given. It was made from the bronze mirrors of the women who served at the tent's entrance (38:8).
30:19 Aaron and his sons shall wash from it their hands and their feet Hands did the work and feet walked on holy ground. The priests were washed all over once at ordination (29:4), then washed hands and feet each time they served. "The one who has bathed has no need except to wash the feet, but is wholly clean" (John 13:10). Trusting Christ, we are washed once for all, but walking through a dirty world we need daily cleansing: "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and righteous" (1 John 1:9).

they shall wash their hands and their feet, and they shall not die; and it shall be for them a statute forever, for him and for his seed throughout their generations." 22 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 23 "And you, take for yourself the finest spices: flowing myrrh, approximately 12.5 pounds (five hundred shekels); and cinnamon of spice, half of it, approximately 6 pounds (two hundred and fifty shekels); and cane of spice, approximately 6 pounds (two hundred and fifty shekels); 24 and cassia, approximately 12.5 pounds (five hundred shekels) by the shekel of the holy place; and olive oil, approximately 1 gallon (a hin). 25 And you shall make it an oil of anointing of holiness, a perfume of blending, the work of a perfumer; it shall be an oil of anointing of holiness. 26 And you shall anoint with it the tent of meeting and the ark of the testimony, 27 and the table and all its articles, and the lampstand and its articles, and the altar of incense, 28 and the altar of burnt offering and all its articles, and the laver and its base. 29 And you shall sanctify them, and they shall be a holy of holies; whatever touches them shall be holy. 30 And Aaron and his sons you shall anoint, and you shall sanctify them to serve as priests to Me. 31 And to the sons of Israel you shall speak, saying, 'This shall be an oil of anointing of holiness to Me throughout your generations. 32 On the flesh of man it shall not be poured, and in its proportions you shall not make any like it; it is holy; holy it shall be to you. 33 Whoever mixes any like it, and whoever puts any of it on a stranger, shall be cut off from his kinsmen.'" 34 And the LORD said to Moses, "Take for yourself spices: stacte and onycha and galbanum, spices, and pure frankincense; part for part it shall be. 35 And you shall make it incense, a perfume, the work of a perfumer, salted, pure, holy. 36 And you shall beat some of it very fine, and you shall put some of it before the testimony in the tent of meeting, where I will meet with you there; it shall be a holy of holies to you. 37 And the incense which you shall make, in its proportions you shall not make any for yourselves; it shall be holy to you for the LORD. 38 Whoever makes any like it, to smell it, shall be cut off from his kinsmen."

Bezalel and Oholiab

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "See, I have called by name Bezalel (Betsalel) son of Uri, son of Hur (Chur), of the tribe of Judah (Yehuda). 3 And I have filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom and with understanding and with knowledge and with all kinds of work, 4 to devise designs, to work in gold and in silver and in bronze, 5 and in cutting of stone for setting, and in carving of wood, to work in all kinds of work. 6 And I, look, I have given with him Oholiab (Oholi'av) son of Ahisamach (Achisamakh), of the tribe of Dan; and in the heart of everyone wise of heart I have put wisdom, and they shall make all that I have commanded you: 7 the tent of meeting, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is on it, and all the articles of the tent, 8 and the table and its articles, and the pure lampstand and all its articles, and the altar of incense, 9 and the altar of burnt offering and all its articles, and the laver and its base, 10 and the garments of woven work, and the garments of holiness for Aaron (Aharon) the priest, and the garments of his sons, to serve as priests, 11 and the oil of the anointing, and the incense of the fragrances for the holy place. According to all that I have commanded you they shall do."

30:23 take for yourself the finest spices The anointing oil: about twelve and a half pounds of flowing myrrh, about six pounds each of sweet cinnamon and fragrant cane, twelve and a half pounds of cassia, a spice like cinnamon, and a gallon of olive oil.
30:25 the work of a perfumer A skilled maker of fragrances. The rich smell reminded everyone that whatever bore it belonged to God.
30:30 Aaron and his sons you shall anoint The same oil was on the house, the furniture and the priests, all set apart together (30:26-29). Messiah means the Anointed One, and Christ is the Greek form. Prophets, priests and kings were anointed, and Jesus is all three: "God anointed Him with the Holy Spirit and with power" (Acts 10:38). Believers have an anointing from the Holy One (1 John 2:20, 27), the Spirit within.
30:33 shall be cut off from his kinsmen Either death by God's hand or removal from the community; teachers differ on which is meant. The oil stood for God's own setting apart, and to use it as perfume treated holy things as common. We can do the same with God's name, Word or church. God's gifts are for His glory.
30:34 stacte and onycha and galbanum, spices, and pure frankincense Stacte was probably a tree gum, onycha may have come from a shellfish, galbanum was a strong resin, and frankincense a sweet white resin, though the exact substances are debated. Mixed in equal parts, salted, pure and holy.
30:37 in its proportions you shall not make any for yourselves Prayer is not a perfume to make us feel good. It is offered to God in His way, through His appointed High Priest. An angel at the golden altar offers incense "with the prayers of all the saints" (Rev 8:3). Not one believer's prayer is lost.
31:2 I have called by name Bezalel son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah God chose His builder by name. Hur may be the man who held up Moses' arms (17:12) and was left in charge with Aaron (24:14).
31:3 I have filled him with the Spirit of God The first time anyone in the Bible is said to be filled with the Spirit of God, and it is for craftsmanship: designing, metalwork, cutting stones and carving wood. Spiritual gifts are not only preaching and praying. The work of an artist, builder or craftsman can be done for God's glory and in His power: "whatever you do, work from the soul, as to the Lord and not to men" (Col 3:23).
31:6 Oholiab son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan Judah was the leading tribe; Dan was smaller, from a son of Jacob by a servant (Gen 30:6). In God's work the great and the small serve side by side. And every skilled worker received wisdom for his part: "to each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good" (1 Cor 12:7).
31:11 According to all that I have commanded you they shall do God gives the pattern and the gifts to carry it out. When He calls us to a task, He gives what we need.

The Sabbath Sign

12 And the LORD said to Moses, saying, 13 "And you, speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'Surely My Sabbaths you shall keep, for it is a sign between Me and you throughout your generations, to know that I am the LORD who sanctifies you. 14 And you shall keep the Sabbath, for it is holiness to you. Those who profane it shall surely be put to death; for whoever does work on it, that soul shall be cut off from the midst of its kinsmen. 15 Six days work shall be done, and on the seventh day is a Sabbath of Sabbath rest, holiness to the LORD. Whoever does work on the day of the Sabbath shall surely be put to death. 16 And the sons of Israel shall keep the Sabbath, to observe the Sabbath throughout their generations as an everlasting covenant. 17 Between Me and the sons of Israel it is a sign forever; for in six days the LORD made the heavens and the earth, and on the seventh day He rested and was refreshed.'" 18 And He gave to Moses, when He finished speaking with him on Mount Sinai (Sinay), the two tablets of the testimony, tablets of stone, written by the finger of God.

The Golden Calf

1 And the people saw that Moses (Moshe) delayed to come down from the mountain, and the people assembled against Aaron (Aharon), and they said to him, "Arise, make for us gods who shall go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), we do not know what has happened to him." 2 And Aaron said to them, "Tear off the rings of gold which are on the ears of your wives, your sons, and your daughters, and bring them to me." 3 And all the people tore off from themselves the rings of gold which were on their ears, and they brought them to Aaron. 4 And he took it from their hand, and he fashioned it with the engraving tool, and he made it a calf of cast metal; and they said, "These are your gods, O Israel (Yisra'el), who brought you up from the land of Egypt." 5 And Aaron saw it, and he built an altar before it; and Aaron called out and said, "A feast to the LORD is tomorrow." 6 And they rose early on the next day, and they offered up burnt offerings and brought near peace offerings; and the people sat down to eat and to drink, and they rose up to play. 7 And the LORD spoke to Moses, "Go, go down, for your people, whom you brought up from the land of Egypt, have acted corruptly. 8 They have turned aside quickly from the way which I commanded them; they have made for themselves a calf of cast metal, and they have bowed down to it and sacrificed to it, and they have said, 'These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt.'" 9 And the LORD said to Moses, "I have seen this people, and look, it is a people stiff of neck. 10 And now, leave Me alone, that My anger may burn against them, and that I may consume them; and that I may make you into 31:13 it is a sign between Me and you throughout your generations Why the Sabbath here? The people would be eager to work on God's house, and even holy work stops on the Sabbath (35:2-3). A sign marks a covenant, as circumcision did for Abraham (Gen 17:11) and the rainbow for Noah (Gen 9:13). This was the sign of the covenant at Sinai. Each week, by stopping work, Israel confessed that the LORD made them holy, not their own work.

31:14 Those who profane it shall surely be put to death To profane is to treat something holy as common. Working on the Sabbath broke the covenant sign, like throwing away a wedding ring, and one case is recorded (Num 15:32-36). This is hard to read. Israel was a nation under God's direct rule, and the penalty shows how seriously He took His covenant. The New Testament gives the church no such power: "let no one judge you in food or in drink or in respect of a feast or a new moon or Sabbaths" (Col 2:16).
31:15 a Sabbath of Sabbath rest A full and complete rest.
31:17 Between Me and the sons of Israel it is a sign forever The sign was given to Israel. God was not tired; "refreshed" speaks of Him in human terms, meaning He stopped and delighted in His work (Gen 2:2-3). As at 20:8, believers differ on how the Sabbath applies to Christians: Sunday as the Lord's day, the seventh day, or fulfilled in our rest in Christ (Heb 4:9). All agree God made us to need rest and that true rest is in Him: "Come to Me, all who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest" (Matt 11:28).
31:18 tablets of stone, written by the finger of God The tablets held the Ten Commandments (34:28), God's witness to His covenant, written by God Himself. The new covenant promises different writing: "on their heart I will write it" (Jer 31:33), believers being a letter "not on tablets of stone but on fleshy tablets of heart" (2 Cor 3:3). Moses held the covenant written by God. Below, the people had already broken it.
32:1 the people saw that Moses delayed to come down from the mountain Moses had been gone forty days (24:18). Waiting tests what we really trust. Notice their words: this Moses brought us up. They forgot it was the LORD (20:2). With their leader out of sight, they wanted something they could see. When God seems silent, we too are tempted to make something we can see and control and trust that instead.
32:2 Tear off the rings of gold Aaron did not argue or remind them of the command they had heard from God's own voice (20:4). This was the gold Egypt gave them (12:35-36), gold God meant for His tabernacle (25:3). The gifts God gives can be turned against Him.
32:4 he made it a calf of cast metal Probably a young bull, worshiped in Egypt and Canaan as a symbol of strength and fertility. "They exchanged their glory for the likeness of an ox that eats plants" (Ps 106:20). Stephen remembered it: "they made a calf in those days, and offered a sacrifice to the idol" (Acts 7:41).
32:5 A feast to the LORD is tomorrow Aaron called the calf by the LORD's name. He may not have thought he was leaving the LORD at all, but making an image of Him and mixing true worship with pagan ways. That is still idolatry (20:4-5).
32:6 they rose up to play Wild partying, and the word can include sexual sin. Paul warns, "do not become idolaters, as some of them were" (1 Cor 10:7), quoting this verse. Idolatry and immorality often go together. When we leave God's way of worship, we soon leave His way of living.
32:7 your people, whom you brought up from the land of Egypt They said Moses brought them up, and God speaks the same way, as if handing them over to Moses. A sharp and painful word.
32:8 They have turned aside quickly Only weeks after hearing God's voice. God repeats their own words back to Moses. Nothing is hidden from Him.
32:9 it is a people stiff of neck Like an ox that will not bend to the yoke or turn when guided. Stephen used the same charge, "You stiff-necked" (Acts 7:51).
32:10 leave Me alone, that My anger may burn against them God's anger is His holy, settled opposition to evil, and Israel deserved destruction. But "leave Me alone" in a sense invited Moses to stand in the way. God told him the plan so he would plead, and set a great temptation before him: let them go, and I will start over with you. What would Moses choose?

a great nation." 11 And Moses entreated the face of the LORD his God, and he said, "Why, O LORD, does Your anger burn against Your people, whom You brought out from the land of Egypt with great power and with a strong hand? 12 Why should Egypt speak, saying, 'For evil He brought them out, to kill them in the mountains and to consume them off the face of the ground'? Turn from the burning of Your anger, and relent concerning the evil against Your people.
13 Remember Abraham (Avraham), Isaac (Yitschaq), and Israel, Your servants, to whom You swore by Yourself, and You said to them, 'I will multiply your seed like the stars of the heavens, and all this land of which I have spoken I will give to your seed, and they shall inherit it forever.'" 14 And the LORD relented concerning the evil which He had spoken to do to His people.

Moses Breaks the Tablets

15 And Moses turned and went down from the mountain, and the two tablets of the testimony were in his hand, tablets written on their two sides; on this side and on that side they were written. 16 And the tablets, they were the work of God; and the writing, it was the writing of God, engraved on the tablets. 17 And Joshua (Yehoshua) heard the sound of the people in its shouting, and he said to Moses, "There is a sound of battle in the camp." 18 And he said, "There is no sound of the shouting of might, and there is no sound of the shouting of weakness; a sound of singing I am hearing." 19 And it was, as soon as he drew near to the camp, that he saw the calf and dances; and the anger of Moses burned, and he threw the tablets from his hands, and he broke them below the mountain. 20 And he took the calf which they had made, and he burned it with fire, and he ground it until it was fine, and he scattered it on the face of the water, and he made the sons of Israel drink it. 21 And Moses said to Aaron, "What did this people do to you, that you have brought on it a great sin?" 22 And Aaron said, "Let not the anger of my lord burn; you know the people, that it is set on evil. 23 And they said to me, 'Make for us gods who shall go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us up from the land of Egypt, we do not know what has happened to him.' 24 And I said to them, 'Who has gold? Tear it off yourselves.' And they gave it to me, and I threw it into the fire, and this calf came out."

Judgment and Intercession

25 And Moses saw the people, that it was running wild, for Aaron had let it run wild, for a derision among those who rise up against them. 26 And Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and he said, "Who is for the LORD? To me!" And all the sons of Levi gathered themselves to him. 27 And he said to them, "Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel: 'Put each man his sword on his thigh; pass through and return from gate to gate in the camp, and kill each man his brother, and each man his friend, and each man his neighbor.'" 28 And the sons of Levi did according to the word of Moses; and there fell of the people on that day about three thousand men. 29 And 32:11 Moses entreated the face of the LORD his God To entreat is to plead earnestly, interceding for others. Moses handed God's words back: Your people, whom You brought out. He cared for God's honor among the nations (32:12).

32:13 Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, Your servants, to whom You swore by Yourself Moses did not plead Israel's goodness. They had none. He pleaded God's character and God's promise (Gen 15:18; 22:16-17). That is the way to pray, on the ground of who God is and what He has promised.
32:14 the LORD relented concerning the evil which He had spoken to do to His people Does God change His mind? He "is not a man, that He should lie, and a son of mankind, that He should relent" (Num 23:19; Mal 3:6). Yet He responds to prayer and repentance (Jer 18:7-8; Jonah 3:10). The threat was real, but God always planned mercy through a mediator and used Moses' prayer to bring it. Relented speaks in human terms of a real change in how God dealt with them, not in who He is. Evil here means disaster. Teachers explain this balance in different ways. Moses "stood in the breach before Him" (Ps 106:23). Prayer matters.
32:16 the writing, it was the writing of God Moses stresses it twice. These were the most precious objects on earth, God's own handwriting, written front and back.
32:18 a sound of singing I am hearing Joshua the soldier thought it was war. Moses knew better. It was not the shout of victory or defeat but singing.
32:19 he threw the tablets from his hands, and he broke them below the mountain Moses had prayed for mercy, and now, seeing the sin, he was angry at sin against God. The broken tablets pictured what Israel had done. They had broken the covenant, and Moses let them see it.
32:20 he made the sons of Israel drink it Their god could be burned, ground and swallowed. It was nothing. They had to taste the bitterness of their sin, drinking from the stream that came down from the mountain (Deut 9:21).
32:24 I threw it into the fire, and this calf came out Aaron blamed the people and made it sound like an accident, though he fashioned it with a tool (32:4). Adam blamed Eve, and Eve the serpent (Gen 3:12-13). True repentance makes no excuses: "Against You, You alone, I have sinned" (Ps 51:4). The LORD was angry enough to destroy Aaron, and Moses prayed for him too (Deut 9:20).
32:25 Aaron had let it run wild The camp was out of control, a derision, mocked by Israel's enemies, and the rebellion was still going on.
32:26 Who is for the LORD? To me A call to choose sides openly. Moses' own tribe came. Jacob had cursed Levi's anger (Gen 49:5-7), and here Levi's zeal turned to the LORD's side.
32:27 kill each man his brother, and each man his friend, and each man his neighbor One of the hardest passages in Exodus, to be read soberly. Israel had just sworn a blood covenant, and its first command was broken in open rebellion. Under the covenant idolatry was a capital crime (22:20). The judgment fell not on the whole nation but on those still running wild after Moses' call, about three thousand of a very large people. The rest were spared by Moses' prayer.
32:28 there fell of the people on that day about three thousand men When the law was broken at Sinai, about three thousand died. When the Spirit came at Pentecost, "about three thousand souls" (Acts 2:41) were added. "The letter kills, but the Spirit makes alive" (2 Cor 3:6).
32:29 Fill your hand today for the LORD The phrase used for ordaining priests (28:41). The Levites loved God more than their own families, and they were later set apart to serve at the tabernacle (Num 3:5-13; Deut 33:8-9). This is not a pattern for the church, which does not carry the sword (Eph 6:12-17). But Jesus' call is just as costly: "The one who loves father or mother above Me is not worthy of Me" (Matt 10:37).

Moses said, "Fill your hand today for the LORD, for each man has been against his son and against his brother, and to put a blessing on you today." 30 And it was on the next day, and Moses said to the people, "You, you have sinned a great sin; and now I will go up to the LORD; perhaps I can make atonement for your sin." 31 And Moses returned to the LORD, and he said, "Oh, this people has sinned a great sin, and they have made for themselves gods of gold. 32 And now, if You will forgive their sin—and if not, wipe me out, please, from Your book which You have written." 33 And the LORD said to Moses, "Whoever has sinned against Me, I will wipe him out from My book. 34 And now go, lead the people to the place of which I have spoken to you. Look, My angel shall go before you; and in the day of My visiting, I will visit their sin on them." 35 And the LORD struck the people, because they had made the calf which Aaron had made.

The Command to Leave Sinai

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), "Go, go up from here, you and the people whom you have brought up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), to the land which I swore to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov), saying, 'To your seed I will give it.' 2 And I will send before you an angel, and I will drive out the Canaanite, the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite, 3 to a land flowing with milk and honey; for I will not go up in your midst, for you are a people stiff of neck, lest I consume you on the way." 4 And the people heard this evil word, and they mourned, and they did not put, each man, his ornaments on himself. 5 And the LORD said to Moses, "Say to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), 'You are a people stiff of neck; if I go up in your midst for one moment, I will consume you. And now, take down your ornaments from yourself, that I may know what I will do to you.'" 6 And the sons of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments from Mount Horeb (Chorev) onward. 7 And Moses would take the tent and pitch it for himself outside the camp, far off from the camp, and he would call it "Tent of Meeting." And it would be that everyone who sought the LORD would go out to the tent of meeting which was outside the camp. 8 And it would be, when Moses went out to the tent, that all the people would rise and stand, each man at the entrance of his tent, and they would look after Moses until he went into the tent. 9 And it would be, when Moses went into the tent, that the pillar of the cloud would come down and stand at the entrance of the tent, and He would speak with Moses. 10 And all the people would see the pillar of the cloud standing at the entrance of the tent, and all the people would rise and bow down, each man at the entrance of his tent. 11 And the LORD would speak to Moses face to face, just as a man speaks to his friend. And he would return to the camp; and his attendant Joshua (Yehoshua) son of Nun, a young man, would not depart from the midst of the tent.

32:30 perhaps I can make atonement for your sin Moses did not call the sin small, but he went to God for them, not sure God would forgive.
32:32 wipe me out, please, from Your book which You have written His sentence breaks off. He could not finish it. God's book is the record of those who belong to Him, the book of life (Phil 4:3; Rev 20:12, 15), though some take it here as the record of the living, so that Moses asked to die. Paul felt the same: "I myself was wishing to be accursed from Christ for the sake of my brothers" (Rom 9:3). Moses could not do what he offered, for he was a sinner too. What Moses offered, Jesus did: "He made the One who did not know sin to be sin on our behalf" (2 Cor 5:21).
32:33 Whoever has sinned against Me, I will wipe him out from My book God did not accept the offer. Each person is responsible for his own sin (Ezek 18:20), and only a sinless One could take that place.
32:34 in the day of My visiting, I will visit their sin on them God did not cancel His promise. Israel would still go to the land with His angel before them. But to visit sin means to bring judgment for it.
32:35 the LORD struck the people Scripture does not say what the plague was or how many it touched. Forgiven sin may still have consequences. The calf "they had made" and "Aaron had made": people and leader both bore the blame. Centuries later Jeroboam made two calves and said, "Look, your gods, O Israel, which brought you up from the land of Egypt!" (1 Kgs 12:28). The heart that makes idols is still with us. "Little children, guard yourselves from idols" (1 John 5:21).
33:2 I will send before you an angel God would keep His promise of the land and still win their battles. This angel seems to be set apart from God's own presence (33:3, 14-15). Teachers differ on whether he is the same angel as in 23:20-23.
33:3 for I will not go up in your midst, for you are a people stiff of neck, lest I consume you on the way God's holiness and their sin could not live side by side. So He offered the gifts without the Giver: the land, but not His presence. Would that be enough? Would we be content with God's blessings if we did not have God?
33:4 the people heard this evil word, and they mourned Evil here means grievous. To their credit, they understood what they were losing.
33:6 the sons of Israel stripped themselves of their ornaments from Mount Horeb onward Their gold earrings had already gone into the calf. Now they removed their jewelry and fine clothes as a sign of sorrow and humility, giving time to show true repentance (33:5), and they did not wear them again.
33:7 he would call it "Tent of Meeting." Not the tabernacle, which was not yet built, but a simpler tent, possibly Moses' own, used until the tabernacle was finished. Some see it as the tabernacle described out of order. It stood outside the defiled camp, and anyone who sought the LORD could go. "Let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His reproach" (Heb 13:13).
33:8 they would look after Moses until he went into the tent The people watched their mediator go to meet with God for them.
33:10 all the people would rise and bow down, each man at the entrance of his tent The cloud that led them out of Egypt (13:21) came down to the door, and they worshiped from a distance.
33:11 the LORD would speak to Moses face to face, just as a man speaks to his friend Face to face means openly and directly, without dreams or visions (Num 12:6-8). It describes the closeness of their talk, not that Moses saw God's full glory (33:20). Moses was God's friend, like Abraham (Isa 41:8). Jesus says, "I have called you friends" (John 15:15), and through Him every believer can speak with God this way. Joshua stayed near God's presence, learning to love it before he ever led.

Moses Asks to See God's Glory

12 And Moses said to the LORD, "See, You are saying to me, 'Bring up this people,' and You, You have not let me know whom You will send with me. And You, You have said, 'I know you by name, and also you have found favor in My eyes.' 13 And now, if, please, I have found favor in Your eyes, let me know, please, Your ways, that I may know You, so that I may find favor in Your eyes; and see that this nation is Your people." 14 And He said, "My presence shall go, and I will give you rest." 15 And he said to Him, "If Your presence is not going, do not bring us up from here. 16 And by what then shall it be known that I have found favor in Your eyes, I and Your people? Is it not in Your going with us, and in that we shall be distinguished, I and Your people, from all the people that are on the face of the ground?" 17 And the LORD said to Moses, "Also this thing which you have spoken I will do, for you have found favor in My eyes, and I know you by name." 18 And he said, "Show me, please, Your glory." 19 And He said, "I, I will cause all My goodness to pass before your face, and I will proclaim the name of the LORD before you; and I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion." 20 And He said, "You are not able to see My face, for man shall not see Me and live." 21 And the LORD said, "Look, there is a place with Me, and you shall stand on the rock. 22 And it shall be, when My glory passes by, that I will put you in the cleft of the rock, and I will cover you with My palm until I have passed by. 23 And I will remove My palm, and you shall see My back; and My face shall not be seen."

The LORD Proclaims His Name

34:5 Luke 9:34; Exod 33:19; Exod 33:9

33:12 You, You have not let me know whom You will send with me Moses was not satisfied with an angel. He built his prayer on God's own words: You know me by name, and I have found favor, grace that is not earned.
33:13 let me know, please, Your ways, that I may know You What Moses wanted most was not God's help but God Himself. God "made known His ways to Moses" (Ps 103:7). Paul longed "to know Him" (Phil 3:10). And again Moses handed the people back to God: they are Yours.
33:14 My presence shall go, and I will give you rest Presence is the Hebrew word for face. God Himself would go. Rest means the peace and safety of settled life in the land.
33:15 If Your presence is not going, do not bring us up from here Moses would rather stay in the desert with God than enter the promised land without Him. Do we want God more than His gifts?
33:16 that we shall be distinguished, I and Your people What made Israel different was not strength, laws or land but God's presence. The same is true of the church. What sets us apart is not buildings or programs but God living among us by His Spirit (1 Cor 3:16).
33:17 for you have found favor in My eyes, and I know you by name God granted it because of the favor shown to their mediator. God accepts us the same way, in His beloved Son (Eph 1:6).
33:18 Show me, please, Your glory God's glory is the shining display of who He is. Moses had seen the plagues, the sea and the cloud, and still wanted more of God. The more we know Him, the more we want to know Him.
33:19 I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious God's glory would be shown as His goodness and His name, His character, proclaimed in 34:6-7. His grace is His free choice. Israel had no claim on Him after the calf. Paul quotes this: "I will have mercy on whomever I have mercy" (Rom 9:15). Calvinist and Arminian teachers apply Romans 9 differently, but all agree mercy depends on God. That is good news. If it depended on us, none of us would receive it.
33:20 man shall not see Me and live No sinner can look on the full glory of a holy God and survive. It would be like staring into the sun, only far more. "No one has ever seen God" (John 1:18).
33:22 I will put you in the cleft of the rock, and I will cover you with My palm A cleft is a crack in the rock. God provided a place near Himself where Moses could stand safely, and His hand protected Moses from His own glory. Many hymns and teachers see a picture of hiding in Christ. Paul says the rock that gave water "was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4), though the New Testament does not say so of this rock.
33:23 you shall see My back; and My face shall not be seen God is spirit (John 4:24); this is God speaking in human terms. Moses saw a passing glimpse of what remained after God went by. In Christ we see far more: "the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (2 Cor 4:6). "The one who has seen Me has seen the Father" (John 14:9).
34:1 Cut out for yourself two tablets of stone like the first ones God made the first tablets Himself (32:16). This time Moses cut the stone, but God would still do the writing. The covenant was the same, and God's standard did not change because Israel had failed. Yet He was willing to give it again. That is grace.
34:3 no man shall go up with you Moses was to come alone, and not even animals could graze near the mountain. God was ready to renew the covenant, but His holiness had not changed either.
34:4 Moses rose early in the morning Moses was past eighty years old, and he went early. He did not drag his feet when God called him to meet with Him.
34:5 He proclaimed the name of the LORD God kept His word from 33:19. In the Bible a name tells who someone is. The name is YHWH, given at the burning bush (3:14-15), the One who always exists and keeps His covenant. Now the LORD Himself fills in the meaning of His name.

him there, and He proclaimed the name of the LORD. 6 And the LORD passed by before his face, and He proclaimed, "The LORD, the LORD, a God compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, and great in steadfast love and faithfulness, 7 keeping steadfast love for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and He will surely not leave the guilty unpunished, visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons and on sons of sons, on the third and on the fourth generation." 8 And Moses hurried, and he bowed low toward the earth, and he bowed down. 9 And he said, "If, please, I have found favor in Your eyes, O Lord, let the Lord go, please, in our midst, for it is a people stiff of neck; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us as Your inheritance."

The Covenant Renewed

10 And He said, "Look, I am making a covenant. Before all your people I will do wonders which have not been created in all the earth and among all the nations; and all the people in whose midst you are shall see the work of the LORD, for it is awesome, that which I am doing with you. 11 Keep for yourself what I am commanding you today. Look, I am driving out from before you the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Hittite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite. 12 Take heed to yourself, lest you make a covenant with the inhabitant of the land into which you are going, lest it become a snare in your midst. 13 Rather, their altars you shall tear down, and their pillars you shall shatter, and its Asherim you shall cut down. 14 For you shall not bow down to another god; for the LORD, Jealous is His name, He is a jealous God; 15 lest you make a covenant with the inhabitant of the land, and they prostitute themselves after their gods and sacrifice to their gods, and one invites you, and you eat of his sacrifice, 16 and you take of his daughters for your sons, and his daughters prostitute themselves after their gods, and they cause your sons to prostitute themselves after their gods. 17 Gods of cast metal you shall not make for yourself. 18 The Festival of Unleavened Bread you shall keep; seven days you shall eat unleavened bread, just as I commanded you, at the appointed time of the month of Abib (Aviv), for in the month of Abib you came out from Egypt (Mitsrayim). 19 Everything that opens a womb is Mine, and all your livestock that is male, that which opens the womb of ox and sheep. 20 And that which opens the womb of a donkey you shall ransom with a sheep; and if you do not ransom it, then you shall break its neck. Every firstborn of your sons you shall ransom. And they shall not appear before My face

34:6 The LORD, the LORD, a God compassionate and gracious God said His name twice, right after the golden calf, to a people who deserved to be destroyed. The word compassionate is related to the word for a mother's womb: tender love for the weak. "As a father has compassion on his sons, the LORD has compassion on those who fear Him" (Ps 103:13). Gracious means showing favor to someone who does not deserve it.
34:6 slow to anger, and great in steadfast love and faithfulness Slow to anger is in Hebrew long of nostrils, a face slow to turn red. God does get angry at sin, but He waits and gives time to repent (2 Pet 3:9). Steadfast love is hesed, loyal covenant love that does not let go. Faithfulness is emet, truth and reliability. John may be echoing this verse when he says the Word was "full of grace and truth" (John 1:14). "The grace and the truth came through Jesus Christ" (John 1:17).
34:7 keeping steadfast love for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin God's love is kept, stored up, for thousands, which may mean thousands of people or of generations (20:6; Deut 7:9). Three words for sin appear: iniquity is crookedness, transgression is rebellion, and sin is missing the mark. God forgives every kind. The word forgive means to lift up and carry away. Micah asked, "Who is a God like You" (Mic 7:18).
34:7 He will surely not leave the guilty unpunished God's mercy does not mean He pretends sin does not matter. How can He forgive and also punish? The answer is the cross. There God punished sin fully in His Son, "for Him to be righteous and the One justifying the one who is of faith of Jesus" (Rom 3:26). At the cross both halves of this verse meet.
34:7 visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons As at 20:5, this does not mean God punishes innocent children for their fathers' sins (Ezek 18:20). The effects of sin spread through a family, and children who follow it share its judgment. Judgment reaches the third and fourth generation; love reaches thousands. These verses became Israel's creed (Num 14:18; Ps 86:15; 103:8; Joel 2:13; Jonah 4:2; Neh 9:17).
34:8 he bowed low toward the earth, and he bowed down When we truly see who God is, the right response is worship.
34:9 let the Lord go, please, in our midst, for it is a people stiff of neck God had said He would not go because they were stiff-necked (33:3). Now Moses says, go with us because we are stiff-necked. We need You most because we are so bad. That is faith that has understood grace. Notice "our iniquity." Moses counted himself with the people, and asked God to keep Israel as His treasured inheritance.
34:10 Look, I am making a covenant God answered by renewing His covenant. The nations would see the wonders God did with Israel, "for it is awesome." The rest of the chapter repeats key laws from chapters 20 to 23, especially those about worship, the very area Israel had just broken.
34:12 lest you make a covenant with the inhabitant of the land Israel was to make no treaties with the Canaanites, "lest it become a snare in your midst." A snare is a trap. The conquest itself is told in Joshua.
34:13 its Asherim you shall cut down The pillars were stones set up in pagan worship. Asherah was a Canaanite fertility goddess, and her Asherim were wooden poles or trees set up in her honor. Everything connected with false worship was to be destroyed.
34:14 Jealous is His name, He is a jealous God God's jealousy is not petty envy. It is the right jealousy of a husband who will not share his wife with another man. God loves His people too much to share them with idols.
34:16 they cause your sons to prostitute themselves after their gods Worshiping other gods was spiritual adultery, and marrying into idol-worshiping families would draw Israel's sons away. That is what happened to Solomon (1 Kgs 11:1-8). The concern was faith, not race: Rahab and Ruth came to trust the LORD. Believers are warned the same way: "Do not become unequally yoked with unbelievers" (2 Cor 6:14).
34:17 Gods of cast metal you shall not make for yourself After the golden calf, this command needed no explaining. It was the very thing Israel had just done.
34:18 in the month of Abib you came out from Egypt Abib is the spring month later called Nisan. The seven-day Festival of Unleavened Bread reminded them of the night God brought them out (12:15-20).
34:20 Every firstborn of your sons you shall ransom The firstborn belonged to God because He spared Israel's firstborn at the Passover (13:2, 11-15). A donkey, which could not be sacrificed, was bought back with a sheep. Children were never sacrificed; they were redeemed. And no one was to come to worship empty-handed. We bring nothing to pay for salvation, but we come with thanks and gifts out of love.

empty. 21 Six days you shall work, and on the seventh day you shall rest; in plowing time and in harvest you shall rest. 22 And the Festival of Weeks you shall observe for yourself, the firstfruits of the harvest of wheat, and the Festival of the Ingathering at the turn of the year. 23 Three times in the year every male of yours shall appear before the face of the Lord, the LORD, the God of Israel (Yisra'el). 24 For I will dispossess nations from before you, and I will enlarge your territory; and no man shall covet your land when you go up to appear before the face of the LORD your God three times in the year. 25 You shall not slaughter the blood of My sacrifice with leaven; and the sacrifice of the Festival of the Passover shall not remain overnight until the morning. 26 The first of the firstfruits of your ground you shall bring into the house of the LORD your God. You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother." 27 And the LORD said to Moses, "Write for yourself these words, for according to these words I have made a covenant with you and with Israel." 28 And he was there with the LORD forty days and forty nights; bread he did not eat, and water he did not drink. And He wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten words.

The Shining Face of Moses

29 And it was, when Moses came down from Mount Sinai, and the two tablets of the testimony were in the hand of Moses when he came down from the mountain, and Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone because of His speaking with him. 30 And Aaron (Aharon) and all the sons of Israel saw Moses, and look, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to draw near to him. 31 And Moses called to them, and Aaron and all the leaders in the congregation returned to him, and Moses spoke to them. 32 And after that all the sons of Israel drew near, and he commanded them all that the LORD had spoken with him on Mount Sinai. 33 And Moses finished speaking with them, and he put a veil over his face. 34 And when Moses went in before the LORD to speak with Him, he would remove the veil until he came out; and he would come out and speak to the sons of Israel what he was commanded. 35 And the sons of Israel would see the face of Moses, that the skin of the face of Moses shone; and Moses would put back the veil over his face until he went in to speak with Him.

34:21 in plowing time and in harvest you shall rest The Sabbath was to be kept even in the busiest seasons, when it would be most tempting to work through. Rest was a test of trust. Would they believe God could provide in six days?

34:22 the Festival of Weeks The Festival of Weeks came at the wheat harvest and was later called Pentecost, fifty days after Passover. With Unleavened Bread and the Ingathering at year's end, these were the three times every male appeared before the LORD (23:14-17).

34:24 no man shall covet your land Leaving the farms empty three times a year was risky. God promised to guard the land while they worshiped. When we put God first, He takes care of what we leave in His hands.

34:26 The first of the firstfruits of your ground you shall bring The firstfruits were the first and best of the harvest. Giving them first was a way of saying all of it is God's.

34:26 You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother This law appears three times (23:19; Deut 14:21), and Scripture does not explain it. Many believe it was a pagan practice to avoid. Others see a lesson in respect for life, not cooking a young animal in the milk that fed it. Later Jewish tradition built from it the rule of not eating meat and dairy together.

34:27 Write for yourself these words Moses was to write down these laws. The covenant was restored.

34:28 forty days and forty nights; bread he did not eat, and water he did not drink This was the second forty-day stay (24:18; Deut 9:9, 18). Only God could keep Moses alive that long without food or water. Jesus also fasted "forty days and forty nights" (Matt 4:2) in the wilderness.

34:28 He wrote on the tablets the words of the covenant, the ten words The ten words are the Ten Commandments. God said He would write them (34:1), and Deuteronomy confirms that the LORD wrote them (Deut 10:2-4), while Moses wrote the other words (34:27). These tablets were later placed in the ark (Deut 10:5).

34:29 Moses did not know that the skin of his face shone Moses had been with God, and some of God's glory stayed on his face. He did not know it. The people closest to God are often the last to know it shows. The Hebrew word for shone is related to the word for horn, as in rays of light. Some old translations said horns, which is why some old paintings show Moses with horns.

34:30 they were afraid to draw near to him The glory on Moses' face reminded them of the glory on the mountain that had terrified them (20:18-19). Even the reflection of God's holiness made sinners afraid.

34:32 he commanded them all that the LORD had spoken with him on Mount Sinai Aaron, who had made the calf, came back to listen, and then all the people. Moses gave them God's word. Being close to God is never meant to stop with us. It is meant to be passed on.

34:33 he put a veil over his face Paul explains this in 2 Corinthians 3. The glory on Moses' face "was being brought to nothing" (2 Cor 3:7). Moses covered it "so that the sons of Israel would not look intently into the end of what was being brought to nothing" (2 Cor 3:13). The old covenant had real glory, but it faded. Some read Exodus to mean the veil simply calmed the people's fear (34:30).

34:35 Moses would put back the veil over his face until he went in to speak with Him Moses took the veil off before the LORD and put it back after speaking. "But whenever it turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away" (2 Cor 3:16). Only Moses' face shone. In Christ every believer comes "with unveiled face" (2 Cor 3:18), and the glory changes us from the inside into the image of Jesus.

35:2 on the seventh day there shall be for you holiness, a Sabbath of Sabbath rest to the LORD Before a single board was cut, Moses spoke of the Sabbath. This repeats 31:12-17, where the Sabbath was given as the sign of God's covenant with Israel, and where the penalty is explained.

35:3 You shall not kindle fire in all your dwellings on the day of the Sabbath One new detail is added. Even the craftsmen's fires for melting metal had to go out. The holiest building project in the world did not override God's day of rest. God's work is to be done God's way, and busy service is never a substitute for obedience.

not kindle fire in all your dwellings on the day of the Sabbath." 4 And Moses said to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, "This is the word which the LORD has commanded, saying, 5 'Take from among you a contribution to the LORD; everyone willing of his heart, let him bring it, the contribution of the LORD: gold and silver and bronze, 6 and blue and purple and crimson scarlet and fine linen and goats' hair, 7 and skins of rams dyed red, and skins of dolphins, and acacia wood, 8 and oil for the light, and spices for the oil of the anointing and for the incense of the fragrances, 9 and onyx stones and stones for setting, for the ephod and for the breastpiece. 10 And let everyone wise of heart among you come and make all that the LORD has commanded: 11 the tabernacle, its tent and its covering, its clasps and its boards, its bars, its pillars and its bases; 12 the ark and its poles, the mercy seat, and the veil of the screen; 13 the table and its poles and all its articles, and the bread of the Presence; 14 and the lampstand for the light and its articles and its lamps, and the oil for the light; 15 and the altar of incense and its poles, and the oil of the anointing and the incense of the fragrances, and the screen of the entrance for the entrance of the tabernacle; 16 the altar of burnt offering and the grating of bronze which belongs to it, its poles and all its articles, the laver and its base; 17 the hangings of the courtyard, its pillars and its bases, and the screen of the gate of the courtyard; 18 the pegs of the tabernacle and the pegs of the courtyard and their cords; 19 the garments of woven work for ministering in the holy place, the garments of holiness for Aaron (Aharon) the priest, and the garments of his sons, to serve as priests.'"

The People Give Willingly

20 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel went out from before Moses. 21 And they came, every man whose heart lifted him up, and everyone whose spirit made him willing; they brought the contribution of the LORD for the work of the tent of meeting, and for all its service, and for the garments of holiness. 22 And they came, the men with the women, everyone willing of heart; they brought nose rings and rings and signet rings and pendants, every article of gold, and every man who waved a wave offering of gold to the LORD. 23 And every man with whom was found blue and purple and crimson scarlet and fine linen and goats' hair and skins of rams dyed red and skins of dolphins brought them. 24 Everyone who contributed a contribution of silver and bronze brought the contribution of the LORD; and everyone with whom was found acacia wood for any work of the service brought it. 25 And every woman wise of heart spun with her hands, and they brought what was spun: the blue and the purple, the crimson scarlet and the fine linen. 26 And all the women whose heart lifted them up in wisdom spun the goats' hair. 27 And the leaders brought the onyx stones and the stones for setting, for the ephod and for the breastpiece, 28 and the spice and the oil, for light and for the oil of the anointing and for the incense of the fragrances. 29 Every man and woman whose heart made them willing to bring for all the work which the LORD had commanded by the hand of Moses to do, the sons of Israel brought a freewill offering to the LORD. 30 And Moses said to the sons of Israel, "See, the LORD has called by name Bezalel (Betsalel) son of Uri, son of Hur (Chur), of the tribe of Judah (Yehuda). 31 And He has filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, with understanding, and with knowledge, and with all kinds of work, 32 and to devise designs, to work in gold and in silver and in bronze, 33 and in cutting of stone for setting, and in carving of wood, to work in all kinds of work of design. 34 And to teach He has put in his heart, he and Oholiab (Oholi'av) son

35:5 everyone willing of his heart, let him bring it The list is the same as in 25:1-7. Only weeks earlier the people had given their gold eagerly for an idol (32:3). Now they were asked to give it for God's house. The same hands could serve an idol or the living God. "For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also" (Matt 6:21).
35:10 let everyone wise of heart among you come and make all that the LORD has commanded Verses 10-19 summarize chapters 25 to 31: the tabernacle, ark, table, lampstand, incense altar, bronze altar, laver, courtyard and priests' garments. God asked two things for His house: gifts and skills. The church is built the same way; each believer has a part to play (1 Cor 12:4-7).
35:21 every man whose heart lifted him up, and everyone whose spirit made him willing No one was forced. They went home, thought it over, and came back with their gifts. The words willing and heart are repeated again and again in these verses. God loves willing hearts.
35:22 the men with the women Men and women alike brought nose rings, earrings, signet rings and pendants, "every article of gold." Others brought yarn, linen, goats' hair, skins, silver, bronze and acacia wood.
35:26 all the women whose heart lifted them up in wisdom spun the goats' hair Skilled women spun the colored yarn and fine linen. Spinning goats' hair was hard, humble work, but it became the tent over God's dwelling (26:7). The work of women's hands was part of God's house, and Moses wrote it down so we would know.
35:27 the leaders brought the onyx stones The leaders gave the costliest gifts, the precious stones for the ephod and breastpiece, along with spices and oil. Leaders should lead in giving.
35:29 the sons of Israel brought a freewill offering to the LORD A freewill offering is a gift given freely, beyond what is required. Men and women, rich and poor, leaders and people gave together. "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor 9:7).
35:31 He has filled him with the Spirit of God, with wisdom, with understanding, and with knowledge Moses now told the people what God had told him in 31:1-11 about Bezalel of Judah.
35:34 to teach He has put in his heart, he and Oholiab One new thing is said here. God gave these men not only skill but the ability to teach it. The work was too big for two men, so they trained others. A gift passed on multiplies. Paul told Timothy to commit what he learned to faithful men "who will be sufficient to teach others also" (2 Tim 2:2).

of Ahisamach (Achisamakh), of the tribe of Dan. 35 He has filled them with wisdom of heart to do all the work of an engraver and a designer and an embroiderer, in the blue and in the purple, in the crimson scarlet and in the fine linen, and of a weaver, doers of all kinds of work and devisers of designs.

More Than Enough

1 And Bezalel (Betsalel) and Oholiab (Oholi'av) and every man wise of heart, in whom the LORD has put wisdom and understanding to know how to do all the work of the service of the holy place, shall do according to all that the LORD has commanded." 2 And Moses (Moshe) called Bezalel and Oholiab and every man wise of heart, in whose heart the LORD had put wisdom, everyone whose heart lifted him up, to draw near to the work to do it. 3 And they took from before Moses all the contribution which the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) had brought for the work of the service of the holy place, to do it. And they, they still brought to him a freewill offering morning by morning. 4 And all the wise men who were doing all the work of the holy place came, each man from his work which they were doing, 5 and they said to Moses, saying, "The people are bringing much, more than enough for the service for the work which the LORD has commanded to do." 6 And Moses commanded, and they caused a proclamation to pass through the camp, saying, "Let neither man nor woman make work anymore for the contribution of the holy place." And the people were restrained from bringing. 7 And the work was sufficient for them for all the work, to do it, and there was more than enough.

The Tabernacle Made

8 And everyone wise of heart among those doing the work made the tabernacle with ten curtains of twisted fine linen and blue and purple and crimson scarlet; with cherubim, the work of a designer, he made them. 9 The length of the one curtain was approximately 42 feet (twenty-eight by the cubit), and the breadth of the one curtain approximately 6 feet (four by the cubit); one measure for all the curtains. 10 And he joined five of the curtains one to another, and five curtains he joined one to another. 11 And he made loops of blue on the edge of the one curtain, at the end in the coupling; so he did on the edge of the outermost curtain in the second coupling. 12 Fifty loops he made on the one curtain, and fifty loops he made on the edge of the curtain which was in the second coupling, the loops being opposite one to another. 13 And he made fifty clasps of gold, and he joined the curtains one to another with the clasps; and the tabernacle was one. 14 And he made curtains of goats' hair for a tent over the tabernacle; eleven curtains he made them. 15 The length of the one curtain was approximately 45 feet (thirty by the cubit), and approximately 6 feet (four cubits) the breadth of the one curtain; one measure for the eleven curtains. 16 And he joined five of the curtains by themselves and six of the curtains by themselves. 17 And he made fifty loops on the edge of the outermost curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops he made on the edge of the curtain of the second set. 18 And he made fifty clasps of bronze to join the tent together, to be one. 19 And he made a covering for the tent of skins of rams dyed red, and a covering of skins of dolphins from above.

The Boards and the Veil Made

20 And he made the boards for the tabernacle of acacia wood, standing upright. 21 Approximately 15 feet (ten cubits) was the length of the board, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and the half of the cubit) the breadth of the one board. 22 Two tenons were for the one board, fitted one to another; so he did for all the boards of the tabernacle. 23 And he made the boards for the tabernacle: twenty boards for the side of the south, southward. 24 And forty bases of silver he made under the twenty boards: two bases under the one board for its two tenons, and two bases under the one board for its two tenons. 25 And for the second side of the tabernacle, for the north side, he made twenty boards, 26 and their forty bases of silver: two bases under the one board, and two bases under

35:35 an engraver and a designer and an embroiderer Engraving, designing patterns, embroidering and weaving were all gifts of God for His house. God cares about beauty and skill. He made both.
36:1 in whom the LORD has put wisdom and understanding This verse ends Moses' words from chapter 35. The skill came from the LORD, and the pattern came from the LORD. The workers' part was to do it.
36:2 everyone whose heart lifted him up, to draw near to the work to do it Two things marked these workers. God had given them skill, and their hearts moved them to use it. Skill without a willing heart is not enough. A willing heart without skill can learn.
36:3 they still brought to him a freewill offering morning by morning The giving did not stop. Every morning more gifts came.
36:5 The people are bringing much, more than enough The workers were honest. They did not keep collecting for themselves; they went to Moses. A few chapters earlier these people had been under God's judgment. Now, forgiven and restored, they gave more than was needed. Forgiven people are generous people.
36:6 the people were restrained from bringing Moses sent word through the camp to stop the gifts. It may be the only time in Scripture that God's people had to be told to stop giving.
36:8 everyone wise of heart among those doing the work made the tabernacle Verses 8-19 match 26:1-14 almost word for word: ten linen curtains woven with cherubim, eleven curtains of goats' hair, and coverings of red rams' skins and dolphin skins. In chapter 26 God said, "you shall make." Here it says "he made." The command has become a deed. "But be doers of the word and not hearers only" (James 1:22).
36:13 the tabernacle was one The two sets of five curtains were joined by fifty gold clasps, so that the many parts became one dwelling.
36:20 he made the boards for the tabernacle of acacia wood, standing upright Verses 20-34 repeat 26:15-30. Each board was about fifteen feet tall and stood in two silver bases, a hundred bases in all (38:27). The silver came from the atonement money (30:11-16), so God's house stood on the ransom price of His people. Many have seen a picture of a redeemed people built into God's dwelling (Eph 2:22).

the one board. 27 And for the rear of the tabernacle westward he made six boards. 28 And two boards he made for the corners of the tabernacle at the rear. 29 And they were doubled from below, and together they were complete to its top, to the one ring; so he did for both of them, for the two corners. 30 And there were eight boards, and their bases of silver, sixteen bases, two bases, two bases under the one board. 31 And he made bars of acacia wood, five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle, 32 and five bars for the boards of the second side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the rear, westward. 33 And he made the middle bar to pass through in the midst of the boards from end to end. 34 And the boards he overlaid with gold, and their rings he made of gold, housings for the bars; and he overlaid the bars with gold. 35 And he made the veil of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen; the work of a designer he made it, with cherubim. 36 And he made for it four pillars of acacia, and he overlaid them with gold, their hooks of gold; and he cast for them four bases of silver. 37 And he made a screen for the entrance of the tent of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen, the work of an embroiderer, 38 and its five pillars and their hooks; and he overlaid their tops and their bands with gold; and their five bases were of bronze.

The Ark and the Table Made

1 And Bezalel (Betsalel) made the ark of acacia wood: approximately 3.75 feet (two cubits and a half) was its length, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its breadth, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its height. 2 And he overlaid it with pure gold from inside and from outside, and he made for it a molding of gold all around. 3 And he cast for it four rings of gold on its four feet, and two rings on its one side, and two rings on its second side. 4 And he made poles of acacia wood, and he overlaid them with gold. 5 And he brought the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark, to carry the ark. 6 And he made a mercy seat of pure gold: approximately 3.75 feet (two cubits and a half) was its length, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its breadth. 7 And he made two cherubim of gold; of hammered work he made them, from the two ends of the mercy seat, 8 one cherub from the end on this side, and one cherub from the end on that side; from the mercy seat he made the cherubim on its two ends. 9 And the cherubim were spreading out wings upward, covering over the mercy seat with their wings, and their faces were each toward its fellow; toward the mercy seat were the faces of the cherubim. 10 And he made the table of acacia wood: approximately 3 feet (two cubits) was its length, and approximately 18 inches (a cubit) its breadth, and approximately 2.25 feet (a cubit and a half) its height. 11 And he overlaid it with pure gold, and he made for it a molding of gold all around. 12 And he made for it a rim of approximately 3 inches (a handbreadth) all around, and he made a molding of gold for its rim all around. 13 And he cast for it four rings of gold, and he put the rings on the four corners which belonged to its four feet. 14 Close to the rim were the rings, housings for the poles to carry the table. 15 And he made the poles of acacia wood, and he overlaid them with gold, to carry the table. 16 And he made the articles which were on the table, its dishes and its pans and its bowls, and the jugs with which drink offerings were poured out, of pure gold.

The Lampstand and Incense Altar Made

17 And he made the lampstand of pure gold; of hammered work he made the lampstand; its base and its shaft, its cups, its bulbs, and its blossoms were from it. 18 And six branches were coming out from its sides: three branches of the lampstand from its one side, and three branches of the lampstand from its second side; 19 three cups, almond-shaped, on the 36:33 he made the middle bar to pass through in the midst of the boards from end to end Five bars ran along each side and the back, and a middle bar ran through the whole wall. The boards and bars were covered with gold and held by gold rings.

36:35 he made the veil The veil hung on four gold-covered pillars between the Holy Place and the holy of holies. As at 26:31-35, it kept everyone out except the high priest once a year, and it was "torn into two from top to bottom" (Matt 27:51) when Jesus died (Heb 10:19-20).
36:37 he made a screen for the entrance of the tent The embroidered screen hung on five pillars with gold tops and bronze bases (26:36-37), the one way into the tent. God's commands began with the ark at the center (ch 25), showing His heart: His presence first. The builders began with the tent and frame, the order a builder follows. Both orders were right for their purpose.
37:1 Bezalel made the ark of acacia wood Verses 1-5 match 25:10-16. The ark held the tablets of the testimony and was carried by its poles, never touched.
37:6 he made a mercy seat of pure gold The mercy seat, the lid of the ark, with its two hammered gold cherubim, matches 25:17-22. Blood was sprinkled there on the Day of Atonement, and Paul uses the same word when he calls Christ our propitiation (Rom 3:25).
37:9 toward the mercy seat were the faces of the cherubim One detail from chapter 25 is missing here: "I will meet with you there" (25:22). The ark was only a box until God came to it, which happens in chapter 40. A beautiful building or a well-planned service is not the same as God's presence. We build and prepare, but only God can come and fill.
37:10 he made the table of acacia wood This matches 25:23-30. The table held the bread of the Presence, twelve loaves always before the LORD, one for each tribe. Jesus said, "I am the bread of life" (John 6:35). In Christ, God still provides for His people every day.
37:17 he made the lampstand of pure gold; of hammered work he made the lampstand This matches 25:31-40. The lampstand was the only light in the Holy Place, and Jesus is "the light of the world" (John 8:12). It was hammered from one piece of gold. Some have seen a picture of Christ, beaten and bruised for us, who became our light. The New Testament does not say that about the lampstand, so I give it only as a picture.

The Bronze Altar and Courtyard Made

1 And he made the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood: approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits) was its length, and approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits) its breadth, square; and approximately 4.5 feet (three cubits) its height. 2 And he made its horns on its four corners; its horns were from it; and he overlaid it with bronze. 3 And he made all the articles of the altar, the pots and the shovels and the bowls, the forks and the fire pans; all its articles he made of bronze. 4 And he made for the altar a grating, a work of network of bronze, under its ledge from below, to its middle. 5 And he cast four rings on the four ends of the grating of bronze, housings for the poles. 6 And he made the poles of acacia wood, and he overlaid them with bronze. 7 And he brought the poles into the rings on the sides of the altar, to carry it by them; hollow, of planks, he made it. 8 And he made the laver of bronze and its base of bronze, with the mirrors of the serving women who served at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 9 And he made the courtyard: for the side of the south, southward, the hangings of the courtyard were of twisted fine linen, approximately 150 feet (a hundred by the cubit); 10 their pillars twenty, and their bases twenty, of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver. 11 And for the side of the north, approximately 150 feet (a hundred by the cubit); their pillars twenty, and their bases twenty, of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver. 12 And for the side of the west, hangings of approximately 75 feet (fifty by the cubit); their pillars ten, and their bases ten; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver. 13 And for the side of the east, eastward, approximately 75 feet (fifty cubits).
14 Hangings of approximately 22.5 feet (fifteen cubits) were for the wing; their pillars three, and their bases three. 15 And for the second wing, on this side and on that side of the gate of the courtyard, hangings of approximately 22.5 feet (fifteen cubits); their pillars three, and their bases three. 16 All the hangings of the courtyard all around were of twisted fine linen. 17 And the bases for the pillars were of bronze; the hooks of the pillars and their bands of silver, and the overlay of their tops of silver; and they were banded with silver, all the pillars of the courtyard. 18 And the screen of the gate of the courtyard was the work of an embroiderer, of blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen; and approximately 30 feet (twenty cubits) was the length, and the height in breadth approximately 7.5 feet (five cubits), corresponding to the hangings of the courtyard. 19 And their pillars were four, and their bases four, of bronze; their hooks of silver, and the overlay of their tops and their bands of silver. 20 And all the pegs for the tabernacle and for the courtyard all around were of bronze.

37:24 Of approximately 75 pounds of pure gold he made it About seventy-five pounds is one talent of gold, for the lampstand and all its tools.
37:25 he made the altar of incense of acacia wood This matches 30:1-5. It stood in front of the veil, where incense rose morning and evening as a picture of prayer (30:6-8; Rev 8:3-4).
37:29 he made the oil of the anointing, holy, and the incense of the fragrances, pure These were made by the recipes in 30:22-38. Every item in this chapter was gold. Inside the tent everything shone; outside in the courtyard things were bronze (ch 38). The closer one came to God, the more precious the materials became.
38:1 he made the altar of burnt offering of acacia wood This matches 27:1-8: a bronze-covered altar about seven and a half feet square with horns on its corners and bronze tools. It was the first thing a worshiper met inside the gate. Before anyone could go further toward God, there had to be a sacrifice. It points to the cross.
38:7 hollow, of planks, he made it The altar was a hollow frame, light enough to be carried on its poles through the wilderness.
38:8 with the mirrors of the serving women who served at the entrance of the tent of meeting This is a new detail. Mirrors were polished bronze. Scripture does not say what these women did (1 Sam 2:22). They gave up what they used every day to look at themselves, so that the priests could be washed. God's Word is also a mirror (James 1:23-25). It shows us what we are and leads us to cleansing.
38:9 he made the courtyard Verses 9-20 repeat 27:9-19: a court about 150 by 75 feet, walled with white linen on bronze-based pillars with silver hooks and bands. The wall told everyone outside that God is holy and sinners cannot simply walk in.
38:18 the screen of the gate of the courtyard was the work of an embroiderer There was one gate, about thirty feet wide and bright with color. Jesus said, "I am the door. If anyone enters through Me, he will be saved" (John 10:9). There was one way in, open to all who would come God's way.

The Metals Counted

21 These are the counts of the tabernacle, the tabernacle of the testimony, which were counted at the command of Moses (Moshe), the service of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar (Itamar) son of Aaron (Aharon) the priest. 22 And Bezalel (Betsalel) son of Uri, son of Hur (Chur), of the tribe of Judah (Yehuda), made all that the LORD had commanded Moses. 23 And with him was Oholiab (Oholi'av) son of Ahisamach (Achisamakh), of the tribe of Dan, an engraver and a designer and an embroiderer in the blue and in the purple and in the crimson scarlet and in the fine linen. 24 All the gold that was used for the work, in all the work of the holy place, and it was the gold of the wave offering, was approximately 2,200 pounds (twenty-nine talents) and approximately 18 pounds (seven hundred and thirty shekels), by the shekel of the holy place. 25 And the silver of those enrolled of the congregation was approximately 7,500 pounds (a hundred talents) and approximately 44 pounds (a thousand and seven hundred and seventy-five shekels), by the shekel of the holy place: 26 approximately 1/5 ounce (a beka) for the head, the half of the shekel by the shekel of the holy place, for everyone who passed over to those enrolled, from a son of twenty years and upward, for six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty. 27 And the approximately 7,500 pounds (the hundred talents) of silver were for casting the bases of the holy place and the bases of the veil: a hundred bases for the approximately 7,500 pounds (the hundred talents), approximately 75 pounds (a talent) for a base. 28 And with the approximately 44 pounds (the thousand and seven hundred and seventy-five shekels) he made hooks for the pillars, and he overlaid their tops and banded them. 29 And the bronze of the wave offering was approximately 5,250 pounds (seventy talents) and approximately 60 pounds (two thousand and four hundred shekels). 30 And he made with it the bases of the entrance of the tent of meeting, and the altar of bronze, and the grating of bronze which belonged to it, and all the articles of the altar, 31 and the bases of the courtyard all around, and the bases of the gate of the courtyard, and all the pegs of the tabernacle, and all the pegs of the courtyard all around.

The Priestly Garments Made

1 And from the blue and the purple and the crimson scarlet they made garments of woven work to minister in the holy place; and they made the garments of holiness which are for Aaron (Aharon), just as the LORD had commanded Moses (Moshe). 2 And he made the ephod of gold, blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen. 3 And they hammered out the thin plates of the gold, and he cut them into threads to work them in the midst of the blue and in the midst of the purple and in the midst of the crimson scarlet and in the midst of the fine linen, the work of a designer. 4 Shoulder pieces they made for it, joined; at its two ends it was joined. 5 And the band of its ephod which was on it, it was from it, like its work, of gold, blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 6 And they made the onyx stones, surrounded with filigree settings of gold, engraved with the engravings of a signet according to the names of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el). 7 And he put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod, stones of memorial for the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 8 And he made the breastpiece, the work of a designer, like the work of the ephod: of gold, blue and purple and crimson scarlet and twisted fine linen. 9 It was square; folded double they made the breastpiece, approximately 9 inches (a span) its length and approximately 9 inches (a span) its breadth, folded double. 10 And they filled in it four rows of stone: a row of ruby, topaz, and beryl was the first row; 11 and the second row a turquoise, a

38:21 These are the counts of the tabernacle Here begins the record of the materials, kept by the Levites under Ithamar, Aaron's son, who would later oversee the Levites who carried the tabernacle (Num 4:28, 33). God's work should be done honestly. Paul took care to provide "good things not only before the Lord but also before men" (2 Cor 8:21).
38:22 Bezalel son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD had commanded Moses The two master craftsmen, Bezalel and Oholiab, are named again. They did all that God commanded.
38:24 All the gold that was used for the work The gold came to twenty-nine talents and 730 shekels, about 2,200 pounds by the SLB's reckoning. It made the furniture inside the tent and covered the boards and bars.
38:26 for six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty The silver came from the half shekel paid by every man twenty and older (30:11-16). The count of 603,550 men is the same as the census in Numbers 1:46. Some scholars read the word for thousand as a clan or unit and get a smaller number, but I take the numbers as written (12:37).
38:27 a hundred bases The silver made the hundred bases under the boards and the veil, a talent for each, and the rest made hooks and bands for the courtyard pillars. God's house stood on the price of redemption.
38:29 the bronze of the wave offering The bronze made the bases of the entrance, the bronze altar and its tools, the courtyard bases and all the pegs. Where did former slaves get so much metal? Much of it came from Egypt (12:35-36). God gave it to them before He asked for it, and the giving was so generous they were told to stop (36:6-7). Every ounce was a gift.
39:1 they made the garments of holiness which are for Aaron, just as the LORD had commanded Moses Verses 1-7 match 28:6-14, the making of the ephod. The phrase "just as the LORD had commanded Moses" runs through this chapter like a refrain.
39:3 they hammered out the thin plates of the gold, and he cut them into threads One new detail tells how gold was worked into the ephod. It was beaten into thin sheets, cut into threads, and woven in with the colored yarn. It was slow, careful work.
39:7 stones of memorial for the sons of Israel The two onyx stones engraved with the tribes' names sat on the shoulders of the ephod. As in chapter 28, the high priest carried God's people on his shoulders before the LORD, a picture of Christ, who carries us.
39:8 he made the breastpiece Verses 8-21 match 28:15-28 almost word for word: a square pouch about nine inches each way, folded double, set with twelve stones in four rows, each engraved with a tribe's name.

sapphire, and an emerald; 12 and the third row a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst; 13 and the fourth row a chrysolite, an onyx, and a jasper, surrounded with filigree settings of gold in their settings. 14 And the stones were according to the names of the sons of Israel; they were twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, each according to his name, for the twelve tribes. 15 And they made on the breastpiece braided chains, a work of cordage, of pure gold. 16 And they made two filigree settings of gold and two rings of gold, and they put the two rings on the two ends of the breastpiece. 17 And they put the two cords of gold on the two rings at the ends of the breastpiece. 18 And the two ends of the two cords they put on the two filigree settings, and they put them on the shoulder pieces of the ephod at the front of its face. 19 And they made two rings of gold, and they put them on the two ends of the breastpiece, on its edge which was toward the side of the ephod inward. 20 And they made two rings of gold, and they put them on the two shoulder pieces of the ephod from below, from the front of its face, close to its joining, above the band of the ephod. 21 And they bound the breastpiece by its rings to the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, to be on the band of the ephod, and the breastpiece was not displaced from on the ephod, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Robe and the Holy Crown

22 And he made the robe of the ephod, the work of a weaver, entirely of blue. 23 And the opening of the robe was in its midst, like the opening of a coat of mail, an edge for its opening all around; it was not torn. 24 And they made on the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue and purple and crimson scarlet, twisted. 25 And they made bells of pure gold, and they put the bells in the midst of the pomegranates on the hems of the robe all around, in the midst of the pomegranates: 26 a bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate, on the hems of the robe all around, to minister in, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 27 And they made the tunics of fine linen, the work of a weaver, for Aaron and for his sons, 28 and the turban of fine linen, and the head-wraps of the headdresses of fine linen, and the undergarments of linen of twisted fine linen, 29 and the sash of twisted fine linen and blue and purple and crimson scarlet, the work of an embroiderer, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 30 And they made the plate of the crown of holiness of pure gold, and they wrote on it a writing, like the engravings of a signet: "Holiness to the LORD." 31 And they put on it a lace of blue, to put it on the turban from above, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Work Finished and Blessed

32 And all the service of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting was finished; and the sons of Israel did according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses; so they did. 33 And they brought the tabernacle to Moses, the tent and all its articles, its clasps, its boards, its bars, and its pillars and its bases; 34 and the covering of skins of rams dyed red, and the covering of skins of dolphins, and the veil of the screen; 35 the ark of the testimony and its poles, and the mercy seat; 36 the table, all its articles, and the bread of the Presence; 37 the pure lampstand, its lamps, the lamps of the arrangement, and all its articles, and the oil of the light; 38 and the altar of gold, and the oil of the anointing, and the incense of the fragrances, and the screen of the entrance of the tent; 39 the altar of bronze and the grating of bronze which was for it, its poles and all its articles, the laver and its base; 40 the hangings of the courtyard, its pillars and its bases, and the screen for the gate of the courtyard, its cords and its pegs, and all the articles of the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of meeting; 41 the garments of woven work to minister in the holy place, the garments of holiness for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons to serve as priests. 42 According to all that the LORD had commanded Moses, so the sons of 39:21 the breastpiece was not displaced from on the ephod Gold chains, rings and a blue lace held it fast. Aaron carried the names of God's people over his heart (28:29-30). Our High Priest carries us on His heart, and nothing "will be able to separate us from the love of God" (Rom 8:39). The Urim and Thummim are not listed here; Moses placed them himself (28:30; Lev 8:8).

39:22 he made the robe of the ephod, the work of a weaver, entirely of blue This matches 28:31-35, with pomegranates and bells of pure gold around the hem.
39:23 it was not torn The robe was woven in one piece with a strong edge around the neck. Many have compared Jesus' own tunic, which was "woven from the top throughout the whole" (John 19:23) in one piece, and which the soldiers would not tear.
39:30 Holiness to the LORD After the tunics, turban, headdresses, undergarments and sash (28:39-43), the gold plate was engraved and tied to the front of the turban (28:36-38).
39:31 just as the LORD had commanded Moses Why repeat this so often? In God's worship, obedience matters more than creativity. The workers were very skilled, yet they did not try to improve on God's design. Their skill served His plan. The best gift we bring God is not our own ideas about how He should be worshiped, but faithful obedience to what He has said.
39:32 all the service of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting was finished Scripture does not say how long it took. Israel reached Sinai in the third month (19:1), and the tabernacle went up on the first day of the second year (40:17). After Moses' two forty-day stays, that leaves about six months, perhaps less, for the work.
39:33 they brought the tabernacle to Moses Verses 33-41 list every part, the same list as 35:10-19. Everything God asked for was there. Nothing was missing, and nothing was added.

Israel did all the service. 43 And Moses saw all the work, and look, they had done it; just as the LORD had commanded, so they had done. And Moses blessed them.

EXODUS 40

Orders to Set Up the Tabernacle

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "On the day of the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall set up the tabernacle of the tent of meeting. 3 And you shall put there the ark of the testimony, and you shall screen the ark with the veil. 4 And you shall bring in the table, and you shall arrange its arrangement; and you shall bring in the lampstand, and you shall lift up its lamps. 5 And you shall put the altar of gold for incense before the ark of the testimony, and you shall put the screen of the entrance for the tabernacle. 6 And you shall put the altar of the burnt offering before the entrance of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting. 7 And you shall put the laver between the tent of meeting and the altar, and you shall put water there. 8 And you shall set the courtyard all around, and you shall put the screen of the gate of the courtyard. 9 And you shall take the oil of the anointing, and you shall anoint the tabernacle and all that is in it, and you shall sanctify it and all its articles; and it shall be holy. 10 And you shall anoint the altar of the burnt offering and all its articles, and you shall sanctify the altar; and the altar shall be a holy of holies. 11 And you shall anoint the laver and its base, and you shall sanctify it. 12 And you shall bring near Aaron (Aharon) and his sons to the entrance of the tent of meeting, and you shall wash them with water. 13 And you shall clothe Aaron with the garments of holiness, and you shall anoint him, and you shall sanctify him, and he shall serve as priest to Me. 14 And his sons you shall bring near, and you shall clothe them with tunics. 15 And you shall anoint them just as you anointed their father, and they shall serve as priests to Me; and their anointing shall be for them a priesthood forever throughout their generations." 16 And Moses did according to all that the LORD had commanded him; so he did.

The Tabernacle Set Up

17 And it came to pass in the first month, in the second year, on the first day of the month, the tabernacle was set up. 18 And Moses set up the tabernacle, and he put its bases, and he set its boards, and he put its bars, and he set up its pillars. 19 And he spread out the tent over the tabernacle, and he put the covering of the tent on it from above, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 20 And he took and put the testimony into the ark, and he set the poles on the ark, and he put the mercy seat on the ark from above. 21 And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and he set the veil of the screen, and he screened the ark of the testimony, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 22 And he put the table in the tent of meeting, on the side of the tabernacle northward, outside the veil. 23 And he arranged on it an arrangement of bread before the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 24 And he put the lampstand in the tent of meeting, opposite the table, on the side of the tabernacle southward. 25 And he lifted up the lamps before the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 26 And he put the altar of gold in the tent of meeting before the veil. 27 And he made incense of fragrances smoke on it, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 28 And he set the screen of the entrance for 39:43 Moses saw all the work, and look, they had done it These words sound like the creation story: "God saw all that He had made, and look, it was very good" (Gen 1:31), and He finished and blessed the seventh day (Gen 2:2-3). God made a world for people to live in; now His people had made a house for God. One day the Lord will inspect every believer's work (1 Cor 3:13). We hope to hear, "Well done, good and faithful slave" (Matt 25:21).

40:2 On the day of the first month, on the first day of the month, you shall set up the tabernacle The first month was the month of Passover (12:2). It had been nearly a year since Israel came out of Egypt. God chose a new year's day for a new beginning. Israel's year began with God dwelling among them.

40:3 you shall put there the ark of the testimony The order of setting up starts at the center, with the ark, and moves outward to the table, lampstand, incense altar, bronze altar, laver and courtyard. It is the same order God used in chapter 25. God's presence comes first, and everything else is arranged around it. Is that the order of our lives?

40:9 you shall anoint the tabernacle and all that is in it The oil of 30:22-33 was put on the tent, its furniture, the altar and the laver. Everything was set apart for God.

40:15 their anointing shall be for them a priesthood forever throughout their generations Aaron and his sons were to be washed, clothed and anointed. This is the ordination described in chapter 29, and Leviticus 8 tells how it was carried out.

40:16 Moses did according to all that the LORD had commanded him; so he did This sentence sums up the whole building section. Moses had once argued with God at the burning bush (4:13). Now he simply obeyed.

40:17 in the first month, in the second year, on the first day of the month, the tabernacle was set up This is one of the few exact dates in Exodus. About 1445 B.C., in the desert below Mount Sinai, the house of God stood for the first time.

40:19 just as the LORD had commanded Moses Moses set it up with his own hands. This is the first of seven times the phrase appears in this section. Every step was done God's way.

40:20 he took and put the testimony into the ark The testimony was the second set of tablets (34:1, 28). Inside the box was the law Israel had broken with the golden calf, and over it the mercy seat, where blood would be sprinkled. God's law was not thrown away, and His mercy covered it. That is the gospel in a picture.

40:23 he arranged on it an arrangement of bread before the LORD Moses did more than set out furniture. He set out the bread, lit the lamps and burned the incense (40:25, 27). The worship began right away. The house was not a museum. It was a place where God was served.

the tabernacle. 29 And the altar of the burnt offering he set at the entrance of the tabernacle of the tent of meeting, and he offered up on it the burnt offering and the grain offering, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 30 And he put the laver between the tent of meeting and the altar, and he put water there for washing. 31 And Moses and Aaron and his sons would wash their hands and their feet from it. 32 When they went into the tent of meeting, and when they drew near to the altar, they would wash, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 33 And he set up the courtyard all around the tabernacle and the altar, and he put the screen of the gate of the courtyard. And Moses finished the work.

The Glory of the LORD Fills the Tabernacle

34 And the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle. 35 And Moses was not able to go into the tent of meeting, for the cloud had settled on it, and the glory of the LORD had filled the tabernacle. 36 And when the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) would set out in all their journeys. 37 And if the cloud was not taken up, then they would not set out until the day that it was taken up. 38 For the cloud of the LORD was over the tabernacle by day, and fire would be in it by night, before the eyes of all the house of Israel, in all their journeys.

40:37 Num 9:19-22; Ps 31:15
40:38 Exod 13:21; Num 9:15; Ps 78:14

40:29 he offered up on it the burnt offering and the grain offering The bronze altar stood at the door, and the first offerings were made on it as soon as it was in place.
40:31 Moses and Aaron and his sons would wash their hands and their feet from it Every time they went into the tent or drew near the altar, they washed. Those who serve a holy God must come clean.
40:33 Moses finished the work These words echo Genesis 2:2, where God finished His work of creation. They also point ahead to the cross, where Jesus said, "It has been finished" (John 19:30). Moses finished a tent where God would live among His people for a time. Jesus finished the work that brings God's people into His presence forever.
40:34 the cloud covered the tent of meeting, and the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle This is the climax of the book. The cloud that led Israel out (13:21-22), shielded them (14:19-20) and covered Sinai (24:15-18) now settled on the tent. Later Jewish teachers called this glory the Shekinah, from a word meaning to dwell. Exodus began with slaves crying out to a God who seemed far away (2:23-25). Now He lives in their midst, as He promised (29:45).
40:35 Moses was not able to go into the tent of meeting Even Moses, who spoke with God face to face, could not enter. The same happened at Solomon's temple: "the priests were not able to stand to minister because of the cloud" (1 Kgs 8:11). John says the Word "dwelt among us" (John 1:14), which means pitched His tent. In Jesus the veil was torn, and believers now have "confidence for the entrance into the holy places by the blood of Jesus" (Heb 10:19).
40:35 the glory of the LORD had filled the tabernacle God's dwelling goes further still. Believers together are "a temple of God" (1 Cor 3:16). And one day a voice will say, "Look, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will tabernacle with them" (Rev 21:3). What began in a tent in the desert ends in the new Jerusalem, where "the Lord God the Almighty is its temple, and the Lamb" (Rev 21:22).
40:36 when the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the sons of Israel would set out The cloud now guided them. When it lifted, they moved; when it stayed, they stayed, whether two days, a month or a year (Num 9:15-23). They moved when God moved. Do we wait for God to lead, or do we run ahead?
40:38 the cloud of the LORD was over the tabernacle by day, and fire would be in it by night Day and night, everyone could look up and see that God was with them. Exodus does not end in the promised land but on the road, with God in their midst. That is where every believer lives now: not yet home, but never alone. The Spirit leads us (Rom 8:14), and Jesus said, "I am with you all the days, until the consummation of the age" (Matt 28:20).

LEVITICUS

Introduction

Title

Leviticus is the third of the five books of Moses, the Law or Torah, and sits between Exodus and Numbers. The name comes from the Greek and Latin Bibles and means the book about the Levites, the tribe of Levi, who served as Israel's priests and helpers at the tabernacle. The Hebrew title is the book's first word, which means "and He called" (1:1). It is the book where many Bible reading plans stall, full of animals, blood, priests and skin diseases. But it answers one of the biggest questions in the Bible: how can sinful people come near a holy God and live?

Author and Date

Moses. Over and over the book says, "And the LORD spoke to Moses," and it closes by saying these are the commandments the LORD gave Moses "on Mount Sinai" (27:34). Jesus pointed to the cleansing law of chapter 14 as what "Moses commanded" (Mark 1:44). Leviticus was given at Mount Sinai about 1445 B.C., about a year after the exodus (about 1446 B.C., 1 Kgs 6:1). Moses may have written it down then or set it in its final form during the wilderness years. Many modern scholars believe priests wrote it much later, perhaps during or after the exile, from several sources. I take the book at its word. It claims to be the word of the LORD through Moses, it fits a people living in tents around a portable tabernacle, and Jesus and the apostles treated it as the Law of Moses.

Background and Setting

Leviticus covers about one month. Exodus ends with the tabernacle set up on the first day of the first month of the second year (Exod 40:17), and "the glory of the LORD filled the tabernacle" (Exod 40:34). Numbers begins one month later (Num 1:1). In between, Israel stayed at Sinai and learned how to live with a holy God in the middle of their camp. The only stories are the ordination of the priests and the death of Nadab and Abihu (chapters 8 to 10) and the blasphemer (24:10-23).

The tabernacle was a large tent, the tent of meeting, where God's presence dwelt. It stood in a courtyard with the bronze altar for sacrifices. Inside were the holy place and, behind a veil, the Most Holy Place with the ark of the covenant. Some laws speak to all the people, and some mainly to Aaron and his sons, who had to teach them (10:10-11). Leviticus was given to Israel under the covenant God made at Sinai. Clean and unclean describe whether a person or thing was fit to come near God's tabernacle. Being unclean was often not a sin at all.

Themes

The key word is holy: set apart, separate from what is common and sinful, belonging to God. "You shall be holy, for I am holy" (11:45; 19:2; 20:26). Notice the order. God first brought Israel out of Egypt, and then He called them to be holy. The Law was never the way to become God's people. It was given to a people He had already redeemed.

Sin brings death, and atonement comes by the blood of a substitute: "it is the blood that makes atonement by the life" (17:11). The offerings (chapters 1 to 7) teach full surrender, thanks, fellowship, forgiveness and the paying of a debt. The Day of Atonement (chapter 16) is the high point of the book. The feasts (chapter 23) mark Israel's year with God's appointments. And holiness reaches all of life: the family, the body, business, the poor, the foreigner and the neighbor, for "you shall love your neighbor as yourself" (19:18). No one was ever saved by keeping these laws. The Law shows us our sin and points us to Christ (Gal 3:24).

Christ in Leviticus

The New Testament reads Leviticus as a shadow, with Christ as the substance (Col 2:16-17; Heb 10:1). He is the burnt offering, "an offering and a sacrifice to God for an aroma of fragrance" (Eph 5:2). He is our peace (Eph 2:14), the sin offering made "sin on our behalf" (2 Cor 5:21), and the Servant whose soul makes "a guilt offering" (Isa 53:10). He is the High Priest who never needs to offer for His own sins (Heb 7:26-27). The high priest going behind the veil once a year pictures Christ entering heaven itself with His own blood, "once for all" (Heb 9:12, 24), and the sin offering burned outside the camp points to Jesus, who "suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12). Christ is "our Passover" (1 Cor 5:7) and "the firstfruits" of the resurrection (1 Cor 15:20), and the Spirit came on the feast of Pentecost (Acts 2:1). In Nazareth Jesus announced the jubilee's "acceptable year of the Lord" (Luke 4:19). The blood of bulls and goats could never take away sins, but by one offering Christ "has perfected for all time those who are being sanctified" (Heb 10:14).

Hard Passages

Why did God strike down Nadab and Abihu (10:1-2)? The text says only that they offered fire "which He had not commanded them." The notes name the main suggestions and stress God's warning at the start of the priesthood, with care for Aaron's grief.

The laws of childbirth, discharges and skin disease (chapters 12 to 15) are about fitness to come near the tabernacle, not sin. The notes explain why a daughter's time was doubled without making her worth less.

The sexual laws and penalties (chapters 18 and 20) are stated plainly. The New Testament repeats God's standard but not the death penalties, which belonged to Israel as a nation under God. The notes stress the washing of 1 Corinthians 6:11 and care for those who struggle or have been harmed.

The stoning of the blasphemer (24:10-23), "eye for eye" (24:20), the servant and slave laws (25:39-55), the curses of chapter 26 and the valuations of chapter 27 are each explained in their setting. Israel's slave laws were not race-based chattel slavery, and the gospel undermines slavery at its root. Where good teachers disagree, as on Azazel (16:8), the Sabbath for Christians, tattoos (19:28) and the tithe, the notes give the main views.

The Burnt Offering

1 And He called to Moses (Moshe), and the LORD spoke to him from the tent of meeting, saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and you shall say to them, 'When a man of you brings near an offering to the LORD, from the livestock, from the herd or from the flock you shall bring near your offering. 3 If his offering is a burnt offering from the herd, he shall bring it near, a male without blemish; to the entrance of the tent of meeting he shall bring it near, for his acceptance before the LORD. 4 And he shall lay his hand on the near his offering from the turtledoves or from the young of the dove. 15 And the priest shall bring it near to the altar, and he shall wring off its head and make it smoke on the altar; and its blood shall be drained out on the wall of the altar. 16 And he shall remove its crop with its feathers, and he shall throw it beside the altar eastward, to the place of the

1:1 And He called to Moses In Hebrew these are the first words of the book, and they became its Hebrew name. At Sinai the LORD spoke from the mountain and the people were afraid (Exod 20:18-19). Now He speaks "from the tent of meeting," in the middle of the camp. The tabernacle was the place where God met with His people (Exod 25:22).
1:2 When a man of you brings near an offering to the LORD The word for offering, qorban, comes from the verb to bring near. That is the whole point of the offerings: to bring a person near to God. God does not say "if." He assumes His people will want to come, and He shows them how. The animals came from the family's own herd and flock. A sacrifice was meant to cost something (2 Sam 24:24).
1:3 a male without blemish Healthy and whole, with no defect, injury or disease. God deserved the best, not the leftovers (Mal 1:8). The word for burnt offering, olah, means that which goes up. The whole animal went up in smoke to God, and its goal was "his acceptance before the LORD."
1:4 he shall lay his hand on the head of the burnt offering Not a light touch. The worshiper leaned his hand on the animal, saying in effect that it stood for him. Atonement means sin covered and dealt with, so the guilty can be forgiven and brought back to God. The Hebrew word, kipper, is often explained as to cover, and many also see the idea of a ransom paid. The animal died and the worshiper lived. That is substitution.
1:4 it shall be accepted for him to make atonement for him Did the blood of a bull really take away sin? Hebrews says, "For it is impossible for the blood of bulls and of goats to take away sins" (Heb 10:4). But God accepted the offering of a believing Israelite, and it covered his sin until the one true sacrifice came. Every lamb and bull pointed to Jesus, "a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pet 1:19). Old Testament believers were saved as we are, by faith in the God who promised to provide.
1:5 he shall slaughter the young of the herd before the LORD The worshiper killed the animal himself. He watched it die, and he knew why. Sin brings death (Gen 2:17; Rom 6:23). A priest was a man God appointed to stand between Him and the people, to offer sacrifices and teach His Law. Only Aaron and his sons could serve (Exod 28:1). The blood mattered because "the life of the flesh is in the blood" (17:11).
1:9 a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD God does not need the smell of roasting meat. This is a way of saying He was pleased and accepted the offering. No one ate any of the burnt offering; it all belonged to God, and only the hide went to the priest (7:8). Paul uses the same picture for Christ, who "gave Himself up for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for an aroma of fragrance" (Eph 5:2). The burnt offering held nothing back, and neither did Jesus.
1:10 from the flock, from the sheep or from the goats The rules are nearly the same as for the bull. Why repeat them? Because a sheep or goat cost far less. God made a way for more of His people to come. The animal still had to be whole and healthy, but it did not have to be the biggest one.
1:14 from the turtledoves or from the young of the dove For those who could not afford a sheep or goat. The priest did more of the work here because a bird is small. When Joseph and Mary brought Jesus to the temple, they offered birds, the offering of the poor (Luke 2:22-24; see 12:8).
1:17 it is a burnt offering, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD The poor man's dove is called exactly what the rich man's bull was called. God does not measure worship by its price tag. We bring no animals now, because Christ offered Himself "once for all" (Heb 10:10). But we still come through a substitute, and once accepted we are to "present your bodies as a living, holy sacrifice, well-pleasing to God" (Rom 12:1). Is any part of your life kept off the altar?

The Grain Offering

1 And when a soul brings near an offering of a grain offering to the LORD, his offering shall be fine flour; and he shall pour oil on it, and he shall put frankincense on it. 2 And he shall bring it to the sons of Aaron (Aharon), the priests; and he shall take from there the fullness of his handful from its fine flour and from its oil, with all its frankincense; and the priest shall make its memorial portion smoke on the altar, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD. 3 And the remainder of the grain offering is for Aaron and for his sons, a holy of holies from the fire offerings of the LORD. 4 And when you bring near an offering of a grain offering baked in an oven, it shall be unleavened cakes of fine flour mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers smeared with oil. 5 And if your offering is a grain offering on the griddle, it shall be fine flour mixed with oil, unleavened. 6 Break it into pieces, and you shall pour oil on it; it is a grain offering. 7 And if your offering is a grain offering of the pan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil. 8 And you shall bring the grain offering which is made from these to the LORD; and he shall bring it near to the priest, and he shall bring it close to the altar. 9 And the priest shall lift up from the grain offering its memorial portion, and he shall make it smoke on the altar, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD. 10 And the remainder of the grain offering is for Aaron and for his sons, a holy of holies from the fire offerings of the LORD. 11 No grain offering which you bring near to the LORD shall be made leavened; for any leaven and any honey, you shall not make smoke any of it as a fire offering to the LORD. 12 As an offering of first produce you shall bring them near to the LORD, and to the altar they shall not go up for a soothing aroma. 13 And every offering of your grain offering you shall season with salt; and you shall not let the salt of the covenant of your God cease from on your grain offering; with all your offerings you shall bring near salt. 14 And if you bring near a grain offering of firstfruits to the LORD, you shall bring near as the grain offering of your firstfruits fresh ears roasted in the fire, crushed grain of fresh growth. 15 And you shall put oil on it, and you shall put frankincense on it; it is a grain offering. 16 And the priest shall make its memorial portion smoke, from its crushed grain and from its oil, with all its frankincense, a fire offering to the LORD.

2:1 an offering of a grain offering The Hebrew word, minchah, means a gift or tribute, the kind of present a servant brings his master. It was usually brought with a burnt offering (Num 15:1-10). The burnt offering said, I belong to You. The grain offering added, and so does the work of my hands. Fine flour was the best grade, ground smooth. Frankincense was a costly sweet-smelling resin burned as incense.
2:2 its memorial portion The priest burned "the fullness of his handful" with all the frankincense. This handful stood for the whole offering, as if to remind God of the worshiper and the worshiper of God.
2:3 the remainder of the grain offering is for Aaron and for his sons, a holy of holies A holy of holies means most holy. The priests did not farm land like the other tribes, so God fed them from the offerings (Num 18:8-10). In the same way, those who preach the gospel should be supported by those they serve (1 Cor 9:13-14).
2:4 baked in an oven It could also be baked as cakes or wafers, made on the griddle, or made in the pan. God took His people as they were, rich or poor, raw flour or bread baked at home. Some teachers see in the fine flour a picture of the even, flawless life of Jesus and in the oil a picture of the Holy Spirit. The New Testament does not say this directly, so I hold it loosely. Jesus did call Himself "the bread of life" (John 6:35), and His whole life pleased the Father (Matt 3:17).
2:11 No grain offering which you bring near to the LORD shall be made leavened Leaven is yeast, or old fermented dough used to make new dough rise. Honey may mean bee honey or the syrup of fruit like dates. Both cause ferment. Leaven often pictures sin spreading quietly through the whole (1 Cor 5:7-8; Matt 16:6). Yet it was not always a picture of sin: leaven and honey could be brought as first produce (2:12), and the bread of Pentecost was leavened (23:17). What went up to God in smoke had to be free of what pictured corruption.
2:13 the salt of the covenant of your God Salt does the opposite of leaven. It keeps food from spoiling. In the ancient world people who shared a meal with salt were bound to keep faith with each other. Every salted offering reminded Israel that God's covenant would last (Num 18:19; 2 Chr 13:5). Jesus said, "You are the salt of the earth" (Matt 5:13).
2:14 a grain offering of firstfruits Firstfruits were the first part of the harvest, given to God before the rest was used. It was an act of trust: God gave this harvest and He would give the rest (Prov 3:9-10). Paul calls the risen Christ "the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep" (1 Cor 15:20). We still bring God our gifts of thanks: "with such sacrifices God is well pleased" (Heb 13:16).
3:1 a sacrifice of peace offerings The Hebrew word, shelamim, is related to shalom: wholeness, well-being, everything right between people and God. The peace offering did not so much make peace with God as celebrate a peace He had made possible. Christ "made peace through the blood of His cross" (Col 1:20), and "He Himself is our peace" (Eph 2:14).
3:2 he shall lay his hand on the head of his offering Even a meal of fellowship with God started with blood. No one sits at God's table except through a death in his place. Here the animal could be male or female, but it still had to be without blemish.
3:3 the fat that covers the entrails Only the richest inner parts went on the altar: the fat, the two kidneys and the lobe on the liver. In Israel the fat was counted the best part of an animal. God took His portion first, and then His people ate the rest in His presence (7:11-21). "On the burnt offering" (3:5) probably means on top of the morning burnt offering already on the altar.

The Sin Offering

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'When a soul sins unintentionally against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which are not to be done, and does any one of them, 3 if the anointed priest sins, for the guilt of the people, then he shall bring near for his sin which he has sinned a young bull, a son of the herd, without blemish to the LORD for a sin offering. 4 And he shall bring the bull to the entrance of the tent of meeting before the LORD, and he shall lay his hand on the head of the bull, and he shall slaughter the bull before the LORD. 5 And the anointed priest shall take some of the blood of the bull, and he shall bring it into the tent of meeting. 6 And the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and he shall spatter some of the blood seven times before the LORD, in front of the veil of the holy place. 7 And the priest shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of the incense of the fragrances before the LORD, which is in the tent of meeting; and all the blood of the bull he shall pour out at the base of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 8 And all the fat of the bull of the sin offering he shall lift off from it: the fat that covers the entrails, and all the fat which is on the entrails, 9 and the two kidneys and the fat which is on them, which is on the loins, and the lobe on the liver; with the kidneys he shall remove it, 10 just as it is lifted off from the ox of the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall make them smoke on the altar of the burnt offering. 11 And the hide of the bull and all its flesh, with its head and with its legs, and its entrails and its dung, 12 even all the bull he shall bring out to outside the camp, to a clean place, to the pour-

3:9 the whole fat tail The sheep of that region had large fat tails, counted as a choice part.
3:11 the food of a fire offering to the LORD God does not eat. The wording pictures a shared meal, with God as the host who takes the first and best portion. This was a meal with God, not just a family feast.
3:16 all fat is the LORD's Why list each animal separately when the steps are so close? God wanted every Israelite to know exactly how to come to Him. Worship was not left to guesswork or personal taste, which will matter a great deal in chapter 10.
3:17 any fat and any blood you shall not eat A statute is a fixed rule. The blood belonged to God because "the life of the flesh is in the blood" (17:11). The fat rule covered the sacrificial animals, while the blood rule covered all meat (7:22-27). The apostles asked Gentile believers to keep away from blood (Acts 15:20, 29; Gen 9:4), and believers today differ on how that applies. Through Christ we are welcomed to God's table: "I will come in to him and dine with him, and he with Me" (Rev 3:20).
4:2 When a soul sins unintentionally By mistake, by wandering off the path, or without knowing it at the time. It is the opposite of sinning "with a raised hand" (Num 15:30), in open defiance of God. Sin is not only about intentions. It is about God's holiness. We can do wrong without knowing it, and it is still wrong (Ps 19:12). The word for sin offering, chatta't, is the same word as sin itself. Many teachers call it the purification offering, because it cleansed the sinner and the tabernacle.
4:3 if the anointed priest sins, for the guilt of the people The high priest, anointed with the holy oil (8:12). He stood for the whole nation before God, so his sin brought guilt on all. When a leader in God's house sins, the damage spreads to everyone. He had to bring the most costly animal, a young bull.
4:6 in front of the veil of the holy place The veil was the curtain between the holy place and the Most Holy Place, where the ark of the covenant stood. Seven often speaks of completeness. Why carry the blood inside? The priest's sin had stained the very place where he served, so the blood had to go where the sin had reached. "Apart from shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22).
4:12 he shall bring out to outside the camp, to a clean place The priest could not eat an offering for his own sin, so the rest of the bull was burned outside the camp. Hebrews draws a straight line to Jesus: the bodies of those animals "are burned outside the camp. Therefore Jesus also, so that He might sanctify the people through His own blood, suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:11-12). He was carried outside so that we could be brought in.

ing out of the fatty ashes, and he shall burn it on wood with fire; at the pouring out of the fatty ashes it shall be burned.

For the Whole Congregation

13 And if all the congregation of Israel errs, and the matter is hidden from the eyes of the assembly, and they do one of all the commandments of the LORD concerning things which are not to be done, and they are guilty, 14 when the sin which they have sinned in it becomes known, then the assembly shall bring near a young bull, a son of the herd, for a sin offering, and they shall bring it before the tent of meeting. 15 And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands on the head of the bull before the LORD, and he shall slaughter the bull before the LORD. 16 And the anointed priest shall bring some of the blood of the bull into the tent of meeting. 17 And the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and he shall spatter it seven times before the LORD, in front of the veil. 18 And some of the blood he shall put on the horns of the altar which is before the LORD, which is in the tent of meeting; and all the blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 19 And all its fat he shall lift off from it, and he shall make it smoke on the altar. 20 And he shall do to the bull just as he did to the bull of the sin offering; so he shall do to it. And the priest shall make atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them. 21 And he shall bring out the bull to outside the camp, and he shall burn it just as he burned the first bull; it is the sin offering of the assembly.

For a Leader and for the People

22 When a leader sins, and does unintentionally one of all the commandments of the LORD his God concerning things which are not to be done, and he is guilty, 23 or his sin which he has sinned in it is made known to him, then he shall bring as his offering a goat of the goats, a male without blemish. 24 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the goat, and he shall slaughter it in the place where he slaughters the burnt offering before the LORD; it is a sin offering. 25 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and he shall put it on the horns of the altar of the burnt offering; and its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar of the burnt offering. 26 And all its fat he shall make smoke on the altar, like the fat of the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall make atonement for him from his sin, and it shall be forgiven him. 27 And if one soul of the people of the land sins unintentionally, in doing one of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which are not to be done, and he is guilty, 28 or his sin which he has sinned is made known to him, then he shall bring as his offering a female goat of the goats, without blemish, a female, for his sin which he has sinned. 29 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering, and he shall slaughter the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering. 30 And the priest shall take some of its blood with his finger, and he shall put it on the horns of the altar of the burnt offering; and all its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar. 31 And all its fat he shall remove, just as the fat was removed from on the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall make it smoke on the altar for a soothing aroma to the LORD. And the priest shall make atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him. 32 And if he brings a lamb as his offering for a sin offering, he shall bring it a female without blemish. 33 And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin offering, and he shall slaughter it for a sin offering in the place where he slaughters the burnt offering. 34 And the priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and he shall put it on the horns of the altar of the burnt offering; and all its blood he shall pour out at the base of the altar. 35 And all its fat he shall remove, just as the fat of the sheep is removed from the sacrifice of the peace offerings; and the priest shall make them smoke on the altar, on the fire offerings of the LORD. And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

4:13 if all the congregation of Israel errs, and the matter is hidden from the eyes of the assembly A whole nation can drift into sin together without seeing it. The elders, the older leaders of the tribes, laid their hands on the bull for the people. Churches and nations can sin together too, and we should ask God to show us the sins we have grown used to.

4:20 it shall be forgiven them The word forgiven appears here for the first time in Leviticus, and it repeats to the end of the chapter. God does not leave His people stuck in guilt. When sin is found, the answer is not despair but confession and the sacrifice He provided.

4:22 When a leader sins A tribal chief or ruler, not a priest. This time the blood went on the bronze altar in the courtyard, and the priest ate the meat (6:26). A leader's sin was dealt with in the open where all could see. Leaders are not above God's law.

4:28 or his sin which he has sinned is made known to him Someone might point it out, or his own conscience might wake up. The ordinary Israelite brought a female goat, or a lamb (4:32).

4:31 the priest shall make atonement for him, and it shall be forgiven him The same promise given for the high priest and the whole nation is given to the ordinary person. God did not have one kind of forgiveness for important people and a lesser kind for everyone else.

4:32 if he brings a lamb as his offering for a sin offering John the Baptist said, "Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!" (John 1:29). This lamb covered one man's sin. The Lamb of God takes sin away. God "made the One who did not know sin to be sin on our behalf" (2 Cor 5:21). We come to God through Jesus, whose one sacrifice is enough, and "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and righteous so that He may forgive us the sins" (1 John 1:9).

Sins That Need a Sin Offering

1 And when a soul sins, and hears the voice of an oath, and he is a witness, or he has seen or he has known, if he does not tell it, then he shall bear his iniquity. 2 Or a soul who touches any unclean thing, or a carcass of an unclean living thing, or a carcass of unclean livestock, or a carcass of an unclean swarming thing, and it is hidden from him, and he is unclean, and he is guilty; 3 or when he touches the uncleanness of man, as to any of his uncleanness by which he becomes unclean, and it is hidden from him, and he has come to know it, and he is guilty; 4 or when a soul swears, speaking rashly with the lips to do evil or to do good, as to anything that a man speaks rashly in an oath, and it is hidden from him, and he has come to know it, and he is guilty of one of these; 5 and it shall be, when he is guilty of one of these, then he shall confess that he has sinned in it. 6 And he shall bring his guilt offering to the LORD for his sin which he has sinned, a female from the flock, a ewe lamb or a female goat of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him from his sin. 7 And if his hand does not reach the sufficiency of a sheep, then he shall bring as his guilt offering for that which he has sinned two turtledoves or two young of the dove to the LORD, one for a sin offering and one for a burnt offering. 8 And he shall bring them to the priest, and he shall bring near the one which is for the sin offering first, and he shall nip off its head from the front of its neck, and he shall not divide it. 9 And he shall spatter some of the blood of the sin offering on the wall of the altar, and what remains of the blood shall be drained out at the base of the altar; it is a sin offering. 10 And the second he shall offer as a burnt offering according to the ordinance; and the priest shall make atonement for him from his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him. 11 And if his hand does not attain to two turtledoves or to two young of the dove, then he shall bring as his offering for that which he has sinned approximately 2 quarts (a tenth of the ephah) of fine flour for a sin offering; he shall not place oil on it, and he shall not put frankincense on it, for it is a sin offering. 12 And he shall bring it to the priest, and the priest shall take a handful from it, the fullness of his handful, its memorial portion, and he shall make it smoke on the altar, on the fire offerings of the LORD; it is a sin offering. 13 And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned in any one of these, and it shall be forgiven him; and the rest shall be the priest's, like the grain offering.'"

The Guilt Offering

14 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 15 "When a soul acts unfaithfully in unfaithfulness, and sins unintentionally in regard to the holy things of the LORD, then he shall bring his guilt offering to the LORD, a ram without blemish from the flock, by your valuation in silver shekels, by the shekel of the holy place, for a guilt offering. 16 And that which he has sinned in regard to the holy thing he shall repay, and let him add its fifth to it, and he shall give it to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the guilt offering, and it shall be forgiven him. 17 And if a soul sins and does one of all the commandments of the LORD concerning things which are not to be done, and he did not know it, and he is guilty, then he shall bear his iniquity. 18 And he shall bring a ram without blemish from the flock,

5:1 if he does not tell it, then he shall bear his iniquity A public oath was a call for anyone who knew something about a crime to come forward. To bear iniquity means to carry the guilt and be answerable to God for it. This sin is something not done. Silence can be sin when the truth is needed (James 4:17). God cares about justice for the one wronged.
5:2 it is hidden from him Being unclean meant a person was not fit to come near God's tabernacle until he was cleansed (chapters 11 to 15 explain it). The problem here is that he did not notice and went on as if nothing had happened. When he came to know it, he was guilty.
5:4 speaking rashly with the lips A promise made without thinking and then forgotten or broken. Jesus taught that our yes should mean yes and our no, no (Matt 5:37). Careless words matter to God.
5:5 he shall confess that he has sinned in it The first time Leviticus speaks of confession. The offering was not a ritual a person could go through while hiding his sin. He had to name it. "My sin I made known to You, and my iniquity I did not cover" (Ps 32:5).
5:6 he shall bring his guilt offering to the LORD The Hebrew word, asham, can mean guilt, the penalty for guilt, or the guilt offering. In verses 1 to 13 the animal is clearly a sin offering, and asham describes it as the payment due for his guilt. Some teachers see these verses as a bridge between the two offerings. The guilt offering proper starts at verse 14.
5:7 if his hand does not reach the sufficiency of a sheep A Hebrew way of saying, if he cannot afford a sheep. The sin offering bird came first, then the burnt offering. Sin had to be dealt with before the worshiper could give himself wholly to God. We do not start by offering God our devotion. We start by having our sin forgiven, and then we give Him our lives.
5:11 he shall not place oil on it, and he shall not put frankincense on it About two quarts of flour, for the very poor. No oil or frankincense, for this was a time for confession, not joy. But is there no forgiveness without blood (Heb 9:22)? Hebrews says "almost all things are purified with blood" (Heb 9:22), and this handful was burned on top of the animal offerings already on the altar (5:12). God would not let poverty keep anyone from forgiveness. No one is too poor to come to Christ (Eph 2:8-9).
5:15 When a soul acts unfaithfully in unfaithfulness, and sins unintentionally in regard to the holy things of the LORD The holy things were what belonged to God: tithes, firstborn animals, offerings, the priests' portions. Holding back or using them, even by mistake, robbed God. A shekel was a weight of silver a little under half an ounce, and the ram had to be worth a set amount.
5:16 let him add its fifth to it He paid back what he owed plus twenty percent. The guilt offering was about repair. Sin is not only a stain to be washed but a debt. Isaiah says of the coming Servant, "If His soul makes a guilt offering, He will see offspring" (Isa 53:10). We had robbed God of the glory and obedience we owed Him, and Christ made full payment.
5:17 and he did not know it, and he is guilty Humbling. We are guilty before God for more than we know. That should keep us from pride and send us often to the cross. It also comforts us: God covers even the sins we cannot see. Paul said, "I am conscious of nothing against myself, yet I am not justified by this" (1 Cor 4:4). Our standing rests on Christ, not on our self-examination.

by your valuation, for a guilt offering to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for him for his unintentional error in which he erred, and he himself did not know it; and it shall be forgiven him. 19 It is a guilt offering; he has certainly been guilty toward the LORD."

Making Things Right with a Neighbor

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "When a soul sins and acts unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against the LORD, and lies to his fellow about a deposit, or about a pledge of the hand, or about robbery, or has extorted from his fellow, 3 or has found a lost thing and lies about it, and swears to a falsehood, about any one of all that a man may do, sinning in them, 4 then it shall be, when he sins and is guilty, that he shall return the thing robbed which he robbed, or the thing extorted which he extorted, or the deposit which was deposited with him, or the lost thing which he found, 5 or anything about which he swore to a falsehood; and he shall repay it in its principal, and let him add its fifth to it; to the one whose it is he shall give it, on the day of his being guilty. 6 And his guilt offering he shall bring to the LORD, a ram without blemish from the flock, by your valuation, for a guilt offering, to the priest. 7 And the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD, and it shall be forgiven him, concerning any one of all that he may do, becoming guilty by it."

The Law of the Burnt Offering

8 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 9 "Command Aaron (Aharon) and his sons, saying, 'This is the law of the burnt offering: it is the burnt offering on the hearth on the altar all the night until the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be kept burning on it. 10 And the priest shall put on his linen garment, and linen undergarments he shall put on over his flesh; and he shall lift up the fatty ashes into which the fire consumes the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall place it beside the altar. 11 And he shall strip off his garments, and he shall put on other garments, and he shall bring out the fatty ashes to outside the camp, to a clean place. 12 And the fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it; it shall not go out; and the priest shall kindle wood on it morning by morning, and he shall arrange the burnt offering on it, and he shall make the fat portions of the peace offerings smoke on it. 13 A fire shall be kept burning continually on the altar; it shall not go out.

The Law of the Grain Offering

14 And this is the law of the grain offering: the sons of Aaron shall bring it near before the LORD, to the front of the altar. 15 And he shall lift up from it in his handful some of the fine flour of the grain offering and some of its oil, and all the frankincense which is on the grain offering, and he shall make it smoke on the altar, a soothing aroma, its memorial portion to the LORD. 16 And the remainder of it Aaron and his sons shall eat; it shall be eaten as unleavened bread in a holy place; in the courtyard of the tent of meeting they shall eat it. 17 It shall not be baked leavened. I have given it as their portion from My fire offerings; it is a holy of holies, like the sin offering and like the guilt offering. 18 Every male among the sons of Aaron shall eat it; it is a due forever throughout your generations from the fire offerings of the LORD. Whatever touches them shall be holy.'" 19 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 20 "This is the offering of Aaron and his sons which they shall bring near to the LORD on the day he is anointed: approximately 2 quarts (a tenth of the ephah) of fine flour as a grain offering continually, half of it in the morning and half of it in the evening. 21 On a griddle it shall be made with oil; well-mixed you shall bring it in; in broken pieces, a grain offering of bits, you shall bring it near, a soothing aroma to the LORD. 22 And the anointed priest in his place from among his sons shall offer it; it is a

6:2 acts unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against the LORD, and lies to his fellow The sentence starts with the LORD and ends with a neighbor. Every wrong done to another is also sin against God (Ps 51:4). A deposit was something left for safekeeping, a pledge was security for a loan, and extortion is taking by pressure or threat. Each wrong ends with swearing "to a falsehood" to cover it.

6:5 he shall repay it in its principal, and let him add its fifth to it Restitution means paying back what was taken. He gave back the full amount plus twenty percent, to the person wronged, and "on the day of his being guilty." Zacchaeus went far beyond this: "I restore fourfold" (Luke 19:8). A changed heart wants to make things right.

6:6 his guilt offering he shall bring to the LORD The order matters. First he made things right with his neighbor, then he came to the altar. Jesus taught the same: "first be reconciled to your brother, and then, having come, offer your gift" (Matt 5:24). We are not forgiven by paying people back. But a forgiven person wants to repair the harm he has done.

6:9 This is the law of the burnt offering Now the priests are told how to care for the offerings. Even the ashes were treated with respect, carried in clean garments to a clean place outside the camp.

6:13 A fire shall be kept burning continually on the altar; it shall not go out Three times God says the fire must not go out. In 9:24 God Himself sent fire on this altar, and the priests fed it every morning. The morning and evening burnt offerings were offered on it daily (Exod 29:38-42). The way to God was always open. For us it is open through Christ, "always living to intercede" (Heb 7:25). And we are to keep our own devotion burning: "Do not quench the Spirit" (1 Thess 5:19).

6:16 it shall be eaten as unleavened bread in a holy place God fed His servants from His own table. It was "a holy of holies," most holy, like the sin and guilt offerings.

6:18 Whatever touches them shall be holy This probably means anything that touched these most holy foods now belonged to the sanctuary and had to be treated that way. Holiness in Leviticus is real and weighty, not a feeling. Things given to God were set apart from common use.

6:20 on the day he is anointed A special grain offering of the high priest, every morning and evening for as long as he served. None of it was eaten. A priest could not be both giver and receiver of his own offering. It reminded him daily to give himself to God all over again.

due forever to the LORD; it shall be made to smoke whole.
23 And every grain offering of a priest shall be whole; it shall not be eaten."

The Law of the Sin Offering

24 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 25 "Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, 'This is the law of the sin offering: in the place where the burnt offering is slaughtered, the sin offering shall be slaughtered before the LORD; it is a holy of holies. 26 The priest who makes it a sin offering shall eat it; in a holy place it shall be eaten, in the courtyard of the tent of meeting. 27 Whatever touches its flesh shall be holy; and when any of its blood spatters on the garment, that on which it spatters you shall wash in a holy place. 28 And an earthenware vessel in which it is boiled shall be broken; and if it was boiled in a bronze vessel, then it shall be scoured and it shall be rinsed with water. 29 Every male among the priests shall eat it; it is a holy of holies. 30 And any sin offering, some of whose blood is brought into the tent of meeting to make atonement in the holy place, shall not be eaten; with fire it shall be burned.

LEVITICUS 7

The Law of the Guilt Offering

1 And this is the law of the guilt offering: it is a holy of holies. 2 In the place where they slaughter the burnt offering they shall slaughter the guilt offering, and its blood he shall sprinkle on the altar all around. 3 And all its fat he shall bring near from it: the fat tail, and the fat that covers the entrails, 4 and the two kidneys and the fat which is on them, which is on the loins, and the lobe on the liver; with the kidneys he shall remove it. 5 And the priest shall make them smoke on the altar as a fire offering to the LORD; it is a guilt offering. 6 Every male among the priests shall eat it; in a holy place it shall be eaten; it is a holy of holies. 7 Like the sin offering is the guilt offering; one law is for them. The priest who makes atonement with it, it shall be his. 8 And the priest who brings near the burnt offering of a man, the hide of the burnt offering which he has brought near is for the priest; it shall be his. 9 And every grain offering that is baked in the oven, and all that is made in the pan and on a griddle, is for the priest who brings it near; it shall be his. 10 And every grain offering, mixed with oil or dry, shall be for all the sons of Aaron (Aharon), each man like his brother.

The Law of the Peace Offering

11 And this is the law of the sacrifice of the peace offerings which he shall bring near to the LORD. 12 If he brings it near for thanksgiving, then he shall bring near with the sacrifice of the thanksgiving unleavened cakes mixed with oil, and unleavened wafers smeared with oil, and fine flour well-mixed, cakes mixed with oil. 13 With cakes of leavened bread he shall bring near his offering, with the sacrifice of the thanksgiving of his peace offerings. 14 And he shall bring near from it one from every offering as a contribution to the LORD; to the priest who sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings, it shall be his. 15 And the flesh of the sacrifice of the thanksgiving of his peace offerings shall be eaten on the day of his offering; he shall not leave any of it until morning. 16 And if the sacrifice of his offering is a vow or a freewill offering, on the day he brings near his sacrifice it shall be eaten; and on the next day the remainder of it also shall be eaten. 17 And the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burned with fire. 18 And if any of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings is eaten at all on the third day, it shall not be accepted; for the one who brings it near it shall not be reckoned to him; it shall be a foul thing,

6:26 The priest who makes it a sin offering shall eat it For the sin offerings of a leader or an ordinary Israelite, whose blood went on the bronze altar outside. The offering was so holy that a clay pot used to boil it had to be broken, since clay would soak up the juices. A bronze pot could be scoured.
6:30 any sin offering, some of whose blood is brought into the tent of meeting The offerings for the high priest and for the whole congregation (4:3-21). Their bodies were burned outside the camp, the rule Hebrews 13:11 points to. "We have an altar from which those who serve the tabernacle have no authority to eat" (Heb 13:10). Our sacrifice is Christ. All believers are now "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet 2:5), called to handle God's things with reverence.
7:1 this is the law of the guilt offering Chapter 5 told the people when to bring it. Here the priests learn how to offer it.
7:7 The priest who makes atonement with it, it shall be his The priest who did the work received the meat. The priests grew no crops and lived from serving at the altar. Paul uses this very pattern: "those who attend at the altar share with the altar" (1 Cor 9:13), and so those who preach the gospel should live from the gospel.
7:10 each man like his brother These details kept things fair among the priests. No priest was to grab more than his share. Eli's sons did exactly that, taking meat by force before the fat was burned, and the LORD judged them (1 Sam 2:12-17). Greed in God's house is a serious sin.
7:13 With cakes of leavened bread he shall bring near his offering The one place where leaven was part of an offering, because this bread was eaten at the meal, not burned on the altar.
7:15 he shall not leave any of it until morning A whole animal is a lot of meat. To eat it in one day a family had to invite others: neighbors, servants, the poor, the Levite (Deut 12:18; 16:11). Giving thanks was meant to be shared. Our thank offering now is "a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of lips confessing His name" (Heb 13:15).
7:16 a vow or a freewill offering A vow offering paid a promise made to God, often in a time of trouble (Ps 66:13-14). A freewill offering was given simply out of a glad heart.
7:18 it shall be a foul thing In a hot land with no refrigeration, meat spoiled fast, so the rule made good sense. But the main point is spiritual. This was holy food from God's altar, to be eaten God's way. A sacrifice treated carelessly lost its worth.

and the soul who eats of it shall bear its iniquity. 19 And the flesh which touches any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burned with fire. Fat and Blood Forbidden

22 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 23 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'Any fat of ox and sheep and goat you shall not eat. 24 And the fat of a carcass and the fat of a torn animal may be used for any work, but you shall certainly not eat it. 25 For anyone who eats fat from the animal from which one brings near a fire offering to the LORD, then the soul who eats shall be cut off from its kinsmen. 26 And any blood you shall not eat in all your dwellings, whether of the bird or of the livestock. 27 Any soul who eats any blood, then that soul shall be cut off from its kinsmen.'"

The Priests' Portion

28 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 29 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'The one who brings near the sacrifice of his peace offerings to the LORD shall bring his offering to the LORD from the sacrifice of his peace offerings. 30 His own hands shall bring the fire offerings of the LORD: the fat with the breast he shall bring, the breast, to wave it as a wave offering before the LORD. 31 And the priest shall make the fat smoke on the altar, and the breast shall be for Aaron and for his sons. 32 And the right thigh you shall give as a contribution to the priest from the sacrifices of your peace offerings. 33 The one among the sons of Aaron who brings near the blood of the peace offerings and the fat, the right thigh shall be his for a portion. 34 For the breast of the wave offering and the thigh of the contribution I have taken from the sons of Israel, from the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and I have given them to Aaron the priest and to his sons for a due forever from the sons of Israel.'" 35 This is the anointed portion of Aaron and the anointed portion of his sons from the fire offerings of the LORD, on the day he brought them near to serve as priests to the LORD, 36 which the LORD commanded to give to them on the day he anointed them, from the sons of Israel, as a statute forever throughout their generations. 37 This is the law for the burnt offering, for the grain offering, and for the sin offering, and for the guilt offering, and for the installation, and for the sacrifice of the peace offerings, 38 which the LORD commanded Moses on Mount Sinai (Sinay), on the day He commanded the sons of Israel to bring near their offerings to the LORD, in the wilderness of Sinai.

The Ordination of Aaron and His Sons

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Take Aaron (Aharon) and his sons with him, and the garments, and the oil of the anointing, and the bull of the sin offering, and the two rams, and the basket of the unleavened bread, 3 and assemble all the congregation to the entrance of the tent of meeting." 4 And Moses did just as the LORD had commanded him, and the congregation was assembled to the entrance of the tent of meeting. 5 And Moses said to the congregation, "This is the thing which the LORD has commanded to do." 6 And Moses brought near Aaron and his sons, and he washed them with water. 7 And he put the tunic on him, and he girded him with the sash, and he clothed him with the 7:20 that soul shall be cut off from its kinsmen A serious penalty. Teachers differ on its exact meaning: being put out of the community, death by the hand of God, or a family line ending. Whatever the meaning, it meant losing one's place among God's people. Paul warns in the same spirit about eating the Lord's Supper "unworthily" (1 Cor 11:27-28). We come to the Lord's table not perfect, but having confessed our sin and trusting Christ.

7:24 may be used for any work Fat from an animal that died or was torn could be used for lamps or leather, but not eaten. Christians are not under the food laws of Moses (Mark 7:19; Col 2:16-17), but the lesson stands: what belongs to God must not be taken for ourselves.
7:30 His own hands shall bring the fire offerings of the LORD A wave offering was lifted up and moved toward the altar and back, showing the gift was given to God and then given back by Him to the priest. The worshiper could not send his offering with someone else. Worship is personal. No one else can bring your thanks to God for you.
7:34 I have given them to Aaron the priest and to his sons The right thigh was one of the best cuts. The priests did not take these portions. God gave them.
7:37 This is the law for the burnt offering A summary of chapters 1 to 7. The installation is the ordination offering of chapter 8. Five offerings, each with its lesson: full surrender, gifts of thanks, fellowship with God, forgiveness and cleansing, the payment of a debt. Each was a shadow, and Christ is the substance (Col 2:17). His one offering did all they pictured, "once for all" (Heb 10:10). They were never a way to be saved.
8:2 Take Aaron and his sons with him Ordination means being formally set apart for a sacred task. It was done before "all the congregation," so the whole nation would know whom God had chosen. Aaron was Moses' brother, but this was not favoritism. No one takes the honor of high priest for himself, but is called by God, as Aaron was (Heb 5:4). Christ did not exalt Himself either (Heb 5:5).
8:6 he washed them with water Before they could put on holy clothes, they had to be cleansed.
8:7 he put the ephod on him The garments of Exodus 28. The ephod was a sleeveless vest of gold, blue, purple and scarlet thread. On it went the breastpiece with twelve stones bearing the names of the tribes, so Aaron carried Israel on his heart before the LORD (Exod 28:29).

robe, and he put the ephod on him; and he girded him with the band of the ephod, and he bound it on him with it. 8 And he placed the breastpiece on him, and he put into the breastpiece the Urim and the Thummim. 9 And he placed the turban on his head, and he placed on the turban, toward the front of his face, the plate of gold, the crown of holiness, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 10 And Moses took the oil of the anointing, and he anointed the tabernacle and all that was in it, and he sanctified them. 11 And he spattered some of it on the altar seven times, and he anointed the altar and all its articles, and the laver and its base, to sanctify them. 12 And he poured some of the oil of the anointing on the head of Aaron, and he anointed him to sanctify him. 13 And Moses brought near the sons of Aaron, and he clothed them with tunics, and he girded them with a sash, and he bound headdresses on them, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Ordination Offerings

14 And he brought close the bull of the sin offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the bull of the sin offering. 15 And he slaughtered it, and Moses took the blood, and he put it on the horns of the altar all around with his finger, and he purified the altar from sin; and the blood he poured at the base of the altar, and he sanctified it, to make atonement for it. 16 And he took all the fat that was on the entrails, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and their fat, and Moses made them smoke on the altar. 17 And the bull and its hide and its flesh and its dung he burned with fire outside the camp, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 18 And he brought near the ram of the burnt offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram. 19 And he slaughtered it, and Moses sprinkled the blood on the altar all around. 20 And the ram he cut into its pieces, and Moses made the head and the pieces and the suet smoke. 21 And the entrails and the legs he washed with water, and Moses made the whole ram smoke on the altar; it was a burnt offering for a soothing aroma; it was a fire offering to the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 22 And he brought near the second ram, the ram of installation, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram. 23 And he slaughtered it, and Moses took some of its blood, and he put it on the lobe of the right ear of Aaron, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the big toe of his right foot. 24 And he brought near the sons of Aaron, and Moses put some of the blood on the lobe of their right ear, and on the thumb of their right hand, and on the big toe of their right foot; and Moses sprinkled the blood on the altar all around. 25 And he took the fat and the fat tail, and all the fat that was on the entrails, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys and their fat, and the right thigh; 26 and from the basket of the unleavened bread that was before the LORD he took one unleavened cake, and one cake of bread with oil, and one wafer, and he placed them on the fat portions and on the right thigh. 27 And he put the whole on the palms of Aaron and on the palms of his sons, and he waved them as a wave offering before the LORD. 28 And Moses took them from on their palms, and he made them smoke on the altar on the burnt offering; they were installation offerings for a soothing aroma; it was a fire offering to the LORD. 29 And Moses took the breast, and he waved it as a wave offering before the LORD; from the ram of installation it was for Moses for a portion, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 30 And Moses took some of the oil of the anointing and some of the blood which was on the altar, and he spattered it on Aaron, on his garments, and on his sons and on the garments of his sons with him; and he sanctified Aaron, his garments, and his sons and the garments of his sons with him.

8:8 the Urim and the Thummim The words mean lights and perfections. They were used to seek God's will in certain decisions (Num 27:21), but Scripture does not tell us what they looked like or how they worked.
8:9 the plate of gold, the crown of holiness Engraved "Holiness to the LORD" (Exod 28:36). The high priest stood for the people, carried their names on his heart and wore God's holiness on his forehead. Jesus truly does all this. He is "holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners" (Heb 7:26).
8:12 he poured some of the oil of the anointing on the head of Aaron To sanctify is to set apart as holy for God. Psalm 133:2 remembers this oil running down Aaron's beard. Prophets, priests and kings were anointed with oil. Messiah in Hebrew and Christ in Greek both mean Anointed One. Jesus was anointed with the Holy Spirit (Acts 10:38), the true Prophet, Priest and King.
8:14 Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the bull of the sin offering Washed, dressed and anointed, they still needed a sin offering. Holy clothes do not make a sinful man holy. Even the altar needed cleansing (8:15). Jesus differs from Aaron here: He has no need "to offer up sacrifices first for their own sins" (Heb 7:27), for He offered Himself once for all.
8:18 the ram of the burnt offering First the sin offering dealt with their sin. Then the burnt offering showed their full surrender. Before a man can serve God, his sin must be dealt with, and then he must give himself wholly to the One he serves.
8:23 on the lobe of the right ear of Aaron, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the big toe of his right foot Many teachers see a simple meaning: the ear set apart to hear God's word, the hand to do His work, the foot to walk in His ways. The whole man was marked by the blood and given to God. A cleansed leper was marked the same way (14:14). "You are not your own, for you were bought with a price" (1 Cor 6:19-20).
8:27 he put the whole on the palms of Aaron and on the palms of his sons The word for installation means filling, as in filling the hand. Their hands were filled with the offerings they would spend their lives handling. In this one ceremony Moses served as priest, since Aaron was not yet ordained.
8:30 some of the oil of the anointing and some of the blood The blood speaks of forgiveness through a sacrifice. The oil is often a picture of the Holy Spirit (1 Sam 16:13; Acts 10:38). Every believer has both: cleansed by Christ's blood (1 John 1:7) and anointed by the Spirit (1 John 2:20, 27). All believers are "a royal priesthood" (1 Pet 2:9), offering "spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ" (1 Pet 2:5).

Seven Days at the Tent

31 And Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, "Boil the flesh at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and there you shall eat it and the bread which is in the basket of installation, just as I commanded, saying, 'Aaron and his sons shall eat it.' 32 And the remainder of the flesh and of the bread you shall burn with fire. 33 And from the entrance of the tent of meeting you shall not go out for seven days, until the day the days of your installation are completed; for seven days he shall fill your hand. 34 Just as he has done on this day, so the LORD has commanded to do, to make atonement for you. 35 And at the entrance of the tent of meeting you shall remain day and night for seven days, and you shall keep the charge of the LORD, and you shall not die; for so I have been commanded." 36 And Aaron and his sons did all the things which the LORD had commanded by the hand of Moses.

The Priests Begin Their Service

1 And it was on the eighth day, Moses (Moshe) called to Aaron (Aharon) and to his sons and to the elders of Israel (Yisra'el). 2 And he said to Aaron, "Take for yourself a calf, a young one of the herd, for a sin offering, and a ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and bring them near before the LORD. 3 And to the sons of Israel you shall speak, saying, 'Take a male goat of the goats for a sin offering, and a calf and a lamb, sons of a year, without blemish, for a burnt offering, 4 and an ox and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD, and a grain offering mixed with oil; for today the LORD will appear to you.'" 5 And they took what Moses had commanded to the front of the tent of meeting, and all the congregation drew near, and they stood before the LORD. 6 And Moses said, "This is the thing which the LORD has commanded that you shall do, so that the glory of the LORD may appear to you." 7 And Moses said to Aaron, "Draw near to the altar, and offer your sin offering and your burnt offering, and make atonement for yourself and for the people; and offer the offering of the people, and make atonement for them, just as the LORD has commanded." 8 And Aaron drew near to the altar, and he slaughtered the calf of the sin offering which was for himself. 9 And the sons of Aaron brought near the blood to him, and he dipped his finger in the blood, and he put it on the horns of the altar; and the blood he poured at the base of the altar. 10 And the fat and the kidneys and the lobe from the liver from the sin offering he made smoke on the altar, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 11 And the flesh and the hide he burned with fire outside the camp. 12 And he slaughtered the burnt offering, and the sons of Aaron handed the blood to him, and he sprinkled it on the altar all around. 13 And the burnt offering they handed to him by its pieces, and the head; and he made them smoke on the altar. 14 And he washed the entrails and the legs, and he made them smoke on the burnt offering on the altar. 15 And he brought near the offering of the people, and he took the goat of the sin offering which was for the people, and he slaughtered it, and he made it a sin offering like the first. 16 And he brought near the burnt offering, and he offered it according to the ordinance. 17 And he brought near the grain offering, and he filled his palm from it, and he made it smoke on the altar, besides the burnt offering of the morning. 18 And he slaughtered the ox and the ram, the sacrifice of the peace offerings which was for the people; and the sons of Aaron handed the blood to him, and he sprinkled it on the altar all around; 19 and the fat portions from the ox and from the ram, the fat tail, and the covering fat, and the kidneys, and the lobe of the liver. 20 And they placed the fat portions on the breasts, and he made the fat portions smoke on the altar. 21 And the breasts and the right thigh Aaron waved as a wave offering before the LORD, just as Moses had commanded.

8:35 you shall keep the charge of the LORD, and you shall not die For a full week they stayed at the tent, and the ceremony was repeated each day (Exod 29:35-37). These were not empty words. Coming near a holy God carelessly was deadly, as chapter 10 will show. We have a High Priest who never needs to be replaced (Heb 7:23-25).
8:36 Aaron and his sons did all the things which the LORD had commanded The chapter ends with full obedience. For the moment, everything was done God's way.
9:1 on the eighth day The seven days of ordination were finished (8:33), and the eighth day was a new beginning. The elders were the leaders of the tribes.
9:2 Take for yourself a calf, a young one of the herd, for a sin offering Some have noticed that the first animal Aaron offered for his own sin was a calf, not long after he made the golden calf at this same mountain (Exod 32). Scripture does not draw the link, but it is hard to miss.
9:4 for today the LORD will appear to you Every kind of offering from chapters 1 to 4 was brought. Everything pointed toward meeting with God.
9:6 so that the glory of the LORD may appear to you The glory of the LORD is the visible sign of His presence, often a bright cloud or fire (Exod 24:16-17; 40:34). Do what God commanded, and you will see His glory. There is no shortcut. Many want God's glory without coming the way He has provided, and for us that way is Christ (John 14:6).
9:7 make atonement for yourself and for the people Aaron had to be made right with God before he could stand for others (Heb 5:3).
9:10 just as the LORD had commanded Moses Aaron's first day on the job. He tried nothing new or creative. For a priest, faithfulness meant doing what God said, the way God said to do it.
9:17 besides the burnt offering of the morning The daily morning burnt offering had already begun (Exod 29:38-42). The order of the day was sin offering, burnt offering, grain offering, peace offering. First sin is dealt with, then the worshiper gives himself, then his gifts, then fellowship at God's table. That is the order of the gospel too. We start with the cross.

The Glory of the LORD Appears

22 And Aaron lifted up his hands toward the people, and he blessed them; and he came down from offering the sin offering and the burnt offering and the peace offerings. 23 And Moses and Aaron went into the tent of meeting, and they came out, and they blessed the people; and the glory of the LORD appeared to all the people. 24 And fire went out from before the LORD, and it consumed on the altar the burnt offering and the fat portions; and all the people saw, and they shouted, and they fell on their faces.

Nadab and Abihu

1 And the sons of Aaron (Aharon), Nadab (Nadav) and Abihu (Avihu), took each man his censer, and they put fire in them, and they placed incense on it, and they brought near before the LORD strange fire, which He had not commanded them. 2 And fire went out from before the LORD, and it consumed them, and they died before the LORD. 3 And Moses (Moshe) said to Aaron, "This is what the LORD spoke, saying, 'Among those near Me I will be sanctified, and before the face of all the people I will be glorified.'" And Aaron was silent. 4 And Moses called to Mishael and to Elzaphan (Eltsafan), the sons of Uzziel (Uzi'el), the uncle of Aaron, and he said to them, "Draw near, carry your brothers from before the holy place to outside the camp." 5 And they drew near, and they carried them in their tunics to outside the camp, just as Moses had spoken. 6 And Moses said to Aaron and to Eleazar (Elazar) and to Ithamar (Itamar), his sons, "Do not let loose the hair of your heads, and do not tear your garments, and you shall not die, and He shall not be angry with all the congregation; and your brothers, all the house of Israel (Yisra'el), shall weep over the burning which the LORD has burned. 7 And from the entrance of the tent of meeting you shall not go out, lest you die; for the oil of the anointing of the LORD is on you." And they did according to the word of Moses.

Rules for the Priests

8 And the LORD spoke to Aaron, saying, 9 "Do not drink wine and strong drink, you and your sons with you, when you go into the tent of meeting, and you shall not die; it is a statute forever throughout your generations, 10 and to separate between the holy and the profane, and between the unclean and the clean, 11 and to teach the sons of Israel all the statutes which the LORD has spoken to them by the hand of Moses." 12 And Moses spoke to Aaron and to Eleazar and to Ithamar, his sons who were left, "Take the grain offering that is left from the fire offerings of the LORD, and eat it as unleavened bread beside the altar, for it is a holy of holies. 13 And you shall eat it in a holy place, for it is your due and

9:22 Aaron lifted up his hands toward the people, and he blessed them The words are not given here, but Numbers 6:24-26 gives the blessing God later told the priests to speak. After the sacrifices came the blessing. The last thing Jesus did before He went up into heaven was to lift up His hands and bless His disciples (Luke 24:50-51).
9:24 fire went out from before the LORD God Himself lit the altar fire, or perhaps added His fire to it, in a way all could see. It was His sign that He accepted the offerings and the priesthood, the fire that must never go out (6:13). Compare 2 Chronicles 7:1 and 1 Kings 18:38.
9:24 they shouted, and they fell on their faces Joy and awe together. Real worship is not only happy and not only fearful, because God is both good and holy. At Pentecost the Spirit came with "tongues being distributed, as of fire" (Acts 2:3), God now dwelling in His people. Do you come to worship with both joy and reverence?
10:1 strange fire, which He had not commanded them Nadab and Abihu, Aaron's oldest sons, had seen the God of Israel on Sinai (Exod 24:9-10) and had just been ordained. A censer was a small pan for burning coals with incense sprinkled on top. Strange fire means foreign or unauthorized. Scripture does not spell out the wrong, so we should be careful. Many believe they took fire from somewhere other than the altar (16:12). Some think they came at a time or place God had not set, and because of verse 9 some suggest drink. The text says plainly only that they came to God their own way and not His.
10:2 fire went out from before the LORD, and it consumed them The same words as 9:24. The fire that showed God's acceptance now showed His judgment, for "our God is also a consuming fire" (Heb 12:29). This was the first day of the priesthood. Had God let it pass, Israel would have learned His commands about worship did not matter. He does not deal with every sin this way, or none of us would be alive. But at the start of new things He has given clear warnings (2 Sam 6:7; Acts 5:1-11). The way to God matters, and God Himself provided it.
10:3 Among those near Me I will be sanctified Those near Me means the priests. The closer a person stands to God's work, the more seriously God takes how he handles it (James 3:1). God will be treated as holy, by His servants' obedience or by His judgment.
10:3 And Aaron was silent Aaron lost two sons in a moment. He did not argue, accuse God or explain it away. There are times in grief when the only right response is to be still before God. His silence was a kind of trust that God was holy and just even in this. If you carry a loss you do not understand, the same holy God is "compassionate and gracious" (Exod 34:6) and near to the brokenhearted (Ps 34:18).
10:5 they carried them in their tunics to outside the camp Mishael and Elzaphan were Aaron's cousins, Levites but not priests. Aaron and his sons could not touch a dead body during their ordination (21:1, 10-12). The fire took their lives without burning up their bodies or their garments. They were carried out still wearing the clothes of an office they had dishonored.
10:6 your brothers, all the house of Israel, shall weep Loose hair and torn clothes were the usual signs of mourning. The anointed priests on duty could not leave their post or mourn in public, which would have looked like a protest against God's judgment. But grief was allowed. The whole nation would weep for them. The work of God's house had to go on, even through tears.
10:8 the LORD spoke to Aaron Up to now God had spoken through Moses. Right after the tragedy He speaks to Aaron directly, a kindness in itself.
10:9 Do not drink wine and strong drink Strong drink means fermented drinks other than wine, like beer. The timing makes many think Nadab and Abihu had been drinking, but the text does not say so. Priests on duty needed clear heads (Eph 5:18).
10:10 to separate between the holy and the profane, and between the unclean and the clean Profane means common, not set apart for God. The priests had to know the difference, keep it, and teach it, for they were Israel's Bible teachers (Mal 2:7). Chapters 11 to 15 teach exactly these differences. Anyone who leads God's people needs a clear head and a pure heart.
10:12 his sons who were left Ordinary duties after an extraordinary loss. Yet there is grace here. God did not cast off Aaron's family. The priesthood went on through Eleazar and Ithamar, and they still had their place at God's table.

the due of your sons from the fire offerings of the LORD; for so I have been commanded. 14 And the breast of the wave offering and the thigh of the contribution you shall eat in a clean place, you and your sons and your daughters with you; for as your due and the due of your sons they have been given from the sacrifices of the peace offerings of the sons of Israel. 15 The thigh of the contribution and the breast of the wave offering, with the fire offerings of the fat portions, they shall bring to wave as a wave offering before the LORD; and it shall be for you and for your sons with you for a due forever, just as the LORD has commanded."

The Uneaten Sin Offering

16 And Moses diligently sought the goat of the sin offering, and look, it had been burned; and he was angry with Eleazar and with Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who were left, saying, 17 "Why did you not eat the sin offering in the place of holiness? For it is a holy of holies, and He has given it to you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for them before the LORD. 18 Look, its blood was not brought into the holy place within; you should certainly have eaten it in the holy place, just as I commanded." 19 And Aaron spoke to Moses, "Look, today they have brought near their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD, and things like these have happened to me; and if I had eaten a sin offering today, would it be good in the eyes of the LORD?" 20 And Moses heard, and it was good in his eyes.

Clean and Unclean Animals

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) and to Aaron (Aharon), saying to them, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'This is the living thing which you may eat from all the animals which are on the earth. 3 Everything that divides a hoof and cleaves a cleft of hooves, bringing up cud, among the animals, it you may eat. 4 Only this you shall not eat, of those that bring up the cud and of those that divide the hoof: the camel, for it brings up cud, and a hoof it does not divide; it is unclean to you. 5 And the rock badger, for it brings up cud, and a hoof it does not divide; it is unclean to you. 6 And the hare, for it brings up cud, and a hoof it does not divide; it is unclean to you. 7 And the pig, for it divides a hoof and cleaves a cleft of the hoof, and it does not chew cud; it is unclean to you. 8 Of their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcass you shall not touch; they are unclean to you. 9 This you may eat of all that is in the waters: all that has fins and scales in the waters, in the seas and in the streams, them you may eat. 10 And all that does not have fins and scales in the seas and in the streams, of every swarming thing of the waters and of every living being which is in the waters, they are a detestable thing to you. 11 And they shall be a detestable thing to you; of their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcass you shall detest. 12 All that does not have fins and scales in the waters, it is a detestable thing to you. 13 And these you shall detest among the birds; they shall not be eaten; they are a detestable thing: the eagle and the bearded vulture and the osprey, 14 and the black kite and the hawk according to its kind, 15 every raven according to its kind, 16 and the ostrich and the screech owl and the gull and the falcon according to its kind, 17 and the little owl and the cormorant and the great owl, 18 and the barn owl and the desert owl and the Egyptian vulture, 19 and the stork, the heron according to its kind, and the hoopoe and the bat. 20 Every flying swarming thing that walks on four legs, it is a detestable thing to you. 21 Only this you may eat of every flying swarming thing that walks on four legs:

10:17 to bear the iniquity of the congregation The people's sin offering should have been eaten, since its blood was not brought inside (6:26, 30), and Moses feared another failure. When the priest ate it, he in some way carried the people's guilt as their representative. Our High Priest did more: He "Himself bore our sins in His body on the tree" (1 Pet 2:24).
10:19 would it be good in the eyes of the LORD On the day he lost two sons for dishonoring God, Aaron did not feel fit to eat the most holy food as if nothing had happened. He was not rebelling. He was afraid of treating it lightly.
10:20 it was good in his eyes Moses understood, and since God gave no rebuke, it seems He accepted it too. Some teachers read Aaron's answer differently. Nadab and Abihu acted in pride and were judged. Aaron fell short of the letter out of humble grief and was accepted (Ps 51:17). We come through Christ, the one way God provided, "with boldness to the throne of grace" (Heb 4:16), and with reverence (Heb 12:28-29).
11:1 the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron Aaron is included because the priests would teach these laws (10:10-11).
11:3 Everything that divides a hoof and cleaves a cleft of hooves, bringing up cud A split hoof and chewing the cud: cattle, sheep, goats and deer. Clean and unclean in Leviticus do not mean dirty or sinful in themselves. Clean meant fit to come near God's presence, or fit for God's people to eat. Unclean meant unfit, and an unclean person could not come to the tabernacle until made clean again. Most uncleanness came from ordinary life, not from sin.
11:6 the hare, for it brings up cud The phrase describes what people saw, an animal that keeps working its jaw. Hares also eat part of their food a second time, though not as cattle do. Scripture describes animals by how they appear, not by modern scientific categories. Some teachers explain it differently.
11:9 all that has fins and scales A simple test anyone could use. A fisherman did not need a priest to check his catch. Holiness was meant to be part of everyday life, down to the dinner table. "Detestable" (11:10) is a strong word: Israel was to hold these creatures in settled dislike, at least as food.
11:13 these you shall detest among the birds Most are birds of prey or scavengers. Many of them eat dead flesh or blood, and Israel was not to eat blood (3:17; 7:26), so it fits that creatures who live by it were unclean. That is a common explanation, not the only one. Some Hebrew bird names are hard to identify today, so Bibles name some differently. The Hebrew word for bird means any flying creature, so the bat is listed (11:19).
11:21 to leap with them on the earth "Walks on four legs" is the ordinary way of speaking of creatures that creep close to the ground. Insects that hop on jointed legs, like locusts and grasshoppers, could be eaten. John the Baptist lived on "locusts and wild honey" (Mark 1:6).

that which has legs above its feet, to leap with them on the earth. 22 These of them you may eat: the locust according to its kind, and the bald locust according to its kind, and the cricket according to its kind, and the grasshopper according to its kind. 23 And every flying swarming thing which has four feet, it is a detestable thing to you.

Uncleanness from Carcasses

24 And by these you shall make yourselves unclean: everyone who touches their carcass shall be unclean until the evening. 25 And everyone who carries any of their carcass shall wash his garments, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 26 As to every animal which divides a hoof and does not cleave a cleft, and does not bring up cud, they are unclean to you; everyone who touches them shall be unclean. 27 And everything that walks on its paws, among every living thing that walks on four feet, they are unclean to you; everyone who touches their carcass shall be unclean until the evening. 28 And the one who carries their carcass shall wash his garments, and he shall be unclean until the evening; they are unclean to you. 29 And this is the unclean to you among the swarming things that swarm on the earth: the weasel and the mouse and the great lizard according to its kind, 30 and the gecko and the monitor lizard and the wall lizard and the skink and the chameleon. 31 These are the unclean to you among all the swarming things; everyone who touches them in their death shall be unclean until the evening. 32 And everything on which any of them falls in their death shall be unclean, whether any vessel of wood or garment or hide or sack; any vessel with which work is done shall be brought into water, and it shall be unclean until the evening, and it shall be clean. 33 And every earthenware vessel into whose midst any of them falls, all that is in its midst shall be unclean, and it you shall break. 34 Any of all the food which may be eaten, on which water comes, shall be unclean; and any drink which may be drunk in any vessel shall be unclean. 35 And everything on which any of their carcass falls shall be unclean; an oven and a stove shall be broken down; they are unclean, and they shall be unclean to you. 36 Only a spring and a cistern, a gathering of water, shall be clean; and the one who touches their carcass shall be unclean. 37 And if any of their carcass falls on any seed for sowing which is sown, it is clean. 38 And if water is put on the seed, and any of their carcass falls on it, it is unclean to you. 39 And if any of the animals which is yours for food dies, the one who touches its carcass shall be unclean until the evening. 40 And the one who eats of its carcass shall wash his garments, and he shall be unclean until the evening; and the one who carries its carcass shall wash his garments, and he shall be unclean until the evening.

Be Holy, for I Am Holy

41 And every swarming thing that swarms on the earth is a detestable thing; it shall not be eaten. 42 Anything that walks on the belly, and anything that walks on four feet, up to anything that has many feet, of all the swarming things that swarm on the earth, you shall not eat them, for they are a detestable thing. 43 Do not make your souls detestable with any swarming thing that swarms, and you shall not make yourselves unclean with them, and thus be made unclean by them. 44 For I am the LORD your God; and you shall sanctify yourselves, and you shall be holy, for I am holy; and you shall not make your souls unclean with any swarming thing that moves on the earth. 45 For I am the LORD who brought you up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) to be God for you; and you shall be holy, for I am holy. 46 This is the law of the animals and the birds and every living being that moves in the waters, and of every being that swarms on the earth, 47 to separate between the unclean and the clean, and between the living thing that may be eaten and the living thing that may not be eaten.'"

11:24 everyone who touches their carcass shall be unclean until the evening The chapter turns from eating to touching. Being unclean until evening was not a punishment for sin, only a short break from coming near the holy things. Death, even of an animal, was the opposite of the life of the holy God. Each washing reminded Israel that death is an intruder in God's world, the result of sin (Gen 3:19; Rom 5:12).

11:29 the weasel and the mouse and the great lizard Small creatures that got into houses, pots and food. A clay pot had to be broken, since it soaked up what touched it. A spring or cistern stayed clean, and so did dry seed. These rules had real health benefits, as many have noted, but health was not the reason God gave. The reason, given at the end of the chapter, is holiness. Teachers differ on why God chose these animals.

11:39 if any of the animals which is yours for food dies Even a clean animal made a person unclean if it died on its own. Death defiles. Life belongs to God.

11:44 you shall be holy, for I am holy The reason for the whole chapter. Holy means set apart, separate from what is common and sinful, belonging to God. Peter quotes this to the church: "as the One who called you is holy, you yourselves also be holy in all your conduct" (1 Pet 1:15-16). The food laws are gone, but the call to holiness is not.

11:45 I am the LORD who brought you up from the land of Egypt God saved Israel first, then called them to be holy. The food laws did not make them God's people. They showed they already were. At every meal an Israelite was reminded that he belonged to the LORD.

11:47 to separate between the unclean and the clean Israel had to learn to make distinctions. Jesus taught that what goes into the mouth does not defile a man (Matt 15:11), "cleansing all the foods" (Mark 7:19). Peter heard, "What God has cleansed, you must not call common" (Acts 10:15), a vision about the Gentiles. The laws that kept Israel separate are a "shadow" fulfilled in Christ (Col 2:16-17), who makes Jew and Gentile one (Eph 2:14-16). We may eat any food with thanks (1 Tim 4:4-5), but we are still called to live set apart.

Cleansing After Childbirth

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), saying, 'When a woman conceives seed and bears a male, then she shall be unclean seven days; like the days of the impurity of her infirmity she shall be unclean. 3 And on the eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised. 4 And thirty-three days she shall remain in the blood of purification; she shall not touch any holy thing, and she shall not go into the sanctuary until the days of her purification are completed. 5 And if she bears a female, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her impurity; and sixty-six days she shall remain in the blood of purification. 6 And when the days of her purification are completed, for a son or for a daughter, she shall bring a lamb, a son of its year, for a burnt offering, and a young one of the dove or a turtledove for a sin offering, to the entrance of the tent of meeting, to the priest. 7 And he shall bring it near before the LORD, and he shall make atonement for her, and she shall be clean from the source of her blood. This is the law of her who gives birth, for the male or for the female. 8 And if her hand does not find the sufficiency of a sheep, then she shall take two turtledoves or two young of the dove, one for a burnt offering and one for a sin offering; and the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be clean.'"

Laws About Skin Disease

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) and to Aaron (Aharon), saying, 2 "When a man has in the skin of his flesh a swelling or a scab or a bright spot, and it becomes in the skin of his flesh a plague of leprosy, then he shall be brought to Aaron the priest or to one of his sons the priests. 3 And the priest shall look at the plague in the skin of the flesh; and if the hair in the plague has turned white, and the appearance of the plague is deeper than the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosy; and the priest shall look at him and pronounce him unclean. 4 And if the bright spot is white in the skin of his flesh, and its appearance is not deeper than the skin, and its hair has not turned white, then the priest shall shut in the one with the plague seven days. 5 And the priest shall look at him on the seventh day, and look, if in his eyes the plague has stood, and the plague has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall shut him in a second seven days. 6 And the priest shall look at him on the seventh day a second time, and look, if the plague has grown dim and the plague has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; it is an eruption; and he shall wash his garments and be clean. 7 And if the eruption surely spreads in the skin after he has appeared to the priest for his cleansing, then he shall appear a second time to the priest. 8 And the priest shall look, and look, if the eruption has spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is leprosy. 9 "When a plague of leprosy is on a man, then he shall be brought to the priest. 10 And the priest shall look, and look, if there is a white swelling in the skin, and it has turned the hair white, and there is a raw spot of living flesh in the swelling, 11 it is an old leprosy in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean; he shall not shut him in, for he is unclean. 12 And if the leprosy surely

12:2 she shall be unclean seven days The same time as a woman's monthly period (15:19). Being unclean was not a sin, and having a baby is not a sin. God's first command was to be fruitful and multiply (Gen 1:28), and children are a gift from the LORD (Ps 127:3). The uncleanness came from the flow of blood after birth. Blood is the life (17:11), and its loss, like contact with death, made a person unfit for a time to come near the God of life. It was a ritual matter, not a moral one. There was kindness here too: a new mother had time to rest with her baby.

12:3 on the eighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised Circumcision was the sign of God's covenant with Abraham (Gen 17:10-12). The baby was brought into the covenant people even while his mother was still in her days of purification. Jesus was circumcised on the eighth day and named (Luke 2:21). The true circumcision now is of the heart, by the Spirit (Rom 2:29; Col 2:11).

12:4 she shall not touch any holy thing, and she shall not go into the sanctuary After the first seven days she waited thirty-three more, forty in all. She was no longer unclean in the same way, but she could not yet come to the sanctuary.

12:5 if she bears a female, then she shall be unclean two weeks The times were doubled for a daughter. Scripture does not say why. Some tie it to the daughter one day bearing children herself, some to a small flow of blood a newborn girl sometimes has, some to Eve and Genesis 3:16. What we can say firmly is that it does not mean a daughter was worth less. The offering was exactly the same (12:6), both are made in God's image (Gen 1:27), and in Christ "there is not male and female" (Gal 3:28).

12:6 a young one of the dove or a turtledove for a sin offering A son of its year means a lamb in its first year. Why a sin offering when she had not sinned? Here it worked as a purification offering, cleansing her so she could come back to the sanctuary. It also reminded every family that each new life comes into a fallen world in need of grace (Ps 51:5). The burnt offering was her gift of herself, and likely her thanks for a safe birth.

12:8 two turtledoves or two young of the dove Luke quotes this in the story of Jesus' birth. Mary and Joseph brought "A pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons" (Luke 2:24), because they could not afford a lamb. Mary brought two birds because she had no lamb, but in her arms was the Lamb of God (John 1:29). Jesus was "born of a woman, born under law" (Gal 4:4), and kept the Law perfectly for us.

13:2 a plague of leprosy The Hebrew word, tsara'at, covered a range of skin diseases, and even mold on cloth or walls (13:47; 14:33-53). It is not simply what doctors now call leprosy, Hansen's disease, though that may have been among them. Think of a serious, spreading skin disease that made a person unclean. The priest was not a doctor. He did not treat the disease. He decided whether a person was fit to live in the camp and come near God's tabernacle.

13:4 the priest shall shut in the one with the plague seven days A quarantine, a time to wait and see. The priest looked, waited, and looked again. No one was to be declared unclean on a guess. That is a good lesson when we judge others: be slow, careful and fair, and do not put someone outside the camp on first appearances.

13:11 it is an old leprosy The open, raw flesh was the mark of an active disease, and the priest did not need to wait.

Disease of the Head and Beard

29 "And when a man or a woman has a plague on the head or on the beard, 30 then the priest shall look at the plague, and look, if its appearance is deeper than the skin, and in it is thin yellow hair, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; it is a scaly patch; it is leprosy of the head or of the beard. 31 And if the priest looks at the plague of the scaly patch, and look, its appearance is not deeper than the skin, and there is no black hair in it, then the priest shall shut in the one with the plague of the scaly patch seven days. 32 And the priest shall look at the plague on the seventh day, and look, if the scaly patch has not spread, and there is no yellow hair in it, and the appearance of the scaly patch is not deeper than the skin, 33 then he shall shave himself, but the scaly patch he shall not shave; and the priest shall shut in the one with the scaly patch a second seven days. 34 And the priest shall look at the scaly patch on the seventh day, and look, if the scaly patch has not spread in the skin, and its appearance is not deeper than the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; and he shall wash his garments and be clean. 35 And if the scaly patch surely spreads in the skin after his cleansing, 36 then the priest shall look at him, and look, if the scaly patch has spread in the skin, the priest shall not search for the yellow hair; he is unclean. 37 And if in his eyes the scaly patch has stood, and black hair has sprouted in it, the scaly patch has been healed; he is clean; and the priest shall pronounce him clean. 38 "And when a man or a woman has in the skin of their flesh bright spots, white bright spots, 39 then the priest shall look, and look, if in the skin of their flesh there are dim white bright spots, it is a rash; it has broken out in the skin; he is clean. 40 "And when a man's head becomes bare, he is bald; he is clean. 41 And if his head becomes bare from the side of his face, he is bald on the forehead; he is clean. 42 And if there is on the bald head or on the bald forehead a reddish-white plague, it is leprosy breaking out on his bald head or on his bald forehead. 43 And the priest shall look at him, and look, if the swelling of the plague is reddish-white on his bald head or on his bald forehead, like the appearance of leprosy of the skin of the flesh, 44 he is a leprous man; he is unclean; the priest shall surely pronounce him unclean; his plague is on his head.

13:13 all of it has turned white; he is clean Why would a person covered in white be clean? The usual explanation is that the disease had run its course and the skin had healed over, no longer open or spreading. If raw flesh appeared again, he was unclean.
13:23 it is the scar of the boil Boils and burns followed the same tests: white hair, and whether the sore was deeper than the skin. The steps repeat on purpose so that judgments were fair and the same for everyone. God cared about the health of the camp, and also that no one was put out unjustly.
13:30 it is a scaly patch A disease of the scalp or beard. If black hair grew back in it, it was healed (13:37).
13:40 he is bald; he is clean Some things looked like leprosy but were not: a dim rash, or plain baldness. The priest was not to declare anyone unclean for something ordinary.
13:45 he shall call out, 'Unclean! Unclean!' Torn clothes and loose hair were signs of mourning, and covering the mouth a sign of shame and grief. He had to warn others away by calling out what he was. These are the hardest verses in the chapter.

The Cleansing of a Leper

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "This shall be the law of the leper on the day of his cleansing: he shall be brought to the priest. 3 And the priest shall go out to the outside of the camp, and the priest shall look, and look, if the plague of leprosy has been healed from the leper, 4 then the priest shall command, and he shall take for the one cleansing himself two living clean birds, and cedar wood, and scarlet of a worm, and hyssop. 5 And the priest shall command, and he shall slaughter the one bird into an earthenware vessel over living water. 6 As for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood and the scarlet of the worm and the hyssop, and he shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was slaughtered over the living water. 7 And he shall spatter it on the one cleansing himself from the leprosy seven times, and he shall pronounce him clean, and he shall let the living bird go over the face of the field. 8 And the one cleansing himself shall wash his garments, and shave all his hair, and bathe in water, and he shall be clean. And afterward he shall come into the camp, and he shall dwell outside his tent seven days. 9 And it shall be on the seventh day that he shall shave all his hair: his head and his beard and the brows of his eyes, even all his hair he shall shave; and he shall wash his garments, and he shall bathe his flesh in water, and he shall be clean. 10 "And on the eighth day he shall take two male lambs without blemish, and one ewe

13:46 his dwelling shall be outside the camp He could not live with his family or come to the tabernacle as long as the disease lasted (Num 12:10-15; 2 Chr 26:21). The rule protected the camp and taught that the unclean could not live near the holy God. Leprosy was sometimes a judgment (Num 12; 2 Kgs 5:27), but most often simply sickness in a fallen world. Many teachers see in it a picture of sin: it spreads, defiles, cuts us off, and we cannot cure ourselves. Under the Law, touching a leper made a person unclean. When Jesus touched one, "I am willing; be cleansed" (Mark 1:41), the leper became clean. He "suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12). If you have felt outside the camp, He has been there.

13:47 when the garment has in it a plague of leprosy Probably a mold or mildew that ate into cloth and leather. If it spread, the garment was burned, a real loss when clothing was costly. A spreading rot could not be kept in the camp.

13:57 you shall burn in the fire that in which the plague is Some things can be washed and kept, some must be cut out, and some, if they keep coming back, must be gotten rid of. Jesus said to cut off the hand that causes sin (Matt 5:30), meaning deal with sin seriously and remove what keeps leading us into it. Jude speaks of "hating even the tunic stained by the flesh" (Jude 1:23).

14:2 This shall be the law of the leper on the day of his cleansing The law does not heal the leper. God heals. The law only tells how a healed person is declared clean and brought back.

14:3 the priest shall go out to the outside of the camp The leper could not come in, so the priest went out to him. The one cut off did not have to find his own way back. Jesus came to us while we were still outside, and He "suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12) to bring us in.

14:4 cedar wood, and scarlet of a worm, and hyssop Cedar is a lasting wood that does not rot easily. Scarlet of a worm was red dye made from an insect, so red thread or cloth. Hyssop was a small leafy plant good for sprinkling, used for the Passover blood (Exod 12:22). David prayed, "Purify me from sin with hyssop, and I will be clean" (Ps 51:7).

14:7 he shall let the living bird go over the face of the field Living water (14:5) means fresh running water. One bird died, and the other, dipped in its blood, was set free. The New Testament does not explain this, so I hold any meaning loosely, but many teachers see a picture of Christ: one bird dying, the other rising alive and free, marked by the blood. It also pictures the healed man himself, once as good as dead, now free.

14:9 he shall shave all his hair A clean start. Every hair that might hide a trace of the disease was gone. He was back in the camp but not yet home (14:8). God's cleansing is complete: "the old things have passed away; look, all things have become new" (2 Cor 5:17).

14:12 bring it near for a guilt offering About six quarts of flour and a log of oil, about a third of a quart, came with the lambs (14:10). For the first time since his illness he could come near God's house. Why a guilt offering? The text does not tie his disease to his own sin. Many teachers think it dealt with all he had been unable to give God during his long exclusion. Coming back to God was not only a matter of health but of atonement.

14:14 on the lobe of the right ear of the one cleansing himself The same marks of blood Aaron and his sons received at their ordination (8:23-24). Now an ordinary Israelite, once a leper, received them. Many see the ear, hand and foot as hearing, doing and walking: the whole person set apart for God.

14:17 on the blood of the guilt offering The oil came on top of the blood. First the blood that atones, then the oil that sets apart. Many see the oil as a picture of the Holy Spirit, who comes to live in those Christ has cleansed (Titus 3:5-6).

14:20 the priest shall make atonement for him, and he shall be clean Music to a man who had called out "Unclean! Unclean!" so long (13:45). He could go home and worship with God's people. Sin offering, burnt offering, grain offering: uncleanness dealt with, the whole life given, thanks brought. This is what Christ does for every sinner who comes to Him (1 John 1:9).

14:21 if he is poor, and his hand is not attaining so much "Which his hand attains" (14:22) means what he could afford. The poor man received the same blood, the same oil and the same words. Why take sixteen verses to say nearly the same thing again? I think God wanted no poor leper to doubt that he could come home. Salvation through Christ costs us nothing, because it cost Him everything (Isa 55:1; Eph 2:8).

14:34 I put a plague of leprosy in a house Israel still lived in tents, and God was already promising them houses in the land. He says plainly that He is sovereign even over the mold in the walls. This was a spreading growth of mold or rot in the stone walls.

Discharges of a Man

14:35 Something like a plague has appeared to me in the house The owner did not claim to know. He let the priest decide. Clearing the house first (14:36) was kind and sensible, so the owner did not lose everything in it.
14:40 they shall tear out the stones in which the plague is Hard, dirty work, but it saved the house. A small problem dealt with early could keep the whole house from being lost. So with sin in a life, a family or a church: "a little leaven leavens the whole lump" (1 Cor 5:6).
14:45 he shall tear down the house If the plague came back, the house was lost. Sin that is left alone and keeps coming back does not stay small. It can ruin the whole house.
14:53 he shall make atonement for the house A house cannot sin, so why atonement? In Leviticus atonement also means cleansing what uncleanness has touched, so it can again be part of the life of God's people. The same word is used for cleansing the altar and tabernacle (16:16-19). God cares about where His people live.
14:57 to teach on the day of the unclean and on the day of the clean The point of the law was to teach (10:10-11). Jesus sent a healed leper to the priest "for a testimony to them" (Mark 1:44). The priests had a law for cleansing a healed leper, but who could heal one? Only God (2 Kgs 5:7). Christ does more than declare us clean. He heals and cleanses us by His own blood and brings us home.
15:2 when he has a discharge from his flesh An ongoing discharge from the body, most likely from illness or infection. Flesh here is a modest way of speaking of the private parts. Unclean in Leviticus does not mean sinful. A sick man had done nothing wrong by being sick. He was not fit, for a time, to come near God's tabernacle or touch holy things. It was a matter of ritual status, not moral guilt.
15:4 Every bed on which the one with the discharge lies shall be unclean His uncleanness passed to things and people around him. These rules reminded Israel all day long that uncleanness spreads by contact and holiness does not. Washing, bathing and keeping apart from the sick also helped stop disease in a crowded camp. That was not the main reason, but it was a mercy in the law.

on which the one with the discharge sat shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 7 And whoever touches the flesh of the one with the discharge shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 8 And if the one with the discharge spits on one who is clean, then he shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 9 And every saddle on which the one with the discharge rides shall be unclean. 10 And whoever touches anything that was under him shall be unclean until the evening; and whoever carries them shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 11 And anyone whom the one with the discharge touches, and he has not rinsed his hands in water, then he shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 12 And an earthenware vessel which the one with the discharge touches shall be broken, and every vessel of wood shall be rinsed in water. 13 "'And when the one with the discharge becomes clean from his discharge, then he shall count for himself seven days for his cleansing, and he shall wash his garments and bathe his flesh in living water, and he shall be clean. 14 And on the eighth day he shall take for himself two turtledoves or two young of the dove, and he shall come before the LORD to the entrance of the tent of meeting and give them to the priest. 15 And the priest shall offer them, the one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD for his discharge. 16 "'And a man, when an emission of seed goes out from him, then he shall bathe all his flesh in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 17 And every garment and every leather thing on which there is an emission of seed shall be washed with water, and it shall be unclean until the evening. 18 And a woman with whom a man lies with an emission of seed, they shall bathe in water, and they shall be unclean until the evening.

Discharges of a Woman

19 "'And a woman, when she has a discharge, and her discharge in her flesh is blood, she shall be in her impurity seven days; and whoever touches her shall be unclean until the evening. 20 And everything on which she lies in her impurity shall be unclean, and everything on which she sits shall be unclean. 21 And whoever touches her bed shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 22 And whoever touches any article on which she sits shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 23 And if it is on the bed or on the article on which she is sitting, when he touches it, he shall be unclean until the evening. 24 And if a man surely lies with her, and her impurity is on him, then he shall be unclean seven days, and every bed on which he lies shall be unclean. 25 "'And a woman, when the discharge of her blood flows many days not at the time of her impurity, or when she has a discharge beyond her impurity, all the days of the discharge of her uncleanness she shall be as in the days of her impurity; she is unclean. 26 Every bed on which she lies all the days of her discharge shall be to her like the bed of her impurity; and every article on which she sits shall be unclean, like the uncleanness of her impurity. 27 And whoever touches them shall be unclean, and he shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening. 28 And if she becomes clean from her discharge, then she shall count for herself seven days, and afterward she shall be clean. 29 And on the eighth day she shall take for herself two turtledoves or two young of the dove, and she shall bring them to the priest, to the entrance of the tent of meeting. 30 And the priest shall offer the one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering; and the priest shall make atonement for her before the LORD for the discharge of her uncleanness.' 31 "And you shall keep the sons of Israel separate from their uncleanness, and they shall not die in their uncleanness by their making My tabernacle unclean, which is in their midst. 32 This is the law of the one with a discharge, and of him from whom an emission of seed

15:11 he has not rinsed his hands in water The sick man was not helpless. He was given a simple way to care for others while he was sick.
15:15 the priest shall make atonement for him before the LORD for his discharge Two birds, the smallest offerings. The sin offering also dealt with uncleanness, cleansing the person and what he had affected, so he could return to worship. His illness was a reminder that we live in a world broken by sin, where bodies get sick and die.
15:18 they shall bathe in water, and they shall be unclean until the evening The marriage relationship is not sin. God created and blessed it (Gen 1:28; 2:24), and "Marriage is to be honorable among all, and the bed undefiled" (Heb 13:4). The reason is not stated, but a common explanation is that the powers of life and the presence of God were kept separate in Israel's worship. Many of Israel's neighbors mixed sexual acts with the worship of their gods. A couple simply bathed and waited until evening. No offering was needed, because nothing was wrong.
15:19 she shall be in her impurity seven days Her monthly period. The word has the idea of separation. This is not sin either. It is part of how God made a woman's body to pass on life, and no offering was required at the end, because there was nothing to atone for. Some have used laws like this to look down on women, a misuse of God's Word. The same kinds of rules applied to men, and the chapter ends "whether for the male or for the female" (15:33).
15:25 when the discharge of her blood flows many days not at the time of her impurity An illness, not the normal cycle. A woman with this could be unclean for months or years, cut off from God's house and from touch. Mark tells of "a certain woman, being with a flow of blood twelve years" (Mark 5:25). She touched Jesus' garment and was healed at once. Her touch did not make Him unclean. His power made her clean, and He called her "Daughter" (Mark 5:34). He did not let her slip away in shame.
15:31 they shall not die in their uncleanness by their making My tabernacle unclean The reason for the whole chapter. God lived in the middle of His people, a great privilege and a serious one. These laws were not meant to shame anyone but to protect the people from coming near a holy God unclean.

The Day of Atonement

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) after the death of the two sons of Aaron (Aharon), when they drew near before the LORD and died. 2 And the LORD said to Moses, "Speak to Aaron your brother, and let him not come at every time into the holy place inside the veil, before the mercy seat which is on the ark, and he will not die; for in the cloud I will appear over the mercy seat. 3 With this Aaron shall come into the holy place: with a young bull, a son of the herd, for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering. 4 He shall put on a linen tunic of holiness, and linen undergarments shall be on his flesh, and with a linen sash he shall gird himself, and with a linen turban he shall wrap himself; they are garments of holiness. And he shall bathe his flesh in water and put them on. 5 And from the congregation of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) he shall take two male goats of the goats for a sin offering and one ram for a burnt offering. 6 And Aaron shall bring near the bull of the sin offering which is for himself, and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house. 7 And he shall take the two goats and set them before the LORD at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 8 And Aaron shall put lots on the two goats, one lot for the LORD and one lot for Azazel. 9 And Aaron shall bring near the goat on which the lot for the LORD came up, and he shall offer it as a sin offering. 10 And the goat on which the lot for Azazel came up shall be set alive before the LORD, to make atonement on it, to send it away to Azazel into the wilderness.

Blood Behind the Veil

11 "And Aaron shall bring near the bull of the sin offering which is for himself, and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house, and he shall slaughter the bull of the sin offering which is for himself. 12 And he shall take the fullness of the fire pan of coals of fire from on the altar, from before the LORD, and the fullness of his hands of fine incense of fragrances, and he shall bring it inside the veil. 13 And he shall put the incense on the fire before the LORD, and the cloud of the incense shall cover the mercy seat which is on the testimony, and he will not die. 14 And he shall take some of the blood of the bull and spatter it with his finger on the face of the mercy seat eastward; and before the mercy seat he shall spatter some of the blood with his finger seven times. 15 "And he shall slaughter the goat of the sin offering which is for the people, and he shall bring its blood inside the veil, and he shall do with its blood as he did with the blood of the bull, and he shall spatter it on the mercy seat

15:33 whether for the male or for the female This ends the section on clean and unclean (chapters 11 to 15). Jesus taught that what truly defiles comes from within, "evil thoughts" (Mark 7:21) and other sins of the heart. We need more than a bath: we "draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith" (Heb 10:22), any day. Treat the body with modesty and respect, and the sick with tenderness, not shame.

16:1 after the death of the two sons of Aaron, when they drew near before the LORD and died Nadab and Abihu had drawn near in a way God had not commanded (10:1-2). Now God speaks, not to forbid all coming near, but to show how it could be done without dying. That is the heart of this chapter and of the gospel. What they tried by their own fire, God made possible by blood and by His appointed priest.

16:2 let him not come at every time into the holy place inside the veil The holy place here is the Most Holy Place. The veil was a heavy woven curtain that closed it off (Exod 26:31-33). Inside stood the ark of the covenant, the gold-covered chest holding the tablets of the Law. Even the high priest could not go in whenever he wished. The Spirit was showing by this "that the way into the holy places has not yet been made manifest" (Heb 9:8).

16:2 the mercy seat The gold lid of the ark, with two cherubim, winged angels, over it (Exod 25:17-22). The Hebrew, kapporet, comes from the same root as atonement. It was where the blood was sprinkled. God set forth Jesus "as a propitiation through faith in His blood" (Rom 3:25), using the Greek word Hebrews 9:5 uses for the mercy seat. A propitiation is a sacrifice that turns away God's just anger against sin. Jesus is where God meets sinners in mercy.

16:4 He shall put on a linen tunic of holiness Not the glorious garments of Exodus 28, but plain white linen, simpler even than the ordinary priests wore. Linen stood for purity. On the greatest day of the year the high priest came as a humble servant. Many teachers see a picture of Christ, who took "the form of a slave" (Phil 2:7). Hebrews does not draw that line, so I hold it loosely.

16:5 two male goats of the goats for a sin offering Both goats together are one sin offering with two parts. One would die. The other would carry the sins away. Together they show the whole of atonement: sin paid for by death, and sin removed far away.

16:6 he shall make atonement for himself and for his house The high priest was a sinner too, and he had to be cleansed before he could act for others.

16:8 one lot for the LORD and one lot for Azazel Casting lots let God make the choice (Prov 16:33). Azazel appears only in this chapter, and teachers are not agreed. Many take it as the goat that goes away, the source of our word scapegoat. Others take it as a remote place, which fits "a land cut off" (16:22). Others think it named an evil spirit of the desert. If so, the goat was not an offering to him, since 17:7 forbids that. Either way, the point is clear: Israel's sins were carried far out of God's camp.

16:12 coals of fire from on the altar Here is the difference from Nadab and Abihu. They brought "strange fire" (10:1). Aaron brought fire from the altar where God's own fire burned (9:24), just as God commanded.

16:13 the cloud of the incense shall cover the mercy seat The testimony means the tablets of the Law in the ark. The cloud veiled God's glory so the high priest would not die, for no sinful man can see God's full glory and live (Exod 33:20). Incense is often a picture of prayer (Ps 141:2; Rev 8:3-4).

16:14 he shall spatter some of the blood with his finger seven times Under the mercy seat lay the Ten Commandments Israel had already broken. Above it was the glory of the holy God. Between the broken Law and the holy God the blood was sprinkled. God would look on the blood, not the broken Law. That is mercy, and seven times means it was complete.

16:15 the goat of the sin offering which is for the people The first blood was for the priest, the second for the people. Jesus needed none for Himself. He does not need "to offer up sacrifices first for their own sins, then for those of the people; for this He did once for all when He offered up Himself" (Heb 7:27). Aaron offered animal blood. Jesus offered Himself.

and before the mercy seat. 16 And he shall make atonement for the holy place because of the uncleannesses of the sons of Israel and because of their transgressions, for all their sins; and so he shall do for the tent of meeting, which dwells with them in the midst of their uncleannesses. 17 And no man shall be in the tent of meeting when he goes in to make atonement in the holy place, until he comes out; and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house and for all the assembly of Israel. 18 And he shall go out to the altar that is before the LORD and make atonement for it, and he shall take some of the blood of the bull and some of the blood of the goat and put it on the horns of the altar all around. 19 And he shall spatter some of the blood on it with his finger seven times, and he shall cleanse it and sanctify it from the uncleannesses of the sons of Israel.

The Goat Sent Away

20 "And he shall finish making atonement for the holy place and the tent of meeting and the altar, and he shall bring near the living goat. 21 And Aaron shall lay both his hands on the head of the living goat, and he shall confess over it all the iniquities of the sons of Israel and all their transgressions, for all their sins; and he shall put them on the head of the goat and send it away into the wilderness by the hand of a man who is ready. 22 And the goat shall bear on itself all their iniquities to a land cut off; and he shall let the goat go in the wilderness. 23 "And Aaron shall come into the tent of meeting, and he shall strip off the linen garments which he put on when he went into the holy place, and he shall leave them there. 24 And he shall bathe his flesh in water in a holy place and put on his garments, and he shall come out and offer his burnt offering and the burnt offering of the people, and he shall make atonement for himself and for the people. 25 And the fat of the sin offering he shall make smoke on the altar. 26 And the one who lets the goat go for Azazel shall wash his garments and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp. 27 And the bull of the sin offering and the goat of the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, he shall bring out to the outside of the camp, and they shall burn in the fire their skins and their flesh and their dung. 28 And the one who burns them shall wash his garments and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.

A Statute Forever

29 "And it shall be for you a statute forever: in the seventh month, on the tenth of the month, you shall afflict your souls, and you shall not do any work, the native and the sojourner who sojourns in your midst. 30 For on this day he shall make atonement for you, to cleanse you; from all your sins before the LORD you shall be clean. 31 It is a Sabbath of Sabbath rest for you, and you shall afflict your souls; it is a statute forever. 32 And the priest whom he anoints and whose hand he fills to serve as priest in place of his father shall make atonement; and he shall put on the linen garments, the garments of holiness. 33 And he shall make atonement for the sanctuary of holiness; and for the tent of meeting and for the altar he shall make atonement; and for the priests and for all the people of the assembly he shall make

16:16 which dwells with them in the midst of their uncleannesses The people's sins had in a sense defiled God's dwelling through the year. God lived among a sinful people, and once a year His dwelling had to be cleansed so He could go on living there.
16:17 no man shall be in the tent of meeting The high priest worked alone. So did Jesus. His disciples fled, and no one shared His work on the cross. He "made purification of our sins through Himself" (Heb 1:3).
16:19 he shall cleanse it and sanctify it The whole place of worship was cleansed from the inside out. These earthly things were "copies of the things in the heavens" (Heb 9:23), and the heavenly things needed better sacrifices.
16:21 Aaron shall lay both his hands on the head of the living goat Three words for sin: iniquities (crookedness and guilt), transgressions (rebellion, crossing God's line), sins (missing the mark). Every kind was named and laid on the goat. Usually one hand was laid on an animal. Here it was both, as if to press the whole weight of the nation's sin onto its head.
16:22 the goat shall bear on itself all their iniquities to a land cut off The people could watch it go, past the tents into the empty wilderness, until it was gone. "As the east is far from the west, He has removed our transgressions far from us" (Ps 103:12; Mic 7:19). The New Testament does not name this goat, but it says the same of Jesus: "the LORD has caused to fall on Him the iniquity of all of us" (Isa 53:6), the Lamb "who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). The first goat shows sin paid for by death. The second shows sin taken away. Jesus did both.
16:24 he shall come out and offer his burnt offering and the burnt offering of the people Once sin was dealt with, priest and people gave themselves wholly to God again. First forgiveness, then dedication. We give ourselves to God not to be forgiven, but because we have been (Rom 12:1).
16:26 the one who lets the goat go for Azazel shall wash his garments He had been close to the sins laid on the goat. Sin is unclean, even when it is being carried away.
16:27 he shall bring out to the outside of the camp Hebrews uses this very verse: "Therefore Jesus also, so that He might sanctify the people through His own blood, suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12). He was crucified outside Jerusalem's walls, in the place of shame. "Therefore let us go out to Him outside the camp, bearing His reproach" (Heb 13:13).
16:29 you shall afflict your souls, and you shall not do any work The seventh month falls in our September or October. To afflict the soul means to humble oneself before God, which came to mean fasting with sorrow over sin. By New Testament times it was called "the Fast" (Acts 27:9), and Jews still keep it as Yom Kippur. The native and the sojourner, the foreigner living among them, both rested.
16:30 from all your sins before the LORD you shall be clean The people could add nothing. The priest did the work. They humbled themselves, rested and received what God provided. That is how salvation works: we stop trusting our own works and receive what Christ has done.
16:31 It is a Sabbath of Sabbath rest for you The Sabbath was the seventh day, Israel's day of rest (Exod 20:8-11). This day was the highest kind of Sabbath, a full rest.

atonement. 34 And this shall be for you a statute forever, to make atonement for the sons of Israel for all their sins once in the year." And he did as the LORD had commanded Moses.

LEVITICUS 17

The Place of Sacrifice

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to Aaron (Aharon) and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and say to them, 'This is the thing which the LORD has commanded, saying, 3 "Any man of the house of Israel who slaughters an ox or a lamb or a goat in the camp, or who slaughters it outside the camp, 4 and has not brought it to the entrance of the tent of meeting to bring it near as an offering to the LORD before the tabernacle of the LORD, blood shall be counted to that man; he has shed blood, and that man shall be cut off from among his people, 5 so that the sons of Israel may bring their sacrifices which they are sacrificing on the face of the field, and they shall bring them to the LORD, to the entrance of the tent of meeting, to the priest, and they shall sacrifice them as sacrifices of peace offerings to the LORD. 6 And the priest shall sprinkle the blood on the altar of the LORD at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and he shall make the fat smoke for a soothing aroma to the LORD. 7 And they shall no longer sacrifice their sacrifices to the goat demons, after whom they prostitute themselves. This shall be a statute forever for them throughout their generations."' 8 And you shall say to them, 'Any man of the house of Israel, or of the sojourner who sojourns in their midst, who offers up a burnt offering or a sacrifice, 9 and does not bring it to the entrance of the tent of meeting to offer it to the LORD, then that man shall be cut off from his kinsmen.

The Life Is in the Blood

10 And any man of the house of Israel, or of the sojourner who sojourns in their midst, who eats any blood, then I will set My face against the soul that eats the blood, and I will cut it off from among its people. 11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your souls; for it is the blood that makes atonement by the life. 12 Therefore I have said to the sons of Israel, "No soul of you shall eat blood, and the sojourner who sojourns in your midst shall not eat blood." 13 And any man of the sons of Israel, or of the sojourner who sojourns in their midst, who hunts game, a living thing or a bird which may be eaten, then he shall pour out its blood and cover it with dust. 14 For as for the life of all flesh, its blood is its life. And I have said to the sons of Israel, "You shall not eat the blood of any flesh, for the life of all flesh is its blood; whoever eats it shall be cut off." 15 And every soul that eats a carcass or a torn animal, whether among the native or among the sojourner, then he shall wash his garments and bathe in water, and he shall be unclean until the evening, and he shall be clean.

16:34 once in the year Year after year, the same blood and the same walk behind the veil. "But in these there is a reminder of sins every year" (Heb 10:3). Christ entered "once for all into the holy places, having obtained eternal redemption" (Heb 9:12), and then sat down, because the work was finished (Heb 10:12; John 19:30). When He died, the veil was torn "from top to bottom" (Matt 27:51). God tore it. Now every believer may draw near with confidence "by the blood of Jesus" (Heb 10:19).

16:34 to make atonement for the sons of Israel for all their sins The day also looks ahead for the nation. One day Israel will "look to Me, to Him whom they have pierced; and they will mourn over Him" (Zech 12:10), and a fountain will be opened "for sin and for impurity" (Zech 13:1). Paul says "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). Many teachers believe Israel's national mourning and cleansing at Christ's return is the final fulfillment of this day (see 23:27). Others see it fully fulfilled at the cross.

17:2 This is the thing which the LORD has commanded A message for priests and people alike, and not Moses' idea. It is God's command.

17:4 blood shall be counted to that man; he has shed blood Killing a sacrificial animal anywhere but at God's altar was counted like bloodshed. In the wilderness camp these were the animals used for offerings, and their life belonged to God. Later, spread across the land, Israel could kill animals for food at home if they poured out the blood (Deut 12:15-16). On "cut off," see the note at 7:20.

17:5 so that the sons of Israel may bring their sacrifices The animals were to come to the priest as peace offerings, the shared meal with God (chapter 3).

17:7 they shall no longer sacrifice their sacrifices to the goat demons False gods or evil spirits that pagans pictured as goats living in desert places. "No longer" shows some Israelites had been doing this, perhaps from habits picked up in Egypt (Josh 24:14). To prostitute themselves is God's strong word for idolatry, for Israel belonged to Him as a bride to her husband. Behind false worship are real spiritual powers (1 Cor 10:20).

17:8 the sojourner who sojourns in their midst A sojourner was a foreigner living among Israel. One God, one altar, one place to come. So for us, there is "one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Tim 2:5). We cannot come to God by any way we choose.

17:10 I will set My face against the soul that eats the blood One of the few places where God says He Himself will act against the lawbreaker. The ban goes back before Moses (Gen 9:4).

17:11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood This verse explains the whole system of sacrifice. Life depends on blood, so shed blood means a life given up in death. "I have given it": the sacrifice was not man's way to buy God's favor but God's gift to sinners. The word for life is the same as soul. A life was given in place of a life, which is substitution. The soul that sins deserves to die (Ezek 18:4), but God accepted the substitute. There is no magic in blood itself. It stands for a life given in death.

17:11 it is the blood that makes atonement by the life That is why "apart from shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22), and why the blood of Jesus is at the center of the gospel. We were redeemed "with the precious blood of Christ" (1 Pet 1:19), and Jesus said, "this is My blood, the blood of the new covenant, which is being poured out for many for forgiveness of sins" (Matt 26:28). The blood of Christ means His death on the cross in our place.

17:12 No soul of you shall eat blood "Therefore" ties this to verse 11. Blood was holy because it was God's chosen means of atonement. Each time an animal was drained, Israel was reminded that life belongs to God and atonement costs a life.

17:13 he shall pour out its blood and cover it with dust Even game that could not go on the altar was treated with respect. The apostles asked Gentile believers "to abstain from things sacrificed to idols and blood" (Acts 15:29). Some believe that rule still binds, since it goes back to Noah. Others believe it served table fellowship between Jewish and Gentile believers then, and that Jesus made all foods clean (Mark 7:19). Believers differ and should be gracious. We must never treat the blood of Christ lightly (Heb 10:29).

16 And if he does not wash them and does not bathe his flesh, then he shall bear his iniquity.'"

Not Like Egypt or Canaan

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and say to them, 'I am the LORD your God. 3 According to the deeds of the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), in which you dwelt, you shall not do; and according to the deeds of the land of Canaan (Kena'an), where I am bringing you, you shall not do; and in their statutes you shall not walk. 4 My judgments you shall do, and My statutes you shall keep, to walk in them. 17:16 if he does not wash them and does not bathe his flesh, then he shall bear his iniquity The uncleanness from eating a carcass was small and the remedy easy. But refusing even that simple step made a person guilty. God's ways of cleansing are not hard. The danger is in ignoring them. "To Him who loved us and washed us from our sins in His blood" (Rev 1:5) be the glory.

18:2 I am the LORD your God The chapter begins with a relationship, not a rule. Before God tells Israel what not to do, He tells them who He is. "I am the LORD" repeats six times here. They obeyed because He was their God.

18:3 According to the deeds of the land of Egypt, in which you dwelt, you shall not do Behind Israel was Egypt and ahead was Canaan, and both had ways God called unclean. Brother and sister marriage was known in Egypt, especially in the royal family, and the worship of Canaan included cult prostitutes (Deut 23:17; 1 Kgs 14:24). God's people were not to take their standards from the culture around them: "do not be conformed to this age" (Rom 12:2).

18:5 which a man shall do and live by them For redeemed Israel, keeping God's law was the way to a full and blessed life in the land. These laws were a path of life, not a cage. Paul quotes this verse (Rom 10:5; Gal 3:12) to show that anyone seeking righteousness by the law must keep all of it, always. No one has but Christ, who kept it and died for those who broke it (Gal 3:13). Some teachers read the verse as eternal life offered on condition of perfect obedience.

18:6 to any kin of his flesh you shall not draw near to uncover nakedness The heading for verses 7 to 18. Kin of his flesh means close relatives, by blood or by marriage. The family was to be a safe place where love was never confused with sexual desire.

18:8 your father's wife A stepmother. Paul was shocked that a man in Corinth had "the wife of his father" (1 Cor 5:1). God's standard did not change from Leviticus to the church. Abraham married his half-sister (Gen 20:12) and Jacob two sisters, but that was before this law. From now on such marriages were forbidden.

18:16 your brother's wife One exception came later: if a man died without a son, his brother married the widow to carry on his name (Deut 25:5-6), a duty of family love. Herod took his living brother's wife, and John the Baptist told him, "It is not lawful for you to have the wife of your brother" (Mark 6:18). It cost John his life.

18:17 it is lewdness A shameful wickedness.

18:18 a woman to her sister you shall not take as a rival Jacob's home with Leah and Rachel was full of jealousy and pain (Gen 29 to 30). Most read this as forbidding marriage to a wife's sister while the wife lives. Some read it more broadly as against having more than one wife at all. Either way, God's plan from the beginning was one man and one woman (Gen 2:24; Matt 19:4-6).

18:20 to the wife of your neighbor you shall not give your intercourse Adultery, forbidden in the Ten Commandments (Exod 20:14). It sins against God, against one's own marriage and against the neighbor. "God will judge the sexually immoral and adulterers" (Heb 13:4). Verse 19 refers back to 15:19-24.

18:21 any of your seed you shall not give to make them pass over to Molech Seed means children. Molech was a god of the Ammonites and others, and his worship made children pass through fire as offerings (2 Kgs 23:10). It was child sacrifice. It sits here because it, too, twists God's gift of life and family, it was part of Canaan's religion, and it uses people for one's own ends. Israel later did this very thing (2 Kgs 16:3; Jer 32:35). Every generation has its ways of sacrificing children for what adults want. God calls it evil.

God. I am the LORD. 22 And with a male you shall not lie as the lyings of a woman; it is an abomination. 23 And with any animal you shall not give your intercourse, to become unclean by it; and a woman shall not stand before an animal to mate with it; it is perversion.

The Land Vomits Out Its People

24 "'Do not make yourselves unclean by any of these things, for by all these the nations which I am sending away from before you have become unclean. 25 And the land became unclean, and I visited its iniquity on it, and the land vomited out its inhabitants. 26 And you, you shall keep My statutes and My judgments, and you shall not do any of all these abominations, the native or the sojourner who sojourns in your midst, 27 for all these abominations the men of the land who were before you did, and the land became unclean, 28 so that the land does not vomit you out when you make it unclean, as it vomited out the nation which was before you. 29 For whoever does any of all these abominations, the souls who do them shall be cut off from among their people. 30 And you shall keep My charge, not to do any of the statutes of the abominations which have been done before you, and you shall not make yourselves unclean by them. 18:22 with a male you shall not lie as the lyings of a woman; it is an abomination This forbids sexual relations between men. An abomination is something God finds detestable, a word also used for dishonest scales (Deut 25:16), pride and lying (Prov 6:16-19). The New Testament says the same (1 Cor 6:9-10; Rom 1:26-27; 1 Tim 1:10). God's design for sexual love is a husband and wife in marriage, going back to creation, "male and female" (Matt 19:4).
18:22 it is an abomination Kindly too: Paul goes on, "And such were some of you; but you were washed" (1 Cor 6:11). Thieves, drunkards and adulterers were washed by the same blood. The verse speaks of an act. Feeling a temptation one did not choose is not the same as giving in, and Jesus was "tempted in all things according to likeness, without sin" (Heb 4:15). Christians should welcome those who struggle and never single out one sin while excusing their own. The ground at the foot of the cross is level.
18:23 it is perversion A confusion of God's created order, known in the religions of the region. This ends the list.
18:25 the land vomited out its inhabitants The land is pictured as a body made sick by what it swallowed. God waited centuries, for "the iniquity of the Amorite is not yet complete" (Gen 15:16). Now it was, and Israel's coming would be His judgment on those nations. God does not judge quickly or without cause, and sin has real effects even on the land.
18:28 as it vomited out the nation which was before you God had no favorites with sin. Israel was not given the land for being better (Deut 9:5). If they lived the same way, they would be treated the same way, and centuries later Israel and then Judah went into exile.
18:30 you shall keep My charge The sacrifices were fulfilled in Christ, but God's standard for sexual purity was not set aside: "Flee sexual immorality" (1 Cor 6:18). These limits protect families, children, marriages and the weak. If you have broken them, Jesus says, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more" (John 8:11). If someone in your family has harmed you, it was not your fault. Please talk to a pastor, counselor or someone you trust, and if anyone is in danger, get help right away.
19:2 You shall be holy, for holy am I, the LORD your God For all the congregation, not just the priests. To be holy is to be set apart for God, different from the world because we belong to Him. This is the key verse of Leviticus (11:44-45; 20:26), and Peter quotes it to the church (1 Pet 1:15-16). God's call to holiness did not end with the Law. It is still His call, now made possible by His Spirit in us.
19:3 his mother and his father you shall fear To fear one's parents means to honor and respect them. Mother is named first, unusual in the Bible, so both are honored equally. This is the fifth commandment (Exod 20:12), "the first commandment with a promise" (Eph 6:2).
19:3 My Sabbaths you shall keep The Sabbath was the seventh day, Saturday, Israel's day of rest and a sign of God's covenant with them (Exod 31:13). Believers today differ on how it applies. Some keep Saturday. Many worship on Sunday, the Lord's day of Christ's resurrection. Others see the Sabbath as a shadow fulfilled in Christ, who gives us rest (Col 2:16-17; Heb 4:9-10). "Let each be fully assured in his own mind" (Rom 14:5).
19:4 the worthless idols The first and second commandments in short form (Exod 20:3-4). The word has the sense of nothings. Idols cannot see, hear or save, and anything we put in God's place is just as empty in the end.
19:7 it is a foul thing; it shall not be accepted Meat spoiled quickly in the heat, but the reason God gives is holiness. Meat offered to God was not to be kept around like common leftovers (7:15-18). Worship is not to be treated lightly.
19:9 you shall not finish the edge of your field in reaping Corners left unharvested and dropped grain left lying "for the poor and for the sojourner" (19:10). It was not a handout. The poor worked and gathered for themselves, keeping their dignity. Ruth gleaned under this law (Ruth 2:2-3), and God brought her into the line of David and of Jesus (Matt 1:5). God expects His people to leave room in their lives, money and work for the poor.

19:12 you shall not swear by My name for falsehood Echoes of the eighth, ninth and third commandments. A false oath used God's holy name to cover a lie. Our yes should mean yes and our no, no (Matt 5:37).
19:13 The wages of a hired laborer shall not stay overnight with you until morning A day laborer lived on that day's pay, and if it was held back his family might go hungry. Withheld wages cry out to the Lord (James 5:4). Pay people what you owe, and pay on time.
19:14 before a blind person you shall not put a stumbling block The deaf could not hear the curse and the blind could not see the stumbling block. No one would know but God, so "you shall fear your God." Holiness shows most clearly in how we treat people who cannot defend themselves.
19:15 you shall not lift up the face of a poor person, and you shall not honor the face of a great person Judges were not to favor the poor out of pity or the rich out of fear. Justice must be fair to everyone (James 2:1).
19:16 you shall not stand against the blood of your neighbor A slanderer spreads damaging talk. This phrase probably means putting a neighbor's life in danger, perhaps by false testimony, or standing by while his life is at risk. Both are common readings. Gossip does real harm.
19:17 You shall not hate your brother in your heart The law reaches into the heart. The cure for hidden hatred is honest, loving correction. If my neighbor has done wrong, I should go to him rather than let resentment grow, or I share his guilt (Matt 18:15).
19:18 you shall love your neighbor as yourself Jesus named this the second great commandment, "like" the first (Matt 22:39). "The whole law is fulfilled in one word" (Gal 5:14), and James calls it "the royal law" (James 2:8). Here neighbor means a fellow Israelite, but verse 34 extends it to the foreigner, and when asked "And who is my neighbor?" (Luke 10:29), Jesus told of the good Samaritan. He went further: "love your enemies" (Matt 5:44).
19:19 a garment of two kinds, of mixed material Wool and linen woven together (Deut 22:11). Scripture does not give the reason. Many teachers think these rules taught respect for the order of creation, where all was made according to its kind (Gen 1:11-12), and separation from what was unholy. Some note the priests' garments did mix wool and linen (Exod 28:6; 39:29), so mixed cloth may have been kept for holy use. This was part of the shadow fulfilled in Christ, but being distinct as God's people remains (2 Cor 6:14-17).
19:20 they shall not be put to death, because she was not freed Normally a betrothed woman's sin was punished as adultery (Deut 22:23-24). This slave woman was not yet fully under the protection of marriage and may have had little power to refuse, so she was not treated as a free woman with a free choice. The man was not excused. He brought a guilt offering, and the inquiry may also mean payment. Israel's servant laws were not race-based slavery, and the Law limited them (chapter 25). In Christ "there is not slave nor free" (Gal 3:28).
19:23 three years it shall be uncircumcised to you Uncircumcised here means forbidden, not yet given to God. The fourth year's fruit was holy, "praises to the LORD," and only in the fifth could the farmer eat. It took patience and faith, and it taught that the first and best belong to God. Good farmers also know young trees grow stronger when early fruit is removed.
19:26 You shall not practice divination, and you shall not practice soothsaying Divination was trying to learn the future or hidden things from signs, like the insides of animals or the flight of birds. Soothsaying was the reading of omens. Israel was to seek God and His Word, not secret powers (Deut 18:10-12).
19:28 a cutting for a soul you shall not put in your flesh Cutting the body in mourning for the dead. These were pagan mourning customs, honoring the dead or the gods of the dead with cut hair, cuts and marks. Israel was to grieve, but as the LORD's people, not as those "who have no hope" (1 Thess 4:13). The setting of the tattoo command is pagan mourning and worship. Believers differ on whether it forbids all tattoos for Christians or only marks tied to false religion. All agree our bodies belong to God (1 Cor 10:31).
19:29 Do not profane your daughter by making her a prostitute False worship around Israel included cult prostitutes (Deut 23:17), and poverty could tempt a father to sell his daughter. God forbade it absolutely. A father's duty was to protect her. Sin in families spreads to the whole land.

Penalties for Molech and Mediums

19:30 My sanctuary you shall fear The Sabbath was holy time. The sanctuary was holy space. To fear it is to come with reverence.
19:31 Do not turn to the mediums and to the spiritists They claimed to speak with the dead. "On behalf of the living should they consult the dead?" (Isa 8:19). Saul died after consulting a medium (1 Chr 10:13). Christians should stay far from fortune tellers, seances, horoscopes and the like. We have God's Word and His Spirit.
19:32 Before gray hair you shall rise up Standing when an older person came in was a sign of respect. Our culture prizes youth and pushes the elderly aside. God says honor them, and how we treat them shows whether we fear Him.
19:34 you shall love him as yourself, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt Israel knew what it was to be a poor, mistreated foreigner. The love of verse 18 now reaches beyond Israel. We too were once strangers, far from God, before Christ brought us near (Eph 2:12-13).
19:36 Balances of righteousness, weights of righteousness Merchants weighed goods with stones on balance scales, and a cheat kept a heavy set for buying and a light one for selling. An ephah was about half a bushel, a hin about a gallon. "Scales of deceit are an abomination of the LORD" (Prov 11:1). Honest business is holy business. God saved them first, then called them to live this way. A people saved by grace should look like this chapter, by the Spirit (Rom 8:4).
20:2 shall surely be put to death; the people of the land shall stone him with stones Giving children to Molech meant offering them as sacrifices, often by fire (18:21). Israel was a nation with God as its King, and the Law of Moses was its civil law as well as its religious law. These penalties were carried out by the nation's courts after a fair trial, with at least two or three witnesses (Deut 17:6). They were not private acts of revenge.
20:4 if the people of the land at all hide their eyes from that man If the community looked the other way, God would set His face against the man, his clan and all who followed him. To ignore evil against children is to share in it. When a church or community covers up harm done to children, God sees and holds them to account.
20:6 the soul who turns to the mediums and to the spiritists Seeking the dead or spirits for guidance is spiritual unfaithfulness, like a wife running after other men. Here God Himself acts against the one who goes. Verse 27 gives the penalty for the medium.
20:8 I am the LORD who sanctifies you Israel was to sanctify themselves (20:7), and the LORD sanctified them. Holiness is God's work in us and also our work as we obey: "work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" (Phil 2:12), for "God is the One who is working in you" (Phil 2:13).
20:9 any man who curses his father or his mother shall surely be put to death Not a child's angry word. To curse here means to treat with contempt, call down evil on, reject utterly. Parents stood in God's place to teach His law (Deut 6:6-7), and a grown son who cursed them rejected God's order at its root. Deuteronomy 21:18-21 shows such a case brought before the elders, a public trial and not a private act. Scripture records no case of it being carried out. Jesus used this law against leaders who dodged caring for their parents (Matt 15:4-6). The command is repeated for Christians, not the penalty (Eph 6:1-4), and honor runs both ways.
20:9 his blood is on him He is responsible for his own death, not those who carry out the sentence.
20:10 the adulterer and the adulteress shall surely be put to death Both were punished equally. The leaders who brought a woman caught in adultery to Jesus had not brought the man (John 8:3-5). Jesus said, "The sinless one among you, let him first cast the stone at her" (John 8:7), and then, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more" (John 8:11). He did not call adultery anything but sin. But He offered mercy, which every one of us needs.
20:12 they have done perversion These sins broke the family apart from the inside.

20:13 they shall surely be put to death The penalty for the act forbidden in 18:22. The New Testament repeats the standard, not the death penalty. It never tells the church to put anyone to death for any sin. Paul told the Corinthian church to remove a man living in sexual sin from fellowship (1 Cor 5:13), hoping he would repent and be restored (2 Cor 2:6-8). This verse shows how serious sin is to a holy God, like every sin here and our own: "The wages of sin is death" (Rom 6:23). Then we look to the cross and to "such were some of you; but you were washed" (1 Cor 6:11). Christians must never use this verse to hate, mock or harm anyone.
20:14 they shall burn him and them with fire The most severe penalty in the chapter. Some teachers believe the burning came after stoning, as with Achan (Josh 7:25). The text does not say. The purpose is given: "so that there may not be lewdness in your midst."
20:15 the animal you shall kill The animal had done no moral wrong, but it was killed so the shameful act would not be remembered in the camp.
20:20 they shall die childless The lighter penalties show that God's law made distinctions, and not every sin was punished alike. Childless may mean God would not give them children, or that children would not be counted as their heirs. Either way their family line in Israel ended, a great loss in that culture. Verse 21 concerns a brother's wife apart from the duty of Deuteronomy 25:5-6.
20:24 a land flowing with milk and honey A picture of a rich and fruitful land. The holiness laws were not a burden on a people trying to earn God's love. They were the way of life for a people He had already chosen.
20:26 I have separated you from the peoples to be Mine This is the heart of holiness. God did not only separate Israel from something. He separated them to Himself. Believers are "a people for His possession" (1 Pet 2:9). The food laws that marked the separation were fulfilled in Christ (Acts 10:15, 28), but we are still to belong wholly to God.
20:27 a medium or a spiritist, they shall surely be put to death Mediums led people away from the living God into darkness, which in Israel was treason against their King. The church does not carry out these penalties. Scripture gives the sword to governments (Rom 13:4), and Christians differ on how far that should go today. This chapter shows what we all deserve, for "all sinned" (Rom 3:23). "While we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Rom 5:8). If this chapter shows you your sin, do not run from God. Run to Him.
21:1 For a soul he shall not make himself unclean among his kinsmen A soul here means a dead person. Touching a dead body, or being in the same tent, made a person unclean for seven days (Num 19:11-14). A priest had to stay clean to serve. Yet for his close family he could become unclean (21:2-3). God did not ask a priest to stay away from the funeral of his own mother or child. He made room for grief and love.
21:4 a husband among his kinsmen Not easy to translate. Many take it to mean a priest, as a leading man among his people, must not become unclean for those outside his close family. Others take it to mean his wife's relatives. Either way, the circle was small.

Priests with Blemishes

Eating the Holy Things

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to Aaron (Aharon) and to his sons, that they separate themselves from the holy things of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and that they not profane the name of My holiness, which they are sanctifying to Me. I am the LORD. 3 Say to them, 'Throughout your generations, any man of all your seed who draws near to the holy things which the sons of Israel sanctify to the LORD, while his uncleanness is on him, that soul shall be cut off from before Me. 21:6 the food of their God The offerings are called God's food not because He needed to eat, but because they were like a meal presented at His table. Those who served at His table had to be holy, and must not mourn like the pagans (19:27-28).
21:7 a woman divorced from her husband they shall not take Profaned probably means a woman who had lost her purity in some way. This law was not saying a divorced woman was worse or could not be forgiven. Many had done no wrong. It concerned the priest's household as a picture of purity. Church leaders too are to be "above reproach" (1 Tim 3:2), with homes in good order (Titus 1:6).
21:9 she shall be burned with fire A priest's daughter who became a prostitute shamed her father's holy office and God's name. With cult prostitution part of Canaan's worship (1 Kgs 14:24), this would bring pagan worship to the door of God's house. As in 20:14, some believe the burning followed stoning; the text does not say. Like the Law's other death penalties, it belonged to Israel as a nation, and the church does not carry it out. What we do affects our families and the name of the Lord we serve.
21:10 the priest who is great among his brothers The high priest, whose standard was higher still.
21:11 for his father or for his mother he shall not make himself unclean He could not attend even his parents' funerals in the usual way, as Aaron could not mourn Nadab and Abihu (10:6-7). He belonged wholly to God. Jesus said, "Follow Me, and leave the dead to bury their own dead" (Matt 8:22), not teaching us to neglect family, but that following Him comes before every other love.
21:14 only a virgin of his kinsmen he shall take as a wife His children would carry on the high priesthood, so his marriage had to be above question. Many teachers see a picture of Christ and His church, presented "holy and blameless" (Eph 5:27). The church is not pure because of her past, but by the blood of her Husband.
21:17 in whom there is a blemish shall not draw near The animals offered had to be without blemish (22:19-21), and so did the priests who offered them. Everything at the altar pictured perfection, pointing to the perfect sacrifice and Priest, "holy, innocent, undefiled" (Heb 7:26), who "offered Himself unblemished to God" (Heb 9:14). This never meant people with disabilities were sinful or worth less. Jesus said of the man born blind, "Neither this man sinned, nor his parents" (John 9:3).
21:22 The food of his God, from the holy things of the holies and from the holy things, he may eat The grace in this law. A priest with a blemish was still a priest and a son of Aaron. He ate the most holy food and was not cast out. He only could not offer at the altar.
21:24 Moses spoke to Aaron and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel Nothing about the priesthood was secret. Every believer now belongs to "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet 2:5), and in Christ's church no one is shut out because of a body that does not work as others do (Luke 14:13; 2 Cor 12:9). Those who lead are still held to a higher standard (James 3:1).
22:2 that they not profane the name of My holiness The holy things were the gifts the people brought to God, part of which the priests ate. To profane is to treat as common what God has made holy. Being a priest did not give a man the right to treat holy things carelessly. His closeness to them made it more serious.

Acceptable Offerings

17 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 18 "Speak to Aaron and to his sons and to all the sons of Israel, and say to them, 'Any man of the house of Israel or of the sojourners in Israel who brings near his offering, for any of their vows or for any of their freewill offerings which they bring near to the LORD for a burnt offering, 19 for your acceptance it shall be a male without blemish from the herd, from the lambs, and from the goats. 20 Anything in which is a blemish you shall not bring near, for it shall not be for acceptance for you. 21 And a man, when he brings near a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD to fulfill a vow or for a freewill offering, from the herd or from the flock, it shall be without blemish for acceptance; there shall not be any blemish in it. 22 Blind or broken or maimed or having a wart or eczema or scabs, these you shall not bring near to the LORD, and a fire offering of them you shall not give on the altar to the LORD. 23 And an ox or a sheep overgrown or stunted in limb, a freewill offering you may make it, but for a vow it shall not be accepted. 24 And one bruised or crushed or torn or cut you shall not bring near to the LORD; and in your land you shall not do it. 25 And from the hand of a son of a foreign land you shall not bring near the food of your God from any of these, for their corruption is in them, a blemish is in them; they shall not be accepted for you.'" 26 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 27 "When an ox or a lamb or a goat is born, then it shall be seven days under its mother; and from the eighth day and onward it shall be accepted for an offering, a fire offering to the LORD. 28 And an ox or a sheep, it and its young you shall not slaughter in one day. 29 And when you sacrifice a sacrifice of thanksgiving to the LORD, for your acceptance you

22:7 for it is his food A kind phrase. The holy food was the priest's living, and God did not shut him out for long. He bathed, waited until sundown and could eat again. Uncleanness was serious, but the way back was simple and quick.
22:9 they shall not bear sin for it and die by it For other Israelites eating a carcass made a person unclean until evening (17:15). For a priest it was forbidden outright. The memory of Nadab and Abihu was fresh (chapter 10).
22:10 no stranger shall eat a holy thing A stranger here is anyone outside the priest's family, even an Israelite. A settler or hired laborer only lived or worked with him for a time.
22:11 when he buys a soul, the purchase of his silver, he may eat of it A slave bought into a priest's house counted as a member of the household and shared the holy food. The law treated him as family, not as an outsider (see chapter 25).
22:13 she returns to her father's house as in her youth A priest's daughter married outside the priestly family belonged to another household. But widowed or divorced with no children to support her, she could come home and eat her father's food again. God made a place at the table for the woman with nowhere else to go.
22:14 he shall add its fifth to it The same rule as the guilt offering (5:16). Even a mistake with holy things had to be made right, with something extra. The priests also had to guard the holy things so no one ate wrongly and became guilty (22:16). Leaders answer for how they lead others.
22:19 a male without blemish A freewill offering is a gift given simply out of a willing heart. The worshiper might keep his best for breeding and give God the lame or blind one. God said no. David would not offer burnt offerings "without cost" (2 Sam 24:24). In Malachi's day the priests did exactly what this forbids, offering what they would never dare give their governor (Mal 1:8).
22:22 Blind or broken or maimed Each animal pictured Christ, "a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pet 1:19), who "offered Himself unblemished to God" (Heb 9:14). Only a perfect sacrifice could take the place of sinners. Had Jesus one sin of His own, He could not have died for ours.
22:23 a freewill offering you may make it, but for a vow it shall not be accepted A vow was a promise made to God, and a promise to God had to be kept with the best.
22:24 in your land you shall not do it The verse seems to refer to the animal's private parts. Many read this last phrase as a ban on neutering animals in Israel at all. Others take it only as a ban on offering such animals.
22:25 from the hand of a son of a foreign land Buying an animal from a foreigner did not get around the rule. God's standard did not change with where the animal came from.
22:28 it and its young you shall not slaughter in one day God's care even for animals. A newborn had its time with its mother (22:27), and a mother and her young were not killed together (compare Exod 23:19). A people who learn tenderness toward animals are more likely to show it toward people.

Firstfruits and the Festival of Weeks

22:30 On that day it shall be eaten The thanksgiving offering (7:12-15) was stricter than the vow and freewill offerings (19:6). Thanksgiving was meant to be enjoyed right away, with others, while the joy was fresh.
22:32 I will be sanctified in the midst of the sons of Israel To sanctify God's name is to treat Him as holy, as Jesus taught us to pray: "let Your name be sanctified" (Matt 6:9). Everything rests on what He had already done (22:33). We still bring offerings, our bodies "a living, holy sacrifice" (Rom 12:1) and "a sacrifice of praise" (Heb 13:15). Am I giving God my best, or what is left over? The widow's two coins were "more than all" (Mark 12:43).
23:2 these, they are My appointed times An appointed time is a set meeting, like an appointment on a calendar. A convocation of holiness is a holy gathering for worship. These are not first Israel's holidays but "the appointed times of the LORD." The holy God made appointments to meet with His people.
23:3 on the seventh day is a Sabbath of Sabbath rest The weekly Sabbath comes first, the rhythm of Israel's whole life. They remembered God's rest after creation (Exod 20:11) and their freedom from Egypt (Deut 5:15). Believers differ on how it applies now (see 19:3). "There remains a Sabbath rest for the people of God" (Heb 4:9), entered by faith in Christ.
23:5 between the two evenings, is a Passover to the LORD The first month, later called Nisan, falls in March or April. Between the two evenings means twilight. Each family killed a lamb, remembering the night the LORD passed over the houses marked with blood (Exod 12). "For also our Passover was sacrificed for us: Christ" (1 Cor 5:7). Jesus died at Passover, and not a bone of His was broken (Exod 12:46; John 19:36). God set this appointment fifteen centuries ahead, and Jesus kept it.
23:6 the Festival of Unleavened Bread Israel left Egypt so fast the dough had no time to rise (Exod 12:39). For seven days all leaven was removed. Leaven often pictures sin spreading through the whole. "Let us celebrate the feast, not with old leaven" (1 Cor 5:8). First comes the blood of the Lamb that saves, then a life of putting away sin.
23:10 the sheaf of the first of your harvest A sheaf is a bundle of grain stalks. The first barley harvest came in spring, during Unleavened Bread. Before anyone ate from the new crop, the first sheaf was waved before the LORD.
23:11 on the next day after the Sabbath Later Jewish teachers disagreed on which Sabbath was meant: the first day of Unleavened Bread, or the weekly Sabbath during the feast, which would put firstfruits on the first day of the week. Jesus rose on the first day of the week during this feast (Matt 28:1). "He became the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep" (1 Cor 15:20). The first sheaf promised the whole harvest, and Christ's resurrection promises ours (1 Cor 15:23).
23:14 until you have brought the offering of your God A drink offering (23:13) was wine poured out at the altar. God got the first of the harvest before anyone ate. Giving God the first is an act of faith that all of it comes from Him (Prov 3:9).
23:16 you shall count fifty days Seven weeks gave it the name Festival of Weeks (Deut 16:16). The fifty days gave it the later name Pentecost, from the Greek for fiftieth. It marked the end of the wheat harvest, in late May or June.
23:17 leavened they shall be baked, firstfruits to the LORD Leaven was forbidden on the altar (2:11), but this bread was waved and given to the priests, and a sin offering came with it. On this very feast, fifty days after the resurrection, the Spirit came, and "there were added on that day about three thousand souls" (Acts 2:41). Christ was the firstfruits sheaf, raised alone. Fifty days later came the first great harvest. Many see the two leavened loaves as Jew and Gentile in one body, not yet free of sin (Eph 2:14-16). Some note that about three thousand died after the golden calf (Exod 32:28). These are pictures I hold loosely.

Trumpets and the Day of Atonement

23 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 24 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, there shall be for you a Sabbath rest, a memorial of a loud blast, a convocation of holiness. 25 You shall not do any work of labor, and you shall bring near a fire offering to the LORD.'" 26 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 27 "Surely on the tenth of this seventh month, it is the Day of Atonement; a convocation of holiness it shall be for you, and you shall afflict your souls, and you shall bring near a fire offering to the LORD. 28 And you shall not do any work on this very day, for it is a Day of Atonement, to make atonement for you before the LORD your God. 29 For any soul who is not afflicted on this very day shall be cut off from its kinsmen. 30 And any soul who does any work on this very day, I will destroy that soul from among its people. 31 You shall not do any work; it is a statute forever throughout your generations in all your dwellings. 32 It is a Sabbath of Sabbath rest for you, and you shall afflict your souls; on the ninth of the month in the evening, from evening until evening, you shall rest for your Sabbath."

23:22 for the poor and for the sojourner you shall leave them The gleaning law (19:9-10) repeated in the middle of the feast calendar. A harvest festival tempts people to think only of their own plenty. Worship and care for the poor go together.
23:24 a memorial of a loud blast The seventh month, Tishri, falls in September or October. The blast was trumpets, usually the ram's horn, the shofar (Num 29:1), so it is called the Feast of Trumpets, later Rosh Hashanah. Leviticus does not say what it was for, perhaps a call to prepare for the Day of Atonement. In the prophets the trumpet gathers God's people, warns of judgment and announces the day of the LORD (Joel 2:1; Isa 27:13).
23:24 a convocation of holiness The spring feasts were fulfilled in order at Christ's first coming, and many teachers believe the fall feasts will be fulfilled at His second. Among those who hold, as I do, that Christ comes for His church before the Tribulation, many see here a picture of the rapture, "with the trumpet of God" (1 Thess 4:16; 1 Cor 15:52). Others link it to the trumpet that gathers Israel at the end of the Tribulation (Matt 24:31). Other teachers see the feasts fulfilled in Christ and the church with no future order. Never set a date (Matt 24:36). The trumpet is a call to be ready.
23:27 it is the Day of Atonement The high priest's part is in chapter 16. Here is the people's part: to afflict the soul, humbling oneself before God, usually by fasting.
23:29 any soul who is not afflicted on this very day shall be cut off This was the one day the whole nation was cleansed. To go on with business as usual was to say one did not need atonement. A person who refuses the forgiveness God offers shuts himself out. The Hebrew day began at sundown, so it ran from evening to evening (23:32).
23:32 you shall afflict your souls Fulfilled for believers when Christ entered heaven "through His own blood" (Heb 9:12). Many teachers believe it also looks ahead to the day "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26), when they "look to Me, to Him whom they have pierced; and they will mourn over Him" (Zech 12:10). Others see no future national fulfillment (see 16:34).
23:34 the Festival of Booths A booth was a simple shelter of branches. Also called the Feast of Tabernacles or Sukkot, it was the last and most joyful feast of the year.
23:38 besides the Sabbaths of the LORD The feasts did not replace daily faithfulness. They were added to it.
23:40 you shall rejoice before the LORD your God seven days God commanded His people to celebrate. Holiness is not gloomy. After the solemn fast of the Day of Atonement came seven days of joy. First atonement, then joy.

LEVITICUS 24

The Lamp and the Bread

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), that they bring to you pure olive oil, beaten, for the light, to cause a lamp to go up continually. 3 Outside the veil of the testimony, in the tent of meeting, Aaron (Aharon) shall arrange it from evening until morning before the LORD continually; it is a statute forever throughout your generations. 4 On the pure lampstand he shall arrange the lamps before the LORD continually. 5 "And you shall take fine flour and bake it into twelve cakes; the one cake shall be approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah). 6 And you shall set them in two rows, six in the row, on the pure table before the LORD. 7 And you shall put pure frankincense on the row, and it shall be for the bread for a memorial portion, a fire offering to the LORD. 8 On the day of the Sabbath, on the day of the Sabbath, he shall arrange it before the LORD continually, from the sons of Israel, a covenant forever. 9 And it shall be for Aaron and for his sons, and they shall eat it in a holy place, for it is a holy of holies to him from the fire offerings of the LORD, a due forever."

The Blasphemer

10 And the son of an Israelite woman went out, and he was the son of an Egyptian man, in the midst of the sons of Israel; and the son of the Israelite woman and the Israelite man struggled together in the camp. 11 And the son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the Name, and he cursed; and they brought him to Moses. And the name of his mother was Shelomith (Shelomit), the daughter of Dibri (Divri), of the tribe of Dan. 12 And they put him in custody, to make it clear to them according to the mouth of the LORD. 13 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 14 "Bring the one who cursed outside the camp, and all who heard shall lay their hands on his head, and all the congregation shall stone him. 15 And to the sons of Israel you shall speak, saying, 'Any man, when he curses his God, shall bear his sin. 16 And whoever blasphemes the name of the LORD shall surely be put to death; all the congregation shall surely stone him; as the sojourner, so the native, when he blasphemes the Name, shall be put to death.

23:43 in booths I made the sons of Israel dwell Every year, even in houses in the land, Israel moved into rough shelters for a week, and children heard how God cared for their fathers in the wilderness. "The Word became flesh and dwelt among us" (John 1:14), the word having the idea of pitching a tent. At this feast Jesus cried, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37). Zechariah says the nations will keep this feast in the coming kingdom (Zech 14:16), which I believe will be fulfilled in the thousand-year reign of Christ. And then "the tabernacle of God is with men" (Rev 21:3).
23:44 Moses spoke the appointed times of the LORD to the sons of Israel Christians are not bound to keep these feasts (Col 2:16-17), though some Jewish believers keep them as heritage. Passover, Unleavened Bread, Firstfruits and Weeks were fulfilled at Christ's first coming: His death, our putting away of sin, His resurrection and the coming of the Spirit. Trumpets, Atonement and Booths point ahead. God keeps His appointments. He kept the first four, and He will keep the rest.
24:2 pure olive oil, beaten, for the light Beaten oil was the finest, made by crushing olives gently in a mortar. It burned clean and bright with little smoke. The lamp in God's house was kept burning by the gifts of ordinary Israelites.
24:3 Aaron shall arrange it from evening until morning before the LORD continually The golden lampstand with seven lamps stood in the holy place, which had no windows (Exod 25:31-40). Jesus said, "I am the light of the world" (John 8:12), and told us to let our light "shine before men" (Matt 5:16). He stands among the lampstands, the churches (Rev 1:12-13, 20). A light that burns continually pictures a faithful witness, kept bright by daily care.
24:5 bake it into twelve cakes Each used about four quarts of flour, so these were large loaves, the "bread of the Presence" (Exod 25:30) set before God. The twelve loaves are commonly understood as the twelve tribes, every tribe always before God and none forgotten. Jesus is "the bread of life" (John 6:35).
24:8 On the day of the Sabbath, on the day of the Sabbath Fresh bread every Sabbath, and the old went to the priests. When David was hungry he ate this bread (1 Sam 21:1-6), and Jesus used it to show that God's laws were given for people's good and that mercy matters more than outward ritual (Matt 12:4, 7).
24:10 he was the son of an Egyptian man A man of mixed parents, perhaps of the "great mixed company" (Exod 12:38) that left Egypt.
24:11 the son of the Israelite woman blasphemed the Name, and he cursed To blaspheme is to speak against God with contempt. The Name is the LORD's holy personal name. He did not merely lose his temper. He cursed God Himself, a direct attack on Israel's King. His mother's name is recorded, perhaps to make the account exact. Sin affects families.
24:12 they put him in custody Moses did not act in anger or decide on his own. He waited for God's answer. When a case is serious and the way is unclear, slow down, pray and seek God's will.
24:14 all who heard shall lay their hands on his head Those who heard were the witnesses. Their hands said that they had heard it and his guilt was on his own head.
24:16 whoever blasphemes the name of the LORD shall surely be put to death A man put to death for words. Israel was a nation with God as King, and to curse Him openly was treason against the throne. God would not leave unpunished the misuse of His name (Exod 20:7), and at the nation's start He taught that His name is holy, as with Nadab and Abihu. Jesus Himself was condemned under this law: "He has blasphemed!" (Matt 26:65). Yet He prayed, "Father, forgive them" (Luke 23:34). Blasphemy can be forgiven (Matt 12:31; 1 Tim 1:13). The church does not stone blasphemers. We answer with the gospel.
24:16 as the sojourner, so the native It did not matter whether the man was a full Israelite or a foreigner. All were under the same King.
24:17 when he strikes down any life of mankind, shall surely be put to death This goes back to God's word to Noah, because man is made in God's image (Gen 9:6). A human life is worth so much that taking one unlawfully cost the murderer his own.

shall surely be put to death. 18 And whoever strikes down the life of an animal shall repay it, life for life. 19 And a man, when he puts a blemish on his fellow, just as he has done, so it shall be done to him: 20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth; just as he puts a blemish on a man, so it shall be put on him. 21 And whoever strikes down an animal shall repay it; and whoever strikes down a man shall be put to death. 22 One judgment shall be for you; as the sojourner, so the native it shall be; for I am the LORD your God.'" 23 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, and they brought the one who had cursed outside the camp, and they stoned him with stones. And the sons of Israel did just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Sabbath Year

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) on Mount Sinai (Sinay), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and say to them, 'When you come into the land which I am giving to you, then the land shall rest a Sabbath to the LORD. 3 Six years you shall sow your field, and six years you shall prune your vineyard, and you shall gather its produce. 4 And in the seventh year there shall be a Sabbath of Sabbath rest for the land, a Sabbath to the LORD; your field you shall not sow, and your vineyard you shall not prune. 5 The self-sown growth of your harvest you shall not reap, and the grapes of your untrimmed vine you shall not pick; it shall be a year of Sabbath rest for the land. 6 And the Sabbath of the land shall be for you for food: for you and for your male slave and for your female slave and for your hired laborer and for your settler who sojourn with you, 7 and for your livestock and for the living things that are in your land all its produce shall be to eat.

The Year of Jubilee

8 "'And you shall count for yourself seven Sabbaths of years, seven years seven times; and the days of the seven Sabbaths of years shall be to you forty-nine years. 9 And you shall cause a ram's horn of loud blast to pass through in the seventh month, on the tenth of the month; on the Day of Atonement you shall cause a ram's horn to pass through in all your land. 10 And you shall sanctify the year of the fiftieth year, and proclaim liberty in the land to all its inhabitants; it shall be a jubilee for you, and you shall return each man to his possession, and each man to his clan you shall return. 11 It shall be a jubilee for you, the year of the fiftieth year; you shall not sow, and you shall not reap its self-sown growth, and you shall not pick the grapes of its untrimmed vines. 12 For it is a jubilee; it shall be holiness to you; from the field you shall eat its produce. 13 In this year of the jubilee you shall return each man to his possession. 14 "'And when you sell a sale to your fellow, or buy from the hand of your fellow, do not mistreat, each man his brother. 15 According to the number of years after the jubilee you shall buy from your fellow; according to the number of the years of produce he shall sell to you. 16 According to the abundance of the years you shall increase its price, and according to the fewness of the years you shall decrease its price; for it is a number of produce years he is selling to you. 17 And you shall not mistreat, each man his fellow, and you shall fear your God; for I am the LORD your God. 18 "'And you shall do My statutes, and My judgments you shall keep and do them; and you shall dwell on the land in security. 19 And the land shall give its fruit, and you shall eat to satisfaction, and you shall dwell in 24:18 whoever strikes down the life of an animal shall repay it An animal could be paid for. A human life could not. People are not property, and no ransom could make up for a murder (Num 35:31).

24:20 fracture for fracture, eye for eye, tooth for tooth Often called the law of retaliation. Many think it cruel, but it was a limit on cruelty. Revenge in the ancient world grew and grew. This law said the punishment must fit the crime, no more, and the rich paid the same as the poor. It was for judges, not private revenge (Deut 19:18-21). Many teachers believe it was often settled by payment, since only a murderer's ransom is forbidden (Num 35:31); Scripture does not say so directly. Jesus told His followers not to turn it into a right to get even (Matt 5:38-39; Rom 12:17-19).
24:22 One judgment shall be for you; as the sojourner, so the native it shall be No special treatment for the native-born, and no harsher treatment for the foreigner. God's justice is fair to all.
24:23 they stoned him with stones Told plainly, without detail. It was a sad day in the camp. God's name is holy, and we should never use it carelessly, as a curse word or a joke. In Christ we have received not justice but mercy. Forgiven so much, we can turn the other cheek and leave our wrongs in God's hands.
25:1 the LORD spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai We are still at Sinai, where the covenant was given (26:46; 27:34). Israel did not yet have the land, and God was already planning how they would live in it. Even the soil was to keep a Sabbath (25:2).
25:4 in the seventh year there shall be a Sabbath of Sabbath rest for the land No planting, pruning or organized harvest. What grew on its own was food for everyone, servants, settlers and even animals (25:6-7). The land rested and recovered, the poor were fed, and rich and poor ate from the same fields for a year. Most of all, Israel learned to trust God to provide.
25:9 on the Day of Atonement you shall cause a ram's horn to pass through in all your land The jubilee began on the Day of Atonement (chapter 16). Freedom was announced on the day sins were atoned for. Atonement came first, then liberty.
25:10 proclaim liberty in the land to all its inhabitants; it shall be a jubilee for you The word jubilee comes from yobel, a ram's horn. Families who had lost their land got it back, and those who had sold themselves into service went home. Imagine a man who lost his family's land years ago through bad harvests or debt hearing that horn and knowing it was coming back. Scholars debate whether the jubilee was the forty-ninth or fiftieth year; the text says "the fiftieth year."
25:16 it is a number of produce years he is selling to you Land was not really sold forever. A buyer paid for the number of harvests until the next jubilee, more like a lease than a sale. A buyer could take advantage of a desperate seller, but fair dealing comes from the fear of God (25:17).

security on it. 20 And when you say, "What shall we eat in the seventh year? Look, we shall not sow, and we shall not gather our produce," 21 then I will command My blessing for you in the sixth year, and it shall make the produce for the three years. 22 And you shall sow in the eighth year, and you shall eat of the produce, old produce, until the ninth year; until its produce comes in, you shall eat old produce.

The Redemption of Land

23 "'And the land shall not be sold in perpetuity, for the land is Mine; for you are sojourners and settlers with Me. 24 And in all the land of your possession you shall give redemption for the land. 25 "'When your brother becomes poor and sells some of his possession, then his redeemer who is near to him shall come and redeem what his brother sold. 26 And a man, when he has no redeemer, and his hand attains and he finds according to the sufficiency of its redemption, 27 then he shall calculate the years of its sale, and repay the surplus to the man to whom he sold it, and he shall return to his possession. 28 And if his hand has not found sufficiency to repay to him, then what he sold shall be in the hand of the one who bought it until the year of the jubilee; and it shall go out in the jubilee, and he shall return to his possession. 29 "'And a man, when he sells a dwelling house of a walled city, then its redemption shall be until the completion of the year of its sale; its redemption shall be for days. 30 And if it is not redeemed until a complete year is fulfilled for it, then the house which is in the city that has a wall shall stand in perpetuity for the one who bought it, throughout his generations; it shall not go out in the jubilee. 31 And the houses of the villages which have no wall around them shall be reckoned with the field of the land; redemption shall be for it, and in the jubilee it shall go out. 32 And the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities of their possession, a redemption forever shall be for the Levites. 33 And what one of the Levites redeems, then the sale of the house and the city of his possession shall go out in the jubilee; for the houses of the cities of the Levites, it is their possession in the midst of the sons of Israel. 34 And the field of the pasture land of their cities shall not be sold, for it is a possession forever for them.

Help for the Poor Brother

35 "'And when your brother becomes poor, and his hand slips with you, then you shall strengthen him; as a sojourner and a settler, and he shall live with you. 36 Do not take from him interest and increase, and you shall fear your God, and your brother shall live with you. 37 Your silver you shall not give to him at interest, and at increase you shall not give your food. 38 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), to give you the land of Canaan (Kena'an), to be God to you. 39 "'And when your brother becomes poor with you and sells himself to you, you shall not work him with the work of a slave. 40 As a hired laborer, as a settler he shall be with you; until the year of the jubilee he shall work with you. 41 And he shall go out from you, he and his sons with him, and he shall return to his clan, and to the possession of his fathers he shall return. 42 For they are My slaves whom I brought out from the land of Egypt; they shall not be sold with the sale of a slave. 43 You shall not have dominion over him with harshness, and you shall fear your God.

25:20 What shall we eat in the seventh year? The question every farmer would ask. God promised a sixth-year harvest big enough for three years (25:21), like the double manna before the Sabbath (Exod 16:22-30). Obeying God can look risky, but He says, Trust Me (Matt 6:33). Israel did not keep the Sabbath years, and in the exile the land lay empty "until the land had accepted its Sabbaths" (2 Chr 36:21; see 26:34-35).

25:23 the land is Mine; for you are sojourners and settlers with Me The foundation of the whole chapter. Israel lived on God's land as His guests and could not sell it forever. "To the LORD belongs the earth and its fullness" (Ps 24:1). We too are stewards, not owners, of houses, money, time and bodies, and like the patriarchs "strangers and sojourners on the earth" (Heb 11:13). Redemption (25:24) means buying back.

25:25 his redeemer who is near to him shall come and redeem what his brother sold The redeemer, go'el, was the closest male relative, with the right and duty to buy back family land, buy a relative out of slavery (25:48-49) and stand up for the family. Boaz did this for Naomi and Ruth (Ruth 4:10). Christ became our relative, taking on flesh and blood, to redeem us (Heb 2:14-15; Gal 4:4-5), paying with His own blood (1 Pet 1:18-19).

25:28 it shall go out in the jubilee, and he shall return to his possession With no redeemer, a man could buy back his land if he later had the money, paying for the years left. If he never could, it came back in the jubilee. No family would lose its land forever.

25:30 it shall not go out in the jubilee Houses in walled cities were not farmland, the family's share of God's land, so after one year the sale was final. Village houses were counted with the fields (25:31).

25:32 a redemption forever shall be for the Levites The Levites, the tribe that served at the tabernacle, received no tribal territory, only cities with pasture land (Num 35:1-8). God made sure they would never lose the little they had (25:34).

25:35 when your brother becomes poor, and his hand slips with you, then you shall strengthen him His hand slips means he cannot support himself. Israel was to help him get back on his feet.

25:37 Your silver you shall not give to him at interest Loans to a poor fellow Israelite were to help, not to make money off his trouble. The law did not forbid all business loans, and interest was allowed to foreigners (Deut 23:20). Christians differ on how this applies to lending today. But a poor brother is not a business opportunity. God had freed them when they were poor slaves (25:38).

25:39 you shall not work him with the work of a slave An Israelite who sold his labor to pay his debts was a hired worker, not property, and went home with his family in the jubilee (25:40-41). Deuteronomy 15:12-15 also sets a release in the seventh year. Teachers explain the two laws differently, but both forbid holding an Israelite in service forever.

25:42 For they are My slaves whom I brought out from the land of Egypt God had bought Israel out of slavery. No Israelite could own another the way Pharaoh had owned them, or rule him with harshness (25:43).

Foreign Slaves and Redemption

25:44 from them you may buy a male slave and a female slave The hardest part of the chapter. This was not the slavery of the Atlantic trade, built on race and kidnapping. The Law made kidnapping a capital crime (Exod 21:16), and the New Testament names "enslavers" among the lawless (1 Tim 1:10). The Law limited it in ways unlike the nations: a master who killed his slave was punished (Exod 21:20), an injured slave went free (Exod 21:26-27), a runaway was not handed back (Deut 23:15-16), and slaves rested on the Sabbath and could join the Passover (Exod 12:44).

25:46 forever you may work them Many teachers believe this, like the allowance for divorce "in view of your hardness of heart" (Matt 19:8), regulated an evil found everywhere in a fallen world rather than showing God's design from creation. The gospel undermines slavery at its root: every person bears God's image (Gen 1:27), in Christ "there is not slave nor free" (Gal 3:28), and Onesimus was to be received as "a beloved brother" (Phlm 1:16). Many who worked to end slavery were Christians moved by these truths. Using these verses to defend cruelty or race-based slavery twists Scripture.

25:48 after he has sold himself, redemption shall be for him An Israelite who sold himself to a foreigner could be bought back by family or by himself, the price figured by the years left until the jubilee. A foreign master had to treat him fairly, "before your eyes" (25:53), with Israel watching.

25:55 they are My slaves whom I brought out from the land of Egypt Israel could not be owned by anyone else, because God had already bought them. In Nazareth Jesus read Isaiah 61, built on the jubilee, "to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord" (Luke 4:19), and said, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled" (Luke 4:21). He stopped before "a day of vengeance" (Isa 61:2), which comes at His second coming. Many teachers see the full jubilee in His coming kingdom (Rom 8:21). Today is the year of His favor. "If the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed" (John 8:36).

26:1 a sacred pillar you shall not set up for yourselves A sacred pillar was a standing stone used in pagan worship, and a figured stone was carved with images, the tools of Canaanite religion. Worshiping only the LORD, keeping His Sabbaths and honoring His house (26:2) sum up Israel's faithfulness. Idolatry would be the root of all that went wrong later in the chapter.

26:4 I will give your rains in their time In Canaan everything depended on rain: early rains in the fall, late rains in spring. On time, there was food. If not, famine. The harvests would be so big that threshing would run into the grape harvest and the grape harvest into sowing (26:5).

26:8 five of you will pursue a hundred Israel's victories would come from God, not from numbers, as with Gideon's three hundred (Judg 7) and Jonathan and his armor bearer (1 Sam 14).

26:9 I will make you fruitful, and I will multiply you The promise to Abraham (Gen 17:2-7). There would be so much food they would clear out last year's grain to make room for the new (26:10).

26:12 I will walk about in your midst, and I will be your God, and you, you will be My people The greatest blessing of all. Rain, harvests and peace were good gifts, but the best gift was God Himself, walking with them as with Adam in the garden (Gen 3:8). This is the goal of the whole Bible. Paul applies it to the church: "I will dwell in them and walk among them" (2 Cor 6:16). And at the end, "Look, the tabernacle of God is with men" (Rev 21:3).
26:13 I broke the bars of your yoke and made you walk upright A yoke was the wooden bar across an ox's neck. Slaves walked bent under their burdens, and God let them stand up straight. The blessings rest on what He had already done. He saved them first and called them to obey second.
26:15 so that you break My covenant Not listening, not doing, rejecting, abhorring. Sin begins with not listening and ends with hating what God says.
26:16 sudden terror, the consumption and the fever Diseases that waste the body. These curses were for Israel as a nation under the Sinai covenant. This chapter does not teach that every illness or hard time in a believer's life is punishment for sin (John 9:2-3), nor that every faithful Christian will be healthy and rich. These are the terms of God's national covenant with Israel in the land.
26:18 I will again discipline you sevenfold for your sins Discipline is the key word. These were the acts not of a God who wanted to destroy His people but of a Father trying to bring His children back. Sevenfold means full measure.
26:19 I will make your heavens like iron and your land like bronze Sky hard as iron, giving no rain, and ground hard as bronze, giving no crops. It happened in Elijah's day, three and a half years without rain (1 Kgs 17:1; James 5:17).
26:21 if you walk with Me in hostility A phrase repeated through the rest of the chapter: walking against God, opposing Him. If Israel walked against God, God would walk against them (26:24).
26:26 When I break for you the staff of bread Bread was the staff of life, what people leaned on to live. In a besieged city ten women would share one oven and bread would be rationed by weight.
26:29 you will eat the flesh of your sons The worst horror of a long siege. Scripture records it happening at Samaria and Jerusalem (2 Kgs 6:28-29; Lam 4:10). Sin, left to run its course, destroys everything good, even a parent's love for a child.
26:30 I will destroy your high places Hilltop shrines where idols were worshiped. Their bodies would lie on "the corpses of your idols," which could not save them. God would no longer smell their soothing aroma (26:31). Worship without obedience no longer pleases Him.
26:33 you I will scatter among the nations Exile, the worst curse, driven out of the land God gave. This was fulfilled in history: Samaria fell to Assyria in 722 B.C. (2 Kgs 17:6-7), and Jerusalem and the temple fell to Babylon in 586 B.C.
26:34 Then the land will accept its Sabbaths The land would get the rest Israel refused to give it (25:2-7). The exile lasted "until the land had accepted its Sabbaths" (2 Chr 36:21), to fulfill seventy years.
26:36 the sound of a driven leaf will pursue them A people who once chased a hundred with five men would run from a blowing leaf. Sin takes away courage and peace. The guilty flee when no one pursues (Prov 28:1).

remain among you, I will bring faintness into their heart in the lands of their enemies, and the sound of a driven leaf will pursue them, and they will flee as in the flight of a sword, and they will fall, and there is none pursuing. 37 And they will stumble, each man over his brother, as from before a sword, and there is none pursuing; and you will have no power to stand before your enemies. 38 And you will perish among the nations, and the land of your enemies will eat you. 39 And those who remain among you will rot away in their iniquity in the lands of your enemies; and also in the iniquities of their fathers with them they will rot away.

The LORD Remembers His Covenant

40 And they will confess their iniquity and the iniquity of their fathers, in their unfaithfulness with which they acted unfaithfully against Me, and also that they walked with Me in hostility, 41 I also will walk with them in hostility, and I will bring them into the land of their enemies; or if then their uncircumcised heart humbles itself, and then they accept their iniquity, 42 and I will remember My covenant with Jacob (Ya'aqov), and also My covenant with Isaac (Yitschaq), and also My covenant with Abraham (Avraham) I will remember; and the land I will remember. 43 And the land will be forsaken by them, and let it accept its Sabbaths while it is made desolate without them; and they, they will accept their iniquity, because, even because they rejected My judgments, and their soul abhorred My statutes. 44 And yet even with this, when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not reject them, and I will not abhor them, to make an end of them, to break My covenant with them; for I am the LORD their God. 45 And I will remember for them the covenant of the former ones, whom I brought out from the land of Egypt before the eyes of the nations, to be their God. I am the LORD.'" 46 These are the statutes and the judgments and the laws which the LORD gave between Himself and the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) on Mount Sinai (Sinay) by the hand of Moses (Moshe).

Vows of Persons

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and you shall say to them, 'When a man makes a special vow, by your valuation of souls to the LORD, 3 then your valuation of the male from a son of twenty years and up to a son of sixty years shall be—your valuation shall be approximately 20 ounces (fifty shekels) of silver, by the shekel of the holy place. 4 And if she is a female, then your valuation shall be approximately 12 ounces (thirty shekels). 5 And if from a son of five years and up to a son of twenty years, then your valuation of the male shall be approximately 8 ounces (twenty shekels), and for the female approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels). 6 And if from a son of a month and up to a son of five years, then your valuation of the male shall be approximately 2 ounces (five shekels) of silver, and for the female your valuation shall be approximately 1 1/5 ounces (three shekels) of silver. 7 And if from a son of sixty years and upward, if a male, then your valuation shall be approximately 6 ounces (fifteen shekels), and for the female approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels). 8 And if he is too poor for your valuation, then he shall make him stand before the priest, and the priest shall value him; according to what the hand of the one who vows can reach, the priest shall value him.

27:7 Ps 90:10
27:8 Lev 14:21,22; Lev 5:7; Lev 12:8

26:40 they will confess their iniquity and the iniquity of their fathers At the bottom comes hope. An uncircumcised heart (26:41) is one never truly given to God. If it humbled itself and accepted its guilt, God would remember. Daniel prayed this way near the end of the seventy years (Dan 9:5), and Nehemiah too (Neh 1:8-9). In 538 B.C. Cyrus of Persia let the Jews return home.

26:42 My covenant with Abraham I will remember The names run backward to the beginning. God's promise to Abraham came before Sinai and rested on His grace alone (Gen 15). Israel broke the covenant of Sinai, but God would not break His promise to Abraham.

26:44 I will not reject them, and I will not abhor them, to make an end of them Perhaps the most important words in the chapter. God disciplined Israel severely but never cast them off. "Did God reject His people? May it not be!" (Rom 11:1). Israel was scattered after Babylon and again after Rome destroyed Jerusalem in A.D. 70, but God's calling stands (Rom 11:29). I believe God still has a future for the nation of Israel. He will gather them, give them a new heart (Ezek 36:24-28), and "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). Others see these promises fulfilled in the return from Babylon and in the church.

26:46 on Mount Sinai by the hand of Moses This closes the main body of Leviticus, and chapter 27 is a kind of appendix. God disciplines those He loves (Heb 12:6, 10). But "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13), and the blessing of 26:12 is ours in Him. If you have wandered, the way back is the same: confess, humble your heart and trust His promise (1 John 1:9).

27:2 When a man makes a special vow, by your valuation of souls to the LORD Souls here means persons. An Israelite might vow himself, a child or a servant to the LORD, as Hannah vowed Samuel (1 Sam 1:11). Only Levites could serve at the tabernacle (Num 3:5-10), so most people vowed paid a set value in silver to the sanctuary instead. Vows were voluntary (Deut 23:22), but once made had to be kept (Eccl 5:4).

27:4 if she is a female, then your valuation shall be approximately 12 ounces Does this mean God values men more than women? No. If these were worth before God, a man of sixty-one would be worth less than a boy of nineteen. The common explanation is that the values match the work a person could usually do in that economy, so they rise and fall with age, and the gap narrows in old age. Both man and woman bear "the image of God" (Gen 1:27), and every soul in Christ was bought not with silver or gold "but with the precious blood of Christ" (1 Pet 1:18-19).

27:4 approximately 12 ounces Thirty shekels, the price of a slave killed by an ox (Exod 21:32), and what Judas was paid: "they set for him thirty silver coins" (Matt 26:15). Zechariah foretold it with bitter irony, "the magnificent price at which I was priced by them" (Zech 11:13; Matt 27:9). The Son of God was valued by men at the price of a slave.

27:8 if he is too poor for your valuation A poor man was not shut out from vowing, nor crushed by a vow he could not pay. The priest set a price he could afford (see 5:7; 14:21).

Vows of Animals and Property

9 And if it is an animal of which they bring near an offering to the LORD, all that he gives of it to the LORD shall be holy. 10 He shall not replace it, and he shall not exchange it, a good for a bad or a bad for a good; and if he does indeed exchange animal for animal, then it and its substitute shall be holy. 11 And if it is any unclean animal of which they do not bring near an offering to the LORD, then he shall make the animal stand before the priest, 12 and the priest shall value it, between good and bad; according to your valuation, priest, so it shall be. 13 And if he does indeed redeem it, then he shall add its fifth to your valuation. 14 And when a man sanctifies his house as holy to the LORD, then the priest shall value it, between good and bad; as the priest values it, so it shall stand. 15 And if the one who sanctified it redeems his house, then he shall add the fifth of the silver of your valuation to it, and it shall be his. 16 And if a man sanctifies to the LORD some of the field of his possession, then your valuation shall be according to its seed: the seed of approximately 6 bushels (a homer) of barley at approximately 20 ounces (fifty shekels) of silver. 17 If he sanctifies his field from the year of the jubilee, according to your valuation it shall stand. 18 And if he sanctifies his field after the jubilee, then the priest shall calculate the silver for him according to the years that remain until the year of the jubilee, and it shall be deducted from your valuation. 19 And if the one who sanctified it does indeed redeem the field, then he shall add the fifth of the silver of your valuation to it, and it shall stand as his. 20 And if he does not redeem the field, and if he has sold the field to another man, it shall not be redeemed anymore. 21 And the field, when it goes out in the jubilee, shall be holy to the LORD, like the field of the devoted thing; it shall belong to the priest as his possession. 22 And if he sanctifies to the LORD a field of his purchase, which is not of the field of his possession, 23 then the priest shall calculate for him the amount of your valuation up to the year of the jubilee, and he shall give your valuation on that day as holy to the LORD. 24 In the year of the jubilee the field shall return to the one from whom he bought it, to the one to whom the possession of the land belongs. 25 And all your valuation shall be by the shekel of the holy place; the shekel shall be approximately 2/5 ounce (twenty gerahs).

What Already Belongs to the LORD

26 Only a firstborn which is born as a firstling to the LORD among livestock, no man shall sanctify it; whether an ox or a sheep, it is the LORD's. 27 And if it is among the unclean livestock, then he shall ransom it by your valuation, and he shall add its fifth to it; and if it is not redeemed, then it shall be sold by your valuation. 28 Only, every devoted thing which a man devotes to the LORD from all that he has, from mankind and livestock and from the field of his possession, shall not be sold, and it shall not be redeemed; every devoted thing is a holy of holies to the LORD. 29 Every devoted one who is devoted from mankind shall not be ransomed; he shall surely be put to death. 30 And all the tithe of the land, of the seed of the land, of the fruit of the tree, is the LORD's; it is holy to the LORD. 31 And if a man does indeed redeem any of his tithe, let him add its fifth to it. 32 And all the tithe of the herd and the flock, all that passes under the rod, the tenth shall be holy to the LORD. 33 He shall not examine between good and bad, and he shall not exchange it; and if he does indeed exchange it, then it and its substitute shall be holy; it shall not be redeemed.'" 34 These are the commandments which the LORD commanded Moses for the sons of Israel on 27:10 He shall not replace it, and he shall not exchange it In a crisis we promise God our best. When it passes, we look for a way to give less. If he tried to swap, he lost both animals. God says, keep your word.

27:13 he shall add its fifth to your valuation An unclean animal, such as a donkey or camel, could not be offered, so it was valued and sold for the sanctuary, or bought back with twenty percent added. The extra fifth kept anyone from treating a vow lightly. The same applied to a house (27:15).
27:16 your valuation shall be according to its seed A field's value was set by the seed needed to sow it, for the full time from jubilee to jubilee, and figured down for the years remaining (25:15-16).
27:21 like the field of the devoted thing A field dedicated, not redeemed, and sold to another could not come back. At the jubilee it became the priests'. A gift to God is serious, not something to play games with.
27:24 In the year of the jubilee the field shall return to the one from whom he bought it A bought field went back to its family at the jubilee. No vow could cancel the jubilee or take a family's land forever (25:23). One fair standard, the shekel of the holy place, was used for everyone (27:25).
27:26 no man shall sanctify it The firstborn animals already belonged to God (Exod 13:2, 12). You cannot give someone a gift that is already his.
27:28 every devoted thing A devoted thing, herem, was given over to God completely and permanently, never to be bought back, "a holy of holies to the LORD."
27:29 he shall surely be put to death This does not let an Israelite vow another person to death. Human sacrifice was forbidden as an abomination (18:21; 20:2; Deut 12:31). The common conservative reading is that the devoted person was placed under God's ban for his own guilt, by God's command or lawful judgment: "Whoever sacrifices to the gods, except to the LORD alone, shall be devoted to destruction" (Exod 22:20; Josh 6:17). No money could ransom him. The judgment had to stand.
27:30 all the tithe of the land A tithe is a tenth. Abraham gave a tenth to Melchizedek (Gen 14:20) and Jacob vowed one (Gen 28:22), before the Law. Under the Law it supported the Levites, who had no land (Num 18:21), and Malachi rebuked Israel for robbing God in it (Mal 3:8).
27:32 all that passes under the rod The shepherd counted animals as they passed under his staff, and every tenth was God's. He could not pick out the weak ones (27:33). Do Christians have to tithe? Believers differ. Some hold the tithe is still the standard, since it came before the Law. Others hold the New Testament calls for regular, generous, glad giving without a set percentage, for "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor 9:7). Jesus warned tithers not to neglect "the justice and the mercy and the faith" (Matt 23:23).
27:34 These are the commandments which the LORD commanded Moses The book closes as it opened, with the LORD speaking to Moses (1:1). Be careful with promises to God (Matt 5:33-37). Ananias "lied to men but to God" (Acts 5:4) about a gift he did not have to give. Our lives already belong to God: "you were bought with a price" (1 Cor 6:20). Jesus paid it, not with silver but with His own blood. Valued by men at thirty pieces of silver, He gave Himself to buy us back.

Introduction

Title

Numbers is the fourth of the five books of Moses, the Law or Torah, between Leviticus and Deuteronomy. The English name comes from the Greek and Latin Bibles, which named it for the two counts of the people in chapters 1 and 26. The Hebrew title is a word from the first verse, Bemidbar, "in the wilderness." Both names fit. The book counts God's people, and it follows them through the desert. It has census lists, but also some of the most human stories in the Bible: grumbling, rebellion, a talking donkey, and a God who keeps blessing a people who keep failing.

Author and Date

Moses. The book says that "Moses wrote down their goings out according to their journeys at the mouth of the LORD" (33:2), and over and over it says the LORD spoke to Moses. Jesus spoke of the Law as the writings of Moses (Luke 24:44; John 5:46-47). A few lines, such as the note on Moses' humility (12:3), may have been written by Moses under the Spirit's guidance or added by a later inspired hand such as Joshua. Many modern critical scholars believe Numbers was put together from several sources long after Moses. I take the book at its word, as Jesus and the apostles did. It was written near the end of Moses' life, about 1405 B.C., on the plains of Moab. That follows the date of about 1446 B.C. for the exodus (1 Kgs 6:1); some scholars place the exodus in the 1200s B.C.

Background and Setting

Numbers opens at Sinai on the first day of the second month of the second year after the exodus (1:1), about 1445 B.C., one month after the tabernacle was set up. It ends almost thirty-nine years later on the plains of Moab, across the Jordan from Jericho. Most of those years pass in silence between chapters 14 and 20. The route runs north from Sinai through Paran to Kadesh, then around Edom and Moab.

The book tells the story of two generations. The first was counted, organized around the tabernacle and led to the border of Canaan in a few months. At Kadesh they believed the bad report of ten spies and refused to go in (chapters 13 and 14), and God sentenced them to wander until that generation died. Only Joshua and Caleb, who trusted the LORD, would enter. Their children were counted again (chapter 26) and made ready to take the land. Numbers was written for that second generation, to tell them why their parents died and to prepare them to trust God.

The first census counts 603,550 fighting men (1:46) and the second 601,730 (26:51), pointing to a people of two million or more. I take the numbers as written. Some scholars read the Hebrew word for thousand, eleph, as a clan or military unit, which would make the numbers much smaller, but the totals add up as thousands, and God was able to keep that many alive in the desert, which is the point of the manna, the quail and the water from the rock.

Themes

The theme of Numbers is God's faithfulness to His promise in spite of His people's unbelief. Balaam, hired to curse Israel, had to say, "God is not a man, that He should lie, and a son of mankind, that He should relent. Has He said, and will He not do it?" (23:19).

Unbelief and grumbling are costly. The people complain about hardship, food and water, their leaders challenge Moses, and at Kadesh the whole nation refuses the land. God judges, sometimes severely. Yet He is "slow to anger and great in steadfast love, forgiving iniquity and transgression" (14:18). He feeds them with manna, leads them by the cloud, gives water from the rock and turns Balaam's curses into blessing. He disciplines His people but does not abandon them. Holiness matters too: God lives in the middle of the camp, so the camp is ordered around Him, guarded by priests and Levites, and kept clean. The book closes with promises about the land, its borders and its inheritance, all spoken before Israel owns one acre of it. Paul says these things "happened to them as examples, and they were written for our admonition" (1 Cor 10:11).

Christ in Numbers

Jesus said, "as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so the Son of Man must be lifted up" (John 3:14), so that whoever believes in Him should have eternal life (21:8-9). He is the true bread from heaven, greater than the manna (John 6:31-35), and Paul says of the rock that gave Israel water, "the rock was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4). Hebrews compares Moses, faithful as a servant in God's house, with Christ, faithful as a Son over it (Heb 3:5-6; compare Num 12:7). The ashes of the red heifer show "how much more" (Heb 9:14) the blood of Christ cleanses the conscience (chapter 19). Aaron's priesthood passed from man to man as each one died (20:28), but Jesus is "always living to intercede" (Heb 7:25). Hebrews 3 and 4 use Kadesh to warn us not to harden our hearts in unbelief. Many teachers, Jewish and Christian, see Balaam's "star" from Jacob (24:17) as the Messiah, the King who will rule, and the cities of refuge give a picture of the believer who has "fled for refuge" (Heb 6:18) to Christ.

Hard Passages

The test for a wife suspected of unfaithfulness (5:11-31) is explained as a protection for a woman wrongly accused, with God Himself as judge. The judgments on God's own people are severe: the plague after the quail (11:33-34), the man put to death for breaking the Sabbath (15:32-36), the earth opening under Korah (16:31-35), the serpents (21:6) and the plague at Peor (25:1-9). The notes explain each one in its setting, as God's direct judgment under the covenant, never a pattern for anyone today.

Moses' exclusion from the land (20:12) is explained from the text itself. Balaam's talking donkey (chapter 22) is treated as a real event, as Peter treats it (2 Pet 2:16). The laws on vows made by wives and daughters (chapter 30) are about household responsibility, not a woman's worth. The war against Midian (chapter 31), including the order about the women and children, is the hardest passage in the book. The notes say so openly, explain it as God's judgment for Midian's deliberate plot at Peor, and say it is never permission to take a life in God's name today. Where good teachers disagree, as on the large numbers, the angel of the LORD, the star from Jacob, the tithe and the Sabbath, the notes give the main views.

The First Census

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) in the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay), in the tent of meeting, on day one of the second month, in the second year of their going out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), saying, 2 "Take the sum of all the congregation of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, every male, by their heads, 3 from a son of twenty years and upward, everyone who goes out to war in Israel; you shall enroll them by their armies, you and Aaron (Aharon). 4 And with you there shall be a man, a man for each tribe, each man the head of the house of his fathers. 5 And these are the names of the men who shall stand with you: for Reuben (Reuven), Elizur (Elitsur) the son of Shedeur; 6 for Simeon (Shimon), Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai (Tsurishaday); 7 for Judah (Yehuda), Nahshon (Nachshon) the son of Amminadab (Aminadav); 8 for Issachar (Yisashkhar), Nethanel (Netanel) the son of Zuar (Tsu'ar); 9 for Zebulun (Zevulun), Eliab (Eli'av) the son of Helon (Chelon); 10 for the sons of Joseph (Yosef): for Ephraim (Efrayim), Elishama the son of Ammihud (Amihud); for Manasseh (Menashe), Gamaliel (Gamli'el) the son of Pedahzur (Pedahtsur); 11 for Benjamin (Binyamin), Abidan (Avidan) the son of Gideoni (Gidoni); 12 for Dan, Ahiezer (Achi'ezer) the son of Ammishaddai (Amishaday); 13 for Asher, Pagiel the son of Ochran (Okhran); 14 for Gad, Eliasaph (Elyasaf) the son of Deuel; 15 for Naphtali (Naftali), Ahira (Achira) the son of Enan." 16 These were the called ones of the congregation, the leaders of the tribes of their fathers; they were the heads of the thousands of Israel.

The Count by Tribes

17 And Moses and Aaron took these men who had been designated by names. 18 And all the congregation they assembled on day one of the second month, and they registered their descent by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, from a son of twenty years and upward, by their heads. 19 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so he enrolled them in the wilderness of Sinai. 20 And the sons of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel, were—their generations, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, by their heads, every male from a son of twenty years and upward, everyone who goes out to war— 21 their enrolled men of the tribe of Reuben were forty-six thousand and five hundred. 22 Of the sons of Simeon—their generations, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, its enrolled men, by the number of names, by their heads, every male from a son of twenty years and upward, everyone who goes out to war— 23 their enrolled men of the tribe of Simeon were fifty-nine thousand and three hundred. 24 Of the sons of Gad—their generations, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, from a son of twenty years and upward, everyone who goes out to war— 25 their enrolled men of the tribe of Gad were forty-five thousand and six hundred and fifty. 26 Of the sons of Judah—their generations, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, from a son of twenty years and upward, everyone who goes out to war— 27 their enrolled men of the tribe of Judah were seventy-four thousand and six hundred. 28 Of the sons of Issachar—their generations, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, by the number of names, from a son of twenty years and upward,

1:1 the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the tent of meeting That phrase opens this book and runs all through it. Numbers is God's word to Israel through Moses. The tabernacle was set up on the first day of the first month (Exod 40:17), so this is one month later, after almost a year at Sinai. The tent of meeting is the tabernacle, the portable tent where God met with Moses and His presence rested over the ark.
1:3 everyone who goes out to war in Israel A count of fighting men, twenty and older. Women, children and Levites are not in it. God was getting His people ready to take the land He had promised.
1:4 each man the head of the house of his fathers The twelve leaders named here appear again at the camp (chapter 2), the altar gifts (chapter 7) and the march (chapter 10). Nahshon of Judah is in the family line of David and of Jesus (Ruth 4:20; Matt 1:4). Joseph's sons Ephraim and Manasseh count as two tribes, since Jacob adopted them (Gen 48:5), and Levi is left off, so there are still twelve. God works through leaders, and He chose them by name.
1:18 they registered their descent by their clans Each man showed his tribe and family, which mattered because the land would be divided by tribe and clan.
1:19 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so he enrolled them A phrase that comes again and again in chapters 1 to 10 (1:54; 2:34; 3:16, 51; 4:49). Before Israel's failures begin in chapter 11, we see a people doing what God said. Obedience is how the journey starts.
1:20 by the number of names The same words for every tribe. No tribe was left out, and every man counted. God knew His people by name. Judah is the largest tribe (1:27). Jacob had said the scepter would not turn aside from Judah (Gen 49:10), and Judah camps, marches and gives first (2:3; 7:12; 10:14). From Judah came David and Jesus, "the Lion who is of the tribe of Judah" (Rev 5:5).

The Levites Set Apart

47 And the Levites, by the tribe of their fathers, were not enrolled among them. 48 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 49 "Only the tribe of Levi you shall not enroll, and their sum you shall not take among the sons of Israel. 50 And you, appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of the testimony, and over all its articles, and over all that belongs to it; they, they shall carry the tabernacle and all its articles, and they, they shall minister to it, and they shall camp all around the tabernacle. 51 And when the tabernacle sets out, the Levites shall take it down; and when the tabernacle camps, the Levites shall set it up; and the stranger who comes near shall be put to death. 52 And the sons of Israel shall camp, each man by his camp and each man by his standard, by their armies. 53 And the Levites shall camp all around the tabernacle of the testimony, and there shall not be wrath on the congregation of the sons of Israel; and the Levites shall keep the charge of the tabernacle of the testimony." 54 And the sons of Israel did according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses; so they did.

1:46 six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty 603,550 men of fighting age. When God called Abraham he had no children, and God promised descendants like the stars (Gen 15:5). About 645 years later, here is a nation. I take the number as written. It fits Exodus 12:37 and 38:26. Some scholars think the Hebrew word for thousand, eleph, can mean a clan or military unit, which would make the army much smaller. But these totals add up as thousands and hundreds, and Scripture shows a God who fed this many for forty years.
1:50 appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of the testimony Levi was the tribe of Moses and Aaron. The tabernacle of the testimony held the ark with the tablets of the Law, God's testimony to Israel. The Levites would carry it, take it down, set it up and camp around it.
1:51 the stranger who comes near shall be put to death Stranger here means anyone not a Levite, even an Israelite. A holy God living among a sinful people was a great gift and a great danger. The Levites camped around the tabernacle as a living wall, "and there shall not be wrath on the congregation" (1:53). Through the blood of Jesus we now may enter by a new and living way (Heb 10:19-20), not carelessly, but through our High Priest.
1:54 so they did The chapter ends where it began, with obedience.
2:2 Each man by his standard, with the signs of the house of their fathers A standard is a banner on a pole. In a camp of hundreds of thousands, each man needed to know where he belonged. Scripture does not say what the banners looked like. They camped "at a distance" around the tent, with the Levites between (1:53). God was near, in the middle, but holy. Everything in Israel's life was arranged around His presence (Exod 25:8).

The Tabernacle in the Middle

17 And the tent of meeting shall set out, the camp of the Levites in the midst of the camps; just as they camp, so they shall set out, each man in his place, by their standards. 18 The standard of the camp of Ephraim (Efrayim) by their armies shall be westward; and the leader of the sons of Ephraim shall be Elishama the son of Ammihud (Amihud), 19 and his army and their enrolled men are forty thousand and five hundred. 20 And next to him shall be the tribe of Manasseh (Menashe); and the leader of the sons of Manasseh shall be Gamaliel (Gamli'el) the son of Pedahzur (Pedahtsur), 21 and his army and their enrolled men are thirty-two thousand and two hundred. 22 And the tribe of Benjamin (Binyamin); and the leader of the sons of Benjamin shall be Abidan (Avidan) the son of Gideoni (Gidoni), 23 and his army and their enrolled men are thirty-five thousand and four hundred. 24 All the enrolled men of the camp of Ephraim are one hundred thousand and eight thousand and one hundred, by their armies; and they shall set out third. 25 The standard of the camp of Dan shall be northward by their armies; and the leader of the sons of Dan shall be Ahiezer (Achi'ezer) the son of Ammishaddai (Amishaday), 26 and his army and their enrolled men are sixty-two thousand and seven hundred. 27 And those who camp next to him shall be the tribe of Asher; and the leader of the sons of Asher shall be Pagiel the son of Ochran (Okhran), 28 and his army and their enrolled men are forty-one thousand and five hundred. 29 And the tribe of Naphtali (Naftali); and the leader of the sons of Naphtali shall be Ahira (Achira) the son of Enan, 30 and his army and their enrolled men are fifty-three thousand and four hundred. 31 All the enrolled men of the camp of Dan are one hundred thousand and fifty-seven thousand and six hundred; they shall set out last, by their standards." 32 These are the enrolled men of the sons of Israel by the house of their fathers; all the enrolled men of the camps by their armies were six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty. 33 And the Levites were not enrolled among the sons of Israel, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

2:3 those who camp eastward, toward the sunrise, shall be the standard of the camp of Judah The east was the side of the tabernacle's entrance (3:38). Judah camped there with Issachar and Zebulun, all sons of Leah, the largest camp, and they set out first (2:9). The tribe of the promised King (Gen 49:10) went before, a small picture of the King from Judah going before His people.
2:10 The standard of the camp of Reuben shall be southward Reuben was the firstborn but had lost his place by his sin against his father (Gen 35:22; 49:3-4). Even so, God gave his tribe an honored place. Sin has consequences, but God does not throw people away.
2:14 Eliasaph the son of Reuel Elsewhere his father is Deuel (1:14; 7:42). In Hebrew the letters for d and r look very much alike, and the same man is meant. The SLB follows the Hebrew in each place.
2:17 the tent of meeting shall set out, the camp of the Levites in the midst of the camps The middle verse of the chapter describes the middle of the camp. Two camps went before the tabernacle and two after it (see 10:17, 21). God was in the midst of His people when they rested and when they moved, as Jesus promised to be with us always (Matt 18:20; 28:20).
2:18 The standard of the camp of Ephraim by their armies shall be westward The sons of Rachel camped behind the tabernacle. Ephraim, the younger, leads instead of Manasseh, as Jacob blessed the younger above the older (Gen 48:17-20).
2:31 they shall set out last Dan's camp, the sons of the servant wives, was the rear guard (10:25). The last place is still a place of trust. Every tribe had a place around the same tabernacle, as God has set each member in the body as He willed (1 Cor 12:18).
2:32 all the enrolled men of the camps by their armies The four camps add up exactly to 603,550, the total of chapter 1.

34 And the sons of Israel did according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses; so they camped by their standards, and so they set out, each man by his clans, by the house of his fathers.

The Sons of Aaron

1 And these are the generations of Aaron (Aharon) and Moses (Moshe) on the day the LORD spoke with Moses on Mount Sinai (Sinay). 2 And these are the names of the sons of Aaron: the firstborn Nadab (Nadav), and Abihu (Avihu), Eleazar (Elazar), and Ithamar (Itamar). 3 These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the anointed priests, whose hand he filled to serve as priests. 4 And Nadab and Abihu died before the LORD when they brought near strange fire before the LORD in the wilderness of Sinai, and they had no sons; and Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests in the presence of Aaron their father.

The Levites Given to Serve

5 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 6 "Bring near the tribe of Levi, and you shall make it stand before Aaron the priest, and they shall minister to him. 7 And they shall keep his charge and the charge of all the congregation before the tent of meeting, to serve the service of the tabernacle. 8 And they shall keep all the articles of the tent of meeting, and the charge of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), to serve the service of the tabernacle. 9 And you shall give the Levites to Aaron and to his sons; given, given they are to him from the sons of Israel. 10 And Aaron and his sons you shall appoint, and they shall keep their priesthood; and the stranger who comes near shall be put to death." 11 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 12 "And I, look, I have taken the Levites from among the sons of Israel in place of every firstborn, the one opening a womb, from the sons of Israel; and the Levites shall be Mine. 13 For every firstborn is Mine; on the day I struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), I sanctified for Myself every firstborn in Israel, from man to livestock; they shall be Mine. I am the LORD."

The Levite Clans Counted

14 And the LORD spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying, 15 "Enroll the sons of Levi by the house of their fathers, by their clans; every male from a son of a month and upward you shall enroll them." 16 And Moses enrolled them at the mouth of the LORD, just as he had been commanded. 17 And these were the sons of Levi by their names: Gershon and Kohath (Qehat) and Merari. 18 And these are the names of the sons of Gershon by their clans: Libni (Livni) and Shimei (Shimi). 19 And the sons of Kohath by their clans: Amram and Izhar (Yitshar), Hebron (Chevron) and Uzziel (Uzi'el). 20 And the sons of Merari by their clans: Mahli (Machli) and Mushi. These are the clans of the Levites by the house of their fathers. 21 To Gershon belonged the clan of the Libnite and the clan of the Shimeite; these are the clans of the Gershonite. 22 Their enrolled men, by the number of every male from a son of a month and upward, their enrolled men were seven thousand and five hundred. 23 The clans of the Gershonite shall camp behind the tabernacle, westward. 24 And the leader of the father's house of the Gershonite was Eliasaph (Elyasaf) the son of Lael. 25 And the charge of the sons of Gershon in the tent of meeting was the tabernacle and the tent, its covering, and the screen of the entrance of the tent of meeting, 26 and the hangings of the courtyard, and the screen of the entrance of the courtyard which is by the tabernacle and by the altar all around, and its cords, for all its service. 27 And to Kohath belonged the clan of the Amramite and the clan of the Izharite and the clan of the Hebronite and the clan of the Uzzielite; these are the clans of the Kohathite. 28 By the number of every male from a son of a month and upward, eight thousand and six hundred were keepers of the charge of the holy place. 29 The clans of the sons of Kohath shall camp on the side of the tabernacle,

2:34 so they camped by their standards, and so they set out God is "not a God of disorder but of peace" (1 Cor 14:33). Order was not a cold rule. It was how a holy God made room for a huge family to live near Him in peace.
3:1 these are the generations of Aaron and Moses A priest was a man God appointed to stand between Him and the people, to offer sacrifices and teach His Law. Only Aaron and his sons could be priests.
3:4 Nadab and Abihu died before the LORD when they brought near strange fire Leviticus 10:1-2 tells the story. They had no sons, so their line ended. It sits in a family list as a warning every priest needed: God must be worshiped His way (Lev 10:3). He has given one way, through His Son (John 14:6).
3:6 they shall minister to him The Levites were not priests but helpers to the priests. They guarded, carried and did the heavy work of the tabernacle.
3:10 the stranger who comes near shall be put to death "Given, given" (3:9) is doubled for emphasis: the Levites were a gift to Aaron. Each person had a role, and no one was to take a role God had not given him. Chapter 16 shows what happens when someone tries.
3:12 I have taken the Levites from among the sons of Israel in place of every firstborn The heart of the chapter. On the Passover night God struck Egypt's firstborn but passed over the houses marked with the lamb's blood (Exod 12). Israel's firstborn lived because a lamb died, and from then on every firstborn belonged to God (Exod 13:2, 15). Now the Levites stand in for them. This is substitution. Christ our Passover was sacrificed for us (1 Cor 5:7), and we belong to God because Someone took our place (Heb 12:23).
3:15 every male from a son of a month and upward you shall enroll them The army count began at twenty. This one began at one month, because the Levites stood in for every firstborn, baby boys included. Levi's three sons, Gershon, Kohath and Merari, became clans (Exod 6:16-19).
3:25 the charge of the sons of Gershon The fabric parts: curtains, coverings, screens and hangings with their cords.

southward. 30 And the leader of the father's house of the clans of the Kohathite was Elizaphan (Elitsafan) the son of Uzziel. 31 And their charge was the ark and the table and the lampstand and the altars, and the articles of the holy place with which they minister, and the screen, and all its service. 32 And the leader of the leaders of the Levites was Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, with the oversight of the keepers of the charge of the holy place. 33 To Merari belonged the clan of the Mahlite and the clan of the Mushite; these are the clans of Merari. 34 And their enrolled men, by the number of every male from a son of a month and upward, were six thousand and two hundred. 35 And the leader of the father's house of the clans of Merari was Zuriel (Tsuri'el) the son of Abihail (Avichayil); they shall camp on the side of the tabernacle, northward. 36 And the oversight of the charge of the sons of Merari was the boards of the tabernacle and its bars and its pillars and its bases and all its articles and all its service, 37 and the pillars of the courtyard all around, and their bases and their pegs and their cords. 38 And those who camp before the tabernacle eastward, before the tent of meeting toward the sunrise, were Moses and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary for the charge of the sons of Israel; and the stranger who comes near shall be put to death. 39 All the enrolled of the Levites whom Moses and Aaron enrolled at the mouth of the LORD by their clans, every male from a son of a month and upward, were twenty-two thousand.

The Redemption of the Firstborn

40 And the LORD said to Moses, "Enroll every firstborn male of the sons of Israel from a son of a month and upward, and take the number of their names. 41 And you shall take the Levites for Me—I am the LORD—in place of every firstborn among the sons of Israel, and the livestock of the Levites in place of every firstborn among the livestock of the sons of Israel." 42 And Moses enrolled, just as the LORD had commanded him, every firstborn among the sons of Israel. 43 And every firstborn male by the number of names, from a son of a month and upward, by their enrolled men, was twenty-two thousand, two hundred and seventy-three.

44 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 45 "Take the Levites in place of every firstborn among the sons of Israel, and the livestock of the Levites in place of their livestock; and the Levites shall be Mine. I am the LORD. 46 And for the ransom of the two hundred and seventy-three of the firstborn of the sons of Israel who are in excess beyond the Levites, 47 and you shall take approximately 2 ounces (five shekels) apiece for each head; by the shekel of the holy place you shall take it; the shekel is approximately 2/5 ounce (twenty gerahs). 48 And you shall give the money to Aaron and to his sons, the ransom of those who are in excess among them." 49 And Moses took the money of the ransom from those who were in excess beyond the ransomed of the Levites. 50 From the firstborn of the sons of Israel he took the money, approximately 34 pounds (one thousand and three hundred and sixty-five shekels), by the shekel of the holy place. 51 And Moses gave the money of the ransom to Aaron and to his sons at the mouth of the LORD, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Duties of the Kohathites

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) and to Aaron (Aharon), saying, 2 "Take the sum of the sons of Kohath (Qehat) from among the sons of Levi, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, 3 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years, everyone who comes into the duty to do work in the tent of meeting. 4 This is the service of the sons of Kohath in the tent of meeting: the holy of holies. 5 And Aaron and his sons shall go in when the camp sets out, and they shall take down the veil of the screen, and

3:31 their charge was the ark and the table and the lampstand and the altars The Kohathites had the most holy work. The ark of the covenant was the gold-covered chest holding the tablets of the Law, with the mercy seat and two cherubim on top, the place where God met His people. The closer the work was to God's presence, the more carefully it was guarded (3:32).
3:36 the boards of the tabernacle and its bars and its pillars and its bases The Merarites did the heavy lifting, the least glamorous job. But without boards and pegs there was no tabernacle. God counted their work as His service as much as the work around the ark.
3:38 Moses and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charge of the sanctuary The priests guarded the door on the east. Anyone who would approach God had to come the way God appointed.
3:39 All the enrolled of the Levites The total is 22,000, but the three clans add to 22,300. Some think the 300 were the Levites' own firstborn, who already belonged to God and could not stand in for anyone. Others think a copyist misread one letter in the Kohathite number (3:28). Scripture does not say, and it changes nothing the chapter teaches.
3:43 every firstborn male by the number of names 22,273 firstborn seems few for so large a nation. Many think this counted only sons born since the exodus, when God first claimed them (Exod 13:2). Others think only the firstborn still minors in their father's house. The text does not explain it, so I hold these loosely.
3:47 you shall take approximately 2 ounces apiece for each head Five shekels each. A shekel was a weight of silver, not a coin. A ransom is the price paid to set someone free. The 273 extra firstborn were covered by silver, about 34 pounds in all, so no firstborn was left unredeemed. We were redeemed not with silver or gold but "with the precious blood of Christ" (1 Pet 1:19). "You were bought with a price" (1 Cor 6:20).
4:3 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years A man's strongest years. Chapter 8:24 sets the start at twenty-five. Many think the Levites began at twenty-five as training and took on full carrying at thirty. Some think the rules applied to different kinds of work. When the carrying ended in David's day, the age was lowered to twenty (1 Chr 23:24-27).
4:4 the holy of holies The most holy things. The Kohathites are listed first, though Gershon was the oldest son, because their work was closest to God's presence.

The Gershonites and Merarites

21 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 22 "Take the sum of the sons of Gershon, them also, by the house of their fathers, by their clans. 23 From a son of thirty years and upward until a son of fifty years you shall enroll them, everyone who comes to perform duty, to serve the service in the tent of meeting. 24 This is the service of the clans of the Gershonite, for serving and for burden: 25 And they shall carry the curtains of the tabernacle and the tent of meeting, its covering and the covering of dolphin skin which is on it from above, and the screen of the entrance of the tent of meeting, 26 and the hangings of the courtyard, and the screen of the entrance of the gate of the courtyard which is by the tabernacle and by the altar all around, and their cords and all the articles of their service, and all that is to be done for them; and they shall serve. 27 At the mouth of Aaron and his sons shall be all the service of the sons of the Gershonite, in all their burden and in all their service; and you shall assign to them as a charge all their burden. 28 This is the service of the clans of the sons of the Gershonite in the tent of meeting; and their charge is in the hand of Ithamar (Itamar) the son of Aaron the priest. 29 The sons of Merari, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, you shall enroll them. 30 From a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years you shall enroll them, everyone who comes into the duty to serve the service of the tent of meeting. 31 And this is the charge of their burden for all their service in the tent of meeting: the boards of the tabernacle and its bars and its pillars and its bases, 32 and the pillars of the courtyard all around and their bases and their pegs and their cords, for all their articles and for all their service; and by names you shall assign the articles of the charge of their burden. 33 This is the service of the clans of the sons of Merari, for all their service in the tent of meeting, in the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron

4:6 a covering of dolphin skin The SLB renders tachash as dolphin skin. Others say porpoise skin, goatskin or fine leather. Scripture says only that it made a tough outer covering. The priests wrapped each holy piece first, and only then did the Kohathites come to carry them.

4:15 they shall not touch the holy thing, and die These things pictured God's holiness. In David's day the ark rode on an ox cart, and when Uzzah took hold of it, God struck him (2 Sam 6:6-7). David learned that only the Levites should carry the ark (1 Chr 15:2). God's instructions were not fussy. They protected the people who served Him.

4:16 the oversight of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest He carried personal responsibility for the most precious things. He would one day succeed his father as high priest (20:28).

4:18 Do not cut off the tribe of the clans of the Kohathite God's mercy inside His holiness. Their job was dangerous, so He made a way for them to serve safely, with the priests going in first (4:19-20). We have a High Priest who has gone before us, so we may come with boldness (Heb 4:16).

4:25 they shall carry the curtains of the tabernacle The Gershonites had two carts and four oxen for their load (7:7). The Kohathites had none, because they carried the holy things on their shoulders (7:9).

4:32 by names you shall assign the articles of the charge of their burden Each Merarite was told by name which pieces he carried. God does not hand out work vaguely. He knows each servant and gives each a real task (1 Cor 12:5).

the priest."

The Levites Counted for Service

34 And Moses and Aaron and the leaders of the congregation enrolled the sons of the Kohathite by their clans and by the house of their fathers, 35 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years, everyone who comes into the duty for service in the tent of meeting. 36 And their enrolled men by their clans were two thousand, seven hundred and fifty. 37 These were the enrolled of the clans of the Kohathite, everyone who serves in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron enrolled at the mouth of the LORD by the hand of Moses. 38 And the enrolled of the sons of Gershon, by their clans and by the house of their fathers, 39 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years, everyone who comes into the duty for service in the tent of meeting, 40 and their enrolled men, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, were two thousand and six hundred and thirty. 41 These were the enrolled of the clans of the sons of Gershon, everyone who serves in the tent of meeting, whom Moses and Aaron enrolled at the mouth of the LORD. 42 And the enrolled of the clans of the sons of Merari, by their clans, by the house of their fathers, 43 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years, everyone who comes into the duty for service in the tent of meeting, 44 and their enrolled men by their clans were three thousand and two hundred. 45 These were the enrolled of the clans of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron enrolled at the mouth of the LORD by the hand of Moses. 46 All the enrolled whom Moses and Aaron and the leaders of Israel (Yisra'el) enrolled, the Levites, by their clans and by the house of their fathers, 47 from a son of thirty years and upward and to a son of fifty years, everyone who comes to serve the service of service and the service of burden in the tent of meeting, 48 and their enrolled men were eight thousand and five hundred and eighty. 49 At the mouth of the LORD he enrolled them by the hand of Moses, each man to his service and to his burden; and his enrolled ones were as the LORD had commanded Moses.

NUMBERS 5

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and let them send out from the camp everyone leprous and everyone with a discharge and everyone unclean by a corpse. 3 From male to female you shall send them out; to the outside of the camp you shall send them out, and they shall not make their camps unclean, in the midst of which I am dwelling." 4 And the sons of Israel did so, and they sent them out to the outside of the camp; just as the LORD had spoken to Moses, so the sons of Israel did.

Making Wrongs Right

5 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 6 "Speak to the sons of Israel: 'A man or a woman, when they do any of all the sins of mankind, acting unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against the LORD, and that soul is guilty, 7 then they shall confess their sin which they have done; and he shall repay his guilt in its principal, and let him add its fifth to it, and he shall give it to the one against whom he was guilty. 8 And if the man has no redeemer to repay the guilt to him, the guilt that is repaid shall be the LORD's, for the priest, besides the ram of the atonement with which he shall make atonement for him. 9 And every contribution of all the holy things of the sons of Israel which they bring near to the priest, it shall be his. 10 And each man's holy things shall be his; whatever a man gives to the priest, it shall be his.'"

The Test for Jealousy

11 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 12 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them: 'Any man, when his wife turns aside and acts unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against him, 13 and a man lies with her with a lying of seed, and it is hidden from the eyes of her husband, and she is concealed, and she has made herself unclean, and there is no

4:48 eight thousand and five hundred and eighty The Merarites were the smallest clan in chapter 3 but had the most working men here (4:44), and also the heaviest load. God supplied strength where the work needed it.
4:49 each man to his service and to his burden Every job mattered, from carrying the ark to carrying tent pegs. So in the body of Christ: whatever you do, do it from the heart, as to the Lord (Col 3:23).
5:2 everyone leprous and everyone with a discharge and everyone unclean by a corpse Leprous covers a range of skin diseases (Lev 13), and a discharge the conditions of Leviticus 15. "A corpse" translates the word usually rendered soul, which can mean a dead person. Unclean meant not fit for a time to come near God's tabernacle. Most uncleanness was not sin, but part of living in a fallen world of sickness and death.
5:3 in the midst of which I am dwelling The key. The rule was about God's presence, not about despising the sick, and the Law gave ways to be cleansed and return (Lev 14; Num 19). Jesus touched a leper, and instead of Jesus becoming unclean, the leper was made clean (Mark 1:41). The church is now God's temple (1 Cor 3:16), called to be clean by turning from sin.
5:6 acting unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against the LORD Wronging a neighbor by stealing, cheating or lying about property (Lev 6:1-7). God calls it unfaithfulness against Him. When we wrong another person, we sin against the God who made him.
5:7 they shall confess their sin which they have done Confess, repay in full, and add a fifth. Then came a ram for atonement, the covering of sin so the guilty is made right with God. Real repentance makes things right where we can, as Zacchaeus did (Luke 19:8), and as Jesus taught: first be reconciled to your brother (Matt 5:23-24). Forgiveness comes from Christ alone, but true faith repairs the wrong.
5:8 if the man has no redeemer to repay the guilt to him A redeemer, go'el, was the nearest relative, with the right to receive what was owed. If none remained, the payment went to the LORD for the priest. The debt did not disappear because the victim was gone.
5:10 whatever a man gives to the priest, it shall be his Once given, a gift was the priest's. God provided for those who served Him through the gifts of His people (1 Cor 9:13-14).

And the woman shall say, "Amen, amen." 23 And the priest shall write these curses in the scroll, and he shall wipe them off into the waters of bitterness. 24 And he shall make the woman drink the waters of bitterness that bring a curse, and the waters that bring a curse shall go into her for bitterness. 25 And the priest shall take from the hand of the woman the grain offering of jealousies, and he shall wave the grain offering before the LORD, and he shall bring it near to the altar. 26 And the priest shall take a handful from the grain offering, its memorial portion, and he shall make it smoke on the altar; and afterward he shall make the woman drink the waters. 27 And he shall make her drink the waters; and it shall be, if she has made herself unclean and has acted unfaithfully in unfaithfulness against her husband, then the waters that bring a curse shall go into her for bitterness, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall fall, and the woman shall become a curse in the midst of her people. 28 And if the woman has not made herself unclean, and she is clean, then she shall be free, and she shall be sown with seed. 29 This is the law of jealousies, when a wife turns aside under her husband and makes herself unclean, 30 or a man when a spirit of jealousy passes over him, and he is jealous of his wife; then he shall make the woman stand before the LORD, and the priest shall do to her all this law. 31 And the man shall be free from iniquity, and that woman shall bear her iniquity.'"

6:3 Luke 1:15; Acts 21:23; Lev 10:9

5:14 he is jealous of his wife, and she has made herself unclean The law of jealousy. It names both cases: a wife who sinned in secret, with no witness (5:13), or a husband jealous of a wife who is completely innocent. In that world a suspicious husband often held all the power, to divorce, beat or stir up others with no proof. "Who will stand before jealousy?" (Prov 27:4). God did not let him settle it himself. The case was taken out of his hands and put into God's.
5:15 he shall not pour oil on it About two quarts of barley flour, the grain of the poor, with no oil or frankincense, the signs of joy. It was a sober offering for a sad situation.
5:17 holy water in an earthenware vessel, and some of the dust which is on the floor of the tabernacle Nothing in the cup could harm anyone by itself. This was not a trial by poison. If anything happened, it would be because God acted. Loosened hair (5:18) was a sign of shame or mourning.
5:22 to make your belly swell and your thigh fall Teachers differ on what this meant. Many believe it described the loss of the ability to bear children. Scripture does not explain it further.
5:22 Amen, amen Amen means so be it. She put herself in God's hands. For an innocent woman, this was a way to be cleared in public by God Himself.
5:28 then she shall be free, and she shall be sown with seed An innocent wife went home cleared, free to bear children, with her husband's suspicion answered by God. Scripture never records a case of this test being used. But it made clear that a wife's guilt or innocence was God's to decide, not an angry man's. Some teachers read the law more as exposing hidden sin than as protecting the wife.
5:31 the man shall be free from iniquity A husband who brought the case honestly was not guilty for doing so. This law was for Israel under the Mosaic covenant and is not practiced today. Christ "redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13). But God still honors marriage (Heb 13:4) and cares for the falsely accused. Husbands are to love their wives as Christ loved the church (Eph 5:25) and not be harsh (Col 3:19). Broken trust should be brought before the Lord honestly, with help.
6:2 when he makes it extraordinary to vow a vow of a Nazirite Nazirite comes from nazir, one separated or consecrated. The vow was open to men and women, voluntary and for a set time, a special act of devotion beyond what the Law required of everyone. "Extraordinary" is the Hebrew word often used for something wonderful, out of the ordinary.
6:3 from wine and strong drink he shall separate himself Wine was not sinful in itself. It was part of normal life and of Israel's offerings (15:5). But it stood for the comforts of settled life in the land. The Nazirite gave up a good thing to show his joy was in the LORD alone, down to "seeds even to skin" (6:4). God's people sometimes set aside good things for a season, as in fasting, to give Him full attention.

shall not eat. 4 All the days of his separation, from anything that is made from the vine of the wine, from seeds even to skin, he shall not eat. 5 All the days of the vow of his separation a razor shall not pass over his head; until the days are fulfilled which he separates himself to the LORD, he shall be holy, letting the locks of the hair of his head grow. 6 All the days of his separating himself to the LORD, he shall not go in to a dead soul. 7 For his father and for his mother, for his brother and for his sister, he shall not make himself unclean for them at their death, for the separation of his God is on his head. 8 All the days of his separation he is holy to the LORD. 9 And if a dead one dies beside him in an instant, suddenly, and he makes the head of his separation unclean, then he shall shave his head on the day of his cleansing; on the seventh day he shall shave it. 10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves or two young of the dove to the priest, to the entrance of the tent of meeting. 11 And the priest shall offer one for a sin offering and one for a burnt offering, and he shall make atonement for him, because he sinned by the corpse; and he shall sanctify his head on that day. 12 And he shall separate himself to the LORD for the days of his separation, and he shall bring a male lamb, a son of its year, for a guilt offering; and the former days shall fall, for his separation became unclean.

When the Vow Is Complete

13 And this is the law of the Nazirite: on the day the days of his separation are fulfilled, he shall bring him to the entrance of the tent of meeting. 14 And he shall bring near his offering to the LORD: one male lamb, a son of its year, without blemish, for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb, a daughter of its year, without blemish, for a sin offering, and one ram without blemish for peace offerings, 15 and a basket of unleavened bread, cakes of fine flour mixed with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread smeared with oil, and their grain offering and their drink offerings. 16 And the priest shall bring them near before the LORD, and he shall offer his sin offering and his burnt offering. 17 And the ram he shall offer as a sacrifice of peace offerings to the LORD, with the basket of unleavened bread; and the priest shall offer its grain offering and its drink offering. 18 And the Nazirite shall shave the head of his separation at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and he shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and he shall put it on the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings. 19 And the priest shall take the boiled arm from the ram, and one cake of unleavened bread from the basket, and one wafer of unleavened bread, and he shall put them on the palms of the Nazirite after he has shaved his separation. 20 And the priest shall wave them as a wave offering before the LORD; it is holy for the priest, with the breast of the wave offering and with the thigh of the contribution. And afterward the Nazirite may drink wine. 21 This is the law of the Nazirite who vows his offering to the LORD for his separation, besides what his hand attains; according to the mouth of his vow which he vows, so he shall do, according to the law of his separation.'"

6:5 a razor shall not pass over his head Long hair was the public mark that this person belonged to God in a special way. Samson was a Nazirite from the womb (Judg 13:5), and Hannah made the same promise for Samuel (1 Sam 1:11).
6:7 for the separation of his God is on his head Not even for his parents could he come near a dead body. It was the rule for the high priest (Lev 21:11). For the time of the vow an ordinary Israelite was held to the holiness of the high priest. The long hair was a crown of devotion, and death was the sign of sin's curse.
6:9 if a dead one dies beside him in an instant, suddenly He had not sinned on purpose, but the vow was defiled. He shaved, brought a sin offering and a burnt offering, and began again, for "the former days shall fall" (6:12). Defilement is serious even when we do not mean it. But God gave a way to be cleansed and start again, as in Christ (1 John 1:9).
6:12 a male lamb, a son of its year, for a guilt offering A sin offering dealt with sin and uncleanness. A burnt offering was wholly burned, showing full surrender. A guilt offering was for a wrong that needed to be made right.
6:14 he shall bring near his offering to the LORD At the end of the vow came a full set of offerings, the peace offering being a fellowship meal with God. Even after a vow faithfully kept, he brought a sin offering. Even our best devotion needs God's forgiveness.
6:18 he shall take the hair of the head of his separation The hair that marked his vow was given to God on the fire under the peace offering. A wave offering (6:20) was lifted up and presented to God before going to the priest. Then he might drink wine again.
6:21 according to the mouth of his vow which he vows, so he shall do God takes our promises seriously (Eccl 5:5; Matt 5:37). John the Baptist lived under a Nazirite-like rule (Luke 1:15), and Paul took vows most see as Nazirite (Acts 18:18; 21:23-26). Jesus was a Nazarene, from Nazareth (Matt 2:23), not a Nazirite. He drank wine and touched the dead to raise them, yet He was "separated from sinners" (Heb 7:26) as no Nazirite ever was. Our whole lives belong to God (Rom 12:1).
6:23 Thus you shall bless the sons of Israel The priests also spoke God's blessing over His people. It was given word for word, so it was God's own blessing, not a priest's good wishes.
6:24 May the LORD bless you, and may He keep you To bless is to give good, to cause to flourish. To keep is to guard, like a shepherd watching his flock. "You" is singular in Hebrew: spoken over the nation, it reached each person.
6:25 may the LORD make His face shine toward you A face that shines on you is pleased and turned toward you with favor. To be gracious is to give kindness not earned. God has shone in our hearts the light of His glory "in the face of Jesus Christ" (2 Cor 4:6).

toward you, and may He be gracious to you; 26 may the LORD lift up His face toward you, and may He set peace for you."' 27 And they shall put My name on the sons of Israel, and I, I will bless them."

The Leaders' Gifts

1 And it was on the day Moses (Moshe) finished setting up the tabernacle, and he anointed it and sanctified it and all its articles, and the altar and all its articles; and he anointed them and sanctified them. 2 And the leaders of Israel (Yisra'el), the heads of the house of their fathers, brought near—they were the leaders of the tribes; they were those who stood over the enrolled— 3 and they brought their offering before the LORD: six covered carts and twelve oxen, a cart for two of the leaders and an ox for one; and they brought them near before the tabernacle. 4 And the LORD said to Moses, saying, 5 "Take them from them, and they shall be for serving the service of the tent of meeting; and you shall give them to the Levites, each man according to the mouth of his service." 6 And Moses took the carts and the oxen, and he gave them to the Levites. 7 Two of the carts and four of the oxen he gave to the sons of Gershon, according to the mouth of their service; 8 and four of the carts and eight of the oxen he gave to the sons of Merari, according to the mouth of their service, in the hand of Ithamar (Itamar) the son of Aaron (Aharon) the priest. 9 And to the sons of Kohath (Qehat) he did not give any, for the service of the holy thing was on them; on the shoulder they carried it.

Twelve Days of Offerings

10 And the leaders brought near the dedication of the altar on the day it was anointed; and the leaders brought near their offering before the altar. 11 And the LORD said to Moses, "One leader for the day, one leader for the day, they shall bring near their offering for the dedication of the altar." 12 And the one who brought near his offering on the first day was Nahshon (Nachshon) the son of Amminadab (Aminadav), of the tribe of Judah (Yehuda). 13 And his offering was one dish of silver, its weight approximately 3 1/4 pounds (one hundred and thirty shekels), one bowl of silver, approximately 1 3/4 pounds (seventy shekels), by the shekel of the holy place, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 14 one pan of gold, approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels), full of incense; 15 one young bull, a son of the herd, one ram, one male lamb, a son of its year, for a burnt offering; 16 one male goat of the goats for a sin offering; 17 and for the sacrifice of the peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male lambs, sons of a year. This was the offering of Nahshon the son of Amminadab. 18 On the second day Nethanel (Netanel) the son of Zuar (Tsu'ar), the leader of Issachar (Yisashkhar), brought near. 19 He brought near his offering: one dish of silver, its weight approximately 3 1/4 pounds (one hundred and thirty shekels), one bowl of silver, approximately 1 3/4 pounds (seventy shekels), by the shekel of the holy place, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 20 one pan of gold, approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels), full of incense; 21 one young bull, a son of the herd, one ram, one male lamb, a son of its year, for a burnt offering; 22 one male goat of the goats for a sin offering; 23 and for the sacrifice of the peace offerings, two oxen, five rams, five male goats, five male lambs, sons of a year. This was the offering of Nethanel the son of Zuar. 24 On the third day, the leader of the sons of Zebulun (Zevulun), Eliab (Eli'av) the son of Helon (Chelon). 25 His offering was one dish of silver, its weight approximately 3 1/4 pounds (one hundred and thirty shekels), one bowl of silver, approximately 1 3/4 pounds (seventy shekels), by the shekel of the holy place, both of them full of fine flour mixed with oil for a grain offering; 26 one pan of gold,

6:26 may He set peace for you To lift up one's face toward someone is to give full attention and approval. Peace, shalom, means wholeness, everything as it should be, which comes from being right with God (Rom 5:1). The LORD is named three times. Many Christians have seen a hint of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit (2 Cor 13:14), though the text does not explain it.

6:27 they shall put My name on the sons of Israel, and I, I will bless them The priests spoke, but God did the blessing. To put His name on them marked them as His own. Jesus' last act on earth was to bless His disciples (Luke 24:50-51), and in the end His servants "will see His face, and His name will be on their foreheads" (Rev 22:4).

7:1 on the day Moses finished setting up the tabernacle The first day of the first month of the second year (Exod 40:2, 17). Chapters 7 to 9 go back to that month, before the census of chapter 1. Moses arranged the book by subject, not always by date. To anoint the tabernacle with oil was to set it apart as holy.

7:3 six covered carts and twelve oxen A practical gift. A tabernacle had to be moved, and moving it took transport. The heavier the load, the more help God gave: two carts to the Gershonites, four to the Merarites (7:7-8).

7:9 on the shoulder they carried it The ark and the holy furniture were never to ride on a cart. David forgot this, and it cost Uzzah his life (2 Sam 6:3-7). God gives what we need for the work He assigns, and He sets limits on how holy things are handled.

7:11 One leader for the day, one leader for the day To dedicate something is to set it apart for God's use. Twelve leaders, twelve days. I believe the reason is honor: each tribe had its own day before the LORD, and no tribe's gift was lost in a crowd.

7:12 Nahshon the son of Amminadab, of the tribe of Judah Judah again first, as in the camp (2:3).

7:13 his offering was one dish of silver The gift repeated eleven more times: silver dish and bowl full of flour and oil, a gold pan of incense, and animals for every offering. It covered the whole range of worship: thanks, prayer rising like incense, full surrender, the dealing with sin, and the fellowship meal.

7:18 On the second day Nethanel the son of Zuar, the leader of Issachar, brought near The days follow the order of the camp. Every gift is the same, and every one is written out in full. It would have been simpler to say the others brought the same, but God did not want it said that way. Each gift is recorded as if it were the only one.

The Totals and the Voice from the Mercy Seat

84 This was the dedication of the altar, on the day it was anointed, from the leaders of Israel: twelve dishes of silver, twelve bowls of silver, twelve pans of gold; 85 the one dish of silver approximately 3 1/4 pounds (one hundred and thirty shekels), and the one bowl approximately 1 3/4 pounds (seventy shekels); all the silver of the vessels approximately 60 pounds (two thousand and four hundred shekels), by the shekel of the holy place; 86 twelve pans of gold full of incense, approximately 4 ounces (ten shekels) apiece per pan, by the shekel of the holy place; all the gold of the pans approximately 3 pounds (one hundred and twenty shekels); 87 all the cattle for the burnt offering, twelve young bulls, twelve rams, twelve male lambs, sons of a year, and their grain offering; and twelve male goats of the goats for a sin offering; 88 and all the cattle of the sacrifice of the peace offerings, twenty-four young bulls, sixty rams, sixty male goats, sixty male lambs, sons of a year. This was the dedication of the altar after it was anointed. 89 And when Moses went into the tent of meeting to speak with Him, then he heard the voice speaking to him from above the mercy seat which was on the ark of the testimony, from between the two cherubim; and He spoke to him.

The Lampstand

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to Aaron (Aharon), and you shall say to him, 'When you raise the lamps, the seven lamps shall give light toward the front of the face of the lampstand.'" 3 And Aaron did so; toward the front of the face of the lampstand he raised its lamps, just as the LORD had commanded Moses. 4 And this was the work of the lampstand: hammered work of gold; to its base and to its blossom it was hammered work. Like the appearance which the LORD had shown Moses, so he made the lampstand.

The Cleansing of the Levites

5 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 6 "Take the Levites from among the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and you shall purify them. 7 And thus you shall do to them to purify them: spatter on them water of sin offering, and they shall cause a razor to pass over all their flesh, and they shall wash their clothes, and they shall purify themselves. 8 And they shall take a young bull, a son of the herd, and its grain offering, fine flour mixed with oil; and a second young bull, a son of the herd, you shall take for a sin offering. 9 And you shall bring the Levites near before the tent of meeting, and you shall assemble all the congregation of the sons of Israel. 10 And you shall bring the Levites near before the LORD, and the sons of Israel shall lay their hands on the Levites. 11 And Aaron shall wave the Levites as a wave offering before the LORD from the sons of Israel, and they shall be for serving the service of the LORD. 12 And the Levites shall lay their

7:78 On the twelfth day, the leader of the sons of Naphtali The last tribe's gift is described in every detail, like the first. God does not forget "the labor of love" (Heb 6:10) shown toward His name, and even a cup of cold water given in His name has its reward (Matt 10:42). Your gift does not vanish into a total.
7:84 This was the dedication of the altar The totals add up exactly. God records the gifts both ways, each one alone and all together. Each giver mattered, and so did the whole people giving as one (2 Cor 9:7).
7:89 he heard the voice speaking to him from above the mercy seat Like the quiet after a long service. The mercy seat was the gold lid of the ark, where blood was sprinkled on the Day of Atonement (Lev 16:14-15), and God had promised to speak from there (Exod 25:22). God speaks to sinful people from the place where sin is covered. Christ was set forth "as a propitiation through faith in His blood" (Rom 3:25), using the Greek word for the mercy seat. Jesus is where God meets us (Heb 1:1-2).
8:2 the seven lamps shall give light toward the front of the face of the lampstand The lampstand stood in the holy place, which had no windows. Aaron set the lamps so the light fell forward. A light is meant to shine on something, not just burn. Jesus said, "I am the light of the world" (John 8:12), and told His disciples, "You are the light of the world" (Matt 5:14). The churches are golden lampstands with Christ among them (Rev 1:12-13, 20).
8:4 Like the appearance which the LORD had shown Moses, so he made the lampstand Beaten from a single piece of gold (Exod 25:31). Moses did not design it. He copied what God showed him.
8:7 spatter on them water of sin offering Water for cleansing from sin and uncleanness. Then shaving the whole body and washing clothes. Every step pictured a fresh start. We cannot make ourselves clean enough to serve God, but He washes us "through the washing of regeneration and renewal of the Holy Spirit" (Titus 3:5).
8:10 the sons of Israel shall lay their hands on the Levites Laying on hands identified with someone and set him apart, most likely done by leaders for the whole people. It said: these men stand in for us, as the Levites took the place of the firstborn (chapter 3).
8:11 Aaron shall wave the Levites as a wave offering We do not know how this was done with thousands of men. Some think they were led back and forth before the altar, or presented with a symbolic motion. The point is clear: they were a living offering, presented to God by the people.
8:12 the Levites shall lay their hands on the head of the young bulls The people laid hands on the Levites, and the Levites on the bulls. Substitution runs through the whole ceremony.

hands on the head of the young bulls; and offer the one as a sin offering and the one as a burnt offering to the LORD, to make atonement for the Levites. 13 And you shall make the Levites stand before Aaron and before his sons, and you shall wave them as a wave offering to the LORD. 14 And you shall separate the Levites from among the sons of Israel, and the Levites shall be Mine. 15 And after that the Levites shall go in to serve the tent of meeting; and you shall purify them, and you shall wave them as a wave offering. 16 For they are given, given to Me from among the sons of Israel; in place of the opening of every womb, the firstborn of all from the sons of Israel, I have taken them for Myself. 17 For every firstborn among the sons of Israel is Mine, among man and among livestock; on the day I struck every firstborn in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) I sanctified them for Myself. 18 And I have taken the Levites in place of every firstborn among the sons of Israel. 19 And I have given the Levites as given ones to Aaron and to his sons from among the sons of Israel, to serve the service of the sons of Israel in the tent of meeting and to make atonement for the sons of Israel, and there shall not be a plague among the sons of Israel when the sons of Israel draw near to the holy place." 20 And Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the sons of Israel did to the Levites according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites; so the sons of Israel did to them. 21 And the Levites purified themselves from sin, and they washed their clothes; and Aaron waved them as a wave offering before the LORD, and Aaron made atonement for them to purify them. 22 And after that the Levites went in to serve their service in the tent of meeting before Aaron and before his sons; just as the LORD had commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.

The Levites' Years of Service

23 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 24 "This is what is for the Levites: from a son of twenty-five years and upward he shall go in to perform duty in the service of the tent of meeting. 25 And from a son of fifty years he shall return from the duty of the service, and he shall not serve again. 26 And he shall minister with his brothers in the tent of meeting, to keep charge, and service he shall not serve. Thus you shall do to the Levites in their charges."

NUMBERS 9

The Second Passover

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) in the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay), in the second year of their going out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), in the first month, saying, 2 "And let the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) observe the Passover at its appointed time. 3 On the fourteenth day in this month, between the two evenings, you shall observe it at its appointed time; according to all its statutes and according to all its judgments you shall observe it." 4 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel to observe the Passover. 5 And they observed the Passover in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, between the two evenings, in the wilderness of Sinai; according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses, so the sons of Israel did. 6 And there were men who were unclean by the corpse of a man, and they were not able to observe the Passover on that day; and they drew near before Moses and before Aaron (Aharon) on that day. 7 And those men said to him, "We are unclean by the corpse of a man. Why are we held back so as not to bring near the offering of the LORD at its appointed time among the sons of Israel?" 8 And Moses said to them, "Stand, and let me hear what the LORD will command concerning you." 9 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 10 "Speak to the sons of Israel, saying, 'Any man, any man, if he is unclean by a corpse, or on a distant journey, of you or of your generations, then he shall

8:14 the Levites shall be Mine Cleansed by water, given by the people and covered by blood. In Christ every believer is now "a holy priesthood" (1 Pet 2:5), presenting his body "as a living, holy sacrifice" (Rom 12:1).
8:16 they are given, given to Me God points back again to the night He struck Egypt's firstborn (8:17).
8:19 to make atonement for the sons of Israel By guarding the holy things and doing the work properly, the Levites kept the people from coming near carelessly and being struck by a plague.
8:22 after that the Levites went in to serve their service Cleansed, offered, atoned for, and then serving. We are not saved by serving. We serve because we have been cleansed and made His. Good works follow salvation. They never buy it.
8:24 from a son of twenty-five years and upward Chapter 4 said thirty. Many think twenty-five began a time of training, with the full work of carrying at thirty (see 4:3).
8:26 he shall minister with his brothers in the tent of meeting, to keep charge At fifty the heavy carrying ended (8:25), but an older Levite was not thrown away. He could still guard, help and teach. God does not waste His older servants. If you are older, your service is not over. If you are younger, learn from those who have walked with God a long time.
9:1 in the second year of their going out from the land of Egypt, in the first month Before the census of chapter 1. The Passover remembered the night God passed over the houses marked with the lamb's blood and struck Egypt's firstborn (Exod 12). This is the only Passover recorded in the forty wilderness years. The next is in Joshua 5:10. Christ is "our Passover" (1 Cor 5:7), the "Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29).
9:6 there were men who were unclean by the corpse of a man Touching a dead body made a person unclean for seven days (19:11). Perhaps they had buried a family member. They had not sinned, but the Law kept them from the feast.
9:7 Why are we held back They were not looking for a way out of worship. They wanted in.
9:8 Stand, and let me hear what the LORD will command concerning you Moses did not guess. When a leader does not know the answer, he should say so and go to God.

The Cloud over the Tabernacle

15 And on the day of setting up the tabernacle, the cloud covered the tabernacle of the tent of the testimony; and in the evening it would be over the tabernacle like the appearance of fire until morning. 16 So it would be continually: the cloud would cover it, and the appearance of fire by night. 17 And according to the taking up of the cloud from over the tent, after that the sons of Israel would set out; and in the place where the cloud would settle, there the sons of Israel would camp. 18 At the mouth of the LORD the sons of Israel would set out, and at the mouth of the LORD they would camp; all the days that the cloud would settle over the tabernacle they would camp. 19 And when the cloud lingered over the tabernacle many days, the sons of Israel kept the charge of the LORD, and they did not set out. 20 And there were times when the cloud would be a few days over the tabernacle; at the mouth of the LORD they would camp, and at the mouth of the LORD they would set out. 21 And there were times when the cloud would be from evening until morning, and the cloud was taken up in the morning, and they set out; or a day and a night, and the cloud was taken up, and they set out. 22 Or two days, or a month, or days, when the cloud lingered over the tabernacle to settle over it, the sons of Israel would camp and would not set out; and when it was taken up, they would set out. 23 At the mouth of the LORD they would camp, and at the mouth of the LORD they would set out; they kept the charge of the LORD at the mouth of the LORD by the hand of Moses.

9:11 In the second month, on the fourteenth day A gracious provision, sometimes called the second Passover, for the unclean or those far away. Unleavened bread recalled the haste of leaving Egypt, and bitter herbs the bitterness of slavery. God does not shut out people who long for Him. He makes a way.

9:12 a bone they shall not break in it When Jesus died, the soldiers did not break His legs, "so that the Scripture might be fulfilled, A bone of His will not be broken" (John 19:36; Exod 12:46). He was the true Passover Lamb down to the smallest detail.

9:13 that soul shall be cut off from its peoples Removal from the community of God's people, perhaps death at God's hand; teachers differ on the exact meaning. The unclean men wanted to come and could not. This man could come and would not. To refuse the Passover said you did not need what God had done. Turning away from the Lamb God provided is still the most serious sin.

9:14 one statute shall be for you, and for the sojourner A sojourner was a foreigner living among Israel, who had first to be circumcised (Exod 12:48). Even in the Law God's door was open to outsiders on His terms. In Christ Gentiles are "fellow citizens of the saints" (Eph 2:19).

9:15 the cloud covered the tabernacle The moment of Exodus 40:34-38. For forty years, day and night, God's presence was visible over His dwelling (9:16). It led them, shaded them by day and lit the camp by night.

9:17 according to the taking up of the cloud from over the tent No map or schedule, only God's presence. When it moved, they moved. When it stopped, they stopped. "At the mouth of the LORD" means at His command.

9:22 Or two days, or a month, or days You might set up camp and wake to find the cloud lifting, or long to move on and wait a month in the heat. Moving when God moves is hard. Waiting when God waits can be harder.

9:23 At the mouth of the LORD they would camp, and at the mouth of the LORD they would set out The lesson is repeated because God wanted them to learn it. We have something better than a cloud: His Spirit in us and His written Word. "As many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God" (Rom 8:14). He leads through Scripture, prayer, wise counsel and sometimes closed doors (Acts 16:6-7). Watch, wait, and go when He says go.

10:2 Make for yourself two trumpets of silver Long, straight metal trumpets, not rams' horns. In a camp of more than two million people, runners could not reach every tent. The trumpet carried the message to everyone at once (10:3).

10:7 you shall not sound an alarm One trumpet gathered the leaders, an alarm moved the camps in turn, and a plain blast gathered the assembly. The people had to learn the difference. A trumpet with an uncertain sound helps no one (1 Cor 14:8). We need to know God's Word so well that we know what He is calling us to do.

10:9 you shall be remembered before the LORD your God In war the trumpet was a cry to God for help. When Judah faced a larger army, the priests sounded the trumpets and God gave the victory (2 Chr 13:12-15).

sound an alarm with the trumpets, and you shall be remembered before the LORD your God, and you shall be saved from your enemies. 10 And on the day of your gladness, and at your appointed times, and at the beginnings of your months, then you shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; and they shall be for you for a memorial before your God. I am the LORD your God."

Israel Leaves Sinai

11 And it was in the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth day in the month, the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle of the testimony. 12 And the sons of Israel set out by their journeys from the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay); and the cloud settled in the wilderness of Paran. 13 And they set out for the first time at the mouth of the LORD by the hand of Moses. 14 And the standard of the camp of the sons of Judah (Yehuda) set out first by their armies; and over its army was Nahshon (Nachshon) the son of Amminadab (Aminadav). 15 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Issachar (Yisashkhar) was Nethanel (Netanel) the son of Zuar (Tsu'ar). 16 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Zebulun (Zevulun) was Eliab (Eli'av) the son of Helon (Chelon). 17 And the tabernacle was taken down, and the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari, the bearers of the tabernacle, set out. 18 And the standard of the camp of Reuben (Reuven) set out by their armies; and over its army was Elizur (Elitsur) the son of Shedeur. 19 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Simeon (Shimon) was Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai (Tsurishaday). 20 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Gad was Eliasaph (Elyasaf) the son of Deuel. 21 And the Kohathites, the bearers of the sanctuary, set out; and they set up the tabernacle until their coming. 22 And the standard of the camp of the sons of Ephraim (Efrayim) set out by their armies; and over its army was Elishama the son of Ammihud (Amihud). 23 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Manasseh (Menashe) was Gamaliel (Gamli'el) the son of Pedahzur (Pedahtsur). 24 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Benjamin (Binyamin) was Abidan (Avidan) the son of Gideoni (Gidoni). 25 And the standard of the camp of the sons of Dan set out, the rear guard of all the camps, by their armies; and over its army was Ahiezer (Achi'ezer) the son of Ammishaddai (Amishaday). 26 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Asher was Pagiel the son of Ochran (Okhran). 27 And over the army of the tribe of the sons of Naphtali (Naftali) was Ahira (Achira) the son of Enan. 28 These are the journeys of the sons of Israel by their armies; and they set out.

10:10 on the day of your gladness In joy too, the trumpets called God's people to remember Him and called on Him to remember them. The Lord will come down "with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first" (1 Thess 4:16; 1 Cor 15:52). I believe that trumpet will call the church up to meet the Lord before the Tribulation. The silver trumpets that gathered Israel toward the promised land are a picture of the day God's trumpet gathers His people home.

10:11 the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle of the testimony After about eleven months at Sinai (Exod 19:1), God said it was time to go. The wilderness of Paran (10:12) is the large desert region between Sinai and Canaan.

10:12 the sons of Israel set out by their journeys The trip from Sinai to Kadesh took eleven days (Deut 1:2). Had Israel trusted God, they could have been in the land within weeks. Instead it took forty years. That is what the rest of the book is about.

10:17 the bearers of the tabernacle, set out The Gershonites and Merarites carried the frame and curtains ahead, so the tent stood ready when the Kohathites arrived with the holy things (10:21). Everything worked as God had planned in chapters 2 to 4.

10:25 the rear guard of all the camps The lists of chapters 1 and 2 come to life as a moving column: God's people on the march, His presence in the middle, the cloud overhead.

10:29 Hobab the son of Reuel the Midianite, the father-in-law of Moses Exodus calls Moses' father-in-law Reuel (Exod 2:18) and Jethro (Exod 3:1). Many think Hobab was Reuel's son, Moses' brother-in-law. Others note Judges 4:11 calls Hobab himself the father-in-law and think the word can mean any relative by marriage. "Come with us, and we will do good to you" is evangelism: share in what God has promised.

10:31 you shall be for eyes for us Did Moses lack faith in the cloud? I do not think so. God led by the cloud, but a man who knew where the water and grazing were could still help. Trusting God does not mean refusing wise human help. Judges 1:16 suggests Hobab's family came along and settled with Judah.

10:33 to seek out a resting place for them Sinai is "the mountain of the LORD." Chapter 2 placed the Levites in the middle, but here the ark goes ahead. Most think this was a special case on this first leg, or that its place shifted as needed. God went ahead to find His people a place to rest, as Jesus went to prepare a place for us (John 14:2-3).

camp. 35 And it was, when the ark set out, and Moses said, "Rise up, LORD, and let Your enemies be scattered, and let those who hate You flee from before You." 36 And when it rested, he said, "Return, LORD, to the ten thousands of the thousands of Israel."

1 And the people were like those who complain of evil in the ears of the LORD; and the LORD heard, and His anger burned, and the fire of the LORD burned among them and consumed in the outskirts of the camp. 2 And the people cried out to Moses (Moshe), and Moses prayed to the LORD, and the fire died down. 3 And he called the name of that place Taberah (Tavera), because the fire of the LORD had burned among them.

Craving for Meat

4 And the rabble that was in their midst craved a craving; and the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) also wept again, and they said, "Who will feed us meat? 5 We remember the fish which we ate in Egypt (Mitsrayim) for nothing, the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic. 6 And now our soul is dried up; there is nothing at all except the manna before our eyes." 7 And the manna was like coriander seed, and its appearance was like the appearance of bdellium. 8 The people went about and gathered it, and they ground it in the mill or pounded it in the mortar, and they boiled it in the pot and made it into cakes; and its taste was like the taste of cake of oil. 9 And when the dew came down on the camp at night, the manna came down on it.

Moses' Burden

10 And Moses heard the people weeping by their clans, each man at the entrance of his tent; and the anger of the LORD burned exceedingly, and in the eyes of Moses it was evil. 11 And Moses said to the LORD, "Why have You done evil to Your servant? And why have I not found favor in Your eyes, that You put the burden of all this people on me? 12 Did I conceive all this people? Or did I give birth to it, that You should say to me, 'Carry it in your bosom, just as the foster father carries the nursing child,' to the land which You swore to its fathers? 13 From where is there meat for me to give to all this people? For they weep to me, saying, 'Give us meat, and let us eat.' 14 I am not able, I alone, to carry all this people, for it is too heavy for me. 15 And if thus You are doing to me, kill me, please, outright, if I have found favor in Your eyes; and let me not look on my evil."

The Seventy Elders

16 And the LORD said to Moses, "Gather to Me seventy men from the elders of Israel, whom you know that they are the elders of the people and its officers; and you shall take them to the tent of meeting, and they shall station themselves there with you. 17 And I will come down, and I will speak with you there; and I will take away some of the Spirit which is on you, and I will put it on them; and they shall carry the burden of the people with you, and you shall not carry it, you alone. 18 And to the people you shall say, 'Sanctify yourselves for tomorrow, and you shall eat meat; for you have wept in the ears of the LORD, saying, "Who will feed us meat? For it was good for us in Egypt." And the LORD will give you meat, and you shall eat. 19 You shall eat not one day, and not two days, and not five days, and not ten days, and not twenty

10:35 Rise up, LORD, and let Your enemies be scattered Prayers for the road. Moving out, Moses asked God to go before them. Settling down, he asked God to stay among His people (10:36). David took up the first prayer in Psalm 68:1. When you start something, ask God to go before you. When you rest, ask Him to stay near (Rom 8:31).

11:1 the people were like those who complain of evil in the ears of the LORD We are not told what they complained about, perhaps the heat, the walking or the dust. It was not a cry for help but grumbling, and God heard it. The fire fell on the outskirts of the camp, a warning. Complaining against God's care is unbelief: it says God is not good and not enough. Paul uses this chapter to warn the church (1 Cor 10:10; Phil 2:14).

11:3 he called the name of that place Taberah Taberah means burning. When Moses prayed, the fire died down (11:2).

11:4 the rabble that was in their midst craved a craving The mixed crowd of non-Israelites who came out of Egypt with Israel (Exod 12:38). Their craving spread to the whole camp. Sin is contagious.

11:5 We remember the fish which we ate in Egypt for nothing For nothing? They were slaves! They remembered the food and forgot the whips and the murdered baby boys. Discontent always rewrites the past to look better than it was.

11:6 there is nothing at all except the manna before our eyes Nothing but a daily miracle of bread from heaven. They had grown so used to God's provision that it bored them.

11:8 its taste was like the taste of cake of oil Bdellium (11:7) was a pale, clear resin. Manna was good food, cooked many ways, free, and it never failed. The problem was their hearts. Jesus said, "I am the bread of life" (John 6:35). When we grow bored with Jesus and long for what the world offers, we do what Israel did.

11:11 Why have You done evil to Your servant? Moses pours out his heart, raw. He felt like a father carrying a crying baby he never asked for (11:12).

11:15 kill me, please, outright Moses was burned out, as Elijah later was (1 Kgs 19:4). God does not strike him for speaking this way. He listens and answers. It is far better to bring exhaustion and even anger honestly to God than to grumble against Him behind His back. If you are a pastor, leader or parent and feel like Moses, you are not alone, and you are not meant to carry it alone.

11:17 they shall carry the burden of the people with you The seventy were men already known and trusted. Leading God's people is spiritual work that needs the Spirit of God. In the Old Testament the Spirit came on certain people for certain tasks. God took nothing from Moses but shared the gift so the load could be shared (Acts 6:3; Gal 6:2).

Or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered for them, and it be enough for them?" 23 And the LORD said to Moses, "Is the hand of the LORD short? Now you shall see whether My word will happen to you or not." 24 And Moses went out, and he spoke the words of the LORD to the people; and he gathered seventy men from the elders of the people, and he stationed them all around the tent. 25 And the LORD came down in the cloud, and He spoke to him; and He took away some of the Spirit which was on him, and He put it on the seventy men, the elders; and it was, when the Spirit rested on them, and they prophesied, and they did not do it again. 26 And two men had remained in the camp; the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the second was Medad; and the Spirit rested on them, and they were among those written, but they had not gone out to the tent; and they prophesied in the camp. 27 And the young man ran, and he told Moses, and he said, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp." 28 And Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun, the minister of Moses from his youth, answered, and he said, "My lord Moses, restrain them." 29 And Moses said to him, "Are you jealous for me? And who will grant that all the people of the LORD were prophets, that the LORD would put His Spirit on them!" 30 And Moses was gathered to the camp, he and the elders of Israel.

The Quail and the Plague

31 And a wind set out from the LORD, and it brought quails from the sea, and it let them fall on the camp, about a day's journey this way and about a day's journey that way, all around the camp, and approximately 3 feet (two cubits) above the face of the ground. 32 And the people rose up all that day and all the night and all the next day, and they gathered the quail; the one who gathered least gathered approximately 60 bushels (ten homers); and they spread them out for themselves, spreading them all around the camp. 33 The meat was still between their teeth, before it was chewed, and the anger of the LORD burned against the people, and the LORD struck the people with a very great plague. 34 And he called the name of that place Kibroth-hattaavah (Qivrot-Hata'ava), because there they buried the people who craved. 35 From Kibroth-hattaavah the people set out to Hazeroth (Chatserot), and they were at Hazeroth.

Miriam and Aaron Speak Against Moses

Has He not also spoken by us?" And the LORD heard. 3 And the man Moses was very humble, more than any man who was on the face of the ground. 4 And the LORD said suddenly to Moses and to Aaron and to Miriam, "Come out, you three, to the tent of 11:20 because you have rejected the LORD who is in your midst Their craving for meat was really a rejection of God Himself. They regretted being saved. Sometimes the worst thing God can do is give us what we demand: "He gave them their request, and He sent leanness into their soul" (Ps 106:15).

11:23 Is the hand of the LORD short? Moses was doing math instead of trusting (11:21-22). This is one of the great questions of the Bible, and the answer is no (Isa 59:1). What need in your life seems too big for God?
11:25 they prophesied, and they did not do it again To prophesy here means they spoke under the Spirit's power, perhaps praising God or declaring His word. It was a sign, given once, that God had chosen and equipped them, and their work went on.
11:26 they were among those written, but they had not gone out to the tent Eldad and Medad were on the list of the seventy, and the Spirit rested on them in the camp.
11:29 Are you jealous for me? Joshua, loyal and protective, did not want anyone to rival Moses (11:28). Moses was not threatened. He wanted more of God's Spirit among God's people, not less (Mark 9:38-39). His wish came true in a new way at Pentecost, when God poured out His Spirit "on all flesh" (Acts 2:17; Joel 2:28). Every believer now has the Holy Spirit.
11:31 it brought quails from the sea The SLB says they were about three feet above the ground. Some think the birds lay piled that high. Others think they flew low, tired from the wind, easy to catch.
11:32 the one who gathered least gathered approximately 60 bushels Two days and a night without stopping. That is the picture of greed: grabbing far more than anyone could need.
11:34 Kibroth-hattaavah The name means graves of craving. God's anger came while the food was still in their mouths (11:33; Ps 78:30-31). Scripture does not say how many died. These things happened as examples, "so that we would not be desirers of evil things" (1 Cor 10:6). Wanting meat was not evil, but a craving that rejects God leads to death. The answer is contentment (Phil 4:11; 1 Tim 6:6).
12:1 Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses because of the Cushite woman Miriam is named first, and the Hebrew verb is feminine, so she likely led. She was a prophetess (Exod 15:20) and a leader God sent (Mic 6:4). Cush usually means the land south of Egypt. Some believe this was Zipporah, Moses' Midianite wife, since Habakkuk 3:7 puts Cushan beside Midian. Others believe Zipporah had died and Moses married again. Either way, the wife was an excuse. People often attack a leader's family when their real problem is the leader.
12:2 Has He not also spoken by us? The real issue was jealousy and pride. God had spoken through them, but He had given Moses a unique role. "And the LORD heard." Nothing we say about others is hidden from Him.
12:3 the man Moses was very humble This explains why Moses did not defend himself. Humility is a right view of yourself before God, not fighting for your own position. Some ask how Moses could write this of himself. He may have written it under the Spirit as a plain fact the story needed, or a later inspired writer such as Joshua may have added it, as with Deuteronomy 34. Humility is not weakness. Moses stood before Pharaoh, but he left his honor to God (Matt 11:29).
12:4 Come out, you three, to the tent of meeting God did not wait. He called a meeting, and they had to face Him.

Miriam Struck and Healed

9 And the anger of the LORD burned against them, and He went. 10 And the cloud turned aside from over the tent, and look, Miriam was leprous like snow; and Aaron turned to Miriam, and look, she was leprous. 11 And Aaron said to Moses, "Please, my lord, do not, please, lay sin on us, in which we have acted foolishly and in which we have sinned. 12 Please let her not be like the dead, whose flesh is half eaten when he comes out from his mother's womb." 13 And Moses cried out to the LORD, saying, "God, please heal her, please." 14 And the LORD said to Moses, "And if her father had spat, spat in her face, would she not be put to shame seven days? The Twelve Spies Sent

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Send for yourself men, and let them spy out the land of Canaan (Kena'an), which I am giving to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el); one man, one man for the tribe of his fathers you shall send, every one a leader among them." 3 And Moses sent them from the wilderness of Paran at the mouth of the LORD; all of them were men, heads of the sons of Israel were they. 4 And these are their names: for the tribe of Reuben (Reuven), Shammua (Shamua) the son of Zaccur (Zakur); 5 for the tribe of Simeon (Shimon), Shaphat (Shafat) the son of Hori (Chori); 6 for the tribe of Judah (Yehuda), Caleb (Kalev) the son of Jephunneh (Yefune); 7 for the tribe of Issachar (Yisashkhar), Igal (Yigal) the son of Joseph (Yosef); 8 for the tribe of Ephraim (Efrayim), Hoshea the son of Nun; 9 for the tribe of Benjamin (Binyamin), Palti the son of Raphu (Rafu); 10 for the tribe of Zebulun (Zevulun), Gaddiel (Gadi'el) the son of Sodi; 11 for the tribe of Joseph, for the tribe of Manasseh (Menashe), Gaddi (Gadi) the son of Susi; 12 for the tribe of Dan, Ammiel (Ami'el) the son of Gemalli (Gemali); 13 for the tribe of Asher, Sethur (Setur) the son of Michael (Mikha'el); 14 for the tribe of Naphtali (Naftali), Nahbi (Nachbi) the son of Vophsi (Vofsi); 15 for the tribe of Gad, Geuel the son of Machi (Makhi). 16 These are the names of the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land. 12:7 in all My house he is faithful God's house means His people, His household. Hebrews says Moses was faithful "in all His house as a servant" (Heb 3:5), "but Christ as a Son over His house" (Heb 3:6). If it was serious to speak against Moses, how much more to reject Jesus?
12:8 Mouth to mouth I speak with him Other prophets received visions and dreams (12:6). With Moses God spoke directly and clearly, "face to face" (Exod 33:11; Deut 34:10). When you speak against the one God has chosen, you speak against God.
12:10 Miriam was leprous like snow Why Miriam and not Aaron? Most likely because she led the attack, and a stricken high priest could not serve. Scripture does not say. She wanted to be Moses' equal and was sent outside the camp. Pride goes before a fall (Prov 16:18), and Israel was told to remember this (Deut 24:9).
12:11 Please, my lord A moment ago Aaron claimed equal standing. Now he calls his younger brother "my lord" and confesses plainly: we acted foolishly, and we sinned. He could not fix it. Only God could.
12:13 God, please heal her, please One of the shortest and most beautiful prayers in the Bible. The man they attacked is the first to pray for her, with no grudge. Jesus taught us to pray for those who mistreat us (Matt 5:44) and prayed for those who crucified Him (Luke 23:34). He always lives to intercede for us (Heb 7:25).
12:14 Let her be shut up seven days outside the camp A father's spit in the face was public shame. How much more God's rebuke? She was healed but bore the shame for seven days, as the Law required (Lev 13:4-5). Forgiveness does not always remove every consequence. But "she shall be received."
12:15 the people did not set out until Miriam was received The whole nation waited. That is grace. When someone among us falls and repents, we wait for them and welcome them back.
12:16 they camped in the wilderness of Paran Near Kadesh, on the southern edge of Canaan. They are at the door of the promised land.
13:2 which I am giving to the sons of Israel God says first that He is giving them the land, promised to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (Gen 15:18-21). The spies were not sent to see whether Israel could win, but to see what God was giving and plan the way in. Deuteronomy 1:22-23 adds that the request started with the people, which may hint their faith was already shaky. Each spy was a man of standing, so his report would carry weight.
13:6 Caleb the son of Jephunneh Most of these names appear nowhere else. Ten men had the chance to be heroes of faith, and history remembers them only for their unbelief. Two names stand out, Caleb and Hoshea (13:8). Levi has no spy, since it would have no land, and Joseph counts as two tribes.
13:16 Moses called Hoshea the son of Nun Joshua Hoshea means salvation. Joshua means the LORD is salvation, or the LORD saves. Moses put God's name into his assistant's name. The Greek form of Joshua is Jesus. The man who led Israel into the land bore the name of the One who leads us into eternal life (Matt 1:21).

The Spies' Report

26 And they went, and they came to Moses and to Aaron (Aharon) and to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, to the wilderness of Paran, to Kadesh (Qadesh); and they brought back word to them and to all the congregation, and they showed them the fruit of the land. 27 And they recounted to him, and they said, "We came into the land to which you sent us; and also it is flowing with milk and honey, and this is its fruit. 28 Nevertheless, the people who dwell in the land are strong, and the cities are fortified and very large; and also we saw the descendants of Anak there. 29 Amalek (Amaleq) is dwelling in the land of the Negeb; and the Hittite and the Jebusite and the Amorite are dwelling in the hill country; and the Canaanite is dwelling by the sea and along the side of the Jordan (Yarden)." 30 And Caleb quieted the people before Moses, and he said, "We shall surely go up, and we shall take possession of it, for we shall surely prevail over it." 31 And the men who had gone up with him said, "We are not able to go up against the people, for it is stronger than we." 32 And they brought out a bad report of the land which they had spied out to the sons of Israel, saying, "The land through which we passed to spy it out is a land that devours its inhabitants; and all the people whom we saw in its midst are men of great stature. 33 And there we saw the Nephilim, the sons of Anak, from the Nephilim; and we were in our own eyes like grasshoppers, and so we were in their eyes."

13:18 whether it is strong or feeble, whether it is few or many The Negeb is the dry southern country, the hill country the central highlands. These were fair questions. Faith does not close its eyes to facts. The problem would not be what they saw but what they did with it.
13:20 you shall take some of the fruit of the land The first ripe grapes come about late July. Moses wanted the people to taste the promise before they took it.
13:22 the descendants of Anak A people known for great size. The spies went the whole length of the land, about 250 miles one way (13:21). At Hebron Abraham had lived and bought the cave where the patriarchs were buried (Gen 23:19; 49:31). They stood near their fathers' graves, where God made His promises, and were afraid. Zoan was a city in the Nile delta, so Hebron was old and settled. Caleb later took Hebron and drove out these same three (Josh 14:12-14; 15:14).
13:23 one cluster of grapes, and they carried it on the pole between two A wadi is a valley with water in the rainy season, and Eshcol means cluster. One bunch of grapes showed how rich the land was. God had not exaggerated. He never does.
13:25 at the end of forty days Remember the number. In chapter 14 God turns each day into a year in the wilderness (14:34).
13:27 it is flowing with milk and honey, and this is its fruit Good pasture for herds and plenty of flowers for bees. They reported to all the congregation at Kadesh, an oasis on the southern border (13:26). Everything God said about the land was true.
13:28 Nevertheless The word that turned everything. Every word of the report was true, and that is what made it dangerous. A report can be accurate in its facts and still be unbelief if it leaves God out. The ten said not one word about the LORD who promised the land.
13:30 We shall surely go up, and we shall take possession of it Caleb saw the same walls and giants. He did not deny them. He measured them against God. He later said he had "followed fully after the LORD my God" (Josh 14:8). Faith is not pretending problems are small. It is knowing God is bigger. Joshua stood with him (14:6).
13:31 We are not able to go up against the people, for it is stronger than we True in one sense. Israel was not strong enough. But that was never the point. The LORD was.
13:32 a land that devours its inhabitants Now they twisted the facts, and the land of milk and honey became a land that eats people. Fear makes the enemy bigger every time we tell the story.
13:33 we were in our own eyes like grasshoppers, and so we were in their eyes The Nephilim were the mighty men before the flood (Gen 6:4), whom the flood wiped out. The spies used the name to make the Anakim sound like monsters, though some teachers hold later giant clans bore the name too. First they saw themselves as grasshoppers, then assumed everyone did. In fact Canaan was terrified of Israel (Josh 2:9-11). Measure the problem against God: "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Rom 8:31).
14:1 the people wept that night Not repentance but despair. They believed the bad report over God's promise.
14:2 If only we had died in the land of Egypt, or in this wilderness Be careful what you wish for. God takes them at their word in verse 28.
14:3 why is the LORD bringing us into this land to fall by the sword? They blamed God directly, as if the God who crushed Egypt had brought them this far to be killed. Unbelief turns God's love into a trap in our minds.

ing us into this land to fall by the sword? Our wives and our little ones shall become plunder. Is it not good for us to return to Egypt?" 4 And they said, each man to his brother, "Let us appoint a head, and let us return to Egypt." 5 And Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the sons of Israel. 6 And Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun and Caleb (Kalev) the son of Jephunneh (Yefune), of those who spied out the land, tore their clothes; 7 and they said to all the congregation of the sons of Israel, saying, "The land which we passed through to spy it out, the land is very, very good. 8 If the LORD delights in us, then He will bring us into this land and give it to us, a land which flows with milk and honey. 9 Only do not rebel against the LORD; and you, do not fear the people of the land, for they are our bread. And the glory of the LORD appeared at the tent of meeting to all the sons of Israel.

Moses Prays for the People

11 And the LORD said to Moses, "How long will this people spurn Me? And how long will they not believe in Me, with all the signs which I have done in their midst? 12 I will strike them with pestilence, and I will dispossess them; and I will make you into a nation greater and mightier than they." 13 And Moses said to the LORD, "And Egypt will hear it, for You brought up this people by Your strength from their midst, 14 and they will say it to the inhabitants of this land. They have heard that You, LORD, are in the midst of this people, that eye to eye You, LORD, are seen, and Your cloud stands over them, and in a pillar of cloud You go before them by day and in a pillar of fire by night. 15 And if You put this people to death as one man, then the nations who have heard Your report will say, saying, 16 'Because the LORD was not able to bring this people into the land which He swore to them, He has slaughtered them in the wilderness.' 17 And now, please let the strength of the Lord be great, just as You have spoken, saying, 18 'The LORD is slow to anger and great in steadfast love, forgiving iniquity and transgression; but He will surely not clear the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers on the sons, on the third and on the fourth generation.' 19 Forgive, please, the iniquity of this people according to the greatness of Your steadfast love, and just as You have forgiven this people from Egypt and until now."

Forty Years in the Wilderness

20 And the LORD said, "I have forgiven according to your word. 21 But indeed, as I live, all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD; 22 for all the men who have seen My glory and My signs which I did in Egypt and in the wilderness, and have tested Me these ten times, and have not listened to My voice, 23 they shall not see the land which I swore to their fathers; and all who spurn Me shall not see it. 24 But My servant Caleb, because another spirit has been with him and he has fully followed after Me, I will bring him into the land into which he went, and his seed shall possess it. 25 And the Amalekite and the Canaanite are dwelling in the valley. Tomorrow turn, and set out for yourselves into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea." 26 And the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying, 27 "How long shall I bear with this evil congregation who are grumbling against Me? The grumblings of the sons of Israel, which they are 14:4 Let us appoint a head, and let us return to Egypt Rejecting Moses and the LORD, and walking back into slavery (Neh 9:17). Sin can look like a way back to comfort, but it always leads back to chains.

14:5 Moses and Aaron fell on their faces Not fear of the people, but grief and prayer before God. Joshua and Caleb tore their clothes in deep sorrow (14:6).
14:8 If the LORD delights in us, then He will bring us into this land Everything depended on the LORD, not on Israel's strength.
14:9 they are our bread We will eat them up like bread. "Their shade has turned aside": their protection was gone. Joshua and Caleb named the real sin. This was not caution but rebellion against God.
14:10 all the congregation said to stone them with stones They wanted to kill the only two men telling the truth. Just then the glory of the LORD appeared. God stepped in before a stone was thrown.
14:11 how long will they not believe in Me, with all the signs which I have done in their midst? God names the root: unbelief. They had seen the plagues, the Red Sea, the manna, water from the rock and the cloud overhead, and still did not believe.
14:12 I will make you into a nation greater and mightier than they The same offer as at the golden calf (Exod 32:10). Moses was of Abraham's line, so the promise would still stand through him. The offer tested Moses and showed his heart.
14:16 Because the LORD was not able to bring this people into the land Moses prayed for the people who had just tried to stone his friends. His first plea was God's name among the nations (14:13-16). Moses cared more about God's glory than his own greatness.
14:18 The LORD is slow to anger and great in steadfast love Moses quoted back what God said of Himself at Sinai (Exod 34:6-7). Steadfast love is hesed, God's loyal covenant love that does not quit. Moses held both halves: God forgives, and He does not pretend sin is nothing.
14:19 Forgive, please, the iniquity of this people according to the greatness of Your steadfast love Moses asked God to act like Himself. This is how to pray for others: pray God's promises back to Him, for His glory, on the basis of who He is. Jesus is the greater Intercessor (Heb 7:25).
14:21 all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD God's plan would not fail. That promise waits for its full answer when Christ reigns (Hab 2:14).
14:22 have tested Me these ten times Perhaps a count of their rebellions since Egypt, or a way of saying again and again. Forgiveness (14:20) did not cancel the consequences.
14:24 because another spirit has been with him and he has fully followed after Me Caleb had a different spirit, a heart that trusted and obeyed. Joshua is named with him in verse 30.
14:25 Tomorrow turn, and set out for yourselves into the wilderness They stood at the door of the promise and were sent back into the desert.

grumbling against Me, I have heard. 28 Say to them, 'As I live,' declares the LORD, 'surely just as you have spoken in My ears, so I will do to you. 29 In this wilderness your corpses shall fall, and all your enrolled men, according to all your number, from a son of twenty years and upward, who have grumbled against Me. 30 You shall surely not come into the land concerning which I lifted up My hand to make you dwell in it, except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun. 31 And your little ones, who you said would become plunder, I will bring them in, and they shall know the land which you have rejected. 32 But you, your corpses shall fall in this wilderness. 33 And your sons shall be shepherds in the wilderness forty years, and they shall bear your harlotries until your corpses are finished in the wilderness. 34 According to the number of the days which you spied out the land, forty days, a day for the year, a day for the year, you shall bear your iniquities forty years, and you shall know My opposition. 35 I, the LORD, have spoken; surely this I will do to all this evil congregation who are gathered together against Me; in this wilderness they shall come to an end, and there they shall die.'" 36 And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and who returned and made all the congregation grumble against him by bringing out a bad report on the land, 37 and the men who brought out the evil report of the land died by the plague before the LORD. 38 And Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh lived, of those men who went to spy out the land.

Defeat at Hormah

39 And Moses spoke these words to all the sons of Israel, and the people mourned exceedingly. 40 And they rose early in the morning, and they went up to the top of the hill country, saying, "Look, we are here, and we will go up to the place which the LORD said, for we have sinned." 41 And Moses said, "Why is this that you are transgressing the mouth of the LORD? And it shall not succeed. 42 Do not go up, for the LORD is not in your midst, that you may not be struck down before your enemies. 43 For the Amalekite and the Canaanite are there before you, and you shall fall by the sword; inasmuch as you have turned back from after the LORD, and the LORD will not be with you." 44 And they presumed to go up to the top of the hill country; and the ark of the covenant of the LORD and Moses did not depart from the midst of the camp. 45 And the Amalekite and the Canaanite who dwelt in that hill country came down, and they struck them, and they crushed them as far as Hormah (Chorma).

14:28 surely just as you have spoken in My ears, so I will do to you The sentence matched their own words (14:2).
14:29 In this wilderness your corpses shall fall The same men counted in chapter 1. The army organized for the conquest would be buried in the sand, as the second census shows (26:64-65). Is this too harsh? See what God did not do. He did not destroy them that day. He kept feeding them, kept the cloud over them, kept their clothes from wearing out (Deut 8:4), and kept His promise to their children.
14:31 your little ones, who you said would become plunder, I will bring them in The children they used as an excuse for unbelief were the very ones God would bless. His grace reached the next generation.
14:33 they shall bear your harlotries Harlotry pictures unfaithfulness to God. The children would suffer the effects of their parents' sin, though not its guilt (Ezek 18:20).
14:34 a day for the year The forty years include the time already spent, so about thirty-eight remained (Deut 2:14). "They were not able to enter in because of unbelief" (Heb 3:19). The good news was "not being mixed with faith" (Heb 4:2). This does not mean all who died in the wilderness were lost forever; Moses and Aaron also died outside the land. The judgment was the loss of the land. The warning is that hearing God's promise is not enough. We must trust Him (Heb 3:7-8).
14:37 the men who brought out the evil report of the land died by the plague They were judged first, because they led the rest astray. Leaders are held to a higher standard (James 3:1). Words spread fear or faith through a whole people.
14:38 Joshua the son of Nun and Caleb the son of Jephunneh lived Twelve went in. Ten died at once. Two lived, the only adults of that generation who would enter Canaan.
14:40 Look, we are here, and we will go up It sounded like repentance, but God had just told them to turn back. Yesterday's obedience is not today's obedience. True repentance submits to what God says now, even when it hurts.
14:42 Do not go up, for the LORD is not in your midst The ark of the covenant, the place of God's presence, stayed in the camp (14:44).
14:44 they presumed to go up They went in their own strength, without God.
14:45 they crushed them as far as Hormah The same people who could have been defeated with God now defeated Israel without Him. Unbelief came in two forms: refusing to go when God said go, and going when He said do not go. Both are doing what we want instead of what God says.
15:2 When you come into the land of your dwellings, which I am giving to you After chapter 14, these words are a promise. God had not given up on His plan. The children would enter.
15:3 a burnt offering or a sacrifice, to fulfill a vow, or in a freewill offering A burnt offering was wholly burned as a gift to God. A sacrifice here is a peace offering, shared in a meal. A vow was a promise to God, a freewill offering a gift given simply because one wanted to, and the appointed times were the feasts. A soothing aroma is an offering God accepts with pleasure, as Christ gave Himself (Eph 5:2).
15:4 a grain offering, fine flour Flour, oil and wine, the foods of a settled farming people. In the desert they had no fields, olive groves or vineyards. God was telling them what life in the land would look like.

the hin) of oil; 5 and wine for the drink offering, approximately 1 quart (the fourth of the hin), you shall offer with the burnt offering or for the sacrifice, for the one lamb. 6 Or for the ram you shall offer a grain offering, fine flour, approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah), mixed with oil, approximately 1 1/3 quarts (the third of the hin); 7 and wine for the drink offering, approximately 1 1/3 quarts (the third of the hin), you shall bring near, a soothing aroma to the LORD. 8 And when you offer a son of the herd as a burnt offering or a sacrifice, to fulfill a vow, or as peace offerings to the LORD, 9 then he shall bring near with the son of the herd a grain offering, fine flour, approximately 6 quarts (three tenths of an ephah), mixed with oil, approximately 2 quarts (half of the hin); 10 and wine you shall bring near for the drink offering, approximately 2 quarts (half of the hin), a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD. 11 Thus it shall be done for the one bull, or for the one ram, or for the one of the flock, among the lambs or among the goats. 12 According to the number which you offer, thus you shall do for the one, according to their number. 13 Every native shall do these things thus, to bring near a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD. 14 And when a sojourner sojourns with you, or whoever is in your midst throughout your generations, and he offers a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD, just as you do, so he shall do. 15 As for the assembly, one statute shall be for you and for the sojourner who sojourns, a statute forever throughout your generations; as you are, so the sojourner shall be before the LORD. 16 One law and one judgment shall be for you and for the sojourner who sojourns with you.'" 17 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 18 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them, 'When you come into the land into which I am bringing you, 19 and it shall be, when you eat of the bread of the land, you shall lift up a contribution to the LORD. 20 Of the first of your dough you shall lift up a cake as a contribution; like the contribution of the threshing floor, so you shall lift it up. 21 Of the first of your dough you shall give to the LORD a contribution throughout your generations.

Sins Without Knowing

22 And when you err, and do not do all these commandments which the LORD has spoken to Moses, 23 all that the LORD has commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the day that the LORD commanded and onward throughout your generations, 24 then it shall be, if it was done unintentionally, away from the eyes of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one young bull, a son of the herd, for a burnt offering, for a soothing aroma to the LORD, with its grain offering and its drink offering according to the ordinance, and one male goat of the goats for a sin offering. 25 And the priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them, for it was an error; and they have brought their offering, a fire offering to the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD, for their error. 26 And it shall be forgiven to all the congregation of the sons of Israel and to the sojourner who sojourns in their midst, for to all the people it was in error. 27 And if one soul sins unintentionally, then it shall bring near a female goat, a daughter of its year, for a sin offering. 28 And the priest shall make atonement for the soul that goes astray, when it sins unintentionally, before the LORD, to make atonement for him; and it shall be forgiven him. 29 For the native among the sons of Israel and for the sojourner who sojourns in their midst, one law shall be for you, for the one who acts unintentionally.

The Sin with a Raised Hand

30 And the soul that acts with a raised hand, whether of the native or of the sojourner, he blasphemes the LORD; and that soul shall be cut off from the midst of its people. 31 For he has despised the word of the LORD, and he has broken His commandment; that soul shall surely be cut off; its iniquity

15:11 Thus it shall be done for the one bull, or for the one ram The bigger the animal, the bigger the grain and wine offering. Worship involves the whole of life: herd, field and vineyard went up together. These shadows were fulfilled in Christ, who offered Himself once for all (Heb 10:1, 10). We still give our whole lives to God (Rom 12:1).

15:16 One law and one judgment shall be for you and for the sojourner The sojourner was a foreigner living among Israel. From the beginning God welcomed outsiders who wanted to worship Him, not as second-class worshipers. Rahab and Ruth joined God's people and the line of Jesus (Matt 1:5). In Christ Gentiles are fellow citizens with the saints (Eph 2:19; Gal 3:28).

15:20 Of the first of your dough you shall lift up a cake as a contribution A contribution was a gift set aside for God that went to the priests. Each new harvest, a family set aside a loaf for God first. It said God gave this bread and gets the first of it. Giving Him the first, not the leftovers, reminds us who provides (Matt 6:11; Rom 11:16).

15:22 when you err To sin without meaning to, through ignorance or a mistake.

15:24 away from the eyes of the congregation A sin the whole people did not even notice. A sin offering cleansed from sin and restored fellowship with God.

15:25 it shall be forgiven them Atonement means covering sin so a guilty people can be at peace with God. God knew His people would fail without realizing it, so He made a way back before they needed it. Even hidden faults need forgiveness (Ps 19:12), and the blood of Jesus cleanses us from all sin (1 John 1:7).

15:27 if one soul sins unintentionally A daughter of its year is a one-year-old female goat. These laws repeat Leviticus 4 for life in the land. An honest mistake was still sin, but there was a sure way to be forgiven (15:28).

15:30 the soul that acts with a raised hand A fist shaken at God: sin done on purpose, in open defiance. He "has despised the word of the LORD" (15:31). The Law had no sacrifice for that. Does this make every deliberate sin unforgivable? No. David sinned on purpose and was forgiven when he confessed (2 Sam 12:13; Ps 51). The point is a heart that despises God's word and refuses to turn. Hebrews 10:26-29 warns similarly about turning from Christ; teachers differ on how it relates. The way back is open to everyone who repents.

shall be on it.'" 32 And the sons of Israel were in the wilderness, and they found a man gathering sticks on the day of the Sabbath. 33 And those who found him gathering sticks brought him near to Moses and to Aaron (Aharon) and to all the congregation. 34 And they placed him in custody, for it had not been made clear what should be done to him. 35 And the LORD said to Moses, "The man shall surely be put to death; all the congregation shall stone him with stones outside the camp." 36 And all the congregation brought him outside the camp, and they stoned him with stones, and he died, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Tassels to Remember

37 And the LORD said to Moses, saying, 38 "Speak to the sons of Israel, and you shall say to them, 'And they shall make for themselves tassels on the corners of their clothes throughout their generations, and they shall put on the tassel of the corner a cord of blue. 39 And it shall be for you for a tassel, and you shall see it, and you shall remember all the commandments of the LORD, and you shall do them; and you shall not go about after your heart and after your eyes, after which you are acting as harlots, 40 so that you may remember and do all My commandments, and be holy to your God. 41 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) to be God to you. I am the LORD your God.'"

Korah's Rebellion

15:32 they found a man gathering sticks on the day of the Sabbath The Sabbath was the seventh day, Israel's day of rest and a sign of God's covenant (Exod 31:13-17). No fire was to be kindled on it (Exod 35:3), and working on it was a capital crime (Exod 31:14-15).
15:34 it had not been made clear what should be done to him They knew it was wrong. They did not know how the penalty was to be carried out, so they waited for God.
15:35 The man shall surely be put to death Why so severe for gathering wood? The story follows the verses on the raised hand. The law was clear, the whole camp knew it, and he worked openly anyway, defying God at the start of Israel's covenant life, like Nadab and Abihu (Lev 10) and Ananias and Sapphira (Acts 5:1-11). This was for Israel under the Law, by God's direct word, and gives no one the right to punish religious failures today. All of us deserve death (Rom 6:23), and Jesus took it for us "outside the camp" (Heb 13:13).
15:36 just as the LORD had commanded Moses Jesus is "Lord even of the Sabbath" (Matt 12:8), and Sabbaths "are a shadow of the things coming, but the body is of Christ" (Col 2:17). Christians differ on how the Sabbath applies now: some keep Saturday, many keep Sunday as the Lord's Day, others see Christ as our rest (Heb 4:9-10). All can learn that God's word is not to be treated lightly.
15:38 they shall put on the tassel of the corner a cord of blue A tassel was a fringe of twisted threads. Blue dye was costly, the color of royalty and of the tabernacle cloths.
15:39 you shall see it, and you shall remember all the commandments of the LORD A reminder worn every day. Heart and eyes had just led Israel astray at Kadesh, when the spies trusted their eyes over God's word. The tassels gave the eyes something better to look at. A sick woman touched the fringe of Jesus' garment (Matt 9:20), but He warned those who "enlarge the fringes of their garments" (Matt 23:5) to be seen. We still need reminders: Scripture, the Lord's Supper, fellowship.
15:41 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt Obedience grows out of remembering who God is and what He has done.
16:1 Korah the son of Izhar, the son of Kohath, the son of Levi A Kohathite, of the clan that carried the holiest things (4:4-15), and cousin of Moses and Aaron (Exod 6:18-21). He had a high calling already. Dathan and Abiram were of Reuben, Jacob's firstborn, perhaps resenting that leadership had gone to Levi and Judah. On is never mentioned again.
16:2 two hundred and fifty, leaders of the congregation Not a fringe group, but respected men of name.
16:3 all of them are holy, and the LORD is in their midst It sounded godly. God had called all Israel a holy nation (Exod 19:6). But they used that truth to tear down the leaders God appointed. Moses had not exalted himself. God chose him, and he tried to refuse (Exod 4:13). Pride often dresses itself in talk about equality.
16:4 he fell on his face His first response was to go to God, not defend himself.
16:5 the LORD will make known who is His Moses put the matter in God's hands. Paul quotes it: "The Lord knew those who are His" (2 Tim 2:19). God knows who truly belongs to Him, even when false teachers look like leaders.
16:7 put fire in them, and set incense on them before the LORD tomorrow A censer was a small pan for hot coals. Burning incense was the work of the priests alone (Exod 30:7-8). Moses invited them to do what they wanted and let God answer. Every Israelite remembered Nadab and Abihu (Lev 10:1-2). Then he turned their own words back on them: "Enough for you."
16:9 Is it too small a thing for you The Levites were near to God, serving His house. Korah was not content with that honor.

the congregation to minister to them, 10 and He has brought you near, and all your brothers, the sons of Levi, with you? And you seek the priesthood also! 11 Therefore you and all your company are those gathered together against the LORD; and Aaron, what is he, that you grumble against him?" 12 And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab; and they said, "We will not come up. 13 Is it too small a thing that you have brought us up from a land flowing with milk and honey to put us to death in the wilderness, that you should also surely make yourself ruler over us? 14 Moreover, you have not brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, and given us an inheritance of field and vineyard. Will you put out the eyes of those men? We will not come up!" 15 And Moses burned with anger exceedingly, and he said to the LORD, "Do not turn to their offering. Not one donkey have I taken from them, and I have not harmed one of them."

The Test of the Censers

16 And Moses said to Korah, "You and all your company, be before the LORD, you and they and Aaron, tomorrow. 17 And take each man his censer, and you shall put incense on them, and you shall bring near before the LORD each man his censer, two hundred and fifty censers; and you and Aaron, each man his censer." 18 And they took each man his censer, and they put fire on them, and they set incense on them, and they stood at the entrance of the tent of meeting, and Moses and Aaron. 19 And Korah assembled all the congregation against them to the entrance of the tent of meeting. And the glory of the LORD appeared to all the congregation. 20 And the LORD spoke to Moses and to Aaron, saying, 21 "Separate yourselves from the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them in a moment." 22 And they fell on their faces, and they said, "O God, God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and will You be angry with all the congregation?" 23 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 24 "Speak to the congregation, saying, 'Withdraw from around the dwelling of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram.'" 25 And Moses rose up and went to Dathan and Abiram, and the elders of Israel went after him. 26 And he spoke to the congregation, saying, "Turn away, please, from the tents of these wicked men, and do not touch anything that is theirs, lest you be swept away in all their sins." 27 And they withdrew from the dwelling of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, from all around; and Dathan and Abiram came out, standing at the entrance of their tents, and their wives and their sons and their little ones. 28 And Moses said, "By this you shall know that the LORD has sent me to do all these works, for it is not from my own heart. 29 If these die like the death of all mankind, and the visitation of all mankind is visited on them, the LORD has not sent me. 30 And if the LORD creates a creation, and the ground opens its mouth and swallows them and all that is theirs, and they go down alive to Sheol, then you shall know that these men have spurned the LORD."

The Earth Opens

31 And it happened, as he finished speaking all these words, that the ground which was under them split open; 32 and the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them and their households, and every man who belonged to Korah, and all the property. 33 And they and all that was theirs went down alive to Sheol; and the earth covered them, and they perished from the midst of the assembly. 34 And all Israel who were around them fled at their voice, for they said, "Lest the earth swallow us!" 35 And fire came forth from the LORD and consumed the two hundred and fifty men bringing near the 16:10 And you seek the priesthood also! He wanted the role God had given someone else.

16:11 you and all your company are those gathered together against the LORD When we fight the place God has given others, we fight God. Discontent with our own calling is a quiet danger in churches too. God placed each member as He wished (1 Cor 12:18), and no one needs to grab another's gift.
16:13 you have brought us up from a land flowing with milk and honey Shocking. They called Egypt, the land of slavery, the land of milk and honey, and blamed Moses for the wilderness their own unbelief caused. "Will you put out the eyes" (16:14) means, Do you think you can blind people to what you are doing?
16:15 Not one donkey have I taken from them Moses had not used his position to enrich himself (1 Sam 12:3). A leader with nothing to hide can stand before God with a clear conscience.
16:19 Korah assembled all the congregation against them The people who refused the land were ready to follow another rebellion. As at Kadesh (14:10), God showed Himself just as the crowd turned on His servants.
16:22 God of the spirits of all flesh The God who gives life and breath to every person knows each heart. Moses and Aaron asked Him to judge the leaders and spare those misled. God listened (16:24), as when Abraham appealed to the Judge of all the earth (Gen 18:25).
16:26 Turn away, please, from the tents of these wicked men There are times to get away from rebellion so we are not caught in it.
16:27 Dathan and Abiram came out, standing at the entrance of their tents They stood in defiance with their families around them, after the warning to move away.
16:30 if the LORD creates a creation Sheol is the Hebrew word for the place of the dead, the grave. Moses staked everything on God doing something no one had seen.
16:32 every man who belonged to Korah The scene is told plainly without dwelling on it. Why were families included? They stood with the rebels after being warned (16:27). And "the sons of Korah did not die" (26:11). They must have stepped away from their father's sin. Their descendants became temple singers and wrote eleven psalms (Ps 42; 44-49; 84-85; 87-88), one saying, "I have chosen to stand at the threshold in the house of my God rather than to dwell in the tents of wickedness" (Ps 84:10). Some think Korah himself died in the fire rather than in the earth (26:10).
16:35 fire came forth from the LORD and consumed the two hundred and fifty men Jude says false teachers "perished in the rebellion of Korah" (Jude 1:11). Rejecting God's appointed authority and grasping what He has not given leads to ruin.

The Bronze Covering for the Altar

36 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 37 "Speak to Eleazar (Elazar) the son of Aaron the priest, and let him take up the censers from between the burning, and scatter the fire far away, for they are holy— 38 the censers of these sinners against their own souls—and they shall make them into hammered plates as an overlay for the altar, for they brought them near before the LORD, and they are holy; and let them be for a sign to the sons of Israel." 39 And Eleazar the priest took the bronze censers which those who were burned had brought near, and they hammered them out as an overlay for the altar, 40 a memorial for the sons of Israel, so that a stranger who is not of the seed of Aaron may not come near to burn incense before the LORD, and may not be like Korah and like his company, just as the LORD had spoken to him by the hand of Moses.

The Plague Stopped

41 And all the congregation of the sons of Israel grumbled on the next day against Moses and against Aaron, saying, "You have put to death the people of the LORD." 42 And it happened, when the congregation assembled against Moses and against Aaron, that they turned toward the tent of meeting, and look, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the LORD appeared. 43 And Moses and Aaron came to the front of the tent of meeting. 44 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 45 "Get yourselves up from the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them in a moment." And they fell on their faces. 46 And Moses said to Aaron, "Take the censer, and put fire on it from on the altar, and set incense on it, and carry it quickly to the congregation, and make atonement for them; for the wrath has gone out from before the LORD; the plague has begun." 47 And Aaron took it just as Moses had spoken, and he ran into the midst of the assembly, and look, the plague had begun among the people; and he put on the incense and made atonement for the people. 48 And he stood between the dead and the living, and the plague was restrained. 49 And those who died by the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, besides those who died on account of Korah. 50 And Aaron returned to Moses to the entrance of the tent of meeting, and the plague had been restrained.

NUMBERS 17

Aaron's Rod Buds

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 2 "Speak to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and take from them a rod, a rod for each father's house, from all their leaders according to the house of their fathers, twelve rods. Each man's name you shall write on his rod. 3 And the name of Aaron (Aharon) you shall write on the rod of Levi; for one rod is for the head of the house of their fathers. 4 And you shall deposit them in the tent of meeting before the testimony, where I meet with you. 5 And it shall be that the man whom I choose, his rod will bud; and I will make the grumblings of the sons of Israel, which they are grumbling against you, subside from on Me." 6 And Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, and all their leaders gave him a rod for one leader, a rod for one leader, according to the house of their fathers, twelve rods; and the rod of Aaron was in the midst of their rods. 7 And Moses deposited the rods before the LORD in the tent of the testimony. 8 And it happened on the next day, and Moses went into the tent of the testimony, and look, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi had budded, and it had brought forth buds and blossomed blossoms and ripened almonds. 9 And Moses brought out all the rods from before the LORD to all the sons of Israel;

16:38 hammered plates as an overlay for the altar The censers had been brought before the LORD, so they were His. They covered the bronze altar of burnt offering. God turned the tools of rebellion into a warning for the next generation. King Uzziah forgot it and was struck with a skin disease (2 Chr 26:16-21).
16:41 You have put to death the people of the LORD You would think they had learned. They blamed Moses for what God had done and called the rebels "the people of the LORD."
16:46 put fire on it from on the altar The day before, 250 men offered incense God did not ask for and died. Now the priest God chose brought fire from God's altar and incense God commanded, and it saved lives.
16:47 he ran into the midst of the assembly Aaron was over eighty, and he ran into the plague for the people who had just accused him.
16:48 he stood between the dead and the living One of the great pictures of the Old Testament: God's high priest standing in the gap, death on one side and life on the other. Jesus did more than stand between. He took the judgment Himself. He is the "one mediator of God and men" (1 Tim 2:5), "able to save to the uttermost those who draw near to God through Him" (Heb 7:25).
16:49 fourteen thousand and seven hundred As with the other numbers in Numbers, I take the figure as written.
17:2 a rod for each father's house A rod was a walking staff, and a leader's staff marked his authority. Aaron's name stood for all Levi, Korah's clan included (17:3). The question was not only which tribe but which man.
17:4 before the testimony, where I meet with you The testimony means the tablets of the Law in the ark. The rods lay before God's presence, where no human hand could touch them in the night.
17:5 I will make the grumblings of the sons of Israel God wanted to end the grumbling. The last answers had been fire and plague. This time He chose a sign of life, a merciful clear answer so no more would die.
17:8 the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi had budded A dry stick, cut from any tree, went through every stage of growth in one night. Only God could do that. The almond is the first tree to bloom in that land, and its Hebrew name, shaqed, sounds like the word for watching (Jer 1:11-12). Almond blossoms were the pattern for the lampstand's cups (Exod 25:33-34), fitting the priest of the holy place.
17:9 they saw, and they took each man his rod Every leader saw his own rod still a dead stick. No argument was needed. God's authority is not taken. It is given (Heb 5:4).

and they saw, and they took each man his rod. 10 And the LORD said to Moses, "Put back the rod of Aaron before the testimony for keeping, for a sign to the sons of rebellion, and you shall make their grumblings subside from on Me, and they will not die." 11 And Moses did so; just as the LORD had commanded him, so he did. 12 And the sons of Israel said to Moses, saying, "Look, we expire, we perish, all of us perish! 13 Everyone who comes near, who comes near to the tabernacle of the LORD, dies. Are we finished, to expire?"

NUMBERS 18

The Duties of Priests and Levites

1 And the LORD said to Aaron (Aharon), "You and your sons and the house of your father with you shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary; and you and your sons with you shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood. 2 And also your brothers, the tribe of Levi, the tribe of your father, bring near with you, and let them be joined to you, and let them minister to you; and you and your sons with you shall be before the tent of the testimony. 3 And they shall keep your charge and the charge of all the tent; only to the articles of the holy place and to the altar they shall not draw near, and they shall not die, both they and you. 4 And they shall be joined to you, and they shall keep the charge of the tent of meeting, for all the service of the tent; and a stranger shall not draw near to you. 5 And you shall keep the charge of the holy place and the charge of the altar, and there shall not be wrath again on the sons of Israel (Yisra'el). 6 And I, look, I have taken your brothers the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel; to you they are a gift, given to the LORD, to serve the service of the tent of meeting. 7 And you and your sons with you shall keep your priesthood for every matter of the altar and for within the veil, and you shall serve; as a service of gift I give your priesthood; and the stranger who comes near shall be put to death."

The Priests' Portion

8 And the LORD spoke to Aaron, "And I, look, I have given to you the charge of My contributions, of all the holy things of the sons of Israel; to you I have given them for an anointed portion, and to your sons, for a due forever. 9 This shall be yours from the holy of holies, from the fire: every offering of theirs, every grain offering of theirs and every sin offering of theirs and every guilt offering of theirs which they render to Me, is a holy of holies for you and for your sons. 10 In the holy of holies you shall eat it; every male shall eat it; it shall be holy to you. 11 And this is yours: the contribution of their gift, of all the wave offerings of the sons of Israel; to you I have given them, and to your sons and to your daughters with you, for a due forever; every clean person in your house shall eat it. 12 All the best of the fresh oil and all the best of the new wine and grain, the first of them which they give to the LORD, to you I have given them. 13 The first fruits of all that is in their land, which they bring to the LORD, shall be yours; every clean person in your house shall eat it. 14 Every devoted thing in Israel shall be yours. 15 Every one opening the womb, of all flesh, which they bring near to the LORD, of mankind and of livestock, shall be yours; only you shall surely redeem the firstborn of mankind, and the firstborn of 17:10 Put back the rod of Aaron before the testimony for keeping It was kept with "the staff of Aaron which budded, and the tablets of the covenant" (Heb 9:4), reminders of God's care, His law and His chosen priest. The sign's goal was life: "they will not die." Many Christians see a picture of Christ, cut off and laid in the tomb, who rose on the third day, proving He is the High Priest God chose (Rom 1:4; Heb 7:16, 24-25). The New Testament does not draw this link, so I hold it as a picture. God's priest is the one who lives.

17:12 we expire, we perish, all of us perish! From arrogance to terror. A few days before, they said everyone was holy enough to come near.
17:13 Everyone who comes near, who comes near to the tabernacle of the LORD, dies Their fear was not foolish after the earth opened, fire fell and plague swept the camp. But they did not know how to come near God safely. Chapter 18 gives God's answer for Israel. For us the answer is Jesus, through whose blood we enter by "a new and living way" (Heb 10:20).
18:1 You and your sons and the house of your father with you shall bear the iniquity of the sanctuary This answers the people's cry in 17:13. The priests would stand between a holy God and a sinful people and carry the guilt of any wrong done at the sanctuary. Nearness to God was a privilege that came with heavy responsibility.
18:2 let them be joined to you The name Levi sounds like the Hebrew word for "joined" (Gen 29:34). The Levites were joined to Aaron to help him, not to rival him as Korah had tried to do.
18:5 there shall not be wrath again on the sons of Israel The guarding of the holy things had a loving purpose. If the priests and Levites kept their charge, no more plagues like chapter 16 would break out on the camp.
18:6 to you they are a gift, given to the LORD The Levites were God's gift to the priests, and the priesthood itself was God's gift to Aaron (18:7). Korah wanted ministry as a right to grab. God says it is always a gift to receive.
18:7 as a service of gift I give your priesthood; and the stranger who comes near shall be put to death No one could take this office for himself (Heb 5:4). In Christ every believer has been made a priest to God (1 Pet 2:9), also by grace and never by merit.
18:8 I have given to you the charge of My contributions, of all the holy things of the sons of Israel Verses 8 to 19 list what the priests received. God provided for those who served Him through the gifts His people brought to Him.
18:11 to your sons and to your daughters with you, for a due forever; every clean person in your house shall eat it The most holy portions were eaten only by the priests in a holy place (18:10), but the wave offerings fed the whole priestly family, daughters included, as long as they were ceremonially clean.
18:12 All the best of the fresh oil and all the best of the new wine and grain, the first of them The firstfruits were the best and the first, given before the rest was used. God's servants were fed from what God's people gave Him first (Prov 3:9).
18:14 Every devoted thing in Israel shall be yours A devoted thing was given over wholly to God and could not be bought back (Lev 27:28). When it was not something to be destroyed, it went to the priests.
18:15 only you shall surely redeem the firstborn of mankind Every firstborn belonged to God since the night He spared Israel's firstborn in Egypt (Exod 13:2, 13-15). Sons were bought back with silver, a reminder that each family's life was a gift of His mercy.

The Tithe for the Levites

20 And the LORD said to Aaron, "In their land you shall not have an inheritance, and a portion shall not be yours in their midst; I am your portion and your inheritance in the midst of the sons of Israel. 21 And to the sons of Levi, look, I have given every tithe in Israel for an inheritance, in return for their service which they serve, the service of the tent of meeting. 22 And the sons of Israel shall not draw near again to the tent of meeting, to bear sin, to die. 23 And the Levite, he shall serve the service of the tent of meeting, and they shall bear their iniquity; it is a statute forever for your generations; and in the midst of the sons of Israel they shall not inherit an inheritance. 24 For the tithe of the sons of Israel, which they offer up to the LORD as a contribution, I have given to the Levites for an inheritance; therefore I have said to them, 'In the midst of the sons of Israel they shall not inherit an inheritance.'" 25 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying, 26 "And to the Levites you shall speak, and you shall say to them, 'When you take from the sons of Israel the tithe which I have given to you from them for your inheritance, and you shall offer up from it the contribution of the LORD, a tithe from the tithe. 27 And your contribution shall be reckoned to you like the grain from the threshing floor and like the fullness from the winepress. 28 Thus you also shall offer up the contribution of the LORD from all your tithes which you take from the sons of Israel; and you shall give from it the contribution of the LORD to Aaron the priest. 29 From all your gifts you shall offer up every contribution of the LORD, from all its best, its holy part from it.' 30 And you shall say to them, 'When you offer up its best from it, and it shall be reckoned to the Levites like the produce of a threshing floor and like the produce of a winepress. 31 And you shall eat it in every place, you and your household; for it is wages for you in return for your service in the tent of meeting. 32 And you shall not bear sin on account of it when you offer up its best from it; and the holy things of the sons of Israel you shall not profane, and you shall not die.'"

18:16 from a son of a month you shall redeem it, by your valuation, approximately 2 ounces of silver Five shekels, the same price paid for the firstborn when the Levites were first counted (3:47). Jesus Himself, Mary's firstborn, was brought to the temple under this law (Luke 2:22-23).
18:17 Only the firstborn of an ox or the firstborn of a sheep or the firstborn of a goat you shall not redeem; they are holy Clean firstborn animals could be offered on the altar, so they were sacrificed rather than bought back. Unclean animals, like the donkey, were redeemed (18:15).
18:19 it is a covenant of salt forever before the LORD Salt preserves and does not decay, and sharing salt sealed lasting agreements in the ancient world. God's promise to provide for the priests would not spoil. David's kingdom is also called "a covenant of salt" (2 Chr 13:5).
18:20 I am your portion and your inheritance in the midst of the sons of Israel The priests received no tribal land. Their inheritance was God Himself, and that was no loss. David sang the same of every believer: "The LORD is the portion of my share and my cup" (Ps 16:5).
18:21 to the sons of Levi, look, I have given every tithe in Israel for an inheritance The tenth Israel gave to God supported the Levites, who had no fields of their own. It was their wages "in return for their service." Paul applies the principle that those who serve should be supported (1 Cor 9:13-14).
18:23 they shall bear their iniquity The Levites stood guard at the tent and bore the responsibility if an outsider came near. They protected the people by guarding the holy things.
18:24 For the tithe of the sons of Israel, which they offer up to the LORD as a contribution The tithe was given to the LORD first and then passed to the Levites. Under the New Testament, giving is to be regular, in proportion to how God has prospered us, and cheerful (1 Cor 16:2; 2 Cor 9:7). Christians differ on whether the ten percent still binds believers today; all agree that generous giving honors God.
18:26 you shall offer up from it the contribution of the LORD, a tithe from the tithe Even the Levites tithed. No one in God's service is above giving, and the ones who receive God's people's gifts must also give from them.
18:27 your contribution shall be reckoned to you like the grain from the threshing floor and like the fullness from the winepress The Levites raised no crops, but God counted their tithe from wages as if they had brought in their own harvest. He accepts what we give from what He gives us.
18:29 from all its best, its holy part from it God asks for the best, not the leftovers. Malachi rebuked Israel for offering what was blind and sick (Mal 1:8).
18:31 for it is wages for you in return for your service in the tent of meeting Once the best was given to God, the rest was theirs to enjoy freely anywhere, with their families. Honest support for ministry is no shame.
18:32 you shall not bear sin on account of it when you offer up its best from it Giving God His part first freed them to use the rest with a clear conscience. The chapter closes as it began, with a way to come near God and live.
19:2 let them bring to you a red heifer, unblemished, in which there is no blemish, on which a yoke has not come up Jewish teachers have long called this one of the hardest laws to understand, but its point is clear. A young cow, without defect and never worked, was set apart for cleansing. Red may point to the color of blood, though Scripture does not explain it.

Cleansing from Death

11 The one who touches the dead, of any soul of mankind, and he shall be unclean seven days. 12 He shall purify himself from sin with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean; and if he does not purify himself from sin on the third day and on the seventh day, he shall not be clean. 13 Everyone who touches the dead, the soul of the man who dies, and does not purify himself from sin, has made the tabernacle of the LORD unclean; and that soul shall be cut off from Israel; because the water of impurity was not sprinkled on him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is still on him. 14 This is the law: when a man dies in a tent, everyone who comes into the tent and everyone who is in the tent shall be unclean seven days. 15 And every open vessel which has no cover of cord on it, it is unclean. 16 And everyone who touches, on the face of the field, one slain by a sword or a dead one or a bone of a man or a grave, shall be unclean seven days. 17 And they shall take for the unclean one some of the dust of the burning of the sin offering, and he shall put living water on it in a vessel. 18 And a clean man shall take hyssop, and he shall dip it in the water, and he shall spatter it on the tent and on all the vessels and on the souls who were there, and on the one who touched the bone or the slain or the dead or the grave. 19 And the clean one shall spatter on the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day; and he shall purify him from sin on the seventh day, and he shall wash his clothes and bathe in water, and he shall be clean in the evening. 20 And a man who is unclean and does not purify himself from sin, and that soul shall be cut off from the midst of the assembly, for he has made the sanctuary of the LORD unclean; the water of impurity has not been

19:3 he shall bring it out to the outside of the camp Eleazar, not Aaron, handled it, because the high priest had to stay clean for his work. The heifer died outside the camp, the place of the unclean, just as Jesus "suffered outside the gate" (Heb 13:12).
19:4 he shall spatter some of its blood toward the front of the tent of meeting seven times Though killed outside, the sacrifice was offered toward God's presence. Seven speaks of completeness.
19:5 its skin and its flesh and its blood, with its dung, he shall burn This was unusual. Normally the blood went on the altar and the hide to the priest. Here everything was burned to make a large store of ash.
19:6 cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet of the worm Scarlet of the worm is thread dyed with a red dye from an insect. The same three things were used to cleanse a person healed of a skin disease (Lev 14:4-6). Cedar does not rot, hyssop was used for sprinkling at the Passover (Exod 12:22), and scarlet is the color of blood. All of them speak of cleansing and life.
19:7 the priest shall be unclean until the evening Here is the strange part. The ashes made the unclean clean, but handling them made the clean unclean. The heifer carried uncleanness away from the people, and those who dealt with it shared in it for a time. Sin and death are not cleaned up without a cost to someone.
19:9 for water of impurity; it is a sin offering Water of impurity means water to remove impurity. It is called a sin offering because it dealt with defilement and restored a person to fellowship with God.
19:10 for the sojourner who sojourns in their midst for a statute forever Outsiders living in Israel received the same cleansing. Jewish tradition says only a handful of red heifers were needed in all of Israel's history, because the ashes of one went a long way.
19:11 The one who touches the dead, of any soul of mankind, and he shall be unclean seven days Touching the dead was not sin. Burying the dead was a duty and a kindness. But death is the result of sin (Gen 2:17; Rom 5:12), and God is the living God. Everything connected with death was kept from His presence to teach that death does not belong with Him.
19:12 He shall purify himself from sin with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean Two sprinklings, and then he was clean. God set a clear way back, and anyone could take it.
19:13 has made the tabernacle of the LORD unclean; and that soul shall be cut off from Israel To ignore God's cleansing was to carry defilement into God's house. "His uncleanness is still on him." God provided the way, and refusing it left a person in his uncleanness.
19:14 when a man dies in a tent, everyone who comes into the tent and everyone who is in the tent shall be unclean seven days In a camp where a whole generation was dying, families needed this cleansing again and again. The law was a daily reminder of the cost of unbelief at Kadesh and of God's mercy in making a way back.
19:16 one slain by a sword or a dead one or a bone of a man or a grave Death defiled wherever it was found, even in the open field. By Jesus' day tombs were whitewashed so travelers would not touch them by accident, and He used that picture of people clean outside but dead inside (Matt 23:27).
19:17 he shall put living water on it in a vessel Living water is running water, from a spring or a stream, mixed with the ashes.
19:18 A clean man shall take hyssop, and he shall dip it in the water, and he shall spatter it on the tent On the third and seventh days a clean person sprinkled the unclean one, his tent and his things. Cleansing came from outside himself, applied by another.
19:20 that soul shall be cut off from the midst of the assembly, for he has made the sanctuary of the LORD unclean The warning comes twice in the chapter (19:13). The cleansing was free, but it had to be received.

From this rock shall we bring out water for you?" 11 And Moses raised his hand, and he struck the rock with his rod twice; and much water came out, and the congregation and their livestock drank. 12 And the LORD said to Moses and to Aaron, "Because you did not believe in Me, to treat Me as holy in the eyes of the sons of Israel, therefore you shall not bring this assembly into the land which I have given to them." 13 These are the waters of Meribah (Meriva), where the sons of Israel quarreled with the LORD, and He showed Himself holy among them.

19:21 the one who touches the water of impurity shall be unclean until the evening Hebrews explains the meaning: if "the ashes of a heifer" (Heb 9:13) purified the flesh, "how much more will the blood of the Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered Himself unblemished to God, purify your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?" (Heb 9:13-14). The water had to be sprinkled again every time; Jesus offered Himself once for all (Heb 10:10).
19:22 all that the unclean one touches shall be unclean Uncleanness spread by touch. Jesus did what no Israelite dared: He touched the dead, taking a dead girl by the hand (Mark 5:41) and touching a widow's son's coffin (Luke 7:14). Instead of becoming unclean, He gave life. The water could not reach a guilty conscience. The blood of Christ can.
20:1 came to the wilderness of Zin in the first month The year is not given, but comparing 33:36-39 shows this is the fortieth year after the exodus, since Aaron dies later that year. The thirty-eight years of wandering are behind them.
20:1 and Miriam died there, and she was buried there One short line for the woman who watched over baby Moses at the Nile (Exod 2:4), led the women in song at the sea (Exod 15:20-21), and later spoke against Moses (chapter 12). She did not see the promised land.
20:2 there was no water for the congregation; and they assembled against Moses and against Aaron Their need was real; no water in the desert is serious. But instead of asking God, they attacked their leaders.
20:3 if only we had died when our brothers died before the LORD This was a new generation, but they sounded just like their parents (14:2). Most had been children in Egypt or were born in the desert. They learned grumbling from the generation before them.
20:6 they fell on their faces; and the glory of the LORD appeared to them Once again Moses and Aaron took the problem to God, and God answered with a plan, not a plague.
20:8 Take the rod Verse 9 says Moses took it "from before the LORD," so this may have been Aaron's rod that budded, kept before the testimony (17:10). Or it may have been Moses' own staff, "the staff of God" (Exod 4:20). Scripture does not say for certain.
20:8 speak to the rock before their eyes, and it shall give its water The command was clear. Forty years earlier at Rephidim God told Moses to strike a rock (Exod 17:6). This time God said speak.
20:10 Listen, please, you rebels! From this rock shall we bring out water for you? After forty years of carrying this people, Moses' temper broke. He spoke in anger, and he said "we," as though he and Aaron were the ones giving the water.
20:11 he struck the rock with his rod twice; and much water came out God still gave the water. His grace to the people did not depend on Moses getting it right. The psalm says "it went badly for Moses because of them" (Ps 106:32), for they rebelled against his spirit, and "he spoke rashly with his lips" (Ps 106:33). Other people's sin can provoke us to sin too.
20:12 Because you did not believe in Me, to treat Me as holy in the eyes of the sons of Israel It seems severe after forty faithful years. But God named the sin: unbelief, and failing to honor Him as holy before the whole nation. Moses showed them a harsh, angry God when God had promised water freely, and he took glory that belonged to God. "Everyone to whom much was given, much will be required from him" (Luke 12:48). Moses was not lost. He saw the land from Nebo (Deut 34:1-4) and later stood in it with Jesus at the transfiguration (Matt 17:3).
20:13 These are the waters of Meribah, where the sons of Israel quarreled with the LORD, and He showed Himself holy among them Meribah means quarreling. Paul says "the rock was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4). Many Bible teachers see more: in Exodus 17 the rock was struck once, a picture of Christ struck once for our sins (Isa 53:5; Heb 9:28); here it needed only a word, for Christ need not be struck again. We come and ask, and He gives living water (John 7:37-38). The New Testament does not say that part directly, but it fits what it does say.
20:14 Thus says your brother Israel The Edomites came from Esau, Jacob's twin (Gen 36:1). The direct road to the land ran through Edom, south of the Dead Sea, so Moses asked politely, as one brother to another.

And Edom came out to meet him with a heavy people and with a strong hand. 21 And Edom refused to permit Israel to pass through its territory; and Israel turned aside from it.

The Death of Aaron

22 And they set out from Kadesh, and the sons of Israel, all the congregation, came to Hor the mountain. 23 And the LORD said to Moses and to Aaron at Hor the mountain, on the border of the land of Edom, saying, 24 "Aaron shall be gathered to his peoples, for he shall not go into the land which I have given to the sons of Israel, because you rebelled against My mouth at the waters of Meribah. 25 Take Aaron and Eleazar (Elazar) his son, and bring them up to Hor the mountain; 26 and strip Aaron of his garments, and you shall clothe Eleazar his son with them; and Aaron shall be gathered, and he shall die there." 27 And Moses did just as the LORD had commanded; and they went up to Hor the mountain before the eyes of all the congregation. 28 And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and he clothed Eleazar his son with them; and Aaron died there on the top of the mountain. And Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain. 29 And all the congregation saw that Aaron had died, and they wept for Aaron thirty days, all the house of Israel.

20:16 we cried out to the LORD, and He heard our voice, and He sent a messenger and brought us out from Egypt Moses told Israel's story as a testimony of what God had done, not what Israel had done.
20:17 we will go by the way of the king The King's Highway was the main north and south road east of the Jordan and the Dead Sea. Israel promised to touch no field, vineyard or well, and even offered to pay for water (20:19).
20:18 You shall not pass through me, lest I come out with the sword to meet you Edom refused twice and came out in force (20:20). The bitterness between these brother nations ran for centuries; Obadiah's whole prophecy is about Edom's pride and cruelty to Judah.
20:21 and Israel turned aside from it God had told Israel not to fight Edom, because He had given Mount Seir to Esau (Deut 2:4-6). So Israel took the long way around without revenge. Obeying God sometimes means the longer road, and we leave room for God's wrath (Rom 12:19).
20:22 came to Hor the mountain Mount Hor stood on the border of Edom. Its exact location is uncertain.
20:24 Aaron shall be gathered to his peoples A way of speaking of death as joining those who had gone before, a hint that death is not the end. God gave the reason plainly: "you rebelled against My mouth at the waters of Meribah."
20:26 strip Aaron of his garments, and you shall clothe Eleazar his son with them Three men climbed the mountain before the whole congregation (20:27). Moses, who had stood with Aaron before Pharaoh, removed the high priest's robes and placed them on Aaron's son. The priesthood went on, but every high priest died and had to hand on the work.
20:28 Aaron died there on the top of the mountain. And Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain Three went up, two came down. Aaron made the golden calf (Exod 32) and spoke against Moses (chapter 12), but he also ran into the plague with incense and stood between the dead and the living (16:48). God used a flawed man as His priest for forty years.
20:29 they wept for Aaron thirty days, all the house of Israel It was right to grieve; grief is not a lack of faith. Unlike Aaron, Jesus holds His priesthood permanently, "always living to intercede for them" (Heb 7:25). He will never need to hand His robes to anyone else.
21:1 the king of Arad, who dwelt in the Negeb Arad was a city in the south of Canaan. Its king struck first and took some Israelites captive.
21:2 Israel vowed a vow to the LORD Their parents went into battle on their own and were beaten (14:40-45). This generation turned to God first. To devote to destruction (herem in Hebrew) meant to give something wholly to God by destroying it, keeping nothing as plunder. It was a solemn act of judgment, not a raid for gain.
21:3 one called the name of the place Hormah Hormah sounds like the Hebrew word for devoted to destruction. The place of the parents' defeat (14:45) became the place of the children's first victory. God judged the Canaanites after long patience, for sins that included child sacrifice (Gen 15:16; Lev 18:21-25). It was His judgment on a specific people by His direct command, never a license for any nation to make war in God's name today.
21:4 the soul of the people became short on the way Edom's refusal forced a long, hot detour south toward the Gulf of Aqaba, and it felt like going backward. They lost patience, as we can when God's road seems to run the wrong way.
21:5 our soul loathes the worthless bread No bread? They had manna every morning. They meant they hated it, and they called the bread from heaven worthless. It was the same sin as Kibroth-hattaavah (11:4-6), forty years later.

soul loathes the worthless bread." 6 And the LORD sent the fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and many people from Israel died. 7 And the people came to Moses, and they said, "We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD and against you; pray to the LORD, and let Him remove the serpents from on us." And Moses prayed for the people. 8 And the LORD said to Moses, "Make for yourself a fiery serpent, and set it on a standard; and it shall be that everyone who is bitten and sees it shall live." 9 And Moses made a serpent of bronze, and he set it on the standard; and it happened, if the serpent had bitten a man, and he looked to the serpent of bronze, and he lived.

The Journey to Moab

10 And the sons of Israel set out, and they camped in Oboth (Ovot). 11 And they set out from Oboth, and they camped at Iye-abarim (Iye-Ha'avarim), in the wilderness which is on the face of Moab (Mo'av), toward the rising of the sun. 12 From there they set out, and they camped in the wadi of Zered. 13 From there they set out, and they camped on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness that goes out from the border of the Amorite; for Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorite. 14 Therefore it is said in the book of the wars of the LORD, "Waheb (Vahev) in Suphah (Sufa), and the wadis of Arnon, 15 and the slope of the wadis which extends to the dwelling of Ar, and leans to the border of Moab." 16 And from there to Beer; that is the well where the LORD said to Moses, "Gather the people, and let Me give them water." 17 Then Israel sang this song: "Spring up, O well! Sing to it! 18 A well the leaders dug, the nobles of the people dug it, with the scepter, with their staffs." And from the wilderness to Mattanah (Matana), 19 and from Mattanah to Nahaliel (Nachali'el), and from Nahaliel to Bamoth (Bamot), 20 and from Bamoth to the valley which is in the field of Moab, at the top of the Pisgah (Pisga), and it looks down over the face of the wasteland.

Sihon and Og Defeated

21 And Israel sent messengers to Sihon (Sichon) king of the Amorite, saying, 22 "Let me pass through your land; we will not turn aside into field and into vineyard; we will not drink water of a well; we will go by the way of the king until we have passed through your territory." 23 And Sihon did not permit Israel to pass through his territory; and Sihon gathered all his people, and he went out to meet Israel toward the wilderness, and he came to Jahaz (Yahats), and he fought against Israel. 24 And Israel struck him by the mouth of the sword, and it took possession of his land from Arnon to Jabbok (Yaboq), to the sons of Ammon (Amon); for the border of the sons of Ammon was strong. 25 And Israel took all these cities, and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorite, in Heshbon (Cheshbon) and in all its daughters. 26 For Heshbon was the city of Sihon king of the Amorite, and he had fought against the former king of Moab, and he had taken all his land from his hand as far as Arnon. 27 Therefore those who speak proverbs say, "Come to Heshbon; let it be built, and let 21:6 the LORD sent the fiery serpents among the people Likely called fiery because their bite burned. Deuteronomy 8:15 shows God had been guarding Israel from such dangers all along. Paul warns, "Nor let us put the Christ to the test, as some of them also tested Him, and were destroyed by the serpents" (1 Cor 10:9). The One they tested was the Son of God.

21:7 We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD and against you This time the people answered rightly. They named their sin and asked for prayer, and once more Moses prayed for those who had spoken against him.
21:8 everyone who is bitten and sees it shall live God did not remove the serpents at once; He gave a remedy. The cure was not medicine, sacrifice or ritual. It was a look. Anyone could do it, young or old, strong or dying. But it took faith in God's word, and the only one who died was the one who refused to look.
21:9 if the serpent had bitten a man, and he looked to the serpent of bronze, and he lived The very thing that was killing them was lifted up, made harmless, on a pole. Jesus said, "as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, so the Son of Man must be lifted up" (John 3:14), "so that everyone who believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life" (John 3:15). On the cross He was made sin for us (2 Cor 5:21). All of us have been bitten by sin; look to Him and live. Later Israel burned incense to this serpent until Hezekiah "crushed to pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made" (2 Kgs 18:4). Never worship the means instead of God.
21:13 for Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorite Israel moved north along the east side of the Dead Sea. Crossing the brook Zered (21:12) between Edom and Moab marked the end of the thirty-eight years of wandering (Deut 2:13-14). The Arnon is a deep canyon.
21:14 the book of the wars of the LORD An old book, now lost, that recorded Israel's battles in poems or songs. Moses used it as a source, as Joshua cites the book of Jashar (Josh 10:13). Inspiration does not mean writers never used records; it means God guided what they wrote.
21:16 Gather the people, and let Me give them water Beer means well. This time there was no complaining. God gave water before they asked.
21:17 Spring up, O well! Sing to it! The new generation went from grumbling about water to singing for it, a picture of a changed heart. The leaders dug with their staffs (21:18).
21:20 at the top of the Pisgah The range of hills overlooking the Jordan valley and the Dead Sea. From there Moses would later see the land (Deut 34:1).
21:21 Israel sent messengers to Sihon king of the Amorite The same polite request made to Edom, to pass on the King's Highway and touch nothing (21:22).
21:23 Sihon did not permit Israel to pass through his territory Sihon attacked first. Edom was a brother nation and was spared. The Amorites were among the nations whose land God promised to Abraham (Gen 15:16, 21), and God hardened Sihon's spirit to give his land to Israel (Deut 2:30).
21:24 it took possession of his land from Arnon to Jabbok The Jabbok flows west into the Jordan, about halfway between the Dead Sea and the Sea of Galilee.
21:25 in Heshbon and in all its daughters The daughters were the small towns around a main city.
21:26 he had fought against the former king of Moab, and he had taken all his land from his hand as far as Arnon This matters because Moab and Ammon later claimed the land. Jephthah answered that claim three hundred years later by pointing to these very events (Judg 11:15-26).
21:27 Therefore those who speak proverbs say A taunt song, a poem of victory. It recalls how Sihon's fire went out from Heshbon and consumed Ar of Moab (21:28).

the city of Sihon be established. 28 For fire went out from Heshbon, a flame from the town of Sihon; it consumed Ar of Moab, the lords of the high places of Arnon. 29 Woe to you, Moab! You have perished, O people of Chemosh! He has given his sons as fugitives, and his daughters into captivity, to the king of the Amorite, Sihon. 30 And we shot at them; Heshbon has perished as far as Dibon (Divon); and we have laid waste as far as Nophah (Nofach), which is as far as Medeba (Medva)." 31 And Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorite. 32 And Moses sent to spy out Jazer (Yazer), and they captured its daughters, and he dispossessed the Amorite who were there. 33 And they turned, and they went up by the way of the Bashan; and Og the king of the Bashan went out to meet them, he and all his people, for the battle at Edrei. 34 And the LORD said to Moses, "Do not fear him, for into your hand I have given him and all his people and his land; and you shall do to him just as you did to Sihon king of the Amorite, who was dwelling in Heshbon." 35 And they struck him and his sons and all his people, until one had left him no survivor; and they took possession of his land.

21:29 Woe to you, Moab! You have perished, O people of Chemosh! Chemosh, the god of Moab, could not save his people from Sihon. Sihon conquered Moab, and Israel conquered Sihon. Jeremiah quotes this song against Moab (Jer 48:45-46).
21:30 Heshbon has perished as far as Dibon The song ends with Israel's victory. The LORD gave His people what Chemosh could never give his.
21:33 Og the king of the Bashan went out to meet them Bashan was a rich high plateau east of the Sea of Galilee, famous for cattle and oaks. Og was the last of the Rephaim, a giant whose iron bed was about thirteen and a half feet long (Deut 3:11).
21:34 Do not fear him, for into your hand I have given him God spoke the very words their parents needed at Kadesh (14:9). This time Israel believed.
21:35 they took possession of his land Israel never forgot these two victories. They are sung in Psalms 135:10-12 and 136:17-22, and Rahab in Jericho had heard of them (Josh 2:10). The giants were real. So was God.
22:1 they camped in the plains of Moab, across the Jordan from Jericho Israel stays here for the rest of Numbers and all of Deuteronomy. The promised land is just across the river.
22:3 Moab was very afraid because of the people, for it was numerous Moab had no reason to fear. God had told Israel not to attack Moab, because He had given its land to Lot's descendants (Deut 2:9). Balak did not know that, or did not trust it.
22:4 Moab said to the elders of Midian The Midianites were a desert people descended from Abraham through Keturah (Gen 25:1-2), some living near Moab. The ox licking up a field is a farmer's picture of a herd eating everything bare.
22:5 he sent messengers to Balaam the son of Beor, to Pethor, which is by the River The River usually means the Euphrates. Pethor was in northern Mesopotamia (Deut 23:4), some four hundred miles away, weeks of travel each way. Balaam's fame reached far. An inscription found at Deir Alla in Jordan, from several centuries later, mentions a seer named Balaam son of Beor.
22:6 for I know that whom you bless is blessed, and whom you curse is cursed Balaam was a diviner who sought hidden knowledge through omens (Josh 13:22). He knew of the LORD and used His name, but he was not a prophet of Israel. God had already said, "I will bless those who bless you, and the one who disdains you I will curse" (Gen 12:3). Balak was about to learn whose word stands.
22:7 divinations were in their hand That is, the fee for divining. They came with money.
22:8 Lodge here tonight, and I will bring back word to you just as the LORD speaks to me Balaam knew he needed God's permission. But a man who truly feared God would have sent them home at once. He wanted to keep the door open.
22:9 Who are these men with you? God was not asking for information. Like His question to Adam (Gen 3:9), it was meant to make Balaam face what he was doing.
22:12 You shall not go with them; you shall not curse the people, for it is blessed Three things: do not go, do not curse, and the reason. Israel was blessed. God had already decided.
22:13 the LORD has refused to permit me to go with you He left out the reason, that Israel was blessed. He made it sound as if he wanted to go but was not allowed, and Balak took the answer as bargaining (22:14).

with you." 14 And the princes of Moab rose, and they went to Balak, and they said, "Balaam has refused to come with us."

Balaam Goes with the Princes

15 And Balak again sent princes, more numerous and more honored than these. 16 And they came to Balaam, and they said to him, "Thus says Balak the son of Zippor: 'Please do not be held back from coming to me; 17 for I will surely honor you greatly, and all that you say to me I will do; and please come, curse this people for me.'" 18 And Balaam answered, and he said to the servants of Balak, "If Balak gives me the fullness of his house of silver and gold, I am not able to pass beyond the mouth of the LORD my God, to do anything small or great. 19 And now, please stay here, you also, tonight, and let me know what more the LORD will speak with me." 20 And God came to Balaam at night, and He said to him, "If the men have come to call you, rise, go with them; and only the word which I speak to you, it you shall do."

Balaam's Donkey

21 And Balaam rose in the morning, and he saddled his donkey, and he went with the princes of Moab. 22 And the anger of God burned because he was going; and the angel of the LORD stationed himself in the way for an adversary to him. And he was riding on his donkey, and his two servants were with him. 23 And the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand; and the donkey turned aside from the way, and she went into the field; and Balaam struck the donkey to turn her to the way. 24 And the angel of the LORD stood in a narrow path of the vineyards, a wall on this side and a wall on this side. 25 And the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, and she pressed herself against the wall, and she pressed the foot of Balaam against the wall; and he struck her again. 26 And the angel of the LORD went on further, and he stood in a narrow place where there was no way to turn aside to the right and to the left. 27 And the donkey saw the angel of the LORD, and she lay down under Balaam; and the anger of Balaam burned, and he struck the donkey with the staff. 28 And the LORD opened the mouth of the donkey, and she said to Balaam, "What have I done to you, that you have struck me these three times?" 29 And Balaam said to the donkey, "Because you have made a fool of me! If only there were a sword in my hand, for now I would have killed you." 30 And the donkey said to Balaam, "Am I not your donkey, on which you have ridden from your existence until this day? Have I indeed been accustomed to do thus to you?" And he said, "No." 31 And the LORD uncovered the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand; and he bowed, and he bowed down on his face. 32 And the angel of the LORD said to him, "Why have you struck your donkey these three times? Look, I have come out for an adversary, for your way is reckless before me. 33 And the donkey saw me, and she turned aside before me these three times. If she had not turned aside from before me, surely now I would have killed even you, and her I would have kept alive." 34 And Balaam said to the angel of the LORD, "I have sinned, for I did not know that you were standing in the way to meet me. And now, if it is evil in your eyes, I

22:17 I will surely honor you greatly, and all that you say to me I will do A blank check. Balak raised the offer, with more princes of higher rank (22:15).
22:18 If Balak gives me the fullness of his house of silver and gold, I am not able to pass beyond the mouth of the LORD my God The words sound noble, but the next verse shows his heart.
22:19 let me know what more the LORD will speak with me God had already spoken. Balaam asked again hoping God would change His mind. When we keep asking God about something He has made clear, it is usually because we want something else.
22:20 rise, go with them; and only the word which I speak to you, it you shall do God let Balaam go. Sometimes God lets us have what our hearts are set on, so that we learn. Peter names Balaam's real problem: he "loved the wage of unrighteousness" (2 Pet 2:15). Jude says false teachers "rushed into the error of Balaam for reward" (Jude 1:11).
22:22 the anger of God burned because he was going How could God be angry when He had said go? The answer is in Balaam's heart. He went wanting the reward and perhaps hoping to find a way to curse; the angel calls his way "reckless" (22:32). God's permission is not the same as God's approval. Some teachers also see the permission itself as a judgment on his persistence. Both fit.
22:22 the angel of the LORD stationed himself in the way for an adversary to him Adversary is satan in Hebrew, used here in its plain sense of one who opposes. The angel of the LORD is a messenger who often speaks as God Himself (Gen 16:13; Exod 3:2-6). Many Bible teachers believe he was the Son of God appearing before He was born in Bethlehem.
22:23 the donkey saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand The famous seer could not see what his donkey saw. Greed blinds.
22:24 a narrow path of the vineyards, a wall on this side and a wall on this side The donkey pressed against the wall and crushed Balaam's foot (22:25).
22:26 he stood in a narrow place where there was no way to turn aside An open field, a narrow lane, then no way out at all. When we head the wrong way, God often closes the road a little more each time.
22:28 the LORD opened the mouth of the donkey This really happened. The Bible presents it as history, and Peter treats it so: "a mute donkey, having spoken with a man's voice, restrained the madness of the prophet" (2 Pet 2:16). The God who made the donkey and gave man his voice can make a donkey speak. The question is not whether He could, but why He did.
22:29 If only there were a sword in my hand, for now I would have killed you So angry he did not seem surprised, Balaam argued with his donkey. He wanted a sword. The angel in front of him had one.
22:30 Am I not your donkey, on which you have ridden from your existence until this day? The donkey made more sense than the prophet.
22:31 the LORD uncovered the eyes of Balaam Only God can open blind eyes. Balaam bowed to the ground before the drawn sword.
22:32 your way is reckless before me The donkey had saved his life (22:33). The angel opposed him not because he traveled, but because of the heart behind the journey.
22:34 I have sinned, for I did not know A half confession. He blamed his ignorance, not his heart, and offered to go back only "if it is evil in your eyes."

will return for myself." 35 And the angel of the LORD said to Balaam, "Go with the men; and only the word which I speak to you, it you shall speak." And Balaam went with the princes of Balak.

Balaam Meets Balak

36 And Balak heard that Balaam had come, and he went out to meet him to the city of Moab which is on the border of Arnon, which is at the end of the territory. 37 And Balak said to Balaam, "Did I not surely send to you to call you? Why did you not come to me? Am I really not able to honor you?" 38 And Balaam said to Balak, "Look, I have come to you. Now, am I at all able to speak anything? The word which God puts in my mouth, it I shall speak." 39 And Balaam went with Balak, and they came to Kiriath-huzoth (Qiryat-Chutsot). 40 And Balak sacrificed cattle and sheep, and he sent some to Balaam and to the princes who were with him. 41 And it happened in the morning, and Balak took Balaam, and he brought him up to Bamoth-baal (Bamot Ba'al), and he saw from there the edge of the people.

NUMBERS 23

Balaam's First Oracle

1 And Balaam (Bilam) said to Balak (Balaq), "Build for me here seven altars, and prepare for me here seven bulls and seven rams." 2 And Balak did just as Balaam had spoken; and Balak and Balaam offered up a bull and a ram on each altar. 3 And Balaam said to Balak, "Station yourself beside your burnt offering, and let me go; perhaps the LORD will come to meet me; and the word of whatever He shows me, I will tell you." And he went to a bare height. 4 And God met Balaam, and he said to Him, "The seven altars I have arranged, and I have offered up a bull and a ram on each altar." 5 And the LORD put a word in the mouth of Balaam, and He said, "Return to Balak, and thus you shall speak." 6 And he returned to him, and look, he was standing beside his burnt offering, he and all the princes of Moab (Mo'av). 7 And he took up his oracle, and he said, "From Aram Balak has led me, the king of Moab from the mountains of the east: 'Come, curse Jacob (Ya'aqov) for me, and come, denounce Israel (Yisra'el)!' 8 How shall I curse whom God has not cursed? And how shall I denounce whom the LORD has not denounced? 9 For from the top of the rocks I see him, and from the hills I observe him. Look, a people that dwells alone, and among the nations it does not reckon itself. 10 Who has counted the dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? Let my soul die the death of the upright, and let my end be like his!" 11 And Balak said to Balaam, "What have you done to me? To curse my enemies I took you, and look, you have surely blessed them!" 12 And he answered, and he said, "Must I not take care to speak that which the LORD puts in my mouth?"

Balaam's Second Oracle

13 And Balak said to him, "Please come with me to another place from where you may see it; only its edge you shall see, and all of it you shall not see; and curse it for me from there." 14 And he took him to the field of Zophim, to the top of the Pisgah (Pisga), and he built seven altars, and he offered up a bull and a ram on each altar. 15 And he said to Balak, "Station yourself here beside your burnt offering, and

22:35 only the word which I speak to you, it you shall speak God would now use Balaam as a mouthpiece whether he liked it or not. God can speak truth through a greedy man as He spoke through a donkey. That does not make the man good. God's word does not depend on the messenger.
22:37 Am I really not able to honor you? Balak thought only in terms of money and honor.
22:38 The word which God puts in my mouth, it I shall speak That was the truth, and Balak did not want to hear it.
22:41 he brought him up to Bamoth-baal, and he saw from there the edge of the people Bamoth-baal means the high places of Baal, hilltop shrines of the Canaanite storm god. Balak thought he had hired a spiritual weapon. He did not understand that the LORD is not a tribal god who can be bought. Can anyone curse those God has blessed? The next two chapters answer: no.
23:1 Build for me here seven altars, and prepare for me here seven bulls and seven rams Seven spoke of completeness. Balaam followed the customs of pagan divination, trying to win a god's favor with a big offering.
23:3 And he went to a bare height Likely to look for omens, which 24:1 says was his habit.
23:5 the LORD put a word in the mouth of Balaam Balaam reminded God of the altars as if God owed him something (23:4). God ignored that and gave him words to speak. You cannot bribe God. Balak's fourteen animals bought him nothing.
23:7 From Aram Balak has led me Aram is the region of Syria and northern Mesopotamia. The first oracle begins by telling why Balaam came.
23:8 How shall I curse whom God has not cursed? This is the heart of the whole story. No one can curse those God has blessed.
23:9 a people that dwells alone, and among the nations it does not reckon itself Israel was set apart, chosen by God for Himself (Deut 7:6). That has held all through history. Scattered and persecuted, the Jewish people are still a people, because God keeps His word.
23:10 Who has counted the dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? God promised Abraham descendants like the dust of the earth (Gen 13:16). Israel camped in four groups around the tabernacle (chapter 2), so even one quarter of the camp was beyond counting.
23:10 Let my soul die the death of the upright, and let my end be like his! Balaam wanted to die like the righteous but did not want to live like them. He died fighting Israel among the Midianites (31:8). Wishing for a good end is not the same as walking with God.
23:11 To curse my enemies I took you, and look, you have surely blessed them! When God decides to bless, no amount of money can buy a curse.
23:12 Must I not take care to speak that which the LORD puts in my mouth? Balaam had no choice.
23:13 only its edge you shall see, and all of it you shall not see Balak thought the view was the problem. Perhaps a smaller look at Israel would make them seem less blessed.
23:14 to the field of Zophim, to the top of the Pisgah Zophim means watchers, a lookout point. From Pisgah Moses would later see the promised land (Deut 34:1). Seven more altars and fourteen more animals.

I, I will meet Him there." 16 And the LORD met Balaam, and He put a word in his mouth, and He said, "Return to Balak, and thus you shall speak." 17 And he came to him, and look, he was standing beside his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab were with him. And Balak said to him, "What has the LORD spoken?" 18 And he took up his oracle, and he said, "Rise, Balak, and hear; give ear to me, son of Zippor (Tsipor)! 19 God is not a man, that He should lie, and a son of mankind, that He should relent. Has He said, and will He not do it? And has He spoken, and will He not establish it? 20 Look, I have received a command to bless; and He has blessed, and I will not turn it back. 21 He has not looked on evil in Jacob, and He has not seen trouble in Israel; the LORD his God is with him, and the shout of a king is in him. 22 God is bringing them out from Egypt (Mitsrayim); like the horns of a wild ox are to him. 23 For there is no enchantment in Jacob, and no divination in Israel; at this time it shall be said of Jacob and of Israel, 'What God has done!' 24 Look, a people rises like a lioness, and like a lion it lifts itself up; it shall not lie down until it devours prey and drinks the blood of the slain."

To the Top of Peor

25 And Balak said to Balaam, "Neither curse it at all, nor bless it at all!" 26 And Balaam answered, and he said to Balak, "Did I not speak to you, saying, 'All that the LORD speaks, it I will do'?" 27 And Balak said to Balaam, "Please come; I will take you to another place; perhaps it will be right in the eyes of God, and you will curse it for me from there." 28 And Balak took Balaam to the top of the Peor, which looks down over the face of the wasteland. 29 And Balaam said to Balak, "Build for me here seven altars, and prepare for me here seven bulls and seven rams." 30 And Balak did just as Balaam had said, and he offered up a bull and a ram on each altar.

Balaam's Third Oracle

1 And Balaam (Bilam) saw that it was good in the eyes of the LORD to bless Israel (Yisra'el), and he did not go, as time after time, to meet omens; and he set his face toward the wilderness. 2 And Balaam lifted up his eyes and saw Israel dwelling according to its tribes, and the Spirit of God came on him. 3 And he lifted up his oracle and said, "The utterance of Balaam son of Beor, and the utterance of the man whose eye is opened, 4 the utterance of one who hears the words of God, who sees the vision of the Almighty, falling down, and uncovered of eyes: 5 How good are your tents, O Jacob (Ya'aqov), your dwelling places, O Israel! 6 Like wadis they are stretched out, like gardens beside a river, like aloes that

23:17 What has the LORD spoken? Even Balak knew by now whose word mattered.
23:19 God is not a man, that He should lie, and a son of mankind, that He should relent The key verse of Numbers. People lie and change their minds; Balak hoped God could be talked out of His plan. He cannot. Scripture does say God "relented concerning the evil" (Jonah 3:10) when Nineveh repented, but such warnings carried a condition, and showing mercy to the repentant is part of His unchanging character. What God never does is break His promise or change His purpose (Heb 6:17-18).
23:20 I have received a command to bless; and He has blessed, and I will not turn it back Balaam could not undo what God had done. If God has blessed you in Christ "with every spiritual blessing" (Eph 1:3), no one can reverse it. "For the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable" (Rom 11:29).
23:21 He has not looked on evil in Jacob, and He has not seen trouble in Israel We have read eight chapters of Israel's sin, so this does not mean Israel was sinless. God found in His covenant people no cause to curse them, their sins dealt with by His sacrifices and mercy. So God sees believers in Christ: "There is therefore now no condemnation to those in Christ Jesus" (Rom 8:1). He disciplines His children, but He does not curse them.
23:21 the shout of a king is in him The cheer a people gives its king. The LORD Himself was Israel's King.
23:22 like the horns of a wild ox are to him The wild ox was one of the strongest animals known. God's strength was with Israel.
23:23 there is no enchantment in Jacob, and no divination in Israel Enchantment and divination were Balaam's trade, and they would not work against Israel. The words can also mean Israel did not use them, because God spoke to them directly. The nations would look at Israel and say, "What God has done!"
23:24 a people rises like a lioness, and like a lion it lifts itself up Moab feared Israel would lick up the land like an ox (22:4). Balaam called them a lion, the opposite of what Balak paid for.
23:25 Neither curse it at all, nor bless it at all! If you cannot curse them, Balak says, at least stop blessing them.
23:27 perhaps it will be right in the eyes of God, and you will curse it for me from there He still thought God could be moved by a better view.
23:28 the top of the Peor Peor had a shrine to Baal of Peor. Remember the name; in chapter 25 Israel will sin there.
23:29 Build for me here seven altars And Balak did it all again (23:30). Some people keep looking for a place where God will say what they want to hear, changing churches, teachers or verses until they find it. God's word does not change with the view.
24:1 he did not go, as time after time, to meet omens Omens were signs diviners sought in nature, such as the flight of birds or the shape of an animal's liver. Balaam gave it up. God's will was plain.
24:2 Israel dwelling according to its tribes, and the Spirit of God came on him Each tribe was in its place around the tabernacle (chapter 2). The Spirit came on a pagan diviner, but that does not mean Balaam was saved or godly. Saul prophesied by the Spirit (1 Sam 19:23-24), and Caiaphas prophesied that Jesus would die for the nation (John 11:49-52). A message from God is not the same as a changed heart (Matt 7:22-23).
24:4 who sees the vision of the Almighty, falling down, and uncovered of eyes The Almighty is Shaddai, the name by which God made Himself known to Abraham (Gen 17:1). Falling down may mean a trance, or falling on his face as he did before the angel.
24:5 How good are your tents, O Jacob, your dwelling places, O Israel! Jewish worshipers still say this verse when they enter the synagogue. Balaam saw a camp of tents in the desert and called it beautiful.
24:6 like gardens beside a river, like aloes that the LORD has planted, like cedars beside waters Every picture is of water and growth. A people who complained about water for forty years were described as a garden by a river. That is how God saw them. Psalm 1:3 uses the same picture for the righteous man.

The Star out of Jacob

10 And the anger of Balak (Balaq) burned against Balaam, and he clapped his hands; and Balak said to Balaam, "To curse my enemies I called you, and look, you have surely blessed them these three times. 11 And now, flee for yourself to your place. I said, 'I will surely honor you,' and look, the LORD has withheld you from honor." 12 And Balaam said to Balak, "Did I not also speak to your messengers whom you sent to me, saying, 13 'If Balak gives to me the fullness of his house of silver and gold, I will not be able to pass beyond the mouth of the LORD, to do good or bad from my own heart; what the LORD speaks, that I will speak'? 14 And now, look, I am going to my people. 24:7 his king shall be higher than Agag, and his kingdom shall be exalted Israel had no king yet. Agag may have been a royal title among the Amalekites, as Pharaoh was in Egypt. About four hundred years later Saul defeated Amalek and its king Agag (1 Sam 15:8). God was already pointing toward Israel's kingdom.
24:8 he will eat up nations, his adversaries, and their bones he will crush The God who brought Israel out of Egypt would give them victory over their enemies.
24:9 Those who bless you are blessed, and those who curse you are cursed This echoes Jacob's blessing on Judah (Gen 49:9) and nearly repeats God's word to Abraham (Gen 12:3). Balak said Balaam's curse worked (22:6). God said His own word works. God has not cancelled His promises to Abraham's descendants (Rom 11:28-29), and nations that tried to destroy the Jewish people have found that out.
24:10 he clapped his hands A gesture of scorn. Three times Balak paid for a curse and got a blessing.
24:11 the LORD has withheld you from honor Balak blamed the LORD for keeping Balaam from his pay. He was right, though not in the way he meant.
24:13 what the LORD speaks, that I will speak Balaam reminds Balak of what he said from the start (22:18).
24:14 what this people will do to your people at the end of the days The end of the days points to the future, sometimes far future. Jacob used the phrase (Gen 49:1), and the prophets use it for the days of the Messiah (Isa 2:2).
24:16 knows the knowledge of the Most High The Most High is God over all nations, the name Melchizedek used (Gen 14:19).
24:17 I see him, and not now; I observe him, and not near Balaam looks at a person far in the future, not in his own day.
24:17 A star will march forth from Jacob, and a scepter will arise from Israel A star was a picture of a king, and a scepter the sign of a ruler (compare Gen 49:10). David was a first fulfillment: he defeated Moab and made Edom his servants (2 Sam 8:2, 14). Many teachers, Jewish and Christian, have read it of the Messiah; in A.D. 132 a rebel was called Bar Kokhba, son of the star, because people hoped he was the one. Many Christians link it with the star that led the wise men to the One "born King of the Jews" (Matt 2:2). Jesus calls Himself "the bright and morning star" (Rev 22:16). I believe this points to Jesus Christ, the Son of David.
24:17 it will shatter the corners of Moab, and break down all the sons of Seth Moab was Balak's own nation. The sons of Seth may mean Moab's neighbors, a tribe by that name, or, since Seth was Adam's son, all mankind. Christ came first as a humble servant to die for our sins. He will come again visibly at the end of the Tribulation to defeat His enemies and reign over the earth a thousand years (Rev 19:11-16; 20:4-6). Some teachers read this as fulfilled spiritually in Christ's reign now through the church. I believe Scripture points to a real reign on the earth, when God keeps His promises to Israel.
24:18 Edom will be a possession, and Seir, his enemies, will be a possession Seir was the mountain country of Edom. The nation that refused Israel passage (20:14-21) would be ruled by Israel's King. David conquered Edom (2 Sam 8:14), and the prophets say Edom will be judged again in the last days (Isa 63:1-6; Obad 1:15-21).
24:19 one from Jacob will have dominion One ruler from Jacob's line, whose rule nothing can stand against.
24:20 The first of the nations was Amalek, and his end is to destruction Amalek was the first nation to attack Israel after the exodus (Exod 17:8-16). Its end came under Saul, David and finally Hezekiah's day (1 Sam 15; 30; 1 Chr 4:43).
24:21 set in the rock is your nest The Kenites lived in the rocky heights, and Kenite sounds like the Hebrew word for nest. Yet they would not be safe forever.
24:22 Until when will Assyria take you captive? Assyria, the great northern empire, would carry many peoples away centuries later, including the northern tribes of Israel in 722 B.C.
24:23 Who will live when God sets it? That is, who can survive when God does these things?
24:24 ships will come from the side of Kittim, and they will afflict Assyria, and they will afflict Eber Kittim first meant Cyprus and then the western lands across the sea. Daniel 11:30 speaks of ships from there sent by a western power, which many identify as Rome. Eber, Abraham's ancestor, may stand for the peoples beyond the river. Every empire rises and falls. Only God's kingdom lasts forever (Dan 2:44).

they will afflict Assyria, and they will afflict Eber (Ever); and he also is to destruction." 25 And Balaam arose and went and returned to his place; and Balak also went on his way.

Sin at Peor

1 And Israel (Yisra'el) dwelt in Shittim (Shitim), and the people began to commit harlotry with the daughters of Moab (Mo'av). 2 And they invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods, and the people ate and bowed down to their gods. 3 And Israel joined itself to Baal-peor (Ba'al-Pe'or), and the anger of the LORD burned against Israel. 4 And the LORD said to Moses (Moshe), "Take all the heads of the people and impale them to the LORD before the sun, so that the burning of the anger of the LORD may turn back from Israel." 5 And Moses said to the judges of Israel, "Kill, each man, his men who have joined themselves to Baal-peor." 6 And look, a man from the sons of Israel came and brought near to his brothers the Midianite woman, before the eyes of Moses and before the eyes of all the congregation of the sons of Israel, and they were weeping at the entrance of the tent of meeting. 7 And Phinehas (Pinchas) the son of Eleazar (Elazar), the son of Aaron (Aharon) the priest, saw it, and he arose from the midst of the congregation and took a spear in his hand. 8 And he went after the man of Israel into the chamber, and he pierced both of them, the man of Israel and the woman, into her belly. And the plague was restrained from the sons of Israel. 9 And those who died by the plague were twenty-four thousand.

The Covenant with Phinehas

10 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 11 "Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, has turned back My rage from the sons of Israel, in his being zealous with My zeal in their midst, and I did not make an end of the sons of Israel in My zeal. 12 Therefore say, 'Look, I am giving to him My covenant of peace; 13 and it shall be for him and for his seed after him a covenant of priesthood forever, because he was zealous for his God and made atonement for the sons of Israel.'" 14 And the name of the man of Israel who was struck down, who was struck down with the Midianite woman, was Zimri the son of Salu, a leader of a father's house of the Simeonites. 15 And the name of the woman who was struck down, the Midianite woman, was Cozbi (Kozbi) the daughter of Zur (Tsur); he was head of the peoples of a father's house in Midian (Midyan). 16 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

24:25 Balaam arose and went and returned to his place It sounds like the end, but it was not. Balaam could not curse Israel, so he advised Moab and Midian to lead them into sin (31:16). He "taught Balak to cast a stumbling block before the sons of Israel" (Rev 2:14), and he died among the Midianites (31:8).

25:1 Israel dwelt in Shittim, and the people began to commit harlotry with the daughters of Moab Shittim means acacia trees, the last camp before the Jordan crossing (Josh 2:1; 3:1). Israel was within sight of the promised land. Sin is often most dangerous right after a great blessing; Israel had just been blessed four times on the mountain above them and did not even know it.

25:2 they invited the people to the sacrifices of their gods, and the people ate and bowed down to their gods The two sins went together. Sexual sin led to idol feasts, and idol feasts to worship of false gods. The Bible often links the two (Hos 4:13-14).

25:3 Israel joined itself to Baal-peor Baal of Peor was the Canaanite storm god as worshiped at Mount Peor. Joined means yoked. Israel, bound to the LORD in covenant, bound itself to another god, so the Bible calls it harlotry, unfaithfulness to the God who was like a husband to them. It came "by the word of Balaam" (31:16), who could not curse Israel and so led them to bring judgment on themselves (Rev 2:14). The enemy still cannot undo God's blessing, but he can tempt us into sin that brings discipline and pain.

25:4 Take all the heads of the people and impale them to the LORD before the sun The heads were leaders who had joined in the sin (25:5). Their bodies were displayed in daylight as a warning; such a body was under God's curse (Deut 21:22-23). Israel was about to enter a land full of Baal worship, the very sin that later ruined the northern kingdom. This was God's direct command under the covenant and is never permission to take a life in God's name today. Christ "redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13), hung on a tree for us.

25:5 Kill, each man, his men who have joined themselves to Baal-peor Each judge answered for those under him. Leaders who led their people into idolatry were judged first.

25:6 they were weeping at the entrance of the tent of meeting The plague was raging and the people were weeping before God, when this man walked past them all with a Midianite woman into his tent. It was open, defiant sin, done "with a raised hand" (15:30) in front of God's house.

25:7 Phinehas the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it Phinehas was no vigilante. Moses had just ordered the judges to act (25:5). He was a priest, the high priest's son, acting openly at a moment of national crisis, and God approved (25:11). It is no pattern for anyone today. In the church the answer to sin is confession, discipline and restoration (Matt 18:15-17; Gal 6:1), never violence.

25:8 And the plague was restrained from the sons of Israel Judging the sin stopped the judgment on the nation.

25:9 those who died by the plague were twenty-four thousand Paul says "in one day twenty-three thousand fell" (1 Cor 10:8). The common explanation is that Paul counts one day, and Numbers gives the total, including those executed and those who died on other days. Others suggest both are round numbers. Either way, Paul's lesson is the same.

25:11 in his being zealous with My zeal in their midst Zeal is a burning concern for God's honor. Phinehas cared about what God cared about and could not stand by while God's name was dishonored before His house.

25:12 Look, I am giving to him My covenant of peace Peace is shalom: wholeness, well-being and being right with God.

25:13 a covenant of priesthood forever, because he was zealous for his God and made atonement for the sons of Israel His act turned away God's wrath by judging the sin. God kept the promise; apart from Eli's family, the high priests came from Phinehas, including Zadok (1 Chr 6:4-8) and Ezra (Ezra 7:1-5). "It was reckoned to him for righteousness" (Ps 106:31), the language of Abraham's faith (Gen 15:6). Jesus truly made atonement and brought peace, not by taking a life but by giving His own (Rom 5:1; Eph 2:14).

25:14 Zimri the son of Salu, a leader of a father's house of the Simeonites Both sinners came from leading families, which made the sin more public and more dangerous. Simeon fell from 59,300 men in the first count to 22,200 in the second (1:23; 26:14), and many think many of those who died here were from Simeon.

25:15 Cozbi the daughter of Zur Zur was one of the five kings of Midian killed later (31:8).

17 "Be hostile to the Midianites, and you shall strike them down; 18 for they are hostile to you with their deceptions with which they have deceived you in the matter of Peor, and in the matter of Cozbi, the daughter of a leader of Midian, their sister, who was struck down on the day of the plague on account of the matter of Peor."

The Second Census

1 And it came about after the plague, and the LORD said to Moses (Moshe) and to Eleazar (Elazar) the son of Aaron (Aharon) the priest, saying, 2 "Take the sum of all the congregation of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), from a son of twenty years and upward, by the house of their fathers, everyone who goes out to war in Israel." 3 And Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke with them in the plains of Moab (Mo'av) by the Jordan (Yarden) at Jericho (Yericho), saying, 4 "From a son of twenty years and upward," just as the LORD commanded Moses and the sons of Israel who came out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 5 Reuben (Reuven), the firstborn of Israel; the sons of Reuben: Hanoch (Chanokh), the clan of the Hanochites; of Pallu (Palu), the clan of the Palluites; 6 of Hezron (Chetsron), the clan of the Hezronites; of Carmi (Karmi), the clan of the Carmites. 7 These are the clans of the Reubenites; and their enrolled men were forty-three thousand and seven hundred and thirty. 8 And the sons of Pallu: Eliab (Eli'av). 9 And the sons of Eliab: Nemuel and Dathan (Datan) and Abiram (Aviram). 25:17 Be hostile to the Midianites, and you shall strike them down Midian plotted to destroy Israel, not by war but by seduction, and God called it deception (25:18). The judgment comes in chapter 31. Paul says these things were written as examples for us: "let the one who thinks he stands watch, lest he fall" (1 Cor 10:12). If you are caught in such sin, confess it and turn; God will forgive and cleanse (1 John 1:9).
26:1 it came about after the plague The plague at Peor was the last judgment on the old generation. Now God starts over with a count, just as He started the book. Aaron had died (20:28), so Eleazar stands with Moses.
26:3 in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho The first count was taken in the wilderness of Sinai (1:1), an army leaving for the land. This one is an army on the doorstep of the land.
26:5 Reuben, the firstborn of Israel Each tribe is now listed by its clans, the family groups from Jacob's grandsons, most of them named among those who went down to Egypt (Gen 46). God kept the families intact through four hundred years in Egypt and forty in the desert. Reuben has 43,730, a little less than the 46,500 of the first count (1:21).
26:10 and they became a sign The sin of Dathan and Abiram is written into the family record so that no one would forget (26:9).
26:11 And the sons of Korah did not die A short line of grace. Korah's sons did not join the rebellion, and their descendants became temple singers; eleven psalms carry their name, among them Psalms 42, 46 and 84. A father's sin does not have to decide his children's future.
26:14 These are the clans of the Simeonites: twenty-two thousand and two hundred Simeon had 59,300 in the first count (1:23), the biggest drop of any tribe. Zimri was a Simeonite (25:14), and many think a large share of the plague's dead came from his tribe. Scripture does not say so, but the number stands out.
26:19 Er and Onan died in the land of Canaan A look back to Genesis 38. Judah's line went on through Perez to Boaz, David and at last Jesus Christ (Ruth 4:18-22; Matt 1:3). Judah is still the largest tribe, with 76,500 (26:22).

The Land Divided by Lot

52 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 53 "To these the land shall be divided as an inheritance by the number of names. 54 To the many you shall make its inheritance great, and to the few you shall make its inheritance small; to each according to his enrolled men his inheritance shall be given. 55 Only by lot shall the land be divided; by the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit. 56 According to the lot its inheritance shall be divided between the many and the few."

The Levites Counted

26:33 Zelophehad the son of Hepher had no sons, but daughters Women are rarely named in a count of fighting men. These five are named because their story comes in the next chapter and the last. The census is about who will inherit the land. Manasseh grew from 32,200 to 52,700, the largest gain of any tribe (26:34).
26:46 the name of the daughter of Asher was Serah The same Serah listed among Jacob's family in Genesis 46:17.
26:51 six hundred thousand and a thousand, seven hundred and thirty 601,730, only 1,820 fewer than the first census (1:46). Forty years of desert and judgment, and the nation is almost exactly the same size. God disciplined the parents but did not let the people disappear. The promise to Abraham still stood.
26:53 To these the land shall be divided as an inheritance by the number of names Now we see why God counted. A larger tribe received a larger share (26:54).
26:55 Only by lot shall the land be divided In Israel the lot was not chance: "Into the lap the lot is thrown, and from the LORD is its every judgment" (Prov 16:33). Size set the amount, and the lot under God set the place (Josh 14 to 19). No tribe could say Moses played favorites. The land was God's gift.
26:59 she bore to Amram Aaron and Moses and Miriam their sister The Levite list narrows to the family God used to lead the nation out of Egypt.
26:61 Nadab and Abihu died when they brought near strange fire before the LORD A sober reminder that even in the priestly family, sin was remembered (Lev 10:1-2).
26:62 an inheritance was not given to them The Levites, 23,000 males from a month old, were counted apart because they did not go to war. Their inheritance was the LORD and the people's gifts (18:20-24).

Moses and Eleazar the priest, who enrolled the sons of Israel in the plains of Moab by the Jordan at Jericho. 64 And among these there was not a man of the enrolled men of Moses and Aaron the priest, who enrolled the sons of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay). 65 For the LORD had said of them, "They shall surely die in the wilderness." And not a man was left of them, except Caleb (Kalev) the son of Jephunneh (Yefune) and Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun.

The Daughters of Zelophehad

1 And the daughters of Zelophehad (Tselofchad), the son of Hepher (Chefer), the son of Gilead (Gilad), the son of Machir (Makhir), the son of Manasseh (Menashe), of the clans of Manasseh the son of Joseph (Yosef), drew near; and these are the names of his daughters: Mahlah (Machla), Noah (No'a), and Hoglah (Chogla), and Milcah (Milka), and Tirzah (Tirtsa). 2 And they stood before Moses (Moshe) and before Eleazar (Elazar) the priest and before the leaders and all the congregation, at the entrance of the tent of meeting, saying, 3 "Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not among the company that gathered together against the LORD in the company of Korah (Qorach); for in his own sin he died, and he had no sons. 4 Why should the name of our father be withdrawn from among his clan because he has no son? Give to us a possession among the brothers of our father." 5 And Moses brought near their case before the LORD. 6 And the LORD said to Moses, saying, 7 "The daughters of Zelophehad are speaking right. You shall surely give to them a possession of an inheritance among the brothers of their father, and you shall make the inheritance of their father pass over to them. 8 And to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) you shall speak, saying, 'If a man dies and he has no son, then you shall make his inheritance pass over to his daughter. 9 And if he has no daughter, then you shall give his inheritance to his brothers. 10 And if he has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to the brothers of his father. 11 And if his father has no brothers, then you shall give his inheritance to his relative who is near to him from his clan, and he shall possess it.' And it shall be for the sons of Israel a statute of judgment, just as the LORD commanded Moses."

Joshua Appointed to Lead

12 And the LORD said to Moses, "Go up into this mountain of the Abarim (Avarim), and see the land which I have given to the sons of Israel. 13 And you shall see it, and you shall be gathered to your peoples, you also, just as Aaron (Aharon) your brother was gathered; 14 because you rebelled against My mouth in the wilderness of Zin (Tsin), in the strife of the congregation, to sanctify Me at the waters before their eyes." They are the waters of Meribah (Meriva) of Kadesh (Qadesh), in the wilderness of Zin. 15 And Moses spoke to the LORD, saying, 16 "Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation, 17 who will go out before them and who will come in before them, and who will 26:64 there was not a man of the enrolled men of Moses and Aaron the priest, who enrolled the sons of Israel in the wilderness of Sinai The most important line in the chapter. Every man counted in chapter 1 was gone, as God had said (14:29).

26:65 except Caleb the son of Jephunneh and Joshua the son of Nun The two who trusted God at Kadesh were still standing. God's word came true to the letter, in judgment and in promise. They could not enter "because of unbelief" (Heb 3:19), but God was faithful to the children, and He is faithful to us.
27:1 the daughters of Zelophehad Their family line is traced back to Manasseh son of Joseph, the line through which land would be counted.
27:2 they stood before Moses and before Eleazar the priest and before the leaders and all the congregation, at the entrance of the tent of meeting They came to the right place in the right way. This was not a quarrel but a case brought openly before the leaders and before God.
27:3 he was not among the company that gathered together against the LORD in the company of Korah; for in his own sin he died He died for his own sin as one of the generation judged at Kadesh, but he was not one of Korah's rebels, whose families were cut off. So his family had not lost its place.
27:4 Why should the name of our father be withdrawn from among his clan because he has no son? Land passed through sons and carried a man's name. Without a son, his share would be lost and his name forgotten. Notice their faith. Israel did not own one acre of Canaan yet, and these women asked for a share of land still held by the enemy.
27:5 Moses brought near their case before the LORD Moses did not know the answer and did not pretend to. When a hard question comes, take it to the Lord and to His Word before you answer.
27:7 The daughters of Zelophehad are speaking right In a world where women usually could not hold land, God Himself took the side of five unmarried women. He saw them and honored their request. He is the God who defends the fatherless (Ps 68:5).
27:8 If a man dies and he has no son, then you shall make his inheritance pass over to his daughter Their case became a law for everyone. Five women asked one question, and their faith helped every family in Israel after them. Chapter 36 adds one more piece.
27:11 to his relative who is near to him from his clan The order of heirs kept each family's land within its clan. The land was the LORD's, held in trust (Lev 25:23). This stands behind the kinsman-redeemer, the near relative who could buy back land or a family name (Ruth 4:1-10). In Christ every believer, male and female, is an heir: "you are all one in Christ Jesus" (Gal 3:28), with an inheritance "imperishable and undefiled and unfading" (1 Pet 1:4).
27:12 Go up into this mountain of the Abarim, and see the land The Abarim are the mountains east of the Dead Sea; Deuteronomy 34:1 names the peak as Nebo.
27:13 you shall be gathered to your peoples, you also, just as Aaron your brother was gathered To die and join those who went before. It speaks of something beyond the grave, not only a burial place, since Moses would be buried alone.
27:14 because you rebelled against My mouth in the wilderness of Zin The sin at Meribah (20:10-12). It is hard to read: forty faithful years, and one public sin kept him out. Leaders are held to a higher standard because their example shapes many (James 3:1). But God was not finished with Moses, who later stood in the land with Jesus at the transfiguration (Matt 17:3).
27:16 Let the LORD, the God of the spirits of all flesh, appoint a man over the congregation Moses did not complain; he prayed for the people. The God who made every human spirit knows every heart and knows who is fit to lead.
27:17 the congregation of the LORD shall not be like sheep which have no shepherd A leader goes ahead of his people in war and in daily life. Jesus saw the crowds "like sheep not having a shepherd" (Matt 9:36), and He is the Good Shepherd who lays down His life for the sheep (John 10:11). Moses asked God for a shepherd, and in the end God gave His own Son.

lead them out and who will bring them in; and the congregation of the LORD shall not be like sheep which have no shepherd." 18 And the LORD said to Moses, "Take for yourself Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and you shall lay your hand on him; 19 and you shall make him stand before Eleazar the priest and before all the congregation, and you shall commission him before their eyes. 20 And you shall put some of your majesty on him, so that all the congregation of the sons of Israel may hear. 21 And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, and he shall inquire for him by the judgment of the Urim before the LORD. At his mouth they shall go out, and at his mouth they shall come in, he and all the sons of Israel with him, and all the congregation." 22 And Moses did just as the LORD commanded him; and he took Joshua and made him stand before Eleazar the priest and before all the congregation. 23 And he laid his hands on him and commissioned him, just as the LORD spoke by the hand of Moses.

NUMBERS 28

The Daily Offerings

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe), saying,
2 "Command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and you shall say to them, 'My offering, My food for My fire offerings, My soothing aroma, you shall take care to bring near to Me at its appointed time.' 3 And you shall say to them, 'This is the fire offering which you shall bring near to the LORD: lambs, sons of a year, without blemish, two for the day, a burnt offering continually. 4 The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the second lamb you shall offer between the two evenings; 5 and approximately 2 quarts (a tenth of the ephah) of fine flour for a grain offering, mixed with approximately 1 quart (a fourth of the hin) of beaten oil. 6 It is a continual burnt offering, which was made at Mount Sinai (Sinay) for a soothing aroma, a fire offering to the LORD. 7 And its drink offering shall be approximately 1 quart (a fourth of the hin) for the one lamb; in the holy place pour out a drink offering of strong drink to the LORD. 8 And the second lamb you shall offer between the two evenings; like the grain offering of the morning and like its drink offering you shall offer it, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD.

Sabbath and New Moon

9 And on the day of the Sabbath, two lambs, sons of a year, without blemish, and approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah) of fine flour, a grain offering mixed with oil, and its drink offering: 10 this is the burnt offering of the Sabbath on its Sabbath, besides the continual burnt offering and its drink offering. 11 And at the beginnings of your months you shall bring near a burnt offering to the LORD: two young bulls, sons of the herd, and one ram, seven lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 12 and approximately 6 quarts (three tenths of an ephah) of fine flour, a grain offering mixed with oil, for the one young bull; and approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah) of fine flour, a grain offering mixed with oil, for the one ram; 13 and approximately 2 quarts (a tenth, a tenth of an ephah) of fine flour, a grain offering mixed with oil, for the one lamb; a burnt offering, a soothing aroma, a fire offering to the LORD. 14 And their drink offerings shall be approximately 2 quarts (half of the hin) for the young bull, and approximately 1 1/3 quarts (the third of the hin) for the ram, and approximately 1 quart (the fourth of the hin) for the lamb, of wine. 27:18 Joshua the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit Joshua had fought Amalek (Exod 17:9-14), stayed near the tent (Exod 33:11), and stood for God at Kadesh (14:6-9). But the reason God gives is the Spirit (compare Deut 34:9). Some translations read it as Joshua's own spirit. Leadership among God's people starts with God's Spirit in a person.
27:20 you shall put some of your majesty on him Laying on hands publicly marked Joshua as the one chosen. Some of Moses' honor passed to him so the people would listen, but not all of it. Moses was unique (12:6-8; Deut 34:10).
27:21 he shall inquire for him by the judgment of the Urim before the LORD Moses spoke with God face to face; Joshua would seek God's answer through the high priest. The Urim was kept in the breastpiece (Exod 28:30), and Scripture does not tell us how it worked. Joshua would lead under God's direction, alongside the priest.
27:23 he laid his hands on him and commissioned him No jealousy and no delay. God's work does not depend on any one person, and a wise leader builds up the one who comes after him, as Paul did with Timothy (2 Tim 2:2). Joshua means the LORD saves, the Hebrew form of the name Jesus. Joshua led God's people into the land; Jesus leads His people into God's rest (Heb 4:8-9).
28:2 My offering, My food for My fire offerings, My soothing aroma, you shall take care to bring near to Me at its appointed time God did not need food (Ps 50:12-13). The words picture the offerings as a meal at God's table, a sign of fellowship. A soothing aroma means God was pleased to accept it. Chapters 28 and 29 set the rhythm of the new generation's life in the land around Him.
28:3 two for the day, a burnt offering continually A burnt offering was burned whole, given entirely to God. With each lamb came grain, oil and a drink offering of wine (28:5-7).
28:4 The one lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the second lamb you shall offer between the two evenings Between the two evenings means toward evening. The daily lambs never stopped for a feast; every other offering was "besides the continual burnt offering." Our walk with God is built on daily faithfulness, not only special days.
28:6 It is a continual burnt offering, which was made at Mount Sinai First commanded at Sinai (Exod 29:38-42). The daily lamb points to Jesus, "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). The priests offered the same sacrifices day after day, but Christ offered one sacrifice for sins for all time (Heb 10:11-12).
28:9 on the day of the Sabbath, two lambs Added to the daily offering, so the altar received double. The Sabbath was the sign of God's covenant with Israel (Exod 31:13). Believers today differ: some keep a Sabbath day, many set apart Sunday because Jesus rose on the first day, and others see the Sabbath fulfilled in our rest in Christ (Col 2:16-17; Heb 4:9-10). All agree God's people need regular rest and worship.
28:11 at the beginnings of your months Israel's months followed the moon, and trumpets were blown over these offerings (10:10). The pattern of two bulls, one ram, seven lambs and one goat repeats through most of the feasts.

its month, for the months of the year. 15 And one male goat of the goats for a sin offering to the LORD; besides the continual burnt offering it shall be offered, and its drink offering.

Passover and Weeks

16 And in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, is a Passover to the LORD. 17 And on the fifteenth day of this month is a festival; seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten. 18 On the first day is a convocation of holiness; you shall not do any work of labor. 19 And you shall bring near a fire offering, a burnt offering to the LORD: two young bulls, sons of the herd, and one ram, and seven lambs, sons of a year; they shall be without blemish for you. 20 And their grain offering, fine flour mixed with oil: approximately 6 quarts (three tenths of an ephah) for the young bull, and approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah) for the ram you shall offer; 21 approximately 2 quarts (a tenth, a tenth of an ephah) you shall offer for the one lamb, for the seven lambs; 22 and one male goat for a sin offering, to make atonement for you. 23 Besides the burnt offering of the morning, which is for the continual burnt offering, you shall offer these. 24 Like these you shall offer for the day, seven days, the food of a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD; besides the continual burnt offering it shall be offered, and its drink offering. 25 And on the seventh day you shall have a convocation of holiness; you shall not do any work of labor. 26 And on the day of the firstfruits, when you bring near a new grain offering to the LORD at your Weeks, you shall have a convocation of holiness; you shall not do any work of labor. 27 And you shall bring near a burnt offering for a soothing aroma to the LORD: two young bulls, sons of the herd, one ram, seven lambs, sons of a year; 28 and their grain offering, fine flour mixed with oil: approximately 6 quarts (three tenths of an ephah) for the one young bull, approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah) for the one ram, 29 approximately 2 quarts (a tenth, a tenth of an ephah) for the one lamb, for the seven lambs; 30 one male goat of the goats, to make atonement for you. 31 Besides the continual burnt offering and its grain offering, you shall offer them; they shall be without blemish for you; and their drink offerings.

28:15 one male goat of the goats for a sin offering to the LORD The first sin offering in the list. Even in a month of ordinary days, Israel had sinned and needed atonement. Each new month began with a reminder that God's people live by His mercy.
28:16 on the fourteenth day of the month, is a Passover to the LORD Passover remembered the night of the lamb's blood on the doorposts (Exod 12). Each family killed its own lamb, so no public offering is listed. "For also our Passover was sacrificed for us: Christ" (1 Cor 5:7).
28:17 seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten Bread without yeast recalled the haste of leaving Egypt. Paul uses the picture: yeast stands for sin, and the redeemed keep the feast "with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Cor 5:8).
28:18 On the first day is a convocation of holiness A holy gathering when no regular work was done, on the first and seventh days (28:25).
28:22 one male goat for a sin offering, to make atonement for you Offered every one of the seven days, along with the bulls, ram and lambs.
28:26 on the day of the firstfruits, when you bring near a new grain offering to the LORD at your Weeks The Feast of Weeks came seven weeks after Passover (Lev 23:15-16) and celebrated the first of the wheat harvest. It was later called Pentecost, fiftieth. On that feast, fifty days after Jesus rose, God poured out the Spirit (Acts 2:1-4), and three thousand were saved, the first fruits of the gospel harvest.
28:31 they shall be without blemish for you God wanted the best; our worship should never be leftovers. Every spotless animal pointed to Christ, who "offered Himself unblemished to God" (Heb 9:14).
29:1 it shall be a day of a loud blast for you The seventh month came in early autumn. The day opened with trumpets or rams' horns (Lev 23:24), calling the nation to get ready for the holy days that followed. Many Bible teachers see the blast as a picture of the trumpet that will sound when the Lord comes for His church (1 Thess 4:16; 1 Cor 15:52). The New Testament does not tie those verses to this feast, so I offer it only as a picture.
29:6 besides the burnt offering of the new moon and its grain offering, and the continual burnt offering On this day the altar carried three sets of offerings at once: the daily, the monthly and the feast.
29:7 on the tenth day of this seventh month you shall have a convocation of holiness, and you shall afflict your souls The Day of Atonement, described in full in Leviticus 16. To afflict your souls means to humble yourself before God, usually by fasting. It was the most solemn day of the year, when the high priest entered the Most Holy Place with blood for the whole nation.

The Feast of Booths

12 And on the fifteenth day of the seventh month you shall have a convocation of holiness; you shall not do any work of labor, and you shall celebrate a festival to the LORD seven days. 13 And you shall bring near a burnt offering, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD: thirteen young bulls, sons of the herd, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year; they shall be without blemish; 14 and their grain offering, fine flour mixed with oil: approximately 6 quarts (three tenths of an ephah) for the one young bull, for the thirteen young bulls; approximately 4 quarts (two tenths of an ephah) for the one ram, for the two rams; 15 and approximately 2 quarts (a tenth, a tenth of an ephah) for the one lamb, for the fourteen lambs; 16 and one male goat of the goats for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offering. 17 And on the second day: twelve young bulls, sons of the herd, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 18 and their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 19 and one male goat of the goats for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering and its grain offering and their drink offerings. 20 And on the third day: eleven young bulls, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 21 and their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 22 and one male goat for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering. 23 And on the fourth day: ten young bulls, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 24 their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 25 and one male goat of the goats for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offering. 26 And on the fifth day: nine young bulls, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 27 and their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 28 and one male goat for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering. 29 And on the sixth day: eight young bulls, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 30 and their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 31 and one male goat for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offerings. 32 And on the seventh day: seven young bulls, two rams, fourteen lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 33 and their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bulls, for the rams, and for the lambs, by their number, according to their ordinance; 34 and one male goat for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering, its grain offering and its drink offering. 35 On the eighth day you shall have a solemn assembly; you shall not do any work of labor. 36 And you shall bring near a burnt offering, a fire offering of a soothing aroma to the LORD: one young bull, one ram, seven lambs, sons of a year, without blemish; 37 their grain offering and their drink offerings for the young bull, for the ram, and for the lambs, by their number, according to the ordinance; 38 and one male goat for a sin offering, besides the continual burnt offering and its grain offering and its drink offering. 39 These you shall offer to the LORD at your appointed times, apart from your vows and your freewill offerings, for your burnt offerings and for your grain offerings and for your drink offerings and for your peace offerings.'" 40 And Moses (Moshe) said to the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses.

29:11 besides the sin offering of atonement Numbers lists only the public burnt offerings; the special sacrifices are in Leviticus 16. The high priest went in once a year with blood not his own. Christ, "through His own blood, entered once for all into the holy places, having obtained eternal redemption" (Heb 9:12). What the day did every year, Christ finished forever.
29:12 you shall celebrate a festival to the LORD seven days The Feast of Booths. The people lived in booths of branches to remember God's care when He brought them out of Egypt (Lev 23:42-43). It came at the end of harvest and was a time of great joy (Deut 16:13-15).
29:13 thirteen young bulls, sons of the herd, two rams, fourteen lambs Far more than any other day. Each following day the bulls drop by one, to seven on the seventh day (29:32), seventy bulls for the week along with fourteen rams and ninety-eight lambs. Scripture does not explain the number. Jewish teachers later linked the seventy bulls to the seventy nations of Genesis 10, but that is tradition, not the text. What the text shows is a feast of joy marked by lavish giving.
29:35 On the eighth day you shall have a solemn assembly One more holy day closed the feast season. On "the last day, the great day of the feast" (John 7:37), Jesus cried out, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37), speaking of the Spirit (John 7:39). And in the kingdom to come the nations will go up to Jerusalem "to celebrate the Feast of Booths" (Zech 14:16), when Christ reigns.
29:39 apart from your vows and your freewill offerings Chapters 28 and 29 are the nation's required worship. On top came each person's own gifts. A year's public offerings came to more than a thousand lambs alone, yet none of it could take away sin (Heb 10:4). It covered sin and taught the people until the true Lamb came.
29:40 Moses said to the sons of Israel according to all that the LORD had commanded Moses Moses passed on every word. In the Hebrew Bible this verse begins chapter 30; the SLB follows the English numbering.
30:1 Moses spoke to the heads of the tribes of the sons of Israel The leaders would need this law to settle cases.

LORD has commanded: 2 If a man vows a vow to the LORD, or swears an oath to bind an obligation on his soul, he shall not profane his word; according to all that goes out from his mouth he shall do. 3 And if a woman vows a vow to the LORD and binds an obligation in the house of her father in her youth, 4 and her father hears her vow and her obligation which she has bound on her soul, and her father keeps silent toward her, then all her vows shall stand, and every obligation which she has bound on her soul shall stand. 5 And if her father forbids her on the day he hears, all her vows and her obligations which she has bound on her soul shall not stand; and the LORD will forgive her, because her father forbade her. 6 And if she surely belongs to a husband, and her vows are on her, or the rash utterance of her lips which she has bound on her soul, 7 and her husband hears, on the day he hears, and keeps silent toward her, then her vows shall stand, and her obligations which she has bound on her soul shall stand. 8 And if on the day her husband hears he forbids her, then he shall break her vow which is on her and the rash utterance of her lips which she has bound on her soul; and the LORD will forgive her. 9 And the vow of a widow and a divorced woman, all that she has bound on her soul shall stand against her. 10 And if she vowed in the house of her husband, or bound an obligation on her soul with an oath, 11 and her husband hears and keeps silent toward her, does not forbid her, then all her vows shall stand, and every obligation which she has bound on her soul shall stand. 12 And if her husband surely breaks them on the day he hears, anything that goes out of her lips for her vows and for the obligation of her soul shall not stand; her husband has broken them, and the LORD will forgive her. 13 Every vow and every oath of obligation to afflict a soul, her husband may make it stand, and her husband may break it. 14 And if her husband surely keeps silent toward her from day to day, then he makes all her vows stand, or all her obligations which are on her; he has made them stand, because he kept silent toward her on the day he heard. 15 And if he surely breaks them after he has heard, then he shall bear her iniquity." 16 These are the statutes which the LORD commanded Moses between a man and his wife, between a father and his daughter in her youth in the house of her father.

30:2 he shall not profane his word; according to all that goes out from his mouth he shall do A vow was a promise to do something for God; an oath to bind an obligation was a promise to hold back from something, such as fasting. No one had to vow, but once made, it had to be kept (Eccl 5:4-5). Jesus went further: "let your word be 'Yes, yes,' 'No, no'" (Matt 5:37). A believer's plain word should be as good as an oath.
30:3 in the house of her father in her youth An unmarried young woman still under her father's care.
30:4 her father keeps silent toward her, then all her vows shall stand Her vow was real, and God received it. Women in Israel made vows to God, as Hannah did (1 Sam 1:11).
30:5 the LORD will forgive her, because her father forbade her The father answered for the household. A rash vow could commit family property or bind a daughter in ways she did not foresee. If he stopped it, God would not hold it against her. The rule protected her.
30:6 the rash utterance of her lips which she has bound on her soul People sometimes promise God things in a moment of fear or excitement without thinking them through. Jephthah's rash vow ended in great sorrow (Judg 11:30-35). This law gave a way out before a rash vow did harm.
30:8 if on the day her husband hears he forbids her A new husband had the same choice as a father, and the same limit: the day he heard.
30:9 the vow of a widow and a divorced woman, all that she has bound on her soul shall stand against her A woman with no husband or father over her household answered to God for herself, just like a man. The law was about who was responsible for a household, not about a woman's worth or her standing before God.
30:11 keeps silent toward her, does not forbid her, then all her vows shall stand A wife's vow to give a field or a large gift affected the whole family. This kept the household from being pulled two ways and kept her from guilt for a vow her husband would not allow.
30:13 Every vow and every oath of obligation to afflict a soul To afflict a soul means self-denial, such as fasting.
30:14 he has made them stand, because he kept silent toward her on the day he heard His silence was his consent. He could not let her go on and then change his mind weeks later when it suited him.
30:15 if he surely breaks them after he has heard, then he shall bear her iniquity The guilt moved from her to him. The authority God gave the man came with accountability.
30:16 between a man and his wife, between a father and his daughter in her youth We are not under the Law of Moses as a covenant, but its heart still speaks. God hears our promises and expects us to keep them. Authority in the home is for protection, not control: husbands are to love their wives "even as Christ also loved the church and gave Himself up for her" (Eph 5:25), and fathers are not to provoke their children (Eph 6:4). Anyone who uses this chapter to bully a wife or daughter has turned it upside down. Men and women stand equal before God as heirs (Gal 3:28; 1 Pet 3:7).
31:2 Avenge the vengeance of the sons of Israel from the Midianites; afterward you will be gathered to your peoples God had already told Israel to treat Midian as an enemy (25:17). Now He gave the order to act. This would be Moses' last work before he died.
31:3 to give the vengeance of the LORD on Midian Notice whose vengeance it is. This was not Israel settling a score but God's judgment on a people who set out to destroy His people by leading them into sin, at the cost of twenty-four thousand lives (25:9). Vengeance belongs to God (Deut 32:35; Rom 12:19), and here He chose to carry it out through Israel.
31:5 a thousand for the tribe, twelve thousand armed men of war Every tribe had a share. No tribe could say this was someone else's battle.
31:6 the vessels of the holy place and the trumpets of the alarm were in his hand Phinehas had stopped the plague at Peor (25:7-8). The silver trumpets were for war, so Israel would be remembered before the LORD (10:9). The priest and holy things showed this was a war under God's command, not a raid for plunder. Scripture does not say which holy vessels are meant.

And all that does not go into the fire, you shall make pass through the water. 24 And you shall wash your clothes on the seventh day, and you will be clean, and afterward you may come into the camp."

Dividing the Plunder

25 And the LORD said to Moses, saying, 26 "Take the sum of the booty of the captives, among man and among beast, you and Eleazar the priest and the heads of the fathers of the congregation. 27 And you shall divide the booty in half between those who handled the battle, who went out to the war, and all the congregation. 28 And you shall raise a tax for the LORD from the men of the battle who went out to the 31:7 they killed every male That is, the fighting men of the Midianite groups allied with Moab. The whole Midianite people did not die out; they appear again as a strong nation in Judges 6.

31:8 Evi and Rekem and Zur and Hur and Reba, the five kings of Midian; and Balaam the son of Beor they killed with the sword Zur was Cozbi's father (25:15); Joshua 13:21 calls these chiefs allies of Sihon. Balaam blessed Israel with his mouth and then gave the counsel that led them into sin (31:16; Rev 2:14). He wished to "die the death of the upright" (23:10), but he died with the enemies of God. It is possible to say beautiful things about God and still love money more (2 Pet 2:15).

31:10 all their encampments they burned with fire The army brought the captives, livestock and goods to Moses and Eleazar on the plains of Moab (31:12).

31:14 Moses was angry with the officers of the army Moses went out of the camp to meet them, and what he saw angered him.

31:16 they themselves were the cause for the sons of Israel, by the word of Balaam, to commit unfaithfulness against the LORD in the matter of Peor These were the women sent to seduce Israel's men into idol worship. The danger that had just cost twenty-four thousand lives was now standing inside Israel's tents.

31:17 kill every male among the little ones, and every woman who has known a man by the lying of a male, kill This is troubling, and if it troubles you, that is not a lack of faith. The death of children is a terrible thing, and Scripture does not hide it. This was God's judgment by God's command for a specific sin, Midian's deliberate plot (25:18), like the flood and Sodom, where whole communities died under His hand. God alone gives and takes life (Deut 32:39). "Will not the Judge of all the earth do justice?" (Gen 18:25). I believe He does, even when I cannot see all His reasons. Why the boys, Scripture does not say; many think it was so this branch of Midian would not rise again to destroy Israel.

31:18 keep alive for yourselves These words do not permit abuse. The Law required that a captive woman be given a month to mourn, be taken as a true wife, and never be sold as a slave (Deut 21:10-14). Many would have been raised in Israelite homes, and some may have come to trust Israel's God. Scripture does not tell their stories.

31:19 encamp outside the camp seven days Even after a war God commanded, the soldiers needed the cleansing of chapter 19. This was a one-time command for Israel at a single moment, never a pattern; Israel's normal laws of war differed (Deut 20:10-14), and Jesus told Peter to put away his sword (Matt 26:52). "Our wrestling is not against blood and flesh" (Eph 6:12). The chapter shows how serious sin is; at the cross God's justice and mercy meet (Rom 3:25-26). I believe little children who die are safe with God; David said of his son, "I am going to him" (2 Sam 12:23).

31:23 every thing that goes into the fire, you shall make pass through the fire, and it will be clean Metal passed through fire and was washed with the water of impurity; everything else through water. Life is sacred. Even in a judgment God ordered, touching death left a mark to be dealt with before Him. War was never treated as a light thing.

31:27 divide the booty in half between those who handled the battle, who went out to the war, and all the congregation The soldiers took the risk, but the whole people shared the gain. David later made a similar rule for those who guarded the baggage (1 Sam 30:24-25).

31:28 one soul out of five hundred From the soldiers' half, one in five hundred went to Eleazar; from the people's half, one in fifty to the Levites (31:30). Those who served at the tabernacle had no land and depended on such gifts. Everyone gave back to God from what He had given.

The Officers' Offering

48 And the officers who were over the thousands of the army, the commanders of the thousands and the commanders of the hundreds, drew near to Moses, 49 and they said to Moses, "Your servants have taken the sum of the men of the battle who were in our hand, and not a man is missing from us. 50 And we have brought near the offering of the LORD, each man what he found, articles of gold, armlet and bracelet, signet ring, earring, and ornament, to make atonement for our souls before the LORD." 51 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, every article of work. 52 And all the gold of the contribution which they raised for the LORD was approximately 420 pounds (sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels), from the commanders of the thousands and from the commanders of the hundreds. 53 The men of the army had taken plunder, each man for himself. 54 And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the commanders of the thousands and of the hundreds, and they brought it into the tent of meeting as a memorial for the sons of Israel before the LORD.

Reuben and Gad Ask for Gilead

31:32 six hundred thousand and seventy thousand and five thousand With 72,000 cattle, 61,000 donkeys and 32,000 girls (31:33-35). As elsewhere in Numbers, I take the numbers as written. They show how wealthy these herding and trading groups were and how complete the victory was.
31:47 he gave them to the Levites who keep the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD The persons given were not offered on the altar; human sacrifice was forbidden (Lev 18:21). They served at the tabernacle, as the Gibeonites later did (Josh 9:27).
31:49 not a man is missing from us Twelve thousand went to war, and every one came home. That was God's doing. The Good Shepherd says the same of His own: no one will snatch them out of His hand (John 10:28).
31:50 to make atonement for our souls before the LORD When Israel was counted, each man was to give a ransom for his life so no plague would come (Exod 30:12), and the officers had just counted their men. They may also have felt unworthy to live when so many died at Peor. Their gift was thanks and humility together.
31:54 they brought it into the tent of meeting as a memorial for the sons of Israel before the LORD About 420 pounds of gold (31:52) stood as a reminder that God gave the victory. The soldiers kept their plunder (31:53), but the leaders gave theirs to God. When God brings us through, the right answer is gratitude.
32:1 they saw the land of Jazer and the land of Gilead, and look, the place was a place of livestock Gilead was the high grassy country east of the Jordan, known for its pasture. Reuben and Gad had large herds, and they liked what they saw.
32:5 let this land be given to your servants for a possession; do not make us pass over the Jordan Was this wrong? Not in itself; God had given Israel this land when He defeated Sihon and Og. But it came right before the conquest and seemed to put their herds ahead of their brothers. Lot made a similar choice when he looked at the well-watered plain (Gen 13:10-11).
32:6 Shall your brothers go to the battle, and you, shall you sit here? Moses answered hard. He had buried a generation and knew what unbelief costs.

you sit here? 7 And why do you discourage the heart of the sons of Israel from passing over into the land which the LORD has given to them? 8 Thus your fathers did when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea (Qadesh-Barnea) to see the land. 9 And they went up to the wadi of Eshcol (Eshkol) and saw the land, and they discouraged the heart of the sons of Israel so as not to go into the land which the LORD had given to them. 10 And the anger of the LORD burned on that day, and He swore, saying, 11 'The men who came up from Egypt (Mitsrayim), from a son of twenty years and upward, shall surely not see the land which I swore to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov), because they have not fully followed after Me, 12 except Caleb (Kalev) the son of Jephunneh (Yefune) the Kenizzite and Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun, because they have fully followed after the LORD.' 13 And the anger of the LORD burned against Israel, and He made them wander in the wilderness forty years, until all the generation that had done the evil in the eyes of the LORD was finished. 14 And look, you have risen up in place of your fathers, a brood of sinful men, to add still more to the burning of the anger of the LORD against Israel. 15 For if you turn back from after Him, then He will again leave it in the wilderness, and you will destroy all this people."

The Promise to Cross Over

16 And they drew near to him and said, "Folds of flock we will build for our livestock here, and cities for our little ones. 17 And we, we will arm ourselves, hurrying before the sons of Israel, until we have brought them to their place; and our little ones will dwell in the fortified cities because of the inhabitants of the land. 18 We will not return to our houses until the sons of Israel have inherited, each man his inheritance. 19 For we will not inherit with them on the other side of the Jordan and beyond, because our inheritance has come to us on the other side of the Jordan eastward." 20 And Moses said to them, "If you will do this thing, if you will arm yourselves before the LORD for the battle, 21 and every armed man of you passes over the Jordan before the LORD until He has dispossessed His enemies from before Him, 22 and the land is subdued before the LORD, then afterward you may return, and you will be guiltless toward the LORD and toward Israel, and this land will be yours for a possession before the LORD. 23 And if you do not do so, look, you have sinned against the LORD; and know your sin, that it will find you. 24 Build for yourselves cities for your little ones and folds for your flock, and what has gone out from your mouth you shall do." 25 And the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben said to Moses, saying, "Your servants will do just as my lord commands. 26 Our little ones, our wives, our livestock, and all our beasts shall be there in the cities of the Gilead; 27 and your servants will pass over, every armed man of war, before the LORD to the battle, just as my lord says." 28 And Moses commanded concerning them Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the sons of Israel. 29 And Moses said to them, "If the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben pass over the Jordan with you, every armed man for the battle before the LORD, and the land is subdued before you, then you shall give them the land of the Gilead for a possession. 30 And if they do not pass over armed with you, then they shall take possession among you in the land of Canaan (Kena'an)." 31 And the sons of Gad and the sons of Reuben answered, saying, "What the LORD has spoken to your servants, so we will do. 32 We, we will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Canaan, and the possession of our inheritance will be with us on the other side of the Jordan."

32:7 why do you discourage the heart of the sons of Israel One group's choices can weaken the faith of everyone around them. If two tribes held back, others might lose heart too.
32:8 Thus your fathers did when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see the land Moses retells Kadesh (chapters 13 and 14), when the spies discouraged the people and a whole generation died in the wilderness (32:9-13).
32:12 because they have fully followed after the LORD Caleb and Joshua are still the example. Whole-hearted following is what God honors.
32:14 you have risen up in place of your fathers, a brood of sinful men Moses feared the new generation was about to repeat the old one's sin, and that God would again leave the people in the wilderness (32:15).
32:16 Folds of flock we will build for our livestock here, and cities for our little ones The two tribes came back with a plan. It is good when we answer a fair rebuke with a humble, honest offer rather than anger.
32:17 we, we will arm ourselves, hurrying before the sons of Israel They would not only go along; they would go in front as the first troops into battle.
32:18 We will not return to our houses until the sons of Israel have inherited, each man his inheritance They would not take their rest until their brothers had theirs. Their heart was not in rebellion after all.
32:20 if you will arm yourselves before the LORD for the battle Notice how often Moses says "before the LORD." This was not just a deal between tribes but a promise made in God's sight.
32:22 you will be guiltless toward the LORD and toward Israel Keeping their word would clear them before both God and their brothers.
32:23 know your sin, that it will find you Often quoted about any hidden sin, and that is true; God sees everything, and sin comes to light. Here the point is that breaking a promise to God and His people is sin against the LORD, and it will catch up with you. "Whatever a man sows, this he will also reap" (Gal 6:7).
32:24 what has gone out from your mouth you shall do This sounds like chapter 30 (30:2). Keep your word.
32:28 Moses commanded concerning them Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun Moses would not live to see it, so he handed the agreement to the next leaders.
32:31 What the LORD has spoken to your servants, so we will do And they did. Joshua 1:12-18 shows them ready to cross, and Joshua 22:1-6 shows Joshua sending them home years later, praising them for keeping their promise.
32:33 to half the tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph Half of Manasseh is named here for the first time. Their part was the north, in Gilead and Bashan, the old kingdoms of Sihon and Og.

the son of Joseph (Yosef), the kingdom of Sihon (Sichon) king of the Amorite and the kingdom of Og king of the Bashan, the land with its cities, with their territories, the cities of the land all around. 34 And the sons of Gad built Dibon and Ataroth and Aroer (Aro'er), 35 and Atroth-shophan (Atrot-Shofan) and Jazer and Jogbehah (Yogbeha), 36 and Beth-nimrah (Bet-Nimra) and Beth-haran (Bet-Haran), fortified cities, and folds of flock. 37 And the sons of Reuben built Heshbon and Elealeh and Kiriathaim (Qiryatayim), 38 and Nebo and Baal-meon (Ba'al-Meon), changed in name, and Sibmah (Sivma); and they called by names the names of the cities which they built. 39 And the sons of Machir (Makhir) the son of Manasseh went to Gilead and captured it, and dispossessed the Amorite who was in it. 40 And Moses gave the Gilead to Machir the son of Manasseh, and he dwelt in it. 41 And Jair (Ya'ir) the son of Manasseh went and captured their villages, and he called them Havvoth-jair (Chavvot-Ya'ir). 42 And Nobah (Novach) went and captured Kenath (Qenat) and its daughters, and he called it Nobah, by his own name.

The Journeys from Egypt to Sinai

1 These are the journeys of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), who went out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) by their armies, by the hand of Moses (Moshe) and Aaron (Aharon). 2 And Moses wrote down their goings out according to their journeys at the mouth of the LORD; and these are their journeys according to their goings out. 3 And they set out from Rameses (Ra'amses) in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the day after the Passover the sons of Israel went out with a raised hand before the eyes of all Egypt, 4 and Egypt were burying those whom the LORD had struck among them, every firstborn; and on their gods the LORD had executed judgments. 5 And the sons of Israel set out from Rameses and encamped at Succoth (Sukot). 6 And they set out from Succoth and encamped at Etham (Etam), which is on the edge of the wilderness. 7 And they set out from Etham and turned back to Pi-hahiroth (Pi-Hachirot), which is before Baal-zephon (Ba'al-Tsefon); and they encamped before Migdol. 8 And they set out from before Hahiroth and passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness; and they went a journey of three days in the wilderness of Etham and encamped at Marah (Mara). 9 And they set out from Marah and came to Elim; and at Elim were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees, and they encamped there. 10 And they set out from Elim and encamped by the Red Sea. 11 And they set out from the Red Sea and encamped in the wilderness of Sin. 12 And they set out from the wilderness of Sin and encamped at Dophkah (Dofqa). 13 And they set out from Dophkah and encamped at Alush. 14 And they set out from Alush and encamped at Rephidim (Refidim); and there was no water there for the people to drink. 15 And they set out from Rephidim and encamped in the wilderness of Sinai (Sinay).

32:34 the sons of Gad built Dibon and Ataroth and Aroer Dibon is where the Moabite Stone was found, a well-known ancient inscription that mentions Israel and the tribe of Gad.
32:38 and Nebo and Baal-meon, changed in name Perhaps because the old names honored false gods; the text does not say.
32:41 he called them Havvoth-jair The tent villages of Jair. The east side tribes' choice worked for a time, but it put the Jordan between them and the rest of Israel. Joshua 22 shows how quickly that led to misunderstanding, and they were the first carried into exile by Assyria (1 Chr 5:25-26). Still, God honored their promise, and they kept it.
33:1 These are the journeys of the sons of Israel, who went out from the land of Egypt by their armies A travel record of forty years, from Egypt to the Jordan.
33:2 Moses wrote down their goings out according to their journeys at the mouth of the LORD Moses wrote this list because God told him to. It is one of the places in the Law where Scripture says plainly that Moses wrote.
33:3 the sons of Israel went out with a raised hand before the eyes of all Egypt Boldly, in the open, the day after the Passover.
33:4 on their gods the LORD had executed judgments While Egypt buried its firstborn, the plagues showed that Egypt's gods were nothing before the LORD (Exod 12:12).
33:8 passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness The first stretch, Egypt to Sinai, follows Exodus 12 to 19. Moses does not retell the stories; he names the places and lets them speak. Anyone who heard Marah or Rephidim would remember what happened there.
33:9 at Elim were twelve springs of water and seventy palm trees After the bitter water of Marah, God led them to a place of rest (Exod 15:27).
33:14 there was no water there for the people to drink Rephidim, where God gave water from the rock (Exod 17:1-7). Dophkah and Alush, just before it (33:12-13), are not named in Exodus.
33:16 encamped at Kibroth-hattaavah The graves of craving, where the quail came and the plague struck (11:34). Hazeroth followed, where Miriam and Aaron spoke against Moses (33:17; 12:1).

33:35 encamped at Ezion-geber Eighteen stops we know almost nothing about, Rithmah to Ezion-geber (33:18-35), most likely belong to the years of wandering after Kadesh; some arrange them differently. Ezion-geber was at the north end of the Gulf of Aqaba, where Solomon later built ships (1 Kgs 9:26). Hidden years are still years under God's care; their clothes did not wear out (Deut 8:4).
33:36 encamped in the wilderness of Zin, that is Kadesh Where the story picks up again in chapter 20.
33:38 in the fortieth year of the going out of the sons of Israel from the land of Egypt, in the fifth month, on the first day of the month The only place the Bible dates Aaron's death. He was 123 years old (33:39).
33:40 the king of Arad A reminder of the attack and victory of 21:1-3.
33:44 encamped at Iye-abarim, on the border of Moab The last stretch went around Edom and north toward the Jordan.
33:49 from Beth-jeshimoth as far as Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab Abel-shittim is the Shittim of 25:1. A journey that could have taken weeks took forty years. Unbelief made it long, but God brought them all the way. What He starts, He finishes (Phil 1:6).
33:52 you shall destroy all their carved images To dispossess means to drive out and take the place of. High places were hilltop shrines to false gods. Canaan's religions included the sins of Peor and worse, such as burning children (Deut 12:31). God had waited until their sin was full (Gen 15:16). This was His judgment through Israel, tied to that time and land.
33:53 for to you I have given the land to possess it The land was God's gift, and He had the right to give it.
33:54 you shall inherit the land by lot according to your clans As in 26:53-56: size set the amount, the lot set the place.
33:55 those whom you leave of them will be as thorns in your eyes and as pricks in your sides Sadly, that is just what happened. Israel did not finish driving them out (Judg 1:27-36), and their gods became a snare (Judg 2:1-3). For us the battle is not with people but with sin. What we tolerate in our hearts we will one day battle. "Put to death your members which are on the earth" (Col 3:5).
33:56 just as I intended to do to them, I will do to you In the end God removed Israel from the land in exile, as He warned (2 Kgs 17:7-18).

2 "Command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) and say to them, 'When you are coming into the land, Canaan (Kena'an), this is the land which shall fall to you as an inheritance, the land of Canaan according to its borders. 3 And the south side shall be for you from the wilderness of Zin (Tsin) alongside Edom; and the south border shall be for you from the end of the Salt Sea eastward. 4 And the border shall turn for you on the south of the ascent of Akrabbim (Aqrabim), and it shall pass on to Zin; and its extremities shall be on the south of Kadesh-barnea (Qadesh-Barnea); and it shall go out to Hazar-addar (Chatsar-Adar), and it shall pass on to Azmon (Atsmon). 5 And the border shall turn from Azmon to the brook of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and its extremities shall be at the sea. 6 And as for the west border, the Great Sea shall be for you, and its border; this shall be the west border for you. 7 And this shall be the north border for you: from the Great Sea you shall mark out for yourselves a line to Hor the mountain. 8 From Hor the mountain you shall mark out a line to the entrance of Hamath (Chamat), and the extremities of the border shall be at Zedad (Tsedad). 9 And the border shall go out to Ziphron (Zifron), and its extremities shall be at Hazar-enan (Chatsar-Einan); this shall be the north border for you. 10 And you shall mark out for yourselves for the east border from Hazar-enan to Shepham (Shefam). 11 And the border shall go down from Shepham to the Riblah (Rivla), on the east of the Ain (Ayin); and the border shall go down and reach to the shoulder of the sea of Chinnereth (Kineret) eastward. 12 And the border shall go down to the Jordan (Yarden), and its extremities shall be at the Salt Sea. This shall be the land for you according to its borders all around.'" 13 And Moses commanded the sons of Israel, saying, "This is the land which you shall inherit by lot, which the LORD has commanded to give to the nine tribes and the half of the tribe. 14 For the tribe of the sons of the Reubenites by the house of their fathers and the tribe of the sons of the Gadites by the house of their fathers have taken it, and the half of the tribe of Manasseh (Menashe) have taken their inheritance. 15 The two tribes and the half of the tribe have taken their inheritance on the other side of the Jordan at Jericho (Yericho), eastward, toward the sunrise."

The Men Who Divide the Land

34:2 this is the land which shall fall to you as an inheritance, the land of Canaan according to its borders God speaks before the conquest has begun. He does not say it might be theirs if they manage to take it. The borders were drawn by the Owner, for the land promised to Abraham more than six hundred years before (Gen 15:18-21).
34:3 from the end of the Salt Sea eastward The Salt Sea is the Dead Sea. The south border ran west from there through the wilderness of Zin.
34:4 the ascent of Akrabbim The scorpions' pass. The border ran south of Kadesh-barnea; the place where the old generation refused to go in now marks the edge of the land their children will receive.
34:5 the brook of Egypt Usually taken to be the Wadi el-Arish in northern Sinai, not the Nile; a few take it as a branch of the Nile. A wadi is a valley that fills with water only in the rainy season.
34:6 the Great Sea shall be for you The Mediterranean. With the sea on the west, desert on the south and east, and mountains to the north, God placed His people at the crossroads of the ancient world, where the nations would pass through and see them.
34:7 Hor the mountain Not the Mount Hor where Aaron died in the south (33:37), but probably a peak in the Lebanon range. Scripture does not say which.
34:8 to the entrance of Hamath A pass leading toward the city of Hamath in Syria. Some of these northern towns are not known for sure today.
34:11 the shoulder of the sea of Chinnereth Chinnereth is the Sea of Galilee. From there the east border followed the Jordan down to the Salt Sea (34:12).
34:12 This shall be the land for you according to its borders all around Under David and Solomon Israel came close (1 Kgs 8:65), but never fully held these borders and later lost the land through sin. God's promise was an everlasting covenant (Gen 17:8). Some teachers believe it was fulfilled under Joshua (Josh 21:43-45) or Solomon (1 Kgs 4:21); others see it taken up into the new creation. I believe it still stands, and that Israel will possess the land in full when the Messiah reigns in His kingdom (Ezek 47:13-21; Rom 11:28-29).
34:13 which the LORD has commanded to give to the nine tribes and the half of the tribe The other two and a half tribes had their land east of the Jordan (34:15; chapter 32).
34:17 Eleazar the priest and Joshua the son of Nun The priest and the leader worked side by side, as in 27:21, with one leader from each tribe (34:18). God set the outer lines and the inner shares alike. "Lines have fallen to me in pleasant places" (Ps 16:6).
34:19 of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh Forty at Kadesh (Josh 14:7), he had said, "We shall surely go up" (13:30). Now close to eighty, he would hand out the land he had trusted God for, and at eighty-five he asked for Hebron, giants and all (Josh 14:6-14). Faith that waits is never wasted.
34:20 Shemuel the son of Ammihud A form of the name Samuel. Except for Caleb, all the leaders are new men; none from chapters 1, 7 and 13 remain. Reuben and Gad are missing because they had their land already.

Ammihud." 29 These are those whom the LORD commanded to apportion the inheritance to the sons of Israel in the land of Canaan.

Cities for the Levites

1 And the LORD spoke to Moses (Moshe) in the plains of Moab (Mo'av) by the Jordan (Yarden) at Jericho (Yericho), saying, 2 "Command the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and they shall give to the Levites from the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and pasture land for the cities all around them you shall give to the Levites. 3 And the cities shall be theirs to dwell in, and their pasture lands shall be for their beasts and for their goods and for all their living things. 4 And the pasture lands of the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be from the wall of the city and outward approximately 1,500 feet (a thousand cubits) all around. 5 And you shall measure from outside the city, the east side, approximately 3,000 feet (two thousand by the cubit), and the south side, approximately 3,000 feet (two thousand by the cubit), and the west side, approximately 3,000 feet (two thousand by the cubit), and the north side, approximately 3,000 feet (two thousand by the cubit), and the city shall be in the middle. This shall be theirs, the pasture lands of the cities. 6 And the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be the six cities of refuge, which you shall give for the manslayer to flee there; and in addition to them you shall give forty-two cities. 7 All the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be forty-eight cities, them and their pasture lands. 8 And the cities which you shall give shall be from the possession of the sons of Israel; from the many you shall increase, and from the few you shall decrease; each according to his inheritance which they inherit shall give some of his cities to the Levites."

Cities of Refuge

9 And the LORD spoke to Moses, saying, 10 "Speak to the sons of Israel and say to them, 'When you are passing over the Jordan into the land of Canaan (Kena'an), 11 then you shall select for yourselves cities; cities of refuge they shall be for you, and a manslayer who strikes a soul unintentionally may flee there. 12 And the cities shall be for you as a refuge from the avenger, and the manslayer shall not die until he stands before the congregation for judgment. 13 And the cities which you shall give, six cities of refuge, shall be for you. 14 The three cities you shall give on the other side of the Jordan, and the three cities you shall give in the land of Canaan; cities of refuge they shall be. 15 For the sons of Israel and for the sojourner and for the resident among them, these six cities shall be for a refuge, for anyone who strikes a soul unintentionally to flee there. 16 And if he struck him with an instrument of iron, and he died, he is a manslayer; the manslayer shall surely be put to death. 17 And if he struck him with a stone in the hand, by which he may die, and he died, he is a manslayer; the manslayer shall surely be put to death. 18 Or if he struck him with an instrument of wood in the hand, by which he may die, and he died, he is a manslayer; the manslayer shall surely be put to death. 19 The avenger of blood, he shall put the manslayer to death; when he meets him, he shall put him to death. 20 And if he pushed him in hatred, or threw something at him while lying in wait, and he died, 21 or in enmity struck him with his hand, and he died, the one who struck shall surely be put to 34:29 These are those whom the LORD commanded to apportion the inheritance God chose the borders, the method and the men. His promises are specific. Jesus said, "I go to prepare a place for you" (John 14:2). Our inheritance is real, and it is kept for us (1 Pet 1:4).

35:2 they shall give to the Levites from the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in The Levites had no tribal land (18:20-24) and lived on the tithes, but they still needed homes and room for their animals.

35:4 from the wall of the city and outward approximately 1,500 feet all around Verse 5 then sets about 3,000 feet on each side. The two measures are hard to fit together, and teachers explain them in different ways. The simplest reading is that verse 4 gives the distance out from the wall and verse 5 the side of the outer square. Either way, the Levites had a set area no one could take.

35:7 All the cities which you shall give to the Levites shall be forty-eight cities Six cities of refuge and forty-two more, all listed in Joshua 21. Each tribe gave in proportion to its size (35:8).

35:8 from the many you shall increase, and from the few you shall decrease Jacob had said of Simeon and Levi, "I will scatter them in Israel" (Gen 49:7). God turned that judgment into blessing. The Levites, who taught God's Law (Deut 33:10), lived among every tribe, so no part of Israel was far from someone who could teach God's Word.

35:11 a manslayer who strikes a soul unintentionally may flee there A manslayer is anyone who killed another person, whether by intent or by accident.

35:12 as a refuge from the avenger The avenger is the go'el, the near relative, the same word used for a kinsman-redeemer. With no police force, he saw that a relative's blood was answered for. But anger can outrun the facts, and the refuge kept anyone from being killed before his case was heard.

35:14 The three cities you shall give on the other side of the Jordan, and the three cities you shall give in the land of Canaan Kedesh, Shechem and Hebron west of the Jordan; Bezer, Ramoth and Golan east of it (Josh 20:7-8). They were spread out so one was within reach from anywhere.

35:15 For the sons of Israel and for the sojourner and for the resident among them God's justice did not change with a person's family or nation.

35:16 the manslayer shall surely be put to death The weapon showed what he meant to do. Why so strict? "Whoever sheds the blood of man, by man his blood shall be shed; for in the image of God He made man" (Gen 9:6). This law did not treat life as cheap. It treated it as so precious that taking it on purpose cost the murderer his own.

35:20 if he pushed him in hatred, or threw something at him while lying in wait Intent mattered most. Hatred and lying in wait marked murder.

35:21 The avenger of blood shall put the manslayer to death when he meets him In Israel this came only after judgment by the congregation and on more than one witness (35:24, 30). It was never private revenge. Today God gives the sword of justice to governing authorities (Rom 13:4) and forbids us to take revenge ourselves (Rom 12:19). Christians differ on whether and when the death penalty should be used now. All agree murder is a terrible sin against God and a person made in His image.

death; he is a manslayer. The avenger of blood shall put the manslayer to death when he meets him. 22 And if he pushed him suddenly without enmity, or threw any instrument at him without lying in wait, 23 or with any stone by which he may die, without seeing him, and made it fall on him, and he died, and he was not his enemy and not seeking his harm, 24 then the congregation shall judge between the one who struck and the avenger of blood according to these judgments. 25 And the congregation shall deliver the manslayer from the hand of the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall return him to his city of refuge, where he had fled; and he shall dwell in it until the death of the high priest, whom one anointed with the holy oil. 26 And if the manslayer ever goes out beyond the border of his city of refuge, where he has fled, 27 and the avenger of blood finds him outside the border of his city of refuge, and the avenger of blood kills the manslayer, there is no blood guilt for him. 28 For he shall dwell in his city of refuge until the death of the high priest; and after the death of the high priest the manslayer shall return to the land of his possession.

Witnesses and Blood

29 And these shall be for you a statute of judgment throughout your generations in all your dwelling places. 30 Anyone who strikes a soul, at the mouth of witnesses one shall kill the manslayer; and one witness shall not testify against a soul to cause him to die. 31 And you shall not take a ransom for the life of a manslayer who is guilty to die, for he shall surely be put to death. 32 And you shall not take a ransom for fleeing to his city of refuge, to return to dwell in the land until the death of the priest. 33 And you shall not pollute the land in which you are; for the blood, it pollutes the land, and for the land atonement shall not be made for the blood which is shed in it, except by the blood of the one who shed it. 34 And you shall not make unclean the land in which you are dwelling, in the midst of which I dwell; for I, the LORD, dwell among the sons of Israel.'"

The Inheritance of Zelophehad's Daughters

1 And the heads of the fathers of the clan of the sons of Gilead (Gilad), the son of Machir (Makhir), the son of Manasseh (Menashe), of the clans of the sons of Joseph (Yosef), drew near, and they spoke before Moses (Moshe) and before the leaders, the heads of the fathers of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el). 2 And they said, "The LORD commanded my lord to give the land as an inheritance by lot to the sons of Israel; and my lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zelophehad (Tselofchad) our brother to his daughters. 3 And if they become wives to one of the sons of the tribes of the sons of Israel, then their inheritance will be withdrawn from the inheritance of our fathers and will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they will belong; and from the lot of our inheritance it will be withdrawn. 4 And if the jubilee of the sons of Israel comes, then their inheritance will be added to the inheritance of the tribe to which they will belong; and from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers their inheritance will be withdrawn." 5 And Moses commanded the sons of Israel at the mouth of the LORD, saying, "The tribe of the sons of Joseph is speaking

35:22 if he pushed him suddenly without enmity, or threw any instrument at him without lying in wait An accident, such as an axe head flying off its handle (Deut 19:5).
35:24 the congregation shall judge between the one who struck and the avenger of blood The case was heard openly. Neither grief nor rumor could decide it.
35:25 he shall dwell in it until the death of the high priest Why must an innocent man stay? Because a life had still been lost, and every human life matters to God. It also protected him from a relative who might not accept the verdict.
35:27 the avenger of blood finds him outside the border of his city of refuge Safety was inside the city, not outside it.
35:28 after the death of the high priest the manslayer shall return to the land of his possession Scripture does not explain why. Many see it as the end of an era, a kind of amnesty. I see a picture of Christ, and I say plainly it is a picture; the New Testament does not call these cities a type. But Hebrews speaks of "we who have fled for refuge" (Heb 6:18) and names Jesus our High Priest forever (Heb 6:20). We are guilty by our own sin, but in Him we are safe (Rom 8:1). Our High Priest's death has already happened, once for all, and He lives to intercede for us (Heb 7:25).
35:30 one witness shall not testify against a soul to cause him to die No one could be put to death on one person's word (Deut 17:6; 19:15). Jesus and Paul used the same rule in the church (Matt 18:16; 2 Cor 13:1).
35:31 you shall not take a ransom for the life of a manslayer who is guilty to die In many ancient nations a rich murderer could pay the family and go free. Not in Israel. Life could not be bought, and justice was the same for rich and poor (35:32).
35:33 for the blood, it pollutes the land Innocent blood left unanswered defiled the land itself, as Abel's blood cried out from the ground (Gen 4:10).
35:34 for I, the LORD, dwell among the sons of Israel The reason behind the whole chapter. Murder was an offense in the presence of God. The murderer's blood could cleanse the land of one crime, but Jesus' blood "speaks better things than that of Abel" (Heb 12:24). It does not cry for judgment; it speaks forgiveness.
36:1 the heads of the fathers of the clan of the sons of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh These were leading men of Zelophehad's own clan, coming before the leaders just as the daughters had done (27:2).
36:2 to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother to his daughters They did not question God's ruling. They saw a problem with it.
36:3 their inheritance will be withdrawn from the inheritance of our fathers A woman's land passed to her husband and children, so if the daughters married into another tribe, the land would go with them.
36:4 if the jubilee of the sons of Israel comes In the jubilee, every fiftieth year, sold land went back to its first family (Lev 25:10-13). Land passed on by marriage and inheritance was not sold, so it would not come back. It would be lost to Manasseh forever. The men were not trying to take anything from the sisters; they wanted to protect what God had given their tribe.
36:5 The tribe of the sons of Joseph is speaking right God said the same of the daughters (27:7). Both sides were right, and God's answer honored both.

right. 6 This is the word which the LORD has commanded concerning the daughters of Zelophehad, saying, 'To the one who is good in their eyes let them become wives; only to the clan of the tribe of their father shall they become wives.' 7 And the inheritance of the sons of Israel shall not go around from tribe to tribe; for the sons of Israel shall cling, each man to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers. 8 And every daughter who possesses an inheritance from the tribes of the sons of Israel shall become wife to one of the clan of the tribe of her father, so that the sons of Israel may possess, each man, the inheritance of his fathers. 9 And an inheritance shall not go around from a tribe to another tribe; for the tribes of the sons of Israel shall cling, each man to his own inheritance." 10 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so the daughters of Zelophehad did. 11 And Mahlah (Machla), Tirzah (Tirtsa), and Hoglah (Chogla), and Milcah (Milka), and Noah (No'a), the daughters of Zelophehad, became wives to the sons of their uncles. 12 Of the clans of the sons of Manasseh the son of Joseph they became wives, and their inheritance was with the tribe of the clan of their father. 13 These are the commandments and the judgments which the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses to the sons of Israel in the plains of Moab (Mo'av) by the Jordan (Yarden) at Jericho (Yericho).

36:6 To the one who is good in their eyes let them become wives The daughters were free to choose their husbands; they were not handed off. The only limit was that the husband be from their father's tribe. This rule was for Israel's land and is not a rule for Christian marriage, but believers are to marry "only in the Lord" (1 Cor 7:39). Whom we marry affects the faith we pass on.

36:7 the sons of Israel shall cling, each man to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers Each tribe's portion was a sign that God had kept His word. Naboth later refused to sell "the inheritance of my fathers" (1 Kgs 21:3). That was faithfulness, not stubbornness.

36:8 every daughter who possesses an inheritance The ruling for one family became a law for all.

36:10 Just as the LORD had commanded Moses, so the daughters of Zelophehad did In a book where so many complained and rebelled, these sisters asked for what God promised, accepted His limit gladly, and trusted Him with their marriages and their future.

36:11 became wives to the sons of their uncles They married cousins from their own clan. When the land was divided, they reminded Eleazar and Joshua of the LORD's command and received their land (Josh 17:3-6). Their faith held from the plains of Moab to the fields of Manasseh.

36:13 These are the commandments and the judgments which the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses to the sons of Israel in the plains of Moab The book's closing line sums up the laws given in Moab from chapter 22 on. Numbers began at Sinai counting the first generation; it ends with the second counted, organized and ready at the Jordan. The God who judged the parents kept His word to the children. "God is not a man, that He should lie" (23:19). He will bring all who trust in Jesus home to the inheritance He has prepared (1 Pet 1:3-5).

DEUTERONOMY

Introduction

Title

Deuteronomy is the fifth book of the Bible and the last of the five books of Moses, the Law or Torah. The name comes from a Greek word meaning second law. It is not a new law. It is the Law given a second time, explained and pressed home to the new generation before they crossed the Jordan. The Greek translators took the title from 17:18, which speaks of a "copy of this law." The Hebrew title comes from the first words, "These are the words," often shortened to Devarim, words. Deuteronomy is the book of remembering. Forty years after the exodus, Moses tells Israel what God has done, what God requires, and what will happen if they forget Him.

Author and Date

Moses. The book says, "Moses wrote this law" (31:9), and that he finished writing its words in a book (31:24). Jesus and the apostles quoted Deuteronomy as the words of Moses (Mark 10:3-5; Acts 3:22; Rom 10:19). The account of his death in chapter 34 was likely added by Joshua or another faithful writer soon after, and perhaps a few later notes, such as updated place names. Many modern scholars believe Deuteronomy was written centuries later and tie it to the book of the Law found in the temple in Josiah's day (2 Kgs 22). I take the book at its word. It was spoken in the fortieth year after the exodus, in the eleventh month (1:3), in the last weeks of Moses' life, about 1405 B.C.

Background and Setting

Numbers ends with Israel on the plains of Moab, east of the Jordan across from Jericho, and Deuteronomy never moves from there (1:1-5; 34:1). The generation that came out of Egypt has died in the wilderness because they would not trust God at Kadesh-barnea. Israel has just defeated Sihon and Og, the Amorite kings east of the Jordan. Their children are about to cross into the land promised to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and Moses will not go with them (3:23-27).

Most of the book is Moses preaching in the last weeks of his life. The book covers only a few weeks: Moses began on the first day of the eleventh month (1:3), Israel mourned him thirty days (34:8), and Joshua crossed the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month (Josh 4:19). But Moses looks back over forty years and ahead to life in the land, exile among the nations, and Israel's return to the LORD in the last days (4:25-31; 30:1-10).

The book is shaped like a covenant: what God has done (chapters 1 to 4), the commands (5 to 26), blessings and curses (27 and 28), heaven and earth as witnesses (30:19), and provision for the Law to be kept and read again (31). Many scholars have pointed out that this pattern is much like the treaties great kings of that time made with the peoples under them. The LORD is the great King, and Israel is His people. When you read a command here, remember who is hearing it: a nation God had already rescued. The Law was given to a people God had already saved. It was never the way to be saved.

Themes

The theme of Deuteronomy is love and loyalty to the LORD, the one God who chose Israel and redeemed them. "Hear, Israel: the LORD our God, the LORD is one. And you shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might" (6:4-5).

Remember and do not forget. Moses warns again and again against forgetting God in times of plenty and against the idols of Canaan (6:10-12; 8:11-18). Man does not live on bread alone (8:3). God chose Israel not because they were many or righteous but because He loved them (7:7-8; 9:4-6). What He asks is to fear Him, walk in His ways, love Him and serve Him with all the heart (10:12-13).

The laws for life in the land (chapters 12 to 26) show that love for God reaches into worship at the place He chooses, justice in the courts, care for the poor, the widow, the orphan and the sojourner, and honesty in daily business.

The book sets a clear choice before Israel: blessing and curse, life and death (chapters 28 and 30). "You shall choose life" (30:19). And it promises that even if Israel fails and is scattered, God will not forget His covenant with their fathers (4:31). He will gather them from the nations and circumcise their hearts (30:1-6). God is not finished with Israel.

Christ in Deuteronomy

When Satan tempted Jesus in the wilderness, Jesus answered him three times from Deuteronomy (8:3; 6:16; 6:13; Matt 4:1-11). Where Israel failed for forty years, Jesus stood firm for forty days. Asked for the greatest commandment, He answered with 6:5 (Matt 22:37-38). Moses promised that God would raise up a Prophet like him (18:15-18), and Peter preached that Jesus is that Prophet (Acts 3:22-26). The law that one who is hanged is "a curse of God" (21:23) is the verse Paul uses to show that Christ became a curse for us (Gal 3:13). Paul takes the words of 30:12-14 and applies them to "the word of faith" (Rom 10:8) about Christ. Deuteronomy shows what it means to love God with everything we are, and it shows that Israel could not do it. Only Christ has loved the Father that way, and through Him God gives a new heart to those who believe (30:6; Ezek 36:26).

Hard Passages

Some parts of Deuteronomy raise honest questions. The destruction of Sihon's and Og's cities (chapters 2 and 3), the command to devote the nations of Canaan to destruction (chapters 7 and 20), and the command to blot out Amalek (25:17-19) are explained as God's judgment on peoples whose sin had come to full measure, given for that time only and never a license for anyone to take a life in God's name today. The laws on the death penalty (chapters 13, 17, 21 and 22) were Israel's court law under the Mosaic covenant, not law for the church.

The laws about servants and captives (chapters 15, 21 and 23) and about women, marriage and divorce (chapters 21, 22, 24 and 25) are read as limits set in a hard and fallen world, as Jesus said of divorce (Matt 19:8), not as God's ideal. The notes speak plainly to victims of abuse and assault and urge that such crimes be reported. The curses of chapter 28 describe the horrors of siege and exile, and they explain why God allowed Israel's scattering without ever excusing hatred of the Jewish people. Where good teachers disagree, as on the reading of 32:8 and 32:43, the land covenant, divorce and remarriage, and the meaning of several hard laws, the notes give the main views.

Outline

I. Moses' First Message: Remember What God Has Done (1:1-4:49)
  A. From Horeb to Kadesh-barnea (1:1-46)
  B. Past Edom, Moab and Ammon; Sihon and Og defeated (2:1-3:29)
  C. Obey the LORD and make no idols (4:1-49)
II. Moses' Second Message: The Heart of the Law (5:1-11:32)
  A. The Ten Commandments again (5:1-33)
  B. Hear, O Israel (6:1-25)
  C. A holy people chosen in love (7:1-26)

Moses Speaks on the Plains of Moab

1 These are the words which Moses (Moshe) spoke to all Israel (Yisra'el) on the other side of the Jordan (Yarden), in the wilderness, in the Arabah (Arava) opposite Suph (Suf), between Paran and Tophel (Tofel) and Laban (Lavan) and Hazeroth (Chatserot) and Dizahab (Di-Zahav). 2 It is eleven days from Horeb (Chorev) by the way of the mountain of Seir (Se'ir) to Kadesh-barnea (Qadesh-Barnea). 3 And it was in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first of the month, Moses spoke to the sons of Israel according to all that the LORD had commanded him for them, 4 after he had struck Sihon (Sichon) king of the Amorite, who was dwelling in Heshbon (Cheshbon), and Og king of Bashan, who was dwelling in Ashtaroth (Ashtarot), in Edrei. 5 On the other side of the Jordan, in the land of Moab (Mo'av), Moses undertook to explain this law, saying, 6 "The LORD our God spoke to us at Horeb, saying, 'It is enough for you to remain at this mountain. 7 Turn and set out for yourselves, and go to the hill country of the Amorite and to all its neighbors in the Arabah, in the hill country and in the Shephelah and in the Negeb (Negev) and on the coast of the sea, the land of the Canaanite, and the Lebanon (Levanon), as far as the great river, the river Euphrates (Perat). 8 See, I have set the land before you; go in and take possession of the land which the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov), to give to them and to their seed after them.'

1:1 These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel on the other side of the Jordan East of the Jordan, in the Arabah, the low valley running from the Sea of Galilee through the Dead Sea. Some of the place names are hard to locate today, but the point is plain. Israel is at the edge of the land.
1:2 It is eleven days from Horeb by the way of the mountain of Seir to Kadesh-barnea A quiet rebuke. Horeb is another name for Mount Sinai, and Kadesh-barnea was an oasis on Canaan's southern border. An eleven-day trip took forty years. How many of our own wilderness years come from not trusting what God has said?
1:3 in the fortieth year, in the eleventh month, on the first of the month Moses dates his sermon near the end of his life. He spoke "according to all that the LORD had commanded him." This is not an old man's memories but God's Word through His prophet.
1:4 after he had struck Sihon king of the Amorite The recent victories east of the Jordan (Num 21:21-35) showed God had already begun giving them the land.
1:5 Moses undertook to explain this law That is what Deuteronomy is: the Law given at Sinai, explained and pressed home to a new generation. Moses told them why and pleaded with them to obey from the heart. Good teaching still does both.
1:6 It is enough for you to remain at this mountain Israel camped at Horeb about a year (Num 10:11-12), a holy year of hearing God's voice and building the tabernacle. But Sinai was a place to be prepared, not a place to settle.
1:8 See, I have set the land before you; go in and take possession The borders reach to the Euphrates (1:7), as promised to Abraham (Gen 15:18). The land was a gift, but they still had to walk in and take it. God often gives, and then calls us to trust Him enough to step forward.
1:9 I am not able by myself to bear you God's blessing made the job too big for one man (Exod 18). You cannot carry God's people alone, and God never asked you to.
1:10 you are today like the stars of the heavens for multitude Just as God promised Abraham (Gen 15:5).
1:11 May the LORD, the God of your fathers, add to you a thousand times as many as you are Moses does not complain about the blessing; he prays for more of it. But he is honest about the burden, the load and the strife (1:12). Leading God's people is heavy work.
1:13 men, wise and understanding and known Known means men with a proven name among their people. The early church followed the same pattern when it chose seven men "full of the Holy Spirit and wisdom" (Acts 6:3). God cares about the character of those who lead.
1:15 leaders of thousands and leaders of hundreds and leaders of fifties and leaders of tens Small matters were handled close to home, and only the hardest cases came up the line. God cares about order among His people.
1:16 between a man and his brother and his sojourner A sojourner was a foreigner living in Israel. He was to get the same justice as anyone born an Israelite.
1:17 You shall not show regard to faces in judgment; you shall hear the small as the great Do not favor the rich or ignore the poor (James 2:1-4). "You shall not be afraid of any man, for the judgment is God's." A judge sat in God's place and answered to Him, not the crowd. Do what is right, and leave the results with God.

do.

The Spies and the Refusal at Kadesh

19 And we set out from Horeb, and we walked through all that great and fearsome wilderness which you saw, on the way of the hill country of the Amorite, just as the LORD our God had commanded us; and we came to Kadesh-barnea. 20 And I said to you, 'You have come to the hill country of the Amorite, which the LORD our God is giving to us. 21 See, the LORD your God has set the land before you; go up, take possession, just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has spoken to you. Do not be afraid, and do not be dismayed.' 22 And all of you drew near to me and said, 'Let us send men before us, and let them spy out the land for us and bring back word to us of the way on which we shall go up and the cities to which we shall come.' 23 And the thing was good in my eyes, and I took twelve men from you, one man for a tribe. 24 And they turned and went up into the hill country, and they came to the wadi of Eshcol (Eshkol), and they spied it out. 25 And they took in their hand some of the fruit of the land and brought it down to us, and they brought back word to us and said, 'The land which the LORD our God is giving to us is good.' 26 And you were not willing to go up, and you rebelled against the mouth of the LORD your God. 27 And you murmured in your tents and said, 'In the LORD's hatred of us He has brought us out of the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), to give us into the hand of the Amorite, to destroy us. 28 Where are we going up? Our brothers have made our heart melt, saying, "The people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and fortified to the heavens; and also we have seen the sons of the Anakim there."' 29 And I said to you, 'You shall not be terrified, and you shall not be afraid of them. 30 The LORD your God, who goes before you, He will fight for you, according to all that He did with you in Egypt before your eyes, 31 and in the wilderness, where you saw that the LORD your God carried you, just as a man carries his son, in all the way which you walked until you came to this place.' 32 And in this thing you were not believing in the LORD your God, 33 who went before you on the way to seek out for you a place for you to camp, in fire by night to show you the way in which you should go, and in the cloud by day.

The LORD's Sentence and the Defeat at Hormah

34 And the LORD heard the sound of your words, and He was angry, and He swore, saying, 35 'Not one man among these men, this evil generation, shall see the good land which I swore to give to your fathers, 36 except Caleb (Kalev) the son of Jephunneh (Yefune); he shall see it, and to him I will give the land on which he has trodden, and to his sons, because he has followed fully after the LORD.' 37 Also with me the LORD was angry on account of you, saying, 'Also you shall not go in there. 38 Joshua (Yehoshua) the son of Nun, who stands before you, he shall go in there; strengthen him, for he will cause Israel to inherit it. 39 And your little ones, of whom you said, "They shall become plunder," and your sons, who today do not know good and evil, they shall go in there,

1:39 Isa 7:15,16; Num 14:3,31; Jonah 4:11

1:19 all that great and fearsome wilderness Moses does not soften it. The Sinai desert was harsh, dry and dangerous, but God brought them through it.
1:21 Do not be afraid, and do not be dismayed Fear was the real enemy at Kadesh, not the Amorites. When God tells us to go, He also tells us not to be afraid, because He goes with us.
1:22 Let us send men before us, and let them spy out the land for us Numbers 13:1-2 says God told Moses to send the spies. Here we learn the idea started with the people and God allowed it. Both are true. There was nothing wrong with looking the land over.
1:24 the wadi of Eshcol A wadi is a stream bed that runs with water in the rainy season and is dry the rest of the year.
1:25 The land which the LORD our God is giving to us is good The report started out true. God had not lied. The problem was not the land; it was what came next.
1:26 you were not willing to go up, and you rebelled against the mouth of the LORD your God The heart of the story. They did not just hesitate. They rebelled.
1:27 In the LORD's hatred of us He has brought us out of the land of Egypt A terrible thing to say about the God who split the sea for them. Unbelief twists everything God has done into proof that He is against us.
1:28 the cities are great and fortified to the heavens; and also we have seen the sons of the Anakim there The Anakim were a race of very tall men. Everything they said about the enemy was true. What they forgot was how big their God was.
1:30 The LORD your God, who goes before you, He will fight for you They did not have to win this war on their own. God had already fought for them in Egypt before their eyes.
1:31 the LORD your God carried you, just as a man carries his son One of the tenderest pictures in the book: a father carrying a tired child down a long road. Israel was not led by a cold master but carried by a Father. If you belong to Christ, that is what He is to you.
1:32 in this thing you were not believing in the LORD your God The root of it all: not the giants, not the walls, but unbelief.
1:33 in fire by night to show you the way in which you should go, and in the cloud by day The pillar was right in front of them while they said God hated them. "They were not able to enter in because of unbelief" (Heb 3:19). We can see God's faithfulness every day and still refuse to trust Him.
1:34 the LORD heard the sound of your words, and He was angry God heard what they said in their tents. He hears what we grumble too.
1:35 Not one man among these men, this evil generation, shall see the good land The judgment matched the sin. They said they did not want to go in. God said, then you will not.
1:36 because he has followed fully after the LORD Caleb saw the same giants and walls but trusted God (Num 14:24), and forty-five years later he claimed his mountain (Josh 14:6-14). One man who follows God fully can stand apart from a whole generation that does not.
1:37 Also with me the LORD was angry on account of you At Meribah Moses struck the rock in anger and did not treat God as holy before the people (Num 20:7-13). The people's complaining provoked him, and Moses was still responsible for what he did (Ps 106:32-33). Both are true.
1:38 Joshua the son of Nun, who stands before you, he shall go in there; strengthen him Joshua had served at Moses' side for forty years. The old leader's last job was to build up the new one. Every generation of leaders should do the same.
1:39 your little ones, of whom you said, "They shall become plunder," The parents used their children as an excuse not to obey. God turned it around. The very children they feared for would go in. Too young to "know good and evil," they were not punished for their parents' sin. The people listening to Moses were those children, now grown.

and to them I will give it, and they shall take possession of it. 40 And you, turn for yourselves and set out toward the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.' 41 And you answered and said to me, 'We have sinned against the LORD; we will go up and we will fight, according to all that the LORD our God commanded us.' DEUTERONOMY 2

Past Edom, Moab and Ammon

1 And we turned and set out into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea, just as the LORD had spoken to me, and we went around the mountain of Seir (Se'ir) many days. 2 And the LORD said to me, saying, 3 'It is enough for you to go around this hill country; turn for yourselves northward. 4 And command the people, saying, "You are passing through the territory of your brothers, the sons of Esau (Esav), who dwell in Seir, and they will be afraid of you; and you shall be very careful. 5 Do not contend with them, for I will not give to you any of their land, so much as a treading place for the sole of a foot, because I have given the mountain of Seir to Esau as a possession. 6 Food you shall buy from them with money, and you shall eat; and also water you shall purchase from them with money, and you shall drink. 7 For the LORD your God has blessed you in all the work of your hand; He has known your walking through this great wilderness. These forty years the LORD your God has been with you; you have not lacked a thing."' 8 And we passed on from our brothers, the sons of Esau, who dwell in Seir, from the way of the Arabah (Arava), from Elath (Elat) and from Ezion-geber (Etsyon-Gever). And we turned and passed on by the way of the wilderness of Moab (Mo'av). 9 And the LORD said to me, 'Do not harass Moab, and do not contend with them in battle, for I will not give to you any of his land as a possession, because I have given Ar to the sons of Lot as a possession. 10 The Emim formerly dwelt in it, a people great and numerous and tall like the Anakim. 11 They also are regarded as Rephaim, like the Anakim, and the Moabites call them Emim. 12 And in Seir the Horites dwelt formerly, and the sons of Esau dispossessed them, and they destroyed them from before them and dwelt in their place, just as Israel (Yisra'el) did to the land of his possession which the LORD gave to

1:41 We have sinned against the LORD; we will go up and we will fight It sounds like repentance, but God had already said the door was shut, and now they decided to do it their own way.
1:43 you acted presumptuously Presumption is acting as if God must bless what we decide to do. Saying "We have sinned" is not the same as surrendering to God. Real repentance does what God says now, not what we wish we had done yesterday.
1:44 they pursued you just as the bees do, and they crushed you Anyone who has stirred up a hive knows the picture. They were driven back as far as Hormah.
1:45 you returned and wept before the LORD, and the LORD did not listen to your voice Their tears came too late to change the sentence. God did not stop loving Israel; He fed and led them thirty-eight more years. But that generation lost the land.
1:46 you remained in Kadesh many days These things "happened to them as examples, and they were written for our admonition" (1 Cor 10:11). When God says go, trust Him and go.
2:1 we went around the mountain of Seir many days Mount Seir is the mountain country south and east of the Dead Sea, where Edom lived.
Thirty-eight years are told in one sentence, years of waiting and dying. But they were not wasted years for God. He was raising up a new generation.
2:3 It is enough for you to go around this hill country; turn for yourselves northward As God said "it is enough" at Horeb (1:6), He now says the wandering is over. God decides when a season ends. When He says turn, it is time to move.
2:4 your brothers, the sons of Esau Esau was Jacob's twin (Gen 25:24-26), and his descendants were Edom (Gen 36:8). Israel would be stronger, but they were to remember they were family and be very careful.
2:5 so much as a treading place for the sole of a foot God had given Mount Seir to Esau. Numbers 20:14-21 says Edom refused passage on the main road from Kadesh; here Israel later passes along Edom's border, where some Edomites traded with them.
2:6 Food you shall buy from them with money Not even food and water were to be taken by force. God's people do not grab what belongs to others just because they can (Rom 12:18).
2:7 These forty years the LORD your God has been with you; you have not lacked a thing He "has known your walking," watching over every step. Their clothes did not wear out (8:4), and manna came every morning. Even in discipline God cared for them. "My God will fill every need of yours" (Phil 4:19). He may not give all we want, but He never fails to give what we need.
2:9 I have given Ar to the sons of Lot as a possession Moab and Ammon came from Lot (Gen 19:36-38). God rules all nations and gives each its land (Acts 17:26). Israel could take only what God gave. The conquest was not a general license for war but a limited command for one land at one time.
2:10 The Emim formerly dwelt in it, a people great and numerous and tall like the Anakim These very tall peoples were counted as Rephaim (2:11). Israel had feared the Anakim at Kadesh (1:28). If God gave Moab and Edom victory over giants like these (2:12), will He not do it for His own people? Past faithfulness builds present courage.
2:12 just as Israel did to the land of his possession which the LORD gave to them These history notes read like Moses' own asides; "just as Israel did" may look to the land east of the Jordan already taken, or a later scribe may have added a touch.

them. 13 Now arise and pass over for yourselves the wadi of Zered.' And we passed over the wadi of Zered. 14 And the days which we walked from Kadesh-barnea (Qadesh-Barnea) until we passed over the wadi of Zered were thirty-eight years, until all the generation, the men of war, was finished from the midst of the camp, just as the LORD had sworn to them. 15 And also the hand of the LORD was against them, to throw them into confusion from the midst of the camp until they were finished. 16 And it was, when all the men of war had finished dying from the midst of the people, 17 and the LORD spoke to me, saying, 18 'You are passing over today the border of Moab, Ar, 19 and you will draw near opposite the sons of Ammon (Amon). Do not harass them, and do not contend with them, for I will not give to you any of the land of the sons of Ammon as a possession, because I have given it to the sons of Lot as a possession. 20 It also is regarded as a land of Rephaim; Rephaim dwelt in it formerly, and the Ammonites call them Zamzummim (Zamzumim), 21 a people great and numerous and tall like the Anakim; and the LORD destroyed them from before them, and they dispossessed them and dwelt in their place, 22 just as He had done for the sons of Esau, who dwell in Seir, in that He destroyed the Horite from before them, and they dispossessed them and have dwelt in their place until this day. 23 And the Avvim (Avim), who dwelt in villages as far as Gaza (Aza), the Caphtorim, who came out from Caphtor (Kaftor), destroyed them and dwelt in their place.

Sihon King of Heshbon Defeated

24 Arise, set out, and pass over the wadi of Arnon. See, I have given into your hand Sihon (Sichon) the king of Heshbon (Cheshbon), the Amorite, and his land; begin, take possession, and contend with him in battle. 25 This day I will begin to put the dread of you and the fear of you on the face of the peoples under all the heavens, who will hear the report of you, and they will tremble and be in anguish because of you.' 26 And I sent messengers from the wilderness of Kedemoth (Qedemot) to Sihon the king of Heshbon with words of peace, saying, 27 'Let me pass through your land; on the road, on the road I will go; I will not turn aside to the right or to the left. 28 Food you shall sell me for money, and I will eat; and water you shall give me for money, and I will drink; only let me pass through on my feet, 29 just as the sons of Esau, who dwell in Seir, and the Moabites, who dwell in Ar, did for me, until I pass over the Jordan (Yarden) into the land which the LORD our God is giving to us.' 30 And Sihon the king of Heshbon was not willing to let us pass through by him, for the LORD your God had hardened his spirit and made his heart obstinate, in order to give him into your hand, as at this day. 31 And the LORD said to me, 'See, I have begun to give over Sihon and his land before you; begin, take possession, to take possession of his land.' 32 And Sihon came out to meet us, he and all his people, for battle at Jahaz (Yahats). 33 And the LORD our God gave him over before us, and we struck him and his sons and all his people. 34 And we captured all his cities at that time, and we devoted to destruction every city of men, and the women and the little ones; we did not leave a

2:13 And we passed over the wadi of Zered The Zered marked the border between Edom and Moab. Obedience, plain and simple.
2:14 thirty-eight years, until all the generation, the men of war, was finished from the midst of the camp God keeps His word in judgment as surely as in blessing.
2:15 also the hand of the LORD was against them Their dying was not just old age. It was God's hand. Hebrews points to those "whose corpses fell in the wilderness" (Heb 3:17) to warn us not to harden our hearts.
2:16 when all the men of war had finished dying from the midst of the people God seems to have waited until the last of them was gone. Now the new generation would move.
2:19 I have given it to the sons of Lot as a possession God was faithful to Lot's family though Lot chose poorly and Moab and Ammon would often be Israel's enemies. He showed kindness to Lot for Abraham's sake.
2:21 the LORD destroyed them from before them Ammon too had conquered giants, the Zamzummim (2:20), and Moses says plainly it was the LORD who did it.
2:23 the Caphtorim, who came out from Caphtor Many scholars think Caphtor is Crete and these were early Philistines (Amos 9:7). God moves nations and sets their borders. No people is too great for Him, and that truth settles fear.
2:24 pass over the wadi of Arnon. See, I have given into your hand Sihon The Arnon was Moab's northern border. The Amorites were among the peoples whose land God promised Abraham, returning when "the iniquity of the Amorite" (Gen 15:16) was complete. God had waited four centuries.
2:25 This day I will begin to put the dread of you and the fear of you on the face of the peoples Rahab later told how news of Sihon and Og melted the hearts of Jericho (Josh 2:10-11).
2:26 with words of peace Israel offered peace first, asking no more than Edom and Moab had given (2:27-29). Sihon had every chance to let Israel pass.
2:30 the LORD your God had hardened his spirit and made his heart obstinate Sihon was not willing, and God hardened him, the same pattern as Pharaoh (Exod 8:15; 9:12). God did not make a good man evil. He gave a proud king over to the stubbornness already in him and used it for judgment. People are responsible for their choices, and God rules over all of them. Teachers stress these two truths differently.
2:31 I have begun to give over Sihon and his land before you; begin, take possession God has begun, and Israel must begin too. Victory was God's gift, and Israel still had to take hold of it.
2:32 Sihon came out to meet us, he and all his people, for battle at Jahaz Sihon attacked first (Num 21:23). Israel did not start this war.
2:33 the LORD our God gave him over before us The generation that feared the Amorites was gone, and their children beat them on the first try. The difference was not strength but trust in God.
2:34 we devoted to destruction every city of men, and the women and the little ones A hard verse. To devote to destruction (herem) means giving something wholly over to God, not kept for human use. It was God's judgment on peoples whose sin He had borne for four hundred years, including burning their children to their gods (12:31). Sihon was offered peace and chose war. It was a one-time command for one land and time, never a pattern, and no one may use it to excuse violence. God takes "no pleasure in the death of the wicked" (Ezek 33:11).

survivor. 35 Only the livestock we took as plunder for ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we had captured. 36 From Aroer (Aro'er), which is on the edge of the wadi of Arnon, and the city which is in the wadi, even as far as Gilead (Gilad), there was not a town which was too high for us; the LORD our God gave over everything before us. 37 Only to the land of the sons of Ammon you did not draw near, all the side of the wadi of Jabbok (Yaboq), and the cities of the hill country, and all that the LORD our God had commanded.

Og King of Bashan Defeated

1 And we turned and went up by the way of Bashan, and Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us, he and all his people, for battle at Edrei. 2 And the LORD said to me, 'Do not fear him, for into your hand I have given him and all his people and his land, and you shall do to him just as you did to Sihon (Sichon) the king of the Amorite, who was dwelling in Heshbon (Cheshbon).' 3 And the LORD our God gave into our hand also Og the king of Bashan and all his people, and we struck him until not a survivor was left to him. 4 And we captured all his cities at that time; there was not a town which we did not take from them: sixty cities, all the region of Argob (Argov), the kingdom of Og in Bashan. 5 All these were cities fortified with a high wall, gates and bar, besides the cities of the open villages, very many. 6 And we devoted them to destruction, just as we had done to Sihon the king of Heshbon, devoting to destruction every city of men, the women and the little ones. 7 And all the livestock and the spoil of the cities we took as plunder for ourselves. 8 And we took at that time the land from the hand of the two kings of the Amorite who were on the other side of the Jordan (Yarden), from the wadi of Arnon to the mountain of Hermon (Chermon) 9 (the Sidonians call Mount Hermon Sirion (Siryon), and the Amorites call it Senir), 10 all the cities of the plain and all Gilead (Gilad) and all Bashan as far as Salecah (Salkha) and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. 11 For only Og the king of Bashan remained of the remnant of the Rephaim. Look, his bed was a bed of iron; is it not in Rabbah of the sons of Ammon (Amon)? Approximately 13.5 feet (nine cubits) was its length, and approximately 6 feet (four cubits) its width, by the cubit of a man.

The Land East of the Jordan Divided

12 And this land we took possession of at that time; from Aroer (Aro'er), which is by the wadi of Arnon, and half the hill country of Gilead and its cities, I gave to the Reubenites and to the Gadites. 13 And the rest of Gilead and all Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh (Menashe), all the region of Argob, with all Bashan; that is called the land of Rephaim. 14 Jair (Ya'ir) the son of Manasseh took all the region of Argob as far as the border of the Geshurites and the Maacathites, and he called them, Bashan, by his own name, Havvoth-jair (Chavvot-Ya'ir), until this day. 15 And to Machir (Makhir) I gave Gilead. 16 And to the Reubenites and to the Gadites I gave from Gilead even as far as the wadi of Arnon, the middle of the wadi and its border, and as far as the Jabbok (Yaboq), the wadi, the border of the sons of Ammon, 17 and the Arabah (Arava) and the Jordan and its border, from Chinnereth (Kineret) even as far as the sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea, under the slopes of the Pisgah

2:35 Only the livestock we took as plunder for ourselves Here God allowed the livestock and spoil to be kept. The deaths of women and children trouble us, and they should. Scripture asks us to trust that the Judge of all the earth does justice (Gen 18:25). The same God who judged the Amorites sent His Son to bear judgment for sinners, so whoever turns to Him may live.
2:36 there was not a town which was too high for us Their fathers said the cities were "fortified to the heavens" (1:28). The cities had not gotten smaller; Israel's faith had gotten bigger.
2:37 Only to the land of the sons of Ammon you did not draw near Israel stopped where God said stop. Faith not only charges ahead when God says go; it also holds back when God says no.
3:1 Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us Bashan was the high, fertile land east of the Sea of Galilee, famous for its cattle and oaks (Ps 22:12; Isa 2:13). Like Sihon, Og came out to fight.
3:2 Do not fear him, for into your hand I have given him God spoke as if it were already done. When God has promised something, it is as good as finished. The first victory became the pattern for the second; what He did yesterday is the reason to trust Him today.
3:4 sixty cities, all the region of Argob Cities "fortified with a high wall, gates and bar" (3:5), exactly the kind the spies said Israel could never take (1:28).
3:6 we devoted them to destruction, just as we had done to Sihon the king of Heshbon The same hard word as 2:34. Og also attacked, and his people were Amorites whose sin God had long warned of (Gen 15:16). It was God's judgment in one place and time, never a pattern for later wars, and it gives no one permission to harm others in God's name.
3:8 from the wadi of Arnon to the mountain of Hermon The Arnon runs into the Dead Sea from the east; Hermon is the high, snowy mountain far to the north, which other peoples called Sirion and Senir (3:9).
3:11 Look, his bed was a bed of iron Og was the last of the Rephaim, the tall peoples, and his bed of about 13.5 by 6 feet was still on display in Rabbah of Ammon. Some read it as a stone coffin, but the text says bed of iron. The spies would have felt like grasshoppers (Num 13:33). The bigger the enemy, the clearer it is that the victory belongs to God.
3:12 I gave to the Reubenites and to the Gadites The southern part east of the Jordan. These tribes asked for it because it was good for their many livestock (Num 32).
3:13 I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh The rest of Gilead and all Bashan went to half of Manasseh.
3:14 Havvoth-jair The villages of Jair. Machir, another clan of Manasseh, received Gilead (3:15).
3:17 from Chinnereth even as far as the sea of the Arabah, the Salt Sea From the Sea of Galilee down to the Dead Sea. Why list all these places? Because the land was real. God's promises were fields, towns and rivers that real families received.

(Pisga) eastward. 18 And I commanded you at that time, saying, 'The LORD your God has given to you this land to take possession of it. Armed you shall pass over before your brothers, the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), all sons of valor. 19 Only your wives and your little ones and your livestock (I know that you have much livestock) shall remain in your cities which I have given to you, 20 until the LORD gives rest to your brothers as to you, and they also take possession of the land which the LORD your God is giving to them on the other side of the Jordan; and you shall return, each man to his possession which I have given to you.' 21 And I commanded Joshua (Yehoshua) at that time, saying, 'Your eyes are the ones seeing all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings; thus the LORD will do to all the kingdoms to which you are passing over. 22 You shall not fear them, for the LORD your God, He is the One fighting for you.'

Moses Sees the Land from Pisgah

23 And I sought favor from the LORD at that time, saying, 24 'Lord GOD, You have begun to show Your servant Your greatness and Your strong hand; for who is a god in the heavens and on the earth who does according to Your works and according to Your mighty deeds? 25 Let me pass over, please, and let me see the good land which is on the other side of the Jordan, this good hill country and the Lebanon (Levanon).' 26 And the LORD was furious with me on account of you, and He did not listen to me; and the LORD said to me, 'It is enough for you; do not continue to speak to Me again about this matter. 27 Go up to the top of the Pisgah, and lift up your eyes westward and northward and southward and eastward, and see with your eyes, for you shall not pass over this Jordan. 28 And command Joshua, and strengthen him and make him courageous, for he shall pass over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which you will see.' 29 And we remained in the valley opposite Beth-peor (Bet-Pe'or).

Keep the LORD's Statutes

1 And now, Israel (Yisra'el), listen to the statutes and to the judgments which I am teaching you to do, so that you may live, and you shall go in and take possession of the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, is giving to you. 2 You shall not add to the word which I am commanding you, and you shall not take away from it, so as to keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I am commanding you. 3 Your eyes are the ones seeing what the LORD did at Baal-peor (Ba'al-Pe'or), for every man who walked after Baal-peor, the LORD your God destroyed him from your midst. 4 And you who were clinging to the LORD your God are alive, all of you, today. 5 See, I have taught you statutes and judgments, just as the LORD my God commanded me, to do thus in the midst of the land to which you are going to take possession of it. 6 And you shall keep them and do them, for that is your wisdom and your understanding in the eyes of the peoples who will hear all these statutes, and they will

3:18 Armed you shall pass over before your brothers, the sons of Israel, all sons of valor They had their land, but their job was not finished (Num 32:6).
3:20 until the LORD gives rest to your brothers as to you You do not rest until your brothers have rest too. They kept their word, and Joshua sent them home only after the land was taken (Josh 22:1-4). In the church we do not stop caring once our own needs are met: "Bear one another's burdens" (Gal 6:2).
3:21 Your eyes are the ones seeing all that the LORD your God has done to these two kings Joshua had seen the fear at Kadesh and the fall of Sihon and Og. Moses told him to let what he had seen shape what he expected.
3:22 the LORD your God, He is the One fighting for you God would say the same after Moses died: "Be strong and be bold" (Josh 1:9). A leader's courage comes from knowing God fights for His people.
3:23 I sought favor from the LORD at that time Now Moses tells something personal. He prayed. He begged.
3:24 Lord GOD, You have begun to show Your servant Your greatness and Your strong hand Lord GOD is Adonai YHWH, Master and LORD. He begins with worship. After the sea, Sinai, Sihon and Og, Moses says it is only the beginning.
3:25 Let me pass over, please, and let me see the good land After forty years with a grumbling people, Moses longed to stand in the land. There is nothing wrong with asking God for what our hearts long for.
3:26 It is enough for you; do not continue to speak to Me again about this matter The people provoked him at Meribah, but his own sin kept him out (Num 20:12). God's no was final. Paul also prayed three times and heard, "My grace is sufficient for you" (2 Cor 12:9).
3:27 Go up to the top of the Pisgah, and lift up your eyes Even in His no, God was kind. Moses would see it all (34:1-4). And centuries later he did stand in the land, talking with Jesus on the mount of transfiguration (Matt 17:3). God's no was not the end of the story.
3:28 command Joshua, and strengthen him and make him courageous God gave Moses one more job. Faithful people do not quit when God says no; they pour themselves into those who will carry on the work. Moses spent his last days preaching, writing and preparing Joshua.
3:29 we remained in the valley opposite Beth-peor Near where Israel sinned with Baal of Peor (Num 25), and near where Moses would be buried (34:6). Here he stands, ready to preach the sermons of this book.
4:1 listen to the statutes and to the judgments which I am teaching you to do, so that you may live Statutes are fixed rules; judgments are rulings that apply the law to real cases. For Israel, obedience meant life in the land. It was not how they became God's people. They already were. It was how they would enjoy what God gave them.
4:2 You shall not add to the word which I am commanding you, and you shall not take away from it We cannot make God's Word say more than He said or cut out what we dislike. The same warning closes the Bible (Rev 22:18-19). The Pharisees added rules and Jesus rebuked them (Mark 7:8-9). Many today take away what is hard. Both are dangerous.
4:3 Your eyes are the ones seeing what the LORD did at Baal-peor Baal was the Canaanite god of storm and fertility. At Peor many Israelite men joined Moab's worship and its sexual sin, and twenty-four thousand died (Num 25:1-9).
4:4 you who were clinging to the LORD your God are alive, all of you, today To cling is to hold tight, like a man holding a rope. That is what faith looks like when temptation pulls hard.
4:6 that is your wisdom and your understanding in the eyes of the peoples God's Law was meant to be a witness to the nations. Jesus says, "You are the light of the world" (Matt 5:14). People should look at how Christians live and see the wisdom and nearness of our God.

say, 'Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.' 7 For what great nation is there which has a god near to it like the LORD our God in all our calling to Him? 8 And what great nation is there which has righteous statutes and judgments like all this law which I am setting before you today? 9 Only take heed to yourself, and guard your soul very carefully, lest you forget the things which your eyes have seen, and lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life; and you shall make them known to your sons and to your sons' sons, 10 the day that you stood before the LORD your God at Horeb (Chorev), when the LORD said to me, 'Assemble the people to Me, and let Me make them hear My words, that they may learn to fear Me all the days that they are alive on the ground, and that they may teach their sons.' 11 And you drew near and stood under the mountain, and the mountain was burning with fire to the heart of the heavens: darkness, cloud, and thick darkness. 12 And the LORD spoke to you from the midst of the fire; the voice of words you were hearing, and a form you were not seeing, only a voice. 13 And He declared to you His covenant, which He commanded you to do, the ten words; and He wrote them on two tablets of stone. 14 And the LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, for you to do them in the land to which you are passing over to take possession of it.

No Image of the LORD

15 And you shall guard your souls very carefully, for you did not see any form on the day the LORD spoke to you at Horeb from the midst of the fire, 16 lest you act corruptly and make for yourselves a carved image, the form of any figure, the likeness of male or female, 17 the likeness of any animal that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird that flies in the heavens, 18 the likeness of any moving thing on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters under the earth; 19 and lest you lift up your eyes toward the heavens, and you see the sun and the moon and the stars, all the host of the heavens, and you are drawn away and bow down to them and serve them, which the LORD your God has allotted to all the peoples under all the heavens. 20 And you the LORD has taken, and He brought you out from the iron furnace, from Egypt (Mitsrayim), to be a people of inheritance to Him, as at this day. 21 And the LORD was angry with me on account of your words, and He swore that I would not pass over the Jordan (Yarden), and that I would not go into the good land which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance. 22 For I am dying in this land; I am not passing over the Jordan; and you are passing over, and you shall take possession of this good land. 23 Take heed to yourselves, lest you forget the covenant of the LORD your God which He made with you, and make for yourselves a carved image, the form of anything about which the LORD your God has commanded you. 24 For the LORD your God is a consuming fire; He is a jealous God.

Exile and Return Foretold

25 When you father sons and sons' sons, and you have grown old in the land, and you act corruptly and make a carved image, the form of anything, and you do the evil in the eyes of the LORD your God, to provoke Him to anger, 26 I call the heavens and the earth to witness against you today that you will surely perish quickly from the land to which you are passing over the Jordan to take possession of it; you shall not prolong your days on it, for you will surely be destroyed.

4:7 what great nation is there which has a god near to it like the LORD our God in all our calling to Him? Other nations had gods far away, silent or made of stone. Israel's God was near and heard them when they called.
4:8 what great nation is there which has righteous statutes and judgments like all this law Ancient law codes often favored the rich. God's Law protected the weak, the widow, the orphan and the foreigner.
4:9 lest they depart from your heart all the days of your life Forgetting is the great danger in Deuteronomy. We can know a story and still let it stop shaping our lives. The cure is to pass it on to children and grandchildren.
4:10 that they may learn to fear Me all the days that they are alive To fear God is to stand in awe of Him, taking Him so seriously that we want to please Him above all. It is the beginning of wisdom (Prov 9:10).
4:11 the mountain was burning with fire to the heart of the heavens: darkness, cloud, and thick darkness Some listening had been children at Sinai; all had heard it told.
4:12 a form you were not seeing, only a voice The key point for what follows. God spoke. He did not show a shape.
4:13 He declared to you His covenant, which He commanded you to do, the ten words A covenant is a solemn, binding agreement. The Ten Commandments were at the heart of God's covenant with Israel at Sinai. Deuteronomy is the teaching of the rest of the statutes for life in the land (4:14).
4:16 lest you act corruptly and make for yourselves a carved image Egypt had gods with the heads of birds and animals; Canaan had male and female idols. An image always shrinks God down. Mankind "changed the glory of the incorruptible God into a likeness of an image of corruptible man" (Rom 1:23). God is spirit (John 4:24), and the only true image of God is His Son, "the image of the invisible God" (Col 1:15).
4:19 you see the sun and the moon and the stars, all the host of the heavens, and you are drawn away and bow down to them The stars are creatures given to light all peoples (Gen 1:14-18), gifts, not gods. People still look to them through horoscopes and astrology. God's people look to the One who made them.
4:20 He brought you out from the iron furnace, from Egypt, to be a people of inheritance to Him Egypt was like a furnace for melting iron, a place of crushing suffering. God pulled them out to be His treasured possession.
4:21 the LORD was angry with me on account of your words Moses would not go in, but they would (4:22). He would not be there to remind them; they must remember on their own.
4:24 the LORD your God is a consuming fire; He is a jealous God Fire pictures God's holiness, burning up what is impure. Jealous is not petty envy but the holy love of a husband who will not share his wife's heart. "Our God is also a consuming fire" (Heb 12:29). His love is the very reason He will not share us with idols.
4:25 When you father sons and sons' sons, and you have grown old in the land, and you act corruptly Notice the word when, not if. Moses knew the human heart.
4:26 I call the heavens and the earth to witness against you today Heaven and earth are called as witnesses to the covenant, as in a court case.

27 And the LORD will scatter you among the peoples, and you will be left few in number among the nations to which the LORD will drive you. 28 And there you will serve gods, the work of the hands of man, wood and stone, which do not see and do not hear and do not eat and do not smell. 29 And from there you will seek the LORD your God, and you will find Him, when you search for Him with all your heart and with all your soul. 30 When you are in distress, and all these things have come upon you, at the end of the days you will return to the LORD your God and listen to His voice. 31 For a compassionate God is the LORD your God; He will not let you go, and He will not destroy you, and He will not forget the covenant of your fathers which He swore to them.

The LORD Alone Is God

32 For ask, please, about the former days which were before you, from the day that God created mankind on the earth, and from one end of the heavens even to the other end of the heavens, whether anything has happened like this great thing, or whether anything like it has been heard. 33 Has a people heard the voice of God speaking from the midst of the fire, just as you yourself have heard, and lived? 34 Or has a god tried to come to take for himself a nation from the midst of a nation, by trials, by signs and by wonders and by war and by a strong hand and by an outstretched arm and by great terrors, according to all that the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes? 35 You were shown it, to know that the LORD, He is God; there is no other besides Him. 36 From the heavens He made you hear His voice to discipline you, and on the earth He showed you His great fire, and you heard His words from the midst of the fire. 37 And because He loved your fathers, and He chose his seed after him, and He brought you out by His presence, by His great power, from Egypt, 38 to dispossess from before you nations greater and mightier than you, to bring you in, to give to you their land as an inheritance, as at this day, 39 and you shall know today, and you shall bring it back to your heart, that the LORD, He is God in the heavens above and on the earth beneath; there is no other. 40 And you shall keep His statutes and His commandments which I am commanding you today, that it may go well with you and with your sons after you, and that you may prolong your days on the ground which the LORD your God is giving to you, all the days."

Cities of Refuge East of the Jordan

41 Then Moses (Moshe) set apart three cities on the other side of the Jordan, toward the rising of the sun, 42 for a killer to flee there, who kills his neighbor without knowledge, and he was not hating him in time past; and he may flee to one of these cities and live: 43 Bezer (Betser) in the wilderness, in the land of the plain, for the Reubenites; and Ramoth (Ramot) in Gilead (Gilad), for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan, for the Manassites.

The Law Set Before Israel

44 And this is the law which Moses set before the sons of Israel; 45 these are the testimonies and the statutes and the judgments which Moses spoke to the sons of Israel when they came out from Egypt, 46 on the other side of the Jordan, in the valley opposite Beth-peor (Bet-Pe'or), in the land of Sihon (Sichon) the king of the Amorite, who was dwelling in Heshbon (Cheshbon), whom Moses and the sons of Israel

4:27 the LORD will scatter you among the peoples Exactly what happened, to Israel under Assyria in 722 B.C. (2 Kgs 17:6-18) and to Judah under Babylon in 586 B.C. (2 Kgs 25), seven to eight hundred years after Moses spoke.
4:28 wood and stone, which do not see and do not hear The punishment fits the sin. If they wanted idols, they would get a land full of them, and those idols could not help them at all.
4:29 you will find Him, when you search for Him with all your heart and with all your soul Even in exile the door would be open. Jeremiah repeated this promise to the exiles in Babylon (Jer 29:13).
4:30 at the end of the days you will return to the LORD your God The phrase points far ahead. Israel returned from Babylon, but the prophets speak of a greater return, "at the end of the days" (Hos 3:5), after "a time of distress for Jacob" (Jer 30:7). I believe this points to the Tribulation, before Christ returns, when Israel as a nation will turn to the Lord and "all Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). Others read it as the return from exile or Jews coming to Christ in this age.
4:31 He will not let you go, and He will not destroy you, and He will not forget the covenant of your fathers God's covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob still stands. He has not cast off His people (Rom 11:1-2).
4:32 from the day that God created mankind on the earth Search all of history. Has anything like this ever happened?
4:33 Has a people heard the voice of God speaking from the midst of the fire, just as you yourself have heard, and lived? No other nation could say this.
4:34 to take for himself a nation from the midst of a nation God reached into the middle of the world's greatest power and pulled out a nation of slaves for Himself. What other God came down Himself, took on flesh, died for His enemies and rose again? There is none.
4:35 the LORD, He is God; there is no other besides Him The exodus was a lesson in who God is. All the others are nothing (1 Cor 8:4).
4:36 From the heavens He made you hear His voice to discipline you Discipline means training and correction, as a father trains a son. "Whom the Lord loves He disciplines" (Heb 12:6).
4:37 because He loved your fathers, and He chose his seed after him God did not choose Israel because they were great or good, but because He loved the patriarchs (7:7-8). In Hebrew, "By His presence" is by His face. God Himself went with them. We love Him because He first loved us (1 John 4:19).
4:39 you shall bring it back to your heart The heart of chapter 4: one God, ruling above and below, and no other. Knowing it in the head is not enough. Let it go deep and change how you live.
4:40 that it may go well with you and with your sons after you Obedience does not earn salvation for us, but God's ways are still the best way to live, and how we live shapes the generations after us.
4:41 Moses set apart three cities on the other side of the Jordan Cities of refuge for one who killed by accident, without hatred beforehand (Num 35:9-15). Perhaps Moses wanted to finish this himself while he still could.
4:43 Bezer in the wilderness, in the land of the plain, for the Reubenites With Ramoth for Gad and Golan for Manasseh. Three more came west of the Jordan (19:1-10; Josh 20). These cities show justice and mercy together, and we "who have fled for refuge" (Heb 6:18) find our refuge in Christ.
4:44 this is the law which Moses set before the sons of Israel A heading for Moses' second and longest sermon, beginning in chapter 5. Testimonies are God's solemn statements of His will (4:45).

DEUTERONOMY 5

The Covenant at Horeb

1 And Moses (Moshe) called to all Israel (Yisra'el), and he said to them, "Hear, Israel, the statutes and the judgments which I am speaking in your ears today, and you shall learn them and be careful to do them. 2 The LORD our God made a covenant with us at Horeb (Chorev). 3 Not with our fathers did the LORD make this covenant, but with us, we, these here today, all of us alive. 4 Face to face the LORD spoke with you at the mountain from the midst of the fire, 5 I was standing between the LORD and you at that time to declare to you the word of the LORD, for you were afraid because of the fire, and you did not go up on the mountain, saying,

The Ten Commandments

6 'I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), from the house of slaves. 7 There shall not be to you other gods before My face. 8 You shall not make for yourself a carved image, any form that is in the heavens above, and that is on the earth beneath, and that is in the waters under the earth. 9 You shall not bow down to them, and you shall not be made to serve them; for I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons, and on the third generation and on the fourth generation of those who hate Me, 10 and doing steadfast love to thousands, of those who love Me and of those who keep My commandments. 11 You shall not take up the name of the LORD your God for emptiness, for the LORD will not hold guiltless the one who takes up His name for emptiness. 12 Keep the day of the Sabbath, to sanctify it, just as the LORD your God commanded you. 13 Six days you shall labor and do all your work, 14 and the seventh day is a Sabbath to the LORD your God; you shall not do any work, you and your son and your daughter and your slave and your female slave and your ox and your donkey and all your livestock and your sojourner who is within your gates, so that your slave and your female slave may rest like you. 15 And you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God brought you out from there with a strong hand and with an outstretched arm; therefore the LORD your God has commanded you to observe the day of the Sabbath.

4:48 even as far as the mountain of Sion, that is Mount Hermon Moses taught the Law on land God had already given. The commands came after the gift. That is always God's order: grace first, then obedience.

5:1 you shall learn them and be careful to do them Four verbs: hear, learn, be careful, do. Hearing God's Word is where it starts, not where it ends. Be doers of the word and not hearers only (James 1:22).

5:3 Not with our fathers did the LORD make this covenant, but with us Many listening were children at Horeb or not yet born. Moses means not only with their fathers. The covenant bound this generation as surely as the last. Every generation must take God's Word as spoken to them, "all of us alive."

5:4 Face to face the LORD spoke with you at the mountain from the midst of the fire Directly and personally. The whole nation heard His voice speak the ten words (5:22).

5:5 I was standing between the LORD and you at that time Because they were afraid, Moses stood between them and God for everything else. He points ahead to the "one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus" (1 Tim 2:5). Moses could only stand between. Christ, both God and man, brings us all the way to God.

5:6 I am the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slaves As in Exodus 20:2, God says who He is and what He has done before giving one command. He did not say, keep these and I will free you. He said, I have freed you; now live as My people. We do not keep God's commands to be saved. We keep them because we have been saved (Eph 2:8-10).

5:7 There shall not be to you other gods before My face The first commandment is the foundation of the rest. Since God is everywhere, there is no place another god is allowed. Canaan's gods promised rain, crops and children, and the temptation would be to add a few for good measure. Anything we love, trust or fear more than God takes His place; Paul calls covetousness idolatry (Col 3:5).

5:8 You shall not make for yourself a carved image The first commandment says whom to worship; the second says how. They saw no form at Horeb, only a voice (4:15-18).

5:9 I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of fathers on sons Holy jealousy, like a faithful husband's; idolatry is spiritual adultery. This does not mean God punishes innocent children for their parents' guilt; children are not put to death for their fathers (24:16). When children follow their parents in hating God, the effects of sin pass on and pile up.

5:10 doing steadfast love to thousands, of those who love Me Steadfast love is hesed, God's loyal covenant love. Judgment reaches three or four generations; His love reaches thousands, a thousand generations (7:9). God's mercy is far bigger than His anger.

5:11 You shall not take up the name of the LORD your God for emptiness To use His name in a false, empty or careless way: swearing falsely, cursing, promising in His name what we do not mean, or calling ourselves His people while living as if He does not matter. Jesus taught us to pray, "let Your name be sanctified" (Matt 6:9).

5:12 Keep the day of the Sabbath, to sanctify it, just as the LORD your God commanded you Sabbath means rest, or stopping. Exodus 20:8 says remember; here Moses says keep, reminding them of a command already given.

5:13 Six days you shall labor and do all your work Work is good, and God commands it. But the seventh day belonged to the LORD, and no one in the house was to work, down to the animals and the sojourner (5:14).

5:15 you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt Exodus grounds the Sabbath in creation (Exod 20:11). Here Moses adds a second reason: so the servants may rest too. In Egypt they worked without rest; now free, they were not to treat anyone as Pharaoh treated them. Jesus said, "The Sabbath was made for the sake of man" (Mark 2:27). Paul calls it "a shadow of the things coming, but the body is of Christ" (Col 2:17). Believers differ: some apply it to Sunday, the Lord's day (Acts 20:7), some keep the seventh day, and many see it fulfilled in "a Sabbath rest for the people of God" (Heb 4:9) while still valuing a day of rest. Our rest should never come at the cost of someone else's.

16 Honor your father and your mother, just as the LORD your God has commanded you, so that your days may be prolonged, and so that it may go well with you on the ground which the LORD your God is giving to you. 17 You shall not murder. 18 And you shall not commit adultery. 19 And you shall not steal. 20 And you shall not answer against your neighbor as a witness of falsehood. 21 And you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, and you shall not desire your neighbor's house, his field, and his slave and his female slave, his ox and his donkey, and anything that belongs to your neighbor.'

The People Ask Moses to Stand Between

22 These words the LORD spoke to all your assembly at the mountain from the midst of the fire, the cloud, and the thick darkness, with a great voice, and He added no more; and He wrote them on two tablets of stone and gave them to me. 23 And it was, when you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness, while the mountain was burning with fire, that you drew near to me, all the heads of your tribes and your elders, 24 and you said, 'Look, the LORD our God has shown us His glory and His greatness, and His voice we have heard from the midst of the fire; this day we have seen that God speaks with man, and he lives. 25 And now, why should we die? For this great fire will consume us; if we continue to hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we will die. 26 For who is there of all flesh that has heard the voice of the living God speaking from the midst of the fire as we have, and lived? 27 You draw near and hear all that the LORD our God will say; and you shall speak to us all that the LORD our God will speak to you, and we will listen and do it.' 28 And the LORD heard the sound of your words when you spoke to me, and the LORD said to me, 'I have heard the sound of the words of this people which they have spoken to you; they have done well in all that they have spoken. 29 Oh that they had this heart in them, to fear Me and to keep all My commandments all the days, so that it might go well with them and with their sons forever! 30 Go, say to them, "Return to your tents." 31 And you, stand here with Me, and let Me speak to you all the commandment and the statutes and the judgments which you shall teach them, and they shall do them in the land which I am giving to them to take possession of it.' 32 And you shall be careful to do just as the LORD your God has commanded you; you shall not turn aside to the right or to the left. 33 In all the way which the LORD your God has commanded you, you shall walk, so that you may live, and it may be well with you, and you may prolong your days in the land which you shall take possession of.

5:33 Jer 7:23; Deut 4:40; Deut 10:12

5:16 Honor your father and your mother The commands turn from God to people, starting at home. To honor is to give weight to: obeying when young, respecting always, caring for parents when old (Mark 7:10-13; 1 Tim 5:4). Paul calls it "the first commandment with a promise" (Eph 6:2). Honor does not mean following parents into sin or staying under abuse.
5:17 You shall not murder Human life is sacred because each person bears God's image (Gen 9:6). The word ratsach means unlawful killing; the same Law allowed war and the death penalty for murder (19:11-13). Jesus went to the heart (Matt 5:21-22): "Everyone who hates his brother is a murderer" (1 John 3:15). By that measure, which of us is innocent?
5:18 And you shall not commit adultery From here each command begins with "and," tying them together. God made marriage, one man and one woman for life (Gen 2:24). Jesus said looking with lust is adultery "in his heart" (Matt 5:28). This calls all of us, married or single, to purity, and Christ forgives those who confess (1 John 1:9).
5:19 And you shall not steal God gives people the right to own things. Stealing includes cheating in business, holding back wages and not giving an honest day's work. "Let the one who steals no longer steal, but rather let him labor" (Eph 4:28). Grace turns a taker into a giver.
5:20 you shall not answer against your neighbor as a witness of falsehood First a court setting, where a false witness could cost a man his life (19:15-19). But it reaches lies, gossip and slander. Jesus Himself was condemned by false witnesses (Mark 14:56-57). "Speak truth each one with his neighbor" (Eph 4:25).
5:21 you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, and you shall not desire your neighbor's house, his field Deuteronomy puts the wife first, alone, then uses a second word, desire, and adds "his field" for a people about to receive farmland. This command is all in the heart, where only God can see. It showed Paul his sin: "I also had not known covetousness except that the law was saying, 'You shall not covet'" (Rom 7:7). The cure is contentment (Phil 4:11). If we have Christ, we have enough.
5:22 with a great voice, and He added no more; and He wrote them on two tablets of stone Only the ten were spoken by God's own voice to the whole nation. Many think the two tablets were two copies of all ten, one for each party, as in covenants of that day; others picture the commands divided between them. Written in stone, the Law was holy and good but outside them. God later promised to write it on the heart (Jer 31:33).
5:24 this day we have seen that God speaks with man, and he lives They were amazed to still be alive.
5:25 why should we die? For this great fire will consume us Their fear was right. Sinful people cannot stand before a holy God on their own. Hebrews contrasts that mountain with Mount Zion, where we come "to Jesus, the mediator of a new covenant" (Heb 12:24).
5:27 You draw near and hear all that the LORD our God will say They asked for a mediator and promised, "we will listen and do it."
5:28 they have done well in all that they have spoken Asking for a mediator was the right response. Chapter 18 ties this request to the promise of the Prophet like Moses (18:16-18).
5:29 Oh that they had this heart in them, to fear Me and to keep all My commandments all the days One of the most moving verses in the book. Their words were good, but within weeks of first saying them they made the golden calf. The problem was never the Law; it was the heart. God would answer His own longing: He will circumcise their heart (30:6) and give "a new heart" (Ezek 36:26) and His Spirit (Ezek 36:27). He does that for everyone who trusts in Christ.
5:31 stand here with Me, and let Me speak to you all the commandment and the statutes and the judgments which you shall teach them Moses stayed and received the rest of the Law; forty years later he is teaching it. Its sacrifices, feasts and food laws were for Israel under that covenant and fulfilled in Christ (Heb 10:1-14). Its moral heart, love for God and neighbor, is still God's will for us (Rom 13:8-10).
5:32 you shall not turn aside to the right or to the left A straight road with a ditch on each side: adding rules God never gave, or ignoring the ones He did.
5:33 In all the way which the LORD your God has commanded you, you shall walk, so that you may live For the Christian, Jesus is "the way and the truth and the life" (John 14:6). Obedience does not earn our life with God. It is how that life is lived.

DEUTERONOMY 6

Hear, O Israel

1 And this is the commandment, the statutes and the judgments, which the LORD your God has commanded to teach you, to do in the land to which you are passing over to take possession of it, 2 so that you may fear the LORD your God, to keep all His statutes and His commandments which I am commanding you, you and your son and your son's son, all the days of your life, and so that your days may be prolonged. 3 And you shall hear, Israel (Yisra'el), and be careful to do them, that it may go well with you, and that you may multiply greatly, just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, has spoken to you, in a land flowing with milk and honey. 4 Hear, Israel: the LORD our God, the LORD is one. 5 And you shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might. 6 And these words which I am commanding you today shall be on your heart. 7 And you shall repeat them to your sons, and you shall speak of them when you sit in your house and when you walk on the road and when you lie down and when you rise up. 8 And you shall bind them for a sign on your hand, and they shall be for frontlets between your eyes. 9 And you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.

Do Not Forget the LORD in Plenty

10 And it shall be, when the LORD your God brings you into the land which He swore to your fathers, to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov), to give to you, great and good cities which you did not build, 11 and houses full of every good thing which you did not fill, and hewn cisterns which you did not hew, vineyards and olive trees which you did not plant, and you eat and are satisfied, 12 take heed to yourself, lest you forget the LORD who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), from the house of slaves. 13 The LORD your God you shall fear, and Him you shall serve, and by His name you shall swear. 14 You shall not walk after other gods, of the gods of the peoples who are around you, 15 for a jealous God is the LORD your God in your midst, lest the anger of the LORD your God burn against you, and He destroy you from the face of the ground.

6:15 2 Cor 6:16; Deut 4:24; Exod 20:5

6:1 this is the commandment, the statutes and the judgments Commandment is singular. Moses is about to give the one great command that sums up the rest.
6:2 you and your son and your son's son, all the days of your life Three generations are in view. God wanted not one generation's obedience but a family line of faith.
6:3 in a land flowing with milk and honey A rich land, with pasture for herds and flowers for bees. God's commands were not meant to take away Israel's joy. They were the path to it.
6:4 Hear, Israel: the LORD our God, the LORD is one Hear (shema) means listen and obey. The LORD is YHWH, God's own name, a Person who made Himself known and bound Himself to Israel. "One" (echad) can mean the LORD is the only God, or that He alone is our God; both are true (4:35). Jesus quoted this as true (Mark 12:29) and said, "I and the Father are one" (John 10:30). Echad is also used of husband and wife becoming "one flesh" (Gen 2:24), so oneness can include persons; Jewish readers take it as strict unity. Christians believe in one God in three Persons, and Paul writes of "one God, the Father" (1 Cor 8:6) and "one Lord, Jesus Christ" (1 Cor 8:6). One day "the LORD will be one, and His name one" (Zech 14:9). Yet "Even the demons believe, and shudder" (James 2:19). Knowing is not enough, so verse 5 follows.
6:5 you shall love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your might God first asks not for rituals but love, flowing from His love for Israel (4:37; 7:8). The heart is the center of a person, mind and will as well as feelings; the soul is your very life; might means muchness, everything you have. "All" comes three times. If there is only one God, He deserves all of us. Jesus called this "the first and great commandment" (Matt 22:38), and "On these two commandments hang all the law and the Prophets" (Matt 22:40). Who has kept it for one day? Only Jesus, who kept it for us and died for every time we broke it, and then gives a new heart to love God (30:6; Rom 5:5). "If you love Me, keep My commandments" (John 14:15). Love comes first, and obedience flows from it.
6:6 these words which I am commanding you today shall be on your heart Before God's words go on doorposts or into children's ears, they must be on our own hearts. "In my heart I have treasured Your word, so that I will not sin against You" (Ps 119:11). A parent cannot pass on what is not in his own heart first.
6:7 you shall repeat them to your sons Repeat means to sharpen, going over again and again like strokes on a blade. Faith is passed on by repetition, all day long: at the table, on the road, at bedtime, in the morning. God put this on parents first. Fathers are to raise children "in the discipline and admonition of the Lord" (Eph 6:4), as Timothy learned from Lois and Eunice (2 Tim 1:5; 3:15). If God comes up only on Sunday, children learn He belongs only to Sunday.
6:8 you shall bind them for a sign on your hand, and they shall be for frontlets between your eyes The hand stands for what we do, the eyes for what we think and look at.
6:9 you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates The home and the town. In time Jewish people kept this outwardly with tefillin, small boxes on arm and forehead, and the mezuzah on the doorpost. Jesus warned those who "broaden their phylacteries" (Matt 23:5); the problem was not the box but the pride. Whether meant to be done outwardly or as a picture (compare Prov 3:3), God's Word should be everywhere in our lives.
6:11 hewn cisterns which you did not hew, vineyards and olive trees which you did not plant A cistern was a pit cut in rock to store rain water, hard work in a dry land. They would receive it all as a gift.
6:12 take heed to yourself, lest you forget the LORD Hunger kept Israel close in the wilderness; fullness would tempt them to forget. "They were satisfied, and their heart was exalted; therefore they forgot Me" (Hos 13:6). It is easy to pray when desperate and harder to stay close when all is well. Remember what Christ saved you from.
6:13 The LORD your God you shall fear, and Him you shall serve When Satan offered Jesus the kingdoms of the world, He answered from this verse: "You shall worship the Lord your God, and Him alone you shall serve" (Matt 4:10). He refused the crown without the cross, and He used God's Word to do it. That is how we fight temptation too.
6:14 You shall not walk after other gods, of the gods of the peoples who are around you Canaan's gods would be next door, promising crops and fertility, with worship full of sexual sin.
6:15 a jealous God is the LORD your God in your midst Because God lived among them, turning to other gods would be like a wife bringing another man into her husband's house. His love and jealousy go together.

16 You shall not test the LORD your God, just as you tested Him at Massah (Masa). 17 You shall surely keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and His testimonies and His statutes which He has commanded you. 18 And you shall do the right and the good in the eyes of the LORD, so that it may go well with you, and you may go in and take possession of the good land which the LORD swore to your fathers, 19 to drive out all your enemies from before you, just as the LORD has spoken.

When Your Son Asks

20 When your son asks you in time to come, saying, 'What are the testimonies and the statutes and the judgments which the LORD our God has commanded you?' 21 then you shall say to your son, 'We were slaves to Pharaoh in Egypt, and the LORD brought us out from Egypt with a strong hand. 22 And the LORD gave signs and wonders, great and harmful, against Egypt, against Pharaoh, and against all his household, before our eyes. 23 And us He brought out from there, in order to bring us in, to give to us the land which He swore to our fathers. 24 And the LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the LORD our God, for our good all the days, to keep us alive, as at this day. 25 And it will be righteousness for us, if we are careful to do all this commandment before the LORD our God, just as He commanded us.'

A Holy People Chosen in Love

1 When the LORD your God brings you into the land to which you are going to take possession of it, and He clears away many nations from before you, the Hittite and the Girgashite and the Amorite and the Canaanite and the Perizzite and the Hivite and the Jebusite, seven nations more numerous and mightier than you, 2 and the LORD your God gives them over before you, and you strike them, you shall surely devote them to destruction; you shall not make a covenant with them, and you shall not show them favor. 3 And you shall not intermarry with them; your daughter you shall not give to his son, and his daughter you shall not take for your son, 4 for he will turn your son away from after Me, and they will serve other gods; and the anger of the LORD will burn against you, and He will destroy you quickly. 5 But thus you shall do to them: their altars you shall tear down, and their pillars you shall shatter, and their Asherim you shall cut down, and their carved images you shall burn with fire. 6 For a holy people are you to the LORD your God; you the LORD your God has chosen to be for Him a people of treasured possession out of all the peoples that are on the face of the ground. 7 Not because you were more numerous than all the peoples did the LORD set His love on you and choose you, for you

7:7 Acts 13:17; Rom 11:6; Deut 10:22

6:16 You shall not test the LORD your God, just as you tested Him at Massah Massah means testing. There Israel asked, "Is the LORD in our midst or not?" (Exod 17:7). To test God is to demand He prove Himself on our terms. When Satan urged Jesus to jump from the temple, He answered, "You shall not test the Lord your God" (Matt 4:7). He simply trusted the Father.

6:18 you shall do the right and the good in the eyes of the LORD Not what seems right in our own eyes. In the judges' days "each man did what was right in his own eyes" (Judg 21:25), and it led to disaster.

6:20 When your son asks you in time to come Moses expects children to ask why. The answer is not, because I said so. It is a story.

6:21 We were slaves to Pharaoh in Egypt, and the LORD brought us out from Egypt with a strong hand Children need more than rules. The rules make sense only when they know the Rescuer, in the Bible and in our own lives.

6:23 us He brought out from there, in order to bring us in God brought them out so He could bring them in. The Christian story has the same shape: slaves to sin, brought out through Christ and brought into His family.

6:24 for our good all the days, to keep us alive A Father's instructions for a good life, not a burden. "His commandments are not burdensome" (1 John 5:3).

6:25 it will be righteousness for us, if we are careful to do all this commandment Israel was already redeemed when the Law was given, so this means right living within the covenant, not salvation by works. Abraham was declared righteous by faith long before (Gen 15:6; Rom 4:3). No one has done "all this commandment" perfectly (Rom 10:3-5). The only righteousness that stands before God is the one He gives through faith in Christ (Phil 3:9). Christ did it all for us, and then we obey out of love.

7:1 He clears away many nations from before you Seven nations, "more numerous and mightier" than Israel. Israel could not win on their own. God would clear them away.

7:2 you shall surely devote them to destruction; you shall not make a covenant with them The herem of 2:34. First, this was God's judgment, not Israel's hatred, after four centuries of patience (Gen 15:16), on a culture that burned its children to its gods (12:31) until "the land vomited out its inhabitants" (Lev 18:25). Second, it was not about race: Israel would perish the same way for the same sins (8:19-20; Lev 18:28), and Rahab the Canaanite was spared and is in Jesus' line (Josh 6:25; Matt 1:5). Third, it was limited to these seven nations in this land at this time (contrast 2:4-19; 20:10-15), never a general command and never a command for today.

7:3 you shall not intermarry with them The reason is faith, not blood: "he will turn your son away from after Me" (7:4). Ruth the Moabite married into Israel because she said, "your God my God" (Ruth 1:16).

7:4 for he will turn your son away from after Me, and they will serve other gods History proved Moses right; Solomon's "wives turned aside his heart after other gods" (1 Kgs 11:4). The New Testament says, "Do not become unequally yoked with unbelievers" (2 Cor 6:14). Who you marry will shape your walk with God more than almost anything else.

7:5 their altars you shall tear down, and their pillars you shall shatter, and their Asherim you shall cut down Pillars were standing stones for worship; Asherim were wooden poles for Asherah, a fertility goddess seen as Baal's partner. Nothing was to be kept as a museum piece. When God frees us from sin, we should not keep what pulled us into it lying around. The Ephesian believers burned their magic books (Acts 19:19).

7:6 a people of treasured possession out of all the peoples Holy means set apart, belonging to God. A treasured possession is a king's private treasure. Peter uses the same language: "a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation" (1 Pet 2:9). The church has not replaced Israel, whose promises still stand (Rom 11:28-29); through Christ, Gentiles share in the blessing.

7:7 Not because you were more numerous than all the peoples did the LORD set His love on you One of the clearest statements of grace in the Old Testament. Not because they were big, and not because they were good (chapter 9).

were the fewest of all the peoples; 8 but because of the LORD's love for you, and because He kept the oath which He swore to your fathers, the LORD brought you out with a strong hand and ransomed you from the house of slaves, from the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 9 And you shall know that the LORD your God, He is God, the faithful God, who keeps the covenant and the steadfast love to those who love Him and to those who keep His commandments, to a thousand generations, 10 and who repays those who hate Him, to his face, to make him perish; He will not delay with him who hates Him; to his face He will repay him. 11 And you shall keep the commandment and the statutes and the judgments which I am commanding you today, to do them.

Blessings for Obedience

12 And it shall be, because you listen to these judgments and keep and do them, that the LORD your God will keep for you the covenant and the steadfast love which He swore to your fathers. 13 And He will love you and bless you and multiply you; and He will bless the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, your grain and your new wine and your fresh oil, the offspring of your cattle and the young of your flock, on the ground which He swore to your fathers to give to you. 14 Blessed you shall be above all the peoples; there shall not be among you a barren male or a barren female, and among your livestock. 15 And the LORD will remove from you every sickness; and all the evil diseases of Egypt which you have known, He will not put them on you, and He will lay them on all who hate you. 16 And you shall consume all the peoples whom the LORD your God is giving over to you; your eye shall not pity them, and you shall not serve their gods, for that will be a snare to you.

Do Not Fear the Nations

17 If you say in your heart, 'These nations are more numerous than I; how can I dispossess them?' 18 you shall not be afraid of them; you shall surely remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt, 19 the great trials which your eyes saw, and the signs and the wonders and the strong hand and the outstretched arm by which the LORD your God brought you out; thus the LORD your God will do to all the peoples of whom you are afraid. 20 And also the hornet the LORD your God will send among them, until those who are left and those who hide themselves from before you perish. 21 You shall not be terrified of them, for the LORD your God is in your midst, a great and awesome God. 22 And the LORD your God will clear away these nations from before you little by little; you will not be able to make an end of them quickly, lest the living things of the field increase against you. 23 And the LORD your God will give them over before you, and He will throw them into great confusion until they are destroyed. 24 And He will give their kings into your hand, and you shall make their name perish from under the heavens; no man shall take his stand before you until you have destroyed them. 25 The carved images of their gods you shall burn with fire; you shall not covet silver and gold on them and take it for yourself, lest you be ensnared by it, for it

7:8 because of the LORD's love for you Why did God love them? Because He loved them. There is no reason outside God Himself. To ransom is to pay a price to set someone free. He chose us "in Him before the foundation of the world" (Eph 1:4) and ransomed us with the precious blood of Christ (1 Pet 1:18-19). His love does not depend on what you bring Him.
7:9 the faithful God, who keeps the covenant and the steadfast love to those who love Him Hesed, His loyal covenant love, reaches "to a thousand generations," a way of saying it has no end (5:10).
7:10 who repays those who hate Him, to his face Personally and directly. "Look then at the kindness and severity of God" (Rom 11:22). A God with no justice would not be good; a God with no mercy would leave us without hope. At the cross we see both.
7:11 you shall keep the commandment and the statutes and the judgments Chosen in love, ransomed, then called to obey. Obedience is how love answers love, never how we earn it.
7:13 He will love you and bless you and multiply you Children, crops, herds and health (7:14-15) were covenant blessings for Israel in the land under the Mosaic covenant. They are not promises that every faithful Christian will be healthy and wealthy; many suffer, and the New Testament never says otherwise (2 Cor 12:7-10). But God is the source of every good gift.
7:16 your eye shall not pity them, and you shall not serve their gods, for that will be a snare to you A snare is a trap. Sparing the nations would lead to worshiping their gods, exactly what happened in the judges' days (Judg 2:1-3).
7:17 These nations are more numerous than I; how can I dispossess them? Moses knew they would be tempted to fear, as their parents were at Kadesh.
7:18 you shall surely remember what the LORD your God did to Pharaoh and to all Egypt Memory is a weapon against fear. If He could break Pharaoh, He can handle what is in front of us. It helps on hard days to remember, even write down, what God has done for you.
7:20 the hornet the LORD your God will send among them Also in Exodus 23:28 and Joshua 24:12. It may be real swarms or a picture of the panic God sent ahead of Israel. Either way, God would fight for them.
7:21 the LORD your God is in your midst, a great and awesome God The fear of God drives out every other fear.
7:22 little by little; you will not be able to make an end of them quickly, lest the living things of the field increase against you God's timing was wise and kind. The language includes driving out as well as destroying (Exod 23:28-30), and Canaanites remained afterward (Judg 1:28). Some teachers read the strong words of total destruction as the war speech of that day, with the goal of breaking their power; others take them strictly. Either way the command was real and severe. God also works in us little by little. Be patient with His work in you and in others.
7:24 He will give their kings into your hand Joshua lists thirty-one kings who fell (Josh 12). We do not celebrate anyone's death; God takes "no pleasure in the death of the wicked" (Ezek 33:11). Jesus said, "love your enemies" (Matt 5:44), and rebuked the call for fire on a village (Luke 9:54-55). Anyone who uses this chapter to justify violence today has badly misread it.
7:25 you shall not covet silver and gold on them and take it for yourself, lest you be ensnared by it Idols were often overlaid with precious metal, and it would be tempting to burn the wood and keep the gold. An abomination is something God finds disgusting.

is an abomination to the LORD your God. 26 And you shall not bring an abomination into your house, and become a thing devoted to destruction like it; you shall utterly detest it and utterly abhor it, for it is a thing devoted to destruction.

Man Does Not Live on Bread Alone

1 All the commandment which I am commanding you today you shall be careful to do, so that you may live and multiply, and go in and take possession of the land which the LORD swore to your fathers. 2 And you shall remember all the way which the LORD your God has led you these forty years in the wilderness, in order to humble you, to test you, to know what was in your heart, whether you would keep His commandments or not. 3 And He humbled you, and caused you to hunger, and caused you to eat the manna, which you had not known, and your fathers had not known, in order to make you know that man does not live on bread alone, but on everything that goes out of the mouth of the LORD man lives. 4 Your clothing did not wear out from on you, and your foot did not swell these forty years. 5 And you shall know with your heart that just as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God is disciplining you. 6 And you shall keep the commandments of the LORD your God, to walk in His ways and to fear Him. 7 For the LORD your God is bringing you into a good land, a land of wadis of water, of springs and deeps going out in the valley and in the hill country, 8 a land of wheat and barley and vine and fig tree and pomegranate, a land of olive trees of oil and honey, 9 a land in which you will eat bread without scarcity, you will not lack anything in it, a land whose stones are iron, and from whose hills you will dig copper. 10 And you will eat and be satisfied, and you shall bless the LORD your God for the good land which He has given to you.

Remember Who Gives the Power

11 Take heed to yourself, lest you forget the LORD your God by not keeping His commandments and His judgments and His statutes which I am commanding you today, 12 lest you eat and are satisfied, and build good houses and dwell in them, 13 and your herd and your flock multiply, and silver and gold multiply for you, and all that is yours multiplies, 14 and your heart is lifted up, and you forget the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt
(Mitsrayim), from the house of slaves, 15 who led you in the great and fearsome wilderness, with fiery serpent and scorpion and thirsty ground where there was no water, who brought out water for you from the rock of flint, 16 who caused you to eat manna in the wilderness, which your

7:26 you shall not bring an abomination into your house, and become a thing devoted to destruction like it Bring a cursed thing home and you share its curse, as Achan did at Jericho (Josh 7). What do I bring into my home, my phone, my mind, that God calls detestable? Holiness starts in our own house.

8:1 All the commandment which I am commanding you today you shall be careful to do Again the singular, the whole of God's will as one. Moses gives no new laws here, only reasons to keep the ones given. The best reasons come from remembering.

8:2 you shall remember all the way which the LORD your God has led you these forty years in the wilderness Remember is the key word of the chapter, with its opposite, forget. God led them that way to humble them, to test them, and "to know what was in your heart." He already knew; the test brought it into the open. "The testing of your faith produces endurance" (James 1:3). Your wilderness may be where God does His deepest work.

8:3 He humbled you, and caused you to hunger, and caused you to eat the manna God let them come to the end of themselves so they would learn where help comes from. Manna had to be gathered fresh each day, trusting God for tomorrow (Matt 6:11).

8:3 man does not live on bread alone Bread keeps the body alive, but we live by God's word, which even brought manna into being. After forty days in the wilderness Jesus answered Satan, "Man will not live by bread alone, but by every word coming out through the mouth of God" (Matt 4:4). Israel, God's son, was tested forty years and failed; Jesus, God's Son, was tested forty days and stood firm for us. He is "the bread of life" (John 6:35). Most of us would never skip meals for a week. Many go weeks without feeding on God's Word.

8:4 Your clothing did not wear out from on you, and your foot did not swell these forty years God's care reached the small, everyday details (Neh 9:21).

8:5 just as a man disciplines his son, the LORD your God is disciplining you Discipline is training and correction. The hunger and the long road were not signs God hated them, as their parents said (1:27), but that He was their Father. Discipline "yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness to those who have been trained by it" (Heb 12:11). If God is training you, you are His child.

8:7 a land of wadis of water, of springs and deeps After forty years of dry ground, a land with water. You can almost hear Moses' longing for a land he would never enter.

8:8 a land of wheat and barley and vine and fig tree and pomegranate, a land of olive trees of oil and honey The seven riches of Canaan. God "provides us all things richly for enjoyment" (1 Tim 6:17). The danger is never in the gift but in forgetting the Giver.

8:9 a land whose stones are iron, and from whose hills you will dig copper No scarcity, and metal in the hills. A land lacking nothing.

8:10 you will eat and be satisfied, and you shall bless the LORD your God The cure for forgetting in one verse. Jewish grace after meals is based on it, and Christians give thanks at meals for the same reason. "In everything give thanks" (1 Thess 5:18). A grateful heart remembers; a thankless heart is already starting to forget.

8:11 lest you forget the LORD your God by not keeping His commandments Forgetting God is not mainly losing a memory. It is living as if He were not there.

8:12 lest you eat and are satisfied, and build good houses and dwell in them Moses paints success: houses, herds, silver and gold all multiply (8:13).

8:14 your heart is lifted up, and you forget the LORD your God When all goes well, pride grows and our sense of need shrinks. "Poverty and wealth do not give to me" (Prov 30:8), lest I deny Him. Most Western Christians live with more than any people in history. Is our prosperity drawing us closer or making us forget?

8:15 fiery serpent and scorpion and thirsty ground where there was no water Without God they would have died (Num 21:6-9). Water came from the hardest rock (Exod 17:6), and "the rock was the Christ" (1 Cor 10:4).

8:16 to do you good at your latter end The purpose of it all. God's hard lessons are for our good in the end. "To those who love God all things work together for good" (Rom 8:28).

fathers had not known, in order to humble you and in order to test you, to do you good at your latter end, 17 and you say in your heart, 'My strength and the might of my hand have made for me this wealth.' 18 And you shall remember the LORD your God, for He is the One giving you strength to make wealth, in order to establish His covenant which He swore to your fathers, as at this day. 19 And it shall be, if you indeed forget the LORD your God and walk after other gods and serve them and bow down to them, I testify against you today that you shall surely perish. 20 Like the nations which the LORD is making perish from before you, so you shall perish, because you would not listen to the voice of the LORD your God.

Not Because of Your Righteousness

1 Hear, Israel (Yisra'el): you are passing over the Jordan (Yarden) today, to go in to dispossess nations greater and mightier than you, cities great and fortified to the heavens, 2 a people great and tall, the sons of the Anakim, whom you yourself know, and of whom you yourself have heard, 'Who can stand before the sons of Anak?' 3 And you shall know today that the LORD your God, He is the One passing over before you as a consuming fire; He will destroy them, and He will subdue them before you; and you shall dispossess them and make them perish quickly, just as the LORD has spoken to you. 4 Do not say in your heart, when the LORD your God drives them out from before you, saying, 'For my righteousness the LORD has brought me in to take possession of this land,' and for the wickedness of these nations the LORD is dispossessing them from before you. 5 Not for your righteousness and for the uprightness of your heart are you going in to take possession of their land, but for the wickedness of these nations the LORD your God is dispossessing them from before you, and in order to establish the word which the LORD swore to your fathers, to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov). 6 And you shall know that not for your righteousness is the LORD your God giving you this good land to take possession of it, for you are a people stiff of neck.

The Golden Calf Remembered

7 Remember, do not forget, how you provoked the LORD your God to anger in the wilderness; from the day that you came out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) until you came to this place, you have been rebelling against the LORD. 8 And at Horeb (Chorev) you provoked the LORD to anger, and the LORD was angry with you, to destroy you. 9 When I went up to the mountain to receive the tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant which the LORD had made with you, and I remained on the mountain forty days and forty nights; bread I did not eat, and water I did not drink. 10 And the LORD gave to me the two tablets of stone, written by the finger of God, and on them were according to all the words which the LORD had spoken with you on the mountain from the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly. 11 And it was at the end of forty days and forty nights that the LORD gave to me the two tablets of stone, the tablets of the covenant. 12 And the LORD said to me, 'Arise, go down quickly from here, for your people whom you brought out from Egypt have acted corruptly; they have turned aside

8:17 My strength and the might of my hand have made for me this wealth The voice of pride, looking at what we have and saying, I did this.
8:18 He is the one giving you strength to make wealth, in order to establish His covenant They would plow and build, but God gave the strength, land, rain and harvest. "What do you have which you did not receive?" (1 Cor 4:7). Wealth was given to show God keeps His promises, not to make Israel proud. "So is the one who treasures up for himself and is not rich toward God" (Luke 12:21).
8:19 if you indeed forget the LORD your God and walk after other gods Forgetting does not stop at ingratitude. When we forget the true God, we always find something else to worship.
8:20 Like the nations which the LORD is making perish from before you, so you shall perish Key for chapter 7. God judged the Canaanites for their sin, not their race, and would judge Israel the same way. He shows no partiality, and the warning came true in the exile. It always comes back to listening (6:4).
9:1 Hear, Israel: you are passing over the Jordan today The opening words of the Shema again (6:4). The crossing is close, and Moses does not pretend it will be easy.
9:2 Who can stand before the sons of Anak? A saying had grown up about these tall people, the very fear that stopped their fathers at Kadesh (1:28).
9:3 He is the one passing over before you as a consuming fire The real question was not who can stand before the Anakim, but who can stand before the LORD. God would go first; Israel would follow and take possession. When you face something too big, do not pretend it is small. Remember how big God is.
9:4 For my righteousness the LORD has brought me in to take possession of this land The danger after victory is thinking, God blessed me because I am good. Moses says no three times in three verses.
9:5 for the wickedness of these nations the LORD your God is dispossessing them from before you Two reasons, and Israel's goodness is not one of them: God was judging Canaan's sin (chapter 7), and He was keeping His oath to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.
9:6 for you are a people stiff of neck A farming picture: an ox that will not bend its neck to the yoke cannot be led. This is the heart of the gospel. "There is not a righteous one, not even one" (Rom 3:10). He saved us "not by works which we did in righteousness, but according to His mercy" (Titus 3:5).
9:7 Remember, do not forget, how you provoked the LORD your God to anger in the wilderness Moses told them to remember God's goodness (8:2); now, their own sin. Remembering God's goodness keeps us thankful. Remembering our sin keeps us humble.
9:8 at Horeb you provoked the LORD to anger Of all places to rebel, the worst: where God spoke from the fire and made the covenant.
9:9 forty days and forty nights; bread I did not eat, and water I did not drink Possible only by God's sustaining power, with Moses in His presence the whole time.
9:10 the two tablets of stone, written by the finger of God God Himself wrote the Ten Commandments. On top of the mountain God writes His covenant with His own finger; at the bottom, the people are breaking it.
9:12 your people whom you brought out from Egypt have acted corruptly God calls them "your people," as if pulling back from them. And "quickly": forty days after promising "we will listen and do it" (5:27), they had a golden calf.

quickly from the way which I commanded them; they have made for themselves a cast image.' 13 And the LORD said to me, saying, 'I have seen this people, and look, it is a people stiff of neck. 14 Let Me alone, that I may destroy them and blot out their name from under the heavens, and I will make you into a nation mightier and greater than it.' 15 And I turned and went down from the mountain, and the mountain was burning with fire, and the two tablets of the covenant were on my two hands. 16 And I looked, and look, you had sinned against the LORD your God; you had made for yourselves a calf of cast metal; you had turned aside quickly from the way which the LORD had commanded you. 17 And I took hold of the two tablets and threw them from on my two hands, and I broke them before your eyes. 18 And I prostrated myself before the LORD as at the first, forty days and forty nights; bread I did not eat, and water I did not drink, because of all your sin which you had sinned by doing the evil in the eyes of the LORD, to provoke Him to anger. 19 For I was afraid of the anger and the rage with which the LORD was wrathful against you, to destroy you. And the LORD listened to me also at that time. 20 And with Aaron (Aharon) the LORD was very angry, to destroy him; and I prayed also for Aaron at that time. 21 And your sin which you had made, the calf, I took, and I burned it with fire, and I crushed it, grinding it well, until it was fine as dust; and I threw its dust into the wadi that came down from the mountain.

More Rebellions and Moses' Prayer

22 And at Taberah (Tavera) and at Massah (Masa) and at Kibroth-hattaavah (Qivrot-Hata'ava) you were provoking the LORD to anger. 23 And when the LORD sent you from Kadesh-barnea (Qadesh-Barnea), saying, 'Go up and take possession of the land which I have given to you,' and you rebelled against the mouth of the LORD your God, and you did not believe Him, and you did not listen to His voice. 24 You have been rebelling against the LORD from the day that I knew you. 25 And I prostrated myself before the LORD the forty days and the forty nights that I prostrated myself, for the LORD had said He would destroy you. 26 And I prayed to the LORD and said, 'Lord GOD, do not ruin Your people and Your inheritance, whom You ransomed by Your greatness, whom You brought out from Egypt by a strong hand. 27 Remember Your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; do not turn to the stubbornness of this people, and to its wickedness, and to its sin, 28 lest the land from which You brought us out say, "Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land of which He spoke to them, and because of His hatred of them, He brought them out to put them to death in the wilderness." 29 And they are Your people and Your inheritance, whom You brought out by Your great strength and by Your outstretched arm.'

9:14 Let Me alone, that I may destroy them God offered to start over with Moses, as with Noah. It seems God was giving Moses room to intercede, testing whether he would stand in the gap. Exodus 32:14 says the LORD relented. Moses did not let Him alone. He prayed.
9:15 the mountain was burning with fire, and the two tablets of the covenant were on my two hands God's holy presence was still on the mountain when Moses saw the calf.
9:16 you had made for yourselves a calf of cast metal Aaron made it from their gold, and they said, "These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up from the land of Egypt" (Exod 32:4). They gave the credit for their rescue to a statue of a young bull.
9:17 I broke them before your eyes Not just temper. The people had shattered the covenant, and now the tablets lay shattered on the ground.
9:18 I prostrated myself before the LORD as at the first, forty days and forty nights Another forty days face down, with no food or water, because of their sin.
9:19 the LORD listened to me also at that time God heard Moses' prayer and spared the people.
9:20 with Aaron the LORD was very angry, to destroy him; and I prayed also for Aaron Exodus does not give this detail. The high priest to be lived only because Moses prayed. To intercede is to stand between and plead. Jesus is "always living to intercede for them" (Heb 7:25), and He did more than pray. He gave Himself.
9:21 your sin which you had made, the calf The idol was their sin made into an object. Moses burned it, ground it to dust and threw it in the stream, and the people drank it (Exod 32:20). An idol that can be ground to dust is no god at all, and sin must be dealt with completely.
9:22 at Taberah and at Massah and at Kibroth-hattaavah Fire after complaining (Num 11:1-3), testing over water (Exod 17:1-7), and the graves of craving (Num 11:31-34).
9:23 you did not believe Him, and you did not listen to His voice And the worst, Kadesh-barnea (chapter 1).
9:24 You have been rebelling against the LORD from the day that I knew you Blunt, so that when victories came they would remember it was all grace. Stephen said, "as your fathers did, you also do" (Acts 7:51). The human heart has not changed.
9:26 do not ruin Your people and Your inheritance, whom You ransomed by Your greatness One of the great prayers of the Bible. God had said "your people" (9:12); Moses gives them back: they are Yours, and You paid to redeem them.
9:27 Remember Your servants, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; do not turn to the stubbornness of this people Moses appeals to God's promise and never to the people's goodness. He did not excuse their sin.
9:28 lest the land from which You brought us out say He appeals to God's reputation among the nations.
9:29 they are Your people and Your inheritance We pray the same way, not on our own merits but on God's mercy, promises and glory, in the name of Jesus, "who also intercedes for us" (Rom 8:34).
10:1 Cut out for yourself two tablets of stone like the first ones, and come up to Me on the mountain After the calf, the broken tablets and forty days of Moses on his face, God says, Come up. Israel broke the covenant almost as soon as they made it, and God gave them a second set of tablets. This is grace.

2 And I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets which you broke, and you shall put them in the ark.' 3 And I made an ark of acacia wood, and I cut out two tablets of stone like the first ones, and I went up to the mountain, and the two tablets were in my hand. 4 And He wrote on the tablets according to the first writing the ten words which the LORD had spoken to you on the mountain from the midst of the fire on the day of the assembly; and the LORD gave them to me. 5 And I turned and came down from the mountain, and I put the tablets in the ark which I had made; and they are there, just as the LORD commanded me. 6 And the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) set out from Beeroth (Be'erot) Bene-jaakan (Bene-Ya'aqan) to Moserah (Mosera). There Aaron (Aharon) died, and he was buried there; and Eleazar (Elazar) his son served as priest in his place. 7 From there they set out to Gudgodah (Gudgoda), and from Gudgodah to Jotbathah (Yotvata), a land of wadis of water. 8 At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to stand before the LORD to serve Him, and to bless in His name, to this day. 9 Therefore Levi has no portion and inheritance with his brothers; the LORD, He is his inheritance, just as the LORD your God spoke to him. 10 And I, I stood on the mountain as in the first days, forty days and forty nights; and the LORD listened to me also at that time; the LORD was not willing to ruin you. 11 And the LORD said to me, 'Arise, go on the journey before the people, that they may go in and take possession of the land which I swore to their fathers to give to them.'

What the LORD Requires

12 And now, Israel, what is the LORD your God asking from you but to fear the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways, and to love Him, and to serve the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, 13 to keep the commandments of the LORD and His statutes which I am commanding you today, for your good? 14 Look, to the LORD your God belong the heavens and the heavens of the heavens, the earth and all that is in it. 15 Only on your fathers did the LORD set His affection, to love them, and He chose their seed after them, you, out of all the peoples, as at this day. 16 And you shall circumcise the foreskin of your heart, and your neck you shall not stiffen anymore. 17 For the LORD your God, He is the God of the gods and the Lord of the lords, the great God, the mighty and the awesome, who does not lift up faces

10:2 I will write on the tablets the words that were on the first tablets which you broke The words did not change. God did not lower His standard, but He gave a new beginning. "His compassions do not come to an end" (Lam 3:22).
10:3 I made an ark of acacia wood The ark of the covenant, the gold-covered chest with the mercy seat as its lid (Exod 25:10-22). Exodus 37:1 says Bezalel made it; Moses had it made as God commanded. Acacia was a hard desert wood that does not rot easily.
10:4 He wrote on the tablets according to the first writing the ten words This time Moses cut the stone, but God again did the writing.
10:5 I put the tablets in the ark which I had made; and they are there In Solomon's day "there was nothing in the ark except the two tablets" (1 Kgs 8:9). The Law that condemned Israel lay under the mercy seat, where atoning blood was sprinkled (Lev 16:14-15). God set forth Christ "as a propitiation through faith in His blood" (Rom 3:25), and the Greek word is the same used for the mercy seat (Heb 9:5).
10:6 There Aaron died, and he was buried there; and Eleazar his son served as priest in his place A travel note in the sermon. Aaron had sinned with the calf (9:20), yet God spared him at Moses' prayer, and the priesthood went on through his son. Numbers places his death at Mount Hor (Num 20:22-29) and lists the camps in another order (Num 33:30-38); many think Moserah was the district around Mount Hor and Israel passed some sites more than once.
10:8 to carry the ark of the covenant of the LORD, to stand before the LORD to serve Him, and to bless in His name When Israel sinned with the calf, the Levites stood on the LORD's side (Exod 32:26-29), and God set them apart. The priests, Aaron's line within Levi, offered sacrifices and spoke God's blessing (Num 6:24-26).
10:9 the LORD, He is his inheritance Levi received no territory, only towns among the tribes (Num 35:1-8), and lived on the people's gifts. But they had the LORD. Believers are now "a royal priesthood" (1 Pet 2:9). "The LORD is the portion of my share and my cup" (Ps 16:5). If you lost everything else, would He be enough?
10:10 the LORD listened to me also at that time; the LORD was not willing to ruin you Israel deserved destruction. God heard the one who prayed, renewed the covenant, kept the priesthood and sent them on. That is still the only way anyone comes to God: because of the One who stands between us and prays for us.
10:11 Arise, go on the journey before the people After mercy, God sends them forward toward the land.
10:12 what is the LORD your God asking from you After all the history, the simple question. Fear Him, walk in His ways, love Him, serve Him with all your heart and soul (6:5), and keep His commands. "What does the LORD require from you but to do justice, and to love steadfast love, and to walk humbly with your God?" (Mic 6:8). Simple enough for a child, deep enough that none of us has done it perfectly.
10:13 for your good God gives commands because He made us and knows how life works best. "My yoke is easy, and My burden is light" (Matt 11:30).
10:14 to the LORD your God belong the heavens and the heavens of the heavens The highest heavens and all the earth. God owns it all and needs nothing from us.
10:15 Only on your fathers did the LORD set His affection, to love them The God who owns the universe set His love on one small family, simply because He loved them (7:7-8). The God who made the galaxies knows your name and set His love on you in Christ.
10:16 you shall circumcise the foreskin of your heart, and your neck you shall not stiffen anymore Circumcision was the covenant sign given to Abraham (Gen 17:9-14), but God always wanted more. To circumcise the heart is to cut away its hardness and pride (Jer 4:4). "Circumcision is of the heart" (Rom 2:29), and in Christ believers are "circumcised with a circumcision made without hands" (Col 2:11). Here Israel is told to do it; in 30:6 God will do it. We turn from stubbornness, and only God can truly change the heart.
10:17 the God of the gods and the Lord of the lords The highest God, above every so-called god and ruler. Jesus bears the name "King of kings and Lord of lords" (Rev 19:16). He "does not lift up faces," showing no favoritism, and cannot be bribed. "God is not one who shows partiality" (Acts 10:34).

and does not take a bribe, 18 doing the judgment of the fatherless and the widow, and loving the sojourner, to give him bread and clothing. 19 And you shall love the sojourner, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 20 The LORD your God you shall fear; Him you shall serve, and to Him you shall cling, and by His name you shall swear. 21 He is your praise, and He is your God, who has done with you these great and awesome things which your eyes have seen. 22 With seventy souls your fathers went down to Egypt, and now the LORD your God has made you like the stars of the heavens for multitude.

Remember the LORD's Mighty Works

1 And you shall love the LORD your God, and keep His charge and His statutes and His judgments and His commandments all the days. 2 And you shall know today, for it is not your sons, who have not known and who have not seen the discipline of the LORD your God, His greatness, His mighty hand and His outstretched arm, 3 and His signs and His deeds which He did in the midst of Egypt (Mitsrayim) to Pharaoh the king of Egypt and to all his land, 4 and what He did to the army of Egypt, to its horses and to its chariots, how He made the water of the Red Sea flow over their faces when they pursued after you, and the LORD made them perish to this day, 5 and what He did to you in the wilderness until you came to this place, 6 and what He did to Dathan (Datan) and to Abiram (Aviram), the sons of Eliab (Eli'av), the son of Reuben (Reuven), how the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them and their households and their tents and all the living substance that was at their feet, in the midst of all Israel (Yisra'el). 7 For your eyes are the ones seeing all the great work of the LORD which He did.

A Land That Drinks Rain from Heaven

8 And you shall keep all the commandment which I am commanding you today, so that you may be strong, and go in and take possession of the land to which you are passing over to take possession of it, 9 and so that you may prolong your days on the ground which the LORD swore to your fathers to give to them and to their seed, a land flowing with milk and honey. 10 For the land to which you are going in to take possession of it, it is not like the land of Egypt from which you came out, where you sowed your seed and watered it with your foot, like a garden of vegetables. 11 And the land to which you are passing over to take possession of it is a land of mountains and valleys; by the rain of the heavens it drinks water, 12 a land which the LORD your God is caring for; continually the eyes of the LORD your God are on it, from the beginning of the year and to the end of the year. 13 And it shall be, if you surely listen to My commandments which I am commanding you today, to love the LORD your God and to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul, 14 then I will give the rain of your land in its season, early rain and late rain, and you shall gather your grain and your new wine and your fresh oil. 15 And I will give grass in your field for your livestock, and you shall eat and be satisfied. 16 Take heed to yourselves, lest your heart be deceived, and you turn

10:18 doing the judgment of the fatherless and the widow, and loving the sojourner The most powerful Being in the universe bends down to the weakest. Pure religion is "to visit orphans and widows in their tribulation" (James 1:27). To be like God, care about whom He cares about.
10:19 you shall love the sojourner, for you were sojourners in the land of Egypt Not just tolerate, but love, "as yourself" (Lev 19:34). You know what it is like to be an outsider. Gentile believers were once "strangers to the covenants of the promise" (Eph 2:12). God took us in. How can we shut others out (Matt 25:35, 40)?
10:20 to Him you shall cling Holding tight, as in 4:4. Fear Him, serve Him, and make your promises in His name alone.
10:21 He is your praise, and He is your God Israel's glory was not their army or wealth but their God. Believers "boast in Christ Jesus" (Phil 3:3).
10:22 With seventy souls your fathers went down to Egypt Seventy people (Gen 46:27) became "like the stars of the heavens," as promised to Abraham (Gen 15:5). If God kept that promise, He will keep every other one.
11:1 keep His charge and His statutes and His judgments and His commandments all the days Love first, then obedience. A charge is a duty to guard, like a soldier's post. "All the days," not just holy days or easy ones. "If you keep My commandments, you will remain in My love" (John 15:10).
11:2 it is not your sons, who have not known and who have not seen the discipline of the LORD your God Many listening had seen the exodus and the wilderness as children. Seeing brings responsibility. Your children have not seen what God has shown you unless you tell them.
11:6 what He did to Dathan and to Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben They rebelled with Korah and the earth swallowed them (Num 16). Perhaps they are named because Reuben had just received its land east of the Jordan. Rebellion against God's appointed leaders is rebellion against God.
11:8 so that you may be strong, and go in and take possession of the land Their strength would come not from their army but from walking with God.
11:10 where you sowed your seed and watered it with your foot, like a garden of vegetables Egypt almost never had rain. Its fields were watered from the Nile by channels the farmer opened with his foot or by a water wheel worked with his feet. Water came from the river and hard work.
11:11 by the rain of the heavens it drinks water Canaan had no great river for its hills. They had to depend on rain, and that meant depending on God.
11:12 continually the eyes of the LORD your God are on it, from the beginning of the year and to the end of the year God would watch over this land like a farmer over his best field. Some places in life let us feel self-sufficient; others leave us looking up. The second kind keeps us close to Him: "having cast all your anxiety on Him, because He cares about you" (1 Pet 5:7).
11:13 if you surely listen to My commandments Moses suddenly speaks in God's own voice. This is God speaking through His prophet.
11:14 early rain and late rain The early rain in fall softened the ground for planting; the late rain in spring filled out the grain. James uses the picture for waiting on the Lord's return (James 5:7). These were covenant promises to Israel in the land, not a pledge that faithful Christians will never face drought; our blessings in Christ are first spiritual (Eph 1:3).
11:16 lest your heart be deceived, and you turn aside and serve other gods The Canaanites believed Baal sent storm and rain. In a land depending on rain, the pull to honor the local rain god would be strong.

aside and serve other gods and bow down to them, 17 and the anger of the LORD burn against you, and He shut up the heavens, and there be no rain, and the ground not yield its produce, and you perish quickly from on the good land which the LORD is giving to you.

Lay Up These Words in Your Heart

18 And you shall put these words of Mine on your heart and on your soul, and you shall bind them for a sign on your hand, and they shall be for frontlets between your eyes. 19 And you shall teach them to your sons, speaking of them when you sit in your house and when you walk on the road and when you lie down and when you rise up. 20 And you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, 21 so that your days and the days of your sons may be multiplied on the ground which the LORD swore to your fathers to give to them, like the days of the heavens above the earth. 22 For if you surely keep all this commandment which I am commanding you to do it, to love the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways, and to cling to Him, 23 then the LORD will dispossess all these nations from before you, and you shall dispossess nations greater and mightier than you. 24 Every place on which the sole of your foot treads shall be yours; from the wilderness and the Lebanon (Levanon), from the river, the river Euphrates (Perat), and to the western sea shall be your territory. 25 No man shall take a stand before you; the dread of you and the fear of you the LORD your God will put on the face of all the land on which you tread, just as He spoke to you.

The Blessing and the Curse

26 See, I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse: 27 the blessing, when you listen to the commandments of the LORD your God which I am commanding you today, 28 and the curse, if you do not listen to the commandments of the LORD your God, and turn aside from the way which I am commanding you today, to walk after other gods which you have not known. 29 And it shall be, when the LORD your God brings you into the land to which you are going in to take possession of it, that you shall set the blessing on the mountain of Gerizim and the curse on the mountain of Ebal (Eval). 30 Are they not on the other side of the Jordan (Yarden), behind the way of the setting of the sun, in the land of the Canaanite who dwells in the Arabah (Arava), opposite Gilgal, beside the terebinths of Moreh (More)? 31 For you are passing over the Jordan to go in to take possession of the land which the LORD your God is giving to you, and you shall take possession of it and dwell in it. 32 And you shall be careful to do all the statutes and the judgments which I am setting before you today.

DEUTERONOMY 12

The Place the LORD Will Choose

1 These are the statutes and the judgments which you shall be careful to do in the land which the LORD, the God of your fathers, has given to you to take possession of it, all the days that you live on the ground. 2 You shall surely destroy all the places where the nations whom you are dispossessing served their gods, on the high mountains and on the hills and under 11:17 He shut up the heavens, and there be no rain Just what happened under Ahab. Elijah said, "there shall not be dew and rain these years, except according to my word" (1 Kgs 17:1), and God showed Baal could not send one drop (1 Kgs 18). We too can be deceived into trusting something else for what only God gives.

11:18 you shall put these words of Mine on your heart and on your soul Moses repeats 6:6-9 almost exactly. Chapter 6 opened this part of the sermon with these words, and chapter 11 closes it with them. Jewish prayer later joined 6:4-9 and 11:13-21 and said them daily.
11:21 like the days of the heavens above the earth As long as the sky stands over the earth. Faith passed on is blessing passed on.
11:22 to love the LORD your God, to walk in all His ways, and to cling to Him Love, walk, cling. That is the whole of it.
11:24 Every place on which the sole of your foot treads shall be yours Repeated to Joshua (Josh 1:3); Israel had to walk in to receive it. These are Abraham's borders (Gen 15:18), reached only under Solomon (1 Kgs 4:21). I believe God will give Israel the whole land when Christ reigns on the earth, because His promises to Abraham have never been canceled (Rom 11:29). Others see it fulfilled under Solomon or spiritually in Christ.
11:25 the dread of you and the fear of you the LORD your God will put on the face of all the land God's fear went ahead of them, as Rahab told the spies (Josh 2:9-11).
11:26 See, I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse Two roads, as simple as it can be. Chapters 27 and 28 spell them out, and 30:19 says "choose life."
11:28 to walk after other gods which you have not known Gods that had done nothing for them, unlike the LORD. Those who stand on keeping the law "are under a curse" (Gal 3:10), because no one keeps it all. "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13). The choice now is whether we will trust Him, and then obey, not to earn the blessing but because we have received it.
11:29 you shall set the blessing on the mountain of Gerizim and the curse on the mountain of Ebal Two mountains facing each other in the middle of the land, with Shechem between them. Joshua did exactly this after Jericho and Ai (Josh 8:30-35), and chapter 27 gives the details.
11:30 beside the terebinths of Moreh A terebinth is a large spreading tree. Here Abraham first stopped in Canaan and God first promised him the land (Gen 12:6-7). Israel would proclaim the covenant where the promise began. This Gilgal is likely a site near Shechem, not the one by Jericho.
11:31 you shall take possession of it and dwell in it Not if, but you shall.
11:32 you shall be careful to do all the statutes and the judgments This closes the great call to love and obey that began in chapter 5. Next come the statutes one by one. The rules are not the starting point. Love for God is, and the commands that follow are ways to live it out in the land.
12:1 These are the statutes and the judgments which you shall be careful to do in the land After eleven chapters on why to obey, Moses now tells them what to obey. These laws were for life in Canaan under the covenant made at Horeb, so we ask three questions of each: what it meant for Israel then, how Christ fulfilled it, and what it teaches us now.
12:2 on the high mountains and on the hills and under every luxuriant tree The Canaanites believed their gods lived on high places and gave life through green trees and rain. A high place was a hilltop shrine, often with a stone pillar and an Asherah pole for the fertility goddess.

every luxuriant tree. 3 And you shall break down their altars, and you shall shatter their pillars, and their Asherim you shall burn with fire, and the carved images of their gods you shall cut down, and you shall destroy their name from that place. 4 You shall not do so to the LORD your God, 5 but to the place which the LORD your God will choose out of all your tribes to put His name there, for His dwelling, you shall seek, and you shall go there. 6 And you shall bring there your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, and your tithes and the contribution of your hand, and your vows and your freewill offerings, and the firstborn of your herd and of your flock. 7 And you shall eat there before the LORD your God, and you shall rejoice in every undertaking of your hand, you and your households, in which the LORD your God has blessed you. 8 You shall not do according to all that we are doing here today, every man all that is right in his own eyes, 9 for you have not yet come to the rest and to the inheritance which the LORD your God is giving to you. 10 And you shall pass over the Jordan (Yarden) and dwell in the land which the LORD your God is causing you to inherit, and He will give you rest from all your enemies all around, and you shall dwell in security. 11 And it shall be that the place which the LORD your God will choose to make His name dwell there, there you shall bring all that I am commanding you: your burnt offerings and your sacrifices, your tithes and the contribution of your hand, and all the choice of your vows which you vow to the LORD. 12 And you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your sons and your daughters and your slaves and your female slaves, and the Levite who is in your gates, for he has no portion and inheritance with you. 13 Take heed to yourself, lest you offer up your burnt offerings in every place that you see; 14 but in the place which the LORD will choose in one of your tribes, there you shall offer up your burnt offerings, and there you shall do all that I am commanding you.

Eating Meat in Your Towns

15 Only, with all the desire of your soul you may slaughter and eat flesh according to the blessing of the LORD your God which He has given to you, in all your gates; the unclean and the clean may eat it, like the gazelle and like the deer. 16 Only the blood you shall not eat; on the earth you shall pour it out like water. 17 You are not able to eat in your gates the tithe of your grain and of your new wine and of your fresh oil, and the firstborn of your herd and of your flock, and any of your vows which you vow, and your freewill offerings, and the contribution of your hand; 18 but before the LORD your God you shall eat it, in the place which the LORD your God will choose, you and your son and your daughter and your slave and your female slave and the Levite who is in your gates; and you shall rejoice before the LORD your God in every undertaking of your hand. 19 Take heed to yourself, lest you forsake the Levite all your days on your ground. 20 When the LORD your God enlarges your territory, just as He spoke to you, and you say, 'Let me eat flesh,' because your soul desires to eat flesh, with all the desire of your soul you may eat flesh. 21 If the place which the LORD your God will choose to put His name there is too far from you, then you may slaughter from your herd and from your flock which the LORD has given to you, just as I have commanded you, and you may eat in your gates with all the desire of your soul. 22 Indeed, just as the gazelle and the deer are eaten, so you may eat it; the unclean and the clean

12:3 you shall destroy their name from that place To name a god at a place was to claim it for that god. Sadly, even good kings did not take away the high places (1 Kgs 15:14), until Hezekiah and Josiah. What we leave standing in our lives tends to pull us back.
12:5 to the place which the LORD your God will choose out of all your tribes to put His name there Moses never names it. First it was Shiloh (Josh 18:1; Jer 7:12), later Jerusalem (1 Kgs 8:29). God is everywhere and the heavens cannot hold Him (1 Kgs 8:27), but He chose a place to meet His people on His terms.
12:7 you shall eat there before the LORD your God, and you shall rejoice Burnt offerings, peace offerings, tithes, gifts, vows and firstborn all came there (12:6). Worship in Deuteronomy is not gloomy. It is a family meal with God at the head of the table.
12:8 every man all that is right in his own eyes In the wilderness worship was not yet settled. The same words describe Israel falling apart in Judges (Judg 21:25). God gives His Word so we do not have to guess what pleases Him.
12:10 He will give you rest from all your enemies all around, and you shall dwell in security Joshua gave Israel rest in the land, but it pictured a better rest God gives in Christ (Heb 4:8-10).
12:12 and the Levite who is in your gates, for he has no portion and inheritance with you Everyone was invited, servants included. Levi had no land and lived on the offerings and the kindness of the tribes, and Deuteronomy keeps reminding Israel not to forget them.
12:13 lest you offer up your burnt offerings in every place that you see One place guarded against mixing the LORD's worship with Baal's, and it taught that God sets the terms for how sinners come to Him. There is one way to God (John 14:6). We no longer need a temple in Jerusalem; true worshipers "will worship the Father in spirit and truth" (John 4:23). But we still come His way, through His Son.
12:15 with all the desire of your soul you may slaughter and eat flesh In the wilderness animals seem to have been killed at the tabernacle (Lev 17:3-6). Spread through the land, they could eat meat at home "like the gazelle," an ordinary meal, not a sacrifice. God made room for daily life (12:20-22).
12:16 Only the blood you shall not eat; on the earth you shall pour it out like water A rule going back to Noah (Gen 9:4).
12:18 before the LORD your God you shall eat it, in the place which the LORD your God will choose The tithe, firstborn and vows were holy things, to be eaten at the sanctuary with the whole household.
12:19 lest you forsake the Levite all your days on your ground The second reminder in the chapter. It is easy to forget those who serve God when busy with our own fields. Those who teach the Word should be cared for by those they teach (Gal 6:6; 1 Tim 5:17-18).

alike may eat it. 23 Only be strong not to eat the blood, for the blood, it is the life, and you shall not eat the life with the flesh. 24 You shall not eat it; on the earth you shall pour it out like water. 25 You shall not eat it, so that it may go well with you and with your sons after you, when you do what is right in the eyes of the LORD. 26 Only your holy things which you have, and your vows, you shall take, and you shall go to the place which the LORD will choose. 27 And you shall offer your burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, on the altar of the LORD your God; and the blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, and the flesh you may eat. 28 Keep and hear all these words which I am commanding you, so that it may go well with you and with your sons after you forever, when you do the good and the right in the eyes of the LORD your God.

Do Not Copy the Nations

29 When the LORD your God cuts off from before you the nations to which you are going to dispossess them, and you dispossess them and dwell in their land, 30 take heed to yourself, lest you be ensnared after them, after they have been destroyed from before you, and lest you inquire about their gods, saying, 'How did these nations serve their gods? And let me do so, I also.' 31 You shall not do so to the LORD your God, for every abomination of the LORD which He hates they have done for their gods; for even their sons and their daughters they burn with fire to their gods. 32 Every word which I am commanding you, it you shall be careful to do; you shall not add to it, and you shall not take away from it.

False Prophets and Dreamers

1 If a prophet or a dreamer of a dream arises in your midst, and he gives you a sign or a wonder, 2 and the sign and the wonder of which he spoke to you comes to pass, saying, 'Let us walk after other gods,' which you have not known, 'and let us be made to serve them,' 3 you shall not listen to the words of that prophet or to that dreamer of the dream, for the LORD your God is testing you, to know whether you are loving the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. 4 After the LORD your God you shall walk, and Him you shall fear, and His commandments you shall keep, and to His voice you shall listen, and Him you shall serve, and to Him you shall cling. 5 And that prophet or that dreamer of the dream shall be put to death, for he has spoken rebellion against the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) and ransomed you from the house of slaves, to thrust you from the way in which the LORD your God commanded you to walk. And you shall purge the evil from your midst.

When a Loved One Entices

6 If your brother, the son of your mother, or your son or your daughter or the wife of your bosom or your friend who is as your own soul, entices you in secret, saying, 'Let us go and serve other gods,' which you have not known, you and your fathers, 7 of the gods of the peoples who are around

12:23 be strong not to eat the blood, for the blood, it is the life Nations around them drank blood, sometimes in pagan rites. Life belongs to God: "the life of the flesh is in the blood" (Lev 17:11), given on the altar for atonement. "Apart from shedding of blood there is no forgiveness" (Heb 9:22). The early church asked Gentiles to abstain from blood (Acts 15:29); believers differ on whether that still binds us, but all agree the blood of Jesus is precious most of all (1 Pet 1:19).
12:27 the blood of your sacrifices shall be poured out on the altar of the LORD your God, and the flesh you may eat The burnt offering went wholly on the altar; for other sacrifices the blood went on the altar and the family ate the meat.
12:28 so that it may go well with you and with your sons after you forever Moses keeps thinking of the children. Our faithfulness shapes the next generation more than we know.
12:30 How did these nations serve their gods? And let me do so, I also It sounds like harmless curiosity. Maybe their ways worked, and Israel could borrow a few for the LORD.
12:31 even their sons and their daughters they burn with fire to their gods An abomination is something God finds disgusting. Child sacrifice to Molech (Lev 18:21) was one reason God judged these nations, and Israel later did it in the valley of Hinnom (2 Kgs 16:3; Jer 7:31). Every age has ways of sacrificing children to what it worships. The church too is tempted to borrow the world's methods; does what we bring into worship honor God, or just copy the culture?
12:32 you shall not add to it, and you shall not take away from it As in 4:2 and Revelation 22:18-19. Adding puts our ideas on God's level; taking away says some of His words do not matter. The safe road is to receive all of it, as written.
13:1 If a prophet or a dreamer of a dream arises in your midst A prophet speaks for God; a dreamer claims messages in dreams. God did speak to prophets in dreams and visions (Num 12:6), so a dreamer could look very convincing.
13:2 the sign and the wonder of which he spoke to you comes to pass, saying, 'Let us walk after other gods,' A miracle does not prove a message is from God. Pharaoh's magicians copied some plagues (Exod 7:11, 22), and Jesus warned of false prophets who "will give great signs and wonders, so as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect" (Matt 24:24). The test is not first what he can do, but what he says about God.
13:3 the LORD your God is testing you, to know whether you are loving the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul God tempts no one to sin (James 1:13), but He allows tests that show what is in our hearts. This was a test of love (6:5). Even "an angel out of heaven" (Gal 1:8) preaching another gospel is to be rejected.
13:4 After the LORD your God you shall walk, and Him you shall fear Six verbs, and in Hebrew the LORD comes first in each line. Cling is the word used of a man holding fast to his wife (Gen 2:24). The best protection against error is knowing and loving the true God so well that a counterfeit is easy to spot.
13:5 that prophet or that dreamer of the dream shall be put to death, for he has spoken rebellion against the LORD your God The first death penalty in the law code. Israel was ruled by God Himself, so leading them to other gods was like leading a revolt against the King, and those gods demanded the burning of children (12:31). "Purge the evil from your midst" comes again and again; evil was like a sickness that would spread through the nation.
13:6 the wife of your bosom or your friend who is as your own soul, entices you in secret The hardest case: the people closest to us, with no sign and no crowd, only the quiet pull of love.

you, those near to you or those far from you, from the end of the earth and to the end of the earth, 8 you shall not consent to him, and you shall not listen to him, and your eye shall not pity him, and you shall not spare him, and you shall not cover over him. 9 But you shall surely kill him; your hand shall be on him first to put him to death, and the hand of all the people last. 10 And you shall stone him with stones, and he shall die, for he sought to thrust you away from the LORD your God, who brought you out from the land of Egypt, from the house of slaves. 11 And all Israel (Yisra'el) shall hear and fear, and they shall not again do like this evil thing in your midst.

A City That Turns to Idols

12 If you hear in one of your cities which the LORD your God is giving to you to dwell there, saying, 13 'Men, sons of worthlessness, have gone out from your midst, and they have thrust away the inhabitants of their city, saying, "Let us go and serve other gods,"' which you have not known, 14 then you shall investigate and search out and inquire thoroughly; and look, it is truth, the thing is certain, this abomination has been done in your midst, 15 you shall surely strike the inhabitants of that city with the mouth of the sword, devoting it to destruction and all that is in it, and its livestock, with the mouth of the sword. 16 And all its plunder you shall gather into the midst of its open square, and you shall burn with fire the city and all its plunder, a whole offering to the LORD your God; and it shall be a heap forever; it shall not be built again. 17 And nothing of the devoted thing shall cling to your hand, so that the LORD may turn from the burning of His anger, and give you compassion, and have compassion on you, and multiply you, just as He swore to your fathers, 18 when you listen to the voice of the LORD your God, to keep all His commandments which I am commanding you today, to do what is right in the eyes of the LORD your God.

DEUTERONOMY 14

A Holy People

1 You are sons of the LORD your God; you shall not cut yourselves, and you shall not make baldness between your eyes for the dead. 2 For you are a holy people to the LORD your God, and the LORD has chosen you to be for Him a people of treasured possession out of all the peoples who are on the face of the ground.

Clean and Unclean Food

3 You shall not eat any abomination. 4 This is the animal which you may eat: ox, lamb of the sheep, and kid of the goats, 5 deer and gazelle and roe-deer and wild goat and ibex and antelope and mountain sheep. 6 And every animal that divides a hoof and cleaves a cleft of two hooves, bringing up cud, among the animals, it you may eat. 7 Nevertheless, these you shall not eat, of those that bring up the cud and of those that divide the cloven hoof: the camel and the hare and the rock badger, for they bring up cud, and a hoof they do not divide; they are unclean to you. 8 And the pig, for it

14:8 Lev 11:26,27; Isa 65:4; Isa 66:3,17

13:8 you shall not consent to him, and you shall not listen to him Nor hide it. Love for family could not outweigh loyalty to God. "The one who loves father or mother above Me is not worthy of Me" (Matt 10:37). We do not stop loving them, but God comes first.

13:9 your hand shall be on him first to put him to death, and the hand of all the people last The accuser had to act first, a guard against false charges from a distance. Two or three witnesses and careful inquiry were also required (17:4-6; 19:15).

13:11 all Israel shall hear and fear The penalty protected the whole nation. This law was for Israel under God's direct rule. The church is not a nation and does not carry the sword. Paul quotes the phrase, "you will remove the evil man from among yourselves" (1 Cor 5:13), meaning removal from fellowship with the goal of restoration (2 Cor 2:6-8). No Christian has any right to harm anyone because of what they believe (Matt 26:52). What has not changed is how seriously God takes leading people away from Him (Matt 18:6).

13:13 Men, sons of worthlessness, have gone out from your midst A Hebrew way of saying wicked, good-for-nothing men. The word, belial, later became a name for Satan (2 Cor 6:15).

13:14 you shall investigate and search out and inquire thoroughly Three verbs, all meaning look hard. Rumor was not enough; God's justice never acts on gossip. How quickly do we believe a bad report without checking it?

13:15 devoting it to destruction and all that is in it The same herem as on Canaan (7:2). The ban was never about race. God would judge an Israelite town by the same standard if it turned to the same gods. In the end He did so to the nation, sending it into exile and burning Jerusalem (2 Kgs 25:9). Scripture records no town judged under this law in exactly this form (compare Judg 20).

13:16 a whole offering to the LORD your God; and it shall be a heap forever Burned as an offering and never rebuilt.

13:17 nothing of the devoted thing shall cling to your hand No one was to profit from God's justice, as Achan did (Josh 7). The goal of judgment was mercy for the nation: God would turn from His anger and have compassion.

13:18 when you listen to the voice of the LORD your God The whole chapter comes back to listening: not to the prophet, not to the friend, but to the LORD. The Father said of His Son, "listen to Him" (Matt 17:5). In a world full of voices, that is still our safety.

14:1 you shall not cut yourselves, and you shall not make baldness between your eyes for the dead Israel was God's family, "My son, My firstborn" (Exod 4:22). Cutting the skin and shaving the head were pagan mourning rites, often tied to their gods (1 Kgs 18:28; Lev 19:28). God's children do not grieve "just as also the rest who have no hope" (1 Thess 4:13). Grief is real and right, but ours is different because we know the One who holds life and death.

14:3 You shall not eat any abomination The heading for the food laws. It did not mean the animal was evil, for God called every creature good (Gen 1:31). For Israel, under this covenant, it was not food.

14:6 every animal that divides a hoof and cleaves a cleft of two hooves, bringing up cud To bring up the cud is to chew food a second time, as cows and sheep do. An animal needed both marks, so the camel, hare and rock badger, which chew the cud or seem to, were out (14:7). Some of the animal names are hard to identify today.

14:8 the pig, for it divides a hoof, and brings up no cud; it is unclean to you Scripture does not give the full reason. Some point to health, others to the pig's use in pagan rites. The reason the text gives is "you are a holy people" (14:2). Every meal reminded Israel that they belonged to God.

divides a hoof, and brings up no cud; it is unclean to you. Of their flesh you shall not eat, and their carcass you shall not touch. 9 This you may eat of all that is in the water: all that has fin and scale you may eat. 10 And all that does not have fin and scale you shall not eat; it is unclean to you. 11 Every clean bird you may eat. 12 And these are those of which you shall not eat: the eagle and the bearded vulture and the osprey, 13 and the red kite and the hawk and the black kite according to its kind, 14 and every raven according to its kind, 15 and the ostrich and the screech owl and the gull and the falcon according to its kind, 16 the little owl and the great owl and the barn owl, 17 and the desert owl and the Egyptian vulture and the cormorant, 18 and the stork and the heron according to its kind, and the hoopoe and the bat. 19 And every swarming thing of the flying things is unclean to you; they shall not be eaten. 20 Every clean flying thing you may eat. 21 You shall not eat any carcass; to the sojourner who is in your gates you may give it, and he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner; for you are a holy people to the LORD your God. You shall not boil a young goat in the milk of its mother.

The Tithe

22 You shall surely tithe all the produce of your seed which comes out of the field year by year. 23 And you shall eat before the LORD your God, in the place which He will choose to make His name dwell there, the tithe of your grain, your new wine, and your fresh oil, and the firstborn of your herd and of your flock, so that you may learn to fear the LORD your God all the days. 24 And if the way is too great for you, so that you are not able to carry it, because the place which the LORD your God will choose to put His name there is too far from you, when the LORD your God blesses you, 25 then you shall give it for money, and bind up the money in your hand, and go to the place which the LORD your God will choose. 26 And you shall give the money for all that your soul desires, for cattle and for sheep and for wine and for strong drink and for all that your soul asks of you; and you shall eat there before the LORD your God, and you shall rejoice, you and your household. 27 And the Levite who is in your gates, you shall not forsake him, for he has no portion and inheritance with you. 28 At the end of three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in that year, and you shall deposit it in your gates. 29 And the Levite shall come, because he has no portion and inheritance with you, and the sojourner and the fatherless and the widow who are in your gates, and they shall eat and be satisfied, so that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hand which you do.

DEUTERONOMY 15

The Year of Release

1 At the end of seven years you shall make a release. 2 And this is the manner of the release: every owner of a loan of his hand shall release what he lends to his neighbor; he shall not press his neighbor and his brother, for one has proclaimed a release to the LORD. 3 The foreigner you may press, and what is yours with your brother, let your hand release.

14:9 all that has fin and scale you may eat Shellfish, eels and catfish were unclean. Holiness reached into the kitchen.
14:12 the eagle and the bearded vulture and the osprey Some bird names are uncertain. Most on the list are birds of prey or eaters of dead things, living on blood and death, which fits the blood law (12:23). The bat is counted with flying things, as the text does.
14:19 every swarming thing of the flying things is unclean to you Flying insects, though Leviticus 11:21-22 allows locusts and grasshoppers. God gave a clear guide; He does not leave His people guessing.
14:21 You shall not eat any carcass; to the sojourner who is in your gates you may give it An animal that died on its own still had its blood. The food laws were for Israel as God's holy people, not for the whole world. The young goat law (Exod 23:19) may oppose a pagan rite or teach tenderness; Scripture does not say. Jesus said, "Not what enters into the mouth defiles the man" (Matt 15:11), "cleansing all the foods" (Mark 7:19). Peter heard, "What God has cleansed, you must not call common" (Acts 10:15), a lesson that Gentiles were welcome in Christ. The food laws were "a shadow" (Col 2:17). Now "every creature of God is good" (1 Tim 4:4), and "whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all things to the glory of God" (1 Cor 10:31).
14:22 You shall surely tithe all the produce of your seed which comes out of the field year by year A tithe is a tenth. Every year a tenth of the harvest belonged to God.
14:23 you shall eat before the LORD your God, in the place which He will choose This tithe was eaten by the family in a feast at the sanctuary, "so that you may learn to fear the LORD." Giving the first and best teaches us to trust Him for the rest.
14:24 if the way is too great for you, so that you are not able to carry it They could sell the produce and buy food at the sanctuary (14:25). God made room for distance again.
14:26 for wine and for strong drink and for all that your soul asks of you Strong drink was fermented drink like beer. Scripture warns against drunkenness (Prov 20:1; Eph 5:18), and Christians differ on alcohol, but this shows the feast was a real celebration before the LORD, not a grim duty.
14:27 the Levite who is in your gates, you shall not forsake him The third reminder in three chapters. God's people were never to rejoice in a way that forgot those in need.
14:28 At the end of three years you shall bring out all the tithe of your produce in that year Every third year the tithe was stored in the towns. Jewish tradition counted several tithes (Num 18:21-24 and these); scholars differ on the count.
14:29 the sojourner and the fatherless and the widow who are in your gates, and they shall eat and be satisfied A welfare system built into worship; the poor did not have to beg. The New Testament does not command tithing as Israel did, and Christians debate it, but it calls us to give generously and with the needy in mind (Gal 2:10), for "God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor 9:7).
15:1 At the end of seven years you shall make a release Release means to let go. The seventh year was already a Sabbath for the land (Exod 23:10-11; Lev 25:1-7); Deuteronomy adds a release of debts.
15:2 he shall not press his neighbor and his brother, for one has proclaimed a release to the LORD Loans in Israel were not business loans but help for a neighbor after a bad harvest or sickness. Teachers differ on whether the debt was cancelled for good or only put on hold for that year when no crops were sown. Either way, it gave the poor a fresh start.
15:3 The foreigner you may press Not the poor sojourner living in Israel, but an outsider, usually a trader, who came for business. The release was a family law for God's people.

4 Nevertheless, there shall be no needy one among you, for the LORD will surely bless you in the land which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance to take possession of it, 5 if only you surely listen to the voice of the LORD your God, to be careful to do all this commandment which I am commanding you today. 6 For the LORD your God has blessed you just as He spoke to you, and you shall lend to many nations, and you, you shall not borrow; and you shall rule over many nations, and over you they shall not rule.

Open Your Hand to the Poor

7 If there is among you a needy one, one of your brothers, in one of your gates in your land which the LORD your God is giving to you, you shall not harden your heart, and you shall not shut your hand from your needy brother. 8 But you shall surely open your hand to him, and you shall surely lend him sufficient for his lack which he lacks. 9 Take heed to yourself, lest there be a word of worthlessness in your heart, saying, 'The seventh year, the year of release, has drawn near,' and your eye be evil against your needy brother, and you do not give to him, and he call out against you to the LORD, and it be sin on you. 10 You shall surely give to him, and your heart shall not be grieved when you give to him, for on account of this thing the LORD your God will bless you in all your work and in every undertaking of your hand. 11 For the needy will not cease from the midst of the land; therefore I am commanding you, saying, 'You shall surely open your hand to your brother, to your poor, and to your needy in your land.'

Freeing a Hebrew Servant

12 If your brother, the Hebrew man or the Hebrew woman, is sold to you, and he serves you six years, then in the seventh year you shall send him away free from you. 13 And when you send him away free from you, you shall not send him away empty. 14 You shall surely furnish him from your flock and from your threshing floor and from your winepress; from that with which the LORD your God has blessed you, you shall give to him. 15 And you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim), and the LORD your God ransomed you; therefore I am commanding you this thing today. 16 And it shall be, if he says to you, 'I will not go out from you,' because he loves you and your household, because it is good for him with you, 17 then you shall take the awl and put it into his ear and into the door, and he shall be your slave forever. And also to your female slave you shall do so. 18 It shall not be hard in your eyes when you send him away free from you, for at double the hire of a hired worker he has served you six years; and the LORD your God will bless you in all that you do.

Firstborn Animals

19 Every firstborn that is born in your herd and in your flock, the male, you shall sanctify to the LORD your God; you shall not work with the firstborn of your ox, and you shall not shear the firstborn of your flock. 20 Before the LORD your God you shall eat it year by year in the place which the LORD will choose, you and your household. 21 And if there is 15:4 there shall be no needy one among you, for the LORD will surely bless you in the land God's goal, if Israel obeyed (15:5). When the Spirit came, "neither was anyone needy among them" (Acts 4:34), because believers shared.

15:6 you shall lend to many nations, and you, you shall not borrow Obedience would make Israel a lender, not a debtor.
15:7 you shall not harden your heart, and you shall not shut your hand from your needy brother When God's goal is not met, God speaks to our heart first, then our hand. A hard heart leads to a closed hand.
15:8 you shall surely lend him sufficient for his lack which he lacks Not a token, but enough. "Whoever has the goods of the world and sees his brother having need and shuts his compassion from him, how does the love of God abide in him?" (1 John 3:17).
15:9 lest there be a word of worthlessness in your heart, saying, 'The seventh year, the year of release, has drawn near,' God saw the trick coming: refusing to lend because the money would not come back. An evil eye is a stingy, grudging eye. The poor man can appeal to God, and God hears him.
15:10 your heart shall not be grieved when you give to him God cares how we give, not only what. Not "out of grief or out of necessity; for God loves a cheerful giver" (2 Cor 9:7). We cannot outgive God.
15:11 the needy will not cease from the midst of the land No clash with verse 4. Verse 4 tells what full obedience would bring; verse 11 is honest about a fallen world. Jesus quoted it: "you always have the poor with you" (Matt 26:11). Anyone who knew the verse heard the rest: so open your hand to them, every day.
15:12 the Hebrew man or the Hebrew woman, is sold to you, and he serves you six years Not the slavery of the American South, where people were kidnapped and owned for life because of race. A person usually sold himself to pay a debt (Lev 25:39) and worked it off for up to six years. Kidnapping to sell was a capital crime (Exod 21:16; 24:7). Women went free the same as men.
15:14 You shall surely furnish him from your flock and from your threshing floor and from your winepress Furnish pictures putting a necklace on someone, loading him with gifts. A freed servant was not to go out empty (15:13) but with what he needed to start again.
15:15 you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt, and the LORD your God ransomed you God did not send Israel out empty (Exod 12:35-36). We treat others well not to earn God's favor but because we have received it. "Freely you received; freely give" (Matt 10:8).
15:16 because he loves you and your household, because it is good for him with you In a godly household this service could be good enough that a servant chose to stay.
15:17 you shall take the awl and put it into his ear and into the door The ear, how we hear and obey, was pierced at the door as a mark of belonging to that house for life (Exod 21:6). Paul called himself "a slave of Christ Jesus" (Rom 1:1), and many see here a picture of serving our Master because we love Him. Jesus took "the form of a slave" (Phil 2:7) for us.
15:18 at double the hire of a hired worker he has served you six years He worked for food and shelter, not wages, so the master had gained much. Letting him go was only fair, and God promises to bless.
15:19 you shall not work with the firstborn of your ox, and you shall not shear the firstborn of your flock The firstborn belonged to God, who spared Israel's firstborn in Egypt (Exod 13:2, 15). Christ is "the firstborn among many brothers" (Rom 8:29).
15:20 Before the LORD your God you shall eat it year by year A family feast at the sanctuary. Giving to God and joy before God go together.
15:21 if there is a blemish in it, lame or blind, any evil blemish, you shall not sacrifice it God was not to get leftovers (Mal 1:8). Christ was offered "as of a lamb without blemish and without spot" (1 Pet 1:19). Give God your best, because He gave His best for us.

a blemish in it, lame or blind, any evil blemish, you shall not sacrifice it to the LORD your God. 22 In your gates you may eat it, the unclean and the clean alike, like the gazelle and like the deer. 23 Only its blood you shall not eat; on the earth you shall pour it out like water.

Passover

1 Keep the month of Abib (Aviv), and you shall observe a Passover to the LORD your God, for in the month of Abib the LORD your God brought you out from Egypt (Mitsrayim) by night. 2 And you shall sacrifice a Passover to the LORD your God, from the flock and the herd, in the place which the LORD will choose to make His name dwell there. 3 You shall not eat leavened bread with it; seven days you shall eat with it unleavened bread, bread of affliction, for in haste you came out from the land of Egypt, so that you may remember the day of your coming out from the land of Egypt all the days of your life. 4 And leaven shall not be seen with you in all your territory seven days; and none of the flesh which you sacrifice in the evening on the first day shall remain overnight until the morning. 5 You are not able to sacrifice the Passover in any one of your gates which the LORD your God is giving to you, 6 but at the place which the LORD your God will choose to make His name dwell there, there you shall sacrifice the Passover in the evening, at the going in of the sun, the appointed time of your coming out from Egypt. 7 And you shall cook it and eat it in the place which the LORD your God will choose; and you shall turn in the morning and go to your tents. 8 Six days you shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day there shall be a solemn assembly to the LORD your God; you shall not do work.

The Festival of Weeks

9 Seven weeks you shall count for yourself; from when the sickle begins in the standing grain you shall begin to count seven weeks. 10 And you shall observe the Festival of Weeks to the LORD your God with the measure of a freewill offering of your hand, which you shall give just as the LORD your God blesses you. 11 And you shall rejoice before the LORD your God, you and your son and your daughter and your slave and your female slave and the Levite who is in your gates, and the sojourner and the fatherless and the widow who are in your midst, in the place which the LORD your God will choose to make His name dwell there. 12 And you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and you shall keep and do these statutes.

The Festival of Booths

13 The Festival of Booths you shall observe for yourself seven days, when you gather in from your threshing floor and from your winepress. 14 And you shall rejoice in your festival, you and your son and your daughter and your slave and your female slave and the Levite and the sojourner and the fatherless and the widow who are in your gates. 15 Seven days you shall hold a festival to the LORD your God in the place which the LORD will choose, for the LORD your God will bless you in all your produce and in all the work of your hands, and you shall be altogether joyful. 16 Three times in the year all your males shall appear before the LORD your God in the place which He will choose: at the Festival of Unleavened Bread and at the Festival of Weeks and at the Festival of Booths; and he shall not appear before the LORD

16:16 Prov 3:9,10; Hag 1:9; Matt 2:11

16:1 Keep the month of Abib, and you shall observe a Passover to the LORD your God Abib means fresh ears of grain, the first month, our March or April, later called Nisan (Esth 3:7). Passover remembered the night the LORD passed over the houses marked with blood (Exod 12), Israel's birth as a free people.
16:2 from the flock and the herd, in the place which the LORD will choose In Egypt the lamb was killed at home (Exod 12:3-7); in the land, at the sanctuary. The herd likely means the other offerings of the feast week along with the lamb (2 Chr 35:7-9).
16:3 bread of affliction, for in haste you came out from the land of Egypt Leaven is yeast. They left so quickly their bread had no time to rise (Exod 12:34, 39). The flat bread recalled slavery and sudden rescue. Leaven often pictures sin, and "our Passover was sacrificed for us: Christ" (1 Cor 5:7). At Passover Jesus gave a new meal: "do this for My remembrance" (Luke 22:19).
16:6 in the evening, at the going in of the sun, the appointed time of your coming out from Egypt The very hour of the first Passover. Jesus kept this law (Luke 2:41-42) and went up to Jerusalem to die at Passover, in the place God chose, at the time God appointed.
16:8 on the seventh day there shall be a solemn assembly to the LORD your God A holy gathering and a day of rest. Israel's year began with rest and remembering what God had done.
16:9 Seven weeks you shall count for yourself From the start of the barley harvest to the wheat harvest, fifty days (Lev 23:16), so Greek-speaking Jews called it Pentecost, fiftieth.
16:10 with the measure of a freewill offering of your hand, which you shall give just as the LORD your God blesses you No fixed amount; each gave in proportion to the harvest. Paul gives the same rule, "whatever he may be prospered" (1 Cor 16:2).
16:11 the sojourner and the fatherless and the widow who are in your midst Everyone was at the table. God's feasts had no outsiders. Fifty days after the resurrection, at this feast, the Spirit was poured out (Acts 2:1-4) and three thousand were saved, the first great gospel harvest, open to Jew and Gentile, slave and free.
16:12 you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt They had all been slaves once. No one in Israel had a right to look down on anyone else.
16:13 The Festival of Booths you shall observe for yourself seven days In the fall at the end of harvest. They lived in booths of branches to remember God's care in the wilderness (Lev 23:42-43).
16:15 you shall be altogether joyful The happiest week of Israel's year. At this feast Jesus cried, "If anyone thirsts, let him come to Me and drink" (John 7:37). The Word "dwelt among us" (John 1:14), a word meaning to pitch a tent. In Christ's kingdom the nations will go up "to celebrate the Feast of Booths" (Zech 14:16). I believe this will be fulfilled when Christ reigns in His thousand-year kingdom.
16:16 Three times in the year all your males shall appear before the LORD your God The three pilgrimage feasts, with whole families welcome (16:11, 14). Many think the Psalms of Ascents (Ps 120 to 134) were sung on the way. Christians are not required to keep Israel's feasts, which were "a shadow" (Col 2:17), and no one should judge another over them.

empty, 17 each man according to the gift of his hand, according to the blessing of the LORD your God which He has given to you.

Judges and Justice

18 Judges and officers you shall appoint for yourself in all your gates which the LORD your God is giving to you, according to your tribes, and they shall judge the people with judgment of righteousness. 19 You shall not turn aside judgment; you shall not show regard to faces; and you shall not take a bribe, for the bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and twists the words of the righteous. 20 Righteousness, righteousness you shall pursue, so that you may live and take possession of the land which the LORD your God is giving to you. 21 You shall not plant for yourself an Asherah, any tree, beside the altar of the LORD your God which you shall make for yourself. 22 And you shall not set up for yourself a pillar, which the LORD your God hates.

DEUTERONOMY 17

Cases of Idolatry

1 You shall not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep in which there is a blemish, any evil thing, for it is an abomination of the LORD your God. 2 If there is found in your midst, in one of your gates which the LORD your God is giving to you, a man or a woman who does the evil in the eyes of the LORD your God by transgressing His covenant, 3 and he has gone and served other gods and bowed down to them, and to the sun or to the moon or to any of the host of the heavens, which I have not commanded, 4 and it is declared to you, and you hear of it, and you shall investigate thoroughly; and look, it is truth, the thing is certain, this abomination has been done in Israel (Yisra'el), 5 then you shall bring out that man or that woman who has done this evil thing to your gates, the man or the woman, and you shall stone them with stones, and they shall die. 6 On the mouth of two witnesses or three witnesses the one who is to die shall be put to death; he shall not be put to death on the mouth of one witness. 7 The hand of the witnesses shall be on him first to put him to death, and the hand of all the people last. And you shall purge the evil from your midst.

The Higher Court

8 If a matter is too difficult for you for judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, matters of disputes in your gates, then you shall arise and go up to the place which the LORD your God will choose. 9 And you shall come to the priests, the Levites, and to the judge who will be in those days, and you shall inquire, and they shall declare to you the word of the judgment. 10 And you shall do according to the word which they declare to you from that place which the LORD will choose, and you shall be careful to do according to all that they instruct you. 11 According to the law which they instruct you and according to the judgment which they say to you, you shall do; you shall not turn aside from the word which they declare to you, to the right or to the left. 12 And the man who acts with presumption so as not to listen to the priest who stands to serve the LORD your God there, or to the

16:17 each man according to the gift of his hand We come to God with gratitude in our hands, not because He needs our gifts, but because we have been given so much.
16:18 Judges and officers you shall appoint for yourself in all your gates Every town had judges to hear cases and officers to carry out their decisions. The gate was where the elders sat (Ruth 4:1-2).
16:19 the bribe blinds the eyes of the wise and twists the words of the righteous Do not twist justice or favor anyone for who they are. A bribe blinds even the wise; no one is above its pull. Jerusalem's leaders came to where "every one of them loves a bribe" (Isa 1:23). God shows no partiality (Acts 10:34).
16:20 Righteousness, righteousness you shall pursue Doubled for strength. Chase it like something precious. A nation that twists justice rots from the inside. "Let justice roll like the waters" (Amos 5:24). Judges, bosses, parents and church leaders alike are called to be fair.
16:21 You shall not plant for yourself an Asherah, any tree, beside the altar of the LORD your God Not beside His altar as if she were His partner. A pillar was a standing stone of pagan worship (16:22). A nation that mixes its worship will soon twist its justice too. Manasseh even set Asherah's image in the temple (2 Kgs 21:7).
17:1 You shall not sacrifice to the LORD your God an ox or a sheep in which there is a blemish As with the firstborn (15:21), now for every sacrifice. A flawed offering quietly despised God. Israel would not give a sick animal to their governor, yet they gave it to God (Mal 1:8). What we give God shows what we think of Him.
17:3 to the sun or to the moon or to any of the host of the heavens Star worship was common, and Israel later fell into it (2 Kgs 21:3-5; 23:5). The law applied to "a man or a woman" alike (17:2).
17:4 you shall investigate thoroughly; and look, it is truth, the thing is certain No action without a careful trial.
17:5 you shall stone them with stones, and they shall die Hard to read, as in chapter 13. Idolatry was treason against the God who redeemed Israel and was their King, and Canaan's gods demanded even children (12:31). This was for Israel under God's direct rule, not a pattern for any government or church today. The church deals with sin by teaching, discipline and the hope of repentance (Matt 18:15-17; Gal 6:1), never by force.
17:6 he shall not be put to death on the mouth of one witness One person's word was never enough to take a life (19:15). Jesus and Paul used the same rule (Matt 18:16; 2 Cor 13:1; 1 Tim 5:19). Be slow to believe an accusation on one person's word. Jesus was condemned at a trial where the witnesses did not agree (Mark 14:55-59).
17:7 The hand of the witnesses shall be on him first to put him to death A witness who had to throw the first stone would think hard before lying.
17:8 between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke Kinds of killing, legal claims and injuries too hard for the town elders went to a high court at the sanctuary, as Moses had once judged the hard cases (1:17; Exod 18:26). Jehoshaphat later set up such a court (2 Chr 19:8-11).
17:11 According to the law which they instruct you The court's ruling was final because it came from God's Word. The priests could not invent new law. Jesus rejected traditions that went beyond and against the Law, not the Law itself (Matt 15:3-6).
17:12 the man who acts with presumption so as not to listen to the priest Not someone who disagreed or appealed, but one who proudly refused to submit at all. Without this, no ruling would stand, and disputes would end in blood feuds.

judge, that man shall die; and you shall purge the evil from Israel. 13 And all the people shall hear and fear, and they shall not act presumptuously again.

The King

14 When you come into the land which the LORD your God is giving to you, and you take possession of it and dwell in it, and you say, 'Let me set a king over me like all the nations that are around me,' 15 you shall surely set over yourself a king whom the LORD your God will choose; from the midst of your brothers you shall set a king over yourself; you are not able to put over yourself a foreign man who is not your brother. 16 Only he shall not multiply horses for himself, and he shall not cause the people to return to Egypt (Mitsrayim) in order to multiply horses, and the LORD has said to you, 'You shall not again return on this way anymore.' 17 And he shall not multiply wives for himself, and his heart shall not turn aside; and silver and gold he shall not multiply for himself greatly. 18 And it shall be, when he sits on the throne of his kingdom, that he shall write for himself a copy of this law on a scroll, from before the priests, the Levites. 19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, so that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them, 20 so that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers, and so that he may not turn aside from the commandment, to the right or to the left, so that he may prolong his days over his kingdom, he and his sons, in the midst of Israel.

The Portion of the Priests and Levites

1 There shall not be for the priests, the Levites, all the tribe of Levi, a portion and an inheritance with Israel (Yisra'el); the fire offerings of the LORD and his inheritance they shall eat. 2 And an inheritance shall not be for him in the midst of his brothers; the LORD, He is his inheritance, just as He spoke to him. 3 And this shall be the due of the priests from the people, from those who sacrifice the sacrifice, whether ox or sheep: and he shall give to the priest the foreleg and the two cheeks and the stomach. 4 The first of your grain, your new wine, and your fresh oil, and the first of the fleece of your flock, you shall give to him. 5 For the LORD your God has chosen him out of all your tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the LORD, he and his sons, all the days. 6 And if the Levite comes from one of your gates out of all Israel, where he is sojourning, and he comes with all the desire of his soul to the place which the LORD will choose, 7 and he ministers in the name of the LORD his God like all his brothers the Levites who stand there before the LORD, 8 portion like portion they shall eat, besides his sales according to the fathers.

17:13 all the people shall hear and fear, and they shall not act presumptuously again Order depends on respect for lawful authority, "a servant of God to you for the good" (Rom 13:4), unless it commands what God forbids (Acts 5:29).
17:14 Let me set a king over me like all the nations that are around me Moses looks three centuries ahead. Israel said almost exactly this to Samuel, "appoint for us a king to judge us like all the nations" (1 Sam 8:5). Kings were part of God's plan (Gen 17:6; 49:10), but the motive in Samuel's day rejected the LORD as King (1 Sam 8:7). God wanted Israel different from the nations, not a copy of them.
17:15 a king whom the LORD your God will choose Not the strongest or the most popular, but God's choice (1 Sam 10:24; 16:12-13), and an Israelite who knew the LORD, not a foreigner bringing foreign gods.
17:16 he shall not multiply horses for himself, and he shall not cause the people to return to Egypt Horses meant chariots and military power. "These trust in chariotry and these in horses, and we, we will make mention of the name of the LORD our God" (Ps 20:7).
17:17 he shall not multiply wives for himself, and his heart shall not turn aside; and silver and gold he shall not multiply for himself greatly Kings married many wives to seal treaties, and the wives brought their gods. Solomon broke all three limits: horses from Egypt (1 Kgs 10:26-28), a thousand wives and concubines who turned his heart (1 Kgs 11:3-4), and silver "like the stones" (1 Kgs 10:27). The kingdom split after him. Knowing the right thing is not the same as doing it.
17:18 he shall write for himself a copy of this law on a scroll The new king's first job was not war or a palace but copying God's Law by hand. The Greek translators drew the name Deuteronomy, second law, from this phrase.
17:19 he shall read in it all the days of his life, so that he may learn to fear the LORD his God The most powerful man in Israel was to be the most humble student of God's Word. A leader who does not stay under God's Word will soon think he is above it.
17:20 so that his heart may not be lifted up above his brothers The king was still a brother under God's Law, not a god like Pharaoh. This points to Christ, David's Son (2 Sam 7:12-16; Luke 1:32-33). He rode a donkey, not a war horse (Matt 21:5), had nowhere to lay His head (Matt 8:20), washed His brothers' feet (John 13:5), "humbled Himself" (Phil 2:8) to the cross, and kept every word of the Law (Matt 5:17). He will return as King of kings and reign in righteousness.
18:1 the fire offerings of the LORD and his inheritance they shall eat Priests were Aaron's family serving at the altar; the Levites were the rest of the tribe, helping at the sanctuary and teaching the Law. Levi received towns but no territory (Josh 21), and lived on parts of the offerings.
18:2 the LORD, He is his inheritance God told Aaron, "I am your portion and your inheritance" (Num 18:20). The other tribes had fields. Levi had God, and that was no loss (Ps 16:5). If we have the LORD, we have the best inheritance there is.
18:3 the foreleg and the two cheeks and the stomach Leviticus gives the priest the breast and right thigh of peace offerings (Lev 7:31-34); these seem to be added parts, or from animals killed in another way. Scripture does not settle it.
18:4 the first of the fleece of your flock Firstfruits were the first and best of each harvest.
18:5 the LORD your God has chosen him out of all your tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the LORD Those who serve God's people should be supported by them. "Those who attend at the altar share with the altar" (1 Cor 9:13), and the Lord directed "those who proclaim the gospel to live from the gospel" (1 Cor 9:14).
18:6 he comes with all the desire of his soul to the place which the LORD will choose Levites lived all over Israel, and any who wished could serve at the sanctuary.
18:8 portion like portion they shall eat No one could push him out or treat him as second class; what he got from selling family property was his own besides. God's servants should not compete for position (Matt 20:26).

No Sorcery or Spirit Mediums

9 When you are coming into the land which the LORD your God is giving to you, you shall not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations. 10 There shall not be found among you one who makes his son and his daughter pass through the fire, one who divines divinations, a soothsayer, and an interpreter of omens, and a sorcerer, 11 and one who casts a spell, and one who asks a medium and a spiritist, and one who inquires of the dead. 12 For everyone who does these things is an abomination to the LORD, and because of these abominations the LORD your God is dispossessing them from before you. 13 You shall be blameless with the LORD your God. 14 For these nations which you are dispossessing listen to soothsayers and to diviners; and you, not so has the LORD your God permitted you.

The Prophet Like Moses

15 A prophet from your midst, from your brothers, like me, the LORD your God will raise up for you; to him you shall listen, 16 according to all that you asked of the LORD your God at Horeb (Chorev) on the day of the assembly, saying, 'Let me not again hear the voice of the LORD my God, and this great fire let me not see anymore, and I will not die.' 17 And the LORD said to me, 'They have done well in what they have spoken. 18 A prophet I will raise up for them from the midst of their brothers, like you, and I will put My words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them all that I command him. 19 And it shall be that the man who does not listen to My words which he speaks in My name, I Myself will require it of him. 20 Only, the prophet who acts presumptuously to speak a word in My name which I have not commanded him to speak, and who speaks in the name of other gods, then that prophet shall die. 21 And if you say in your heart, "How shall we know the word which the LORD has not spoken?" 22 when the prophet speaks in the name of the LORD, and the word does not happen and does not come, that is the word which the LORD has not spoken; with presumption the prophet has spoken it; you shall not be afraid of him.'

19:1 Deut 12:29; Deut 6:10; Deut 7:1,2

18:9 you shall not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations These practices are learned, often slowly and out of curiosity. God says, do not even start.

18:10 one who makes his son and his daughter pass through the fire, one who divines divinations, a soothsayer, and an interpreter of omens, and a sorcerer Child sacrifice is listed first (12:31; Lev 18:21), tied to the occult as people offered children to get answers. Diviners read the future by lots or animal organs; soothsayers and interpreters of omens read signs in nature; sorcerers used magic and charms. The exact meanings are not all certain.

18:11 one who asks a medium and a spiritist, and one who inquires of the dead Saul went to the medium at En-dor to call up Samuel, and the next day he died (1 Sam 28:7-19). These are not harmless games; real spiritual powers stand behind them (Acts 16:16-18; 19:19; Gal 5:20). Today that includes horoscopes, tarot, Ouija boards, psychics and seances. If you have been involved, Christ can set you free. Confess it, turn from it, and get rid of anything connected to it.

18:12 because of these abominations the LORD your God is dispossessing them from before you Canaan's sin was not only idolatry but child sacrifice and the occult.

18:13 You shall be blameless with the LORD your God Whole, complete, wholehearted, as God told Abraham, "walk before Me, and be blameless" (Gen 17:1). Not sinless, but not divided, trusting God with one hand and a fortune-teller with the other.

18:14 these nations which you are dispossessing listen to soothsayers and to diviners The nations listened to soothsayers. Israel was to listen to God, which sets up the next verse.

18:15 A prophet from your midst, from your brothers, like me, the LORD your God will raise up for you; to him you shall listen Israel did not need diviners; God would speak through a prophet. He would be an Israelite, sent by God Himself, and "like me." That is a big claim, for no prophet arose like Moses, "whom the LORD knew face to face" (34:10), and God spoke to him "mouth to mouth" (Num 12:6-8). When He came, Israel was to hear and obey.

18:16 Let me not again hear the voice of the LORD my God, and this great fire let me not see anymore, and I will not die At Horeb the people asked for someone to stand between them and God (5:23-27).

18:17 They have done well in what they have spoken Sinful people cannot stand before God's full glory. They need a mediator, and God was promising more than Moses.

18:18 I will put My words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them all that I command him No more and no less than God gave. Jesus said, "I did not speak from Myself, but the Father who sent Me, He gave Me a commandment, what I should say and what I should speak" (John 12:49), the very language of this verse.

18:19 the man who does not listen to My words which he speaks in My name, I Myself will require it of him To reject this Prophet was to reject God. God sent true prophets after Moses, and some see them as part of the meaning. But Israel kept waiting for "the prophet" (John 1:21), and the crowds said of Jesus, "This is truly the Prophet who is coming into the world" (John 6:14). Jesus said, "he wrote concerning Me" (John 5:46). Peter applied this verse to Jesus: "every soul which does not listen to that prophet will be utterly destroyed from among the people" (Acts 3:23), and Stephen did too (Acts 7:37). I believe the New Testament settles it: Jesus Christ is the Prophet like Moses. Like Moses He was spared as a baby from a killing king (Matt 2:13-16), came out of Egypt, fasted forty days, delivered His people, mediated a covenant (Luke 22:20) and interceded for sinners. But He is far greater: Moses was "faithful in all His house as a servant" (Heb 3:5), "but Christ as a Son over His house" (Heb 3:6). At the transfiguration the Father said, "listen to Him" (Matt 17:5). You cannot be neutral about Jesus.

18:20 the prophet who acts presumptuously to speak a word in My name which I have not commanded him Two false prophets: one speaks in the LORD's name what God did not say; the other speaks for other gods (13:1-5). Both were put to death under Israel's law. Claiming God's authority for your own words is still a terrible thing.

18:21 How shall we know the word which the LORD has not spoken? A fair question, and God gives a test.

18:22 the word does not happen and does not come, that is the word which the LORD has not spoken A true prophet is always right when he foretells, not mostly right. This works with 13:1-3: a sign does not prove a prophet who leads to other gods, and a prophet whose words fail is false. Both tests must be passed. "Test the spirits" (1 John 4:1). Many today set dates and make predictions that fail. Do not fear them or follow them. Jesus said, "The heaven and the earth will pass away, but My words will by no means pass away" (Matt 24:35).

and dwell in their cities and in their houses, 2 three cities you shall set apart for yourself in the midst of your land which the LORD your God is giving to you to take possession of it. 3 You shall prepare the way for yourself, and you shall divide into three parts the territory of your land which the LORD your God causes you to inherit, and it shall be for every killer to flee there. 4 And this is the case of the killer who flees there and lives: whoever strikes his neighbor without knowledge, and he was not hating him in time past, 5 and whoever goes with his neighbor into the forest to cut wood, and his hand is driven with the axe to cut down the tree, and the iron slips off from the wood and finds his neighbor, and he dies, he shall flee to one of these cities and live, 6 lest the avenger of the blood pursue after the killer while his heart is hot, and overtake him because the way is long, and strike him mortally, and for him there is no judgment of death, for he was not hating him in time past. 7 Therefore I am commanding you, saying, 'Three cities you shall set apart for yourself.' 8 And if the LORD your God enlarges your territory, just as He swore to your fathers, and gives to you all the land which He spoke to give to your fathers, 9 if you keep all this commandment to do it, which I am commanding you today, to love the LORD your God and to walk in His ways all the days, then you shall add for yourself three more cities to these three, 10 and innocent blood shall not be shed in the midst of your land which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance, and blood be on you. 11 And if there is a man hating his neighbor, and he lies in wait for him and rises up against him and strikes him mortally, and he dies, and he flees to one of these cities, 12 then the elders of his city shall send and take him from there, and give him into the hand of the avenger of the blood, and he shall die. 13 Your eye shall not pity him, and you shall purge the blood of the innocent from Israel (Yisra'el), and it shall be well with you.

Boundaries and Witnesses

19:2 three cities you shall set apart for yourself in the midst of your land Cities of refuge west of the Jordan: Kedesh in the north, Shechem in the middle and Hebron in the south (Josh 20:7).
19:3 You shall prepare the way for yourself, and you shall divide into three parts the territory of your land A refuge within reach from anywhere, with roads made ready. A man running for his life should not get lost or stuck. God made refuge easy to reach.
19:5 the iron slips off from the wood and finds his neighbor, and he dies An example everyone could picture: a tragedy, not a crime. The Law always distinguished murder from accidental killing (Exod 21:13). It asks not only what happened, but why.
19:6 lest the avenger of the blood pursue after the killer while his heart is hot The avenger was the nearest male relative, the go'el, the same word as kinsman-redeemer (Ruth 3:9). With no police, he saw a killing answered. But grief can act before the facts are known. The city gave time for anger to cool and truth to come out (Num 35:24-28).
19:9 then you shall add for yourself three more cities to these three If God gave them all the land promised Abraham (Gen 15:18). Scripture never records it, because Israel never fully held the land through full obedience. I believe God will still keep His promise in full when Christ reigns in His kingdom.
19:10 innocent blood shall not be shed in the midst of your land If an innocent man died because no refuge was near, his blood would be on the whole nation. God held Israel responsible to make justice possible for everyone.
19:11 if there is a man hating his neighbor, and he lies in wait for him Hatred and lying in wait mark murder, and the refuge was not for murderers.
19:12 the elders of his city shall send and take him from there His own town's elders, who knew him, judged the case. The refuge could not be used to escape justice.
19:13 you shall purge the blood of the innocent from Israel Murder is grave because every person bears God's image (Gen 9:6), and there was no ransom for a murderer (Num 35:31). Today the governing authority "does not bear the sword in vain" (Rom 13:4). Christians differ on how governments should use the death penalty, but all agree murder is a great evil. Hebrews speaks of "we who have fled for refuge" (Heb 6:18); the way to Christ is open (John 6:37), and in Him we are safe (Rom 8:1). The New Testament does not name the cities as a type.
19:14 You shall not move back the boundary of your neighbor Boundary stones marked each family's land, with no deeds on file. Moving one at night stole a family's future. "Do not displace an ancient boundary which your fathers made" (Prov 22:28). God sees the boundary stones no one else is watching, in business, taxes and every dealing.
19:15 at the mouth of two witnesses or at the mouth of three witnesses a matter shall stand Chapter 17 required this for a death penalty; now for every case. Jesus and Paul used it (Matt 18:16; 2 Cor 13:1; 1 Tim 5:19). It protects people from false charges, gossip and grudges.
19:16 When a witness of violence stands up against a man A malicious witness whose lie is meant to do harm.
19:17 the two men who have the dispute shall stand before the LORD, before the priests and the judges Israel's courts were God's courts, and every judge answered to Him. The judges had to dig (19:18).
19:19 you shall do to him just as he planned to do to his brother Whatever he tried to do to another fell on himself, a strong guard against lying in court. False witnesses whose testimony did not agree came against Jesus (Mark 14:56), and the innocent One was condemned in the place of the guilty.

Laws for War

1 When you go out to the battle against your enemies, and you see horse and chariot, a people more numerous than you, you shall not be afraid of them, for the LORD your God is with you, who brought you up from the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim). 2 And it shall be, when you draw near to the battle, that the priest shall come near and speak to the people. 3 And he shall say to them, 'Hear, Israel (Yisra'el): you are approaching today to the battle against your enemies. Let your heart not be faint; do not be afraid, and do not be alarmed, and do not tremble before them, 4 for the LORD your God is the One who goes with you to fight for you against your enemies, to save you.' 5 And the officers shall speak to the people, saying, 'Who is the man who has built a new house and has not dedicated it? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man dedicate it. 6 And who is the man who has planted a vineyard and has not put it to use? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man put it to use. 7 And who is the man who has betrothed a wife and has not taken her? Let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle and another man take her.' 8 And the officers shall speak further to the people, and they shall say, 'Who is the man who is fearful and faint of heart? Let him go and return to his house, and the heart of his brothers shall not melt like his heart.' 9 And it shall be, when the officers have finished speaking to the people, that they shall appoint commanders of armies at the head of the people.

Distant Cities and the Cities of Canaan

10 When you draw near to a city to fight against it, then you shall call to it for peace. 11 And it shall be, if it answers you with peace and opens to you, then it shall be that all the people who are found in it shall be forced labor for you, and they shall serve you. 12 And if it does not make peace with you, and it makes war with you, then you shall besiege it. 13 And the LORD your God shall give it into your hand, and you shall strike every male of it by the mouth of the sword. 14 Only the women and the little ones and the livestock and all that is in the city, all its spoil, you shall plunder for yourself; and you shall eat the spoil of your enemies which the LORD your God has given to you. 15 Thus you shall do to all the cities very far from you, which are not of the cities of these nations. 16 Only, of the cities of these peoples which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance, you shall not keep alive any breath, 17 for you shall utterly devote them to destruction: the Hittite and the Amorite, the Canaanite and the Perizzite, the Hivite and the Jebusite, just as the LORD your God has commanded you, 18 so that they may not teach you to do according to all their abominations which they have done for their gods, and you sin against the 19:21 life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth Often thought cruel, it actually limited punishment, when ancient revenge often went far beyond the harm. It was for judges in court, not private revenge, and in many cases payment seems to have taken the place of the injury (Exod 21:23-25). Jesus said, "not to resist the evil person" (Matt 5:39), speaking against personal revenge, not against courts. "Vengeance is Mine" (Rom 12:19).

20:1 you see horse and chariot, a people more numerous than you, you shall not be afraid of them Israel had no chariots; the Canaanites did, the tanks of the ancient world (Josh 17:16; Judg 4:3). The God who drowned Pharaoh's chariots (Exod 14:28) could handle Canaan's. "The battle belongs to the LORD" (1 Sam 17:47). When we face something bigger than we are, we remember who is with us.

20:2 the priest shall come near and speak to the people Before the officers spoke, the priest spoke. Israel's wars were to begin with God.

20:3 Let your heart not be faint; do not be afraid, and do not be alarmed, and do not tremble before them "Hear, Israel," as in the Shema (6:4), and then four ways of saying, do not fear.

20:4 the LORD your God is the One who goes with you to fight for you The conquest wars were called the wars of the LORD (Num 21:14; 1 Sam 18:17), not Israel's wars for gain but God's judgments carried out through Israel.

20:5 Who is the man who has built a new house and has not dedicated it? Three men went home: the new homeowner, the man whose vineyard had not yet borne (Lev 19:23-25), and the betrothed man (20:6-7), legally pledged to marry. A new husband was free from war a year (24:5). Even in a law about war, God cared about a home, a harvest and a marriage.

20:8 Who is the man who is fearful and faint of heart? Let him go and return to his house Fear spreads; one frightened soldier can panic a company. Gideon sent the fearful home, and God cut his army to three hundred so Israel would know the victory was the LORD's (Judg 7:2-7). God does not need big numbers but people who trust Him. Fear, like faith, spreads. What do we spread?

20:10 When you draw near to a city to fight against it, then you shall call to it for peace Israel had to offer terms first, for "the cities very far from you" outside Canaan (20:15).

20:11 all the people who are found in it shall be forced labor for you Hard, but far better than war; their lives were spared. This was how nations treated conquered peoples, and Israel was required to offer peace first.

20:13 you shall strike every male of it by the mouth of the sword If the city chose war. Many teachers take this as the fighting men of that city; others read all males. God's Law did not remove the harshness of ancient war, but it limited it: peace first, women and children spared (20:14), and captive women given rights (21:10-14).

20:15 Thus you shall do to all the cities very far from you The key line. These rules were for wars outside Canaan.

20:16 of the cities of these peoples which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance, you shall not keep alive any breath The herem of 7:1-2. It was God's judgment after four hundred years of patience (Gen 15:16), on nations that burned their children (12:31) and practiced every occult evil (18:9-12). It was not about race (13:15; Josh 6:25), it was limited to one land and time, and it is never a command for anyone today.

20:18 so that they may not teach you to do according to all their abominations The goal was to remove a deadly evil so Israel would not learn it. Israel did not finish, and Canaan's gods led them astray (Judg 2:11-13; Ps 106:34-38). God takes no pleasure in the death of the wicked (Ezek 33:11). We trust the Judge of all the earth (Gen 18:25), and see how serious sin is. The same God sent His Son to bear judgment for all who believe, and the church fights no war with swords (Eph 6:12).

LORD your God. 19 When you besiege a city many days, fighting against it to capture it, you shall not destroy its trees by swinging an axe against them, for from them you shall eat, and them you shall not cut down. For is the tree of the field a man, to go into the siege from before you? 20 Only a tree which you know that it is not a tree for food, it you shall destroy and cut down, and you shall build siegeworks against the city which is making war with you, until it falls.

The Unsolved Murder

1 If a slain one is found on the ground which the LORD your God is giving to you to take possession of it, lying in the field, and it is not known who struck him, 2 then your elders and your judges shall go out, and they shall measure to the cities which are around the slain one. 3 And it shall be that the city that is near to the slain one, the elders of that city shall take a heifer of the herd which has not been worked with, which has not pulled in a yoke. 4 And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer to an ever-flowing wadi which is not worked and is not sown, and they shall break the neck of the heifer there in the wadi. 5 And the priests, the sons of Levi, shall draw near, for the LORD your God has chosen them to minister to Him and to bless in the name of the LORD, and by their mouth every dispute and every stroke shall be settled. 6 And all the elders of that city who are near to the slain one shall wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the wadi. 7 And they shall answer and say, 'Our hands have not shed this blood, and our eyes have not seen it. 8 Make atonement for Your people Israel (Yisra'el), whom You have ransomed, O LORD, and do not put innocent blood in the midst of Your people Israel.' And the blood shall be atoned for them. 9 And you, you shall purge the innocent blood from your midst, for you shall do what is right in the eyes of the LORD.

Captive Women, Sons and the Hanged Man

10 When you go out to the battle against your enemies, and the LORD your God gives them into your hand, and you take their captives captive, 11 and you see among the captives a woman beautiful of form, and you desire her, and you take her for yourself as a wife, 12 then you shall bring her into the midst of your house, and she shall shave her head and do her nails. 13 And she shall remove the clothing of her captivity from on her, and she shall dwell in your house and weep for her father and her mother a month of days; and after that you may go in to her and be her husband, and she shall be your wife. 14 And it shall be, if you do not delight in her, then you shall let her go according to her desire; and you shall certainly not sell her for silver; you shall not treat her as a slave, because you have humbled her. 15 If a man has two wives, the one loved and the one hated, and they bear sons to him, the loved one and the hated one, and the firstborn son belongs to the hated one, 16 then it shall be, on the day he causes his sons to inherit what he has, he shall not be able to make the son of the loved one firstborn in the face of the son of the hated one, the firstborn. 17 But the firstborn, the son of the hated one, he shall acknowledge by giving to him a double portion of all that is found with him, for he is the beginning of his strength; the right of the firstborn belongs to him. 18 If a man has a son stubborn and rebellious, who is not listening to the voice of his father and to the voice of his mother, and they discipline him, and he does not listen

20:19 you shall not destroy its trees by swinging an axe against them, for from them you shall eat Ancient armies often cut down every tree around a city to ruin the land for years; the Assyrians boasted of it. "Is the tree of the field a man?" The tree was not the enemy.
20:20 Only a tree which you know that it is not a tree for food, it you shall destroy Even in war God cared about His creation and the future, for the land would have to feed people afterward. He gave the earth to people to care for (Gen 2:15), and we should not waste what He made.
21:1 it is not known who struck him A murder with no witness and no suspect still could not be ignored. Every life bears God's image, and blood shed in the land had to be dealt with even when no one could be punished. The nearest town was held responsible before God.
21:4 they shall break the neck of the heifer there in the wadi The heifer died in an untouched valley, in place of the unknown killer. The Law does not explain every detail of the rite, but its message is clear: innocent blood is serious, and it calls for an answer before God.
21:6 shall wash their hands over the heifer The elders declared before God that their town had no part in the crime. Pilate later washed his hands too and said, "I am innocent of the blood of this righteous One" (Matt 27:24), but his washing could not clear him.
21:8 Make atonement for Your people Israel, whom You have ransomed, O LORD The rite ends in a prayer, not a ceremony alone. Only God could cover the guilt. Christ's blood speaks better than any heifer's (Heb 12:24), for it truly takes guilt away.
21:10 you take their captives captive This law covers captives from distant cities in war (20:14). It did not invent the practice of taking captives; it put hard limits on how a soldier could treat a woman in his power.
21:13 weep for her father and her mother a month of days She was given a full month to grieve, and only then could she become his wife, with all a wife's rights (Exod 21:10). Her sorrow mattered to God.
21:14 you shall certainly not sell her for silver If the marriage ended she went free and could never be sold or treated as a slave. Like the divorce law (24:1-4), this was a concession to a hard world. Jesus said Moses permitted divorce "in view of your hardness of heart" (Matt 19:8), and from the beginning God's plan was one man and one wife for life (Gen 2:24).
21:15 the one loved and the one hated "Hated" here means loved less, as with Jacob, who loved Rachel more than Leah (Gen 29:30-31). Having two wives brought trouble in every family where the Bible shows it.
21:17 giving to him a double portion of all that is found with him A father could not pass over his firstborn just because he favored another wife. The firstborn's right was set by God, not by the father's feelings. Reuben lost it by his own sin (Gen 49:3-4; 1 Chr 5:1-2), not by favoritism. Parents today must not play favorites either.
21:18 a son stubborn and rebellious This is not a small child who disobeys but a grown son in settled, defiant rebellion who has been disciplined and still refuses to listen.

to them, 19 then his father and his mother shall seize him and bring him out to the elders of his city and to the gate of his place, 20 and they shall say to the elders of his city, 'This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious; he is not listening to our voice; he is a glutton and a drunkard.' 21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and you shall purge the evil from your midst, and all Israel shall hear and fear. 22 And if there is in a man a sin worthy of a judgment of death, and he is put to death, and you hang him on a tree, 23 his corpse shall not remain overnight on the tree, but you shall surely bury him on that day, for one who is hanged is a curse of God; and you shall not make unclean your ground which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance.

Care for Your Neighbor

1 You shall not see the ox of your brother or his sheep straying, and hide yourself from them; you shall surely return them to your brother. 2 And if your brother is not near to you, and you do not know him, then you shall gather it into the midst of your house, and it shall be with you until your brother seeks it, and you shall return it to him. 3 And thus you shall do for his donkey, and thus you shall do for his garment, and thus you shall do for every lost thing of your brother which is lost from him and you find it; you shall not be able to hide yourself. 4 You shall not see the donkey of your brother or his ox fallen on the way, and hide yourself from them; you shall surely raise them up with him. 5 The article of a man shall not be on a woman, and a man shall not put on the garment of a woman, for everyone who does these things is an abomination to the LORD your God. 6 If a bird's nest happens to be before you on the way, in any tree or on the ground, with young ones or eggs, and the mother is sitting on the young ones or on the eggs, you shall not take the mother with the young. 7 You shall surely let the mother go, and the young you may take for yourself, so that it may go well with you, and you may prolong your days. 8 When you build a new house, then you shall make a parapet for your roof, and you shall not put blood on your house if the one who falls should fall from it. 9 You shall not sow your vineyard with two kinds, lest the full yield become holy, the seed which you sow and the produce of the vineyard. 10 You shall not plow with an ox and with a donkey together. 11 You shall not wear mixed material, wool and linen together. 12 Tassels you shall make for yourself on the four corners of your covering with which you cover yourself.

21:20 he is a glutton and a drunkard Both parents had to agree, and the case went to the elders, not to the father alone. In a world where fathers often held power of life and death, this law put limits on that power. There is no record in Scripture of it ever being carried out. Compare the father of the prodigal, who ran to his returning son and "kissed him" (Luke 15:20).
21:21 all Israel shall hear and fear The penalty was severe because a son who scorned his parents scorned the fifth commandment and the order God set in the home (5:16).
21:22 you hang him on a tree The body of an executed man could be hung up after death as a public warning. Peter told the council that they killed Jesus by "having hanged Him on a tree" (Acts 5:30).
21:23 for one who is hanged is a curse of God The body had to be buried the same day, which is why the Jews asked that the bodies be taken down before the Sabbath (John 19:31). Paul applies this verse to the cross: "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13). He bore our sins "in His body on the tree" (1 Pet 2:24), and so the cross that seemed a stumbling block became our salvation.
22:1 and hide yourself from them To hide yourself means to look the other way and pretend you did not see. God says you may not do that. A stray animal had to be returned, or kept and cared for until the owner came for it. Finders keepers was not God's rule, even for an enemy's ox (Exod 23:4).
22:3 you shall not be able to hide yourself This is love for neighbor in practical form. The Samaritan in Jesus' story did not look the other way (Luke 10:33-34). What do we walk past because it is not our problem?
22:4 you shall surely raise them up with him A loaded animal that fell could not get up alone. Notice "with him": you help your neighbor, working at his side. "Bear one another's burdens, and thus fulfill the law of Christ" (Gal 6:2).
22:5 The article of a man shall not be on a woman The word article is broad and can mean clothing, tools or weapons. God made us male and female (Gen 1:27), and He wanted that difference honored, not blurred. Some also think this guarded against pagan rites where men and women dressed as the other sex. Styles change from culture to culture, so this is not a rule about robes or pants. The principle is that men and women should not present themselves as the other sex, and we hold to God's design with conviction and with kindness toward people who struggle.
22:7 You shall surely let the mother go A traveler could take eggs or young birds for food, but it would be cruel to use a mother's love for her young to trap her. The promise attached is the one given for honoring parents (5:16). God cares about small things. "A righteous one knows the life of his animal" (Prov 12:10).
22:8 you shall make a parapet for your roof Roofs were flat and used like porches (Acts 10:9). A low wall kept people from falling. If someone fell because you did not build it, his blood was on your house. Loving my neighbor means thinking ahead about how my choices could hurt him. "Love does not work evil to the neighbor" (Rom 13:10).
22:9 You shall not sow your vineyard with two kinds Here and in the next two verses are laws about mixing (Lev 19:19). If the vineyard was mixed, its yield would "become holy," that is, forfeited to the sanctuary. Scripture does not explain each rule, but the main lesson seems to be holiness: Israel was to be a separate people, not mixed with the nations.
22:10 You shall not plow with an ox and with a donkey together The two differ in size and strength, so the yoke would be hard on both, and the ox was clean while the donkey was not. Paul seems to draw on this picture: "Do not become unequally yoked with unbelievers" (2 Cor 6:14).
22:11 wool and linen together Some note that the priests' garments did mix wool and linen (Exod 39:29), so mixed cloth may have been kept for holy use. Like the food laws, these rules were a shadow fulfilled in Christ (Col 2:16-17), but the lesson remains: God's people are set apart for Him.
22:12 Tassels you shall make for yourself The tassels with their blue cord were a reminder to keep the LORD's commands (Num 15:38-40). Jesus wore them, and a sick woman "touched the fringe of His garment" (Matt 9:20). But He warned against making them large to be seen by others (Matt 23:5).

14 and he lays charges of shameful deeds against her and brings out a bad name on her, and says, 'This woman I took, and I came near to her, and I did not find in her the evidence of virginity,' 15 then the father of the young woman and her mother shall take and bring out the evidence of virginity of the young woman to the elders of the city at the gate. 16 And the father of the young woman shall say to the elders, 'My daughter I gave to this man as a wife, and he hates her. 17 And look, he has laid charges of shameful deeds, saying, "I did not find in your daughter the evidence of virginity." And these are the evidence of my daughter's virginity.' And they shall spread out the garment before the elders of the city. 18 And the elders of that city shall take the man and discipline him, 19 and they shall fine him a hundred shekels of silver and give them to the father of the young woman, because he has brought out a bad name on a virgin of Israel (Yisra'el). And she shall be his wife; he shall not be able to send her away all his days. 20 And if this thing was truth, and the evidence of virginity was not found for the young woman, 21 then they shall bring out the young woman to the entrance of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones, and she shall die, for she has done folly in Israel by acting as a prostitute in her father's house; and you shall purge the evil from your midst. 22 If a man is found lying with a woman married to a husband, then they shall die, even both of them, the man who lay with the woman, and the woman; and you shall purge the evil from Israel. 23 If there is a young woman, a virgin, betrothed to a man, and a man finds her in the city and lies with her, 24 then you shall bring them both out to the gate of that city and stone them with stones, and they shall die: the young woman because she did not cry out in the city, and the man because he has humbled the wife of his neighbor; and you shall purge the evil from your midst. 25 And if in the field the man finds the betrothed young woman, and the man takes hold of her and lies with her, then the man who lay with her shall die, him alone. 26 And to the young woman you shall not do anything; there is no sin worthy of death for the young woman, for just as a man rises up against his neighbor and kills him mortally, so is this matter. 27 For in the field he found her; the betrothed young woman cried out, and there was no one to save her. 28 If a man finds a young woman, a virgin who is not betrothed, and he seizes her and lies with her, and they are found, 29 then the man who lay with her shall give to the father of the young woman fifty shekels of silver, and she shall be his wife, because he has humbled her; he shall not be able to send her away all his days. 30 A man shall not take the wife of his father, and he shall not uncover the skirt of his father.

22:15 the father of the young woman and her mother She was not left alone to defend herself. Her family stood with her in a public court and brought the evidence, probably the cloth from the wedding night, which the bride's family kept.
22:19 they shall fine him a hundred shekels of silver If she was innocent, the slanderer was punished and fined heavily, likely twice the usual bride-price (compare 22:29), and he could never divorce her. In that world a woman sent away after such a charge had little hope of a home, so this gave her security for life. God takes slander seriously. "You shall not answer against your neighbor as a witness of falsehood" (5:20).
22:21 she has done folly in Israel This is a hard law. She had been pledged as a virgin and deceived her husband and family, and "folly in Israel" marks a sin that disgraced the whole nation (Gen 34:7; Judg 20:6). Under the Mosaic covenant God's holiness was shown in the strongest terms. The New Testament still calls sexual sin sin (1 Cor 6:18), but the church is not Israel under the Law and does not punish sin with death. To a sinful woman Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and sin no more" (John 8:11). The earliest Greek manuscripts do not have that account, but many believe it is a true event.
22:22 then they shall die, even both of them Adultery broke the seventh commandment (5:18), and both were guilty, not the woman only as in some nations (Lev 20:10). Jesus went further: whoever looks with lust "has already committed adultery with her in his heart" (Matt 5:28). By that standard we all need a Savior. "Marriage is to be honorable among all, and the bed undefiled" (Heb 13:4), and the same Lord forgives and restores those who repent.
22:24 the young woman because she did not cry out in the city Betrothal was a binding pledge, so she was already called "the wife of his neighbor." In a town with houses close together a cry would be heard, so the law took her silence as consent.
22:26 there is no sin worthy of death for the young woman In the field this was rape, and the man alone died. Moses compares it to murder: a violent attack on a person. The victim is not guilty.
22:27 the betrothed young woman cried out, and there was no one to save her With no one there to hear, the court was to assume she cried out. She was to be believed. Victims of assault have often been blamed and shamed, but God's Law did not do that. If this has been done to you, it was not your fault, and "The LORD is near to the broken of heart" (Ps 34:18). Please tell someone you trust and get help, and such crimes must be reported to the authorities.
22:28 he seizes her and lies with her This is one of the hardest verses in the Law, and it should not be brushed aside. Scholars differ on "seizes," a different word from "takes hold of" in verse 25. Many think this parallels Exodus 22:16-17, a man who seduces an unbetrothed virgin; others believe force is meant.
22:29 she shall be his wife, because he has humbled her In Exodus 22:17 the father could refuse the marriage, and many teachers believe the same applied here. In that world a woman in her place had little hope of marriage or support, so the law put the cost on the man: a heavy price and no divorce ever. Even so, it is a limit in a fallen world (Matt 19:8), not God's ideal, and never a reason to force any woman to marry someone who harmed her. Today assault must be reported, and the victim protected, believed and cared for.
22:30 A man shall not take the wife of his father To "uncover the skirt" of his father is a modest way of saying he would dishonor his father's marriage bed (Lev 18:8). Reuben did this and lost his birthright (Gen 35:22; 49:3-4). Paul faced the same sin at Corinth, where "someone has the wife of his father" (1 Cor 5:1), and told the church to put the man out until he repented.

The Assembly of the LORD

1 One who is wounded by crushing, and one who is cut off in the male organ, shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD. 2 A bastard shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD; even a tenth generation of his shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD. 3 An Ammonite and a Moabite shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD; even a tenth generation of theirs shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD, forever, 4 because they did not meet you with bread and with water on the way when you came out from Egypt (Mitsrayim), and because he hired against you Balaam (Bilam) the son of Beor from Pethor (Petor) of Mesopotamia (Aram-Naharayim) to curse you. 5 And the LORD your God was not willing to listen to Balaam, and the LORD your God turned the curse into a blessing for you, because the LORD your God loved you. 6 You shall not seek their peace and their good all your days, forever. 7 You shall not abhor an Edomite, for he is your brother; you shall not abhor an Egyptian, for you were a sojourner in his land. 8 Sons who are born to them, a third generation of theirs, may enter into the assembly of the LORD.

A Clean Camp

9 When you go out as a camp against your enemies, then you shall keep yourself from every evil thing. 10 If there is among you a man who is not clean because of an occurrence of night, then he shall go out to the outside of the camp; he shall not come into the midst of the camp. 11 And it shall be, at the turning of evening, he shall wash with water, and as the sun sets, he may come into the midst of the camp. 12 And you shall have a place outside the camp, and you shall go out there, outside. 13 And you shall have a peg among your equipment, and it shall be, when you sit down outside, that you shall dig with it, and turn back and cover your excrement. 14 For the LORD your God walks about in the midst of your camp to deliver you and to give your enemies before you; and your camp shall be holy, and He shall not see among you the nakedness of a thing and turn away from after you.

Various Laws

15 You shall not hand over to his master a slave who has escaped to you from his master. 16 With you he shall dwell, in your midst, in the place which he chooses in one of your gates, in what is good to him; you shall not oppress him. 17 There shall not be a female cult prostitute among the daughters of Israel (Yisra'el), and there shall not be a male

23:1 shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD This refers to men who were castrated or mutilated, as some court servants and pagan priests were. To "enter into the assembly" does not seem to mean they could not live in Israel or trust the LORD. Most likely it meant full part in the gathered worship and public life of the nation. God used the body as a picture of wholeness, as with the priests (Lev 21:17-23). But that was not His last word. He promised faithful eunuchs "a name better than sons and than daughters" (Isa 56:5), and an Ethiopian eunuch was among the first from far outside Israel to believe (Acts 8:27-38). In Christ, what was shut out under the Law is welcomed by grace.

23:2 A bastard shall not enter into the assembly of the LORD The Hebrew word, mamzer, is uncertain. It does not seem to mean any child born outside marriage. Jewish tradition took it as a child of incest or adultery; some think of pagan temple prostitution. "A tenth generation" means never. This was not about personal guilt or salvation, for children are not punished for their fathers' sins (24:16). It put a strong wall around marriage in Israel's public worship. God used Jephthah, the son of a prostitute (Judg 11:1), and God is never limited by how a person came into the world.

23:4 because they did not meet you with bread and with water Moab and Ammon came from Lot (Gen 19:36-38), so they were relatives. Yet they refused simple kindness on the way, and Moab hired Balaam to curse Israel (Num 22-24), then drew Israel into sin at Peor (Num 25:1-3).

23:5 the LORD your God turned the curse into a blessing for you, because the LORD your God loved you Every time Balaam opened his mouth to curse, God made him bless. No one can curse those God has chosen to bless. "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Rom 8:31).

23:6 You shall not seek their peace and their good all your days Israel was to make no treaties with them, and Nehemiah acted on this law in his day (Neh 13:1-3). What about Ruth, the Moabite who became David's great-grandmother and an ancestor of Jesus (Matt 1:5)? Jewish tradition said the law applied to Moabite men, since it was the men who failed to meet Israel with bread. Others point out that Ruth left her gods and took refuge under the LORD's wings (Ruth 1:16; 2:12), so her faith made her an Israelite in heart. Either way, God's grace reaches those the Law kept at a distance when they come to Him in faith.

23:7 You shall not abhor an Edomite, for he is your brother Edom came from Esau, Jacob's twin, so they were family even though they refused Israel passage (Num 20:14-21). And Egypt, though it enslaved Israel, had first welcomed Jacob's family in the famine (Gen 47:5-6). God told Israel to remember the good, not only the bad. How much more should we, who have been forgiven so much, let go of old wrongs?

23:8 a third generation of theirs, may enter into the assembly of the LORD The door was open to them. So the laws of the assembly were not about race, since Moab and Edom were both related to Israel. The difference was in how they had treated God's people.

23:10 not clean because of an occurrence of night This refers modestly to a bodily discharge in sleep, which made a man ceremonially unclean until evening (Lev 15:16). Unclean did not mean sinful. It meant not fit for God's holy presence for a time. He washed and came back at sunset.

23:14 the LORD your God walks about in the midst of your camp A latrine outside the camp with waste buried was simple, healthy and wise, long before anyone understood germs. But God's main reason was His presence: the camp was to be holy because He walked in it. Today He lives in us. "Your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit who is in you" (1 Cor 6:19), and that should shape what we allow in our lives.

23:15 You shall not hand over to his master a slave who has escaped to you Other nations of that time required runaway slaves to be returned. Israel was to do the opposite. This seems to mean a slave fleeing a foreign master into Israel.

23:16 in the place which he chooses He could choose where to live, and no one was to oppress him. A nation of former slaves was to be a refuge for the oppressed. It is the same heart that sent Jesus "to proclaim release to captives" (Luke 4:18), and believers in later centuries who sheltered escaped slaves acted in the spirit of this verse.

23:17 There shall not be a female cult prostitute In Canaanite religion, sex at the shrine was thought to make the land fertile. Israel was to have none of it, though it crept in more than once (1 Kgs 14:24; 2 Kgs 23:7).

cult prostitute among the sons of Israel. 18 You shall not bring the wages of a prostitute and the price of a dog into the house of the LORD your God for any vow, for even both of them are an abomination to the LORD your God. 19 You shall not charge interest to your brother: interest of silver, interest of food, interest of any thing which bears interest. 20 To the foreigner you may charge interest, and to your brother you shall not charge interest, so that the LORD your God may bless you in every undertaking of your hand on the land to which you are going to take possession of it. 21 When you vow a vow to the LORD your God, you shall not delay to pay it, for the LORD your God will surely require it from you, and it shall be sin in you. 22 And if you refrain from vowing, it shall not be sin in you. 23 That which goes out of your lips you shall keep and do, just as you have vowed to the LORD your God, a freewill offering which you have spoken with your mouth. 24 When you go into the vineyard of your neighbor, then you may eat grapes according to your desire, your fill, and into your vessel you shall not put any. 25 When you go into the standing grain of your neighbor, then you may pluck off ears with your hand, and a sickle you shall not wave over the standing grain of your neighbor.

Divorce and Remarriage

1 When a man takes a wife and marries her, and it shall be, if she does not find favor in his eyes because he has found in her the nakedness of a thing, and he writes for her a document of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her away from his house, 2 and she goes out from his house and goes and becomes another man's, 3 and the latter man hates her and writes for her a document of divorce and puts it in her hand and sends her away from his house, or if the latter man dies who took her for himself as a wife, 4 her former husband who sent her away shall not be able to take her again to be his wife after she has been made unclean, for that is an abomination before the LORD; and you shall not cause the land to sin which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance.

Pledges, Wages and the Poor

5 When a man takes a new wife, he shall not go out with the army, and nothing shall be imposed on him for any matter; he shall be free for his house one year, and he shall make his wife whom he has taken rejoice. 6 No one shall take a hand mill or an upper millstone in pledge, for he is taking a life in pledge. 7 If a man is found stealing a person of his brothers, of the sons of Israel (Yisra'el), and he treats him as a slave and sells him, then that thief shall die; and you shall purge the evil from your midst. 8 Take heed in the plague of leprosy, to be very careful and to do according to all that the

23:18 the wages of a prostitute and the price of a dog The price of a dog most likely means the earnings of a male prostitute, using a word of contempt. God would not accept money gained by sin as an offering. Sexual sin was never to be mixed with worship.
23:19 You shall not charge interest to your brother Loans in Israel were mostly to help a poor neighbor (15:7-8; Exod 22:25), and interest would profit from his trouble. The foreigner here was an outsider doing business (15:3). Most believers understand this law as being about loans to the poor and to God's people, not all business. But the heart of it remains: never profit from someone's desperation. Jesus said, "lend, expecting nothing in return; and your reward will be great" (Luke 6:35).
23:21 you shall not delay to pay it A vow was a promise to God, often to give an offering if He answered a prayer (Gen 28:20-22; 1 Sam 1:11).
23:22 if you refrain from vowing, it shall not be sin in you No one had to vow, but a vow made must be kept. "Better is it that you do not vow than that you vow and do not pay" (Eccl 5:5). Jesus wants people whose plain word can be trusted (Matt 5:33-37). How often have we promised God something in a hard moment and forgotten it when the moment passed?
23:25 you may pluck off ears with your hand A hungry traveler could eat by hand from a neighbor's field or vineyard, but not fill a basket or swing a sickle. Jesus' disciples did this when they "began to pluck heads of grain and to eat" (Matt 12:1). The Pharisees did not call it stealing, since this law allowed it; they called it Sabbath work. The law protected the owner and fed the hungry. Generosity and honesty both matter.
24:1 he has found in her the nakedness of a thing Verses 1 to 3 are all "if." They describe what was already happening and do not tell a man to divorce. The command comes in verse 4. "The nakedness of a thing" means something shameful or indecent (23:14), but not adultery, which was punished by death (22:22). In Jesus' day the school of Shammai read it as some sexual indecency, and the school of Hillel as almost anything that displeased the husband.
24:1 he writes for her a document of divorce The written certificate protected the woman. It proved she was free and could remarry without being accused of adultery.
24:4 her former husband who sent her away shall not be able to take her again to be his wife Scripture does not give every reason, but this kept men from treating divorce lightly, kept the woman from being passed back and forth like property, and guarded the holiness of marriage. Jeremiah uses this law to show God's grace: no husband would take back such a wife, yet God calls faithless Israel, "and return to Me?" (Jer 3:1).
24:4 that is an abomination before the LORD Asked about divorce "for every cause" (Matt 19:3), Jesus went back to Genesis: "what God joined together, let man not separate" (Matt 19:6). Moses did not command divorce. He "permitted you to divorce your wives; but from the beginning it has not been so" (Matt 19:8). This law was a limit on sin, not God's plan. Sincere teachers differ on applying this today. Some allow divorce for sexual immorality (Matt 19:9), many adding desertion by an unbeliever (1 Cor 7:15), with remarriage for the innocent spouse. Others allow no remarriage while the first spouse lives (Mark 10:11-12; 1 Cor 7:10-11). All agree God hates the breaking of marriage (Mal 2:16). There is forgiveness and healing in Christ, and a spouse in danger from abuse should get to safety and get help; that is not a sin.
24:5 he shall make his wife whom he has taken rejoice For one year after the wedding a husband was free from war and public duty. God protected the first year of marriage so the couple could build their home and their love, and the husband's job was to make his wife happy. Does your marriage get the time and care it needs?
24:6 he is taking a life in pledge A pledge was held until a loan was repaid. Without the upper millstone a family could not grind its daily bread. Lenders could not demand what a family needed to live.
24:7 that thief shall die Kidnapping a person to sell him was a capital crime (Exod 21:16), as Joseph's brothers had done to him (Gen 37:28). The Law did not allow slavery by capturing and selling people, and Paul lists "enslavers" among those the law condemns (1 Tim 1:10). Those who later used the Bible to defend the Atlantic slave trade were defending the very thing this verse punishes by death.

priests, the Levites, instruct you; just as I commanded them, you shall be careful to do. 9 Remember what the LORD your God did to Miriam (Miryam) on the way when you came out from Egypt (Mitsrayim). 10 When you lend your neighbor a loan of anything, you shall not go into his house to take his pledge. 11 You shall stand outside, and the man to whom you are lending shall bring out the pledge to you outside. 12 And if he is a poor man, you shall not lie down in his pledge. 13 You shall surely return the pledge to him as the sun sets, and he shall lie down in his garment and bless you; and it shall be righteousness for you before the LORD your God. 14 You shall not oppress a hired worker who is poor and needy, of your brothers or of your sojourner who is in your land within your gates. 15 On his day you shall give his wages, and the sun shall not set on it, for he is poor, and to it he is lifting up his soul, lest he cry against you to the LORD, and it be sin in you. 16 Fathers shall not be put to death for sons, and sons shall not be put to death for fathers; each man for his own sin they shall be put to death. 17 You shall not turn aside the judgment of a sojourner or a fatherless one, and you shall not take the clothing of a widow in pledge. 18 And you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and the LORD your God ransomed you from there; therefore I am commanding you to do this thing. 19 When you reap your harvest in your field, and you forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not return to take it; it shall be for the sojourner, for the fatherless one, and for the widow, so that the LORD your God may bless you in all the work of your hands. 20 When you beat your olive tree, you shall not go over the boughs after you; it shall be for the sojourner, for the fatherless one, and for the widow. 21 When you gather the grapes of your vineyard, you shall not glean after you; it shall be for the sojourner, for the fatherless one, and for the widow. 22 And you shall remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt; therefore I am commanding you to do this thing.

Fair Justice

1 If there is a dispute between men, and they draw near to the judgment, and they judge them, then they shall justify the righteous and condemn the wicked. 2 And it shall be, if the wicked one is worthy of striking, then the judge shall make him lie down, and he shall be struck before him, as his wickedness deserves, by number. 3 Forty strokes he may strike him; he shall not add, lest he add to strike him beyond these with a great striking, and your brother be dishonored in your eyes. 4 You shall not muzzle an ox while it is threshing.

24:9 Remember what the LORD your God did to Miriam Leprosy covered a range of skin diseases, and the priests judged each case (Lev 13-14). Miriam spoke against Moses and was struck with leprosy (Num 12:1-15), a warning that no one was above these laws. Jesus touched and healed lepers, then sent them to the priest as the Law said (Mark 1:40-44).
24:11 You shall stand outside A poor man's home was still his own. The lender could not walk in and pick what he wanted. Being in debt did not mean losing privacy or self-respect. How we treat people who owe us says a lot about our hearts.
24:13 it shall be righteousness for you before the LORD your God A poor man's cloak was also his blanket, so it had to be returned by sunset (Exod 22:27). Kindness to the poor is counted as right living before God. It is not how we are saved; it is how saved people live.
24:15 the sun shall not set on it A day laborer fed his family that night with that day's wage. Holding it back even until morning could mean hunger. James warns that "the cries of those who reaped have entered into the ears of the Lord of armies" (James 5:4). If you employ people, pay them what you owe, when you owe it.
24:16 each man for his own sin they shall be put to death In many nations a whole family could be punished for one member's crime. Israel's courts were not to do that, and King Amaziah obeyed this law (2 Kgs 14:5-6). "A son shall not bear the iniquity of the father" (Ezek 18:20). The words in 5:9 speak of sin's effects passing down in families who keep following it, not of courts punishing the innocent. The one great exception is God's own choice: Christ suffered "the righteous for the unrighteous" (1 Pet 3:18).
24:17 You shall not turn aside the judgment of a sojourner or a fatherless one The foreigner, the orphan and the widow had no one to stand up for them in court, so God stood up for them.
24:18 you shall remember that you were a slave in Egypt Israel had once been the helpless ones, and God rescued them. Those who know they have been rescued by grace should be the most generous people on earth.
24:19 you forget a sheaf in the field, you shall not return to take it A forgotten bundle of grain belonged to the poor. This was not a handout; the poor worked to gather what was left, which gave them food and dignity (Lev 19:9-10). Ruth gleaned under this law in the field of Boaz (Ruth 2:2-3), and that kindness led to the line of David and in time to Jesus Christ.
24:20 you shall not go over the boughs after you Olives were knocked down with sticks once, and what remained was left. Do we leave room at the edges of our lives, our time, money and attention, for those in need, or do we grab every last bit for ourselves?
25:1 they shall justify the righteous and condemn the wicked That sounds obvious, but it is the heart of justice. Judges took no bribes and showed no favor (16:19). The innocent were cleared and the guilty found guilty.
25:3 Forty strokes he may strike him; he shall not add The judge had to be present and count, so punishment fit the crime and was not left to an angry crowd. The guilty man is still called "your brother." Later the Jews gave forty minus one so as never to go over, and Paul received that five times for Christ (2 Cor 11:24). Justice and mercy are not enemies; even the guilty must not be crushed or humiliated beyond what is right.
25:4 You shall not muzzle an ox while it is threshing The ox that worked the grain could eat from it (Prov 12:10). Paul drew a wider principle: "Is it for the oxen that God cares? Or does He say it entirely because of us?" (1 Cor 9:9-10). He does not deny God's care for oxen. If even an ox shares the harvest it helps bring in, how much more those who labor for souls (1 Tim 5:18). The plain meaning stands, and the principle reaches further: be fair to workers and support those who serve you in the Lord.
25:5 her husband's brother shall go in to her and take her for himself as a wife This is levirate marriage, from the Latin levir, a husband's brother. It was practiced before the Law, and Onan died for refusing it (Gen 38:8-10). "When brothers dwell together" suggests brothers living near each other on the family land. Like the other marriage laws, it was given to Israel under the Mosaic covenant, not as a command for Christians.

to her and take her for himself as a wife, and perform the duty of a husband's brother to her. 6 And it shall be that the firstborn whom she bears shall stand on the name of his dead brother, and his name shall not be wiped out from Israel (Yisra'el). 7 And if the man does not desire to take his brother's wife, then his brother's wife shall go up to the gate, to the elders, and say, 'My husband's brother refuses to raise up for his brother a name in Israel; he is not willing to perform the duty of a husband's brother to me.' 8 And the elders of his city shall call him and speak to him, and he shall stand and say, 'I do not desire to take her,' 9 then his brother's wife shall draw near to him before the eyes of the elders, and draw his sandal off his foot, and spit in his face; and she shall answer and say, 'Thus it shall be done to the man who does not build the house of his brother.' 10 And his name shall be called in Israel, 'The house of the one whose sandal was drawn off.' 11 When men struggle together, a man and his brother, and the wife of the one draws near to rescue her husband from the hand of the one striking him, and she stretches out her hand and takes hold of his private parts, 12 then you shall cut off her hand; your eye shall not pity.

Honest Weights

13 You shall not have in your bag a stone and a stone, a large and a small. 14 You shall not have in your house an ephah and an ephah, a large and a small. 15 A full and righteous stone you shall have, a full and righteous ephah you shall have, so that your days may be long on the ground which the LORD your God is giving to you. 16 For everyone who does these things, everyone who does injustice, is an abomination to the LORD your God.

Remember Amalek

17 Remember what Amalek (Amaleq) did to you on the way when you came out from Egypt (Mitsrayim), 18 how he met you on the way and attacked among you in the rear all the stragglers behind you, and you were faint and weary; and he did not fear God. 19 And it shall be, when the LORD your God gives you rest from all your enemies around, in the land which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance to take possession of it, that you shall wipe out the remembrance of Amalek from under the heavens; you shall not forget.

Firstfruits

1 And it shall be, when you come into the land which the LORD your God is giving to you as an inheritance, and you take possession of it and dwell in it, 2 that you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground which you bring in from your land which the LORD your God is giving to you, and you shall put it in the basket and go to the place which the LORD your God will choose to cause His name to dwell there. 3 And you shall come to the priest who shall be in those days, and say to him, 'I declare today to the LORD your God that I have come into the land which the LORD swore to our fathers to give to us.' 4 And the priest shall take the basket from your hand and set it down before the altar of 25:6 his name shall not be wiped out from Israel The first son counted as the dead man's son and inherited his share of the land, which God had given to each family (Num 27:1-11). The law also protected the widow, giving her a home, a husband and a future in the family.

25:9 draw his sandal off his foot, and spit in his face The sandal was a sign of a man's right to walk on and claim land, and taking it off showed he gave up both right and duty. He could refuse, but not quietly. The book of Ruth shows a related duty of the kinsman-redeemer, when a closer relative gave his sandal to Boaz (Ruth 4:7-8). Like Boaz, Jesus became our near Relative by becoming a man and paid the price to redeem us (Gal 4:4-5; 1 Pet 1:18-19).
25:10 The house of the one whose sandal was drawn off The Sadducees used this law to try to trap Jesus about a woman married to seven brothers. He answered that "in the resurrection they neither marry nor are given in marriage" (Matt 22:30).
25:12 then you shall cut off her hand; your eye shall not pity This is one of the strangest and hardest laws. The woman was not defending her life; she was helping in a fight by an act both shameful and able to leave the man unable to father children. That is why it sits beside the law of raising a name for a dead brother. It is the only penalty of its kind in the Law. Later Jewish teachers commonly read it as a money payment, and teachers today hold both views. It was Israel's court law, not a law for the church, and never a reason to harm anyone.
25:13 a stone and a stone, a large and a small A cheating merchant kept a heavy weight for buying and a light one for selling.
25:16 everyone who does injustice, is an abomination to the LORD your God God puts cheating in business in the same word He uses for idolatry. "Scales of deceit are an abomination of the LORD, and a perfect weight is His delight" (Prov 11:1; Amos 8:5). We set prices, fill out time sheets, report income and describe what we sell. God sees all of it. "Whatever you do, work from the soul, as to the Lord and not to men" (Col 3:23).
25:18 attacked among you in the rear all the stragglers behind you Exodus 17 tells of Amalek's attack at Rephidim; Moses now tells how. They did not face the fighting men. They picked off the weak, the old, the sick and the tired. "And he did not fear God."
25:19 you shall wipe out the remembrance of Amalek from under the heavens This was God's judgment, not private revenge, on a nation that preyed on the helpless and made war on God's people for generations (Exod 17:14; Judg 6:3). It waited "when the LORD your God gives you rest," and came due under Saul, who disobeyed (1 Sam 15:1-23). Haman "the Agagite" (Esth 3:1) likely came from Agag's line. It was for that people at that time and is never a license to hate any people today. Vengeance belongs to God (Rom 12:19), and Jesus, the Good Shepherd, carries the stragglers (Luke 15:4-5).
26:2 you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground Israel had eaten manna for forty years and had no fields yet, but Moses looks ahead to the first harvest. Giving God the first, not the leftovers, says that all of it belongs to Him and that He comes first. "Honor the LORD from your wealth, and from the first of all your yield" (Prov 3:9). It was also faith, given before the farmer knew how big the rest would be.
26:3 I have come into the land which the LORD swore to our fathers to give to us Abraham, Isaac and Jacob never owned more than a burial plot. Now an ordinary farmer could stand at the altar with a basket and say, I am living in it. Every basket was proof that God keeps His word. The gift then supported the priests (18:4).

the LORD your God. 5 And you shall answer and say before the LORD your God, 'A wandering Aramean was my father, and he went down to Egypt (Mitsrayim) and sojourned there, few in number; and he became there a nation, great, mighty, and numerous. 6 And the Egyptians treated us badly and afflicted us, and put hard labor on us. 7 And we cried out to the LORD, the God of our fathers, and the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction and our toil and our oppression. 8 And the LORD brought us out from Egypt with a strong hand and with an outstretched arm and with great terror and with signs and with wonders. 9 And He brought us to this place and gave to us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey. 10 And now, look, I have brought the first of the fruit of the ground which You have given to me, O LORD.' And you shall set it down before the LORD your God, and bow down before the LORD your God. 11 And you shall rejoice in all the good which the LORD your God has given to you and to your house, you and the Levite and the sojourner who is in your midst.

The Third-Year Tithe

12 When you have finished tithing all the tithe of your produce in the third year, the year of the tithe, and you have given it to the Levite, to the sojourner, to the fatherless one, and to the widow, and they have eaten within your gates and been satisfied, 13 then you shall say before the LORD your God, 'I have removed the holy portion from the house, and also I have given it to the Levite and to the sojourner, to the fatherless one, and to the widow, according to all Your commandment which You have commanded me; I have not transgressed any of Your commandments, and I have not forgotten them. 14 I have not eaten of it in my mourning, and I have not removed any of it while unclean, and I have not given any of it for the dead; I have listened to the voice of the LORD my God; I have done according to all that You have commanded me. 15 Look down from the habitation of Your holiness, from the heavens, and bless Your people Israel (Yisra'el) and the ground which You have given to us, just as You swore to our fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey.'

The Covenant Declared

16 This day the LORD your God is commanding you to do these statutes and the judgments; and you shall be careful and do them with all your heart and with all your soul. 17 The LORD you have declared today to be your God, and to walk in His ways, and to keep His statutes and His commandments and His judgments, and to listen to His voice. 18 And the LORD has declared you today to be for Him a people of treasured possession, just as He spoke to you, and to keep all His commandments, 19 and to set you high above all the nations which He has made, for praise and for a name and for beauty, and for you to be a holy people to the LORD your God, just as He spoke."

26:5 A wandering Aramean was my father Most teachers believe this is Jacob, who lived twenty years with "Laban the Aramean" (Gen 31:20; Hos 12:12) and went down to Egypt with about seventy people (Gen 46:27). Some think it also looks back to Abraham. Israel began not with kings and armies but with a homeless, wandering man (7:7-8). And the farmer says "my father." Israel's history was his own.
26:7 the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction Now the farmer says "us," counting himself with the slaves in Egypt though he was born later. God's people share one story. This is what God does: He hears and He sees (Exod 3:7).
26:8 with a strong hand and with an outstretched arm This short confession is sometimes called Israel's creed. It is not a list of ideas but of things God did in history. The gospel is built the same way: Christ died, was buried and was raised (1 Cor 15:3-4). Our faith rests on what God has done, not on what we feel.
26:10 which You have given to me, O LORD The farmer had plowed and harvested, but he knew the land, the rain and the growth came from God. "Every good giving and every perfect gift is from above" (James 1:17). Giving was worship, and he bowed down.
26:11 you and the Levite and the sojourner who is in your midst The offering ended in a celebration that the landless shared. Thanksgiving always spills over into generosity. Christ "became the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep" (1 Cor 15:20): His resurrection is the first part of the harvest and guarantees the rest.
26:12 in the third year, the year of the tithe Every third year the tithe was stored in the local towns for the Levite and the poor (14:28-29). God's care for the needy was built into Israel's worship and not left to chance.
26:14 I have not given any of it for the dead The tithe was holy and could not be used in mourning or touched by uncleanness. "For the dead" may mean an offering to the dead, as in Canaanite religion, or food for a funeral meal. This is not a claim to be sinless but to honest obedience in one matter. Can you say before God, I did what You asked?
26:15 Look down from the habitation of Your holiness, from the heavens Having cared for the needy, he asks God to bless the whole nation. The high and holy God looks down and blesses His people. "Give, and it will be given to you" (Luke 6:38).
26:17 The LORD you have declared today to be your God The laws that began in chapter 12 end here with both sides of the covenant spoken. First Israel's side: to walk in His ways and listen to His voice, with all the heart and soul (6:5).
26:18 a people of treasured possession Then God's side. A treasured possession is a king's personal treasure, as God said at Sinai (Exod 19:5).
26:19 to set you high above all the nations which He has made Israel was meant to show the world what God is like. Peter uses like words for believers: "a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for His possession" (1 Pet 2:9). The church does not replace Israel, and God still has His promises for Israel (30:1-10). But through Christ believers from every nation are also made God's own people (Titus 2:14).
27:1 Moses and the elders of Israel commanded the people For the first time in the book the elders stand with Moses. He would soon be gone, and the leaders who stayed would have to carry on what he taught.

which I am commanding you today. 2 And it shall be, on the day when you pass over the Jordan (Yarden) to the land which the LORD your God is giving to you, that you shall set up for yourself large stones and plaster them with lime. 3 And you shall write on them all the words of this law when you pass over, so that you may go into the land which the LORD your God is giving to you, a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the LORD, the God of your fathers, spoke to you. 4 And it shall be, when you have passed over the Jordan, that you shall set up these stones, which I am commanding you today, on the mountain of Ebal (Eval), and you shall plaster them with lime. 5 And you shall build there an altar to the LORD your God, an altar of stones; you shall not wield iron on them. 6 With whole stones you shall build the altar of the LORD your God, and you shall offer up burnt offerings on it to the LORD your God. 7 And you shall sacrifice peace offerings and eat there, and rejoice before the LORD your God. 8 And you shall write on the stones all the words of this law, very plainly." 9 And Moses and the priests, the Levites, spoke to all Israel, saying, "Be silent and hear, Israel: this day you have become a people for the LORD your God. 10 And you shall listen to the voice of the LORD your God, and do His commandments and His statutes which I am commanding you today."

27:2 set up for yourself large stones and plaster them with lime In the ancient world a stone was sometimes coated with white plaster and the words written on it. "All the words of this law" probably means Deuteronomy or its main commands. The first thing Israel was to do in the land was to set God's Word where everyone could see it. What words are at the center of your home?
27:4 on the mountain of Ebal Ebal and Gerizim face each other across a narrow valley in the middle of the land, with Shechem between them. There God first promised the land to Abraham, and Abraham built an altar (Gen 12:6-7).
27:5 you shall not wield iron on them The stones were to be whole and uncut, as at Sinai (Exod 20:25), perhaps so no one would carve images or show off human skill. The altar was God's work, not man's, and so is our salvation. We add nothing to it.
27:7 you shall sacrifice peace offerings and eat there Burnt offerings showed full dedication, and peace offerings fellowship. Notice the order: the Law on the stones, and beside it the altar. The Law shows God's holy standard and our sin; the altar, pointing to Christ, shows the way He made for sinners to come.
27:8 very plainly God's Word was meant to be clear, not hidden. Joshua did all of this, building an altar of whole stones on Ebal and writing a copy of the law there (Josh 8:30-32). Some archaeologists believe they have found its remains, though others disagree.
27:9 this day you have become a people for the LORD your God The new generation was taking the covenant as its own. First they became His people; then "you shall listen." God's people do not obey to become His people; they obey because they are. We are saved by grace and then "created in Christ Jesus for good works" (Eph 2:10).
27:12 These shall stand to bless the people on the mountain of Gerizim The tribes on Gerizim were all sons of Leah and Rachel; four on Ebal came from the servant women, with Reuben, who lost his place by sin (Gen 49:3-4), and Zebulun. Scripture does not give the reason, so we should not press it. It seems the priests and some Levites stood in the valley by the ark (Josh 8:33). Only the curses are listed here; the blessings come in chapter 28.
27:15 and sets it up in secret Amen means so be it. By saying it, each person agreed with God's judgment and placed himself under it. "In secret" is the key to all twelve curses: most of these sins could be hidden from the courts, but not from God. Idolatry comes first because it was the root of every other sin (5:7-9).
27:16 Cursed is he who dishonors his father and his mother This is the fifth commandment turned around (5:16). It can mean contempt, mockery or neglect of parents when they are old.
27:17 Cursed is he who moves back the boundary of his neighbor Moving a boundary stone at night quietly stole a neighbor's land (19:14).
27:19 Cursed is he who turns aside the judgment of a sojourner, a fatherless one, and a widow These sins hurt the weak and the trusting: aging parents, a sleeping neighbor, the blind (Lev 19:14), the foreigner, the orphan and the widow. God takes it personally. Jesus said, "you did it to one of these My brothers, the least ones, you did it to Me" (Matt 25:40).
27:20 Cursed is he who lies with the wife of his father This and the next three curses name the sins of Leviticus 18 and 20, practiced openly by the Canaanites (Lev 18:24-28) and easily hidden by shame and fear within a family. God guards marriage and family. If you have been harmed this way, it was not your fault; please tell someone you trust and get help. If you have done these things, there is forgiveness in Christ for those who repent, and you must also make it right, including facing the law (1 Cor 6:9-11).

24 'Cursed is he who strikes his neighbor in secret.' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.' 25 'Cursed is he who takes a bribe to strike down a person of innocent blood.' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.' 26 'Cursed is he who does not establish the words of this law by doing them.' And all the people shall say, 'Amen.'"

Blessings for Obedience

1 And it shall be, if you surely listen to the voice of the LORD your God, to be careful to do all His commandments which I am commanding you today, then the LORD your God will set you high above all the nations of the earth. 2 And all these blessings will come on you and overtake you, if you listen to the voice of the LORD your God. 3 Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the field. 4 Blessed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground and the fruit of your livestock, the offspring of your cattle and the young of your flock. 5 Blessed shall be your basket and your kneading trough. 6 Blessed shall you be in your coming in, and blessed shall you be in your going out. 7 The LORD will give your enemies who rise up against you to be struck down before you; in one way they will come out against you, and in seven ways they will flee before you. 8 The LORD will command the blessing with you in your barns and in every undertaking of your hand, and He will bless you in the land which the LORD your God is giving to you. 9 The LORD will establish you for Himself as a holy people, just as He swore to you, if you keep the commandments of the LORD your God and walk in His ways. 10 And all the peoples of the earth will see that the name of the LORD is called on you, and they will be afraid of you. 11 And the LORD will make you abound in good, in the fruit of your womb and in the fruit of your livestock and in the fruit of your ground, on the ground which the LORD swore to your fathers to give to you. 12 The LORD will open for you His good storehouse, the heavens, to give the rain of your land in its time and to bless all the work of your hand; and you will lend to many nations, and you, you will not borrow. 13 And the LORD will make you the head and not the tail, and you will be only above, and you will not be beneath, if you listen to the commandments of the LORD your God which I am commanding you today, to be careful and to do them, 14 and you do not turn aside from all the words which I am commanding you today, to the right or to the left, to walk after other gods to serve them.

Curses for Disobedience

15 And it shall be, if you do not listen to the voice of the LORD your God, to be careful to do all His commandments and His statutes which I am commanding you today, then all these curses will come on you and overtake you. 16 Cursed shall you be in the city, and cursed shall you be in the field. 17 Cursed shall be your basket and your kneading trough. 18 Cursed shall be the fruit of your womb and the fruit of your ground, the offspring of your cattle and the young of your flock. 19 Cursed shall you be in your coming in, and cursed shall you be in your going out. 20 The LORD will send on you the curse, the confusion, and the rebuke in every undertaking of your hand which you do, until you are

27:24 Cursed is he who strikes his neighbor in secret Secret murder (19:11), or taking a bribe to see the innocent condemned, might escape every court on earth, but never God. "There is no creature hidden before Him" (Heb 4:13).
27:26 Cursed is he who does not establish the words of this law by doing them This last curse covers everything. Paul quotes it: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue in all the things written in the book of the law, to do them" (Gal 3:10). No one has kept it all (James 2:10), and the Law cannot save (Rom 3:20). But "Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us" (Gal 3:13). The Amen on Ebal was the sentence on all of us. The Law said cursed; the altar said there is a sacrifice; the cross says it is finished.
28:1 if you surely listen to the voice of the LORD your God Notice the "if." This is how the Mosaic covenant worked. God swore to keep His covenant with Abraham Himself (Gen 15:17-18), but Israel's enjoyment of the land depended on keeping the covenant made at Sinai. They did not earn God's love; He had already chosen and redeemed them by grace (7:7-8). The blessings were a loving Father's reward for a faithful son, and the curses His discipline of a rebellious one (8:5).
28:2 all these blessings will come on you and overtake you The blessings would chase them down and catch them.
28:3 Blessed shall you be in the city, and blessed shall you be in the field Town and country, family and farm, the harvest basket and the kneading trough, going out in the morning and coming home at night (28:6). God's blessing was meant to fill every part of an obedient Israelite's life.
28:7 in one way they will come out against you, and in seven ways they will flee before you The enemy would march in as one army and run away scattered in every direction.
28:9 The LORD will establish you for Himself as a holy people This is the greatest blessing. The point was not the barns but that Israel would be God's holy people.
28:10 all the peoples of the earth will see that the name of the LORD is called on you Israel's blessing was meant to be a witness. In Solomon's day the queen of Sheba saw it and praised the LORD (1 Kgs 10:1-9).
28:12 His good storehouse, the heavens Israel's land depended on rain, not a river like the Nile (11:10-12), and God kept the key to that storehouse.
28:13 the head and not the tail All of this came with a condition, and the great danger was idolatry (28:14). Can a Christian claim these promises and expect God to make him rich and healthy if he obeys? Some teachers say yes. I do not believe the Bible teaches that. These were national blessings for Israel in their land. In Christ we have something greater, "every spiritual blessing in the heavenly places in Christ" (Eph 1:3), and Jesus said plainly, "In the world you will have tribulation; but take courage, I have overcome the world" (John 16:33; 2 Tim 3:12).
28:15 all these curses will come on you and overtake you The same word "overtake" is used for the blessings. If Israel turned away, the curses would chase them down just as surely. Verses 16 to 19 turn verses 3 to 6 around line by line. Israel was not left to guess; Moses told them ahead of time in plain words.
28:20 because of the evil of your deeds, by which you have forsaken Me God speaks in the first person. The curses were not bad luck but the response of a God whose people had left Him.

Exile Foretold

36 The LORD will bring you and your king whom you raise up over you to a nation which you have not known, you and your fathers; and you will serve there other gods, wood and stone. 37 And you will become a horror, a proverb, and a taunt among all the peoples to which the LORD will drive you. 38 You will take much seed out to the field, and you will gather little, for the locust will consume it. 39 You will plant vineyards and work them, and wine you will not drink, and you will not gather it, for the worm will eat it. 40 You will have olive trees in all your territory, and with oil you will not anoint yourself, for your olives will drop off. 41 You will father sons and daughters, and they will not be yours, for they will go into captivity. 42 All your trees and the fruit of your ground the whirring locust will take possession of. 43 The sojourner who is in your midst will go up above you higher and higher, and you, you will go down lower and lower. 44 He, he will lend to you, and you, you will not lend to him; he, he will become the head, and you, you will become the tail. 45 And all these curses will come on you and pursue you and overtake you until you are destroyed, because you did not listen to the voice of the LORD your God, to keep His commandments and His statutes which He commanded you. 46 And they will be on you for a sign and for a

28:23 your heavens which are over your head will be bronze, and the earth which is under you iron The sky would be like a metal lid and the ground too hard to plow. Under Ahab, who served Baal the so-called storm god, Elijah announced a drought of more than three years (1 Kgs 17:1; James 5:17). God showed who held the key to the rain.

28:25 you will become a terror to all the kingdoms of the earth This turns verse 7 around. A terror means something that makes others shudder, words Jeremiah used for Judah (Jer 15:4).

28:26 your corpse will become food for every bird of the heavens To lie unburied was the worst shame in the ancient world, and Jeremiah warned it would happen in Judah (Jer 7:33).

28:27 the boils of Egypt God had struck Egypt with boils (Exod 9:9-11). If Israel turned to idols, they would suffer like Egypt.

28:29 you will be groping at noon They would stumble in broad daylight, not for lack of light but because they could not see it. That is what sin does: it blinds. And there would be "no savior," for they had rejected the one Savior they had.

28:30 you will build a house, and you will not dwell in it Verses 30 to 35 describe being conquered and ruled by an enemy. The very joys that earlier freed a man from battle (20:5-7) would be taken by others.

28:32 your eyes will be looking and failing for them all the day Parents would watch for children carried off and never see them again. We should not read these lines quickly. They describe real suffering, and it came more than once in the Assyrian and Babylonian invasions and later.

28:36 The LORD will bring you and your king whom you raise up over you Israel had no king yet, but Moses foresaw one (17:14) and saw him carried away. Assyria took the northern kingdom in 722 B.C. (2 Kgs 17:6). Jehoiachin went to Babylon in 597 B.C. (2 Kgs 24:15), and in 586 B.C. Zedekiah was blinded and bound "with bronze fetters" (2 Kgs 25:7). Israel had loved idols at home; in exile God gave them what they had chosen.

28:37 a horror, a proverb, and a taunt A proverb here means a saying people use about someone as an example of disaster.

28:38 you will gather little, for the locust will consume it Seed, vine, olive and children would all be lost (28:41).

28:44 he, he will become the head, and you, you will become the tail Verses 12 and 13 turned around. God's people were meant to be the head; if they turned from Him, the foreigners among them would rise over them.

wonder, and on your seed, forever. 47 Because you did not serve the LORD your God with joy and with goodness of heart, from the abundance of everything, 48 and you will serve your enemies whom the LORD will send against you, in hunger and in thirst and in nakedness and in lack of everything; and He will put a yoke of iron on your neck until He has destroyed you.

A Nation from Far Away

49 The LORD will raise up against you a nation from far away, from the end of the earth, just as the eagle swoops down, a nation whose language you will not understand, 50 a nation fierce of face, which will not show regard for an old man, and will not show favor to a youth. 51 And it will eat the fruit of your livestock and the fruit of your ground until you are destroyed, a nation which will not leave for you grain, new wine, and fresh oil, the offspring of your cattle and the young of your flock, until it has made you perish. 52 And it will besiege you in all your gates until your high and fortified walls come down, in which you are trusting, in all your land; and it will besiege you in all your gates in all your land which the LORD your God has given to you. 53 And you will eat the fruit of your womb, the flesh of your sons and your daughters whom the LORD your God has given to you, in the siege and in the distress with which your enemy will distress you. 54 The man who is tender among you and very delicate, his eye will be evil toward his brother and toward the wife of his bosom and toward the rest of his sons whom he leaves, 55 so as not to give to one of them any of the flesh of his sons whom he eats, because nothing has been left to him, in the siege and in the distress with which your enemy will distress you in all your gates. 56 The tender woman among you and the delicate, who has not attempted to set the sole of her foot on the ground because of delicateness and because of tenderness, her eye will be evil toward the husband of her bosom and toward her son and toward her daughter, 57 and toward her afterbirth which comes out from between her feet, and toward her sons whom she bears; for she will eat them in lack of everything in secret, in the siege and in the distress with which your enemy will distress you in your gates.

Scattered Among the Nations

58 If you are not careful to do all the words of this law which are written in this book, to fear this glorious and awesome name, the LORD your God, 59 then the LORD will make your plagues extraordinary, and the plagues of your seed, great and lasting plagues, and evil and lasting sicknesses. 60 And He will bring back on you all the diseases of Egypt of which you were afraid, and they will cling to you. 61 Also every sickness and every plague which is not written in the book of this law, the LORD will bring them up on you until you are destroyed. 62 And you will be left few in number, whereas you were like the stars of the heavens for multitude, because you did not listen to the voice of the LORD your God. 63 And it shall be, just as the LORD rejoiced over you to do you good and to multiply you, so the LORD will rejoice over you to make you perish and to destroy you; and you will be torn away from off the ground to which you are going in to take possession of it. 64 And the LORD will scatter you among all the peoples, from the end of the earth to the end of the earth; and you will serve there other gods which you have not known, you and your fathers, wood and stone. 65 And among those nations you will not find rest, and there will be no resting place for the sole of your foot; and the LORD will give you there a trembling heart and failing of eyes and despair of soul. 66 And your life will be hanging before you,

28:47 Because you did not serve the LORD your God with joy and with goodness of heart, from the abundance of everything This is the reason under all the others. The root problem was not only broken rules but no joy in serving God when He had given them everything. Ungratefulness in plenty leads to idolatry (8:11-14). Do we serve the Lord with joy for all He has given? A grumbling heart in a time of blessing is a dangerous place.

28:48 He will put a yoke of iron on your neck They would not serve God gladly in plenty, so they would serve their enemies in want.

28:49 a nation from far away, from the end of the earth, just as the eagle swoops down This fits Babylon, whose horsemen "fly like an eagle hurrying to devour" (Hab 1:8). It also fits Rome, which came from much farther, spoke a language the Jews did not know, carried the eagle as its standard and destroyed Jerusalem in A.D. 70.

28:52 your high and fortified walls come down, in which you are trusting Israel's walls would not save them. Only the LORD could, and they had turned from Him.

28:53 you will eat the fruit of your womb These are the hardest verses in the chapter. In the starving siege even the gentlest would turn cold toward their own family (28:56). This is not what God wants; it is a warning so dark that no one could say they were not told. It did happen, in the siege of Samaria (2 Kgs 6:24-29) and in the fall of Jerusalem (Lam 4:10), and ancient historians report it again in A.D. 70. Sin always takes us further than we meant to go. Read these words with grief, as Jeremiah did, not with curiosity.

28:58 which are written in this book Moses was writing these words down (31:9). Israel would have them in black and white.

28:62 you were like the stars of the heavens for multitude God's promise to Abraham had come true (Gen 15:5; 1:10). Now sin would undo it.

28:63 so the LORD will rejoice over you to make you perish This does not mean God enjoys suffering. "Do I indeed take pleasure in the death of the wicked, declares the Lord GOD?" (Ezek 18:23). It means He is fully committed to His word. He delights in justice as surely as in mercy.

28:64 from the end of the earth to the end of the earth This goes beyond Assyria and Babylon. After Rome destroyed Jerusalem in A.D. 70 and crushed another revolt about sixty years later, the Jewish people were spread over the whole world. Jesus foretold that they "will be led captive into all the nations" (Luke 21:24). Few peoples, if any, have been scattered so widely for so long and still kept their identity.

28:65 there will be no resting place for the sole of your foot Jewish history in exile is full of expulsions, persecution and murder, up to the Holocaust. These verses explain why God allowed the scattering; they never excuse the persecutors. God judged Assyria and Babylon for their cruelty (Isa 10:5-12). Hatred of the Jewish people is sin, and sadly it has often been done by people who called themselves Christians. Paul warned Gentile believers, "do not boast over the branches" (Rom 11:18).

and you will be in dread night and day, and you will not trust in your life. 67 In the morning you will say, "Oh that it were evening!" and in the evening you will say, "Oh that it were morning!" because of the dread of your heart which you will dread, and because of the sight of your eyes which you will see. 68 And the LORD will bring you back to Egypt in ships, by the way of which I said to you, "You will not see it again"; and there you will sell yourselves to your enemies as slaves and as female slaves, and there will be no buyer.

The Covenant in Moab

1 These are the words of the covenant which the LORD commanded Moses (Moshe) to make with the sons of Israel (Yisra'el) in the land of Moab (Mo'av), besides the covenant which He had made with them at Horeb (Chorev). 2 And Moses called to all Israel and said to them, "You, you have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt (Mitsrayim) to Pharaoh and to all his servants and to all his land, 3 the great trials which your eyes saw, the signs and those great wonders. 4 And the LORD has not given you a heart to know, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, until this day. 5 And I have led you forty years in the wilderness; your clothes have not worn out on you, and your sandal has not worn out on your foot. 6 Bread you have not eaten, and wine and strong drink you have not drunk, so that you may know that I am the LORD your God. 7 And you came to this place, and Sihon (Sichon) the king of Heshbon (Cheshbon) and Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us for battle, and we struck them. 8 And we took their land and gave it for an inheritance to the Reubenites and to the Gadites and to the half of the tribe of the Manassites. 9 And you shall keep the words of this covenant and do them, so that you may make all that you do prosper. 10 You are standing today, all of you, before the LORD your God: your heads, your tribes, your elders and your officers, every man of Israel, 11 your little ones, your wives, and your sojourner who is in the midst of your camp, from the cutter of your wood to the drawer of your water, 12 for you to pass into the covenant of the LORD your God and into His oath, which the LORD your God is making with you today, 13 in order to establish you today for Himself as a people, and that He may be God to you, just as He spoke to you, and just as He swore to your fathers, to Abraham (Avraham), to Isaac (Yitschaq), and to Jacob (Ya'aqov). 14 And not with you alone am I making this covenant and this oath, 15 but with him who is here, standing with us today before the LORD our God, and with him who is not here with us today.

A Root of Poison

16 For you, you know how we dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how we passed through the midst of the nations which you passed through. 17 And you saw their detestable things and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which were with them. 18 Lest there be among you a man or a woman or a clan or a tribe whose heart is turning away today from the LORD our God, to go to serve the gods of those nations; lest

28:68 the LORD will bring you back to Egypt in ships This last curse is the exodus run backward. Ancient historians report that after A.D. 70 many thousands of Jewish captives were sold, many sent to Egypt. But this is not where the story ends. God had already said, "I will not reject them, and I will not abhor them" (Lev 26:44), and chapter 30 promises a regathering and a new heart. "All Israel will be saved" (Rom 11:26). Many dispensational teachers see the modern state of Israel (1948) as a step toward that promise, with the full return to the LORD and the Messiah still to come (Zech 12:10). The church has not taken Israel's place.

29:1 besides the covenant which He had made with them at Horeb In Hebrew Bibles this verse closes chapter 28. These words are a covenant made in Moab forty years after Horeb (Sinai). "Besides" shows a second ceremony renewing the covenant with the children of those who stood at Horeb, since most of their parents had died. Each generation had to take God's covenant as its own. Some teachers see a distinct land covenant in chapters 29 and 30.

29:4 the LORD has not given you a heart to know, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, until this day They had seen the plagues, the sea split and the manna fall, and still did not truly understand. Seeing miracles does not change a heart. This is not an excuse; people are responsible for hard hearts and yet cannot fix them alone, which is why God promises to circumcise their hearts (30:6). Paul uses this verse: "God gave them a spirit of stupor" (Rom 11:8), but he shows the hardening is not forever (Rom 11:25-26). Have you asked God, "Uncover my eyes" (Ps 119:18)?

29:5 your clothes have not worn out on you Now the LORD speaks in the first person. For forty years He kept their clothes and sandals (8:4).

29:6 Bread you have not eaten With no farms or vineyards, they lived on manna and water from the rock, learning to depend on God every day.

29:7 Sihon the king of Heshbon and Og the king of Bashan came out to meet us for battle The God who kept them in the wilderness was already giving them the land (2:26-3:17). Looking back, can you see how God has provided, even when you did not notice?

29:11 from the cutter of your wood to the drawer of your water Leaders and children, men and women, even the foreigners who did the lowest jobs all stood before the LORD together. God's covenant was not only for the important people.

29:12 for you to pass into the covenant of the LORD your God Covenants were sometimes made by walking between the pieces of a divided animal (Gen 15:9-17; Jer 34:18), and "pass into" may echo that.

29:13 that He may be God to you This is the heart of every covenant God made with Israel: I will be your God, and you will be My people. The Moab covenant rests on the promise God swore to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

29:15 with him who is not here with us today Moses bound the generations not yet born. That is why the prophets could hold Israel to this covenant centuries later. Our choices for God or against Him reach our children and grandchildren too.

29:17 their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold Israel had seen idols up close in Egypt, Edom, Moab and at Peor (Num 25) and knew how attractive they could be.

29:18 a root bearing poison and wormwood It starts with one man or one woman, then a clan, then a tribe. A root grows unseen, then sprouts and spreads. Hebrews warns "lest any root of bitterness springing up cause trouble, and through this many be defiled" (Heb 12:15). Sin is never only private.

there be among you a root bearing poison and wormwood;
19 and it shall be, when he hears the words of this oath, that he blesses himself in his heart, saying, 'I will have peace, for I walk in the stubbornness of my heart,' so as to sweep away the watered land with the thirsty. 20 The LORD will not be willing to forgive him, for then the anger of the LORD and His jealousy will smoke against that man, and every curse that is written in this book will lie down on him, and the LORD will wipe out his name from under the heavens. 21 And the LORD will separate him for evil out of all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant that is written in this book of the law.

The Nations Will Ask Why

22 And the later generation will say, your sons who rise up after you, and the foreigner who comes from a distant land, and they will see the plagues of that land and its sicknesses with which the LORD has made it sick: 23 sulfur and salt, a burning, all its land; it is not sown, and it does not make anything sprout, and no vegetation at all comes up in it, like the overthrow of Sodom (Sedom) and Gomorrah (Amora),
Admah (Adma) and Zeboiim (Tsevoyim), which the LORD overthrew in His anger and in His rage; 24 and all the nations will say, 'Why has the LORD done thus to this land? What is the heat of this great anger?' 25 And they will say, 'Because they forsook the covenant of the LORD, the God of their fathers, which He made with them when He brought them out from the land of Egypt, 26 and they went and served other gods and bowed down to them, gods whom they had not known and whom He had not allotted to them. 27 And the anger of the LORD burned against that land, to bring on it every curse that is written in this book. 28 And the LORD plucked them up from off their ground in anger and in rage and in great wrath, and He threw them into another land, as at this day.' 29 The hidden things belong to the LORD our God, and the revealed things belong to us and to our sons forever, to do all the words of this law.

Return and Restoration

1 And it shall be, when all these things come on you, the blessing and the curse which I have set before you, and you bring them back to your heart among all the nations to which the LORD your God has banished you, 2 and you return to the LORD your God and listen to His voice according to all that I am commanding you today, you and your sons, with all your heart and with all your soul, 3 then the LORD your God will turn back your captivity and have compassion on you, and He will return and gather you from all the peoples to which the LORD your God has scattered you. 4 If your banished one is at the end of the heavens, from there the LORD your God will gather you, and from there He will take you. 5 And the LORD your God will bring you into the land which your fathers took possession of, and you shall take possession of it; and He will do you good and multiply you more than your fathers. 6 And the LORD your God will circumcise your heart and the heart of your seed, to love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul, for the sake of your life.

29:19 I will have peace, for I walk in the stubbornness of my heart He hears the warnings and tells himself he will be fine. "To sweep away the watered land with the thirsty" is uncertain; it most likely means his sin would ruin everyone around him, or that he thinks he can have it all.
29:20 The LORD will not be willing to forgive him God's jealousy is not petty envy but the right anger of a husband betrayed. He always forgives those who truly repent (30:1-3), but this man has heard and decided to keep going, so he has shut the door himself. Is there any place where you have heard God's warning and told yourself it will be fine?
29:23 like the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah The land would be ruined like the cities of the plain (Gen 19:24-25).
29:24 Why has the LORD done thus to this land? Israel's ruin would be a lesson to the world, and the answer would be that they forsook the covenant and served other gods. When Babylon destroyed Jerusalem, these very questions were asked and answered (1 Kgs 9:8-9; Jer 22:8-9).
29:28 as at this day Moses is so sure of the coming exile that he speaks of it as already done. The Bible itself says Moses wrote these words (31:9, 24).
29:29 The hidden things belong to the LORD our God, and the revealed things belong to us and to our sons forever A wise and humble verse. Some things God has not told us, and we can trust Him with them. Other things He has made plain, and He revealed them "to do all the words of this law," not to satisfy our curiosity. I find that a great comfort. I do not have to understand everything, but I am responsible for what God has made plain. Most of us already know far more of His will than we are doing. Start there.
30:1 when all these things come on you "When," not "if." Moses knew Israel would know both the blessing and the curse, as he had said in 4:25-31. To "bring them back to your heart" means to think it over and come to your senses, as the prodigal did in the far country (Luke 15:17).
30:2 you return to the LORD your God The Hebrew word for return, shuv, is the main Old Testament word for repentance: to turn around and go back. The chapter uses it again and again. Israel returns to God, God turns back their captivity, and God returns to rejoice over them. Israel's return to the land would begin with a return to the LORD.
30:3 He will return and gather you from all the peoples In 538 B.C. Cyrus let a remnant return from Babylon (Ezra 1:1-4), a partial fulfillment. But that return was small and from one region, and after A.D. 70 Israel was scattered over the whole earth. The prophets speak of a greater return: "the scattered of Judah He will assemble from the four corners of the earth" (Isa 11:12; Ezek 36:24).
